No state aid: Owen-Gage lacks balanced budget

The Michigan Department of Education is withholding state aid from the Owendale-Gagetown School District for failure to submit a balanced budget to the agency that meets its approval nor a plan on how to get rid of the deficit.

According to Robert Hornberger, director of department services for the Department of Education, the Owen-Gage 1978-79 budget was disapproved by the state in January.

The district finished the 1977-78 fiscal year with a balance of $7,100, but still had a deficit of $80,652 to repay from previous years.

According to the state official, Owen-Gage has yet to demonstrate how the deficit will be eliminated.

The budget approved by the board in October projected paying off that deficit, however, one big change since then was its addition in February of $50,000 to the original $14,095 budgeted for legal fees. At that time, it had already spent about $25,000.

The state fund cutoff is a repeat of what happened in 1977, when state aid was cut off for about a half-year because of a budget deficit.

Owen-Gage doesn't get any general state aid but does receive categorical aid for such purposes as bus transportation and drivers education.

For 1978-79, the district budgeted anticipated state aid of $55,750. The aid was cut off April 1, Hornberger said, which would affect about a third of the total. State law prohibits giving of state aid to districts running a deficit.

Little discussion was held at Monday night's school board meeting concerning the state aid cutoff. It was announced that Supt. Ronald Erickson and any board members who can go will be meeting with Hornberger in Lansing Friday to discuss a possible resolution of the situation.

The monthly financial report indicated the district does have enough money to finish the school year. Erickson did say it will have to borrow in anticipation of property taxes for the 1979-80 school year, but that is routinely done every year.

OTHER BUSINESS

The board approved a resolution supporting a bill now in the state House of Representatives that would delay implementation of the mandatory school breakfast program one year and allow a public vote in each district on whether it should provide breakfast.

Without passage of the bill, Erickson said, Owen-Gage will have to start providing breakfasts Oct. 1, even though "probably 95 percent of our kids don't need it" and it would "mess up" bus scheduling.

It was announced that three buses were "red tagged" by the state police during a recent inspection.

Discussion was again held on the request of Construction Coordinators, Inc. for an additional $43,000 for coordinating building of the high school addition. Erickson said the firm is owed $2,100 yet, but no more.

"We settled on a contract when he started the job," commented board President Ronald Good.

June 11 was set officially as the date for the school board election. There will be a millage levy of 4.25 mills on the ballot, two less than are expiring. Pat Goslin is the only candidate running for the one vacancy on the board.

A new property transfer request, from Owen-Gage to the Unionville-Sebewaing district has been made, with June 18, 19 or 20 the requested hearing dates before the Huron Intermediate School District Board of Education. No details as to who has made the request were available.

The request of the sophomore class for use of a schoolbus for a class trip May 30 to Cedar Point was approved. The district pays for the gas; the class pays the driver.

A summer basketball program for six weeks starting June 20 and band program, June 18-July 14, were approved.

Hiring of Vickie Merchant to finish the school year for elementary teacher Rhonda Powers, who is on maternity leave, was approved.

It was announced a $1,000 grant for career education from the State Department of Education had been received.

Students of the month for April were Carol Goslin and Mary Kay Burrows.

Computer errs, districts lose

The computer giveth, the state taketh away.

Area school districts were among 761 of the state's 762 school districts that had to send school lunch money back to the state because of a computer error.

A Michigan Department of Education computer used to divvy up state and federal lunch program money was only programmed for seven digits.

For the first time, however, the Detroit School District was to get more than $9,999,999 (7 digits). Its payment, almost 20 percent of the state total, was to be $12 million, but since the computer couldn't read that many numbers, it allocated Detroit only $2 million. It reallocated $896,000 that should have gone to Detroit to other districts.

(Newswire service accounts were unclear as to how the computer took away $10 million from Detroit and reallocated only $896,000 to other districts. The loss of the $10 million reduced Detroit's share of the statewide total to 4-5 percent instead of 20 percent and the computer apparently increased the percentage and thus the amounts going to the other districts.)

The checks were sent in late April and the mistake was discovered a few days later. All of the districts in the state, except for Detroit, received letters last week requesting them to return the excess payment.

The Cass City district's original check was for $6,848, of which it had to send back $1,336.

Owendale-Gagetown got $2,243 and had to send back $437. Kingston got a check for $3,916 and had to return $764. The Ugly district had to refund $1,097, out of an original payment of $5,625.

Evergreen-De.

2 schools may lose kindergarten

Cass City Public Schools is beginning to wrestle with the same problem that is plaguing districts all over Michigan and most of the nation - a decline in enrollment.

At the regular meeting of the Cass City School Board Monday night Supt. Donald Crouse outlined the problem for the board and interested taxpayers.

If the pre-kindergarten round-up figures are correct, Cass City faces a decline of nearly a third of its students entering school compared with the enrollment two years ago.

This year there were 137 students entering school. Next year there could be as few as 103. Prior to this there were 150 students.

Dan Allen of Deford read figures showing that the number of students indicated by the spring round-up was usually increased when school started the next fall.

The reason for the concern is that with the decline in enrollment there are not enough students in either Evergreen or Deford to run an efficient class.

According to figures presented by the administration there would be 15 students in Deford and 13 in Evergreen in the kindergarten class. At Campbell there are expected to be 75.

The school likes to have about 25-28 students in a class.

To reach these figures Deford and Evergreen would have to combine or have both classes sent to Campbell.

The reason for the concern, of course, is that if the classes were changed two fewer teachers could be employed.

Residents of Evergreen and Deford appear reluctant to give up classes at their respective schools, citing longer bus rides and unfamiliar surroundings for very young students as the reason.

The board is proceeding slowly in coming to a solution. There will be a special meeting of the board Monday at 8 p.m. at Cass City High School and interested residents of both Deford and Evergreen will be able to air their views for the board's consideration.

NEW BOOKS

The board approved recommendations for new books at an estimated cost of $15,000 by Principals Russ Richards, Jacqueline Freiburger and Robert Stickle.

A new social science text for grades 1-6 will cost about $10,000. The books will be by different publishers for grades 1-3; 4, and 5-6. The different texts were authorized for the different grades after a survey by the teachers indicated different book preferences.

High school texts for several different courses were okayed at a cost of some $6,000.

The board also voted to spend $3,216 to replace 15 sewing machines in the Intermediate home economics room. The price includes an allowance for trade-ins of the present machines.

One other money matter was settled Monday. $76 stolen in February from the student activity account in the office of Russell Richards was replaced from the general fund.

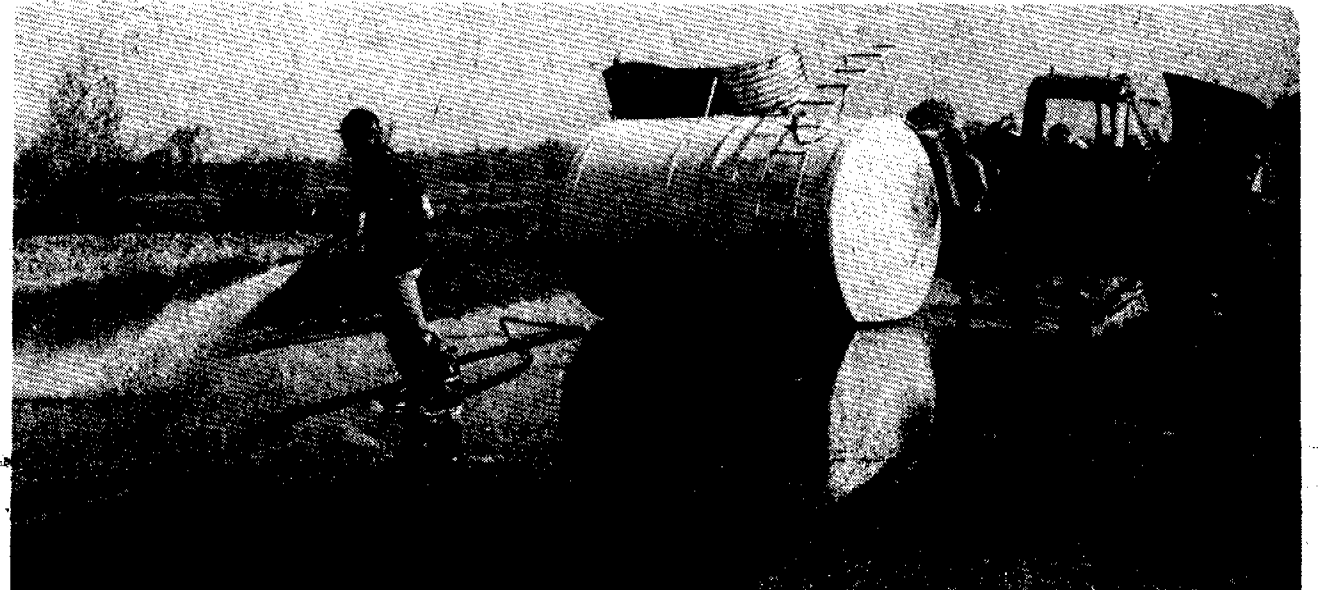

The money was taken from a box, Richards said, during the noon lunch hour.

Needless to say, Richards reported wryly, the system has now been changed.

RESIGNATION

Mrs. Ruth Smith announced a surprise resignation after 30 years of teaching. She is the principal at Evergreen School.

In one other action the board adopted an annual election resolution and appointed election inspectors and alternates for the regular June election.

SPILLAGE -- Elkland township fireman Mike Stec sprays salt brine from the pavement that came from the tank that came loose from the truck, which almost overturned. The Tuesday morning mishap occurred on Elkton Road.

Two hurt in cycle races, paved road gets brined

Mishaps during motorcycle races Sunday at the Lucky Thumb Motorcycle Club track on Bevans Road, near Kingston, sent two competitors to the hospital.

Both were treated and released from Marlette Community Hospital.

David A. Tyo, 15, of Bay City, was injured in the first mishap, at 4:30 p.m. Caro state police reported that when another cycle turned in front of him, he fell over, injuring his left shoulder.

A half-hour later, troopers said, Christopher D. Curler, 18, of Linwood, had to lay his motorcycle down to avoid hitting some other cycles and in doing so, injured his leg.

Dean Rabideau, 16, of 6787 Houghton Street, Cass City, was reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon at Hills and Dales General Hospital where he has been since Sunday.

Caro troopers said he was a passenger in a car eastbound on M-81, west of Lamton Road, tried to climb out the window onto the roof, and in doing so, fell to the ground.

The car, driven by Faron J. Alexander, 16, of 6644 Houghton Street, was going about 55 miles per hour at the time, according to officers. The incident occurred at 4:30 p.m.

David H. Breeden, 18, of Marlette, sought his own treatment after a 12:15 p.m. accident last Thursday.

State police said he was driving westbound on the south shoulder of M-46 in order to get around another accident and didn't see an accident vehicle turning left in front of him from the west-bound lane into a private driveway. The two vehicles collided.

The accident took place west of Kingston Road.

TANKER ACCIDENT

Daniel Talaski, 21, of Bad Axe, was ticketed by Bad Axe state police for defective tires after the tanker truck he was driving almost overturned Tuesday morning.

He was driving a flatbed truck with a 2,100 gallon tank containing salt brine in it.

Troopers said he was southbound about 8 a.m. on Elkton Road (Cemetery Road), between Bach and Huron Line Roads, when both right rear tires blew.

The truck skidded sideways about 70 feet before the right rear wheels dug into the pavement. The truck started to tip, but three mounts holding the loaded tank on the truck bed broke and the tank fell off, landing on the right side of the truck.

When the tank hit the pavement, it stopped the truck from turning over.

Most of the tank's contents, plus a small amount of gasoline from an auxiliary fuel tank, spilled onto the road. Elkland township firemen were called to the scene to hose off the roadway. Traffic was blocked for a while.

The truck was owned by Rooney Contracting of Bad Axe.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Cass City police reported an accident at 5:20 p.m. May 8.

They said Ronald D. Parrish, 33, of 6305 Houghton Street, westbound on Garfield Street, was turning right onto Vulcan and collided with a car that was passing him on the right.

The other driver, Phyllis Ann Crowe, 18, of 4905 Lamton Road, said Parrish had his left turn signal on. He told officers that might have been possible as the signal sometimes sticks.

A semi-truck tractor parked at the Sunoco station on State Street, Kingston, at 10 a.m. last Thursday, rolled down the incline, crossed the railroad tracks and went into a ditch on the south side of the road. Total distance was about 300 feet.

Driver of the truck -- had been in it -- was Frederick Spencer, 35, of Akron. Sheriff's deputies investigated the mishap.

At 1:30 a.m. Saturday, Cass City police reported, Kenneth Guilds, 17, of 6236

Cedar Drive, was driving on private property, didn't notice a pond ahead and drove into it, completely submerging the vehicle. It had been removed by a wrecker by the time police arrived.

The property was north of Muntz Road, west of Koepfgen.

David Fritz, 19, of Maxwell Road, Owendale, was westbound on M-25 in Unionville at 6:35 p.m. Saturday when the car in front of him suddenly locked up its brakes just before the railroad tracks.

Deputies said Fritz then jammed on his brakes, tried to turn onto the road shoulder and slid into the railroad crossing sign. He was ticketed on a charge of failure to

Elkland ups cemetery fees

The Elkland Township Board Monday night raised cemetery and fire standby fees.

The latter, paid by townships which contract with Elkland for fire protection, had been $120 per section annually. It was raised to $150, effective July 1.

The price for a grave site for township residents remains the same at $150 but was raised for non-residents from $250 to $300.

Other increases (former rates in parentheses) were: Permanent gravesite care, $35 ($25); annual care, $2 ($1); opening and closing graves, $125 ($100); cremation services, $50 ($10), and foundation construction, $15 per foot ($10, but $20 minimum stays the same).

The board gave its okay to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission granting a liquor (tavern) license to John and Kelly Maharg for Rolling Hills Golf Course.

It also gave its okay to the state approving Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act agreements with:

Leonard Pisarek, total of 231 acres in three parcels in Sections 5 and 6; Bernard Pisarek, 40 acres in Section 8, and 40 in Section 5, and Maude Blades, 116½ acres in Sections 15 and 16.

PROOF THAT THERE is still room for small business to grow and prosper is displayed in the grand opening of Albee True Value Home Center this week. It started 28 years ago as a mom and pop store under the ownership of Gib and Gladys Albee, center. The boys, Lynn, left, and Dick took over in 1976. Details in section 2.

The couple are living at Whiddons Trailer Park, Lot No. 5, Columbus, Miss. 39701. He is stationed at Columbus Air Force Base, Miss. Mrs. Armstead is a registered nurse and was formerly employed at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

"If It Fitz..." Staub and I strike out

By Jim Fitzgerald

When Jim Campbell joined me in the elevator, I was immediately conscious of my new responsibilities. I knew I had to do more than ask him who's on first base.

Campbell is president and general manager of the Detroit Tigers, a professional baseball team usually found in fifth place in the Eastern Division of the American League. He and I live in the same apartment building. Until now, our relationship has been based on mutual awe.

I have been awed by Campbell's proximity to my lifelong heroes, big league baseball players. He has been awed by my ability to always be on our apartment elevator when he gets on every morning, thus forcing me to offer me a ride to work.

He knows I never drive my car to work because I can't afford to park it. Campbell, on the other hand, can park free in the Tiger bullpen just outside the left field foul line. Relief pitchers no longer use the bullpen, by request of the head groundskeeper. The pitchers were being summoned into the game so often, they were trampling an unsightly path across the outfield grass. They now warm up in the dugout by patting each other's fannies. This not only exercises their pitching arms but also trains them to become first base coaches of the future.

A recent elevation in my status from ordinary baseball nut has required a change in my attitude toward Campbell. The sports editor of the Detroit Free Press has named me the sixth member of the five-person baseball fans Panel. It is my job to be ever ready in the bullpen, prepared to pinch-hit whenever a regular panel member is unable to fulfill his or her function, which is to tell Campbell how to get the Tigers into the World Series.

So when Campbell got on the elevator the other morning, I decided to get more out of him than a ride to work. I sought information which would help me warm up for panel duty, should my services be needed.

By chance, our meeting occurred the morning after Campbell bested Rusty Staub, the Tigers' designated hitter. Staub had been a holdout for four weeks, refusing to play unless Campbell added speed to the team by hiring Staub's mother as designated runner for the designated hitter. Campbell stubbornly refused, insisting that Rusty abide by his contract and do his own running, even if the baseball season had to be lengthened by two weeks to give him time to stretch a single into a double. Staub had finally struck out.

I knew it would be valuable for me and other panel members to learn how Campbell always outscored his players in contract battles. So, when he offered me the usual ride to work, I didn't immediately accept. "I will accept a ride today if you will extend the offer to cover my transportation to and from work for the next three weeks," I said. "Also, my wife needs a ride to the supermarket tomorrow."

Campbell refused to increase his original offer.

"I don't need to ride to work with you," I pointed out. "I can ride a bus anytime I want to. Several bus drivers have made me attractive, long-term offers that will guarantee my getting to work on time for many weeks to come. I really can't afford to refuse these offers without some sort of assurance from you that next month I won't be walking."

Campbell still wouldn't budge.

"I'm only asking to be treated fairly," I said. "You and I both know there is a man living in this building who is driven to work in a chauffeured limousine every morning, and his office is not as far away as mine is. I'm not demanding the best car in the world, but certainly I deserve better than having to ride this elevator for several hours every morning, waiting for you to get on and offer me a one-time seat in a Ford. A man gets tired of going up and down for practically nothing."

Campbell said if I would accept that day's ride, he would be willing to sit down with me next month and talk about my future. He added that it was starting to rain outside.

Rusty Staub never had a chance. If called upon to pinch-hit, I will tell the Baseball Fans Panel that only God can make it rain on people who want to renegotiate greed. I also struck out.

On the way to his car, Campbell acknowledged my losing effort by patting my fanny. Someday that guy might make a good first base coach.

Susan and Edward Skukalek

Susan Marie Corl of Deford and Edward Stephen Skukalek of Tampa, Fla., were wed May 5 at St. Pancratius Catholic church, Cass City.

Father Joseph Morales performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Glen and Rita Corl of Deford. The groom is the son of Steve and Helen Skukalek of Venice, Fla.

Sandy Corl was maid of honor and Glenda Deering was matron of honor, both of Deford and both sisters of the bride.

Bridesmaids were Char McNeil, Cass City, sister of the bride; Vera Francis, Deford, friend of the bride; Sharon Sutton and Sandy Phillips, both of Flint, sisters of the groom; Barb Grob, Dearborn Heights, cousin of the bride, and Lisa Klimek, Silverwood, cousin of the bride.

Best man was Tom Nicholson, Cass City, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Mike Corl, Deford, brother of the bride; Ken Zdrojewski, Lavern Rutkowski and Dave Gravelin, all of Cass City, friends of the groom; Dave Phillips and John Sutton, Flint, brothers-in-law of the groom, and John Lebiada, Deford, friend of the bride.

The bride wore a polyester organza gown with ruffled flounce and neckline and attached chapel length train trimmed with Venice lace. The sheer bishop sleeves, fitted cap headpiece and fingertip veiling was trimmed with Venice lace.

The matron and maid of honor and bridesmaids wore blue poly knit pleated gowns and sheer removable caps, with Venice lace trimmed collar and bodice. Picture hats were dyed to match, with satin ribbons and bows.

The bride's mother wore a blue poly knit dress with shirred collar and flared skirt, with bishop sleeves.

A reception followed at the Colony House, with 420 guests in attendance.

Following a honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Skukalek will be living near Tampa. The groom is employed as an engineer at General Cable in Tampa, having been recently transferred from Cass City.

Schripsema - Doerr wed in Ann Arbor

Cynthia Doerr of Davison and Richard Schripsema of Flint were united in marriage Friday, April 27, at the Christian Reformed Campus Chapel in Ann Arbor.

Rev. Don Postema officiated over the candle-lighting ceremony.

Present at the ceremony were the bride's mother, Mrs. Don Doerr, and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Doerr, John, Don and Joe Doerr, all of Cass City.

The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schripsema of Grand Rapids, and family and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Schripsema of Kalamazoo, were also present.

Witnessing the ceremony were Bonnie Walrod of Cass City and Henry Visser of Grand Rapids.

Following the ceremony, dinner was held for 25 guests at Win Schuler's.

Schripsema attended Calvin College in Grand Rapids and holds masters degrees in hospital administration and business administration from the University of Michigan. He is administrative director of Hurley Medical Center, Flint.

Mrs. Schripsema is a graduate of Cass City High School and Hurley Medical Center School of Nursing. She is employed at Flint Osteopathic Hospital.

The couple is residing in Flint.

Extension group takes spring tour

The spring tour for eight members of the Cass City Extension Group began at the offices of Teen Ranch in Marlette, Friday morning.

After viewing a film of their extensive program, Mr. Howell took the group to see one of three homes in Marlette where both physical and spiritual needs are supplied for the boys.

In the afternoon, the group enjoyed visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bud Guest at their Sunny-Side Farm near Mayville.

Seated in their pleasant living room, listening to Guest talk was reminiscent of his former 8:15 a.m. broadcasts on radio station WJR.

The Haire Net

In this issue you'll find an ad asking your opinion of burning in the village. I just finished preparing it for the type compositor.

"Laying out" this ad is a lot easier for me than deciding how I want to vote. To burn or not to burn, that is the question. (That's also the cliché.)

This issue falls into the same class as the other environmental issues of the day.

What's right against what's practical.

The answer to the gas crunch has to be sensible rationing. Despite the immediate black market that would spring up and the inevitable cheating, it still is the answer.

Voluntary conservation just doesn't work. It could with a modicum of restraint by everyone. The key word is everyone. No one wants to be the fall guy for the joy rider who rams down the road at 85 in a gas guzzler and couldn't care less about the gas problem as long as he gets his.

A rationing plan wouldn't have to be that restrictive to solve all our problems. Just enough to make guys going to work do it in full car pools and guys headed for the golf courses ride the way they play... in foursomes. You can see dozens of examples of obvious, relatively easy ways to save energy every day. Rationing would force us all to do what we would do voluntarily if we were at all smart.

That gets us back to the issue of burning leaves in the village. I always sort of liked the smell of burning leaves in the fall. It wasn't until I learned that it was bad for the environment that I had any qualms at all about it.

Now if there were a sudden burn ban, I would regretfully say to myself that really it's all for the best and get ready to put up with the inconvenience.

For sacking all those leaves from our monstrous lawn would be a massive headache... almost enough to get a guy to move if he couldn't hire anyone to help with the job. (That bit about hiring someone was an afterthought. You can see that already I am making plans to cope with this emergency if it comes.)

The kicker in all of this is the same as it is in voluntary conservation of gas. Why, I ask myself, is the Village singled out?

Why should village residents be required not to burn when just down the road three blocks from where I live burning can proceed unchecked?

Why should I not burn when the village regularly burns debris at the village landfill about a mile from where I live?

If it harms the environment at 4172 South Seeger, it harms the environment at the corner of River and Cemetery Roads, too.

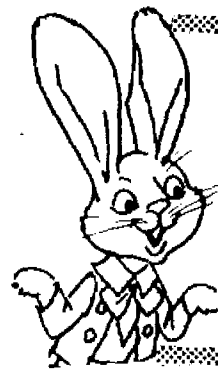

What it boils down to is, am I altruistic enough to vote for a measure that is right in principle but in practice has serious flaws?

Right now I just don't have the answer.

Rabbit Tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

The list of area residents older than the Chronicle's 88 years is growing. Mrs. Jack Blades, the daughter-in-law of Maude Blades, says that Mrs. Blades is now 93. She is living at Provincial House.

A pair of candidates was submitted by Mrs. Janet Martin of Gagelown. Her father, Wallace Laurie, is 92. Her mother, Marion, is 91. They will have been married for 69 years June 1 this year.

Did you ever take stock on a Sunday morning of the various type clothing worn to church these days?

I did last Sunday. There were men in somber dark hued business suits and ties. There were men in bright spring suits, gaudy ties and blazing shirts. There were men in sport shirts. There were men in jeans and tee-shirts. I was greeted at the door by a senior wearing his tux from the prom the night before. (He swears he took it off and put it on again to go to church.) In short, just about every mode of dress was represented. Personally, I figure it is a change for the better.

Oh, yes, the women. They wore just about everything there is to wear, too. I almost forgot to mention it because, really, there's no change there.

The Cass City School Board will have to bite the bullet within the next month. They have to decide whether or not to cut the kindergarten classes in Deford and Evergreen.

The easy way out of all this would be to run the classes without enough pupils and hope that the situation will work itself out.

The right way will be to decide what's best for the entire district and act accordingly.

If the classes were cut two teachers could be dropped and that would save some $25,000 in salaries. Perhaps a compromise solution would be the right one.

If next year's enrollment does fall to about 103 students, keep the program anyway with the understanding that if there is no change then the next year the classes would be changed so that a representative number of pupils are taught in each class.

That would cost district taxpayers a little more for 1979-80 than it probably should but the good will it generates should make it pay dividends.

Any district electors that wish to be heard can do so next Monday at the special meeting. Now is the time to be heard.

It promises to be a sticky situation and a good deal of cooperation and understanding will be necessary to avoid disgruntled electors.

Angry voters have put a crimp in more than one school district. Everything possible should be done to avoid it in Cass City.

Auxiliary meets

Twelve members of the American Legion Auxiliary met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Elgene Keller in Caro.

President Reva M. Little reviewed the statistics which went into the annual reports submitted in April. The year ended with 31 members with one death

Election of officers will take place at the June meeting.

$20.35 was realized for the treasury in a blind auction sale.

Door prize went to Mary Guild and dessert refreshments were served by the hostess.

Police investigate minor theft, clinic break-in Cass City police are investigating the week-end break-in at the Hills and Dales Medical Clinic, across from the hospital.

Entry was gained by breaking a window on the east side of the building.

The break-in was discovered late Sunday afternoon.

The offices of Dr. Hoon K. Jeung, M.D., and Dr. Richard A. Hall, D.O., were entered.

All that Jeung found missing was one full bottle and one partly empty bottle of Talwin, reportedly a pain-killer, taken from a cabinet in his laboratory.

Nothing was missing from Hall's office and nothing was disturbed in either office.

Damage was estimated at $130 for the broken double-pane window and damaged window frame, which led to Jeung's office, and $50 to the door jamb and latch leading to Hall's reception room, the door having been kicked in.

A 9-year-old boy was turned over by Cass City police to his parents after he was caught shoplifting in Old Wood Drug Monday afternoon.

The boy was caught after he dropped two 69-cent bags of smoke balls into a bag he was carrying.

Neal Colton of Mariette reported to Kingston police officer Thomas Kolb May 8 that several parts were stolen off an engine he owned, which was behind the Kingston village hall.

Taken were the carburetor, $40; valve cover, $15; starter, $56; thermostat, $2; ignition coil, $11, and some bolts. The parts were taken some time between May 3 and May 8.

M-46, M-53 4-way stop as of May 23

The intersection of M-46 and M-53 north of Mariette will become a four-way stop starting Wednesday, May 23, the Michigan Department of Transportation has announced.

At present, only M-46 traffic is required to stop at M-53.

The change to a four-way stop results from a joint survey of the intersection by the Department of Transportation and the State Police.

stop in an assured clear distance ahead.

At 11 p.m. Saturday, according to deputies, Kathleen J. Conrad, 48, of 2387 Englehart Road, Deford, was northbound on Kingston Road, south of Mushroom, when a rear tire blew. She lost control, the car struck a mailbox on the west side of the road, crossed over and came to a halt in a yard on the east side.

At 2:10 a.m. Friday, according to Caro state police, Sandra D. Moery, 31, of 2385 Froede Road, Kingston, was westbound on M-46, west of Phillips Road. She said she lost control of her car while trying to avoid some deer. It went off the south side of the road and rolled over.

She was slightly injured but didn't need medical treatment.

At 10 a.m. Friday, Gerald J. Maisca, 27, of St. Clair Shores, was westbound on M-81 at Crawford Road when his car struck a pheasant. Cass City police said the grill of his car was smashed and would need replacement.

Ronald G. Bennett, 39, of Beverly Hills, Mich., was eastbound on M-81 at Greenland Road at 3:10 a.m. Sunday, according to Cass City police, when his car struck a deer.

At 3:56 a.m. that day, deputies reported, Todd M. Vatter, 17, of 4110 Decker Road, Decker, was eastbound on Severance Road at Englehart when he swerved to avoid hitting some deer. The car went off the road into a yard and struck a utility pole.

Brian E. Mallory, 21, of 3483 Linden Road, Kingston, was eastbound on Bevens Road, east of Hurds Corner Road, when his car struck a deer. Caro state police investigated the 9:20 p.m. accident Sunday.

Mayor exchange

Ubly to swap with Lyons

Ubly is the only area community that will be participating in Mayor's Exchange Day as part of Michigan Week.

A delegation of 14 from Lyons, a community of about 800 people about midway between Grand Rapids and Lansing, will be visiting Monday. They will be led by Mayor Harry Rogers and his wife.

A hoped for delegation of 14 from Ubly, led by Village President Earl Longuski, will visit Lyons Thursday.

The delegation from Lyons will arrive at 9:30 a.m. with welcoming ceremonies in the basement of the Community Bank. Then will come visits to Hamill Manufacturing and the village hall and warehouse.

Lunch will be at noon at the Ubly Heights Country Club, with citizens invited to attend. A tour of the club will follow.

After that will come a visit to the Ubly schools, at 1 p.m., then Lyntex Manufacturing.

Dinner with Ubly Village Council members will be at Tyll's dining room.

As he has been doing since the 1960s, local insurance agent A.H. (Gus) MacEachin is in charge of arrangements. He is hoping to go to Lyons Thursday if he can get away from work. If so, it will be the first time he has visited the community Ubly is exchanging with.

In conjunction with Michigan Week each year, village officials in Gagetown, Owego, Sebawaing and Pigeon have dinner together.

Owendale will host this year, although the dinner, Saturday, May 26, will be at Sherwood on the Hill in Gagetown.

State Rep. Quincy Hoaman (R-Applegate) will speak.

Saturday his day

Ubly to honor Gus MacEachin

Saturday has been declared A.H. (Gus) MacEachin Day in Ubly by Village president Earl Longuski.

The long-time civic leader will be honored that evening with a testimonial dinner at the Ubly Fox Hunters Club.

MacEachin, 65, was born in the house on Murphy Street where he still lives and maintains his insurance business. He started the business in 1952. Prior to that, he was a barber.

MacEachin served as village clerk from 1946-51, and completed the terms after that of two clerks who resigned.

He has served as president and secretary of both the Ubly Community Club and Ubly Lions Club. He helped organize the Ubly Recreational Community Committee which raised the money to build the school athletic complex.

He has been chairman of the Ubly Homecoming, held each July, and is still involved with organizing the event.

Since Mayors' Exchange Day during Michigan Week started in the 1960s, he has been in charge of activities in Ubly for the visiting dignitaries.

The civic leader also served Huron county as its representative to the predecessor of the 14-county East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region, starting in 1969. He was chairman for one year during the region's reorganization and then one year as chairman of the reorganized body. He now serves as the county's alternate to the planning body.

MacEachin and his wife Kathryn have five children and six grandchildren. Sons John and Douglas are in business with their father. Their three daughters are Mrs. Janice McGurk, who lives in California; Mrs. Joan Baranic, Bad Axe, and Jane MacEachin, Bay City.

Community booster

Coach Light owner

active leader

Editor's note: this is one of a series sponsored by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce about community boosters who are members of the organization.

Since coming to Cass City in 1968 Mike Weaver has proved to be a community and a business booster.

When he arrived here to take over Mac & Scotty Drug Store he first changed the name to Coach Light Pharmacy. He then proceeded to change and enlarge the store.

One year after he purchased the business he expanded to an adjacent store doubling the size. In 1975 he added to the rear of the building and added a third more space.

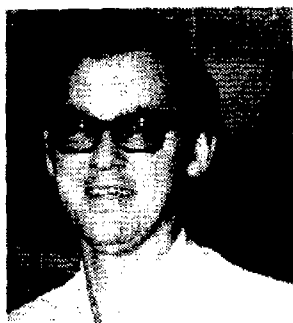

While a newcomer to Cass City area when he bought the drug store, he was not new to the Thumb. He graduated from Elkton High School.

He worked as a pharmacist in Mt. Pleasant from 1962 to 1968 before coming to Cass City.

Weaver has taken an active role in community events. He's been a hard worker as a member of the Cass City Development Corp. and has been one of the persons instrumental in securing doctors for the community. He has also been a worker as a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the retail business committee. He is a member of the Cass City Rotary and several professional organizations.

He and his wife, Toby, have two children, Jean, 9, and Wendy, 6, both at Campbell Elementary School.

Mrs. Teets

postmaster in Kingston

Beverly A. Teets of 3675 Phillips Road, Kingston, is the new Kingston postmaster.

She assumed her new duties May 4. She replaces Walter Parrott, who retired Dec. 1 after 23 years as postmaster and Joseph P. Mousseau of Reese, who served as officer-in charge since then.

A graduate of Vassar High School, Mrs. Teets later graduated from Compromise School in Saginaw and attended Michigan State University from 1957-61.

She has taken off-campus classes at Eastern Michigan and Central Michigan Universities.

She has worked in a grocery store and as a key punch operator. She was a substitute school teacher in 1959-60, taught grades 3-5 in 1960-61 and K-8 from 1961-63, all in the Snover area.

Mrs. Teets started working for the Postal Service as a substitute rural carrier in November, 1970, continuing until February, 1975, when she became a full-time carrier, a position she held until her appointment as postmaster.

She served one year as vice-president of the Tuscola County Rural Letter Carriers Association and two years as secretary-treasurer.

She and her husband, Evans, have three children, Lisa, Ted and Mark.

Baptist ladies feted Sunday

A special Sunday school service was held honoring the ladies of First Baptist church on Mother's Day.

Men and teenagers substituted for those who ordinarily serve in the Sunday school program, so that all the ladies could meet in the fellowship hall. They were served a continental breakfast at tables decorated with fresh flowers.

Mrs. Val Basset of Bay City was the guest speaker for the occasion.

Each lady present received a gift from the church. Special awards were given, involving service to the Sunday school, to Mrs. Vera Bearss, Mrs. Stanley McArthur and Mrs. Lou LaPonsie.

Arrangements were made by Sunday school Superintendent Stan Gunther.

Jury denies damages for Eisinger accident injury

A Tuscola County Circuit Court jury Friday decided Kenneth Eisinger of Cass City was not entitled to damages for injuries he suffered in a Dec. 12, 1972 accident.

Defendants in the Eisinger suit were Arnold and Geraldine Fischer of 6630 Third Street, Cass City, and William Eagle of Sandusky.

The accident took place on M-81 in Elkland township. A car driven by Mrs. Fischer and owned by her husband had stopped in the roadway because of a mechanical malfunction.

Eisinger stopped to help and while standing between the door of his car and the door frame, it was struck by the eastbound car of Eagle. His left leg was caught between the door and frame, according to the suit, injuring his leg, knee, hips and pelvis.

The legal proceedings began in May, 1973, when Eagle filed a claim in the small claims division of District Court, seeking $164.67 from Eisinger for damages to his (Eagle's) car.

Eisinger counter-sued and later added the Fischers as third-party defendants. He sought total damages of $95,000, from Eagle and-or the Fischers, with the jury to decide how much each party would pay, if any.

Postponements for various reasons over the years were responsible for the delay in bringing the case to court.

The trial finally began

Tuesday, May 8, and ran through Friday.

The jury's verdict, that Eisinger was the negligent party and therefore not entitled to damages, came after about four hours' deliberation.

It found Mrs. Fischer was also negligent, according to Eagle's attorney, David Dogger of Saginaw, but was not responsible for Eisinger's injuries.

Following the jury's verdict, Circuit Judge Norman A. Baguley ruled that Eagle was entitled to his claim of $164 plus interest from Eisinger.

The latter's attorney, Clinton House of Cass City, told the Chronicle no decision yet had been made on whether an appeal will be filed.

Following filing of the official judgment, which will probably be next week, he has 20 days to do so.

REFLECTIONS - Young trees and water created this scene along Elkton Road (Cemetery Road) near Rescue.

Walbro reports top sales year

At the Annual Meeting of Walbro Corporation, stockholders heard Walter E. Walpole, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, report that 1978 sales reached the highest level in the company's 28-year history.

He also said first quarter sales in '79 ran 30 percent ahead of the same '78 period with current order backlogs and delivery schedules continuing strong.

Providing details on the international company's growth during the year, Lambert E. Althaver, president and chief operating officer, reported net sales for 1978 of $33,095,714. This topped the previous record of 1977 by $5,389,596. Although earnings were down slightly, Althaver stated that the Corporation's long-range program is proceeding as anticipated. He notes, "... total assets climbed to $15,059,220, up $2,283,478 and stockholders' equity is up 13.9 percent."

Highlighting '78 progress, he said the new corporate R & D facility in Caro had just completed its first year of operation. "Prototypes of new, economical fuel pumps and specialized carburetors promise exciting results in the near future."

James L. Ware, vice-president of finance, indicated that Walbro Corporation is now eight associated corporations: four here and four abroad ... conducting business in five monetary and tax systems.

"We are making good progress toward a major corporate goal - providing customers with continuity of delivery," he continued. "We are now shipping from the U.S. to Europe, Japan, and Mexico. We ship from Mexico to the U.S. We ship from Japan to Germany, Mexico and the U.S. ... and from Singapore to Japan and the U.S."

Stockholders were also addressed by Hiroto Kobayashi, president of Walbro Far East, Kawasaki City, Japan, and Tatsuo Yagi, managing director of Walbro Singapore Pte., Ltd. in Singapore. They spoke of the growing Walbro far eastern capabilities to serve the major and expanding markets in Asia as well as Europe and North America.

Stockholders received first-hand reports on specific progress in facilities, product development and sales projections from the senior executives of Walbro's four U.S. operations. Briefings were by Robert H. Walpole, senior vice-president, carburetor group ... Victor M. Guernsey, senior vice-president, automotive products group ... David E. Harrington, vice-president general manager, Auburn Diecast, and Garry S. Hoffman, general manager, Arjay Manufacturing Company.

Poor get break on utility bills

Under administrative rules recently adopted by a joint legislative committee, Michigan's poor will get additional time to pay late utility bills before their gas or electric service is terminated.

According to the rules, promulgated by the Public Service Commission which regulates utility companies in the state, utilities will have to delay any shutoff of services for 14 days if a poor person shows he or she has made an application for emergency relief to pay a late utility bill.

The new rules also require that utilities send shutoff notices to third-parties in certain circumstances and print on shutoff notices that this can be delayed if there is a medical emergency.

Under current rules, each utility customer has 21 days to pay a utility bill. The each notice of discontinuation of service must give the customer an additional 10 days to pay the bill before service is shut off.

GRADUATES -- Judy Wright (left) and daughter Barb will both be receiving their diplomas at the Owendale-Gagetown High School graduation May 24.

Mom and daughter fellow graduates at Owen-Gage

Judy Wright calls the prospect of graduating with her daughter, "Exciting!" Barbara Wright calls graduating with her mother, "Great!"

When the senior class at Owendale-Gagetown High School graduates Thursday, May 24, among the graduates will be Judy Wright, 36, and daughter, Barb, 18.

The mother of three went through the 11th grade at Owen-Gage, leaving school only one class short of the requirements needed for graduation.

She and husband Chuck have been married almost 19 years. In addition to Barb, there are also daughter Karen, 14, and son Scott, 13. The family lives at 4917 State Street, Gagetown.

Taking that final course to get her diploma, Mrs. Wright said, "was something I wanted to do," but until this past year, hadn't got around to doing.

The class she needed was government. She first considered taking a night class through the Caro Community Education program, but that didn't fit into her schedule.

Owen-Gage High School Principal James Barr and then counselor John Rinke then arranged for her to take her required course at home during the 1978-79 school year.

So starting last September, there was Mrs. Wright enrolled in absentia in Phil Gray's government class.

Daughter Barb was in the class so it was a simple matter for Gray to give her assignments to take home for her mother and then bring back the completed work for grading. Mrs. Wright had to do some extra assignments since she wasn't in class.

Taking the class, the soon-to-be graduate said, has made watching or reading the news more interesting. Now she knows, for instance, who the speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives is and what he does. "When I see him on TV, I can say, 'There's Tip O'Neil.'"

Mrs. Wright will take part in the baccalaureate program Sunday with the other graduates, as well as in the commencement ceremonies. "I don't know how I'll be handling this. I'll be crying for her (Barb's) graduation."

After graduation, she is considering taking some secretarial courses at Delta College and would like to get a job in that field some day.

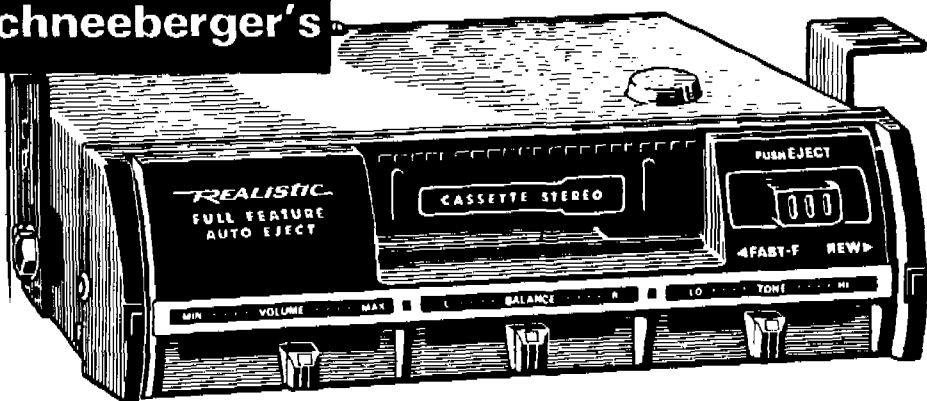

Mrs. Wright isn't going on the senior trip, but she did get invited to an outdoor night-before senior skip day party last week, provided she promised she wouldn't be a nagging parent.

She arrived too early, however, so didn't stay. "That way," the frequently jovial graduate laughed, "I didn't end up with a hang-over."

Two sentenced in $72 theft

Two men involved in the theft of $72 from Archie's Gas Station in Vassar were sentenced Monday by Circuit Judge Norman A. Baguley.

James R. Gillespie, 21, of Blackmore Road, Caro, and David Thane, 21, of Caro Mobile Estates, Caro, had each pleaded guilty to larceny under $100.

Gillespie was placed on one year's probation, fined $100, assessed $425 court costs and sentenced to 15 days in the county jail, with credit for one day served and work release granted.

Thane was placed on one year's probation, fined $100, assessed $200 court costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, with credit for one day served.

The theft occurred at the gas station last Oct. 10. Also Monday, Michael D. Grimshaw, 21, formerly of Mayville, was sentenced to 20 months to 2 1/2 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson for attempted larceny over $100.

He pleaded guilty to the charge April 23, in connection with the Aug. 10, 1978 theft of electrical wire that belonged to the city of Vassar.

The sentence will be concurrent with a 5-10 year sentence he is serving for a breaking and entering conviction.

Janis B. Murphy, 26, of Flint, pleaded guilty to two charges of attempting to obtain morphine by forged prescription. Her plea was accepted and sentencing scheduled June 25. Bond was continued.

One of the attempts took place March 26, the other, March 30, both times in Vassar.

Friday before Judge Baguley, Maxine Ellsworth, now living in Arizona, was found to have violated probation.

She was ordered to serve the 90 day jail sentence imposed at the time of her sentencing. She was placed on 5 years' probation Nov. 3, 1975 for arson.

The violations were failing to make a truthful report to her probation officer last July and failure to pay court ordered obligations in June and July.

DISTRICT COURT

Willis E. LeBlanc of 3771 Cemetery Road, Cass City, was sentenced Monday by Judge Richard F. Kern for driving under the influence of liquor. He pleaded guilty to the charge April 30.

LeBlanc was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail, with serving of it deferred from month to month, fined $100 and assessed $150 court costs. His driver's license was suspended for 90 days, except for driving to and from work and he was placed on two years' probation.

He was arrested on the charge April 27 by sheriff's deputies in Elkland township.

Chapter sponsors varied projects

Ubly FFA continues to pile up honors

UBLY FFA - From left, Ubly Future Farmers of America President Bill Rutkowski, Secretary Kim Walsh and chapter advisor-high school agriculture teacher Jim LeCureux inside the greenhouse, located outside the vo-ag room at the high school.

Competing for space along the walls of the vocational agriculture room at Ubly High School with plaques, trophies and other honors is a sign.

It says: "Triumph is TRI with a little UMPH added." The 84 members of the Ubly Future Farmers of America chapter do try a lot and apply a lot of umph, and it pays.

Eleven judging teams in state FFA competition at Michigan State University earned either a gold or silver award and one of them placed first in the state.

In the Wickes Big Acre competition, of 28 schools statewide, it took second place for the best chapter award behind a school that took the top honor six of the past seven years. It earned a silver award nationally.

Three of its members earned state degrees, putting them in the top 2½ percent of FFAers in the state, based on projects, leadership and other activities.

Last November, the chapter sent a delegation of 21 to the National FFA convention in Kansas City, Mo.

BUT BEING IN FFA isn't just winning awards. It's everything from slaughtering chickens to planting flowers.

The club advisor is James LeCureux, (pronounced le-cure), vo-ag teacher at Ubly the past 11 years.

FFA and vo-ag are somewhat intertwined. The first year class is general agriculture; second year, dairy and soils; third year, livestock and crops, and fourth year, farm management.

There is also a greenhouse class when enough students are interested. This year, there were 82 students enrolled in the four regular agriculture classes. Next year, when there will be a greenhouse class, projected enrollment will be 105.

THERE WERE 84 MEMBERS in the FFA Ubly chapter this year, according to President Bill Rutkowski, including some who graduated previously. Youngsters can stay in FFA for three years after graduation or until age 21.

On the other hand, not everyone taking ag classes is active in FFA. "We would like to see more people participate in activities," said LeCureux.

The key to success of the club, of course, is involvement. "If you don't have students who want to get involved, you don't have much luck," he commented.

There are numerous activities to get involved in. The ninth grade class forms a cooperative and raises chickens in a coop behind the school. One hundred of the birds were slaughtered in December, the remaining 140 last Thursday. Any profits from sale of the dressed birds is split up by the stockholders.

There are the FFA leadership and public speaking contests.

The chapter sent 12 judging teams to the state FFA judging contest at Michigan State University in late April.

Seven teams won silver medals and four won gold awards. The gold winning milk quality and dairy foods team took first place, thus qualifying for the competition at the national FFA convention in November in Kansas City. The team members are Yvonne Pionk, Tina Grifka and Ann Osen-toski.

They aren't the only ones who will be going to the national convention. In addition to any qualifying for contests there, the club has a point system based on local participation and achievement. The top 10 percent in points go to Kansas City each year.

In November, 1978, 21 people went, 16 FFAers, LeCureux and two married couples as chaperones. The Ubly group usually charters a bus with another FFA chapter to get to Kansas City.

Another project is the land laboratory, on property owned by the village of Ubly. The chapter grows about 15 acres of field corn, 5 acres of hay and a couple acres of sweet corn. The club owns its own planter, sprayer, disc and harrow and borrows a tractor owned by the school.

Participation in the Wickes Big Acre program, involving competition in cash crop production by individual members and FFA chapters, netted Ubly second place out of 28 schools in best chapter competition this year and nine individual gold awards.

Other projects include landscaping of the house built each year by the building trades class, planting flowers in town, summer camping trip, and attendance at the state FFA convention and sending of two delegates each year to the FFA president's conference in Washington, D.C.

ALL THE ACTIVITIES take money and the Ubly group has various means of raising that. There is the fall fruit sale; sale of seed, bedding plants and flowers from the greenhouse and the crops from the land laboratory, and a "slave sale" (to do odd jobs). Altogether, the club raises about $6,000 a year.

In addition, there is a parents' group, the Ubly FFA Boosters Club, organized four or five years ago. Through moneymaking projects such as a dance, it provides scholarships for FFA members studying agriculture in college, money to help pay the cost of attending the national convention and is starting a program to loan money at 5 percent interest to FFA members in need of funds to start their individual projects.

LeCUREUX IS EMPLOYED by the district year-round and one of his summer tasks is to visit students to advise them on their projects, such as entries for the Huron County Fair. At last year's fair, the grand champion steer and two of three beef showmanship winners were from the Ubly club.

All of the club's many honors led to one for advisor LeCureux, awarding of the FFA Honorary Farmer Degree at the national convention last November.

He was one of only 30-35 so honored nationally, each of whom received a $10,000 tractor engine and drive train from Ford Motor Co.

Since Ubly doesn't have an ag mechanics class -- he would like to see one started some day -- he donated the prize to North Huron High School, which does have such a program.

Does Ubly High School have one of the best FFA chapters in Michigan?

"We like to think so," said its advisor.

GOIN' TO KANSAS CITY -- Actually, the delegation from Ubly High School attending the National Future Farmers of America convention in Kansas City, Mo., last November had already arrived when this photo was taken.

CHICKEN PLUCKING is what the freshman vocational agriculture class at Ubly is doing. The class slaughtered 100 birds last December and 140 more last week, with proceeds from the sale divided among the class members. The birds are raised in a coop behind the high school.

Albert Frappert dies

Albert E. Frappert of Gagetown, former Saginaw resident, died Wednesday, May 9, at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Ann Arbor.

He was born July 13, 1924 in Saginaw and served with the U.S. Army during World War II.

He is survived by his wife, Earlene; seven children, Rocky and Earl Ansbomb, and Debbie Dougherty, all of Saginaw, William Clairmont, Vassar, Carlene Sattelberg, Diane Smith and Keith Frappert, all of Gagetown; 12 grandchildren; one brother, Kenneth Frappert, California, and five sisters, Mrs. Walter (Ethel) Brainerd, Mrs. Jack (Shirley) DeRosier, Mrs. Darrel (Montaje) Foster, Mrs. Don (Audrey) Johnson and Mother-daughter fete held

The annual mother-daughter banquet was held Saturday evening, May 12, at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Emlaville, sponsored by the Ladies Aid of the congregation.

More than 125 guests attended the potluck buffet affair.

Theme for the evening was the "Year Of the Child" with a huge banner and programs bearing the 1979 symbol. Toastmistress Mrs. Pat Diebel explained the meaning of the theme, after which the Sunday school girls sang the song especially written for the Year of the Child celebration, "Someone Special."

Tribute to Mother was given by Kim Dubs; response by Mrs. Diana Dubs. The skit "Little Miss Make Believe" was performed by Amy Thies; reader, Mrs. Ruth Fluegge.

"Reading Grandmother" was read by Mrs. Stella Erer to her granddaughters and "Darling Mother" by Tiffany Reinhardt.

"Happy Mother's Day to You" was sung by the Sunday school girls. The group singing of "Smile" was led by Mrs. Wilma Kowach.

Gifts were presented to the following: Eight-month-old Brandi Parrish, youngest daughter; longest eyelashes, ages 2-4, Karlie Salcido; most teeth missing, ages 4-8, Gina Erer; best secret of Mom's cooking, "Have Dad Do it," to Dena McDonald.

Teenager wearing ankle bracelet, Julie Enderle; mother with highest heels, Peggy Lynn Brown; person coming the farthest, 140 miles, Jenny Ziehm; mother with most daughters and granddaughters present, nine, Mrs. Bertha Faust Kiser.

Mrs. Vida Fluegge closed the evening with a special prayer.

Hawk thinclads split loop meets

Cass City Red Hawks split a pair of Thumb B Conference track meets and won a non-league encounter with Millington during the week.

One win was over the Lakers last Wednesday, 92-65, at Cass City Recreational Park. Millington fell, 102½ to 55½, Friday.

The Hawks lost to league leading Caro Monday, 98-60.

Against the Lakers the Hawks won 10 of 16 events paced by Richards who was a double winner in the mile and 880.

The Hawks won 9 of 16 events against Millington, sweeping all the relay events.

Millington boasted the only double individual winners in the meet. Charlton won the mile and the 880. King took the shot and discus and Shaffer copped the long jump and 120-low hurdles.

Monday, Caro walked off with 10 of the 16 events and added more than its share of the other three places for important points to register an easy victory.

Cass City's Steve Richards was a double winner for the Hawks in the mile and 880. Kevin Stoddard won the shot and discus for Caro. Another double winner for the Tigers was Heath in the long jump and 100-yard dash.

The winners of the three meets and their time or distance were:

Owen-Gage takes over in North Central D title race

Owen-Gage moved into the lead in the North Central D League standings Tuesday with two wins at Peck.

Phil Gray's Bulldogs are now 10-2 in the league, 13-5 overall. In second place is Carsonville-Port Sanilac at 9-2.

Owen-Gage won the first game, 11-3. Alan Haag went the first 2-3 innings for the victors and was relieved by Pete Klemkowski, the winning pitcher. They combined for 2 hits, 8 walks and 5 strikeouts.

Losing pitcher was Mark Lorkowski.

Winning pitcher in the second game, won by the Bulldogs 9-0, was Jim Kuhr, who struck out seven and gave up two hits.

Groat and Fletcher pitched for the Pirates and gave up 12 hits, five walks and struck out five.

The Bulldogs play Thursday at Port Austin and end the regular season at home against Port Hope. The latter contest starts at 1 p.m.

LAKERS GAME

Owen-Gage lost to Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port Saturday, 7-4, in the semifinals of the Huron county high school baseball tournament at Port Austin.

In the finals, Lakers lost to Harbor Beach, 6-1. The Bulldogs had qualified for the semi-finals with a win the previous Saturday over Bad Axe.

Winning pitcher for Lakers was Eric Chappel, who struck out three, walked one and gave up seven hits.

It wasn't Pete Klemkowski's day on the mound for the Bulldogs, as he gave up nine hits, and one walk in his four innings on the mound. He struck out one.

He was relieved by Alan Haag, who struck out two, walked one and gave up one hit.

The Bulldogs made five errors in the game: Lakers, three.

Mark McDonald hit two singles for the Bulldogs and Doug Laurie had a double.

Aaron Deering and Todd Wisenbaugh each had two singles for the victors.

KINGSTON GAMES

Owen-Gage increased its league mark to 8-2 Monday with two wins over Kingston, 4-0 and 6-0. The games were played at Owendale.

In the first game, Pete Klemkowski came within one out of his second no-hitter of the season. With two out in the sixth, the Cardinals got two hits, both singles.

The junior hurler struck out eight and walked one.

Losing pitcher was Bryan Eldridge, who struck out three, walked one and gave up six hits.

Six Bulldogs got hits, with Alan Haag getting a triple.

Dick Glidden was the winning pitcher in the 6-0 nightcap, giving up one hit, five walks and striking out nine.

Glidden was also top batsman for his team with two singles.

Kingston's one hit was a double in the fifth inning off the bat of Paul Mileski.

Losing pitcher was Todd Remsing with five hits, four walks and three strikeouts.

CASEVILLE

Bulldog hurler Pete Klemkowski pitched a no-hitter at Caseville last Thursday as his team downed the Eagles 2-0. Owen-Gage won the second game, 6-2.

The junior moundsman struck out eight in the game and walked one.

Jim Hendershot drove in both runs on a single. The only other hit in the game was Mark McDonald's double.

Losing pitcher was Craig Guster, who gave up the two hits, walked two and struck out five.

Winning pitcher for Owen-Gage in the second game was Dick Glidden, who struck out nine, walked five and gave up three hits.

All hits by both sides were singles, with singles by Glidden and Hendershot each driving in two runs.

Losing pitcher was Dan Fitzpatrick, who went the first four innings and was relieved by Mike Novak. They combined for three walks, four hits and six strikeouts.

YARDSTICK

Success is not measured by what one has accumulated, but by the many obstacles he has overcome along the way.

Title hopes killed Vassar cops 2 from Hawk nine

League leading Vassar showed the Cass City Red Hawks why they are in the driver's seat in the Thumb B Conference Tuesday, May 8, by whipping the Hawks in both ends of a double header.

It was a sad week for Cass City, which split a twin bill with the Lakers last Thursday and are now effectively removed from the championship chase.

The opening game was a pitching duel between Earney Stoutenburg of Cass City and Jim Evens of the Vulcans. Vassar won, 3-2.

Each pitcher gave up just four hits. Stoutenburg struck out six; Evens whiffed five.

The teams were tied going into the last inning when a double by Fred Johnston scored Bekemeir who reached first on an error. Tony Doerr led the Hawk attack with two hits in four tries.

Both the Lakers and Cass City in the second game and when the firing was done the Hawks were edged, 6-5, when the winners scored the winning marker in the final inning.

For awhile it looked like a repeat of the opening game. One big inning appeared to be enough to win it for Cass City. The Hawks rapped six hits good for five runs in the second to take a 5-0 lead.

But the Lakers staged a rally of their own in the third with four markers on six hits to get back into the game. Single runs in the fifth and sixth decided the issue.

Todd Alexander and Randy Ferris, with two hits led the Hawk assault. Wisenbaugh led the Lakers with three hits in four tries.

For Bulldog softball team

First regular season loss in 4 years

The Owen-Gage girls' softball team split in games Thursday and Monday, the first regular season losses ever in the four years the Bulldogs have been playing the sport.

The first split was last Thursday at Caseville, which moved the Eagles into first place in the North Central D League.

Monday at Owendale, Kingston won the first game, 7-5, and lost the second, 10-3.

Winning pitcher in the first game was Marie Lalko. Losing pitcher was Becky Howard. The Cardinals didn't have any hits and scored all their runs in the fourth inning on walks.

Winning pitcher in the second game for Owen-Gage was Laurie Andrakowicz. Lalko was the losing pitcher.

At Peck Tuesday, the Bulldogs defeated the Pirates 27-21 in the first game - the latter team's first loss this season - and 12-3 in the second game.

Winning pitcher in the first game was Carol Goslin; losing pitcher was Jonah Bullis.

Tammy Kain won the second game. Leslie LeBlanc was the loser.

The Bulldogs, now 10-2 in the league behind Caseville's 11-1, play Thursday at Port Austin and end the regular season at home Monday against Port Hope, starting at 1 p.m.

CASEVILLE GAME

Owen-Gage, which hadn't lost a regular season softball game in seasons, lost one last Thursday when it dropped the first half of a double header, 8-3, to Caseville.

Winning pitcher was Michelle McCormick, who struck out 11, walked six and gave up four hits.

Dana Laurie was the starter and losing pitcher for the Bulldogs. She got relief help from Laurie Andrakowicz.

Becky Howard led the losers with two singles.

Owen-Gage rebounded in the second game, 11-4.

Tammy Kain started for the victors and was relieved by Howard. The pair combined for four strikeouts, eight walks and six hits.

Julie Andrakowicz led the Bulldog batters with a triple and a single.

Losing pitcher was Michelle McCormick, who started. She was relieved by Shari Dutcher, the pair combining to strike out seven, walk 10 and allow six hits.

Cass City High School's softball team bounced back from a double loss to Marlette to win three of four games played in Thumb B Conference competition.

The girls had little trouble racking up a twin win over the Lakers, 16-6, and 15-4.

In the opener Tammie Root pitched a seven-hitter for Cass City. The Hawks won the game in the first inning when they scored seven times. The game was called after 4½ innings because of the 10-run rule.

Cracking two hits for Cass City were Nancy Tonti, Shirley Fleming, and Lori Opanasenko.

The nightcap also went five innings and the results were the same. Cass City registered a one-sided, 16-6, victory.

Kelli Winter started and was relieved by Fleming. The Hawks pounded out 15 hits including three each by Rochelle Messer and Opanasenko.

Three big innings shoved the Hawks into the win column. Cass City scored four times in both the second and third innings and then wrapped up the game with a seven run burst in the fourth.

The Hawk pitchers were helped by two double plays. Nancy Tonti at shortstop started the first twin killing from shortstop. The second was from catcher Tammie McKee to first baseman Libby Hartel and back to McKee.

Hawks power way to 3 out of 4 softball wins

Cass City picked up three of its six hits in the inning and, coupled with three walks, batted around in the big fifth.

The Lakers had bounced out to a three-run lead in the first inning and then never scored again. Comment limited the losers to just two harmless singles after arriving in the third.

New Albees' sets grand opening

15,000-foot store
2½ times larger

The new Albee True Value Home Center has more than 2½ times the floor space of the former store that housed the company on Main Street in Cass City.

The new building has 15,000 square feet of floor space; the former location had 6,000 square feet.

What to do with the extra space hasn't been any problem. Already the store is jammed at the seams with merchandise.

That's because, Lynn and Dick Albee, co-owners, say, the company has added many new lines to the store inventory.

The lines include plumbing, farm hardware, electrical and automotive.

Additions to the lines traditionally offered have also eaten up the extra space.

There's a complete decorating center with expanded paints and paint accessories. The expanded house-ware and gift department now features a complete selection of cards for all occasions.

There's a bigger and better display of Albee's traditionally large offering of lawn and garden supplies.

The sporting goods department has been enlarged to include the fishing and hunting equipment that customers have indicated they would like to see, the brothers explained.

Not the least of the advantages of the new store, the Albees say, is customer shopping convenience. We were able to design the store we wanted because we started from the ground up. Shopping should be enjoyable and we believe it is now at the new Home Center, they said.

That was one major reason why we decided to build new rather than expand at our downtown location, they concluded.

CCHS

Friday was Senior Skip Day. In order to be excused for that day, pre-arranged excuses had to be filled out and signed by the student, parents, and teachers. Excuses such as Polar bear hunting in Alaska, going to the beach in a yellow submarine; Dracula hunting in Transylvania; etc. were turned in at the office.

This was the seniors' last full week of school. It seems so weird to think that "we're" the ones graduating this year. I can still remember sitting back in sixth grade, thinking that I'd never make it six more years. Now, the time has passed and "our" big day is right around the corner!!! The Junior-Senior Banquet was held Saturday, May 12, at the Colony House. This year's theme was "We've Got Tonight". The band performing at the prom was "White Rock". A good time was had by all that attended.

Wednesday, the first graders were to have seen Pinocchio at the Bad Axe schools. Everyone was excited.

Gagetown again seeks new policeman

The Gagetown Village Council, which on May 7, hired a new policeman, is looking for a policeman again.

The council had hired former Sebawaing village officer James Southworth, who was to assume his new duties as soon as his uniform was ready.

Southworth has since changed his mind. According to Madeline Sontag, wife of the village clerk, his wife didn't want him to take the job.

Port Austin

play tryouts

this week end

Auditions will be held from 1-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday for a new Summer Repertory Theatre of the Port Austin Community Players.

"Summer '79" will be a series of three productions presented in an alternating pattern from Wednesday through Sunday evening. The tentative repertoire will be "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum", a funny Broadway musical; "Blithe Spirit," Noel Coward's comedy masterpiece, and "Show Stoppers," a compiled Broadway musical revue.

Needed for the production will be actors, actors who sing, singers who act, dancers, musicians, lighting persons, stage technicians, publicity persons, house and ticket managers, and other positions.

If a person auditions and gets a part in one show he or she will rehearse three or four times a week from June 16-July 13. After the shows' preview, they will run once or twice a week through Aug. 19.

If a person would like to be involved in more than one show the time would multiply. The opportunity also exists for a person to act in one show and play in the orchestra for the third show.

During its five years in existence, PACP has been striving to bring live theatre during the fall, winter and spring. Now there will be live theatre during the summer also.

Your Neighbor says

Single term for presidents bad idea

President Carter recently said Presidents should be limited to a single six-year term in office.

That would require a change in the Constitution from the present limit of two four-year terms.

The President feels a single six-year term would free the nation's chief executives from accusations that their policies were politically motivated in order to get re-elected, and would therefore strengthen the ability of presidents to deal with Congress.

Although Helen Viney can see President Carter's point of view, she doesn't agree with him.

"You can pretty much tell after two years if they (presidents) are going to follow through with their promises and whether they're going to help out the economy any," she said.

But if after two years, the President is doing poorly, the public would have to wait four more years until they got a new chief executive. "They (the president) could really mess things up in six years."

Under the present system, "If people want him after four years, they'll re-elect him."

As for the current president pursuing politically motivated policies in order to gain re-election, Mrs. Viney said, "If he were doing it for political gain, he's going about it the wrong way."

"A lot of things Carter is doing, he's not going to get re-elected for doing them."

Mrs. Viney and her husband Bernard live on Sixth Street, Cass City. They have a 4 1/2-month-old son, Bernard Jr.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Sanilac okays
20% boost in valuation

By a 6-2 vote May 2, the Sanilac County Board of Commissioners approved the 1979 county equalization report setting county equalized valuation at $415.63 million, a more than 20 percent increase over 1978.

The valuation last year was $344.03 million. The increase includes an average boost of about 29 percent in farmland valuations.

Although there was some reluctance to approve the equalization report prepared by the county equalization department, commissioners did so out of fear that refusal would mean the State Tax Commission (STC) would send in its own representatives at county expense to prepare a new report.

Also, the Headlee amendment to the state constitution will limit the amount of tax increases to considerably less than if they were directly tied to valuation, as they once were.

The report approved by commissioners, which now goes to the STC for its concurrence, includes valuations for the following townships (1978 figures in parentheses):

Argyle, $8.63 million ($6.71 million); Austin, $7.06 million ($5.52 million); Evergreen, $9.15 million ($7.03 million); Greenleaf, $7.48 million ($5.92 million); Lamotte, $10.87 million ($8.11 million); and Moore, $14.60 million ($11.10 million).

Colonial Inn fined $100

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission has fined Donald and Evelyn Stiles, doing business as the Colonial Inn, W. Main Street, Cass City, $100 for premises occupied after the legal hour.

The violation occurred Nov. 5 and was acknowledged by the owners May 3. They have until June 4 to pay the fine.

Put precision in your fertility program and get results back with ORTHO UNIPEL®

10-10-30
fertilizer.

Using the proper ratio of Nitrogen, Phosphorus and Potassium in your soybean fertilizer is vital to high-yielding profitable soybean production.

So, ORTHO has precise fertilizer ratios for specific conditions—such as UNIPEL 10-10-30 complete pelleted fertilizer for soybeans in Potash-responsive soils. It provides a precise 1-1-3 ratio of quick-acting and long-lasting Nitrogen and Phosphorus, plus available Potassium, to get the best response from those soils.

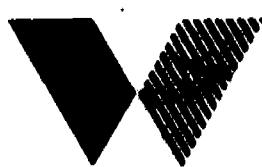

The Nitrogen is especially helpful in getting soybean seedlings off to a fast start... and providing adequate feeding until plants can fix their own Nitrogen.

All UNIPEL fertilizers have Nitrogen, Phosphorus and Potassium chemically-combined in uniform pellets. They spread fast and evenly; provide for more uniform plant feeding, field maturity, and improved yields and profits.

Now, more than ever, you can use the kind of precision a uniform application of UNIPEL 10-10-30 can provide.

See us soon. We'll be glad to tell you more about it.

Diabetes class begins May 29

The Tuscola County Health Department will start another diabetes class Tuesday, May 29.

Classes run five weeks and are offered at the Health Department on M-81 west of Caro. The classes will start at 6:30 p.m.

The next series of diabetic classes will start in July. For information on diabetes or to register for the class, call 673-8114.

Kaczynski in recital

Ray Kaczynski of Decker, a freshman at Central Michigan University, performed in a student musical recital during the second semester at the Mt. Pleasant school. He played percussion in the recital.

Road tax revenue up sharply

State fuel and weight taxes climbed by 37 percent in the first three months of 1979, compared to the same period a year earlier, which means a big boost for local road budgets.

The big increase is due to the average 30 percent increase in license plate fees (weight taxes), which went into effect Nov. 1, and the two-cent per gallon increase in the motor fuel tax, which went into effect Jan. 1.

Court challenges to a petition drive which would repeal both increases, subject to a public referendum in 1980, are still underway.

For the first quarter, the Tuscola County Road Commission will be receiving $866,232, compared to $635,629 for the same period in 1978; Huron County Road Commission, $750,697 ($552,778 in 1978), and Sanilac County Road Commission, $808,711 ($593,456).

Cass City will be receiving $19,707, compared to $14,520 a year ago.

Amounts other area communities will receive (1978 amounts in parentheses) are: Gagetown, $6,753 ($5,011); Kingston, $4,734 ($3,512); Owendale, $4,983 ($3,698), and Uby, $8,379 ($6,215).

Dog show in Sandusky Saturday

Sanilac County 4-H'ers will participate in a 4-H Dog Fun Match Saturday at the Sanilac county fairgrounds in Sandusky. Spectator admission is free. All judging will be indoors.

This match will be especially geared to the 4-H age group (8-18 years), however, classes will be provided for handlers under 8 years of age and over 19. Dogs need not be purebred or registered to qualify and any dog over eight weeks old is eligible to compete.

Entry fee for exhibitors will be 50 cents per class. The entry table will open at 8 a.m. Entries for any given class will close when the judging of that class has begun, with the exception of obedience class entries, which will remain open until judging of the class has ended.

Judging will begin at 11 a.m.

The following classes will be offered: Obedience, junior showmanship and adult showmanship. There will also be a just-for-fun class. Ribbons will be awarded for winners in numerous categories, such as dog with longest tail and best costumed dog and owner.

Throughout the day, a number of dog acts, demonstrations, discussions, movies and slide presentations will be going on. A refreshment stand will be on the grounds.

HEALTH TIPS

Some suntan lotions helpful, some aren't

By Frank Chappell,
American Medical Association

What about the multitude of suntan lotions and other preparations sunbathers use to avoid their bodies? Are the benefits real or imagined?

Properly applied suntan lotion can be helpful in preventing a burn and promoting a tan if you use one suited to your needs, says a pamphlet from the American Medical Association.

Commercial suntan preparations contain chemicals called sunscreens that absorb some of the ultraviolet rays of the sun while letting others through.

The better lotions allow you to stay in the sun longer with less risk of burning. However, don't expect even the best lotions to protect you from unlimited sun exposure. Also, it is possible to burn through a tan.

Most suntan preparations contain a lubricant. This is important in keeping your skin from drying out too quickly. Suntan lotions should be reapplied frequently, at least every two hours and whenever the protecting film may have worn off or been washed off.

Some of the products simply color the skin darker without involvement of sunlight. Some disappointed consumers have found that their bottled tan is streaked and uneven.

Although artificial tanning lotions appear to be safe, remember that they do not protect you adequately from the sun (unless they also contain a sunscreen agent).

If you get a sunburn, don't expect a quick cure. Only time will heal the burns. Wet compresses and soothing lotions are important items in easing the pain. A bland cold cream or light mineral oil may help. If the burn is severe, consult your physician.

The best treatment for sunburn is prevention.

The sun adds to your body's supply of Vitamin D. But the average American gets an ample supply of this vitamin in his or her diet. The sun in some cases can help certain skin disorders like acne, eczema and psoriasis, but check with your doctor before trying the sun as a treatment for any skin problem.

Banquet held Friday at Novesta Church

One hundred and ten attended the mother-daughter banquet Friday evening at the Novesta Church of Christ.

Mrs. Vern Lockard was mistress of ceremonies for the program. The tribute to the mothers was given by Becky Speirs and to the daughters by Mrs. Norma Speirs. Vocal music was provided by Mrs. David Little and Mrs. Barbara Englehart and by a quintet of Donella Peasley, Barbara Englehart, Donna Little, Joan Little and Mary Helen Pratt. Carol Lockard and Suzanne Little played a flute duet. Mrs. Thelma Pratt read "The Touch of the Master's Hand."

Lois Bratton was the guest speaker and Janice Saxton gave a puppet show. Both women are from Kalkaska.

The invocation was by Mardell Ware and the benediction by Donna Nye. Honored were Mrs. Hazel Whitfield, the eldest mother; Mrs. Cindy Ramirez, the youngest mother; Mrs. Waneta Little and Mrs. Helen Little, mothers with the most children. Also honored, as heading four generations, were Mrs. Verna McConnell and Mrs. Beulah Zapfe.
