

$100,000 FIRE -- Firemen from Bingham township, Elkland township and Bad Axe fought for nearly five hours last Wednesday evening to quell the flames from the hay-filled barn of Dan Franzel on Spencer Road, Austin township. Spontaneous combustion is believed to have been the cause.

Loss put at $100,000 in huge Austin township barn blaze

Loss was estimated at $100,000 in a fire that destroyed a large barn on Spencer Road, west of M-19, in Austin township last Wednesday evening.

Cause of the fire, according to Bingham Township-Ubly Fire Chief Earl Brahm, has been attributed to spontaneous combustion from the approximately 500 tons of loose hay stored inside the structure.

The barn was owned by Dan Franzel, who lives on M-19. The farm is operated by Ron Haag Sr. of Hadley Road, who was on vacation at the time of the fire. His sons were at another family farm.

Franzel, whose widowed mother, Mrs. George Franzel, lives in the home on the farm, said he and his wife drove by at 5 p.m. and nothing was amiss.

Bingham firemen were ultimately there from about 6:15-11 p.m. They were assisted by the Elkland township and Bad Axe Fire Departments, which each had a pumper and a tanker there.

Brahm said the fire was discovered by Dale Gornowicz, who spotted it from about a mile away while he was on his silo.

He rushed to the Franzel farm and finding no one there, broke into the home and called the fire department. The 450 cattle belonging to Haag were free to roam in and out of the barn. Those inside were ushered out.

Gornowicz and his hired men also pulled away equipment parked next to the barn, so that the only loss was the hay, building and a few tools.

The barn, which wasn't insured for its total value, Brahm said, was valued at $80,000. The hay was worth $20,000.

It was impossible to put the fire out and much of the effort involved continual hosing down of nearby buildings to "keep" them from catching on fire.

As of Tuesday, according to Franzel, the fire was still burning, although firemen have not had to go back there since the initial blaze.

The farm was a cow-calf operation. The animals are being kept outside for the time being, he said. The aim is to have a pole building put up before cold winter weather sets in.

Franzel, who had high praise for the job done by the firemen said hay would be brought from his farm and the Haag farm to feed the animals. The lost hay was to have been the supply for the winter.

The 40-by-120 foot central structure, he explained, was about 20-25 years old and was used exclusively for hay storage. The cattle were housed in lean-ons on both ends of the main barn.

The fire started in the northwest corner of the main structure, according to Brahm. He guessed that 80,000 gallons of water were used to fight the blaze.

Smoke from the fire could be seen from as far away as Cass City, 11 miles away.

Summer over -- Youngsters start school next week

It's almost that time of year again.

For youngsters in the Cass City, Kingston and Ubly School Districts, vacation ends next week. Classes in the Owendale-Gagetown School District don't start until after Labor Day.

Kingston is the only district where teachers are involved in contract negotiations with the school board.

CASS CITY

All principals are in their offices this week to register new students.

New teachers report Monday and all teachers report Tuesday.

Classes begin Wednesday with a full-day session.

Children attending kindergarten at Deford and Evergreen attend Wednesday and Thursday, but only the afternoon kindergarten at Campbell attends Wednesday. Only the morning session attends Thursday.

After a strenuous two days of classes, teachers and students get four days to recuperate, from Friday through Monday, Sept. 3, which is Labor Day.

School hours, the same as last year, are 8:25 a.m.-3:05 p.m. for elementary schools and the intermediate school, and 8:35-3:25 at the high school.

Elementary lunch prices are 50 cents per day or $2.50 for the week. Intermediate and high school prices are 55 cents for single meals and 73 cents for adults.

Bus routes will be the same as last year to start, with adjustments to balance bus loads and to pick up new students made as soon as possible.

Further information is carried in the school district advertisement elsewhere in this issue of the Chronicle.

OWEN-GAGE

High school registration will be held next week.

Seniors are to report Tuesday between 9-11 a.m.; juniors the same day from 1-3 p.m.; sophomores Wednesday from 9-11 a.m. and freshmen that day from 1-3 p.m.

Late registration will be held Friday, Aug. 31, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. for all new students and those who missed the previous dates.

Parents of kindergarten children are reminded that their children should have their immunization shots before entering school.

School begins Wednesday, Sept. 5, at 8:30 a.m. There will be a full-day session.

Grades K-6 are at the Gagetown building; 7-12 in Owendale.

Lunch prices will stay the same as last year, for the present, at 35 cents for grades 1-6 and 45 cents for 7-12. Adults pay 75 cents.

Bus schedules will be about the same as last year. Students and parents are requested to be on watch for the bus the first week until a regular time is established.

There will be two new faculty members this year, both at the high school. Former substitute Muriel Barr will teach home economics. There will be a new counselor, whom as of Tuesday had yet to be hired. Manuel Thies will be returning to teach science after a one-year leave of absence.

KINGSTON

Although teachers and the school board have yet to come to an agreement on a new contract, classes will start on schedule Aug. 28.

The two sides are at an impasse and the Kingston Education Association has requested a state mediator to sit in on the talks.

A tentative session with the mediator has been scheduled Wednesday, Aug. 29, according to Michigan Education Association representative Sue Schwab. The present one-year contract expires the following day.

Teachers "don't go on strike when a mediator has been requested," she said. Money is only one of the issues, she indicated.

That being the case, teachers report this Monday. A half-day of classes will be held Tuesday morning and full days the rest of the week.

Students and teachers get Labor Day, Sept. 3, and the following day off.

School resumes Sept. 5, which is also the first day of classes for kindergartners.

School hours, bus routes and lunch prices (45 cents per day or $2 per week) are the same as last year.

At the elementary school, Phyllis Silvernail has switched from third grade to kindergarten, to fill a vacancy. The new third grade teacher is Mark Dost.

New at the high school will be Michael Schreiber, math, speech, "survival skills," and communications, including journalism and the yearbook, and Michael Rea, English. Rea will also be the varsity football coach and coach intramurals.

UBLY

New teachers report Monday and all teachers report Tuesday.

There will be a full day of classes Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. They resume the day after Labor Day.

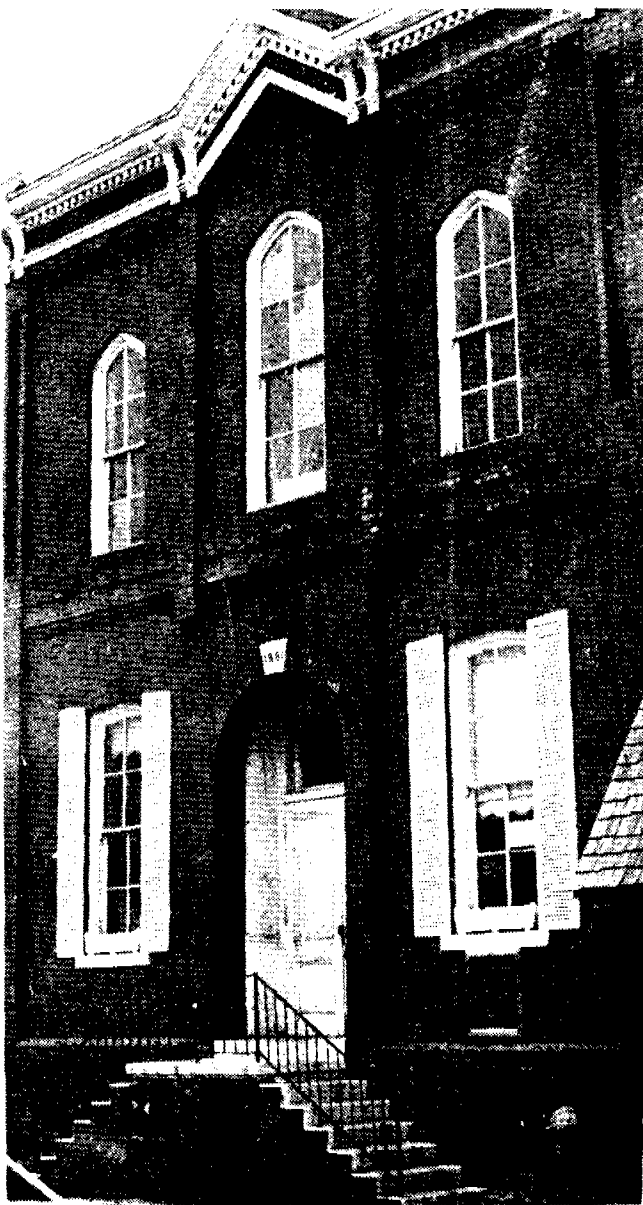

School hours are 8:30 a.m.-3 p.m., the same as last year. Bus routes stay the same.

Lunch prices are the same as they were last year after they were raised, $2 per week for elementary; $2.25 for secondary.

New teachers, both at the high school, are Gerald Parks, band, and Martin Foster, civics.

Gets state designation

Cultural Center historic site

The Cultural Center in Cass City has been listed in the State Register of Historic Sites by the Michigan Historical Commission.

Notification came in a letter dated Aug. 8 to Elkland Township Supervisor Jack Gallagher from Martha M. Bigelow, secretary for the Historical Commission.

Getting the historical designation for the almost 100-year-old structure was the idea of the Cass City Area Historical Society. The needed historical research and filling out the application were done by Maynard McConkey. The application was made in April.

The designation means an historical marker can be placed in front of the building.

5-year-old killed in odd mishap

A five-year-old Mayville girl was killed Tuesday evening in a freak accident in Fostoria.

The victim was Susan Anne Isham of Trend Street, Mayville.

According to the sheriff's department, a horse was tied to a fuel tank. The horse bolted, causing the tank to fall over onto the girl.

The accident took place at 6:45 p.m. on Cherry Street. No further information was immediately available.

First the text must be written for the cast metal plaque. After that, it takes about a year for it to be manufactured.

Official unveiling of the plaque will probably take place in 1981, according to Historical Society President Jack Esau. That will be the building's 100th year. A likely unveiling date will be July 4.

The plaque will cost the society $380, which it already has in its treasury.

Operating and maintenance cost of the building is shared 50-50 by Elkland township and Cass City, with the Historical Society contributing $200 annually for the purpose. The total runs about $2,500 a year, Esau said.

The Cultural Center, originally the township hall, traces its beginnings to Nov. 16, 1880, when at a special township meeting, electors voted 61-34 to issue $2,600 in bonds to finance the building.

Size and type of building was chosen at a meeting Dec. 11.

Sylvester Ale, S.C. Armstrong and J.C. Laing were appointed to serve as a building committee, with Armstrong designated to draw up plans and specifications.

J.L. Hitchcock provided the site. The building was built from the first bricks to come from Depew's Brick Kiln, located along the Cass River, south of town, thus making it the first brick building in Cass City. Wickware and Waldron were the contractors. The 30-by-80-foot building was completed in 1881.

Over the years, in addition to serving as the place for township meetings and for voting, church services, revival meetings, basketball games, bingo, business, veterans groups, Boy and Girl Scout meetings, and art and antique shows have been held there.

For a while, the first newspaper here, the Cass City Enterprise, was housed on the second floor. During World War I, the building was the training center for the Home Guard.

The building was renamed the Cultural Center in 1965, although it remained the township hall until the fire hall was built on Church Street in the early 1970s.

Federal job funds take $3 million dip in area

There will be about $3 million less in federal job funds to spend in the upper Thumb in 1979-80, the result of cutbacks by Congress.

The Thumb Area Consortium last Thursday gave its okay to the agency's Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) plan for the fiscal year that starts Oct. 1.

The plan, which had to be submitted to the state Department of Labor the next day, showed new federal CETA funds of $4.77 million, plus carryover from this year of $237,439, for a total of $5.01 million.

That is about $3 million less than the consortium had to spend this year, Executive Director Frank Lenard said.

The final figure is expected to be closer to $2.5 million, as it is likely the agency will get about $500,000 for summer jobs for youth in 1980, but that won't be known until February or March.

The big decrease will be for CETA Title VI projects, brush cutting, painting, cemetery clean-up and other short-term jobs as needed for local governmental units and non-profit agencies.

There will be $1.55 million available in 1979-80, down from about $4 million this year.

The total CETA program will serve an intended 1,811 persons in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties, by providing jobs or job training.

Of the total of $5.01 million, $360,000 will be spent on administration considerably below the amount allowed for that purpose.

TITLE VI

In July, the consortium received an extra $536,852 in CETA Title VI funds for the current fiscal year.

That was enough to give jobs to at least 150 people, but as of last Thursday, Leonard Hool reported, employment was lagging.

Hool heads the Tri-County Public Service Agency, which does the hiring. Mich-

Koch-Sweeney married in garden

Angeline E. Koch and Paul W. Sweeney, both of Saginaw, were united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 18, in a double ring ceremony in the garden at the home of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pelch of Finwick, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Edanna Sweeney of Ubyly and the late David S. Sweeney.

Given in marriage by her step-father, the bride wore a gown fashioned with soft apricot polyester crepe, complimented by a chiffon floral print capelet. A silk flower headpiece completed her ensemble. She carried a bouquet of pale yellow silk roses and baby's breath.

Ruth Ann Van Erp, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Her gown was made of soft misty green polyester knit, complimented by a chiffon floral print capelet, identical to the bride's. She carried a colonial bouquet of apricot, orange and yellow flowers and wore a matching head band of silk flowers.

Flower girl, Jessica Koch, daughter of the bride, was wearing a sleeveless pink and white floor length gown and matching headpiece. She carried the rings in a basket of pink and white flowers.

David C. Sweeney of Ubyly, brother of the groom, was the best man.

The bride's mother wore a long gown of yellow polyester with bell-chiffon sleeves. Her corsage had rust and yellow silk roses.

The groom's mother chose a long formal length gown of lavender-blue knit polyester with split cape sleeves. Her corsage had white silk roses and blue miniature apple blossoms.

All floral pieces were made by the bride. The bride's and matron of honor's gowns were fashioned by Ruth Ann Van Erp.

Guests from Charlotte, Bad Axe, Ubyly, Argyle, Filion, Owendale, Lansing, Pennsylvania, northern Michigan, Grand Ledge, Bay City, Cass City, and Elkton attended the dinner and reception at the bride's home following the ceremony.

The couple will reside in Saginaw after a short honeymoon trip through northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Finkbeiner have with them this week, their grandson Billy Finkbeiner of Highland and Mike Holland of Sebawaing.

Thirteen attended the Aug. 15 meeting of the Elmwood Missionary Circle at the home of Mrs. Richard Erla. The next meeting is scheduled for Sept. 19 at the home of Mrs. Fred Emigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hanby had as Friday evening dinner guests, their daughter, Mrs. Robert Todd and infant daughter Shannon Kay of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hanby, Mrs. Edith Ward, Miss Mary Hanby and her guest Miss Sue Mix.

Tom Linaberry and Martin Louks from the Novesta Church of Christ are attending church camp this week at the Wolverine camp near Lapeer.

Mrs. Grant Ball had with her Wednesday and Thursday of last week, her grandniece, Michelle Armstrong of Lapeer and her granddaughter, Mary Ann Ball of Reese.

About 30 attended a family picnic Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wiles. The group included the Sunshine Gals and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Crocker of Saginaw and Mrs. Grant Ball went to Coloma Saturday to attend the wedding of James Crocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Crocker and Miss Sandra Irwin. They returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Root visited Mrs. Chris Roth Sunday near Owendale. Mrs. Roth's son, Burton Roth, is very ill in Bay County Medical Center.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Profit were Friday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Profit and children.

Rick Lorentzen of Mt. Morris and Anne Marie Lorentzen of Saginaw spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lorentzen.

Mrs. Warren Kelley and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Tuckey went to Detroit Thursday to attend the funeral of Willard Johnson, a cousin of Mrs. Tuckey.

Mr. and Mrs. David Watson of Redford were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blades from Aug. 9-12.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant M. Little of Birmingham and their daughter Rebecca of East Lansing spent Thursday afternoon with Mr. Little's mother, Mrs. Arthur Little.

Mrs. Paul Craig joined relatives at a dinner Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Storm Jr. near Caro when the fourth birthday of Jenny Storm and the second birthday of Kevin Storm were celebrated.

Mrs. Russell Cook entertained at dinner Aug. 15, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Buehrly and Don and Esther Buehrly and Harry Wise, to celebrate the birthdays of Don Buehrly and Mrs. Lawrence Buehrly. Joining them later for birthday cake were Frank White, Larry and Christine Buehrly and Dawn Wilson.

Diane Asher of Highland, Calif., left Monday for her home after spending a two-week vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Asher.

Dawn and Robert Stone

Dawn Marie Ruso of Gagetown and Robert Dean Stone of Caro, sister-in-law of the groom, were married by Rev. William McBride in a double-ring ceremony Aug. 4 at the Gagetown United Methodist church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Floy Arnold of Gagetown and the late Carlton L. Ruso. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stone of Fairgrove.

Lisa Green of Freeland, friend of the couple, sang "Time in a Bottle" and "Evergreen." Organist was Glenda Wilson of Gagetown.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, Raphael Arnold, wore a daron organza gown with off-shoulder capelet trimmed with Venice lace.

The empire waistline and bodice was accented with Venice lace and a yellow satin ribbon. The attached chapel-length train was highlighted with a flounce at the hemline and there were yellow flowered Venice appliques throughout the skirt and train.

To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a chapel-length Camelot headpiece of English illusion trimmed with Venice lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of silk yellow roses and white carnations with touches of baby's breath and forget-me-nots with white, yellow and green streamers.

Cindy Martin of Cass City, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow gown of polyester interlock magic knit with a halter neckline and an empire waistline. The bodice was overlaid with silk Venice lace, and a polyester chiffon capelet covered the shoulders and flowed fully down the back. The skirts were in full permanent pleats.

Bridesmaids were Laurie Stone of Caro, sister-in-law of the groom; Judy Benson of Cass City, friend of the bride; Carla Hines of Lincoln Park, sister of the bride; Lisa Green of Freeland, friend of the couple, and Sheri Stone, sister of the groom. The bridesmaids' gowns were identical to the matron of honor's. They all carried a matching silk rose with a touch of baby's breath.

Maridith Latimer of Akron, friend of the couple, was flower girl. Her gown was identical to the matron of honor's. She carried a miniature silk rose and rose bud with touches of baby's breath.

The bride's attendants wore a miniature silk rose and baby's breath in their hair to match their dresses. The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails. His shirt was trimmed in yellow to match the bride's dress.

Doug Germain of Akron, friend of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Mike Ewald of Fairgrove, friend of the groom; John Ewald of Fairgrove, friend of the groom; Al Enos of Akron, friend of the groom, and Rick Stone of Fairgrove and Jim Stone of Caro, both brothers of the groom.

Ring bearers were Timmy Hines of Lincoln Park and Eric Martin of Cass City, both nephews of the bride. Groomsmen and ring bearers wore tuxedos to match the girls' dresses.

Ushers were Brian Ewald and Kevin Coleman, both of Fairgrove, friends of the couple. They wore green tuxedos to match the groomsmen.

The bride's mother wore a canary yellow polyester knit gown with a V-neckline and accordion pleated full length sleeves. She wore a shoulder corsage of silk white rose buds and yellow carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua polyester knit gown with narrow straps and a short sleeve jacket. She wore a shoulder corsage of silk white rose buds and aqua carnations.

The fathers both wore tan-colored tuxedos with their shirts matching their wives' dresses.

A dinner and reception was held at the VFW hall in Fairgrove for the 600 guests. Guests who attended were from Fairgrove, Akron, Gagetown, Cass City, Decker, Marlette, Snover, Deford, Millington, Vassar, Mt. Morris, Flint, Lincoln Park, Taylor, Southfield, Bad Axe, Unionville, Sebawaing, Bay City, Linwood, Tawas, East Tawas, Saginaw, Freeland, Caro, Munger, Tuscola, Mayfield, Flushing, Clio, East Lansing and Burbank, Calif.

The couple is now residing in Akron.

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Veronica Gaszczynski may just have solved her problem at Veronica's Restaurant. For several years now she has been trying to beautify the land between the highway and the sidewalk in front of her restaurant on Main Street.

When it was grass, there was maintenance and weeds. Several years ago she thought the problem was licked when she covered the area with white stone.

That was okay for a year or so but soon the grass and weeds started growing through the rocks. It was a mess.

Recently she took the step that should end the problem for good. She covered the area with concrete, leaving only a space around two shade trees uncovered.

You think time doesn't fly? Try this on for size. Assuming that you're not a recent arrival, think back and figure out how many years it has been since Donald Crouse took over as superintendent from Willis Campbell.

Was your guess 7, 10, 14 years? Wrong. He is starting his 16th year as superintendent.

When Carol Karr of Midland goes to the Fisher Theatre in Detroit, she not only sees a play, she also runs into someone from Cass City.

Saturday at the showing of "Sugar Babies," it was Bert Althaver.

A couple of years ago at a showing of "Hello Dolly," it was Dorothy Haire.

Mrs. Karr is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fritz of Cass City.

The same friend was with her both times at the Fisher and remarked after the second occurrence that she "couldn't believe it" that each time they were at the Fisher, Carol sees someone from Cass City.

The name of the guilty party shall be withheld, but the person was in Europe when he sent editor Mike Eliasohn a picture postcard.

Did the card show a famous castle or maybe the Eiffel Tower?

Nope. Pictured was a Japanese motorcycle. (Honest!)

Michele and Gary Wills

Michele Denise Everts and Gary Lee Wills were married July 28 in 4 p.m. ceremonies performed by Rev. Eldred Kelley at Salem United Methodist church, Cass City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Everts of Caro. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wills of Cass City.

The bride wore a dress of sheer organza over Lutzeon with a round neck and yoke of re-embroidered English net. A chapel train fell from the empire waist. The fingertip veil was held in place by a cap which matched her dress.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Connie. Her brother, Robert, was ring bearer. Flower girl was Gary's daughter, Christy.

Best man was the groom's brother, Gordon. Ushers were William Wills and Don Everts Jr.

Michele's uncle, Richard, was the soloist.

The couple greeted guests for dinner at Bay Valley Inn. Following a week end in Traverse City, they are residing at 7676 Gilbert Road, Cass City.

Maurer in Germany

Spec. 4 Jeffrey L. Maurer recently was assigned as a wheeled vehicle mechanic with the 32nd Signal Battalion in Frankfurt, Germany.

He entered the Army in November, 1977.

Maurer is a 1977 graduate of Bad Axe High School.

His wife, Paulette, lives at 2805 Morrison Road, Uby.

Pamela and Lyndon Johnson

Pamela Anne Mantey and Lyndon Carl Johnson were united in marriage July 28 by Rev. Brian Kundinger and Rev. Clive Dickens at the Caro United Methodist church during a 3 p.m. double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Mantey of Fairgrove and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Johnson of Caro.

Carl E. Mantey, father of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer"; Darcey Johnson, sister of the groom, played a clarinet solo of the song "If" and Jane Grady sang "I Will Love You." All of the music was accompanied on the organ by Dale Hunt.

The bride approached the altar wearing a floor length gown of white sheer polyester organza with silk Venice lace and sheer ruffle accenting the fitted bodice and Queen Anne's stand-up scoop neckline. Her bishop sleeves accented in lace and hemline, which swept back into flounce ruffles, were also trimmed with Venice lace on the chapel train.

Her finger-tip veil was secured to a matching picture hat of Venice lace and polyester organza. She carried a cascade of white daisies, peach roses, fern and baby's breath.

Cindy Thompson of DeWitt served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Charlotte Withey of Caro, Darcey Johnson of Caro, sister of the groom, Elizabeth Tuckey and Nances Tuckey of Frankenmuth, both cousins of the bride.

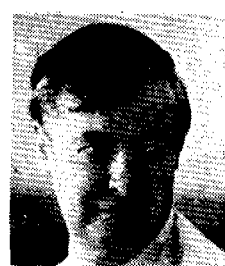

Greg Heath of Caro served as best man. Groomsmen were Terry Dunham, Tom Sarma, Jeff TerBush and Michael Johnson, brother of the groom, all from Caro. Acting as ushers were Charles Mantey of Bad Axe, and James Mantey of Fairgrove, both brothers of the bride, Don Martin and Bob Sarma, both of Caro.

Kathleen Hayes of Caro served as flower girl and Paul Hayes of Caro served as ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mantey wore a floor length gown of mint green. The groom's mother, Mrs. Johnson, wore a floor length gown of beige.

Following the ceremony, a buffet dinner and reception was held at the Colony House, Cass City, for 400 guests.

After a honeymoon in Hawaii, the couple will reside in Big Rapids.

"If It Fitz. . ." Those Big Little Books

By Jim Fitzgerald

Feedback and other strange stuff . . .

Contrary to a suggestion made here last Saturday, there will never be a convention of Big Little Book collectors held in a big stadium in little Rhode Island. There isn't room for anything big in Rhode Island. That's what an editor, a former resident of that state, told me. He said Rhode Island is so little you can't make a U turn there without crossing the state line.

But, as I suspected, there are plenty of people who would attend such a convention. They surfaced in answer to a nostalgic plea from my friend Art who said he hadn't seen a Big Little Book in over 40 years. He wondered if they still exist. The answer is yes, yes, yes.

On my desk right now are "Little Orphan Annie and Chizzler," published in 1933, and "Buck Rogers on the Moons of Saturn," published in 1934. They cost 10 cents brand new. Today they could be worth anywhere from $2 to $35, depending on how much a collector might desire them.

If you're too young to remember, nuts to you. Big Little Books were the fore-runners of comic books. They are unusually thick for their width and length — about five inches square. They were printed on coarse paper with a picture on every other page.

The original Big Little Books were last published in 1952. They have been revived in recent years, but the new Big Little Books aren't the same at all, and I don't like them. They are too slick and too skinny and they don't remind me of lying under the grand piano reading "Chester Gump at Silver Creek Ranch" while my beautiful young mother played "Tiptoe Through the Tulips."

Dozens of readers volunteered to trade their original Big Little Books to my friend Art for his Cadillac. He is currently pondering these offers. If you'd like to see what inspired all this nostalgia, some of the places selling old Big Little Books are the Curious Book Shop in East Lansing, the Classic Movie and Comic Center in Farmington and Doty's Antiques in Rapid City.

Incidentally, if you remember Chester Gump, maybe you can tell me the names of the seven guys (I think it was seven) who used to work in pulp magazines for Doc Savage. The only one I can remember is Ham.

Another important thing I did last Saturday was seek consultation concerning the proper way to butter an ear of corn. The consensus of several intelligent readers is that I've been approaching the problem with the wrong attitude. They say I shouldn't butter the corn, I should corn the butter.

These instructions from Nancy Johansson of Troy are typical: "What you do is take the cob of corn and lay it on top of the cube of butter and roll it around so it's coated, then salt it and eat it, dripping the butter down your chin. The intended butter looks kinda funny."

A Detroit grandfather turned an accident into a whooper. He showed his visiting grandchildren three large white splotches on his driveway. He told them the splotches were deposited by a giant bird which had lately been terrorizing the neighborhood. The little kids were properly awed.

The truth is the white splotches were made when the clumsy grandfather dropped a bottle of Maalox he'd purchased in honor of the grandchildren's visit.

I was surprised to overhear my wife mention the triple crown to our son. The triple crown is won by the baseball player who leads the league in home runs, batting average and runs batted in. I congratulated her on knowing more about baseball than I ever thought she did. She said the triple crown was one of her violet plants.

She said a triple crown is created when leaves grow on top of each other, in three layers, with no buds. I said she should call that plant her Mickey Mantle Violet. Our son started to scream.

And you probably thought the art of intelligent conversation was dead.

Karen Perry gets new car the hard way

KAREN PERRY stands next to her "pride and joy" that she worked on during her spare time. "The best feeling I get is when I look at my car and know that I did the work on it," she said.

Human services coalition meets Friday in Cass City

The Thumb Area Coalition of Human Services (TACHS) meets Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian church, Cass City. Regular meetings of the group are held on the fourth Friday of each month at that time and location. TACHS was organized June 22 by representatives from various human service organizations in Huron, Lapeer, Sanilac and Tuscola counties.

Its purposes, as stated in its bylaws, are to establish understanding and promote cooperation among all human service providers in the four counties; aid in planning, developing and promoting new and-or existing programs; participate in development and coordination of related services, and help develop public awareness of community problems and an understanding of how the problems can or are being met. Officers were elected July 27: Chairman, Gabriel Lewis Jr., veterans affairs, Lapeer county; vice-chairman, David Goff, Genesee Indian Center, Tuscola county; treasurer, David White, Community Mental Health, Lapeer; secretary, Karen Kopka, Human Development Commission, all four counties; Huron county trustee, Archie McKay, Huron Memorial Hospital Substance Abuse Center; Tuscola county trustee, Bill Beard, drug abuse program; Lapeer county trustee, Linda Nugent, Big Brothers-Big Sisters; Sanilac county trustee, Louise Dobson, family planning social worker, McKenzie Memorial Hospital.

All human service providers, clergy and interested individuals are invited to attend the monthly meetings.

Karen Perry did something that few qualified auto mechanics would even think about doing.

She combined two halves of a 1979 Buick Regal during her "spare time" this summer with the help of her father, Jim Perry, of 6552 Kelly Road.

The 5-foot-4-inch, 120-pound, 20-year-old has been doing auto body work since she was 14. In fact, it's been a part of the Perry family for the past 25 years, according to Jim Perry, who owned Superior Collision in Cass City from 1970-77.

"I bought the damaged Buick from an independent auto salesman near the end of May," Miss Perry explained. "The car had only 75 miles on it and the rear end was damaged when the salesman's son was delivering it to a buyer early in May and he was hit by someone running a stop light."

With the help of her father, Karen purchased a Buick Regal rear end from a salvage yard in Flint and started the operation around the first week in June.

"Karen did all the fitting for the glass, trim and moldings," Perry said. "I helped her with the welding but she did everything else."

"Everything else" included smoothing the joints with filler, sanding all the "rough spots" down and priming the car so it could be repainted. She drove it for the first time Friday, Aug. 3, and "loves" the finished product.

"When you see something that you've worked on for some time and have worked hard on it, it's a great feeling of accomplishment knowing you've done it," said the 1977 graduate of Cass City High School.

Miss Perry said the most critical part of the operation was cutting the door and window openings and making sure everything fit properly.

"The rear end from the salvage yard had a vinyl roof and trying to get it and the glue off was a sticky situation," she laughed.

It took her nearly the entire summer to complete the operation. She only worked on it during her spare time. She is employed as an accounting secretary at Walbro.

"Sometimes the car would sit for a week and nothing would be done to it," Jim Perry said. "I would say that Karen actually spent four to five weeks in her spare time to get it done."

This wasn't Karen's first attempt at doing body work to her car. It was her third.

The first one was a 1967 Chevelle that she bought for $100, which was "full of dents." Karen took out the dents, bought a different interior from a salvage yard and put it in and installed a new engine and transmission. She sold the car in December, 1977 for $950 after owning it for about a year.

Her second car was a 1974 Chevrolet Impala purchased in March, 1978 for $1,125. She sold it six weeks ago for $1,950.

"I'm not in this to make money," Karen confessed. "I'm doing it because I like the work and I'm saving a lot of money."

She refused to disclose the amount she paid for the damaged Regal but said she paid 35 percent of what it would have cost new.

Karen isn't the only one in the Perry family who enjoys working on cars.

Besides her father, who works in a bump shop in Flint, Karen's mother (Geri) and two younger brothers (Randy, 18 and Gary, 13) have delved in body and engine work on cars for many years.

"The best feeling I get is when I look at my car and know that I did the work on it," Karen said. "That's the feeling of accomplishment."

BEFORE AND AFTER -- The 1979 Buick (above) had a severely damaged rear end when Karen Perry bought it near the end of May. She replaced the damaged section with the help of her father. The "mended auto" is shown below.

$575 lawn mower taken at Deford

Robert D. Dunlap of 5979 Deckerville Road, Deford, reported to sheriff's deputies last Wednesday morning that a $575 riding lawn mower was stolen from in front of his mobile home, where it had been parked.

The 5-horsepower Gamble's mower was taken sometime since 8 the previous evening.

Lowell Fibranz of S. Elkton Road, Gagetown, told Huron county deputies that a 2-horsepower air compressor was taken from his front yard about 5 a.m. Friday.

The compressor, which had a 12-gallon tank, was valued at $450. It was apparently rolled to the road, then loaded on a vehicle.

Willis Brown of the NFO elevator on Hadley Road, New Greenleaf, told Bad Axe state police Friday that a 1,500-gram capacity scale was missing. It was valued at $146.

It was last seen Thursday and discovered missing mid-afternoon Friday. Troopers believe the culprit or culprits forced a barn-type rear door open enough to reach in and release the pin holding it in order to gain entry.

Richard Stacer of Ubyly told Huron county deputies Monday morning that he had found his missing $400 motorcycle in the Parisville cemetery.

It was being used by David Stacer of Ruth, who had parked it in the Catholic church parking lot in Parisville during the annual Polish festival. It was taken from there sometime between 10 and 10:30 Sunday night.

Steve Kenwood of Crawford Road, told Cass City police at 8:30 a.m. last Wednesday that the battery was stolen from his car while it was parked along M-81 in front of Albee's Hardware.

He had left the car there at 9 p.m. the day before, after it ran out of gas. The battery was worth $15.

Sheryl Voight of Owosso told village police Friday evening that as she was driving on M-81, just east of Colwood Road, she heard an object hit her right rear window of her station wagon.

The object, either thrown or shot, shattered the window.

Nancy Lee Thicke, 23, of 10 Dodge Road, Deford, was arraigned before the district court Magistrate Joan Maki Tuesday on a charge of uttering and publishing.

According to Cass City police, she is charged with having cashed a check for $100 July 30, the original blank check having belonged to Betty J. Yourlove.

Ms. Thicke will be arraigned before District Judge Richard F. Kern Monday. Personal recognizance bond was set by the magistrate at $3,000.

Don't worry -- the unexpected happens occasionally, but not nearly as often as the expected fails to happen.

PEDALING AROUND

Losing and winning

By Mike Eliasohn

Elsewhere in this paper (page 3), my boss writes about what is happening in Three Rivers and how he hopes it doesn't happen here.

Allow me to present a slightly different perspective, from someone who lived in Three Rivers, I lived there two years, in 1972-74, when I was working for the newspaper there.

That is a lot longer than the Detroit News reporter was there who wrote the article that John got his information from.

What the reporter missed -- and why I guess I don't quite understand what all the fuss is about -- is that Three Rivers isn't getting 2,000 jobs, it's getting back jobs that it lost.

When I was there, the big employer was the Continental Can Co. which had a plant for manufacturing paper plates and cups. Also while I was there, the company gradually phased out production. My memory is a bit hazy, but I think that work force at its peak was about a thousand, all of whom lost their jobs.

I vaguely recall there was another paper company there that was having troubles and was laying off workers.

I do know for sure there was a manufacturer of camping trailers in nearby Centerville that went bankrupt. That was, I vaguely recall, a few hundred jobs lost.

Two big employers in the county Three Rivers is in (St. Joseph) were the recreational vehicle industry (campers, trailers, motor homes) and plastics manufacturers, heavily dependent on the RV and auto industry for customers (as suppliers). Both of those businesses certainly have had their ups and downs.

Add it all up, and the Three Rivers area has probably lost as many jobs over the last decade as it will gain from the General Motors transmission plant (which I believe is making use of the vacated Continental Can facility).

Granted, lots of people who lost their jobs moved elsewhere to where they could find new ones, so the presence of the GM factory will bring new people there.

It is also bringing fast food places, and other new businesses, but not as many as the Detroit News article might have the reader believe.

When I was there, there was a Burger Chef, McDonald's, a chicken franchise, the name of which I forget, and a Kentucky Fried Chicken.

There was also, in the older part of town, a little restaurant that served the best fried chicken I have ever eaten and almost as good steak.

Unfortunately, the cook's talents weren't appreciated. Sometimes I would be the only person eating there, so I doubt the place is still in business.

I now firmly believe that I could own a restaurant serving the BEST hamburgers in the world, but if a McDonald's was built next door, that's where my (ex-) customers would go.

Three hurt in area accident

Three persons needed private treatment for minor injuries after a 3:45 p.m. accident Saturday on Cemetery Road, south of Cass City.

Injured were Robert D. Dunlap, 56, of 5979 Deckerville Road, Deford, one of the drivers involved, and two passengers in the other car involved in the accident, James R. Massingale, 3, and Erica Frederick, 2, both of Bad Axe.

Sheriff's deputies said the Dunlap vehicle was southbound on Cemetery, north of DeLong Road, and stopped for a horse-drawn cart which was being driven on the roadway.

His car was then struck in the rear by the vehicle of Perry L. Massingale, 49, of 5907 Reed Street, Deford, in which the two youngsters were riding.

A nine-year-old Caro area boy was released from Caro Community Hospital Friday, the day after he was injured in an Ellington township motorcycle mishap.

Injured was Charles Her-tier of Deckerville Road. Sheriff's deputies reported he was riding on the back of a motorcycle being driven by Anthony Bloomfield, 10, of Deckerville Road, Caro, who was riding the machine on his (Bloomfield's) property.

The mishap occurred when the driver lost control and the cycle struck a small tree. Anthony told officers he lost control when his passenger leaned the wrong way. He suffered apparent slight injuries but didn't require hospital treatment.

At 9:20 a.m. last Thursday, Caro state police reported, Thomas J. Fritz, 28, of 4363 Maxwell Road, Gagetown, was headed southwest on M-81, north of Akron Road, when his vehicle struck a deer.

Gary Deering, 39, of 4272 Woodland Street, Cass City, was eastbound on Reed Road, east of Buehly Road, according to deputies, when his truck struck a deer. The mishap occurred at 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

AS IT NEARS its 100th birthday, the Cultural Center is in need of some repairs, including replacement of missing concrete blocks from the front steps. (Story on page 1.)

Federal job funds take $3 million dip in area

igan Employment Security Commission offices make the referrals and the offices in Caro and Bad Axe have been lagging, he charged.

In contrast to Sanilac county, where 63 persons had been hired through the Sandusky MESC office as of last Thursday, only 24 had been hired in Tuscola and 26 in Huron. Fifty can be hired in each county. Sanilac has been given additional positions to make up for some of the slack.

"They're not doing the job," Hool said of the two lagging MESC offices. "There's no question about it."

The jobs pay $2.90 an hour and will last only until the end of September. They consist of such tasks for local governmental agencies and non-profit organizations as brush cutting, cemetery clean-up and painting.

In Tuscola county, MESC Caro office Manager Charles Cramer told the Chronicle, there is a reason why more haven't been hired.

Not enough people meet eligibility requirements; many people receiving Aid to Dependent Children feel they do better financially on welfare than by taking the low-paying CETA jobs, and many people already have had CETA jobs.

A single person can make no more than $3,100 in the past year to be eligible for CETA, he said (about $700 is added for each family member), so many people aren't "poor" enough to qualify.

He speculated Sanilac county has a larger pool of persons who do qualify, thus its success in getting people CETA jobs.

Lastly, he said, the firm contracting with the Tuscola and Saginaw Bay Railroad to rebuild its track has hired 100 laborers at $6.25 an hour. Many of those people might otherwise have been eligible for the CETA jobs.

A Title VI project request approved last Thursday was two assessment workers for Evergreen township to do measuring work for assessment purposes.

SALARY SCHEDULE

By a 5-1 vote, the consortium board approved a new salary schedule for consortium employees.

Present employees, as of Oct. 1, will receive a 7 percent pay boost for the upcoming year.

Starting salaries for any new employees will be less than paid any present ones in the positions.

The executive director's salary as of Oct. 1 will be $28,890 for the year. Were he (Lenard) to leave, for instance, the new person hired would start at $24,500.

The lowest pay for a full-time employee will be $9,095 for the records clerk. A new person in that position would start at $8,000.

AUDIT

Lenard reported results of the recently completed audit for the period Oct. 1, 1976 - Sept. 30, 1978. The audit was done by a private certified public accounting firm hired by the state.

"Overall, we did very well, but we do have problems," he commented.

All of the problems occurred among governmental agencies and private employers with CETA-paid employees (the latter for on-the-job training programs). The problems were usually, due to missing time cards and attendance reports to document the pay given to the CETA workers.

In total, about $30,000 in expenditures were questioned out of total expenditures during the two years of about $15 million.

Some of the questionable expenditures, Lenard said, could have been cleared up (which now will be done) had the auditors tried harder to locate the missing records.

Crack down on speeders looms

State and local law enforcement agencies may soon be cracking down on speeders as traffic accidents continue to rise and petroleum energy supplies continue to dwindle.

Legislation is also moving on two fronts in the legislature to seek better enforcement of the 55 mile per hour speed limit.

Two house members have asked State Police Director Gerald Hough to get tougher in writing speeding tickets and Sen. Basil Brown (D-Highland Park), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, says his bill requiring mandatory sentencing for speeding should instead be amended to impose penalty points for the energy-imposed lower speed limit.

House Minority Leader William Bryant Jr. of Grosse Pointe Farms and Rep. Charles Mueller (R-Linden), asked the state police to review enforcement guidelines for speeding, which they said apparently ignores speeders until they reach the 65 mph state.

Even though no penalty points are assessed until pre-55 mph limits are exceeded (70 mph on interstates), the two House members said speeding tickets and fines would serve as an inducement to substantially reduce the average speed of motorists.

They said stricter enforcement will reduce the threat to the tourist business due to gasoline shortages.

Brown, meanwhile, said his bill (SB 249) is apparently doomed in its current form and urged his committee to impose penalty points for persons violating the 55 mph limit.

He said such a penalty is needed to minimize the state's speeding problem.

Water regulates body temperature by evaporation through the skin and lungs.

Getting gassed

Like many Americans, you may be operating your car on gasoline with a higher octane rating than you really need.

Do you know which octane number gas to choose? If your car was built since 1975, it's probably equipped with a catalytic converter that requires you to use unleaded gas to meet current exhaust emission standards. But all unleaded are not the same. You may be buying one with an octane that's too high.

About 70 percent of the cars that require unleaded gas run satisfactorily on regular unleaded. The remaining 30 percent "knock," and may "run on" after the engine is turned off. Only these require higher-octane fuel.

Older cars sometimes do need a higher-octane fuel due to deposit build-up inside the engine, but nearly two-thirds of the cars burning leaded premium gas today could switch to an unleaded premium of at least 92 octane.

Department to expand services

The Community Education Department of Cass City Public Schools will be expanding its services this fall to include daytime high school completion classes, a Super Saturday program for kids, a senior citizen club, entertainment for youth and adults, college classes and small business workshops for adults.

Registration for adult education and adult and youth enrichment classes will be handled in a variety of ways:

Adult education (high school completion) - Registration will take place daily from 9-4:30 at the Community Education Office in Cass City High School. Evening hours are scheduled by appointment. Beginning Sept. 10, office hours will be 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Enrollment for the fall term will stop Sept. 20. High school completion classes begin Sept. 12.

Adult and youth enrichment and recreation - Registration will be handled in three ways:

1) General registration (walk-in): Adults and youth may sign up for classes at Rawson Memorial Library, 6495 Pine Street, Thursday, Sept. 20, from 10-4:30 p.m. That evening from 6-9, persons may register for classes at Cass City High School in the lobby.

2) Mail-in registrations: Community education coupons may be mailed in

Cook reunion held

About 30 persons attended the first Cook reunion held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cook. A potluck dinner was served.

Those attending were Miss Rose Cook of Perry, Mrs. Alta Cooke of Sandusky, Mrs. Minnie Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forbes, and Mr. and Mrs. John Forbes and family, all of Mancelona, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Rolston and family of Clarkston, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rolston and family of Livonia, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hecht and family of Frankenmuth, Mr. John F. Cook of Cass City, and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Hendrick and family of Decker.

Plans were made to hold a reunion next year at the same time at the park.

and accepted prior to the first week of school. These coupons will be found in the September issue of the school district's "Newscaster," which will be mailed to district residents during the first week of September.

3) Daily walk-in registration: Individuals may come in to the Community Education office and sign up for classes.

Youth and adult enrichment classes will generally begin during the week of Sept. 24.

Registrations for classes this year must be received prior to the first scheduled class. Telephone registrations do not assure a place in class unless followed up by payment within three days.

Advanced registration is necessary to insure the availability of teachers, a sufficient number of students to run a class and time to order materials and supplies.

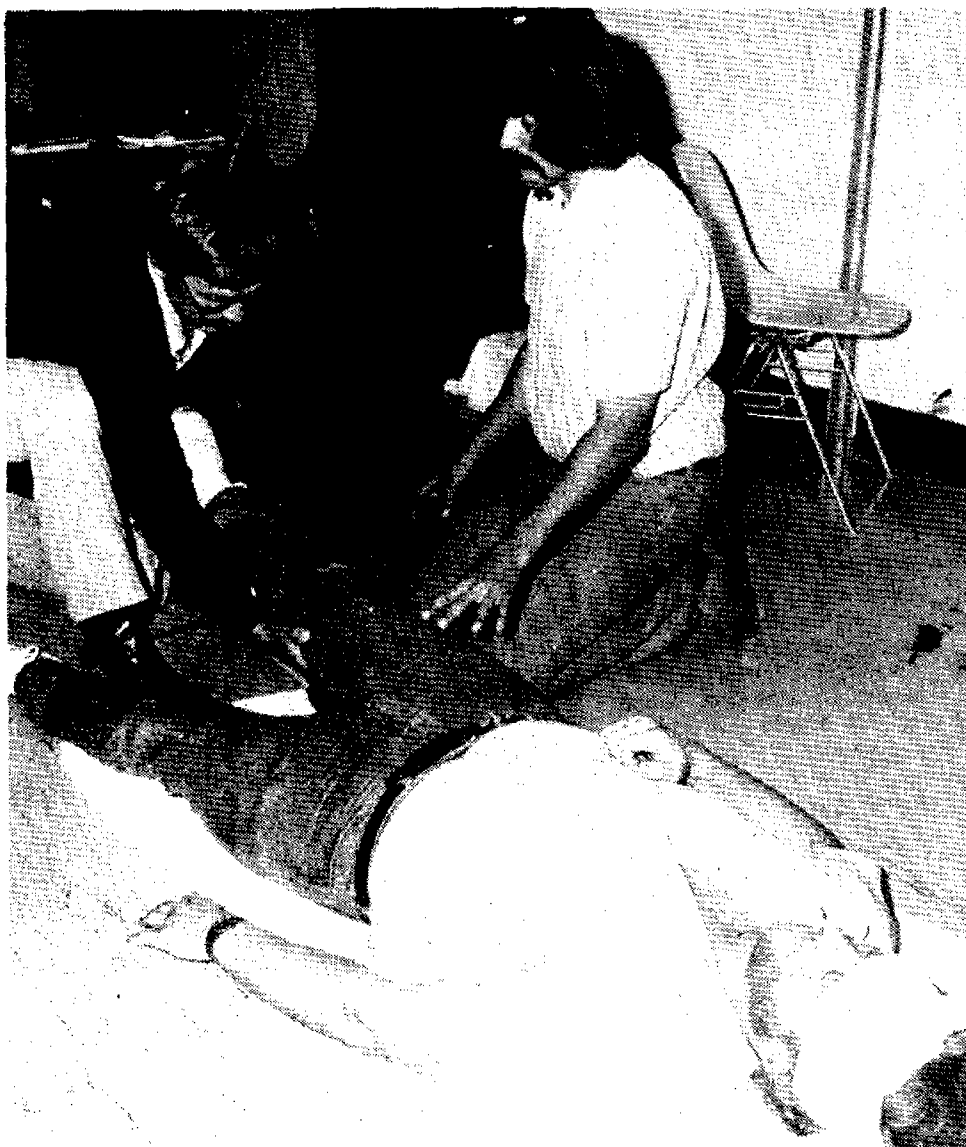

All adult education classes are free to anyone 18 years of age or older who is seeking to complete their diploma requirements. Any high school graduate who is under 20 years of age by Sept. 1 is eligible to take any adult classes he/she wishes for no cost at all. There is a class fee for all others.

Thursday, Aug. 30, all students between ages 8-13 (boys and girls) interested in participating in the fall soccer program with coach James McIntyre are urged to sign up in their school buildings. An informational meeting for parents and children will be scheduled and parents notified.

Also this fall, St. Clair Community College will be offering the beginning of many classes to residents in the area, according to Mrs. O'Donnell.

The first endeavor will be continuing education for licensed practical nurses who wish to take course work toward their RN degree. Beginning Friday, Aug. 31, and continuing thru Dec. 21, Biology 101-Human Anatomy and Physiology, will be held at Cass City Senior High School in Room 305 from 4-9 p.m. Registration will take place on the first night of class.

For more information, call the Community Education office or (313) 984-3881, ext. 358, St. Clair Community College.

PRACTICAL TRAINING EXAM was given to Bob Blake (left) and John Nitz, both students who completed the emergency medical technician class last Wednesday. Here, they are giving treatment to Bob King, also an EMT student, for a "broken leg" and a "severe head wound."

Houghton St. men won't fight council

The two men who spearheaded an attempt to get Houghton Street widened to 39 feet aren't happy with the Cass City Village Council's decision to make it 32 feet, but will let the matter rest.

Work was scheduled to get underway in late July to rebuild the two-block section between West and Brook Streets when residents Jim Seale and Ron Weippert discovered the finished street would only be 32 feet from curb to curb, contrary to what they and neighbors had believed.

The two quickly circulated a petition among their neighbors and gathered 12 signatures (of 15 potential homeowner signers) demanding that the council make the street 39 feet wide.

The council at its Aug. 14 meeting for various reasons decided to stick with 32 feet and construction began the next day.

Although there was discussion about obtaining a court injunction to halt the project, and some neighbors were willing to chip in to hire a lawyer, Weippert told the Chronicle Friday, the decision was made to let the project proceed.

"I can't see paying two lawyers. I'm paying for the village attorney (through taxes) and I can't see hiring one."

Residents along the street, though disgruntled, he continued, are willing to accept the 32-foot street because it means an improvement over the dilapidated road they have had to put up with for many years. Drainage, or lack of it, had also been a problem.

"I think we'll accept it," Weippert said. "Anything will be better than what we've had."

For that reason, he said he will pay his special assessment for the curb and gutter. Seale indicated he wouldn't pay it. "If there is any way I can get around it," Property owners have three years to pay.

The petition circulated by the pair had said that if the street wasn't 39 feet wide, the petition signers wouldn't pay their special assessment.

The village pays the rest of the cost, which includes drainage work, grading and paving. The latter won't be done until 1980.

As for why no one was present at the Aug. 14 meeting to argue in favor of making the street 39 feet, the pair said a neighbor had told them the day before he had been told by some council members that the decision for all practical purposes had been made -- at 32 feet.

Seale and Weippert talked about it, the latter said, and "we agreed if we were licked before we got to the meeting, why even go."

They disagreed with the version told by one resident who did go to the meeting, who, as reported by the Chronicle, said one reason he signed the petition was to get them to leave his house.

The pair said the man spent about a half-hour with them and inspected the street before signing. "I don't believe we misled anybody at that time (petition signatures were gathered)," Weippert said.

Hess reunion held

The 40th annual Hess reunion was held Sunday, Aug. 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Parrish Jr. of Gagetown with 53 in attendance.

Those attending were from Detroit, Ortonville, Flint, Grand Blanc, Cass City, Deford, Caro and Vassar.

Oldest person attending was Roy Collins, 81, of Flint. Youngest was Lucas J. Turner, 8 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Turner of Vassar. Coming the farthest were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lauria of Detroit.

A potluck dinner was served at 1 p.m., followed by a short business meeting. Then there were games and prizes for young and old. Ice cream and cake were served later in the day. Ice cream was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stilson.

10 students finish EMT classes

Ten students completed the emergency medical technician (EMT) class last Wednesday at Hills and Dales General Hospital with the taking of their practical examinations.

Those completing the 17-week course, which met two nights per week, were Jack McDaniel, Dave McNaughton, Daniel McClorey, Thomas Kolb and Robert King, Cass City; Patrick Hansen and Sandra Piechotte, Caro; Gloria Gonzales, Unionville, and Robert Blake and John Nitz, Millington.

McDaniel, operator of the Cass City Ambulance Service, said the intent is that the other four Cass City graduates (plus himself) will be working for the local service, which is staffed by paid volunteers.

There presently are six EMTs manning the local operation, so with the new graduates, there will be a total of 11.

More are still needed, however, he said, so plans are in the works to have another EMT class here, though no date has been set. Some persons have already indicated interest in taking it.

Those who passed the class, though they can go to work immediately, must pass the state licensing exam in the future.

Requirements to become an EMT are 120 hours of classroom work, with at least 16 of those lectures from doctors, 16 hours in hospital emergency room observing and at least 5-10 hours of actual ambulance time observing and giving actual patient care under the supervision of an EMT. The students took their practical training with the Cass City or Unionville ambulance services or Collon Funeral Home, Caro.

Course instructor was Sally Eyer of Cass City, an EMT and licensed practical nurse.

Students received instruction in such topics as taking blood pressures, splinting fractures and dislocations and how to interpret symptoms of such things as diabetes, heart attacks and other emergencies.

They had to pass the 11-hour cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and airway obstruction class taught by Ken Glasgow of East Michigan Emergency Medical Services.

Doctors and the topics they spoke on were Tahsing Tsai, MD, Bad Axe, emergency child birth; Saib Isterabadi, MD, Marlette, chest trauma, and Richard Hall, DO, Cass City, anatomy, medical shock, and cardiac emergencies.

Huron County Emergency Services Coordinator Mike Gage, Bad Axe, discussed environmental emergencies, Rick Beaver talked about nuclear emergencies and Bill Hartsell of Mayville discussed CPR and water emergencies.

Casmir Bartnik donated use of some junked cars and gave hints on extricating victims from wrecked autos. Emergency room observation was made at Hills and Dales and St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw.

Old barns viewed on Historical Society tour

They don't build them like they used to. In fact, they don't even build them.

Old barns were the subject of a Cass City Area Historical Society tour Sunday afternoon in which about 30 persons participated.

Two of the barns were built in the early 1870s. The newest was built in 1920.

First stop was the barn of Anton Peters on Cass City Road, west of Koepfgen Road. The T-shaped barn was built around the turn of the century and had a gambrel roof.

Next was the inverted-V (hip) roof barn of Dean Hutchinson on Spence Rd., north of M-81. It was built before the great fire of 1881. A barn for storing straw was added later on the south end. The smallest barn viewed was also probably the oldest. The simple rectangular barn with inverted-V roof was built in the early 1870s at the latest. It belongs to Bob Neiman and is on Crane Road, south of M-81.

Unique was a windlass mechanism, complete with wood ratchet gear, that spanned the length of the entranceway. A loaded hay wagon would be driven underneath the windlass shaft, ropes would be attached to the wagon rack, and the rack was then hoisted to the level of the lofts and the hay unloaded.

The next stop was the well-known eight-sided barn of Zsigmond Egey-Samu on Richie Road, northeast of Gagetown. It was built for banker J.L. Purdy in 1920. The barn is listed in the State Register of Historic Sites.

Last on the tour was the barn of Historical Society President Jack Esau on Milligan Road between Koepfgen and Cemetery Roads.

It was probably built in 1871, making it about the same age as the Neiman barn. It was raised in 1907 and a cement foundation put underneath. Like two of the others, it also had the inverted-V roof.

The four-panel gambrel roofs were apparently a later development and had the advantage of having more storage room underneath.

"Building these barns was like building a ship," Esau commented at one of the stops. "It took a real craftsman." He and Jim Milligan picked the barns seen on the tour.

It ended at the Esau home where the tourgoers were treated to refreshments.

Church garage sale collects over $400

The St. Michael Catholic church Ladies Altar Society opened with a prayer by Father William O'Shea, Aug. 13.

There were 16 members present plus Father O'Shea. The garage sale held the previous week netted a little over $400 to be put in the fund for the new organ, it was reported.

It was decided to have a bazaar for the same purpose. Members were urged to begin right away on the projects to make the bazaar a success. Everyone in the parish was urged to participate. It was also mentioned that work should get started early this winter on making a quilt for a raffle at next year's bazaar.

INSIDE JOB -- Harold Perry makes a comment during the Cass City Area Historical Society barn tour Sunday. Behind him is Jim Milligan, who along with society President Jack Esau (far right), selected the barns seen on the tour.

WHAT IS IT? -- Most of the old barns aren't what they used to be. Sunlight can be seen peaking through the numerous gaps of the siding of this old barn, one of the stops during Sunday's barn tour conducted by the Cass City Area Historical Society.

Man charged with assault

A 23-year-old Kingston man has been charged with assault with a deadly weapon in connection with an incident in which a knife he was holding was taken away from him by sheriff's deputies.

Kennedy B. Smartt of 3886 S. Hurds Corner Road was arraigned on the charge Monday before District Judge Richard F. Kern.

Bond was set at $3,000 cash or surety, which he posted. Pre-preliminary examination in district court was scheduled Aug. 27.

The incident started at 9:50 Friday night when Kingston police officer Thomas Kolb, while on patrol, was stopped by Burt Emerson of Mayville. Emerson said he was in his pickup when his passenger swung at him with a machete.

The pickup was parked in a driveway on M-46, near Cemetery Road. Kolb requested backup assistance from the sheriff's department.

At the scene, officers found the man lying on the seat of the pickup with a knife in his hand. Deputy Curtis Chambers told him to drop the knife. The man refused and started moving his hand toward the officer. Curtis and another deputy then used force to get the knife away from the man, who was then placed under arrest and taken to the county jail.

The charge against Smartt names Curtis as the victim in the incident.

Owen-Gage meeting called off

Arguments in the Goslin parcel property transfer case involving the Owen-Gage School Board meeting scheduled that night in Gagetown won't be held.

The board will next meet on its regularly scheduled date, Monday, Sept. 10.

Lt. Kenneth A. Maciejewski

Caro post gets new commander

Lt. Kenneth A. Maciejewski started his new duties Monday as commander of the state police post in Caro.

The start of his new assignment follows announcement last week by Gov. William G. Milliken that the Caro post and five others in the state will become around-the-clock operations as of Oct. 1.

Maciejewski, 40, is a native of Bay City and has been with the state police since 1964.

He was a crime laboratory specialist for many years and worked at the state police crime laboratory in Bridgeport from 1975-77, when he was promoted to lieutenant and assigned to L'Anse as post commander. He comes to Caro from that Upper Peninsula community.

Maciejewski and his wife, Judy, have a daughter, Kenna, 11.

He replaces Lt. Ward Johnson, who retired Aug. 3 after 28 years with the state police.

Gov. Milliken in his announcement said that the posts at Caro, Sandusky, Calumet, Lakeview, Reed City and Sault Ste. Marie were selected to become round-the-clock operations under an appropriation in the 1979-80 budget.

He said the six were selected on the basis of the population and criminal activities in the communities. Only seven of 63 posts in the state thus remain which are not 24-hour operations.

As of Tuesday, Maciejewski didn't know yet how the new operation would be implemented. There are only eight troopers assigned to the post now (plus three sergeants and a detective sergeant), not enough for around-the-clock operation.

Presumably, more troopers will be assigned to the post, but its commander doesn't know how many, nor whether the desk will be manned around the clock.

Presently, calls made to the post between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. are answered by the Bay City post.

RUMORS OF PEACE, by Ella Leffland (fiction). As a 10-year-old, Suse Hansen is on the verge of discovering the world. The next few years are the beginning of her transition to womanhood. But it is 1941, and when the bombs rain down on Pearl Harbor, they will explode in Suse's awakening consciousness with a force that will permeate her entire life. It is only when she meets Egon, a tall, handsome Jewish boy who escaped from Germany, that Suse finds reason to hope for the future. Not since "To Kill a Mockingbird" has a novel so beautifully captured the sense of being young.

THE DEAD ZONE, by Stephen King (fiction). A terrible accident left John Smith in a coma. When he awoke — five years later — the girl he loved had married someone else. And he had developed a strange psychic ability. Visions of the past and future would move in and out of the scarred region of his brain that the doctors called "the dead zone." Only when a rising politician reveals an underlying insanity does John realize the terrifying burden of his power.

THE SPRING OF THE TIGER, by Victoria Holt (fiction). Sarah Ashington's life changes rapidly after her famous actress mother is banished from the London theater in disgrace and later dies. Sarah's father, who has been living in Ceylon and has become desperately ill, returns to England to die. Sarah marries the man who has accompanied her father and returns to Ceylon with him to face a series of strange happenings which threaten her life and her sanity.

McNaughtons hold annual reunion

The Cass City park was the setting for the sixth annual McNaughton reunion held Sunday, Aug. 12. Fifty-eight members of the family were present.

The oldest present was Hazel Stoutenburg and youngest was John McNaughton, son of David and Connie McNaughton, all of Cass City.

It was decided to hold the 1980 reunion the second Sunday in August, again in the Cass City park.

Officers remain the same for the following year: Ron McIntosh, president; Ron Parrott, vice-president; Judy Britt, treasurer, and Betty Bensinger, secretary.

Temperance meeting held

The Cass River Women's Christian Temperance Union met Aug. 14 with Mrs. Edith Toner. Roll call was answered with a verse of scripture and dues were collected for 1979-80.

Devotions were conducted by Harriett Rayl, using the topic "Channels of Freedom."

Announcement was made of the state convention Sept. 24-27 at the Bethel Baptist church in Jackson, Michigan has 2,172 members.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Putnam.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 99

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NUMBER 93 — THE UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE, TO PROVIDE FOR CIVIL INFRACTIONS THEREOF.

The Village of Cass City Ordains:

Section 1. Section 9.3 - Penalties is hereby amended to provide as follows: Any provision of this ordinance which describes an act or omission which constitutes a civil infraction under the terms of the Michigan Vehicle Code, being 1949 P.A. 300 as amended, shall be processed as a civil infraction and any person found to have committed a civil infraction may be ordered to pay a civil fine of not more than $100.00 and costs in accordance with section 907 of the Michigan Vehicle Code.

Every person convicted of a violation of other provisions of this ordinance which are not civil infractions shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100.00 or by imprisonment for not more than 90 days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, unless another penalty is expressly provided by the ordinances of the governmental unit.

Section 2. This ordinance shall become effective twenty (20) days after its adoption.

Enacted by the Village Council of Cass City, Tuscola County, Michigan, this 14th day of August, 1979.

On roll call - vote was: Yeas 6, Nays 0.

Lambert E. Althaver, Village Pres.

Lynda McIntosh, Village Clerk

I hereby certify that the above is a true copy of the Ordinance adopted at the regular meeting of the Village Council of the Village of Cass City, Tuscola County, Michigan, held August 14, 1979.

Huron County Fair

Ubly youngsters capture ribbons with grand champions at fair

A 1,220 pound Maine Anjou steer owned by Leona Kanaby, 17, was judged grand champion steer at the Huron County Fair.

The Ubly Future Farmers of America member is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Francis Kanaby of E. Wheeler Road, Ubly.

Purchaser of her steer at the junior livestock sale was McDonald's Restaurant, Bad Axe, at $1.65 per pound.

After the judging, Leona received the grand champion trophy from Wayne McDonald of the Northgate IGA, Bad Axe.

Her sister, Beverly, got a blue ribbon and a third in showmanship with her Chianina-Hereford steer. Brother Ed got a first in class with his Maine Anjou-Charolais steer.

Coline Tenbush of the Honey Bees 4-H Club sold the reserve champion steer to Rapson Crop Service, Bad Axe, for $1.20 a pound.

Enos Farm Supply, Cass City, was purchaser of the grand champion hog of Tom Erer of the Bad Axe FFA at $4.05 a pound.

Don Booms of the Ubly FFA had the reserve champion hog, purchased by the In-and-Out Party Store of Bad Axe, owned by Duane Chippi of Cass City, at $2 per pound.

Don also had the grand champion pen, with the other animal in his pen sold to the Production Credit Association, Bad Axe, for $1 a pound.

Karl Treppkowski of the Ubly FFA had the grand champion market lamb.

Gettel's, Inc. of Sebawaing was the purchaser at $3.70 per pound.

He also had the grand champion pen of lambs, sold to Draves Distributing, Bad Axe, for $3 a pound.

Scott Cook of the Ubly Valley 4-H Club was crowned 4-H Youth King at the fair. Karen Maurer of the Happy Gals 4-H Club was crowned the queen.

Also from the Ubly Valley club, Tom Cook won the senior champion showmanship trophy, awarded by the Elktion Cooperative Farm Produce Co.

Scott Cook won the grand champion dairy female trophy, presented by Moor-man's Feed representative Douglas Thummel, Port Austin, and the junior champion Holstein dairy female halter, presented by the Production Credit Association, Bad Axe.

Brenda Tyrrell got a fourth place in showmanship with her Charolais cross-breed. Carey Tyrrell got a champion dairy female, with the trophy presented by Blount Agriculture, Bad Axe. He also had the champion Holstein intermediate heifer calf, the trophy being awarded by the Michigan Animal Breeders Cooperative.

From the Owendale Honey Bees 4-H Club, Tina Miller won a blue ribbon in sewing, Tiffany Rienhardt a blue and green (honor roll) ribbon in sewing and Janice Cummins won blue ribbons in freezing and baking.

fourth in showmanship with her Hereford steer and a blue ribbon for her brownies.

Community booster

Dr. Robert Green

Dentist becomes involved in village

Editor's note: this is one of a series sponsored by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce about community boosters who are members of the organization.

Dr. Robert Green was new to Cass City when he started his dental practice here in May, 1977, but not new to Tuscola county or the Thumb area.

He is a native of rural Kingston and lives near Kingston now, although he is preparing to move to Cass City when a home under construction is completed.

Dr. Green quickly became involved in community affairs. He is a member of the Cass City Lions Club as well as the Chamber of Commerce.

He was associated with Dr. Paul Chappel until May, 1979, when increased patient load dictated a move to his present location in Hills and Dales Medical Clinic.

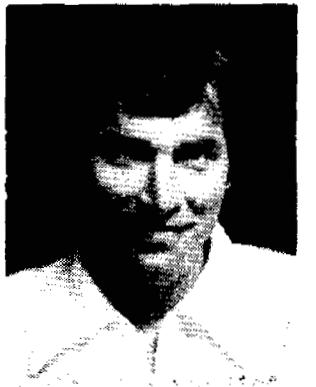

Dr. Green feels that the "whole family" approach to dental care is growing in the community and that children, especially, benefit.

If the child's first experience is observing parents or siblings receiving dental care it is a positive experience, he feels.

Regular dental care is a benefit to the patient's health and is financially better in the long run, Dr. Green said.

Green is a member of the Saginaw Valley Dental Association and Kingston United Methodist church.

His wife, Marilyn, is a licensed practical nurse, and serves as office receptionist for her husband.

Lane clarifies

Number of welfare cases error in story

To the editor:

I wish to clarify a few statements made in the Chronicle article of Thumb Area Welfare Rights Organization, Aug. 2, 1979.

It states in May, we petitioned for hearings in 150 cases. In June, 1979, the numbers jumped to 190 cases.

It was told to the reporter that since the beginning of Thumb Area Welfare Rights Organization, from September, 1976, through the end of 1978, between 150-190 hearings and issues were brought to the Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac and Lapeer counties' Social Services offices.

In 1979, there has been a considerable rise in worker error and misinformation to clients and we resolved close to 100 hearing requests and issues brought to the departments' attention.

Through December, 1978, we also served Lapeer county. It now receives assistance from the Genesee County Welfare Rights Organization.

I would like to elaborate on the statement of Mrs. Onalee Detwiler, Director of Tuscola County Department of Social Services, made regarding "the three Thumb Area County offices".

We have settled several issues in hearings and bringing matters to Supervisors' attention in the counties we serve since May, 1979 to the present. We have recouped $1,626 ($1,135 - Tuscola county, $291 - Huron county) for members who had been cheated of these benefits by department error.

When we withdraw hearing requests, usually the department is willing to correct their previous errors. If we make errors we always apologize for any inconvenience we have caused to caseworkers.

Another clarification of Mrs. Detwiler's statement, two people did not show at hearings, was not our members.

I'm sorry the reporter's statements were not clarified earlier. We did not realize the figures were quoted for just May and June of 1979.

Welfare is only survival money and sometimes not that. For a renting family of four in Tuscola county, they are allowed up to $150. for rent obligations, $49 for heat and $25 a month utilities. If they pay more for rent they might receive $70 worth of food stamps a month.

Our members do not want or expect a $1.00 more than they are legally entitled for.

Bread & Justice,

Joyce M. Lane, chairperson TAWRO

Accurate figures given in letter

Dear Mike:

I would like to respond to an article which appeared in the Cass City Chronicle of August 2, 1979, regarding the Thumb Area Welfare Rights Organization which operates in Tuscola, Huron, and Sanilac counties.

Administrative hearings' statistics were quoted which were in error and I would like to give you the accurate figures.

In May and June of 1979, there were only 13 hearing requests processed in all three counties, nine of which were withdrawn prior to the hearings, two people did not appear at the hearings, and two decisions were rendered in which the Department of Social Services was reversed in one and partially upheld in the other.

Our records do not indicate whether there was TAWRO involvement in these hearings requests or not, but 13 is a far cry from Mrs. Lane's figures of 150 and 190 for May and June. Furthermore, for the quarter of April, May, and June, there were 21 hearing requests received which would average out to only 84 a year which in no way comes close to those cited for one month.

The three Thumb Area county DSS offices consistently rank among the very best of Michigan's 83 counties in terms of quantity and quality of work produced. We are concerned about people and at all times do our very best to see that those who qualify receive accurate benefits consistent with Department policy.

Very truly yours,

(Mrs.) Onalee A. Detwiler, director Tuscola County Department of Social Services

Editor's note: Mrs. Lane - she was elected TAWRO chairperson since the article was written - makes two references in her letter to the letter of Mrs. Detwiler. The Tuscola County DSS director sent Mrs. Lane a copy of her letter prior to when she (Mrs. Lane) wrote hers.

Mrs. Lane includes in her figures cases which didn't go to hearing because the DSS admitted its error, thus the welfare client withdrew his or her request for a hearing, plus some which were resolved before a hearing request was made.

Of the 150-190 "hearings and issues" TAWRO was involved in, she claims it was successful in all but about 10.

Letters to the editor

Keep printing fair winners

Dear Editor:

Your paper did a very fine job of reporting the winners in 4-H clubs from the Tuscola, and Sanilac counties. The fairs are important to the 4-H club members, the parents, 4-H leaders, Co-operative Extension personnel, and all of the many other people who have contributed many hours to the fairs.

I hope that you will continue next year to print the names of the 4-H winners. All of the members do a very good job. They have really nice projects, even those who do not win blue ribbons.

They have more variety now than when I was a member. The 4-H horse clubs and the 4-H photography clubs are a good example.

Sincerely,
Joe Hickey
Bad Axe

Bids opened

Krapf Road to be constructed

Elkland township will probably go ahead with reconstruction of Krapf Road.

Bids for the first part of the job were opened last Thursday by the Tuscola County Road Commission.

Lowest of four bidders for grading, ditching, culvert installation and any needed tree removal was Chuck Vaughan of Caro at $9,860.

Road Commission Clerk Jim Miklovic said Tuesday he has been given the verbal okay from township Supervisor Jack Gallagher to award the bid, but was still awaiting a written confirmation.

If that is received, the Road Commission can award the bid at its Aug. 30 meeting.

Total estimated cost for rebuilding the road between M-81 and Elmwood Road is $42,400, with most of the remainder of the cost being for gravel (material and labor). The township pays almost the entire cost.

That may be done by Road Commission workers or by a private contractor. That hasn't been decided yet, Miklovic said.

The contractor awarded the bid, presumably Chuck Vaughan, has until July 1, 1980, to complete the work, although Miklovic expects it will probably be done this fall.

So, whether graveling is done yet this year or next year depends on the weather when the grading and ditching work, etc., is completed.

RAP's rap

My first and last; 'so long Cass City'

Editor's note: Because of numerous requests - all of them from Ron - we have decided to let him write a column, his first and last one.

BY: Ronald A. Przystas

So long, my friends. It's hard for me to think of anything else to say to a friendly bunch of PERSONS I met in Cass City since I came to this village 11 weeks ago. That, and a public "thank you" for making my stay here an enjoyable and relaxing experience.

Well, most of the time relaxing.

Once when it wasn't was when I heard a loud knocking at my door at 3:15 a.m. that roused me out of a deep sleep in front of the television set. I stumbled to the door and was greeted by two of Cass City's finest, in blue or gray, or brown or whatever the police department personnel dress in.

"I think your TV is on pretty loud."

"What did you say?"

"I SAID YOUR TV IS ON LOUD."

"Oh yeah, I know, it does that . . . all by itself. You see, the volume gets louder when someone gets near the set. And I guess I rolled over to it in my sleep."

"Well, would you mind turning it down? We got a call on it."

An embarrassing situation for me caused by someone who doesn't appreciate my clock radio either.

He just better be grateful I didn't have room in my car for my stereo when I moved to this place.

Cass City would have ROCKED for 11 weeks.

In any case, it's been a lot of fun and I've met a whole village full of interesting people (rather PERSONS). (Sorry, John, the publisher of the Chronicle).

And John, don't worry, I'll never give a team "their victory" but instead "its victory."

Mike, (the editor of the Chronicle) you can rest assured, I will stop all my bad habits, INCLUDING saying "he said" 43 times too many in a story; writing confusing leads; not knowing the difference between north and south and east and west; thinking a fitted bodice is a little more than a wedding dress, and forgetting to take a camera with me to a fire.

You are right, Mike, not everything about newspapers can come from a college classroom. A journalist needs practical experience more than anything else, if he or she wants to get anywhere in the world. And, a lot of experience.

That's why I'm grateful to John Haire for the internship this summer. And I am also grateful to the entire Chronicle staff for accepting me so easily as a part of the Chronicle family. I'll miss you all. You are very warm and friendly people . . . er, PERSONS.

I also want to thank those whom I have had the pleasure of meeting this summer, to either ask them questions about a certain story, or just to say "hello" and chat for a while. Most were very friendly.

And I learned a lot from this experience this summer. I learned not to call certain women "housewives" because they are not married to houses, they're married to their husbands. . . that a small village can outdo itself when concerned citizens want a special Fourth of July Festival. . . and that exchange students, in general, are quite friendly but a little shy.

But in all true honesty, I have met some pretty nice people, rather PERSONS. If I started naming some, I'd have to name them all. And while Mike is anxious to fill this paper with something, I doubt a list of over 1,000 names would be what he is looking for. (Rather, we used this here column.)

And I do believe this here column is just about over, and so is my stay.

So long, Cass City.

Consumers can get energy loans

Consumers can now get loans for energy conservation programs from, believe it or not, utility companies themselves.

Rules regulating loans utility companies can make for such programs have been approved by the Public Service Commission, the state agency governing utilities.

Under the rules, utility companies can make interest free loans to home owners for installing fuel conservation devices as long as those devices can be paid off within seven years.

The devices can include insulation and furnace and fuel modifications.

As originally proposed, the rules would have allowed the utility companies to charge a modest interest rate, but consumer groups came up in arms saying to charge interest was in violation of the act permitting the loans.

At that time the rules produced much controversy and were modified to eliminate any interest charged.

PSC Chairman Daniel Demlow declared the rules will help save natural gas in Michigan at a time when energy conservation is America's number one priority.

The approved rules allow the utilities to recover the cost of their loan program by putting a surcharge on all customers' bills.

The rules also require that only qualified contractors install conservation devices if home owners do not self install them.

TOP READERS in the Rawson Memorial Library summer reading program, behind piles of books equal to the number they read, were, from left, Marie McDaniel, age 10; Matt Jones, 11; Mike Jones, 9; Mike Bills, 7; Steven Bills, 7; Jeff LaBelle, 12, and Christy Rutkowski, 6. They all read at least 30 books. Not present, who also read that number, were Ken Micklash, Terri Leino, and Tracy Haas.

Certificates given

46 youngsters 'read away' summer

The summer reading program at Rawson Memorial Library came to an end last Thursday with showing of three short films and passing out of certificates to those who read at least 10 books.

There were 46 youngsters who did so.

Those who read at least 30 books received a certificate and two paperback books to keep. They were Mike Jones, Ken Micklash, Terri Leino, Marie McDaniel, Steven Bills, Jeff LaBelle, Tracy Haas, Christy Rutkowski, Mike Bills and Matt Jones.

Reading at least 15 books, good for a certificate and one paperback book, were Sandy Lockard, Lori Calka, David Osantowski, Melissa Osantowski, Jessica Stafford, Jane Dickinson, Tammy Boyce, Dan Tuckey, Andrea Tacon and Michelle Gaffner.

Also, Jennifer Davis, Pam Harris, Nathan Padberg, Carolyn Tuckey, Crystal Forster, Libby Dickinson, Shelly Nicholas, Katie LaBelle, Debby Cook, Tim Davis, Michelle Jones and Theresa McConnell.

Those who read at least 10 books received a certificate. They were Becky Smerdon, Connie Schneeberger, Carol Lockard, Jenny Sting, Jan Erla, Dale Smerdon, Billy Profit, Connie Profit, Rob Albee, Matt Tuckey and Roy Shaft.

About 100 youngsters took part in the program.

HEALTH TIPS

Generic drugs can save money

Nearly all of us are witnesses to the miracles of modern prescription drugs. Many of us are alive today because of those miracles. Unfortunately, few of us possess even the basic knowledge of the drugs so essential to our well-being, according to the East Central Michigan Health Systems Agency (ECMHA).

When a new drug is invented, it usually carries three names:

1) The CHEMICAL name, showing its molecular structure and generally understandable to and pronounceable by chemists only.

2) The established public or GENERIC name. This is the name most commonly used in scientific literature and learned in medical or pharmacy school by physicians and pharmacists.

3) The BRAND name, generally easy to spell and pronounce and brief enough to fit on a prescription blank. The brand name, of course, is that name the drug companies hope the physician will remember and keep prescribing.

Drugs cannot be duplicated without the manufacturer's permission due to a 17-year patent law. During this time, the drug remains the exclusive property of the manufacturer and for this reason is usually introduced to the market under the trade name rather than the common generic name.

However, after the patent expires, it becomes legally feasible for other manufacturers to chemically reproduce the trademarked drug.

These chemically equivalent drugs are known as generic drugs. The generic drug then, is the name by which a drug is known as an isolated substance, or a drug product, regardless of who manufactures it.

In contrast, brand names identify the product "made" produced by a specific manufacturer. For example, "Valium" is a brand name for a well known tranquilizer, while, "diazepam" is the generic name for the same tranquilizer.

Since the laws are designed to reimburse the manufacturer for the research and development associated with the original formulation, brand names generally (but not always) cost more than their generic equivalents.

There is little doubt that we are moving toward a new era where countless tens of millions of dollars will be saved each year in our purchase of drugs, by buying under their generic name rather than under the well-advertised brand name. (A recent Wayne State University study shows Michigan lagging in the use of generic drugs as compared to other states according to reports received by the ECMHA.)

The next time your physician writes you a prescription, why not ask him to prescribe a generic drug if possible? Your physician must be the one to decide whether the generic or brand name drug is most appropriate for particular need, but in cases where the generic drug can be prescribed, the saving at the check-out counter to you, the consumer, is generally significant.

Coming Auctions

Friday, Aug. 24 at 9:30 a.m. - Dale Damm will sell his entire stock and fixtures of the Leonard Damm and Son Agricultural Implement Store including shop equipment, hand tools and miscellaneous items and parts. Saturday, Sept. 1 - Mrs. Vera Will will hold an antique auction at the place located five and a quarter miles south of Harbor Beach on US-25. This is a complete dispersal of Will's Antique Shop. Ira, David and Martin Osentoski, auctioneers.

Saturday, Sept. 8 - Mrs. Donald Becker will sell at auction - small farm tools, shop tools, household items, antiques and 80-acre farm, at the place located four miles east of Cass City, four miles north on M-53 and two and a half miles east at 5103 Bay City-Forestville Rd. Herb Albrecht, auctioneer.

AARP has meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the American Association of Retired Persons was held Aug. 16 with 46 members and guests attending at the Good Shepherd Lutheran fellowship hall. Mrs. Harvey McCreedy sang, with Phyllis Findly accompanying her on the piano.

A board of directors meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Roch Sept. 6 at 1:30 p.m.

The next regular meeting will be held Sept. 13 in the Lutheran fellowship hall.

Rose Worstell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beardsley, and Clara Eberts will be in charge of arrangements.

Martin family has reunion

The family of Albert Martin held its annual reunion Aug. 12 at the Pigeon Menomite Fellowship Hall with approximately 50 in attendance.

The attendance was small due to the death of a sister, Mrs. Eva Moore, the previous day.

A potluck meal was enjoyed, after which various games were played. Prizes were won by Donald Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John Blair, Terry Lynn and Shawn Kendall, Mrs. Elizabeth St. John and David Blair.

The oldest person present was 86-year-old Mrs. Earl Beyette of Caro. The youngest was 20-month-old Kristy McClorey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McClorey. The Charter family was appointed to be in charge of next year's reunion.

Relatives attended from Drayton Plains, Caro, Bad Axe, Gagetown, Saginaw, Essexville, Fairgrove, Bay City, Adrian and Cass City.

Kingswood Inn adds first place finish in Sandusky playoffs to season titles

The Kingswood Inn women's fast-pitch softball team ended its season on a successful note by finishing in first place in the Sandusky League playoffs Aug. 15 at Sandusky.

The Kingston-based team won four straight games in the double-elimination playoff, including a surprise victory over the Yale Rubber team, which finished in first place during the regular season.

Kingswood Inn completed the regular season tied for second place with Sanilac Dairy Farms, each with 8-2 records.

But that wasn't for long, as Kingswood Inn took on the Dairy Farm team in a one-game playoff for second place and cruised to an easy 23-8 win.

The team also participated in a Sandusky tournament July 14-15 and captured second place, losing 10-0 and 11-1 games to Allen's Cleaners of Port Huron for the championship July 15. Yale Rubber finished in third place.

Kingswood Inn made it to the finals by defeating Mr. K's, 25-4, and Yale Rubber, 17-12, the previous day.

"It was a pretty successful year," said Judy Martin, member of the team. "But next year we're looking to do better."

Horse show too

Best 4-H softball teams compete in finals at MSU

"Batter up!" was the cry when the best 4-H softball teams in Michigan came to Michigan State University Saturday to compete in the state 4-H softball finals.

Tuscola county was represented by the junior girls' team of the Richville Livestock Club.

Close to 500 4-H members from all over Michigan brought their horses to MSU Tuesday for the annual state 4-H horse show.

The day-long event featured 13 rings with different competitions taking place simultaneously. In addition to the competition in junior, intermediate and senior categories, the show stressed learning horse show management.

Tuscola county was represented by 4-H horse members Colleen Whittaker, Kim Walker and Troy Parsell.

The first Michigan 4-H Livestock Expo at Michigan State University, Monday through Thursday, featured beef cattle, swine and sheep production.

Tuscola county was represented by Wanda Taylor and Mark Palmreuter. Wanda is one of five top sheep production winners.

Dairy Days was held at MSU Tuesday through Thursday. Tuscola county delegates were Patsy Jordan, Mel Jordan Jr., Nathan Rupprecht, David Rupprecht and Brad Rupprecht.

12,000 feet up in Bolivia

A 'mountain high' for Renee Erla

Spending 11 months in a poor Bolivian mining town 12,000 feet up in the Andes doesn't sound like the most ideal conditions for an American foreign exchange student, but Renee Erla, 17, loved every minute of her experience there.

She returned to Cass City July 16 after being in Oruro, a city of 100,000 about 120 miles southeast of La Paz, for nearly a year as a participant in the Rotary Exchange program.

Renee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Erla of 6779 Pine Street and will be a senior at Cass City High School this fall.

"Oruro is the folkloric capital of Bolivia," Renee said. "It's the smallest of nine cities in the country with a backward lifestyle that was difficult for me to get used to at first."

Washing clothes was usually done in a tub outside the house by a poor Indian woman who worked as a maid for $15-30 a month. But all the girls and women did their own wash while the maids did the men and boys'.

"Most of the people in Bolivia are very poor," Renee explained. "I had an 'uncle' in Bolivia who was considered one of the highest paid workers there. He is an engineer who makes $460 a month and his wife is a teacher making $250 a month."

Renee stayed with three families in Oruro, including the Silvio Sabioncellos family where she had four sisters. She stayed there for five months before living with the Jorge Ferreyra family for three months. There she had four brothers and a sister. Her last three months were spent with the Hugo Agreda family, where she had three sisters.

THE SCHOOL YEAR IN Bolivia runs from March to October (when summer vacation starts), with winter vacation from June 15-July 15. (Seasons are the reverse of here.) Renee attended an all-girls' Catholic high school. Students paid $12 a month to attend the private school.

"I went to school from 8:30 a.m. to noon and then 2 p.m. until 4:30," Renee said. "I had 14 different classes that were required and attended seven of them a day. Classes alternated every other day and students were assigned to one room for the year. The teachers changed rooms, students did not."

Uniforms consisted of a white dress. Occasionally, the girls could wear slacks when the weather got cold enough for it.

"The temperature never got above 55 degrees, mostly because we were 12,000 feet up in the Andes. Oruro is the highest city in Bolivia."

RENEE DID LITTLE traveling during her stay in Bolivia, mainly because transportation there was so poor.

"Traveling by car can be very dangerous because the roads are so bad," she explained. "The only paved road in Oruro is the one that goes to La Paz and the rest are dirt."

She noted that traveling by train or bus wasn't safe either and remembered the 17-hour bus ride from Kocham to Santa Cruz where she had the most frightening experience of her stay in Bolivia.

"It was in November during the rainy season and the bus I was riding on was on a dirt road in the mountains when it met another bus coming from the other way," Renee said. "Our bus backed up and one of the tires went off the cliff. The driver somehow managed to rock the bus back on the road but I never rode one again after that. I took a plane."

Renee thought she had a hard time getting used to the closeness of the family members, who always greeted each other with a kiss on the right cheek.

"WHETHER IT WAS TO say hello or goodbye, everyone did it. Except a male did not kiss another male. The Bolivian lifestyle was hard to get used to."

Children in Bolivia do not work at all. They spend most of their time studying and also leading active social lives through participating in clubs.

"I belonged to the Tigres Club and we celebrated Christmas, New Year's and other holidays together," Renee explained. "There were usually formal parties every Saturday night from August to November for the 30-40 different clubs in the city. They are very popular."

The clubs are an important part of the lives of the young people, especially when members met from noon until 2 p.m. everyday at the plaza after going to school in the morning.

"Everything closed at noon and everyone went to the plaza, located in the middle of the city, to visit and talk over the day's activities. After talking for an hour or so, everyone had lunch and then some people took a 15-20 minute siesta. Students went back to school after their nap."

THE BOLIVIANS USE A hot sauce (llajwa) on almost everything they eat, including meat, soup, vegetables and even bread.

Breakfast was usually around 8 a.m. and consisted of coffee and bread. Lunch followed around 1 p.m. and that was the main meal of the day. It consisted of either squash, peanut or spinach soup, beef or lamb meat which was usually very tough, boiled potatoes and some type of macaroni dish.

The late afternoon meal was very light with some type of bread served along with another macaroni dish.

Renee said that all of the houses in the city are made out of mud brick and are connected together in units of several houses. There are no yards or outside lawns but most have some type of patio in the center.

Besides doing the males' laundry, the poor Indian maids also sold fruits, vegetables, meat and everything else at the open market in the middle of the city.

"Anything you needed was usually sold here," Renee explained. "There aren't any supermarkets in Bolivia so people in the city had to depend on the open market for supplies."

THE HOUSES AND OTHER buildings had no heating systems and several homes had difficulty getting water.

"My second home only had water two hours a day and that was because we lived on a slight hill outside Oruro," Renee remembered. "We usually filled the bathtub and got the water for cooking, cleaning and bathing from there. It wasn't very sanitary that way. In Oruro the water was fine."

Most of the prominent citizens in the city, Renee said, are either engineers or lawyers.

"I don't know why they had so many lawyers. In fact, I don't even remember seeing a lawyer's office while I was there."

BESIDES STAYING IN Oruro most of her 11-month stay, Renee visited Santa Cruz for a month, spent four days in Cochabamba and frequented La Paz several times via bus because it was only three hours away.

"La Paz was a little warmer than Oruro but La Paz had a very bad problem with mosquitoes," Renee said. "During my stay I slept in beds shielded with mosquito nets because there was such a problem."

The biggest celebration Renee attended was the Carnival, a Catholic religious six-day event in March where Bolivians danced and made merriment in the streets to kick off Lent.

"There was little drinking going on but most of the excitement was directed towards the dancing performances," Renee said.

The dancers practiced several months in advance and those involved in the main performance had to pledge to be in the festival for three consecutive years in order to participate.

With over 30 different groups dancing, the performance started about 1 1/2 miles out of town and proceeded to the plaza where the groups showed their best stuff. From there, the dancing moved to the old church on a hill where the performers danced for the Virgin of Socavon, who old legend says, once chased away the devils from the town.

The dancers pay her homage by dressing up as Indians and devils in colorful costumes and headdresses that were worn throughout the festival.

"The entire year in Bolivia was a great learning experience for me," Renee said. "I wouldn't trade that for anything in the world."

BACK FROM BOLIVIA -- Renee Erla sits with her teddy bear made out of llama hair and some of the other articles she brought back from her 11-month stay in Bolivia. The sweater and rug in the foreground are also made from llama hair.

Hung jury in manslaughter

A Tuscola County Circuit Court jury spent 3 1/2 days in deliberation before deciding last week that it could not reach a verdict in the manslaughter trial of William T. Marr Sr.

The Lapeer man, 25, was charged in connection with the traffic death of Ralph E. Bates of Flint July 7, 1978.

Bates' truck was westbound on Millington Road, 5 1/2 miles east of Millington, when it struck the Marr auto, which was northbound on Center Road. Deputies reported at that time that Marr either didn't stop or didn't yield the right of way at the intersection.

The trial before Judge Norman A. Baguley began Tuesday, Aug. 7, and continued until about 10 a.m. Friday, Aug. 10, when it went to the jury.

The jury deliberated the rest of that day, from about 8:30 a.m.-3 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday, and then about noon Wednesday, Aug. 15, told the judge it was unable to reach a verdict.

Baguley announced that a new trial will be scheduled. Bond for Marr was continued.

Marr, represented by Caro attorney Thomas D. Abbey, claimed in his defense that he wasn't driving the car at the time of the accident, that his passenger was. The passenger testified that Marr was the driver.

Prosecuting attorney was Chief Assistant Prosecutor Scott Stermer.

The 3 1/2 days the jury spent in deliberation isn't thought to be the record in Tuscola county court history.

A Circuit Court jury last Thursday found Millard Loftus, 56, of 1078 E. Northwood, Caro, guilty of criminal sexual conduct (4th degree).

The trial before Judge Baguley had begun Tuesday, while the Marr jury was still in deliberation.

The judge scheduled sentencing Sept. 24 and continued bond until then.

Loftus was minister of the Caro Church of Christ in August, 1975, when the incident he was found guilty of occurred, involving a 14-year-old girl who was a member of his congregation.

Loftus was represented by Bad Axe attorney Michael Dennis. Assistant Prosecutor Kathleen Boyle was the attorney for the prosecution.

In cases Monday before Circuit Judge Martin E. Clements:

Carrie Jean Parker, 30, of Saginaw, pleaded guilty to fraud (obtaining social assistance by false representation).

Her plea was accepted and sentencing scheduled Sept. 17. Bond was continued.

She pleaded guilty to accepting $11,934 in welfare payments from the Tuscola County Department of Social Services during the period July, 1971 to January, 1977, despite the fact she was employed much of that time.

She had also been charged with failure to keep the agency informed of her income.

Theodore A. Smith, 38, of 224 Lynn Street, Vassar, stood mute to a charge of manufacturing of a controlled substance (marijuana).

A plea of innocent was entered and pretrial hearing scheduled Sept. 4. Bond was continued.

Five men ordained at RLDS Church service

Sunday afternoon, Aug. 12,
the Owendale Reorganized
Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints held an ordination service to ordain five men into the priesthood.

This was the first day of services in the newly remodeled upper sanctuary of the church. There were 150 family and friends in the congregation.

Elder Ellis Gardner, pastor, was in charge of the service. The congregation sang "Lord Of The Living Harvest." Invocation was offered by Elder Clayton Gemmell. Priest Walter
Dubs read from the Scriptures and Mrs. Becky Bacon sang "Feed My Sheep," accompanied by Karen
Gardner on the piano.

High Priest Donald Richards gave the charge to the priesthood and the congregation. The congregation sang "By Revelation Called of God," accompanied by Mrs. Geneva Richards on the organ.

Otto Bacon Jr. was ordained to elder by Elder
Jerry Cleland.

John Abbe, assisted by Elder Otto Bacon Sr., and Dale
Wells to elder by Elder Olson McCallum, assisted by Elder Ellis Gardner.

Ron Kuenzli was ordained to priest by Elder Marshall
McGuire Sr., assisted by Elder Gardner; Elmer Andrews to priest by Elder Clarence Severn, assisted by Elder Abbe, and Rick Richards to priest by Elder Tore Nilsen, assisted by Elder
Jerry Cleland.

Elder Gardner gave a pastoral prayer for the men and the congregation. For the closing hymn, the congregation sang "I would Be True." Benediction was given by Elder Marshall Mc-Guire Jr.

The presiding priesthood then filed by the new men in the priesthood and offered their congratulations. After the congregation did the same, everyone retired to the lower auditorium for a potluck supper and visiting.

GUIDANCE AND COUNSELING

The school guidance program is designed to assist students who have personal and social concerns, and to help students design academic programs to meet their individual needs and abilities. College admission and financial aid assistance is provided for students interested in continuing their schooling after graduation. One of the programs designed to benefit both the student and the community is the co-operative education program. Under this program, some students are placed in on-the-job work situations for part of each day. Students and parents who desire information concerning guidance programs are invited to contact Mr. Cleland or Mr. Dillon at the High School, Ms. Shaw at the Intermediate School, or the counselor (to be determined) at the Campbell Elementary School.

FREE STUDENT LUNCH POLICY

The Cass City Board of Education has Adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, Special Milk Program, and U.S.D.A. Donated Foods Program.

Total Family Size	"A" Scale for Free Meals and Free Milk	"B" Scale for Reduced Price Meals
1	$4,590	$4,591-$7,160
2	$6,040	$6,041-$9,420
3	$7,490	$7,491-$11,680
4	$8,940	$8,941-$13,940
5	$10,390	$10,391-$16,200
6	$11,840	$11,841-$18,470
7	$13,290	$13,291-$20,730
8	$14,740	$14,741-$22,990
Each Additional Family Member	$1,450	$2,260

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown on the scale are eligible for free or reduced meals and milk. If your income is greater than those shown but you have unusually high medical bills, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of your income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, or disaster or casualty losses, your children may still be eligible.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Approved applications entitle the applicant to have lunches paid in part or in total by federal funds. School officials may, for cause, verify the information on the application. Application forms contain a statement above the space for signature certifying that all information furnished is correct. Deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable state and criminal statutes. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If you have foster children living with you and wish to apply for such meals and milk for them please notify us or indicate it on the application.

Children of unemployed parents may qualify for free or reduced price meals and/or free milk if total family income, including welfare payments, unemployment compensation and sub-pay benefits fall within the prescribed family income guidelines.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, creed, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy the school principals will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Donald Crouse, Superintendent of the Cass City Public Schools, for a hearing to appeal the decision.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Cass City Public Schools will open Wednesday, August 29, 1979, with a full day session. All students will report to their respective buildings. Class lists of students at Campbell and Intermediate will be posted Thursday, August 23, at 3:00 p.m. All sixth, seventh, and eighth grade students from Deford and the seventh and eighth grade students from Evergreen will be attending school in Cass City.

The Principals will be available in their offices the week of August 20 to register new students. Considerable waiting time may be saved if appointments to register the students are made.

KINDERGARTEN

During the first two days of school, students attending kindergarten at Campbell Elementary will attend only one day. The afternoon kindergarten will be held Wednesday, August 29, and the morning kindergarten will meet Thursday, August 30. Children attending kindergarten at Deford and Evergreen will have school both days. Kindergarten parents will be notified by letter when to come for parent conferences. At that time they may pay the milk and cookie charge of $6.00 per semester.

Parents should present the child's birth certificate, health record, and enrollment sheet before school starts if they have not already done so.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Classes will begin Wednesday, August 29, at 8:25 a.m. and be dismissed at 3:05 p.m. Students will be permitted to enter the buildings at 8:15 a.m.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL

All Intermediate students should report August 29 by 8:25 a.m. to their assigned rooms. Room assignments will be posted at 3:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 23. School will dismiss at 3:05 p.m. Students will be permitted to enter the building at 8:15 a.m.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

All students in grades nine through twelve will report to the high school gymnasium for a general session meeting at 8:35 a.m. on August 29.

BUSES

Buses will be traveling the same routes as last year the first few days of school. Adjustments to balance the bus loads and to provide for the pick up of new students will be made as soon as possible. The following bus policies have been adopted by the Board of Education:

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

1. To observe classroom conduct (except for ordinary conversation) while getting on, getting off and riding the bus.
2. To occupy the seat assigned by the driver and remain seated in an erect position with both feet on the floor while the bus is in motion.
3. To be at the pickup place designated at the scheduled time.
4. To wait until the bus comes to a complete stop before attempting to get on or off.
5. To keep all parts of your body inside the bus at all times.
6. To cross a traveled highway, if necessary after leaving the bus, by walking in front of the bus.
7. To leave or board the bus only with the consent of the driver and only through the proper door.
8. To immediately report to the driver any damage to the bus.
9. To help keep the bus clean, sanitary and orderly and the aisles free of any obstructions.
10. To obey the driver cheerfully and to refrain from unnecessary conversation with the driver while the bus is moving.

PARENT RESPONSIBILITIES

1. To take all precautions necessary for the protection of their children while going to and from the bus stop.
2. To work in a cooperative manner with those responsible for pupil transportation.

BUS DISCIPLINE PROCEDURE

1. First violation - The driver submitting the violation report will deliver it personally to the Principal of the building the student attends. The Principal will arrange a conference at which the student, driver and Principal will be in attendance. A written communication regarding the violation and disciplinary action taken will be sent to the parents.
2. Second violation - The same procedure as in the first violation. The minimum disciplinary action will be a three day suspension from riding the bus.
3. Third violation - The same procedures as above with a five day minimum suspension.

CAFETERIA

Elementary and high school cafeterias will open on Wednesday, August 29. Elementary prices are 50 cents for single meals. Weekly lunch tickets are available on Mondays for students at a cost of $2.50. Intermediate and High School prices are 55 cents for single meals. Adult lunches can be purchased at a cost of 73 cents.

Milk is available for all students who carry their own lunch at a cost of 5 cents a carton.

IMMUNIZATIONS

Act 299, Public Acts of 1975, authorized the Director of The Michigan Department of Public Health to specify, by regulation, the immunizations and tests required of all children enrolling in Michigan schools for the first time. This year the following immunizations are required:

Diphtheria, Tetanus, Rubella, Pertussis, Measles, and Poliomylia.

In addition, each new school entry must have had a vision screening test.

The parent or guardian who, because of religious or other convictions, does not want his child protected from these diseases must submit a signed statement to that effect.

As part of our school admission procedure for your child, we must enforce the law stated above. We must have the health record or a similar statement in order to admit your child officially to school.

If you have questions about this, please consult your local school, your doctor, or the Thumb District Health Department.

EMERGENCY SCHOOL CLOSING

Special announcements concerning school closing will be made through the following public service facilities:

Radio WKYO - Carro Radio WMIC - Sandusky
Radio WLEW - Bad Axe

Announcements will be made as soon as a decision is reached.

No wheat set-aside in 1980

The 1980 U.S. Wheat Program will include no set-aside provisions, according to Vernon L. Kretzschmer, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

He said wheat producers will be eligible for farm program benefits next year without diverting acreage from crop production. Other changes in the 1980 program include an increase in the average loan price from $2.35 a bushel up to $2.50 a bushel. The final 1980 target will be announced by March 15. Based on the formula in the Agricultural Act of 1977, preliminary data indicates a 1980 target price of $3.07 a bushel. The 1979 target was originally $2.98, but because of the 20 percent set-aside, it was adjusted to $3.40 a bushel.

In removing the set-aside, U.S. Department of Agriculture officials assessed the world's supply and potential needs and concluded that it can find export markets for any increased production next year.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Opinion regarding a proposed $1 million recreation development in Evergreen township ran divided last week among property owners whose land lies near the site. A Chronicle opinion survey showed that, in general, property owners opposing the development tend to outnumber those who favor it.

Tuscola County Circuit Court Judge James P. Churchill has been nominated to fill the vacancy on the U.S. District Court's Detroit bench left by the death of Judge Stephen Roth. Churchill's nomination was announced by Sen. Robert Griffin, who made the recommendation to President Gerald Ford.

Tuscola county farmers are generally smiling over their 1974 wheat crop yields and, while Tuesday's price was somewhat lower than a year ago, most producers are happy. Tuesday's price was $3.81 per bushel at Michigan Bean Co., compared with $4.88 at this time one year ago.

The Catholics and the Methodists battled it out to the bitter end Monday night for the playoff championship of the Cass City Church League. The Catholics turned the tables on the league champions with a 13-8 upset.

Rev. Richard A. Kubiak was officially appointed Friday as the priest in charge of St. Pancratius Catholic church in Cass City. In addition, he also continues as pastor of St. Michael church, serving the Kingston and Wilmot area, and St. Joseph church of Mayville.

TEN YEARS AGO

Parents of students in Cass City Public Schools, already bearing the cross of a reduced program because of the money crunch in the district, will be faced with increased hot lunch prices and reduced bus runs.

The Cass City Village Council authorized two-man police patrols on Friday and Saturday night in the village. Discussion of village development highlighted the council meeting as trustees wrestled with the problems of parking lots and a new road in the industrial park in southwest Cass City.

Rev. Richard Eyer, pastor of the Good Shepherd Lutheran church in Cass City, announced he has accepted a call to teach at St. John Lutheran School in Detroit.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Carol J. Howarth, a senior at Michigan State College, is one of 112 students at the school who will receive the William and Sarah E. Hinman scholarship for the 1954-55 college year.

Alvin C. Benkelman, brother of Dorus Benkelman of Cass City, has been lauded by road engineers in the United States for developing an instrument called the "Benkelman Beam" for measuring elastic pavement deflections.

When persons from the Cass City area visited the modern plant housing the Anrod Screen Cylinder Co. in Cass City, it is probable that few realized that the company was organized just a little over four years ago. It was on Feb. 11, 1950 that Al Krueger and his wife started to process their first order in a garage in back of their home in Crosswell.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Butler were surprised Sunday when their family came to their home to celebrate the couple's 45th wedding anniversary.

Melvin L. Hall has enrolled at the Northeastern School of Commerce in Bay City and will begin his studies Sept. 7.

Bruce A. Little, who has been stationed in the Panama Canal Zone for 13 months, arrived at Fort Sheridan, Ill., Saturday for separation from the Army after serving for two years.

Village President James Bauer announced that a representative from the state Highway Department, who was in Cass City recently, has assured the council that Main Street in Cass City will be resurfaced sometime this year. He said that the cost will probably run less than the $15,000 originally estimated to be the village's share of the project.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Purdy of Gagetown celebrated their golden wedding anniversary this week with family members.

Leo Ware of Oxford and Stanley McArthur of Cass City have purchased the property of the Burgess Oil and Gas Co. on West Main Street.

Rev. Herbert Watkins, pastor of the Novesta Church of Christ, and Carolyn Jean Beach were married Friday evening.

Glen McCullough was elected president of the Gavel Club Tuesday evening. Other officers elected were: Vice-president James Gross, secretary Watson Spaven and treasurer A.N. Bigelow.

Coach Jack London begins his second season Sept. 1 as the Cass City High School athletic director in charge of coaching football, basketball, baseball and track. In his first year, he led his teams to winning championships in all four sports.

The Silver Star and Air Medal was awarded by the U.S. Army Forces in the South Pacific to 2nd Lt. Grant L. Reagh, former resident of Cass City, for gallantry in action while participating in aerial operation against the enemy over the Solomon Islands Dec. 19, 1942.

Your Neighbor says

We're looking forward to school

As summer winds down students have to start rearranging their thoughts towards classes, homework and teachers.

But for Joe, Joy and Jeff Steadman, the beginning of another school year is something they are looking forward to.

"I miss my friends at school and it will be good to see them again," said Joe, 10, who will be going into the fifth grade at Cass City Intermediate School. "That's what I've missed the most."

Joe's sister, Joy, will be attending third grade at Campbell Elementary School and said the worst thing about starting another school year is having to sit at a different desk and changing rooms.

"I hate to change to a different desk," the eight-year-old said. "But I like everything else about school. It's a lot of fun."

Jeff, the youngest of the three Steadman children, will be starting kindergarten in the fall and wasn't sure what he was going to like about school.

"I guess playing in the sandbox will be a lot of fun," the five-year-old said. "I'm just not sure."

Math and science are Joe's favorite subjects because "I always get A's in those subjects. My worst is social science."

"I like math and social studies the best," said Joy, "and recess."

Joe, Joy and Jeff are the children of Joseph and Joanne Steadman, of 5252 Huron Line Road, Cass City. Steadman works for Hunt Construction in Cass City and Mrs. Steadman works at the meat counter at Erla's Market.

DETROIT EDISON OFFERS EIGHT IMPORTANT TIPS TO HELP YOU GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR AIR CONDITIONER THIS SUMMER.

Fortunately, Detroit Edison customers have plenty of electric power available. Now and in the future. It's the result of planning, development and investment and the fact that over 84 percent of Detroit Edison's power is generated from coal, the nation's most abundant fuel. The balance is generated from other fossil fuels. Even so, none of us should waste energy. So follow these tips and stay cool and comfortable all summer long.

1 Keep your air conditioner on a moderate setting. When leaving home, set the temperature higher.

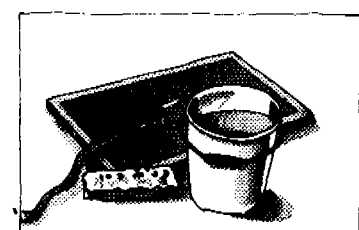

2 Pull down shades and close draperies to keep out the hot sun.

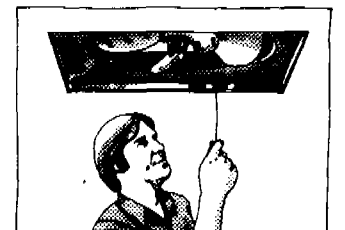

3 Be careful not to block the flow of cool air.

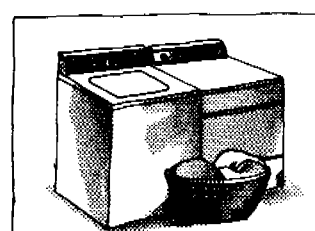

4 Shade windows from outside with ventilated awnings, solar screens, trees or shrubs.

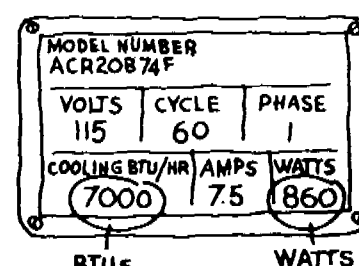

5 Keep air filter, coils, registers and return ducts clean.

6 Cool off hot attic at night with an attic exhaust fan.

7 Use heat and humidity-producing appliances — such as your oven, washer and dryer — early in the morning or in the evening.

8 If you're buying a new air conditioner, you'll save electricity if you select one with an energy efficiency rating (EER) of 8 or higher. The EER is figured by dividing the BTUs by the watts.

Cass City Pre-school Nurseryto hold orientation night

The Cass City Pre-School Nursery will hold orientation night for parents of enrolled children and parents of prospective enrollees Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 7 in the basement of the First Presbyterian church.

The goal, according to publicity chairman Vera Bouck, is to hold separate classes for 3 and 4-year-olds, provided enough children are enrolled.

Interested parents are asked to call membership chairman Joyce Turner at 872-2474.

Classes will start Sept. 10 at 9 a.m.

New instructor this year will be Ruth Balzer of 4196 Maple Street. She has a B.A. degree in elementary education from Concordia Teachers College in River Forest, Ill., and has six years of teaching experience.

Mrs. Balzer is a Bible school instructor at Good Shepherd Lutheran church and gives piano lessons in her home.

Pressurecanner checkfor accuracy

Pressure canners can be checked for accuracy by bringing them to the Co-operative Extension office in Caro from 1-5 p.m. this Thursday or Friday, plus Aug. 30 and 31.

To get your pressure canner tested, you need only to bring in your pressure canner lid with your pressure gauge or weighted gauge.

The extension office is located in the basement of the county Sheriff's office behind the courthouse.

Activities at the nursery include arts and crafts, a dramatic play and music.

Capt. Beachat CoastGuard chapel

Navy Chaplain, Captain Stan Beach and his wife, Ellen, recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Beach of Gagelown.

Also visiting were their son, Randy, from Chattanooga, Tenn., and their daughter, Laurie Dewey from Portsmouth, Va.

A friend, Keiko Yamaoka, from Hiroshima, Japan, also visited. (Keiko enjoyed her first taste of Michigan raspberries.)

Beach recently completed three years of duty at Marine Corps Air Station in Iwakuni, Japan.

He and his wife are now living on Governors Island in New York City, where he is senior chaplain at the U.S. Coast Guard Support Center.

Beach and his wife are both Cass City High School graduates.

Barrow show participation increases

The 35 barrows judged during the Tuscola County Fair is the highest number in six years, reports Don R. Kebler, county extension agricultural agent.

Twelve pens and 35 individual barrows were judged for the premiums and trophies, which were presented by Tammy Fisher, Michigan's 1979 pork queen from Adrian.

Jeff Steele of Mayville received reserve pen, grand champion carcass and reserve champion carcass placings and trophies.

David Palmreuter of Vassar showed the grand champion individual and the grand champion pen.

Alan Graham of Mayville had the reserve champion individual.

Special plaques were awarded to Jim Hutchinson of Cass City and Jill Steele of Mayville for winning the junior and senior youth judging contests respectively.

Trophy sponsors for this year's barrow and carcass show were Pigeon Cooperative elevator, Ralston-Purina; Master Mix Feeds, William Walter, Cass City; James Trump, Richville; Moor-Mans Feed, Alex Graham, Mayville; Sebewaing Farmers Co-op; Star of the West Milling Co., Frankenmuth; Wayne Feed and Supply, Mayville, and Super Sweet Feeds, George Bauer, of Richville.

Dr. Maynard Hogberg, Michigan State University swine specialist, judged the live classes, and Peter Blauwiel, MSU Department of Animal Husbandry, judged the carcasses.

Tip to motorists: A policy of good driving habits is the best life insurance you can get.

AROUND THE FARMResearch plot tours

By Don Kebler

Did you ever think where we and our country would be had it not been for research, experimentation and the use of the information received? What we have today originated through research with agriculture research being the most renowned. Each year farmers all over our nation share in the research with governmental agencies and private enterprises alike. There is no exception in Tuscola county as we are privileged to have the on-farm research cooperation, too.

Each year, your extension office and cooperating farmers invite the public to view and learn about some of the county plots.

Three such public showings will be held and they are as follows:

Tuesday, Aug. 28, dry bean growers' meeting at 6:30 p.m. at the Dwan Rayl farm at the northwest corner of Akron and Unionville Rds. Dr. Russell Frazier, research agronomist for the Michigan Bean Commission and Bean Shipper's Association, will explain this dry bean variety plot.

Dr. Thomas Dudek, Michigan State University entomology specialist, will explain the use of systemic insecticides for bean production and tell about the comparison plots. John McGill of the Bean Shipper's association will give a dry bean update and market outlook report and Donald Keinath, president of the Bean Commission, will review Commission activities and plans. Kenneth Hecht, Tuscola County Bean Growers Association president, will conduct the program.

Friday, Aug. 31 - An afternoon tour of two research plots will transpire. The first stop will be at the wheel-track tillage on navy beans at 1:15 p.m. This plot, on the Robert McNeil farm, is located 1 1/2 miles east of Colling. Dr. Donald Christenson, MSU soil specialist, will explain the plot.

The second stop is at 2:15 on the Russell farm field, a half-mile south and half-mile east of Fairgrove on Slack Road. Six varieties of navy beans and three strains of sugar beets are being tested on compacted and non-compacted soil.

Wednesday, Sept. 5 - Our county soybean variety plot at the Fackler Farm will be toured, beginning at 1:30 p.m. The Facklers and Dr. Zane Helsel, MSU crop specialist, will preside. This plot is located 3 miles south, 2 miles west of Vassar, then three-quarters of a mile north on Buell Road.

We will also visit a solid planting of soybeans at 3 p.m. at Fred Aven's field 2 1/4 miles west of Fairgrove. Fred will explain his practices for producing solid planted soybeans.

Finley in air exercise

Airman First Class Thomas G. Finley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Finley of 4250 English Road, Kingston, recently participated in Global Shield 79, an Air Force exercise conducted by the Strategic Air Command.

Finley is a radio specialist with a SAC unit at K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base at Gwinn in the Upper Peninsula.

Global Shield 79, which involved bomber, tanker, missile and reconnaissance forces, and associated Air Force Reserve units, was the largest and most comprehensive test of SAC forces in more than 20 years.
