

DRY BEAN HARVESTING is underway, with yields of white navy beans in the Cass City area averaging 25-30 bushels per acre, considered average-good and better than last year. Dumping a load into a truck Monday from a field at Milligan and Cemetery Roads was Brad Goslin, working with his father Keith.

Owen-Gage taxpayers get 2.9 mill reduction

The Owendale-Gagetown School Board Monday night approved a 2.9 mill reduction in property taxes for 1979.

Two mills of that comes from the reduced operational millage approved by voters in June, from 23.5 mills last year to 21.5 mills this year, the district being able to get by on reduced millage because of higher property valuations.

The 1967 debt levy stays the same as last year, at 1.0 mill, while the board reduced the 1976 debt levy for the new high school addition from 4.3 mills down to 3.4 mills.

Total millage is 25.9 mills.

Safe unsafe

Kurt Urban of Dutcher Road, Caro, discovered the hard way that possession of a safe doesn't guarantee safety of his valuables.

He reported the theft of his safe to Caro state police Monday, it having been taken the previous evening.

The safe, kept in an upstairs bedroom, contained $3,075 in cash and personal papers.

According to troopers, entry to the house was gained through a window.

Rather than carry the 24-by-16-by-18 inch safe downstairs, the thief or thieves threw it out a bedroom window, then carted it away.

Investigation is continuing.

UNCHAINED — The new Tuscola county animal control ordinance doesn't require dogs to be on a leash or penned. It does require them to be under the reasonable control of the owner, thus, owners who let their dogs wander at large are violating the law.

Adult education in black?

Sunday cage practice for girls gets board okay

Sunday basketball practice appears to have returned to Cass City High School to stay following a split decision by the school board Monday to allow girls to practice seven Sunday afternoons during the season.

The board voted 4-3 to allow the practice after a request by Coach Lloyd Schinnerer was passed to the board by Athletic Director Roland Pakonen. Voting to allow the practices were Dr. Ed Scollon, J.D. Tuckey, Dean Hoag and Geraldine Priesskorn. Against the Sunday practices were Thresa Burnette, Dr. Paul Lockwood and Arthur Severance.

Originally the board had frowned on Sunday practices when requested for boys' basketball last winter.

Evidently this sentiment has changed and the most recent ruling would appear to open the way to nearly unlimited Sunday basketball practices.

The basketball decision was one of several reached in a rather lengthy meeting Monday.

COMMUNITY EDUCATION

Occupying much of the time on the agenda was the community education program.

Director Kathleen O'Donnell had several reports and requests for the board.

She started with some good news for local taxpayers. She said that there would be about 35 full time equivalent students in the high school completion program this fall.

That means that revenues from State funding will jump from about $16,000 to about $40,000 and could be enough to push the program into the black.

After telling the board of the increase in the program she requested several changes. One was to allow 2 credits for work as a housewife towards graduation. It's granted only after a test is given, Mrs. O'Donnell said. That was quickly okayed by the board.

Other requests by the director were subjected to change or outright disapproval.

A raise in salaries for teachers in high school completion from $7.50 to $8.00 was authorized with an additional 25 cents incentive payment to be granted if 80 percent of the enrolled students stay through the fourth Friday count. That's when the census for payment from the State is taken. A payment of 25 cents more per hour after one year of service was rejected.

Enrichment program teachers (no degree necessary) will be paid $6.50 an hour, up from $5.00 an hour last year.

The director also asked for additional help under the CETA program at no cost to the school. It was approved. The director's request that the new employee work nights was rejected on the recommendation of Supt. Donald Crouse.

He told the board that he felt the director should be on hand when the students were in school and recommended that the director's hours remain from 1 to 10 p.m.

Finally, a request for a lounge for adult students was solved when the board authorized a room to be designated for that purpose by the administration.

SALARY INCREASES

Several salaries were adjusted. Marilyn Morgan was appointed secretary at Evergreen. She will be paid $4.00 per hour.

Student cafeteria help was boosted from $1.85 an hour to $2.00 an hour, plus a meal. For 1 2/3 hours the rate went from $3.30 to $3.55, plus a meal.

A salary and fringe benefits for teacher aides were adopted. There was no change in the salary schedule of the Federally funded program.

OTHER BUSINESS

Because school levies for taxes must be figured to four decimal places the board adjusted the tax to 21.1038 mills, about a tenth of a mill less than previously.

Leonard Ziemba complained to Trustee Scollon about the athletic program at Evergreen School. Discussion by the board revealed that there is no football program at any elementary school in the district and that parents at all schools were subject to transporting children to participate in basketball.

No changes in the existing programs were considered.

Teachers have wage grievance

The Tri-county Bargaining Association presented a grievance to the Cass City School Board Monday night over wage payment as specified in the master contract for 1979-80.

The union contends that the salary schedule for the current school year should be increased by 8.12 percent rather than 8 percent. The board denied the grievance which now can be carried before an arbitrator.

The question is in the language of the contract which calls for 6 percent wage increase and 2 percent cost of living allowance.

The union claims that the 2 percent should be figured after the six percent is added in. The board says that it was 6 percent and 2 percent of the figure before the increase. At stake is under $2,000 to be divided among the teachers on the staff.

Several other teacher problems received the attention of the board. It accepted the last minute resignations of Richard Cooper and Eric Wilmore and hired teachers to replace them. They are David Fomesbeck for Wilmore and Yvonne Smith for Cooper. In addition, Katherine Dunford, high school special education teacher, was hired as an additional staff member.

In another action the board accepted the low bid of State Farm Insurance for bus insurance for $5,765.39, up from the low bid last year of $5,381.63. There were three bids received ranging to a high of $8,073.99.

OTHER ITEMS

Pay for bus drivers was increased from $4.30 an hour to $5.25, the increase being needed, the board felt, to attract more drivers. Owen-Gage is three short now -- and to put the amount more in line with what other districts are paying.

The preliminary enrollment count shows 216 students enrolled in grades K-6, compared to the official "fourth Friday" count of 225 last year, and 255 at the high school, compared to 248 last year.

Bonnie Kleinau of Caseville was hired as high school counselor. She was a junior high counselor in Howell for 15 years.

The owner of the closed service station in Owendale is allowing the district to refuel its buses from its underground tank. Efforts are continuing to find a new owner or operator for it, as it is (or was) the only gas station in the village.

ATHLETICS

In line with action by North Central D League athletic directors earlier in the day, student ticket prices at the gate for football, boys' and girls' basketball and volleyball were raised to $1. However, if tickets are purchased prior to the game, the old price of 75 cents will apply.

A 1979-80 athletic budget of $13,175, plus $325 for contingencies, was approved. That compares to $11,469 spent last year. An increase in referee fees was given as one reason for the higher budget.

Income from athletic events in 1978-79 came to $3,999, compared to $4,063 in 1977-78.

Eligibility requirements for all extra-curricular activities were put into writing with the adoption of Michigan High School Athletic Association require-

KATHLEEN O'DONNELL (standing) asked the Cass City School Board for several changes in the community education program. The proposals used most of the time of Monday's board meeting.

New county dog ordinance has teeth for control officers

It won't make a difference to the dogs -- they can't read -- but Tuscola county has a new animal control ordinance.

Among its provisions are that owners of guard and attack dogs must register them.

The new ordinance was approved by the county Board of Commissioners Aug. 28. It still must be sent to the governor for his signature and then takes effect 60 days after he does so.

County Prosecutor Artis Noel, who wrote the ordinance, guesses it will take effect about mid-November.

Certain provisions of the ordinance apply to all animals, but for the most part, it affects dogs -- and their owners.

From the owners' standpoint, there isn't that much that has changed. Perhaps most noticeable will be a slight change in dog license fees.

Previously, the fee was $4 for all dogs prior to March 1; $10 afterwards. The only change is that the fee for neutered dogs prior to March 1 will be $2. All dogs more than 6 months old must be licensed, with the tag carried on their collar.

Up till now, Noel explained, Tuscola county didn't have an animal control ordinance. Its two animal control officers operated under state law.

The new ordinance gives them "the framework to get their job done."

A lot of the state law is written into the county ordinance, according to the prosecutor. Localized aspects include responsibilities of the animal control officers, some obligations of animal owners and the fee schedule.

FALL RUMMAGE SALE

Saturday, Sept. 29, at First Presbyterian church. Doors open 9 a.m. 5-9-13-3

The county ordinance is not in conflict with village ordinances on the subject.

VIOLATIONS

The ordinance spells out five basic violations:

--Animals cannot run at large, with the exception of cats and hunting dogs. That doesn't necessarily mean animals must be penned or on a leash, only that they are under "reasonable control of the owner."

--It is unlawful to have dogs or other animals bite persons.

--It is unlawful for animals to molest passersby. An example is dogs chasing bicyclists and joggers.

In such instances, if the cyclist or jogger wants to have the pet owner ticketed for violation of the law, he or she must contact an animal control officer or police officer and sign a complaint.

(The animal shelter -- 673-2258 in Caro -- can be called during the daytime; sheriff's department or village police after hours. The latter may turn the complaint over to the animal control officers for investigation.)

Deciding guilt will ultimately be up to a judge or jury.

--Allowing animals to bark, howl or otherwise create a nuisance in a neighborhood.

--Failure to post a sign warning of a guard or attack dog and failure to register them.

Registration must be with the animal shelter west of Caro. No fee is charged. Since the animal control officers want to see the dog, it can be brought to the shelter, or if impractical, call the shelter and the officer will come to inspect it.

The purpose, Noel explained, is so that police agencies can have a list of where such animals are. Then, if they get a call in the middle of the night to investigate a break-in, officers will know beforehand that a guard or attack dog is inside.

An attack dog is defined in the ordinance as one "trained to attack human beings." A guard dog is one left in a place of business after hours regardless of whether it has been trained to attack.

If the ordinance has been violated, it isn't the animal, of course, who gets the ticket. It is the owner of record or the person given control of the animal, for instance, a neighbor taking care of a pet while its owner is on vacation.

In case of a violation, the normal procedure will be for the animal control officer to issue an appearance ticket to the "owner" to appear in district court.

If the person is found guilty of violating the ordinance, the standard misdemeanor penalty applies -- a

Ann Marie and Joseph Vatter

Ann Marie Thane and Joseph Vatter were married July 14 at St. Pancratius Catholic church. Father Joseph Morales performed the full mass wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thane, 2195 Cemetery Road, Deford. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vatter, 4273 Sherman Street, Cass City.

The bride wore a formal bouffant gown of imported chantilly lace, fashioned with a pearl trimmed sabrina neckline and long fitted wristpoint sleeves. Cascades of chantilly lace ruffles fell from the fitted waistline to create the full loop skirt which swept into a cathedral length train.

Her waltz length veil of English illusion was edged in chantilly lace and held by a Juliet cap of matching lace and pearls.

Maid of honor was Cindy Mackowiak of Shabbona Road, Deford, friend of the bride, who sang "If," to complete the ceremony.

Bridesmaids were Gail Laszlo, Deford, Jill Field, Lansing, and Linda Wilmore and Carol Little, Cass City, all friends of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Vicki Thane, Deford, sister of the bride.

Amy Sue Perry of Owosso was miniature bride. Rhonda Wright of Caro was flower girl.

The maid of honor wore a powder blue gown of polyester sheer styled with a wide ruffle collar, fitted bodice and waist and deep hemline flounce.

The bridesmaids' gowns were styled identically to the maid of honor's in a rainbow array of apricot, mint green, yellow and pink with matching picture hats. The junior bridesmaid's identical gown was in aqua. She wore a matching picture hat.

The miniature bride's gown was all chantilly lace, similar to the bride's.

The flower girl's gown was styled identically to those of the bridesmaids in blue.

Best man was Michael Vatter, Cass City, brother of the groom.

Groomsmen were Daryl Thane, Deford, brother of the bride; Bob Vatter, Lansing, brother of the groom; Greg Thane, Deford, brother of the bride, and friend; Scott Mellendorf, Cass City, and Ron Pettinger, Snover.

The bride's mother made a formal length sleeveless gown of Nile green Magle-knit, styled with a V-neckline.

The groom's mother wore a long gown in light apricot Silista knit.

The reception at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Caro, was attended by about 350 persons.

Following a one-week honeymoon in Pennsylvania, the couple is now living two miles north of Gagetown.

The groom is employed by Frank Strausberg and Sons, Saginaw, as a heavy equipment operator.

The bride is a file clerk at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Both are graduates of Cass City High School.

SERVICE HONORED -- State Rep. Loren Armbruster and Esther McCullough hold the framed resolution she was given by the Michigan Legislature honoring her for her more than 40 years of playing piano and organ at Salem United Methodist church.

Legislature honors

Mrs. McCullough

The Michigan House of Representatives and Senate have adopted a resolution honoring Esther McCullough for her more than 40 years of playing piano and organ Sunday mornings at Salem United Methodist church.

The S. Seeger Street resident, in her 70s, retired from the task in December. The resolution was approved this summer.

One of its sponsors was Rep. Loren Armbruster, R-Caro.

Part of the resolution reads, "Whereas, for more than 40 years, the services at Salem United Methodist church have been made complete by the sublime notes of the piano and organ music played by Esther McCullough. It is a great pleasure to pay tribute to Esther McCullough for the many years of making music for the edification of God."

As nations become more civilized, warfare becomes more deadly.

Rabbit Tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Chester Kulinski was the first to report a flock of geese heading south. He spotted about 40 Friday at about 10:30 a.m.

That's a thrill to hunters, I guess, but it doesn't excite me much... I'll take the first Robin in the spring any old time.

Sometime this week the Indiana Pacers will be making first cuts of rookies trying to make the squad. You can bet the farm that Ann Myers, the first gal pro basketball player in the National Professional Basketball League, will not be among them.

A more interesting bet is will she be around for the opener? That's probably about even money.

A sure bet will be that she's long gone by the time the 1979-80 season draws to a close.

She's getting $50,000, I read, with a guaranteed position in the front office if she can't cut it with the men.

That's cheap advertising. It's also a cheap trick.

Schools rank right up there with the government when it comes to talking gobbledygook. Monday at the regular meeting of the board the discussion centered around pay for paraprofessionals.

Paraprofessional? I didn't even know what they were talking about until I read the fine print in parentheses that said "teacher aide."

I ask you, what's wrong with calling a teacher aide a teacher aide?

After all, the purpose of language is to communicate so everyone can understand.

In early July, we ran a story about Jim Hosner, 34, of Deford, who left June 21 for what he figured would be possibly five years of living and working in Europe, Australia and South America.

Last week, editor Mike Eliashon got a postcard from him, from the exotic city of... Deford.

Once in Europe, he discovered, a foreigner needs a permit to work and in order to get a work permit, one must either have lived there three years or be married to a European. After five weeks he was home.

He hasn't given up his plans to travel, however. He is now thinking of going to Africa.

NOT SO BRIGHT - It might have been 8 a.m. when this photo was taken last Thursday, but the sun was still trying to break through the thick fog, thus making it necessary for (most) drivers to have their headlights on.

Up on the roof leads to 2 arrests

The second of two men wanted in connection with a Sept. 4 break-in of the Wickes Agriculture silo office on Main Street, Cass City, was arrested Monday night in Caro.

The other man was arrested the night of the break-in.

The latter was Richard L. Woodruff, 21, of Brown City, who was arraigned Sept. 5 before District Judge Richard F. Kern on a charge of breaking and entering. Bond was set at $3,000 cash or surety, which has since been posted. Pre-preliminary examination was scheduled Sept. 17 and preliminary examination, Sept. 28.

Arrested Monday night by Caro police at the Hotel Montague bar was Roger W. Bearinger, 22, of 2325 Elmwood Road, Caro. Also charged with breaking and entering, he was arraigned Tuesday before Magistrate Joan Maki. She scheduled arraignment before Judge Kern Sept. 17 and set bond at $3,000 personal recognition.

The incident was uncovered shortly after 11 p.m., Sept. 4, when Charles Woodruff Jr. -- no relation of Richard Woodruff -- was working in his auto body repair shop at the end of Pine Street.

He heard voices and other noises on the roof of his building so called police and then went outside. He discovered two men on the roof. He told them to get down. They did but started running across the field behind the building.

Officer Phil Klaus arrived at that time so he and Woodruff gave chase on foot. One of the two men being pursued was caught in the southwest corner of the General Cable parking lot but the other got away.

The one captured later told police of the break-in at the Wickes office. (Not its new office.) Entry was gained by breaking a window with a rock. Taken were some tools from a desk drawer. Found in his possession were a screwdriver, combination wrench, side cutters and a set of hex key wrenches.

After that break-in, he said, he and the other man climbed onto the roof of the body shop. He also gave them the name of the other person involved.

"If It Fitz..." It's the dippy people

By Jim Fitzgerald

There are a couple of things you should know about TV sportscasters and Grosse Pointe shoppers...

Last Wednesday I wrote about an unnamed TV sportscaster who is so conceited he "doesn't think it's stupid that he makes seven times more money than the best school teacher in the world." Al Ackerman phoned to say everyone he saw that day thought I was referring to him. He said he'd appreciate it if I told you it was some other sports caster.

"I don't think that way," Ackerman said. "I used to be a school teacher."

By coincidence, on Thursday I received this postcard from Art Wohl of Detroit: "Kindly explain why TV announcers are worth $100,000 and up per year. I read 90 percent of what they tell me in the morning Free Press and then hear the same news on TV at noon, 6 p.m. and 11 p.m. the same day. And why the celebrity status? To me they're nice people just doing a job, like most of us. But for $100,000 plus? Back up the dippy wagon."

The answer to Wohl's question is that there are a lot more dippy people than there are dippy wagons to cart them off to funny farms. The dippy people spend more money on products advertised on TV than they spend on education. It's the dippy public that decides a teacher is worth $15,000 and Al Ackerman is worth $1 million, or whatever.

The number of people watching a TV program determines how much money the TV station can charge for advertising. The number of people interested in the quality of a school determines how much financial support the school board can squeeze out of taxpayers. TV stations compete to hire the personalities who attract the most viewers. Did you ever hear of high schools competing to hire the history teachers who attract the most students?

The big money makers are those people selling what most of the public wants the most. So Al Ackerman quit teaching school to become a sportscaster. Who can blame him? Certainly not the dippy people who enable him to make seven times more money than the best school teacher in the world.

End of lecture on the obvious. Last Wednesday's column wasn't about Al Ackerman. Newspapers give too much publicity to TV personalities, thus contributing to the dippyness. If newspapers didn't publish any more about TV than TV broadcasts about newspapers, maybe schoolteachers would make more money.

A week ago I stuck some hyphens into those residents of the Grosse Pointes who say they don't want a Perry Drug Store in their On-the-Hill shopping district for fear it will draw customers from big, bad Detroit. Since then I've heard from several angry Pointers who claim that, to be fair, I should write that the biggest objection to Perry's isn't that it will be too popular, but that it will replace Salem Square Foods store.

Salem Square is currently the Pointes' only alternative to long checkout lines at Kroger's. It has great lettuce and is open Sundays. The prices are higher but the service is worth it. Hundreds of people have signed petitions aimed at keeping Salem Square in Grosse Pointe Farms. That's what I was told.

With all those happy customers, why is Salem Square leaving? Did the landlord give them a chance to meet Perry's offer? The answer depends upon whom you ask.

Mel Ferdinand, co-owner of Salem Square, claims they didn't get a chance to renew their lease at Perry's figure. The landlord, Charles Mannino, denies this. He is more convincing. He has documents proving Salem Square was given two chances to renew, but didn't offer a competitive amount until after Mannino was committed to Perry's.

Mannino resents the bad-guy image given him by the Salem Square petitioners and is not in a conciliatory mood. Besides, he says, the Salem Square financial statement indicates they can't afford to stay in his building anyway. Salem Square is looking for a new location.

In the meantime, my heart goes out to those Pointers condemned to long lines at Kroger's. In my neighborhood (Lafayette Park), there is one A&P where there should be two supermarkets. On a recent Saturday my wife skipped in to buy a few things. I could have charged her with desertion.

Half the checkout counters were closed. The aisles were so clogged with waiting people, it was impossible to maneuver a cart around the displays. This didn't matter because there were no carts available. My wife was gone so long I expected her to send a postcard. She finally returned home as angry as a Grosse Pointe matron with a hyphen stuck up her nose.

Silver bullets

By Mike Eliasohn

"Tonto."
"Yes, kemo sabe."
"I want you to go into town for me."

"Why, kemo sabe?"
"I want you to scout out a gang for me called the Wrather Corp., also known as Lone Ranger Productions."

"What have they done, kemo sabe?"
"They have hired lawyers and gone into court in an effort to unmask me."

"But why would anyone want to do that, kemo sabe, other than the Cavendish Gang, and you were responsible for putting all of them behind bars many years ago."

"The Wrather Corp. claims that I am too old, that the only reason I am still wearing a mask is to hide the bags under my eyes. They think I should have had my silver bullets melted down long ago."

"But you're not too old, kemo sabe. Why only last week..."

"I know it was only last week that I -- with your help -- caught those desperados. They had gone a long time without paying those speeding tickets. But you know how these modern times are. Instead of thanking me, the sheriff asks, 'What have you done for me this week?'"

"When I get into town, kemo sabe, what do you want me to do?"

"I want you to try and find out who is behind this Wrather Corp. Perhaps it is members of the Cavendish gang. Perhaps they have served their terms and are now out of prison and we didn't realize it."

"What if it is?"
"If it is, I will have to get Silver out of pasture and we will go after them."

"Okay, kemo sabe."
Tonto then starts to climb into his Ford Pinto car.

"Oh, one more thing."

"Yes, kemo sabe."
"While you're in town. Buy me some dark sunglasses."

Bruce gets probation, jail term for store break-in Terry E. Bruce, 17, of Seeger Street, was placed on three years' probation Monday for the June 29 break-in at McMahan Auto Supply in Cass City.

Sentence was pronounced by Circuit Judge Martin E. Clements, who also sentenced him to 120 days in the county jail, with credit given for 73 days served.

The defendant was also fined $200, assessed $200 court costs and ordered, once he is out of jail, to enroll in and attend school regularly or maintain regular employment.

Bruce pleaded guilty July 27 to attempted larceny in a building in connection with the break-in.

Taken from the store, located at 6647 Main Street, were two auto mufflers, both later recovered by police.

Gary L. Roberts, 17, of Pontiac, was sentenced to 16 months to 5 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson for attempted larceny from a person and a concurrent 16 months to 2 years for attempted unlawfully driving away an automobile. Educational guidance was recommended.

Roberts pleaded guilty to the charges July 27, in connection with a May 13 incident in Mayville. He was charged with having beaten Darren Hatfield, 13, of Kingston, then taking an article of clothing from him, then driving away in the car of Mike Engle.

Monday, before Circuit Judge Norman A. Baguley: Terry E. Brock, 18, of Sheridan Road, Vassar, pleaded innocent to violation of probation. A plea of innocent was entered and bond continued. A hearing date is to be set.

Brock was placed on three years' probation in June, 1978, for attempted larceny from a motor vehicle. He is charged with having violated probation by his guilty pleas July 23 in Tuscola County District Court of driving under the influence of liquor and possession of marijuana.

Daniel B. Shaver, 19, of Third Street, Mayville, was sentenced to one year in the county jail for attempted uttering and publishing. He was credited with 92 days served.

He pleaded guilty to the charge Aug. 13 in connection with writing three bad checks totaling $80, drawn on the Mayville State Bank last September.

A Circuit Court jury Friday found Michael B. Nelson, 23, of Clarkston, guilty of armed robbery in connection with the March 15 robbery of the Ku Ku Kow Restaurant in Caro.

Judge Clements remanded him to the county jail without bond to await sentencing Oct. 22.

David R. Popp, 25, no available address, pleaded guilty to violation of probation. His plea was accepted and sentencing scheduled Sept. 17. No bond was set.

He was placed on three years' probation Oct. 1, 1977, for possession of phenylcyclidine. He is charged with having violated probation by leaving the state in September, 1978, and not reporting to his probation officer since then.

Sept. 4 before Judge Martin E. Clements, Rodney J. Hatch, 18, of Clio, pleaded innocent to breaking and entering. A pretrial hearing was scheduled Sept. 17.

He is charged with breaking into the evidence room at the sheriff's department while serving a sentence in the county jail for larceny in a building. The incident took place June 19, while Hatch was a trusty.

Burton Roth rites Thursday

Burton Reuben Roth, a lifelong resident of the Sebewaing area, died Tuesday at Bay Medical Center, Bay City, after a long illness.

He was born Dec. 20, 1918, in Brookfield township, Huron county, the son of Sybil Roth and the late Chris Roth.

He married Helen Four-nier Dec. 30, 1939, in Gagetown. Following their marriage, they lived on the homestead farm where he was born.

Roth was a member of the Owendale United Methodist church, past master of Acme Lodge No. 446 F and AM of Gagetown, member of Echo Chapter No. 337 of Cass City, past patron of Gifford Chapter No. 369 Order of the Eastern Star of Gagetown, member of Tyler Lodge No. 317 F and AM of Cass City, past president of the Owendale Lions Club, and a member of the Owendale-Gagetown School Board or a predecessor board from 1949 until 1968, during part of which he was the president.

Roth is survived by his wife, Helen; one son, Richard Roth of Gagetown; one daughter, Mrs. Edwin (Sherrie) Peterson of Flushing; his mother, Mrs. Sybil Roth of Sebewaing; one sister, Mrs. George Stringer of Rochester, and one granddaughter, Mary Marie Roth.

A Masonic memorial service was to have been conducted Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. from Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, under the auspices of Tyler Lodge F and AM No. 317 of Cass City.

The deceased will be taken to the Owendale United Methodist church at 11 a.m. Thursday to lie in state until 1 p.m., time of the funeral service. Rev. William McBride, pastor, will officiate.

Burial will be in Grant cemetery, Gagetown.

Flu shot clinic slated Sept. 21

The Tuscola County Health Department is sponsoring a flu vaccine clinic for senior citizens 65 and over and for high risk persons under age 65.

The clinic will be Friday, Sept. 21, from 10 a.m.-noon and 1-3 p.m. at the health department office on M-81 west of Caro.

In addition to persons 65 years of age and older, the Health Department recommends that persons under 65 who have the following conditions should consider receiving the flu vaccine: heart diseases, lung diseases, chronic kidney disease, diabetes, chronic severe anemia, and anyone with conditions that lower the body's resistance to infection.

Carol Hrycko, department director of nurses explains, "Persons with these conditions have the greatest chance of developing complications such as pneumonia from the flu."

The flu vaccine is also available from private physicians. For further information, call the Health Department at 673-8114, or your private physician.

Kingston board oks school pact

The Kingston Board of Education Monday night unanimously approved a new three-year contract with the Kingston Education Association, which represents the district's teachers.

Members of the association approved the pact Aug. 30 by a vote of 16-3.

The contract provides a 7 percent increase in base pay rates over what was paid in 1978-79, 7 percent the second year, and 7.5 percent the third year.

In addition to that, teachers employed by the district last year will get an added $730 this year, $781 next year and in 1981-82, $835.

Lions Club broom sale next week

The Cass City Lions Club annual broom sale starts Monday.

Club members will be going door-to-door from 6:30-9 p.m. until all homes in Cass City have been con-tacted. That will probably take until at least Wednes-day evening.

They will be selling push brooms, house brooms, light bulbs, wash cloths, dish cloths, dish towels and Hal-loween candy.

They will also be picking up used eyeglasses.

The money raised will be used to aid various Lions club projects, including the Leader Dog, School in Rochester, Eye Bank, Wel-come Home for the Blind in Grand Rapids, and locally, its pledges for the swimming pool and the hospital.

Last year's sale netted more than $1,800 profit, ac-cording to Alger Freiburger.

Moneywise classes in Caro

The class will be on Thurs-days, Sept. 20 and 27 and Oct. 4, 11, 18 and 25, from 1-3 p.m. at the extension service office in the basement of the county jail in Caro.

The classes are limited to 10 persons. Call 673-3161 in Caro to make your reserva-tion.

The classes are free.

Early bean forecast shows drop

The U.S. Department of Agriculture in its August bean crop report indicated the 1979 U.S. bean crop will be down 833,000 bags from 1978, based on yield and acreage conditions as of the end of July when the data was assembled.

Michigan accounted for most of the change, with an indication that 1979 produc-tion would be 1,050,000 bags less than in 1978.

Other states indicating de-clines were Idaho, down 107,000 bags; Kansas down 68,000, and Minnesota, down 200,000.

States showing increases were Colorado, up 133,000 bags; Montana, up 29,000; Nebraska, up 165,000; New York, up 20,000; North Da-kota, up 17,000; Utah, up 4,000; Washington, up 199,000, and Wyoming up 43,000.

Money talks, but the things it says are not always what we want to hear.

HEALTH TIPS
Buckling up does save lives
By Frank Chappell,
American Medical Association

Motor vehicle crashes claim almost 50,000 lives each year, and injuries num-ber in the millions. Most of the deaths and serious in-juries can be prevented by the regular use of seat belts.

Scientific research, in-cluding actual crashes under controlled conditions, proves that safety belts can be extremely effective in protecting you and your family, says a pamphlet from the American Medical Association.

The most effective safety belt is the combination lap-shoulder harness, but even the lap belt alone will help to keep you safe.

Seat belts already are saving more than 3,000 lives each year, and between 7,000 and 8,000 more lives could be saved each year if safety belts were always buckled.

The lap-shoulder belt com-bination protects passengers in crashes above 60 miles per hour. Deaths occur at speeds as low as 12 miles per hour when safety belts are not worn.

A large majority of motor vehicle crashes occur within 25 miles of home, frequently at neighborhood intersec-tions, and at speeds of under 40 miles per hour. Most of the injuries and deaths in these accidents could be avoided if safety belts are used.

The arms of a parent are not strong enough to restrain and protect a small child even in low-speed crashes. If the parent is not wearing a belt, he or she may be thrown forward.

For maximum protection, an infant or young child should ride in a special, designed infant carrier or child restraint that is se-cured by the safety belts already in the motor vehicle.

Less than 20 per cent of motor vehicle occupants bother to buckle up. Ever worse, only about 7 per cent of infants and young chil-dren are properly protected while riding in motor ve-hicles.

dies at age 82

Roy Vader of Cass City died last Thursday at his home on Pine Street after a long illness.

He was born May 30, 1897, in Columbia township, the son of Eugene and Ida (Daines) Vader.

He married Mary Elizabeth Bragg Dec. 11, 1917, in Eaton Rapids. After their marriage, they lived on the homestead farm in Unionville. They came to Cass City 15 years ago.

Vader was a member of the Sutton-Sunshine Methodist church and was a Sunday school teacher for many years. He was also a member of the Gleaners and of the Northern Star Lodge F & AM No. 277 of Unionville.

He is survived by his wife, Mary; one sister, Mrs. Charles Barriger of Tobyhanna, Penn., and a number of nieces and nephews. Two brothers, Herbert and Forrest, and one sister, Vivian, preceded him in death.

A Masonic memorial service was conducted Friday evening from Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, under the auspices of the Northern Star Lodge F & AM.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon from Little's Funeral Home with Rev. Wayne Thomas of The Sutton-Sunshine Methodist church officiating.

Burial was in Indianfields cemetery, Caro.

Meredith
Auten remembers

In 1904, father, mother, Madeline, and I joined Uncle Ted in Europe.

We sailed on the Mesaba, an Atlantic Transport Line steamer, on May 28. It carried cattle which made their presence known when the wind was in the right direction.

The boat was comparatively small -- all one class -- and the passage was pretty rough. I recall one wave coming over the deck. I revelled in the food. In the morning, we were served fruit juice and coffee in bed. At breakfast, I remember having very large grapefruit which was filled with juice but extremely bitter. At noon, a large luncheon; candy in the afternoon, and a bounteous dinner. And at ten at night, all kinds of sandwiches, etc.

Uncle Ted was studying at Mansfield at Oxford. We stayed with him at a boarding house owned by Mrs. Thornton-Leyton Richards roomed with him. Leyton was a Pacifist, and much frowned upon, as he had a church in Australia. Later he became a leading minister at College Lane Church in London. He came to Richmond in the summer and preached there.

In the fall of the year he, Aunt Nanny, and I drove Old Dick up into the White Mountains to see the colors. I stayed in Richmond until the middle of September, missing the first month of school, but Uncle Ted taught me Latin, and I was the head of the class.

In Europe, we travelled all over England, visiting Kenilworth Castle and Stratford, where I wrote my name on the walls of Shakespeare's house, only to find the walls whitewashed when I returned in 1909. I also remembered Warwick Castle, where I saw my first automobile -- an electric one driven by the son of Lady Warwick. There were many beautiful peacocks there.

We visited St. Paul's Cathedral in London where they have a whispering gallery. You stand on one side of the big dome and at a certain point of the dome you can hear a whisper. We visited Paris with its Eiffel Tower and mammoth Ferris wheel.

We went to Venice. The guard asked us if we had anything to declare. Mother said, "Yah," and we sailed in with cigars for father which were taboo and disturbed the owner of the pension where we stayed.

The one thing I remembered in Venice was the "Ascension" by Titian. We went over to the Adriatic where Uncle Ted and I swam out quite a ways. We loved Venice.

We went to Interlochen and Lucerne and went up the Shenega Platta where we saw all the mountains -- the Matterhorn, the Eigerhorn, the Yungfrau.

The first day we walked up in a fog that was so dense that the guard made us hold hands so we wouldn't stray.

The next day we went up by tram. The day was perfect.

Mary Adams, a girl from Richmond, Maine, who travelled with us always wore French high heels, and walked up the eight miles in them.

We went to Lake Geneva and had breakfast at Lake Como in a garden right on the edge of the lake across from Belagio. We went to the Castle of Chillon where Uncle Ted read us the poem, "The Prisoner of Chillon." In Rome, it seems to me we stayed in a palace, on the ceiling of which was the "aurora" (dawn). When we visited Rome in later years, no one seemed to know where it was.

In 1904, we stayed at a pension in Florence which was at the first bridge beyond the Ponte de Vecchio. Lucy and I identified it when on our trip to Europe in 1969.

When we were in Rome, mother insisted that we visit all the churches, of which there were many. Finally, she heard of one out the Appian Way, which was called St. Peter's, outside the wall. Mother wanted to see that since it had a mosaic work on the back side. So we hid out the Appian Way. I can see father sitting up in front facing all the dust.

We arrived at St. Peter's and mother rushed to see the mosaic work. She said, "Bodine, come and see the beautiful mosaic." Father refused to get out of the carriage, and exclaimed, "I can see three sides and that's enough. I wouldn't turn my head if that building would go straight up to heaven."

Father had seen enough and he and I started home the next day, on the Saxonia, a larger Cunard steamer which returned to New York without anything exciting happening -- except most people outside of ourselves were seasick. I was indeed glad when we got back to America. I had a pony named Jumbo which I worshipped.

Church
women
have picnic

For their August meeting, the Owendale Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints Women's Department had a picnic supper at Justins', to which they invited their husbands and other men from the branch.

Twenty-five of them enjoyed grilling hamburgers for their supper. Potluck dishes were also brought by the women to complete the meal.

After eating, many of the younger ones went canoeing on the pond where they had races and sang as they paddled along. They also went swimming in the pool, while others spent their time playing pool, table tennis, air hockey, and uno.

The next monthly meeting will be Sept. 20 at the home of Ila McCallum with Emma Morley as co-hostess. The women will continue studying the book "Women As Winners" by Dorothy Jongeward and Dru Scott. It is a book on the transactional analysis for personal growth. Visitors are welcome to attend the meetings.

Sunday, at the 11 a.m. service at the church, Davon Lee DeLong of Cass City was blessed by Elders Ellis Gardner and Olson McCallum by the laying on of hands and prayer.

Organic farm
group to meet

The Thumb Area Chapter, Organic Growers of Michigan, will meet Thursday, Sept. 20, at 7 p.m. at the home of Larry and Dawn Wallace, 1515 W. Snover Road, Mayville.

A demonstration of religion is better than any definition.

New books at the library

RAJAN, by Tim Lukeman (science fiction). Rajan, a brash but simple young farmer, kills an arrogant nobleman in self-defense. Pursued by the dreaded Lhas'Kar, almost supernatural assassins, he must flee to unknown and dangerous lands. In his wanderings, he meets and joins the mysterious sorcerer, Duhaur, who promises to protect him from the Lhas'Kar if Rajan will challenge the sorcerer's disobedient son.

KINDRED, by Octavia E. Butler (fiction). When a young black woman is drawn 150 years into the past, she doesn't realize that it is only the first of many times she will be called upon to save the life of a Maryland plantation owner who turns out to be her ancestor nor how involved she will become in the lives of the slaves on his plantation.

THE WAVE, by Christopher Hyde (fiction). When a major dam in the Pacific Northwest is sabotaged, dam after dam in the river basin gives way, causing a flood which threatens to destroy a nuclear plant and contaminate the Pacific Ocean. Geologist Jonathan Kane and his reporter girlfriend try to avert the catastrophe and find out who is to blame.

Teen Ranch open house Sept. 22

Teen Ranch will hold its annual open house Saturday, Sept. 22, from noon - 4 p.m. It was 12 years ago that Teen Ranch received the first boy in residential care and since then has assisted over 1,000 boys.

Teen Ranch, for boys 11-17 and fully licensed by the Michigan Department of Social Services, is designed to give them a second chance for a fresh start in life.

Through their participation in the educational, social, and sports program of local schools, churches and other community facilities, Teen Ranch seeks to provide the "normality" of community living which their early life has lacked while at the same time providing them special guidance through the unique problems which have deterred them.

Special guests at the open house will be the Marlette High School band at noon, plus Danny Gaither and his group, will present a special concert at 2 p.m. A complimentary chicken barbecue will be at 12 noon.

The festivities will be held 4 miles south of Kingston at the Kingston Ranch. There is no admission charge.

NPK and wheat. The profit program.

Wheat yields depend on nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium. An imbalance or shortage of one or more of these elements will limit yields and reduce profits.

We recommend a soil test to determine your soil's NPK needs. Then we'll develop a fertilizer program that will help you produce optimum-profit wheat yields.

Before you make any fertilizer decision, visit us where you see this sign. Helping you produce more is what we're here for.

Motion by Royce Russell, seconded by Robert Russell, we go on record in opposition to SB428 and copies be sent to Mecosta Co.; Senator DeGrow, Representative Armbruster; Michigan Insurance Commission; Governor Milliken; Michigan Association of Counties; M.A.C. Insurance Committee. Motion carried.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, The Michigan Senate has recently passed SB428 which proposes drastic changes in the essential insurances for the citizens of Tuscola County, and

WHEREAS, These changes in the essential insurance required of the Citizens of Tuscola County will raise the cost of insurance to a majority of our Citizens, and

WHEREAS, These changes take away the historical concept of allowing prices to respond to actual costs, and

WHEREAS, These changes would make it harder for the Citizens of Tuscola County to secure insurance at a reasonable cost,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners in regular session this 14th day of August, 1979 that the above legislation be vetoed by Governor Milliken, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that all related legislation being considered by the House of Representatives be defeated and that all Representatives be put on notice that Tuscola County opposes paying for the insurance risks of Southeast Michigan, and

ALSO, BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the above Resolution be sent to Mecosta County, Senator Alvin DeGrow, Representative Loren Armbruster, Michigan Insurance Commission, Governor William Milliken, Michigan Association of Counties and M.A.C. Insurance Committee.

WILL

A will is frequently the most IMPORTANT DOCUMENT a person signs during his or her lifetime. In many cases, it disposes of a lifelong accumulation of property, and it is often the key document in an individual's financial plans. The advantages of having a will are many and varied, and the costs and penalties of not having a will are usually horrifying. Yet, each year a surprising number of people die without wills.

Our Trust Department would be happy to discuss with you and your attorney the financial features of your will and to explain the advantages of our serving as the executor and trustee under your will.

RULES: FOR TOUCHDOWN DOLLARS™

1. Get one free ticket from a participating store. NO PURCHASE REQUIRED. Only adults (18 years and older) eligible to play.

2. You can win the dollar prize printed on your ticket. On Tuesday morning, participating stores will post the score of the professional football game played the evening before on network T.V. The last number of the score of each team determines the winning tickets, as in conventional football pools, so that by way of example: if the score number on your ticket is 5 for Pittsburgh and 8 for Dallas, any number ending in a 5 for Pittsburgh and any number ending in 8 for Dallas would make that ticket a winner.

3. Submit any winning ticket at a participating store for verification. Verified winners of $1, $5, $10 will be paid immediately. $100 and $1,000 winning tickets must be verified by the sponsor and verified winners will be paid by check. Winning tickets must be submitted by Saturday following the Monday night game, or they are forfeited and cannot be paid. Tax liability is the responsibility of the prize winner.

4. Game tickets must be verified. If not obtained from and verified by authorized personnel or if any part is illegible or is otherwise irregular in any way, the ticket will be void. Game void where taxed or prohibited.

5. Employees (and their IRS listed dependents) of the sponsor, participating stores and companies which have had any connection with the game are not eligible for prizes.

Neither this game, its producer, copyright owner, sponsor nor participating stores has any affiliation with, or relationship to, any team, conference, league or association of which the teams are members.

Inspection made in Gagetown

The Gagetown Village maintenance man John Tenczer Monday would be Thursday night that village inspecting for compliance with its cross connection ordinance.

Owners of the four places affected, all large buildings, were previously notified that the connections had to be eliminated after an inspection was made.

If that still hasn't been done, they will be given 30 days and if no action is taken by then, their water will be shut off.

The ordinance was approved last December, in compliance with state law requiring all cross connections to be eliminated. The connections allow contaminated water to be sucked back into a water line when low pressure exists in the line.

Your Neighbor says

M.S.U. football can be

'kind of exciting'

Mark Stoeckle describes himself as a "not dyed in the wool" football fan.

But when it comes to Michigan State University football, he isn't so complacent.

The spring graduate of MSU, with a degree in dairy science, had season tickets on the 50-yard line at Spartan Stadium last season.

The team won most of its home games last season, which made it "kind of exciting" especially compared to Stoeckle's freshman year, when the Spartans lost all their home games.

This year, the young farmer is making an effort to get tickets to the Michigan-Michigan State game. "It should be a real grudge match."

Stoeckle played high school football for Unionville-Sebewaing.

He occasionally watches football on television and follows the Detroit Lions

"when there's something to follow." He predicted the team should have a pretty good year "if they can find a quarterback. (Coach Monte) Clark seems to know what he's doing, more than some of the people they have had in the past."

Stoeckle and his wife Carol live on a farm on Schwegler Road, Cass City, presently in cash crops, with the intention of it some day being a dairy farm.

Krapf Road work gets go-ahead

The Elkland Township board Monday night gave the official go-ahead for reconstruction of Krapf Road between M-81 and Elmwood Road.

The first part of the project is to be grading, ditching, culvert installation and any needed tree removal. Bids for that portion of the work were opened by the Tuscola County Road Commission in August with the low bidder being Chuck Vaughan of Caro at $9,860.

The work may be done this fall or could wait until spring as Vaughan has until July 1 to complete it.

Total estimated cost is $42,400, with most of the remainder being for gravel (material and labor). The township pays almost the entire cost, with the Road Commission paying a small portion.

The board gave its approval to granting of state Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act agreements with the following:

Gerald and Catherine Kappen, section 7, 80 acres; section 8, 35 acres (both south of Bay City-Forestville Road).

James A. Milligan, section 20, 158 acres (west of Koepfgen Road).

Pauline Milligan, section 4, 120 acres (north of Bay City-Forestville).

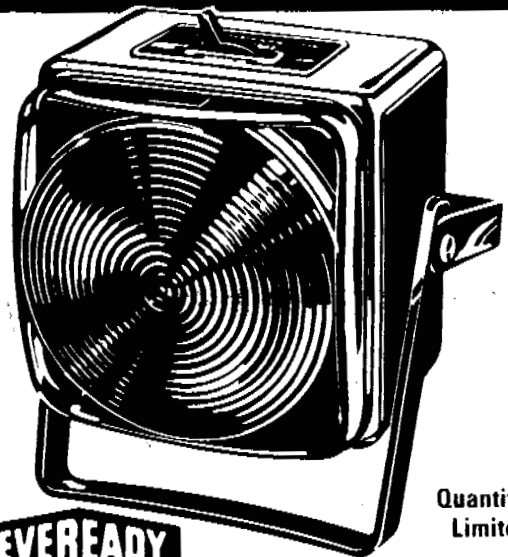

David J. Milligan, section 10, 70 acres; section 9, 120 acres; section 4, 80 acres (off Bay City-Forestville). Transfer of $28,000 from the general fund to the fire fund was approved for the second payment on the fire truck purchased last year.

Bid taking scheduled

The Michigan Department of Transportation was to have taken bids in Lansing this Wednesday on 33 projects, including one in Cass City and one in Ellington township.

The Cass City project involves reconstruction of Doerr Road between Garfield and Main Streets and Garfield between Doerr and the railroad tracks, a total of 6 mile.

Estimated cost is $250,000, of which federal funds are to pay 77 percent, with the village to pay the remainder. Completion date is July, 2 1980.

The other project is construction of a three-span prestressed twin-T bridge and approaches to carry Murray Road over White Creek, six miles west of Deford.

Estimated cost is approximately $300,000, with the bridge to be completed by September, 1980.

Cass City High School graduate on state Board of Education

STATE BOARD of education member and secretary Dr. Gumecindo Salas in his office at Michigan State University, where he is director of the division of minority affairs.

Member of the state Board of Education. Ph.D. Director of the Division of Minority Affairs at Michigan State University.

Not bad for the son of migrant farm worker parents.

Gumecindo Salas is all those.

He was born Nov. 11, 1941 near Argyle. His father, also named Gumecindo, and mother Cruz, came to this country as migrant workers from Mexico.

Though they remained farm workers, they settled in the area. When the junior Gumecindo was about age two, the family moved to the Deford area.

He was one of nine children (six sisters and two brothers) and all labored on farms as youngsters.

"Everybody worked." Doing farm labor, Salas admits, may have been an incentive to do well in school.

That he did, and after graduating from Cass City High School in 1959, he went to Wayne State University in Detroit.

After graduating, he got a job teaching history and Spanish at a Detroit high school, which he did for five years.

At night, he took classes at Wayne to earn his master's degree. That led to an opportunity to teach sociology there, for three years.

Teaching in college meant "you better get a Ph.D. otherwise you may not remain there." He started working on his doctoral degree (in higher education and sociology) at the University of Michigan, which he received in 1976.

Before then, while still an assistant professor at Wayne State, he applied for a newly created position at Michigan State University, as head of the Division of Minority Affairs.

He was hired and is now in his sixth year. The job entails being responsible for issues that have an effect on minority students, faculty and administration at MSU, including working to increase the percentage of minority students and employees.

About 7 percent of the 43,000 students at MSU are members of minorities (Hispanic, black, native American and Asiatic), not including foreign students.

SALAS DESCRIBES POLITICS as his hobby. He first got involved while a student at Wayne State when he ran for Democratic precinct delegate.

His first attempt at a public office came in 1970, when he unsuccessfully ran for the state House of Representatives from a Detroit district.

He lost in the Democratic primary to the incumbent, so the same year tried unsuccessfully to get the nomination at the Democratic state convention to run for the Wayne State University Board of Governors.

He got the nomination at the 1972 state convention to run for the state Board of Education, but lost in the November election to the Republicans.

He tried again two years later and was elected. His term on the state board runs until the end of 1984.

THE STATE BOARD, which meets twice monthly, with each session spread over two days, sets education policy for the state and oversees how state money for education is being spent.

One of its duties is of special interest in this area, deciding property transfer appeals, because of the numerous attempts to transfer property from the Owendale-Gagetown district.

Although the state board has received position papers suggesting that perhaps 2,000 students is the minimum needed to provide a good education, he said, that is not the policy of the state board.

The board must look at individual rights - will the children in the "transfer parcel" benefit from a change in school districts - but must also look at the impact on the receiving and losing districts if the transfer is approved, he explained. "Each one has to be looked at as an individual case."

Salas couldn't predict how the board might vote on future requests to transfer property from Owen-Gage.

He hasn't even made up his mind on how he would vote.

In his more than 2½ years on the board, he pointed out, the only time he has voted on the issue was Aug. 8, when the board denied three appeals, which had already been withdrawn, but for technical reasons remained on its docket.

The board hasn't acted on an Owen-Gage request "for real" for the past few years because it has been waiting for a final court decision in the precedent-setting Goslin transfer case.

Only one board member remains from the state board of a few years ago, which approved several transfer requests from Owen-Gage, according to Salas. Thus, how today's board might vote might be different.

THE EX-DEFORDITE and his wife Letecia were married in 1971. They have one son, Carlos, and live in East Lansing.

His father is deceased; his mother now lives in Detroit. Only one of his brothers and sisters still lives in this area, Louis, who lives on West Street, Cass City.

As for his own future, Salas said he may do something else in higher education some day, but really hasn't thought about it. "I'm pleased with what I'm doing (now)."

He also hasn't given any consideration to whether he might run for another term on the state board of education or try something else.

His term has more than five years remaining, he pointed out, so he has lots of time to make up his mind.

County rejects drain backing

By a 4-2 vote Tuesday, the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners rejected a request from Drain Commissioner Ed Goodchild for the county to provide limited faith and credit backing for bonds to finance the Moore Drain project.

The board's action means higher interest rates will have to be paid to finance the Vassar area project.

Reasons cited by the board in voting against the measure included the still controversial nature of the project, lack of directions from the Army Corps of Engineers and that if the county ever had to pay off the bonds, the money would have to come from the general fund.

The Moore Drain Coalition, which opposes the project, is planning an appeal to the state Court of Appeals in an effort to stop it.

Those voting for the faith and credit were Commissioners Robert Russell, Vassar, and Ben Collon, Caro.

Opposed were Donna Rayl, Akron; Paul Nagy, Vassar; Margaret Wenta, Fostoria, and Ken Kennedy, Millington. Royce Russell of Elmwood township was absent as he is recuperating from a farm accident injury.

The secondary road patrol budget for 1979-80 presented by Sheriff Hugh Marr was approved. It now must be submitted to Lansing for approval, as the state provides the funds.

The amount to be received, $84,091, is about the same as was received for the current fiscal year, but due to an increase in costs, there will only be enough money to pay three deputies instead of the present four. Overtime in the budget was upped from $6,500 to $8,500 to partially compensate for the loss of one man.

Edmonds Engineering representative Pete Cupla explained the proposed public transit transportation program for senior citizens and the handicapped in the upper Thumb.

No action will be taken by the board until after a meeting with it and the boards of Huron and Sanilac counties, tentatively scheduled Oct. 11 or 25.

Grifka guilty in car chase

Lee M. Grifka, 22, of Snover, pleaded guilty in Huron County District Court last Wednesday to fleeing and eluding a police officer and driving with a suspended license as the aftermath of a 14-mile chase Sept. 3.

Judge John T. Schubel sentenced him to 45 days in the county jail in Bad Axe, plus fines and costs totaling $500 on the fleeing and eluding charge. He was sentenced to a concurrent 30 days on the suspended license charge.

The incident started on Pinnebrog Road east of Elkton when Sgt. Ronald Davis of the Huron County Sheriff's Department clocked a car going 72 miles per hour.

Davis started in pursuit but the speeding auto made a quick turn and started driving toward the patrol car.

The chase continued on Burn, Moore, Richmond and Elkton Roads. On Sebevaing Road, a state police patrol car was parked across the road. The speeding auto got by but Sgt. Davis, still in pursuit, didn't and collided with the parked car. He wasn't injured.

Both patrol cars were still driveable so the chase continued but less than a mile later, the pursued driver stopped his car and gave himself up.

During the chase, a passenger in the speeding car jumped out. He was unhurt. The sheriff's department helicopter, plus officers from various village departments, also took part in the effort to catch the speeding motorist.

2 developers indicate keen interest in 'subdivisions' adjacent to village of Cass City

Developers of two -- for lack of a better term -- subdivisions on the outskirts of Cass City aren't depending on a big influx of people moving there to sell their lots.

One, Dr. Paul Chappel, DDS, hasn't even set a date when he will sell any of his lots. He owns 172 acres between the Elkland cemetery in Elkland township and the Cass River.

The other project, that of a firm called Chippewa Trails, consists of 285 acres east of Cemetery Road, south of the Cass River in Novesta township. Lots there should go on sale in late October.

Officers of the firm are Kim Anthony, president and treasurer; Jim Lenhard, vice-president and secretary, and Glenn Bechler, second vice-president. The first two are from Cass City. Bechler is from Elkton.

In number of lots, neither development is going to be that large.

Chippewa Trails will consist of 28 lots from 5-10.75 acres each. Anthony refers to them as "estate type."

Separate from that, the firm sold six lots along Cemetery Road, five to Freedom Development Corp. of Caseville, which will build houses on them for sale, and the sixth to a private individual.

The developers have already built 1 1/2 miles of private road. Some work remains to be done before the lots are ready for sale late next month, Anthony said.

A building already on the property will be converted into a clubhouse sitting on 11 1/2 acres. There will also be a pond there.

Cass Land Co. owned the property for 10 years, Anthony said, before selling it to Chippewa Trails in April.

Work started shortly thereafter.

According to Anthony, 12 of the 28 lots to be sold have already been "spoken for," leaving only 16 lots "and that's not many."

Chippewa Trails is a limited partnership. In addition to Anthony, Lenhard and Bechler, there are 12 other limited partners.

Anthony and Lenhard are both associated with Bill Zemke Real Estate. Bechler is a part-owner of Thumb Excavating, Kinde, which did the road building in the project.

The firm will be selling lots only, Anthony said, with buyers having a choice of building. Some buyers, he indicated, won't build immediately.

He feels the lots will be sold basically to Thumb area people, not to new residents moving here.

STARTING WITH 60 acres immediately behind the Elkland cemetery purchased in 1976, Dr. Paul Chappel now owns a total of 172 acres, which he said he originally bought for recreational purposes.

Since then he has been slowly making improvements, which he has financed himself. Roads and ditches went in last year. One, which could be considered an extension of Schwegler Road (except that it is private) stretches .7 mile south to the river. A spur off that to the west is built on top of the old Grand Trunk railroad bed.

This year he has been cleaning up the woods, leaving the bigger trees. He wants to have electricity installed next.

Chappel hasn't set a date when he plans to sell any lots, "but I've had a few people interested."

He would like to some day build a house for him and his family along the river, "then I wouldn't mind having a couple neighbors, but not too close by."

The land immediately behind the cemetery is somewhat swampy and its owner doubts it is suitable for building on. Instead, he may put a pond there some day. Farther back, the land is suitable for building homes, he said.

Once Chappel finally does start selling lots, it is likely to be a go-slow approach, because he doesn't plan to subdivide it.

Under state law, that means he can sell only four lots of less than 10 acres every 10 years or, with no time restriction, lots of more than 10 acres.

The dentist said he doesn't want to overdevelop the area. He still likes to go there to view the wildlife, such as deer, plus, "I'd wonder where all the people would come from (to buy lots).

Firemen called to three fires

Elkland township firemen were called to three fires during the past week.

The first was shortly after 3 p.m. last Thursday at the mobile home of Sandra Hawley on Hurds Corner Road in Elmwood township.

A trash fire spread to the grass surrounding it, which burned almost up to the home before firemen got it out.

The high wood fence behind Geiger-Hunt Ford in Cass City caught fire about 11 a.m. Tuesday, the cause again being a spreading trash fire.

Damage was estimated at about $50. Owner of the fence is Charles Auten.

At 3 p.m. Sunday, Elkland firemen were called to the Earl Schembers home on Huron Line Road, about two miles east of M-53.

Cause of the fire was attributed to a faulty electrical box outlet, but it was out by the time firemen arrived.

Angela Herron was treated and released from Hills and Dales General Hospital Tuesday after she fell from the monkey bars during recess at Campbell Elementary School.

The 9-year-old fourth grader is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Herron of Spruce Drive.

The mishap took place about 10 a.m.

Legislation is in the works to give public employees the right to strike, but a special House subcommittee is approaching it slowly to be sure essential services would never be cut off in the event of an allowed public employee strike.

A proposed bill attempts to stipulate the conditions under which public workers could go on strike.

According to Subcommittee Chairman Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor), if a right to strike bill cannot be adopted, then work would go forward on a bill requiring binding arbitration to resolve public employee-employer contract negotiations.

Binding arbitration -- a continuation of negotiations while contract terms go on -- is now used to settle disputes involving police and firefighters.

Both labor and employer groups, however, have opposed binding arbitration.

Bullard said the committee's main concern is how to resolve disputes within a reasonable period of time rather than allowing them to continue over months, and in some cases, years.

One suggestion brought forth provides the possibility of allowing elections in local areas so the voters can decide if local employees should be allowed to strike or go through binding arbitration.

"If we can't get a state-wide policy, what we're saying is maybe we should decide locally," Bullard said.

A proposed bill would allow public employees to strike and public employers to engage in lockouts if the two sides are unable to reach agreement.

Notice of strike or lockout must be issued at least 15 days before the action. The measure would also prohibit unlawful strikes, such as "sickouts" when employees call in sick instead of coming to work. Those employees on strike also would waive job protection rights and employers may discontinue active operations.

The bill also is tied to several other bills defining exemptions to legal requirements such as 180-days of instruction in schools.

The measure, however, has been criticized by both labor and employer groups.

Employer representatives such as the Michigan Municipal League said they did not want the power to declare lockouts and labor groups, such as the Michigan Education Association, said the strike provisions were unclear.

FISHING RIGHTS

The age-old battle among Indian, commercial and sports fishermen continues over rights to fish in the Great Lakes.

The state's Indians believe they have the right to fish the waters without regulation while commercial fishermen feel they are over-regulated. Sports fishermen, meanwhile, want fishing by the others limited so there will continue to be game fish for them to pursue.

Gov. William G. Milliken has directed his staff to coordinate the development of a resource management plan for Great Lakes fishing in an effort to ease tensions among the groups.

Additionally, Attorney General Frank J. Kelley said he will continue to press the state's appeal that it has a right to regulate fishing in the Michigan waters of the Great Lakes.

Earlier this year, federal district Judge Noel Fox ruled state restrictions on fishing methods and catch limits did not apply to Indians, whose hunting and fishing rights are protected by federal treaty.

Milliken said he is concerned about maintaining Michigan's fisheries resource and about the tensions among various fishing interests.

His legal aide, Kenneth Frankland, has been directed to coordinate the development of a fisheries management plan and confer with tribal, commercial and sport fishing interests.

See glasses as aid in sports play

In sports, keeping your eye on the ball -- which could be traveling at speeds of over 100 mph -- should include keeping the ball off your eye. Eye injuries among tennis, squash and paddle ball players are increasing, but most of the 36,000 sports-related injuries last year could have been prevented.

Ducking faster isn't the answer. Special protective eyewear could be. Eyeguards or safety 'specs' are inexpensive and available at many sporting goods or hardware stores.

They may not only save your sight, but can also improve your game, since properly protected players may overcome the subconscious fear of catching a ball or racket in the eye.

New Mizpah pastor knows about missionary work

Rev. David Burrows spent part of the summer with a paint brush in his hand.

The new minister at Mizpah Missionary Church on M-53 in Evergreen township and his wife Sharon headed a mission encounter trip with 20 young people to the Dominican Republic in the Caribbean.

Rev. Burrows, 31, is chairman of the Missionary Church Michigan District Youth Board and was asked by the district to be in charge of the group, composed of persons ages 15-24 from Michigan, Indiana and Ohio.

Those who went first had to apply and then were screened. They also had to pay their own way, $600.

Purpose of the trip was to give those who went an acquaintanceship with missionary work and with a different culture.

The trip lasted from Aug. 1-15 and started with four days in the capital city of Santo Domingo visiting churches, shopping, sight-seeing and trips to the beach.

Then the work began at the Missionary church camp outside the city of Dajabon. The group spent the 10 days there painting.

In 100 degree temperatures, they painted the interior of six dormitories, one kitchen and the tabernacle and the exterior of the mission house.

The buildings were all cement block and all had to receive a coat of lime before they could be painted.

There was time spent each day for religious study and for devotionals. The group also learned a couple of songs in Spanish which they sang at churches.

There was one youngster from this area who went on the trip, Tammy McKee, who attends the Deford Community church.

Rev. Burrows had high praise for those who went. "I never imagined 20 people working together like this. There was never an attitude of, 'Why do I have to do this?'"

He described the venture as an interesting experience and would like some day to lead such a work trip to some other country.

He was only home a day from this one before he left with youngsters from his own church for the annual 10-day stay at the church camp near Brown City.

REV. BURROWS CAME to Mizpah Missionary church at the end of June after two years at the Utica Redeemer Missionary church.

He replaces Rev. Charles

Thompson who went to a church in Flint.

Utica is part of the Detroit metropolitan area and Rev. Burrows left the church there partly because, "I don't care for the city. I like the country," and also because, "I sensed God's call to this church."

Prior to being in Utica, he was Christian education director at the Emmett Street Missionary church in Battle Creek for three years and before that, at the Bentley Wesleyan church in Flint for little over a year as youth and music director.

A native of Port Huron, he was in the Air Force for four years, as a photographer. Photography is still his hobby.

Providing the slides he took on the trip to the Dominican Republic.

come back from the developer in time, he will be showing them to the church congregation and anyone else who would like to see them at 6 p.m. Sunday.

AFTER LEAVING THE service, he sold insurance for a couple of years before deciding to enter the ministry.

He has attended Detroit Bible College, United Wesleyan College in Allentown, Penn., and John Wesley College in Owosso.

He and his wife, Sharon, married 11 years, have four children, Tricia, 5, and Christopher, 8 months.

The church he now heads has 36 members and average Sunday attendance of more than 70.

Membership in the Missionary church requires 4: person to be born again, thus to make a commitment to Christ, and then to take a course of instruction in the church.

The new pastor at Mizpah sees part of his task "to build the family," that is, to work with those who presently attend there, but also to attract new members. "We're always after new people. Our desire is to grow."

Aiding him will be a newly organized growth committee. "I'm looking forward to exciting days."

A self-made man is better than a machine-made politician.

Gene Wilson reported the truck was not damaged. It was taken to the sheriff's department in Caro for fingerprinting.

Ewald, a Caro resident, reported it missing in the early hours of Sunday, Sept. 2, from the General Cable parking lot in Cass City, where he is employed as a security guard.

The keys had been left inside, hanging from a heater knob.

George Ellesin of Murray Road, Cass City, reported to Caro state police Sunday that his Yamaha 125 motorcycle was stolen from the yard of his father next door some time since Sept. 3. It was valued at $200.

Paul Megge of Riley Road, Deford, reported to the sheriff's department Saturday that a shotgun, his son's guitar and three pairs of waders were missing from his house. The shotgun was valued at $50; guitar, $5, and waders, a total of $90.

Harry Walters of 3437 Dodge Road, Cass City, told deputies Sept. 3 that several items were taken from his garage, possibly the night of Sept. 1.

Stolen were one pair of car ramps, $20; four-wheel jack, $30; snow tire and wheel, $30; two 5-gallon gas cans, $15, and a tire gauge, $4.

Lora Gutierrez of 4391 S. Seeger Street reported to Cass City police last Wednesday that a 10-speed Western Flyer boy's bicycle had been stolen. It was valued at $70.

Yvonne Burleson of 6662 Seed Street told village police Monday morning that her school crossing guard sign had been taken from her garage. She had last used it Friday. The red sign with the word "stop" on it had a handle and was valued at $10.

maximum of 90 days in the county jail and/or $100 fine plus court costs.

SEIZURE

If an animal control officer picks up a dog running at large and takes it to the animal shelter, he must keep it 4-7 days if the owner cannot be identified. If not claimed by then, the dog can be disposed of or adopted out.

If the owner is known, he or she must be notified in writing that the animal is at the shelter. The owner must then claim their pet within seven days or the shelter can dispose of it or adopt it out.

The method of disposal is up to the county Board of Commissioners to decide.

(In 1978, of 5,189 animals brought to the shelter, 350 were sold, 140 were claimed by their owners and the rest "put to sleep" or eventually sold for medical research.)

If an animal bites someone, the owner or the animal shelter must keep it confined for 10 days to see if it develops rabies.

Animal control officers have a great deal of discretion under the new ordinance, according to the prosecutor.

If a dog owner gets a letter telling him or her to pick up their animal at the shelter because it was picked up while running loose, that doesn't mean the owner will get a ticket when they show up at the shelter, even though they were violating the law.

If, however, the animal has been picked up several times, Noel said, "he (the owner) might get a ticket."

Even minus a ticket, getting the dog back will cost a $10 redemption fee plus $1 per day for every day it was in the pound.

Deford Community Church Youth Are Going To Do It Again!

5TH ANNUAL

"WHEELATHON"

Sat.

DAY

Oct. 6, 1979

DATE

At 10:00 AM Saturday morning, October 6, about 60 teenagers and 20 adults will be ready to take their turn pushing a tire around a one-eighth-mile track in the parking lot of the church. They will keep going for 24 hours, finishing 10:00 AM the following Sunday morning.

People have said, "It must be a lot of fun if this is your 5th consecutive WHEEL-A-THON." Our answer is, "It is, but it is also exhausting." Our purpose is not just for fun, but to raise money for transportation for missionaries on the Mission Field. Our goal this year is to go 350 miles and raise $5,350. Of this amount, $5,000 will be for a Land Rover for the Education Secretary in Sierra Leone, with $200 for cycle repairs in Haiti, and $150 for travel costs in India.

The Pledge Cards will be handed out to our Youth on September 12th and they will spend the next three weeks canvassing the area collecting pledges. All money collected goes directly to the Mission Field. Any expenses are taken out of our own Youth treasury.

We are praying for this event and ask for your prayers too.

Report minor injuries in local area accidents

Randy Thompson, 19, of Hobart Road, Gagetown, was treated and released Sunday from Hills and Dales General Hospital after a motorcycle mishap.

Sheriff's deputies reported he was westbound on private property off Hobart Road when the throttle stuck, then started operating properly again.

Thompson lost control of his machine and it made a complete roll, throwing him off.

The rider, who was wearing a helmet, told officers the throttle stuck because there was sand in the controls. The mishap took place at 11:30 a.m.

Barbara A. Rauch, 16, of 5625 Center Line Road, Kingston, was treated and released from Caro Community Hospital after an accident at 9 p.m. Friday.

According to deputies, she was a passenger in a car driven by Vickie Kay Caverly, 17, of 5766 Bond Road, Deford, which struck a parked car while westbound on Bevens Road, west of Hurds Corner Road.

The parked car protruded about 1 foot onto the roadway and its owner, Michelle M. Parrish, was ticketed on a charge of obstructing traffic.

Jay R. Hess, 27, of Vassar, was ticketed by Caro state police on a charge of driving left of center after an accident at 5:40 p.m. Monday.

Troopers said Paul R. King, 24, of 5650 Denhoff Road, Kingston, was eastbound on M-46, near Chambers Road, when the westbound Hess vehicle crossed the centerline.

King drove onto the shoulder to try to avoid the car, but it struck his vehicle anyway, glanced off and hit an embankment.

Hess told officers he had fallen asleep at the wheel. He was reported to have been taken to Caro Community Hospital, but it had no record of his having been treated there.

Scott D. Dooley, 20, of Marlette, was cited by deputies on charges of fleeing and eluding, reckless driving, improper registration and no proof of insurance after an accident at 2 a.m. Monday.

Officers said he was southbound on Cedar Run Road when he lost control of his car when entering a curve. The vehicle skidded 198 feet before landing in a ditch on the south side of Hoppe Road.

Further information about the incident wasn't available as of Tuesday.

Cass City police issued tickets to both drivers after an accident at 3:30 p.m. Monday.

They reported Emerald W. Fahrner, 73, of Pigeon, was pulling from a parking place alongside the south curb on Main Street and immediately started crossing lanes in order to turn left onto Seeger Street. In doing so, his car struck the eastbound vehicle of Thomas E. Frampton, 32, of Mayville.

Fahrner was ticketed on a charge of improper left turn; Frampton for driving with an expired driver's license.

Shelia R. Reinelt, 21, of 4415 S. Seeger Street, was ticketed by Cass City police on a charge of improper lane usage after an accident at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Officers said she was westbound on Main Street, west of Seeger, failed to yield when crossing from the left into the right lane, and struck the westbound car of Mark A. Gohsman, 22, of 6051 Elmwood Road.

At 5:20 p.m. Saturday, according to village police, Thomas N. Bills, 32, of 4092 Cemetery Road, was northbound on Vulcan Street, started to pull off into a parking place north of Sixth Street, and struck a parked car. Owner of the parked car was Gerald J. Romig of 4293 Leach Street.

Steven M. Peters of 5515 Van Dyke Road reported to Cass City police Sunday afternoon that a vehicle struck the passenger side door of his car while it was parked in the lot behind the Gamble's store between 8:30 and 11 p.m. Saturday.

Lori Ziehm, 17, of 6221 Green Road, Caro, was southbound on Cemetery Road, north of Milligan Road, at 8:25 a.m. Friday when her car struck a deer, according to deputies.

Manages first successful Goodyear store in Michigan

Editor's note: this is one of a series sponsored by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce about community boosters who are members of the organization.

Goodyear Farm Tire Center is a company store run by a local resident.

Chuck Auvil, a native of the Thumb and a graduate of Cass City High School, has been in charge of the business in Cass City since the summer of 1976.

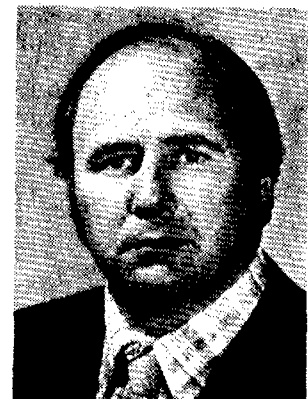

He joined Goodyear two years before becoming manager. He was a serviceman for six months and then became assistant manager and credit manager for a year and a half.

Auvil was born in Bad Axe and moved to a farm in Greenleaf township with his family.

He is married to a Cass City girl. His wife, Mary, is employed at Walbro and the couple has five children, three married and two at home.

The Farm Tire Center opened in November of 1973 and was the first in Michigan. Because of the success of the unit several more are projected in the State.

Former resident to speak at local church Sunday

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Schember, missionaries with World Gospel Mission to Burundi, Africa, will speak at the Cass City Missionary church, 4449 Koefgen Road, Sunday, at both the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services. The public is invited.

Rev. Schember was raised in the Cass City area and graduated from Cass City High School. He is the son of Ruth Dorman of Snover.

Paul and Kaylene Schember will be serving as dorm parents at the school for missionaries' children on the Mweya station. For the past year, the school has been handicapped because of lack of dorm parents for the children away from home.

With the coming of the Schembers, who will be serving as "mom and dad" to the kids during the school year, this need will be met.

Burundi is a small, scenic country with green rolling hills, in the center of Africa. Some of the ministries that World Gospel Mission uses to minister to Burundi's 4,100,000 people include: a literature ministry (operated in cooperation with other missionary societies) that prints most of Burundi's Protestant literature, a medical work that treats as many as 91,000 a year, and a ministry of Christian education that touches all students from vacation Bible school to seminary.

Offer aid for saving energy

Homeowners preparing for winter's icy blasts are reminded they can take advantage of a variety of federal, state, and utility-sponsored programs to help finance home weatherization improvements, according to Nancy Baerwaldt, acting director of the Energy Administration, Michigan Department of Commerce.

A guide to financial assistance programs is now available through Project Conserve sponsored by the Energy Administration.

Householders can obtain the informational booklet "Getting Financing" by telephoning Project Conserve on the toll-free number 1-800-292-4704 or by writing the Energy Administration, P.O. Box 30228, Lansing 48909.

The publication lists programs, agencies, and organizations which provide financial assistance or services to help Michigan householders take energy-conserving steps.

Programs available include loans for insulation work provided through utility companies, the state Housing Development Authority home improvement program which provides low interest loans to low and moderate income single-family dwelling owners, and federal assistance to low income persons for home weatherization services.

Special aid programs for senior citizens, handicapped, and American Indians are explained in the booklet. It also provides information on home weatherization grant available through local community action agencies.

"Getting Financing" also includes useful information about tax credits under federal and state laws, including tax reductions for solar installations.

Project Conserve is a continuing special program in which single family homeowners fill out a questionnaire and receive in return a computerized analysis of heating and cooling efficiency of their dwelling. The report to the homeowner also includes suggested ideas and localized cost estimates for energy-conserving improvements.

Homeowners who have not previously received the questionnaire form still have time to request the assistance from the Energy Administration offices.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Schember are graduates of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky. Previous to Asbury, they both attended Kentucky Mountain Bible Institute, Vancelev, Ky. He also attended Emmanuel Bible College, Kitchener, Ont.

During his senior year at Asbury, as well as the year following, he pastored two United Methodist churches. Later, he pastored the Rhodes Missionary church in Rhodes, Mich., for five years.

World Gospel Mission is an interdenominational missionary society with 335 missionaries and homeland personnel, working in seventeen areas around the world. International headquarters is in Marion, Ind.

BIG REBATES

Plus Waiver Of Finance Charges

On New CASE 70 Series
4-Wheel Drives

YOUR REBATE CHECK

Three great models: Brand new Case Traction King 4-wheel drive 70 series tractors; model 2470-213 eng. hp* (158 kW); model 2670-258 eng. hp* (191 kW); model 2870-300 eng. hp* (223 kW). All are solid with Case cab, 12-speed range power shift, Case 4-way selective steering and a host of high performance features Case 4-WD owners praise. And if you buy now, the deal includes a big rebate check plus valuable waiver of finance charges. Here's how it works:

See your participating Case dealer now. He's eager to clean 'em out, so you'll get the best price possible on the new 70 series 4-WD tractor you choose.

Your rebate check will be sent straight to you from the Case Company upon receipt of proof of full settlement during the rebate program period of September 1, 1979 through October 31, 1979. Only one rebate check will be issued for each tractor purchased.

*Mfr's rating

What's more, if you finance through Case Credit Corp., you pay no finance charges until March 1, 1980 on a new Case 2470, 2670 or 2870 tractor purchased between September 1, 1979 and October 31, 1979.

What a perfect time to move up to the leading line of big 4-WD tractors. Don't delay. See your participating Case dealer while his selection is at its best.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Brookfield Zoo found

Dear John:

About Joe Langenburg's balloon: There is a Brookfield Zoo in Brookfield, Ill., a western suburb of Chicago. This popular zoo features a dolphin show and a walrus whose annual food bill is $6,000.

If Joe's balloon came from this Brookfield Zoo, it traveled about 300 miles before it came down.

Sincerely yours,

Karen Streeter
Spring Valley, Ill.

Editor's note: Langenburg, 13, found the balloon with "Brookfield Zoo" printed on the side Aug. 27 near his home on Koefgen Road. An article in that week's Chronicle sought the whereabouts of the zoo.

Extension group plans activities

The Cass City Extension group met at the home of Mrs. Irby Simcox Friday afternoon.

The year's program was planned with a style show in Caro Tuesday night and a fall tour in October.

Next meeting will be Oct. 12 at the home of Mrs. Walter Stark.

Congratulations Gary Guilds

on being the

1979 Owendale Speedway Dirt Track Champion

Here are some Owendale Speedway track records Gary broke in the 1979 racing season: 1. Won more 4-car dashes than ever recorded at Owendale Speedway. 2. Won an Australian Pursuit quicker than anyone else (in 2 laps). 3. Broke the track speed record 3 times. 4. Finally, won the season championship race.

With all of these qualifications, we feel you've earned the title of Dirt Track Champion.

Right on, Bro!

Cass City whips Standish

Tigers to test Hawks in loop opener

The preliminary is over and it's now down to business for the Cass City Red Hawks of Coach Don Schelke.

The Hawk gridders lifted the curtain on the 1979 season Friday with a comparatively easy victory at Standish, 28-12.

The win didn't prove much one way or another. Standish fielded a relatively green team following a lackluster 1978 season.

The first big test of the year comes this Friday at Caro, where the Tigers are one of the teams picked to fight it out for the Thumb B League title.

The Tigers lost their opener against Essexville Garber which annually fields a strong grid squad. Scouts report that Caro played one strong half and one that was poor.

The strong competition from Garber should make the Tigers a tougher foe for Cass City this Friday.

Regardless of what has happened in previous games Caro-Cass City clashes always are fierce, often marked by upsets of the favorite. Friday's game will probably provide more of the same.

There were some bright spots in the opening win against Standish. The blocking of the offensive line picked up considerably from what was displayed in the scrimmages the previous week.

If there appears to be a weakness on defense it is against the pass. Hawk fans will undoubtedly see plenty of passing in foes' attacks this year.

Against Standish Cass City exhibited a balanced attack, piling up 252 yards rushing and 166 yards passing.

The Hawks took command early in the game, scoring once in the first quarter as Bob Sawdon cracked over from the four. Cass City made it 14-0 early in the second period as Tim Sontag capped a drive with a four-yard run. A pass from Rusty Hoag to Tim Fahrner was good for the extra two points.

Standish made a bid to get back into the ball game in the third period. Aided by a roughing the passer penalty that kept a drive going, the host team moved down the field through the air for a first on the six-yard line. Dan Stanley dashed off tackle for the marker and the score was 14-6.

Cass City added to its lead again when a drive down the field was capped by a pass from Hoag to Ken Martin to make the score 20-6.

Standish refused to buckle under and mounted a drive of its own in the fourth quarter to stay in contention. When Stanley scored, the Hawk lead was just eight points, 20-12.

The Hawks showed one of the marks of a good team in the next series. With the lead threatened Cass City moved down the field to score the touchdown that salted away the game.

Paced by halfback Bob Sawdon, the Hawks moved steadily down the field for a first and goal at the nine. A smash through the line took the ball to the two but the Hawks were detected holding and shoved back to the 20. With third and long yardage, Hoag spotted Tim Fahrner all alone in the left side of the end zone and Fahrner took the ball without anyone within 10 yards of him.

There were plenty of outstanding performers for Cass City. Mike Vatter was awarded the Red Hawk award for his 21 tackles at line backer and his work at guard on offense. Sawdon picked up 151 yards in 27 rushing plays.

There is no open season on canvasbacks or redheads in designated areas including Saginaw Bay and the counties of Huron and Tuscola.

There will be a scup only season on designated waters in the Lower Peninsula for 16 days starting the day after the close of the regular duck season, which is Nov. 22. Bag limit is five daily and 10 in possession. The number of designated waters has been reduced reflecting a decline in huntable populations available in the late season.

The season for Coots and Gallinules will be the same as for ducks. Daily bag limit is 15 and 30 in possession.

Exact hunting hours for migratory birds by location and date are outlined in the 1979 Michigan Waterfowl Hunting Guide, published by the DNR, which should be available from license dealers by mid-September.

The DNR will continue the popular "Take a Youngster Hunting Program" again this year at certain places including the Fish Point Wildlife Area. Youths accompanied by adults have first choice for hunting permits on two dates, Oct. 21 (a.m. only) and Oct. 27 (p.m. only).

This year's goose season in Zone 3 will be Oct. 4 through Nov. 30.

There are exceptions to these basic goose season dates in special goose management areas, including:

-Saginaw County Goose Management Area, only on odd-numbered dates Oct. 1 through Nov. 30 or until 2,500 Canada geese have been taken.

-Tuscola County Goose Management Area, Oct. 4 through Nov. 30, or until 2,000 Canada geese have been taken.

-Lapeer and Genesee County Goose Management Area, Oct. 4 through Oct. 31.

The daily bag and possession limit of geese is five including no more than one Canada goose or subspecies, or two white-fronted geese, or one Canada goose and one white-fronted goose.

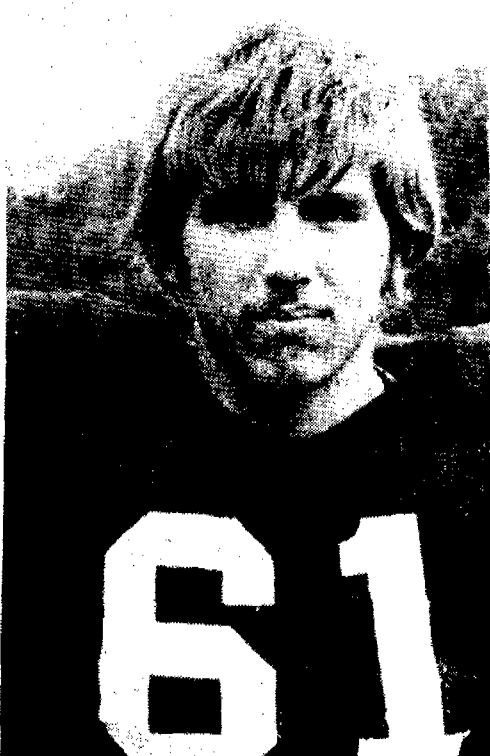

There were some bright spots in the opening win against Standish. The blocking of the offensive line picked up considerably from what was displayed in the scrimmages the previous week.

After topping Farwell

O-G points for Caseville

Farwell is proving to be a nice season opening game for Owen-Gage.

Friday night, for the second year straight, the Bulldogs defeated the Class C school, 19-8. The game was played at Owendale.

"Now we play for all the marbles," said coach Arnie Besonen as he looked forward to the North Central D League opener at 1 p.m.

Saturday at Caseville.

"They beat Mio 27-0," he pointed out. "The key will be the Kelly boys (backs Mike and Bill). They'll give us trouble."

All of the scoring Friday night took place in the first half, with Owen-Gage getting on the board first. The three-play drive was capped by a Kirk Carolan to Jeff Hallock 61-yard pass play. Pete Klemkowsky kicked the extra point.

Early in the second quarter, Kendall Howard blocked a Farwell punt, which Scott Gaeth grabbed and ran three yards for another six points. Klemkowsky's kick attempt for the extra point was not good.

Fans who left before the start of halftime for the refreshment stand or restrooms missed the most exciting part of the game.

With 17 seconds left, Farwell's Bob Hardorine ran 55 yards for a TD. Jeff English then passed to Jeff Loomis for two more points.

With only 10 seconds on the clock, Farwell kicked off. Senior speedster Jeff Hallock grabbed the ball and ran it 71 yards to the goal line. Klemkowsky's kick attempt was again not good.

Afterwards, coach Besonen said, "We were generally pleased by our overall performance, but need work on our defense, which broke down in key situations."

The Bulldogs gained 292 yards, while holding their opponents to 186. The winners rushed for 198 yards in 47 carries. Top ground gainers were Brad Erickson, 19 carries and 93 yards; Scott Gaeth, 15 for 71 yards, and Jeff Hallock, six for 65 yards.

In the air, Owen-Gage gained 94 yards in two completions out of six attempts, both caught by Hallock. One pass was intercepted.

Farwell gained 157 yards on the ground in 31 carries, its top rusher being Hardorine with 16 carries and 92 yards. Its 29 yards in the air came on four completions out of 10 attempts. One pass was intercepted.

The Bulldogs fumbled once and were penalized seven times for 65 yards. Their opponents didn't fumble and were penalized seven times for a 55-yard setback.

Defensive standouts for the victors were Dan Warack, 11 tackles; Erickson, 10, and Klemkowsky, nine.

Thursday night at Farwell, Owen-Gage lost the junior varsity contest 8-0.

Hawks split opening cage non-loop tilts

Cass City evened its season's record in the young basketball season Tuesday night with a narrow 38-35 victory over visiting USA and immediately started plans for the game at Caro next Wednesday and the opening of the Thumb B League season.

The Hawks won the game with a big first period burst over the visitors. At the end of the first 8 minutes it was Cass City, 14-5.

That was enough for the Hawks to play over foul trouble that benched three regulars including Padgett Randall for two quarters.

Coach Lloyd Schinnerer credited the play of Brenda Izdyorek, Shelly Lapeer and Kelly Seurnyck off the bench for helping preserve the win.

The Hawks led 22-13 at the half. Then the third quarter slump that has plagued the team in the opening games hit and the Patriots closed the gap to 24-21. The Hawks scored only two points in the period.

Paced by Randall who came back to the game the Hawks played USA on even terms in the final period. Randall scored 11 of Cass City's 14 points.

For the night Randall netted 13 points. USA's Kim Adams led all scorers with 14 points.

Vickie Pobanz was credited with 16 rebounds for the Hawks. Randall had 9 and Libby Hartel snared 8.

Before the fatal period Cass City had used an 18-10 first period margin to roll to a 30-22 halftime lead.

After the third spurge by the host team Coach Lloyd Schinnerer put his charges into a tight press and almost pulled out the game in the dying minutes.

Padgett Randall led all scorers with 28 points. Libby Hartel added 9. Harbor Beach used balanced scoring to pull off the win. Colleen Booms had 10; Sue Mausolf, 11; Kerry Merrifield, 12, and Sandy Kapling, 14.

JV GAME

In the preliminary the Hawks rolled to a 52-34 decision. Sherry Stec counted 16 points and Kris Proctor added 11. Stec and Becky Nye each were credited with four steals.

Coach Sean Zawilinski said that the high point of the game was holding the Pirates to two points for over a quarter.

Tell week's golf winners

Jim Baim, Marlette; Bruce Thompson, Cass City; Alva Allen, Deford, and Jim Ottaway, Oak Beach, with a score of 31 was the winning team Sept. 5 in the Senior Citizens Golf League at Rolling Hills Golf Course.

Prizes were given for closest to the pin on holes 5 and 7 to Ted Murphy, Bad Axe, and C.E. White, Marlette.

The senior citizens play a four-man scramble every Wednesday. Participants are from all over the Thumb.

O-G girls cop tourney at Caseville

The Owen-Gage girls' basketball team started the season out right by defeating host Caseville Saturday night, 51-35, in the finals of that school's invitational tournament.

Regular North Central D League play starts this Thursday evening in the Owendale gym against Carsonville-Port Sanilac.

Owen-Gage was never behind against the Eagles Saturday. It led at halftime, 33-23. It only added 18 more points in the second half, but the Eagles could only manage 12.

Junior Becky Howard led the victors with 15 points, followed by Carol Goslin with 14.

Michelle McCormick was the only Eagle in double figures with 15.

The Bulldogs played without the benefit of coach Judy Campbell, who was elsewhere judging a horse show. Former Bulldog Anne Lenhard filled in.

The team qualified for the finals with a narrow 32-29 win Tuesday night, Sept. 4, over Port Hope.

The Bulldogs led by a point at halftime, 15-14, and by seven at the three-quarter mark, 29-22, but didn't clinch the win until there was only three seconds left, when Carol Goslin connected on a free throw to give her team a three-point lead.

The Bulldog junior varsity didn't do as well in the tournament, losing Tuesday night to Port Hope and Friday in the consolation to Caseville, 29-26.

Golfers top Capac, lose to Caro

There was good news and bad news this week from the Cass City High School Golf Team. The good news is that the Hawks opened their season with a 164-175 decision over Capac Wednesday, Sept. 5, playing at Rolling Hills Golf Course.

Now the bad news. In the Thumb B Conference league opener at Caro Monday the Hawks bowed 168-175.

Against Capac three veterans of the team each shot 40. They were Tim Johnson, Scott Krueger and John Scollon. Bob Erla and Steve Richards shot 44.

Scott Krueger led the Hawks against the Tigers with a 40.

Cass City was to have entertained Bad Axe in a league match Wednesday.

Osentoski loses in tourney

There's always next year.

The season for the Osentoski Cass City softball team ended Sunday when it was defeated for the second time by Lor-Del's for the Thumb Slow-Pitch League south division championship.

The Bad Axe team now plays the north division winner this week end, Pete's Bar of Bad Axe, for the league championship.

The first game of the best-two-of-three division playoff was played Saturday afternoon at Cass City and it saw the host team go down, 12-9.

Ron Pangborn was the winning pitcher; Dan Ulfing, the loser.

Top hitters for Osentoski were Dave Bliss with two doubles; Don Galbraith and Paul Bliss, each had a double and a single, and Chuck Bliss and Dale Wisner, each with two singles.

Craig Rambo paced the winner's 19-hit assault with four singles, followed by Mark Clark and Ron Pangborn, each with three singles.

Action moved to Bad Axe Sunday, where Osentoski had to win the first game to stay alive. It didn't, as Lor-Del's smashed 25 hits in its 18-15 win.

Osentoski's had 19 hits, paced by Phil Nichols with two doubles and two singles, followed by Rick Trombley with a double and two singles and Don Galbraith with a home run and a single.

Butch Deming had three singles, a double and a home run for the victors, while Dennis Bushey smashed three round-trippers and a single.

Winning pitcher was Larry Grigg. Clark Erla took the loss in relief of Dan Ulfing.

Pete's Bar took the north division title during the week end with wins in the first and third games against the Port Hope Merchants.
