

Good time promised at Sunday picnic

The Cass City Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a picnic at the park . . . the Cass City Recreational Park.

The event is slated Sunday, Sept. 23, from 1-4 p.m. near the Lions pavilion.

Persons attending will hear a bluegrass and country band furnished by the chamber. Authorities are asking that persons bring their own musical instruments to provide more entertainment after the professionals are through.

The idea, said chamber President Tom Herron and Gerald Prieskorn, is to have a good old fashioned family outing.

Persons attending should bring their own picnic food. Tables will be moved to the area for the day.

What happens if it rains Sunday? In that case it's wait till next year, the sponsors say.

Street job encounters roadblock

Rebuilding of a portion of Doerr Road and Garfield Street has run into a roadblock.

The project has become more expensive than Cass City can afford -- at least for now.

The proposed project was rebuilding of Doerr between Main and Garfield Streets and Garfield between Doerr and the railroad tracks.

The village had received a federal grant to pay 77 percent of the construction cost up to a maximum of $180,000. The village was to pay the rest, plus engineering costs.

According to village superintendent Lou LaPonsie, it was anticipated construction cost would have been about $200,000. That would have meant the village would have paid $46,000 (23 percent), plus the engineering costs for a total of about $70,000.

But when the Michigan Department of Transportation (DOT) opened bids last Wednesday (it does so on all federal projects), the lowest of three bidders was T.A. Forsberg, Inc., of Okemos, at $270,318.

Since 77 percent of that is more than $208,000, all the federal funds would have paid is $180,000. That would have meant the village would have had to pay about $114,000, including engineering costs, much more than it could afford to pay.

Although a scheduled special assessment hearing on the project (to pay for curb and gutter), at the Sept. 25 village council meeting has now been cancelled, the village hasn't given up yet on the project.

The next step, LaPonsie said, is to sit down with the DOT and village engineers, Hubbell, Roth and Clark, to review the plans to see if some cost trimming can be made, with the idea that the project can be rebid in January.

It is hoped that it may attract more bidders then, with the increased competition driving down the cost. Although 10 contractors took out bid documents this time around, only three submitted bids.

A possibility is that the project would be reduced in scope, not redoing all of both streets, however, the DOT prefers that that whole project be done, not part of it, according to the village superintendent.

Another bid opened by the DOT last Wednesday was for construction of a three-span prestressed twin-tee bridge and approaches to carry Murray Road over White Creek, six miles west of Deford.

Lowest of seven bidders was SL & H Contractors of Corunna at $282,099, which was lower than the $300,000 estimate.

The project is to be completed by September 1980.

BEANS IN A POD -- The hand of Dave Seurnyck holds a dry bean pod split open by a hail storm which hit a small area west of Gagetown last Thursday. In addition to those beans already on the ground, most pods with the beans still in them were split and would spill their beans when wind-rowed. (Another photo page 20.)

Some losses 50-70%

Hail pounds beans in area storm

A short duration hail storm last Thursday in the Gagetown area spelled disaster for farmers as it destroyed much -- and for some, most -- of the dry bean crop still on the ground.

The loss to farmers affected was in the thousands of dollars.

The storm of fingernail size hail fell for only a couple of minutes, starting about 3:45 p.m., according to Brad Goslin. The farm of his father, Keith Goslin, probably suffered the greatest loss. The hail followed about five minutes of rain.

The storm hit an area about two miles wide, stretching possibly as far west as Colling, eight miles southwest of Gagetown, to Richie Road, a mile east of Gagetown, according to Al Seurnyck.

The area apparently hardest hit was between Jacob and Hurds Corner Road, he said, which is the location of the Goslin farm, north and south of Bay City-Forestville Road. Seurnyck, who lives on Hurds Corner Road, farms to the south and east of Goslin.

Corn and sugar beets weren't harmed.

Goslin, who farms with sons Brad and Mark, had 105 of his 550 acres harvested prior to the hailstorm (not all of which was in the affected area).

Since then, in the area hit by hail, he got 9 bushels to the acre in one field and 18 in another, compared to the 30-35 bushels he probably would have gotten without the damage. That works out to a loss of about 50-70 percent. As of Tuesday, not all the damaged crop had been harvested.

The closer the beans were to being ready for harvesting, the greater the loss. White beans appeared to be more susceptible to damage than colored beans.

Seurnyck, who had 80 of his 200 acres harvested prior to the storm, estimated his loss was about the same as Goslin's.

What the hail did was to split the pods, causing many of the beans to spill onto the ground. Many of the beans that remained in the pod spilled out when they were windrowed. Any beans on the ground couldn't be picked up by the combine.

In examining some of the plants Friday morning, Goslin said it appeared that on the average, there were only two or three good pods out of the normal 18-25 on a stalk.

Neither Goslin nor Seurnyck had any insurance to cover their loss. Goslin never has carried it because he never has had any hail damage before. Seurnyck used to carry insurance but said he dropped it when it got too expensive.

A mile to the south of Bay City-Forestville, on the north side of Hobart Road, David Seurnyck was examining Goslin's bean crop Friday morning and shaking his head. He farms with his brother, Al, but each owns his own land and equipment.

He wasn't concerned when the hail was falling, he said. It didn't appear there was any damage occurring at that time and "I was so happy it was raining."

When neighbor Goslin commented that there was always next year, Seurnyck commented dejectedly, "Next year I'll be working at Steering Gear."

Court suit n ly against Owen-Gage

The Owendale-Gagetown School District will apparently be a defendant in court in its dispute over the amount it still owes to the construction management firm that supervised construction of the high school addition.

The board at a special meeting Monday night rejected a compromise offer from Carl Tropf of Construction Coordinators Inc. of East Detroit for payment of $31,864.

Asked by the Chronicle as he was leaving after the board's vote whether its action meant CCI would be going to court, Tropf replied, "Very definitely."

The board's position was summed up by member Jack Brinkman just before the vote. "My feeling now is, $108,000, that's it."

Its contention is that its contract with the management firm calls for CCI to be paid a flat $108,000. Based on that amount, the company is still owed $2,730.

Board President Ronald Good questioned whether there ever was a final contract between the board and CCI, that all he had ever seen was one marked "tentative," with some changes in it scheduled to be made at the board's request.

Tropf summarized the presentation he first made in August, that he could document that CCI is owed $81,871. It was asking for $46,433, however, and for the first time Monday night he presented the compromise offer of $31,864, which the board rejected unanimously.

He based his claim for added payment primarily on two factors. One was that the CCI was to be on the job 12 months, but instead was there 17 months.

The reason for the delay, he said, was the failure by the architects, Wigen, Tinknell and Associates of Saginaw, to get the plans needed for CCI to seek construction bids to it in time. The management firm was supposed to get them by Oct. 10, 1977, but didn't get them until February, 1978.

Tropf said his firm offered that November to stop all work until the plans were ready, but Owen-Gage declined.

As he did in August, he rejected board members' contention that it was CCI's responsibility to get the plans from the architect on schedule. "That's your architect, not our architect."

Secondly, he claimed that the contract was based on an original cost estimate for the building of $1.33 million. Instead, the final basic estimate was $1.65 million.

The contract, Tropf said as he presented documents with the aid of an overhead projector, said the contracted fee with CCI was based on certain criteria.

Any change from that criteria, such as the longer time spent on the project and the added cost, meant an adjusted fee was to be negotiated by the board with CCI.

PARKING LOT

Another pay dispute involving the addition was settled amicably, with the board accepting Otto Brade's compromise offer of $23,168 for preparation of the parking lot for paving and some sidewalk construction.

Supt. Ronald Erickson explained that before the project started, he and Brade were talking about spending $15-20,000. By the third week, the contractor said the cost was going to go over $20,000, so Erickson told him, "Otto, keep it close."

What was agreed to was that the Kinde contractor was to be paid for time and materials. When he was done, he submitted an itemized bill for $35,876.

Erickson told the board, "He did a fine job on the parking lot. The only problem is the price we agreed on was exceeded exceedingly."

Brade did offer a compromise to the board, based mainly on recalculating downward the value of the crushed stone used, which the board approved.

OTHER ITEMS

The board accepted Erickson's recommendations concerning 10 employees paid with federal Comprehensive

Employment and Training Act funds, funding for which, with two exceptions, expires at the end of this month.

That leaves five, of whom a high school secretary, custodian-playground supervisor, custodian and a part-time custodian will be paid out of the general fund. A teacher's aide will become an aide in the federally-funded Title I remedial reading program at Gagetown.

The board gave approval for after football game high school dances Friday and Oct. 5 to run until 12:30 a.m., one hour later than usual. The dances will be in Gagetown.

Maintaining a policy of 7th-8th grade basketball games being played in Gagetown, the upcoming game with Immanuel Lutheran will be at Gagetown but Immanuel Lutheran's "home game" will be played in the Owendale gym.

Judge to decide

Stoney Creek drain dispute nears end

After a year's delay, the Stoney Creek Drain project in northwestern Sanilac county could get underway yet this fall.

The $187,000 undertaking was supposed to start a year ago but was delayed when the Sanilac County Road Commission filed suit against county Drain Commissioner Stuart Armstead.

The project calls for cleaning, deepening and some straightening of approximately eight miles of the drain and its branches, primarily in Evergreen township but partly in Lamotte township.

The suit contended that Armstead illegally altered plans for the project and that all drains, when running parallel to the road, must be at least 26 feet from the road centerline to the top of the slope closest to the road.

Armstead contended that the changes were made at the insistence of the Road Commission and were attached as a supplement to the original blueprints.

Based on interpretation of a state law by county Circuit Judge Allen E. Keyes in an earlier suit involving another drain, drains have to be a minimum of 16 1/2 feet from the road, according to the drain commissioner. All the drains in the Stoney Creek project will be at least 17 feet away.

After various legal delays, final arguments in the suit were heard by Judge Keyes Sept. 11. He didn't say when he will issue a ruling.

Assuming the ruling comes fairly soon and he wins, Armstead said the project could get underway yet this year. The successful low bidder of a year ago, Gordon Johnson of Richmond, is still interested in doing the job. Whether the $187,000 price will have to be renegotiated, he indicated, is a bridge he hasn't crossed yet.

Assuming that matter is settled, the other question is whether Johnson has equipment available to begin work yet this year, though it won't be completed until 1980.

If he loses, Armstead said, he won't appeal. That might delay the project another year and he would lose the contractor, plus the county, townships and affected property owners have already paid one year's assessment for the project and not received anything in return.

Even without an appeal, the project will be delayed. "If we lose," the drain commissioner explained, "I've been informed by several property owners they won't sign the easement to set the ditch back (to where the Road Commission requested in the suit), so I would have to go into condemnation proceedings."

BIG BEANS -- Amy Francis, 8, holds two of her grandfather's, Bill Eberline's, string beans. Unbeknownst to the Garfield Street resident until the growing season was almost over, his neighbor, Charlie Damoth, was sneaking over at night and applying fertilizer, then would casually mention to Eberline later that the plant needed watering. The result was a stringbean plant about 10 feet tall and beans about twice as long as normal.

Music makers coming to town for Thanksgiving Bach festival

Musicians from all over the country will be coming to Cass City Thanksgiving week end, Nov. 23-25, for the first annual Village Bach Festival.

Highlight of the festival to celebrate the music of the German composer Johann Sebastian Bach will be three performances, on Friday and Saturday evenings, plus Sunday afternoon, at the First Presbyterian church, which houses the more than 100-year-old Henry Erban Tracker organ.

Bach, who lived from 1685-1750, composed much of his music for churches.

In addition, there will be lectures, an open rehearsal to which senior citizens are invited, and a community brunch Sunday for the musicians, their host families and festival patrons (financial supporters).

Prior to the festival, a musician-in-residence will be working for a week with the high school choir and visiting elementary schools. On the Monday after the festival, there will be a workshop for church organists, particularly for those from Presbyterian churches, though those from all churches are invited.

A festival committee has been established to coordinate the festival, composed of representatives from the Cass City Arts Council, Cass City schools and the community education program, and the Presbyterian church.

The nucleus of the event goes back to last January when Holly Althaver, Rev. Harry Capps of the church and its then choir director, Colleen Stafford, met with Don Th. Jaeger, conductor of the Midland Symphony Orchestra and the Northwestern Michigan Symphony.

The idea, Mrs. Althaver explained, was to have a festival "as good as anything in New York."

Jaeger, who has been a guest conductor for seven years at an annual Bach festival in Iowa, has performed four times in Cass City, three times with a small chamber orchestra (two of those times at the church) and once with the Midland symphony.

He will serve as music director and conductor of the festival.

Mrs. Althaver, a founder of the Cass City Arts Council, is a member of the Michigan Artrain executive board and chairman of its curatorial committee, is vice-chairman of the Michigan Association of Community Arts Agencies, and is a member of the advisory panel for community arts councils to the Michigan Council for the Arts.

She is festival co-chairman along with Rev. Capps. Community Education Director Kathleen O'Donnell helped write the application for partial funding to the state Council for the Arts, which was made in March.

Notification that the grant had been approved came last week.

In addition to the state grant, $7-8,000 must be raised locally, much of which will come from ticket sales.

Ticket prices will be $5 per concert, $12 for all three concerts and $20 for patrons, who will get preferred seating.

The church seats only 300 so availability could be tight, Rev. Capps said. Tickets will probably be sold by mail only.

Information about the festival is being sent statewide to newspapers and to persons who might be interested in attending.

About 30 musicians and vocal soloists are expected, Mrs. Althaver said. They will be staying in homes here.

In addition, the Cantata Singers of Ann Arbor, 24 persons will be performing Bach's "Magnificat" on Sunday only.

Help is needed in housing the visiting musicians, with mailings, transportation, etc. Those interested can call Mrs. Althaver (872-3465), Rev. Capps (872-4036) or festival hospitality committee chairman Jeanne Auten (872-2275).

Among performers who will be participating will be Norman Paul, first violinist of the Pro Arte Quartet at the University of Wisconsin; Catherine Paul, oboist of national prominence; Doris Ornstein, harpsichordist at the Cleveland Institute and Aspen Festival; William Preucil Jr., violinist from Indiana University and Doris Preucil, violinist from Iowa City, Iowa.

Vocalists will include Rosemary Russell, professor of voice at the University of Michigan; Wladie Anderson, instructor of voice at the Interlochen Arts Academy, and Karen Smith, who has performed with many of the state's orchestras.

Gordon and Debra McFarland

Debra Mae McFarland and Gordon Thomas Wills, both of Cass City, were married Sept. 1 at Trinity United Methodist church, Cass City.

Rev. P. Thomas Wachterhauser performed the double ring ceremony attended by 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McFarland Sr., Cass City. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wills, Cass City.

The bride wore a formal gown fashioned of chiffonella accented with reembroided chantilly lace and pearls, styled with a high neckline and sheer yoke and long fitted sleeves featuring a sheer shoulder inset, detailed with lace and pearl clusters.

The skirt was designed with a front panel of sunburst pleats edged in lace and full lace trim in a redingote effect, flowing into a sweeping chapel train.

Her waltz length veil of English illusion was edged in chantilly and held on by a matching lace and pearl cap.

She carried a cascade arrangement of styled design, featuring deep wine roses and buds, creme de peppermint, sweetheart roses, pink and white demure petite carnations, accented by angel lace and Boston ivy, all in lasting silks and preserved floral.

Matron of honor was Pam Berridge of Utica, friend of the bride.

She wore a formal length gown fashioned of a soft J. Mave fabric featuring spaghetti straps with a high waistline, styled with a matching J. Mave sleeveless jacket detailed with a creamy lace surrounding front of the jacket.

She carried a colonial basket filled with deep wine roses, creme de peppermint, sweetheart roses, dusty pink and wine evening primrose and pale pink shasta daisies and angel lace.

Bridesmaids were Ann Baugh, friend of the bride; Michele Wills, sister-in-law of the groom; Kris Hill, friend of the bride, and Chloé Ann Wills, cousin of the groom, all of Cass City. They were dressed identically to the matron of honor and carried identical floral baskets.

Junior bridesmaid was Tina McFarland, niece of the bride, of Cass City. She wore a formal length gown of pink polyester fabric featuring a high neckline with a white front panel below the neck. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Flower girl was Christy Wills, niece of the groom, of Port Huron. She was a miniature bride in a white chiffonella gown styled identically to the bride's gown.

She carried a colonial basket filled with deep wine roses, creme de peppermint, sweetheart roses, dusty pink and wine evening primrose and pale pink shasta daisies and angel lace with pink and burgundy satin pequet streamers.

Kim Hill, Cass City, friend of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Mike Nicol, friend of the groom, Gary Wills, brother of the groom, Bill Wills, brother of the groom, and Randy McFarland, brother of the bride, all of Cass City.

Ring bearer was Billy McFarland, nephew of the bride, of Cass City.

Ushers were Melvin McFarland Jr., brother of the bride, and Joe Cooper, friend of the groom, both of Cass City.

Programs were passed out by Mallory McFarland, sister-in-law of the bride, and Tina McFarland, niece of the bride, both of Cass City. Organist was Joan Merchant, Cass City, and the soloist, Michele Wills, Cass City, who sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "You Light Up My Life."

The bride's mother wore a formal length gown of Daphe Rose, floral print and silesta chiffon.

The groom's mother wore a formal length gown of Daphe Rose, solid color and silesta chiffon.

The reception was held at the Colony House, Cass City. The bride is a 1977 graduate from Cass City High School, now employed as a secretary at Thumb Area Commodity Cooperative, Inc., in Cass City.

The groom is a 1973 graduate of Cass City High School, now employed as a mechanic at Huron Chevrolet in Bad Axe.

After a week-long honeymoon, the newlyweds are now living on Gilbert Road, Cass City.

"If It Fitz. . ." Do people listen?

By Jim Fitzgerald

The wife had to leave the apartment to meet a friend in the building lobby, 26 floors below. As she went out the door, she called back instructions to the husband, who was in the living room breaking the barrier into his third strenuous hour of non-stop sitting. The Free Press marathon is only a month away and he is feverishly preparing his body to sit through the entire race as it passes below his window.

The husband acknowledged his instructions with his usual enthusiasm, promising faithfully to do as he was told. "Yeah," he said. But had he really heard what his wife told him to do? Do people listen to people? This is an important question, having to do with the very fabric of our society, and why that fabric is ripping.

The rips are a growing cause of concern for anthropologists, sociologists and

Dr. Joyce Brothers. Most of the experts blame the rips on a breakdown in listening. Only a few old fashioned tailors blame the rips on cheap fabric.

The huge Sperry corporation is selling listening. Sperry recently sponsored the U.S. Open Tennis Tournament on TV. The theme of its commercials was: We understand how important it is to listen." Sperry said if the captain of the Titanic had been listening, his ship would still be floating. He would have heard someone order ice.

The Sperry commercials didn't suggest a tangible solution to the listening problem, such as hearing aids. Instead, Sperry announced it was setting up "listening programs." Viewers were shown films of several of these programs in action. They starred groups of sincere people saying nothing, but obviously listening attentively in case someone ordered ice.

The husband thought he was listening as attentively as a Sperry commercial the day the wife interrupted his sitting training with parting instructions. When a buzzer sounded only a few seconds after she left, he immediately recalled that the word "buzzer" had been included in his instructions. He not only knew what to do, he also knew it wasn't really necessary for him to do it.

He knew the buzzer had been pushed by the doorman in the lobby who wanted to announce that the wife's friend had arrived and was awaiting her. The husband could have walked to the intercom to tell the doorman that the wife was on her way down. He knew that was what she had instructed him to do. But he also knew his wife would get off the elevator in the lobby before he could reach the intercom, thus making his information superfluous. He decided it would be silly to interrupt his sitting training to tell the doorman something he already knew. When the doorman stopped buzzing, the husband knew he had made a sound decision.

When the wife returned an hour later, the husband's sitting had reached that high point of euphoria strived for by all marathoners who insist upon going the distance, no matter what the cost. His tremendous effort had left him dazed but, somehow, still sitting.

"Why didn't you take the bread out of the oven?" she asked in a rather loud voice that caused the husband to unconsciously jump to his feet.

"You made me break training," he accused her. "What bread?"

When I left here, I told you to take the bread out when the oven buzzed. You said you would, but you didn't. It was still buzzing when I got back," she said. "You just don't listen."

"I could have been worse," the husband said. "If you'd been baking ice, the Titanic might have sunk again."

This witty remark was followed by a lengthy discussion in which it was decided that if the husband wouldn't eat two loaves of burned, hard, dry bread, he would starve to death. The wife refused to accept the two-buzzer confusion as a reasonable excuse for what had happened.

"You said you thought the doorman quit buzzing, but the oven never stopped buzzing," she said. "How do you explain that?"

"That must have been when I became euphoric. Marathon sitters never hear well after they become euphoric," he explained.

By a startling coincidence, the next Sunday their minister's sermon concerned the importance of everyone's listening to each other. As he preached, the wife's stomach rumbled loudly.

"I heard you," the husband said, so she would know he was listening. The people in the surrounding pews were also listening and they nodded their appreciation at learning the source of the rumble.

Listen, this really happened. Onward and Upward.

FINAL PAYMENT - The drained Helen Stevens Memorial Pool was a fitting place for the Cass City Lions Club to present the last of three $1,000 checks last Thursday as its contribution to help finance construction of the pool. Presenting it to Zonta Club Treasurer Marie Roch was Lions President Jim Guinther. Looking on is Lions Treasurer Bob Copeland. Zonta Club started the pool fund, which collected $20,942 in pledges from clubs and individuals.

Community Chest kickoff on Monday

Leonard T. Soper, retired assistant superintendent of the Saginaw schools and active United Way volunteer, will be the guest speaker Monday evening at the kickoff dinner of the Elk-Land-Novesta Community Chest.

The dinner for volunteer workers in the upcoming campaign starts at 6:30 p.m. at the Charmont.

The goal this year, according to Community Chest Chairman Iris Tuckey, is $13,500, $1,000 more than last year.

Last year's goal was exceeded, she said, but it's still not possible to say exactly by how much because donations made through the payroll deduction plan are still coming in.

This year for the first time an annual Community Chest award will be presented. Recipient this year will be Hills and Dales General Hospital for its exceptional participation by employees in donating to the Community Chest.

The guest speaker was named Saginaw United Way Volunteer of the Year in 1978 for his efforts in behalf of the annual fund drive in that community.

Soper has served as a vice-president and executive committee member of United Fund of Saginaw county.

If I lived in, say, Kentucky chances are I would be dead set against bailing out Chrysler Corporation with tax dollars. But I live in Michigan and it's a question of whose ox will be gored if the nation's third ranked auto company follows in the steps of dozens of other auto manufacturers.

It's my ox and chances are it's yours, too. Right here in Cass City I know of three plants that do work for Chrysler. Not a major part of the businesses but still a customer of long standing.

So it's hard to imagine anyone living or working here not touched in one way or another by the plight of Chrysler.

Certainly not the Chronicle. Right now, for instance, there is a commercial printing job that is generated by Chrysler waiting to be processed.

Since the company has asked for taxpayers' help I've been trying to figure out how I would react if I were in a position of authority.

What separates Chrysler from the hundreds of other companies that go belly up every year? Its size. That shouldn't make any difference ideally, but practically it does. It does.

That Detroit and Michigan will be hard hit temporarily is sure.

But from what I read maybe quick amputation will be better in the long run than a long slow road to bankruptcy a few years later. There are experts who say that Chrysler's disease is terminal no matter how much transfusion of tax blood it gets.

There is another concern, too. Although the case was different it's another step in a trend.

We are bailing out the railroads at huge losses to try and maintain passenger service. We went a step farther when we came to the aid of Lockheed a few years ago. Now the Chrysler proposal comes along. It's bigger and it's marching faster along the same road.

England tried that, I read, and today is desperately trying to get out of the weight of carrying ailing companies that are draining the public coffers.

Chrysler says that the government should be willing to save the company and the jobs because it was government regulations that placed them in the bind they find themselves.

It's the same regulations that faced Ford and General Motors. But Chrysler didn't have the sales to spread the cost against like their bigger brethren and was hurt more.

Still the company's market penetration has steadily fallen in recent years and without a turn-around in sales some expert observers feel that there's no hope.

I read that there is a good deal of sentiment for "one-time" aid to the auto company in the form of guaranteed loans.

I wouldn't vote against a representative of mine that took that stance. I wouldn't vote him out of office, either, if he voted no aid at all.

I guess that if I were in charge I'd vote against public money for private companies.

But I wouldn't be at all sure I was doing the right thing.

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Does anyone have a driver's license older than Louis Franks? The Cemetery Road resident, 67, has his original license, now framed, dated Oct. 30, 1925.

The first car he drove was (what else) his parents' Model T Ford.

You don't have to be a classical music buff to appreciate the reason that Don Th. Jaeger is bringing artists to Cass City over Thanksgiving week end for a Bach Festival.

Jaeger has been involved in programs here four times, and has always been impressed with the pleasant friendly people and the warm atmosphere he has encountered, say festival sponsors.

In other words Cass City is a fine place to visit (and to live).

But, then, we already knew that, didn't we?

The Chamber of Commerce is trying an interesting experiment with the "family picnic" Sunday. It's one of those simple ideas that just could go over big.

Even if it flops there has been little lost . . . just a little money that the band costs.

If it works it could be a continuing thing that should help bring the community a little closer together.

For a quarter of a century now the Haire dental needs have been handled by Dr. D.E. Rawson. Thirty-five years ago a dentist in service told me I'd have false teeth in 10 years. I don't, due to proper care. That's background for this.

My elder daughter, Lynn, became covered by a dental plan. She came home recently all shook because she was told that she had 17 cavities.

My wife mentioned this to Rawson and he asked that Lynn come in for X-rays and examination. He found two cavities and suggested a third opinion.

Lynn followed the advice and the third dentist found five cavities. There's room here for an honest difference, I'm told, depending on the criteria used to say what is and what is not a cavity.

How long will it be before dental insurance costs rise out of sight the way health insurance has?

67 attend Echo chapter meeting

Sixty-seven persons attended the Sept. 12 regular meeting of Echo Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

Following the formal opening, the charter was draped in memory of Burton Roth.

After the meeting closed, Lois Binder gave a memorial for four members who had died during the year. They were Mary Spencer, Beatrice McLachlan, Mildred Fleming and Burton Roth.

Invitations were read for the reception of Edna Bills, Grand Committee person from Kedron Chapter, for Sept. 13, and the installation of DeMolay at Caro Sept. 15. Also, a "Friend Night" at Ubyl Miriam Chapter at Ubyl Sept. 17.

Those attending the Bills reception were Virginia Hartwick, Ruth Whittaker, Shirley Karr, Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mellendorf and Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson.

Those attending the DeMolay installation were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hartwick, Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Umpfenbach, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mellendorf and Mrs. Anton Peters.

At the close of the evening, lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. William Profit and their committee.

40 miles per gallon

McMahan's midget a sunny day car

If Brian McMahan had another car like his present one, he could use them for roller skates.

His 1960 Austin-Healey Sprite, affectionately known as the Bugeye, isn't really that small, but at 1,460 pounds and less than 11½ feet in length, it definitely is minuscule.

It also is economical, averaging about 40 miles per gallon in highway travel. Top speed is about 70.

The British-built car got the nickname "Bugeye" because its headlights are perched almost on top of the hood, giving it the appearance from the front of an insect—a cute one or an ugly one, depending on one's point of view.

McMahan, 22, bought his six years ago, when he was a student at Pinconning High School.

He bought it and another one from the same man in Pinconning for $600 total. The person had a 1959, which was restored, then was in a wreck. McMahan bought it for parts, needed because the 1960 ran very poorly.

In fact, when he took possession of the one that ran, he and two friends pushed it 1½ miles to his house.

He got the car running right but its debut was somewhat inauspicious.

He and a friend got in and went for a spin to try it out. But the clamp holding the steering wheel to the column came loose. The unsteerable car went under a fence and came within 40 feet of going underwater.

After high school, McMahan worked at auto parts stores and machine shops until about a year ago, when he became part-owner of McMahan Auto Parts on Main Street, Cass City.

THE CAR HAD BEEN IN storage for about three years in Pinconning when he took it out of mothballs this summer in order to accompany some friends on a trip to the Mackinac Bridge.

He did some mechanical work on it to get it ready.

Despite being in the auto parts business, getting parts for the car isn't the same as calling a distributor to get a carburetor for a Chevrolet.

The Bugeye needed a new fuel pump for the trip, but the car has a positive ground electrical system. Most cars have a negative system. It's possible to get a positive ground fuel pump for a Sprite, but not in the time he had available, so on a temporary basis, he installed a second battery to run a negative ground fuel pump.

On the first day of his trip, he had to stop 10 times, mainly because of fuel system problems related to the pump. After he got them ironed out, he had no further trouble.

Although it is possible to get parts, they tend to be expensive. The car needs four new brake cylinders, which will cost him a total of about $150. On a conventional American car, they would cost about $36 total.

McMahan describes his little machine as a "kind of a sunny day car." There is a top, but with it up, the car is only four feet tall. McMahan is 6-1, so getting into it takes some contortions.

He had to make one modification to the car because of his size. The steering wheel was so big he couldn't get his knees underneath, so he installed a smaller one.

THE SPRITE WAS DESIGNED by the manufacturer, British Leyland, to be a very inexpensive sports car, which explains why the headlights are where they are. To meet legal requirements, they had to be a certain distance above the road (when on), but to make them retractable when not lit would have been too costly.

Also to save money, the car has no trunk lid. The seat backs fold forward in order to squeeze luggage into the trunk.

The Mark I Sprites, such as McMahan owns, were produced from 1958-61, during which time 49,615 were produced, according to the August issue of Special Interest Autos magazine. (There have been continually updated versions produced by British Leyland since then, the present one being the MG Midget.)

A good percentage of the Mark I's were imported into the U.S. Price was $1,795 port of entry.

Not too many are left. In addition to normal attrition, they were prone to rust (McMahan had to repair rust on his around the rear wheel wells and the wheel openings of the lift-up front end), plus many were wrecked on race tracks. The Sprite was a cheap way for novice road racers to get started in the sport, but being novices, many drivers crashed.

Also, many Sprites were modified with parts from later models, which make original models like McMahan's even rarer.

"It's fun," he says, driving the little car. "It doesn't have much get-up-and-go, but it sure comes good."

SMILING CAR — The grill and headlamps of Brian McMahan's 1960 Austin-Healey Sprite give it a happy look. Its owner describes it as a fun car to drive.

Rule change could speed action on legislation

By Warren M. Hoyt
Mich. Press Association

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley gave the green light to a proposed rule which could speed up the legislative process by guaranteeing committees take action on bills within 60 days.

The amendment to the Senate rules — governing principles under which the chamber operates — would require committee chairmen to take some action on each piece of legislation referred to that committee.

The proposed rule change is just another in a long string authored by Senate Majority Leader William Faust of Westland who has dedicated his leadership to giving the body more credibility and make the process more open to the public and the press.

Faust had asked the attorney general whether the proposed rule would be constitutional.

Not only would such a rule be allowed, but Kelley added such a rule could be suspended bringing legislation before the entire Senate for consideration prior to the 60-day limitation.

Kelley limited the separate houses of the Legislature have sole control over its operating rules.

The only restriction on the rules is a prohibition against any rule that would prevent legislators from discharging a bill from committee.

Faust sought the opinion before taking the rule change to the Senate to head off any questions of constitutionality. The rule would prohibit committee chairmen from "sitting" on legislation because of their personal feelings.

Historically, committee chairmen have been able to hold up legislation indefinitely or until they could get favorable action in another committee on their own pet pieces of legislation.

The rule change would guarantee that every piece of legislation with merit would be taken before the full Senate for full debate and a vote.

OPEN WIDE — The whole front end of the Sprite lifts up, thus providing easy access to its four-cylinder, 48 horsepower engine.

Seek check tax for added funds

When you put 148 heads together — the number of members in the Michigan Legislature — and there is a need to find new sources of funds, you never know what may be the subject of taxes.

The latest effort by Rep. George Montgomery (D-Detroit), chairman of the House Taxation Committee, is a tax on negotiated instruments.

Hearings are scheduled on a bill establishing a 10 cent tax on all negotiable instruments presented for payment.

The proposed tax could raise a potential $50 to $150 million per year. Montgomery says the money could be a means of financing home heating assistance and help stave off the need for budget cuts.

Scott Heron finishes Navy course

Navy Fire Control Technician Seaman Scott M. Heron, son of Floyd J. Heron Jr. of 3435 Washington Street, Kingston, has graduated from Fire Control Technician School.

During the 23-week course at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., he received instruction on the electronic weapons systems installed aboard U.S. warships. He studied the operating principles and procedures of radar, digital computers and related shipboard equipment used to control the firing of guns, missiles and torpedoes.

A 1978 graduate of Coloma High School, he joined the Navy in December, 1978.

PEDALING AROUND

Teddy-mania

By Mike Eliasohn

There is one nice thing to be said about hurricanes, inflation, the energy shortages and continuing problems between Israel and the Arabs. It gives the television network news departments something to report about in addition to Teddy Kennedy.

It seems impossible of late to turn on the TV news without hearing something about the senator from Massachusetts.

"Sen. Kennedy seemed less definite about not running for President in his latest statement to the press."

"A poll of state Democratic chairmen showed increasing support for Sen. Kennedy."

"A poll of labor leaders showed declining support for President Carter; increasing support for Sen. Kennedy."

"The latest Gallup poll of a cross-section of Americans showed..."

When they can't find something to say about the senator, they find another Kennedy to talk about. Pity the poor Kennedy cousin, David Kennedy, who is an apparent drug addict. He's the world's first junkie with his own "family spokesman."

ENOUGH! Jimmy Carter can't be called a great President, but few of his predecessors held that title either.

Based on what John F. Kennedy did during his relatively short time in office, he certainly can't be called "great." As a matter of fact, I recall one of his biggest problems was in trying to get legislation he wanted through Congress. Sound familiar?

Supporters of Teddy Kennedy are trying to bring back "Camelot." Unfortunately, those days are gone forever.

President John F. Kennedy didn't have to deal with an energy shortage or runaway inflation, part of the cause of which is the ever increasing cost of energy.

There is no reason to think that if his youngest brother is President, he will have any better luck at dealing with those problems than President Carter.

The only thing that is likely is that if Teddy becomes President, his "pet," national health insurance, will become reality - at a cost of $30 billion a year, or something like that.

Anyone who thinks that we can have cradle-to-grave health insurance, yet lower the cost of medicine - as does Sen. Kennedy - is, to put it mildly, naive.

One reason why Kennedy comes across so good - which the networks conveniently seem to ignore - is because he doesn't have to worry about running the country.

I'm sure everyone who watches the Detroit Lions on television can do a better job of coaching than Monte Clark, but they're not in his shoes.

No wonder President Carter can't do a better job. If he tries to get legislation through Congress, the Congressmen are all thinking, "If Kennedy were President..."

If Carter holds a press conference, all our national Washington Press corps can think to ask about is Teddy Kennedy.

Even if Carter is less than a knight in shining armor, I think his fellow (turncoat) Democrats are worrying needlessly about his not being able to get re-elected.

The Republicans, not suffering from an overabundance of intelligence, will no doubt do something stupid like nominating Ronald Reagan for president - slightly to the right of Darth Vader, to steal a line from Johnny Carson - or the Texas oil industry's gift to the nation, John Connally.

The American people, not being stupid, aren't likely to elect either one to the White House, no matter which Democrat runs.

Mrs. Boyne appointed to 4-H council

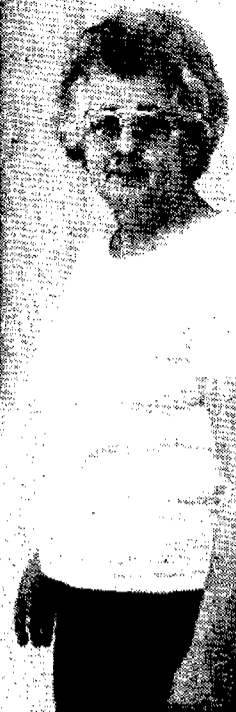

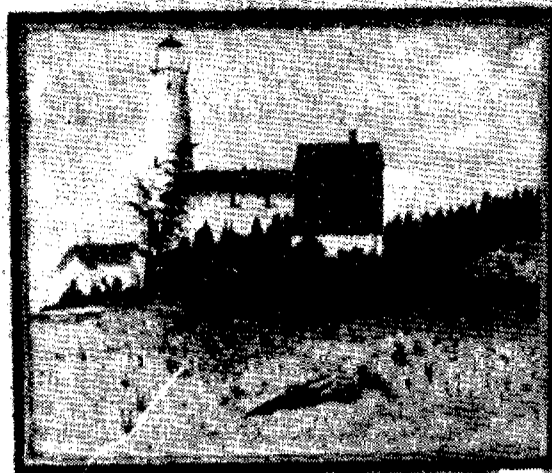

Tuscola county 4-H leader Margaret Boyne of rural Mariette will join more than 40 other members of the state 4-H Youth Advisory Council for the group's meeting Sept. 28-29.

The meeting, to be attended by adult and teen volunteer leaders from throughout the state, will be at Kettunen Center, the Michigan 4-H leadership training facility near Tustin.

Mrs. Boyne was nominated by the Tuscola County 4-H Council and will represent Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties.

Elected for a three-year term, she will be responsible for recommending format, policy and program changes to members of the state 4-H staff.

Greasing the threads on glue and nail polish bottles will keep them from getting stuck.

ANN MASTERS AND TWO OF HER PAINTINGS.

Ann Masters' art works on display

The works of artist Ann Masters are now on display at Rawson Memorial Library until mid-October.

An open house by the sponsoring Cass City Arts Council to enable the public to meet the artist and view her works will be held at the library Sunday from 6-8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

The display, which opened Monday, can be viewed during library hours from 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m., Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, plus 7-9 p.m. on Mondays and Fridays.

Mrs. Masters, 56, and her husband, Willard, and daughter Debra Lee, divide their time between their home in Warren and a mobile home on Hadley Road, Decker.

Masters is retired and the couple is looking for a place in this area to live permanently. They also have a daughter who lives in Leamington, Ont., and a son who lives in Roseville.

When her children were still in school, Mrs. Masters began her artistic career with cake decorating lessons.

She began studying photograph coloring in 1966 and three years later began learning oil painting. She still does photo coloring and restoring.

Ever trying new things, two years ago she began sculpting. Her next goal is to learn bronze casting of her sculptures.

In fall, 1976, she began taking classes at Macomb Community College with the eventual aim of getting a bachelor's degree in art. She has now completed her course work there and may take night classes elsewhere this fall.

Mrs. Masters likes to paint landscapes, usually done from photographs she has taken. Though not all her paintings are large, many are. "I like big things," she explained. "Maybe because it's because I'm from the city."

"I like to express myself, so if it's big, people can enjoy it more."

The largest painting on display is one of Niagara Falls, almost 3-by-4 feet. It won a special achievement award at the Warren Society of Arts Prestige Show and an honorable mention from the Scarab Club, a Detroit artists' club of which she is a member. She also belongs to the Fraser Fine Arts Association and Warren Society of Arts.

In addition to her landscapes, also on display at the library are some still lifes, floral paintings, human figures, some sculpture, including a large one called "Fantasy," and her chair.

The chair isn't designed for sitting. Instead there is a light underneath where one's posterior would go. If put in a dark corner, the chair light casts an interesting pattern on the walls.

Mrs. Masters has sold many of her works. One she didn't sell was the chair, which one of her art instructors wanted to buy.

Property transfer hearing set

The Tuscola and Huron Intermediate School Districts Boards of Education will hold a joint hearing Monday on requested transfer of property from the Cass City to the Ugly School District.

The property in question is 10 acres in Section 13 of Greenleaf township along Bad Axe Road, near Holbrook Road. Owners are Ronald and Roxeen Peruski, who live there and whose five children presently attend the Ugly schools as tuition students.

The family previously lived in the Ugly district and moved to a new home on the property, which is in the Cass City district.

The hearing will be at 8:30 p.m. at Cass City High School, tentatively scheduled in Room 103.

Doing right might be more appealing if it were wrong.

Gen. Cable biggest taxpayer

General Cable is Cass City's biggest taxpayer.

An examination of copies of tax bills sent out this summer showed the firm paid $15,449 in village taxes. That's for real and personal property taxes combined for general village operations (13 mills) and the new sewage plant millage (2½ mills).

The second largest was Walbro Corp., $9,982, followed by Provincial House, $6,694.

The rest of the top 10 taxpayers are: Wickes Agriculture, $4,214; Detroit Edison, $4,016; Donald Smith (Hillside Apartments, which his construction firm manages but doesn't own), $3,720; Charmont Lanes, $3,519; Marshall Distributing, $2,562; Thomas Heron, $2,531, and Cass City State Bank, $2,309.

The total paid by the 10 top taxpayers is $54,996, out of $249,615 the village will collect from all taxpayers.

Severing cuts long distance phone service

Cass City was without long distance telephone service last Thursday from about 10:30-2:50 p.m.

Cause of the outage, according to Bob Stevens, General Telephone area customer services manager, was a severed underground toll cable to Saginaw that carries all long distance telephone service.

The accidental severing was apparently done by County Road Commission crews. The mishap took place along Hoppe Road, south of Gageton.

It was the second time in less than a month that long-distance phone service was cut off in Cass City.

The previous time was during part of Aug. 27 and 28 when a train derailment in the Reese-Gera area damaged an above-ground cable to Saginaw, which eliminated long-distance service in much of the upper Thumb.

Your Neighbor says

Let girls play sports

with boys when young

Ann Meyers made big news of late when she was drafted by the Indiana Pacers of the National Basketball Association.

The nation's top woman basketball player didn't last long playing with the men, however. She didn't make it past the first cut of players during preseason tryouts.

Eleven-year-old Lynn Warren didn't get quite as much attention. She was one of the better players in the Virginia Beach, Va., city football league but the parks and recreation director didn't approve of girls playing with boys and barred her from further competition.

Her mother may sue on the grounds of sex discrimination.

Should girls -- or women -- be allowed to participate in sports with members of the opposite sex?

"I think girls should be allowed to play," said Dolly Ann Sigafosse. "I think they're just as good as boys."

However, by the time they reach high school age, "I believe girls should be on their teams by themselves." By that age, she said, in essence, boys will be boys and girls will be girls.

On a professional level, she believes that if a woman is capable of playing with men, she should be allowed to do so.

Miss Sigafosse is a housekeeper in several homes and janitor at the First Baptist church. She lives at 4319 S. Seeger Street.

Mini-college day Oct. 13 in Cass City

The Cooperative Extension Service and Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers are co-sponsoring a mini-college day Saturday, Oct. 13, at Cass City High School from 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. The $4 registration fee also includes a luncheon.

A variety of classes and exhibits will be available. Two of the classes being offered are of special interest to families.

Trooper Ronald K. Schneider of the Caro State Police Post will be teaching a class on Self Protection Skills For Women. "How safe are shopping malls? Purse snatchers? How to prevent the need to use self protection."

The second class, "Child Abuse Cycle," will be taught by Robert Miles from the Lutheran Childrens Friends Society in Bay City.

Reservations are available through the Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Service.

Grain storage

By William Bortel

As farmers are moving grain into storage, proper practices can result in minimal loss of grain and maximal profit.

The main concerns to remember are proper temperature, clean, dry grain, sanitation, and good aeration.

Before harvest begins, the bin and grain handling equipment must be cleaned thoroughly. The false bottom should be taken out and cleaned along with the sides and floors. The bin should be sprayed with a sanitizing spray such as malathion or pyrethrin. A clean bin means no insects.

The grain used in storage must be clean and sound with minimal broken pieces. Any grain that will be held long term should be treated with malathion or pyrethrin as it is stored to protect against insects.

Part of good storage depends upon proper temperature of the grain. Grain temperature should be held within 10 degrees of the average outdoor temperature.

Grain should be cooled to 50 to 60 degrees after harvest or drying. When temperatures drop in late fall, cool the grain to 30 to 40 degrees. Grain stored in a non-aerated structure must be cooled to 35 to 40 degrees at harvest time. This may mean not filling the storage until late fall.

Proper airflow in the storage bin will help establish uniform moisture and temperature throughout the grain. Farm stored grains need an airflow of 1/10 to 1/5 cubic feet per minute per bushel (cfm-bu). Adequate airflow for clean, dry grain is around 1.10 cfm-bu. Poor quality grains and grains with higher than recommended moistures need an airflow of 1/5 cfm-bu. It takes a fan operating at 1/10 cfm-bu. five to eight days to cool grain.

Grain temperatures should be monitored by holding a good thermometer in the fan exhaust. Temperature change will be complete when the exhaust temperature is nearly equal to the outside temperature. Mold growth can occur if the grain is not properly aerated.

It is important not to overfill the storage bins as it can hinder air circulation. Fill the bins only to the top of the side supports.

Grain should be below 16 percent moisture to avoid mold. Check the storage every week or so. Smell for off-odors. Climb to the top of the bin and check for crustings with a rod or grain probe. Feel around for any hot spots. Trouble spots are likely to be one to three feet beneath the surface.

In the case of insect problems in the grain, shovel out the infested material and treat the surface. If there are hot spots in the grain, maybe the result of molds and/or insects, either move the grain out or use a fumigant to kill the insects. A person must be certified to purchase and apply these chemicals, so it is best to have an expert do the job.

Keeping the area around the storage bins free from debris and weeds can help deter insects and rodents from grain.

If you must enter the bins, always use a rope and safety harness and have two men standing by to help you. Wear a dust mask if grain is moldy or dusty. Never enter a bin of flowing grain.

Fall color tour map available

Michigan's forestland areas are just about to change their colors from green to brilliant.

To help guide travelers in eastern Michigan this year, the East Michigan Tourist Association has produced a colorful map with five recommended color tours. They include all of the 26 counties encompassing the central and eastern portions of the state north of Flint and Lansing.

The tours are easy to follow on freeways, major U.S. and state trunklines and numbered county roads. Many of the popular tourist towns are included on the tour maps affording accommodations, restaurants, attractions and shopping opportunities.

One, two and three-day trips are listed.

The full color guide is available without charge by writing to: Color Tour Guide, EMTA Log Office, Bay City, MI. 48706, or by calling Toll free in the 517 area, 1-800-322-4825. Call 895-8823 from outside the 517 area.

Meredith Auten remembers

In 1924 we celebrated the completion of the pavement on Main Street.

We wished to get some entertainment for the occasion and conferred with Barney Ransford of Caro who was responsible for various acts for the State Fair.

He told me he would get us one of the best, a hunchback by the name of Prince Nelson, for $1,500. But in as much as Prince Nelson was not slated anywhere else at that time, he would come to us for $150.

He stretched a rope from the New Sheridan Building to the building which is now the Gamble's store and proceeded to give an exhibition that would curl your hair.

It was a windy day and I told him we would pay him even if he didn't go out on the tight rope. He told me to feel his leg. It was so hard, it was uncanny.

He went out on the rope to the tune of "How Dry I Am" with hoops around his legs and pretending to be inebriated. He took a chair out, balanced it on the rope, and climbed up on top of it. I personally couldn't watch. I expected him to fall any moment.

We made hundreds of sandwiches which were given out free to the public. We also furnished ice cream cones. I recall Dr. Donahue having worked scooping it up until his hands were blistered and bleeding. I don't think any of the blood got on the cones but it very well might have.

Roy Crosby had the store now occupied by the Pinney State Bank. He was not especially known as a connoisseur of music, but we envied him going to Detroit to hear Paderewski, the greatest pianist of his day.

When asked how he enjoyed it, Crosby said it wasn't so much. At first Paderewski played so softly you couldn't hear him, then he went at it and pounded hell out of the piano.

Criminal complaints total 662

The Tuscola County Sheriff's Department in August received 662 criminal complaints, compared to 695 in July.

The greatest number, 179, involved traffic (accidents, violations, etc.), followed by larcenies, 102, vandalism, 70, domestic problems, 56, and disorderly conduct or vagrancy, 50.

Deputies issued 242 traffic tickets during the month, including 135 for speeding and 22 for operators' license violations.

There were 25 appearance tickets issued, of which 10 were for transporting open intoxicants in a motor vehicle.

Deputies arrested 53 persons in August, including 18 for traffic violations and seven for liquor law violations.

Patrol cars were driven 37,324.1 miles during the month and consumed 3,087 gallons of gasoline (12.08 miles per gallon).

The county jail took in 151 inmates, of whom 13 were females, and released 154.

Cass City police arrested 10 persons during the month, four for traffic offenses, two each for disturbing the peace and fraudulent activity and one each for liquor law violation and forgery.

Caro state police made 29 arrests, including 11 for traffic offenses and seven for liquor law violations.

Kingston police arrested one person for a traffic offense.

The number of complaints (criminal, emergencies, etc.) received from and accidents in area townships respectively were: Columbia, 17 and 2; Elkland, 61 and 2; Ellington, 8 and 3; Elmwood, 6 and 0; Kingston, 15 and 4, and Novesta, 28 and 2.

Brood over your problems and you'll really hatch trouble.

Scott Brady ends Marine recruit camp

Marine Pvt. Scott R. Brady, son of Earl L. and Shirley Sockow of 3685 E. Caro Road, Cass City, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

Scott Brady

During the 10½-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill.

He joined the Marine Corps in May.

Thompson takes phone course

Greg Thompson, switchperson for General Telephone in Cass City, recently completed a 15-day course at the company's training center in Muskegon, according to Bob Kowalski, northeastern division manager for the company.

The course teaches the student to test, align and repair "carrier" equipment associated with both long distance and local service. "Carrier systems" provide the means for simultaneously transmitting more than one message over a single channel.

Thompson, a 14-year employee, lives on Brenda Drive. He is the son of Bruce Thompson of Cass City.

Altar society plans bazaar projects

St. Michael's Altar Society met Sept. 10 with 14 members present. Mary Sabo opened with a prayer.

Crafts were brought in and shown for bazaar projects. Karen Havens showed how to do macramé. Some are going strong on their projects. There will also be another afghan raffled this year.

The group was reminded that the Red Cross nursing course is beginning Sept. 12.

Mary reported on the teacher's conference in Bay City and also read an article on preparing children for the world.

The bake sale will be in October.

THE PEOPLE OF THE COUNTY OF TUSCOLA, MICHIGAN, DO ORDAIN:

ARTICLE I PURPOSE

Deeming it advisable in the interest of protecting the public health, safety, convenience and welfare and to provide for the orderly and uniform administration of the dog licensing provisions of the State of Michigan and in Particular Act 339 of the Public Acts of 1919, as amended, being Sections 287.261-287.293 of the Compiled Laws of 1948, (MSA Sections 12.511-12.543), and to create the position of Animal Control Officer and define his duties, authority and responsibilities, and to regulate and control the conduct, keeping and care of dogs and certain other animals, livestock and poultry; the County of Tuscola, Michigan does hereby adopt the following Ordinance:

ARTICLE II DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of this Ordinance, the following terms shall have the following meanings, respectively, designated for each:

(a) ANIMALS. Unless otherwise stated, the word "Animal" as used in this Ordinance shall include birds, fish, mammals and reptiles;

(b) LIVESTOCK means horses, stallions, colts, geldings, mares, sheep, rams, lambs, bulls, bullocks, steers, heifers, cows, calves, mules, jacks, jennets, burros, goats, kids, hogs, swine, and furbearing animals being raised in captivity.

(c) POULTRY means all domestic fowl, ornamental birds, and game birds possessed or being reared under authority of a breeder's license pursuant to Act 191 of the Public Acts of 1929, as amended, being Sections 317.71 to 317.85 of the Compiled Laws of 1948 (MSA Sections 12.1271-12.1285).

(d) POLICE OFFICER means any person employed or elected by the people of the State of Michigan, or by any city, village, county or township whose duty it is to preserve peace or to make arrest or to enforce the law, and includes game, fish and forest fire wardens and members of the State Police and Conservation Officers.

(e) ANIMAL CONTROL OFFICER means any person employed by the county for the purpose of enforcing this Ordinance or state statutes pertaining to dogs or other animals as well as persons or deputies employed by the county to act in the Animal Control Division.

(f) OWNER. The term "owner" and "persons owning premises" shall mean both the owner of title of record and those occupying or in possession of any property or premise.

(g) The term "owner" when applied to the proprietorship of an animal means every person having a right of property in the animal, an authorized agent of the owner, and every person who keeps or harbors the animal or has it in his care, custody or control, and every person who permits the animal to remain on or about the premise occupied by him.

(h) PERSON. The word "person" shall include state and local officers or employees, individuals, corporations, partnerships and associations.

(i) "KENNEL." The term "kennel" shall mean any establishment wherein or whereon dogs are kept for the purpose of breeding, sale, or sporting purposes.

(j) RABIES SUSPECT ANIMAL. The term "rabies suspect animal" shall mean any animal which has bitten a human, or any animal which has been in contact with or been bitten by a rabid animal, or any animal which shows symptoms suggestive of rabies.

(k) POUNDMASTER. CHIEF, ANIMAL CONTROL SERVICES; DOG WARDEN; DOG CATCHER. The terms "Poundmaster", "Chief, Animal Control Services", "Dog Warden" or "Dog Catcher" are synonymous with "Animal Control Officer" and shall include the deputies of such person.

(l) DAY shall mean working days, Monday thru Friday. It shall not include weekends or holidays.

(m) BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS shall mean the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners. TREASURER shall mean the Tuscola County Treasurer.

(n) NON-AGRICULTURAL AREA shall mean any area zoned by a city, village, township or other governmental body, agency or commission as other than for agricultural purposes.

(o) CRUELTY shall mean intentionally or knowingly, torturing or seriously overworking an animal, failing unreasonably to provide necessary food, care or shelter for an animal; unreasonably abandoning an animal in his custody; transporting or confining an animal in a cruel manner; killing, injuring or administering poison to an animal belonging to another without legal authority or the owner's effective consent; or causing one animal to fight with another.

(p) HUNTING means allowing a dog to range freely within sight or sound of its owner while in the course of hunting legal game or an unprotected animal.

(q) ATTACK DOG is defined as a dog that has been trained by an owner or by an instructor to attack human beings.

(q) GUARD DOG is defined as a dog which is left untended at a place of business outside of business hours.

ARTICLE III

ANIMAL CONTROL OFFICER DUTIES, AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Section 1. An Animal Control Officer shall be appointed by the Board of Commissioners and shall serve as Director of the Animal Control Department. Said person shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Commissioners.

Section 2. In lieu of all fees and other remuneration under the statutes of this state, the Animal Control Officer shall be paid a salary as established and determined by appropriate resolution of the Board of Commissioners, his deputies, assistants and census takers shall receive such wages as deemed appropriate by the Board of Commissioners.

Section 3. The Animal Control Officer shall fulfill the following duties:

(a) The Animal Control Officer shall promptly seize, take up and place in the Dog Pound all dogs or other animals, livestock or poultry found running at large or being kept or harbored any place within the county contrary to the provisions of this Ordinance or the statutes of the state.

(b) The Animal Control Officer shall be properly deputized as a peace officer for the purposes of this Ordinance and shall be legally authorized to have the power and it shall be his duty to issue appearance tickets, citations or summonses to those persons owning, keeping or harboring dogs or animals contrary to the provisions of this Ordinance.

(c) The Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistant shall destroy in a humane manner, all impounded dogs or other animals which are not claimed and released between four (4) and seven (7) days after being impounded. If a dog or cat has a collar, license, or other evidence of ownership, the operator of the animal shelter shall notify the owner in writing and disposition of the animal shall not be made within 7 days from the date of mailing the notice and shall maintain a record of when the animal was acquired and under what circumstances. This record shall also indicate the date of notice sent to the owner of an animal and subsequent disposition. This section does not apply to animals which are sick or injured to the extent that the holding period would cause undue suffering, or to animals whose owners request immediate disposal, if in their judgement a dog or other animal is valuable or otherwise desirable for keeping.

(d) The Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants, may release said dog or other animal to any person who will undertake to remove said animal from the county or keep said animal within the county in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance and the statutes of the state, including compliance with licensing and vaccination requirements, upon payment of the proper charge for the care and treatment of said animal while kept in the animal shelter, or the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants, may, at the expiration of said four or seven day period, dispose of said dog or other animal as approved by the Board of Commissioners. Such regulations regarding the sale of animals from the animal shelter and boarding and other charges shall be posted in a conspicuous place at the Dog Pound. The bodies of all animals destroyed at the animal shelter or elsewhere in the county shall be disposed of by the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants, in a manner approved by the Tuscola County Health Department and the Board of Commissioners. Any animals voluntarily turned in to the animal shelter by the owners thereof for disposition, need not be kept for the minimum period of four or seven days before release or disposal of such animal is made by the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants as provided herein.

(e) The Animal Control Officer shall promptly investigate all animal bite cases involving human exposure and shall search out and attempt to discover the animal involved and shall either impound or quarantine it for examination for disease in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Ordinance and/or the statutes of the state. He shall also be obliged to seize and impound any rabies suspect animal.

(f) The Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants are hereby authorized and empowered in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance to enter upon private premises upon probable cause for the purpose of inspecting same for the purpose of determining the harboring, keeping or possessing of any dog or dogs for the specific purpose of determining if the owners of said dogs have complied with the appropriate provisions of this Ordinance and to apprehend and take with him any dogs for whom no license has been procured in accordance with this Ordinance or for any other violation hereof. The provisions of this subsection shall specifically include, but not be limited to, investigation of or seizure for cruelty to animals.

(g) The Animal Control Officer shall have the right to inspect any kennel, a license for which has been issued by the County or its authorized agents pursuant to this Ordinance and the statutes of the state, and shall have the duty to suspend said license if, conditions exist which are unhealthy or inhumane to the animals kept therein pending correction of such conditions, and further shall have the duty to revoke said license if such conditions are not corrected within a reasonable period of time.

(h) The Animal Control Officer shall have the right to investigate complaints of dogs or other animals alleged to be dangerous to persons or property and shall have the right to seize, take up and impound such animals.

(i) The Animal Control Officer shall have the right to investigate complaints of cruelty to dogs or other animals, livestock or poultry and shall have the right to seize, take up and impound any dog or other such animal, livestock or poultry which has been subject to such cruelty.

(j) The Animal Control Officer shall be responsible for the sale of licenses and the keeping of appropriate records and books of account with respect thereto.

(k) The Animal Control Officer shall submit monthly reports to each police agency and fire department found within the County, listing all attack dogs and guard dogs registered with him and containing the addresses of the premises at which said dogs are located.

(l) The Animal Control Officer shall have such other duties relating to the enforcement of this Ordinance as the Board of Commissioners may from time to time provide.

Section 4. It shall be the further duties of the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants, to enforce the provisions of this Ordinance and the statutes of the state pertaining to dogs and other animals, and he may make complaint to the appropriate District Court or other appropriate court in regard to any violation thereof.

Section 5. The Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants, shall dispose of any animal, livestock or poultry seized, taken up and/or impounded as provided for herein; in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance and/or the statutes of the state.

Section 6. All suspensions and/or revocations of licenses and all seizures for cruelty or dangerousness as provided for herein, shall be in accordance with such rules and regulations as are adopted from time to time by the Board of Commissioners.

Section 7. The Animal Control Officer may be removed from office for good cause shown after a hearing before the Board of Commissioners and after first being given reasonable notice of time, date and place of said hearing. A vote for removal or non-removal shall be by majority vote of the Board of Commissioners elect.

Section 8. All fees and monies collected by the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants as herein provided shall be accounted for and turned over to the Treasurer on or before the first of each and every month or more often if reasonably necessary under the standard practices of the Treasurer's accounting system.

ARTICLE IV LICENSING AND VACCINATION

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to own any dog six (6) months old or over, unless the dog is licensed as hereinafter provided, or to own any dog six (6) months old or over that does not at all times wear a collar with a tag approved by the Director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, attached as hereinafter provided, except when engaged in lawful hunting accompanied by its owner; or for any owner of any female dog to permit the female dog to go beyond the premises of such owner when she is in heat, unless the female dog is held properly in leash; or for any person except the owner, to remove any collar and/or license tag from a dog or for any owner to allow any dog, except working dogs such as leader dogs, farm dogs, hunting dogs, and other dogs, when accompanied by their owner, while actively engaged in activities for which such dogs are trained, to stray unless held properly in leash.

Section 2. On or before March 1 of each year, the owner of any dog six (6) months old or over, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, shall apply at the county dog pound, township treasurer or county treasurer's office, or said county treasurer's authorized agent, for a license for each dog owned or kept by him. Such application for a license shall be accompanied by proof of vaccination of the dog for rabies by a valid certificate of vaccination for rabies with a vaccine licensed by the United States Department of Agriculture, signed by an accredited veterinarian. Dogs attaining the age of six (6) months after March 1, shall have seven (7) days in which to obtain a license.

Section 3. No dog shall be exempt from the rabies vaccine requirements as herein set forth unless a registered and practicing veterinarian of the State of Michigan certifies, in writing, that such rabies vaccine would be detrimental to the health of said dog and thereafter, if the Prosecuting Attorney of Tuscola County, Michigan, shall approve the same in writing, he shall issue a certificate authorizing the owner of such dog to obtain the dog license without such rabies vaccine and such dog shall be licensed accordingly under the provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 4. The license fee for all dogs in accordance with this Ordinance shall be as follows:

(a) For all unneutered dogs of the age of six (6) months old or over on or before March 1 of each and every year hereafter, shall be the sum of four ($4.00) dollars if said license is obtained on or before March 1 of each and every year hereafter.

(b) For such unneutered dogs who attain the age of six (6) months after March 1 of each and every year, the license fee shall be the sum of four ($4.00) dollars if said license is obtained as provided in Section 2 of this Article.

(c) For all neutered dogs, so certified by an accredited veterinarian, of the age of six (6) months old or older on or before March 1 of each and every year hereafter, shall be the sum of two ($2.00) dollars if said license is obtained on or before March 1 of each and every year hereafter.

(d) For such neutered dogs who attain the age of six (6) months after March 1 of each and every year, the license fee shall be the sum of two ($2.00) dollars if said license is obtained as provided in Section 2 of this Article.

(e) For such dogs which are not licensed within the time period set forth in paragraphs a d above, the licenses will be considered delinquent, and the fee shall be $10.00 for neutered and unneutered dogs.

(f) Fees for leader dogs or dogs in training as such, are hereby waived.

(g) The dog license fee as herein established may be changed from time to time on or before November 1 of each year and for subsequent years by the rules and regulations pertaining to same as established by the Board of Commissioners.

(h) Current dog licenses issued by other counties within Michigan, and any other governmental agencies shall be honored in Tuscola County until March 1 of the following year.

Section 5. No license or license tag issued for one dog shall be transferable to another dog. Whenever the ownership or possession of any dog is permanently transferred from one person to another within the same county, the license of such dog may be likewise transferred, upon proper notice, in writing by the last registered owner, given to the Treasurer who shall note such transfer upon his records. This Ordinance does not require the procurement of a new license, or the transfer of a license already secured, where the possession of a dog is temporarily transferred for the purpose of boarding, hunting game, breeding, trial or show.

Section 6. If any dog license tag is lost, it shall be replaced without cost by the Tuscola County Treasurer upon application by the owner of the dog and upon production of such license and a sworn statement of the facts regarding the loss of such tag.

Section 7. Any person who owns, keeps or operates a kennel may, in lieu of individual licenses required under this Ordinance and under the laws of the State of Michigan, apply to the Tuscola County Treasurer for a kennel license entitling him to own, keep or operate such kennel in accordance with the applicable laws of the state and the fee for same shall be in accordance with the laws of the state or as established by the rules and regulations for licensing fees by the Board of Commissioners.

Section 8. Any person who, at any time, owns four (4) or more dogs shall on or before July 1 of the year following such ownership, obtain a kennel license from the Treasurer if the person qualifies under Act 339, Public Acts of 1919, as amended. This section shall not apply to a litter of puppies or mammals when with the mother of such, so long as said dogs or mammals are less than six (6) months of age. Failure to obtain such kennel license shall be punished as set forth in the penalty division of this Ordinance.

ARTICLE V CONFINEMENT

Section 1. Any dog or other animal kept as a pet that shall bite a person, animal or livestock shall be securely confined by the owner thereof inside an appropriate building or enclosure for a minimum period of ten (10) days following the biting of such person, animal or livestock. In the event that the owner of such animal shall fail to securely confine the animal for such period of time, the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants may take possession and custody of said animal, confine him at the Dog Pound until the expiration of said ten (10) day period and upon satisfactory evidence that said animal is not suffering from rabies may release the animal. Said confinement shall be at the expense of the owner, due to his failure or inability to securely confine said animal. Any dog or other animal running loose after biting a person, animal or livestock, and whose owner cannot be determined, shall be confined for a period of ten (10) days at the Dog Pound in accordance with the provisions of this section and thereafter disposed of in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, or such regulations as are in effect at the animal shelter.

Section 2. Every dog and other animal shall at all times between sunset and sunrise of the following day be confined upon the premises of its owner except when said dog or other animal is otherwise under the reasonable control of the owner.

ARTICLE VI DOG POUND AND IMPOUNDMENT

Section 1. All dogs found running at large shall be seized by the Animal Control Officer, his deputies, or assistants, or other peace officers, and impounded for a period of not less than four (4) days, and may thereafter be sold or disposed of in accordance with Article III of this Ordinance, if not claimed by the owner.

Section 2. When dogs are found running at large, and their ownership is known, and the owner is available, the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants, or other peace officers, shall not impound such animal, but cite the owner of such dog to appear in court to answer charges of violation of this Ordinance. If such owner is not known or available, the dog shall be impounded in compliance with Section 1 above.

Section 3. Immediately upon impounding a dog or other animal, the Animal Control officer shall make every reasonable effort to notify the owner of such dog or other animal, so impounded and inform such owner of the conditions whereby custody of such dog or other animal may be regained pursuant to the regulations for the operation of the dog pound.

Section 4. An owner may redeem a dog from the dog pound by executing a sworn statement of ownership, furnishing a license and tag as required by this Ordinance and state law, and paying the required fees posted at the dog pound.

Section 5. The Board of Commissioners shall maintain a dog pound for the purposes set forth herein.

ARTICLE VII

KILLING AND SEIZING OF DOGS AND OTHER ANIMALS

Section 1. Any person may kill any dog or other animal which he sees in the act of pursuing, attacking about to attack, or wounding any person, livestock or poultry, and there shall be no civil liability on such person in damages or otherwise, for such killing. Any dog or other animal that enters any field or enclosure which is owned or leased by a person producing livestock or poultry outside the limits of a village or incorporated city, unaccompanied by its owner or lessee of such field or other enclosure, or his agent or servant, may kill such dog or other animal while it is in the field or other enclosure without civil liability for such killing. In no event shall the provisions of this section exonerate a person from compliance with the criminal laws of this state, including, by way of example, the safe discharge of firearms.

Section 2. It shall be lawful for any person to seize any dog or other animal running at large in violation of this Ordinance and to turn said dog or other animal over to the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants.

ARTICLE VIII ENUMERATION OF CERTAIN VIOLATIONS AND PROCEDURE THEREOF

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for:

(a) Any dog of any age, licensed or unlicensed, wearing a collar or not wearing a collar, to run at large, provided, however, that a dog engaged in hunting need not be leashed when under the reasonable control of its owner.

(b) Any dog of any age, licensed or unlicensed, wearing a collar or not wearing a collar, except a leader dog accompanied by its owner, to be within the confines of any public park when such park, by appropriate designation at its entrance, prohibits dogs;

(c) Any dog at any time, licensed or unlicensed, to destroy property, real or personal, or to trespass in a damaging way on property of persons other than the owner;

(d) Any dog or other animal at any time, licensed or unlicensed, to attack or bite a person;

(e) Any dog to show vicious habits and molest passers-by when such persons are lawfully on the public highway or right of way;

(f) Any person to own any dog which, by loud and frequent barking, howling or yelping, is a nuisance in the neighborhood in which said dog is kept, possessed or harbored;

(g) Any livestock or poultry to run at large unaccompanied by its owner upon the premises of another or upon any public street, lane, alley or other public ground in the county unless otherwise specifically allowed.

(h) Any person to remove a collar or tag from any dog or other animal without the permission of its owner, or to decoy or entice any dog or other animal out of an enclosure or off the property of its owner, or to seize, molest or tease any dog or other animal while held or led by any person or while on the property of its owner.

(i) Any person to knowingly have an attack dog on or in any premises under his control without the posting of a sign which shall plainly and boldly state that an attack dog is on the premises.

(j) Any person to knowingly have an attack dog on or in any premises under his control without registering said dog and said addresses with the Animal Control Officer and paying the registration fee if any as set or amended from time to time by the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners.

(k) Any person to knowingly have a guard dog on or in any business premises under his control without the posting of a sign which shall plainly and boldly state that a guard dog is on the premises.

(l) Any person to knowingly have a guard dog on or in any business premises under his control without registering said dog and said addresses with the Animal Control Officer and paying the registration fee if any as set or amended from time to time by the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners.

Section 2. In the event of any of such violations or of a violation of any other provision of this Ordinance or of the laws of the state, the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants or other peace officer may issue an appearance ticket, citation or summons to the owner of said dog, animal, livestock or poultry, summoning them to appear before a district court or other appropriate court within the county to answer the charges made in violation of this Ordinance. The said Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants or other peace officer may sign a complaint before said court for violation of the provisions of this Ordinance, proceed to obtain the issuance of a warrant and make arrest of the person to whom said violation is charged and bring them before the court to answer the charges. The court may in such case, in its discretion, upon a finding of guilty, assess the penalties in accordance with the penalty provision of this Ordinance.

Section 3. In the event of any of such violation or of a violation of any other provision of this Ordinance or of the laws of the state, the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants or other peace officer or any other person may proceed to obtain authorization of the Prosecuting Attorney and make complaint before a district court or other appropriate court within the county and obtain the issuance of a summons similar to that provided in Act 339 of the Public Acts of 1919, being Section 287.280 of the Compiled Laws of 1948, (MSA Section 12.530), as amended, to show cause why such dog, animal, livestock or poultry should not be killed. Upon such hearing, the judge may either order the dog, animal, livestock or poultry killed, may order such dog, animal, livestock or poultry to be sold or otherwise disposed of, or may order the dog, animal, livestock or poultry confined to the premises of the owner, or may make such other order regarding the dog, animal, livestock or poultry as it deems proper and necessary under the circumstances, in addition to any of the penalties enumerated herein. This section shall in no way affect the provisions of Article III, Section 2 (c) of this Ordinance.

Section 4. Costs, as in civil cases, shall be taxed against the owner of the dog, animal, livestock or poultry and collected by the court from the person complained against upon a finding of guilty. The provisions of this paragraph shall be in the alternative to the provisions for violations set forth in the preceding paragraph and the Animal Control Officer, his deputies or assistants or other peace officer may, in his discretion, proceed under either section hereof.

ARTICLE IX PENALTY

Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than ninety (90) days or by a fine of not more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), or by both fine and imprisonment.

ARTICLE X PRESERVATION OF CERTAIN RIGHTS

Section 1. Nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed to prevent the owner of a licensed dog from recovery in an action at law from any peace officer or any other person, except as herein provided.

Section 2. Nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed as limiting the common law liability of the owner of a dog or other animal for damages committed by said dog or other animal.

ARTICLE XI TREASURER'S RECORDS AND DUTIES

Section 1. On June 15 of each year the Treasurer shall make a comparison of his records of the dogs actually licensed in the county with the report of the Animal Control Officer to determine and locate all unlicensed dogs.

Section 2. On and after June 15 of each year, every unlicensed dog, subject to license under provisions of this Ordinance or the statutes of the state, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance and the Treasurer shall immediately thereafter list all such unlicensed dogs, as shown by the returns in his office of the supervisors and assessors, and shall deliver copies of such lists to the Animal Control Officer and the Director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture as well as those officers listed and set forth in Act 339 of the Public Acts of 1919, being Section 287.277 of the Compiled Laws of 1948, (MSA Section 12.527) as amended.

Section 3. The Treasurer shall keep a record of all dog licenses and all kennel licenses issued during the year in each city and township in the county. Such record shall contain the name and address of the person to whom each license is issued. In the case of all individual licenses the record shall also state the breed, sex, age, color and markings of the dog; and in case of a kennel license, it shall state the place where the business is conducted. The record shall be a public record and open to inspection during business hours. He shall also keep an accurate record of all license fees collected by him or paid over to him by any city or township treasurer.

Section 4. In all prosecutions for violation of this Ordinance, the records of the Treasurer's Office, or lack of same, showing the name of the owner and the license number, to whom any license was issued, and the license tag affixed to the collar or harness of the dog showing a corresponding number shall be prima facie evidence of ownership or non-ownership of any dog and of issuance or non-issuance of a dog license or tag.

ARTICLE XII FEES AND EXPENSES

Section 1. Every township and city treasurer of Tuscola County, Michigan, shall receive the sum of fifteen ($15) cents for each dog license issued for the issuing and recording of same. The remuneration as herein established shall be deemed additional compensation for additional services for each township or city treasurer who receives a salary in lieu of fees, when so designated by the appropriate township, board or city council.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the Animal Control Officer annually to make a census of the number of dogs owned by all persons in Tuscola County, Michigan, in accordance with state law. The Animal Control Officer is hereby empowered to employ whatever personnel he reasonably believes necessary to conduct this census within the budget limitations provided by the Board of Commissioners; such personnel shall receive for their services in listing such dogs such sum as shall be set from time to time by the Board of Commissioners.

Section 3. The duties and obligations herein imposed upon the respective designated officials may be delegated to some other appropriate person or persons by each of said officials with like force and effect.

Section 4. The fees and expenses as established by this Ordinance may be changed from time to time on or before November 1 of each year and for subsequent years by action of the Board of Commissioners.

Section 5. All fees and expenses as herein provided for, shall be paid in accordance with Article XIII of this Ordinance.

Official Proceedings Of The TUSCOLA COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

Ordinance shall be transferred to the General Fund of Tuscola County, Michigan, in accordance with the budget line items set by the Board of Commissioners.

ARTICLE XIV CONSTRUCTION

Section 1. When not inconsistent with the context, words used in the present tense include the future. Words in the singular include the plural and words in the plural include the singular. Masculine shall include the feminine and neuter. The word "shall" is always mandatory and not merely directive. Words or terms not defined herein shall be interpreted in the manner of their common meaning. Headings shall be deemed for convenience and shall not limit the scope of any article or section of this Ordinance.

Section 2. The regulations of this code are minimum standards supplemental to the rules and regulations duly enacted by the Michigan Department of Health and to the laws of the State of Michigan relating to public health. Where any of the provisions of these regulations and the provisions of any other local or state ordinances or regulations apply, the more restrictive of any or all ordinances or regulations shall prevail.

Section 3. If any part of this Ordinance shall be held void, such part shall be deemed severable and the invalidity thereof shall not affect the remaining parts of this Ordinance.

ARTICLE XV REPEAL

All Ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

EFFECTIVE DATE OF ORDINANCE

This Ordinance shall take effect following publication of same and expiration of the sixty (60) days following approval by the Board of Commissioners and signing by the Chairman of the Board and at such time as the Governor of the State of Michigan signature is affixed whichever latter occurs.

Having disposed of Caseville Saturday afternoon, 15-8, Owen-Gage faces its first stiff test of the still early season Friday night at home against North Huron.

"North Huron was impressive from tackle to tackle against Peck," Bulldog coach Arnie Besonen said of the game the Warriors won Friday. "The Binder brothers (quarterback Mark and tailback Jon) are quick and speedy. They have to be contained on the line of scrimmage or we'll be in trouble."

The outcome of the game could decide the North Central D League title as both teams are among those favored for the top spot at the end of the season.

The Bulldogs won Saturday at Caseville despite seven turnovers, something Besonen was sure to have his team working on avoiding during practice this week.

Brad Erickson put the Bulldogs on the scoreboard first on a three-yard run with 5:37 left in the first quarter. Pete Klemkowski missed his extra point kick attempt.

With 7:37 left in the second quarter, Jeff Hallock scored on a 30-yard run. Klemkowski's extra point kick attempt was ruled no good by the referee, who some said was at the wrong angle to see it properly.

Owen-Gage then kicked off. Mike Novak grabbed the ball and ran it 75 yards for what was to be the only Eagle touchdown. Mike Kelly ran the ball over for two more points.

Final score came in the third quarter when Klemkowski kicked a 27-yard field goal for the final tally of 15-8.

Owen-Gage gained most of its yardage on the ground, 259 yards in 47 carries, compared to 25 yards on the arm of Kirk Carolan, who had three completions out of eight attempts, plus two interceptions.

Erickson led the Bulldog offense, gaining 101 yards in 18 carries. Jeff Hallock was close behind with 94 yards in 11 carries.

Jim Glidden caught two of Carolan's passes, for a total of 11 yards. Alan Haag grabbed the other, for 14 yards.

The Bulldog defense held Caseville to only 84 yards, 20 yards of which were gained on the ground in 26 carries. Mike Kelly gained 27 yards in 14 carries, which was offset by some negative yardage.

In the air, the Eagles gained 64 yards, on seven completions of 13 attempts. Three passes were intercepted, by Scott Gaeth, Haag and Hallock.

The Bulldogs fumbled five times and were penalized six times for 35 yards. Caseville fumbled twice and was penalized four times for 40 yards.

Defensive standouts for the victors were Dan Warack with 10 tackles, Erickson with nine and Kendall Howard with seven. Kevin McPhail and Gaeth grabbed the two Caseville fumbles.

Doug Kelly made 10 tackles for the losers and Mike Novak and Brian Lukasiak each had nine.

The Owen-Gage junior varsity didn't play last week.

Caro upsets Cass City, 8-6

Hatchets to test Hawks in home opener

It's out of the frying pan into the fire for Coach Don Schelke's Cass City Red Hawks Friday as they host the Bad Axe Hatchets, the fourth ranked team in the state and the defending undefeated Thumb B League champions.

The Hawks will be trying to stay in the conference race against Bad Axe after an upset loss at Caro in the league opener last Friday, 8-6.

If the Hawks are to defeat the Hatchets they must find a way of stopping Jim Howard, an all-state halfback entering his third year on the varsity.

At least as important to the Hatchet attack, Schelke feels, is guard Bob Hollin, another all-stater who is the fastest man on the team.

On the basis of the first two games Bad Axe will reign as the favorite. However, if Schelke is right, Cass City fans haven't seen the real Cass City team yet.

We were over-anxious against Caro and penalties and mistakes at critical times cost us the game, the coach said.

We need to generate more offense to win, Schelke said, because the defense did a fine job for us. Statistically the Hawks "won" the game, with total yardage of 256 to 120.

In the first quarter it looked as if neither team would score all night. The Hawks registered two first downs on passes. Caro had none and the ball changed hands six times.

All the scoring came in the second period. Caro started a drive on its own 40-yard line and moved steadily down the field on the ground all the way.

With a first and goal on the five Tim Albin cracked through center for the score.

A dive off tackle was good for the extra two points that proved to be decisive.

Cass City came charging back after that touchdown to score on a sustained drive. Key plays were two reverses for big yardage by Bob Sawdon.

The second was good for 38 yards and a first and goal on the nine.

Three plays later Rusty Hoag found Ken Martin with a pass over the middle for the marker. A pass for the extra points missed.

Caro threatened again in the third period with power football that marched for 45 yards and a first down on the Cass City seven. But the middle of the defensive line rose up and allowed just two yards in three plays.

A fourth down pass fell from the finger tips of the receiver and the Hawks took over.

Cass City mounted an attack in the fourth period. A key play to keep the drive alive was a run for 13 yards by Tim Sontag. The Hawk fullback turned an apparent loss into a gain on a broken play. After that run Cass City moved down the field to the Caro 10. But a running play got nothing and three passes fell incomplete and Cass City's last chance for victory went glimmering.

Mike Vatter again paced the defense with 24 points in Schelke's grading system. Greg Frank also had a good game and was named line-man of the week. Sawdon was named Red Hawk of the week.

A BRIGHT SPOT for Cass City was the running of Bob Sawdon. The fleet halfback scampered around his own right end on this play for a first down inside the Caro 10 as the Hawks drove for their only marker of the game.

A KEY PLAY in Caro's win over Cass City Friday was this run to the Hawk five-yard line on a fourth down play by Kent Biddinger. Caro later went in to score.

Bulldog girls begin title defense with 54-24 win

Owen-Gage started its defense of the North Central D League girls' basketball crown with an easy win at home last Thursday over Carsonville-Port Sanilac, 54-24.

All of the Bulldogs got into the game and all scored, led by Becky Howard with 15 points and Carol Goslin with 11.

Julie Andrakowicz pulled down 30 rebounds for the winners, Heidi Rockefeller grabbed 26 and Howard had 15.

Linda Dragoo and Mary Ann Willis each scored 10 points for the Tigers.

The Owen-Gage junior varsity also won, 33-9.

After playing at Akron-Fairgrove Tuesday, the Bulldogs entertain Port Hope this Thursday.

New product announced by
Walbro in Caro

New from the Walbro Automotive Products Group here is an adjustable fuel pressure regulator. By maintaining constant desired fuel p.s.i., the manufacturer reports, the unit helps conserve fuel, extends efficient carburetor life, eliminates flooding caused by high fuel pressure.

"This Walbro regulator is U.L. listed. We believe that it is unique among pressure regulators," said Victor M. Guernsey, senior vice-president, automotive products group.

The new unit is factory pre-set to maintain fuel pressure at 2½ p.s.i. However, adjustment to any rating between 2 and 5 p.s.i. is accomplished by simply turning a set screw - counterclockwise to decrease p.s.i., clockwise to increase it.

Extremely compact, the adjustable fuel pressure regulator measures just 2"x1¼"x1¼". It weighs only 3½ oz. and installs on the line between any electric or mechanical fuel pump and the carburetor.

Cass City a cattle drive away

100 years for Greenleaf township farm

Winnifred Dew McLellan remembers her father, James Dew, telling her about driving cattle on foot to market in Cass City, 10 miles away.

In warm weather, he would let his shoes hang from around his neck. When he got to town, he would put his shoes on.

Coming back home at night, he would sometimes be chased by wolves. So that they would lose his scent, he would walk on top of fence rails.

The farm that now belongs to Mrs. McLellan, which belonged to her father, and to his father before him, was recently designated an official centennial farm by the Division of Michigan History of the Michigan Department of State.

It had its beginnings as far as the Dew family is concerned on May 18, 1876, when John Dew bought 174 acres at the southeast corner of what are now Huron Line and Hadley Roads in Greenleaf township from John T. Murphy.

There already was a house, a shed and a little cleared land there.

John and his wife and son James, then 2, had come from Canada.

There were five Dew children by the time John left about 10 years later to seek his fortune in the Australian gold rush. In addition to James, there were, in order of age, Bessie, Herbert, Fred and Lucy.

Jane Dew was forced to raise her children alone and son James, at age 12, took charge of the farm. His father was never to return from Australia.

He wrote to his family in 1906 that he was finally planning to return, but shortly thereafter, he disappeared. No trace of him was ever found.

HIS WIDOW DIED A couple of years later and the farm was split between James and Fred.

For reasons that will remain within the family, Mrs. Dew gave the 88 acres to the east to Fred, which included all the buildings. He also got all the livestock. (That farm now belongs to Elwood Hacker. None of the original buildings still stand.)

James had to start from scratch on the 86 empty acres he received.

He had married Amarilla Hiltz in 1906. Their one child,

Winnifred, was born in 1909.

In addition to farming his own 86 acres, Dew also farmed the 40 acres of Andrew Tuttle across the road, Tuttle being too elderly to farm it himself.

The Dews lived in part of the Tuttle home until Winnifred was two, when the family moved into a house

James built on his own farm.

His daughter still lives in the home. A barn James built and a shed James built still stand.

JAMES DEW WAS ALSO a blacksmith and worked at his trade in Cass City during the winter months until John MacCallum opened a blacksmith shop in Old Greenleaf, at what are now M-53 and Huron Line Roads.

Dew continued to farm and worked for MacCallum whenever he had time.

His daughter remembers Old Greenleaf from when she was a child as being somewhat more substantial than it is today. In addition to the blacksmith shop, there was a store, post office and doctor's office.

There was also -- and still is -- the Fraser Presbyterian church, which John Dew helped build the year he came to the area, in 1876. Mrs. McLellan is still a member.

New Greenleaf went downhill when the railroad was built through New Greenleaf, a mile to the south of the Dew farm. There was a stockyard there, so cattle no longer had to be driven to Cass City.

Mrs. McLellan remembers as a youngster taking the train which ran through New Greenleaf from Bad Axe to go to Cass City for the day.

THE DAUGHTER OF James and Amarilla went to Greenleaf District 2 school, a mile to the south and two-thirds of a mile to the west. After finishing eighth grade there, she went to Bad Axe High School and graduated from there in 1925 at the age of 15.

She married Henry McLellan in 1943. He and his brother, Malcolm, were in the building business in Cass City.

Mrs. McLellan worked for Frutchey Bean Co., starting after high school, as a bookkeeper at its elevator in New Greenleaf. She worked for a time at the company's facilities in Cass City but retired from the New Greenleaf elevator five or six years ago.

She inherited the family farm in February, 1957, when her father died. Her mother had died in 1937.

The centennial farm home shows Henry McLellan's imprint as a builder. He completely redid the interior and added a utility room and two-car garage.

He died in November, 1967, a few years after he retired.

He and his wife had one son, James, an artist and musician, who lives at home with his mother.

The farmland, which is in pasture, is rented to Elwood Hacker.

CENTENNIAL FARM owner Winnifred Dew McLellan and her son, James Cameron McLellan. The farm is in Greenleaf township, Sanilac county.

NOW 68 YEARS OLD, this is the house James Dew built for his wife and daughter. Greatly enlarged and modernized since then, his daughter, Winnifred Dew McLellan, still lives there with her son, James.

Last of three sentenced for robbery attempt

The last of three men involved in a Jan. 7 robbery attempt at the Shay Lake Grocery was sentenced Monday by Circuit Judge Martin E. Clements.

Donald A. Miller, 19, of Clifford, was placed on two years' probation for conspiracy to commit simple assault, a charge to which he pleaded guilty Aug. 6.

He was also sentenced to 60 days in the county jail with credit given for two days served, fined $100 and assessed $200 court costs.

Miller was originally charged with armed robbery, but was allowed to plead guilty to the lesser charge in a plea bargain with the prosecution in exchange for his testimony in two companion cases.

Victor Radecki, 19, was found guilty by a jury of aiding and abetting an armed robbery and was sentenced to 2½ years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

Richard P. Johnson, 19, was found guilty by a jury of attempted armed robbery and was sentenced to 18 months-5 years at Jackson.

All three men were from Clifford.

The robbery attempt failed when the grocery owner, Hattie Stephens, pulled a revolver out of her smock pocket and fired a shot over the head of the one would-be robber who had entered the store, armed with a gun. He fled out the door.

Also Monday before Judge Clements, James F. White, 18, of 7034 Oak Road, Vassar, pleaded guilty to attempted breaking and entering.

His plea was taken under advisement and sentencing scheduled Nov. 5, if the plea is accepted. Bond was continued.

He is charged with breaking into a building at Willow Springs Golf Course in Vassar township Aug. 18.

David R. Popp, 25, of Caro, pleaded guilty to violation of probation. He was then sentenced to 90 days in the county jail, with credit given for 27 days served. After the sentence is served, he will no longer be on probation.

He was placed on three years' probation Oct. 11, 1977, for delivery of phenylhydrazine.

He was charged with violating probation by traveling out of state without the court's consent and not having reported to his probation officer since September of last year.

DISTRICT COURT

Monday before Judge Richard F. Kern:

Allen R. Dicks, 28, of Bevens Road, Deford, was fined $100, assessed $150 court costs and placed on probation for impaired driving.

He pleaded guilty to the charge Aug. 31, for which he was arrested July 10 in Indianfields township.

Keith W. Pobanz, 18, of 6787 Houghton Street, Cass City, was found guilty by the judge of failure to stop within an assured clear distance. He was then fined $17 and assessed $13 court costs.

He was ticketed on the charge April 21 in Novesta township.

David A. Graichen, 21, of 5671 Deckerville Road, Deford, was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail, fined $100 and assessed $150 court costs for impaired driving (2nd offense). Five days of the sentence were to be served immediately, with the rest deferred.

He pleaded guilty to the charge Sept. 4, for which he was arrested July 16 in Novesta township.

2 arrested for drunk driving

Cass City police made two arrests for driving under the influence of liquor.

Michael A. Turner, 18, of 7751 Bay City-Forestville Road, was arrested on the charge at 2:30 a.m. Saturday after police stopped his car on Brooker Street, near Pine.

Karl H. Weippert, 31, of 6678 Elizabeth Street, was arrested on the charge after officers stopped his pickup on Main Street, east of Brooker, at 10:20 p.m. Monday.

Both men were taken to the county jail. Both have since posted bond, pending appearance in district court.

Village police were called at 7:10 Monday morning to the intermediate school to investigate eight holes made in the glass over the north entrance to the building.

The damage was apparently done with a slingshot or pellet gun, according to Police Chief Gene Wilson, although no pellets or stones could be found.

The missiles made 1-1½ inch in diameter chip marks in the glass, although most didn't go all the way through the quarter to a half-inch thick glass.

Roland Gettel of 3453 Sixth Street, Owendale, reported to Bad Axe state police Friday that someone had slashed four tires on his vehicle. They were valued at $150.

On Wednesday of last week, someone threw a rock through his kitchen window.

Community booster

Dr. Hall likes people of area

Editor's note: this is one of a series sponsored by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce about community boosters who are members of the organization.

Dr. Richard Hall came directly to Cass City to start his practice after completing his education at Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine and an internship at Saginaw Osteopathic Hospital.

He hasn't been sorry. He has been operating his family practice here for two years now and says the acceptance and cooperation of Cass City residents has been greatly appreciated.

I hope, he adds, that I can continue serving the community as I have in the past. One of Dr. Hall's services is acting as team doctor for the Cass City High School football team.

Dr. Hall is on the staff of Hills and Dales General Hospital and is a member of the national, district and state osteopathic organization.

Helping Dr. Hall is his wife, Marjorie. She is office receptionist and billing clerk.

The couple has three children, Charles, 9; Heidi, 4, and Elizabeth, 1½.

Floyd Langenburg dies at 64

Floyd M. Langenburg, 64, formerly of Argyle, died Monday at his home in Roscommon after a lengthy illness.

He was born April 30, 1915, in Argyle township, Sanilac county, son of George and Valerie Langenburg.

He and Rita Morell were married Jan. 4, 1934, at St. Joseph Catholic church in Argyle. They lived in Highland Park and Argyle before moving to Roscommon in 1957.

Langenburg was a diesel mechanic for Earle Equipment Co. before retiring in 1975 due to ill health.

Survivors are his widow, Rita; four sons, David Langenburg, Snover, Larry Langenburg, Vassar, Thomas Langenburg, Harrison, and Richard Langenburg, Carleton; one daughter, Mrs. Ronald (Genelda) Stalzman, Snover; 16 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Others are his stepmother, Mrs. Agnes Langenburg, Harrisville; three sisters, Mrs. Edward (Joanna) McLaughlin, Merrill, Mrs. William (Valerie) Franzel, Detroit, and Mrs. Michael (Theresa) Osentoski, Farmington, and five brothers, Francis (Pat) of Indian River, William of Snover, Leigh of Black River, Charles of Argyle and Louis of Cass City.

Funeral services were scheduled at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Joseph Catholic church, Argyle, Father Gerald Kukla officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Zinger Funeral Home, Uby, handled the arrangements.

A wake service was to have been held at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at the funeral home.

Letters to the Editor

Sunday practice disappointing

Editor, Although I was not really surprised, I was disappointed to read of the Cass City School Board's decision to allow Sunday basketball practices.

Since the school has our children available six days a week, I feel strongly that our families should not be subjected to the pressures brought about by Sunday practices.

This appears to be one more attempt to further weaken the family unit. The decision is undoubtedly just a precedent to "open the way to unlimited Sunday practices." And who will be the next group to vie for that extra day?

Sincerely,
Shirley Shaw

Photographer's delay causes problems

Late arrival last Thursday of the photographer from Woltz Studio caused numerous youngsters to lose out in their scheduled appointments to have their photographs taken.

Appointments were scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. in the Elkland Township Fire Hall but the photographer didn't arrive until after 4 p.m.

Carol Rutkowski, who was hired on commission by the Des Moines, Iowa, firm to schedule the appointments, said she learned later that the photographer was late because he was arranging financing for purchase of a new van.

He didn't notify her beforehand that he would be late.

She did attempt to reschedule some of the appointments after he arrived, but didn't call everyone who missed out. "I was embarrassed," she said.

She also said she has notified the company of the photographer's failure to be here on time. The day before he took photographs in Deford and the day after in Gagetown without any problems.

Photographs of those youngsters who did have their pictures taken will be appearing in the Chronicle later as "citizens of tomorrow."

Hairdressers discuss bill

The Thumb affiliate of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association met Sept. 10.

Senate Bill No. 569, which would classify cosmetologists and barbers together under the title of grooming culturists, was discussed. The group is opposed to the proposed legislation because there are too many rules that would have to be changed.

Guest artist was Mary Anne Wilson, Bay City. She showed short shapes with waves called the "Wave Syndrome."

Jan Wietfeldt will be guest artist at the Oct. 8 meeting. All licensed cosmetologists can join the NHCA. Contact Helen's Beauty Shop, Cass City.

Seek public's input for health plans at hearings

Residents of the East Central Michigan region will be given the opportunity to help plan for the future health care needs of their communities, according to Anthony Armstrong, director for planning and data for the East Central Michigan Health Systems Agency (ECMHA).

One of four public hearings in the 14 counties served by the ECMHA on its 1980 health systems plan will be Monday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the commissioners' meeting room in the Tuscola county courthouse in Caro.

Purpose of the meetings will be to obtain public comment on the health systems and health status goals and objectives outlined in the plan.

The health systems plan is a long range plan that states those achievements desired for the improvement of the health status of the residents of the 14-county region and also as a guide for how the health system should change over time.

The plan is also expected to provide a basis for ECMHA to promote good health practices and allocate scarce health resources (money, personnel, technical assistance) to reduce documented deficiencies and inefficiencies within the existing health system and to encourage desired achievements which meet identified needs of the East Central Michigan area.

One goal of the plan is to help alleviate health care problems and to formulate and promote good health care practices within the region, based upon what the residents perceived their needs to be.

Area health concerns may include communicable diseases, chronic health problems, lack of knowledge about good health behavior, mental and emotional problems, access to health services, the quality of care and concerns about environmental health problems or potential problems.

The ECMHA serves Arenac, Bay, Clare, Gladwin, Gratiot, Huron, Iosco, Isabella, Midland, Ogemaw, Roscommon, Saginaw, Sanilac and Tuscola counties.

HEALTH TIPS

Treatment often aids hearing loss

By Frank Chappell,
American Medical Association

Are you often missing part of the general conversation in a group?

This sometimes happens to all of us. But when it occurs frequently it may indicate a hearing loss.

It may be a simple matter of impacted wax in the ear canal, which can easily be removed by your doctor. Or there may be an infection that blocks transmission of vibrations inside the ear, an infection that can be treated and cured.

Certain useful drugs, such as some antibiotics or mild pain relievers, and certain industrial chemicals also can affect hearing. Mumps and scarlet fever, a cold or sinus infection can cause temporary hearing loss.

A very loud noise or long continued noise can damage hearing. Highly amplified rock music and the roar of snowmobile engines both have been implicated.

There are some types of hearing loss that are permanent and cannot be cured. The medical ear specialist can determine by a series of tests whether loss of hearing is due to nerve damage or to interference with the transmission of sound waves to the hearing organ.

If there is an obstruction, sometimes surgery can remove it, a pamphlet from the American Medical Association points out.

Media center schedules open house

The Regional Educational Media Center and Special Educational Learning Materials Service (SELMS), 4415 S. Seeger Street, will hold an open house Saturday and Wednesday, Sept. 26.

Hours Saturday will be 9 a.m.-2 p.m.; Wednesday, 4-8 p.m.

The center provides various audio-visual equipment, films, and other media materials to teachers in all three upper Thumb counties. SELMS performs a similar function for teachers of handicapped children.

Visitors at the first ever open house will be able to see films, various displays and the audio-visual equipment owned by the center. Refreshments will be served.

Missionary conference scheduled

The annual missionary conference will be held from Sunday through Wednesday, Sept. 23-26, at First Baptist church.

Featured Sunday will be Rev. Bob Collins, secretary of foreign affairs for Latin America. He will speak at both the 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. services.

Home Missionary Larry McCauley will be the speaker at 7:30 Monday evening and the McCauley family will present special music. A phone call to the Jim Evans family in Argentina will also highlight the Monday service.

Tuesday evening's theme is "Missions in our own Back Yard", with Rev. Charles Alber of Flint. The president of Hiawatha Baptist Missions, Rev. Art Cunningham, will present a missionary challenge Wednesday night.

Special music will be featured each night. The public is welcome at all services.

New books at the library

TRAVELS WITH HENRY, by Richard Valeriani (non-fiction). An NBC-TV correspondent who has dogged Kissinger for more than half a million miles of diplomatic travels records some of the most memorable anecdotes and incidents. A polished continuity meshes Valeriani's accounts of negotiations with Israelis, Arabs, Syrians, Russians, and most difficult of all, the American press. Gossip and jokes exchanged aboard the special transport plane between the regular journalists and Kissinger are divulged in a concluding chapter. While the author obviously admires his subject, he effects an unbiased, rounded portrait of the former secretary of state in all his wit, folly and wisdom.

TINSEL, by William Goldman (fiction). Movie mogul Julian Garvey has the hottest property in Hollywood -- a screenplay based on the last days of Marilyn Monroe and he's looking for a very special actress to play the lead. Dixie Crowder, ex-TV sitcom star turned dentist's wife, Patsy Higgins, a platinum-blond groupie and one-time beauty queen, and Ginger Abraham, a retired superstar who has been living with her lesbian lover in Colorado, all think that they would be perfect for the role.

BORN WITH THE CENTURY, by William Kinsolving (fiction). Kinsolving has written a large scale, multi-generational novel about a wealthy and powerful liquor dynasty, from its founding in the early years of this century to the present. Inevitably, there is a clash, and a titanic struggle for power and supremacy over the family's vast empire. The author has structured a powerful, lusty tale, filled with unforgettable characters and situations. Real-life personalities also figure in the story: Joe Kennedy, Pius XII, Albert Anastasia, Al Capone and Franklin Roosevelt.

Funeral held Tuesday for Mrs. Jensen

Leona E. Jensen, 87, of Uby, died Saturday at Huron Memorial Hospital, Bad Axe, following a short illness.

She was born April 23, 1892 in Bingham township, daughter of Fred and Mary Jurgens.

She and Herman Jensen were married May 11, 1918 in Detroit. The couple lived in Detroit until 1940, when they moved to Uby.

He preceded her in death Sept. 14, 1965.

Mrs. Jensen was a member of the Ladies Aide of the Uby First Presbyterian church.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Laura Hagen, Uby, a Fire legal

Elkland township firemen Monday evening investigated a reported grass fire on Cedar Run Road, about a half-mile north of M-81.

Upon arrival, they found those involved had a permit for burning for agricultural purposes, so the firemen left.

The fire was reported at 8:40 p.m.

East Central Michigan
Regional Transportation Study

Public Hearings

The Michigan Department of transportation in cooperation with the East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region is conducting public hearings to discuss the current status of the East Central Michigan Transportation Study. All public hearings will be held at 8:00 p.m. on the following days at the respective places:

Monday, Oct 22, 1979 — Cass City High School, Cafe., 4886 N. Seeger Street, Cass City, MI.

Tuesday, October 23, 1979 — Grace A. Dow Memorial Library, Aud., 1710 W. St. Andrew Drive, Midland, MI.

Wednesday, October 24, 1979 — Tawas Area High School, Cafe., 255 West M-55, Tawas City, MI.

Thursday, October 25, 1979 — Mt. Pleasant High School, small gym, 1155 S. Elizabeth Street, Mt. Pleasant, MI.

The purpose of these hearings is to provide the public an opportunity to review the study findings before recommendations are formulated to correct identified transportation deficiencies.

The geographic area considered in this study corresponds to the 14-county jurisdiction of the East Central Michigan Planning and Development Commission. This area specifically includes the counties of Arenac, Bay, Clare, Gladwin, Gratiot, Huron, Iosco, Isabella, Midland, Ogemaw, Roscommon, Saginaw, Sanilac, and Tuscola.

Representatives of the department and the East Central Region will discuss the basic factors considered in developing multi-modal transportation networks that relate to the transportation needs of the region and the state. Analysis of these networks will enable the department and the public an opportunity to pursue realistic transportation improvement options.

Time will be provided for groups or individual citizens to make or submit public statements, ask questions, voice disagreement, offer support, or make suggestions concerning the study. Comments regarding this study may be submitted any time up to fifteen days after the date of the public hearings. Please send comments to:

Jack E. Morgan, Manager
Public Involvement Section
Michigan Department of Transportation
P.O. Box 30050
Lansing, MI 48909

A public hearing brochure has been prepared which contains a summary of data pertinent to the study. Copies of the brochure, entitled, "East Central Regional Transportation Study," are available at the following locations:

Arenac County: Standish Branch Library, 123 South Forest, Standish, MI.
Bay County: Bay City Branch Library, 708 Center Avenue, Bay City, MI.

Clare County: Harrison Community Library, 229 E. Beach Street, Harrison, MI.

Gladwin County: Gladwin County Library, 555 W. Cedar Avenue, Gladwin, MI.

Gratiot County: Alma Public Library, 351 N. Court Street, Alma, MI.

Huron County: Bad Axe Public Library, 200 S. Hanseman, Bad Axe, MI.

Iosco County: Tawas City Branch Library, 532 W. Lake, Tawas City, MI.

Isabella County: Mt. Pleasant Public Library, 301 S. University, Mt. Pleasant, MI.

Midland County: Grace A. Dow Memorial Library, 1710 W. St. Andrews Drive, Midland, MI.

Ogemaw County: West Branch City Library, 119 N. Fourth Street, West Branch, MI.

Roscommon County: Garish High School District Public Library, 10600 Oakwood Road, Roscommon, MI.

Saginaw County: Hoyt Library, 505 Jones Street, Saginaw, MI.

Sanilac County: Sandusky Public Library, 26 W. Speaker Street, Sandusky, MI.

Tuscola County: Indianfields Public Library, East Burnside Street, Caro, MI.

If more information regarding the study is desired, copies of a more comprehensive study report will be on display at the county planning offices or county clerk's office in each of the 14 counties within the region, the East Central Michigan Planning office in Saginaw, and the Department of Transportation District Office in Saginaw and Alpena.

In addition, information on this study, or any Michigan Department of Transportation Planning Study, may be obtained by calling toll-free 1-800-292-6576.

Open house Sunday to fete Lucile Knight

An open house will be held Sunday honoring former Cass Cityan Lucile Knight for her 25 years in the real estate business.

It will be held from 1:30-5 p.m. at G-10009 S. Saginaw, at the corner of Baldwin Street, in Grand Blanc, at Spaniola Color Photography. It will be outside, weather permitting.

The open house will be hosted by friends and customers Mr. and Mrs. James Spaniola and Mrs. Freda McBride McLaren.

"Lucile has touched the lives of so many people, not only as a realtor but going further to help in many personal problems arising from the buying and selling of homes and properties," Mrs. Spaniola wrote the Chronicle.

Lucile Knight

"In one case, a home burned and Lucile not only helped this young couple through the insurance maze but saw to it they had a place to live during reconstruction."

"In a more recent case, she provided bedding for a lady who sold out her household belongings a week early. Then Lucile and her sister drove the lady to her new home in Florida when the original driver changed plans."

Miss Knight, 66, was one of four daughters born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Knight on the family farm on Bay City-Forestville Road.

Her sisters all still live in this area: Vernita Knight, Pauline (Mrs. James A.) Milligan and Elisabeth (Mrs. W.E.) Althaus.

Miss Knight graduated from Michigan State University during the heart of the Depression and then took a sales job at the J.W. Knapp Co. department store in Lansing, jobs in her foreign language major then being practically non-existent.

She worked her way up in six months to becoming the store's personnel manager.

She left that job to become training director for the Ernest Kern Co. in Detroit.

Wayne State University was looking for a supervisor of retail education in its School of Business Administration and Miss Knight was appointed. When World War II started, she was also put in charge of all war training courses offered by the business school.

She was at the Detroit university for seven years, then left to promote a "scientific personnel program of placement, pay and promotion" developed by a professional research technician, Robert L. Howard.

Despite her efforts to sell the program to employers from New York to Texas, it didn't go over too well, so she took a job with the Office of Price Stabilization, a three-year U.S. government agency created to control prices and inflation during the Korean War.

She was in charge of contacting businessmen in the Saginaw-Flint-Lansing-Jackson-Ann Arbor-Pontiac area.

After that job ended, her former associate, Robert Howard, encouraged her to go into real estate.

She went to work for the Flint firm of Davis Realty. Three years later, she left to start her own firm, Lucile Knight Real Estate.

The realtor is "not carrying the load I once carried," she admitted in a recent interview, but "I am still active."

As for trying for 50 years in real estate, as a banker friend suggested, she said, that is "most doubtful, but it's something to work toward whether I remain in this area, move north to my home town of Cass City or go further north to my home at Sand Lake in Iosco county."

Thursday and Saturday

Community ed sign-up begins

The Cass City Community Education is busy this week registering students for its fall program which includes 11 adult high school completion classes and 40 enrichment classes, according to Kathleen O'Donnell, community education director.

Students interested in any of the programs can register Thursday, Sept. 20, at Rawson Memorial Library from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at Cass City High School.

Mrs. O'Donnell says that this year's enrichment program includes a wider choice than was available in the first year of the program in Cass City.

Among the unusual classes on the agenda are

YOU MIGHT CALL THIS a national potato grown by Mrs. A. Palazzola of Germania Road, Snover. It's an Idaho baker and has almost a perfect Michigan Thumb mitten shape. Right now it's in California where the unusual specimen was taken by Mrs. Palazzola's son.

New group aims to help rape victims

A woman in Tuscola county was raped. First, she had to tell what happened to her village police.

Then she had to tell her story to the sheriff's department.

She had to repeat it at the prosecutor's office.

She had to tell it a fourth time to the magistrate.

Only then could the man who committed the act be arrested.

Aid for the victims of sexual and spouse assault — men and women — is the aim of a newly formed group which met for the first time Sept. 11 in Caro.

The meeting of what for now is being called the Assault Crisis Center drew 36 persons, "which we thought was pretty good," said Leianne Culbert of rural Caro, one of the organizers.

A 10-member steering committee was formed, which met for the first time last Thursday to work on such matters as bylaws, recruiting more interested persons, applying for state or federal funds, checking into office space and coming up with possibly a new name for the group.

The next public meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Sacred Heart Parish Center in Caro.

For starters, Mrs. Culbert said, the group will probably make use of the Human Development Commission toll-free telephone referral service. People calling the number with problems that can be aided by the crisis center members will be referred to them.

Slightly longer range, for which a government grant is to be sought, is opening of an office where victims of assault can come to get help, to be staffed during daytime hours.

Nighttime, either a telephone would be manned or a recorded message would give the name of a volunteer to call.

There is also interest in making shelter available for victims of assault, presum-

Clio man county's 14th traffic victim

William D. Griffith, 61, of Clio, became Tuscola county's 14th traffic fatality of the year last Thursday when he was killed in an accident in Arbela township, west of Millington.

Sheriff's deputies reported he was southbound on Bray Road, south of Birch Run Road, at 7:15 p.m. when his car went off the east side of the road for no apparent reason.

The car struck a tree head-on. Griffith was pronounced dead at the scene.

Deputies said he had apparently not been drinking. As of Tuesday, the accident remained under investigation.

INJURY ACCIDENTS

Charles J. Franzel, 37, of Flannery Road, Uby, and David E. Holder, 24, of Mayville, were treated and released from Caro Community Hospital after a 12:40 p.m. accident last Thursday.

Deputies said Holder was westbound on M-46, south of Caro, and Franzel was eastbound.

Holder told officers he fell asleep and his car crossed the centerline. Franzel swerved onto the shoulder but his vehicle was clipped in the left rear by the Holder car. The latter then went into the south side ditch and rolled over, landing upside down.

Holder was ticketed on a charge of driving left of center.

Two persons were injured in an accident at 9:15 p.m. Friday in Ellington township.

Caro state police said Paul E. Trisch, 19, of Deckerville Road, Caro, was northbound on Orr Road, south of Deckerville, when, he told them, he saw a deer or dog alongside the road.

He swerved but lost control of his car, which rolled over into a ditch, landing upside down.

Trisch was taken to the Caro hospital, from which he was released the next day. His passenger, James LaJoie, 16, of Caro, was treated and released.

Trisch was ticketed by troopers on a charge of violation of the basic speed law.

Timothy A. Parsell, 27, of Elkton, was treated and released from Hills and Dales General Hospital after an accident early Sunday in Grant township.

He told Huron county deputies he was northbound on S. Elkton Road, north of McAlpine Road, when he fell asleep at the wheel.

His car crossed a ditch, knocked down a fence and traveled 100 yards through a field before striking a tree.

CAR-DEER

Tuscola deputies reported that at 2:50 a.m. Sunday, Kevin R. Lintner, 17, of Caro, was westbound on M-46, east of English Road, when his car struck a deer.

Bill aims at factory closings

A measure designed to give communities "a fighting chance" when businesses close or relocate is being readied for fall introduction by Rep. Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor), chairman of the House Labor Committee.

The bill is designed to help communities cope with the negative impact — unemployment, loss of tax revenue, health problems — a plant closing can have.

The measure will require a business to give a community notice of at least two years before closing or relocating, establish community service committees to help find ways to maintain employment and require severance pay for all employees losing their jobs as a result of the closing.

Bullard said not only does a closing effect the town economically — through unemployment, tax loss, lower retail sales — but the physical mental health of a community suffers as well.

The bill would cover only corporations that employ 100 or more people and have been in business for five years or more.

"We have to move towards the same situation in European countries where they take into account the effect that a closing can have on people," Bullard concluded.

Fiddlers to fiddle

The Original Michigan Fiddlers' Association is holding a fiddlers' jamboree and old-time square dance Saturday, Sept. 29, in Bay City.

To be held at the Bay County Fairgrounds Canteen, the jamboree will get rolling at 1 p.m. and the dance will begin at 7 p.m.

We've many, many more courses, Mrs. O'Donnell says, and urges anyone interested in any field to contact the community education office.

It's entirely possible that we may have just what you are looking for. If not, it may be of general interest and can be added to the curriculum.

AN OVERHEAD VIEW in the bean field of Keith Goslin along Bay City-Forestville Road. Once the beans are on the ground, they can't be harvested. He estimated loss at about 50-70 percent. (See story, page 1.)
