

IT WAS A BEAUTIFUL day and Cass City area folks enjoyed it listening to local musicians perform Sunday afternoon. Many came for a picnic and enjoyed the whole show. Others came for parts of the performance. Incidentally that's Athletic Director Roland Pakonen soaking in the sun and Todd Deibel's licking up an ice cream cone. "Picnic in the park" was sponsored by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce.

Accident toll climbs to 16 as 2 die in crashes

Two persons were killed in separate Tuscola county traffic accidents during the past week.

Killed Thursday was Ray Pennington, 74, of Wheelersburg, Ohio. Evelyn Ann Valiquette, 30, of Saginaw, died Sunday.

Both accidents were in Arbel township in the southwest corner of the county.

Pennington was killed in an accident at 11:20 a.m. Caro state police reported he was northbound on Belsay Road, disregarded the stop sign at Birch Run Road and his car was struck in the left side by the eastbound vehicle of John R. Jackson, 22, of Clio.

Jackson, his wife, Brenda, 22, and child Adrien, 1½, were taken to Hurley Medical Center in Flint. A hospital spokesman Tuesday reported the youngster had since been released but could find no record of the parents.

Troopers reported the deceased had a strong odor of intoxicants and that several beer cans were in his car. An autopsy at St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw, was ordered.

The accident in which Mrs. Valiquette was killed sent three other persons to the hospital.

Deputies reported that Edward M. Lorenz Jr., 18, of Vassar, was westbound on Arbel Road and struck broadside the car driven by her husband, Ralph J. Valiquette, 32, which was northbound on Genesee Road.

The accident took place at 2:30 a.m. Sunday. According to officers, the area is heavily wooded, and Valiquette didn't see Lorenz approaching. Also, there are no traffic signs at the intersection.

Mrs. Valiquette was sitting in the right front passenger seat, the side struck by the other car.

Her husband and one of two passengers in their car, Bonnie Romain, 32, of Saginaw, were reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon at St. Luke's Hospital, Saginaw.

The other passenger, Mrs. Romain's husband, Randall, 34, was reported in serious condition.

As of Tuesday, the accident was still under investigation.

Pennington and Mrs. Valiquette were the 15th and 16th persons respectively to die in Tuscola county traffic accidents this year. As of this date a year ago, 20 persons had been killed.

INJURY ACCIDENTS

Eva M. Shoemaker, 79, of E. Bevens Road, Deford, was reported in satisfactory condition Tuesday afternoon at Marlette Community Hospital, where she has been since an 11 a.m. accident Sunday.

Caro state police reported she was turning left from eastbound State Street (M-46) in Kingston onto Pine Street, but her car went off the east side of Pine.

It crossed the sidewalk, then turned, crossed the sidewalk again and struck a tree. She told officers she had no idea what happened.

Daniel J. Osowski, 22, of Bad Axe, was treated and released from Marlette hospital after a 6:55 p.m. accident Wednesday, Sept. 19.

According to deputies, he was westbound on M-46, east of Plain Road, and ran into the rear of a tractor-towed disk. Driver of the tractor was Gary D. Koehler, 45, of 3850 S. English Road, Kingston, who sought his own treatment.

Osowski told officers the sun was in his eyes and although he saw the tractor, he didn't see the disk.

Michael P. Kubiak, 33, of Caro, was treated and released from Caro Community Hospital after an accident at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Deputies reported he was southbound on Hurds Corner Road, went off the west side of the road and struck a parked car. Owner of the car was Dagmar Brown of Cass City.

Kubiak was ticketed on a charge of careless driving. Please turn to page 4.

Plans set for October sale

Plans for an "October-Fest" sale running for three weeks starting Oct. 10 were outlined at a dinner meeting of the Cass City Retail Committee.

An estimated 35 owners and employees attended the meeting at the Charming where Chairman Tom Proctor introduced speakers who explained a new organizational strategy for the committee.

Dick Jones outlined the costs of previous promotions and then estimated the cost for six promotions in the 12 months ahead.

He told the group that about $6,000 would be needed. Instead of trying to collect for every event indi-

Another hurdle for sewage plant project

The proposed Cass City wastewater treatment plant expansion project is suffering from another plugged drain.

This time, it's something called advanced waste treatment (AWT), the village council was told Tuesday evening.

The issue isn't completely new but has only recently bubbled to the surface.

AWT consists of a sand filter, the final filter effluent would go through before being emptied into the river, and something called nitrification.

The problem, village President Lambert Althaver explained, is that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), which will pay 75 percent of the estimated $6 million cost, says the AWT isn't necessary and refuses to pay for it.

The state Department of Natural Resources (DNR), which also has to approve the project and pays 5 percent of the cost, has said AWT is necessary. The plans for the facility include the added provisions.

The DNR has finally given in to the EPA and dropped its insistence on the extra treatment step.

That doesn't end the problem, however. The Michigan Water Resources Commission, though a part of the DNR, must also give its okay to dropping the AWT requirement but at its meeting last week, its members refused to do so.

This week, Althaver reported, DNR and EPA officials were to huddle in an effort to resolve the problem and then try to talk the commission into changing its mind.

However, the WRC doesn't meet again reportedly until mid-October so the village may try to get it to hold a special meeting before then in order to speed up the long delayed project.

If the problem can't be solved at that level, the village president said the aid of State Rep. Loren Armbruster and Sen. Alvin DeGroot will be solicited.

Meanwhile, another last-minute requirement for the wastewater treatment project has been completed.

Necessary information concerning an industrial cost recovery and user charge system has been completed by the village engineers, Hubbell, Roth and Clark, and submitted to the DNR and EPA. Approval is expected this week, according to village Superintendent Lou LaPonsie.

Prior to a change in the rules July 1, that information could have been prepared while the plant was under construction.

Cass City voters approved paying for the local 20 percent share of the program in March through a millage levy and constructing could have been well underway by now if it hadn't been for the delays at the state and federal levels.

SUBDIVISION

The council gave its okay to a request from Thomas and Linda Herron to annex approximately 48 acres between their Northwood Estates and Village subdivision in the northwest corner of the village to the railroad tracks to the west.

The request now goes to the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners for its approval.

The Herrons are requesting that the property be zoned multiple-family residential so that apartments can be constructed there.

If the annexation is approved, the property will become part of the village zoned R-1, single family residential, in accordance with the village zoning ordinance.

The Planning Commission will then have to recommend it be rezoned to multiple-family, after which the council must hold a public hearing on the request.

The council also gave approval for Detroit Edison to install 13 streetlights in the present Herron subdivision. The utility picks up all installation costs, including the poles and lights, but the village has to pay the light bill of $13.80 per month per pole.

OTHER ITEMS

The recommendation of the state Department of Transportation and the council's street committee was accepted to ban all street parking on Main Street between the railroad tracks and west village limits. The change takes effect as soon as the DOT puts the "no parking" signs up.

The ban will make it easier for people to turn onto Main Street in that area without having their vision blocked by parked cars. Heavy traffic there sometimes makes turns difficult.

The council voted to accept its personnel committee recommendation that for cost reasons, it put on the village payroll only two of three village employees paid up to now with federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act funds. The CETA funds expire Friday.

Those "hired" were Russell Bradley, Department of Public Works, $12,075 a year, and Lynda McIntosh, secretary, $10,015. (She is paid $20 per meeting attended additional for her duties as village clerk.)

The employee out of a job was in the DPW.

To accommodate councilman Jim Ware, who will be enrolled in an education program on Tuesday nights for the next two years, the council will now meet on the final Monday of each month at 7 p.m.

LaPonsie reported that Wickes Agriculture solicited bids to have its old elevator on Vulcan Street torn down. The bids were too high, however, so the firm is now trying to hire a local contractor.

Payment period for village taxes was extended to Oct. 10, or whenever the county treasurer calls for them. As of Sept. 20, 94.6 percent of taxes had been paid, compared to 96.3 percent a year earlier.

Final summer program reports showed 12,093 swimmers used the pool, an average of 153 per day. Totals would have been higher except for poor weather in August, when the daily average was only 83.

There was an average of about 25 youngsters per day participating in the arts and crafts program and the same number checking out recreation equipment.

For senior citizens, county

Millage requests may appear in '80

By Mike Ellasohn

Tuscola county voters may be asked to approve two special millages when they go to the polls in 1980.

The Thumb Area Commission on Aging (TACA) board of directors is considering a millage proposal for all three upper Thumb counties to support senior citizen activities.

Also, the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners has on a very informal basis talked about possibly needing a millage in order to help maintain county activities in 1981.

The TACA board at its August meeting did decide to "move in the direction" of seeking a millage, according to the agency's director, Ron Cassie.

A state law passed by the legislature a few years ago allowed county commissioners to levy up to one mill without a vote of the people for senior citizen services. That has presumably been superseded by the Headlee amendment to the state constitution approved by voters last November, which requires a public vote on all tax increases.

The amount being "kicked around" by the TACA board, according to Cassie, is one-third of a mill.

The agency's proposed 1979-80 budget totals almost $460,000, for its services and nutrition programs, of which federal funds will pay more than $311,000.

The state will kick in $38,000, donations from senior citizens will total an estimated $48,500 and each of the three counties TACA serves is being asked to contribute $20,000. That compares with $10,670 each county contributed this year.

Overall, the new budget is 23 percent less than the 1978-79 one, according to Cassie, because of the loss of federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) funds to pay some employees.

During the past year, four CETA-paid persons who left weren't replaced and three more have their last day of employment Friday.

Three CETA-paid employees plus two more who received two-thirds of their pay from that source will go on the TACA payroll.

Most severely affected by the cutback will be the outreach program to advise senior citizens and the transportation program.

A millage would allow restoration of those programs and some expansion of those and other programs.

Programs most in need of expansion, Cassie said, are transportation and home health care.

August of next year would be the latest a millage request could be approved by voters and go on December tax bills, thus revenue wouldn't start flowing in until after that.

If a millage for senior citizens goes on the ballot, supporters hope it will have the same success that such a proposal had in St. Clair county.

Voters there Sept. 11 approved a .3 mill special levy by a 2-1 margin, according to the TACA director.

TUSCOLA COUNTY

Other than in casual discussion, Tuscola county commissioners haven't given special consideration to possibly asking for a special millage yet.

"If we put any millage on (the ballot), it's hard to tell at this point," said county board Chairman Paul Nagy of Vassar.

The board won't start deliberations on the 1980 budget until October.

Although the county should have enough funds to get through next year, he indicated, 1981 is questionable in terms of the county being able to get by on its present levy of 4.2 mills. That is the lowest millage of any county in the state.

The cost of labor is the big question mark in future budgets as the county's contract with its courthouse employees, who are unionized, expires at the end of the year.

Indicative of the way salaries are going, he commented, is that whereas the $84,000 in state secondary road patrol funds received for the present year were enough to pay four sheriff's deputies, next year, that is enough for only three officers.

The commissioners might decide to only let TACA seek a special millage, he suggested, as such a proposal would likely get more sympathy from voters than a special millage for the county.

If the senior citizen millage did pass, it would

Property transfer approved

By a unanimous vote Monday evening, the Tuscola and Huron Intermediate School Districts Boards of Education approved the transfer of 10 acres of property from Cass City to the Ubyly School District.

The Ubyly School Board had supported the transfer while the Cass City board officially took no position.

The 10-acre parcel is in Section 13 of Greenleaf township along Bad Axe Road, near Holbrook Road.

The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Peruski, told the board members prior to the vote that the property is 14 miles from Cass City and only seven from Ubyly, that their children had always attended the Ubyly schools, and that they had started construction of their new house before realizing the property was in the Cass City district.

Valuation of the property for tax purposes was $951, however, that was before construction of the house began, which doesn't show yet on tax records.

The Peruskis have five children, who since they moved and prior to the transfer, were attending the Ubyly schools as tuition students.

The transfer takes effect 10 days from the date of the hearing.

Football players injured in crash

A Tuesday evening accident south of Cass City sent three Deford teenagers to the hospital.

All are members of the Cass City High School football team and were reported to be on their way home from practice.

The driver, Clayton Harmer, 16, of 1935 N. Dodge Road, and a passenger, Douglas D. Sowden, 16, of 6945 Gilford Road, Deford, were transferred from Hills and Dales General Hospital to St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw, where each was reported in fair condition Wednesday morning.

The other passenger, Robert L. Sawdon, 16, of 140 Cemetery Road, was reported in fair condition at Hills and Dales.

Caro state police reported the car was southbound on Cemetery Road, south of Severance Road, and ran off onto the right shoulder of the road.

It then veered back on the road, crossed the pavement and landed in a deep ditch on the east side of the road, where it came to rest against a culvert.

Bob Sawdon is the star halfback on the Red Hawk team and its leading ground gainer, Sowden is a starting back and Harmer is a line-man.

The accident, which took place at 6:10 p.m., remains under investigation.

"If It Fitz. . ." Courthouse is his compass

By Jim Fitzgerald

Recently the husband rejected an invitation to host a local TV talk show. The wife asked him why.

"It's going to be one of those programs with a different guest every night and listeners will phone in questions. The host will spend most of his time talking to people he doesn't know. You know I don't like to talk to strangers," he explained.

The husband's reluctance to converse with anyone he didn't go to school with has irritated the wife throughout the many long years of his bondage. Her attitude toward strangers is just the opposite. She has formed lifelong attachments by dialing wrong numbers.

The wife was particularly angered on a long-ago motor trip when the husband became lost in a maze of side streets and she suggested that he stop and ask someone for directions.

"I can't. I don't know anyone in this town," he said. "My parents told me to never talk to strangers."

The wife's reaction at this point was so abusive the husband has never again refused to seek outside help whenever he becomes lost on vacations, which is frequently, because another thing he doesn't like to do is look at road maps.

Maps only frustrate him because he doesn't know his directions. He knows the top of the map is north, and the bottom is south, but when he is driving aimlessly in a strange city, he has no way of knowing which part of the city is its top and which is its bottom.

He needs a familiar landmark from which to get his bearings. All of his life, his favorite landmark has been the courthouse in his old hometown. When he stands with his back to the courthouse entrance, he knows he is facing directly north, and west is directly to his left, in the probate court office. Given this information, he can figure out south and east without further aid.

Some people use the sun or the stars to determine directions, but they have to worry about clouds. All the husband has to worry about is not being able to get the courthouse into the trunk of his car. His solution to this problem hasn't been completely successful.

Once, while driving to Florida, he became lost on the outskirts of Nashville, Tenn., in an area which might have been the city dump. He got out of the car and began walking around in a small circle with his eyes shut. The wife, who always has to know everything, asked him what he was doing.

"I'm trying to conjure up our courthouse in my mind's eye so I can figure out which way is south. I think that's the probate court office right over there," he said, pointing to a pile of empty tin cans.

The wife drove off without him. Such mistreatment as this soon forced the husband to go against his parents' wishes and begin seeking advice in strange neighborhoods, although he has been known to make a U-turn in a one-way trail so the stranger will end up on the wife's side of the car.

Whenever he performs this clever maneuver, the wife displays her pique by at first refusing to initiate a conversation with the stranger who is wondering why an out-of-state car has parked on his shoes.

But the wife soon breaks down in the face of the husband's stoical silence and asks the stranger if he'd like to see photos of her grandchildren. She gets the directions and pen pal.

"You will never become rich and famous if you won't talk to strangers," the wife has told the husband many times. She told him again when she heard about the TV talk show.

"Rosalynn Carter often makes public appearances for her husband when he doesn't feel like talking to strangers. Maybe you should go on TV in my place," the husband suggested.

"That sounds like a good idea," she said. "How do I get to the TV studio?"

The husband shut his eyes and began walking around in a small circle.

Jail term for Smartt

Probation in sex case for Loftus

Former Caro minister Millard Loftus was placed on three years probation for criminal sexual conduct (4th degree) Monday by Circuit Judge Norman A. Baguley.

A jury found him guilty of the charge Aug. 16, the incident having taken place in August, 1975, when Loftus was minister of the Caro Church of Christ. Involved was a 14-year-old girl who was a member of his congregation.

The defendant, 56, of 1078 E. Northwood, Caro, was also sentenced to six months in the county jail, however, serving of the sentence was delayed, with no date set for it to be served.

He was also fined $200 and assessed $200 court costs.

Also Monday, Larry R. Procknow, 31, of Flint, stood mute to violation of probation. Bond was set and a hearing date is to be scheduled.

He was placed on 36 months' probation in October, 1978, for larceny in a building.

He is charged with having violated probation; by not paying court ordered obligations in August and September, plus failure to pay child support totaling $7,678.

Harold Groth, 34, of 1576 Hurds Corner Road, Cass City, was sentenced to one year in the county jail for attempted felonious assault. He was credited with 73 days served.

He pleaded guilty to the charge Aug. 13, in connection with an assault with a knife on his wife, Kaethe, July 14, in Ellington township.

A circuit court jury last Wednesday found James J. Lemon, 35, of Yale, guilty of intent to commit criminal sexual conduct. The trial had started the day before.

Lemon was found guilty in an incident which took place Sept. 8 in Millington.

DISTRICT COURT

Kennedy B. Smartt, 23, of 3886 S. Hurds Corner Road, Kingston, was sentenced to one year in the county jail Monday by Judge Richard F. Kern for attempted resisting and obstructing a police officer.

Thirty days of the sentence are to be served immediately, with the rest deferred. He was credited with time already served.

He was also placed on six months' probation and fined $200.

Smartt pleaded no contest to the charge Sept. 4. Involved was an incident Aug. 17 near Kingston in which Smartt pointed a knife at Deputy Curtis Chambers.

Two Kingston youth, Mark A. Thrall, 17, of 3385 River Street, and Kenneth D. Pankey, 19, of 3468 Elm Street, both pleaded guilty Monday to possession of marijuana. They were both arrested on the charge Sept. 6 in Kingston.

Thrall was placed on one year's probation under Section 47 status, with sentencing scheduled Sept. 22, 1980, at which time the charge might be dismissed if he complies with all probation requirements. He was assessed a $100 oversight fee.

Pankey was fined $97 and assessed $53 court costs, which have since been paid.

Clair Tuckey celebrates 80th birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kelley hosted a dinner Sunday at their Koeffgen Road home when the 80th birthday of Mrs. Kelley's father, Clair Tuckey, was celebrated.

Tuckey, a retired farmer, was born Sept. 26, 1899 to the late James and Eunice Wright Tuckey, just west of Cass City.

He and Florence Wanner were married in November, 1922 and are affiliated with the Cass City Missionary church.

They are the parents of two sons and three daughters, James and Mark Tuckey of Cass City; Mrs. Warren (Ruth) Kelley, Cass City; Mrs. Lee (Betty) D'Arcy, Kingston, and Mrs. Jerry (Esther) Freed, Elkhart, Ind. They have 26 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

A total of 125 relatives came from Elkhart, Edwardsburg, Midland, Davison, Frankenthum and various towns in the Thumb.

GOLDEN AWARD - From the Elkland-Novesta Community Chest was presented Monday evening by past Community Chest President Stan Guinther (left) to Harry Pestrue, representing Hills and Dales General Hospital employees, staff and ancillary personnel.

The Haire Net

When Ted Kennedy officially gets in the race for president it will be interesting to see if he changes some of his traditional liberal views.

Liberal in this instance translates to a step further down the road of socialism.

Programs such as national health insurance, more government aid to various economically deprived groups and other programs that translate into more government spending have been his key since he entered the political arena.

It's hard to fault his political savvy. That's why it will be interesting to note whether he changes his stance in 1980.

Maybe it's because I live in conservative Cass City that I feel that this country really is ready for a halt in increased spending for social programs but I really don't think so. Conservatism appears on the rise.

It may be that Kennedy has already started to jump on the bandwagon. In a press conference the other day he was quick to note that inflation was the number one problem facing the country.

Teddy won't get much argument about that. Certainly not from me.

Where we part company is how to curb it.

If you look at the record there's little that Kennedy has ever advocated that would curb inflation. On the contrary he has been strong for bills such as boosts in minimum wages and other social programs that tend to increase inflation.

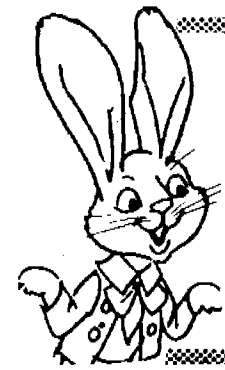

If Kennedy is not really for economy in government just what does he have going for him that makes him the strong political force that he is?

Charisma. If Teddy tells you that black is white with that Kennedy charm you almost believe him. Almost.

On the tube you feel a kinship with him that is almost magical. You want to be his supporter.

Another thing that Teddy has going for him is the lack of opposition. Both on his team and among the Republicans. If the choice comes down to Ronald Reagan, John Connolly or Teddy Kennedy I just might go fishing on election day.

And hope I wouldn't fall out of the boat and drown.

Rabbit Tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Regular readers of this trivia will recall last week that we wondered if anyone had a driver's license older than Louis Franks'. Sort of figured that an Oct. 30, 1925, date would be a winner. Not so.

We now have a tie for owner of the oldest driver's license. Both Meredith Auten, 88, Cass City, and Clayton Root, 76, of Huron Line Road, Elkton, received their licenses Aug. 14, 1919.

Licenses weren't required until July 1, 1919. The licenses were good for life. It wasn't until 1931 that the legislature required drivers to renew them.

Root started driving three years before he got his license, when his father put his new Model T into a ditch after driving it only a half-mile and told his son to take over the wheel.

In his 53 years of driving, he has been in only one accident and he wasn't the driver. He has never received a ticket, not even for a parking violation.

Lots of folks told me about the burn prediction that Ann Myers would not be cut at least until the season started. (She was among the first to leave.)

Only one, Fred MacKay, bothered to write me about it. Probably the reason is that Major MacKay is stationed in Columbus, Ga., and couldn't bug me about it in person like so many others who live here.

Mrs. Lottie Konwalski stopped in to bring us a copy of London's "Daily Mirror," a paper she picked up while visiting relatives in England.

It's a "family" newspaper, she said, over there. What made it unusual to folks here is that the paper features Playboy type photos in Playboy style. None of the essentials are painted out.

We have the copy here. Sorry, it's not in a plain brown wrapper.

If I wasn't getting it for my Ann Myers prediction I was for forgetting that Ken Jensen teamed with Jim Bauer last year to win the Cass City Golf League championship. In the story I mentioned Jim as defending champion and forgot about Ken.

Many, many golfers reminded me of the boo-boo but not genial Ken Jensen. He never said a word.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE

Electricity comes to farm in 1936

Profit's autobiography recalls early days

Editor's note: William J. Profit of 6679 Houghton Street wrote a short history of his life for his children, portions of which are reprinted below with some minor editing changes.

He and his late wife, Hazel, had four children, Leslie, 59, and Edward, 40, both of Cass City; Jeanette (Mrs. Maurice) Willis, 57, of Rochester, and Lewis, 54, of Sault Ste. Marie. The first Mrs. Profit died in 1970.

He and his present wife, Malvina, were married eight years ago, at which time they moved to their present address from his farm at Bay City-Forestville and Cemetery Roads, where his son Edward lives now.

By William J. Profit

I was born Aug. 9, 1897.

I started school in 1902 when the new Bird School was built in Section 2, Elkland township (northeast corner).

My brother Stanley, born in August, 1895, died in February, 1912 of pneumonia. He had quit school and was going to be a farmer.

I had planned to go on to school and do something different but after he died, Dad (John Profit Jr.) said I better quit school and help him, so the first of April, I took my books home and I was to be a farmer too.

But by this time, there was a truant officer for Tuscola county and Dad got a letter from the officer telling him that I was to go back to school or he would be there to talk to him.

Dad was pretty mad to have some officer tell him what to do, but I ended up going back for the rest of the year, then I went to Cass City and wrote the eighth grade examination and passed it, so now my schooling was over.

I REALLY LIKED Grandpa William McCauley, who had a great sense of humor. When we were quite small, Stanley and I would walk up there, about two miles, when we needed a haircut.

He would cut our hair and probably tell us a joke or two. One of the jokes I remember he told us was if we would catch a bird and put some salt on its tail, that would tame it.

Well, we decided if we couldn't catch a bird, we would try it on the calves, so we chased them around the yard and put salt on their tails, but it didn't do any good.

GRANDPA JOHN PROFIT Sr. was born in England and came to Canada when a young man. He and Grandmother Cerlista were married in Canada and came to Michigan in 1882 and settled in Section 2, Elkland township (southeast corner of what is now Huron Line and Schwegler Roads).

They retired when Grandpa was about 40 and moved to a small house at Third and Ale Streets in Cass City.

He made his living from trapping and selling firewood purchased from farmers, for everyone burned wood at that time.

What money he made from his furs and wood was his and if Grandma needed any of it, she had to pay it back.

When they moved to town, Dad and Uncle Jim promised to give them $115 a year as long as they lived. Grandma got that and she kept a cow for a few years and about 10 or 12 hens and that was all she had to live on and pay the taxes.

What a manager she must have been, for she would have the families in for dinner a few times every year and still have a small gift for the grandkids at Christmas.

DAD WAS BORN JUNE 11, 1872. Mother (Emma McCauley) was born Aug. 19, 1875. They were married in October, 1892.

Grandpa Profit decided them the 80 acres with a mortgage of $600 on it (northeast corner Cemetery and Bay City-Forestville Roads). It was all cleared but 10 acres, no timber was left, and the only buildings were a little shanty house and a small stable.

In 1900, Dad and Grandpa McCauley bought 40 acres of timberland and worked that winter and the next getting out timbers for each to build new barns and have firewood. In 1902, each of them built new 40-by-60 foot barns.

When Dad decided to get a better house, he bought an empty house three-quarters of a mile away and hired Martin Anthes to move it and put it on the wall he had built.

They moved the building down the road with a horse winding a two-inch rope around a capstan that was staked down the road about six rods ahead. Two men had to carry planks from behind and lay them in front and it took two men working underneath to keep the rollers straight on the plank. I think it took three days to move it and set it on the wall.

MILK WAS SET IN crocks and after the cream rose to the top, it was skimmed off and made into butter. The skim milk was fed to the calves and pigs.

Mother kept a few hens and usually on Saturdays, she would take the horse and buggy and take her butter and eggs into town and exchange them for groceries.

Along about 1907, the telephone lines were built by our place, but we didn't get a telephone until about two years later.

When I was about 16, I had the horse and buggy or cutter to use without any questions asked and I don't think I ever abused that privilege.

When World War I broke out, a lot of boys my age were going off to camp. I probably would have gone too, but July 11, 1917, I broke my leg playing ball at the Argyle Sunday school picnic and that ended it for that year.

I did enlist in the Student Army Training Corps and left for the Army Oct. 15, 1918. The war was over Nov. 11, and I was discharged in December.

I married Hazel Crawford Dec. 19, 1919. (They lived on the 80 across Cemetery Road from his father's place.)

The biggest change I can possibly think of was when we got electricity on the farm in 1936. Up to that time, we had kerosene lamps and lanterns for the lights. After we had electricity, we had everything on the farm that the people in town had to make life pleasant.

IN 1927, I WAS ELECTED to the school board of Winton School District 3, Elkland township, and held that job until 1937 when we closed the school and transported the students to Cass City.

BACK FROM WAR except that William Profit never went. He entered the Army in October, 1918, World War I ended the next month and he was discharged in December. This is the Signal Corp uniform he wore home.

In 1935, I was elected supervisor of Elkland township and held that job until 1942, when I resigned and was appointed to the county Road Commission.

I resigned as road commissioner after five years and went back on as township supervisor. I was elected chairman of the county Board of Supervisors in 1951.

In May of that year, the register of deeds died and I was appointed to the office at a salary of $3,500 a year. I was register of deeds until Jan. 1, 1973, when I retired. The last year in office, my salary was $9,500 a year.

Millage requests in offing?

presumably relieve the county of the burden of helping to support TACA, along with Huron and Sanilac each being asked to provide $20,000 in 1979-80.

If there is one or two special millage proposals, they will likely go on the ballot in the August primary election, the first county-wide (and statewide) election of the year.

Holding a special election, the Tuscola board has learned, Nagy said, would cost about $15,000.

Two killed in auto accidents

The accident took place just north of Cass City Road. Emma Janke, 73, 2620 S. Caseville Road, Owendale, was treated and released from Hills and Dales General Hospital after an accident at 1:50 p.m. Sunday.

According to Huron county deputies, the car in which she was riding, driven by her husband, Fred, 28, was eastbound on Stein Road, didn't stop at the Notter Road intersection and collided with the car of Tammy K. Patterson, 19, of Bad Axe.

The accident took place 3 1/2 miles south of Pigeon.

Brenda Surbrook, 22, of 5775 Hadley Road, Cass City, sought treatment from a private physician after an accident at 6:07 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 19.

The driver of the car in which she was riding, Terry A. Betzold, 23, of Bay City, told Cass City police the sun was in his eyes as he was westbound on Main Street and he didn't realize the lights were flashing at the railroad crossing until he was almost on the tracks.

He then stopped suddenly and his car was struck in the rear by the one behind him, driven by Patrick J. Swift, 29, of Saginaw.

Donald A. Englehart, 37, of 7802 Shabbona Road, DeFord, was ticketed by deputies on a charge of driving left of center after a mishap at 4:05 p.m. Sept. 18.

They reported he was northbound on Phillip Road, north of Kelly Road, swung wide to turn right into a driveway and forced a southbound car to go into a ditch to avoid a collision.

The other driver involved was Darrold Lippe, 16, of 400 Deckerville Road, Cass City.

At 10:50 p.m. that day, according to deputies, Man S. LaPratt, 18, of Unionville, was eastbound on Dickerson Road and was starting to turn left on Graf Road.

As he was doing so, the car behind him, driven by Randy Thompson, 19, of 21 Hobart Road, Gagetown, started to pass and his car struck the LaPratt vehicle.

Russell Audia of 1742 V. Dyke Road, Decker, reported to deputies that at 11:10 p.m. Sept. 18, he was westbound on State Street in Kingston and his car drove into a rubber hose hanging above the roadway.

The hose was from a traffic counter, one end of which someone had tied around a sign post, about 3 feet off the pavement.

The impact resulted in damage to his car's grill, parking lights, rear view mirror and trim, plus black rubber marks.

Damage was estimated at $300.

DASHING THROUGH THE SNOW is what this cutter was designed for. Photo of Profit and friend Esther Wagner was taken about 1917.

Get ready now for heat season

"Now, before freezing temperatures arrive, is the time to prepare your home for the coming heating season," says James A. Albertson, manager of Consumers Power Company's Bay City District.

He said there are a number of steps homeowners can take to insure that their house will be warm and snug during cold winter months and help keep down heating fuel bills.

He suggests they:

- Check the amount of insulation in the ceiling. If your house has less than 2 1/2 inches in the ceiling or attic, you should add a minimum of six inches.
- Check cracks between window frames and between door frames and the wall and caulk them if necessary.
- Weatherstrip outside doors or doors to unheated areas. A one-eighth inch crack around a standard door frame allows as much heat to escape as a hole the size of a grapefruit.
- Check on whether all windows are equipped with storm windows or plastic that provides an outside "second pane."
- If you can't remove room air conditioners from windows, weatherstrip around them and cover them.
- Check dampers on fireplaces, kitchen and bathroom exhaust fans and dryer vents to see that they close tightly when not in use.
- And, of course, prepare your furnace for winter operation now," Albertson said.

"Don't wait until something goes wrong this winter. Have a reputable serviceman check your heating system for possible leaks and for efficient operation. This will save you money in the long run."

Some furnace preparation steps that will make for a cozier winter:

- Check the blower fan and replace air filters.
- Clean the furnace humidifier and check and clean the thermostat.
- Check air ducts for leaks and blockages.
- "After you have prepared your furnace and heating system," he continued, "a number of other ways are open to you to help hold down heating costs."
- Setting your thermostat as low as is reasonably comfortable. Turning the thermostat down one degree can save about three percent of your annual heating usage.
- Reduce the thermostat setting at night or when the house is unoccupied for more than a few hours.
- Close drapes in the evening and on cloudy days and open them on sunny days on windows that face the sun.
- Close off unoccupied rooms.
- Make sure that furniture or drapes do not obstruct the free movement of air from heat registers and cold air returns.
- Close all exterior windows and doors including those to your attic, basement and garage when the heating system is operating.

PEDALING AROUND

Russians, go home

By Mike Eliasohn

I have had a terrible time sleeping lately. My weight is down, I tremble and bite my fingernails.

If I drank, I probably would get drunk every night. Ever since the news first came out that there are 3,000 Russian combat troops in Cuba, I haven't been the same.

I am nervous because I am afraid either those Russians will invade the United States or I will be called back into the military to help invade Cuba.

Seriously, folks, if there has ever been an issue less worthy of hysteria, it is the issue of those Russian troops being in Cuba.

Senators are demanding that they be removed (perhaps by having them invade Venezuela?).

Of course, the senators don't demand to the Russians that the troops be removed. They demand that President Carter get the Russians to remove the troops.

When the President had several senators in his office last week to discuss the situation, he asked them what they thought he should do. None of them had any suggestions.

One of them indignantly said he and his colleagues hadn't come to the White House to be asked what should be done. They had come there to hear what the President was going to do.

Most of the time the senators complain that the "president doesn't ask their advice before doing something, he just goes ahead and does it."

Carter has done something about the troops in Cuba, it should be pointed out. He has asked the Russians to remove them and they have refused.

As of this writing, nothing has happened since and I doubt if it will.

The situation is different from the 1963 Cuban "missile crisis," when President John F. Kennedy apparently got the Russians to remove their guided missiles from Cuba. The missiles could have been used to attack the United States.

What are the troops there now going to do? Shoot at the tourists in Florida with their rifles from 90 miles away?

There may be valid reasons for not approving the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty with the Soviet Union, but I don't think one of them should be the presence of their troops in Cuba.

From a legal standpoint, if Fidel Castro wants Russian troops in Cuba to "guard" the sugar cane workers or whatever, he has every right to have them there.

The Russians have been invited there. The same can't be said for the Americans at the Navy base at Guantanamo Bay in Cuba.

Presumably, Fidel would like them to leave although, of late, I don't think he has been demanding that they do so.

Castro being a baseball fan, perhaps he will offer a trade. The Russians will leave if the Americans leave.

I'll bet that would make our senators mad.

I have a better idea. If Castro will get the Russians to remove their troops from Cuba, we will give him all our senators.

Broken windows reported

Two incidents of broken windows were reported to Cass City police.

Reva Little of 6219 W. Main St. said a car had made a quick turn in the unpaved lot of the car wash next door and in doing so, threw stones against the side of her house.

One stone broke a window, valued at $50.

The incident was reported at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 18.

At 3:05 a.m. Sunday, Officer Phil Klaus, while on patrol discovered a broken window at Progressive Plant Food, 4155 Vulcan Street.

There were no signs that the building had been entered. A corn cob was found inside, which was apparently thrown through the window.

Cost of replacing the window was estimated at $25-35.

Royce Russell of Green Road, Gageton, reported to the sheriff's department Saturday morning that the battery of his truck was stolen while parked at the Blount Agriculture elevator in Gageton. It was worth $45.

Goal $13,500

Community Chest annual fund drive underway

Collecting for the 1979 Elkland-Novesta Community Chest got underway Tuesday, following Monday night's kickoff dinner for volunteers.

The goal this year is $13,500, which is $1,000 above last year's target, which was exceeded by a considerable margin.

A total of $14,325 was collected last year, according to the annual report. There was $5,592 received in outright donations, $5,683 contributed through the payroll deduction plan and $3,050 in industrial gifts.

Presented for the first time this year at the kickoff banquet was a United Fund golden award. It was presented by last year's Community Chest president, Stan Guinther, to Harry Pestrue, who accepted it in behalf of Hills and Dales General Hospital employees, staff and ancillary personnel for their outstanding support of the annual fund drive.

Pestrue, the hospital medical social worker, who headed the drive there, said about 90 percent of those who work there contributed.

Guest speaker was Leonard T. Soper, recently retired, assistant superintendent of the Saginaw schools and Saginaw United Way Volunteer of the Year in 1978.

He finished his talk, a mixture of sincerity and humor, by donating the money he was to receive for mileage - his only fee - to the local Community Chest, thus making him this year's first contributor.

Community Chest officers this year are Iris Tuckey, president; Dale Deering, vice-president; Ron Keegan, secretary, and Nancy Weipert, treasurer.

Board members, in addition to the officers, are Jerry Cleland, Bob Tuckey, Wallace Czekai, Jon Fahrner, Sandy Nicholas, Dan Allen and Herb Ludlow.

Recipients of Community Chest funds last year were Cass City Girls' Little League, $40; Boys' Little League, $1,500.58; Arts Council, $350; Boy Scouts, $150; Girl Scouts, $450; Big Brothers-Big Sisters, $375; Cass City park program, $1,500, and American Association of University Women Reading is Fundamental program, $75.

Organization requests county funds

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners Tuesday received a request from the county Big Brothers-Big Sisters organization for a grant of $10,000 for 1980.

The first time such a request has been made, it was referred to the finance committee.

A $277,500 county child care budget for the fiscal year that starts Oct. 1 was approved and sent on to the state Department of Social Services.

The board held a lengthy discussion with Probate Judge Wallace Kent Jr. and Dennis Johnson, director of the county mental health agency, concerning counseling of juveniles brought into the court.

Board chairman Paul Nagy appointed a committee consisting of himself, Donna Rayl of the personnel committee and Kenneth Kennedy of the finance committee to make recommendations on salaries for department heads and elected officials.

Your Neighbor says I don't think much of Carter or Kennedy

Louis Horner doesn't think much of the job President Carter has done so far.

He faults him for "lack of leadership and any organized programs in just about every area, domestic or foreign, inflation or anything."

But Horner, who voted for Gerald Ford in the last election, also doesn't think too highly of Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts, whom an increasing number of Democrats are urging to run against the President.

"I think Kennedy would definitely give us more leadership, but I don't think I would lean in the direction he would lead the country."

With Kennedy as President, there would be "more and more spending" and more controls on business, he said, neither of which he feels is desirable.

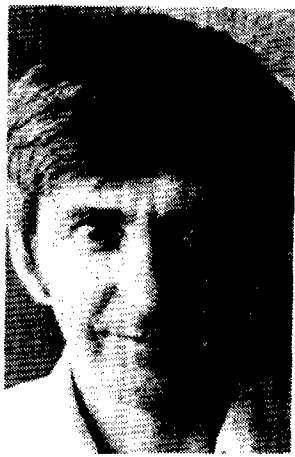

Horner doesn't have a favorite candidate yet for the Republican Presidential nomination, but said Ronald Reagan's conservative philosophy "is in line with my thinking. The biggest question is whether he can be elected with this age thing." (Reagan is in his late 60s.)

Horner is manager of CTS of Brownsville (Texas), a manufacturer of electronics components, primarily loud-speakers and amplifiers. He is in charge of three plants with a total of 600 employees for the Indiana-based firm, two in Brownsville and one close-by across the border in Mexico.

He has been there 6 1/2 years. He and his wife Janice have four children, Carol, a senior in high school; Tim, sophomore; Sherri, eighth grade, and Scott, sixth. They live in the Brownsville suburb of Los Fresnos.

Horner, here for a visit, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Audley Horner of Cass City. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pelton of Deford.

Bert Hendrick dies after long illness

Egbert Seymour (Bert) Hendrick of Cass City died Tuesday, Sept. 18, at Hills and Dales General Hospital, after a long illness.

He was born June 22, 1901, in Ellington township, the son of Egbert S. and Bessie (Downing) Hendrick.

He married Irene Dolwick Nov. 28, 1923, in Cass City. They moved to Marion, Mich., in 1951, then to Lansing. Upon his retirement, he made his home in Cass City and New Port Richey, Fla. Mrs. Hendrick died July 8, 1968.

Hendrick was a member of the First Baptist church, Cass City.

He is survived by three sons, Thomas Hendrick of Akron, Morris Hendrick of Saginaw and Donald Hendrick of Cass City; five daughters, Mrs. Steve (Lucille) Sweeney and Mrs. Edmund (Helen) Reder, both of Linwood, Mrs. Leone Copeland of Decker, Mrs. Dale (Pauline) Brown of Cass City and Mrs. Dale (Frances) Wooten of Marion; one brother, Oscar Hendrick of Kinde; one sister, Mrs. Omar Bullock of Cottonwood, Ariz.; 32 grandchildren, and 16 great-grandchildren. One son, Bruce, one daughter, Bessie, one brother and two sisters preceded him in death.

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon from Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, with Rev. Albert Shanlian, pastor of the Rich Bible church of Mayville, officiating.

Burial was in Elkland cemetery, Cass City.

Doctors seem to prescribe rest and change only to those who already have the change.

People do most of their worrying over what they assume, rather than over what they know.

Meredith Auten remembers

Chick Schwaderer, I, and our wives went out on a small boat conducted by an Indian. We were fishing for grubbers and we agreed that who didn't catch the larger fish didn't have to pay the cost of the trip. A woman from Marion, Ind., proclaimed she had her hook caught on a rock. The Indian took hold of the line and said you have a fish. He played the fish for a long time, having a small hook and light line. At last he brought it to the surface and we pulled it in with a large hook - a big Jew fish or a sea bass. It lay on the deck for a long time. I thought it dead and wanted my picture taken with it. I lifted it up with my hands in its mouth. It came down on one hand and I got his teeth in my fingers. The captain came to my aid with pliers and screwdrivers. Chick paid no attention. The scale we had was somewhat rusty. An argument ensued as to which fish (his or mine) was heavier. So we marked them and took them to the meat market for accuracy. Chick's fish weighed several ounces more than mine. I could scarcely believe it, and didn't get wise until at Rotary Club, Chick said he thought his fish was heavier, but to make sure while I was tangled up with the big fish, he put bolts down his fish's throat. Chick had a big farm, section 16, to which he invited all his road building friends to pheasant hunt. Huff and I drove by the farm and they had many pheasants hanging on a fence post. No one seemed to be around.

Huron curriculum day Monday

Laker Junior High and High School will be the site Monday of the 1979 Huron County Intermediate School District Curriculum Day for county school teachers.

Students will have the day off while their teachers experience a day of concentrated exposure to new and various teaching techniques and informational updates via demonstrations and lectures. Close to 600 teachers are expected. This day, set aside to enrich the educational system by providing for the professional development of its staff, has been in the planning stages since early January. The planning committee, comprised of members representing each of the local school districts in Huron county, has obtained approximately 40 resource persons to provide instruction related to a wide range of disciplines and levels of education. Don Richards, director of the Regional Educational Media Center, Cass City, has arranged a film festival featuring new film previews in all areas of education. Blake Lennon, superintendent of the Harbor Beach School system, has made arrangements for the book exhibit. To date, 37 book companies have verified their participation. The day will begin with registration from 8-8:30 a.m. Then the keynote address will be given by Dr. A. Graham Down, executive director, Office of Basic Education, Washington, D.C. His topic will be "What's Basic in Education?" From 9:30-3:30, all participants will be given the opportunity to attend the sessions of their choice from a selection of 43 sessions offered as well as the film festival and book exhibit. This marks the fourth time the event has been hosted by the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port School System.

HEALTH TIPS When should tonsils be removed?

By Frank Chappell, American Medical Association

We are hearing a lot about tonsils nowadays. The question that is puzzling doctors is: When should the tonsils be removed for the sake of your health?

What are tonsils, anyway? The tonsils are spongy, glandular tissues at the back of the throat and behind the nose. There are three sets of tonsils: (1) the throat tonsils (2) the linguals (3) the adenoids. The first two sets are usually called tonsils and the third set adenoids. Normally the throat tonsils are small and barely visible. They are on each side of the back wall of the throat, just behind and above the tongue. The linguals are on either side of the tongue at its base. Both become enlarged on infection. The adenoids are above and behind the soft palate, where the nose and mouth come together. If infected the adenoids may become large enough to block the flow of air from nose to throat, forcing mouth breathing. Tonsils and adenoids provide a defense against infections that invade the body through the nose and mouth.

Tonsillitis is an infection of the tonsils that results in swelling and inflammation, pain and soreness, difficulty in breathing and swallowing, enlargement of the lymph glands, fever, rapid pulse and general illness. With modern antibiotics, infections now respond to treatment within a few days, says a pamphlet from the American Medical Association. Repeated infection can result in permanent damage to the tonsils. When this happens they no longer protect against infection, but become themselves a source of recurrent infections. At this point your doctor likely will recommend removal of the tonsils. Tonsillectomy and adenoidectomy (T&A) is among the safest surgical operations performed. Like all

Health dept. to perform water study

The Tuscola County Health Department has received a federal grant of $11,617 to carry out a survey of non-community public water in the county. The Environmental Health Division of the department has been certified to conduct the inventory and survey required by the Safe Drinking Water Act. A non-community water supply is defined as those establishments supplying water to 25 people or more for at least 60 days but not year-round service to residents of living units. According to John Niederhauser, department health officer, "We have estimated that there are 305 such water supply sites in Tuscola county, including schools, industries, churches, gas stations and restaurants." The department sanitarians expect to complete the survey by September, 1980.

Cancer unit has victory banquet

About 80 persons attended the 1979 American Cancer Society Tuscola County Unit cancer crusade "round up" meeting preceded by potluck dinner Monday evening, Sept. 17, at the Sacred Heart parish hall in Caro. Mrs. Joe Young was in charge of punch and coffee.

Mrs. Erhardt Rogner gave the invocation before the meal. Erhardt Rogner provided music on his accordion during the social hour.

Mrs. Ione Perry, Cass City, welcomed all those present and introduced the present and newly elected officers of the Tuscola unit.

She especially thanked Sandy Gaudreau, the 1979 crusade chairman, and her husband Tom, who helped her lead the county crusaders to a bigger than ever goal, $42,500.

Sandy gave out several awards to long time volunteers. Betty Kochalka gave the treasurer's report, giving totals of areas covered in the crusade.

A letter was read from Richard White from the Michigan Division, stating that our county was No. 33 to reach its goal. He pointed out, "You do make a difference."

Mrs. Gaudreau gave a history of the Tuscola County Cancer Society as far back as 1946 at which time Mrs. Park of Caro was commander. The main service at that time consisted of surgical dressings, which were assembled.

In 1952, 65 persons died of cancer in the county and in 1953, the first service chairman was named. In 1954, the first door-to-door crusade was held. In 1957, the unit was reorganized and joined the Michigan division.

The traveling trophy for bar owners went to the Pub Bar in Caro. Rudy Petzold, honorary chairman, was guest speaker.

Jean Gibson, new area staff person, was introduced. She will assist Huron, Lapeer and Tuscola counties.

Miss Sally Krause of Midland spent from Saturday till Tuesday visiting her mother, Mrs. Frances Krause, and Anna and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Auslander and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Auslander attended the funeral of Billy Hyatt Saturday in Flint. He was the son of Walter and the late Ellen Hyatt, former residents of Shabbona.

Richard Wheeler spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Roger King of Applegate.

Arthur VanNorman of Florida spent from Monday till Wednesday visiting his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil VanNorman. He came to visit his daughters here.

Mrs. Dean Smith attended the Women's Institute at Blue Water Reunion Grounds near Lexington over the week end.

Mrs. Aletha Cooley of Cass City was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hyatt and sons. In

Erickson 'commended' student

Principal James R. Barr has announced that a senior at Owendale-Gagetown High School has been named a commended student in the 25th annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

A letter of commendation from the school and National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) was presented to Brad R. Erickson in recognition of outstanding performance on the PSAT-NMSQT, the qualifying test for the Merit Program that was administered nation-wide to high school juniors in October, 1978.

Of the more than one million students entering the competition, about 35,000 throughout the United States are being commended for test performance that placed them among the top five percent of participants.

Although Commended students rank below the level required for Merit Program semi-finalists - the only participants who will continue in the 1980 competition for Merit Scholarships - each has shown exceptional academic promise.

Brad is the son of Supt. and Mrs. Ronald Erickson of Owendale.

Novinski on Navy ship

Marine Pfc. Michael J. Novinski, son of Dale and Sandra Moore of 3176 Vatter Road, Snover, is currently on deployment to the Western Pacific.

He is a member of the Marine Detachment aboard the aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk, homeported in San Diego and operating as a unit of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

Thus far in the cruise he and his shipmates have had the opportunity to visit Hong Kong, Korea and Thailand. They have also participated in "Fortress Gale," a large multi-threat exercise conducted off Okinawa, Japan.

The Kitty Hawk is 1,062 feet long and carries a crew of 2,800, plus 2,150 personnel assigned to an attack aircraft wing.

Novinski joined the Marine Corps in September, 1978.

Teachers get reading lesson

Dr. Kay Stickle, nationally recognized authority on reading, was the featured speaker at the first annual dinner meeting of the Thumb Area Reading Council.

The dinner took place Sept. 19 at the Arrowhead Golf and Country Club in Caro.

Dr. Stickle stated that, "God put timers in kids. Because of this kids turn teachers off after 8 to 10 minutes."

Therefore, teachers should pack a lot of teaching early in each reading lesson and change their techniques often.

"A child must do something special everyday," she continued. This is one of the best motivational devices teachers have.

Her teaching secrets for a power packed reading lesson are:

- Know your goal.
- Have key objective for lesson.
- Organize the classroom.
- Plan with the children.
- Motivate.
- Teach (what, why and how things work).

Radios a 'turn-on' for Lawrence Holik

To Lawrence Holik, radio is a means of bringing him in touch with far off places he has never been.

55, has been fascinated with building and fixing radios since he was a youngster.

"I used to listen to Will Rogers," he recalls. The family was living on the same farm, east of Buehrly Road, where Holik and his family live now.

Electrical lines weren't run out there until 1947. The radio ran on batteries and when they went dead, the family couldn't afford to buy new ones.

Holik got his first radio soon after that, a small one-tube unit given to him by someone who couldn't get it to work right.

He got encouragement, advice and sometimes junk parts over the years from the late Ken Churchill, who repaired radios and other items for Thumb Appliance.

HOLIK'S HOBBY HASN'T always been a hobby. In the Army in the late 1940s, he was trained as a teletype and switchboard repairman.

He worked at Fisher Body in Flint for a time. For 10 years, he worked for Schneberger's repairing radios and other appliances.

For the past six years, he has worked for Harold Whitaker of Cass City in the lumbering and sawmill business. Holik will occasionally touch a television set or a modern radio with transistors, but prefers the old style radios with tubes.

He occasionally fixes a radio for someone and friends have suggested he should go into the radio-TV repair business.

HE HAS RADIOS tucked in every niche and cranny of his small house, plus a few more he keeps outside in a car.

Many radios are given to him. Others he buys for a relatively small amount.

The oldest radio he owns apparently dates from the 1920s. He has some tubes that are 40 years old.

Holik restores some of the radios to operating condition and sometimes builds ones from scratch.

HE GETS PLEASURE from working on them and listening.

"It's just interesting how far off you can receive things." In addition to regular radio stations, there's also the police radio band, aircraft band, shortwave, and UHF, he explained.

The hobbyist has two antennas on his roof and two AM antennas snaking for 200 feet through the woods behind his house.

He has an opportunity to buy a 150-foot radio tower cheap from a Lapeer station which moved to a new location and built a new antenna. The tower is bolted together so taking it apart isn't a problem.

The farthest away AM station he has ever picked up with one of his present antennas was one in Mexico. He can listen in on short-wave broadcasts from all over the world.

Holik is trying to learn Morse code in order to get an amateur (ham) radio operator's license.

He does have a citizens band radio and several CBs, but isn't much interested in that type of radio.

HOLIK AND HIS WIFE Dorothy have three married daughters and four children at home.

He regrets that none of them are similarly interested in radios.

The cars and motorcycles his sons are interested in, he admits, will transport people a distance, but with radio "you can listen farther."

GOOD CONNECTIONS -- Lawrence Holik solders a condenser in an old radio he is restoring to operating condition. The Reed Road resident, 55, has been "messaging with radios since I was 14."

Beaudin gets prison in parole violation

Frederick J. Beaudin, 29, of Ubyly, was sentenced Sept. 17 to 30-60 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson for violation of probation.

Sentence was pronounced in Huron County Circuit Court by visiting Judge Patrick R. Joslyn of Tuscola county, who found him guilty in a hearing that day of having violated probation by having broken state law.

In February of this year, a jury found him guilty of willfully endangering lives by tampering with railroad equipment. The next month he was sentenced to three years' probation, plus a term in the county jail.

He was convicted of having removed angle bars and bolts from a Chessie System railroad line near Ubyly in May, 1978.

Beaudin pleaded guilty in July to having violated probation by having consumed alcoholic beverages.

He was serving a jail sentence for that violation when cited for criminal sexual conduct (2nd degree) involving a girl under age 13, the incident having taken place in June.

He did not have to be formally tried on that charge. At the hearing Sept. 17, after about 10 witnesses testified, Joslyn ruled there was sufficient evidence to conclude that Beaudin had violated the criminal sexual conduct law and therefore had violated probation.

The judge then revoked probation and sentenced him to 30-60 years in prison on the rail tampering charge.

After 60 days of physical and psychological testing, Beaudin may be kept at Jackson or assigned to another prison. He will be eligible for parole in 13 years.

Joslyn heard the case in place of Huron Circuit Judge M. Richard Knoblock, who had disqualified himself, having represented Beaudin as an attorney before being elected to the bench.

Two nabbed for downing mailboxes

Two 19-year-olds, one from Gagetown, the other from Owendale, were apprehended in Gagetown early Thursday after knocking down at least 20 mailboxes with their cars.

Names were being withheld by authorities pending possible issuance of warrants.

The mailboxes were knocked down in the Sebewaing - Owendale - Gagetown area, the spree having started in Huron county.

The chain of events first came to the attention of Caro state police when Betty Brinkman of 5806 Dodge Road, Cass City, called them at 1:10 a.m. Thursday.

She reported a vehicle had knocked down her mailbox and then knocked down the mailbox and newspaper box of her son, Robert, who lives at 5755 N. Dodge.

She first called her son, who got in his vehicle and gave chase. He first spotted the car backing up against the mailbox of Grover Laurie, 4709 Hoppe Road. In addition to knocking down that one, it was later discovered the vehicle also pushed over one at a house Laurie owns and rents out at 5526 Dodge.

Brinkman chased the car into Gagetown and finally got its license number.

The state police dispatcher then contacted Gagetown police officer James Compo, who reported he had stopped the car with the two occupants in it.

He said they had been chased into town by a resident on Reagh Road, north of town, whose mailbox had been knocked down.

After questioning by the officers, the pair was turned over to Huron county authorities.

The four property owners in Tuscola county whose mailboxes were knocked down were later told by officers from the Caro post that if the two youths didn't see each by Tuesday and agree to make restitution, the prosecutor would be asked to issue warrants charging each with malicious destruction of property under $100. Each mailbox and post was valued at $20.

Time heals all wounds, but it seldom removes the scars.

Payless paydays loom for CETA paid workers

Payless paydays could be ahead for persons being paid with federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act funds.

The problem, Thumb Area Consortium Executive Director Frank Lenard explained at last Thursday's administrative board meeting...

Without a continuing resolution, the consortium will only have enough money left over from the present fiscal year, about $500,000...

Lenard estimated that 80 percent of those affected will keep their jobs and will now be paid with funds from the local governmental unit that employed them...

Approved by the board was an increase in rent for the consortium's office space in the Hahn Real Estate Building, Cass City.

That works out to $1,168 per month or $14,020 for the year. The consortium rented an additional room part-way through last year but if it had been renting the same space all of last year, it would have paid $12,746.

A letter was received from the Michigan Department of Labor, part of which read, "A recent study of expenditures and services under Title II Part B of CETA has shown that your agency has completed a highly successful level of performance..."

OTHER ITEMS

Under the CETA law that went into effect a year ago, persons employed in the program prior to Oct. 1, 1978 could only stay in it one more year.

Don Richards to speak at services

The Caro Mission of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will be holding an evangelism series, Oct. 8-14.

Speakers will be Evangelist James McBride of Clio and High Priest Donald Richards of Cass City.

Richards was ordained to the office of teacher in 1950, elder in 1955 and to high priest in 1968 and is presently serving as counselor to the Michigan Regional President.

A graduate of Graceland College and Michigan State University, Richards is director of the Regional Educational Media Center, Cass City, which serves Tuscola, Huron, and Sanilac schools.

Ex-resident given high church post

Rev. Arleon L. Kelley has been elected assistant general secretary for operations of the National Council of Churches, in New York City. He is a 1953 graduate of Cass City High School. The son of Harley and Elna Kelley, the family lived south of town on Cemetery Road and moved to Fort Wayne, Ind., after he graduated. His parents still live there. He is a cousin of Rev. Eldred Kelley of Salem United Methodist church in Cass City.

Kelley, who will assist the council's general secretary with administrative responsibilities, hopes his work will "help to reshape the life and processes of the council."

His specific duties will include preparation for meetings of the governing

Searching for roots

Looking for your roots? You're not alone. Librarians and historical societies all over the country have reported astonishing numbers of people, of all ethnic backgrounds, seeking information about their family histories.

If you'd like to pursue this exciting quest yourself, don't begin your research at the library. Start by consulting your most important resource — your older relatives.

Ask them for names, dates, marriages, towns — as many details as they can recall. They can give you priceless clues for your library research.

And in the process, your most important "resource" may turn into your oldest friend!

The outstanding runner who does a four-minute mile is achieving a speed of 15 miles an hour!

A train that reaches speeds of 220 miles an hour will soon be tested in West Germany. The new technologies being tested are expected to demonstrate the substantial innovations that may be in store for long-distance railroad traffic.

Sixty to 63 miles an hour is probably the maximum speed even the fastest and animal, the cheetah, can reach. By comparison, the fastest race horse may run at 43 mph.

board, the NCC's 252-member policy-making body; follow-up on the board's actions and development of special NCC panels and working groups. The council has 32 member Christian churches.

He has served the council since 1972 as associate executive director of the Commission on Regional and Local Ecumenism (CORLE), which provides technical assistance and consultative services to existing ecumenical groups and aids in the development of new ecumenical groups around the country.

Kelley's background in ecumenical affairs also includes work with the Ohio Council of Churches as associate executive director and the Indiana Council of Churches as executive director of the Research and Planning Division.

An ordained minister of the United Methodist church, he has also served urban and rural pastorates in Indiana and Rhode Island and has held several academic positions.

Kelley stressed that in his new position he would attempt to implement the findings of the Panel on Ecumenical Commitment and NCC Purposes, a group he has staffed since 1977. The panel, he said, is "re-formulating the theological foundations of the council and trying to help our life together flow from our sense of theological being."

Kelley, who has researched the life cycles of church-related organizations for the past 20 years, said, "The council's role has changed over the past few years. Fewer people seem to share the ecumenical dream. When that happens it is essential to rethink the reason for our life together with the constituent communities."

Kelley received a doctorate from Boston University School of Theology. He holds a masters degree from Christian Theological Seminary, Indianapolis, Ind., and a bachelors degree in sociology from Taylor University, Upland, Ind.

He and his wife, Jacqueline, and their two children live in Ridgewood, N.J.

Sanilac road agency seeks funds to rebuild 12 bridges

The Sanilac County Road Commission has applied for state and federal funds to replace 12 aging bridges.

Included are the Snover Road bridge over the Cass River, about three-quarters of a mile west of that community, and the Germania Road bridge over the Cass, between Downington and Mushroom Roads. The former is in Moore township, the latter in Lamotte township.

Replacement cost of the bridges is about $250,000 each, according to Road Commission Engineer-Manager Jack L. Kineman.

The funds are being applied for under the federal-state Critical Bridge Program. For the upcoming fiscal year, the kitty consists of $10 million in federal funds and $5 million in state money.

But with counties, cities and villages all over the state applying for some of the funds, and with the Sanilac's proposed program totaling about $2.5 million, Kineman is sure the county won't get money to replace all 12 bridges. "I suppose we'll be lucky to get even three."

The federal funds pay 80 percent of the construction cost of a new bridge and state funds, 10 percent. The county must pay the rest, plus all engineering and design costs. That would put the county's share at $30-40,000 per bridge.

Even if Sanilac does get money for only a few bridges, it still hasn't been decided where the local share will come from, be it from the Road Commission or county budget. Neither has budgeted for it so far.

"We'll find it somehow," Kineman commented. He pointed out that the county Board of Commissioners did appropriate $200,000 this year for building of a new Forester Road bridge over the Black River in the eastern part of the county.

The Road Commission picked the 12 bridges on the list because they were the largest ones in need of repair. All of them have load limits.

Smaller bridges obviously would be less costly to replace so if funds were available in the future, a few could be replaced each year.

If Sanilac does get a piece of the federal-state $15 million pie, it will be for specific bridges, not a lump sum with the Road Commission deciding which bridges to replace — assuming it doesn't get the money for all 12 bridges.

The state Department of Transportation, Kineman explained, uses a formula based on load bearing capacity of the bridge, width and amount of traffic to determine for which bridges it will fund replacements.

Four of the 12 bridges are on primary roads, including the Snover and Germania Road bridges. The rest are on local roads.

Some additional bridges in the county, he said, will be posted this fall with newly imposed load limits or a reduction in allowable weight from the present limit.

There hasn't been any talk of late in Sanilac of asking voters to approve a special millage levy to be used for replacing bridges, according to the engineer-manager.

Tuscola county has had a one-mill levy for such a purpose for several years now.

Kineman feels it would appear "self-serving" for the Road Commission or county Board of Commissioners to put such a millage proposal on the ballot of their own initiative.

He feels the users of the bridges, if they are inconvenienced enough by restrictions imposed on the crossings, must first see the need for such a millage and make their feelings known before a levy request can be made.

For fuel pumps

Walbro markets new shut-off

A new device for gasoline powered vehicles equipped with electric fuel pumps, that protects engines against damage when the oil line ruptures, disconnects or plugs, or when oil pressure becomes dangerously low, is now being marketed by the Walbro Corporation. The Walbro safety shut-off switch also minimizes chance for flooding when the engine dies.

In use, when oil pressure drops below 2 p.s.i., this switch shuts off the fuel pump — even though the ignition remains on. When oil pressure of from 2 to 5 p.s.i. is restored, the switch reactivates the fuel pump.

This new safety shut-off switch is designed for use on any vehicles using Walbro Autopulse or other electric fuel pumps. It is not, however, to be used with fuel injection systems.

Installation is simple. The Walbro device connects to the oil line via a T-fitting. Or, it can replace the existing OE pressure switch that's used in most oil pressure warning arrangements.

Specifically, the Walbro safety shut-off switch is a single-pole, double-throw, diaphragm-actuated switch.

Michigan Mirror: Auto talks have effect on entire state

By Warren M. Hoyt
Mich. Press Association

Contract negotiations between the big three automakers and the United Auto Workers are having lasting effects on statewide issues and not just the individuals involved.

In effect, contract negotiations of such magnitude will, in one way or another, affect the lives of all consumers.

In light of the talks, state budget experts are reducing their revenue estimates for the 1979-80 fiscal year and say the economic bad news is not yet bad enough to begin planning a cutback of the recently-adopted $4.6 billion budget.

However, a prolonged strike could have severely hurt production and increase unemployment enough to have a devastating effect on the state budget process.

One of the Legislature's top priority items, reform of workers' compensation laws, has also been delaying pending resolution of the auto contract talks.

A special legislative task force adjourned its discussions in early August, planning to return in 30 days to renew the deliberations.

However, officials in and close to the task force say the results of auto negotiations could have a direct bearing on workers' compensation reform.

Participants in the discussions said business interests, in particular, would like to delay further efforts on reform until the cost-of-living issue for retirees is settled in the talks.

They see a high relationship between that issue and setting cost of living increases for recipients of workers' compensation benefits.

Business does not want to set a cost of living pattern in the workers' compensation negotiations that would then serve as a pressure point on the automobile companies.

Participants fear a long delay in resuming discussions on workers' compensation could prevent a reform measure from being passed either this or next year.

A strike of several months could put discussions off until spring and traditionally, the legislature is reluctant to pass substantive legislation during the spring of an election year.

SENTENCING GUIDELINES

To correct inequities in sentencing of convicted felons, a trial judge should be given a handbook of guidelines, and appellate courts should be able to modify sentences, a special Supreme Court committee has recommended.

The recommendation for setting guidelines for sentencing is an alternative to proposals by the State Bar of Michigan for presumptive sentences.

The Bar's plan would presume felons would receive a particular sentence for a particular crime, with the trial judge required to justify more lenient or harsher treatment.

The Supreme Court committee, chaired by Justice Blair Moody Jr., recommended the court appoint a commission to establish guidelines for optional use by judges over a two-year trial period, with the legislature creating a similar group thereafter.

Moody said the Supreme Court will probably begin that process around the first of next year.

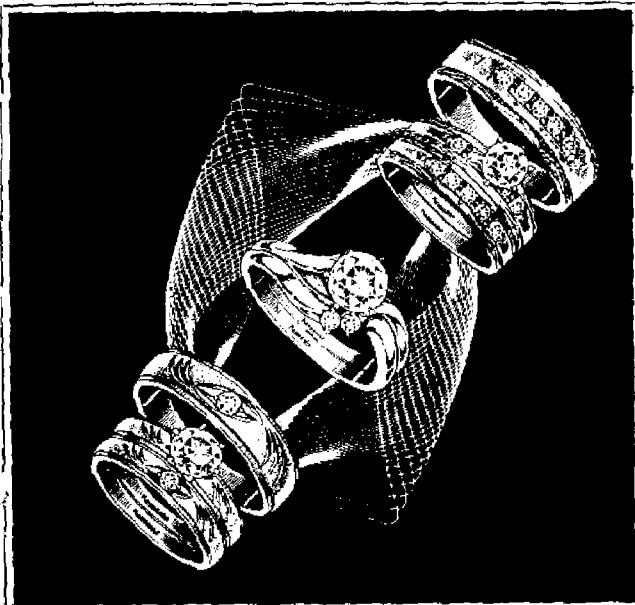

The committee said guidelines would be set with the aid of a mathematical grid to evaluate criteria of sentencing, to assign a specified number of points to factors such as criminal record, and excluding information such as the offender's race or economic status.

Those guidelines would operate within current law on indeterminate sentencing, which sets maximum and minimum punishments for each crime.

Owners plan remodeling at Hair Benders

Editor's note: this is one of a series sponsored by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce about community boosters who are members of the organization.

The Hair Benders is operated by Cathy Smith and Patty Metzger and the girls are no strangers to Cass City and Thumb area residents. Ms. Smith graduated from Cass City High School in 1966 and from Tri-City Beauty School, Saginaw, in 1967. She worked in a local beauty shop for 10 years before starting her own business in 1977.

She and her husband, Larry, have a daughter, Michele, 11.

Ms. Metzger is a graduate of Bay City Beauty College, 1974, and Laker High, 1973. She worked with her partner for three years in a local shop before entering business. Her husband, Dave, owns an auto bump shop.

When the partners started they completely remodeled the interior of the building and purchased a 4-station island. Now the girls say they have plans to remodel the exterior with the addition of a marquee front and paneled sides.

Eye Greenleaf zoning changes

The Greenleaf Township Zoning Board will meet Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the township hall to hear comments from the public about two proposed changes in the township zoning ordinance.

The first proposed change is to reduce the minimum required floor space in one-family dwellings from 850 square feet to 720. The suggested change, according to Zoning Commission Chairman Phil Brack, is in response to complaints from some residents that 850 square feet is too large. A reduction to 720 will allow a savings in more costly heating bills since there will be less space to heat.

The other proposed change is elimination from the zoning ordinance of the wording that mobile homes "shall be set on a concrete slab and skirted with concrete blocks or aluminum." The requirement is also contained in the building code, where it belongs, thus isn't needed as part of the zoning ordinance. Brack explained. Mobile homes will still have to be in compliance with the requirement.

New books at the library

OVER AND ABOVE, by Laura Z. Hobson (fiction). Traces three generations of the Thanberts, a liberal New York Jewish family which never took its religion very seriously. But when the United Nations passes a resolution equating Zionism with racism, three Thanbert women - grandmother, daughter, and granddaughter - are forced to examine their feelings and loyalties and, for the first time, accept the responsibility of being Jewish.

ROGANO, by Stephen Knight (fiction). Reginald Brough, a former chief inspector with the CID, is called out of retirement to help investigate a series of murders by the so-called Deptford Strangler. He comes to suspect, to his horror, that his own nephew, Nicholas, may be the strangler, and that Nicholas is the reincarnation of the 15th century Italian nobleman who was burned at the stake for heresy.

CASHING IN AT THE CHECKOUT, by Susan Samtur (non-fiction). Homemaker Samtur has had wide exposure in the media for her coupon-refund approach to economical grocery shopping. She explains her Supershopping System in this slim but persuasive book. Claiming that the regular redemption of manufacturer's coupons can save 50 percent or more on weekly grocery bills, Samtur reports on how a study of marketing techniques bears out her simple shopping strategies. By taking advantage of "cents off" coupons and of offers to refund cash through the mail, she says she not only holds down her checkout tally, but also earns an additional $1,500 a year in refund checks.

Undefeated North Branch next

Hawks top Hatchets to stay in title fight

The Cass City Red Hawks jumped back into contention for a share of the Thumb B League title Friday by knocking off previously undefeated Bad Axe, 15-6. The victory set the stage for the third tough game in a row when North Branch comes to town Friday. The Broncos are undefeated coming into the clash and share the conference lead with Caro. If the Hawks win this one they will be heavy favorites in the next two games against Sandusky and Marlette. The Hawks started the game against the Hatchets and looked as if they were going to roll at will. Starting on their own 45 with the kick-off they rolled to the one in two plays. Rusty Hoag rolled for 28 yards and a pass to Ken Martin gave the Hawks a first on the one.

But four plays lost four yards, the Hatchets took over and the fans were restless.

But the Hawks' defense stymied the Hatchets and a shanked punt gave Cass City the ball on the Bad Axe 19.

A pass to Tim Fahrner just missed for a touchdown. A moment later a heave to the sticky fingered end was good for six points from the 14. Tim Sontag's kick was good.

The Hawks lost a chance to ice the game in the first half when an apparent touchdown pass to Fahrner was called back because of a holding penalty.

Despite complete domination of the game the Hawks left the field at intermission with only a narrow, 7-0, lead.

The Hawks moved ahead 9-0 in the third period when Mike Loomis and Kevin Wagg tackled Hatchet quarterback Mike Rounds in the end zone as he faded to pass. The visitors had halted a Hawk drive on the two when Jim McTaggart intercepted a pass.

The Hawks added an insurance marker in the third period with a sustained drive starting on their own 49. Cass City used passes and runs for three first downs and Bob Sawdon cracked over for the marker from the one.

Bad Axe came back in the final period to score. Playing with a new quarterback the Hatchets rolled for 65 yards capped by a one-yard plunge by Jim Howard.

Howard led Bad Axe with 71 yards in 15 tries. Sawdon led all rushers with 300 yards in 12 carries. He scrambled for 67 yards in 12 tries. Martin snagged 8 passes for 102 yards while Fahrner caught four for 56 yards.

Coach Don Schelke said that he was pleased with the defense that held potent scoring Bad Axe to one touchdown. Our defense has been good all year, he added. The offense was better Friday but there are still some rough spots that need smoothing out, Schelke feels. All in all it was a very satisfying win after our tough loss to Caro the preceding week, he said.

Schelke named two players as Red Hawk of the week. Hoag was named on offense and Bob O'Dell on defense.

RUSTY HOAG GAINED 67 yards in 12 carries against Bad Axe on quarterback option plays. He picked up a first down on this scamper. Number 63 is all-stater Bob Hollin and 31 is Paul Ney of Bad Axe.

"We were ready," says coach

Bulldogs top Kinde in key North Central battle

The expected close contest Friday night between Owen-Gage and North Huron, both considered contenders for the North Central D League crown, didn't materialize as the Bulldogs had little trouble in winning, 33-6.

"We were really ready for Kinde," coach Arnie Besonen said afterwards. "The kids really wanted them. The hard work paid off."

His team is now setting its sights on the game at Kingston this Friday.

"We've got to prepare hard for their multiple offense," Besonen said of the Cardinals. "They are quick and love to hit."

And mindful that his players could become overconfident after the big win over North Huron, he added, "We've got to maintain our composure after last week."

The Warriors had trouble at Owendale last Friday denting the tough Bulldog defense and only threatened a couple of times before finally scoring with only 2:36 left in the game. Besonen by then had several substitutes in his lineup.

Jeff Hallock scored first for the victors, in the first quarter on a 39-yard run capping a 68-yard drive in 11 plays. Pete Klemkowsky kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter, Brad Erickson, who gained more than 100 yards for the third time this season, scored on an 8-yard run, to end a five-play, 69-yard drive. Klemkowsky's kick attempt missed.

In the third quarter, it was the speedy senior halfback again, this time scoring on a 3-yard dash to cap a 52-yard, seven-play drive. Klem-kowsky missed on the extra point attempt.

A 64-yard effort in the fourth quarter ended on the fourth play with Scott Gaeth scoring on a two-yard run. Craig Gettel kicked the extra point.

Final points for Owen-Gage came when Jim Glidden caught a Kirk Carolan pass, the play totaling 50 yards. Gettel kicked the extra point.

North Huron finally scored on a 55-yard run by Jon Binder. The Warriors attempted to run the ball over for two more points but the attempt failed.

Although Owen-Gage's 13 first downs were only two more than the Warriors', there was quite a contrast in total yardage.

The Bulldogs gained 306 yards on the ground in 40 carries and 88 in the air on four completions of 11 attempts (with one interception) for a total of 394.

The losers could only garner 193, of which 183 was gained on the ground in 45 carries and 10 in the air on two completions of 10 attempts (four interceptions).

Behind Erickson's 114 yards in 15 carries came Gaeth with 14 carries and 92 yards.

Jon Binder led the Warriors with 20 carries and 141 yards.

Carolan did all the Bulldog passing, with Jim Glidden catching six of his tosses for a gain of 67 yards.

Owen-Gage fumbled twice and was penalized five times for 65 yards. North Huron fumbled two times and was penalized four times for 50 yards.

Dan Warack was the mainstay of the Bulldog defense with 20 tackles, followed by double-threat Erickson with 19 and Kendall Howard with 16.

Tom Perchette made 12 tackles for the Warriors.

The Thursday junior varsity game at Kinde ended in a 0-0 tie.

Score by quarters:

O-G	7	6	6	14	33
NH	0	0	0	6	6

NO YOU DON'T! -- Bulldog Alan Haag intercepted a Mark Binder pass in the fourth quarter. While a North Huron player then tried to pull Haag down, an Owen-Gage player tried to stop him. The interception took place on the Owen-Gage 30-yard line.

Caro no match for Hawk cagers

Coach Lloyd Schinnerer was able to use many players last Wednesday as the Cass City Red Hawks rolled over Caro, 37-18, in the Hawks' opening Thumb B Conference game.

Cass City jumped off to a 12-4 first period advantage and coasted in for the victory. At the half the margin was 20-6.

The Hawks were again led by Padgett Randall. The talented junior whipped in 14 points and added nine rebounds. Vickie Pobanz and Libby Hartel each were credited with six boards. Lynette Coon led Caro with 10 points.

Cass City hit 17 of 48 from the field and only 3 of 8 charity tosses.

The Hawks were to have entertained Bad Axe Wednesday and Frankmuth Thursday. The encounter with the Eagles will be the first since the Chicken City team left the Thumb B Conference.

Still undefeated

O-G girls roll to 3 more victories

The Class C Lakers High School girls' basketball squad more than met its match at Owen-Gage Monday night.

The Class D Bulldogs easily won the non-conference tilt, 56-39.

Coach Judy Campbell's squad pulled out to an early lead and never trailed. The team led 14-5 at the end of the first quarter and headed for the lockers at halftime ahead, 25-8.

Once again for the Bulldogs, it was Becky Howard with the most points, 17, and Julie Andrakowicz with the most rebounds, 22.

Andrakowicz scored 12 points and Mary Kay Burrows contributed 10. Howard pulled down 14 rebounds.

Gail Fritz was top scorer for Lakers with 15 points, followed by Robyn Smith with 12. Cindy Kohr grabbed 10 rebounds.

Lakers won the junior varsity game, 36-7.

North Central D League play resumes for the Bulldogs Thursday at Kingston. Tuesday, they entertain Caseville. Score by quarters:

O-G	14	11	19	12	56
Laker	5	3	12	19	39

Brenda Cramer scored 18 points for the losers; Tracy Barriger, 11.

The Bulldog JVs won, 41-22.

PORT HOPE

The Bulldogs climbed to 3-0 in the North Central D League rankings with a 37-23 win over Port Hope last Thursday in the Owendale gym.

Owen-Gage pulled out to an early lead and was ahead by nine points at the end of the first quarter and 12 points at the half.

Only player in double figures for the victors was Becky Howard with 15. She also snared 17 rebounds. Julie Andrakowicz continued to lead her teammates on the boards by grabbing 20 caroms.

Top scorer for the Blue-stars was Rita Strozski with nine.

The Owen-Gage junior varsity won, 25-16.

Score by quarters:

O-G	13	13	8	3	37
PH	4	10	2	7	23

AKRON-FAIRGROVE

Judy Campbell probably isn't Akron-Fairgrove's favorite graduate. When she comes back there, it's as coach of the Bulldogs and invariably they go home with the win.

Tuesday, Sept. 18, was no exception as four Owen-Gage players scored in double figures for an easy 54-39 win.

Becky Howard had 16 points; Carol Goslin and Julie Andrakowicz, 11 each, and Dana Laurie, 10.

In the rebound department, Andrakowicz grabbed 14, Howard, 12, and Laurie, 10.

There are 14 new Webelos that were Cub Scouts last year.

Michael Scollon received his Bob Cat badge.

There will be a training session at the Cultural Center Saturday, starting at 9:30 a.m. Bring a bag lunch. The training is for den leaders, assistant den leaders, Webelo leaders and assistant Webelo leaders. At least three more leaders are needed, according to Janet Hurley. Anyone interested should come to the training session.

Leaders this year are: Mrs. Thresa Burnette, Mrs. Celia House, Mrs. Linda Albee, Mrs. B. Shagena and Mr. K. Miller. They are all new Cub Scout and Webelo leaders.

Mrs. Pam Ross, a Cub Scout leader and Bill Younglove, the Webelo leader, are both coming back this year. Mrs. Hurley is filling in this month until a den leader is found by the next pack meeting, Oct. 22.
