With $250,000, I'd help my parents

When Reuben Metson of Detroit inherited $250,000 from a great aunt last October, he quit his $4 an hour job.

He lives in a $93.50 a month, one-room apartment, does not own a car, spends most of his time in a Detroit bar, and has no intention of changing his lifestyle.

What would Sharon Lowe do if she inherited $250,000? Her parents are farmers, she explained, so "I'd probably give it to my mom and dad to pay off all their debts."

The next priority with the money, she said, would be building a "great big barn."

If she were to go on a trip, she would go to Paris, "probably to live with all those rich people."

And if there was any money left over for her to buy a car, what would she

buy? "A Cadillac."

A senior at Cass City High School, Sharon is employed through the co-op program at Sommers' Bakery.

Her parents are Robert and Wenola Lowe. The family lives at 4965 N. Germania Road, Snover.

34 senior citizens meet in Gagetown

Owen-Gage Senior Citizens met last Thursday in the Elmwood-Gagetown fire hall with 34 members present.

Twenty-nine blood pressure checks were made.

The meeting was called to order by Frank Doan by saying the Lord's Prayer and Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

Happy Birthday was sung to Ada Salgot.

The Vial of Life program was discussed by Velma Kain.

Door prizes were won by Maude Sarosky and Glen Dencen.

Easter bonnet hat winners were Millie Wilson, prettiest; Veneta Kling, most unique; Dora Chisholm, most useful; Stella Pisarek, homemade, and Lee Smith, man's hat.

The next meeting will be Thursday, April 17, at the Owendale Municipal Building with potluck dinner served.

Present awards at FFA fete

The Cass City High School Future Farmers of America held its annual banquet at the high school April 2.

The chapter president, John Gallagher, was master of ceremonies. Invocation was given by Barb Broecker. After the dinner, the outgoing officers opened the ceremonies. First on the agenda was a speech by George Romzek, a state police officer from the Sandusky post.

Gallagher and Kim Meredith presented Green Hand pins to Paul Auten, Jon Graham, Cort Hartwick, Terry Sweeny, Jon Churchill and Jeff Willis.

Terry Sweeny was presented the Star Green Hand award by Lyle Clarke, the chapter advisor.

Chapter Farmer pins were given out by Barb Broecker and Dan Hunt to Ken Brown, Jamie Doerr, Scott Hobart, Richard Johnston, Mike Jones, Joe Kappen, Mark Mathews, Brian Moore and Kim Sangster.

Scott Hobart received the Outstanding Chapter Farmer award from Clarke.

John Gallagher received the DeKalb award for being the outstanding senior member of the chapter.

The last order of business was the installation of new officers by the old officers.

New officers for the 1980-81 school year are: president, Randy Severance; vice-president, Scott Hobart; secretary, Kim Sangster; treasurer, Phil Tuckey; reporter, Mike Jones, and sentinel, Terry Sweeny.

Circuit Court cases

Reese sentenced for year for threatening policeman

Billy H. Reese, 24, of 7950 E. Cass City Road, Cass City, was sentenced to one year in the county jail Monday for felonious assault.

Sentence was pronounced by Circuit Judge Patrick R. Joslyn, who credited the defendant with 88 days served.

Reese pleaded no contest to the charge March 3, of having threatened Gagetown police officer James Compo with a .12 gauge shotgun. The incident took place Jan. 11 during a disturbance at a home on Lincoln Street.

Also Monday before Judge Joslyn:

A defense motion for setting of bond for Thomas P. Myshock, 34, of 4987 Poplar Street, Fairgrove, was granted and bond was set at $200,000.

He is charged with armed robbery and possession of a firearm while committing a felony in connection with the Feb. 27 robbery of Zabriskie's Market in Watrousville.

As of Tuesday morning, Myshock was still in jail. A trial on the charges is to be scheduled.

Douglas G. Mitchell, 18, of Flint, pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with intent to commit great bodily harm. A pretrial hearing was scheduled April 21.

He is charged with an Oct. 9 assault on Clyde Shingler near Millington.

Daryl Rapp, 41, of 8849 VanCleve Road, Tuscola, stood mute to a charge of uttering and publishing. A plea of innocent was entered and pretrial hearing scheduled April 21.

He is charged with writing three checks for $14 total without sufficient funds to Michael Meyer in December.

Marshall C. Deline, 33, of 9471 State Road, Millington, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted resisting and obstructing a police officer.

His plea was rejected. Bond was continued until a trial is held.

He is charged in connection with an incident Oct. 13 in Watertown township involving Deputy Arthur Adam while the latter was trying to make an arrest.

Cheryl Jean Youles, 34, of Lapeer, was placed on two years' probation for non-sufficient funds over $50.

She pleaded guilty to the charge Jan. 30, of having written a check in December, 1978, to Kingston Tire Center while knowing she had insufficient funds in her account.

She was also sentenced to 45 days in the county jail, with credit given for one day served, fined $200, assessed $100 court costs and ordered to pay $280 restitution.

His plea was accepted by Judge Richard F. Kern, who deferred sentencing until July 14.

He was charged with damaging the mailboxes of Sandy Bergman and Eugene Otulakowski on Kelly Road, Novesta township, Jan. 27.

Rolston was taken into custody by Cass City police Saturday night on a warrant charging him with the two offenses after they stopped his car on Garfield Street because of a burned out taillight and no license plate sticker. He was taken to the county jail to await the court hearing.

Also Monday, Lavonne E. Holcomb, 37, of 6730 Pine Street, Cass City, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving under the influence of liquor.

Her plea was accepted and she was placed on six months' probation and ordered to attend alcohol education classes. Her driver's license was suspended, except for driving to and from work and to the classes.

She was also fined $100 and assessed $150 court costs.

She was arrested on the charge March 2 by Cass City police.

Lloyd Wellman, 45, of Fenton, pleaded guilty April 1 to a charge of impaired driving. He was arrested by Cass City police Feb. 24.

His plea was accepted and he was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail, three to be served immediately and seven deferred.

He was also placed on one year's probation, ordered to attend alcohol classes and others as deemed necessary, fined $100 and assessed $150 court costs.

New books at the library

FAMILY MATTERS, by Kitty Burns Florey (fiction). Professor Betsy Ruscoe is 34, unmarried and pregnant. When she decides to have the baby, she loses her free-spirited lover--and becomes the cause celebre of the campus. But as the feminists and the right-to-lifers battle over Betsy's future, ghosts from a long-ago past begin to trouble the present. Her mother, an adopted child now dying of cancer, begs Betsy to help her discover the identity of her real parents. Searching for her mother's roots, Betsy discovers some disturbing family secrets, a new vision of the bond between mother and daughter, and a new sense of herself.

ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THE IRS, by Paul N. Strassels, (non-fiction). Why do so many people fear the IRS and dread the thought of an audit? Because the IRS wants them to, says the author, a former tax law specialist for the IRS. He tells you all you need to know about the system to calm your fears and, if you should be audited, to help you handle it with skill and aplomb. Using his years of insider's experience, he tells how the computers read returns, what occupations are considered "high-audit", which deductions the IRS usually ignores, which ones they examine carefully. He then gives you his own lists of 24 safe deductions, 14 danger zones, and 23 rules to follow if you are audited.

LIFE SENTENCE, by Charles W. Colson (non-fiction). Nixon's former special assistant begins with his release from prison after serving time for his role in Watergate. He tells what he has learned as a Christian about repentance and commitment, and describes his pioneering prison ministry.

Offer RV owners free camp directories

Free copies of the 1980 Michigan camping directories are now available to families who travel in recreational vehicles.

The directories list 70 private campgrounds and 101 recreational vehicle service locations in Michigan.

The campground directory pinpoints locations on a map of Michigan and contains small maps showing how to reach each one. The campgrounds are coded with reference to 21 customer services.

The companion directory was issued to help RV owners discover which Michigan dealers service their particular vehicles should road emergencies arise. Addresses and telephone numbers are listed by county and each is coded with reference to 15 customer services.

The directories are published by the Michigan Association of Recreational Vehicles and Campgrounds (MARVAC).

To obtain both free copies, send a self-addressed 15-cent stamped business-size envelope to RV Directories, MARVAC, 19045 Farmington Road, Livonia, Mich. 48152.
