

Board bows, okays Bible distribution

In the face of pressure from about 100 members of the district, the Cass City School Board buckled and rescinded a previously voted position not to allow Gideon Bibles to be distributed at the school.

The action was a highlight of the regular board meeting Monday night at the high school.

Besides the persons present the board received a petition with 300 signatures asking for the distribution of the Bibles.

Not only did the board rescind the motion, it effectively destroyed a previous policy guideline that required a month's delay before changing a major policy. It was the second time this year that the policy has been ignored by the board.

In a previous meeting the board had voted 4-3 to not allow the distribution in the schools because it was illegal.

Art Severance reported that he voted against the distribution because he felt the board should not endorse an illegal act. Since that time he said his research indicated that the courts ruled that it was illegal.

The crowd applauded when Dan Willis, a spectator, said that he quit Cass City schools in the 11th grade because he found pot, cocaine, heroin, sex and a lack of morals there.

Mrs. Jackie Freiburger said that shaping the characters of children is the responsibility of the parents and the 11 churches in the community.

After several pastors and other members of the audience voiced approval of distributing Bibles in the school, a motion by Hoag passed 5-1 to allow the Gideons into the classrooms.

Trustee Ed Scollon dissented.

Because no Bibles have been distributed for the previous two years the board authorized not only the fifth grade students but also the sixth and seventh grade students to receive the Bibles.

Trustee J.D. Tuckey cautioned that the vote also means that any other religious document can be distributed free to the children in the school.

tributed free to the children in the school.

DRIVER TRAINING

The board voted to rent driver education cars from Geiger-Hunt and Ouvry Chevy-Olds at a rate of $4.00 per day. An attempt will be made to find a vehicle to replace the Chrysler product that was used as the dealer declined to furnish a car at the $4.00 per day price. The new price is up from the $1.65 per day rate formerly in effect. The new vehicle will not be air conditioned as the present cars are.

This year driver training instructors will receive $8.00 per hour, up from $7.50.

SUMMER BAND

The board authorized special individual instruction for band students under the direction of Tom Clair.

Eight half hour lessons will be given for $12. That figures out to $3.00 per hour. The remainder of the cost, $5 hour, will be picked up by the school. Clair said that 38 students have said they would attend and 30 others are listed as possible.

Board seeks 1.6 mill boost for operations

The Cass City School Board voted Monday night at its regular meeting to ask district taxpayers at the June 9 election for 21.5 mills for operation.

If passed it will mean an increase in school operating taxes of 1.6 mills ($1.60 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.)

To get the 21.5 mills electors will have to approve three different ballot proposals. One authorizes the renewal of 3 1/2 mills that is expiring. The second voids the tax limitation (Headlee amendment) that rolled back taxes to 20.9 this year. The third asks for an increase of .6 of a mill.

As has been the custom, the board asks for the levies for just one year under the theory that state aid funds vary from year to year and the amount received to run the schools is uncertain until the legislature acts.

While the three ballots can be confusing taxpayers can simplify it for themselves by remembering the total millage of 21.5 that represents an increase of 1.6 mills.

In addition to okaying the tax request the board gave tentative approval of an expenditure of $60,000 from the general fund for a capital improvement and is taking a long look at $20,000 more for playground equipment.

QUICK PAYBACK

Supt. Donald Crouse predicted a quick payback of 5 years or less for new windows at Campbell, Deford and Evergreen schools.

The project will cost an estimated $124,000 and a Federal share-cost program will reduce the money needed from the general fund to $55,000 to $60,000.

Based on today's fuel cost, Crouse said that the school could save this amount in 5 years or less.

The windows will be purchased through Croft-Clara Lumber, Inc. Crouse checked several sources before recommending the lumber company. The windows will be installed and guaranteed to fit. The contractor that installed the windows at the Intermediate School refused to guarantee them unless all work was performed by their employees so the change was authorized.

There will be no pay back for the recreational equipment under consideration. It's likely that not all of the various projects suggested by a committee headed by Dr. E. Paul Lockwood will be implemented.

According to reports of various principals $2,028 worth of playground equipment is needed at Deford; $1,700 at Evergreen; $11,000 at Campbell and Intermediate, and $5,100 for equipment on the hill north of the school.

The equipment under consideration includes basketball hoops with metal nets, swings, safer merry-go-rounds, wave slides, new type teeter-totters and obstacle course equipment.

The plan is to use the survey as a basis for securing equipment as expenditures are given board approval.

The board also approved the purchase of new books at a cost of over $10,000. The purchases will replace books that are seven years old or older. Among the new books is a new type of physics text.

According to Doug Grezeszak, instructor, Cass City will be the first to use the "individualized physics project" system in Michigan although it has been used in Canada for several years with success.

The initial cost of the instruction material will be $996 for 26 students. That's considerably more than the $575 that the traditional text would cost. However, after the initial expenditure, replacement costs should be less than traditional texts, Grezeszak believes.

Authorize building survey

O-G okays CB radios for buses

The Owendale-Gagetown Board of Education Monday evening took the first step in putting the district in compliance with the federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which requires accessibility to school buildings by the handicapped.

William Britt and James Barr, elementary and high school principals respectively, who have been working on the compliance program, told the board failure to comply would mean a cutoff in all federal funds.

The 1979-80 school year budget projects federal revenue to the district at $77,500, for education programs and pay for employees hired under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

The district has to start evaluation of its needs by June 3 to comply with federal deadlines.

Basically, what the board did was give Britt and Barr authority to proceed.

The next step, the elementary principal explained, will be formation of a committee to survey both school buildings to determine what needs to be done to put them into compliance.

Probably all that has to be done at the high school, he said, will be installation of two "for handicapped only" parking signs.

What will probably have to be done first at the elementary school will be installation of a ramp for wheelchair users, which, he added, could have come in handy a few days earlier when a wheelchair user visited the school.

The numerous stairs in the building will present some problems. Guardrails will have to be installed in some bathrooms and a low-to-the-floor telephone made available for use by wheelchair users.

The district won't have to make all changes at once, but there will have to be ongoing improvements. All costs will have to be borne locally.

If the cost of some items is prohibitive, Britt explained after the meeting, some alternatives might have to be used. For instance, if inside stair ramps can't be made to accommodate the student, his class might have to be a room more accessible.

Britt said the committee should have a report ready for the board by its June 9 meeting.

At present, the only physically handicapped student at Owendale-Gagetown, a tuition student from Cass City, uses a wheelchair and attends high school.

BUS RADIOS

Ending perhaps a couple of years of deliberation, the board voted to purchase nine citizen sideband radios, one per school bus, two base station radios and antennas

They will be purchased from Paul Donovan's "Our Shop" in Deford for a total of $2,539, plus 28 cents per foot of cable from the base radio antennas into the buildings. Britt solicited bids from several dealers and recommended Donovan's, based

MR. WIZARD -- Retired Cass City High School principal and teacher Art Holmberg has kept 10 4th-6th grade boys fascinated on Saturday mornings in a Community Education class entitled "Come With Me to the Laboratory." Here, he demonstrates the Wimhurst machine, which generates static electricity. Last of the four sessions is this Saturday. Topics covered have been sound, chemistry, magnetism and electricity. Holmberg taught chemistry and physics here from 1935-43, was also principal from 1943-60, and was full-time principal from 1960 until he retired in 1969.

Michigan's half a primary for president Tuesday

Polls will be open Tuesday from 7 a.m.-8 p.m. for the presidential primary election.

In Austin township, there will also be a road millage renewal on the ballot.

Although voters will have a choice between voting Democratic or Republican, only the latter will count for anything.

Republican candidates listed are Ronald Reagan, George Bush, the only two candidates still in contention for the nomination, John B. Anderson, now running as an independent candidate but still listed as a Republican, plus perennial candidate Harold Stassen, Los Angeles businessman Benjamin Fernandez and "uncommitted."

In addition, Republican voters will also be choosing delegates to the May 28 county convention in Caro. Those elected will choose delegates to the state convention, at which the delegates to the national Republican convention will be chosen, based on results of Tuesday's primary.

If, for instance, George Bush gets 52 percent of the primary vote, he is supposed to get 52 percent of the delegates.

Novesta township is one of only two Tuscola county townships in which there is a contest for county convention delegates. (The other township is Indianfield.)

County Clerk Elsie Hicks and her husband, Gerald, are running as uncommitted delegates while David and Janet Moody are running pledged to Ronald Reagan. Only two delegates are to be elected.

Delegates running in Precinct 1 of Elkland township, four to be elected, are John Marshall, Mabel Marshall, Esther McCullough and Marie Roch, all uncommitted.

Running in Precinct 2, four to be elected, are Jack Gallagher, Edwin S. Karr, Maynard McConkey and Harold Perry, all uncommitted.

Area townships in which delegates will be elected by write-in vote as no one filed petitions include Elmwood, Ellington, Kingston, Columbia and Grant.

The Democratic Party primary presidential is meaningless because the state party decided to elect their national convention delegates pledged to the candidates in closed caucuses, which has already taken place.

Because of that, the two leading contenders, President Jimmy Carter and Massachusetts Sen. Edward Kennedy, withdrew from the ballot. (Based on the caucus vote, Kennedy will receive 71 Michigan delegate votes at the national convention; Carter, 70.)

That leaves two names in the Democratic column, California Gov. Edmund

Brown Jr., who has withdrawn from the national race, and Lyndon LaRouche Jr., former head of the U.S. Labor Party. The third Democratic choice is "uncommitted."

The Michigan primary is open, in that there are no restrictions on which party one can vote for. Democrats, for instance, can vote in the Republican primary.

In Austin township, Sanilac county, in addition to voting for presidential candidates, residents will also be voting on a four-year renewal of 2.5 mills for road maintenance and construction.

According to township Supervisor Claire Grika, the township has had the millage in effect for at least 10 years. The levy that is expiring ran for five years.

The 2.5 mills will raise roughly $16,000 a year for roads. The township also spends some money from its general fund and all of its federal revenue sharing for roads.

Grant township was to have two millage proposals on the ballot, one mill for five years for roads and one mill for three years for fire and ambulance service.

However, the election papers were filed too late to get it on Tuesday's ballot, due to a misunderstanding of when the deadline was, so the millage proposals will now appear on the Aug. 5 general election primary ballot.

Polling place for the presidential primary in most, if not all, townships is the township hall.

Candidates agree on most issues

Candidates running for the two positions on the Cass City School Board in the June 9 election didn't find much to disagree about when they presented their views last Thursday.

Seven of the eight candidates running spoke at the program presented by the Cass City Education Association, Fred Matthews, Dan Allen, Walter Zmierski, Rev. Harry Capps, Richard Albee, Ben Hobart and David Loomis.

Dr. E. Paul Lockwood, the one incumbent seeking reelection, was not present.

About 35 persons attended the program, held in the high school cafeteria. With the school board to decide four days later on the amount of the millage it will be seeking June 9, finances were much discussed.

Of those candidates who did take a position, none spoke in opposition to an increase.

"It's not good to have to pay out money at a time like this," Loomis commented, adding that he felt cutbacks now would be harder to overcome in the future. "The school has got to have money to carry on."

Hobart pointed out that about 75-80 percent of the school budget goes for salaries. "I don't think our system has so many frills that you can cut part of it and not hamper the total educational process we have here," he supports the increase.

Others who expressed support for the millage were Capps, Albee and Allen.

Comments were also made about the upcoming negotiations with teachers for a new contract. Loomis said that was as important as the millage. "You need both for continuing education."

As for what role the board should take in negotiations, Hobart thought that it should be up to professional negotiators to do the actual bargaining for the board. "I don't see why board members should negotiate with professionals from the other side."

Albee said if elected, he would like to attend the negotiating sessions, but only as an observer.

LONG-RANGE GOALS and problems for the school system was a question posed by the teacher committee that presented the program.

Allen mentioned declining discipline, due to lack of discipline in families, and a need to get back to the Please turn to page 14.

SEVEN OF THE EIGHT candidates running for the Cass City School Board appeared at the meet-the-candidates program last Thursday. They were, from left, Dan Allen, David Loomis, Richard Albee, Harry Capps, Fred Matthews, Ben Hobart and Walter Zmierski. Absent was Dr. Paul Lockwood. The program was sponsored by the Cass City Education Association.

"If It Fitz. . ." Sparky's way

By Jim Fitzgerald

While training for my next sitting marathon, I watched the Detroit Tigers lose a baseball game to the Oakland A's on TV. Incredibly, the A's stole home twice in two innings. Later, in a TV commercial, Tiger manager Sparky Anderson told a large group of Chevrolet dealers they could sell more cars by doing things "my way."

This made me sit up, which isn't breaking training, but almost. The normal baseball team doesn't have its home plate stolen twice in five years. Several other unusual things have happened to the Tigers since they started doing things Sparky Anderson's way. I couldn't help wondering how the Chevrolet dealers are doing since they hired Anderson to manage them.

My favorite Chevrolet salesman is named Irv. I asked him for a report on business under Anderson.

"I had two prospective customers on my lot just yesterday," Irv said. "Unfortunately, I lost them both in the sun."

Irv admitted he had been influenced by Sparky Anderson's right fielder, Champ Summers. In a recent game, Summers blew two consecutive flyballs because the sun got in his eyes. Many people wondered why Champ didn't put his sunglasses on after the first error.

"That's the type of positive thinking Sparky admires," Irv explained. "Summers was positive the weather was going to turn cloudy between flies. I felt the same way between customers. In these two instances, we were both off base, but in the long run, a man will never go wrong believing every game has a cloudy inning."

It is evident that Anderson's disciples react to adversity with similar enthusiasm, whether the calamity occurs on the ball field or on the car lot. When Tiger catcher Lance Parrish had those two home plates swiped from under his feet, he broke a water cooler with his hand. When Irv lost those two customers in the sun, he squashed a Dixie cup with his foot.

"We don't have a water cooler," Irv apologized, "but I jumped on the cup so hard my hat flew off. Whenever you run out from under your hat, that means you're a hustler. Sparky likes hustlers, which is why I buy my hats two sizes too small."

He says I could be this area's top Chevy salesman in May, barring injuries."

Business is terrible for American-made cars, mostly because the Big Three built big when they should have built small. Henry Ford II told Barbara Walters the worst mistake of his career was failing to foresee the demand for Japanese-size autos. Ford's charmingly humble admission that he helped make the unemployment line so long was a great comfort to the thousands of laid-off workers who will never see him standing in it.

In view of these lousy playing conditions, it surprised me when Irv said his dealership isn't open on Saturdays when many people have time to shop for cars. I wondered if Sparky agreed with this strategy.

"It's the same as having men on base," Irv explained. "Sparky teaches his players to stay on base and wait patiently for the one big hit that will turn the season around, no matter how many seasons it takes. Any customer who cares enough to reach third base on Saturday will still be there when I get to work Monday."

After all, there's no sense in badgering players to score when the other team is a bunch of thieves. If a Tiger came in from third base and found no home plate to slide into, there's no telling how many Dixie cups he might stomp.

Apparently, the Chevrolet dealers are content with Sparky Anderson's leadership. Their only worry is loyalty. Last fall, Anderson scheduled what he called important practice sessions for some Tigers in Florida. But he quickly canceled the important sessions when he was hired to broadcast the play-offs and world series on radio and TV.

Irv is worried that Sparky might quit Chevrolet if the Tigers offer him more money to spend more time looking for home plate. If this happened now, just as things are looking brighter for the Chevy dealers, it would be like losing Sparky in the sun. The dealers are hoping for a cloudy inning.

Prom starts final swing for seniors

The junior-senior banquet and prom at the Colony House Saturday were the first of several activities marking the beginning of the end for Cass City High School seniors.

There were 159 scheduled to graduate May 22. They will be taking their final exams Friday, Monday and Tuesday.

The baccalaureate service will be in the high school gymnasium starting at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The high school band, directed by Thomas Clair, will play the processional, a selection midway through the programs, and the recessional.

The invocation will be given by Rev. Harry Capps of the Cass City Presbyterian church.

The high school choir, directed by James Hobbs, will then sing "Old Irish Blessing."

Elder Dean Smith of the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints in Decker will give the scripture reading.

A prayer for the graduates will be offered by Pastor John Lange of the Novesta Baptist church.

The address will be given by Rev. James VanDellen of the Good Shepherd Lutheran church. Rev. Capps will give the benediction.

Following rowdy behavior during last year's senior swing-out, the school board voted to end the tradition. Lobbying by this year's seniors caused the board to change its mind and vote in February to allow its continuation.

There will be a change, however. Instead of taking place during the week, swing-out will take place immediately after the baccalaureate service, about 3:30 p.m.

The seniors will assemble at the intermediate school and then be led by the band down Seeger Street to Church Street, from there to West Street, to Main, down Main to Oak, then back to the intermediate school.

Graduation exercises take place Thursday, May 22, at 8 p.m. in the gym.

The band will again play the processional, a selection midway through the program and the recessional.

Cycle theft try results in Caro man's arrest

A Caro man remained in jail Tuesday, unable to post bond after being charged with the attempted theft of a motorcycle in Cass City.

Charged with attempted unlawfully driving away a motor vehicle is George R. Donovan, 22, of 1275 S. Colling Road.

He appeared Monday before District Judge Richard F. Kern, who scheduled a pre-preliminary examination May 19 and preliminary examination May 30. Bond was set at $3,000, of which Donovan must post 10 percent.

Cass City police reported that Winnie Houghton of 4488 Leach Street returned home about 11 p.m. last Wednesday to discover three individuals trying to take the motorcycle of her brother, Harold Houghton.

The trio first said they had hit the cycle with the car they were riding in and were looking at it, then said they were from Detroit and were looking for the way to Millington, then left.

The invocation and benediction will both be given by Rev. P. Thomas Wachterhauser of the Trinity United Methodist church.

Supt. Donald Crouse will give the welcome, followed by student speakers Jane Hobart and Daniel LaPonsie.

Counselors Jerry Cleland and Wayne Dillon will present the honors and awards.

Principal Russell Richards will present the graduates and Crouse will pass out the diplomas.

The spring sports banquet will be May 29.

For students not graduating, final exams are June 4-5. They will pick up their report cards June 6 from 2:30-3:30 p.m.

Rabbit Tracks

(And anyone else can get to help)

Now that the distribution of free Bibles by Gideons has been approved by the Cass City School Board, trustees should be considering what lengths they are willing to go to defend the decision.

If challenged in court the defense could be a lengthy and costly proposition. Hopefully it will never happen but board members should be ready with answers if it does.

It was refreshing for this reporter to hear the presentation of physics teacher Doug Grezeszak Monday before the school board. He bubbled with enthusiasm and his presentation for a new type of text showed he spent some time with his homework.

In short he appeared to be a "dedicated teacher" that school critics moan are a vanishing breed.

It's not surprising that he told the board that student enrollment in his tough elective course will almost double next year after his first year on the job in Cass City.

Regular readers of this trivia will recall that Editor Mike Eliason has had several articles printed for a bicycle magazine.

Now he qualifies as a farm writer, too. His article about Earl and Chuck Hendrick's pigs that appeared recently was reprinted in the May issue of the Michigan Pork Producers Association magazine.

After the June meeting of the Cass City School Board a veteran will no longer be seated at the table.

Art Severance, who has helped with school decisions for 12 years, is stepping down. He will be replaced by one of eight candidates running for two board seats.

It can't happen too soon, Art said Monday with a grin; it's just not as much fun as it used to be.

Bids for the sale of used bus tires were opened. Six of the 22 were sold. Four tires were purchased by Ben Houghton for $30.03 each. Two tires were purchased by Village Service Center for $15.00 each. The remainder will be rebid.

Mrs. Ellen Toner wrote a letter to the board thanking the school staff for its work with her son, Todd, an autistic boy who graduates this spring.

Election inspectors were named for the June 9 election. They are: Chairman Ann Rogers, Alternate Chairman Mary Knight, Helen Lorentzen, Joan Little, Ruth Whittaker, Marie Doyen and Alternates Pat Kilbourn and Norma Wallace.

The best political cartoon of the year pictured a candidate before a judge who kept repeating, "no, no, George, you can't change your name to none of the above."

That's the way I look at the candidates for president and judging by what I read and hear that's the way that many Americans view the current crop. It's at least a large minority and it could be a majority of the voters.

Certainly, when you look at the record of President Carter there's nothing to bring comfort to any of us.

No need to reiterate that record. Carter's saving grace is that he has used a little discretion with the hostages in Iran.

This week I read where Ronald Reagan says that he would have tried a rescue within two weeks after the hostages were taken.

Reagan must figure that he's still playing the hero lead in a war movie and that everything will come out all right in the end.

I can't bring myself to believe that a man with simplistic answers to grave questions is the right man to pilot us through the maze of international diplomacy.

Ted Kennedy has the experience to deal with the legislature and perhaps could be efficient in the international field.

But what about at home? You can't believe the rhetoric of the campaign trail. You judge by the record.

The record shows that all through his career Kennedy has voted for policies that increase government spending and add to inflation.

Polls indicate that inflation is seen as number one problem of the country, and a vote for Kennedy is a vote for more of the same.

So that leaves "none of the above." Our political system being what it is, realistically those are all of the candidates that can be considered.

Shade trees

According to the experts at the American Association of Nurserymen, known as "the green survival people," the right place for shade trees is the south and west sides of the home to shield the direct rays of the sun. It is important to use trees that will drop their leaves in the winter to let the sun provide needed passive solar energy.

Recent research has found that shrubs and trees placed to shade an air conditioning condenser will save as much as 3 percent of its operating time.

Regular Meeting Cass City Village Council

The regular meeting of the Cass City Village Council was held April 28, 1980 at 7:00 p.m. at the Municipal Building. All trustees were present except Trustee Helwig.

Violence on television

By Mike Eliasohn

It was probably when the Burt Reynolds movie, "Smokie and the Bandit," was playing at the Cass Theatre. It was on Thursday $1 admission night and there were LOTS of kids in the audience.

One of the coming attractions previewed was the hockey movie starring Paul Newman, the title of which escapes me.

There was lots of violence in the movie, something which seems to have become more important in that sport sometimes than chasing after the puck.

Whenever the violence was shown on the screen, there were appreciative "ooohs." At the end of the preview came the notice the film was rated "R," restricted to adults and minors accompanied by parents. There was a loud, "aw," expressed by those whose who would be too young to see the movie. They were going to miss all that neat violence.

As an adult, I found that somewhat appalling, that young kids would consider a scene of someone getting his face bashed in with a hockey stick as thrilling.

However, I'm not sure that I was different when I was a kid. I remember playing cowboys and Indians with my toy rifle. I don't find that appalling today and I don't agree with those adults who advocate doing away with all toy guns and war toys. (I have never owned a real gun.)

I also remember as a kid going to see "To Hell and Back" with my friends. That was the story of the World War II exploits of Audie Murphy, one of the biggest heroes to come out of that war. There was lots of violence in that one and my friends and I all thought it was neat.

The difference between then and now, of course, is television. The first television came into our house, I would guess, when I was five, but I would like to think that shows then didn't feature as much violence as they do now. I may be wrong, because I don't remember too many shows from when I was growing up.

The fear, of course, is that youngsters who are easily influenced might decide from watching television that the normal way to settle disputes is to shoot one's adversary or try to bash his head in and if the police try to pull him over for speeding, the normal behavior is to try to outrun the officer.

Unfortunately, although television has the potential for good, according to John P. Murray, visiting assistant professor of communication, psychology and education at the University of Michigan, the bad seems to be outweighing the good.

One Canadian study, he said, found that reading skills of second and third graders in a community dropped in the two years after television was introduced there to the level of those in other towns which had had television longer.

Another Canadian study reported that television seemed to cause verbal skills of children to deteriorate.

Studies have yet to reveal, however, whether excessive television watching results in lower grades or those who watch too much are less bright to begin with.

As for the effect of watching violence, Murray said, "Studies of this type conducted in several parts of the world showed repeatedly that the children who viewed the neutral or pro-social programs tended to become more cooperative and sharing, while those who viewed the more violent programs became significantly more aggressive."

One 10-year followup in 1972 showed that a preference for violent programs at age eight was significantly related to aggressive behavior at age 18, according to the professor.

As reported by the U-M Information Services, Murray's own research has found that certain programs can influence pro-social behavior, such as sharing, cooperating and caring for the well-being of others.

"Unfortunately," he adds, "the pro-social programs don't seem to have as dramatic an influence on children's behavior as the violent programs, but the potential is there and promising."

It is estimated that one of five school age children watch 40 hours or more of television a week.

Murray's recommendation is that parents should limit their children to watching an average of one or two hours per day and then teach them to be selective viewers.

CANADIAN CLUB -- Thirty-one of the 40 members of the Bayfield, Ont. Lioness Club were guests of the Cass City Lioness Club Monday, coming by chartered bus. Shaking hands with the Bayfield president, Judy Huntley (at right) is Cass City club President Beryl Bliss. Bayfield is about 50 miles north of Port Huron and Sarnia. The Cass Cityans hope to return the visit this fall.

Road Commission signs contract with employees

The Tuscola County Road Commission board last Thursday signed a new agreement with its 44 hourly employees represented by the Service Employees International Union Local 21-M.

Members of the union approved the three-year pact April 29 by a vote of 24-15. Their representatives signed the agreement May 5.

The union represents the Road Commission's various equipment operators and mechanics.

Although the old agreement with the agency expired Dec. 31, the new one is retroactive to only April 21, the first full pay period since the signing.

For the remainder of the year, employees will receive a pay increase of 85 cents per hour across the board and 65 cents per hour across the board additional in 1981 and 1982, a total of $2.15 over the three years.

For a light equipment operator, the lowest paid worker, according to Road

Commission Clerk Jim Miklovic, the first year pay increase works out to about 9.5 percent if it were spread over the 12 months, but 14.1 percent over the 8 1/3 months they will actually receive the raise.

The 1981 increase works out to about 9 1/2 percent, and in 1982, 8.6 percent.

Prior to the increase, light equipment operators received $6.02 per hour, so now will receive $6.87.

The new first-year wage rates for the other job categories are semi-truck operators, $6.92 per hour; heavy equipment operators, $6.97, and drag line operators and mechanics, $7.17.

Employees do not receive a cost of living allowance.

Also in the new contract, they received two additional paid holidays, but not this year. They will get Veterans' Day off starting in 1981 and a floating holiday by agreement of the union and Road Commission in June, July or August, starting in 1982. If, for instance,

July 4th falls on a Thursday, the floating holiday might be the next day in order to have a four-day week end.

The other major change was an increase in the life insurance policy benefit for each worker from the previous $2,500 to $5,000 this year and $7,500, starting in 1981.

The old contract with the workers expired Dec. 31 but they continued working without one.

The union requested a state mediator in late January. According to Miklovic, the mediator met with the two sides only twice. He was not at the final two sessions, with tentative agreement being reached April 22.

Although the union members approved the pact April 29, some questions remained.

They were resolved at the May 5 session with their representatives and -- representing the road Commission -- Miklovic, Engineer Robert Wellington and labor attorney Michael Ward of Kalamazoo. The union representatives then signed the agreement.

The final step came last Thursday with presentation of the agreement to the Road Commission board, which then approved it.

Cass City girls undefeated in league

Hawks, Broncos headed for title showdown

It looks as if the Thumb B Association softball championship will be decided when Coach Dave Hoard's girls face North Branch May 21. The high flying Hawks are undefeated in 8 conference games and the Broncos have one defeat.

Standing between the Hawks and that big game are two league clashes. The Hawks were to have played at Bad Axe Tuesday and Lakers Thursday. The Hawks kept their conference record unblemished during the week with twin bill victories over Marlette and Vassar. The Hawks posted a 13-2 pasting of the Raiders in the first game behind the six-hit pitching of Shirley Fleming. It was only a game for one inning. The Hawks and the Raiders traded runs in the initial frame, but the Hawks salted the game away in the second. The girls combed Janet Gleason for 7 hits good for 10 runs as 15 players went to the plate. After that it was mop up time in the five-innings game.

Leading the attack were Padgett Randall, Nancy Tonti and Beth Sieradzki, with three hits each. Marlette fought to the wire before losing the second game, 11-7. Both teams had on their hitting togs as the Hawks rapped out 13 hits and the Raiders countered with 11 off Tammie Root and Fleming, in relief.

Cass City jumped out to an early 6-1 lead in the first five innings only to have Marlette rally in the bottom of the fifth for five big markers to tie the game. Threatened, Cass City came back with four runs in the sixth inning to win it. Libby Hartel cracked three hits in as many tries.

VASSAR GAMES

Cass City topped Vassar in the first of two games Thursday, 10-7. It looked as if it were going to be another laughing for the Hawks when the game started. The Hawks turned six hits into six runs in the first inning. But Vassar got tough after that to make a game of it. Four runs in the first two innings moved the visitors to within four runs, 8-4, and another rally in the fourth cut the margin to three runs. But that was all for the Vulcans, who went out meekly in the final frame. Shirley Fleming, Shelley Lapeer, Tammie McKee and Tammie Root each collected two hits for Cass City. Root picked up the win as she allowed 7 hits. The nightcap wasn't much of a game at all as the Hawk girls must have got tired running around the bases. Every player scored in the 22-8 rout.

Cass City ripped out 22 hits led by Fleming and Sieradzki with three hits, and Hartel, who walked three times and had two hits in five tries. Fleming pitched the win and was touched for 12 hits.

GOOD DEFENSE helped to nail the runner on this play and defense has sparked the Cass City Red Hawk softball team to an undefeated record in the Thumb B Association this year.

Baseball team eyes tourney

Double loss ruins Hawk league championship hopes

Cass City Red Hawks turned their attention to the upcoming pre-district baseball competition this week after a double loss to Marlette ruined hopes for a share of the Thumb B Association championship.

And the Hawks have their work cut out for them. Their opponent in the first round is none other (you guessed it) than Marlette, the only team to top the Hawks twice this spring.

Cass City lost to the Red Raiders at Marlette, 4-3, and 6-3, Tuesday, May 6.

In the first game Cass City led all the way until Earney

Stoutenburg, Cass City's ace and one of the top hurlers in the league, weakened in the fifth and sixth innings.

Cass City scored once in the first and twice in the fourth to lead 3-0 going into the fifth. The Red Raiders scored twice on two hits and two errors to close the gap to 3-2 and then won it in the last inning on a walk and two base knocks.

In the nightcap the winners won it with a three-run rally off Todd Comment in the third to take a 5-2 lead and then coasted in.

The Hawks will undoubtedly have Stoutenburg ready for the pre-district rematch and with the home diamond advantage the game rates as a toss-up.

VASSAR GAMES

The Hawks prepped for tournament competition with a double bill victory over Vassar Thursday at Cass City. The Hawks won the first game behind Stoutenburg's three-hit shutout, 1-0.

Stoutenburg and Vassar's Jim Evans were locked in a tight pitching duel with neither team able to score. In the last half of the last inning, Cass City pushed across the winning marker Mike Stec rapped a single. Tim Johnson followed with a ground ball single and Ken Martin chased him home with a hit. Martin picked up two of Cass City's four hits in the win.

It was easier for the Hawks in the nightcap. Cass City rapped out six hits good for six runs while Martin hurled a three-hitter in the 6-1 decision.

The Hawks scored three times in the second and twice more in the fourth to wrap up the decision. Scott Murphy and Stec led the attack with two hits each.

MIKE STEC comes trotting home with the winning run in the last inning as the Hawks took a 1-0 decision over Vassar Thursday.

O-G adds to perfect record

Owen-Gage came within two wins of a perfect North Central D League season in softball Monday with two victories over visiting Caseville, 18-7 and 12-11.

The 12-0 Bulldogs end the league season at Kingston this Thursday.

The main means of scoring Monday was via bases on balls in the poorly pitched contests.

Dana Laurie started for the home team in the 18-7 opener, and was relieved by Becky Howard, who was the winning pitcher. They combined to give up 14 walks, seven runs and one hit. They struck out three.

Losing pitcher Shari Dutcher walked 17. She gave up 12 hits and struck out five.

Laurie also started the second game, was relieved again by Howard, who was relieved by Tammy Kain, who took the win. The trio issued a total of 11 walks, six hits and struck out two.

Michelle McCormick started for the Eagles and was relieved by Dutcher. They issued a total of 25 bases on balls, one hit and struck out three.

NORTH HURON

It took extra innings to do it, but Owen-Gage kept its perfect record alive last Thursday in North Central D League play with a 10-8 decision over North Huron in seven innings.

The Bulldogs, playing on the Warriors' home field, won the nightcap, 13-8 to boost their league mark to 10-0.

Dana Laurie started the first game for Owen-Gage, but was relieved by Becky Howard, who got the win. They struck out a total of nine, walked 12 and allowed three hits.
Renee Rice started for North Huron and was re-

O-G slips in baseball race

Owen-Gage slipped to second place in the North Central D League standings as the result of a split against Caseville Monday.

The Bulldogs won the opener at Owendale, 4-3, but were edged in the second, 2-1.

Winning pitcher in the opener, Pete Klemkowsky, walked one, struck out seven and surrendered six hits.

Kirk Carolan hit a double and a single for the victors. Jeff Hallock had a triple and Klemkowsky contributed a double.

Losing pitcher Joe Briesmeister walked two, struck out five and gave up seven hits.

Mike Stahl hit a single and a triple for the Eagles.

Jim Kuhr won the battle of the statistics but not the game in the 2-1 nightcap. The junior hurler gave up four hits, walked one and struck out seven.
Winning pitcher Mike McCormick struck out five, walked five and gave up four hits.
Hallock hit a home run for the Bulldogs. Mike Novack hit two singles and Joe Briesmeister had a double and a single.

The league season for 8-4 Owen-Gage ends this Thursday at Kingston, unless the playing field is in poor condition there. If so, the game will be played at Owendale.

NORTH HURON

The Bulldogs gained two much-needed wins at North Huron last Thursday, 11-2 and 13-8, to put them in first place in the North Central D League with a 7-3 mark.

Owen-Gage went on a hitting spree, with Kirk Carolan collecting seven hits in nine times at bat in the two games; Scott Gaeth, six of nine, Jeff Hallock, five of nine, and Pete Klemkowsky, four hits in eight times at the plate.

On the pitchers' mound in the opener, Klemkowsky went the distance in striking out eight, walking two and surrendering four hits.

Losing pitcher Don Reinke was relieved by Jon Binder. They combined for eight strikeouts, two walks issued and 19 hits.

Leading hitters for the Bulldogs were Carolan, triple and three singles; Gaeth, three singles; Hallock, triple and a single; Klemkowsky, two singles; Jim Glidden, double and a single, and Vince Salcido and Randy Radabaugh, each with two singles.

In the 13-8 nightcap, winning pitcher Jim Kuhr was relieved after three innings by Klemkowsky. They combined to walk eight, strike out six and issue seven hits.

Losing pitcher Bill Marquette gave up 29 hits, struck out five and walked none.

Schrinel caught 10 fish and scored 166 1/2 points. Nine fish was the maximum that could be entered.

Second was Maurice Mousseau of Kinde with 12 fish and 161 1/2 points and third, Ted Streussnig, Bad Axe, 11 fish and 158 3/4 points.

Schrinel was also captain of the winning crew, the Woodstock Fishing Team, whose other members were Chuck Hughes, Frank Darling and Art Perry. They caught a total of eight lake trout, one king salmon and one coho salmon.

RESOLUTION RE MECHANICAL CODE ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT

WHEREAS, Act 230 of the Public Acts of 1972 were amended to make it mandatory that an approved Mechanical Code be enforced by each municipality and township; or, that in lieu thereof, the County shall administer and enforce the state approved Mechanical Code effective April 5, 1980, and WHEREAS, the cost of such administration and enforcement to Tuscola County will be excessive because of the tremendous increase in fuel costs and wages for additional staff,

WHEREAS, placing more personnel on the public payroll will not solve the problems which existed before the enactment of a Mechanical Code, and

WHEREAS, creating new or increasing current permit fees to underwrite the additional costs to the County of Tuscola will place a greater burden on the taxpayers of Tuscola County, and

WHEREAS, the County of Tuscola is facing increased state mandates and costs for providing new services, yet experiencing declining revenues each year due to tax limitation proposals, and

WHEREAS, the County of Tuscola has suffered from reduced State funded services which is critical because this conflicts with the State mandated administration and enforcement of the Mechanical Code, and

WHEREAS, if single family dwellings could be exempted from the requirements of the Mechanical Code thereby relieving rural Counties of a great financial burden.

THEREFORE, BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners request that the requirement for administering and enforcing the State Mechanical Code by Counties be waived.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this Resolution be sent by the County Clerk to all Counties having a population under 60,000; Representative Loren Armbruster, Senator Alvin DeGrow and Mr Barry McGuire, Executive Director, Michigan Association of Counties.

80-R-8

Commissioner Wentla presented the following Resolution and moved for its adoption. Seconded by Robert Russell. Motion carried.

Whereas State Representative Mark Clodfelter, Flint, Michigan has introduced Substitute for House Bill 4774 in the Michigan House of Representatives and whereas said bill is a complete revision of the Juvenile Code of the State of Michigan and has been reported out of the House Judiciary Committee and is presently on the floor of the House, and

Whereas the drastic changes therein destroy the philosophy and purpose of having a separate court for juveniles and would turn the juvenile court into an adult criminal court and whereas we believe that the philosophy stated in the preamble to the present juvenile code, Section 1

as follows:

"Proceeding under this chapter shall not be deemed to be criminal proceedings. This chapter shall be liberally construed to the end that each child coming within the jurisdiction of the court shall receive such care, guidance and control, preferably in his own home, as will be conducive to the child's welfare and the best interest of the state and that when such child is removed from the control of his parents the court shall secure for him care as nearly as possible equivalent to the care which should have been given to him by them."

is the correct philosophy and that the whole reason for treating juveniles differently from adults is because they are juveniles, and

Whereas the Michigan Supreme Court on March 1, 1969, put into effect in the juvenile courts of the state a set of Juvenile Court Rules which are among the most modern in the United States and afford a juvenile and his parents more due process than required by the decision of the United States Supreme Court and whereas several of the provisions in this bill infringe upon the rule making power of the Supreme Court, in that the bill contains page after page of complicated and costly procedures restricting and limiting the powers of the Juvenile Court to act and deal effectively with juveniles and whereas the powers of the Circuit Court and District Courts are not so restricted in dealing with adults, and;

Whereas we believe that the present juvenile code could be updated with a few amendments without destroying the whole philosophy and reason for being of the juvenile court system.

We, the Board of Commissioners of Tuscola County, hereby go on record as opposing Substitute for House Bill 4774, the so called revised juvenile code and House Bills 4775, 4776, 4777 and 4778 which are tied to it and more particularly we are opposed to the following:

1. We are opposed to the absolute prohibition in the bill of the use of a jail or adult facility. We feel that the present statute which restricts the use of the jail to cases where the court finds that a child of 15 years of age or older who is found to be a menace to other children may then be placed in jail for a limited period of time is adequate. Counties presently having juvenile homes have to use this statute when they get a bad actor.

2. We are unalterably opposed to Part 4 of the bill that applies to Family In Need of Services.

This keeps jurisdiction over what has been mislabeled as status offenders, to wit: runaway children and school truants but omits jurisdiction over incorrigible children who refuse to obey the reasonable and lawful commands of their parents. However, the bill sets up prerequisites and restrictions to the courts taking jurisdiction that makes it a sham.

The restrictions and prerequisites placed in Part 4 on conditions that have to be met before the Court can act on truancy make it certain that by the time action can be taken a minor will be past school age. The restrictions on taking jurisdiction over a runaway likewise prevent any necessary corrective action by the Court and this bill makes it a prerequisite that a child has to runaway to a runaway shelter and seek assistance or refuse to before the Court can act. Also the state has to provide or license runaway shelters in each county and staff them which would result in a tremendous cost for operation of unnecessary facilities. Other restrictions in the bill that the Court has to find before it can accept a petition are mind boggling. Also the bill takes away the power of the court to place in detention a school truant or to remove them from the home and prevents any children in this category from being placed in secure detention. And once the Court does adjudicate a case its powers of disposition are severely restricted.

3. We are opposed to the provisions in the bill that deal with the procedure after filing a complaint with the Juvenile Court for both minors in need of care and juvenile offenders that would require the Court as follows:

1. Before proceeding further to hold a conference with the minor and parent, who have a right to counsel.

2. After conducting a preliminary inquiry the Court may forward the complaint to the Prosecutor.

3. The Prosecutor will review the complaint and determine whether to file a petition.

4. Then the Court shall conduct a preliminary hearing where persons have the right to counsel again.

5. Then an adjudication hearing with right to counsel again.

6. Then the court if it takes jurisdiction has a dispositional hearing with right to counsel.

Whereas under our present code and court rule, no conferences are required, and preliminary hearings are mandatory only if a child is taken into custody and not released. The cost of appointed counsel to the counties could increase several times to what it is now! That the requirement of a conference before any action is taken on a complaint is not required for due process and in fact is undue process and that the requirement of preliminary hearings in every case is also in that category.

4. We are opposed to the procedure for waiver of a minor 15 years of age or older to an adult court of criminal jurisdiction and the classification of certain felonies as violent offenses because it complicates the procedure unnecessarily and that the present provisions providing for a waiver for a felony under certain guidelines are more than adequate.

5. We are unalterably opposed to the provisions in Section 119 (6), that states that if the provisions in the bill for detention of runaways (but only after considerable roadblocks are met and then only for 5 days) are in conflict with the Federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Act that they shall be cancelled, and that what is in the best interests of the citizens of the State of Michigan in this matter should not be tied to federal funds.

6. Lastly, we feel that if the Legislature feels it is necessary to take any action in the juvenile field that House Bill 4959 introduced by Representative Binsfeld and which is essentially an update of the old Cawthorne-Rosenbaum bill is a much better bill, simpler, more capable of an intelligent interpretation by the court and contains all the proper safeguards and yet would let the Court act in cases where it is necessary for the benefit of the public and the children of this state and we would urge that preference be given by the Legislature to House Bill 4959.

7. We believe that the great majority of the Juvenile Courts in the State of Michigan are doing a good job under difficult circumstances, and that some improvements can be made, of course, without the drastic changes in this bill, and that advancements could be made if the State of Michigan would provide better programs, better treatment facilities, for emotionally disturbed and mentally ill children, regional detention homes and treatment centers, more money for aid to the counties in developing programs, and we believe that more control should be kept on the local level of county government including the right of the citizens of each county to provide treatment programs for juveniles, and not being dictated to by the State and Federal government because community involvement is probably one of the most effective methods to combat juvenile delinquency. In summary, Whereas it would not be in the best interest of the children and the people of the State of Michigan,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners go on record as opposing Substitute for HOUSE BILL 4774 and the philosophy contained therein and direct that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Governor William G. Milliken, Representative Mark Clodfelter and Dennis Hertel, Co-chairmen of the House Judiciary Committee, Representative Loren Armbruster, and Senator Alvin J. DeGrow.

Possible
drowning
investigated

An autopsy was performed Tuesday to determine the cause of death of David Paul Main, 39, of rural Vassar, who is thought to have drowned.

Results were not immediately known.

Main, 39, died either late Monday or early Tuesday.

According to the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department, he left his Loren Road home around 7:30 Monday evening to take a walk in the surrounding woods.

About 11 p.m., when he had failed to return, his wife called family members to start searching.

At 2:49 a.m. Tuesday, the sheriff's department was called. Deputies helped in the search.

Main's body was found at 6:30 a.m. in a small creek behind his home by his son and a friend.

The victim was pronounced dead on arrival at Caro Community Hospital and an autopsy ordered.

State road aid down sharply

Revenues for highway and road work and other transportation programs took a sharp drop in the first quarter of 1980, according to the Michigan Department of Transportation.

For Cass City, that will mean a drop from $19,707 received in the first quarter last year to $19,345 for the same period this year.

Other area communities and the amounts they will receive (1979 first quarter payments in parentheses) are: Gagetown, $6,380 ($6,753); Kingston, $4,476 ($4,734); Owendale, $4,715 ($4,983); and Uby, $7,923 ($8,379).

The Tuscola County Road Commission will receive $831,390, compared to $866,232 for the same period last year; Huron county, $727,469 ($750,697); and Sanilac county, $782,183 ($808,711).

Most of the state's Motor Vehicle Highway Fund revenues come from the sale of gasoline and diesel fuel, which recorded their sharpest drop in usage since shortages and rationing sent consumption into a tailspin during World War II, according to the transportation department.

The reduced use this year is attributed to the declining economy, continued rise in fuel prices and growing popularity of smaller, more fuel-efficient cars.

Income from weight taxes (license plate fees) also decreased during the period.

Fuel tax revenues declined 7.1 percent from the first quarter of 1979 and license plate income, down 2.8 percent.

Coupled with declining state revenue, transportation department Director John P. Woodford said, are a 70 percent cutback in federal highway aid for projects scheduled in Michigan during the next five months and an increase in road construction and maintenance costs of 15-20 percent a year.

Iris Tuckey heads county United Way

Elkland-Novesta Community United Way President Iris Tuckey was elected president of the newly formed Tuscola County United Way board of directors at a meeting in Caro last Thursday.

Her election followed approval by representatives of four local United Way groups in the county to form the county wide organization.

Elkland-Novesta, the board of which had earlier approved the concept, was represented by Mrs. Tuckey and its vice-president, Dale Deering.

The other United Way organizations represented were from Caro, Akron-Fairgrove and Vassar.

Formation of the county organization will not mean abolition of individual local organizations, many details have yet to be worked out.

At the next county meeting, June 10, in Caro, bylaws and policies will have to be discussed and a secretary and treasurer elected.

One of the aims of the countywide organization is to reach areas where no one has been contacted by United Way in the past to contribute because of lack of an organization there.

A county organization, she added, will also have clout in persuading United Way organizations in other counties to turn over donations to the Tuscola organization from Tuscola residents working in the other counties.

There are, for instance, at least in better economic times, almost 1,000 Tuscola county residents employed at Saginaw Steering Gear plants in Saginaw county.

The operational setup of the countywide United Way, according to Mrs. Tuckey, will be close to that outlined by United Way of Michigan field representative C. DeWayne Duskin:

1) Each existing local United Way will remain completely autonomous, without any changes in the present corporate structure, and will conduct their own local campaigns with coordination of efforts cooperatively.

2) Allocations of funds by local United Ways to support local community non-profit programs which are not of countywide nature, yet provide needed and/or desired services to the area resident will remain completely in the hands of their respective United Way organization.

3) County, state, and national organizations which offer services throughout Tuscola county to the total community, will make one separate budget presentation to the new Tuscola County United Way Board of Directors. This will reduce the number of individual budget presentations to each United Way community.

A local allocation from each participating United Way, to be determined by the local United Way, will be given to the Tuscola County United Way for distribution of funds to the county, state, and national member agencies.

4) The Tuscola County United Way will become the central distribution point for accepting out-county designations of United Way pledges from other United Way communities. This would include the uncovered United Way territory within the county for designations from State of Michigan employees making payroll deduction contributions which come back to Tuscola county.

Commission seeks okay of county board for .2 mill levy

Upper Thumb voters may not be asked to approve a .2 mill levy to support senior citizen activities. They may be asked to approve a lesser amount.

Thumb Area Commission on Aging (TACA) Director Ron Cassie presented the formal proposal to the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners Tuesday, calling for .2 mill for four years.

Commissioners must approve the proposal in order to get it on the ballot during the Aug. 5 primary election.

The TACA board of directors decided in March to seek the .2 mill, but in light of present economic conditions, according to Cassie, it may decide when it meets Monday to lower the request.

The .2 mill would raise a total of about $300,000 annually from the three counties.

If the .2 goes on the ballot and is approved, in Tuscola county the money would be used to replace the present annual TACA subsidy from the county treasury of $20,000, pay the salaries of two TACA workers presently paid with federal funds, which will expire in a few months, add senior citizen meal sites in Cass City and Millington and allow development of the five present meal sites in the county into senior citizen service centers.

There would also be expansion of the meals-on-wheels program in Cass City and the volunteer transportation service.

Commissioners asked Cassie to prepare a budget to show how the money raised from the millage would specifically be spent in Tuscola county, to be presented at their May 27 meeting.

They will have to decide then whether to put the proposal on the ballot, as the deadline is June 3. Specific working of the proposal must be submitted by June 17.

The millage proposal has also been presented to county boards in Huron and Sanilac counties, who have yet to take action.

Also Tuesday, Probate Judge W. Wallace Kent Jr. asked the board whether it will approve the contract he negotiated with probate court employees, now that the state court administrator's office has completed its study of salaries paid to them and other courthouse employees and employees in other counties.

He was told the board's personnel committee will review the study in time to make a recommendation to the full board at its next meeting.

Saginaw architect Fred Wigin submitted an offer to the board to have his firm prepare schematic drawings of the proposed courthouse annex addition, cost estimate and a study of what county department should be located there.

The board's building and grounds committee will be interviewing other architects Thursday before deciding which one to hire, having been given authority to proceed by the full board.

Sheriff Hugh Marr was given permission to conduct an auction of recovered stolen property, probably some time in June.

Ubly mayor exchange with Sterling Heights

As has been the case for at least the last few years, Ubly will be the only area community participating in Mayor's Exchange Day activities next week as part of Michigan Week.

The exchange will be with the Detroit suburb of Sterling Heights, population 61,000 and site of the Army Missile plant soon to be converted into a Volkswagen Rabbit production plant.

For the past 20 years or so, except for a few years he has missed, A.H. (Gus) MacEachin has been in charge of the activities for the visiting mayor and his party.

This year will be one of the few exceptions, because for the first time, he and his wife, Kathryn, will be part of the delegation going to the other community.

Going with them to Sterling Heights will be Village President Earl Longuski, Clerk Chris Tyll and their wives. They will depart Sunday for the Monday activities.

Arriving in Ubly Sunday will be the mayor of that community, Anthony Dobry and his wife and possibly some other Sterling Heights officials.

In charge of the activities in Ubly will be President Pro-tem Bill Murdock and village Treasurer Florence Schrader, assisted by council members Bill Roberts and Bruce Brown.

Dinner Sunday evening will be at the Ubly Heights Country Club.

The tour Monday will start with a flag raising in the village park, followed by visits to the Lyntex, Gemini and Hamill manufacturing plants, village hall and township hall.

Citizens of the community are invited to the lunch at noon at the country club.

Afternoon stops will include the school, homes built by building trades students, dairy farm of Stanley Brio lat and beef farm of Fred Hagen.

The final event will be dinner at Tyll's Bar for the visitors, village officials, local club presidents, etc.

Village officials in Gagetown, Owendale, Sebewaing and Pigeon don't participate in an exchange with other communities but do have a dinner together each year during Michigan Week.

Sebewaing is the host community this year and after a tour of the village Friday, May 23, dinner for the officials will be at the Heidelberg Inn.

Surbrook honored

Former Cass City resident Sue Surbrook has received a certificate honoring her as outstanding student of the year in commercial foods and culinary arts at the Withlacoochee Vocational-Technical School in Inverness, Fla.

She earned all A's to receive the honor.

Sue moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Miller, and sister, Leisha, to Inverness in November of last year.

Had they not moved, she would have been graduating from Cass City High School this month.

Assistance available for handicapped adults

The Michigan Protection and Advocacy (P and A) Service for Developmentally Disabled Citizens is available to assist qualified residents of Huron, Saginaw, Sanilac, and Tuscola counties through its Thumb Area branch office, according to Director William J. Campbell.

Heading the branch office is Terry Morlock. He can be reached at: Thumb area branch office, Michigan Protection and Advocacy Service for Developmentally Disabled Citizens, P.O. Box 12, Caro 48723, telephone 673-2333.

The service is operated under federal and state law for children and adults who have mental retardation, cerebral palsy, autism, epilepsy or other disabilities which require similar services.

The mission of the service is to assist developmentally disabled individuals to make successful application for benefits, services, programs and opportunities especially intended for them or generically available to the general population.

Additionally, it seeks to help developmentally disabled citizens to accomplish maximum independence and to overcome wrongful denial of benefits and violation of rights.

Morlock explained the P & A Service fulfills its mission by providing consultation, training and serving as a resource to public and private sector agencies, employers and individuals, and by direct casework.

He added that the kinds of problems faced by developmentally disabled citizens and which require the attention and specialized intervention include educational placement conflicts, lack of appropriate training programs, exclusionary zoning practices, denial of essential health services, illegitimate rejection from intended financial assistance benefits, potential pitfalls in guardianship proceedings, exploitation and abuse, employment discrimination, inappropriate institutionalization, transportation and building access barriers and potential pitfalls in the criminal justice system.

Michigan's P and A Service includes a small central office support team in Lansing and 14 satellite offices situated at or near Department of Mental Health facilities.

While branches are deployed at these institutions, their services are rendered to both the residents and to all developmentally disabled persons in the area. This network is designed to afford closer proximity for more effective support and intervention.

The Service operates outside of public governmental agencies, with the guidance of a coalition of statewide private organizations representing the major developmental disabilities groups.

These include the Easter Seals Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Michigan, Epilepsy Center of Michigan, Michigan Society for Autistic Children, Michigan Association for Retarded Citizens, from which the service is operated, and the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Michigan.

Dorothy Knight: love of children motivates her into Big Sisters basics of education. There is always room for improvement, noted Zmierski, who expressed concern about so much of the district's money coming from Lansing and Washington, which threatens local control of schools.

He was not the only candidate to express that concern. Implications of the results of the state assessment tests, long-range buildings needs and maintenance, and the high turnover of teachers were some of the other concerns noted. The assessment tests, Capps noted, indicate "something is happening" after the elementary grades.

Fred Matthews decried lack of interest by adults in the schools, one indication being the poor turnout at school board meetings he has attended. "They don't seem to care how the school is run until they get their taxes at the end of the year and then they yell their heads off."

PASTOR JOHN LANGE of the Novesta Baptist church queried the candidates about their position on athletic team practices on Sundays.

"I will not vote for Sunday practice of any kind," Loomis replied. Allen, Matthews, Zmierski and Rev. Capps also said they would oppose Sunday practices.

The only one to express an opposing viewpoint was Albee: "I don't see anything wrong with Sunday practice as long as it is not required and players are not penalized (for not participating)."

Allen questioned the amount of attention paid to sports. "I do feel too much emphasis is put on sports. They are here to be educated."

Capps thought the district spends too much on sports in comparison to what it spends for other extra-curricular activities.

The committee in charge of the meet-the-candidates program, who prepared most of the questions asked, were teachers Dale McIntosh, Geraldine Tibbitts, Lyle Clarke and Don Schelke.

The candidates were given an outline several days in advance of the questions they likely would be asked.

After the program, Mrs. Tibbitts said the committee might recommend to their fellow teachers which candidates it feels they should vote for, but strongly doubted the Cass City Education Association will make a public endorsement.

Elkland boosts worker pay

The Elkland Township Board decided Monday evening which roads it will have have worked at the school for 14 years, I love children. Children are very good company and are very good morale builders."

"Children are very important little people," she added later in the conversation, "because some day they get to be big people."

At age 7, Melodie isn't quite as talkative, but when asked if she liked having a Big Sister, replied "yes" with a smile.

The youngster lives with her divorced mother and brothers, Danny, almost 9, and Chad, 4, in a mobile home. The family moved to Cass City from Caro, where Melodie had had two Big Sisters (one at a time).

She was matched with Mrs. Knight, whose first Little Sister, age 10 or 11, had moved to Caro.

Melodie has been fortunate in that she hasn't had to wait long for a Big Sister, but her brother Danny has been waiting for a Big Brother for about a year.

For that reason, Mrs. Knight took Danny along when she and Melodie went swimming at Horseshoe Acres near Bad Axe and to the Shrine Circus in Saginaw.

Melodie is a second grader at Campbell Elementary, so usually she goes home with Mrs. Knight, who lives on Leach Street, one night a week after school or sometimes on a Sunday. They usually get together only one day a week.

on price, equipment used and service.

The base radios are to be installed before the end of the school year, plus probably two bus radios. The rest will be installed in August.

The radios will have slide mounts, so they can be removed each evening.

OTHER ITEMS

Permission was granted to the Owendale 75th Anniversary Committee to allow it to use school property as the site for the celebration activities.

Included in the motion was permission to erect a beer tent on First Street, which runs through the school property, as long as the tent is at least 500 feet from the school building, the minimum distance required by state law.

Supt. Ronald Erickson reported House Bill 5411, which passed the state House of Representatives, is stuck in committee in the Senate due to the reported opposition of Sen. Alvin DeGrow, R-Pigeon.

The bill, if it eventually becomes law, will require a public vote on any property transfers once more than 10 percent of the district, based on 1957 boundaries, was transferred away.

Various lobbying efforts by the district are continuing.

Some needed electrical work at the superintendent's house, owned by the district, was approved at a cost of $200. The work is to be done by Tom Laurie, Erickson's request for installation of an emergency generator at the house was tabled, apparently permanently.

Summer band and basketball programs were approved.

April student of the month was Julie Andrakowicz.

Mrs. Knight's own children are Susan, a student at Michigan State University, and Tim, an administrator there.

She describes the Big Brothers-Big Sisters program as "very worthwhile."

What does her Little Sister, Melodie, think of the program?

"Um hum," she replied when asked if she thought it was a good program.

Asked if she thought she and Mrs. Knight would be friends for a long time, she smiled and replied, "Yes."

Program needs more adults

In Tuscola county, there are 39 boys waiting for Big Brothers and 21 girls seeking Big Sisters.

That includes, from the Gagetown-Cass City-Kingston area, seven boys and four girls.

Presently, there are 35 Big-Little Brother matches in the county and 36 Big-Little Sister matches. Ten (of the 71) are in the Gagetown-Cass City-Deford area and two in the Kingston area.

The BB-BB office is located at 129 E. Burnside Street, Caro, telephone 673-6996.

In addition to volunteers, the organization needs funds.

One of the year's big fund raisers takes place Saturday with the county bike and hike.

Hikers will walk six miles.

Starting place is Van Geisen Road, just off M-81 at the west edge of Caro. Coming from Cass City, turn right at the bank time and temperature sign.

Registration is from 9-10 a.m. Would-be participants must have a minimum of five pledges. Pledge sheets are available at schools and the BB-BB office in Caro. The fund raising events are open to everyone, not just children.

The walking and riding start at 10 a.m. At the conclusion of the event, the Knights of Columbus will provide lunch for participants.

Monday evening in Caro will be the annual BB-BB volunteer appreciation dinner.

Trinity Methodist celebrates 100 years

Church and church building still thriving

The Trinity United Methodist church in Cass City traces its origins back to 1860, when Rev. John Baker of the Watrousville Circuit of the Methodist Episcopal church gave a Sunday evening service in the Elkland township log home of Andrew Walmsley.

It was not until 1880 that the members of the congregation were able to build their own church building. Until then, services were held in schools.

This Sunday, the 315 members of the church will be celebrating the 100th anniversary of their first and only church building on Houghton Street.

The service of celebration will commemorate the centennial of the laying of the cornerstone May 13, 1880.

Guest speaker at the 11 a.m. service will be Rev. James C. Braid, who was minister at the church from 1962-68. He is now the pastor at the Methodist church in Sanford.

Performing at the service will be the senior bell choir of the Alpena United Methodist church and the Alpena Community College Collegiate Singers.

A letter of greetings will be read from Bishop Edsel A. Ammons, the United Methodist Bishop of the Michigan area.

Members are being asked to wear old-fashioned clothing if they wish.

The centennial celebration, according to Rev. P. Thomas Wachterhauser, began Easter Sunday with the first of several vignettes telling of the history of the church.

Another vignette was presented each Sunday, leading to the present.

The youth choir from the First United Methodist church of Midland performed at the April 13 service. The father-daughter banquet April 29 featured old-fashioned games.

Prior to that, at the April 27 service, the cornerstone of the 100-year-old building was removed. It was last removed in 1969, the 100th anniversary of the church's organization.

Inside the box were two newspapers from the 1890s, three books of Methodist discipline from the mid-to-late 1800s and items about man's first walk on the moon in 1969.

This Sunday was chosen for the celebration, Rev. Wachterhauser explained, because it is Heritage Sunday in the Methodist church.

As this Sunday afternoon is the school baccalaureate service, the only event at the church will be the morning service.

The final centennial events will be Sunday, May 25. The cornerstone will be replaced during the morning service, with some new items added. After that will come a picnic for church members in the village park.

Planning of the various centennial activities was done by a committee, chairman of which was Tom Proctor.

HISTORY

The First Methodist church of Cass City was officially organized in 1869. The first minister assigned there, J.E. Withey, had to serve six churches in the area, giving services at three of them every other Sunday.

The church, built in 1880, was enlarged and remodeled in 1893-94. The parsonage was erected next door at that time, at the corner of Seeger and Houghton.

A major renovation of the building came during the pastorate of Rev. Howard Watkins, 1948-51. The chancel was altered into a full divided chancel, new furniture, including a pulpit, lectern, altar and two chairs were added, and a new organ installed.

New cathedral glass windows were installed in 1951.

The modern entranceway, plus additional classroom space and refurbishment of the basement and kitchen, came in 1957.

During the term of Rev. Braid, 1962-68, the inside and outside were redecorated, with new pews and light fixtures added in the sanctuary, lounge carpeted and new library started.

More renovations came during the stay of Rev. Byron Hatch, 1976-79. New ceiling, lights and wall paneling, plus new windows and drapes, were installed in the fellowship hall. The church

Firemen battle blaze

Elmwood-Gagetown firemen spent a total of 5½ hours Sunday and Monday fighting a muck fire about a half-mile north of the village, off Reagh Road.

According to Fire Chief Chuck Wright, the property owner, Richard Emmons, deliberately started the fire in order to burn off the grass and weeds, not realizing the fire would get into the mucky soil.

It did, however, and firemen were there about three hours Sunday night, starting about 10:45. They went back Monday at 6 p.m. to extinguish some still burning spots in the soil and were there about 2½ hours.

The Department of Natural Resources fire officer at the scene Sunday, Wright said, had Emmons disk around the perimeter of the field during the night to keep the fire from spreading. About 30 acres burned.

interior was repainted and new roofing installed on the building and steeple.

A different change came in 1969, when the Methodist church merged nationally with the Evangelical United Brethren church. On Easter Sunday of that year, the Cass City Methodist church became the Trinity United Methodist church.

The Salem EUB church in Cass City became the Salem United Methodist church.

The history of that church goes back to 1865, when the German Methodists in the Cass City area broke away from what was to become the Trinity church to form their own congregation, for which services were performed in German.

CENTENNIAL -- The original Trinity United Methodist church building dates back to 1880. It was enlarged and remodeled in 1893-94. The modern entrance at right was built in 1957.

THIS BANNER hanging in the sanctuary commemorates the church's centennial. Examining it are, from left, Linda Eisinger, who did most of the work, assisted by her mother, Pauline Brown, Rev. P. Thomas Wachterhauser, and Robert Keating, chairman of the church administrative board. Serving on the banner committee, in addition to Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Eisinger, were Pam Ross, Doris Rawson, Marge Tuttle, and Rev. Wachterhauser. The church youth are also making a banner.

Ms. Ballard was found guilty of having attempted to steal some clothes from Dancer's Clothing Store in Vassar Sept. 21, 1979.

Monday in Circuit Court before Judge Baguley: John B. Johnson, 21, of 1980 Murray Road, Caro, stood mute to a charge of criminal sexual assault.

A plea of innocent was entered and pretrial hearing scheduled May 27. Bond was continued.

He is charged in connection with an alleged incident in Wells township Jan. 17 involving a 13-year-old girl.

Michael S. Reese, 19, of 2350 S. Kirk Road, Vassar, stood mute to a charge of larceny in a building.

A plea of innocent was entered and pretrial hearing scheduled May 27.

Bond of $10,000 was continued. As of Tuesday, Reese was still in the county jail, being unable to post bond.

He is charged with stealing drugs from a home on Frank Street, Caro, in early April.

Donald E. Tedford, 40, of 1719 Grander Road, Fairgrove, stood mute to a charge of unlawfully driving away a motor vehicle, the pickup truck of James Streeter in Akron April 10. A plea of innocent was entered and pretrial hearing scheduled May 27. Bond was continued.

Your Neighbor says

Federal budget should be balanced

The House of Representatives and Senate in Washington have each passed their own version of a balanced budget for the 1980-81 fiscal year that starts Oct. 1.

Hessel Venema thinks it is about time. "I think we should balance the budget. That's what I have to do at home. Try to, anyway."

Limiting the federal government to spending no more than it takes in, he continued, means "maybe they'll have to spend a little less. Maybe we've overspent ourselves."

As for where the government should cut back, Venema couldn't say, other than that reductions shouldn't be made in defense spending.

He had no doubts that there is room in the federal budget for cutbacks, that if individuals can reduce their spending, so can the government.

"If I spent $1,000 on gasoline last year, I have to drive a little less (this year)," he commented.

Venema also feels reductions could be made in state and local government budgets. The difficulty, he said, is that people "have too many wants."

A dairy farmer, Venema milks 65 cows on his Phillips Road, Deford, farm. He and his wife Ruth have five children. Stuart married Brenda Little Saturday. Maryke attends Calvin College. At home are Stanley, Martin and Robert.

AROUND THE FARM Forage Expo

By William Bortel

"Ag Expo '80 - Forage," a statewide event open to the general public, will be held July 22-23 at Michigan State University.

It is sponsored by the MSU College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, MSU Cooperative Extension Service, and the MSU Department of Agricultural Engineering.

Expo will operate on more than 150 acres at MSU, 80 of which will be used for harvesting and variety plot demonstrations and 30 set aside for exhibits, the remainder for parking.

Activities begin at 9 a.m. each day, with plot tours, sod seeding demonstrations and visitations to commercial exhibits. Plot tours will feature 28 varieties of alfalfa, along with birdsfoot trefoil and crown vetch, in order that farmers can make comparisons of variety vigor and potential yield per acre.

Field demonstrations will run from 1-4 p.m. daily. Featured will be operations for mowing and conditioning of hay, baling (conventional, large package), chopping, and operations of related hay handling equipment.

Along with the more than 200 commercial exhibitors will be special "tent clinics." These will feature a hay judging clinic, in which producers can bring samples of hay for analysis, exhibits of plants that are toxic to animals, and a large series of displays showing types of insects that are damaging to alfalfa stands.

There will be a variety of energy conservation demonstrations and exhibits including the MSU gasohol still, solar water heating units and wind generating electrical displays.

Tours of the MSU horse, dairy and beef barns will be available throughout both days of Expo.

Fiddlers at Port Hope Saturday

The Original Michigan Fiddlers Association is sponsoring a fiddlers' jamboree and old-time square dance Saturday in Port Hope.

To be held at the AmVet Hall, 1 mile south on M-25, the jamboree will get underway at 1:30 p.m. The dance will start at 7 p.m.

Fiddlers from all over the state will take turns throughout the afternoon, playing favorite tunes. In the evening, all musicians will provide music for old-fashioned square dancing. Anyone who plays a fiddle or other non-electrified musical instrument is invited to bring it and play along. Callers and dancers are also welcome.

"We want to meet old-time style musicians and callers, to help provide an opportunity for them to learn new tunes from other musicians who play the same style of music," notes Lois Bettsworth, secretary of OMFA. "There is no admission charge to our events, because we want as many people as possible to attend and enjoy themselves."

The Original Michigan Fiddlers Association was founded in 1976, and has over 750 members, all musicians. Hall rental, printing of posters, and other expenses are defrayed through donations.

course, candidates studied the principles of leadership, manpower management techniques, navigation and communications. They also studied Navy history, traditions and missions, structure and organization of naval commands, military courtesy, uniform regulations, seamanship, and the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

A 1974 graduate of Kingston High School and a 1979 graduate of Michigan State University with a bachelor of arts degree, she joined the Navy last October.

Twenty-five million Americans snore

By Frank Chappell
American Medical Association

About one out of eight Americans snore. This means something like more than 25 million snorers, women as often as men. There's a good chance that there's a snorer in your family. If so, you are well aware that it's not very funny.

The assorted hisses, gurgles, buzzes, snorts and raspings of the snoring nuisance hold the seeds for the ruination of an ostensibly happy marriage.

Many couples find it necessary to set up a schedule wherein one spouse tries to precede the other in sleep. Other couples proceed to separate rooms and possibly even the divorce courts.

For the most part snoring is generated while breathing either in or out during sleep by several structures in the nose and throat. The sounds are due to vibrations in the soft palate and other soft structures of the throat in response to inflowing and outflowing air, the American Medical Association points out.

Some causes of snoring can be helped and even cured. Removal of enlarged tonsils and adenoids often cures children of snoring. A blocked nose can sometimes be corrected by minor surgery.

Nasal congestion from the common cold, sinus trouble or hay fever can sometimes be relieved by medication.

Many individuals snore only when sleeping on the back, and any technique that keeps the sleeper on his or her side or face can help.

Factors that may affect the tone of the tissues of the throat include too much smoking, overwork, fatigue, obesity and general poor health. The largest group of offenders are the elderly, presumably because they lack tissue tone.

If there is a snorer in your family who is disrupting the sleep of others, send him to the family physician. Possibly something can be done.

If your doctor cannot help, the listener can wear earplugs when everything else fails.

Immunization clinics slated in Sanilac

The Sanilac County Health Department will conduct its monthly immunization clinics May 20 and 27 at its office at 115 N. Elk Street, Sandusky.

Hours both days will be 9:30-11:30 a.m. and 1:30-4 p.m.

Those whose last names begin with A-M are asked to attend the first day; N-Z, the second day.

Children two months of age and up can attend. A parent or guardian must accompany their child and parents are urged to bring a record of previous immunizations.

Now is the time to prepare children for school in September. Records can be reviewed on clinic days and a schedule for future immunizations established. More than one visit may be necessary, since the basic series requires at least a year to complete and boosters may be required at different time intervals.

Tuberculin skin tests are offered on clinic days. A $2 fee is charged for all employment tests given, including school employees, foster home operators, hospital and nursing home employees and elsewhere when required by the employer. Children entering school are no longer required to have a tuberculin skin test.
