

Linda and Robert Bellinger

Linda Marie Ballagh of Cass City and Robert Lee Bellinger of Clare were united in marriage at 4 p.m. Saturday in the Bad Axe Presbyterian church.

The double-ring wedding was performed by Rev. Robert Von Oeyen and Rev. David Van Dam.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ballagh of 8977 N. Van Dyke and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bellinger, Clare.

The bride wore a formal gown of ivory luster, sheer organza and cluny lace with a high victorian neckline. The long bishop shadow sleeves were cuffed in lace and the lace pinafore bodice had tiny ruffles. The A-lined skirt fell from a lace trimmed waistline to a scalloped cluny lace, ruffled hemline, that fell into a full chapel train.

She wore an English illusion, lace-edged finger-tip length veil which was secured to a matching cluny lace and pearl cap.

The bride carried a bouquet of miniature silk carnations, silk forget-me-nots, roses and trailed ivory streamers.

Ann Ballagh of Cass City, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Judy Brown, Betty Stieg and Karen Ballagh, all sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Their gowns were full-length featuring a scoop neckline, short split sleeves and a sunburst pleated skirt.

They carried silk-filled baskets of yellow sweetheart roses, sea spray miniature carnations, coral forget-me-nots and baby's breath.

Jim Braun was the organist and the soloist was John Tousey, both of Mount Pleasant. Selections were "The Wedding Song," "O Perfect Love" and "Whither thou Goest."

Best man was David Bellinger of Clare, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were John Stanwick, Steve Salowitz and Leonard Sheridan, all friends of the groom.

Ushers were Jim Brown and Dale Stieg, brothers-in-law of the bride. Flower girl was Cindy Jones, cousin of the groom, and ringbearer was Paul Stanwick, friend of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a floor-length gown of suede rose knit with a cowl neckline, elbow-length full sleeves with a sunburst pleated skirt.

The bride is a special education teacher and the groom is a United Presbyterian pastor.

The groom has accepted a position as pastor of two Presbyterian churches at Avella and Independence, Penn. The couple will reside in Independence following a two-week honeymoon through the southeastern states.
