

"If It Fitz..." Middle O mystique

By Jim Fitzgerald

Several years ago, when actor Burt Reynolds appeared nude, a hairy rose pressed between the pages of Cosmopolitan magazine, he turned on a newspaper fashion writer to such a glow that she attacked all us other men who kept our pants on.

Women everywhere clamored to buy Burt in his Cosmopolitan buff because they never get to see sexy men around home. That's what the fashion writer said.

"It is nearly impossible to see a man with any real glamor... rugged fellows who have that mysterious quality or dash which would make a woman take a second look," she complained.

I was interested in her comments because I have always yearned to be a man who attracted second looks from someone except a cab driver trying to decide whether to pick me up. This doesn't mean cab drivers fear I will rob them. It means they fear the fare might not be worth the trouble. I am cursed with the un-cosmopolitan appearance of a man who never travels more than a short cab ride from home for fear that he'll be caught in the rain without his galoshes.

Actually, I am more of an adventurer than you might think at first glance, although I'll admit I've always believed Gene Kelly wouldn't have danced in puddles if he'd been able to find a taxi.

Anyway, when it comes to women, I'm still working on attracting the first look. I've tried eye patches, canes, and limps ("Just a little souvenir from the Battle of the Bulge, my dear.") Once, for an entire week, I even walked backward in hopes of being noticed by a woman.

The nearest I came to making out was when an old lady asked me where I bought the topcoat that buttoned up the back.

Ann Landers advised me to run around with ugly, sloppy men, thus making myself look good by comparison. She said women use this trick all the time. That's why, whenever there are two females man-hunting together in the park, one of them is often on a leash.

So I started frequenting the singles bars with Joe, a real slob. He is 50 pounds overweight, has a terrible skin problem, and wears a tie. Still, I never scored. I finally gave up the comparison ploy when Joe confided that he also read Ann Landers and he was using me for the same reason I was using him.

The fashion writer wrote: "No man is going to look like the irresistible European every single woman hopes to meet on her summer vacation as long as he's wearing his high-necked undershirt. Those European males — and men in international society — have learned the trick of going undershirtless and leaving their shirts unbuttoned in a deep V plunge."

It is nice to know I am in style with international society. The last undershirt I wore was olive drab, World War II issue. I was still wearing it in 1955, 10 years after the war, but then I got married and my wife made me take it off. She was worried I'd be hurt in a traffic accident in Canada and the people at the hospital would think I was a foreign spy.

As for the deep V plunge, I have created something else that should be even more intriguing to the female ogler. It is a middle O. I keep the top three buttons of my shirt fastened, but the next three are liable to burst loose at any time and fall to the ground. This adds a romantic air of mystery. A woman can never be sure when she might catch a glimpse of my navel. She just has to keep watching, breathlessly.

I don't know why my undershirtless, middle O appearance has so far failed to attract looks from women. But I remember a character in an old comic strip called "Smiling Jack." I think his name was Fatstuff. He also had a middle O, instead of a deep V, and a chicken followed him around, catching the bursting buttons in its beak. Maybe I should use a chicken to help me attract female attention.

But I would probably discover the chicken was using me for the same reason I was using it.

VEHICLE INSPECTION -- The sheriff's department vehicle safety inspection team was stopping vehicles traveling Cemetery Road, south of Cass City, Friday. Not all cars stopped are inspected, but of those that are, about 95 percent don't pass. The most common problems, officers said, are loud exhausts, expired drivers' licenses or drivers not having their license with them.

CHECKING THE TAILLIGHTS of this pickup is Deputy Roger Zelmer. Motorists cited for violations get a ticket, which is voided if they have the corrections made within 14 days and report to the nearest police station.

Myshock back in county jail

Thomas Myshock is back behind the Tuscola County jail bars he escaped from, having been arrested Saturday night at a Houghton Lake bar.

Myshock, 34, from Fairgrove, had been scheduled to be sentenced Sept. 2 for armed robbery but escaped from the jail Aug. 28.

The sheriff's department reported that Detectives Ron Phillips and Larry Walker "received a break" last Thursday. Assistance was requested from the Lapeer County Intelligence Group. Stakeouts were posted and continuous surveillance led to the arrest.

Myshock was taken into custody by the two detectives and officers of the Lapeer county unit and Roscommon County Sheriff's Department.

The convict was taken to the Ogemaw county jail in West Branch, then returned to Caro early Sunday.

A circuit court jury found him guilty July 22 of the Feb. 27 armed robbery of Zabriskie's Market in Watrousville.

He may be sentenced by Circuit Judge Patrick R. Joslyn as early as Thursday, depending on when his attorney is available.

He can be sentenced anywhere from one year in prison to life, plus two years for possession of a firearm while committing a felony.

the jury also having found him guilty of that charge.

Myshock has two prior convictions for armed robbery.

Prosecutor Artis Noel said Tuesday he won't prosecute Myshock for escape from jail, a misdemeanor that carries a one-year maximum sentence.

Since he is sure to get a lengthy prison term, it wouldn't pay in terms of expense and time to prosecute him on the additional charge, plus apparently an additional sentence for the escape would be served concurrently with his other one, so he would serve no additional time.

Myshock escaped from the jail, clad only in a pair of shorts, by going through the door leading to the exercise yard -- left open for ventilation -- and then climbing over the 10-foot high fence which surrounds the yard.

The deputy on duty, Arthur Adam, was elsewhere at the time assisting a maintenance man. Sheriff Hugh Marr, saying the deputy was negligent, suspended him without pay for one month as of Sept. 11.

"MAKE IT YOUR PHARMACY"
On The Corner — Cass City

The Haire Net

The question before the jury today is, "Have all small towns lost the small town characteristic?"

The evidence suggests that they may be headed that way.

The town where I was reared is smaller than Cass City, but not all that much. In it I could walk down street after street and not only tell you who lived there, but also something about the family, good or bad.

When I came to Cass City in 1951 it was almost like I was returning home. The names were different, but the community was the same.

The farmers came in on Saturday night to gossip and shop. People lived in the "old Jones house," not at 000 Seeger Street. A stranger in town was a cause for comment.

Now when a "stranger" walks down the main stem it's no big deal. It's no deal at all. Most times he can go by unmarked and unnoticed. That's big city stuff. That's the way it was when I worked in a Detroit suburb.

That intimate personal concern about your neighbor was one of the real pluses for me when I came to town. I was used to it as a boy and I liked it.

Virtually all small town oriented persons feel that way.

That concern, that caring is no longer as visible as it was.

That's not because we've changed attitudes. Basically, we are all still the same as we were when the complexion of the community was simpler and we cared more for our neighbors.

What's changed, of course, is our lifestyle. We are insulated by good roads, good cars and more spendable income.

Families are more mobile. The industrialization of the community has uprooted families... coming and going. Lifelong residents are the exception that proves the rule these days.

It's significant, isn't it, that the merchants of Cass City are considering opening on Thursday nights instead of Fridays?

Considering it because after industry closes on Friday more of their customers are taking off, not to return until Monday. Considering it because many customers who don't go away for the week end are shopping in nearby malls on Sunday, making that day one of the busiest of the week for the businesses there.

It's the simple truth that we no longer have the opportunity to become involved with our community as we once did.

A widening of interests brings a widening of personal horizons.

In the idiom of the day, small towners are more with it today, than ever before. Whether that's good or bad, I'll leave for another jury to decide.

Rabbit tracks
By John Haire
(And anyone else he can get to help)

The community will need some $30,000 raised locally for four new tennis courts with lights, according to Village President Lambert Althaver. The remainder comes from a Federal grant.

A drive for donations will be coming your way soon. Cass City Rotary Club voted to coordinate the drive effort over the entire area served by Cass City Recreational Park.

Admittedly it left a slightly guilty conscience, but I tuned out Sunday's great presidential debate after the first two questions.

It wasn't the questions that bugged me but the answers. All that I heard were the same speeches that I've been hearing since the primaries began.

The only thing that the questions I heard discussed revealed was that both Anderson and Reagan are good public speakers. If you want to be unkind you could say actors.

Edsel Connell, who has set me straight before, did it again. He dropped in to tell me that the "Fort Zigenhardt" farm, discussed last week, was lost not for taxes but because the owners refused to pay an assessment levied by an assessable mutual insurance company.

I remembered when he told me. Shortly after that a law was passed making assessable mutual insurance unlawful in Michigan unless the company established a huge reserve to protect policyholders.

Connell, who lived in Detroit at the time, said that the event attracted so much interest that the state erected no parking signs on either side of M-53 near the farm to relieve traffic congestion.

Editor Mike Eliasohn's 1970 car with almost 99,000 miles on the odometer has a new claim to fame.

He voluntarily had it checked at the sheriff's department vehicle safety inspection south of town Friday and it passed. Sgt. Thomas Kern said it was the first car that old to pass.

The inspectors find deficiencies in about 95 percent of the examinations they make.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Village of Gagetown intends to prepare a pre-application for HUD's Small Cities CDBG program. This is a competitive program and more pre-applications will be received by HUD than can be funded. The Village intends to apply for funds to be used for Housing Rehabilitation.

The Village invites suggestions of alternative projects.

A public hearing will be held Oct. 9, 1980 at 7:00 p.m., at the Village Hall to provide residents an opportunity to submit their views and proposals and to more freely explain the program.

The program can fund a broad range of activities including: street, water supply, drainage and sanitary sewer improvements, park acquisition and improvements, demolition of unsafe structures, rehabilitation of housing, neighborhood facilities, and the like. The activities must be designed to benefit low-moderate income persons and to eliminate or prevent slums and blight.

Please attend these meetings and help the Village plan this program.

THE MAKING OF A WOMAN SURGEON, by Elizabeth Morgan (non-fiction). In this outspoken, sometimes shocking personal story, Elizabeth Morgan reveals the struggles, joys and heartaches she experienced on the long, hard road from medical student to woman surgeon. With astonishing candor, she relates the abuses she endured as a student and intern - the crushing workloads, sleepless nights, continually being mistaken for a secretary or nurse, and receiving constant criticism from male superiors for everything from how she dressed to how she sewed an incision. Here too is Dr. Morgan's firsthand account of the life-and-death drama of treating actual cases.

AMERICAN DREAMS: LOST AND FOUND, by Studs Terkel (non-fiction). From the author of "Working," here is a vivid portrait of our country, in which real people tell their own stories. From the Boston Brahmin to the American Indian, from the beauty queen and the movie star to the mill hand and the lottery millionaire, they tell how they have lived and whether their lives have been successes or failures.

RAGE OF ANGELS, by Sidney Sheldon (fiction). Beautiful Jennifer Parker is one of the most notorious and highest-paid attorneys in Manhattan, counsel to the city's ruling crime family and mistress to its kingpin, Michael Moretti. But all the while, she is haunted by Senator Adam Warner, the great love of her life. By the best-selling author of "Bloodline," this is a novel of a woman whose hunger for power leads her into a deadly love triangle.

PEDALING AROUND

Golden turkeys

By Mike Eliasohn

Unfortunately, I had other things to do so I was not able to attend the "World's Worst Film Festival" in Ann Arbor last week end.

I therefore missed such classics as "The Attack of the Killer Tomatoes" (one of which I found in my refrigerator last Thursday) and "Plan Nine from Outer Space."

The festival did remind me, however, of some of the turkeys that I have seen.

Some movies are so bad they become good, that is, they are so dumb, they become unintentionally humorous. I suspect those were the kind of flicks shown in Ann Arbor.

The one that I remember in that category was called "Eve." I doubt that I ever would have paid money to see it, but I was in Vietnam when I saw it and my fellow peons and I didn't have to pay. It was one of our "bennies," as we called them (benefits).

"Eve" was the story of a beautiful blonde who was raised by primitive natives of the jungle in some South American country.

She gets captured by some unfriendly primitive natives and is rescued by some white hunters with an ulterior motive on their mind.

When the hunters find her, the unfriendly natives have her inside a cage, hanging on a rope, and they are swinging the cage back and forth across a big bonfire.

(The natives were actually University of Michigan football fans who thought she was a cheerleader from Michigan State.)

Now let me digress. In the Army, I was taught that pistols are only good for shooting at very close range. Anything farther than, say, 10 feet and odds are you'll miss your target.

Fortunately for Eve, one of the hunters had never been in the Army. From about 50 feet away in the dark, he fired one shot with his hand gun at the rope while the cage was swinging away from the fire and the natives.

The rope broke in two and the cage conveniently fell to the ground alongside instead of into the fire or the hands of the natives.

The white hunters pulled her out and away they went. Now to the ulterior motive and shame on all of you who thought what they had in mind was a three letter word beginning with "s."

The hunters were looking for a treasure hidden in a cave somewhere and needed Eve, with her knowledge of the area, to help them find it.

The line which I shall always remember was asked by one of the hunters after the rescue: "Hey, Eve. Seen any good caves lately?"

That movie was unintentionally humorous.

The absolute worst movie I remember seeing, which was dumb without being humorous, was called, if I remember correctly, "Don Juan."

It starred Brigitte Bardot, who in her day -- the late 1950s and early 1960s -- was considered the ultimate in sin. When ministers said the world's moral standards were declining, she got the blame. Nowadays, her movies would be rated "R," and a mild "R" at that.

The premise of the movie was that she was the opposite of the real Don Juan, who chased women. She, of course, chased men.

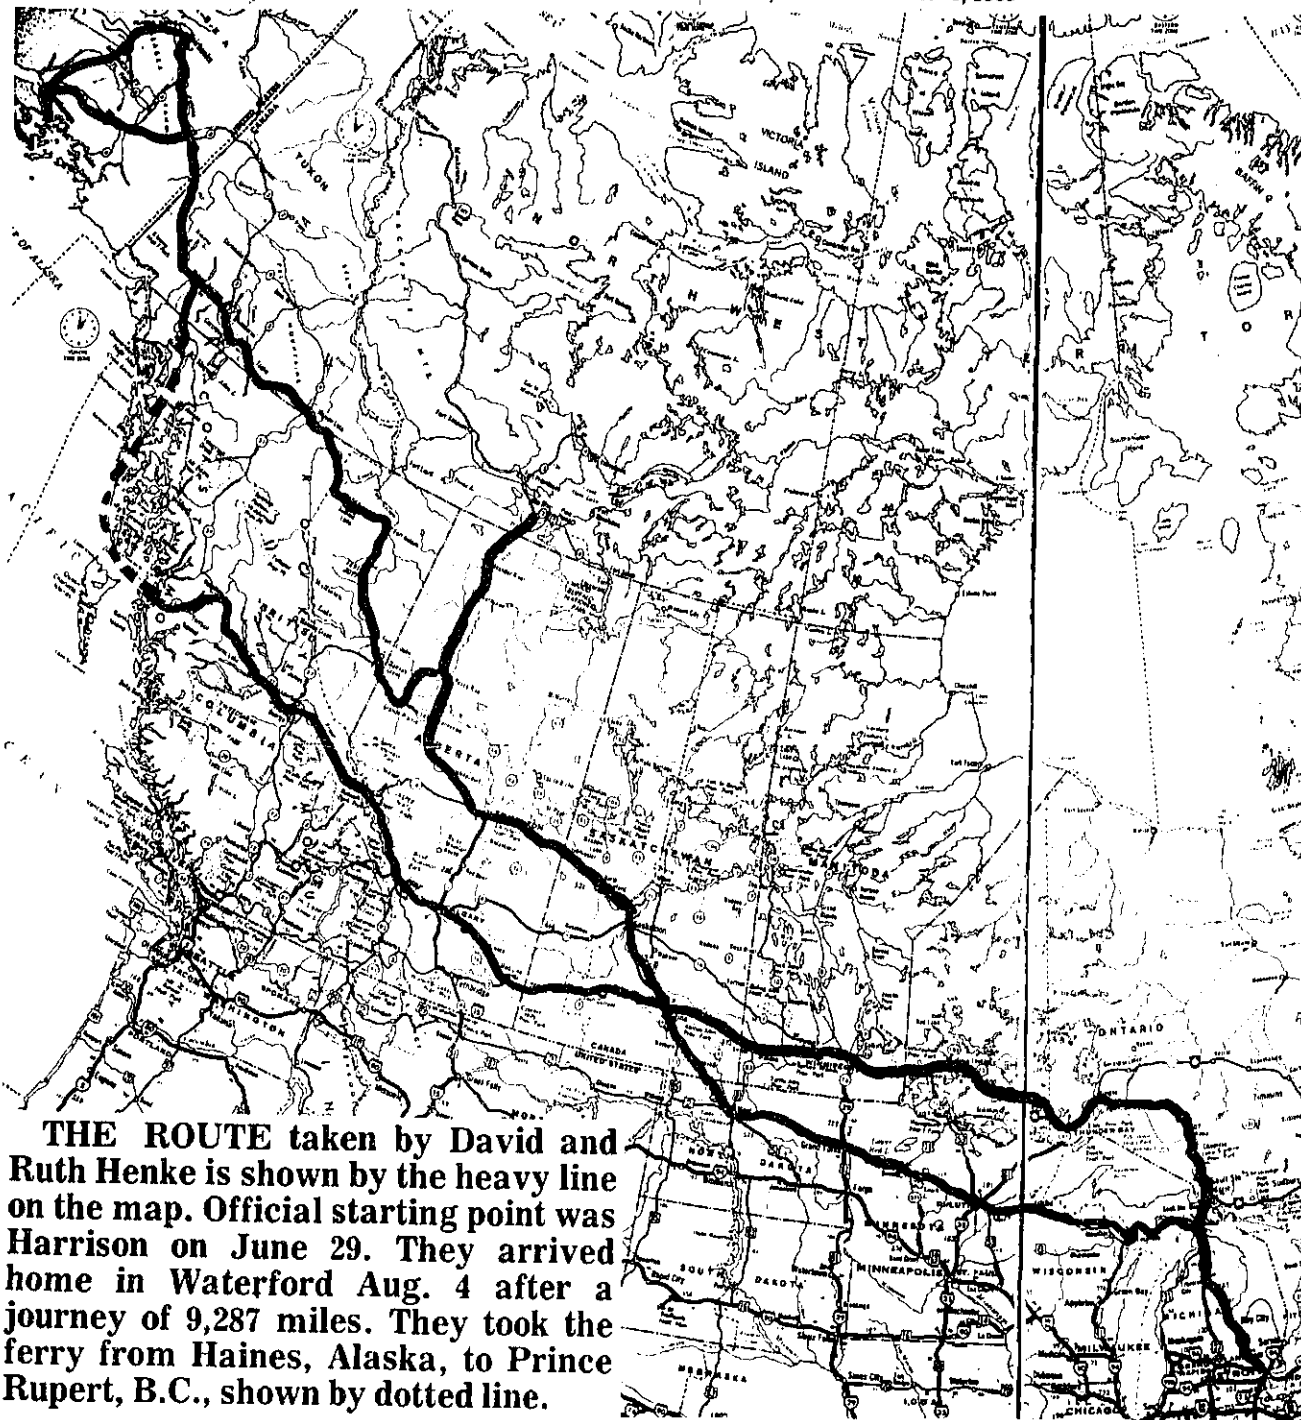

The reason she chased men was that by the time she made the movie, she was so old she had to chase them. They no longer chased her.

Bardot was renowned in her movies for showing bare skin, but in this movie, the only bare skin shown had wrinkles.

In the end, she was punished for her sins by being trapped and dying inside a burning building.

That was the worst part. Instead of her, it should have been the producer-director who thought up the dumb movie who should have been the toasted marshmallow.

Thinking before you act may be sound strategy - but too many people think and then fail to act.

North to Alaska — 9,287 miles on a motorcycle

National Park in the Canadian Rockies.

They re-entered the United States at North Dakota, entered Michigan west of Iron River in the UP and returned home Aug. 5.

Henke, an electrician at GMC Truck and Coach in Pontiac, had two months' vacation, but they cut their trip short because of his broken foot.

A LOT OF THEIR TRIP was through very sparsely settled territory and afterwards, Mrs. Henke said, "It's hard to have people around after all that loneliness."

She also confessed it often got boring sitting on the back end of the motorcycle mile after mile, but added,

"Your goal is more important than the tiredness and there's always the excitement of what you'll see next or even the fear of road conditions to keep you going."

What did her children, all adults, think of her trip? "They think it's great." Her grandchildren loved the postcards Grandma sent them along the way.

The Henkes took 30 rolls of photos on their trip, so have lots of "show and tell" for family, friends and her students.

Their motorcycle averaged 37.3 miles per gallon on the long journey. They had no mechanical problems, but did have the valves adjusted once and new tires put on at Dawson Creek.

What's ahead for the motorcycling couple? They went to Hawaii on their honeymoon but it is the only state they have never ridden their motorcycle in.

And, said Mrs. Henke, "I'd like to see Nova Scotia and New Brunswick."

Inundated cable causes lengthy phone outage

village and sitting by the phone. No calls came in while he was there. Usually on a Wednesday night, only one or two calls will come in, although Wilson admitted, "You're taking a chance" (by not having someone at the phone all the time). It's a calculated risk."

In his 10 years as chief, he said that is the longest Cass City has gone without long-distance service. Usually such outages are 4-5 hours, although he recalled one that was almost 24 hours long.

The sheriff's department also answers the phone for calls to the fire department and ambulance service, but fire calls also ring in some firemen's homes and the ambulance phone can also be answered by Hills and Dales General Hospital.

A DIFFERENT KIND OF long-distance telephone problem, which probably started in July, has been resolved, according to Weir, though it could happen again on occasion.

The problem was that long-distance conversations were being cut-off suddenly.

The reason, it was eventually discovered, was that Western Electric technicians were modifying Bell trunklines in Saginaw without first notifying the Cass City office.

If the line was being used when they shut it off, that meant an abrupt end to the conversation.

Now, according to Weir, the Western technicians are supposed to notify the Cass City office beforehand so that the line in Cass City can be taken out of service before they start working on it.

Since mistakes can happen, conversations might still get cut off in the future, but not as often.

The Want Ads Are Newsy Too!

Everyone knows that insulation, weatherstripping, and lowering the thermostat reduce fuel costs. But not everyone is aware of the tremendous money-saving advantages of a Beckett flame-retention burner.

Oil Heat Is the Most Efficient Method of Heating Your Home

A Beckett flame-retention burner is so efficient it can make oil heat a better buy than gas, wood or electricity. Over a ten-year period, the savings from a Beckett flame-retention burner can total thousands of dollars — thousands saved on your fuel bill!

An Old Burner Gobbles Up More than It Should

An oil burner is an energy converter — the more heat it extracts from oil, the less oil you need to heat your home. Most old burners were designed when energy was plentiful and inexpensive. A burner more than ten years old may use up to one-third more oil than necessary, costing extra money every time the thermostat calls for heat.

Beckett: The Best in Modern Technology

The R.W. Beckett Corporation is the leader in the development of a new generation of oil burners. Beckett flame-retention burners combine high motor speeds with sophisticated combustion heads to produce a hotter, clean, highly efficient flame. The Beckett burner achieves the most efficient combustion by creating controlled turbulence in the combustion chamber — exactly the right mixture of oil and air. Result: less heat wasted up the chimney and measurably lower fuel bills.

Beckett Efficiency Equals Savings

The cost of heating your home is directly related to the efficiency of your oil burner. The more efficient your burner, the more money you save. The following chart shows the range of savings you can expect from a Beckett flame-retention burner.

REMEMBER... a Beckett flame-retention burner can save you thousands of dollars on wasted heat and unburned fuel. Contact your heating contractor or oil dealer today.

Potrykus back from Navy cruise

Navy Seaman Del M. Potrykus, son of Delbert and Beverly A. Potrykus of 1605 S. Crawford, Deford, recently returned from a deployment to the Mediterranean Sea.

He is a crewmember aboard the oiler USS Caloosahatchee, homeported in Norfolk, Va. While deployed, his ship operated as a unit of the U.S. 6th Fleet.

During the five-month cruise, his ship participated in training exercises with other units of the 6th Fleet and those of allied nations. Port visits were made in several Mediterranean coastal cities.

His ship is 644-feet long and carried a crew of 300 officers and enlisted men.

A 1978 graduate of Cass City High School, Potrykus joined the Navy in June of that year.

COACH LIGHT PHARMACY IS PLEASED TO INTRODUCE A NEW
COMPUTERIZED PRESCRIPTION SERVICE

THE UNIDRUG SYSTEM

Coach Light has just taken an important step to provide better service for you and our other customers. We have subscribed to a new computerized service known as The Unidrug System.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS FOR YOU

Your Rx label and receipt are prepared on a typewriter linked to a computer memory bank. When you order a new prescription, the pharmacist types in all necessary prescription information. The prescription is added to your prescription history in our store and the computer is capable of assisting us in reviewing your drug history file to check the refill status, prescription price, physician instructions and possible interaction with other drugs, food or allergies.

The System then automatically prepares a label for your prescription and a receipt for tax purposes or your files. And, if applicable, it also automatically bills the prescription to the insurance carrier of a third party Rx.

When you come in for your refill, we only have to enter into the terminal your prescription number and the initials of the pharmacist filling the prescription. The System then updates the refill status, prices the prescription and again prepares a label and receipt, all this in a matter of seconds. This saves us time and means faster service for you.

We are pleased to be able to provide you with this improved prescription service.

Our new system will make it easier, but you'll find the same courteous service that you have grown to expect when you come to Coach Light. That won't change at all.

FEDERATED Cass City

Your Neighbor says I'm glad to be back in Cass City

Cass City never looked better, says Karen Bazan. She and her husband Tony and their two children are back after living in Houston, Texas, for four months.

"I grew up here and I love it and I never want to leave again," she said. "It's just a good feeling coming back to a town where you don't have to worry about everything."

Her husband, a machinist and welder, had been laid off at Caro Products Co., so they moved to Houston in search of employment. She has two brothers and a sister living there, as well as her husband's father.

Mrs. Bazan found a job right away as a cashier at K-Mart for about $3 an hour, but her husband wasn't as fortunate and ended up staying home taking care of the children.

He was either too skilled for jobs paying $5-6 an hour or wasn't skilled enough. With 3,500 persons a week moving to Houston, employers had an easy time finding someone with more experience.

The house they were renting, "very cheap" for the area they were living in, cost them $375 a month. In July, during the heat wave when temperatures were above 100 degrees every day, their electricity bill was $277 because of the air conditioning.

They lived 10 miles from Houston. Persons who worked in the city, Mrs. Bazan said, had to leave at 6 a.m. to be at work by 8 because traffic was bumper-to-bumper all the way.

Pay is low in Houston, with most jobs starting at $3-4 an hour. In contrast, housing is very expensive, with what is considered a cheap house costing $80,000.

The Bazans were in Houston from May to mid-August and are temporarily living on Huron Street in Cass City. They will be buying a house in Caro. They have two daughters, Genelle, almost 5, and Melissa, 3½.

Bazan may get his old job back at Caro Products and has a possibility of getting a job at the Chevrolet plant in Flint.

One reason why there may be an opening at the latter, his wife said, is that some of the workers scheduled for recall have moved away in search of employment.

Gagetown News

Mrs. Harold Koch Phone 665-2536

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Kehoe and family of Wilton, Conn., were week-end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kehoe. They attended the wedding of Mary Bach and James Pelham in Sebewaing Saturday evening.

Mrs. Velma Bennett of Hastings called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weatherhead Sunday.

Mrs. Harold Koch and Janet attended a bridal shower for Miss Sharon Ezop, bride-elect of her nephew, James Weber, at Blessed Trinity Catholic church hall in Frankenthum, Sunday afternoon.

Vania White rites held Wednesday

Vania Irene White, 96, of Cass City died Monday at the Tuscola County Medical Care Facility in Caro after an illness of six months.

She was born Aug. 27, 1884, in Cass City, the daughter of Nicholas and Mary (Ream) Gable.

Miss Gable married Frank A. White Nov. 23, 1921, in Bay City. Following their marriage, they made their home on a farm in Greenleaf township, coming to Cass City in 1935. White died Jan. 27, 1948.

Mrs. White was the oldest member of the Trinity United Methodist church of Cass City and a life member of the United Methodist Women.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. David (Ruth) Henke of Pontiac; five grandchildren, Brad Childs of Canoga Park, Calif., Greg Childs, LaMesa, Calif., Reggie Childs, Highland, Randy Childs, Ortonville, and Mrs. Jerry (Christine) Nestler, Denver, Colo., and four great-grandchildren. One brother, Vern, and two sisters, Niva and Hazel, preceded her in death.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, with Rev. Eldred Kelley, pastor of Salem United Methodist church, officiating.

Burial was in Elkland cemetery.

Garety takes telephone cable course

A Cass City man, Raymond J. Garety, a cable splicer for General Telephone Co. in the Minden City area, recently completed a course in basic cable construction held in the company's training center in Muskegon.

The 10-day course was designed to teach students how to install pedestals, which are free-standing outdoor units that give access to telephone cables which are housed underground, how to splice buried cable loops and ground cables.

Garety, his wife Delores and six children reside on Bay City-Forestville Road.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters

This child has some very special problems. He is 14 years old and lives in Caro. He has an interest in plants and would benefit from a male influence. He is eager to learn new interests.

From a large family, this boy is in need of a one-to-one relationship. He enjoys football, fishing and bike riding. From Caro, this boy is 14 years old.

++++++

An enjoyable experience for any man, this adorable 5-year-old is interested in any outdoor activity, animals and fishing. He is from Mayville.

Hope for the best and then make the most of what you get.

Exhibition open to area artists

The Port Huron Museum of Arts and History will conduct its 15th annual juried art exhibition starting Nov. 1 for artists from the Thumb area.

There will be a $200 purchase award, with the entry becoming part of the museum collection, $100 best of show award and other cash awards and certificates of merit.

Artists must bring their works to the museum Oct. 19 or 20. They can obtain copies of the rules by writing the museum at 1115 Sixth Street, Port Huron 48060.

Thefts from home, cars highlight police investigations in Cass City area

Theft of a diamond ring worth $560 was reported to the sheriff's department Friday night.

Patricia Randall of 2311 Kingston Road, Kingston, told deputies the ring had been given to her son, Jay, and was taken from his dresser drawer.

She said she came home at 6:40 p.m. to find an acquaintance of her son inside the unlocked home, who said he wanted to leave a note for him and was looking for a pencil. He was found in the bedroom.

The man left and Jay Randall later discovered the ring missing.

The suspect was later questioned by deputies and denied taking the ring. He repeated his story and said he hid in the bedroom when he heard a car approach, which was that of Mrs. Randall.

The gold ring had six diamonds arranged in a triangle.

Sophia M. Martinez, 22, of 6396 Garfield Street on charges of driving under the influence of liquor and driving without a license. Her car was stopped in the south side Main Street alley between Leach and West Streets.

The prosecutor's office later authorized a warrant charging her with driving under the influence of liquor (third offense). She appeared the day of her arrest before Magistrate Donald Smith, who set bond at $5,000 and scheduled arraignment in district court Sept. 29. She was released from the county jail after posting 10 percent of the bond.

At 12:20 a.m. Friday, officers arrested Hurley Shellnut, 55, of Royal Oak on a charge of driving under the influence of liquor. His car was stopped on M-81, just west of the village.

He was later released from the county jail on bond with appearance date in district court scheduled Oct. 6.

Dean M. Keyser, 17, of 3036 Warner Road, was picked up by Cass City police at 9:50 p.m. Friday on a warrant from the magistrate, for failure to pay fines and costs or appearing before him Sept. 2.

Keyser pleaded guilty July 21 to driving without a license, no vehicle registration and riding a motorcycle without a helmet. He was to pay the total of $95 in fines and costs by Sept. 2 or appear before the magistrate on that date.

He was released from the county jail without bond and now has until Oct. 3 to pay or go before the magistrate.

Dennis Karr of E. Cass City Road, Ubyly, reported to village police early Sunday that vandalism was done to his car while it was parked in the village lot on Church Street, west of Seeger.

The wipers were broken, hub caps and right rear fender dented and turn signal indicator broken. Damage was estimated at more than $100.

Theft of a wallet and checkbook from her purse was reported to Cass City police at 10:10 p.m. Monday by Linda J. Shelly of 4314 Dale Road.

They were taken between 5 and 9:30 p.m. from her office in Hills and Dales General Hospital. The wallet contained $25.

Connie Kay Nicol of 5495 Deckerville Road, Deford, told deputies Saturday morning that five gallons of gas were siphoned from her vehicle during the night.

Former resident succumbs

Word has been received of the death of Arthur D. Walker, a 1917 graduate of Cass City High School, who died Sept. 19 following a series of strokes.

His family moved from Cass City shortly after he graduated. He went to what is now Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, played on the football team, and was later a coach there.

A memorial service will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Moore Funeral Home on S. Washington Street, Ypsilanti.

Contributions can be made to the American Cancer Society or Eastern Michigan University Athletic Department.

Owendale RLDS women plan events

The September meeting of the Owendale Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints Women's Department was held at the home of Darlene Kuenzli, Cass City.

Thirteen women were present for worship and business. The hostess read Job 34:4-33 for the call to worship and the women joined in singing "Worldly Cares a Moment Leave Us."

The lesson, "Losing to Win," was taught by Vickie Merchant from the book, "Women Are Winners," by Dorothy Jongeward and Dru Scott. The members learned the ways women adapt to early influences and how these adaptations affect them.

The ladies joined into two groups formed into circles facing each other and in turns, told each other what they liked about themselves and next, what they liked about that person. Prayer was given by Becky Bacon.

During the business meeting, conducted by assistant leader Charlene Craig, Connie Dubs gave the treasurer's report. It was reported that the organization has $117 in the special fund for the nursery carpet and $66 was spent so far on the cheer committee gifts for the sick. Mrs. Merchant read the secretary's report.

A motion was made to discontinue sending gifts to the sick, but to send a card and visit them. Motion was passed. Nursery chairs were discussed. The harvest supper was discussed and everyone agreed to discontinue having them because of the hard work and the expense of the meat. There will be a sacrifice supper with a potluck meal instead. A program will be planned for that night.

Co-hostess Madelyn Ziehm served a lunch. The next meeting will be at the home of Genevieve Abbe in Owendale.

Stolen items valued at $117

Investigation is continuing.

Donald Ouvry of 4468 Woodland Street reported to Cass City police Monday that some items were stolen from his car, which was also vandalized.

The incident occurred last Thursday night or early Friday while the car was parked in front of his house.

Stolen were an AM-FM radio worth $45 and the trim rings and center caps from all four wheels, total of $117.

Damage included scratching of the rear deck lid, slitting of the convertible top, which cost $320 to replace, and smashing of the windshield, $143.

At 2:45 a.m. last Thursday, village police arrested

Don't miss the regular monthly meeting of the Sanilac County Republican Committee will take place Thursday, Oct. 2, at 8 p.m. in the county conference room, 37 Austin Street, Sandusky. The public is invited.

SHENANDOAH'S ADD-ON FURNACE

It's A Lot More Than Just Hot Air

For people who already have forced air heat, the economical wood or coal add-on furnace from Shenandoah is the perfect answer to saving fuel costs. Not only does the Add-on make it possible to heat drafty rooms, but it also heats your walls, but it adds up to 25,000 BTUs without any additional consumption of your gas or oil supply.

It's compactly designed to fit into present furnace cavities, your present chimney outlet, and fits in 1,000 to 2,500 square feet. While your primary furnace takes most of the winter bill, Shenandoah's Add-on lets you let off an additional 10 percent of the winter bill.

Shenandoah's Add-on is a lot of heat at a fraction of the cost of the furnace.

He has two daughters and seven step-children from his first marriage.

Rutkowski exhibits at art show

Marilyn Rutkowski, Maurer Road, Ubyly, was selected to participate in the "Michigan Artists 80-81" regional juried art exhibition.

This exhibition was organized by the Detroit Institute of Arts in cooperation with 10 art institutions throughout Michigan, and promises to be one of the largest statewide art exhibitions ever held in this country.

It is actually a series of five exhibitions, four regional shows culminating in one all-state show at the Detroit Institute of Arts. A two-part selection system consisting of a slide jury and subsequent object jury was devised to facilitate handling the large number of entries. In selecting the work, the jurors looked for technical competency and originality of concept.

Approximately 15,000 slides and 3,000 objects will have been viewed for the entire series.

The central region exhibition, which includes Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties, will run through Oct. 17 at the following participating institutions:

Midland Center for the Arts - paintings, sculpture and crafts; Saginaw Art Museum - works on paper, and University Art Gallery, Central Michigan University - photography and experimental media.

Mrs. Rutkowski's art works are being exhibited at the Midland Center for the Arts and consist of a painting and pencil drawing. The pencil drawing is of St. Mary's School, which stood in Parisville from the 1880s to 1903, and the painting is a fall landscape.

There were over 1,000 entries in the central region, of which 113 were selected for display.

Charity bikers raise $100-$200

Despite a turnout of only nine riders, Saturday's bike-a-thon at Gagetown raised at least $100 and possibly close to $200 for St. Jude Children's Hospital in Memphis, according to event chairman Bill Fischer.

The riders, all of whom rode eight miles, were William A., Joseph and Margaret Fischer (the chairman's children), Heather Goff, Chris and Bryan Abbe, Stephen Root, John Shope and Steven Volz.

The exact total won't be known until all the pledges are collected, Fischer said. Assisting him in putting on the event were Gagetown police officer Michael Pine and Elmwood-Gagetown firemen Rusty Martindale, Mike Root and Bob Dunn. (Fischer is also a fireman.) The local market donated refreshments.

The fire truck traveled in front of the riders and the police car brought up the rear as the entourage traveled up and down Dodge Road.

Another bike-a-thon for St. Jude's will take place in Owendale Saturday, starting at 1 p.m. in the village park.

KIDS FOR KIDS -- Nine children rode in the St. Jude Children's Hospital bike-a-thon Saturday, of whom all but one are seen here from the rear of the Elmwood-Gagetown fire truck. They raised between $100 and $200.

Pair injured in Saturday crash

An early morning accident Saturday sent two persons to Hills and Dales General Hospital.

The driver, Shelia Stewart, 17, of E. Dutcher Road, Caro, was reported in fair condition there Tuesday afternoon. Her passenger, Michael R. Miracle, 18, of 6825 Gilford Road, Deford, was treated and released.

According to deputies, their car was northbound on Cemetery Road, north of Gilford, at 5:40 a.m. when it went off the west side of the road, struck a mailbox and then the side of a cement driveway.

Miracle told officers the driver fell asleep at the wheel.

Robert G. McLellan, 43, of 5830 Main Street, Deford, was treated and released from Caro Community Hospital after a 3:45 p.m. accident Sept. 16.

Deputies reported he was northbound on Lee Hill Road and struck a car broadside that was eastbound on Ross Road. Officers said the intersection is unmarked and neither driver saw the other until it was too late.

The other driver, Richard G. Gawne, 24, of Millington, sought his own treatment. The impact sent both vehicles off the road, with the Gawne car coming to a halt on its right side.

At 9 p.m. Sunday, according to deputies, David H. Bartnik, 22, of 6524 Van Dyke Road, Cass City, was eastbound on Dickerson Road, west of Remington Road, when his motorcycle was involved in a mishap.

He told officers it started shaking, so he slowed down, but the shake got worse. He then lost control of the motorcycle, which went off the south shoulder of the road and rolled several times.

Bartnik was reported to have suffered minor injuries but refused treatment.

Donald M. Olsow, 35, of Cass City, and Robert R. Rabideau, 29, of Caro, sought their own treatment for injuries following a 9:40 p.m. accident in Huron county.

Authorities reported they were riding motorcycles on M-142, two miles east of Elkton, when an unidentified vehicle backed out in front of them. Rabideau applied his brakes and the Olsow machine ran into the rear of the Rabideau cycle.

Caro state police reported that Laurel Ann Priehs, 21, of Carsonville, was westbound on Bevens Road, east of Kingston Road, at 7:40 p.m. last Wednesday when her car struck a deer.

David Norrington, 18, of Caro, was eastbound on Tomlinson Road, east of Colwood Road, at 12:01 a.m. Saturday when his car collided with a deer, according to deputies.

Probate court wages up; hassle with judge continues

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners Sept. 9 approved a pay raise for probate court employees, retroactive to Jan. 21.

The 8.18 percent pay raise for the seven employees will be the same as other courthouse employees received at the beginning of this year and which the probate employees received from Jan. 1-20.

The probate pay increase after that, in their dispute with Probate Judge W. Wallace Kent Jr. over the higher pay increase he negotiated separately with his employees.

The decision to pay them the higher rate stemmed from the meeting Judge Kent and representatives of the county board had Sept. 9 with State Court Administrator Einar Bohlin concerning the continuing dispute.

The probate court employees' acceptance of the pay increase won't preclude them from accepting a higher increase, should Bohlin order it paid. If that happens, the county board very likely will appeal his decision to the courts.

The board claims the probate court employees were included in the contract it negotiated with the other courthouse employees.

As part of its motion approved at the meeting, the probate employees will also be enrolled in the Blue Cross-Blue Shield program provided for in the contract, effective with the next convenient pay period.

The board set 1980 millage rates of 4.1572 mills for county operations and .9898 for bridges. Without the Headlee Amendment rollback, they would have been 4.2 and 1 mill respectively.

Leonard Russell Farnis was awarded the bid for rental for three years of approximately 96 acres of county-owned farmland north of Caro on Cleaver Road. Its bid of $82.75 per acre was the highest of three submitted.

Ken Kennedy sees President Carter sign rural development act

Tuscola County Commissioner Ken Kennedy was in the White House Wednesday to witness President Jimmy Carter signing the Rural Policy Development Act into law.

Kennedy was one of 10 members of the Rural Affairs Committee of the National Association of Counties (NAC) to be asked to attend the bill signing. The committee has 45 members with each from a different state, so the Millington Democrat was Michigan's only representative there. The NAC made the selection.

The bill that was signed, he explained, contained several items of benefit to rural areas:

—Planning grant funds, such as for water and sewer system planning, will be increased.

—"Circuit riders," expert personnel assigned to multi-county districts, will be hired to advise rural counties and local governmental units in such matters as federal laws, budgeting and how to get federal grants. The aim will be to help them get their fair share of federal grant funds, the majority of which have been going to cities.

—A U.S. Department of Agriculture undersecretary will be appointed whose task will be to assist rural counties.

—A 40-member Small Community Advisory Council will be appointed to advise the president on matters of importance to rural areas. At least 51 percent of the membership must be elected local officials.

—The NAC Rural Affairs Committee, of which Kennedy is a member, will advise Congress on budget matters of importance to rural areas.

Kennedy has been a member of the committee for about two years. The new legislation, he said, builds on the Rural Development Act of 1972.

The signing ceremony took place at 1:30 p.m., in the East Room, followed by a reception.

Kennedy went to Washington Wednesday and was to have returned the same day. His $210 air fare was paid by the six-county 7th district of the Michigan Association of Counties, which includes Tuscola.

County receives grant

Tuscola county has received a federal grant of $5,600 to do an engineering study of potential energy savings in the courthouse, jail, courthouse annex and medical care facility.

County Building Codes Administrator Paul Lefter informed the board the grant had been received.

The Tuscola County Firemen's Association presented the board with a check for $1,150 as its share for the radio installed in the car used by the emergency preparedness (civil defense) director.

Prosecutor Artis Noel informed the board it will have to rerun the legal notices of several months ago concerning the creation of a county building authority because some of the print in the original ads was smaller than legal requirements.

The authority was created as a means of financing a county office building, presumably an addition on the rear of the annex, but nothing has been done since due to a lack of funds.

A .2 mill levy for senior citizen activities, approved by voters in August, was officially set as the amount to go on tax bills in December.

It was reported that $4,308 was saved in July through a new program which puts able-bodied general assistance recipients to work to pay off their benefits.

HEALTH TIPS

Checking children's vision problems

The weeks between the first day of school and the first report card are a good time for parents to look for symptoms of vision problems in their children, says the president of the Michigan Optometric Association.

Dr. Owen R. Dueueke says a child's posture and behavior while doing school work often give clues signaling the need for a complete vision exam.

"The symptoms parents spot help us determine the need for special tests to uncover vision perception problems not easily diagnosed with a routine vision examination."

Symptoms parents should look for include frequent clumsiness; difficulty in reading or doing other close work; a short attention span for the child's age; frequent blinking; complaints of nausea, dizziness or headaches after reading or doing other close work; a tense position when looking at objects far away or close up; tilting the head noticeably to one side when reading; holding books close to the eyes; frowning or scowling; and continued avoidance of reading and close work in favor of outside activities.

"All children probably show one or more of these symptoms occasionally but the child who exhibits them continually is the one who may need professional vision care," Dr. Dueueke said.

He added that parents should not wait for a child to complain about not seeing well, since most children do not know they have a vision problem. They assume everyone else sees the way they do.

Dr. Dueueke also advised not to rely totally on school vision screening test results. Generally, the school screening checks only the ability to see clearly at a distance. Vision skills needed for reading, for example, may not be checked.

For good preventive vision care, parents would do well to have their child's vision examined annually, he said.

AARP shown slides of China trip

Martha and Luther Durham and Marie Roch will be in charge of arrangements.

Barnes still winner in Sanilac

A recount conducted in all 51 precincts in Sanilac county showed challenger Robert Barnes was the winner of the Aug. 5 Republican nomination for prosecutor by 19 votes over incumbent J. Anthony Sykora.

The original margin for Barnes was 22 votes. Since no Democrat is running in the general election, it means he will take office Jan. 1.

The new vote total is 4,563-4,544, with the change due to canvassers finding more spoiled ballots than did the original election workers.

Sykora paid $510 for the recount. Afterwards, he said he will probably go into private practice in Sandusky, but may run as a sticker or write-in candidate in November.

Barnes, a Crosswell attorney, is a former assistant prosecutor under Sykora.

Church hunger rally slated in Marlette

Dr. Harry Haines, president of Church World Service, an interdenominational Protestant agency combating world hunger, and director of the United Methodist Committee on Relief, will lead a public rally Saturday, Oct. 4, in Marlette.

The rally will be at 2:30 p.m. at the United Methodist church on Main Street.

Haines administers relief and rehabilitation programs in 62 countries, plus disaster relief in the United States. The Methodist committee raises more than $8 million annually.

He will be conducting rallies that week end west of Ishpeming, Clio, Detroit and Ypsilanti, as well as Marlette.

A current goal of Michigan United Methodists is to raise $120,000 to help hungry people in the Dominican Republic and Kenya, with $35,000 having already been raised.

Commissioner Robert Russell presented the following Resolution and moved for its adoption and copies be sent to Governor William G. Milliken, Senator Alvin DeGrow, Representative Loren Armbruster and the Sanilac County Board of Commissioners. Motion carried.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, long term care facilities are essential to the health care needs of this society; and

WHEREAS, continued availability of such facilities, at the lowest possible cost, is of critical concern to all citizens; and

WHEREAS, the economically disadvantaged and indigent population are the hardest hit by the ever increasing cost of health care; and

WHEREAS, Tuscola County is one of 43 counties in the state that provides a public owned and operated Medical Care Facility; and

WHEREAS, Tuscola County has diligently maintained the highest level of medical care standards in the delivery of health care services to the community; and

WHEREAS, House Bill 5875, if enacted, will discriminately effect the level of health care services and cost for public institutions, to the detriment of the taxpayers and user; and

WHEREAS, HB5875 will require increased spending by the County of Tuscola, resulting in a loss of local control of programming, increasing the bureaucratic path of the dollar to get to the point of expenditure and thus diminishing its purchase power, causing the local institution to become more servient to the state with no logical goal of improving actual health care service delivery;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners goes on record as vigorously opposing the passage of HB5875.

BE IT RESOLVED, that a copy of this Resolution be sent to Governor William G. Milliken, Senator Alvin DeGrow, Representative Loren Armbruster and the Sanilac County Board of Commissioners.

Minutes were read and approved.

80-M-242

Pvt. Hagen finishes boot camp

Marine Pvt. Michael A. Hagen, son of Woodrow and Lois Strong of Cartwright Road, Kingston, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

Michael Hagen

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines. He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. A 1980 graduate of Kingston High School, he joined the Marine Corps in May.

Tourism employs 98

Tourism during its record year of 1978 provided jobs for 98 persons in Tuscola county and contributed $3,495,625 to the economy, according to the East Michigan Tourism Association. The information was contained in a letter from the EMTA to the county Board of Commissioners, asking it to appropriate $600 to the association in 1981, the same amount as it contributed this year.

Some may still receive war bonus

Due to a recent federal court ruling expanding residency eligibility for the Michigan Vietnam-era bonus, an undetermined number of veterans may now qualify if they meet all three of the following conditions:

gan for at least six months after Jan. 1, 1961, and
-While a resident of Michigan, completed 190 days of honorable service between Jan. 1, 1961 and Sept. 1, 1973.
The statute governing the bonus originally required Michigan residency prior to enlistment.

-Entered military service as a resident of a state other than Michigan;
-While in the service, became a resident of Michi.

Folks who feel sorry for themselves have darn near outlived their usefulness.

OWEN-GAGE -- Technically, Jim Glidden gained 46 yards on the ground for the Bulldogs Friday night against North Huron, but with leaps like this, a few of those yards were in the air. The senior back also gained 95 yards in pass receptions. (Dave Burrows photo)

North Huron breaks O-G regular season win streak

The Owen-Gage defense proved no match for the North Huron ground attack Friday night as the Warriors advanced to a 14-6 win. The Bulldogs, now 1-1 in the North Central D League and 2-1 overall, host Kingston Friday, which has yet to win this season. It was Wally Baranski's night Friday as the junior fullback scored all of North Huron's points. The team gained all of its yardage on the ground. The first score came in the second quarter when Baranski scored on a 17 yard run, capping a 78 yard drive, and then kicked the extra point. The Bulldogs got the score to 7-6 in the third quarter when Jim Glidden took a short pass from Craig Gettel and ran the ball across the goal line. The play totaled 78 yards. Gettel's attempt to kick the extra point failed. Baranski put the home team ahead to stay on a 3-yard run to top a 60-yard drive, then kicked the extra point. The Warriors' top warrior gained 133 yards for the night in 21 carries. Jon Binder gained 79 yards in 18 carries although injured early. On the ground, the team collected 223 yards in 45 carries. Its two pass attempts were both incomplete. The Bulldogs had trouble getting past their opponent's defensive line as they could gain only 72 yards in 28 carries. Gettel had an easier time in the air with five completions of 13 passes, with no interceptions, for 128 yards. Jim Glidden grabbed two of his passes for 95 yards. Kendall Howard caught three for 25. The Warriors made 16 first downs, twice as many as their opponents. Both teams were plagued by fumbles. Owen-Gage had four of them, losing the ball three times. North Huron dropped the ball six times and lost it four times. The Bulldogs were penalized seven times for a loss of 65 yards; North Huron, five times for 45 yards. On the ground, Glidden ran with the ball 17 times for 46 yards, and Gettel, six times for 14 yards. Howard was the top Bulldog defensive player with 11 tackles. Scott Gaeth pulled down opponents 10 times and had one fumble recovery. Robert LaFave and Gary Erickson each made nine tackles. Craig Enderle, Glidden and Jim Kuhr each recovered a fumble. Kevin Kennedy made 11 Warrior tackles. Score by quarters: NH 0 7 7 0 14 O-G 0 0 6 0 6

O-G girls split 2 cage games

Owen-Gage boosted its season mark to 5-1 overall last Thursday with an easy win at home against non-league Ubly. Both teams collected six points in the first quarter, but coach Judy Campbell's Bulldogs dropped in 16 in the second, versus only three by their opponents, to go ahead to stay. Becky Howard with 25 points was the only Bulldog in double figures. Julie Andrakowicz grabbed 21 rebounds, with Howard next with 12. Sue Schrader led Ubly with 12 points and 11 rebounds. The tables were turned in the junior varsity contest with the Bearcats winning 21-9.

PORT HOPE

Owen-Gage dropped to 1-1 in the North Central D League with a Sept. 16 loss at Port Hope, 41-33. The Bulldogs led at the half, 22-13, but could only manage 11 points in the second to the victor's 28. The visitors were in foul trouble much of the game and were without forward and top rebounder Julie Andrakowicz. Becky Howard led the Bulldogs with 13 points. Dinah Kriewall tallied 12 points for the Blue Stars, with Rhonda Schulte adding 11. Port Hope also won the junior varsity game, 18-17. The team plays what should be a tough contest at Caseville this Thursday evening. It hosts North Huron Tuesday.

USA wins cross-country meet Tuesday in Cass City

Unionville-Sebewaing was the winner Tuesday of a triangular cross-country meeting at the Cass City Recreation Park. The Patriots had 26 points, followed by Marlette, 46, and the host Red Hawks, 56. USA had four of the first five places, with Tom McCollum coming in first in 16:15 for the three-mile course. In second place for Cass City was Greg Bliss, whose time of 16:22 was a new school record for the course, 30 seconds better than Steve Richards' old record, set last year. Third through sixth respectively were Kirk Scharich, USA; Jim DeSimpelare, USA; Steve Flint, USA, and Mark Mozdzen, CC. Also placing for Cass City were Scott Hobart, 11th; Phil Clark, 20th, and Jim Cooklin, 25th. The top five finishers from each team counted in the point totals. Marlette was the only school with a full complement of five girls running, and came in first in that division. Its Kim Noutgov was first at 21:34 and Micki Hutchins, second. Of the two Red Hawks who ran, Kristy Deering was third at 21:50 and Jamie LaRoche, sixth. USA had one girl runner. Thirty runners competed.

Key games ahead

Undefeated Hawks rally to edge Caro

The first major hurdle in Cass City's quest for a Thumb B Conference title was passed Friday when the Hawks came from behind in the last half to edge Caro, 8-7, at Cass City Recreation Park.

The Hawks will not have much time to savor the sweet win in the well balanced Thumb B association as looming next are two games that could well decide if the team will be champs or also-rans.

The first is against the Bad Axe Hatchets who are coming on strong after an opening game loss to undefeated Harbor Beach.

The next is against North Branch, one of the co-favorites for the crown in pre-season estimates.

The other co-favorite was Caro and that's one reason that the win has Hawk fans buzzing.

It was a big win before a big crowd. Spectators filled the stands and lined both sides and one end of the field.

It looked for a while as if the Hawk bubble was going to burst.

Cass City's offense was limited to a couple of first down scampers by Brian deBeaubien and the Tigers were moving on the ground.

Paced by Tim Albin, a crunching runner all night, the Tigers moved down the field in a sustained drive. Albin picked up a crucial first down on fourth and three with a run around the Hawk left end for a first on the eight.

On the very next play he went around the opposite end for the touchdown. The kick was good and the visitors led 7-0 with 3:29 left in the first quarter.

The Hawks could do nothing offensively after that and the Tigers started another drive early in the second quarter.

They moved for a first down on the Cass City 24 but lost the ball on a fumble.

After that the game changed. Cass City, which had been dominated, started to dominate. They moved down the field on good hard running for a first down on the Caro 11. A potential touchdown was lost when a deBeaubien pass fluttered through the receiver's hands on the one-yard line and three running plays lost nine yards.

The Hawks took up where they left off in the third quarter, only this time they took the opening kick-off and moved 52 yards to score.

It was a team effort. deBeaubien went 20 yards on a delay up the middle. A pass picked up a crucial first down.

Rob Sawdon made two key runs to keep the drive alive, bumping past two tackles on each jaunt. With the ball on the one-yard line Sawdon dove over for the score.

The Hawks were off-side on the extra points try but it didn't matter. The Hawks flooded the left corner of the end zone with two receivers and deBeaubien found Sawdon there for the two-points that proved to be decisive.

After that neither team was able to mount a real threat as the Hawk defense which has allowed only one touchdown in three games took over.

Coach Don Schelke picked deBeaubien as Red Hawk of the week. The quarterback ran for 61 yards in 13 carries and passed for 52 yards more. It was the first significant passing yardage gained for Cass City this season.

On defense Chuck Erla was lineman of the week with 11 points in the Schelke rating system.

ROB SAWDON dove over for a touchdown on this play and it's easy to tell that Dave Whittaker, back to the camera, knows it.

Hawk cagers begin loop title defense with win over Lakers

After a slow start the Cass City Red Hawks appear to be rounding into shape and, as expected, promise to be a threat for the Thumb B Association cage crown.

The girls won a pair of games last week. Wednesday they rolled past the Lakers in a league clash, 57-31, and Thursday came from behind in the last quarter to edge visiting USA, 40-39.

Against the Lakers the Hawks dominated all the way. It was 25-11 at the half and 37-19 at the end of three quarters.

The Hawks hit 45 percent from the floor and 72 percent on 13 of 18 from the foul circle.

Padgett Randall whipped in 18 points while Beth Sieradzki, 12, and Shelley Lapeer, 10, were in double figures. The three Hawks also led in rebounding with 7 each.

The USA game was a cliff hanger all the way. The visiting Patriots went out in front early in the first period only to see the Hawks close the gap to a point, 14-13, after the first eight minutes.

Cass City edged in front at the intermission, 25-23. USA moved back in front, 37-33, after three quarters.

The Hawks held the visitors to just two points in the last quarter to pull out the win.

Coach Lloyd Schinnerer said that Carrie Lautner, coming off the bench when Sieradzki got in foul trouble, was one of the keys to the win. She handled the ball well and made the winning bucket with just 7 seconds left.

Two fine players led their respective teams. Randall hit 19 for Cass City and Kim Adam netted 16 for USA.

Randall picked off 7 rebounds while Lapeer snagged six. Lautner was credited with 5.

The Hawks were to have played Caro Wednesday and then have a rematch scheduled with Harbor Beach Thursday. The Pirates are one of two teams with a win over Cass City this season.

The Hawks are now 2-2 over-all and 1-0 in the league.

OVER A PERIOD of years Rolling Hills Golf Course has built a senior citizens' golf competition each Wednesday. The final day of the year was celebrated with dinner and prizes. This crowd is typical of the weekly attendance.

VandenBurgury guilty of violation

William R. VandenBurgury, 18, of Roseville, pleaded guilty in Tuscola County Circuit Court Friday to a charge of violation of probation.

Judge Patrick R. Roslyn accepted his plea and remanded him to the county jail without bond to await sentencing Oct. 6.

VandenBurgury was placed on three years' probation in February of this year for larceny in a building, having pleaded guilty to the charge in connection with a November break-in of a house in Vassar.

The ex-Millington resident pleaded guilty to having violated probation by failing to pay court ordered obligations in April.

Scheduled "motion day" Monday before Judge Norman H. Baguley was postponed due to the death of his wife.

DISTRICT COURT

Judge Richard F. Kern Monday dismissed charges against two men, both having complied with provisions of their one year probation under Section 47 of the Controlled Substances Act. They were Andrew Murawski, 27, of 4064 Bay City-Forestville Road, Gagetown, who had pleaded guilty a year ago to use of marijuana, and Mark Thrall, 18, of 3385 River Street, Kingston, who had pleaded guilty in September, 1979, to possession of marijuana.

Charles Wilding, 23, of 4680 W. State Street, Gagetown, pleaded guilty Aug. 26 to a charge of disorderly person - creating a public disturbance.

His plea was accepted and he was fined $33 and assessed $22 court costs, which he has since paid.

He was one of three persons arrested in connection with a disturbance in Gagetown Aug. 16.

One of the other persons arrested, David F. Pinkoski, 24, of 6605 Gage Street, Gagetown, is scheduled to be tried by a jury Nov. 12 on a charge of assault and battery.

The third person arrested was a juvenile.

Pay increased at consortium

Administrative employees of the Thumb Area Consortium received a minimum 10 percent pay increase when their new salaries were approved last Thursday by the consortium Administrative Board.

The increase for the 22 persons (plus two part-time positions) take effect Oct. 1, the start of the new fiscal year.

The consortium administers the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) program in the upper Thumb and all salaries are paid with money from Washington.

The proposed new salary schedule was prepared by a committee of board members, working with consortium Executive Director Frank Lenard.

The only objection raised at the board meeting was that of Margaret Wentla, county commissioner from Tuscola county, who thought Lenard's proposed salary of $32,000, up from $28,890 he is receiving this year, was too high.

No one would second her motion to set it at $30,000.

That was followed by approval of the entire salary schedule.

The pay scale, Lenard explained, was based on an increase in the starting wages of 3 percent over what it was last year. After the six-month probationary period, employees receive another 5 percent or $500 minimum.

Most employees have been there longer than that and got pay raises of about 10 percent, less than the inflation rate, he pointed out, and some who have been there several years got more than 10 percent.

The board also renewed Lenard's one-year employment contract through Sept. 30 of next year.

The financial statement showed that as of Aug. 31, the consortium had spent $6.18 million so far this fiscal year and had a balance of $1.61 million.

Lenard projected that as of Sept. 30, the end of the fiscal year, it will have $900,000 remaining. The consortium will have to fund its programs with that carry-over until Congress appropriates CETA funds for 1980-81.

He expects it will approve a continuing resolution, authorizing spending at the old levels until it gets around to passing the new legislation.

The board voted to accept reimbursement rates the same as those set by the state for employees who use their own cars for business.

The present rate is 20½ cents per mile and reportedly is going to 23 cents. Prior to July 1, it had been 18½ cents.

Mary Jane Baguley dies at 47

Mary Jane Baguley, 47, of Lapeer, died Sunday at Grace Hospital in Detroit after a long illness.

She was born Jan. 30, 1933, in Bay City, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lessman. The family later moved to the Decker-Deford area.

In November, 1948, as a junior at Cass City High School, Mary Jane Lessman was crowned the first homecoming queen. She graduated in 1950.

She was married to Lapeer-Tuscola County Circuit Judge Norman H. Baguley.

She had been a member of the Lapeer County Board of Commissioners for several years and had served as its vice-chairman for the past two years. She was also active in various civic affairs and was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church in Lapeer.

Mrs. Baguley is survived by her husband; one son, Paul Baguley, Lapeer; two daughters, Karen Baguley, East Lansing, and Laura Baguley, Lapeer; a sister, Luella Gibelyou, Bay City; one brother, Koert Lessman, Las Cruces, N.M., and her mother, Clara Lessman, Bay City.

Burial took place Wednesday at Mt. Hope Cemetery, Lapeer.

Memorial services will be at 2 p.m. Sunday at St. Paul's, Rev. Marvin Ramthun officiating.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Esther Donnor Memorial Fund at the church or the Lapeer County Cancer Society.
