

Gagetown scouts seek new members

Gagetown Boy Scout Troop 589 held membership recruitment night Oct. 7 in the meeting rooms over Mr. Kelly's Market in Gagetown.

The regular scouts attending were Ricky Zimmerman, Steve Voltz, John Shope and John Olsak; Scoutmaster Roger "Rusty" Martindale and Assistant Scoutmaster Dave Kirby. Also attending were committee chairman Bill Fischer and guest speaker, District Executive Bob Whelton.

Whelton showed a movie about the 1977 National Jamboree.

There was discussion afterwards about Jamboree and summer camp, the Showando coming soon and the different badges that can be earned.

Discussed were having special service projects such as community services.

Boating, hiking, camping and gun safety are a few of the other projects planned.

Also discussed were handicapped awareness trials, in which the boys must do things on crutches, in wheelchairs (playing basketball) and going over obstacles blindfolded to better understand some of the difficulties handicapped persons encounter.

Any boys and parents of boys interested in joining the Gagetown Scouts can contact Martindale at 665-2596.

Four boys and two scoutmasters from Troop 589 participated in a Thumb district junior and adult leadership training session in Caro at Camp Pine Acres, Oct. 3-5.

Purpose was to teach adults and boys how to perform their respective roles as leaders in scouting.

Included in the training were how-tos of: cooking, knife and axmanship, orienteering (maps and compass), campsite preparation and nature studies.

Attending from Gagetown

Local library board plans improvements

Four board members and the librarian were present Tuesday for the monthly meeting at the Rawson Memorial Library.

The budget was reviewed. Upcoming improvements will include eaves troughing on the front of the library and more storage cupboards for periodicals. The Cass City Area Historical Society will share the expense of the proposed cupboards, so they can be used for storage of its materials.

Plans are being made again to show movies during winter. They will include movies for children, some on travel and others on topics of current interest.

were scouts Olsak, Shope, Steve Root and Dave Laurie, Scoutmaster Martindale and assistant Scoutmaster Kirby.

The scouts made their own meals, took care of the camp site, set up all the tents, cut and split firewood and organized entertainment.

At the end of the three days, Troop 589 was recognized as most improved troop by the staff of the training session.

The boys also earned their first award, the camping skills award.

Pvt. Guilds completes training

Pvt. Kenneth Lee Guilds, son of Charlotte Kitchin of Deford, a graduate of Cass City High School, has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C., and advanced individual training at Fort Campbell, Ky., with the 101st Airborne Division.

Kenneth Guilds

Guilds enlisted in the U.S. Army in June and is expected to be home on leave at the end of October.
