THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

President Issues the Official Papers Designating November 30 as the Day.

The president issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation Oct. 25: "A national custom, dear to the hearts of the people calls for the setting apart of one day in each year as an occasion of special thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings of the preceding year. This honored observance acquires with time a tenderer significance. It enriches domestic life. It summons under the family roof the absent children to glad reunion with those they love.

"Seldom has this nation had greater cause for profound thanksgiving. No great pestilence has invaded our shores. Liberal employment waits upon labor. Abundant crops have rewarded the efforts of the husbandman. Increased comforts have come to the home. The national finances have been strengthened and public credit has been sustained and made firmer. In all branches of industry and trade there has been an unequalled degree of prosperity, while there has been a steady gain in the moral and educational growth of our national character. Churches and schools have flourished. American patriotism has been exalted. Those engaged in maintaining the honor of the flag with such signal success have been in a large degree spared from disaster and disease. An honorable peace has been ratified with a foreign nation, with which we were at war and we are now on friendly relations with every power on earth.

"The trust which we have assumed for the benefit of the people of Cuba has been faithfully advanced. There is marked progress toward the restoration of healthy industrial conditions, and under wise sanitary regulations the island has enjoyed exemption from the scourge of fever. The hurricane which swept over our new possession of Porto Rico, destroying the homes and property of the inhabitant, called forth the instant sympathy of the people of the United States who were swift to respond with generous aid to the sufferers. While the insurrection still continues in the island of Luzon, business is resuming its activity and confidence in the good purposes of the United States is being rapidly established throughout the archipelago.

"For these reasons and countless others, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, do hereby name Thursday, the 30th day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed as such by all our people on this continent and in our newly acquired islands, as well as by those who may be at sea or sojourning in foreign lands; and I advise that on this day religious exercises shall be conducted in the churches or meeting-places of all denominations in order that in the social features of the day its real significance may not be lost sight of, but fervent prayers may be offered to the most high for a continuance of the divine guidance without which man's efforts are vain, and for divine consolation to whose kindred and friends have sacrificed their lives for country.

"I recommend also that on this day so far as may be found practicable, labor shall cease from its accustomed toil, and charity abound toward the needy and the poor.

"In witness whereof, I have set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed."

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

IN THE LECTURE FIELD.

To speak from a platform sometimes has more terrors than confronts one who marches into battle. We are happy to learn that this is not true of Dick S. Landon, who is counted by Cass City as one of its brightest and most energetic young men. Arrangements have been completed by which he is to lecture under the auspices of the Epworth League at the M. E. Church, Friday evening, Nov. 3, on the Philippine Islands. In his lecture, which might be entitled "How It Happened," he will trace the details of the insurrection and the situation up to date, describe the islands and their resources, the character of the Filipinos and Aguinaldo, and discuss the commercial and military interests involved in the retention of the islands. Many relics will be exhibited. The lecturer brought home with him several Filipino dollars, and he proposes to give one of these as a prize to that one among the young people who, in the judgment of a committee composed of Prof. Weaver and Editors McDowell and Klump, will write the best outline report of the lecture. The admission will be for adults, 20 cents, children 15 cents. Doors open at 7:30, lecture begins at 8 p. m.

REMARKABLE FORGERY.

Sometime during last December, Mrs. Eliza Rawson, of Kingston, came into the Cass City Bank and made a loan of $10. She represented herself to be a Mrs. Mary L. Moshier and gave as collateral security a note of $110 supposed to be signed by H. H. Wilson, of Novesta.

The bank people had their suspicions about the notes being correct; in fact they knew that something about them was wrong, but not knowing what, nothing was said and the woman was given the money.

Mr. Auten began at once to make inquiries about the matter and in the course of a few weeks found that the woman's name was Mrs. Eliza Rawson and that she lived on a rented farm near Kingston and her husband was in the northern part of the state. About two months ago, Mr. Auten accompanied by Deputy-sheriff Morris went to the woman's house and, after much questioning, she said that the Wilson note had been given her by a Jasper Fifield, who resides at Midland, Mich., as security on a debt.

In order to substantiate her testimony, Deputy-sheriff Morris accompanied by a CHRONICLE correspondent called upon Mrs. Rawson about four weeks ago, at which time she reiterated her former statements. A Geo. Mantz was present at the time they entered the dwelling and he testified that he was present at the time that Fifield gave her the note. The statements of both were taken in writing.

The matter was laid before Prosecuting Attorney Wixon. Mr. Auten and Mr. Wilson were both of the opinion that Fifield should be placed under arrest, but the prosecutor declined on the ground that the evidence was not sufficient. It seems somewhat strange for a prosecuting attorney to take such a position. He knew as well as all other parties concerned that a forgery had been committed and of the statements made by Mrs. Rawson and Mantz in regard to Fifield giving the note to Mrs. Rawson. Mrs. Rawson was arrested some two weeks ago and was taken to Caro where she awaited examination to the circuit court and gave bail for $200.

The CHRONICLE is of the opinion that the matter should have been sifted long before this time. It is estimated that the woman has been sinned against more than she has sinned.

OUR LECTURE COURSE

The success, which attended the excellent course of entertainments last year demonstrated the feasibility of employing first-class talent to come into our midst, thus placing us upon an equal footing with city audiences.

Acting upon the knowledge gained by that experience, Mr. Auten who has managed and conducted our lecture courses with such signal success, has again organized a course of three lectures for the present season, which will be given in the opera house as follows:

Dr. A. A. Willits, the apostle of "Sunshine," will appear on January 27th. He needs no introduction. He has lectured for forty years, and is still in full strength. He never faces an audience that he does not capture.

Fred Emerson Brooks, sometimes called the California poet, will be in our midst Feb. 26th. He is a genius of rare ability. Wonderful pathos, keen humor and incisive wit characterize his lectures.

On March 3rd, the Hon. G. A. Gearhart, of Buffalo, will make his appearance. Mr. Gearhart is classed with such orators as Beecher, Talmage, Conwell and Wendling.

These three lectures are to be supplemented by a concert, if the patronage will warrant it. The price of a season's ticket will be fifty cents. We can safely bespeak a rich treat for our citizens and we would urge upon all the propriety of a hearty co-operation and success will be assured.

FINALLY CAUGHT.

Fred Springer of Gagetown was arrested last Tuesday by Sheriff Morris for taking a horse from the street.

It seems R. W. Greenizen, formerly of this place, hired a rig from Jack McLellan last fall and drove to Gagetown where he hitched the horse to a post. When he was ready to come home the horse was missing.

It was soon ascertained that Springer had taken the horse from the street and placed him in some barn, and immediately left for parts unknown. Not long since he returned and his arrest followed in short order.

WHENCE COME WARS?

Is arbitration a failure or a success as viewed by the recent decision at Paris? The right of the United States to interfere and compel arbitration was the contention of President Cleveland, and acknowledgement of the beneficence of arbitration was Secretary Hay's large hope in the decision. Since Great Britain gained practically all she claimed, it would seem that this cherished principle is still lacking affirmation in international politics.

The present attitude of the world is unquestionably not favorable to arbitration, but favoring war. The world has not yet reached that point which some of its intelligent statesmen think they have reached, when a discussion of contented questions before a supposedly impartial court can take the place of armed intervention. The United States in its present difficulty with the island of the East cannot see a clear way toward solution except by fighting. To acknowledge the temporary government of Aguinaldo would be to save men and money, and might finally result in the establishment of a government similar to the one at present contemplated in our colonial policy. But the modern nations of the world, and this nation in particular, have demonstrated that they would sooner fight for a principle, however costly the fight might be, than weakly surrender to a compromise. That the civilized world values a principle more highly than it values its very blood and property is a better vindication of the world's betterment than even an acknowledgement of this unquestionably fine idea of arbitration.

Great Britain might concede a higher limit to the "irreducible minimum" and gain by a temporary delay an advantage which should ultimately mean the political power it is seeking. But Mr. Balfour, speaking for the British ministry, insists that "Great Britain cannot and will not give way, because her interests in South Africa and civilization and national honor make such a course impossible."

The burden of civilization is the white man's burden, is particularly the Anglo-Saxon's burden. Whether he wishes it or not, his destiny has a world sweep. Whether alien races wish it or no, the ultimate result of arbitration or war is to establish the dominant race.

There is certainly a divine meaning in war. It may seem a brutal declaration after thousands of years of civilization, and Sir William Vernon Harcourt and John Norley across the ocean would declare it brutal. Edward Atkinson and John Jacob Lentz on this side agree. But a world patriotism which looks beyond confined states recognizes that whatever the attenuated righteousness of these declarations, a larger, becomes a stronger, righteousness guides nations. Oom Paul voiced it in the raid on Tuesday. "Although thousands may come to attack us we have nothing to fear, for the Lord is the final arbiter and He will decide. The Lord rules the world."

And Oom Paul is supported by Lyman Abbott in the International Congregational convention. "The real meaning, interpreted by its relation to the kingdom of God of the forward movement in Africa is the redemption of the dark continent and its preparation for Christian civilization by the establishment of law, enforced by the strong arm of a strong nation. This is also the meaning of the redemption of India and the so-called dismemberment of China; and I should be untrue to myself if I did not add my belief that this is the meaning of the American occupancy of the Philippines."

The weight of thinking would seem to be on the side of revolution, not on pacification.

A NEW THING UNDER THE SUN.

Ohio's Democratic candidate for Governor, Mr. McLean stands on the platform of the anti-expansionists, a new thing to this generation. Mr. Nash, the Republican candidate, represents the policy of President McKinley in the Philippines, also a new thing in American politics.

Mr. McLean has created a democratic machine such as Ohio has never seen. Instead of spending money on circulars and documents in the old way, he has purchased newspapers in every county. This gigantic literary bureau is managed in the most modern yellow style, without any old-fashioned prejudice against falsehood. The motto is, "Any way to get there." To what extent the Republicans have been able to counteract the influence of this yellow newspaper trust is not known as yet. The Ohio Republicans seem to be united on the question of expansion and the CHRONICLE predicts that if the war issue is kept at the front, and the choice between McKinleyism and Aguinaldoism is fairly put, Mr. Nash will sweep away all "yellow" difficulties and uncertainties and triumph at the polls.

BURROWS AGAINST QUAY.

It is stated that Senator Burrows has declared in a public interview that he will speak and vote against seating Matthew S. Quay, appointed to the United States senate by the Governor of Pennsylvania.

He is quoted as saying: "It would be a bad precedent to seat senators chosen in that indirect manner. Any man, however unscrupulous, might conspire with others to deadlock a legislature, and by standing in with the governor receive appointment, no matter how unpopular he was with the voters of the state."

The CHRONICLE hopes that Mr. Burrows will pursue the course indicated in his interview, not only for the reasons given, but rather because Mr. Quay is an unscrupulous politician, who has brought more odium upon the republican party than any other man in this generation. For the good of the party in Pennsylvania and in the country at large, Mr. Quay should be placed on the superannuated list.

HUSTLERS GET THE PLUMS.

Life is growth; death is stagnation. The well-enough stage is the first symptom of death, be it physical, mental or moral. A healthful dissatisfaction with existing affairs is the first step in advancement.

The young man who is anxious to leave the beaten track of his father's and blaze a new path for himself should be given every encouragement, offered every inducement, afforded every opportunity. That desire carried out gave us a Newton, a Watts, a Howe, a Bessemer, an Edison. The young man who is honestly dissatisfied with the world as he finds it, who accepts his surroundings only as a means by which he may attain something higher, who desires to better mankind by bettering himself, is a man with a future.

"In a wicked world the only people who are justified in peaceable living are people in graveyards. In an age and land like ours only men of mush and moonshine can be friends with everybody."

DEFORD

Mrs. Wilcox is on the sick list this week.

Rev. D. B. Miller made a business trip to Cass City on Monday.

ALMA COLLEGE.

Hazing is less popular this year than it has been in days gone.

The Alma eleven measures their strength with the "Kazoo" champions on Sat. Nov. 4th.

The deportment of the student this year has never been excelled, and so far the "conduct committee" has rested in peace.

The corner stones of the new College church and the new Museum have both been laid and work toward their completion is being pushed with vigor.

4th year prep.—Well! Pleb, how do you like college?

1st year prep.—Oh! its all right, but I don't like the way they sling studies at me.

Freshman—What is the cause of the rumbling noise heard in the direction of the main building and why savors the air with sulphur and brimstone?

Sophomore—Oh! that's nothing, the Faculty are only considering the case of one of my class mates.

Lost—Sat. Oct. 21st. the "Farmers" from M. A. C. sent their eleven braves up to Alma where they expected an easy victory. Chas. McCue consisted one of their number and made the first touch-down for his college. Alma fumbled the ball and Chas. as quick as lightning snatched it and ran nearly the entire length of the field, making for M. A. C. her first score. This was only some bad luck on Alma's part, which had it been avoided, the game would have proved an easy victory for the home team.

Leaving out the fumbles made by Alma the game was a hotly contested one each team scoring eleven points. Chas. McCue deserves special mention and reflects credit, not only upon his own institution, but also upon his home town.

Mrs. Chas. Mudge of this place and Miss Belle Fuller, the young lady engaged for the recent musical entertainment, drove to Cass City on Saturday last, the former the guest of Mrs. A. W. Seed, the latter, visiting her aunt, Mrs. Chas. Hanson.

The entertainment given at the M. E. church was a decided success, Miss Fuller, the vocalist, proving a very pleasing singer. After the entertainment, Miss Fuller was interviewed by another denomination as regards her services for a musical in the near future and it is quite probable she will again favor us with a good musical treat.

There was a union service last Sunday evening in the interest of the Anti-Saloon League. Mr. and Mrs. Ferris are both able and ardent speakers. Their respective discourses were made doubly impressive by the excellent stereopticon views. They presented vividly the prevailing evils accompanying the improper usage of intoxicants. Mr. and Mrs. Ferris are supported entirely by voluntary offerings, and at the close of the service, Mr. Ferris requested $15, but about $40 was raised to further the canvassing of Tuscola County in this important work.

—O—

This is the month in which "Hallowe'en" occurs, when on the eve of October 31st, the elfs and brownies of the legendary world are said to walk upon the earth and play their pranks upon unsuspecting persons who are apt to look upon the havoc they make with anger and disgust, when the lads and merry maidens indulge in frolicsome sport, when jack lanterns and tick-tacks enliven their slumbering elders and when bedlam, generally speaking, is set loose. Hallowe'en is a Scottish word and is the evening preceding All Hallow's on Saints' day, and is supposed by superstitious folk, to be the unnamy time when spirits walk abroad.—Bad Axe Democrat.

The CHRONICLE is the only paper in the country that has been enabled to make special arrangements with the publishers of "Success," which makes it possible for us to offer that paper to every subscriber who pays for the CHRONICLE one year in advance.

"SUCCESS"

SUCCESS is an illustrated family magazine of inspiration, progress, and self-help. It is a perpetual tonic to every reader, young and old. It leads young men and young women to abandon habits of idleness and wastefulness. It persuades them to have an aim in life, and devote their time, thought and energy to making the most of themselves.
They then see the folly of wasting good time reading the mass of stuff printed merely to amuse. There is too much of that kind of printed matter, but not enough like Success, which entertains without wasting time, which gives valuable inspiration and instruction combined with delightful amusement. Better leave unread all other periodicals rather than miss reading Success every week. It is the best and most essential family periodical published.

SPECIAL OFFER

As an extraordinary inducement to every subscriber who pays for the CASS CITY CHRONICLE one year in advance at only 50 cents, we make the following special offer.
The regular subscription price of Success is $1.50 per annum; but, in order to introduce it into many new homes, we will send the paper every week for the remainder of the year 1899 FREE, and then for the entire year of 1900 (to January 1901) FOR ONLY $1.00. Act quickly to get the full benefit of this great offer.

MATTERS WHICH WILL BE OF INTER-EST TO OUR OWN PEOPLE.

Important Happenings of the Past Few Days Reported by Telegraph—Michigan News Selected with Care and with a Purpose of Pleasing Our Readers.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 24.—A telegram from Chicago says: "The Chicago police have been notified of the arrest in San Francisco of Marjorie Vinton as the alleged accomplice of Alba M. Kent, who on May 8, it is charged, obtained from the Union Trust company, of Jamestown, N. Y., $10,000 in currency by means of notes, the indorsements on which, it is said, he forged. Kent was arrested a month ago in Yokohama, and Miss Vinton, under the alias of Celia Manning, was arrested on the Japan steamer Saturday by New York detectives.

At the time of Kent's disappearance it was maintained that in company with Marjorie Vinton he came to Chicago, and the case was assigned to Detectives Early and Thompson, of the Central station. They found that mail was coming to the girl at a certain address, but that she herself had not been there. Marjorie Vinton formerly resided in Grand Rapids, Mich. In addition to personal beauty she is gifted with great musical talent. It was while visiting her aunt, a Mrs. Wall-bridge, in Jamestown, that she met Kent.

LEAD AND A LOVERS' QUARREL
Bring About the Sudden Death of a Man and Woman.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 23.—Ira C.
Hatch was the central figure in a double tragedy. He shot Miss Ruby Sherman, with whom he had a lovers' quarrel, and then himself. The woman died instantly, and he a few hours later. The woman was about 27, and came here a year ago from Nashville.
Hatch was the son of the late Judge Hatch, one of the earliest settlers here, and was born in Grand Rapids in 1852.
He was long at the head of the leading grocery store in town, and through large commission dealings in peaches became known as the "Peach King."

He became interested in politics at a time when party managers were going at a hot pace, and besides contributing freely but heavily and lost on the defeat of M. H. Ford for congress. He failed in business, and was unable to regain his grip. Before his failure he was appointed to the fire and police commission by Edwin F. Uhl, then mayor, but before his term expired was forced to resign. Hatch's wife died two years ago.

NOTES FROM PORT HURON.
Merchants Unite Against Advertising Schemes—Sheriff Has Luck.

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 25.—The Port Huron Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, comprising nearly all the business houses of the city, has adopted a resolution, binding the membership to taboo all so-called fake advertising schemes and patronize only the newspapers.

The board of supervisors, before adjourning last week raised the price allowed the sheriff for housing of prisoners from $3 to $3.50 per week. The increased allowance was carried by a vote of 24 to 15. The claim of ex-Sheriff George E. Mallory of $1,147 was allowed at $898.

Mrs. Ida Holland, who recently applied to the probate court to compel Charles D. Holland, administrator of the estate of the late Robert Holland, of Marine City, to make an accounting, has raised objection to the report presented and alleges that property has been undervalued and that the administrator has failed to account for bank stock owned by the late Mr. Holland.

PROF. WORCESTER HOME AGAIN.

Stops Over a Day at Ann Arbor on His Return from Manila.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 24.—Professor Dean O. Worcester, of the Philippine commission, arrived at his home here Sunday night for one day's stay en route from Van couver to Washington, where he will present his report to President McKinley. He refused to divulge anything bearing on the report, saying it must go to the president before it is given out for publication. Professor Worcester has taken about 300 photographs in the islands, but refused to release any of them for reproduction, saying:

"They may be made a part of my final report. Many of them show the present state and methods of cultivation of the rice and sugar fields of the Philippines. The government is entitled to the exclusive use of such photographs as it sees fit to appropriate."

LEFT HER BABE AT A HOTEL.
Young Mother Deserts Her Two-Months-Old Infant.

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 23.—A young woman of perhaps 20 years of age deserted a 2-months-old boy baby at Jacob Schoor's hotel on Quay street Saturday. The unnatural mother came to the hotel during the afternoon, and without registering took a seat in the parlor. Subsequently she left the place unnoticed, leaving the babe lying on the couch soundly sleeping.

Provision for its immediate care had been thoughtfully made by the leaving of a nursing bottle and two bottles of milk. The police were notified of the find, and the wait turned over to the care of the police matron, Mrs.
Carey. There is no clue to the identity of either mother or child.

MICHIGAN TEAM IS CRIPPLED.

University Foot Ball Eleven Has Bad Luck
at Practice.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 25.—The foot ball practice Monday was long and severe in preparation for the game with Illinois next Saturday, but there were two accidents which will cripple the team at a time when every old player is needed. Hugh White, last year's tackle, who had been playing end this year, was transferred to tackle Monday and in one of the scrimmages sustained an injury to his leg which will keep him out of the game for several weeks.

One of the bones in his right leg was pushed out of place and he had to be carried from the field. Teetzel, the best of the half backs, is also out of the game. His injured ankle was hurt and he was laid off for a week. With Captain Steckle disabled from an injured side, the team is in bad shape.

M. L. White, a candidate for end, also had his nose broken.

Gillen Gets No Damages.
Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 23.—Sheriff Gillen, of Washtenaw county, recently had occasion to go to Dexter on official business. He boarded a train at the Michigan Central station here, taking a seat in the rear car. When the train started the rear car and Sheriff Gillen were switched off and left behind. The sheriff immediately instituted a suit against the railroad company for damages. At the trial in the circuit court Judge Kline took the case from the jury and directed a verdict for the defendant, holding that the railroad had not refused to carry Gillen.

Accomplished His Own Death.
Carney, Mich., Oct. 24.—The body of Anton Johnson, who has been missing since Sept. 21, has been found on an old logging road but a short distance from where he lived with his brother-

A BEE TALK.

Up to Date Houses and Hives That Are Every Man's Privilege.

There are many advantages in keeping bees in a house. While there are many apiarists who use beehouses exclusively, the majority do not. There are also many different kinds and varieties of houses used. A beehouse need not be an expensive one, and almost any kind of house will answer the purpose. None is better than an old dwelling house, and two or more rooms are the more convenient, provided they have an outside face of one end or side, or both.

Perhaps a two room house with one partition is the best. Such a house with two ordinary sized rooms, say 14 feet square, will give 112 feet of outside surface, but take off 12 feet for doors, etc., and the 100 feet left will accommodate 50 colonies of bees by setting the hives two feet apart from center to center, which will give ample working room. The entrances are cut through to the outside and made to correspond to the entrance to the hives.
The hives may be set directly on the floor, but I would prefer them set on the usual bottom boards, nailed to cleats at each end, that would raise the hive some four inches from the floor, this for the purpose of chaff packing in winter. Bees thus kept in a house are very easily prepared for winter, and the extra protection thus afforded brings them through the winter in prime order.

A very cheap beehouse and a very convenient one that I have used and which I make exclusively for bees is a small house 10 feet long, 6 feet wide and 6 feet high. This building accommodates 11 colonies, and the expense does not exceed $1 per colony. This is no more than chaff hives will cost for each colony outside. Floor space

LATEST HIVES COMPLETE.
for the hives to rest on only is used, as a ground floor in the center is preferred. The objection to a much longer house on the same plan is that it is not convenient to move, and also that bees become more or less confused where so many entrances are close together and all have the same appearance.

This has always been the objection to beehouses, but small buildings such as these, located around at different places, overcome this objection.

In addition to the foregoing paragraphs by A. H. Duff of Kansas, The Farm, Field and Fireside illustrates the latest style of hives, with the statement that they are no man's private property, but that every beekeeper's furniture, used now almost exclusivelly by all specialists. No. 1 is a hive arranged for comb honey with two supers, each containing 24 one pound section boxes, thus saving a surplus capacity of 48 pounds. The brood chamber contains eight of the standard frames. Hive No. 2 is simply two brood chambers, the upper set of frames used for extracting honey.

Cutting Down Ensilage in the Silo.

Where a silo is so large that in feeding ensilage a layer cannot be removed daily to the depth of about three inches a Rural New Yorker writer recommends to feed from a portion of the silo each day, instead of attempting to feed from the entire surface, especially in summer. During the winter it is probable that one would be able to feed from the entire surface without danger of having any of the ensilage spoiled.

A practicable way, he says, to secure a smaller surface from which to feed is to cut down a portion of the ensilage with a hay knife, just as one would cut down a portion of the haymow.
The knife used for this purpose should be one with a serrated edge, and care should be taken that the knife is well sharpened. If the ensilage is cut down so that a smooth edge is left exposed, it will be impossible for the air to penetrate to any considerable extent, and it has been found in actual practice that there is no waste whatever.

A child of John Walden of Detroit was brought here for burial Tuesday. The services were held at the M. E. church and the remains interred in the Elkland cemetery.

Blame your doctor for your bodily ills, your lawyer for your losses, the cook for your stomach, your children for your bad temper and your wife for all else that goes wrong.

We are indebted to Dr. Wickware for aiding us in editing the three previous issues of the CHRONICLE. Although engaged in another profession he still wields a vigorous pen as of yore.

Our local sportsmen of whom Messrs. Hebblewhite, McGeorge, Frost, Edwards, Champion, Ratz, and Freeman comprise a goodly number, are meeting with good success. Dr. Edwards is by far the most successful slayer, which statement is substantiated by the fact that the cooks at the Gordon House are kept busy preparing the birds that Doc. brings in.

W. A. Fairweather has purchased the A. A. McKenzie property on West Main St. He expects to make extensive alterations such as the placing of electric lights, water works and a furnace in the residence. Mr. McKenzie and family will live over their undertaking rooms.

Ira Reid, our genial supervisor, had his driving horse stolen from the barn of the Truesdell house at Caro last week Wednesday. The thief was caught at Columbiaville where he tried to dispose of the rig. The fellow was brought back to Caro where he now languishes in jail.

We expect to welcome the editor home this week, and CHRONICLE readers may look for a more newsy paper hereafter. Mr. Klump has the faculty of ferreting out news items in a most thorough manner. When the supply is not equal to the demand, he has a fertile brain to draw on.

Cass City has a longing for a brass band and it is intimated that if the young men of the village do not get together and organize one, the young ladies will try their lung power on the horns. By all means put a restraining hand on the gentlemen and give the girls a chance.—Marlette Leader.

Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Morgan have arranged to hold at the parsonage a "Pleasant Friday Evening" that they may meet and entertain in their home not only the members of the Epworth League but the other young people. All are cordially invited to come between 7:30 and 8 o'clock or later if detained beyond that hour.

Chas. Webster of Elmwood, who has been severely ill with lung trouble for some time past, was accompanied to Harper Hospital yesterday by Dr. Wickware, who will consult with Prof. E. L. Shurley. Mr. Webster is an exemplary young man and his many friends sincerely hope that he will yet regain his health.

About sixty tickets were sold for the excursion to Detroit yesterday. The following persons were among the excursionists: W. A. Fairweather, J. S. McArthur, Wm. Ratz, Fred Bigelow, John Wilder, Clark McKenzie, Henry Fairweather, A. A. P. McDowell, O. K. Janes, A. A. Hitchcock, Will McTavish, Mrs. F. C. Lee, Mrs. N. McClinton, Mrs. I. A. Fritz, Hugh Seed and wife, Mrs. A. A. McKenzie, Mrs. A. W. Seed and the Misses Laura Wickware, Tena McDonald and Edna Forn.

The Marlette Leader says: "Portland cement sidewalks are receiving more attention all over this part of Michigan than ever before, but we are sorry to say that our usually wide-awake town is sadly behind her sisters in this respect. Carsonville, though much smaller, is in much better shape as regards walks and Cass City is head and shoulders in advance. We hope much attention will be paid to the walks next year and that an ordinance will be passed making it necessary to make them out of cement."

At the meeting of the bible circle next Monday evening at the M. E. church, the first fourteen chapters of Acts will be studied. Each member is requested to write out a name in one or two words if possible for each chapter and hand the list to Dr. Morgan. The lists of Mrs. J. M. Truscott, Miss M. L. Elliot, E. J. Cross, Grant Fritz and Roy Spencer will be given as a part of the program. Prof. Chas. Weaver will describe Jerusalem and Antioch. Vocal duet, Cassius H. Wood and John Wilder. Vocal quartette, Nina Karr, Ora McKim, Lydia Klump and Clara Lenzner. Reading, Myrtle Brooker. Review of lessons I and II, Dr. Morgan. Everybody invited.

The American young man is capable of doing great things if he will only take advantage of opportunities. The old adage "time and tide wait for no man" is very plainly demonstrated in our daily walks through life, and no man, no matter how humble nor how prosperous his future may seem, can afford to allow Dame Fortune to knock at his door more than once. The time to grasp an opportunity is when it presents itself, no matter in what form it may appear. It has been said "Opportunity has hair in front, behind she is bald." If you seize her by the forelock you may hold her, but if suffered to escape Jupiter himself can not catch her again. It is a misconception for our younger generation to think that it is harder to make a success of one's life nowadays than it was to our fore-fathers. In fact, fortunes have been made, are being made and will continue to be made as long as there are people upon this earth, but the only way for a young man to make a fortune is to get up and hustle for it. Throw away that cigarette, go to work and don't let the grass grow under your feet, or the cobwebs around your face.

THUMB NOTES.

Tuscola county has expended $5,144 for the care of her poor so far this year. County Treasurer Kinney has disbursed $75,265 during the year.

A special to the Detroit Journal says: "A barn belonging to R. J. Hutchinson of Elmwood was struck by lightning Sunday morning and burned, together with 900 bushels of grain and much hay. Loss, $1,400; insurance, $1,150, in the Tuscola County Farmers' Mutual.

Minden has been visited three times in about two and one-half years by fire which has wiped out a number of business places. The third blaze occurred Friday morning, Oct. 20th, at 4:30 o'clock. The store building of the Farmers' Mercantile Co., together with all the stock, was burned. It is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin. The loss is estimated at $7,500, with small insurance.

A peculiar snake story, the truth of which is vouched for by half a dozen people, is reported. Mrs. Alfred Fisher, of 402 Rochester avenue, Kalamazoo, has been a sufferer for years and shrank from a strong, robust woman to a skeleton on the verge of insanity. She was treated by different physicians. Finally Dr. M. W. Sears began treating her for what the woman believed to be a snake in her stomach, and coughed up a reptile, a water snake two feet long, which was killed and is now preserved in alcohol. The woman fainted from exhaustion after the snake nearly choked her. She swallowed the snake eighteen months ago she thinks.—Ex.

A little incident occurred at Fargo a week ago Sunday that, from all accounts was amusing to the spectators, if not to the participants. Services were being held in the church there and a lady entered somewhat late and was compelled to take a seat that had been improvised out of three stools and a plank. At one end of the seat sat four tots, while the other end was vacant and also without support as one of the stools had been removed. This important fact was overlooked by the lady who promptly sat down and carried that end of the plank with her until the floor was reached. At the other end of the board the youngsters were experiencing the surprise party of their lives, as they shot toward the ceiling as from a catapult. As they came back they easily slid down and joined their more weighty companion none the worse for their hasty flight.—Yale Hustler.
