If Secretary Wilson isn't proud of he compliment paid him on the floor of the House by Representative Williams of Miss., a political opponent he ought to be. It was while bloodgricultural appropriation bill, just passed by the House, was under discussion, and Secretary Wilson was being criticized by members of his own party for keeping the list of those eligible to appointment in his department secret that Mr. Williams declared Mr. Wilson to be "absolutely the best secretary of Agriculture this country has ever had-the most non-partisan and impartial." Mr. Williams added that probably one reason why Secretary Wilson kept the eligible list closed wast to escape partisan pressure for appointments from members of hi own party. Representative Cooper of Wisconsin Chairman of the House Committee og Insular Affairs, is one of those who think there ought to be an extra session of Congress to deal with insular affairs. He said: "All our bills are incubating until we get the decision of the Supreme Court. There ought to be a civil government in the Philippides, and Congress ought to vote the necessary authority, even if it does require an extra session.'

The Leading Specialists of America [3] The developments in the West Point hazing investigation has started a strong movement for a similar investigation at Annapolis. Represen-Nothing can be more demoralizing to young or middle-aged men than the presence of these "nightly losses." They produce weakness, nervousness, a feeling of disgustand a whole train of symptoms. They unfit a man for business, married life and social happiness. No matter whether caused by ovil habits in youth, atural weakness or sexual excesses, our New Method Treatment will positively enroyou. tative Sherman of New York has offered a resolution providing for an investigation, and Representative Watished the names of reputable persons who will testify that a cadet at Annapolis was made to stand on his head in a tub of water so long that it brought on an attack of pneumonia from which he died.

It is now certain that the Supreme court will not hand down its decision in the insular cases before February 25, as the court announced a recess from today until February 11, when a session will be held for the announcement of dcc sions and receiving motions after which an adjournment will follow to Feb. 25.

Some of the hot-headed Cubans may not like the decision reached by this government that when Cuba starts out under its own government it must be with the understanding that all its dealings with foreign nations must be conducted through this government or at least be approved by this government before becoming operative, but it must be plain to those of judgment that a Cuban government must speedily become the victim of some foreign government, through some entanglement of some sort, unless it has the protection of this government. Secretary Root thinks the Cuban constitution will be completed this month, office. but it must meet the wishes of this government in these particulars or it will be sent back for amendment by the Cuban convention.

The two Senators, Gomble of South Dakota, and Burton, of Kansas, met at the White House, where they had called to pay their respects to the President. Mr. Burton will be a new man in Congress, but Mr. Gamble is now serving his second term in the House, and on March 4, will only have to walk over to the Senate chamber and take his seat.

The Bigness of the Ocean. Some people gratefully reflect that we owe the clouds and the tides and the winds to the "Mother and Maker of men," but these are less numerous than the folks who "would like to know" what we should do for soles and cod and mackerel if there were no ocean. Yet think only how big it is! If you divide the whole globe's area into 11 parts, the sea covers eight of fathoms. Arsenic and gold are also found um, rubidium and cœsium.-London Telegraph.

Ant Slaveholders.

Many of the large red ants are slaveholders, and, oddly enough, their slaves are invariably black, much as is the a regular army of invasion is formed, and skirmishers and scouts are sent on ahead to discover a nest of black ants. This having been found, the warrior ants-insects quite different from the ordinary workers, with powerful jaws -set out to invade their neighbor's territory and carry away the eggs and pupæ to their own nests. A fierce battle ensues, but the invading ants are always victorious.

On returning to their own colony the young of their defeated foe are taken into their nests and carefully treated until they arrive at maturity, when they become the willing bondsmen of the conquerors of their parents, doing all the hardest work of the community, even to the length of feeding their captors. The latter, however, is not entirely a needless humiliation to subject them to, as some species of slaveholding ants are incapable of feeding themselves and would die of starvation in the midst of plenty were it not for their slaves.-Kansas City Independ-
