HOLBROOK.

The preliminary work of establishing a Grange has been effected in this township. A meeting to organize will be held in the Town Hall Thursday evening, May 9th.

N. G. Decker an old resident of this township, died at his home three miles west of Hollbrook. Mr. Decker was stricken with paralysis one year ago and was confined to his bed till the time of his death. The funeral services were held in the Catholic church in the township of Sheridan. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in this part of the country. The diseased was a member of the Ancient Order of Gleaners and a Forester. Mr. Decker settled in the township over twenty years ago, and had a farm in fine condition. He was respected by all who knew him for his many manly qualities.

Roll a Pumpkin.

The Rev. John Haynes was famous for his pithy sayings. At one time, says one of our exchanges, he overheard his daughter and some young friends criticising certain neighbors more severely than was pleasing to him, whereupon he proceeded to read them a lecture on the sinfulness of scandal.

"But, father," remonstrated his daughter, "we must say something." "If you can do nothing better," retorted Mr. Haynes dryly, "get a pumpkin and roll it about. That will be at least an innocent diversion."

Not long afterward a conference of ministers met at his house. During the evening an earnest discussion on certain points of doctrine arose, and, from the lofty pitch of some of the voices, it seemed as if part of the disputants at least were in danger of losing their temper.

At that juncture Mr. Haynes' daughter quietly entered the room, bearing a huge pumpkin. She put it down in front of her father and said: "There, father, roll it about. Roll it about."

Mr. Haynes was called upon for an explanation, and good humor was restored.

Knew They Were Americans.

A compliment and a slur in the same breath are in a letter I received from a Washington girl in Paris.

"We were dining at Joseph's the other night," she writes, "when a delightfully dressed woman sitting at a table near with a party of three sent one of the men with her to ask father if we were not Americans. She seemed to be saying 'I told you so' to her friends, and as we came out she stopped me in the corridor to explain her odd proceeding. She was politeness itself.

"Mademoiselle will pardon me," she said with the most charming accent, "but it was a wager. I have wagered my husband that we shall see 30 Americans this evening. It is now 35 we have seen, and Mme. B., who is with us, would not believe you were Americans. Mais, I was sure—sure!"

"Why were you so sure of it? I asked."

"Madame flashed a dazzling smile at me. 'Oh!' she said, 'the Americans have always the voices of the worst and the manners at table of the very, very best. I was sure!'" — Washington Post.

Largest of Animals.

Mr. Beddard in his book on whales reminds readers that although imagination is apt to picture the giant reptiles of the jurassic and cretaceous periods as having exceeded in size all modern animals yet in fact there is no evidence that the earth has ever contained either on the land or in the sea creatures exceeding the whale in bulk. The mammoth was larger than the elephant, but the ichthyosaurus could not match the whale for size, although with its terrible jaws it would doubtless have been the whale's master.
