A Step Ahead

in Quality—a step behind in price. That's the guiding rule in this shop.

A step ahead in Suits. Smart as a whip—trim as a West Point Cadet, $10 to $25.

A step ahead in Furnishings. Every form and fabric that Fashion pats on the back.

A step ahead in Hats. They'll "crown" you with distinction.

And, speaking of steps, are you putting your best foot forward? You will be if you wear Paris

Garters. Flat as a quarter—a quarter a pair.

SALIENT POINTS OF S. S. CONVENTION

WASHINGTON THROGGED BY DELEGATES AND VISITORS.

Messrs. Graham and Dean Represented Sanilac County in Great Convention.

A. C. Graham of Freiburger, who has many friends in Cass City, sent the Chronicle a summary of some of the salient points of the world's Sunday School Convention which was held in Washington May 19-24. The convention represented the world's largest organization and there were representatives present from more than fifty different nations. Sixty delegates and fully as many visitors came from Michigan. Among them were Mr. Graham and Rev. S. A. Dean, who represented Sanilac county.

A portion of the summary is here printed.

Unprecedented for its cosmopolitanism, unequalled in the magnitude of its constituency, and unsurpassed as a spectacle, the World's Sixth Sunday School Convention in Washington, D. C., May 19-24, marks an event in religious history.

President Taft was not alone in expressing amazement over the size and character of the Convention. He looked out over a sea of six thousand faces on the opening night, while outside the Convention Hall a still larger number of persons congregated, unable to enter. Nearly twenty-five hundred of the official delegates

A quiet wedding took place at high noon Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Zinnecker when their daughter, Miss Anna, was united in marriage to John W. Thiel. Miss Zinnecker is one of Cass City's most popular young ladies and the groom has been a teacher in the Quarry school near Bay Port for the past three years.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Schweitzer. The bride and groom were attended by the sister of the bride, Miss Margaret Zinnecker, and Grover Blade. The bride and bridesmaid were attired in white organdie and the groom and best man were dressed in blue serge. Only the immediate members of the bride's family and Miss Flora Thiel of Pigeon, a sister of the groom, were present.

The house was tastefully decorated in palms and carnations. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Thiel were accompanied by Miss Margaret Zinnecker and Grover Blade in an auto to Deford where they took the train for Chicago. After spending a couple of days in Chicago, they will spend their honeymoon in Colorado Springs. In the fall they expect to go to Valparaiso, Ind., where they will make their home.

Mrs. Goldie Carey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ward, and Clement Tyo were married at Gagetown Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock by Rev. Fr. Dwan. On Tuesday evening, a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents and attended by the immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Tyo will reside in the Peter Ruchleau residence on Fourth St.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pettinger on June 1 at two o'clock in the afternoon when their daughter, Ida, and Warren Nugent were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas of Uby in the presence of the immediate relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Nugent are enjoying a short trip to Oscoda, Detroit and other points and will be at home to their friends on the groom's farm in Bingham township after June 20.

Home Course In Poultry Keeping

IX.—Seasonal Review of the Work.

By MILO M. HASTINGS, Formerly Poultryman at Kansas Experiment Station, Commercial Poultry Expert of the United States Department of Agriculture, Author of "The Dollar Hen."

[Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.]

IN this last lesson I shall apply the suggestion given in the previous eight lessons by naming briefly the things that will require attention month by month.

January.

All stock saved for sale as breeders should have been got rid of around the holiday season or shortly thereafter, and the poultryman begins the year with a well culled flock of layers.

In January the laying hens will require more attention than at any other season of the year. The weather is severe, and as egg prices are high every egg added to the basket represents a good profit. See that the house is tight, except openings in the front left for ventilation. See that these windows are so protected that snow does not blow in. Whether you will keep the hens shut in or allow them to run out will depend upon your general plan of operation. If feeding in litter is used, it will be best to keep the hens indoors as much as possible, and careful watch will be necessary to see that the birds are kept busy and always too hungry to mope around, yet the January hen must never go to bed with an empty crop. When the temperature of the house is below freezing the hens should be given water with the chill taken off twice or, better still, three times a day. Sometimes eggs will have to be gathered.

WHITE WYANDOTTE COCKEREL.

ered more than once a day so that they will not freeze in the nest. Do not neglect to provide green food. If your supply of fall cabbages and other vegetables run out, it will be necessary to use either steamed clover or alfalfa or to sprout oats.

February.

The February work of the poultry yard is very like that of the January. The main idea at this season of the year is to keep the hens laying. When the warm days come, the droppings that have accumulated in the poultry house will become damp and malodorous and should be removed. If there is a heavy fall of snow shovel a little strip in front of the house, and if hens range around stables or in feed lots it will pay to shovel a path for them. During very sloppy days it may be desirable to shut the hens in, as it is of little benefit for them to trail around in the slush, and it will result in the soiling of the eggs.

March.

With a well kept flock of poultry the March egg yield is the heaviest of the year. Eggs are declining in price rapidly at this season and should be marketed frequently. By this month any supply of vegetables kept from the previous fall will have been exhausted, and with the feeling of spring in the air the poultryman must not forget that warm days will not bring the hens spring foods. Dry clover and alfalfa are fair, but sprouted oats are better, and it will be worth the trouble necessary to prepare them. As soon as the ground may be worked all yards or, if on a farm, a patch of ground near the poultry house should be sown in oats. The chickens may pull one-half the crop up by the roots as it comes through the ground, but it is the chickens we are interested in and not the oat crop.

If the incubator is to be used for hatching it should be started about the 1st of March, while the hens may now be set as rapidly as they become broody. With the heavy breeds every effort should be made to have the bulk of the chickens hatch during the month of April. During the last two weeks in March incubators are to be set for Leghorns.

April.

With green food sown the previous month the egg production problem in April will simplify itself considerably. The hens can now range abundantly, and the care necessary in the winter time to keep them busy and happy is no longer required. April is the poultryman's busy month. His labors with the layers consist chiefly in gathering the eggs, but the work is most arduous with sitting hens and incubators, which are now running full blast, and even more of his time must go to the care of wee chicks. Of all the work of the poultry farm that of caring for the newly hatched chicks is the most difficult to systematize or to intrust to the hands of hired labor.

The coops or outdoor brooders should be well scattered about, as it is not good for large flocks of young chicks to run together. Moreover, young chicks must be protected in their feeding quarters from the presence of old fowls, which in their greed to get at the food meant for the little fellows will run over and trample them. On the farm this is most easily arranged by having the food for chicks in a slat coop, which keeps out the grown fowls.

May.

May, like April, is a month in which the hens take care of themselves. The hatching of the larger breeds should be finished the early part of this month. Hens of all breeds will insist upon wishing to brood, but can be broken up by penning them in an outdoor coop for a few days. Little chicks will require a great deal of care, and when thundershowers come up some one must hasten out, frequently in the rain, and see that the foolish hens and frightened brooder chicks get under shelter and do not crouch up in some fence corner. If perchance some have been forgotten one should make a thorough search as soon as the shower is over and bring all soaked chicks into the house to dry. Those found down flat on their backs and apparently dead, if rescued soon enough and wrapped in woolen rags and placed around the stove, will revive in a most astonishing fashion.

June.

The hatching of Leghorns should be brought to a close during the early part of this month and all male birds taken from the yards. The growing chicks will now be old enough to need less care, and the chief source of the poultryman's loss will be due to his carelessness in leaving coops unprotected from "varmints."

Lice and mites will now begin to invade the poultryman's camp more abundantly, and with the approach of the warm weather more cleanliness in feeding vessels and about the house will be necessary.

During June crops should be sown to supply green food in the midsummer, when the grass and spring sown crops dry up.

July.

The poultryman's work is considerably relieved during July. Indeed, this is the best season of the year for him to leave the chicken farm to the hired man and visit his kinfolk. Cleanliness to keep down disease and lice and care in gathering the eggs frequently and marketing them promptly are the chief points worthy of mention.

Early broilers will be ready for market during this month.

August.

In August we have the same problems as the previous month. Be sure the hens have abundant water and green food. The egg yield should show a considerable increase over July. The male birds of the heavier breeds should now be got into shape for market. The poultry breeder should take careful observation of his growing stock and make selection of the most vigorous youngsters to be reserved, from which to pick the breeding stock. More green crops should now be sown for the fall pasturage. All two-year-old hens and, if you have abundant pullets, a portion of the yearling hens may now be sent to market.

September.

Eggs are now advancing in price, but it is neither right nor, in the long run, profitable to hold them. Sell all eggs promptly and try to get recognition for your honesty and quality of your product. Young male birds, especially Leghorns, should be separated from the pullets. The coops or colony houses in which the young pullets have grown should be gradually moved toward the house which is to be the winter quarters and the pullets got into the habit of roosting in the laying house. Nice secluded nests should be arranged, as a few precocious pullets will begin laying in this month. Sow wheat and rye for winter green foods.

October.

Pullets will now begin laying in considerable numbers. If you have fancy trade keep their eggs, which are small, separated from the larger stock. Any remaining old hens that are not to be kept through the winter should be disposed of. Runty pullets and all young male birds not needed for breeding stock should also be sent to market.

November.

This month should find the laying flock nicely installed in their winter quarters. November eggs are high in price and scarcer than at any other time during the year. The poultry fancier will now select his birds and get them ready for the shows. As the nights grow colder use judgment in closing up the poultry house. If it is closed tightly the hens which have been roosting in the open air will catch cold, and roup will be the result. Keep a careful lookout for this dread disease and take immediate steps to correct things if the symptoms of roup appear.

December.

December is the height of the poultry show season. The fancier will be a very busy man. His birds must be cooped, trained and prepared for the shows. The poultryman himself may be away at shows, and some one else will have to look after the flock at home. By all means layers must not be neglected. Not only are December eggs highly profitable, but layers that do not start in this month will be very liable to keep in the background until the warm spells of March.

A Woman's Great Idea

is how to make herself attractive. But without health it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth velvety skin, lovely complexion, good health. Try them. 50c at L. I. Wood & Co.

ALMA COLLEGE.

By defeating Kalamazoo in the morning and Olivet in the afternoon last Saturday at Kalamazoo, the Maroon Sox captured the intercollegiate championship of this state. This makes the third time that Alma has tucked away the state championship. The diminutive Duncanson has led his warriors a merry pace, having not lost a single intercollegiate game. Reckoned on the percentage basis Alma also tops the list, having a percentage of 1000.

Hole pitched the Kazoo game, and with excellent backing by the team and the heavy hitting of Sandy Duncanson and Billy Burke, shut the celiery eaters out by a snug score of 8 to 0.

Albion and Olivet clashed early in the afternoon, Olivet winning by a narrow margin. This left Alma and Olivet to fight the championship out. Sandy pitched for the Presbyterians, and except for a weakening in the second inning, pitched a most remarkable game.

With two men out Sandy lifted a clean two bagger into center field. Burke followed with another two bagger, allowing Sandy to score. The next man struck out, and Duncanson was forced to enter the box after his swift and strenuous circling of the bases. By hitting at the right time Alma was able to score twice to Olivet's once. Thus the Maroon Sox won the state championship from the Congregationalists by the margin of one point.

The results of the intercollegiate track meet, held last Friday at Kalamazoo, were somewhat of a disappointment to Alma students. A soggy clay track in the worst possible condition placed our runners at a great disadvantage. So bad, in fact, was the track that our star sprinter, Fleety McComb, flatly refused to run the hundred yard dash. Fleety still holds the intercollegiate record, having run the dash in nearly a second less time. Kefgen captured first in the pole vault and second in both the high and broad jump, losing out by only a few inches. Big Ox Edgerton took second with the shot and bids well to get first next year. Boyd entered the mile but having to swim through over seven rods of mud and water lost out. Fleety captured second in the 440, third in the 220 and third in the discourse.

Zeta Sigma literary society elected her officers for the following school term. They are: President, Leslie Kefgen; vice-president, Therom Chapel; secretary, Leon Lauderbach; treasurer, Chalmers Monteth; first critic, Archibald Thompson; second critic, Rob Cook and janitor, Robert McCloy.

SALIENT POINTS

OF S. S. CONVENTION

wore red ribbon badges with the legend "North America." Some five hundred others wore blue badges bearing the names of more than fifty different nations, as remote as China and South America, Turkey and Australia. In addition to these three thousand official and representative delegates from every State and province in the United States and Canada and from foreign lands, there were about seven thousand unofficial delegates or visitors. Sometimes three and four simultaneous Convention sessions were inadequate to hold the throngs.

It was a spectacular Convention. The great Men's Bible Class Parade on the afternoon of May 20 opened the eyes of Washington to the virility and masculinity of modern religion. In order that some members of Congress might march in the parade, as they did, and that others might witness it, Congress adjourned early on the day of the demonstration. Torrential rains immediately preceded and followed the parade, largely reducing the ranks; nevertheless five thousand men in a bannered procession a mile long marched down Pennsylvania Avenue, and were reviewed at the Capitol by a throng of ten thousand persons.

All these marching men belong to the Sunday School, and the thought uppermost in the minds of many of the spectators who lined the sidewalks was expressed on one banner, "Where the men lead the boys will follow." A huge mass-meeting for men, with ringing speeches by Rev. Dr. Homer C. Stuntz and Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, followed the parade. At the same time two big meetings of women delegates were in session. Another spectacular feature of the Convention was a great open-air gathering on the east steps of the Capitol, when a multitude of people joined in the singing of Christian hymns.

The demonstration accorded President and Mrs. Taft—whom the former introduced to the cheering throng as "the real President"—stirred the nation's Chief Executive greatly. He declared his belief in the fundamental importance of religious training of the youth of the nation through the Sunday School.

The wide-spread observance of the World's Sunday School Day, in more than two hundred languages and dialects, as reported to the Convention by cables from various lands, was a real missionary factor. Literally thousands of sermons upon the religious training of youth seem to have been preached upon that day.

For the first time in its history the World's Association tried to raise a budget for the expenses of the ensuing triennium. The sum asked for, $75,000.00, was all secured in a few hours. This will be used largely in placing field workers in foreign lands to develop the Sunday School idea and organization.

MYRON HANSON

WILL GO FARMING

from the Detroit City Hall on the Rochester Washington, Romeo Electric line, costing just 45 cts. to the Detroit City Hall, 6 cts. to Romeo and 3 cts. to Washington and 12 cts. to Rochester. The country here is an "Eden" itself. Both sides of the road in front of my house has big maple trees the entire length of the farm. The house was built new two years ago, costing $2500.00, a modern home with new barn, flowing well, a fine peach orchard with 250 trees and apple orchard with 200 choice trees right at the best.

The farm is in the "pink" of cultivation and considered one of the best small farms in Macomb Co. I am certainly very proud of it. The market there is fine. Just an hour's ride to the Detroit City Hall and the great growth of Detroit has given a marked importance to the adjacent farming country. The people there feel that Detroit in 5 years will increase much in population. My idea is to emphasize the poultry and dairy feature and make "quality" the hobby and contract with some cafe or hospital by the year. Farm products of every kind seem to have reached such alluring prices. The hours adopted by many stores and Sunday rush besides, to me is making business life intolerable. Down in southern Michigan, stores open about 6:30 a. m. local, and stay open until the last straggler is out of sight, nothing is run on stipulated time. With such long hours and some of Sunday, the employers want the employees to create an atmosphere of optimism and good cheer and bring to bear all those qualifications of salesmanship to "make good" when the other conditions are so at variance with the end sought for by the business men. Many of my friends following salesmanship chafe under the existing conditions. Yes sir, I have "soured" on the demands although I am no pessimist by nature and neither am I an optimist by reason of my faith in humanity.

When I was first seized with the real estate notion, I inquired of various places. In Iowa land was selling from $250 to $300 per acre; in Illinois, $175 to $250 per acre; in Indiana, $150 to $175 per acre. Mother and I drove to Metamora, Ohio, (11 miles from Jasper). The soil was fine in every case, but farm after farm was overrun with thistles, quack grass, mullin and buildings poor and some farms I remember the price was $4,800 for 40 acres, $9,100 for 70 acres. We left in disgust and toured this country and anything at all nice was $100 to $125 per acre. A lovely 33-acre farm one mile north of Adrian (a dairy farm) was held at $7,000. So I heard of what seemed to be a "grand" farm 2½ miles north of Lapeer and went there. It was up hill and down dale, sand hills, clay banks, houses banked with straw. I met a man going to town and rode back utterly disgusted with the adjacent country. I never saw the farm in question but the approaching country was enough even if the object sought had been ideally itself. At Kalamazoo land soared high and all locality of farm property was way out.

Within 15 or 20 miles of Detroit, the farm land is woefully neglected, poor buildings and practically no tiling. In this poor condition, it went $90 to $100 per acre. I took the electric car 25 miles north of Mt. Clemens. It is very sandy here yet farmers are very decided with their $95 and $100 per acre. When one chap told me $95 for his "sand hill," I gave him an uncerimonious adieu and ran "like a loon" to catch an electric car bound for Detroit, delighted to leave the forsaken spot. In the Thumb counties where sugar beets are raised, they hold the land for $100 per acre, but other than this, it goes from $75 to $50 per acre.

We had a Cass City reunion at our house five weeks ago, entertaining Dr. N. L. McLachlan from Findlay, Ohio, and Hugh Seed, jr. Hugh was canvassing Adrian in the interests of life insurance. Then the same week, Mrs. L. V. Nash, now of Birmingham, Iowa, was in our town visiting. Mr. Nash formerly owned the home now occupied by Dr. Hays.

The Chronicle is ever a welcomed guest at our home, although many strange names of prominent people there now appear, yet enough names are familiar to me to give lustre to the weekly perusal.

Now, Herb, if the personal advantage of this communicator is paramount to the public interest, pardon the infringement as my time at home is almost entirely occupied with ministering to my mother's needs in the sick room, and all of my friends aiding me in the farm proposition are Chronicle subscribers. Mother has had a very severe attack of bronchitis, but her condition now shows an improvement.

Wishing the Chronicle uninterrupted prosperity.

Very sincerely,
MYRON E. HANSON.

SWIFT'S FERTILIZERS.

A Fresh Car of the Swift's Fertilizer has just been received and is at your disposal.

This is the bean planting season and fertilizer should be used to insure a good crop.

Swift's Fertilizers are crop producers, soil builders—always reliable. It pays to use them.

Even on soils apparently rich, it is good practice to apply fertilizers because they contain plant food in a more quickly available form than is present in the soil. They are particularly valuable in late spring sowing when crops will mature late and may be caught by a freeze. Swift's Fertilizers hasten maturity.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work day and night. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Charles J. Witkoosky, William St., Sebawaing, Mich., says: "My back was extremely lame and I could not stoop or lift without having sharp pains through the kidneys. I was so bothered by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. The contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and I have had no cause for complaint since." Price 50c. For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Yawns of Wrath.

The singular habit of signifying anger by yawning is confined to the monkey tribe and is most marked in the baboon family, though the Gibraltar apes also indulge in it. It is probable that the gesture is originally intended to frighten an adversary by a display of teeth, just as a dog does, and that the constant wide opening of the mouth produces an involuntary yawn. In fact, if a human being keeps on opening his mouth in this way a yawn will result. If two strange baboons are put together in the same cage they immediately confront each other and commence yawning, and if vexed or insulted by visitors they will do the same thing.

Foley's Kidney Remedy may be given to children with admirable results. It does away with bed wetting, and is also recommended for use after measles and scarlet fever. L. I. Wood & Co.

TWO OF MADRIZ
ARMIES ROUTED

GENERAL LARA RETIRES TO A BASE OF SUPPLIES—U. S.
INTERVENTION IS ASKED.

NEITHER PRESIDENT IS STRONG ENOUGH TO CAPTURE THE OTHER'S CAPITAL.

Knife to Knife Battle as the Army of
Gen. Lara is Driven Back From
Gen. Estrada's Trenches.

Beaten in every attack he directed against his enemies' citadel, his forces decimated by disease and bullets, Gen. Lara, the Honduran nobleman, is leading what remains of the Nicaraguan government's army south to its base of supplies at Rama.

The retreat, which almost amounted to a wild rout, began after Lara had sent his discouraged army at the Estrada trenches in front of Bluefields in a last desperate effort to recoup the defeats of the last two weeks.

There was only one charge. Lara's forces rushed Estrada's earthwork. They were allowed to come almost within a stone's throw of the trenches, when the American gunners turned loose their powerful rapid-fire guns on the charging soldiers.

The first fire threw Lara's troops into confusion, and as they wavered between a second charge and flight the Estrada soldiers clambered from their trenches and charged into the frightened enemy.

Fighting of the fiercest sort ensued. It was knife against knife, gunbutt against gunbutt, until, beaten beyond hope of recovering, the Madriz troops fled from the field, leaving scores of dead and wounded, while many were taken prisoners.

Immediately after this Lara held a council of war with Gens. Arias, personal representative of Madriz, and Altschul, consul-general for Madriz in New Orleans. The result was the determination of the Madriz commanders to retreat.

Their decision was hastened, perhaps, by the word that Estrada would send his troops out to meet the Madriz soldiers in open battle. This would doubtless have meant the decimation of the forces of Zelaya's heir because in their weakened condition they never could have withstood the attack of Estrada's comparatively fresh army.

It is reported from Rama that Gen. Chavarria has been defeated by Gen. Luis Mena, field marshal for Estrada.

A strong petition will be sent from Nicaragua asking the intervention of the United States, so that a fair election can be held to decide who shall be president, and calling attention to the fact that Estrada could not capture Managua, and Madriz could not capture Bluefields, as proof of the fact that neither president is strong enough to crush the other and that the only chance of putting an end to the present civil war is by American intervention.

White Flour

Whiteness is a pretty safe index of purity in a flour. Unusual care and cleanliness is reflected in the unrivalled whiteness of Stott Flour.

Every kernel of wheat is first washed, so that all the dust, even that which clings to the creases, is removed. It is then cleansed still more by scouring.

We bolt the flour time after time, through cloths of fine imported silk, until the dark outer, indigestible portion, has all been removed.

The white of Stott Flour is the whiteness of purity.

It makes the most delicious and healthful of everything.

BIG HARVEST OF RATS AT BEAULEY

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Russell decided to make a finish of rats which were a source of great annoyance in their granary. Accordingly Mr. Russell placed a grain sack securely over a getting out place which the rats had made below the granary. Mrs. Russell went in and hustled around in such a manner that the rats made a scramble for the out run and as they fell into the sack Mr. Russell guarded it. When the rush was over and the sack securely tied at the mouth, the catch was sunk in the rain barrel and when thoroughly drowned were poured out on the ground for inspection 63 rats were counted. We pronounce it a grand success.

TAFT AT JACKSON.

President Unveils Monument Which Marks Birth of Republican Party.

The city of Jackson never looked prettier with its gay decorations of national colors arranged for the coming of President Taft to unveil the monument which marks the birthplace of the Republican party.

Flags and red, white and blue bunting were everywhere in evidence, forming in graceful and artistic festoons from nearly every viewpoint. Every block and every store was decorated, and the chamber of commerce and the citizens generally exerted every effort to make the event a success and to extend to the chief executive of the nation a royal welcome.

Never before has a president of the United States visited the exact spot where the Republican party was born. After dedicating the Custer statue at Monroe, President Taft attended the ceremonies in connection with the unveiling of the celebration of the birth of the Republican party, and unveiled the monument of its memory.

In his speech, the president proclaimed socialism as the great problem that confronts the American people, the issue that is soon to come and that must be skillfully met. But the Republican party has shown itself capable of dealing with great questions effectively and wisely, he said, and predicted that the American people must soon determine whether it shall trust the same party with the solution of "that problem than which we have had no greater in the history of the country."

The president put in a busy time of it all the while in Jackson. During the five hours he unveiled the monument at the corner of Franklin and Second streets, the exact spot where the party was born, spoke for half an hour at Keeley Park, shook hands with countless citizens, and gave perhaps 60,000 people a chance to size up his smile. He wound up the day by taking dinner with a select company at the residence of Congressman Townsend.

Plenty the Matter.

The Kind Old Gentleman—What's the matter, my little man? The Little Boy—Boo-oo! I'm so c-c-c-cold. The Kind Old Gentleman—Well, why don't you go indoors? The Little Boy—Cos nudder says she'll warm me if I does. —London Sketch.
