MUSIC.

Mrs. Jean Whitcomb-Fenn of New York City is spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fenn. During her stay Mrs. Caroline Fenn-Bigelow is making a daily study of advanced piano methods under her direction. Mrs. Fenn has served for five years as a member of the musical faculty of Albion College and later as a successful private teacher in Kansas City and other cities of the west, at the same time occupying the position of Supt. of Public School Music in the city of Leavenworth, Kansas. The past ten years she has continued her line of work in piano instruction together with lecture recitals in New York City. Should any of the musicians of Cass City contemplate study elsewhere and desire further information regarding Mrs. Fenn's work call at Mrs. Bigelow's residence or address Mrs. Fenn at her studio 1425 Broadway, New York City, Metropolitan Opera House Building. (Adv.)

HIGH SCHOOL ROOM CROWDED

STILL HIGHER ENROLLMENT EXPECTED AFTER OCT. 1. 138 PUPILS NOW ENROLLED.

Tuesday, the second day of the school year, found 138 pupils enrolled in the Cass City high school and that number was just 12 more than the regular seating capacity could accommodate. Although this number surpasses that of any previous year, Superintendent Winter anticipates a still higher enrollment after Oct. 1, several students expecting to enroll about that time.

With the present crowded state of the high room and the want of another recitation room which the teachers believe is necessary, it looks as though the board of education may find it expedient to recommend the building of an addition to the present school building in the near future.

The highest enrollment at any time in the 1909-10 year in the high school was 115 and two years ago 107. While the new tuition law which provides for the payment of tuition in high schools by the rural districts is responsible for part of the increased attendance, it is nevertheless due to a natural growth. Last year the freshman class had between 45 and 50 members. This week the "freshies" number 56. Thirty of these graduated from the grades. In all there are 67 non-resident pupils registered in the high school.

The corps of instructors includes the following teachers:

Superintendent, John E. Winter. Principal, Mable C. Saxton of Battle Creek.

Science, Wilber Harnish of Annville, Pa.

English, Helen G. Hunter.

Seventh and eighth grades, Avis Bryant of Hebron, Ind., and Kate Miller.

Sixth grade, Bessie Miller.

Fifth grade, Etta Wickware.

Fourth grade, Nina Karr.

Third grade, Dora Fritz.

Second grade, Violet Gillies.

First grade and sub-primary, Bertha McKenzie.

Music, drawing and penmanship, Fern Pattison.

D. K. HANNA GETS NOMINATION

A GIANT CORN CROP.

This photograph was taken by L. I. Wood with a folding kodak in the corn field on O. Y. Schneider's farm a part of which is inside the corporation limits of the village. The man in the photo is Mr. Schneider and the boy on the ladder who is trying to get up high enough to look over the tops of the corn stalks is the farmer's son, Delvin. This corn stands over eleven feet high in the field. On some of the stalks a man has to stand on tip toe to reach the silk on the ear of the corn.

Early this summer, Mr. Schneider harvested a crop of rye which reached 5 feet 8 inches in height.

On the same field he now has a second crop—this time in corn, which stands between 10 and 11 feet.

Speaking of the big crops raised around Cass City reminds us of a story. It runs like this:

A man died. The first day in heaven he wanted to go sight seeing, so an angel guide was given him. Before him were a number of persons each drawing a ball and chain. "How is this," he asked the angel, "Isn't this heaven?" The angel smiled and replied, "Why, these are not bad men, but they came here from Cass City and vicinity and we have to chain them or they would go back."

RYCKMAN-McCAUGHNA.

Pretty Wedding at Home of James Ryckman in Evergreen.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the farm residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Ryckman of Evergreen township Wednesday when their daughter, Marion, was united in marriage to Don McCaughna of Novesta. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties at 1:00 p. m., Rev. W. L. Moore of Shabbona being the clergyman.

The bride was dressed in white and carried carnations. Miss Iva Ryckman, a sister of the bride, and Irv Rice acted as bridesmaid and best man.

Mr. and Mrs. McCaughna were accompanied to Deford Wednesday afternoon by relatives and friends and there, amid bounteous showers of rice, took the train for a trip to Chicago, Buffalo and points in Ontario. They will be at home at Novesta after Nov. 1.

LECTURE COURSE FOR CASS CITY

WOMAN'S STUDY CLUB HAS DECIDED TO UNDERTAKE THE PROJECT. CONTRACT MADE.

Desirous of procuring instructive entertainment for the people of Cass City and surrounding community, Edward Pinney and H. F. Lenzner contracted with the Chicago Mutual Lyceum Bureau for a lecture course to be given during the fall and winter season. Believing that the Woman's Study Club could, through its members, conduct the course more successfully and secure to our citizens more benefit through an increased attendance, they offered to turn the course into the ladies' hands, and at a special business meeting of the club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. B. Auten, the members decided to undertake the project.

Lecture courses are not conducted particularly for pecuniary profits, but rather to provide clean and high class entertainments to the citizens of a town. And to show that we appreciate an opportunity to secure such entertainment, every person who can afford the small price which

EVERGREEN.

Crowded out last week. Earl Van Conant of Saginaw is visiting his uncle, Lem O'Camb. Jadia and Zelma Mudge left Monday morning to visit friends in Port Huron. Roy Mudge returned home Wednesday after a four weeks' absence. Irwin Cooke leaves Wednesday to resume his duties teaching school a short distance from Mt. Pleasant. Miss Reva Fox returned from a two weeks' visit with her grandparents near Owendale. Mrs. Jno. Fox and daughter, Lilah, visited her mother, Mrs. Summers, on Sunday. School begins in school district No. 5 Monday morning, Sept. 5, with Miss Milley Hulbert as teacher. Wilson Agar and family visited his parents over Sunday.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by L. I. Wood & Co.

WICKWARE.

Farmers are busy sowing their wheat. George Curtin was kicked in the face by one of his horses, cutting his under lip very badly, knocking out seven teeth, and breaking one of his fingers. A physician dressed the wounds and he is getting along as well as can be expected. The Ladies' Aid will meet at Mrs. John McPhail's on September 14. Miss Ethel Gibbons has accepted a position at Crosswell as a trimmer for the coming season. Mrs. Curtin's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Redman, of Marlette are visiting here. Miss Lottie McQueen of Hay Creek is sewing for Mrs. Jno. McPhail. J. Gibbons lost a valuable horse last week. Mrs. Hartwick's daughter, Mrs. Thomson, of Gladwin was visiting a few days at her home here. The two Mrs. Brooks of Elmwood visited at G. Hartwick's Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Keyser and daughter are spending a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Keyser.

Mr. Gibbons intends starting the wall for his barn this week. No preaching next Sunday. John and Vina McPhail returned to Cass City where they intend going to school.

Struck A Rich Mine.

S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala., says he struck a perfect mine of health in Dr. King's New Life Pills for they cured him of Liver and Kidney Trouble after 12 years of suffering. They are the best pills on earth for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia, Debility. 25c at L. I. Wood & Co.'s.

DEFORD.

Orlando Pratt of Detroit is visiting his sister, Mrs. G. Kilgore. Mrs. C. Silverthorn visited her sis- Mr. and Mrs. Theron Spencer and daughter, Mrs. Walter McLain, visited at Ransom Spencer's Sunday. A bee was given by the neighbors of Wm. Cooper to draw gravel for his new house. Mr. Cooper had the misfortune to lose one of his horses last week which left him in a crippled condition, but as usual in this locality, friends came to his assistance.

Mrs. George Alward is still sick. Fred Crittenden is on the gain. Frank Eyo and family were on the Town Line Sunday. School begins all places Sept. 5. A dance was held in the evening of the 3rd. Nobody drunk. Two weeks more required for the corn. Jesse Sole is improving in health. Holcom boys move soil on Mud Creek. Ern Lester has sold his farm. Henry Lester is visiting Hiram Lester.

Wm. Cooper lost a valuable mare last week. A loss of at least $175 is large for a poor man. John Retherford, who has been ailing for some time, is improving slowly.

School began Monday with Miss May Bruce as teacher and a large school.

ter, Mrs. Geo. Spencer, Sunday. Twenty-six of our people took in the Bay Port excursion Tuesday of last week. Among the number were Mrs. A. L. Bruce and daughter, Blanch, Mrs. S. Sherk, Florence and Rosalind Silverthorn, Mrs. J. Hack and children, Geo. Livingston and Leslie Drace.

Miss Florence Silverthorn will be away two weeks trimming and getting ready for the opening of the fall stock of goods which Mrs. G. W. Goff will put into the McCain building with Miss Silverthorn as saelslady.

Miss Grace Sadier is visiting her cousin, Miss Gladys Balch.

Martha Davidson of Birmingham is visiting her cousin, Miss Esther Parks.

Eltzabeth Brady returned to her home in Detroit after visiting here for four weeks.

Miss Phebe Roy returned to Yale to resume her duties as teacher in the school there, this being her 23rd year as teacher of the first grade.

A large crowd from here attended the Caro fair.

Miss Marjorie Wethey returned home from Pontiac last Wednesday.

"Big Lester" says while he slept the sleep of the just between the 3rd and 4th day of the month dreaming of warm meals in coming winter because his pocket book contained the needed "filthy." Some one filched the purse and now life is a wilderness.

Mrs. Carrie Gowing of near the straits is visiting her father, Wm. Patch, of Novesta.

Perhaps Elder Beedon will go from here to new fields of labor this fall, but he will carry with him the best friendship of the people in the country round about.

UBLY.

M. T. Savage made a business trip to Detroit this week.

Mrs. J. F. Vanesty, who has been in poor health for some time and was in the Hubbard Hospital at Bad Axe, was taken to Detroit on Tuesday for treatment there.

Pearl Toal of Detroit, who was formerly employed in the drug store here, is taking charge of the store here during the absence of J. V. Vanest.

Presbyterian services were held here on Sunday last, Rev. E. H. Bradfield was expected to take charge of the services but being unable to come sent his son, Irwin E., who delivered a fine sermon. There will be preaching services again next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Leach and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McGregor spent Sunday at the Leach summer home at Bay Port.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Hungey of Alma are guests at the Gibson home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Elliber are making an eastern trip. They expect to be away for two or three weeks in which time they will visit a number of the eastern cities.

Eugene Field's Sarcasm.

Eugene Field was once presented to a "sister poet," to whom he tried to say pleasant things. At last the lady inquired condescendingly, "Do you ever write yourself?" "A little," replied Field modestly. "And what did you say your name was?" "My name is Field—Eugene Field." "I have not heard of you before, Mr. Field," said the lady, with oppressive frankness. "No, madam," said Field, "nor I of you, but you might at least have pretended you had, as I did. Good afternoon."

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

If you want to see the bad points of your boon companions just contemplate them an hour or so the morning after.

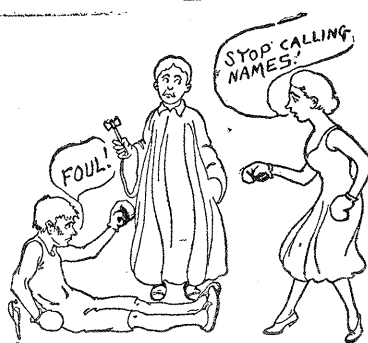

Seeing it is so hard to please oneself, there is no wonder that it is hard to please other people.

There are some people who take light exercise regularly three times a day—at the dining room table.

The amount of feathers and furbelows that the modern maid finds necessary to her happiness is enough to give Cupid nervous prostration.

The top must be a hoodoo or else why is there always room advertised there?

Kind words can never die, but a swift jolt does its work in fine fashion and takes its departure.

The judge is generally the person that referees the matrimonial squabble in the divorce court.

It may not be altogether the fault of the pancakes—maybe your temper and digestion are needing adjustment.

Judging from the sensational cases in court, the sooner letter writing becomes a lost art the better it will be for the general moral tone of society.

The Mystery.

O schoolma'am, in our early days we very seldom like your ways! The schoolroom in our minds we hate, For we cannot appreciate The things for us you try to do When life is young and years are few. But we confess before all men, Although we did not show it then, We thought you were the sweetest miss That ever mortal tried to kiss, And we were quite determined, too, When we grew up to marry you.

But there are always things on ice To mar the plans of men and mice, And so it happened we were not Allowed to carry out the plot. But always in our secret heart There was the half forgotten smart Because we missed that joy supreme To match with you and make a team, And how we envied some bright lad Who'd won your hand and made you glad!

Now from afar we come to chase A week or two about the place, To bring our kids and show our wife Where daddy got his start in life, And really our surprise is great To find you yet in single state. It's more than we can understand How such a treasure failed to land And why you did not take your pick Of Tom or Archie, Bill or Nick.

O vain regret! 'Twas ever thus! Perhaps you waited round for us— Turned every other man away In hopes we would come back some day.

Suitable.

"He will make a good husband." "Do you think so?" "I know it." "What are his qualifications?" "He can bake bread, sweep, dust, sew on buttons and is a master hand at darning silk hosiery."

Hard Lines.

"Domestic relations are somewhat strained in that family." "Are they?" "Seem to be." "Wonder what strained them?" "The pull on the purse strings, I fancy."

Walnut Tree Borders.

Walnut trees in the Netherlands usually line dikes or border lines instead of being in orchard form.

BREAD.

A new and novel Bread Book has just been issued by the Passenger Department of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. The cover is an imitation of a bread basket. Inside the "basket" are a number of illustrations picturing the bread winners at work, ploughing, reaping and threshing scenes, and running through the pictures are the wonderful stories of progress and development of that wonderful West now waking at the touch of the steel fingers of the Grand Trunk Pacific. For a copy call on W. J. Dempsey, Agent.

Didn't Like Publicity.

In St. Louis the street numbers run 100 to the block, but the north and south streets have names instead of numbers. So when a street car is running east and west and crosses the north and south streets the conductor says, "Jefferson—Twenty-six," or "Grand—Thirty-six," as the case may be.

A birthday party was riding on one of these cars a short time ago. When the car reached Sarah street and the conductor announced, "Sarah—Forty-one," a large woman in the party began beating a small man on the head with an umbrella.

After the conductor had quieted the disturbance he asked the woman what the row was about.

"Why," she said indignantly, "just because I had my forty-first birthday party today in a nice, quiet, lady-like way there was no need of him telling you how old I am, so you could bawl it out to the whole car."—Saturday Evening Post.

Nature.

As a fond mother, when the day is o'er, Leads by the hand her little child to bed.

Half willing, half reluctant to be led, And leave his broken playthings on the floor, Still gazing at them through the open door.

Nor wholly reassured and comforted By promises of others in their stead, Which, though more splendid, may not please him more, So nature deals with us and takes away Our playthings one by one and by the hand.

Leads us to rest so gently that we go Scarce knowing if we wish to go or stay, Being too full of sleep to understand How far the unknown transcends the what we know.

—H. W. Longfellow.

Hope.

Color Combination.

What happens when a green chap gets the blues?"

"What happens?"

"Yes."

"I don't know. What does?"

"Turns him yellow, of course."

Lots of Them.

"How does it happen that Cecilia makes such a success on the stage?"

"Keeps the audience busy."

"Keeps them busy?"

"Yes; regular commotional actress, you know."

The Microbe Carryall.

"Johnny, have you done anything useful today?"

"Yes, papa; I killed a fly."

"Brave lad," said the advanced father; "there is a million dollar bill as a reward."

What Saved Him.

"He was going to mortgage his house to buy an auto."

"But he thought better of it, did he?"

"Yes; he had nothing else to mortgage to keep it in repair."

Caustic.

"I am my own boss."

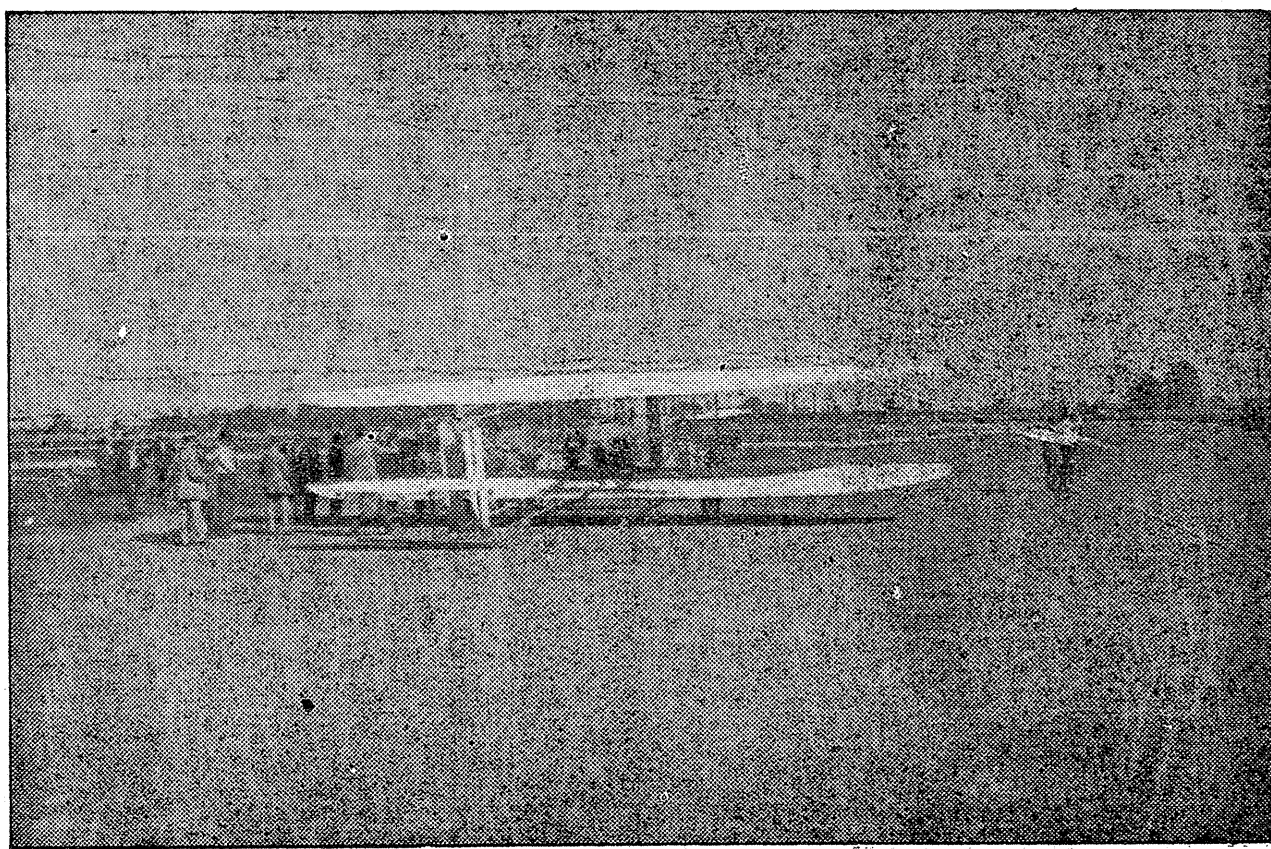

"You are?"

"I certainly am."

"I thought I noticed something lax about your training."

Playing Safe.

A man should always be on guard To watch his sin besetting, And when he hasn't got a cinch He should cut out his betting.

WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

Wood Block Printing For Your Home Decorations.

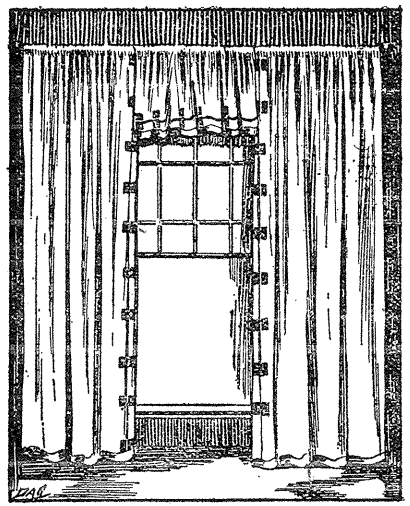

HOW THE WORK IS DONE.

Printing Is Placed on Right Side of the Fabric—As to the Paints, Any of the Dyes on the Market May Be Used. Artists' Tube Paint Preferred.

Wood block printing is exactly what its name implies—printing from a block of wood. The block may be square or rectangular. For a round block a spool may be utilized. Some blocks are carved by hand into attractive designs. A child's set of ordinary building blocks will give any number of shapes which can be combined into good patterns, writes a contributor in the Woman's Home Companion. There are only two things to bear in mind about the block. For blocks three inches in length or over the thickness should be at least one inch, while smaller blocks need be no thicker than five-eighths of an inch. That is one thing to remember. The other is that the block must be of close grained hard wood. Gum wood is especially good for general work, but pine must be avoided as too soft.

The printing side of the block must be thoroughly sandpapered to insure a smooth surface and then painted thoroughly with white shellac to prevent the wood from absorbing too much paint.

As to the paints, ordinary house paint thinned with turpentine to the consistency of cream gives good results. Any of the dyes on the market may be used, but probably the most satisfactory colors are made from artists' tube paints, mixed with two-thirds turpentine and one-third japan drier to form a creamy liquid.

Now, this is the method of the work: Prepare the paint according to the directions given above and apply to the sandpapered and shellacked block, putting the paint on the block with a brush, evenly and thick enough so that the wood does not show through, but not so thick that it will ooze over the edges. The printing is done on the right side of the fabric. Place the goods on a well padded board—an ironing board is fine—and directly under the part which is to receive the design put a large white blotter. Then, taking the block in your left hand, apply it, painted side down, to the proper place on the goods and hold it in place with your fingers to prevent it from slipping while you hit the upper side several sharp blows with a wooden mallet. An old fashioned wooden potato masher will serve in place of the mallet. Distribute the blows over the surface of the block so that all parts will receive the same amount of pressure. A very little experimenting of various odds and ends of cloth and linen will soon tell you just how much force you need to apply. After hammering the block as described lift it up and there will be the design printed on the material.

Showering a Bride.

Instead of the telltale rose or sticky confetti, friends of the summer bride should shower her with real rose petals. These should be gathered in quantities the day of the wedding.

They may be passed on large trays, or if the party that remains to see the bride go off is small supply a number of small baskets, each one tied with a bow of white ribbon and filled with pink and white rose petals.

Where it is hard to get enough real roses the supply can be increased by making petals of tissue paper. Cut them into shape and curl with dull edge of knife. If baskets are not used the petals can be tied into square packages with white tissue paper and white ribbon.

A Hemming Party.

A bride to be is going to give a hemming party soon. She called her best girl friends over the telephone and invited them to pass an afternoon on her porch and incidentally remarked: "Everybody is to bring her thimble. The hostess will provide needles, thread and hemming." And in the meantime she has bought material for her kitchen towels, and the girls will have the privilege of hemming them, and each girl may put her own initials in the corner if she chooses. This is a clever idea and one which the guests will doubtless enjoy.

AS CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Bayberry Candles Tied in Bunches With Holly Ribbon.

A young woman whose doctor prescribed for her a three months' outing in the country was dismayed by the prospect, for beyond the necessary money for the expenses of her trip she had absolutely not a cent. "And not even the strength to hold a needle," she whimsically remarked to the kind woman with whom she was to board on a farm, says the Designer.

But after a few days of rambling in the woods, sailing on the lake and other delightful outings she began to feel new life coming to her and longed to be doing something worth while. She made the remark to her landlady's daughter that she did wish she could utilize some of her time in making Christmas gifts of something she could procure from outdoors. "Why, make bayberry candles," was the answer. "They will be lovely for Christmas gifts, and those you do not use for this purpose will bring you in extra money. I know, for I make a nice little penny myself that way."

The mornings henceforth were spent together in picking the fragrant bayberries in the pasture lots, and on returning to the house they were placed in the kettle to boil for four hours, then set back on the fire, where they simmered for another hour. The contents of the kettle were allowed to cool off gradually. In the morning a cake of clear green wax had formed. It was skimmed off and reheated by placing in a pan tightly covered and held over steaming water. An ounce of paraffin was added, both wax and paraffin were melted and blended well, then the liquid wax was run through a fine strainer into the candle molds. When cold and firm they were handsome candles of a light green tint.

As Christmas gifts the candles were tied in bunches of two, four or more and tied with holly ribbon, with a spray of holly run through the bow. A card of greeting was also attached with a suitable sentiment written on it.

If used only on special occasions these bayberry candles will last a long time. The flame is more steady and brilliant than that of any other variety, and even when in use in hot weather or in burning low they do not give an offensive odor, but, on the contrary, yield an agreeable fragrance.

A New Vegetable.

Uncle Sam is literally ransacking every corner of the globe for dainty and novel foods with which to tempt the appetite of the epicure and also the person of more moderate means, says the Good Housekeeping Magazine. The bureau of plant industry is sending agricultural experts to the uttermost ends of the earth to bring to us foods which the people of other countries find excellent and of which we are ignorant. And, too, plants growing wild in other lands are brought and trained by breeding with others in cultivation, thus helping Mother Nature to create fruits and vegetables that the world has never seen before.

One of these foods is the udo, a plant that is grown like celery and can be used either as a salad or an ordinary vegetable. It is planted in beds and yields a crop for eight or ten years. It comes from Japan and is as common in that country as celery is here. It can be grown from Florida to Maine and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, but has proved especially hardy and vigorous in New England. The plant is easily raised and is ready for market earlier than the earliest asparagus. By shaving its long blanch-ed shoots in thin shavings and serving with French dressing it makes a salad with not only a distinct flavor of its own, but a crispness that is unusual and an appearance that is most attractive.

Green Unlucky Color, Says Seersess.

Green is unlucky, says Mme. de Thebes, a "prophetess" in Paris, who is consulted frequently by wealthy and society folk of that city. "Beware of green," she says. "My meaning is simple. Happiness and success depend on the quantity of rays one sends forth. Happiness depends on light and brightness. That is why the ancients chose white as their mourning color. Women should wear white as much as possible. When the world was shaped the trees were given their green color to save men from the sun, so green stands for darkness and is ill starred. I have gone deeply into the question of the influence of colors, precious stones and flowers on human destinies. One of my latest successes is to destroy the influence of the pig as a luck bringer. Not the unclean pig, but the sacred elephant is the real mascot, and I am selling to my clients numbers of elephant charms in virgin white onyx and solid silver.

A BARGAIN.

Old Bill Sackett Paid the Exact Price He Offered.

Smith & Jones pride themselves on being sharp dealers in wares. Having no competition in their little country town, they sometimes tack on a little more profit than the conditions justify. The farmers know this, and they have given the firm a reputation that is one of the jokes of the country.

The other day old Bill Sackett came to town to get four or five axes, having decided to hurry up and cut a lot of cordwood to haul to pay taxes.

"Them's putty fair axes," said Bill after half a dozen different kinds of axes had been unwrapped and submitted to his critical examination.

"The best there is," said Smith & Jones in concert.

A dozen men sitting on soap and cracker boxes halted a debate on the financial question to watch the bargain.

"What's the price?" asked Bill.

"Sixty cents," replied Smith & Jones together.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," said Bill reflectively. "I'll give you fellers 50 cents apiece for five of 'em."

To sell five at one sale seemed a good thing, and Smith & Jones nodded to each other, and in a moment the axes were tied up and pushed over the counter to Bill, who took the bundle and laid down a dollar bill.

"Ye kin divide it between you, 50 cents apiece," advised Bill as he turned and walked off, and the cracker box audience shouted tumultuously as twelve brawny paws slapped twelve legs with a resounding whack.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Good Trap.

The members of the Cumberland club in Portland tell this story about Tom Reed.

Reed and a companion went to the club one evening, hung their coats in the cloakroom and spent the evening talking politics. When they went to get their overcoats on leaving, Reed's friend thrust his hand in the pocket for his gloves and pulled out a pocket-book that was not his and that some one had put in there by mistake.

"What shall I do?" he asked Reed. "If I go around the club with a pocket-book in my hand it will look strange."

"That's all right," said Reed. "Keep the pocketbook and set the coat again. We'll go back in the smoking room."

Why Ade Smiled.

George Ade in the early days of his career, before the "Fables In Slang" had brought him fame, called one morning in Chicago upon a Sunday editor on a mission from a theatrical manager.

"I have brought you this manuscript," he began, but the editor, looking up at the tall, timid youth, interrupted:

"IN THE WASTEBASKET, PLEASE."

"Just throw the manuscript in the wastebasket, please," he said. "I'm very busy just now and haven't time to do it myself."

Mr. Ade obeyed calmly. He resumed:

"I have come from the — theater, and the manuscript I have just thrown in the wastebasket is your comic farce of 'The Erring Son,' which the manager asks me to return to you with thanks. He suggests that you sell it to an undertaker, to be read at funerals."

Then Mr. Ade smiled gently and withdrew.

The Duty of a Wife.

The family was divided upon only one subject—the revised version of the Bible. The husband preferred the new version and his wife the old. As a rule however, family prayers were read from the old version. One day, says a writer in the New York Evening Post, the head of the house read the chapter which concludes with "and the wife see that she reverence her husband." After the exercise had closed and the children had gone to bed the husband quoted it, looking meaningly at his wife.

"Let us see what the revised version says on that subject," said she. "I will follow the new teaching, to please you."

The revised version was produced, and her chagrin may be imagined as the man impressively read, "And let the wife see that she fear her husband."

Slavery in England.

Slavery existed in England without any mitigating features worth speaking of until the time of the wars of the roses. Bracton, the famous lawyer of the time of Henry III., informs us that the condition of slaves was fearful. It was indeed slavery, pure and simple. All the goods a slave acquired belonged to his master, who could take them from him whenever he pleased, the slave having no redress at law; hence the impossibility of a man's purchasing his own freedom. The only hope for the slave was to try to get into one of the walled towns when he became free, the towns-men granting him liberty on the condition of his helping them fight the nobles.—New York American.

Taken Too Literally.

"What?" exclaimed the head teacher to the stupid boy of the class he had been catechizing. "Do you mean to tell me you cannot remember your own schoolmaster's name?"

"N-no, sir."

"My name is Green, blockhead!"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, see if you can repeat it. What is my name?"

"Green Blockhead, sir."

TRUE COURAGE.

True courage has so little to do with anger that there always lies the strongest suspicion against it where this passion is highest. True courage is cool and calm. The bravest of men have the least bullying insolence and in the very time of danger are found the most serene, pleasant and free. Rage, we know, can make a coward forget himself and fight. But what is done in fury or anger can never be placed to the account of courage.—Shaftesbury.

A Case of "Quits."

Clerical Customer (arousing himself from a nap in a barber's chair)—All through, eh?
Barber—Yes, sir; quite some time ago.
Clerical Customer—Indeed! Then I must have been indulging in a quiet nap.
Barber—You surely have, sir.
Clerical Customer—It was certainly very kind of you not to awaken me. The rest has done me good, and I am very thankful to you for what was really a very refreshing sleep.
Barber—Don't mention it, sir. It's only a fair return. I attended service at your church last Sunday.—London Graphic.

The Wrong Crop.

Visiting an out of the way English parish when the incumbent happened to be away, a former archdeacon of Suffolk was, it is related, shown round by the clerk. On arriving at the churchyard he found a fine crop of wheat growing in it.
"Dear, dear!" said the archdeacon. "I can't approve of this. I really did not think Mr. — would have planted wheat in the churchyard."
"That's just what I told parson," said the clerk. "I says, says I, 'Ye didn't ought to have wheated it; ye ought to have tattered it!'"

Trade In Cobwebs.

In Europe, especially in France and Germany, there exists quite a trade in cobwebs to be applied to bottles of wine thought to call for that additional evidence of age. The dealer who furnished cobwebs to the wine sellers has likewise a liquor that softens and colors the cork to make it assume the stains of time. These cobwebs are not spread upon the bottles without due preparation. They are previously steeped in gum in order that they may the more readily adhere to the bottle. When they have been laid upon the bottle a little soot is sprinkled upon them, which final touch completes the desired appearance of great age.—New York Press.

Teaching a Parrot.

Don't try to teach Polly to talk unless she is perfectly tame and quite confiding. Begin on a one syllabled word without "th" or "ch" in it; then let her pronounce her name. Repeat the word you're trying to teach her endlessly and always in exactly the same tone of voice. If, as sometimes happens, Polly can't be taught to talk repeat over and over again a whistle, a catcall or any other unusual sound. This will teach her to imitate, and she may from that go to repeating words and sentences.—Suburbanite.

Stagers Skeptics.

That a clean, nice, fragrant compound like Bucklen's Arnica Salve will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, scald, wound or piles, staggers skeptics. But great cures prove its wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, felons, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains and corns. Try it. 25c at L. I. Wood & Co.'s.

"Why didn't you pray your way out of jail?" some one asked.
"I would 'a' done it," was the reply, "but I didn't want Providence ter know I wuz in no sich place!"

What is Most Necessary to Happiness?

Many of us will thoughtlessly answer, money, but health is far more necessary. Money will not cure rheumatism, sprains, cuts, wounds, bruises, burns, scalds, sores and such troubles, but Renne's Pain-Killing Oil will. Never known to fail. Try it. Price 25, 50c and $1.00. Wood's Drug Store.

A TALE OF WOEFUL WOE

Troubles of a Flat Dweller and Her Landlady.

NEW ROLE FOR CLEANER.

It Launder's the Hair and Cleans Mad-am's Suits—Inharmonious Interior Decorations Now Blamed For Domestic Infelicity—Pose of Summer Girl.

Dear Elsa—Such a mess as we've been in for the last week or so from having some of the walls, woodwork and floors of the apartment freshened up a bit. Everything smells and tastes of paint. Why, even the boiled eggs at breakfast this morning had a flavor of arsenic (the kitchen walls are painted a poisonous shade of green). But I must tell you about these same walls, for thereby hangs a tale. You know what an old "curmudgeon," Dick's pet name for the landlady we've got, is, and you also know that we have been tenants of hers in good standing for three years. Well, when it came to painting the kitchen this old miser gave the painters orders to do only the space over the range and the boiler, although the rest of the wall was equally soiled. But it mattered not. The walls were done, according to instructions, in "spots." Did you ever hear of such outrageous treatment? And there was nothing to do but to pay a workman extra to wash the rest of the wall space for us. I wouldn't have squandered a bit of paint on it for worlds. Not the right spirit? No; it's not turning the other cheek, but it's acting up to one's mental convictions.

A VERY SMART COAT.

And in connection with cleaning I have discovered a new use for my vacuum cleaner. It makes hair washing easy and saves shampoo bills. You know that the hardest part of washing one's hair is the drying. That's why so many women go to the hairdresser to have their heads laundered. But with a vacuum cleaner you may wash your own hair if you put the blower on the machine and sit down in front of it, with all the advantages of a professional shampoo. I heard, too, of a woman who cleans her suits a la vacuum. Instead of laboriously brushing a suit with a whisk broom she stands arrayed in the gown before the vacuum cleaner and every particle of dust and dirt is lifted out in a few minutes. Nothing remains to do but to wash grease spots and press the suit. So you see that housekeepers who spend large sums of money for vacuum cleaners and then put the costly machines safely away in the storeroom to await sweeping day are not getting the worth of their money.

To return for a minute to the furbishing up question, my bedroom does look very attractive. I did capture some fresh white paint for the woodwork of the room and a pretty-inexpensive colonial striped paper in cream and white. By the way, a charming contrast is this cream and white blending. The frieze is a cut out, one of big pink roses, which I had put on where the former picture molding went, the ceiling in white having been brought down to the border. I didn't have the picture molding put up again because I've found from sad experience that even in the best regulated apartments it harbors tenants that have nothing to do with rent day.

According to an article in a magazine of recent date, it used to be the woman who could not cook who was blamed for all the ills of society. Now it is the woman who does not understand interior decoration. It seems that half the domestic infelicity of the times is caused by inharmonious color schemes in the home. "Imagine, if you can," says this writer, "the condition of mind confined in a room where discords are continually being struck on the piano—not one discord, mind you, but continuous, day after day and month after month. The result would be irritability and distraction, to say the least, probably insanity. Why? Because the mind is affected through the ear by the discordant sounds. Just so with inharmonious colors. They affect the mind through the eye as forcefully as sound through the ear and cause irritability, fretfulness and bad temper with its evil results."

New Photograph Fad.

The higher the mercury mounts the more prone we seem to fads. It is the summer girl who has gone hatless. It is the summer girl who has revealed in coats of tan so successfully that, judged by her complexion alone, she might be an Indian or one of the dark races. In thinking over the pet fads of silly seasons the peekaboo waist and immense hat crazes rush into one's mind. One year every girl will sport a neck curl, a la Janice Meredith, and prettier it was than the more recent craze of the swirl coiffure. Then the merry summer maiden of 1910 has lately gone in for huge bows on her low shoes and later still for pumps, which, in addition to being little more than sandals, are quite bowless. Now the fad for being photographed with modest, downcast eyes has the lead. Just who started it there's no finding out. It blossomed simultaneously here and abroad. One of the first girls to be so pictured was Miss Bigelow-Dodge, the granddaughter of the famous historian. This young lady has the distinction of being the best bred girl in America. Mrs. Clarence Mackay is seen writing at her desk, looking down at the paper. No doubt this very handsome suffrage leader is pictured getting out literature for the cause. Young Roosevelt's bride was snapped in hymeneal array, with her eyes becomingly downcast. Well, there have been worse fads. This one is as harmless as possible, but a few dozen portraits of people with their eyes downcast would certainly be monotonous.

Some one told me recently of a bonnet church social. At the function each girl wore a bonnet minus one string. The other string was put up at auction and sold with a lunch box. Young men were the purchasers. They would then hunt up the girls wearing strings matching those they had bought to help them eat the lunch, and the youth with the missing string became her partner for the evening. Many of the girls fixed up their bonnets to represent the popular song "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet."

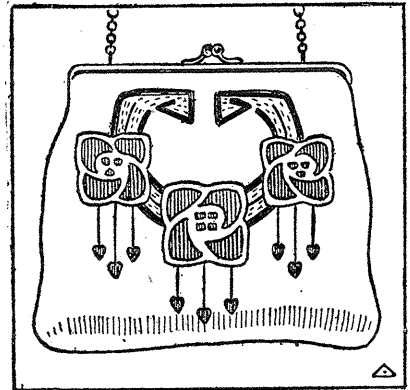

Here is the recipe you wanted for coffee mousse: A cupful of clear, strong coffee, the same quantity of sugar, a quart of cream and a fourth of a box of gelatin dissolved in just enough water to cover and soften it. Dissolve the sugar in the coffee while it is hot and allow it to cool. Meanwhile dissolve the gelatin and add it to the coffee. Place the bowl containing the liquid in a pan of ice and stir until there are signs of thickening. Then fold in the stiffly beaten and dry cream, turn into the freezer or a mold, cover closely and pack in ice and salt. Four hours and a half should be allowed for freezing and ripening.

That you may have success with the formula is the wish of MABEL. New York.

Embroidered Bags.

It seems at first sight a very hard thing to embroider a bag already supplied with a stiff and unyielding frame, but it really becomes quite a simple matter to the woman who is not dependent on the embroidery ring when the bag is opened to its fullest capacity and the stitches are carefully made. The bag can, in fact, be turned entirely inside out and the lining sewed in afterward.

Besides, these stamped linen bags are so pretty that they are irresistibly tempting to the woman who loves dainty fancy work and the dress accessories that result from it.

The rose bag illustrated seems truly of the middle ages with its conventionalized flower design of the Tudor emblem. It is done in flat work, with black outline on the roses themselves and with the stemlike lines in the same stitch. The inner design of the background pattern is in seed stitch. This bag is pretty in all red or in red against a soft green, preferably the former. The lower petals of the roses may be slightly darker than the upper, or all the petals may be shaded.

A Kitchen Novelty.

One of the latest kitchen novelties is a spoon holder which hangs on the inside of any preserving kettle and holds the stirring spoon when not in use. It is made of aluminium and will not rust. By using one you dispense with saucer, cup or plate to hold the spoon, and the spoon is always ready for use and always where it is to be used. After you have once used this little article you would not part with it for five times its cost.

RALPH DE PALMA,

DARING MOTOR DRIVER

De Palma in his Fiat "Cyclone" racing car will meet Barney Oldfield at the State Fair on Saturday, Sept. 24, in a matched race for world's championship honors. De Palma will try and get back his lost honors for the world's mile record on a horse track. This means the finest motor racing to be seen in the world.

MICHIGAN FAIR FIRST TO GET WRIGHT AEROPLANES

After the Stirring Exhibition Elks' Week, Flights Will Draw Immense Crowds.

Having given exhibitions lasting three days in Detroit, during Elks' week, making a tremendous hit, Aviators Brookins and Hoxsey are keen about playing a return date in Detroit during the State Fair, Sept. 19-24th. They are scheduled to make four flights daily during Fair week, and now that they are familiar with the exhibition field and the physical conditions they will be prepared to perform startling things in their strange air craft.

Brookins is the holder of the world's altitude record made a few weeks ago at Atlantic City, where, before 100,000 people, he flew out over the ocean and attained a height of 6,300 feet. He had a thrilling time of it, as there was a terrific wind when he reached the higher altitudes, and to cap the climax his motor stopped when he was at the highest point. The crowds were amazed to see him, a mere speck in the sky, start suddenly downward at a terrific rate, making large swooping circles, but always pointing his craft downward at a sharp angle.

It took him over an hour and a half to ascend, but he came down in seven minutes, landed beautifully on the beach, and then fainted.

Brookins is known among his teammates as a daring and spectacular operator. Arrangements will be made to take measurements during his flights at the Fair grounds, and he has expressed the determination of breaking his own record if the weather conditions are at all favorable.

Arch Hoxsey, the other aviator who held the crowds spellbound during the Elks' week exhibition, will also be present during the Fair and because of his past performances can be counted upon to be a strong attraction. Waving his hand at the crowds, Hoxsey went sailing down the track, dodging in between lines of telephone poles, skimming scarcely a foot above the track and traveling at the rate of 40 miles an hour. Hurdling the fences surrounding the show ring, he chased a photographer off the field, then did the roller coaster stunt, circled the trees on the back stretch, came whizzing down the stretch again and landed on the track, directly in front of the grandstand, gently as a bird would light. The immense throngs rose to their feet, and a mighty roar of approval went up. Hoxsey smiled and bowed his thanks for the reception and then, after his plane had been mounted again on the monorail, went up immediately and furnished more thrills of the same order.

Hoxsey is a finished performer, and did seemingly impossible stunts in his biplane with the greatest ease and great style. His appearance in Detroit again will mean packing the stands each day.

Throughout all the aeroplane exhibitions there is, of course, the ever-present chance of accident, and to those unaccustomed to watching the flights of aeroplanes, time after time it appears that the strange machine has turned turtle and is falling to the ground. Hoxsey never has had an accident which resulted seriously, and, therefore, he is able to do startling work without nervousness.

DESERVING OF HONORS.

One of the many beauties to be seen at the State Fair, Sept. 19-24th.

WIDESPREAD INTEREST IN FAIR AUTO SHOW

IMMENSE BUILDING CROWDED WITH NEW MODELS OF ALL LINES.

RURAL VISITORS RECOGNIZED AS LARGEST BUYERS OF MOTOR CARS.

Of all the big exhibitions to be seen at the Michigan State Fair this year perhaps the most educational and the one which will strike popular approval hardest will be the immense automobile show to be held in the new automobile building of nearly 70,000 square feet.

Automobile manufacturers, when automobile shows first came into vogue, had it in mind to make them instructive, but in order to accomplish this they had to have an intelligent and widespread interest on the part of the public. It took years and years of hard work to arouse the interest to its present pitch, but now nearly everyone, and surely everyone who will attend the fair, is interested in automobiles.

Among the farmers and residents of small towns and villages the automobile dealers and agents find their readiest market. Perhaps it is because of the worth of the automobile as a time and money saver or its use as a recreative agent that the motor car is so popular among the people outside of the large cities. Whatever the cause, the motor car is today in the front ranks of modern institutions in the public favor, and hence the State Fair management deemed it time to recognize the demand for an immense automobile show in Michigan. They recognized it by voting $40,000 for the new automobile building, and the forthcoming motor show bids fair to surpass the expectations of even the most sanguine among the fair managers.

Everything worthy of interest in the motor world will be on display, and visitors will find things arranged in the most convenient form to permit of their imbibing the information—the "dope"—on the new 1911 models. Cars of all prices, all styles, all makes will be seen. The best salesmen at the command of the factories and agencies will be on hand to answer questions. Interesting displays, polished and stripped chassis in full operation, showing the "inner-nerds" of the cars, will be on every hand; new appliances for the comfort, convenience and increased safety of motorists will be shown, and, in fact, those hungering for motor information can satisfy their every want at the State Fair show.

Coming as it does, the very first of the big motor shows of the country, affording ample space and excellent appointments for the display of the motor world's latest efforts, the show will without a doubt take its place among the foremost exhibitions in the motor world for the season of 1911.

Farmers nowadays take as much interest in motor cars, their principles of construction, their adaptability to their needs, as they used to center in the newest implements and machinery, the prize winning cattle and other things so close to the hearts of the agriculturist. Money is plentiful with the farmers these days, and, knowing all these things, the automobile makers and their dealers are making extensive preparations for the coming State Fair show. It is no longer an experiment—the modern motor show at the big state fairs—but a necessity, to answer the demand among the farmers for all the latest information concerning this most modern industry.

Michigan, as the foremost motor producing state in the Union, will demand, and will have, a motor show that will be a marvel of completeness.

EVERY COMFORT FOR STATE FAIR CROWDS

Management Arranging to Care For Biggest Throngs in History.

The State Fair management in preparing for the big exhibition to be seen at Detroit, Sept. 19th-24th, will take unusual care to provide comfortable seats and resting places for big crowds of State Fair visitors. This feature is often neglected by the managements of big fairs, but the Michigan managers will see to it that every possible comfort and convenience is provided for State Fair visitors.

In fact, all the plans of the State Fair managers this year include arrangements to handle and care for immense crowds. This policy has been adopted because of the unusual strength of the attractions to be offered. Increased railroad facilities, improved coin-counting machines at all of the entrances, liberal provision for policing the grounds, well-kept roads carefully sprinkled, well-kept lawns, hedges and shrubbery and other thoughtful provisions will insure the utmost comfort for State Fair visitors. Record-breaking crowds are expected, and everything will be in readiness when the gates swing open Sept. 19th to accommodate thousands of people from Michigan and surrounding states and present to them the biggest and best State Fair ever held in Michigan.

THE SPEED MANIA.

Sensations That Come With a Ride In a Racing Motor.

Imagine yourself in a big racing machine plunging over a course at eighty miles an hour. For the average man the sensation is awful, but the speed kings revel in it. Down the road streaks the car. Lashed into a typhoon by the appalling speed, the still air roars in your ears. You think you will never regain your hearing. The resistance of the atmosphere is fearful. The slightest forward movement is an effort. Distant objects loom up suddenly before you and jump by. The landscape is a streaky line of green, blotched here and there as a house is passed. The gale seems to cut your face, and you feel yourself being gradually flattened out against the back of the seat. It seems that the glass in your auto goggles is on the point of breaking. Particles of dust are driven back in your eyes. You may become blinded. The vibration of the engine is terrific. Mysterious indicators fluctuate alarmingly. It may mean that the engine is on the point of exploding. What makes the floor tremble so? Surely something will happen now!

And then you hear explosions booming from the exhausts as the drivers "shut off." A sharp turn is ahead. The noise is deafening. The terrific speed does not seem to have been checked. The outline of the turn grows more distinct. It is sheer folly—maybe death—to rush at it at such a pace. You dare not breathe as the car tears into the bend. It skids and a wall of dirt is thrown up alongside you as the driver, with a sharp twist of the wheel, sends the car once more back in the middle of the road. You are safe—until another turn is encountered.—Hampton's Magazine.

A Painful Inference.

A teacher was instructing a class of boys and had spent half an hour trying to drive into their heads the difference between man and the lower animals, but apparently with little success.

"Tommy," he said coaxingly to a little chap, "do you know the difference between, say, me and a pig or any other brute?"

"No," replied Tommy innocently, but another teacher standing by laughed.—London Answers.

Alternating Currant Pie.

In the light of what has been learned about the housefly there is no longer any excuse for the gay insouciance of the poet who wrote a summer boarding house lyric, in which these lines occurred:

Here, sir, is your currant pie,
Alternating currant pie,
First a currant, then a fly
'Neath the crust alternate lie.

—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Not an Authority.

There are some persons who can't take a joke, but Fogg is not one of them. One of the boys, acquainted with Fogg's frequent changes of abode, asked him which he thought was the cheaper, to move or to pay rent.

"I can't tell you, my dear boy," replied Fogg. "I have always moved."

Willing to Be the Goat.

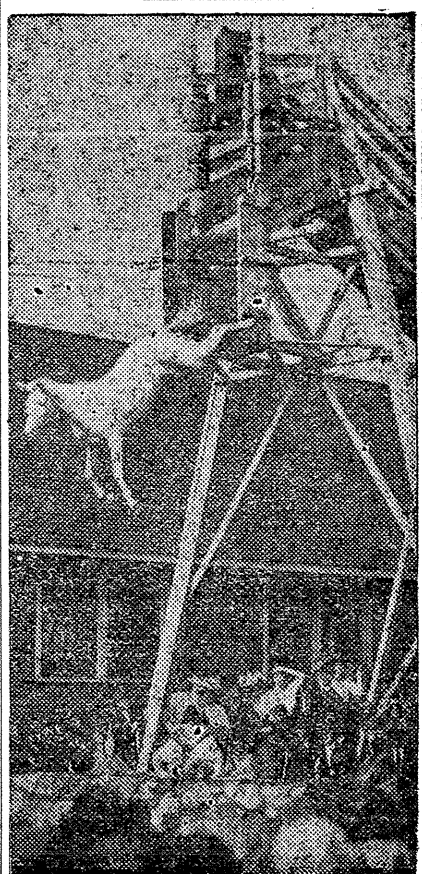

"Why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" quoted the impassioned orator. Then he paused a moment to let it take effect.

"Well," spoke up a half inebriated man in the audience, "I'll be the goat. Why should it?"—Chicago Tribune.

Peace is not mere tranquillity, for tranquillity may be indifference.—Duffield.

About Fishes.

Fish are nearly the same weight as the water in which they live, so that they can move in it with great ease. The majority of them also have an air bladder inside of the body, which enables them to go up or down in the water at will. When a fish desires to go down deep it can press the air out of this bladder by means of certain muscles and thus increase the weight of its body, and when it wishes to rise again it takes off the pressure, the bladder fills with air again, and its body becomes light enough to rise.

DANGER IN DELAY.

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Cass City People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes, and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in this locality.

William Singleton, 621 South State St., Caro, Mich., says: "I was afflicted with kidney trouble for two years and I suffered intensely from pains in the small of my back. On arising in the morning I was very lame and the least work tired me. Headaches and dizzy spells were other symptoms of my trouble and sometimes my sight became blurred. The kidney secretions contained sediment and passed too frequently, breaking my rest. In a week after I commenced the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, I improved and the contents of five boxes of this remedy effected a permanent cure. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills worthy of my endorsement."

A FREE Prescription ADVICE

From a physician of 52 years' experience in colleges, sanatoriums and general practice. Weak, nervous men, regain your strength and vigor.

So great was my sympathy for weak men in the early years of my experience that I have made it a special study, and formulated two prescriptions, one for men under 50 and one for men over 50 years of age. In my declining years, I want every man to have the benefit of my long years of careful study, research and long experience. I am now 73 years old and as strong and vigorous as at 40 and the rest of my life will be spent in aiding suffering manhood. I realize that my time is short, but will do all in my power to aid men and women who are helpless and seeking relief. I know there has been a great many disappointed when they thought relief in their grasp, but let me send you my free prescription and booklet of private lectures to men which is the result of study since I began lecturing to student classes, way back in '71. Since that time I have cured many cases that you now pleased to recommend me.

YOU NEED AID. Let me help you to regain your former standing among men. In short, let me assist you to be yourself once more.

If you are suffering from failing memory, lame back or weakened manhood or nervous difficulties, LET ME SEND YOU A RECIPE in a plain sealed envelope that you can use in your own home. I am confident that you will thank me every day in your life after you have tested it for yourself.

Take advantage of this offer NOW before it is too late. Address me personally.

Miss Lenneberry of Oxford is the guest of her parents here.

Amos Hoffman has just purchased a splendid team at $500. of Elkton parties.

L. Wright of Midway Farm passed through here with a nice fresh milch cow which he had purchased from Claude Root. Mr. Wright has at last secured masons to do his cement work and the Herr gang of Cass City has already used fifty barrels of cement for him and as much more will soon be shaped into improvements. Among these various improvements are a wall under his barn and cement floors in stable, cellar and house wall, cistern, hen house and floor in woodshed. Mr. Wright says he is kept busy with his new team drawing stones and sand.

Some of our ladies were absent from the W. H. M. S. meeting at Mrs. E. W. Turner's last Friday for which we are sorry as the program was a success and a product of many hours study and work. Among the many interesting features of the study was a booklet drawn by chance from a ribbon suspended from a Chinese umbrella. Mrs. Card deserves great credit for her untiring efforts to make the meetings all they should be. Too bad we can't all be interested.

A few of our ladies attended the Sheridan picnic on Wednesday last. They report they enjoyed it.

Roosevelt Cook, who had a sudden attack of bowel trouble, is much improved at this writing.

Roy Mudge returned to his parental home a few days ago after an absence of five years, from the Virginia stations of United States marine guard corps. Mr. Mudge has lately been promoted to the command of sergeant which he will take up at the expiration of the present furlough. His rapid advancement in the U. S. army, considering only four years' service and a youth of nineteen at the time of enlisting, is gratifying. He has made the second trip around the globe being on duty with the Rooseveltian fleet in 1907 and since to the scene of action which recently occurred in the Turkish domain. Mr. Mudge appears to be in the best of health and our well wishes go with him when he returns.

GAGETOWN.

Mrs. Charles R. Dinkey and her sister, Miss Martha Waidley, of Erie, Penn., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. Waidley from Wednesday to Sunday. Mr. Waidley drove the ladies to Caro Sunday in his car and they took the excursion to Toledo to attend Labor Day.

R. H. Bailey, who has leased the Jane Gage farm for the past two years, has purchased an 80-acre farm near Uby.

Mr. Waidley took his guests to the Caro Fair Thursday and Saturday he gave them an auto ride, including his wife and niece, Margaret Waidley, to Owendale and from there to Gov. Warner's dairy farm where the ladies had an opportunity to see milking machines work.

TOWNSEND ENDORSED; OSBORN NOMINATED

that he would make a great showing, but it was not only those which gave him the majorities. Nearly everywhere on the returns so far received, the Jackson man shows well in the lead.

In the upper peninsula, where it was claimed by the Burrows managers that the senior senator would poll from 75 to 90 per cent of the total vote cast, he ran far behind Townsend carrying every county.

For the governorship Osborn is almost as far in the lead as is Townsend for the senatorial nomination. He is running away from his two opponents, who are neck-and-neck.

Osborn made good his campaign claims that he would sweep the upper peninsula, every county coming through with a big majority for the Soo man.

In the third congressional district Washington Gardner, a standpatter and Cannon man, is defeated by over 2,000 majority by J. M. C. Smith of Charlotte, an insurgent.

In the tenth district, Col. George A. Loud was very hard pressed by Frank Buell, and in the twelfth, the upper peninsula district, on the few returns received it looks as if H. O. Young had the race of his life with Angus W. Kerr, of Calumet, although he won out by a good majority.

Young was having the race of his life with Angus W. Kerr, of Calumet, an out-and-out Cannon man.

In the fifth Diekema is renominated over Deacon Ellis, of Grand Rapids, and in the eighth Fordney had a comparatively easy time of it with Emory Townsend, beating him out by probably 2,000.

In the second district, where W. W. Wedemeyer and "Hank" Smith were contesting for the seat to be vacated by Charles E. Townsend, Wedemeyer has apparently won carrying every county in the district except Smith's own county of Lenawee.

In the seventh district Henry McMorran is probably renominated over Louis C. Crampton by a small majority.

Returns on lieutenant-governor are very incomplete, but they show L. D. Dickinson of Eaton and John Q. Ross of Muskegon running very close together, with Nelson C. Rice of Berrien considerably behind.

MR. BURROWS' STATEMENT.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 7.—"I am very grateful to my friends and the press in Kalamazoo and throughout the state for the efforts made by them to stem the tide of insurgency, which seems to have struck Michigan as it has swept over other portions of the country," said Senator Burrows this morning.

"The result of Tuesday's primary election is, of course, disappointing, but I accept it with the utmost composure and composure. I am hopeful that this insurgent tide will recede at an early date and that normal conditions, which speak for peace and prosperity, will soon come.

"I shall at once proceed to Chicago to enter upon the duties imposed upon me by the senate, to investigate the charges preferred against Senator Lorimer. I shall remain in Chicago a sufficient length of time to make a thorough investigation, but owing to the importance of the matter, it is impossible to now state how long the committee of which I am a member will be detained."

PRIMARY SYSTEM VINDICATED.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 7.—Congressman Townsend today made this statement:

"My pluralities come from every part of the state, and that indicates that I have received the indorsement of the people. The primary system has been vindicated. I was told there was no use of my trying to be nominated as the financial and political combines were against me and that there was no such thing as defeating them. I assure you it is a pleasure to realize that their predictions were untrue."

LA FOLLETTE IS WINNER.

Insurgent Senator Gets Eighty Per Cent of Votes.

Milwaukee, Sept. 5.—United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette has swept the state of Wisconsin in the primary election for renomination, defeating his opponent, Samuel A. Cook, of Neenah, by from three to five to one.

Although early returns showed considerable strength for E. T. Fairchild in the race for the republican nomination for governor, the later figures are showing large gains for F. E. McGovern, who won fame as the anti-graft district attorney of Milwaukee.

The progressive republicans seem to have won one congressman, as indications point to the defeat of W. H. Stafford in the fifth district. All other present congressmen are probably renominated.

Rep. Charles H. Weiss of Sheboygan Falls, is leading Burt Williams, of Ashland, in the few scattering returns received for the democratic nomination for United States senator.

INSURGENT HEADS G. O. P. TICKET IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Concord, N. H. Sept. 6.—A progressive victory featured New Hampshire's first state-wide primaries today, State Senator Robert P. Bass, of Peterboro, defeating Bertram Ellis, of Keen, for the republican gubernatorial nomination tion by a substantial margin.

In the congressional fight the progressives did not fare so well. Rep. Cyrus W. Sulloway won by a wide margin the republican nomination for congress in the first district, despite the stirring campaign waged by Sherman E. Burroughs, of Manchester, a progressive. Rep. Frank D. Currier had no party opposition for a renomination in the second district.

Despite a heavy rain all day, the republican vote was surprisingly large.

There was no fight in the democratic ranks. The democrats nominated for governor Clarence E. Carr, of Andover, and for congress Mayor Eugene E. Reem, of Manchester, in the first district, and Henry H. Metcalf of Concord, in the second district.

VERMONT REPUBLICAN VOTE VERY LIGHT; MEADE ELECTED GOVERNOR

White River Junction, Sept. 6.—Lieut.-Governor John A. Meade, of Rutland, a retired physician, and prominent business man, was elected governor by the republicans in the state election today by a plurality of about 17,000 over Lawyer Charles D. Watson, of St. Albans, his democratic opponent. The republicans elected the balance of the state ticket, and both of their congressmen, but the democrats made gains in the legislature.

Slashes an Elope; Husband Is Cut.

Muskegon, Mich., Sept. 5.—James Honlack and John Carzock and his brother are laid up with countless knife thrusts inflicted in a fight. It is said that Carzock's wife and Honlack planned to elope and that the husband, hearing of the plan, secreted himself with his brother and caught them as they were going down an alley and the fight followed. It is thought that all will recover. They are Hungarians and live at Muskegon Heights.

LECTURE COURSE FOR CASS CITY

is necessary to promote such an enterprise should respond promptly when the tickets are placed on sale.

The five attractions are sufficiently varied to relieve any sameness to the list. There are two concert companies, one lecture, a magician and illusionist, and a lady reader.

The Rummel Concert Company consists of three artists: Wm. Morse-Rummel, violin virtuoso; Miss Mable Krog, soprano and pianist, and Eva Lenahan, reader.

Col. Geo. W. Bain, the Kentucky orator, is one of the most widely known and generally successful lecturers the Lyceum has ever known. He is just in his prime, doing the best work in his life and has a phenomenal Chautauqua record.

Oseola Pooler, reader and entertainer, has already delighted Cass City audiences and needs no introduction here.

The Opollo Quintette and Bell Ringers is offered by the Bureau in response to a persistent call for a company of strictly high-class musicians and entertainers. The long and successful concert experience, the instrumentation in solos and ensemble work, the vocal selections, readings, etc., attract large audiences and please them greatly.

Brush, the great Hindoo illusionist, is a new feature in lecture course programs here, but that he will be one of the most popular goes without saying. He performs Hindoo, Chinese, Japanese, European, and many original tricks in magic. He is one of the best artists in his profession.

The ladies have generously decided that any profits which may be derived from this course are to be devoted to the establishment of a public library at Cass City for which the club is so zealously striving.

Further particulars as to dates and prices of tickets are reserved for a later date.

WHY BE MISERABLE?

When it is so easy to be glad? The third city in Michigan offers its Third Industrial Exposition and Fall Festival Sept. 16 to 24 and within the compass of those days will condense more enjoyment, amusement, entertainment and advantages than ever before; and during the nine glad days of the event will offer a wider range of opportunities than is to be found elsewhere. There is no uncertainty about it. Backed by two years of successful endeavor the management this year unhesitatingly proclaim the superior merits of its offerings and invites to see and enjoy, to make merry, to be one of the great throng that will enthuse over the splendid spectacle of the Venetian Night on the water front; to be part and parcel of the crowd that will be enraptured with the wondrous melody discoursed by that greatest of bands—Creator's.

PREMIUM LISTS BEING DISTRIBUTED

BOUNTIFUL HARVESTS AND PROSPERITY AMONG THE FARMERS SHOULD SECURE SUCCESSFUL EXHIBITS AT THE FAIR.

The twenty-first annual fair and races of the Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac District Fair association at Cass City on Sept. 27, 28, 29 and 30 has the promise of being one of the most successful fairs of the Thumb.

The three counties have been blessed with a favorable season and a bountiful harvest and prosperity is enjoyed by the farmers to a degree never before experienced. They have the material for making exhibits in many lines which cannot be excelled in any part of the state.

The premium list has been revised and enlarged this year and several hundreds have been mailed to the farmers. Any one who has failed to receive a copy may secure one by addressing the secretary, W. J. Campbell, or calling at the Chronicle office. Mr. Campbell will also be glad to send a book to any person who might be interested in the fair and all are invited to give him addresses of friends or acquaintances who may be possible exhibitors.

Besides the regular premiums, a prize of $20 is offered for the best display of farm produce by any farmer's club, grange or lodge. A second prize of $10 is also offered for a display of this kind.

J. D. Brooker, who had charge of the races which gave such excellent satisfaction last fall, is again in charge of that feature. He announces the following program:

Wednesday, Sept. 28.

Green Race, Trot or Pace.....$ 50.00
Farmers' Race, Run..... 25.00
2:40 Race, Trot or Pace..... 80.00

Thursday, Sept. 29.

2:25 Race, Trot or Pace..... 80.00
3:00 Race, Trot or Pace..... 80.00
Farmers' Race, Trot or Pace..... 35.00

Friday, Sept. 30.

Three Year Old (or under) Race,
Trot or Pace..... 50.00
Free For All, Trot or Pace..... 100.00

MARGARET T. R. LAZENBY.

Margaret Thelma Ruth, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lazenby, died at the home of her parents in Detroit, Aug. 28, at the age of 11 months and 10 days.

Funeral services were held at the home, 297 Baltimore Ave. West, on Tuesday, Aug. 30, at 2:00 p. m. Rev. Hart conducted the services. His sermon was taken from the 10th chapter of St. Mark, his theme being, "Suffer little children to come unto me." Interment was made in Evergreen cemetery.

NINETY DELEGATES PRESENT.

Huron Baptist Association Held Profitable Meeting at Harbor Beach Last Week.

The Huron Baptist Association held at Harbor Beach Aug. 30 and 31 and Sept. 1 was well attended. There were about 90 delegates representing the different churches of the association which comprises Sanilac, Tuscola and Huron counties. The different missionary interests of the state and nation were well represented.

The sessions from start to finish were very interesting and instructive. The annual sermon was given by Rev. H. C. Hayman of Decker, who is a very enthusiastic and earnest speaker, holding the strict attention of the congregation. The doctrinal sermon was delivered by Rev. L. A. Townsend of Cass City in a very earnest and inspiring manner.

The association was well entertained by the citizens of Harbor Beach, not only in administering to the wants of the inner man but also providing everything necessary for pleasure and comfort. A pleasant boat ride was given and the life saving crew gave an exhibition of their modus operandi in time of a wreck.

The next annual meeting will be held at Deckerville.

Delegates to the state convention which is to be held in Detroit in October are Rev. Crouter of Marquette and Rev. E. McFarlane of Brown City with Rev. R. H. Monroe of Harbor Beach and P. S. McGregory of Cass City as alternates.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.

Will Be Held on the Walmsley Farm, Northeast of Cass City.

The second farm sale to be advertised in the Chronicle this season will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 14, on the Andrew Walmsley farm, one mile east and ¼ mile north of Cass City. The property offered includes horses, cattle, sheep, farm implements and furniture and N. Bigelow, the administrator of the estate, has authorized the insertion of the list and terms which appear on the third page. Striffler & McCullough will conduct this sale and G. A. Tindale will act as clerk.

WAS FINED $10.

Neighborhood Quarrel Led to Issue of Warrants.

James McKenzie of this city appeared before Justice Randall of Caro Wednesday in answer to a charge of assault and battery preferred by Elizabeth Blackmore. He pleaded guilty and was fined $10 which he paid. Mr. McKenzie also swore out a warrant for Mrs. Blackmore on the same charge.

The trouble grew out of a neighborhood quarrel which had been brewing all summer. When Mrs. Blackmore reprimanded the McKenzie children in rather a strenuous manner, and accompanied the rebuke with a punishment, it is said, on the McKenzie premises about a week ago, the father resented her action and "slapped" the woman on the face a few times.

Not Risking Speed Laws.

A well known amateur yachtsman of New York tells this joke on himself:

With a few friends he started on a cruise by way of Long Island sound. They kept close to the shore, and, owing to the lack of wind and to the slowness of their boat, they were still drifting by familiar country a week or so after they left Gotham.

At one point of land they passed a solemn individual sat fishing. For some hours the boat made virtually no progress, and after awhile the fisherman roused himself sufficiently to ask:

"Where are ye folks from?"
"New York."
"How long out?"
"Since June 1."
Then after a pause the man asked:
"What year?"—Lippincott's.

He Called Her.

A charming young lady who glories in the possession of a wealth of bright auburn colored hair is the teacher of a Sunday school class. On a recent Sabbath the rector made the announcement of a hymn to be sung and, rising, waved his hands, and the organ pealed forth.

"Now," said he, "ready—sing!"
A small and precocious youth in the young woman's class said:

"Why don't you sing, Miss Frisbee?"
"Me? Oh, I never sing," replied the teacher, smiling her prettiest.

"But," exclaimed the boy, "the minister says you must. Didn't he just say 'Now, Reddy, sing?'"

Smelling salts and numerous other restoratives had to be used to bring the teacher out of her faint.

Very Melancholy.

Said an Irishman, "What a melancholy sight it would be if all the people in the world were blind!"
