Tuscola Co. Farmer

Readers of the Chronicle have read about my new breed of cattle, and they'll read more about them soon, but just at present there's another new thing out in the line of cattle and they were discovered down in Live Oak, California, by a Chronicle reader who went down there from Tuscola county. I received his letter last Tuesday and will let you read it. He writes:

Live Oak, Cal.
Dear Tuscola County Farmer:
I wish to write you something which may be of interest to yourself and Chronicle readers. The dairy men here have for the last ten or fifteen years been troubled with bloating cows, many of which died. Alfalfa which produces on an average of fourteen or fifteen tons per acre and is the best milk and fat producing feed, caused this bloating, even as cured hay, and could not be dispensed with, so it became necessary to have a man with the herd constantly to give the cows soda water and other remedies, or in extreme cases use a butcher knife and carve a hole into their stomachs and insert a piece of gas pipe.

But now since the soda supply is nearly exhausted and iron is expensive here, a professor of the State Agricultural School began experimenting with the result. He took a piece of soft rubber some two and one half inches thick and at each end attached a short piece of vulcanized rubber a little larger than the tube. In this tube he placed a valve held closed by a spring. When the stomach generated more gas than its ordinary capacity the pressure overcame the spring and let out the bloot. It was a grand success. This was seven years ago and the progeny of animals so improved are now born with these exhausts already grown in their anatomy.

The breed of cows described in the above letter must be wonderful, and would be valuable here in Tuscola county when the cows go out on the clover in the spring and put on a balloon-like appearance. The Tuscola County Farmer will make further investigation of this and probably arrange to have a herd shipped up by express. But when I get them I shall experiment still further and take advantage of the way led by the California professor, who claims to be the inventor.

In these days of ballooning the biggest question is how to cut down the expenses of inflating balloons. My idea is to connect the valves on these cows to an air tank attached to their backs, and in that way catch all the gas that escapes. In the evening these small tanks will be emptied into a large tank and a pipe line from this large tank in the cow stable will be run to the big cities in the U. S., and sold at so much per cowful. Fifty cows on a big patch of clover will supply enough gas to make an independent fortune, besides other advantages that go with it.

I can put a small cylinder to the tank on each cow and with a fly wheel and milking attachment make each cow do her own milking, butter churning and feed grinding. When the cows have the tanks filled and get tired of walking they can step on a prepared truck, and put a belt on the hind shaft, get a steer to do the steering, toot their horns, and ride home from the clover field. It's simply wonderful! In the busy season we will run a belt to the cow stable (our power house) from the kitchen and grind the coffee, beat the eggs, turn up the lamp wigs, and everything that Lena is too lazy to do herself.

By breeding these cattle with the power attachment for a number of years, the calves will eventually be born with the full equipment, just as they now are with valves in California, and it will be only a matter of another twenty years when we farmers will be raising gas plants and power plants instead of Short Horns and Jerseys. Who says the farmer has no future? Old Mother Earth will soon take off her veil and smile at the Milky Way. The cow—The Wonderful Cow—commands recognition!

Kicked by a Mad Horse.
Samuel Birch, of Beetown, Wis., had a most narrow escape from losing his leg, as no doctor could heal the frightful sore that developed, but at last Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it completely. It's the greatest healer of ulcers, burns, boils, eczema, scalds, cuts, corns, cold-sores, bruises and piles on earth. Try it. 25c at L. I. Wood & Co.'s.

KINGSTON-NOVESTA TOWN LNE

Rev. Beadon of Deford was a Town Line caller Monday afternoon.

Dan Ashley is drawing his potatoes to Deford.

Mrs. Geo. Martin and daughter, Lillie, spent Saturday afternoon at Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Retherford spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cooper.

The Leek W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Lewis Retherford Thursday, April 20, at two o'clock. All are invited.

The Leek Ladies' Aid society met at the home of Mrs. R. A. Mosher this week Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cooper are moving to Cass City this week.

PINGREE.

Dugald Duncanson is now convalescent after a severe attack of the lagrippe.

The vacant house that was so long not occupied, known as part of the E. H. Harger estate, has been bought and moved to 3 miles east of Cass City by John Shagena.

Local option won out in Sanilac and Tuscola counties. Probability of war with Mexico, famine in China, fairly good spring weather. What is next up to the times?

John Vance has moved on to the farm he recently bought of C. E. Collins.

Thomas Colwell is drilling for a well on his farm just north of Pingree.

Albert Bearup has his house moved to where it belongs on his farm.

John Darling was numbered with the lagrippe patients but now recovered.

Wm. Flint met with a severe accident by cutting the left hand with an ax while under brushing recently. Quite a number of school children are "enjoying" severe colds. Some are reported to require the attendance of a physician.

The process of stoning the Howe farm has been undertaken. Five acres are nearly completed. But C. I. Cooke, the purchaser, will know more about stone, anon.

D. Graham of Cass City did work in dehorning cattle in this vicinity Wednesday.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach, consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Hill have moved into the M. Parent residence, corner Main and Oak streets.

Warren Clark and William A. Seeger were in Saginaw the first of the week on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall of Sandusky have moved to their recently purchased farm near McHugh.

Mrs. G. A. Striffler and son, Irvine, accompanied by the former's grandfather, Leonard Benkelman, left on Tuesday for Manitowoc, Wisconsin, to visit with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Campbell and family left Monday for their future home in Fortine, Montana. They will be missed by a large circle of friends who join in best wishes for their future success.

Ezra Mosher returned to his home at Owendale last week after being in Pleasant Home hospital, where his arm was amputated, the result of accidental shooting. He was in the hospital just ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. David Mattoon and Lee Skates of Lapeer county are guests at the home of Mr. Mattoon's sister, Mrs. H. Mattoon. David Mattoon has the distinction of being the first white child born in Lapeer county. He is now 77 years old and has resided on the same farm since he was seven years old.

Arthur Anthes and Miss Ethel McLean were married at Caro last Friday, April 7. Both are well known young people of this vicinity. They expect to make their future home on a farm one and one-half miles south and one-half mile west of Cass City. The Chronicle joins their friends in extending congratulations.

During the past two weeks there has been a splendid opportunity to see the vast difference between a gravelled road and any other kind, and the sooner we can get them all gravelled the better we will be off. Let everybody in this and surrounding townships boost for every inch of good road it is possible to add in this vicinity.

Rev. J. A. Schweitzer and Rev. and Mrs. F. Klump are attending the annual conference of the Evangelical church at Nashville which convenes this week. Rev. Gifted Idiots.

Idiots have been known whose memory for names and words was so retentive that they could repeat verbatim and indicate where the preacher blew his nose and coughed in delivering it. Dr. Moffat, the distinguished African missionary and father-in-law of Dr. Livingstone, once preached a long sermon to a crowd of negroes. Shortly after he had finished he saw a number of negroes gather about a simple minded young savage. He went to them and discovered that the savage was preaching his sermon over again. Not only was he reproducing the precise words, but imitating the manner and gestures of the white preacher.—London Tit-Bits.

Midnight in the Ozarks.

And yet sleepless Hiram Scranton, of Clay City, Ill., coughed and coughed. He was in the mountains on the advice of five doctors, who said he had consumption, but found no help in the climate, and started home. Hearing of Dr. King's New Discovery, he began to use it. "I believe it saved my life," he writes "for it made a new man of me, so that I can now do good work again." For all lung diseases, coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, whooping cough, hay fever, hemorrhages, hoarseness or quinsy, it's the best known remedy. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by L. I. Wood & Co.

FLORAL OFFERINGS FOR EASTER TIME

By KATHERINE BLADES.

It is hard to see why any holiday except Christmas should be observed by sending presents to friends, yet we seem to be generally falling into that custom, whether the day be New Year's, St. Valentine's, St. Patrick's or Easter. If the fashion spreads no doubt ere long we shall feel constrained to include the Fourth of July and election day in the list of gift sending occasions. Even good things may be run into the ground.

Simple presents for children afford them joy at Easter. For them are decorated eggs, boxes of sweets, sugar rabbits or papier mache ones stuffed with sweets. Grown people, in accordance with the exaggerated gift bestowing fashion, often send expensive jewelry and bric-a-brac to their friends at Easter. Why they should it is not easy to discover, for there is no reason in it.

For St. Patrick's day there were on sale pretty picture postcards in vivid green whereon to speed the compliments of the season. The same attractive idea might be much more generally adapted to Easter than has been done. Postcards in Easter colors—white, yellow and green—might well have appropriate resurrection and other symbols printed upon them for use at the joyous yet sacred spring festival. There, too, are artistically adorned Easter poems.

But flower gifts and floral decorations at Easter are the best of all.

In the warmer climes of Christendom there is an annual floral festival. Where flowers are abundant it comes just preceding Lent and is commonly called the flower carnival. In our country, except in California and now and then in a southern state, there is seldom a flower festival of any kind, although there might well be such even in the northerly part of the land in May and June.

It is customary to have shining lilies, "pure lilies of eternal peace," in our churches on Easter Sunday. But even there the resources of the Easter colors are not brilliantly brought out. Yellow, vivid, radiant, dazzling—is not that the color of the halo of the saints? Have not certain esoteric cults chosen it as the symbol of developing spirituality? And in the colder regions of this land the splendid daffodils—"Easter flowers," they are well named—are often the only ones in bloom outdoors at Easter time. They are the first fruits of the awakening power of the sun, herald of what is to come.

The flashing yellow daffodils are hardy as the hardiest. They endure any amount of freezing. Their dried bulbs may also be taken up from the home garden in the fall and potted in sandy earth and put in a dark place till about two months before Easter, then brought into the light and tended, and they will blossom gloriously at the sacred festival time.

Our Easter church decorations do not include half enough of the significant yellow in their color scheme. Neither at this time do we have half enough flowers of any kind in our homes. Easter cards have become tiresome. Expensive gifts are meaningless; besides, we cannot afford them. But flowers, the most beautiful of all the Creator's gifts except just a little child, are always there for us. They never weary us. Daffodils, lilies, snowdrops, white azaleas, costly or small in price, may be sent as remembrances to our dearest year by year, and they will not be bored therewith. Indeed, the same variety of flower from the same person to the same year after year becomes a badge of unfailing remembrance and significance.

Warning.

Harry C. Striffler has been elected captain of the high school base ball team. The boys are putting in their spare time practicing and the outlook for a winning team this season is exceptionally bright. Saturday Messrs. Winter, Harnish and Striffler will go to Caro to meet with representatives of other county schools to arrange the season's base ball schedule and for the annual field meet. A strong effort will be made to bring the field meet to Cass City. More locals on fifth page.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

(From Big Rapids Pioneer, March 30, 1911.)

At high noon Wednesday, at the home of the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson, in Mecosta township, took place the marriage of Herbert J. Maharg and Miss Jennie Carlson, and at the same time the marriage of Harry F. Johnson and Miss Dora Carlson.

The ceremony was witnessed by about 35 relatives and friends. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Frank Davis; the ceremony performed by Rev. Hugh Kennedy. The two couples stood under a beautiful arch of evergreens and white and pink carnations. The sisters were daintily gowned, Miss Jennie in white chiffon, and Miss Dora in white silk lawn. They carried white roses.

Following the ceremony a bountiful repast was served by the mother of the brides. The guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. James Maharg of Grant township, Huron county, and Mrs. Steesman of Morley.

Both the boys are former F. I. students. Mr. Maharg now has a fine farm in Huron county where, after a short wedding trip, he and his bride begin housekeeping. Mr. Johnson has a splendid position with the Grand Trunk railroad at Durand where they will make their home.

As the Chicken Sees It.

[Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.]

As the chicken sees it, if I had not been hatched, had never burst my shell, had never wandered forth and scratched for food my crow to swell, I should escape the woe of fate invited by my present state.

I'm now a chicken fat and fine. And since their Lenten fast My owners will expect to dine— A real feed at last— And in a stew I'm sure to be When I am carved for fricassee.

But if I had remained in shell I could have borne my yolk, In white imprisonment to dwell (This isn't any joke!) O time, turn back, I plead, I beg, And let me be an Easter egg! PATSY PULLET.

Easter Superstitions. Draw the egg of violet hue, Means friends fond and true. Pink will bring you luck, A lover full of pluck. Gladly take the egg of green, Good fortune soon will be seen. Wealth and happiness with the egg of gray, Keep it and hide safely away. The egg of blue Means lovers few. Do not touch the egg of red, If you do you'll never wed. A lover this very night If you draw the egg of white. You'll marry in another town If you choose the egg of brown.

SOME CURIOUS EASTER CUSTOMS

SOME of the old Easter customs are curiously barbaric, and even at the present time the observance of this particular festival is surrounded with more or less superstition, just enough to lend to it the charm of mystery.

Twentieth century maidens don bright yellow garters, secure in their belief that they will be engaged before the year ends, others give their tresses "a hundred strokes three times" with the brush while thinking intently of their hearts' desire, and who does not take good care to wear her new things on Easter day?

Among the earliest of Easter customs are the following:
At Queen's college, Oxford, a herring placed by the cook to simulate a man on horseback is set on a corn salad and brought to the table. This is supposed to represent a red herring riding away on horseback and is the last vestige of the once popular pageants of rejoicing.

It was erstwhile a habit in English towns for the boys, after the Easter service, to run into the street and snatch the buckles from the shoes of the girls whom they were able to catch.

Easter Monday, however, it was turned about, and the women chased the men. If the men refused to pay a sixpence or happened to wear boots the women tried to snatch their hats, and to recover a hat cost a sixpence.

In some old towns great cakes were brought to church and there divided among the young people.

A singular Easter custom was that of "lifting and weaving." A man sitting contentedly in his home was surprised by the servants and women of his household, who entered bearing a great armchair lined with white and decorated with ribbons and favors. The man was forced to sit in the chair and be lifted by the women, to each of whom he must give a sixpence. On a

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect and the third bottle put me on my feet." It clears the blood of uric acid. L. I. Wood & Co.

Hereditary. Oldbach—Do you believe in hereditary influences? Youngpop—Sure. Now, Lily baby is wakeful at night, and I fully believe it is just because my wife always insisted on sitting up and waiting for me to come home.—Philadelphia Record.

Constipation brings many ailments in its train and is the primary cause of much sickness. Keep your bowels regular madam, and you will escape many of the ailments to which women are subject. Constipation is a very simple thing, but like many simple things, it may lead to serious consequences. Nature often needs a little assistance and when Chamberlain's Tablets are given at the first indication, much distress and suffering may be avoided. Sold by all dealers.

Making Himself Clear. She—Do you know that lady in the far corner? He—In a way. I have a listening acquaintance with her. "I don't believe I understand you, sir." "She is my wife."—Smart Set.

day in Easter week, either Monday or Tuesday, the man lifted the women with similar attendant ceremonies.

Edward I. was lifted in his bed by his ladies and maids of honor, and a record shows the payment made by him to have been some $2,000 in six-pences.

In older days in England monks at Easter acted plays in churches, the favorite subject being the resurrection. Not only were the plays enacted in the churches on these festival days, but there was dancing, particularly in the French cathedrals.

Even the sun, it is said, dances on Easter day.

In Ireland great preparations were made for the last day of Lent. Holy Saturday, about 9 o'clock, a hen and a piece of bacon were put in the pot, and at 12 o'clock there were eating and much merrymaking. At 4 all arose to see the sun dance in honor of the resurrection.

A FREE Prescription ADVICE

From a physician of 52 years' experience in colleges, sanatoriums and general practice. Weak, nervous men, regain your strength and vigor.

So great was my sympathy for weak men in the early years of my experience that I have made it a special study, and formulated two prescriptions, one for men under 50 and one for men over 50 years of age. In my declining years, I want every man to have the benefit of my long years of careful study, research and long experience.

I am now 78 years old and as strong and vigorous as at 40 and the rest of my life will be spent in aiding suffering mankind. I realize that my time is short, but will do all in my power to aid men and women who are helpless and seeking relief. I know there has been a great many disappointed when they thought relief in their grasp, but let me send you my free prescription and booklet of private lectures to men which is the result of study since I began lecturing to student classes, way back in '71. Since that time I have cured many cases that are now pleased to recommend me.

YOU NEED AID. Let me help you to regain your former standing among men. In short, let me assist you to be yourself once more.

If you are suffering from falling memory, lame back or weakened manhood or nervous difficulties, LET ME SEND YOU A RECIPE in a plain sealed envelope that you can use in your own home. I am confident that you will thank me every day in your life after you have tested it for yourself. Take advantage of this offer NOW before it is too late. Address me personally.
