A FIVE-NUMBER LECTURE COURSE

WOMAN'S STUDY CLUB WILL AGAIN HAVE CHARGE.

This Season's Course Promises to be Better One Without Increase in Price of Tickets.

Last season, the Woman's Study club conducted the lecture course very successfully, and this for the first time in several years, was the only course in which the receipts exceeded the expenditures to an amount worth mentioning.

The success of their efforts last season has stimulated the ladies to a still greater task and they have arranged for a better and more costly lecture course for this fall and winter, without an increase in the price of the tickets.

Another feature of the course of special interest to the business men is that there are no dates which come on Saturday night.

The first number is a lecture on Oct. 30 by Albert E. Wiggam. The Kaffir Boys Choir are next on Nov. 27. Dec. 19 the Fisher-Shipp Co. Orchestra will furnish the evening's entertainment. On Jan. 12, Sarah Willmer, reader, who pleased lecture course patrons in "The Sign of the Cross" last year will appear and the last number is a lecture on Apr. 11 by Roland Nichols.

DEFORD RURAL CARRIER BREAKS TWO BONES IN LEG

Howard Malcolm Injured When He Collides With Wagon While Riding Motor Cycle.

Howard Malcolm, a rural carrier of Deford, was quite seriously injured Friday afternoon when he ran into a wagon with his motor cycle while returning from delivering mail.

The accident happened while Malcolm was coming into Deford from the west. He attempted to turn out for a wagon which was crossing the road and was not aware that the wagon reach extended some distance beyond the wagon box. He struck the reach and was thrown from his machine. Two bones of one of his legs were broken and he received injuries to his back and elbow. He was reported by the attending physician Wednesday evening as recovering steadily from his injuries. The motor cycle was slightly damaged.

State Board of Health Orders All Food Purveyors to Keep Their Wares Screened.

Dr. D. P. Deming, local health officer, requests the Chronicle to call attention to the following orders of the state board of health:

"Under a new ruling of the state dairy and food department, all grocers, bakers and dealers in fruit must exercise more care than ever covering vegetables, fruit and other foods they display. Hereafter none of it can be exposed to dirt and flies or unsanitary conditions.

"This action is based on section 4978 of the compiled laws of Michigan amended in 1905. The law gives the department general supervision over all food products in-so-far as cleanliness and sanitation are concerned. During the past few weeks dairy and food inspectors have been giving attention to conditions under which food is displayed, sold and delivered. For the first time they have made a careful study of the subject. The ruling is the result.

"It means bakers must carry their bread about in covered baskets or trays. Neither cookies nor meats can be placed where flies can feast. Grocers and fruit dealers cannot keep fruit in places where it will be unclean."

LITTLE GIRL KILLED WHEN KICKED BY HORSE

(By our Ubyly correspondent).

A sad and fatal accident occurred Friday on the farm of Herbert Hebnar near Ubyly. While their little daughter, aged five years, was out in the yard, she was kicked in the head by one of the horses.

Mr. Hebnar noticed the little girl lying on the ground a few minutes after and went to see what the trouble might be, and found her dead. Though no one saw the accident, it was plainly seen that the child's temple had been struck by the hoof of the horse.

IN BUSINESS IN CASS CITY 29 YEARS

J. D. CROSBY ONE OF THE PIONEER MERCHANTS.

Progress of the Years Have Not Surpassed the Firm's Advancement.

Business methods of 29 years ago would not be practical or profitable at the present time, neither would the stocks carried a quarter century ago prove adequate to the wants of the public today. It is just 29 years ago that the business conducted by J. D. Crosby & Son was started, but the progress of the years have not surpassed the progressiveness of this firm's methods. In fact, this business institution has given Cass City a wide reputation as a trading point and every business venture, large and small, shares in the profits resultant from such advertisement.

It was in 1882 that the invincible and only "Jim" Crosby dropped into town from Wayne, Mich. Jim was a hustler then and has been ever since. In fact you couldn't lose him, no matter how severe the shuffle. Directly on his arrival, he commenced the erection of a neat and substantial two-story brick block on the south side of Main St. and opened an exclusive boot and shoe store in the west side of the building.

He at once manifested an enterprising spirit and became interested in the advancement of the town, so that he was elected a member of the village council in the following year. For several terms he served in that capacity and also filled other positions of trust, and performed well his part towards bringing the town into prominence.

In 1893 he decided to add clothing and gents' furnishings to his shoe stock and after that time the entire store was occupied by his stock. By 1899, business had so increased that the floor space again became too small and a 25-foot addition, the entire width of the store building was added.

In 1901, Roy B. Crosby engaged in the business with his father, and since that time the firm name has been J. D. Crosby & Son. A large and well selected stock has always been carried and this with the obliging and accommodating manner of the proprietors and the salesmen won a large patronage.

SCHENCK-MAXWELL NUPTIALS AT THE SOO

Aura Eleanor, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Schenck of Cass City, Married Aug. 30.

(From Sault Ste. Marie News).

Miss Aura Eleanor Schenck and William Eugene Maxwell were married Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Schenck, 807 Minneapolis street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Kennedy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The bride was given away by her brother, J. D. Schenck. The ring ceremony was used, little Miss Aletha Schenck, a niece of the bride, acting as ring bearer. Miss Myrtle Maxwell, sister of the groom, presided at the piano and rendered the wedding march.

The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of pale Nile green satin trimmed in imported lace and she carried a bouquet of white roses. After the ceremony a dainty four-course luncheon was served. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell left immediately for the Shallows, where they will occupy the Stevens cottage for a few days. They will reside at 420 Dawson street. Mrs. Maxwell has been employed at the Leader in the altering department for about six years and is possessed of a large circle of warm friends, both in a business and social way. Mr. Maxwell holds the responsible position of superintendent of the hardware department of the Pittsburg Steamship company's local supply station and is a highly respected young man.

JOKER FOUND IN THE NEW GAME LAWS

Dogs Cannot Be Used in Hunting Partridges in the Deer Counties.

One provision of the new game laws which will be a surprise to hunters, in effect makes it illegal to hunt partridges with dogs, at least in the deer counties. Section 17 of Act No. 275 says, "No person or persons shall make use of a dog in hunting, killing or pursuing deer; the presence of a dog in the woods, hunting camp, logging camp or a clubhouse during the deer hunting season, shall be prima facie evidence of its illegal use. Any dog pursuing, killing or following upon the track of a deer is hereby declared to be a public nuisance and may be killed at such time by any person without criminal or civil liability."

The force of the above is not apparent until one recalls that the open season for deer and partridge is the same, from Oct. 15 to Nov. 30. If a dog in the woods during deer season is prima facie evidence of the animal's being used to hunt deer, it is difficult to see how partridges can be hunted with dogs. Probably this unfortunate feature of the new game laws was an oversight on the part of the legislature, but the law appears to be clear, and anyone who takes a dog into the woods this fall to hunt partridges does so at peril of arrest for illegal deer hunting.

YOUNGEST SOLDIER IN "OLD THIRTEENTH"

A. B. PARMALEE ENTERED SERVICE WHEN 14 YEARS OLD.

"Old Thirteenth" Made Guard of Honor at National G. A. R. Encampment.

The "Old Thirteenth" of New York was the first regiment to leave Rochester, N. Y., at the beginning of the Civil War. A. B. Parmalee of this city was a member of the "Old Thirteenth," entering the service at the age of 14 years. He and another lad held the honors of being the youngest soldiers in their regiment.

Mr. Parmalee has often wondered since the war closed which one of the two was the younger, and while in Rochester attending the national G. A. R. encampment recently, he came across the boy soldier of '61. While discussing old times with one another it was learned that Mr. Parmalee was the younger by exactly 21 days.

The "Old Thirteenth" was made the guard of honor of the convention hall at the Rochester encampment. The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle in an editorial says:

"The historian who writes the history of the great national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Rochester in this year 1911 will not lack for material of thrilling interest for the floodgates of memory were opened when the gray-haired veterans surrounded the camp-fires. One incident in connection with the first regiment to leave Rochester for the front is a case in point.

"HAPPY HAS-BEENS"

Ex-Lady Bees Organized Society on Tuesday Afternoon.

At the time of the increase in assessments in the Lady Maccabee fraternity over a year ago, quite a number of the members of the local hive withdrew from the order. A few days ago, the ex-bees planned a picnic for Tuesday in Orr's woods, but the rainy weather prevented them meeting there.

On the invitation of Mrs. M. L. Gulick, for many years the finance keeper of Hazel Hive, the ladies met at her home on Houghton St. east and spent the day. A pot luck spread was served at 1:00 p. m. and another at five o'clock, the ladies having brought an abundance of good things consisting of cabbage and potato salads, sandwiches, pickles, cake, cookies, baked beans, pies, etc.

The afternoon was spent in a social way and also in organizing the "Happy Has-Beens." The society chose Mrs. J. P. Hendrick as president and Mrs. A. Schmidt as vice president. They declared themselves irrevocably opposed to assessments in their order and also to a per capita tax and passed resolutions which permit any "Has-Been" eligible to become a member.

A big picnic in the woods is planned before cold weather.

BRANCHES IN ALL THE PRINCIPAL CITIES

CASS CITY AND GOOD ROADS.

The community that desires prosperity and home trade must see to it that all of the possible avenues are open and in first-class working condition. Every good road leading into a town means just that many more dollars profit to every farmer and business man.

Cass City early realized that there is but little else so fundamentally necessary to the individual welfare of each citizen as good highways. And in the campaign for good roads, the village found a hearty response with the farmers of the community. Elkland township, in which the village is situated, was the first township in the state to complete a mile of state road under the present state reward system. Each year since that time two miles of road have been improved under the reward law, and the indications point that this practice will be continued indefinitely.

Greenleaf, Elmwood and other townships have since joined in the movement and the good work grows more extensive each year. The farmer forms the first link in the long chain of endeavors that go to make up the life of today. His crops feed the people of the nation and if he fails to get those crops to market the result is a body blow to everyone who is dependent upon food, and no one escapes that classification. If the roads are bad the farmer can not get his produce to market before the prices have risen to an unbearable point, and he is not the one who profits by such a forced raise. The bad roads drag down his horses until they are mere shadows, and good horseflesh costs money. His wagons are broken and stalled, their contents are spoiled. That is the story which a few muddy stretches, a chaos of ruts, and the shifting sands of a bad road tell. The farmer can not exist and carry on a profitable business unless the roads from his farm to his shipping point are made worthy of the use he gives them annually.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB.

Cass City is in need of an active business men's club and steps should be taken at once towards its organization. Other municipalities are profiting by such organizations and it seems that Cass City would be no exception if everybody would boost and boost at the same time.

If things have been stormy and cloudy during the day, don't let your actions around home be a barometer of that fact. Your wife probably has encountered a few squalls herself during that time.

On being pressed for information regarding the watch, Miss Reeper finally gave over a pawn ticket and by the payment of the balance due the officers obtained it minus the chain. They also secured a dress which the young lady was wearing at the time of her arrest, and a bracelet. The other articles of jewelry have not been located yet, the prisoner refusing absolutely to disclose their whereabouts. She was taken by sheriff Hanna to Caro and is there awaiting developments.—Vassar Times.

A Great Advantage to Working Men
J. A. Maple, 125 S. 7th St., Steubenville, O., says: "For years I suffered from weak kidneys and a severe bladder trouble. I learned of Foley Kidney Pills and their wonderful cures so I began taking them and sure enough I had as good results as any I heard about. My backache left me and to one of my business, expressman, that alone is a great advantage. My kidneys acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. It is now a pleasure to work where it used to be a misery. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me and have my highest praise." L. I. Wood & Co.

TOMATOES AND HOW TO SERVE.

Tomatoes contain an acid which is valuable in the body functions. Served fresh alone or in combination they are especially wholesome, and sliced served with cream and sugar they rival the favorite peaches and cream.

Broiled tomatoes are an acceptable vegetable. Cut the tomatoes in halves, remove the seeds and tough portion, sprinkle with pepper, salt and fine bread crumbs and broil five minutes. Slip on a hot platter, dot with butter, and place in the oven five minutes. Serve hot.

Escalloped Tomato.—Rub a baking dish with a cut clove of garlic, lay in sliced tomatoes and sprinkle with cubes of bread that have been fried in butter. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and bits of butter.

Sautéed tomatoes are sliced, seasoned and dipped in egg and crumbs and fried in a little butter.

Stuffed Tomatoes.—Cut a smooth slice from the stem end of the tomato, leaving them unpeeled, scoop out the pulp, mix with an equal quantity of cooked rice, macaroni or bread crumbs. Season with salt, butter and pepper and a few drops of onion juice. Refill the tomato shells and cover the tops with the slices removed. Bake half an hour.

Another nice way to stuff tomatoes, and this dish is nice for breakfast or luncheon, is to prepare as above and drop an egg in each shell, place in the oven and bake until the egg is firm. Dot with butter, season with pepper and salt and serve hot.

Tomato Omelet.—Prepare an omelet and just before folding it, spread with a tomato puree, prepared by stewing a cup of tomato, season well and put through a sieve.

Tomatoes a la Italienne.—Mince a clove of garlic, a green pepper and an onion. Fry brown in olive oil. Add a pint of tomatoes and season highly with salt and pepper. Add a heaping teaspoonful of beef extract. Cook slowly until the mixture is thick. Spread on slices of toast and put a poached egg on each.

It Beats the World to cure Rheumatism

Aching and enfeebled muscles should remind you of slowness of tissue repair. Eruptions of the skin and catarrh of the mucous membranes show diminished nerve power in the tissues.

In health or disease there is need of an internal bath. This is best obtained by drinking a glass of pure water with one or two teaspoonfuls of San-Jak 30 to 60 minutes before breakfast, washing the blood. This passes quickly from the stomach and stimulates the bowels to increased peristalsis, overcoming constipation and its attendant ills. It is quickly absorbed and entering the blood stream bathes the cells of the liver and heart, then passes to the brain and washes out the cobwebs and awakens to new life every cell in the body.

San-Jak dilutes theropy secretions and dissolves all abnormal crystalline substances that may be in the blood and urine. SAN-JAK greatly promotes elimination, creates downward peristalsis, stimulates a flow of digestive juices. It dissolves the sticky mucus in the mouth and throat, allowing the membranes to be bathed in their natural secretions. San-Jak is the great medium of exchange in the body, by enabling the kidneys to absorb and eliminate alkaline sulphates which are the products of intestinal decomposition and in renal weakness or the real cause of Bright's disease.

Man does not wear out like a piece of machinery by constant disintegration for he is self renewing. When he loses his ability to self renew or fails in process of making young blood, the nerve tissue is not sufficiently nourished and his strength and health fail.

SAN-JAK is the only medicine which will enable you to keep a perfect balance between elimination and renewal of the body. Decay of the body at any time of life is unnatural. Permanent waste of the system can be avoided by the use of SAN-JAK.

Rheumatism, catarrh and bladder trouble, the source of trouble to humanity, is due to a too high or low specific gravity which may be regulated to normal by taking SAN-JAK. Swelling under the eyes, grayish white or waxy color of the skin denotes granular disease of the kidneys. The cure is SAN-JAK.

BIG EXPOSITION AND LAND SHOW

GROWTH OF IDEAS, RESOURCES, ASSETS AND CAPITAL SHOWN IN DETAIL BY GROUPS OF LIVE EXHIBITS.

The fourth event of the Saginaw Industrial Exposition promises to eclipse all past efforts. The big Auditorium will be devoted this year exclusively to products made in Saginaw, and to the means and machinery of their manufacture. There are comparatively few people who could name the various things made here, and fewer still who could identify the means by which they are produced. There is nothing so attractive as a live exhibit, one in which some mechanical process is shown. This is the big feature of the shows in the eastern states and their attendance is enormous. On the average it is far more interesting and attractive to patrons of an Exposition to see a machine knitting stockings than to see a display of the finished product. The average person would rather see the people from the Blind Institute making brooms or weaving rugs than to merely look at a pile of rugs or a bundle of brooms. A newspaper is always an object of interest, but when the public can see, as they did last year at the News Exhibit, a linotype in actual operation, there is far greater curiosity. Nearly everybody has seen a wood split pulley, but not one in a hundred has seen the sawed cants, the assembling and fastening with consummate skill, the placing of the of red and gold braid, would quite naturally attract, judged entirely from their selected music and their interpretation, they quite reach and surpass the standards set for a military band. The program included the most popular of classical music. There is no one who does not like the march from "Tannhauser," which opened the program yesterday afternoon, and the applause showed that the vigorous interpretation it received, was exactly what the audience wanted to hear. There are bands and bands, but never before has the stage been adorned with a group of musicians who could compare in personal charm with the instrumentalists who make up the NaVassar Ladies' Band. This remarkable women's collection of musical artists play, with fidelity and exquisite expression, all the great works of Wagner, Bach, Puccini, Verdi, Rossini, the Bellinis, Mascagni, Leon Cavallo, and a host of American composers.

AN UNIQUE OFFERING.

The combined Industrial Exposition and Land Show to be given at the Auditorium this year will present many new features. The Exposition will itself be an almost new institution. The exhibits will be entirely of bushing, and the other equally as skillful operations necessary to produce the finished article. And there can be no doubt that there are thousands who would like to see this and similar processes. The point is that it would be impossible to permit some forty thousand or fifty thousand people to visit the factory where things are made, but a model in working order placed at the Exposition can be seen in ten days by that multitude. Hence it was a wise decision of the Exposition to this year limit the display to Saginaw manufacturers. The attractions will also be of a different order and will be so compelling that the patrons will want to linger and probably make a second or third visit. The Land Show will also be an event of magnitude and as it will be the first Michigan affair of its kind it promises to be a potent point of interest.

LADIES' BAND BIG FEATURE AT SAGINAW EXPOSITION.

The NaVassar Band, of forty young women, tickles the ears of its audiences with easy airs, stirs their blood with enthusiastic rhythm, clogs their sense with time, tune and jingle, and arouses them from the concert lethargy of many summer-time audiences, with original and picturesque devices.

Beautiful stage setting of the great NaVassar Band.

The band carries an electrician, and while the curtains are closed about the stage, this man makes the arrangements for the many novelties the band employs to surprise and amuse. Sometimes these devices are spectacular, sometimes wholly humorous, but whatever they may be, they "get" the audience every time.

The NaVassar Ladies' Band will prove a musical sensation. The band comprises 40 young ladies, each a thorough musician, and as perfect an ensemble of musical genius as was ever arrayed in the concert field.

Aside from their success in novelties, and aside from the notice that a band so unusual, composed entirely of the gentle sex, and so picturesque in natty white uniforms with dashes

Saginaw manufacture, and many of them will show the process of making which is the most interesting part of an exposition. Then the arrangement of the booths and the spaces is entirely different and presents a more pleasing and harmonious appearance than heretofore. In addition to this the exhibits are to be grouped according to relation and there will thus be presented an ensemble never before attempted in a display of this kind. The Land show will be the first of its kind and will be a decided departure from anything ever attempted for Saginaw. There will be of course the display of farm products but they will be so arranged as to appeal to the eye of those whose acquaintance with the soil is rather remote. There will be also a complete display of all the pests that make the life of the farmer interesting, together with the germ cultures which infect plant and animal life, together with the approved methods of treating them. Most of these will be explained by competent men from the Michigan Agricultural College and these lectures will in themselves be a highly valuable feature. There will also be displayed the many appliances upon which the modern farmer depends to derive the most benefit and profit from the soil. It is also planned to have an interesting dairy exhibit, and a fine display of honey in the various

the Ayrshire or Jersey breeds; at least that is the opinion of those who have had large experience. The average cows weigh from 1,200 to 1,500 pounds, while the bulls are much heavier.

But the Holstein has many other valuable qualities. The heifers become milk producers at from twenty-four to thirty months. They are excellent cows to use where soiling is practiced. They are very quiet in disposition, make relatively large gains and do not get hard when grown for meat. When crossed upon common animals their propensity is very marked, resulting in improvement of the ordinary stock. For a number of years Holsteins were not thoroughly understood in many parts of the middle west and were discriminated against. Their strong points, however, are so prominent and important that they at last prevailed, and their good qualities are now recognized everywhere.

The Farm Horse's Feed.

There are some principles in feeding horses that should be understood. The horse's stomach is small, and he should not be required to get his nutriment from such coarse roughage as straw when at work. There is no better feed for the working horse than ground oats and corn varied with whole grain sometimes and a bran mash occasionally. The grain ration should be adapted to the roughage, feeding more oats, timothy and bran with timothy hay and more corn with clover and alfalfa. A heavy team doing hard work with timothy hay for roughage should have twelve to fifteen pounds of grain per day in three feeds and perhaps ten pounds of hay at each feed fed with the grain and possibly a little more hay at night.

Pasturing Sheep.

Sheep eat a little more than steers in comparison with their weight. Ten 100 pound sheep require about as much pasture as a 1,200 pound steer. It is not necessary to count on the lambs requiring much pasture at first, but toward the end of the summer a spring lamb eats about as much grass as an old ewe.

DAIRY WISDOM.

Winter butter fat prices are what make fat milk checks. If you would raise healthy, vigorous calves you must keep the calf pails clean all the time. Hot water and sunshine are two of the best cleansers for the dairy utensils that can be found anywhere.

The thermometer must be used as regularly in the dairy during the summer as during the winter. The dairy cow is worth more than the best steer whatever way you look at her.

Butter made in a sanitary dairy is always easier to keep than that which is made under poor conditions.

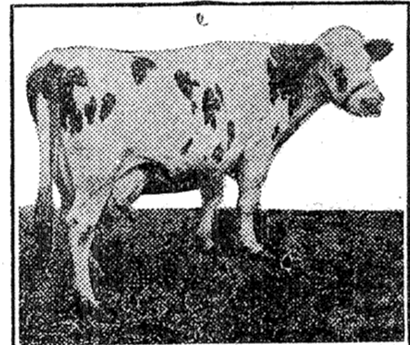

GREAT MILK PRODUCERS.

Holstein Cattle Possess Many Valuable Qualities.

The Holstein breed of dairy cattle, so far as the production of milk is concerned, is without a rival in quantity, but the milk does not average as high in butter fat, although there are some exceptions, says the American Agriculturist. The milk is excellent for cheese or buttermaking and is considered especially valuable for sale as milk in cities. It develops young animals rapidly, being rich in the constituents that go to form bone and muscle and develops tissue.

Holsteins are especially adapted to farm and dairy conditions in the middle west. They have large, fleshy frames and do particularly well on the level prairies of the middle west. They thrive on grain and forage crops under those conditions. They take care of themselves and do not require pampering and for this reason are well suited to commercial purposes. While other breeds do just as well for butter production, the Holsteins, because of the large quantity of milk produced, have captured many records for total amount of butter fat, but in addition to the butter fat the large quantities of skim milk can be turned to excellent account.

Holstein steers, while not as satisfactory for beef as some of the strictly meat beef breeds, fatten quite readily and furnish a very high grade of beef. They can therefore be utilized to much better advantage than the steers of the Ayrshire or Jersey breeds; at least that is the opinion of those who have had large experience. The average cows weigh from 1,200 to 1,500 pounds, while the bulls are much heavier.

In sections where milk is produced for city trade the Holstein cow comes pretty near being the leader. She gives a large quantity of moderately rich milk. She is healthy, rugged, vigorous and capable of utilizing large quantities of feed. The breed is a very old one. No one knows just where it originated. Of course the breed was developed to its perfection in northern Holland, and for hundreds of years Holland has been famed for its dairy products.

Regardless of What it Costs Us

We Keep Faith With Our Customers

WE have rather peculiar ideas about running a retail store. We believe that the merchant who looks out for his customers' interests will never have to worry about his own interests. Business success, like happiness, comes to the average man INDIRECTLY. The fellow who goes about seeking happiness is the most unfortunate individual imaginable; the man who does his duty from day to day and tries to make others contented finds true happiness. And so it is in business. We believe and always have believed, that by serving your interests we shall in the end serve our own best interests.

Goods Must Be As Represented

Every article we sell is exactly as we represent it to be. There is no deviation from this rule. A child can buy here with the same assurance that a jewelry expert would have of getting full value for his money. If we tell you a locket is solid gold, you may depend up it that it is solid gold; if we sell you a watch, you can depend upon its quality; if your watch needs regulating and nothing more, you will never be charged for a repair bill.

Money Back? Certainly!

If you purchase an article here that you do not wish to keep, you have your choice of exchanging it for other goods or for cash. We are not only willing to make cash refunds, but anxious to do so, when a customer asks it.

Goods Sold On Approval

When visitors are undecided as to choice, we gladly allow them to take the goods home on approval and thus let their friends help them make suggestions.

Bargains Are Bargains Here

Whenever you see an article advertised by this store as a bargain, it is a bargain. Only goods sold at reduced prices are advertised as bargains.

Please remember that. When you see an announcement of a Special Sale at this store, it means we have something special to sell—either an ordinary article at a reduced price or an extra quality at the price of the ordinary.

Jewelry Cleaned and Watches Regulated Free

If you have gems or jewels that need cleaning and polishing, bring them in and we will be glad to do the work free. If your watch is irregular in its time-keeping habits, we shall be glad to regulate it and no fee will be asked.

We Want Visitors As Well As Customers

We now have a most complete and interesting display of Jewelry, Watches, China, Cut Glass, Etc. Come in and see these beautiful creations. Don't feel obligated to wait until you are ready to buy. Come now. Today or tomorrow. And bring your friends along. We like to have visitors.

Everybody Knows Something About Lumber Values

These days, but the homebuilder who listens to the cry of "wait until lumber is cheaper" is not apt to be any nearer his goal on his deathbed than he is today. The Government recommends Timber Conservation and this alone is proof that lumber has a fixed value.

THE "DICK TO DICK" LETTER.

Young Lady Who Discovered It Has Stirred Hornets' Nest.

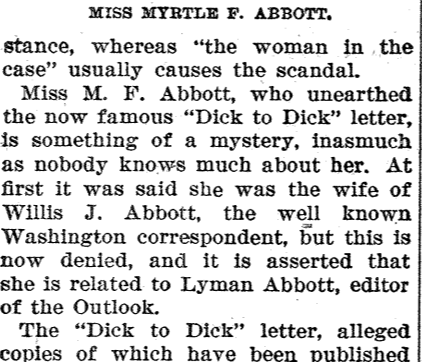

The latest development in the interior department reminds one of the old days under the Ballinger regime, when investigations, charges and countercharges were humming from Alaska to Washington.

There is a woman in the case, but she discovered the scandal in this instance, whereas "the woman in the case" usually causes the scandal.

Miss M. F. Abbott, who unearthed the now famous "Dick to Dick" letter, is something of a mystery, inasmuch as nobody knows much about her. At first it was said she was the wife of Willis J. Abbott, the well known Washington correspondent, but this is now denied, and it is asserted that she is related to Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook.

The "Dick to Dick" letter, alleged copies of which have been published in many newspapers, was from Richard S. Ryan, representing a financial syndicate, to Richard A. Ballinger, former secretary of the interior. Walter Fisher, Ballinger's successor, denies that any such letter is on the files. The letter concerned the control of land along Controller bay, Alaska, and proposed to call in Charles P. Taft to influence his brother, the president.

Miss Abbott claims to have gained this information as a newspaper woman and magazine writer, in which capacity she had access to the files.

TWO DEEP SEA TREASURES.

Head Picked Up In Ocean Near Cape Town—Elephant Seal.

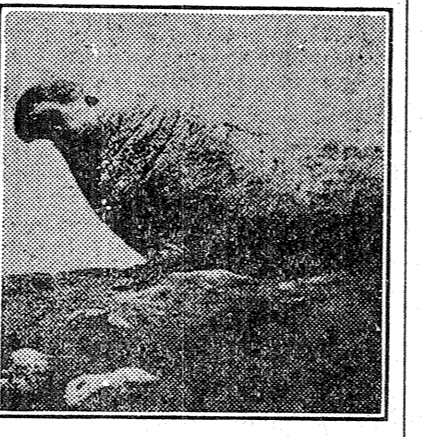

The remarkable head shown in one of the accompanying photographs was picked up in the ocean near Cape Town and is now in the New York aquarium. It has not been manipulated in any way. The ragged outline at the back of the head shows where it was severed from the body. The lines on the lower part of the face are natural and are the outlines of the maxillary and other bones of the jaws. The nose has shrunk somewhat in drying. In life the resemblance to the human face was even more striking. The conical front teeth are shown in the photograph; the lateral teeth are very strong and evidently for the purpose of crushing shells. There are two rows in the lower jaw. The head is a puzzle to fish experts.

The New York aquarium also has on exhibition a small herd of elephant seals, which are rarely seen in captivity. The accompanying photograph was secured by Dr. Charles H. Townsend, who is now in charge of a scientific expedition on the steamship Albatross in the interest of the New York Zoological society and the New York aquarium and who captured the seals on Guadalupe island, 250 miles off the southern coast of the Argentine Republic. The photograph of the adult male shown here is especially interesting, as it portrays the remarkable elephant-like proboscis, a characteristic of the male only, which can be expanded at will.

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS

Physicians Lack Knowledge.

By GEORGE W. COTTIS.

We may provide all the restriction we wish, we may provide hospitals and enact laws, but we are making bricks without straw unless we provide for fundamental, early diagnosis. I am not afraid to say that 75 per cent of the practicing physicians in New York today are unable to diagnose incipient tuberculosis, that a majority of them do not correctly diagnose even quite advanced cases and that some do not make a proper diagnosis even after death. So it will be a step in advance if we can procure expert physicians to examine patients in each county without expense. And if we can have early diagnosis by these expert physicians, these expert diagnosticians, the smaller counties of the state will be greatly benefited, for they are sadly in need of such assistance.

A Bit of Savage Warfare.

One of the amenities of savage warfare is mentioned in Major C. G. Bruce's "Twenty Years in the Himalaya." In the old days, when the two tribes were at war, the Hunza men caught the Nagryris at a disadvantage, beat them and took prisoner nearly the whole of their force. Now, they did not want to keep them prisoners and feed them—they had scarcely enough food for themselves—nor did they want to make an end of them, so they just stripped them of arms and clothing and sent them home absolutely in a state of nature. This was considered far more shameful to the Nagryris than if they had all been killed in the fight.

Schroon Lake.

Schroon lake owes its name to an Adirondack Indian expression meaning "a daughter of the mountain."

THE "ALMOST" CLASS.

The world is full of people who are almost successful. We meet every day people who are almost something, but just a little short of it. If these people undertake anything they never quite finish it; they never quite learn a trade or profession; they always manage to stop just short of success. "Almost" is a dangerous word. It has tripped up many a man who might have been successful if he had had grit enough to go a little further, to hold on a little longer.

Religion of Ancient Rome.

The religion of the old Romans was not a religion at all—it was patriotism. In the republic—or in its better days, at least—the love of country was the all dominating feeling. Rome was all. To live for it, to die for it, to sacrifice on behalf of its welfare the most sacred possessions of life, was the Roman's religion. Decius, Regulus and the rest of the worthies who cheerfully sacrificed themselves upon the altar of their country were the Roman "saints." To do all for the state, and having done all, to die for it if necessary, without any thought of future reward for the same—that was the religion of the men who made Rome the capital of the world.—New York American.

WOODROW WILSON

THE PROBABLE NOMINEE OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

One of our good Democrat friends and patrons asks us to publish the following article taken from the Philadelphia North American and as it is good reading matter, we are pleased to do so.

TRUE AMERICANISM.

We wish that every right-minded American citizen could read the series of public utterances made by Governor Woodrow Wilson during the few months that have passed since he won his single-handed victory for popular government in regenerated New Jersey's memorable session of the State Legislature.

Entirely apart from politics, present and future, we count it no exaggeration to declare our opinion that no other American has approached more nearly to Jefferson and Lincoln in wonderful facility of stating the problems and their solutions which touch real American-ism from every angle.

The people will hear much privilege inspired censure of Woodrow Wilson as a demagogue, an ambitious self-seeker and all the like worn-out methods of attack, unvaried from the days of the Gracchi to those of Roosevelt and La Follette, whenever a formidable advocate of popular aspirations has risen.

In advance of certain misrepresentations we have taken the liberty of depicting Woodrow Wilson the man and his ideals and purpose in his own words. We have endeavored to do this by grouping scattered extracts from fifteen of his public addresses, as follows:

"We, the people have not free access enough to our own agents or direct enough control over them. There are barriers to break down and processes to simplify, which we liberals believe we know how to get at. We mean, by one change or another, to make our government genuinely popular and representative again.

"We are cutting away anomalies, not institutions. We are clearing away the jungle and letting in the pure light and air, not destroying the wholesome forest or creating waste places where there was productive growth.

"Such tasks are typically American. It has always been our privilege and our happy capacity to show how they can be done—without revolution, without strife or hatred or injustice, without the necessity of drawing, in De Tocqueville's memorable phrase, 'a single tear or a single drop of blood from mankind.'

"The main object of what we are attempting, both in state and nation, is to establish a close connection, a very sensitive connection, between the people and their governments, both in the states and in the nation, in order that we may restore in such wise as will satisfy us again the liberty and the opportunity in whose interests our governments were conceived.

"But some men put a false interpretation upon this. There is a certain unreasonable fear in the air, as if the process we have been going through were, in some degree, vindictive; as if there had been bitter feeling in it and the intention to discredit those who opposed it.

"The crash of political organizations has been only the crash of those that did not comprehend, but resisted when there was no right reason for resisting, and forgot that their very reason for being was that they might serve opinion and the movements of the people's will. If any systems of political practice have collapsed, only those have collapsed which were unsuitable to the objects which they professed to serve.

"We are no longer in the temper of attack. We are ready for remedy and adjustment, and begin to see where to begin and in what direction to move. A promise of statesmanship follows a threat of revolution. There can be no mistaking this. Programs are taking the place of philippics; and programs can be soberly exercised and denunciations cannot be.

"We look beneath the label to the man and his thought. Whichever party proves most fit to conceive and put through a wise progressive program will become the liberal party of the nation. Tories will be welcome to resort to the other and enjoy the privilege of minority.

"What is necessary in order to rectify the whole mass of business of this kind (the trusts) is that those who control it should entirely change their point of view. They are trustees, not masters, of private property, not only because their power is derived from a multitude of men, but also because in its investments it affects a multitude of men. It determines the development or decay of communities. It is the means of lifting or depressing the life of the whole country. They must regard themselves as representatives of a public power. There can be no reasonable jealousy of public regulation in such matters, because the opportunities of all men are affected.

"It should be recognized as a fundamental principle of our law dealing with corporations that, though we call them artificial persons, the only persons we are really going to deal with in imposing penalties of the law upon them are the persons who constitute their directors and officers.

"We ought by this time to have seen the futility—I might even say the silliness—of trying to punish illegal action by penalizing corporations as such. Fines punish the stockholder; forfeiture of charter and of the franchise which they are exercising paralyzes industry and confuses business.

"Men do not cease to be individuals by becoming the officers of corporations. The responsibility for violating the law, or for neglecting public interests, ought to fall upon them as individuals.

"Let us clearly recognize and everywhere proclaim that successful business and just politics are not antagonistic. The business of society is co-operation, not warfare and antagonism. If everybody will come with clean hands and a pure purpose into the common game of life, there need be no clash or hurtful rivalry. It is only when a part tries to control and dominate the whole that society must rise in its might and restore the proper balance.

"Money is at the bottom of all misrepresentations. Not money put into hands—not bribes. That's old-fashioned and crude. But it is accomplished by warning men that if they do not do as they are told they can not get money for their business. If they do not do as they are told, they can't get accommodations at the bank. The man who does not do as he is told is not invited to places; he becomes not only a political but a social outcast.

"What is called radicalism in our day is derived from the Latin word which means a root. It means simply going to the root of things. It means not being contented with merely trimming the branches off the tree, but going to the rot of it, renewing and enriching the soil and making good those things from which the whole tree is drawn.

The radical of our time takes leave to open his eyes wide and see leave to open his eyes wide and see things as they are. In order to be rational, you must see all of the facts, and a reasonable radical is the only kind worth talking to. To be an unreasonable radical is just as bad as to be an unreasonable reactionary. The whole thing is a process of insight.

"It must not be a process of revenge, of class hatred, or waiting to get back at other men for this or that. You don't cure one wrong by another wrong."

When we ventured to compare Governor Wilson's public utterances with those of two of America's greatest sons, we had in mind not only the forceful clarity of the English that he uses, the utter lack of ambiguity or equivocation, the far-sighted, tolerant treatment of all opponents and the earnest patriotism so evident in speech utterly devoid of oratorical trickery. We noted also the frequent, instructive lapsing from dignified discussion into homely metaphor and telling epigram.

As a final sidelight upon the character and courage and purposes of the man who within a year has moved from scholastic seclusion into the position of one of the foremost public men of the time, we think the fact that the following verses by Edward Rowland Sill is the favorite poem of Governor Wilson, is significant to all who are watching his career:

OPPORTUNITY.

This I beheld or dreamed it in a dream;
There spread a cloud of dust along the plain,
And underneath the cloud, or in it raged
A furious battle, and men yelled, and swords
Shocked upon swords and shields. A prince's banner
Wavered, then staggered backward, hemmed by foes.
A craven hung along the battle's edge
And thought, "Had I a sword of keener steel—
That blue blade that the king's son bears—but this Blunt thing!" he snapped and flung it from his hand,
And lowering crept away and left the field.
Then came the king's son—wounded, sore bestead
And weaponless—and saw the broken sword,
Hilt buried in the dry and trodden sand,
And ran and snatched it, and with battle shout
Lifted afresh, he hewed the enemy down,
And saved a great cause that heroic day.

ESSENTIALS IN JOB PRINTING

THE essential demands of the buyer of ordinary commercial job printing today are Quality, Price and Dispatch. Procrastination is usually the buyer's prevailing characteristic, therefore the printer must rush. While Quality and Price are not logical handmaids, they are in demand by the autocrat of the pocket book and must have consideration. This requires of the printer the faculty of knowing how in the estimating and execution, and, by the way, we're there. As for dispatch, that is merely a matter of capacity, and we regret to state we have not so far succeeded in outstripping our equipment. We will be glad to demonstrate our ability at your convenience.

PRESIDENT TAFT TO ATTEND MICHIGAN STATE FAIR.

Taft Copyright by American Press Association.

President Taft Says Positively He Will Visit the Big Show at Detroit--He Will Spend Entire Afternoon on the Grounds and Talk to the People of Michigan--Governor Osborn to Open the Fair.

Detroit has positively been placed on President Taft's itinerary for his western trip in September and, while he is to be the guest of the Detroit Board of Commerce, he will spend an entire afternoon and evening on the fair grounds and will address the people of Michigan.

It is expected the president will be accompanied by one or more members of his cabinet, both United States senators from Michigan and by several members of the congressional delegation from this state.

Governor Osborn will formally open the fair Monday, September 18th, and it is planned to have here at the same time Michigan's only two living ex-governors, John T. Rich and Fred M. Warner. All three are practical farmers and they will all deliver addresses.

President Taft's interest in farming and farm matters is always great. He knows this country most thoroughly and rejoices always in the progress of its people. He knows the whole world pretty well, having traveled far and represented the United States in foreign lands.

President Taft is a delightful speaker. One can listen to him with satisfaction and learn something worth while. To hear a wise and capable man--and to meet the president of a great nation in the metropolis of our own home state is worth much to every citizen. Especially will it be a benefit to the younger members of the family. An event of that sort is to be cherished for the uplift it gives. Also, it is an event which they will not forget, and may always look back at it as one of the greatest treats of their lives.

GOV. CHASE S. OSBORN.

He will press the button, Monday morning, Sept. 18th, and officially open the Michigan State Fair. Later in the day, the governor will address the people assembled on the grounds.

Can't Stand The Pressure

No use sitting around thinking about it. Your old corn cribs simply won't stand the pressure any longer. You've put it off too long already. A new corn crib you must have, and you might as well make up your mind right now that you've got to build--and that mighty soon.

We call your attention to cribs this week because we have a particularly fine stock of bone-dry cribbing material, on which we are making very attractive prices.

Don't wait any longer, but make it a point to call and see us the very next time you're in town.

You'll find our prices on all lumber very satisfactory.

Chickweed.

Like the plantain, which the Indians called "the white man's foot" because it sprang up wherever the whites penetrated, the chickweed seems to follow the track of the white colonist, and in New Zealand the Maoris call it "the mark of the paleface." The little flower is a sort of barometer. It opens when fine weather is coming, remains closed if rain is in the air.

Backache

Is only one of many symptoms which some women endure through weakness or displacement of the womanly organs. Mrs. Lizzie White of Memphis, Tenn., wrote Dr. R. V. Pierce, as follows:

"At times I was hardly able to be on my feet. I believe I had every pain and ache a woman could have. Had a very bad case. Internal organs were very much diseased and my back was very weak. I suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, in fact, I suffered all over. This was my condition when I wrote to you for advice. After taking your 'Favorite Prescription' for about three months can say that my health was never better."

unteer regiments in the parade was the "Old Thirteenth," about thirty strong. The torn and bullet-riddled battleflag of the regiment was proudly borne by Lieutenant Edwin Martin, and there were many moist eyes as the handful of survivors of the regiment marched behind their colors through the crowded streets.

"These same colors went down for a moment at the battle of Fredericksburg. They were carried in that fight by Robt. Parmalee of Honesoye Falls, the color sergeant of the regiment. Young Parmelee, while holding the flag aloft, fell dead, pierced by a rebel bullet. His body was tenderly covered with a blanket by John Cawthra of this city. Young Parmelee's body was buried on the field of Fredericksburg, and his watch was brought home by Lieutenant Martin.

"In the little group of 'Old Thirteenth' veterans on Wednesday marched Lieutenant Martin, John Cawthra and A. B. Parmalee of Cass City, Mich., a brother of the gallant color-bearer who carried the flag at Fredericksburg, himself a member of the regiment.

"The flag was lowered but for an instant, for ready hands grasped it and carried it into the thick of the fight. And around the camp-fire on the night of the parade, Lieutenant Martin, A. B. Parmalee and John Cawthra lowered their heads as they talked in reverent tones of the heroic death of the brave young color-bearer of the Thirteenth at Fredericksburg."

The Crosswell and Caro sugar factories expect to start their fall campaigns Oct. 1.

Saginaw was represented at the Caro fair Friday. It was "Saginaw Day" and 600 persons came on the excursion from that city.

More than 100 Maccabees of Huron county responded to the call for a mass meeting in Bad Axe to discuss the matter of the proposed new rates. The sentiment of the meeting was strong against the new rates.

Just by way of showing the Caro people that they appreciate the new business and other relations established between Bay City and the Thumb country by the new D., B. C. & W. railroad, 400 members of the board of trade and 1,400 citizens went to the Caro fair Thursday in three special trains, while 100 autos also made the trip. A return visit is being planned by the commercial organizations of both towns during the Bay County fair.

Clarence J. Remington of Clio was sentenced to serve from two to five years in Marquette prison when he pleaded guilty, before Judge Wisner at Flint Monday to a charge of stealing $190 from A. D. Rundlet, also of Clio, on April 27. Remington found a pocketbook on the street and did not return the money, although he knew the pocketbook belonged to Rundlet.—Clio Messenger.

THE DEAN-TOWLE WEDDING.

(From the Uby Courier.)

The marriage of Miss Edna Dean of this village to Prof. Wm. Towle of Mount Pleasant, at the spacious Crorey home on Union street Thursday afternoon of last week, was one of the principal society events of the early fall season, and was attended by the elite of the village and surrounding towns.

The ceremony was performed in the large parlors which were beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being carried out in gold and green, with the beautiful golden rod flowers and foliage, with a sprinkling of white. Rev. Phillips of the M. E. church, officiated with about 40 guests as witnesses.

The bride looked very beautiful in a gown of white silk marquisette and messaline, of fashionable cut, trimmed with fringe and floss embroidery. She was attended by Miss Lourene Crorey, while Miss Louise Stephenson carried the ring, the little ladies looking very pretty in their handsome costumes. The groom looked handsome and manly in the conventional suit.

After a short time for hearty congratulations, a three course wedding dinner was served.

The happy couple left on the 3:21 train for Niagara Falls and other eastern points for a short wedding trip. They will take up their residence in Hart, Mich., where Prof. Towle is principal of the village schools.

The bride was one of the favorite young ladies of the town and has a host of friends here who hope that their married life may be prosperous and happy.

"No, thanks. I never use forks. They leak so bad they ain't no use."

PUBLIC SCHOOL SANITATION.

State Board of Health Urges More Care in That Line.

Fifty thousand American school children are annually removed from school on account of physical inability to continue work. Careful investigation in this and other countries has shown this effect to be due largely to conditions existing in many of our school houses, such as poor ventilation, improper lighting, uneven temperature, unsuitable seats, etc. That these conditions have been the cause and are today causing the indisposition of general depression, lassitude, headache, dizziness, lowering of resistance to disease, and a consequent contraction of the more serious maladies, as, pneumonia, tuberculosis, bronchitis, influenza, curvature of the spine, near sightedness is an admitted fact and the knowledge that one-third of all school children are suffering from diseases of the eye should be sufficient to direct the inquiry of every parent, to say nothing of every school official, into the condition of the child. In as much as the years of early school life are the formative period of the tissues of the eyes, it is imperative that money and attention be given to the end of proper light for our schools. Frequent absence from school owing to colds, and other sickness could be eliminated, were ventilation more effectual, were reliable systems of ventilating installed, instead of the common dependence upon open windows.

The experience of the Michigan State Board of Health in investigating the schoolhouses of this state shows that while during vacation time some improvements are made to overcome the worst conditions, yet these improvements are only too apt to be makeshift and inadequate. The health of school children demands a more lively recognition of their need of pure air, supplied at the rate of not less than thirty cubic feet per minute for each occupant of the room; adjustable seats to suit the needs peculiar to each pupil, clean well-ventilated toilets.

The immense sums of money invested in school property, the economic value of every school child, urge the best management of the schooling business and the maintenance of the most effectual means not only of preserving but of building up a healthy and strong generation of children.

Very truly yours,
Robert L. Dixon, M. D.,
Secretary.

The Worst Had Happened.

Jerome K. Jerome objects to being labeled as a humorist pure and simple, but it was, of course, as a humorous writer and lecturer that he first attracted public attention. One of his lecturing tours was in the United States, and on his arrival in New York he was met by the usual group of reporters.

"Aren't you rather nervous," asked one, "about submitting your particular brand of humor to American audiences?"

"Young man," was the solemn reply, "I have faced a Scotch audience on a damp night, and now I fear no foe!"

He Knew the Brand.

Mr. Gumble visited Coney Island to look at the ruins of the Dreamland fire. He wandered about the street. He found a small boy with a bucket of lemonade on the head of a barrel. His sign, in twisted childish letters, proclaimed that he had that beverage for sale. "Poor little boy," mused Mr. Gumble, gazing upon the weazened and pinched features of the youngster. "No doubt he needs the money—bitterly. I will buy a glass of lemonade."

So he did. He gave the kid a nickel. As Mr. Gumble was standing by the stand, trying to get used to the taste, another small boy appeared. "Hey, Jimmie," said the lemon-seller, "come watch duh stan' while I go git me a drink."

Mr. Gumble's heart was again stirred by an impulse of pity. He withdrew a five cent piece from the south-pocket of his immaculate summer waistcoat. "Here, sonny," said he, "I'll stand treat. Take a drink of your own lemonade." He beamed fondly upon the lad.

"For 10 cents I will," said the boy. "Not for no pikel I won't drink it."—New York Cor. Cincinnati Times-Star.

Unappreciated Humor.

The elucidator of the mysteries of chemistry in Harvard in 1860 was Professor Job Cook, a very sedate man and never intentionally guilty of a joke. One day in a recitation he said to a student, "Mr. Slack, how do you slack lime?"

The student, supposing the pun upon his name to be intentional, answered quick as a flash, "Cook it, sir."

Of course the class roared, but instead of enjoying the apt repartee the professor took it as a personal affront and reported Mr. Slack for a reprimand.

The Great Attraction.

When the St. Paul baseball club was on its training trip last spring it was led to Hannibal, Mo. At the time a stock company was playing at one of the theaters for the week, and Josh Clarke was the first one in the bunch to take in the show. The next night he started for the theater again, and Charley Jones asked him how it happened that he was going to that same show twice. "Pretty fine show?" asked Jones. "Yep," replied Josh. "Got a friend in the show?" queried Jones. "No; don't know a person in the company." "Then you must like the looks of the girls?" "No," said Josh; "I don't bother my head about the girls, but I'll tell you something. You know, in the third act, the burglar cracks a safe and escapes. Well, they're going to catch that guy some of these times, and I want to be around when they do it."

Had No Business to Know.

Elderly Aunt—Gwendolen, you shock me when you talk of a wedding being "pulled off." You ought to be ashamed to use prizefighting slang in speaking of so solemn a thing as a wedding. Young Niece—You misunderstood me, Aunt Hepzibah. I said the wedding had been put off. But how did you happen to know that "pulled off" is prizefighting slang?—Chicago Tribune.
