24TH ANNUAL FAIR AND HOME COMING

SPLENDID LINE OF SPECIAL FREE ATTRACTIONS.

No Effort Spared to Make the Fair for 1913 a Big Success
in Every Dept.

The 24th annual Cass City Fair and home coming will take place next week—August 19, 20, 21 and 22. No other local event arouses such widespread interest as the good old, reliable Cass City fair, and the officers have the preparations well under way for the forthcoming exhibition and amusement enterprise which will be up to the very best of its long series of predecessors.

The premium lists will be found complete, with liberal premiums, and should draw together a fine exhibition of live stock, as well as nice displays of the products of field, garden, orchard and the home. It is the wish of the fair officers to place a premium list in the hands of every family interested in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties and those who have not received one by mail can secure one by addressing the secretary, John Marshall, at Cass City.

Special Attractions.

Kalinowski Bros., Europe's greatest head and hand balancers and equilibrists, start their acts where other performers are obliged to stop and with their superior ability perform feats of sensational head and hand balancing and equilibristics never before attempted by artists in this particular line. The White Duo, in "Something New in the Air," present an artistic and refined novelty gymnastic act, McHale, in a comedy slack wire act, creates fun and performs marvellous stunts. Of special interest to base ball fans, are the ball games now being arranged for their amusement. Lovers of the national game, and that includes the big majority of visitors at the fair, will be especially interested in this feature.

The Lexington Famous band, a musical organization of young men and young ladies, will present a pleasing addition to the gaiety of the fair grounds. They play not only high grade band music, but make pleasing variations in the musical program with vocal and instrumental solos accompanied by the band.

Horse races, embracing pacers, trotters and gallopers, will occupy a prominent place on each day's program. The list of events are printed in another column.

And then the Midway with its multitude of attractions claims your attention. The freak shows, the merry-go-round, the ferris wheel, the doll rack, the cone man—but why enumerate? You'll be there and see it all. Next week—Aug. 19, 20, 21 and 22.

CYNTHIA ROSETTA KILLINS

Grant Twp. Pioneer Passed Away
Saturday, Aug. 9.

(By Our Beauley Correspondent.)

The friends of Miss Rosetta Killins were very much shocked to hear that she had passed to the life beyond. She had not been in good health for several months but the last three days she was taken with pleuro pneumonia and she quietly passed away at 12:30 Saturday morning, Aug. 9.

She was born in Lincoln county, Ont., in July 1854 and was one of Grant's oldest pioneers, going there about forty years ago.

She leaves to mourn her loss, a daughter, Myrtle, at home, two brothers, Elfas of Cass City and George of Detroit and a number of other relatives.

Friends from a distance in attendance at the funeral were Geo. Killins, and daughter-in-law and Mrs. Knight of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Crawford and H. Hoshal of Bad Axe and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hoffman and son of Marine City. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved daughter.

Owing to an increase in business, I have added another day to my equipment which will be run by Irvin Wright. Either he or I will haul your freight or attend to any draying on short notice and in a satisfactory manner. Andrew Schmidt. 8-15-3p

SEEGER-MUENTENER

Miss Florence Seeger Becomes the Bride of Geo. Muentener of Pigeon.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Seeger on Third Street when their daughter, Florence, was united in marriage to George Muentener, one of Pigeon's merchants. The ceremony took place Tuesday at 5:00 p. m. Rev. G. A. Fee of the local M. E. church pronouncing the words which made them husband and wife.

The bride wore a becoming white serge dress with handsome lace trimmings and satin bandings and carried a beautiful bouquet of white asters. Frank Henke and Miss Lucy Muentener of Pigeon assisted the couple and during the ceremony Miss Leatha Schriber of Pigeon rendered a beautiful solo, "O Promise Me."

After the service a delicious wedding supper was served at a table prettily decorated with sweet peas, and each guest was given a small bouquet of these flowers to wear. The wedding cake was a pleasing sight with its pretty pansy decorations and all the rooms were made beautiful by many bouquets of the season's flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Muentener returned to Pigeon Wednesday and will make their home in that village.

Guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. H. Muentener and daughters, Luella and Lucy, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Schriber and daughter, Leatha, all of Pigeon, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Annis of Lansing.

BROWN-THORPE

Miss Ada Brown and F. W. Thorpe
Are Married in Caro.

Miss Ada L. Brown and F. W. Thorpe of Flint very much surprised the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Brown, by arriving here Wednesday night and announcing their intention of being married. Thursday morning W. W. Bender conveyed the young people, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Brown, to Caro where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Denman of the Caro Baptist church. The bridal party returned to the Brown farm home in time for a wedding dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe returned to Flint Friday where Mr. Thorpe is employed as a barber and where the young people will make their home.

NEW STATE LAWS

Four Hundred Seven Go into Effect Today.

Four hundred seven new state laws go into effect today. Prominent among them are the ones which attack fortune-tellers, the mothers' pension act and the Pray liquor bill, which forbids the transportation of liquor into dry territory, except when it is for private consumption, and is so labelled with the name of the buyer. The bound volume of the laws is the largest ever issued by the state, and there is an unusually heavy demand for them.

THURSDAY, AUG. 21 HURON COUNTY DAY

SPECIAL TRAIN TO CASS CITY ON D. & H. R. R.

Train Will Make Frequent Stops and Officials Promise Best Accommodations Possible.

Thursday, Aug. 21, is Huron County day at the Cass City fair and a special train will be run over the new D. & H. R. R. from Bad Axe an intermediate points to accommodate the crowds that desire to attend. The schedule of train service is as follows:

Leave Bad Axe at 9:00 a. m.
Cameron's Ditch at 9:20 a. m.
Atwater at 9:35 a. m.
Greenleaf at 9:55 a. m.
Arrive at Cass City at 10:20 a. m.
Returning train leaves Cass City at 6:00 p. m.

In addition to the above stops, passengers may flag the train at any of the crossings along the line. The Grand Trunk people promise plenty of coaches and will endeavor to give the Huron county crowds the best service possible.

This train service will give Huron county people a convenient way to attend the Cass City fair and the added novelty of enjoying the ride on the first passenger train over the new railroad. The double attraction will appeal to a host of Huron county people and Cass City looks for a big trainload of sightseers from Bad Axe way on August 21.

MARRIED AT LAPEER

G. L. Martin Takes Jessie H. Smith
for Bride.

The marriage of Miss Jessie Helen Smith, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Lapeer and George Leroy Martin of Cass City took place at high noon Thursday, Aug. 14, at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple will reside at Lawrence, Mich., where Mr. Martin has accepted the superintendency of the public schools.

Miss Smith has been among the teaching corps of the Lapeer schools and has won prominence as an elocutionist. Mr. Martin was the science teacher in the Lapeer high school for a few years, leaving there to take up work in the state university. Both bride and groom are popular among Lapeer's young people in both church and social circles.

Raymond Martin, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bohnsack and son, George, Mrs. J. H. Scott and Miss Beulah Martin motored from Cass City to Lapeer Thursday morning to attend the wedding.

JOHN MILES

Passed Away at Home of Daughter, Mrs. Wm. Morris.

John Miles died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Morris, on the corner of Pine and Leach streets, Tuesday morning at 8:30.

He was born in Canada in 1835 where he made his home until eleven years ago when he came to live with his daughter, Mrs. William Morris. About 1873 he was married to Miss Isabel Nelson, who preceded him in death 34 years ago.

Besides his only daughter, Mrs. William Morris, he is survived by five brothers and other relatives. The deceased has been a member of the Baptist church for a number of years. Funeral services were held at the Morris home on Thursday afternoon, Rev. H. C. Hayward officiating, and interment was made in the Gagetown cemetery.

YOUNG-HAMBLIN NUPTIALS

Pastor of Cass City Presbyterian Church Married July 30.

From the Joliet (Ill.) News.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at Braidwood yesterday afternoon at 3:30, when Rev. Jesse Willis Hamblin of Cass City, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hamblin of Superior, and Miss Jennie Baird Young, eldest daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. David Young, were married. The Rev. Backemeyer, pastor of Avondale Presbyterian church, Chicago, officiated.

The attendants were Miss Margie Howatt, cousin of the bride and John Young, her brother. The ring ceremony was used and to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Mary Young, sister of the bride, the wedding party took their places in the bay window, where a wedding bell of white was suspended beneath a bower of asparagus fern and astors. The bride's baby sister, Elsie, gowned in white and carrying a rose, in the heart of which reposed the wedding circlet, and the father, who gave the bride away, completed a most effective picture. The bride looked beautiful in embroidered net over white messaline, with rhinestone trimming and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley, a present from Miss Mary Patterson, a dear girl friend. The bridesmaid looked charming in a shadow lace gown over white silk trimmed in pink chiffon rosebuds with a pink messaline girdle with draped effect. The bride's going-away gown was tan whipcord with hat to match with willow plume.

Following the ceremony a four course wedding dinner was served by the bride's mother.

There were about fifty guests present, those from out of town being Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lofty, Oberly, Mo.; Mrs. Hugh Allison and son, William, Lockport; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clelland, South Wilmington; Mrs. Janet Wilson, Joliet; Will and Frank Howatt, Chicago and Robert Brayden.

The happy couple left on the 8 o'clock train amid a shower of rice and good wishes, for Chicago, where they left overland for Superior and Duluth, where the groom's parents, will tender them a reception and where they will remain for several weeks before returning by lake. On the return trip they expect to visit with Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Brown of Fairgrove, Mich., the former having filled the Presbyterian pulpit here some years ago. The wedding gifts were beautiful and numerous, and attested the high esteem in which the young people are held. The decorations throughout the house were pink and white.

Rev. and Mrs. Hamblin will be at home to their friends, Sept. 15, at Cass City, Mich., where the groom is pastor of the Presbyterian church. A host of good wishes follow them to their new home.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM NEAR-BY TOWNS

NEAR DOUBLE TRAGEDY AT PORT SANILAC.

Fred Slocum, Former Postmaster
at Caro, Will Make His Home in California.

BAD AXE—The appointment of Joseph Fremont as postmaster of Bad Axe has been confirmed by the senate. He will probably take the office in a few days.

PORT SANILAC—Between the two severe thunderstorms of Saturday night and Sunday morning Marvin, 7 years old, and Bernice, 5 years old, children of John McMahon, a laborer of this city, died of black diptheria. The mother and a new-born babe are in the grip of the disease and their deaths are expected momentarily.

BAD AXE—Mrs. Angus McIntosh, of Sheridan, met with a painful accident Thursday of last week. While she and Mr. McIntosh were muzzling a calf her fingers were caught between a post and the rope with which the calf was tied. Her hand was so badly crushed that it was necessary to have her little finger amputated.—Tribune.

LEXINGTON—Without any exception John Davis has the best patch of red raspberries in this section of the state. Last week he got 120 cases of nice large berries from one picking of a patch containing three acres. The berries were all of the fancy grade and brought the top price at the canning factory. Mr. Davis will realize a neat little sum from his berry crop this year as he expects to have good picking for a couple of weeks yet.—News.

PORT SANILAC—What came near being a double tragedy happened here the latter part of the week. Miss Belle Kerr was swimming near the end of the dock when she felt her strength giving out. Leon McClellan, a young man, responded to her call for help and jumped into the water. He became entangled in his braces which he had slipped from his shoulders. He, too, was sinking and nearly exhausted when George Allen put out in a boat and rescued both parties.

UBLY—A matter in which young Robt. Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson, was accused of making slanderous statements about Dr. Holdship and a young lady whom he was treating was settled out of court last week by Prosecuting Attorney Boomhower. The Richardson person paid $400.00 to the young lady, and all costs, to settle the case as far as she was concerned. Dr. Holdship is yet to be reckoned with. We hear that the case is not fully settled—that others here in town mixed up in the talk will be called to Bad Axe to interview the prosecuting attorney.—Courier.

20 DOCTORS HERE MONDAY

Attended Union Meeting of Medical Societies of Three Counties.

Twenty physicians attended the union meeting of the medical societies of Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties held here Monday afternoon. The doctors listened to several papers on medical topics and participated freely in the discussions which followed. All the speakers were present as announced on the program with one exception.

DEATH PURSUES FAMILY

Mother Dies Soon After Death of Two Daughters.

Mrs. Henry Schroeder died at the hospital in Sebawaing Aug. 7 of Bright's disease after an illness of three weeks. Her death follows soon after that of her two daughters, Ethel and Hazel, who passed away at their home in Pigeon a few days before from diptheria, while a son, Leslie, died from diptheria last Easter.

Mr. Schroeder is the foreman of the Wood Novelty Co.'s plant at Pigeon and the family moved there from Saginaw a few months ago.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

(Contributed by local Union.)
The next regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be Aug. 29 at the Presbyterian church. This will be "Daughters' day." A full attendance of the members is desired and a program suitable to the occasion will be given. Visitors are always welcome.

The W. C. T. U. picnic held in Orr's woods last Friday afternoon was attended by over 50 boys and girls, besides a large number of ladies. A very interesting program was given by several of the children. Luvern Hays read a "true" temperance story. Mrs. Hays gave a short talk in her usual pleasing manner after which she read the W. C. T. U. principles. Refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream and cake were served. Every one reported a good time.

MERCHANTS CATCH SPONGE

Owendale Promises Support and Herald Will Be Continued.

In a recent issue of the Owendale Herald, Percy Brookins, the editor, announced his intention of "throwing up the sponge" and discontinuing publishing the paper because the expenses were running higher than the receipts.

The business men of Owendale then commenced to realize of what value the publication was to them and their town, and a little missionary work among the merchants resulted in several contracts being made for advertising space. The prospects looked so much brighter to Publisher Brookins that he has decided to continue the Herald and hereafter will print four pages at home instead of two as heretofore.

SHOT WHILE AT PICNIC

Unionville Druggist's Son is on Road to Recovery.

During a trap-shooting contest at a farmers' picnic at Unionville Wednesday, Victor Spring, 14 years old, was shot in the back when a shot-un in the hands of one of the contestants was accidentally discharged. Two shots passed through a crack in the blind and entered the body of the boy, who was trapping. He was taken to a doctor's office and the shot removed. He is out of danger. He is a son of Herman Spring, druggist of Unionville.

TAKES HIS LIFE

Bad Axe Man Shot Himself in the Head.

Frank Stone, aged 26, living a mile east of Bad Axe shot himself in the head and body late Wednesday morning, dying at the hospital seven hours later. His wife left him a short time ago. He had one child, a year old. It is said he had threatened to kill himself before on different occasions. Despondency is believed to be the cause for his rash act.

Gained $4.80 Per Acre

John Deere Manure Spreader Did That For Farmer on Field of Wheat

When the first manure spreader was put out, and in fact for many years after, manure spreaders were considered an expensive luxury, for only the wealthier farmers could afford one. Today every farmer realizes that the manure spreader is an indispensable implement and that he cannot afford to be without one.

The John Deere spreader has been found to be the SIMPLEST in construction and MOST EFFECTIVE in results of any spreader on the market. It is the only spreader that has the beater on the axle.

Accurate account has been kept and it has been determined that a John Deere spreader has gained on a crop of wheat alone $4.80 per acre over the old hand way of spreading manure.

Miss Alice Brown expects to leave on Saturday for Armada, McComb Co., where she will spend Sunday as the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Wilmot Moore. On Monday she will go to Anchor Bay with them to enjoy an outing of several days.—Caro Courier.

A number of friends of Earl Crawford helped him celebrate his 16th birthday Friday evening. The party enjoyed a marshmallow roast and ice cream and cake, and because of the storm, the guests were unable to go home until the early morning hours.

Mrs. C. L. Dodge had the misfortune last Saturday to sprain her ankle while crossing the road in front of her home northeast of town. It will be some time before she will be able to walk. She is being cared for at the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. E. Smith.

James Tennant returned from a week's vacation trip to Detroit and other points Tuesday. Mr. Tennant has been in business at the present stand 13 years and last Saturday was the first Saturday during that period that he failed to be behind the counter waiting on his customers.

Editor and Mrs. H. F. Walker of the Unionville Crescent were in town Monday and made a pleasant call at the Chronicle. They had accompanied Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Kaven in their auto to Cass City where the doctor attended the union meeting of the medical societies of Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties.

Sixty business men from Harbor Beach visited Cass City yesterday morning on an automobile trip through the Thumb. They left here for Caro and intended to start on the return trip by way of Deckerville that afternoon. The good roads leading to Cass City were subjects of complimentary remarks by the motorists.

Messrs. Cornell and Nugent were in town Monday in the interest of the Bad Axe fair. They stated to the Chronicle that the special train over the D. & H. R. next Thursday would bring a big crowd from Bad Axe to the Cass City fair and that there was talk of closing up the business places at Bad Axe on that day so that all the business people and their employees could come.

David Law returned Friday night by rail from a trip to Sioux City, Iowa, and points in South Dakota. The going trip was made by auto with a number of Millington gentlemen and Mr. Law says that during the entire trip, a distance of nearly 1,400 miles, they had but one tire blow-out. This delayed them about 10 minutes while they put on another tire and that was the only delay or machine trouble they encountered. The trip took the party through some fine farming sections and also through other sections that were directly the opposite. "Take it all in all," said Mr. Law to the Chronicle, "Michigan is good enough for me." And Mr. Law's experience as a farmer would place him in a position to act as a competent judge as to Michigan's fitness and ability as a crop producer.

THE CURRENT OF LIFE.

In a swelling river with a rising tide all the debris goes to the banks, as it is higher in the middle. If the tide is shrinking the middle is lower, and the debris gathers to the center. So with man—a swelling current of life purifies itself, but a shrinking current draws all the drift-wood and debris into our hearts.

JUST IN TIME.

Some Cass City People May Wait Till It's Too Late.

Don't wait until too late.

Be sure to be in time.

Just in time with kidney ills.

Means curing the backache, the dizziness, the urinary disorders.

That so often come with kidney troubles.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for this very purpose.

Here is Cass City testimony of their worth.

Mrs. Susan Randall, Seeger St., Cass City, Mich., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills an excellent remedy and do not hesitate to recommend them. For some time I was afflicted with kidney complaint and was unable to obtain a cure. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wood & Co.'s Drug Store brought me entire relief. Other members of my family have taken this preparation with good results."

THUMB NOTES.

LEXINGTON—For the next four weeks the Lexington band will be busy filling out-of-town engagements.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday they will play at the Yale races; on August 20, 21 and 22 they will furnish music at the Cass City fair; on August 26, 27 and 28, they play at the Yale home-coming; and on September 2, 3, 4, and 5 at the Bad Axe Fair. This band is probably the best drawing card in the "Thumb," not only because of their musical ability, but that the organization is composed of members of both sexes, which is seldom seen in a small-town band.

BAD AXE—The Blakely, Buckley and Clark families entertained the Tibbits and Crosby families, of Saginaw and Cass City, at the Clark cottage, Lakeside, Tuesday. The affair was a sort of family reunion for the five families who are more or less related to each other.—Democrat.

UBLY—Our neighboring township of Austin, just across the line in Sanilac county, is awaking to the fact that the improvement of her highways is the only way to keep up with the procession of better roads that is sweeping through the state and nation, and proposes to try and get into the band wagon with Neighbor Bingham on the North and Sister Argyle on the south, and we believe the people of the township are alive to their own best interests, and will ratify the action of the petitioners who desire to bond the township for $15,000 for road improvement.—Courier.

BROWN CITY—Last Saturday morning Archie McLeod started to build the wall for a small building and had his son, Donald, age 11, holding the stakes for him. The last one had been started and the boy moved back and sat down on a stone while his father finished the driving. Suddenly the head flew off the heavy sledge and struck on a stone near the boy's legs, the father put it back on and drove the stake before either he or the boy noticed that anything was wrong. The boy had his hand in front of him and the sledge had struck the end of his thumb crushing it badly and tearing the flesh and nail from the bone. The blow was so hard and quick that the nerves had been numbed consequently the boy didn't know he had been hit.—Banner.

CARO—At some time during the month of September, Fred Slocum and family will go to California with the intention of making that state their future home. They will reside temporarily in Pasadena in a handsome home which has been placed at their disposal, completely furnished. Pasadena is claimed to be the most beautiful city in the United States. While Mr. Slocum will give attention to manufacturing, his principal business will be advertising and selling, with offices in Los Angeles. For this work Mr. Slocum is well qualified, having had a lifetime of experience in newspaper and publicity activities. He will look after the cast business of the Johnston-Slocum, and William Slocum will remain in Caro to manage the plant. Mr. and Mrs. Slocum came to Caro in 1884, when he purchased the Advertiser, which he conducted for more than twenty years, selling to Mr. Gallery, the present owner.—Courier.

He Used the Judge's Card.

A certain judge was inveigled into a game of poker on a P. D. Q. train. He won $40. His opponent then said:

"I can't pay you now. But just give me your card. I'll mail you a check."

So the judge gave the man his card, and two or three weeks went by, and then he received a letter from a lawyer saying:

"Sir—The P. D. Q. railroad instructs me to inform you that if you do not send by return the money for your fare as promised immediate proceedings will be taken."—New York Tribune.

True Charity.

Every good act is charity. Giving water to the thirsty is charity. Removing stones and thorns from the road is charity. Exhorting your fellow men to virtuous deeds is charity. Smiling in your brother's face is charity. Putting a wanderer in the right path is charity. A man's true wealth is the good he does in this world. When he dies mortals will ask what property has he left behind him, but angels will inquire, "What good deeds hast thou sent before thee?"—Mohammed.

Costly Treatment.

"I was troubled with constipation and indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also to a hospital in New Orleans, but no cure was effected. On returning home I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and am now all right." Sold by all dealers.—Adv.

The Beginning of Football.

The first reference to what may possibly be the game of football is to be found in a proclamation of Edward II., 1314, when the people were forbidden "to hustle over large balls." The present name was first used in a statute of Edward III., 1347, when "football" in London streets was declared illegal.—London Reader.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

Topic of the morning sermon, "The Miracles of Jesus;" evening, "The Stumbler's Guardian."

The attendance through the vacation season has been a source of inspiration and encouragement. The stewards in their meeting Monday night were jubilant over the financial outlook. Young people, loyal to League and evening worship; maintaining a vigorous service through the summer months; church being renewed and beautified. All this only means an open door of accomplishment. In courage and consecration; in faith and prayer; in the power of the Holy Spirit, shall we not make things come to pass for our Lord and His Kingdom?

We notice an encouraging increase in Sunday school attendance over the corresponding season last year. But that does not mean, by any means, that we are where we should be. Epworth League topic, "Our Neglected Neighborhoods." Leader, Mrs. F. A. Bigelow.

Mothers! Have Your Children Worms

Are they feverish, restless, nervous, irritable, dizzy or constipated? Do they continually pick their nose or grind their teeth? Have they cramping pains, irregular and ravenous appetite? These are all signs of worms. Worms not only cause your child suffering, but stunt his mind and growth. Give "Kickapoo Worm Killer" at once. It kills and removes the worms. Improves your child's appetite, regulates stomach, liver and bowels. The symptoms disappear and your child is made happy and healthy, as nature intended. All druggists or by mail, 25c. The Argyle Case

A Novelization by J. W. McConaughy of the Successful New Play by Harriet Ford, Harvey J. O'Higgins and Detective William J. Burns, in Which Robert Hilliard Is Appearing :: ::

Copyright, 1912, by Journal-American-Examiner.

CHAPTER XIV. After the Raid.

THERE were columns about it in the morning papers, but no astute reporter saw any connection between the "unearthing of the most gigantic counterfeiting plot in history" and the Argyle murder. None knew that Miss Mazurek had been in the house. Gage, Skidd and Mrs. Martin were incommunicado, the latter too numb and dazed to talk even if she could have been approached. As a special favor to Kayton she was held under his orders to be taken to his office when wanted in the morning.

Kayton appeared as fresh and clean shaved and immaculate as was his wont. He heard the final reports of the night's work from his various aids, dispatched them out for breakfast, ordered the stenographer to hustle with the dictograph notes and sent for Manning. The young man entered, eating his morning apple.

"Hurley's all right, governor," was his greeting. "He's down in his office."

"Nervous?" queried his chief, with a faint smile.

"Oh, gee!" murmured Manning. "He got up all right and had a big breakfast ordered and then saw the paper—and he didn't eat a bite. He piked back to his room and packed his little bag. Then he read the papers again and unpacked it. We went down on the 'L' with him, and he passed his street, and we thought he was going to beat it, but I guess he was so worried he forgot his station. He's waiting in his office now with his ear to the ground."

Kayton smiled. "Let's start a little rumble for him, Joe," he said, picking up the telephone receiver. "Get me Hurley. We've got to find out who this Hurley is, Joe, and get his record."

He ran over some typewritten pages that Leischmann dropped noiselessly at his elbow and grinned.

"Hurley's got us sized up in fine shape," he remarked, glancing down sideways. "According to him, I'm a pinhead."

"He has a great sense of humor, governor," Manning assured him solemnly. "He laughed so hard last night that he nearly split the dictograph."

Kayton laughed and then suddenly frowned for silence.

"Hello, Mr. Hurley," he said cheerfully into the phone. "I think I've obtained a clew on your Argyle case. Drop in and see me this morning, can you? Yes, I'd like to consult you. It's too confidential for the telephone. All right. Thanks."

He hung up the receiver, laughing silently.

"Joe, go to the hotel and get Miss Mazurek," he said quickly. "Don't go to the desk. Go to the telephone girl—she's all right—and send my name up. Get her out without attracting any attention, and bring her right down here."

"All right, governor!" said Manning, and he hurriedly slouched out. Kayton sent for Leischmann and gave him some particular instructions in connection with the last page of the dictograph report and the specimen of Mrs. Martin's signature as "Nellie Marsh" that he had in his desk.

"Look here," he said. "I want you to type in above the name—there! you see?—as if it were the final page of her confession—the usual thing before a notary public, and have two of the boys sign right down here and put on a couple of wafers. Make it 'Page 9, N. M. statement.'"

"Yes, sir," said Leischmann and added as he withdrew, "Mr. Colt has come."

"Oh!" Kayton chuckled. "See if he has Mrs. Martin with him. If he has send her in, and tell him I'll see him later."

Unconsciously Kayton drew himself together, and his muscles stiffened as the door of the outer office opened, and Mrs. Martin walked into the sanctum. She had dressed herself with a care that only accentuated the ghastliness of her appearance—the fishy whiteness of her face and the madness of anguish in her dark eyes. Slowly and deliberately as an automaton, she advanced to the desk, her eyes fixed with deadly intensity on Kayton's impassive face.

"God!" she exclaimed at last in a low, passionate voice, in which utter hate and utter despair were strangely blended. "God, I wish I'd let him kill you!"

Kayton met her terrible eyes as calmly as if she had wished him a pleasant good morning.

"What good would that have done?" he asked quickly. "If I hadn't caught him some one else would. You were playing a game that you couldn't win. You knew that. You said so. You told him last night that every prison in the world was waiting for him."

The woman turned away with a groan and sank weakly into a chair. "He's dead! He's dead!" she moaned.

"There was nothing for him to do but kill himself," said Kayton, as quietly as before. "Why, he killed himself when he went into this thing. The government would never have let him out. He'd have been buried alive."

Mrs. Martin choked and shook her head wildly, as if struggling for breath. "Oh," she cried distractedly, "let me alone—let me alone!"

Kayton gave her a look of pity. "I would if I could, Mrs. Martin," he said gently, with unmistakable sincerity. "I've had to make you a good deal of trouble. I'd like to give you a little help now, if I can."

He paused a moment and studied the worn face before him.

"I can clear you of the charge against you in the counterfeiting case," he went on in the same quiet matter of fact way, "but I want you to tell me everything—all that you know of the Argyle case."

Mrs. Martin drew in her breath with a gasp, leaned forward and gripped the edge of the desk with both hands.

"Why do you say that to me?" she cried excitedly. "Why do you pretend I know anything about that?"

Kayton, too, leaned forward until there was a scant eighteen inches between his calm, cold face and her trembling, twitching mask.

"Because, after Mr. Argyle's fall," he said swiftly, "dragging off the tablecloth, you were leaning forward—just as you are now—holding on to the table with both hands!"

And, reaching over quickly, he tapped her wrists smartly and leaned back.

Like one in the numb horror of nightmare, Mrs. Martin slowly pulled herself to her feet.

"What?" she whispered. Kayton coolly took some sheets of paper from the top drawer of his desk and held them out for her scrutiny.

"These are the finger prints you left on the table that night," he said coolly. "They coincide with the ones you left here on my blotter." She dropped heavily back into the chair with an inarticulate moan.

"This," added Kayton slowly, with a stern gaze, "this is jury proof of complicity."

The woman looked at him dully, stolidly, for all the suddenness of his attack.

"You can't prove it," she cried hoarsely. "I had nothing to do with it—nothing!"

"To prove that," returned Kayton coldly, "you will have to confess who did it."

"You can do what you like!" she broke out wildly. "I don't care! I don't care! It doesn't matter!"

"It matters to an innocent girl!" declared Kayton sternly. "Your daughter's life is ruined unless we can clear her from this charge."

The woman choked, closed her eyes and pressed her clenched hands against her bowed chin. For the first time tears crept from under her eyelids.

"And yet," Kayton spoke with infinitely gentle reproach—"you refuse to do anything for her."

She started and threw out her hands in a gesture of exasperation and despair.

"I don't want her to know me! I don't want to know her!" she cried. "I'm dead as far as she is concerned."

"If you go on the stand as the state's witness," urged Kayton, "your past can be absolutely protected. Your daughter need never know any more about you than she does today."

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

PUBLIC ROADS

CLAIMS FOR THE ROAD DRAG

Really Holding Back Construction of Good Roads, as Many Believe No Work Is Needed.

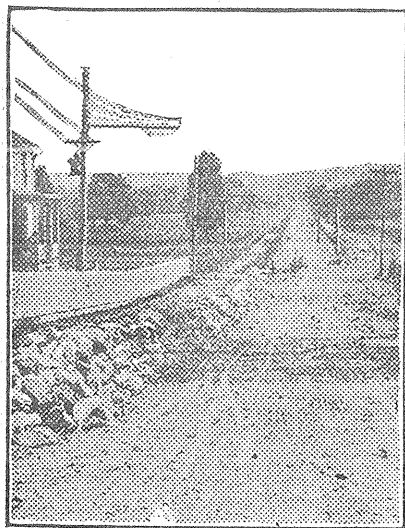

In an article on "Split Log Drag and How to Use It to Obtain Best Results," Mr. Howard H. Gross, among other things, says:

"A good road is one that is good and serviceable 365 days in the year, a road whereon one may ride or drive with pleasure or have full load without strain upon the horse, vehicle or harness.

"To do this the road must have a hard, smooth surface and offer the minimum of resistance.

"An earth road may be an excellent one today and tomorrow a very bad one. It may be a delight in June and a fright in March. Such roads have the virtue of a balky horse, they are liable to fail when most wanted.

"The extravagant claims that have been made for the road drag are really holding back the building of good roads. Many have believed that all that was required to have good roads was to go up and down a streak of mud once or twice, say 'presto,' and behold a good highway. This is sheer nonsense. This loud acclaim of a 'River-to-River road,' made good in an hour or so, is a myth. This famous road was greatly improved by the dragging, but it is not a good road, and never will be until it is thoroughly drained, properly graded and has a hard, durable wearing surface placed upon it."

POOR ROADS ARE EXPENSIVE

American Farmer Pays 25 Cents Mile Per Ton for Carrying Farm Products to Market.

There are 2,100,000 miles of public roads in this country. Only 150,000 miles, or 7 per cent., are improved. All the rest can be fairly described as bad roads. The waste of our natural resources, reckless as it is, is nothing compared to the money waste brought about by this condition of our highways.

It costs the French peasant an average of 12 cents a mile per ton to haul his produce to market. It costs the American farmer an average of 25 cents a mile per ton, or 100 per cent. more than the Frenchman. During the year 1905-1906 hauling of farm produce to shipping points amounted to between forty and forty-five million tons weight. The average haul was 9.4 miles. If the farmers could have done their hauling over French roads, instead of their own inferior ones they would have netted $58,900,000 more on their crops.

But all the hauling to shipping points is not done by farmers by any means. The interstate commerce commission tells us that in all something like 250,000,000 tons are hauled for shipment every year. The willingness to move this immense volume of freight over poor roads, as against good roads such as France enjoys, costs the country a cool unnecessary $305,000,000 a year.

These figures and facts come from the office of Logan Waller Page, the United States director of public works.

BONDS IN NEW YORK STATE

Second Issue of $50,000,000 Was Greatest Thing in Good Road History of Last Year.

The greatest thing in good roads history in 1912 was the action of New York in voting a second state bond issue of $50,000,000. There was some opposition to the proposition, but it went through with a good majority. New York has led all other states in road improvement. Under the act of 1906 it issued $50,000,000 worth of road bonds. This it spent at the rate of about $5,000,000 a year. With what has been spent and with contracts made the whole sum has been disposed of, and so the new $50,000,000 comes in to continue the work. These huge sums have enabled New York to more than double her mileage of improved roads and to project large plans for trunk lines. Incidentally, it means an increase in the direct tax of about $2,500,000 yearly.

THE GUIDELESS WONDER, NEWTON W. 2:11¹/₄

Exhibition Every Afternoon and Evening.

This beautiful seal brown horse, a veteran of many a hard fought race, displays as much intelligence in race as any grand circuit driver. He takes every fair advantage of his opponent that is possible. Newton W. goes without driver or bike in company with a fast pacer hitched to bike and driver. They score together and come back at the sound of the gong. When they get the word Newton W. takes the pole at first opportunity and goes away at a two minute clip. He goes halves in 1:07 to 1:10. He does all his work without coaching from the time he is led onto the track until he is blanketed after returning to the front of the grand stand after the heat.

The Evening Program Will Open Each Evening at 7:30 O'clock

THE GREAT WHITE ORCHESTRA OF 10 PIECES WILL FURNISH THE MUSIC

Grand Display of Fire Works Each Evening

By an earnest co-operation of the fair officials and business men of Elkton we have endeavored to furnish the people of the Thumb one of the best entertaining fair races and carnivals ever produced in the Thumb. Our feature event this year is night racing, something never seen before any place in Michigan. Our track will be lighted with electric lights every 15 feet, so the horses can be seen anywhere on the track, or from any place on the grounds.

Visitors from Port Huron at Benjamin Sharp's.

Green corn from the field on the 10th. But only one ear "swided" between two of us. Then we thought of the Irishman just arrived in America when he was given an ear of green corn which he soon cleaned up and passed the cob to the waiter with the request, "Please put more beans on my stick."

Miss Joyce Retherford has returned from Ypsilanti terminating a three months' course preparatory for teaching.

On Saturday, the 9th, John Wood, living three miles east and two and one-half miles south of here, lost his barn and contents by fire. 'Tis supposed that a thoughtless child struck matches in the building. O, matches! we remember when you were called "Lettifers" and you certainly are in the hands of the unthoughtful.

GIVE US A TRIAL.

If there's a man around here who thinks he can do better by sending away to some so-called manufacturer for his lumber, we want that man to give us a trial. He will find that he can do a mighty sight better right here at home, where he can see what he is getting, before paying for it, than he can by sending his money away for material that he doesn't see until after it is paid for and it's too late to kick. If you are going to build, don't place your order for your material until you get an estimate from us on the bill. One piece or a car load.

HOW TO BE MISERABLE.

If you wish to be miserable think about yourself, about what you want, what you like, what respect people ought to pay you. In this way you can spoil everything, make misery out of everything and be as wretched as you choose.—Charles Kingsley.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm.

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially is this the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by all dealers.—Adv.

Late Trial For Witchcraft.

A trial for witchcraft and sorcery occurred in England in 1881. This was the trial of the Fletchers, who were famous clairvoyants, crystal gazers and mesmerists, who gave seances to which the whole fashionable world flocked. They induced a Mrs.
Hart Davis to give them jewelry and lace to the value of £10,000 and when proceedings were taken against them fled to America. The husband managed to escape arrest, but Mrs. Fletcher was brought back to England, indicted under the old statute of witchcraft and sorcery and sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment with hard labor.—London Spectator.

taken or shipped out of State by licensed fisherman. Coupon from license must be attached to package.

PROTECTED GAME.—Unlawful to transport beyond the boundaries of this State at any time. Unlawful to ship deer or portion of deer, within this State, unless accompanied by license tag.

A licensed non-resident hunter may take from the State as hand baggage not to exceed the number of birds of any kind that may be legally killed by him in one day.

Non-resident hunter may ship one deer or portion thereof out of State unaccompanied by permit of State game, fish and forestry warden or one of his deputies.

State game, fish and forestry warden may issue permit for sale and transportation, either within or without the State, of deer skins and buck deer heads, green or mounted at any season of year.

SALE OF PROTECTED GAME.—Unlawful to sell, at any time, any game animal or game bird protected by the laws of this State.

USE OF DOGS.—Lawful to train on game birds within fifteen days of the ruffed grouse season, but persons training must not carry firearms when so doing.

lawful to use any deadfall, snare, poison or explosive.

HUNTING ON ENCLOSED LANDS.
ETC.—Unlawful to hunt in public parks or game preserves, or on enclosed lands of another when such lands are posted against hunting, except with owner's consent.

SPEARING.—Unlawful to spear fish in inland lakes, except through the ice, during December, January, February and March. Lawful to spear fish in rivers and streams, but (subject to local acts applying to certain townships, counties, lakes or rivers) only Grass-pike, Mullet, Suckers and Redside may be speared during March, April,
May and June.

Unlawful to spear at any time, in either lakes or streams, Sturgeon, or any kind of Bass (except Rock Bass), or any kind of Trout.

FROGS.—Unlawful to kill or take in any manner, except for fish bait, any species of edible frogs, from November 1 to June 1.

"Shall" and "Will."

A man who was comparing himself with men of more education referred to them the other day as "university graduates who talk better English than I ever will." But one cannot prove his assertions by this remark, because many "university graduates" say "will"
for "shall." The majority of Americans and Scots seem to feel no distinction between "shall" and "will," but the English unfortunately do. When Bob Angus, in Mr. Barrie's "When a Man's Single," went to get work of a London editor he was asked whether he understood the distinction between "shall" and "will." "No," replied the young Scot, in a mournful tone, "and never will."—Chicago Post.

Remarkable Cure of Dysentery.

"I was attacked with dysentery about July 15th, and used the doctor's medicine and other medicines with no relief, only getting worse all the time. I was unable to do anything and my weight dropped from 145 to 125 pounds. I suffered for about two months when I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I used two bottles of it and it gave me permanent relief," writes B. W. Hill of Snow Hill, N. C. For sale by all dealers.—

Your Property Can Be Increased In Value

Many times the cost of the materials and labor if kept well painted.

You lose more than the paint merchant, or the painter if you fail to keep your buildings protected with good paints.

Paint materials are lower than for some years, but you still should see that you get nothing but the best.
We carry only first quality lines of guaranteed purity.

Buy a Mechanical Drudge

ANY a winter day of back breaking labor has the average farmer spent stooping over the old buck saw, zr-r-p, zr-r-ping its way through tough wood for the kitchen stove supply. But the wise ones don't do it now.
They have a handy engine to run the saw, while they rest and plan for next summer's work.

That engine is about
