NARROW ESCAPE FOR ED. SCHWADERER

AT ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT FRIDAY EVENING.

Fingers and Elbow Burned When
1,000 Volts Shot Through His Arm.

Ed Schwaderer had a narrow escape from possible death Friday evening at the electric light and water works plant. He was engaged in wiping the commutator segments and collector rings, while the dynamo was running, when his arm came in contact with the brush holder connection, thereby forming a circuit. When he was thrown back by the shock, his weight pressed against the brush handle and released it, opening the circuit and releasing him from the voltage.

The accident put out the lights. Superintendent Straube was busy in the office at the plant at the time and heard Mr. Schwaderer's yell of pain. He rushed for a lantern, in the meantime yelling to Schwaderer not to move, fearing he would become entangled in the machine if he attempted to leave his position in the darkness. When Straube had secured the light he found Ed edging around the machine and out of harm's way.

But for the release of the brush 1,000 volts would have been shot through his body, probably causing his death. His fingers and elbow were burned where they came in contact and the fingers were also badly cut on the sharp edge of the commutator brush. He expects to return to work again within a few days.

HELWIG--KLINKMAN

Married Tuesday on 44th Wedding Anniversary of Bride's Parents.

A pretty wedding took place at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. George Helwig on Tuesday when their daughter, Cora L., was joined in matrimony with Harvey R. Klinkman, a young and progressive farmer of Elkland township. Rev. D. J. Feather performed the ceremony, the ring service was used and at high noon, on the forty-fourth wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, the words were spoken which made the happy couple husband and wife.

They were attended by Miss Minerva Helwig, sister of the bride, and Clara Spurgeon. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white silk with lace trimming and the maid of honor was becomingly gowned in blue silk poplin with shadow lace. After the ceremony and congratulations, a bountiful dinner was served to the thirty guests present, who were only the immediate relatives of the young couple.

Guests from out of town who were present were Mrs. Emma Hutchinson and Miss Minnie Helwig of Buffalo and Misses Minerva and Kate Helwig of Flint.

On Wednesday evening the Y. P. A. of the Evangelical church, gave the newlyweds a miscellaneous shower at their home with Mr. and Mrs. George Helwig. They received a number of pretty and useful presents and all enjoyed the social evening.

HANGS SELF IN JAIL

Mark Gordon killed himself by hanging at the county jail. He was 48 years of age and has for years worked about Caro hotels as a porter. He made a noose of a bed sheet and fastened it to a banister post.

GRAHAM OFFERED $450
POSITION WITH FEDERALS

Stanley Graham, who starred last season as catcher in the Chattanooga team of the Southern League, has received an offer of $450 a month with the Buffalo team in the new Federal League. The salary was satisfactory, but Mr. Graham has misgivings as to the length of the life of the Federals and he has concluded to stay with the Chattanooga team this season. He leaves Cass City for Chattanooga about Feb. 26 and will begin practicing in that city Mar. 1. Just now, Stanley is "getting in shape" by taking Ed. Schwaderer's place at the power house while Ed is recovering from injuries received at the plant Friday evening.

LAST SPARLING BOY GOING LIKE OTHERS

RAY SAID TO BE WEAKENING RAPIDLY.

Friends of Dr. MacGregor Will Make
Attempt to Secure His Pardon, Believing Him Innocent.

Paul Woodworth, attorney for Mrs. Carrie B. Sparling, who was recently discharged by Judge Beach in circuit court from the charge of being implicated with Dr. Robt. A. MacGregor, who is now serving a life sentence in Jackson, for the murder of her son, Cyril, has started suit against the Ancient Order of Gleaners of Detroit for $1,000 claimed to be due Mrs. Sparling on a policy of Cyril's life. This insurance concern at the time of Mrs. Sparling's arrest, and because of the charge preferred against her, refused to pay the policy.

It is no secret that MacGregor has the sympathy of many people in the state, who believe the doctor is innocent, and an effort is on foot to get him a pardon.

Ray Sparling, the only Sparling boy alive, it is said, simply seems to be fading away, and Mrs. Sparling, his mother, has not returned to Port Huron as yet from Uby, where she has been visiting, as Ray, who is weaker, has been unable to stand the short ride. It takes constant care to keep him from collapsing and passing away like his brothers did.

TUSCOLA DRIES TO INCORPORATE

TO ORGANIZE UNDER STATE LAWS.

First Meeting of 1915 Campaign to Make County Dry Held at Caro Tuesday.

Representatives of the dry forces in Tuscola county met at Caro Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of arranging preliminaries for the campaign ending at the 1915 spring election when the dries expect to restore Tuscola to the dry column.

The dry forces of the county intend to incorporate their organization under the state laws and will endeavor to secure from 2,500 to 3,000 members. This action is contemplated because it is more business-like to maintain the organization in this manner and will command a wider influence.

Temporary officers elected Tuesday were: F. A. Bigelow, Cass City, president; L. G. Seeley, Caro, secretary; Rev. T. D. Denman, Caro, treasurer. Three directors were also chosen.

The officers and directors will draw up articles of incorporation and then the work of soliciting members will commence.

The indebtedness incurred in late campaigns has been practically cleared. At the meeting Tuesday, it was announced that but $40 of the indebtedness remained unprovided for.

GROSS COUNTRY WALKER

Cass City Looks Mighty Good to
C. D. Striffler.

C. D. Striffler has made a reputation as a cross country walker which he hopes to maintain and undoubtedly will unless the weather warms up very soon. A few days ago Mr. Striffler was out near Vassar collecting for Cass City parties and arrived at Vassar just as the train which he was to take left the depot. Not to be daunted, he decided to walk to Caro and board the east bound D., B. C. & W. at that point. Charlie arrived at Caro safely and after a few business calls, he started to the station, feeling confident that he would not be left this time, but the train schedule had been changed and was 20 minutes earlier than formerly and again C. D. was permitted only a glance of the rear coach of the train going round the bend without him as a passenger.

The feeling that "there's no place like home" was very strong just then and Charlie was bound to get to Cass City somehow, so he called G. A. Striffler on the telephone, explained the situation and asked him to start to meet him and he would walk out from Caro. This was agreed upon and after eating supper, the pedestrian started out. In telling it, he said, "I walked, and walked, and walked," but finally after he had left Ellington Corners a short distance behind him, he met a conveyance and at last he need walk no more for G. A. had arrived and Charlie rode the remainder of the way to Cass City, the best looking town on the map to him. The exercise apparently did no harm for he was able to be out and at his work early the next morning.

To the Voters of Novesta Township:

DAWSON QUITS GAME
FOR JOB AT FORD CO.

Henry Ford's profit-sharing plan has cost the Saginaw South Michigan ball club the most promising outfield recruit on its reserve list.

"Cy" Dawson, of Marlette, former M. A. C. outfielder, came into the South Michigan circuit last fall and swatted away over .300 for 30 games. He was counted a regular for 1914. He has sent back his contract, saying conditions in the Ford plant make it unwise to quit his job for four months of base ball.

HERE AND THERE AROUND THE THUMB

HOTEL UNIONVILLE SOLD TO
CHAS. DUROW.

Yale Woolen Mills Team Freight to Emmett Because of Poor
P. M. Service.

W. E. Graham died suddenly at his home in Marlette after a few days' illness of pneumonia.

The Yale Woolen Mills are drawing their freight to Emmett on the Grand trunk these days, because of the poor service and high freight rates on the P. M.

The Hotel Unionville at Unionville was sold last week to Chas. Durow of Ashmore for $7,000 by Mrs. M. A. Strieter, who has been the landlady for over three years.

Wm. Kinde, aged 90, father of Fred Kinde of Bad Axe, died at Bay Port. He was a pioneer of Huron county, having resided in that section 50 years. He leaves five sons and three daughters.

Stepping from his place of business to go across the street to do some trading, Leonard Rogner, hotel-keeper of Richville, slipped on the ice, fractured his skull, dying within a short time. One or two neighbors saw him fall, and when he did not rise, rushed to his side, found that he was unconscious. A physician was summoned immediately, but nothing could be done, and he expired a short time afterward.

Sebewaing merchants and shippers are anything but satisfied with the new curtailed freight service given by the Pere Marquette. The three trains each way per week, with an occasional extra thrown in for good measure, are not giving good satisfaction by any means. Most of the other divisions are setting up a howl over the service that would shame a drunken sailor. Some of them are getting only two trains a week and these are only on time, seemingly, when there is a fair wind blowing. So it would seem that the towns on the Saginaw Bad Axe line are just a bit better off than others.

SENIORS AND FACULTY

St. Valentine Party at Home of Miss Carola Fritz.

Misses Carola Fritz and Ora Stockmeyer entertained the senior class and faculty of C. C. H. S. and a number of friends at the home of Miss Fritz, Wednesday evening. The rooms were decorated in true Saint Valentine style, little red hearts and other of Cupid's tools adorned the curtains, chandeliers and doors. Amusements for the evening were in various forms. One of the interesting stunts was that each lady was provided with four mittens and a heart which she was to hand out to the young men, who chose to propose to her, giving them either the mitten or her heart. Shadows on My Heart and Trade Valentines also afforded much merriment and a contest at matching hearts was the finale, in which Alfred Farrell and Miss Leone Matkin were made king and queen and Paul Fritz and Miss Niva Gable their seconds by matching their hearts soonest. These four were given the table of honor and were given first honors in all that the King and Queen of Hearts should lead. A delicious four course supper was served as follows:

Fruit salad	Pickles	Wafers
Sandwiches	Olives	Coffee
Ice cream	Macaroons	Cake
	Hub wafers

Mrs. C. A. Stockmeyer of Caseville was the guest of her daughter at the party.

Blatchford's Calf Meal at Wood's Drug Store.

ELKTON TAKES TWO HARD FOUGHT GAMES

BOYS' CONTEST A TIE UNTIL NEAR END.

"Watch for the Return Game in Two Weeks" Say Local Players.

The girls' and boys' basket ball teams of the local high school made their second out of town trip of last Friday to Elkton. They left on the noon train and during a wait in Pigeon, all were enabled to visit that school for a short time and then take a bob to Elkton.

The girls' game was called at eight and both local teams were unusually enthusiastic. When the referee announced the first half over, the game seemed in favor of Cass City with a score of 5 to 4, but during the last half, though both teams worked hard, luck favored Elkton, resulting in a score of 17 to 8 for them.

The contest between the boys' teams was almost equal, Cass City excelling especially in team work. It was thought that perhaps the result would be a tie, but in the last few minutes before the signal, Elkton scored one more basket, making it 18 to 16.

Good feeling was shown by both teams and all derived pleasure from the trip. On the way home, a seven hours' wait was enjoyed in Pigeon on account of the snow blockade. Those at the depot were entertained by the Cass City high school male quartette. They arrived home at six o'clock in best of spirits.

When questioned as to the two defeats local players reply, "Watch for the return games in two weeks."

Caro Business Men Favor Formation

Caro business men held a meeting last week when the question of aiding in the formation of a farmers elevator company was discussed.

WITH THE INVENTORS

Among the more important inventions of recent years is the Maxim silencer. This is an apparatus for sending noise into retirement. As yet it is applicable only to firearms, but time will bring it around to the piano and grand opera singer. Even in its present form it is working wonders in the preservation of our game animals. Hunters may now shoot the powder factories above the oil trust in the financial column and yet not frighten the game in the least. The instrument is also useful in settling feline disputes and eradicating pessimists without committing oneself.

The vacuum cleaner is a late invention for boosting families up the social ladder. Its territory, too, remains to be extended to politics and vaudeville.

Wireless telegraphy was getting a business men concerning the market conditions in Caro, and it was believed the time was ripe to make an effort to remedy such conditions if possible.

After considerable discussion as to the benefits of a farmers' elevator, it was decided that the business men would finance a stock subscription campaign to extent of $100, same to be repaid when the elevator organization was completed.

It is stated that on option on the Caro Elevator Company plant can be secured for about $18,000, the buildings and machinery being appraised and insured for nearly that amount. It is believed it would be far better to buy one of the existing elevators than to erect a new one.

C. A. Townsend of Milford is in charge of the Maynard drug store during Mrs. Maynard's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Mosack have moved into the Gifford house recently vacated by Miss Lizzie Quinn.

Mrs. R. Wills and daughter left last Thursday for Detroit to spend some time visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Ella V. Maynard left today for Detroit where she will remain until Saturday when in company with Mr. and Mrs. M. Truesdell will start for the south. They expect to be gone about eight weeks.

Mrs. Richard Burden entertained a number of gentlemen from town last Thursday evening at a chicken pie supper. The party was a surprise on Mr. Burden. Cards were the amusement of the evening and a most enjoyable time was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Karner entertained a company of friends from town at their pleasant country home west of town last week Wednesday. At midnight, an elaborate luncheon was spread to which all did justice. The guests left in the early morning declaring Mr. and Mrs. Karner were royal entertainers.

The new proprietors of the hotel Truesdell, Messrs. Cline and Bowen, of Port Huron with their families arrived in town last week Wednesday and took possession the following morning. The new proprietors were given a hearty welcome, Mr. and Mrs. Truesdell have been in town for a number of years and we regret their departure as they have gained a wide reputation with the travelling public as model hotel keepers. They stored their goods at the farm south of town while they are in the south.

Mrs. F. D. Hemerick entertained the Thimble Club at her home on Main St. last Thursday evening. The affair was in the form of a Valentine party. The house decorations were red hearts and cupid. Red hearts were hidden throughout the house and to the one who found these hearts, to spell the word "Valentine" first won a prize. Miss Belle Gage won first, Miss Nelson consolation. To secure partners for supper, Valentine post cards were cut in different shapes and put in envelopes. The ones matching together were partners. Luncheon was served and all the guests departed for home after having spent a most enjoyable evening. Mrs. C. Clark from Caro was the invited guest.

The play "All A Mistake" given by the pupils of the high school last Friday evening was a great success. The cast of characters was well represented and each took his part exceedingly well. The songs by Miss S. Vanstine and the quartette were loudly applauded and responded to by an encore. The reading by Miss F. Smith was received with hearty applause and she was called back. Miss Mead from Cass City ably assisted with songs and showed great talent.

The hall was crowded to the utmost which shows that the parents of the pupils are interested in their children's work and should encourage the teachers.

SHABBONA.

At the annual meeting of the Shabbona Creamery Co. operating creameries at Shabbona and Elmer, the stockholders voted to place the company on a profit sharing basis. All profits over and above a reasonable dividend to the stockholders will be paid back to the patrons pro rata on the number of dollars they have received during the year of 1914 in payment for butter fat. The Shabbona Creamery Co. has been a fine profit-making industry the past three years and R. M. Riley, the manager, has advocated the profit-sharing basis for over a year, but could not get the stockholders to give their consent to its operation until the annual meeting held in January when every stockholder except one voted for it. The year's business in 1913 amounted to $73,448.00 and the amount of butter manufactured was 251,269 pounds. Thirty and one-third cents was the average price paid patrons for butter far during the year; 35c was the highest and 25c the lowest price.

Earl Petteplace returned Friday from a two weeks' visit at Pontiac and Detroit.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid meets with Mrs. E. A. Phillips next Tuesday, Feb. 17.

Miss Anne Hilliker of near Marlette is the guest of her cousin, Margaret Phillips, and other relatives.

Geo. Pangman and family have moved to Le Grande where he has employment.

Alex Lindsay, who has been visiting in Canada for some time, returned home Friday.

Mrs. Geo. B. Gotham and Mrs. Sam Hamilton are on the sick list; also Mrs. R. M. Riley.

Clarence Davis of Deckerville was in town the last of the week. His sister, Hattie Davis, returned home with him Sunday.
Mrs. J. P. Neville of Palms and Mrs. Roy Brown of Cumber have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lorentzen, the past week. They returned Monday.

BEAULEY.

Cutting wood is the order of business.

Henry Smith and Chas. E. Hartsell have been caring for sick cows. Henry's cow died last night. C. E. H.'s is better at the present time. Dry murrain is the disease.

Our revival meetings were stopped by the illness of Mrs. Richards. Hope she will soon be better so that the good work will go on. Come and bring some one with you when they start again.

Charles Reader of Port Perry, Ont., has returned after spending five weeks with relatives and friends here.
Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Turner made a business trip to Flint Saturday.

Mrs. Jno. Moore is quite poorly again.

Glen Hoffman has quite an attack of asthma at the home of Jno. Moore. Miss Mary Kavanah from near Bad Axe is the new teacher at Grant No. 7.

The stormy weather does not stop W. O. Stafford from drawing his milk to Uby. He just takes four horses instead of two and makes three trips a week. He has over a ton of milk of his own besides drawing for some others. He is busy installing a Standard milking machine which will help greatly in his work.

The Hand Tree.

A curious tree is growing in Los Angeles, Cal., the seed of which was brought from Mexico. In general appearance it resembles an English walnut. The leaves are much like those of a buttonwood, but very much larger. The most marked peculiarity of the tree is its blossoms, from which it has been named the "hand tree." The flower is an inch and a half in diameter, with short russet sepals and long, reddish lined petals. The fat scarlet pistils protrude an inch beyond. They are so joined as to resemble a hand, with finger nails like the claws of a Chinese grandee. The resemblance to a hand is striking.

Claquers in French Theaters.

The theatrical claquer has ever been an institution in France, especially Paris, where a "chef de claquer" enjoys a recognized status and receives a comfortable income. It is a mistake to suppose that the only duty of claquers is to applaud. A well organized claquer includes some members who have cultivated the art of infectious laughter. These, called "chateuliers," attend the lighter forms of drama and laugh so heartily and naturally that their neighbors join in and leave the house convinced that the play must be a most amusing one. Then, too, there are the "pleureurs," who are paid to shake with sobs at the right moment in melodrama.

A communication from Walter C. McNeil approving the proceedings of the Council in regard to the issuance of $11,000 water bonds was read as follows:

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 13, 1913
Village of Cass City,
Tuscola Co., Mich.

Gentlemen:
I have examined a certified transcript of the proceedings taken by the Village of Cass City, Tuscola County, Michigan, preliminary to the issuance of eleven (11) Water Works bonds, numbered from one (1) to eleven (11) consecutively and inclusively, each of the denomination of one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars, aggregating eleven thousand ($11,000.00) dollars in amount, bearing date of October 1, 1913, and becoming due and payable as follows: One thousand ($1,000.00) dollars of said bonds on the 1st day of August, 1915, and one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars of said bonds on the first day of August of each and every year thereafter until all of said bonds have been paid, to-wit: up to and including the first day of August, 1925 with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable annually on the first day of August, and I am of the opinion that the above proceedings show due authority in said Village, under the laws of the State of Michigan, to issue such bonds.

I am further of the opinion that the above bonds will, when executed and issued, constitute valid and binding obligations upon said Village of Cass City, for the payment of which bonds the full faith and credit of said Village will have been pledged by the issuance thereof, and that said bonds will be tax exempt under the laws of the state of Michigan.

I have also examined the form of bond to be issued by said Village under the above proceedings, and I am of the opinion that the same is proper in form and in compliance with all Statutory requirements.

Very truly yours,
Signed, Walter C. McNeil.

Northern Michigan Grown Seed Beans

BEANS in this part of the state were so badly damaged last season from blight and rust, we have purchased a carload of Northern Michigan Grown Seed Beans. These beans are free from rust and blight. Farmers who purchased this seed last year got from ten to fifteen bushels more beans to the acre than those who used home grown seed, in some instances receiving $25 to the acre more for their beans than their neighbors who used home grown seed.

The sins of the fathers fall upon the bean crop as well as the human family, and the only way to raise beans free from blight and rust is to secure outside seed grown on sandy land, free from diseases that have gotten in our home crop the past few seasons. Let us have your orders early. Sample can be seen at our office.

WILMOT.
 Miss Ida Terrace of Caro is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Jeff. Brimson.
 Mrs. M. Moulton has been confined to the home for several days with a bad cold.
 Perry Silvernail is drawing stone and gravel for E. W. Hart as he is intending to build in the spring.
 Mr. Anderdyce is coming back to Wilmot this week so he writes; whether to stay or pack up we did not learn.
 A. Williams has been on the sick list with a cold for several days but is better at this writing.
 Revivals have been held here for the past week. Not a very large attendance on account of the bad roads and weather.
 F. Silk and O. Barton of Detroit were at Wilmot last Tuesday.
 Percy Graves of Sanilac visited relatives here last week.
 Arthur Brown came home from Caro with the mumps last week.
 M. Fremid, our former station agent, spent the week end with relatives here, returning to his work at Wash, Mich., Monday.
 Mrs. Will Barrons, who has been poorly for some time, is not so well.
 Born Feb. 10th, a 9 pound daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shoemaker. Both are doing nicely.
 The L. A. S. will serve their regular aid dinner next Wednesday in K. O. T. M. hall. All are cordially invited.
 Miss Ella Soles went Saturday evening to spend Sunday with her sister, Miss Cassie. She is still absent and as we hear there is sickness over towards White Creek. We mistrust she has a job of nursing that is detaining her.
 Our paper man, Mr. Allen, his household goods, press and family have arrived. We are expecting to see the first copy of the Wilmot Enterprise this week. We are sure it will be a benefit to the town and wish him success with all our heart.

Not What He Meant.
 "You eat very little, Mr. Smith," said the maiden coyly to the bashful lover who had been invited to share the family holiday dinner.
 "Yes," replied he, and for once he saw a chance, and grasping his courage, he said, "To sit next to you, Miss Grace, is to lose one's appetite."—Ladies' Home Journal.

THE NEW
Black Hawk Manure Spreader
 The latest improved Low Down. The only Spreader with a Concave.

20 REASONS WHY it is the SIMPLEST and STRONGEST—the most satisfactory one to buy.

- REASON No. 1
 Because it has an AUTOMOBILE front axle. What advantage is that?
- REASON No. 2
 It provides a short turn and short wheel base, which means a short spreader. This means light draft.
- REASON No. 3
 It means there is no neck weight and no side lash of the pole, and has the most simple and convenient set-over pole ever seen on a spreader; readily adapted to the use of 2, 3 or 4 horses.
- REASON No. 4
 It means the wheels are under the spreader, where they should be; not projecting out on each end.
- REASON No. 5
 This spreader is from 6 to 8 feet shorter than other LOW DOWN spreaders of the same capacity, while the extreme height from the ground to the top of the side boards, midway between the wheels, is under 41 inches; our style of construction gives a clearance of several inches more under the machine than is possible on the long coupled LOW DOWN spreaders. This feature is very desirable in trashy fields or in rough traveling, and is also a great convenience when it is necessary to load manure from under the machine.
- REASON No. 6
 The rear wheels do not project out behind the cylinder, to be filled up with manure on windy days and when working on hillsides.
- REASON No. 7
 The cylinder IS NOT on the rear axle. The rear axle has enough to do to carry the load and furnish the power. This means small repair bills.
- REASON No. 8
 Because it is the only spreader that has a CONCAVE, which is the greatest improvement ever put on a manure spreader.
- REASON No. 9
 The CONCAVE will regulate the backward movement of the load, so there can be no racing backward when going up hill or driving over rough ground.
- REASON No. 10
 You can drive up a hillside as steep as a house roof and the load will not slip backward and choke the cylinder.
- REASON No. 11
 The CONCAVE will cure 90 per cent of your spreader trouble and breakage, because it prevents choking of the cylinder.
- REASON No. 12
 The CONCAVE will keep the manure out of the cylinder while loading, so the cylinder is free to start and will not throw out bunches.
- REASON No. 13
 The CONCAVE causes the spreader to pulverize better, run lighter, spread more evenly, and gives absolute control of the load when going up hill or going down hill.
- REASON No. 14
 The rear axle of the BLACK HAWK SPREADER has three bearings instead of two. These bearings are held in line with a double wood bolster. This is the best combination ever made for hauling heavy loads over rough ground.
- REASON No. 15
 The cylinder runs in babbitted self-aligning bearings. The bed of the spreader is two inches wider behind than in front. Great combination for light draft.

- REASON No. 16
 The bottom of the BLACK HAWK SPREADER is made of first-class White Oak. It is stronger, better made, better ironed, better painted, and will last longer than any other.
- REASON No. 17
 The material in the BLACK HAWK SPREADER is of the very best. Genuine Oak cylinder bars—Oak cross pieces—Oak bottom, and an Oak frame that will keep its shape; at the same time has a life and flexibility not possible in metal construction. The doubletrees and singletrees are Hickory.
- REASON No. 18
 The BLACK HAWK SPREADER is simple, strong and durable. There is not a cog wheel on the whole machine. All nuts that are liable to work loose are secured with lock nuts.
- REASON No. 19
 The BLACK HAWK SPREADER has the capacity and light draft that will enable an average team to do a big day's work, and do it right. It has a range of feed from 3 to 75 loads per acre.
- REASON No. 20
 Before you buy, take a look at the new LOW DOWN BLACK HAWK SPREADER with CONCAVE. You will like its looks, and you do not need to be an expert or mechanic to see that this spreader is high class and first-class in every respect. It is built to last, stay solid and give satisfaction. It bristles with D. M. SECHLER quality, design, material and workmanship. If you appreciate and like to work with a real good tool honestly made, get acquainted with the NEW BLACK HAWK at

One of the interesting and surprising facts made by Mr. Rosenberger was that the silo originated in the Garden of Eden. His talk was full of information about silos and every farmer present appreciated very much the fine points and explanations which they received. The next meeting of the Club will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Benkelman.

When she returned from the inspection of birthday gifts, she was surprised to find a large kettle of oysters ready to cook and which was served to the guests with the following later in the evening: Coffee, sandwiches, pickles, ice cream and cakes. Music was enjoyed, and before the guests departed, they wished Mrs. Profitt many more, happy birthdays and joined in the good old hymn, "God be with you 'till we meet again."

Why? Do You Ask?

Because building material is cheaper now than it will be after a while. There's absolutely no question about it, sir.

It will cost you less in actual dollars and cents to put up a building of any kind right now, than it will in six months from now, or even three months.

Everything is on the up grade and while prices will not go as high as they were before the 1907 panic, they're bound to be a good bit higher than they are now.

Facts About Deafness.

According to a French statistician, males are more subject to aural diseases than females, and out of every seven middle aged persons there are two who do not hear so well with one ear as with the other. In every 1,000 children under fifteen years of age 4 per cent show symptoms of ear disease and 6 per cent a marked deficiency in hearing power. The liability to disease increases from birth to the age of forty and then begins gradually to decrease as old age advances. Out of the total number of cases subjected to surgical treatment in France in one year it is estimated that about 57 per cent were cured and 30 per cent permanently improved.

Tyler Lodge, F. & A. M., has received an invitation to witness degree work in the lodge rooms of Verona Lodge at Bad Axe next Wednesday evening. Local Masons are considering the advisability of securing special train service over the D. & H. R. R. for that day, but will not decide soon enough to announce same in this issue.
The people who need more religion are: The man who lets his horse stand all day in the rain without a blanket; the man who grows like a beast with a sore head when his wife asks him for money; the woman who whispers it around that someone else is not just what she ought to be; the preacher who is always looking for an easier place and higher salary; the man who walks the streets with his hands in his pockets while his wife carries the baby; and the man who keeps a dog and says he can't afford the home newspaper.—Ex.

Geo. W. Seed, fire department chief, has inspected the public buildings of the village at the request of the state fire marshal. He has called the attention of the Elkland township board to the fact that there is but one stairway in the town hall leading from the lodge rooms in the second story and thinks there should be more exits provided. The smaller building of the public schools has but one stairway, but as the building contains no fire, being heated by steam, and is not wired for lighting, the danger from fire is not so great here.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

There will be a reception of members Sunday morning. Many were detained by the cold and drifted roads last Sunday; but thirty-nine united with the church. All services will be as usual.
Special services will begin at the Bethel church Monday night. Bro. Foeman, pastor of the Argyle charge will assist.

GREENLEAF.

A very pleasant time was enjoyed by a gathering numbering forty-seven, on Tuesday at the home of Robert Matthews of Holbrook. The day was the regular meeting day of the Holbrook M. E. Ladies' Aid of which society Mrs. Matthews is a member. The Greenleaf Baptist Ladies' Aid also claims Mrs. Matthews as a member and the two societies enjoyed a joint meeting with her before she leaves for her new home at Decker. A bounteous dinner followed by ice cream was served by the hostess after which the ladies spent the afternoon quilting. The occasion was one long to be remembered by all present and they join in sending good wishes and cheer with Mrs. Matthews to her new home.

Your money is here alright, and you can have it as soon as it is safe to let you have it. In the meantime we will give you instead of actual cash, clearing house certificates, which will serve the same purpose. This is the third time I have explained this matter to you. I have gone into it thoroughly because I want you to explain the conditions to the rest of your fellow-countrymen who are our depositors. Do you think you understand now?"

"Yees, yees," replied Smidt, "I explain it shust like dis, Mr. Caschier: 'Matilda und I haf a little baby. DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT light that he was received this year after two disappointments.

Mr. Nielson began the evening's entertainment with a favorite Scotch song, his wife accompanying him at the piano. Miss Nielson gave a reading, "The Gray Dress," and immediately won the praise of every person in the house. Her best production through the evening was "The Gypsy Girl's Love Story," when she appeared in a gypsy costume and acted the part of a wild gypsy girl whose love for a handsome young man of another tribe was not returned. Miss Nielson received her education in Scotland and has the power of magnetism which holds her audience almost breathless when she reaches a climax.
After several readings and musical number Mr. Nielson lectured from his subject, "Doing One Thing," talking chiefly of the man with a purpose and that purpose being to gain character. Mr. Nielson is a scholar, and familiar with history and the best of fiction and poetry, his lecture was characterized by a gracefulness of diction, clearness of expression and directness of appeal and through all there was a line of simplicity which appealed to all.

At the close of his lecture, Miss Nielson recited Burn's famous poem, "A Man's a Man for A' That," in her own characteristic manner and with great impressiveness. To complete the evening of pleasure, Mr. Nielson sang "Annie Laurie," at the request of those who had heard him render the love song when here last year.

Much Wanted.

The following advertisement, quoted from a Boston paper of a date early in the nineteenth century by Mr. Janson in "The Stranger in America," shows that the domestic problem is not one of modern manufacture. But what mistress of today would dare to impose such conditions on the hindrance in the kitchen?

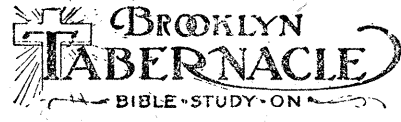

Much Wanted: A neat, well behaved female to do kitchen work in a small family in Charlestown, near Boston. She may pray and sing hymns, but not over the dishkettle. She may go to meeting, but not belong to the congregation of midnight worshippers. Inquire at Repertory office, near Boston.

When Statesmen Ran Races.

When Charles James Fox stayed at Chatsworth in 1777 foot racing was a favorite pastime among the guests at country houses. To the intense delight of his hostess, Georgiana, duchess of Devonshire, the Whig leader proved the victor in two races, which, she writes, "considering his not having been to bed and his size, is doing a great deal." Seeing that Fox, although under thirty, then weighed close on twenty stone, his performance did him credit. The duchess also derived keen enjoyment from his conversation. "He talks like a brilliant player at billiards—the strokes follow one another, piff-paff."—London Tattler

FOOLISH WAITING.

There is no more common thought among young people than the foolish one that by and by something will turn up by which they will suddenly achieve fame and fortune. Things do not turn up in this world unless somebody turns them up.—James A. Garfield.

WOE UNTO YOU, PHARISEES! Luke 11:37-54—Feb. 15. "Be not deceived; God is not mocked." Galatians 6:7.

AMONGST the Jewish sects of our Lord's day we have every reason to believe that the Pharisees constituted the one most loyal to God. The Sadducees professed no faith in a future life. They were infidels and politicians. The Essenes were a small sect not mentioned in the Bible, a kind of Higher Critics, of little faith and confused by mixing paganism with Judaism.

A Pharisee Invites Jesus to Dine.

The Pharisees were what might be termed orthodox Jews. Their name signifies "holly people." In today's Study Jesus, not deigning to mention the other sects, which had entirely departed from God, addressed Himself to the Pharisees, pointing out wherein, with all their boasted holiness, they came far short of what would be acceptable to God.

A Pharisee invited Jesus to dine at his house. Jesus passed in and sat down without the formalism of washing, customary to the Pharisees. The host thought of Jesus as a holy man, and remarked that it was strange that He had not washed. Jesus then pointed out that much of what even the holiest Jews practised was merely ceremony, not true religion. Outwardly they were clean, but inwardly their hearts were unclean—given to extortion—spiritual wickedness. In God's sight the heart is the important matter. The inside of the cup should first be cleansed.

From our Lord's expressions, apparently one of the Pharisees' great failings was covetousness. According to the Greek, Jesus called them "money-lovers." Once He told them that this covetousness led them dishonestly to disregard others' rights. He said, "Ye devour widows' houses," meaning that they took advantage of widows to accumulate property for themselves. Apparently many Pharisees were rich.

Jesus pointed out that with such wrong heart conditions God could not be pleased, even though they ever so carefully observed the outward regulations of the Jewish Law. While they were particular to tithe even the smallest seed of which they grew but a trifling quantity, yet they neglected the weightier matters of the Law—to deal justly and to love mercy.

A Pharisee Invites Jesus to Dine.

Their covetousness took the form of pride, as well as dishonesty. They wanted to be very prominent in things religious, and to be hailed as "Rabbi"—master, learned one. Jesus declared that they were like sepulchres, outwardly clean and whitewashed, but inwardly full of corruption. They were holiness people merely in the outward form or ceremonial.

Some of the Pharisees, especially educated, well-versed in the Scriptures, were styled lawyers—Doctors of the Law, equivalent of what today are termed Doctors of Divinity. Jesus upbraided them, saying that they placed grievous burdens upon the common people, which they themselves would not bear. He meant that they gave such hard interpretations of God's Law as discouraged the people, setting before them standards of perfection which they themselves did not try to live up to. Apparently they wished to impress the people with the sanctity of the clergy. They built sepulchres for the Prophets, forgetful that their fathers, whose spirit they had, were the ones who killed those Prophets.

Woe! Woe! Woe! Woe! Woe!

We are not to think of Jesus as condemning the Pharisees to eternal torment, or as intimating that this would be the woe coming upon them. The woe was that the Pharisees were about to miss the great blessing which God had promised Israel—chief association in Messiah's Kingdom. (Genesis 22:18.) Had there been enough "Israelites indeed" to complete God's fore-ordained Elect, the Kingdom offer would not have gone to the Gentiles.

The Pharisees were in the most favored place for attaining joint-heirship with Messiah; but they recognized not what they were losing. Jesus' expression, "Woe unto you," is therefore to be regarded sympathetically. This thought is borne out by the context, which foretells the great time of trouble which came upon Israel at Jesus' crucifixion and reached completion in A. D. 70, in the total destruction of their City and polity.

As Jesus declared, that trouble was a settlement of Jehovah's account for all righteous blood for which no expiation had been made. Little did those Pharisees know that their hypocrisy hindered from preparation for a place in Messiah's Kingdom both themselves and the people. Jesus refers to this, saying, "Ye have taken away the key of knowledge."

Bible students very generally believe that the trouble which closed the Jewish Age pictured the Time of Trouble which will close this Gospel Age and bring woe upon many modern Pharisees, as well as tribulation upon all evil-doers, as a prelude to the Messianic Reign of Glory.

COURTESY.

Courtesy is really doing unto others as you would be done unto, and the art of it lies in a careful consideration for the feelings of other people. It comes from putting oneself in a neighbor's place and trying to enter into his mind, and it demands a certain suppression of oneself and a certain delicate sympathy with one's neighbor.

THE GOLDEN AGE AT HAND.

Scriptural Evidences That Are Astonishing—No One Can Afford to Be Without the Knowledge.
We do our friends a valuable service when we call their attention to the valuable book entitled, "THE TIME IS AT HAND," in which are given many Scriptural evidences to prove where we are on the stream of time.
"Men's hearts are failing them for fear" and many of the leading thinkers are proposing remedies to better conditions. The Scriptures assure us that man's extremity will be God's opportunity, and this book holds out an anchor to those who fear the wave of unrest now spreading over the world.
The honest heart confesses that it is at a loss for an explanation of transpiring events. While we refer to this as the BRAIN AGE and the Age of ENLIGHTENMENT, nevertheless many realize that we are fast approaching a crisis which is wrapped in darkness owing to the present worldwide social, religious and political unrest.

DECOLLETE EFFECTS.

They Are to Be Very Pronounced on Spring Gowns.

SATIN AFTERNOON GOWN.

Even for afternoon wear very low cut effects are to be very much a la mode. The gown pictured here, which is carried out in black and white, is an example of this. The tunic of black net is applied over white mousseline.

For the foundation of the corsage of evening gowns tulle, even more than lace, is favored, especially flesh colored tulle. The effect is naturally startling. How could it be otherwise when the tulle takes on the tints of the flesh and the effect is that of a semimode woman? To see a woman wearing one of these tulle corsages when she is seated at a table is even enough to cause spectators to gasp with consternation.

Simple Remedies That Will Often Cure Them.

To cure a stubborn cough take 5 cents' worth each of pressed horehound leaves, pressed hops and wild cherry bark. Boil together in a scant quart of soft water to form a strong dark tea, strain the tea through cheesecloth without squeezing, add a pound of loaf sugar and simmer slowly to a thick sirup.
Take a teaspoonful several times a day, whenever the cough is distressing. For whooping cough add 5 cents' worth of chestnut leaves to the other ingredients when making the tea.
A slight cough may often be quickly cured by gargling with hot water in which a little soda has been dissolved. This is excellent for croup; Take a thin cloth—either linen or cotton—saturate it with pure glycerin, add a few drops of camphor, then sprinkle nutmeg thickly over all and apply to throat and chest.

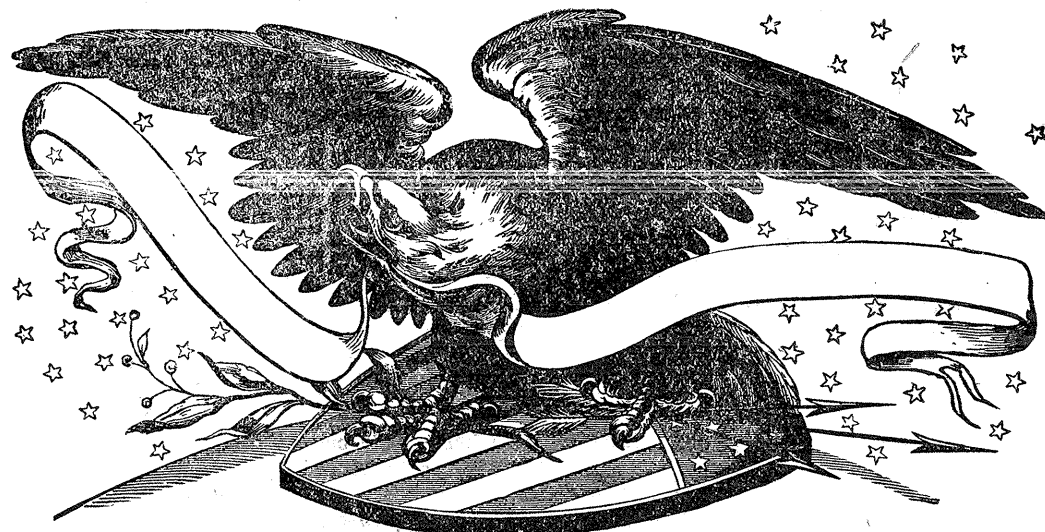

Camphor is a handy remedy in case of colds which make breathing difficult. Moisten a handkerchief with the camphor and lay it on the pillow. The fumes will relieve the head and induce sleep.
For dryness in the throat hold a few drops of glycerin in the mouth as long as possible with the lips closed or gargle the throat with equal parts of glycerin and water.

Chic Evening Robes.

The most fashionable color for evening wear at present is pale green. There must be more than a touch of black used with it if the wearer wishes to be completely up to date. Jet and black tulle are favorite adjuncts. A tulle tunic bordered with a line of jet bugles may cover the green to the knees, or instead of beads or bugles, velvet poppies with black stamens may be used.
The shoes should match the gown. They may have jet embroidery on the toes and heels. The hair ornament must also be jet. Or the gown itself may be black, with a green velvet coat worn with it trimmed round the outlines with a band of jade green embroidery.

Next in favor for evening shades is the lovely Rose du Barry pink.
Hosiery Economy.
Blue stockings, especially a very delicately tinted kind, which have faded, can have the color restored by dipping them in hot water in which common bluing has been poured and some lumps of alum dissolved, or they can, together with white stockings, be reclored and so continue to do a great deal of service. To the alum add dye instead of bluing and so revive the faded pinks and blues and tan colored hosiery which have collected.

Book Auction Back In 1732.

John Montgomerie, governor of the province of New York, died on July 1, 1731. In the New York Gazette of May 8, 1732, is the following advertisement, the first of its kind:

"On Thursday, June 1, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, will begin to be sold at public auction a collection of valuable books belonging to the library of his excellency John Montgomerie, Esq., late governor of New York, etc., deceased. A catalogue of the books may be seen at the Coffee House in New York, with the conditions of sale."
This is also the first instance where the word "auction" appears, "vendue" being the term in general use.

His Neighbor's Goat.

After losing his newspaper for several mornings a Pittsburgh man decided to investigate. His efforts were rewarded one morning when he discovered a neighbor's goat breakfasting on the paper. The owner of the goat is now wondering if the animal's milk will make print butter.—Buffalo Express.

Witty Retort.

The Rev. Henry N. Coudege, the blind chaplain of the house of representatives at Washington, had an idea at one time that he would prefer to be chaplain of the senate and went to see Speaker Cannon about it.
"What do you want to go over there for?" stormed the speaker. "The house is a flower garden and the senate is a graveyard."
"I know," replied the chaplain gently. "But one stays longer in a graveyard than in a flower garden."

Sided With Father.

"There is a little chap in our town," said the suburbanite, "whose father and mother have words quite frequently, and have them loud enough to be heard by the neighbors. The burden of their recriminations when audible is, on the wife's part, that she ever loved the Hicks family sufficiently to marry a Stubbs, and on his part that he ever honored the Hicks family by allying it with the house of Stubbs. "One day last summer the young son of the house went fishing. He had barely got his line into the brook when he heard his mother calling him.
"There it is," said he disgustedly; "the minute the Stubbses begin to fish the Hickses begin to holler."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Their Funeral Wedding Tour.

Not long ago a north country vicar married an elderly couple at 11 o'clock in the morning. At 3 in the afternoon his duties took him to the neighboring cemetery, where he met the same couple seated lovingly on one of the benches.

"You see, sir," the husband explained, "my wife is a raoul un for pleasure. I wanted to go back to me work this afternoon, but th' missus sed we'd better enjoy ourselves to th' full and mak' a day on't."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Motion Picture Actors.

When an actor or actress from the regular stage obtains a good position with a picture firm he or she rarely wishes to get back to the footlights. One reason why artistes prefer picture work is that performing for the camera is much less tiring than legitimate acting, although, of course, it contains considerable more risk. Then the work is varied. It permits them to have the evenings for their own amusement, and, the greatest boon of all, it is constant. A salary every week for fifty-two weeks of the year appeals to people who are accustomed to a three months' unpaid "rest" each year.—London Express.

Progress.

"How is your Shakespearean club getting on?" "Splendidly. We learned two new steps last week."—Life.

OBITUARY.

Died in Kingston township Feb. 2, Eliza J. Gibbs, aged 83 years, 4 months and 20 days.

Eliza J. Hartwell was born in the state of New York, Sept. 12, 1830, and came to Michigan with her parents when an infant of six weeks of age. They settled on the then wild lands of Oakland county. In her sixteenth year she married Tracy Gibbs, several years her senior, and they settled on a farm on section 34 in the township of Troy, Oakland county, on the state road between Rochester and Royal Oak, known to the aged settlers of those parts to this day as "the old plank road." Back in the early sixties the writer learned from the first settlers of Troy and Royal

Oak that the deceased was a woman of true worth in the pioneer days, kind to all and ever ready to help those in need that the world might be made better because she lived. Six children were the fruit of the union:
Susan, wife of Clark Courliss of De-ford, Philetus Gibbs of Sanilac Co., near Novesta Corners, and Mary, wife of Orrin Stowell of California, who are yet alive. The other three, Lewis Harvey Gibbs died in 1881, Rosella Gibbs Hutchinson, died in 1878, and Julia Gibbs Ashby died in 1900. May 6, 1888, her husband died and in 1890
she moved to Novesta, Tuscola county, where her children were located and where it was ordained she was to reach the end of this life's journey.

More than forty years ago deceased commenced the Christian life under the preaching of Erastus Harrington of Fourtowns, west of Pontiac, who journeyed every alternate Sunday from his home to east Troy for twenty years, preaching a mile north of Clawson in the schoolhouse known as the "log cabin." Afterward she became a member of the Baptist church of Rochester, Mich. Those who knew her best felt to say she not only professed but possessed truly the spirit of the Master for more than forty years of her better life.

The life of the deceased was but testimony of the text selected for her funeral sermon, 119 Psalm 165 verse, "Great peace have they which love thy law, and nothing shall offend them." The same text was selected for her mother's funeral in the year of 1862.

She was a person of hopeful, industrious and healthy life 'til two years ago, dreading the thought of being a burden upon others.

Two years ago paralysis fell on her aged form, necessitating from that date care, even as a mother cares for her babe, and such care was not wanting. Her granddaughter, Iva Funk, who was fortunate enough to gain a companion whose heart is in the right place, together with their daughter, Ruby, have in her days of helplessness given the tender and watchful care that will bring them great reward.

Ten days before the spirit departed from the body, she was unable to speak yet retained consciousness, showing by look and act that she appreciated the tender kindness bestowed upon her and sinking quietly away 'til the heart ceased to beat.

The funeral took place on the 5th instant from the home of J. D. Funk of Sec. 2, Kingston. A prayer at the house and sermon preached at Christ church in Novesta Center, where the remains were laid. Elder Stubbs of Deford M. E. church officiated.

The funeral was large and all kindred were present except Reginald Courliss of Rochester and the Stowell family of California. Deceased leaves two daughters and one son, twenty grandchildren and twenty-one great grandchildren. Personally the writer can only say she was of ripe age, her days were well spent, her work was done. "It is well."

A FRIEND.

Don't Be Hypnotized.

When you read the glaring announcement of some "big manufacturer" that he will sell you good lumber for a little or nothing; that he wishes to befriend the consumer and all that sort of tommyrot, "get wise;" somebody takes you for a sucker. Don't be hypnotized into separating yourself from your money for something you can't see.

You know the "gold brick" game. They are still working it. And naturally, they come to the country, where these "wise ginks" say a sucker is born every minute. You can do pretty well right here at home, thank you where you can see exactly what you are getting for your money.

Advertising Was Once Unpopular.
It was several years after the establishment of newspapers in America before advertising in them became popular. John Campbell, the postmaster of Boston, who in 1704 started the Boston News Letter, the first real newspaper in this country, had great difficulty in persuading his neighbors to advertise their wares.

William Bradford and Peter Zenger in New York were no more fortunate in the early years of their newspaper publications, and even Benjamin Franklin, for many years after he began publishing the Pennsylvania Gazette, found his advertising columns very meager.—Baltimore News.

Society Little Folks Enjoying Winter Sports.

© by American Press Association.

With the recent advent of Jack Frost sleds, skates, toboggans and the other aids that make winter joyous have been working overtime. Especially in New York city and its environs the little ones have been making the most of the winter. It sometimes happens that a whole winter may go by without producing enough ice to make skating possible. So when Mr. Frost does come he is welcomed with great glee by the younger contingent. Tuxedo Park, in Orange county, N. Y., about thirty-five miles from the big city, is the home of many rich and fashionable folks who prefer its quiet country ways to the bustle of the big town. It has river, lake and forest in plenty, and there the young folks revel. The picture shows Lucy Whitfield and Neddy Lee of that exclusive locality. They were skating when they consented to pose.

A Boy's Visit to Washington.

When a Colonel B. of Virginia fame was a boy of seven years his mother took him to spend the day with General and Mrs. Washington. The boy had heard so much of the great general that he was afraid to meet him, and he hoped that something would happen to prevent the visit. But it didn't, and the only consolation the youngster had was the possession of a new suit with brass buttons for the occasion. While driving there in a coach the lad's mother remarked, "This is the general's birthday, and I want you to say something pretty to him." The boy looked alarmed, so his mother hastily added, "You might say that you hope the good Lord will spare him to our people many years to come." He repeated this speech all the way there. Washington was standing near the fireplace in the library, his hands behind his back, when they first saw him that day. The boy was attracted to his penetrating eyes, and he afterward remembered he was not as severe looking as his portraits. Mrs. Washington was knitting at the window, and the boy liked her kind face. After the greetings were over the general patted the boy on the head, and then the boy, in confusion, stammered his little speech thus: "I hope the good Lord will spare me to the people!" A laugh followed, and the boy ran out of the room, while his mother tried to explain. His confusion was forgotten at tea time by Mrs. Washington presenting him with a little invalid box.

Washington's First Letter.

"Dear Dickey—I thank you very much for the pretty picture book you gave me. Sam asked me to show him the pictures, and I showed him all the pictures in it, and I read him how the tame elephant took care of the master's little boy and put him on his back and would not let anybody touch his master's little son. "I can read three or four pages sometimes without missing a word. Ma says I may go to see you and stay all day with you next week if it be not rainy. She says I may ride my pony. Hero, if Uncle Ben will go with me and lead Hero. "I have a little piece of poetry about the picture book you gave me, but I mustn't tell you who wrote the poetry: "G. W.'s compliments to R. H. L. And likes his book full well, Henceforth will count him his friend And hopes many happy days he may spend. Your good friend, GEORGE WASHINGTON. "I am going to get a whip top soon, and you may see it and whip it."

A Washington Anecdote.

It is told of Washington that during the Revolutionary war a flag of truce coming in at New York brought a letter from General Howe addressed to "Mr. Washington." Our general took the letter from the red coated soldier and, glancing at the address, said: "Why, this letter is not for me. It is directed to a planter in Virginia. I'll keep it and give it to him at the end of the war." While speaking he thrust the letter into his pocket, ordered the flag of truce out of the lines and directed the gunners to stand by. Before another hour the redcoat returned with another letter addressed to "His Excellency General Washington." General Howe had taken the hint.

HOW TO RENOVATE LAST YEAR'S GOWN.

The revival of the pegtop skirt has brought about the use of four or five ruffles of graduated depth, the deepest beginning at the waist.

This fashion should instantly suggest to a woman what she can do with one of last winter's gowns that is in need of renovating. Lace or net or chiffon or tulle can be used for these ruffles. The one requirement is that they should be so draped and gathered that they steadily diminish toward the foot line.

As the entirely plain satin or velvet skirt is not in first fashion this winter any woman may be glad to know how she can use what she has.

It may not be an expensive proposition to buy lace or any other fabric sufficiently to supply these ruffles, but only the woman herself can tell whether the experiment is worth the price.

EXOTIC STUCCO.

How to Make the Plaster House Look at Home.

There is an exotic look about many stucco and plaster houses built in many parts of the world today, and it is because the plaster house is really a product of the tropics transplanted. When it is built in colder climates it lacks the environment which it was made to fit and therefore lacks something essential.

Take a plaster cottage on the bleak New England sea coast or a stucco cabin in a western desert or a plaster and stucco house in any of a hundred suburbs in temperate climates. They do not look as if they belonged where they are. And this is the reason: They look bare.

In their native home, the tropics, they are covered with vines and hidden with shrubs a few months after they are built, and the comfortable covering which Mother Nature gives them soon cloaks their bareness. They immediately become a part of the landscape. Just as frame houses merge with the trees about them. The stucco bungalows of California, covered with roses and flowering shrubs, look as if they had stood where they stand since the beginning of civilization.

So the thing for the owner of a stucco or plaster house to do is to plant quick growing vines and shrubs about it and so acclimatize it. Hardy evergreens barked at the corners will help make the house look comfortable in the winter. In the summer honeysuckle, rambler roses, hollyhocks, wiggelia and other quick growing vines and shrubs and plants can be used to make the stucco house look better.

ETIQUETTE POINT.

How to Give the Popular Afternoon Tea.

Afternoon teas continue to be a great feature among the entertainments of the day. Fashion calls on a mother to introduce her daughter. Certain formalities are observed on a special occasion of the sort for the introducing of a debutante. An engraved card is used, having the name of the daughter beneath that of her mother, with the date, the hours for receiving and the address. In the lower left hand corner of the card may be the words, "Fridays in January," to indicate other days during the winter for receiving more informally. Cards are about five inches long by three and a half wide. The usual style of engraving is script. According to recent fashion the form is:

Mrs. Archibald Robinson and Miss Edith Robinson Will Be At Home on Tuesday, the First of December from four until seven o'clock at Seven East Seventy-third Street.

Cards for large teas or days at home are sent out two weeks in advance; small teas a week or so in advance. Invitations to teas are in the name of the hostess, not in the united names of husband and wife.

At a large tea or reception for a debutante music for dancing is a feature. An orchestra is in the hall or in a room set apart for dancing. The musicians may be screened off by palms.

How to Renovate Worn Sweaters.

When woolen sweaters may show on examination some dangerously thin places—round the pockets, beneath the arms, etc.—which may soon wear into a hole, procure some wool exactly like the coat, if possible, or the very nearest to match. Buy an ounce or two more than is required for the actual knitting of the coat, and then when renovations are necessary it is in readiness.

Knit a piece in the pattern of the coat somewhat larger than the thin part, lay it on with the right side to the wrong side of the garment, matching the pattern as you would a patch, and darn invisibly into position with the same kind of wool. As the thin parts wear through (if they do), draw all ends of wool through to the underside of patch and darn in.

How to Eat Onions With Impunity.

Many people who are fond of onions in one form or another are deterred from eating them because of their "residuary perfume." Self denying onion lovers may now indulge their appetite with perfect impunity if they observe the following precaution: After eating onions take a generous teaspoonful of granulated sugar. A few minutes after taking the sugar the breath will cease to be offensive.

NEW EVENING WRAPS.

Butterfly Bows and Buetle Draperies New Style Features.

THE BUTTERFLY WRAP

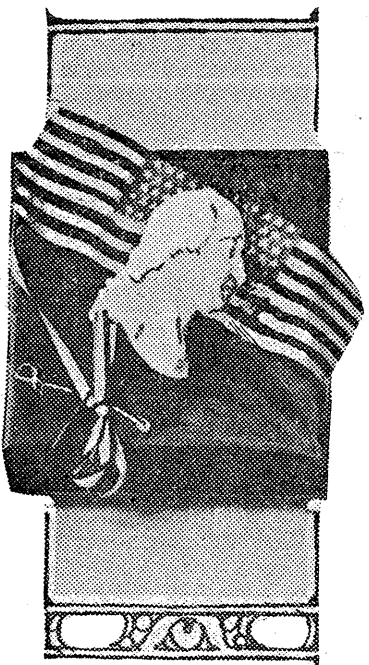

The most artistic ideas are carried out in evening wraps. Every smart wrap now bears a large bow at the back. The model illustrated here is a French design fashioned in Egyptian crape. It has the huge butterfly bow at the waist line. The new bustle back drapery is used on it with quaint effect.

On many new evening gowns and wraps tassels are prominent. They are ideal weights for draperies, and yet they have a decorative value, especially those that reflect beads of many colors. The jet tassels answer so well the demand for cut jet that they are being used in many ways.

Cordlike girdles of jet and beads give a classic air to many evening gowns in which the simple Greek lines have been retained.

Medici collars of silver lace, ostrich ruching, jeweled girdles, velvet flowers and lace decorated with strass and silver or gold threads are a few of the methods by which quality is made the feature of the present day evening costumes.

cherry tree emblem, crossed flags, colonial hats and other decorations of a suitable character. The box illustrated here is designed in red, white and blue. A medallion portrait of the Father of His Country surmounts the small silk flag on the top of the box.

A Convenient Dressing.

A most efficient antiseptic wet dressing, poultice and cold pack may be made in the following manner: Soak a sufficient amount of gauze in one part of alcohol to three parts of water. Apply to the part to be treated thoroughly wet, just short of dripping; cover with rubber tissue and bind firmly with a bandage. Such an application many times takes the place of an icebag in reducing swellings or acute inflammation. On the other hand, it will hasten suppuration of a boil or abscess that cannot be aborted as well as the old flaxseed poultice.

This alcohol dressing should be renewed every twelve hours. If the bandage is put on tightly, so that no air gets under the rubber tissue, the dressing becomes a warm one, acting like a poultice. If the bandage is put on more loosely, so that air gets under the rubber tissue, allowing the alcoholic solution to evaporate slowly, the Dressing is a cold one, acting like an ice bag.

The Fact Remains

No amount of misrepresentation by the peddlers of alum baking powders, no juggling with chemicals, or pretended analysis, or cooked-up certificates, or falsehoods of any kind, can change the fact that

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for making finest and most economical food.
