TUESDAY

Remarkable Showing in Road Building the Resultr of Co-operation of Farmers and Villagers.

Tuesday, June 16, was a winner for Cass City and vicinity when 88 men and high school students left their Early morning found every available 214. automobile taking shovelers to the several pits and what was thought by many to be a joke was turned into the happiest reality. The returns to J. J. Gallagher, Elkland's highway commissioner, from the various localities show as follows:

Total . . . . . . . . . 88 102 1028 It is estimated that about 380 rods of poor road were made into good road showing what a united effort can do. In Novesta and the Tuckey neighborhood the haul was very short hence the big showing made. Some of the gravel at other points was hauled 3 to 31/2 miles. A conservative estimate shows that the total mileage of the teams equal about 3,-000 miles.

The generosity of the farmers can never be estimated in leaving their work at this time of year, dozens of them taking their teams to work on roads they would not pass over once in five years in the regular pursuit of their business. Cass City High School does not have an agricultural course but had not all the high school fellows volunteered a day in practical road building the great road bee would have been more or less of a

Tuesday night and all day Wednesday the only topic on the street was good roads and the elegant meals furnished by the people in the several neighborhoods for the shovelers. Most of the town men say they never ate as much at one time in their life. Their only excuse is that the dinners were so good they couldn't help it.

ALUMNI PRAISE ANNUAL

Kind Words From Old Timers Regarding 1914 Production.

The editorial staff of the "Spoke o th' Hub", the C. C. H. S. annual of 1914, are receiving many words of praise from former members of the local high schoolregarding this year's production.

C. W. McKenzie, '94, writes from Kalamazoo: "I have just glanced through the Annual and think the senior class are deserving of a great deal of credit in the compilation of this book. I know that I will take a great deal of pleasure in reading every line between the pages and hope that my name may be kept on the list se that each year when the Annual is gotten out, I will get a copy.'

Erwin Edwin Bradfield, '06, now astor of the First Presbyterian church at Harbor Beach, writes: "The Annual came in good condition and allow me to congratulate your class on the high class of work. It equals the publication of many larger insti-tutions and carries with it a distinctive Cass City style. I trust that the initial publication may be received with the response deserved so that the custom may be preserved."

L. P. Koepfgen, '07, now superintendent of schools at Newberry, says:
"Your Annuals are fine. Accept my congratulations."

Origin of Cards.

The origin of cards lies far back in the hidden antiquity of Asia, no record so far having been found to unravel the source. It was from the distant orient that cards, along with chess, were first introduced into southern Europe, Spain and Italy especially. Kitchen Kinks.

Bread will keep better in a wooden oox than in tin. If silver spoons have become stained Flowers keep better in damp sand than in water. Flowers for the table may be more gracefully and firmly arranged in a jar of wet sand than in a foundation of moss.

Recovery of Lost Handwriting.

Faded handwriting is perplexing to antiquarians and lawyers and its recovery may be of importance. A recent method depends on the fact that most inks, even ancient inks, are acid in reaction. Nitrated silver chloride paper is kept in contact with the faded text twelve hours or more and then exposed to full light. The action of the acid in the ink on the silver chloride brings about a reaction which is completed by sunlight-reduction to metallic silver which now shows in metallic luster on a dark ground. It is impossible to make this image permanent, but it is legible for a short time. This writing may be made more readily visible by submitting the paper, after exposure, to the fumes of burning phosphorus in a closed box.

Sewage Disposal In Moscow.

The city of Moscow has a population of about 1,580,000, and about 40 per cent of the city is provided with sewers for household wastes. A separate system of canalization is provided to carry off the street washings. The sewage is filtered on sewage fields, and part of it is subjected to biological treatment on the city station. The sewage fields are giving very good results. The waters after passing several filters are used to irrigate plantations of cabbage and other vegetables, which find a ready sale in the city. The city is still making experiments with the biological purification of the sewage.

The Hoe of Valencia.

The predominating instrument at Valencia, Spain, is the short handled hoe, used by practically all agriculturists in the intensively cultivated regions surrounding Valencia, and in hundreds of cases it is the only tool used for breaking and cultivating the soil year in and year out. It is a relic of the past, but will continue to be the farmer's most handy tool until manufacturers of agricultural implements or other outside influences put forth greater efforts to educate him to the superiority of modern methods.-Consular

FOR THE CHILDREN

How to Make an Aeolian Harp.

An aeolian harp can be made by almost any ingenious boy. It consists of a long, narrow box of very thin wood, about five or six inches deep, with a circle in the middle of the upper side an inch and a half in diameter, in which are to be drilled small holes. In this side seven, ten or more strings of very fine gut are stretched over bridges at each end like the bridges of a fiddle and screwed up or relaxed with screw pins.

The strings should all be tuned to the same note and the instrument be placed in some current of air where the wind can pass over its strings with freedom. A window the width of which is equal to the length of the harp, with the sash just raised to give the air admission, is a proper situation. When the air blows upon the strings of the harp with different degrees of force it will excite different degrees of sound. Sometimes the blast brings out all the tones in full concert, and sometimes it sinks to the softest mur-

Nest Eggs-A Game.

Have you ever played nest eggs? It is a game for any number of players up to nine, and you must make as many shallow holes in the ground as there are players. Every nest has three or four marbles placed in it to represent the eggs, and the nests are numbered, one belonging to each player. Ten feet away from the holes a mark is drawn, and from this one of the players previously decided upon rolls a ball toward the nests, beside which the owners are standing. As soon as the ball drops into the hole all the remaining players run away as fast as they can. The owner of the nest into which the ball has rolled must snatch up the ball and try to throw it at one of the runners. If he hits his mark the player who is hit loses one of his nest eggs and in turn throws the ball at another player. Every one being hit loses an egg, and so does the thrower who misses. The game is won by the player who is last to lose his nest eggs. Instead of holes, boys who participate may substitute their caps.

Riddles.

Why must chimney sweeping be a very agreeable business? Because it suits (soots) every one who tries it. In what color should a secret be kept? Inviolate (in violet).

Perfect with a head, perfect without a head; perfect with a tail, perfect without a tail; perfect with either, neither or both? A wig.

What is the difference between reckless speculation and a slice of bacon? One is a rash thing, the other a rasher. Why is a joke less durable than a church bell? Because after it has been told (tolled) a few times it is worn out. Why is Canada like courtship? Because it borders on the United States. If an egg could speak what preserve would it name? Ma-me-laid (marma-

Hunting the Egg.

Hunting the egg is great sport on Easter. The hostess must have lots of eggs dyed ready for her guests. by's new shoes before they have been These eggs must be hidden away worn. This keeps her from slipping in the garden (or in the house where the way places. The guests then hunt for the eggs and are allowed to keep all they find. This game may be followed by the egg throwing game. One player stands with a basket filled with soft cotton or straw at a given distance from the player, who has a full basket of dyed hard boiled eggs. The idea of the game is to throw the eggs, one at a time, into the basket without letting them drop. This game may crack the shells of your eggs, but it is a good game and a fun producer.

An Ancient Gauge.

In the historical annals of Korea there is found a reference to rain gauges, which translates as follows:

In the twenty-fourth year of the reign of King Sejo (1442) the king ordered constructed a bronze instrument to measure the rainfall, much like those used now in the weather bureau. It is a vase resting on a stone base and was placed in the observatory. Each time it rained the attendants measured the height of water in the vase and reported to the king. Similar instruments were also placed in all the prov-

A Coin Tricks

Place a strip of smooth paper on a table so that the end of it hangs over the edge. Stand a new penny on edge upon the paper and announce that you will take the paper away without touching the penny or disturbing it from its position.

It looks impossible, but if you take hold of the paper firmly and give it a smart, steady pull it will slide away and leave the penny standing, unmoved, in its place.

You may not be able to do this the first time you try, but a little practice will make you perfect.

Easter Eggs. "Oh, grandpa, in the hedge we've found Four Easter eggs all colored blue! They're in the sweetest little nest.

We want to show our prize to you.' Said grandpa: "Touch them not, my dears.
Those eggs God dyed with colors rare. Those eggs God dyed with come back
And guard her nest with loving care. These Easter eggs in leaf hid nests Imprison countless song birds bright
That soon will break the tinted shell
And rise and sing in joyous flight."

drawing never causes trouble in this way, says the Farm and Fireside. Instead of laying the floor in the usual way the boards are each laid up over the edge of the one just in front. This makes the edge of each board a cleat, and these cleats do not break off. It takes just a little more lumber to make such a chute, but the safety of it much more than repays for the extra cost. Automatic Coin Testing Machine. One of the difficulties in connection with slot machines has been preventing the successful use of blanks of the same weight of the coins intended for their operation, while another has been the fact that coins of other countries of the same weight can be used as substitutes, while bad coins were not rejected. A machine has recently been invented and completed in Birmingham, England, which is said to prevent the extraction of goods by the use of metal disks and coins of less value, and which rejects rubbish which may be pushed into the slot. It is also said that where the slot machine is used to deliver tickets and postage stamps automatically the possibility of defrauding the machine is eliminated. The machine is also constructed to test coins, and it is claimed will throw out all counterfeits and retain the true coin.-Consular Report.

Consolation For Stammerers.

There are, of course, stammerers who cultivate the art in conversation and have not the least wish to be cruel because, as with Charles Lamb, the point of the remark is delayed for a moment by the hesitancy. Curiosity, expectancy, anxiety, are aroused, and then the amazing word comes. The tremendous fluency of our present political speakers raises a certain longing for a stammerer on the platform—the man who could make you wonder whether he were about to burst. what he was about to burst with and then after the dreadful suspense said it. But the word must have been there all the time.-London Chronicle.

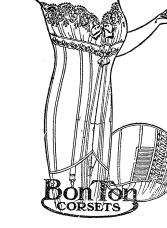

Bells and the Orchestra. "Parsifal" is interesting quite apart from its artistic merit as having had a musical instrument invented for it and named after it. The reproduction of the sound of church bells in opera was long a difficulty. Real bells simply drowned the orchestra, and all substitutes were tried in vain until Dr. Mottl designed the Parsifal bell instrument, somewhat on the principle of the grand piano. Each of its five notes has six strings, which are struck by large hammers covered with cotton wool. And the result is as near to the solemn sound of church bells as the theater has been able to get.-London Chroni-

BROKLYN ABERNACLE

DIFFICULTIES OF THE RICH. Mark 10:17-31-June 21. 'Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

16:13.

T must have been an enthusing sight for Jesus' disciples to see a rich young ruler run after the Master and kneel at His feet, saying, "Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" The Great Teacher did not answer directly, but inquired why the title good was applied to Him. He would have the young man notice that everything really good must in some way be in accordance with God.

There were only two ways in which Jesus could be viewed. Either He was, as He claimed, the Son of God, come into the world on a special mission for humanity; or else He was a deceiver, misrepresenting Himself and deceiving the people. Jesus wished the young man to consider the force of his own expression and decide at once this important question.

Narrow Way-Self-Sacrifice. What did Jesus mean by telling the young man that the way to everlasting life was the keeping of the commandments? We reply that God's promise to Israel was, "He that doeth these things shall live by the doing of them.' All Jews understood this; and this young ruler confessed that he had been striving to live according to this rule, and yet he was dying. like the remain. Jesus and the Seventy. der of the race. Jesus' answer signi-fles, "You should not only strive to keep the Law, but you must be a sacrificer; take up your cross and follow My example.'

We are not hastily to suppose that Jesus meant that riches should be given away recklessly. Had the young man agreed to the terms and asked the Lord how best to distribute his wealth, doubtless the Lord would have said. 'Give it all to God; and then as His steward distribute it according to the wisdom which He will give you." Even this full surrender of earthly possessions would not be sufficient. Whoever would gain a place in the Kingdom must become active in the Lord's service, and follow patiently in the narrow way of self-sacrifice, in the Redeemer's footsteps.

Sorrowful! For Very Rich.

The young ruler's riches were not of themselves harmful. The difficulty was that he had set his heart upon them. so that when the test came he demonstrated that he loved God less than he loved his wealth. He forsook the opportunity to do the greatest good, and thus turned his back upon membership in the Kingdom class. We are not, however, to understand that there is no hope for him. Even while missing the Kingdom opportunities, he may be one of those blessed by the Kingdom.

Few Rich In the Kingdom.

The rich young ruler's failure to become a disciple on Jesus' terms furnished a text for Jesus. He said to His disciples, "It is easier for a camel to go through the Needle's Eye than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God."-Matthew 19:24.

The Needle's Eye was a small gate or opening in a large gate in the city wall. The gates were closed at night for protection against robbers; and watchmen were on duty. An arrange ment was made, however, for travelers who failed to reach the gate before it was closed. The Needle's Eye was just large enough to permit a camel to go through after having been unloaded. Thus understood, Jesus taught that a rich man could enter the Kingdom of God only by giving up all to the Lord. The amazed disciples inquired, "Who then can be saved?" The rich seemingly had all opportunities of time, influence and money to enable them to give better service to the Lord than could others; and if they would have such difficulty in getting into the Kingdom, how would it be with those less

Jesus answered. "All things are possible with God." That is to say, if a rich man be honest-hearted and humble, and his riches alone stand in the way, the Lord would show him the Divine will respecting their use. If this did not avail, the Lord would know how to strip him of his wealth,

The Samaritan Neight even as the master would unload the camel to permit it to pass through the Needle's Eye

"We Have Left All."

St. Peter seemed to get the thought that joint-heirship in the Messianic Kingdom would mean a full surrender to God. He said, "We have left all, and have followed Thee." Jesus did not fully endorse this statement. Judas had not nearly left all. In St. Peter himself some self-will still remained, and self-préservation would lead him to deny his Master, later on. But Jesus' answer fully covered the question, not only for the Apostles, but for all who have become followers of Jesus from that day until now.

Persecutions all His followers are sure to get; but everything sacrificed for the Lord is compensated a hundred-

> MARLETTE. From the Leader.

An overwhelming sorrow came to gus, well known residents of this localtv. Sunday when their son. George. met sudden death while bathing in the ennington drain, about four and a half miles southwest of Marlette. As the family have resided here for many years, the accident brings great sor-row to a large circle of friends.

The four-year son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olsen had a narrow escape from serious injury Wednesday forenoon. The little fellow was playing with an express wagon and in coming out of the Marlette Hardware Co's store ran off the walk into the gutter, right under a horse belonging to Wm. Comeron. The wagon luckily turned completely over, covering the boy. The horse was frightened and began to jump up and down, his rear feet bat-tering the wagon to pieces. In some marvelous way the child was unhurt except for bruises.

D. C. Merrill had a close call from losing his fine home by fire early Sat-urday morning. They were awakened about 4:30 by smell of fire and investigation showed that the lower floor was completely filled with smoke. After phoning for more water pressure, so as to be ready for the worst, Harder and family. Mr. Merrill called in Geo. Stephenson, C. L. Gage and Jos. Dorland and the blaze was located under the fire place where there had been a fire for a couple of days. The timbers had been burned away and in a short time the whole house would have been doomed.

The new station is to be 22x90 and built out of granite block and completed within the period of thirty days. Mr. Wood, the sta-tion agent at Snover, will come here and have charge of the work.

BAD AXE.

The local lodge reports splendid support from the business men in the way of subscriptions to the expense fund and in the way of arrangements. The co-operation of outside lodge is assured. Committees have been appointed and are active in the preliminary work, and have met with hearty co-operation in getting things in shape for a big celebration.

At the Progressive conference, the following gentlemen were vouched for as probable candidates on the Progressive ticket before the August Primaries:-

> UBLY. From the Courier.

Direct word from Dr. Kingan, at the Pontiac State home, is to the effect that he is suffering from partial paralysis, which is affecting his brain, and was the cause of his attack of insanity. His stomach, from which he suffered greatly, is partially paralyzed, and one leg is almost useless and he is gradually approaching paresis. The doctors state that it was this ailment, and not drugs, that was the cause of his insanity. There is but ittle hope for his recovery.

While loading gravel at the Mc-Clennan pit Tuesday afternoon, Mr. John MacNeil got his thumb caught between the whiffletrees and a wheel tire, resulting in smashing off the end of that useful member of his hand. The wound was a very painful one and necessitated the services of a physician to care for the lascer-ation, and the end of thumb was amputated at the first joint. Mr. Mac-Neil is a veteran of the Civil War and was in many of the hardest fought battles of that desperate struggle, and this wound is worse than any he received in three years of strenuous campaigning.

The Word "Replica."

Perhaps not one writer in ten uses the word "replica" in its correct sense. People seem to think that "replica" means merely a "copy." One reads, for example, about modern artists' "replicas" of old masters' work and that 'replicas" of Columbus' caravels are to be made. A replica is "a copy of a work done by the same hand that did the original." It is not likely that the hand which designed the caravels of Columbus is now at work making copies of them.—New York World.

Acetylene is too, a double boon to the women folks. In addition to the beauty of the light, it brings even a greater convenience in the gas cooking stove.

For Acetylene is used in gas cooking ranges in thousands of country homes, just as city gas, is used in millions of city homes.

In all of these homes the gas range has shortened cooking hours and has done away with the drudgery of handling coal, wood and ashes. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
