

A Wedding Present.
A widower in Scotland proposed to and was accepted by a widow whose husband had died but a month or two previously.
To celebrate the occasion he asked the widow's daughter what she would like for a present. She wanted nothing, she said, but being pressed to name something she replied:
"Well, if you want to spend some of your siller you might put up a headstone to my father."—London Telegraph.

THE FLARING TRIPLE TUNIC IS INDORSED BY MODISH PARIS

Dainty New Satin and Tulle Gown For Dancing

THERE is something charmingly girlish about the little dancing gown shown here. Perhaps the round neck finished with a line of pearl beads is responsible for this. The gown was of charmeuse, with a handsome decoration of pearl passementerie on the bodice. There was a double tunic of the satin, and over this fell a third tunic of tulle edged with beads. This triple tunic effect is one of the novelties which Paris is now indorsing.

His Mouth Full.

A certain town council after a protracted sitting was desirous of adjourning for luncheon. The proposition was opposed by the mayor, who thought that if his fellow councilors felt the stimulus of hunger the dispatch of business would be considerably facilitated.

At last an illiterate member got up and exclaimed:
"I ham astonished, I ham surprised, I ham amazed, Mr. Mayor, that you will not let us go to lunch!"
"I'm surprised," exclaimed one of his colleagues, "that a gentleman who has got so much 'ham' in his mouth wants any lunch at all!"—London Globe.

A Famous Old London Quarter.

London's Soho district, where Hogarth lived, is rich in artistic and literary associations. Mozart and William Hazlitt lived in Frith street, and Dryden, Burke, Edmund Kean, Charles Kemble and Hannah More in Garrard street. Douglas Jerrold was born in Greek street, and David Humm had lodgings in Lisle street, where Rousseau stopped with him in 1776. In the Turk's Head, at the corner of Greek street and Old Compton street, Dr. Johnson and Sir Joshua Reynolds founded the famous literary club which included Garrick, Goldsmith, Burke, Gibbon, Roswell and Dr. Burney among its members.

Big Money.

Speaking of large coins, the record, both for size and value, must surely be held by one described by Roger Ascham. It was specially made as a gift from the inhabitants of Tyrol to the Emperor Maximilian and was of the size of a "great Suffolk cheese" and as heavy as two men could bear. Over 6,000 guilders (about £1,200 English) had gone to the making of it, and it was duly stamped with the arms of the emperor and on the other side with his wife's face "most lively printed." This, however, was a freak. The largest coin ever in circulation was probably the old English five pound piece.—London Standard.

What He Did.

When Sir Beauchamp was appointed to his first post in India one of his subordinates who did not know him tried to find out from a brother officer what sort of man they would have to deal with. The dialogue went something like this:
"Does he play bridge much?"
"Not much."
"Billiards, maybe?"
"Nothing to speak of."
"Does he go in for outdoor sports?"
"At long intervals."
"Then what on earth does he do?"
"The bewildered man finally, "The rarest thing possible," snapped the other: "he works."—Pearson's Weekly.

Von ding vot I bet you I always do iss to keep up to date mit der music. Dere is nopody anywere vot can said der times is pehind mine back in der musical line.
Der latest improvement mit vot I have improved my music ear iss von of dem players piano. Dot sure iss der stuff, yet, because der old man he girls, py cholly. All vot you got to done to blay der blayer piano iss to put in der piece of paper vot iss full of holes, pump 'er up mit the pedals on, und avay she goes.
Ven I first gets dot piano and sets me down py its front to blay mine wife she comes in der room and tells me for vy I be a musician all dese ayers and say to her noddings about it, no. But ven she see how I blay der fun stopped mit a quiveck suddenness.
A blayer pano iss sure a funny infention. Anyding mit holes on it you can pud in dot ding and blay.
Vonce I brings me down from der stairs up a lace ding vot mine daughter she vear. I pud it on der blayer, turn on der power, and Ach, such a music. Id sounds like der Washington monument iss falling down. And now I tink I no for vy der boys like den peek-a-boo dings so sull—dey are so loud, py cholly. Vonce I make me mine own recort, too. But I dont see how dose fellers vot make recorts, know vere to punch der holes. I get me a nice piece of paper alretty and drife it full of nice holes, some big, some lettle, und some in der middle. To me it schounds goot, but mine wife she say it schound just like a classical selection and she vill stand for me playing it, not.

Next week Pokeheimer tells about giving his daughter away in matrimony.

Good Sense.
To Lady Cardigan is attributed the following somewhat pert comment, when a very ignorant person was complimented on his good sense in her presence:
"I don't wonder," she said, "at his possessing a large stock of good sense. He never spends any."—Strand Magazine.

Tell Your Painter to Use

Ready-for-Use Paint

YOU are paying your painter to paint; not to mix paint. Science and experience have demonstrated that machines can do the mixing more thoroughly than the hand, and the maker's name on the can is safer than the use of unknown ingredients and varying skill.

Low Brothers High Standard Liquid Paint

is machine mixed—ready-for-use. The supreme result of over a third of a century of paint "know how." The "Little Blue Flag" on the can stands for quality in an entire line of paint products for every purpose—Floor paint, stains, enamels, varnishes, Mellotone for interior surfaces. Ask about them.

I wish to thank the farmers of this community for their loyalty and co-operation with us for the past four years. Your patronage has enabled us to become one of the largest, if not the largest buyer of beans bought at one elevator in the State of Michigan.

August 1910 to July 1911 purchased 53000 bushels
 August 1911 to July 1912 purchased 62000 bushels
 August 1912 to July 1913 purchased 70000 bushels
 August 1913 to July 1914 purchased 97000 bushels

This years purchases amounts to thirty-five thousand bags

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY CAR LOADS

The volume of business done has enabled us to handle beans on a very small margin of profit and has made Cass City the Banner Town in the State in amount of beans purchased and prices paid to the farmer.

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

Will be held at the Town Hall, Tuesday p. m., July 21 for election of officers. We invite every farmer whether stockholder or not to be present. Come out; be friendly and help us keep our good record for another year.

Samuel Lenzner of Detroit greeted old friends here Saturday and remarked that he thought Cass City was as beautiful and fine looking a country village as one can find. Mr. Lenzner as master car builder of the M. C. R. R. sees many towns in his travels over three states and old Canada, but none prove as attractive to him as his old home town of wide streets, fine shade trees, beautiful residences and well-kept lawns.

O. A. Withey claims to be the most expert gardener in the county. On June 29, he found six choice tomatoes ready for use in his tomato garden. He has sold five bushels of garden peas since June 15 and has had new potatoes since that date. Mr. Withey has 11 village lots under cultivation on which he has 1,400 tomato vines that will yield him an estimated crop of 1,200 bushels, Hubbard squash vines 12 feet long, green onions, garden beets, string beans, cabbage and other varieties of vegetables, besides raspberries. Mr. Withey is quite enthusiastic over the prospects of bumper crops.

A special meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held at the beautiful home of Mrs. Robt. Cleland on West Main street Wednesday afternoon, July 9, in honor of Mrs. Luther Karr who will transfer her membership to the Union at Highland Park, Detroit, one of the strongest unions in the state. After an interesting business session the union was entertained with a very delightful program consisting of instrumental music, songs and recitations. Mrs. Knapp, in her usual pleasing manner spoke a few words of appreciation of the value of members working together in Christian love and union for the purpose of extending the power of love through all the circumstances of life, whether it be in the little family home or in the larger Christian fellowship. She then presented Mrs. Karr with a handsome silver berry spoon, carved in Old English with the letters, W. C. T. U., as a little memento to take with her to her new home. Refreshments were then served with Misses Hester McKim, Margaret Duncanson and Mabel Cleland as waitresses. Mrs. Karr has been a faithful member of the union here for many years, being a charter member. She will be greatly missed but in her new home she will find larger opportunities for even greater usefulness. The entire entertainment was arranged impromptu but probably was because of this the guests were freer and more enthusiastic and each one contributed to make the event very delightful.
