BAPTIST CHURCH RE-OPENED SUNDAY

CHURCH SOCIETIES UNITED FOR UNION SERVICE SUN-DAY EVENING.

Rev. Hayward Declines Calls to Larger Churches; Wants to Enjoy Fruits of Labor Here.

The Baptist church was formally re-opened Sunday after being in repairs for three months and a half. Rev. H. C. Hayward preached a very appropriate sermon Sunday morning on "The Faded Leaf," in which he emphasized the necessity of every member extending to the stranger a warm hand of fellowship and welcome, being in possession of the spirit of Christ. The pastor was very pleasantly surprised when he went to the pulpit to find a handsome new pulpit Bible there, a gift from Mrs. B. F. Moon's Sunday school class of girls. The evening service was a union meeting of the churches of the city and the building was filled to its capacity. Rev. W. A. Gregory declaimed the evening's lesson and the audience greatly appreciated the excellent thoughts given them. Rev. J. W. Hamblin read the Scripture lesson while at the close of the sermon, Rev. H. C. Hayward, in a few words, expressed his hearty appreciation of the spirit of unity existing between the churches of the city and of the kind way in which people have responded, making these improvements possible. The choir for these services furnished appropriate music and Mrs. Edward Finney and Dr. L. D. McCoy rendered a duet at the evening meeting. The pulpit was tastefully decorated with potted plants and autumn leaves. The main floor of the church has been much improved since the building has been raised and surely looked very pleasant on Sunday evening. The walls have been freshly papered, the sides are a neat shade of brown and the ceilings white, with a conventional border. The woodwork has all been re-stained and varnished and a new carpet has been placed in the wing. The paper and carpet were a gift from the Ladies' Aid Society.

The new basement is most conveniently arranged. From the front entrance one enters the reception room, 12 by 24 feet in size, and a large archway connects this with the dining room, which is 24 by 35 feet. This is well lighted and will easily contain five large tables. Between the dining room and kitchen the wall space is occupied by cupboards and serving windows. The cupboards will be open to both rooms and will have glass doors on the dining room side. The kitchen fitted with all the necessities is 15 by 24 feet. An outside entrance also opens from the kitchen. The furnace room which is 19 by 24 feet is equipped with a Round Oak furnace and is very convenient.

The corner stone for the new construction was presented by A. M. Kelley, manager of the Cass City Marble and Granite Works. In it are deposited the sacred records of the church.

Rev. H. C. Hayward is in his fifth year of work in this charge and everyone realizes what Pastor Hayward has done for his church in this time. No other pastor has put forth more effort to make things go and no one deserves more credit. Rev. Hayward has lately received several calls to larger churches but has declined them all and hopes to be able to stay in Cass City and enjoy the fruits of his labor by preaching each Sunday in the newly remodelled house of God. In speaking of the churches of the city, Rev. Hayward says, "Cass City should be proud of her places of worship for they are all most modern and substantial and are a recommendation to the city."

The First Baptist church of Cass City was organized in 1881. The names of the pastors and the years they commenced service are as follows:

Jas. MacArthur	1881

ROBT. COULTER, JR.

Died at Home in Evergreen Township
Tuesday Morning.

Robert Coulter, jr., died at his home in Evergreen township Tuesday morning after an illness of typhoid fever of less than a week's duration.

Mr. Coulter was born in Minden, Ontario, 39 years ago. He came to Evergreen township with his parents in 1881 and on Feb. 23, 1905, he was united in marriage with Miss Anna Weeks. To this union five children were born, two of whom preceded the father in death.

Funeral services were held Thursday.

WOMAN'S STUDY CLUB.

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the club was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. D. Brookner when Mrs. I. B. Auten gave a practical and intensely interesting talk on "The Home as an Expression of Personality." Mrs. Auten's talks are always good but this one was especially splendid and every lady present was glad to learn so many ideas on good art pertaining to home decoration and personal apparel.

November 8 is the date for the next meeting of the club. Mrs. J. L. Cathcart will be the hostess and the program consists of papers by Mrs. J. C. Farrell and Mrs. N. Beyette. Roll call will be a quotation on art.

MARLETTE SCORES DECISIVE DEFEAT

CASS CITY FORCED HER TO GO THE LIMIT IN OR-DER TO WIN.

Both Teams Penalized Frequently,
the Boys Being Over-anxious to Get into Plays.

Cass City high school foot ball team went down to a very decisive defeat Friday last at the hands of the Marlette school—27 to 0. The size of the score, however, really does not indicate the closeness of the game, nor the fight which both teams put up. Marlette was forced to go the limit to win, and while Cass City has no excuses to offer, yet had not injuries to Cass City two star backs in the last half necessitated several shifts in the line up, there is no question but that a margin of two touchdowns would have been Marlette's limit.

Marlette was particularly fortunate in the last quarter, when with the ball on her two-yard line and Higgins in position to score, something unusual happened. Somebody blundered or fumbled. Simenton, Marlette's star quarterback, recovered the ball behind his own goal line and sprinting 100 yards for a touchdown. This was a heartbreaker and instead of the score being 13-7, it was now 20-0. Marlette came back strong and scored again by means of a long forward pass in the closing minutes of play.

Marlette has a speedy team which is seldom equalled outside of larger city high school teams and to be beaten by such is no disgrace, Marlette's fullback and quarterback standing out head and shoulders above all in offensive work.

Cass City's back field, E. Higgins, N. Higgins, Champion and Harris, showed to good advantage when properly supported but oftentimes the forwards were unable to throw back Marlette's defense and several plays were smothered before they were properly started. Penalties were a little more frequent than usual, both sides being equally at fault and over-anxious to get into plays before being started. Aside from one or two instances, play was clean and free from roughness. There is a possibility that these teams may meet again this year and if so, Cass City will try once more for victory in which case victory will be all the more sweet because of these reverses.

NOVESTA SETTLERS HOLD RE-UNION

AT THE HOME OF JESSE SOLE ON WEDNESDAY, OC-TOBER 20.

Seventy-Six Guests Present Whose
Ages Total Just 3,707
Years.

Wednesday, Oct. 20, old settlers to the number of 76 gathered at the home of Jesse Sole, in Novesta township, and spent the day in pleasant reminiscences of the early days. As the dinner hour drew near, and the guests all surrounded that board so nobly spread with the good things that go to satisfy the inner man, each one was asked his age. Now it is known that it is not only the maiden lady who stammers and blushes when asked that delicate question, for one plump matron whose golden locks Father Time had dabbed with his misty brush was heard to say, "I am sweet sixteen," and a gentleman with beautiful grey curls said he was in the neighborhood of 26. Only by threatening to mark his age 70 did he own up how old he was. The total number of years of those present was 3,707.

Reuben A. Moshier, 79 years, was the oldest one present. Mr. Moshier was the first white man to bring his family and settle in what is now known as the township of Novesta. E. H. Deneen of Pontiac, another who homesteaded land here before Novesta had a name, was among the guests, having just returned from an eastern trip. He had visited at Washington, D. C., and at Harpers Ferry; also the old battle ground, where he as a soldier in his youth, fought his first battle in the civil war. Mrs. Nancy Sole Hodgekiss of Pontiac was also present. Mrs. Sole and her husband, (now long deceased) were faithful Christian workers in this field in their early days. Others in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Patton, of Dryden and Mr. and Mrs. Wing of Lapeer and many more early settlers from the townships of Evergreen, Lamotte, Kingston and Novesta. The eldest lady present was Mrs. Sliction of Wilmot whose age was 76.

G. W. Scott, pastor of the M. E. church of Deford, was present, not as an old settler, but by special invitation, and spoke to the company of the respect all should have for those aged men and women, who had braved the hardships and perils of the early days and paved the way to the comforts that the younger class now enjoy. After singing "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," and "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There," all joined in repeating the Lord's prayer, and as the sun was low in the west they all wended their way home. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Patch September 20, 1916.

COMING AUCTIONS

Three Advertised in Chronicle Today;
More to Follow.

Lewis Travis has rented his farm and announces a big auction sale 4 miles west of Argyle for Wednesday, Nov. 3. The list of property is printed on page 9. T. B. Tyrell will cry the sale.

Geo. MacIntyre has decided to quit farming and on page 10 itemizes a large list of live stock and implements which will be sold at auction 1 mile west and 1/2 mile north of Old Greenleaf on Friday, Nov. 5. McCullough & Wright are the auctioneers.

McCullough & Wright, auctioneers, will conduct a farm sale next Tuesday, Nov. 2, for Henry Biglow living one mile north of Wickware. His advertisement is on page 7.

The all-day auction sale of Wm. Lapeer of Elkland township will be held tomorrow (Saturday) as announced in the Chronicle last week.

Clayton G. Lee will have an auction 2 miles south of Novesta Corners on Monday, Nov. 8. C. W. Heller will have a farm sale 5 miles east and 1 mile south of Cass City on Tuesday, Nov. 9. Both these sales will be advertised in the Chronicle next week.

YAKES-VICKERS

Early Morning Wedding at Home of Mrs. Katherine Yakes Tuesday.

Harry Vickers and Miss Ida Yakes were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Katherine Yakes, at Cass City Tuesday morning at six o'clock. Rev. H. C. Hayward, pastor of the Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives. The couple were unattended. Immediately after the ceremony, a dainty wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Vickers left on the morning train Tuesday for a three weeks' trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and New York City. While absent, Mr. Vickers will pursue a short course in butter-making, thus increasing his knowledge in the creamery business and making his services more valuable as manager of the local creamery.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Vickers are active members of the Baptist church and members of that society together with their many friends in Cass City join in wishing them a happy wedded life.

MRS. HUGH SEED, SR. DIES SUDDENLY

PASSED AWAY WHILE ENTER-ING SON'S HOME WEDNES-DAY AFTERNOON.

Had Been to Presbyterian Dinner
About an Hour Before Her Death.

Mrs. Hugh Seed, sr., died suddenly Wednesday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock while about to enter the home of her son, J. E. Seed, on North Seeger St. One of the school pupils passing the home noticed Mrs. Seed's body lying on the porch steps and notified the occupants of the house.

Mrs. Seed had been to the Presbyterian church chicken pie dinner and was on her way home carrying a basket containing a dinner for her husband, who had been ill. It is thought that she felt a faintness and concluded to stop at the home of her son, but expired before reaching the door.

Mrs. Seed has been in apparent good health. Tuesday afternoon, she was engaged in blacking the coal heater and the kitchen range for winter use and planned several changes to be made in the kitchen which she described to a neighboring lady that evening.

MOCK WEDDING

Neighbors Help Mr. and Mrs. Turner
Celebrate 25th Anniversary.

A very pretty mock wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Turner Friday evening, it being their 25th anniversary, when Little Killa Turner was again united in marriage to Master Dwight Turner. The ceremony was performed by Chas. A. Hargrave. The blushing bride was attended by Harriet Dodge as matron of honor, and Lillian Hargrave, as flower girl, carried a basket of cabbage leaves and paper roses or cabbage roses. Master Dr. Joe Dodge acted as ring-bearer, carrying a large red hily in which was concealed the ring. The doctor looked very quaint in his white sailor collar and red butterfly bow. The wedding march, "Coming Thru' the Rye," was played by Gladys Jackson. The bride's gown was fashioned of white lawn, and she wore a handsome veil of flowers of rainbow hues. The matron of honor looked beautiful in her elaborate gown of mosquito net over brown cambric, and wore a picture hat of red beaver with real lace trimmings. The bashful groom wore conventional black, white canvas gloves and silk tie.

The reverend gentleman detained the ceremony because of his unaccustomed vocation, having placed his amber goggles in a long silk stocking and the ceremony book "A Spears & Sawbuck catalog" in a carpet bag much too small for its contents. After the impressive ceremony the bridal couple was presented with a handsome silver casserole by the guests. An elaborate luncheon was then served.

The guests in costume were the groom's mother, Elizabeth Turner, Hattie Dodge, Lillian Hargrave, Etta Turner, Nellie Jamison, Hattie Spaulding, Lillie Burse, Selma Rabideau, Ida Wood, Nellie Morse, Libbie Leishman, Mary Wood, Helen Leishman, Sarah Hiser, Ellen Wilson and Elsie Burse. Judges of costumes, Eddie Burse, Tommie Wood and Johnnie Jamison awarded the prize to Hattie Spaulding.

The floral guessing contest afforded much merriment and the prizes were awarded to Mary Wood and Allen Hiser. In the wee hours of the morning the boys and girls departed pronouncing the party a grand success.

Dr. Wm. Morris of Cass City was elected county agent of the State Live Stock Sanitary Commission by the Tuscola Co. Board of Supervisors. His duty is to look after contagious diseases of cattle within the county and he will receive $3 per day and expenses when employed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Schenck and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCue left Wednesday morning for Detroit. They will spend a few days with relatives there and Mr. and Mrs. Schenck will go to Clinton to visit their daughter, Mrs. John Clark. They expect to return home Monday.

Mrs. C. A. Deming and sons, Orrin and William Deming, started Wednesday morning for their new home in Grand Bay, Alabama. They will stop over in Detroit with Mrs. Bancroft until Thursday. Mrs. Henry Deming accompanied them and is going to St. Louis, Mo., for a visit. The family of Dr. D. F. Deming, whose death occurred in December of 1913, have been residents of Cass City since 1873 when Dr. Deming came to Cass City as a pioneer physician. The family have always been highly esteemed by the entire community and it is with regret that we see them depart for a distant state but the best wishes and kindest thoughts accompany them. The family will not be forgotten by Cass City people for Pleasant Home Hospital was built by Dr. Deming and is a lasting token to his memory.

Miss Sadie Kelsey received a telegram Thursday afternoon informing her that Edward Hoener, her fiancé, was injured while riding a motorcycle which collided with a Crosstown street car in Detroit. Miss Kelsey left for that city Friday morning and found Mr. Hoener badly shaken up by the accident, but fortunately he escaped without internal injuries. He was able to leave Harper hospital for his home in Detroit Sunday. Miss Kelsey returned to Cass City Tuesday. Mr. Hoener and Miss Kelsey will be married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kelsey, at Cass City tomorrow (Saturday) noon. The wedding will be a quiet one, only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends being invited. They will live in Detroit, having already selected a cozy home on Rosedale Court.

MERCHANTS CO-OPERATE FOR BENEFIT OF THE FALL BUYERS.

Inducements Offered to Lay in Fall and Winter Supplies at Reduced Coat.

Seven big bargain days—Saturday, Oct. 30 to Saturday, Nov. 6—present opportunities for the people of the Thumb counties to purchase their fall and winter supplies at remarkable reductions in prices. Merchants have placed certain articles in their lines at bargain prices and by visiting the several business places whose announcements appear in today's Chronicle, the buyer may secure savings on purchases that would make it a paying investment to travel long distances to trade at Cass City.

This is the opportunity for the out-of-town buyer to kill several birds with one stone. If he or she has been waiting to buy a bill of dry goods, or a suit, or shoes, or supplies, or furniture, or jewelry, or underwear, or china, the purchases can all be made on the same day.

Several different sale dates are not convenient to the out-of-town buyer. She cannot always avail herself of the opportunity to attend a suit sale one day, a shoe sale another day, or other lines at different times.

And so the Seven Big Bargain Days have been especially timed when the farmer will have his crops pretty well housed and will have a bit of leisure on the farm; when he and his good wife, his sons and daughters may all come to Cass City and avail themselves of the splendid bargain prices which Cass City merchants are to make from Saturday, Oct. 30, to Saturday, Nov. 6, inclusive. Here are opportunities to practice economy in every line of merchandising. Read the advertisements in the Chronicle today; they tell you the story in a nut shell.

Street Corner Sage

The High Cost of Living.
The sage was carrying a big bundle as he stepped into the store for a ten-cent cut of chewing tobacco. "It's a fright!" he complained, as he detached a large corner of his purchase between his teeth. "It's this here modern extravagance I'm speakin' of. When I wuz a young feller an' was courtin' my wife, she wuz considered the best dressed gal in the township, an' the highest priced dress she had didn't cost more'n a dollar an' a half. 'Twas made out of checkered gingham an' wuz real purty too. Good enough fer enybody. An' now-a-days

For the Family Medicine Chest

Green Bay, Wis., Mrs. Wm. F. Bubolz says: "I always use Foley's Honey and Tar for our children as it quickly breaks up their colds with no bad after effects, and they like to take it."
In this season of coughs, colds and croup, every family medicine chest should be supplied with a good cough medicine that can be relied upon when needed.
Such a family cough syrup is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. This standard medicine has been on the market for years and in many sections was found in every home in the days when doctors were not so handy and when money was scarcer.
Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is an excellent medicine for coughs, colds, raw or inflamed throat, hoarseness, tightness and soreness of the chest, croup and whooping cough. It is an absolutely safe remedy, containing only healing ingredients, and free from any harmful drugs.

WHY TUBERCULOSIS CASES SHOULD BE REPORTED

The law, as we have seen, requires that cases of tuberculosis be reported. It also requires that the identity of the persons so reported be kept private.
Why report cases? What is gained by it? What does a card index and a file of reports have to do with sickness and health? Well, a whole volume might be written on the usefulness of health statistics, but that cannot be done here. Nevertheless, the above questions may be simply answered. In individual cases a history of the case and a record of its progress are of great benefit to the physician. It enables him to see at a glance what the patient is doing, who he ought to be doing, or what he is not doing and why. Comparative temperatures, weights, respiration records, etc., form valuable information for the attending doctor.

Now, when the city is the patient, when it is the community health that is being cared for, reports of cases become absolutely necessary in order that disease may be effectively controlled. We no longer ask why diphtheria should be reported, because we know that its contagious character calls for three steps: (a) protection of the community by quarantine, (b) immunization of persons who have been immediately exposed to the disease, (c) medical care of the sick person. No one would think of having diphtheria cases under no control whatsoever, nor scarlet fever, nor any other dangerous contagious disease.

By limiting our view to diseases with whose contagious characters we are most familiar, the questions almost answer themselves. In the words of the United States Public Health Service—"No health department, state or local, can effectively prevent or control disease without knowledge when, where and under what conditions cases are occurring."

The health officer has his fingers on the pulse of the city. It is his duty to know the condition of the city at all times, so that he may exercise the devices of control and prevention which are placed in his hands to use. He can know day by day how this big city-patient is only by receiving reports of cases of disease as they occur. That is one use of the reports.

Now, you have seen it demonstrated in a number of ways that consumption is a contagious disease. Why, then, should it not be reported like the others?

But to return to the initial question, What good does it do?

1. It informs the health authorities how prevalent tuberculosis is, how rapidly it is spreading, and what means are needed to combat it.
 2. It informs the public what kind of infection is most plentifully scattered abroad.
 3. An immediate report is a sign that the physician in attendance knows his business and is honest with the patient. We shall discuss that further.
 4. It enables the health authorities to know, by comparing cases with deaths, whether proper treatment is being given consumptives, and if not, it enables them to discover why.
 5. It enables the health authorities to give aid and instruction where these are needed, thus performing the humane work of medical treatment, and the absolutely imperative work of social protection.
 6. It enables the health authorities to see to it that a house or a room which has been vacated by a consumptive is thoroughly disinfected before an innocent family or roomer moves in to inhale infection from the walls and floors and fixtures.
- All these are of the utmost importance, and can be accomplished adequately only through full and honest reports. How could we know what a hold consumption had on our people; how could we know whether our children were being exposed at school; how could we know what city blocks most breed the disease; how could we know what hospital and clinical and nursing help were necessary, if not through reports?
And yet the fact remains that the work of obtaining such necessary information upon which to plan and wage the battle against the white plague has been very hard to get.

In Perfect Accord.
Some years ago there came to an American city a delightful German, Herr von Blitz, who intended to support himself by giving lessons in his native tongue. When he had been here several months and had secured a moderate number of pupils he went one day to the mother of one of them and, to her great surprise, asked for her daughter's hand in marriage.
"But, my dear sir," said she, "my daughter has no fortune."
The suitor smiled upon her in an expansive generosity.
"Me, too," said he reassuringly.
"And, although we are not rich, we have thus far been able to give her every comfort. She is indeed used to luxury."
"Me, too," was the smiling rejoinder.
"But, Herr von Blitz, she will never be able to manage affairs."
"Me, too," rejoined the lover.
"And I feel obliged to tell you that my daughter has a very high temper."
"Me, too—me, too."
That was enough. The mother retired from the contest, and the professor won his suit.

DOING THEIR DUTY
Scores of Cass City Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidney's duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak. Backache and other kidney ills may follow.
Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.
Cass City people endorse their worth.
Mrs. William H. Withey, Oak and Houghton Sts., Cass City, says: "My kidneys were disordered for some time. My limbs became swollen and I was caused annoyance by the kidney secretions. Short use of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wood & Co.'s Drug Store, brought me great relief. I now feel better in every way."
Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Withey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv. 2

And Along Came Ruth.
 "I always make it a point to save all sets of buttons," said Ruth's aunt, whom she was visiting, "and yet I cannot seem to get them all together when I want them again."
 "That's because you drop them promiscuously into a big button box, with thousands of others," reprimanded Ruth, "let me tell you a better way. Get some big safety pins, slip the whole set onto one of them and clasp it together. Then when you want them, you will have them all together, without having to spend a half-hour digging them out and matching them up. Don't you see how easy it is?"

 "Sure I do," answered Aunt Martha, "I always wonder why I haven't thought of those things myself, after you have told me about them."

A large metal hood is then placed over the stump and banked up with a little earth at the bottom and forms a closed but not air tight chamber. A fire is then started and pipe connection from a blower made, after which a constant down blast is blown upon the flame, continually fanning it. Stumps are consumed in this manner in from two to four hours.

 the tank. The lower compartment is connected with the gas supply, and the gas is brought to the lower edges of the corrugations by small pipes leading through the water compartment, burning at the orifice as in the common type of gas stove. The flame extends above the corrugations, the top of the flame heating whatever vessel may be placed on the burner, while the heat from the side of the flames is conducted into the corrugations, heating the water inclosed therein without additional cost.

Our Prompt Service

Makes it a pleasure for you to do business here.

If there is any one thing in our business that we take especial pride in, it is in the prompt service. When you order anything from us, we feel that you order it because you want it, and you "want it now"—not some time next week.

We have equipped ourselves for giving prompt service. We have plenty of help, so that we can attend to the orders as they come. This feature of our business is especially appreciated by our customers, because they know that when they phone us, or give us an order, that the goods will be delivered promptly and cleanly.

The next time you order COAL, why not try us? We'll save you money by giving you a better quality for the price.

Extra! Extra!
Good News

There is no war on Bargain Week. Commencing Saturday, Oct. 30, continuing one week. Did you ever notice that when a newspaper gets out an extra, it is always filled with bad news, never with good? Right here, however, is an exception to the rule, for we candidly believe we are in a position today to give you better bargains in horse-drawn vehicle values than ever before.

Our Best $85 Buggy with Electric Lights
For $70.00

We also have two hayloaders, second hand. These we were obliged to take back for non payment. Will be sold at a bargain; also one Side Delivery Rake, second hand.

"Ty" Cobb Stirs Fans in Department of Commerce

"TY" COBB, the popular player of the Detroit baseball team, nearly wrecked the government machinery in the department of commerce when he called to pay a visit to his friend, Robert Clancy, private secretary to Assistant Secretary Sweet of the department, also from Detroit. Cobb and Clancy, in between times, run the Woodrow Wilson factions out in Detroit. Clancy is president of the Woodrow Wilson Club of Detroit and "Ty" Cobb is his first lieutenant, holding down the chair of vice-president.

When Cobb came in to see Clancy one of the messengers opened his eyes wide at being able to get so close to the baseball player, and, like a twentieth century Paul Revere, he went through the halls telling of Cobb's presence. From then on there was a constant stream of visitors into Clancy's office.

They kept coming and congregating in the room. Clancy tried to open a door and let them come in one way, shake hands with the visitor and pass out. But that did not work at all. Those baseball "fans" weren't going to be dictated to. They just hung around, and each had a baseball story to tell Cobb.

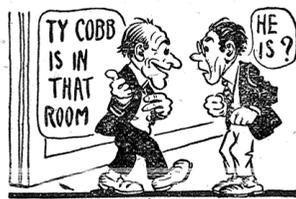

Cobb then went through the building, guided and protected by Robert Clancy, and impromptu receptions were held on every floor. Business did not settle down after those receptions, for the employees went to the window to watch "Ty" leave the building.

They were hanging out every window when the player stepped into a waiting taxicab with Clancy.

"Wave to them, Ty," said Clancy.

"Ty" waved.

Then a great cheer went up as the taxicab disappeared down the avenue.

Mr. Voget went to Caro Saturday on business.

Dugald McIntyre was very ill last week, but is some better at this writing.

Miss Velma Livingston visited friends in Ellington the latter part of the week.

Thomas Greer is improving his buildings by giving them a coat of paint which adds a lot to the looks of Greer's Corners.

The Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. D. Livingston Wednesday evening. A fish supper was given. There was a large crowd and $16.25 were added to the treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. Coulter and daughter, Katherine, attended the pioneer reunion at the home of Jesse Sole last Wednesday.

Mr. Slack visited friends in Detroit over Sunday.

Mrs. John Coulter expects to attend the W. C. T. U. convention at Vassar this week.

Sticking to the Track.

As former Congressman Martin Littleton tells the tale, a railroad was built through an obscure corner of a state where no railroads ever had the hardihood to venture before. On the day the first train ran over the line the engineer, pulling out from a small way station, discovered that a country boy was riding a horse between the rails a short distance ahead. The engineer sounded his whistle again and again, but the rider only lashed his horse into a gallop and made no effort to turn off into the farm lands which flanked the right of way. At the end of a mile long chase the locomotive was so close upon the laboring horse that the cowcatcher almost touched its hind hoof. The pestered engineer leaned out of his cab window.

"You blamed idiot!" he yelled. "Why don't you get off the track?"

Over his shoulder the frightened yokel flung back a desperate retort:

"Naw, sir! Ef ever you got me out yonder on that there plowed ground you could ketch me in a minute!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Not That Kind.

Charlie came to the doctor's office in a state of great excitement and said: "Please, doctor, come right straight down to see Freddy. Mother says that he's wreathed in agony."—Delineator.

WASHINGTON
GOSSIP

Lepers Heavy Burden on District of Columbia

WASHINGTON.—More than a year after John Early, the leper, put in an appearance in Washington, and health officials, he is still a "guest" of the municipality at the little leper cottage on the grounds of the Government Hospital for the Insane beyond the eastern branch. With Early at the detention cottage is Emil R. Grable, another leper, who was taken in custody on the streets of Washington December 10. Early arrived in Washington and notified the health officials of his presence early in June last year.

Since Early's arrival, and since the coming of Grable, the District authorities have made repeated efforts through letters to the secretary of the treasury to have the Federal public health service take charge of the two lepers, but these efforts have been without success.

The necessity for taking care of the two men has drained the funds set apart for the contagious disease work of the District. The cost is between $6 and $10 a day. The health department has found it necessary to call several times on the commissioners for emergency appropriations.

The lepers, it is stated, are under treatment by the District health authorities according to the latest inoculatory methods, but so far have shown no improvement. On the contrary, it is understood, the disease is showing progressive development in both cases.

Both of the unfortunates came to Washington with the hope of remaining here, it is said, and seem contented with their lot.

The Woman's Benefit Association
Of The Maccabees

The Largest, Strongest, and most Progressive Society of Women in the World.

Non-political and non-sectarian. Offers more opportunities to women than any other society. Good training and future success, love of humanity and protection of helpless little ones.

A splendid opportunity for broad-minded and sympathetic women to join this great fraternal chain of one hundred and eighty-six thousand women banded together for the betterment of their own sex. This Organization has a national reputation for this great work in the interest of women, and has already paid into homes of deceased and distressed members over twelve million dollars, every dollar going into some home in time of want and distress. We cannot begin to record the deeds of loving kindness and sympathy that have gone hand in hand with these disbursements.

This Organization has risen to high position in Fraternal Insurance through the hearty co-operation of its members and has built up by the management of its officers, a reserve of over eight million dollars.

The Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees was founded in Michigan by Michigan women in 1892; the cornerstone of its own building, laid in Port Huron, October 22, 1915, being the first woman's benefit association in the world to erect its own building.

Your loved ones are protected by our death benefits; we will see that you have proper burial with our burial benefits. We will take care of you when sick through sick benefits and hospital service.

First in Fraternity, First in Stability
First in the Hearts of its Members

We want a competent woman to act as organizer in this locality. For further information write Mrs. Alberta V. Droelle, Great Commander for Michigan, 411 St. Aubin Ave. Detroit, Mich.

Improving on the Author.

In "Forty Years on the Stage" the author, John H. Barnes, has this to say of Lucy Raymond, "that wonderful 'old woman,'" with whom he often played:
 "If it were possible for her to be funnier than when she was speaking her lines it was when she forgot them. Her perplexity was sidesplitting. On the first night of H. J. Byron's 'Our Soldiers' she had to say to Miss Kate Bishop: 'Shakespeare says, "What's in a name?" I say everything.' Under the influence of first night nervousness her mind wandered temporarily, and she said, haltingly and spasmodically: 'Somebody says: "Who is it? Is it Chaucer or Sir Benjamin Johnson or Shakespeare or some of those old gentlemen you see in Westminster abbey? What's in a name?"'
 "Byron, who was standing by, shook with laughter and immediately said: 'Well, I can't write anything as funny as that. I'll put that in.' And it will be found incorporated in the printed book of the play as sold today."

Enigmatical.

"Little girl, did you ask your mother, as I told you, to lend me some eggs for my cake?"
 "Yes'm, and she said she hadn't no eggs to lend, but she'd give you a lemon."—Baltimore American.
