

EXCELLENT EXHIBITS AT FAIR THIS WEEK

TWO NICE DISPLAYS MADE BY FARMERS' CLUBS OF NOVESTA.

Fine Showing of Cattle, Sheep and Hogs; Floral Hall Is Well Filled.

"The best ever"—that is the comment one hears on all sides as the exhibits of the floral and agricultural halls are viewed by visitors at the Cass City Fair. In the latter building, the displays of fruits and farm products are excellent for the season in which they were grown. The displays that attract all eyes in this hall are the two made by the South Novesta Farmers' Club and the Deford Farmers' Club. One is situated at each end of the building and those responsible for the displays are to be congratulated on their meritorious offerings.

The floral hall holds its usual quota of needlework and fancy work that are a delight to the ladies, and merchants' displays are present in greater number and variety. The Cass City Schools also has an exhibit that is excellent and commands the attention of all intimately concerned with the work of pupil and teacher. Local merchants having displays in this building are N. Bigelow & Sons, A. A. Hitchcock, Farrell & Townsend Co., Dailey & Joslin, L. I. Wood & Co. and G. H. Burke.

The exhibit of cattle shows a good display, many different breeds and varieties filling the cattle sheds. The showing of hogs and sheep is also very good. The poultry display is in advance of that of last season, but the showing in the horse division has less than the average number of entries.

A large number of race horses are on the grounds to compete for the purses and the base ball games on Thursday and Friday are sure to interest the fans. The actors in the special free attractions Wednesday were hampered by the non-arrival of some of their baggage which was delayed in shipment from Petoskey where they were engaged last week. Undoubtedly it will arrive in time for Thursday's performances.

Farmers will be interested in the display of implements, DeLaval separators and Studebaker cars by Striffler & Patterson, the implement showing of J. A. Cole and the demonstration of the Deleo lighting system for farm homes by Muellerweiss & Braun of Sebawing.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH UNDERGOING REPAIRS.

The Presbyterian church is in the hands of carpenters and decorators and several changes for the better are being wrought by the workmen.

A new oak floor has been laid in the main auditorium and annex and the walls have been re-decorated. A cream shade has been used for the side walls and ceiling which not only make the building more light but brings out the beautiful colorings of the stained glass windows. Cork matting in the aisles will be of a brown shade to match the burlap wainscoting which has been finished in that color.

A. J. Spittler, who has the decorating work in charge, is also brightening the exterior of the building by applying a coat of white paint to the wood-work. It is expected that the improvements will be completed in time for the use of the building for the Sunday services of Oct. 1. While the repairs are in progress, services are being held in the basement of the church.

SCHOOLS TO PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF J. B. ANGELL

Fred L. Keeler Suggests Appropriate
Exercises Be Held on Friday,
October 13.

To the Teachers of Michigan:

It is especially fitting that the schools of Michigan pay tribute to the memory of James Burrill Angell. I therefore designate Friday, October 13, as Angell Day and suggest that appropriate exercises be held on that day in the schools of Michigan in honor of his memory.

Teachers should acquaint the boys and girls of Michigan with the possibilities that our system of schools puts before them. They should be made to know and feel that these things are within the reach of all. A study of the life and work of Dr. Angell will be an inspiration to every child in Michigan—an inspiration that will be a deciding influence in the lives of many.

A bulletin has been prepared to suggest suitable material for a program on Angell Day. Teachers will of course not confine themselves to the material there given. Programs should be varied as occasion suggests. Most communities in Michigan have citizens who are graduates of the University of Michigan. These should be called upon to contribute their intimate knowledge of the University and its famous president.

Respectfully,

FRED L. KEELER,
Superintendent of Public Instruction.

WEDDING SATURDAY

Miss Janet Miller Becomes Bride of George E. Moore.

The residence of Mrs. Isabella Miller on Main street west was the scene of a pretty home wedding Saturday afternoon when her youngest daughter, Janet, was united in marriage with Mr. George Everett Moore of Princeton, Mass.

The ceremony was performed at one o'clock by the Rev. J. W. Hamblin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, the double ring ceremony being used. Miss Lillah Tanner, a classmate of the bride in the Class of 1905 of the Cass City high school, played the wedding march. The bride was becomingly gowned in a traveling suit of seal brown and the couple were unattended. Following the ceremony, a delicious wedding dinner was served.

After the graduation of the bride from high school, she fitted herself for the profession of teaching at the Mt. Pleasant Normal. While filling a position in the schools at Onaway three years ago, she met the groom who also held a position in that village. Their acquaintance ripened into friendship and the romance reached its culmination as noted above.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore left on the afternoon train on their wedding tour, the objective points of their journey having been kept a secret from their friends. In a month they will establish their home in an eastern state, Mr. Moore holding a position as forester in the government service.

Besides a few intimate friends of the bride in Cass City, the following from out of town were guests at the wedding: Miss Lillah Tanner of Brown City and William and Alex Miller of Detroit, both brothers of the bride.

RECORD VOTE IS CAST AT RECENT STATE PRIMARY

A. E. Sleeper Is Nominated for Governor by Plurality of 9,335 Over Leland.

According to the official canvass of the August election vote all records were shattered for attendance at the primaries as the total republican vote on governor was 284,640 as compared with 202,175 in the republican gubernatorial primary held in 1914.

Albert E. Sleeper of Bad Axe was nominated as the republican candidate for governor by a plurality of 9,335 over Frank B. Leland of Detroit, his closest competitor. The vote of governor on the republican ticket follows: Sleeper 99,638; Leland 90,283; Diekiema 43,741; Gardner 40,681; Westelius 10,160.

Henry Ford received 137 votes on the republican ticket.

The total vote in the democratic primary for governor was 29,935 of which Charles Bender of Grand Rapids received 28,591 and Henry Ford of Detroit 1,344.

Luren Dickinson of Charlotte was renominated as the republican candidate for lieutenant-governor by a plurality of 30,525. The result of the vote for lieutenant-governor: Dickinson 94,344; Heinemann 63,819; Gordon 50,884; Bohn 29,905; Ogg 18,530.

The total vote for lieutenant-governor was 257,492.

United States Senator Charles E. Townsend of Jackson was renominated on the republican ticket over William Hill of Detroit, by a majority of 73,254. Townsend polled 167,851 votes and Hill received 94,264.

John Kirk of Ypsilanti was unopposed as the democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor. A few national progressive names were written in but the number polled by any candidate did not exceed ten and the Bull Mooseers will have no place on the November election ballot.

MARKET CERTIFIED GRAPES.

First Time in History of Michigan
Grape Culture.

For the first time Michigan certified grapes will be put on the market this fall. The state certificate will say that the grapes in the car specified are "mature, sound, clean, of ripe color, practically free from rot, mildew, mould, diseases and insects, true to name and variety indicated, medium to large berries; bunches well formed and compact packages of legal size and full weight."

AGAINST HOME RULE AMENDMENT

STATE GRANGE URGES VOTERS TO VOTE AGAINST IT THIS FALL.

Michigan State Grange closed its session at Lansing after the adoption of several resolutions and the transaction of routine business.

The feature of the closing session was discussion of the home rule amendment which is to go before the people this fall, initiated by what is known as the Good Government league, of which A. D. Edwards, a member of the legislature, is president. It was asserted by some of the members that Mr. Edwards, in letters and in advertising, has signed himself a "member of the State Grange." While they admit his membership, the grangers insist that such representation might lead people to believe that the Grange is in favor of home rule amendment, whereas it is not.

To explain this a resolution was unanimously adopted reiterating the stand of the Grange on the amendment, and urging every voter to vote "no" on this so-called "home rule amendment."

STATEMENT REGARDING THE NEW WIDOW'S PENSION LAW

Congressman Cramton Ready to Aid
Widows to Apply for Increased Allowances.

To the Editor: Through your courtesy I would like to call attention of widows of Civil War soldiers to the new pension law which has just taken effect, the so-called Ashbrook Law.

This law will benefit the following classes of widows of Civil War soldiers:

1. Any widow heretofore entitled to $12 will be given an increase to $20 if she married the soldier prior to his military service.
2. Any widow heretofore entitled to $12 will be given an increase to $20 if she is 70 years old or over.
3. Any widow who was the widow of a soldier and later remarried and has again been widowed either by divorce on her application without her fault, or by death, can now secure a pension.

4. Any widow of Civil War soldier who married such soldier prior to June 27, 1905 can now secure a pension. The limitation formerly was June 27, 1890, but has now been changed to June 27, 1905.

Any widow who thinks she will be benefited by any of the provisions of the law, if she will write me at Lapeer and state the facts of her case I will inform her as to her rights under the law, furnish her the necessary blank and look after the matter for her at the Bureau of Pensions. This being part of my official duties no charge will be made to any widow for such service, and I will be very glad to render it.

LOUIS C. CRAMTON,
Congressman, 7th Dist.
Address, Lapeer, Mich.

LIVERYMAN HANGS SELF IN BARN

DESPONDENCY GIVEN AS CAUSE
FOR SUICIDE OF HAR-BOR BEACH MAN.

Jas. H. Clark, Crosswell Citizen, Drops into 40-foot Well; Other
"Thumb" News.

William Steadman, aged 23, proprietor of a livery stable at Harbor Beach, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn at the rear of the Dow hotel in that village Saturday afternoon.

Brooding over financial troubles for some time brought on the despondency which caused him to climb out on a beam in the barn, place the end of a common tie rope over a rafter and the other end around his neck, step off the beam and strangle to death. Mrs. Steadman went into the barn and found her husband but the unfortunate man was dead before he could be cut down.

The body was taken to Bad Axe Sunday morning and the funeral was held at that place Tuesday. His parents are retired farmers residing at Bad Axe.

Mr. Steadman went to Harbor Beach about two years ago from a farm in Sigel and purchased the livery business.

James H. Clark, living southwest of Crosswell, made a sensational drop into a 40-foot well Wednesday, landing on his feet in five feet of water and escaping with no injuries further than a badly skinned nose. He was putting in a new pump log and in drawing the old one out made his fall. He dropped the whole forty feet, knocking out several cross braces that were in the way and struck the water without any injury. A portion of the log followed him in his mad descent and this was the means of skimming the nose. Had the log struck him it would have been more serious, as he could easily have drowned had he been rendered unconscious. Jos. French was working with him and succeeded in getting him to the surface before Dr. Learmont, who had been hastily summoned over the telephone, arrived. It was a narrow escape for Mr. Clark and an adventure that he will be in no hurry to repeat.—Crosswell Jeff.

George Cough and Roy Cowan of Deckerville had a very narrow escape from death Wednesday afternoon when the Ford runabout which they were driving took a header into the ditch and turned a somersault and landed wheels up, eight miles north of Deckerville. They were returning from Harbor Beach and had a baby cab on the rear of the machine and in turning around to glance at the cab Mr. Cowan turned the steering wheel also. Both men were pinned under the car but managed to extricate themselves. Mr. Cowan was only slightly bruised, but Mr. Cough sustained a badly lacerated foot and severe bruises about the body.

In addition to a raise in price which was inaugurated over a year ago, the Brown City Banner will adopt a "cash in advance" plan after Oct. 1. The Crosswell Jeffersonian has struck off all delinquent subscribers outside the county and the Marlette Leader announces a raise in price and the Deckerville Recorder has done likewise. All this as a result of the present condition of the paper market.

Vassar needs new boilers in her electric light and waterworks plant and the village council is contemplating a change from steam to oil engines for motive power. The Vassarites are entertaining the claim that the oil engines will save the village over 50 per cent in fuel cost.

The school children of Brown City now have the privilege and pleasure of attending school in their new $55,000 schoolhouse which certainly is one of the finest in the state.

Peck blacksmiths have adopted the cash-on-the-spot plan of payment for work done. They state that it is the only way to make ends meet in this day of high prices.

The Scrap Book

The Worm That Turned.

Just by looking at him as he sat in the witness chair one could tell that he was harmless, but a close inspection would also have revealed that there lurked behind his narrow and apologetic orbs a latent fire indicative of a past when his life had been all his own—a past now long distant. His general air was that of one having been detected by the minister while hoeing his garden on Sunday.

Counsel for the plaintiff in the case proceeded to ask him the usual questions:
"Please state your name to the jury."
"John Jones."
"Your age?"
"Fifty-eight."
"Married?"

Then it was that John slid lower into his chair as a flash of determination came into his eye, and he answered in a voice that could be heard distinctly.
"Yes, very."

In the rear of the room a woman of 250 pounds glared at the timid little witness as he was seen trying to conceal a half-worried smile beneath his straggling mustache.—Indianapolis News.

Rise Above Them.

Then welcome each rebuff,
That turns earth's smoothness rough,
Each sting that bids not sit nor stand,
But go!
Be our joy three parts pain!
Strive and hold cheap the strain;
Learn, nor account the pang; dare, never grudge the throe. —Browning.

Bad Place to Talk Shop.

"The trouble with some men," said an observer, "is that they have such an exaggerated sense of caution that they cannot adapt themselves to new conditions quickly enough. They are like a certain recruit in England. He was a typical, cautious English store clerk before he was taken into the army, and he was not making very rapid progress in military science as it is taught to the rookie.

"Charge!" yelled the drill sergeant one day. But the recruit stood stock still.
"To whose account?" he inquired, with instinctive caution."

Reason For Insistence.

The vicar of a certain parish in England stopped an aged parishioner and congratulated him on his approaching marriage.
"I am sorry," he added, "that a prior engagement will prevent me from performing the ceremony on Tuesday, but no doubt my curate will do just as well."

"Oh, nowt o' t' soort!" ejaculated the old fellow. "That be 'anged for a tale! Mebbe, now, ye'd be at liberty on Wednesday?"

"Well," was the reply, "I certainly shall be free on Wednesday, but"—
"Then Wednesday it is," went on the prospective bridegroom. "Just mak' a note on it, parson."

"But surely," protested the vicar, "you'll never postpone the wedding for twenty-four hours?"

"Aw'd postpone it for twenty-four year if necessary," came the firm reply. "You've allus done this job for me, an' you allus will as long as Aw live."

Then the vicar remembered that the old fellow had been three times previously married.

Most and Least.

Fred was told that if he were to take the castor oil without complaint he would get 5 cents to spend for candy. Then his mother sent him to the corner drug store with 15 cents—10 cents for the oil and 5 cents for the candy.

Arriving at the drug store Fred decided to buy the sweetmeats first and told the clerk that he wanted a nickel's worth of candy.

"What kind of candy do you want?" asked the clerk.

"Gimme the kind you get the most for a nickel," answered Fred.

The clerk complied, and Fred said rather reluctantly:
"Now gimme some castor oil, I want the kind you get the least for a dime."

TURN OUT AND VOTE AGAINST THE "FAKE HOME RULE" PLAN

THE VOTERS OF MICHIGAN HAVE GIVEN US FORTY-FIVE DRY COUNTIES.

VOTE YES NOVEMBER SEVEN

Read the Amendment to the Constitution and Then Work for Its Passage.

"MAKE THE MAP ALL WHITE", says an official of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League in a recent address. "REAL HOME RULE is the rule of the PEOPLE in the interest of the HOME. REAL HOME RULE means abolition of every great social evil which attacks and corrupts the homes of the people. The mother of all social evils is THE SALOON.

"FAKE HOME RULE" in Michigan this year is a plan aimed to confuse the voter and get him to endorse a small unit local option measure, whose adoption would mean retreat for the anti-saloon army. This second amendment put forth by the liquor forces is also cleverly phrased so as to wipe out all of the local option laws which now exist in the state, and under which more than half of the counties of Michigan have been voted dry.

"THE BEST ANSWER" to the "fake home rule" plan of the booze barons is the fact that Michigan voters have given us 45 dry counties. To make and keep the whole State dry you should vote 'NO' Nov. 7th, on the small unit local option amendment of the wets.

"IF YOU WANT REAL HOME RULE VOTE 'YES' NOVEMBER 7th, on the following amendment to the constitution:

"Amend article sixteen of the constitution by adding a new section thereto to stand as section eleven.

"ARTICLE XVI, Section 11. The manufacture, sale, keeping for sale, giving away, bartering or furnishing of any vinous, malt, brewed, fermented, spirituous or intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific or sacramental purposes shall be after April 30, 1918, prohibited in the state forever. The Legislature shall by law provide regulations for the sale of such liquors for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific and sacramental purposes."

YES (X) NO ( )
The statewide dry leaders are warning their followers to vote "NO" on the following constitutional amendment to Article VIII, Section 30, proposed by the saloon and brewery forces:

"Section 30. Every incorporated city, every incorporated village and every organized township (meaning thereby all that part of a township outside the limits of an incorporated city or village located partly or wholly therein) shall each have the right to determine by a majority vote of the electors thereof, whether or not there shall be prohibited therein the manufacture and sale of malt, brewed, fermented, vinous, distilled or intoxicating liquors.

"Appropriate legislation shall be enacted to enforce and make effective the provisions of this section and, until such legislation is enacted, existing local option and regulatory laws on this subject shall continue in force; but no existing law inconsistent with the provisions of this section shall continue in force after January 1, 1919."

WOMAN HELPS GREAT CAUSE

With Money Procured By Selling Eggs She Donates to Fight the Plague.

"Do not write anything back about this money but send me the calendar, because this is the money I have earned selling eggs. My husband does not know I gave this money."

This brief note on a post card enclosed with $3.00, explains how some of the women of Michigan are working to help the movement which will smash saloons. If ever a wife were justified in sending money to a cause without her husband's knowledge surely this is the cause now.

Who can measure the worlds of woe which suffering women and children have endured because of the grip of the terrible drink evil upon the husband and father? Now is the time to marshal our forces in Michigan for the full annihilation of this, the greatest single evil in human society.

HIT OR MISS—MOSTLY HIT

Alcohol is dynamite to the alimentary canal.

The first man fired and the last man hired is the man who drinks.

The only thing suggested by a drink of whiskey is another drink.

License does not guarantee protection to the people, but to the saloon-keeper.

It is easier to take the saloon away from the man than the man away from the saloon, and a lot quicker."

Alcohol is dynamite to the alimentary canal.

The first man fired and the last man hired is the man who drinks.

The new Ford cars are up-to-the-minute in appearance, with large radiator and enclosed fan, hood with full streamline effect, crown fenders front and rear, black finish with nickel trimmings—a snappy looking car—and with all the dependable, enduring and economical qualities that have made the Ford "The Universal Car." One fact is worth more than a ton of guesses. Ford cars are selling from five to ten over any and all other cars, simply because they give more satisfactory service, last longer and are easier to operate and cost less to maintain—and there's no guessing about the reliability of Ford Service. ### THE COAL QUESTION is with us again, and it's a question you can't be a bit too particular about, either, if your comfort is to be considered.

We have always made it a point to handle only those Coals that have proven, by experience, to be the best heaters and most economical burners and when you buy coal from us, you can rest assured you'll get the "Most Burn" for your money every time.

Money cannot buy better brands of coal than we carry. They are the correct solution of the coal question for you.

THE STOCKMAN.

If the harness is badly adjusted the team cannot travel straight. It is as natural for pigs to eat grass as it is for any other animal to do so. Change the sheep from one pasture to another to keep a fresh bite on tap. Be sure that the whiffletrees are wide enough to protect the horses' legs from the wear of the traces. The cleaner the feed the more rapid and healthful the growth of the pigs. Be sure that the ram has fresh water every day and all he will drink.

FINANCIAL AID FOR BOYS' PIG CLUBS

[Prepared by United States department of agriculture.]

Material assistance is being rendered to boys' pig clubs in many states by bankers who realize that the business interests of the community can be permanently improved through this means. A favorite scheme is for a local bank to lend money to deserving club members on their personal notes. This money is used to secure a well bred pig, and the note is paid when the animal is sold for meat, or, in the case of a breeding sow, when its offspring is sold. The arrangement is a purely business one, and there is no question of giving or receiving charity. Not the least beneficial result of this arrangement is its effect on the character and attitude of the Pig club boy.

To such an extent is this practice carried on in some communities that one Texas bank has placed 326 pigs among the Pig club members of its county. In discussing this matter the president of the bank stated that as a result of the acquaintance made in securing and placing these pigs the bank had secured new patrons who had deposited over $75,000 in individual deposits. Furthermore, the boys who are being helped now to get on their feet financially will in a short time be making big shipments of hogs to market each year. The money brought into the county in return will mean an increase in general prosperity, in which the banks will have their share.

SILAGE FOR LAMBS.

Result of a Feeding Experiment at the Nebraska Station.

The purpose of a recent Nebraska lamb feeding experiment was to find out the comparative value of corn and alfalfa hay fed in various forms with and without corn silage. The addition of corn silage to a ration of shelled corn and alfalfa hay increased the daily slight gain per lamb and increased the cost of production 5 cents per 100 pounds, but did not affect the net profit. The addition of silage to ground corn and ground alfalfa did not increase the gain, but reduced the cost of 100 pounds gain 31 cents.

Whole grain and hay in conjunction with the silage was the more economical of the two rations. Lambs on ground corn and ground alfalfa hay made daily gains of 0.371 pound at a cost of $6.12 per 100 pounds, while those on shelled corn and alfalfa hay made daily gains of 0.393 pound at a cost of $5.11 per 100 pounds. Grinding the two feeds and mixing together did not produce sufficient added gain to pay for the cost of grinding.

In a test to compare good versus poor alfalfa hay as a supplement to corn in mutton production it was found that good alfalfa was worth double the value of poor alfalfa hay. Corn and alfalfa hay made the best gains at the least cost in an experiment of four lots of lambs receiving different rations. The other three rations were corn, alfalfa and silage, ground corn and ground alfalfa and corn, linseed meal and prairie hay. The most expensive gains were in the prairie hay lot. The actual cost of the feed in this experiment was corn, 60 cents; alfalfa per ton, $10; ground alfalfa, $12; silage per ton, $3.50; oil-meal, $35; prairie hay, $10.

Feeding the Colt.

There is no time in the animal's life when gains can be made as cheaply as the first year and no time when short feed and exposure will so effectually stunt the growth. A colt properly fed and taken care of until a year old should weigh more than half as much as he will when full grown. It will be necessary to grain the colt more heavily as the milk is taken away. Oats have always been preferred by horsemen for colts. They are a splendid feed and superior to any other single grain. The colt likes a mixture of grains, so that by feeding a combination of corn, bran, oats and oilmeal good results can be obtained. Feed about 50 per cent oats, 35 per cent corn, 15 per cent bran and a little oilmeal, and the colts will thrive and grow like weeds. — Oklahoma Agricultural College.

What Striffler & Patterson of Cass City

have to say about cream separators this week

IN the last ten or fifteen years there have been dozens of cream separators come on the market which claimed to be "world beaters." But they couldn't make good in the hands of the users and one by one they dropped out of sight. Their owners were willing to take a risk and they lost.

If you buy a cream separator from us you run no risk of dissatisfaction or loss.

The De Laval is tested and time proved.

Why experiment? What's the use of taking chances with a machine you don't know much about, or an inferior machine, when you know that a De Laval is recognized everywhere as the "World's Standard."

More than thirty-five years of experiment and experience have made the De Laval pre-eminently the best machine on the market for the separation of cream.

If you have no separator now, or an inferior one, we can sell you a De Laval on such terms that it will pay for itself while you are using it.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

When a Swan is a Cygnet.

"It amuses me to hear people speaking of the young swans at the Avondale zoo as 'swanettes,'" said Miss Lucy Williams. "The diminutive for swan is cygnet, just as a young goose is called a gosling. You might as well speak of a gosling as a ganderette or a goosette as to call a cygnet a 'swanette.'"—Birmingham News.

MORE MEN THAN WOMEN HAVE APPENDICITIS

Surgeons state men are slightly more subject to appendicitis than women. Cass City people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, often relieve or prevent appendicitis. This mixture removes such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-i-ka is surprising. Landon, rural carrier on Route No. 5, has been doing some good missionary work not only for the patrons on his route but for the public in general. Armed with brush and paint, he has inscribed the name of every patron upon his mail box. Now persons driving through the country have no difficulty in learning "Who's Who" and where he lives. Other carriers out of Cass City have arranged with Mr. Landon to make similar inscriptions on all the boxes on the local routes. While this service is not a required one by the carriers, it shows their willingness to be boosters for the community's good and they are deserving of more praise than they will likely receive for the efforts.

Margaret, eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Muntz, had her ankle sprained and her chin badly bruised in a fall when she was hit by a youngster coasting down hill on a bicycle on the sidewalk in front of the J. L. Cathcart residence on Seeger St. north. Margaret may be kept out of school two or three weeks because of the accident as she is unable to step upon the injured ankle. Her father does not intend to enter legal complaint against the youngster but he would be pleased to hear of the lad's parents applying the old fashioned slipper on a spot where it will leave an impression upon the youngster's mind, in an effort to teach him to have some respect for the safety and welfare of other humans. Lloyd McKim, who has been employed on the surgical staff at the Rochester experiment farm of Parke, Davis & Co. during the summer months, has been offered a position in the research laboratory of that company's big medicinal plant at Detroit and commenced his duties there Monday. He was not informed the exact nature of the work, but he will assist either a protozoologist who has spent nine years in Washington or an expert of bacteriology at Syracuse University. Either place, the young man figures, will be one of the finest opportunities that could have been opened to him at this particular stage of his career and his Cass City friends will be glad to know that he has been so favored. Mr. McKim will have access to the library of the institution and his studies in connection with his position at Detroit may be the means of securing for him credits in his medical course at the U. of M. At any rate, the position will be a regular schooling for him in a practical way and he anticipates that it will be worth while for him to stay by it a year and let his course at Ann Arbor rest for that period.

McEldowney, who will soon leave town. Thirty-five covers were laid and a six course dinner was served by the ladies. Rev. P. J. KEEP the COOK CHEERFUL

The Seven Exclusive Patented Improvements in the Round Oak Chief will solve that Problem.

IS YOURS AN EXTRAVAGANT KITCHEN?

If you saw one of your household throwing fifty-cent pieces out of the window, you would be astonished to say the least—and yet, if the range in your kitchen is not a modern, improved range, it is likely and probable many a fifty-cent piece goes up the chimney in the form of excess fuel, or goes into the refuse in the shape of underbaked victuals.

HOW CAN THIS SAVING BE MADE?

Modern progress in the range world has reached it's highest efficiency in the Round Oak Copper-fused Boiler-Iron Chief range.

This range will operate on less fuel than any other. You can heat the water and bake at the same time. It bakes uniformly.

These and three or four other exclusive improvements substantiate its claim for preference and superiority.

We invite the opportunity of demonstrating these interesting facts without obligation on your part, to buy.

of the war the royal family of Spain has been in the public eye. The portrait of Queen Victoria, here reproduced, is the latest of her royal highness and just received in this country. Queen Victoria was an English princess, daughter of Prince Henry of Battenberg and Princess Beatrice, who is a sister of the late King Edward VII. of England.

Proper Method of Pressing Garments

Good pressing is not only an important part of dressmaking and tailoring, but it is also one of the most important features in the care of clothing.

Skirts should be pressed over an ironing board.

The board should not be too heavily padded. The covering should be drawn tightly and should be of a firm, smooth material that will not leave the imprint of the texture or weave.

Darts and curved seams should be pressed over a curved surface such as a tightly padded cushion.

Sleeve seams may be pressed over the handle of a broom after covering it smoothly with cloth.

Use the curved edge or side of the ironing board when pressing open seams. This prevents the edge of the seam being pressed into the garment.

Nearly all pressing is done on the wrong side of the garment.

The seams may be dampened if the material permits. For surface pressing lay over the material a damp cloth and press dry. When pressing on the right side a firm dry cloth is first placed over the garment.

Use a rather heavy iron for pressing. Press slowly. Lift and place the iron, bearing down heavily.

Always avoid a sliding motion, as it is apt to stretch the material.

What to Do For Insect Bites

The most common bites or stings are those of the bee, wasp, yellow jacket, spider, horse fly, yellow fly, red bug or chigger, flea, mosquito and bedbug.

In case of a sting of any kind the first thing to do, of course, is to remove the sting. This can best be done with the point of a knife or needle, but care should be taken not to break the skin for fear of infection. Then the next best thing perhaps is to apply ammonia water or soda water to the affected parts.

In the case of bites, as well as of stings, when the sting is removed, as a rule, a paste of common baking soda applied to the affected parts or these bathed in ammonia water is all that is necessary. Where the poisonous effect is severe, however, send for a doctor. In the meantime the patient should lie down and keep quiet.

An application of a 50 per cent solution of a saturate solution of potassium permanganate, which you get at the drug store, is very efficient for insect poisons and for the poisons of plants, too, such as poison ivy and sumac.

Cheesecake.

Cheesecakes are made by adding egg, sugar and flavoring to fresh curd, such as is used for cottage cheese. Add an egg to a cupful of curd, beat smooth and beat in half a cupful of sugar and a piece of butter the size of a walnut. Flavor with vanilla, nutmeg or any other spice. Line a pie plate with paste and fill with this mixture. Bake without a top crust.

The Children's Play Corner

"Secret History."

Each player is requested to write on a card or slip of paper the name of some well known woman in history or fiction or in modern life. These are dropped into a basket, and all are then asked to write upon another set of papers the names of certain men whose names and careers are familiar to the average person. These are put in a second basket and well mixed, and both are passed around.

Each player draws one paper from each basket and cudgels his wits to write or tell a brief story bringing in the names of the man and woman that he has drawn, as hero and heroine. The more impossible and ridiculous the better. One person who drew "Rip Van Winkle" and "Xantippe" represented Rip's wife as a reincarnation of the virago who made Socrates' life miserable.

"Mother Bird and Hawk."

This is a fine out of door game and may be played by a large number. Children are arranged in groups in a row. Each group has the name of some bird, such as robins, sparrows, canaries, etc. About fifteen yards to the right of the birds and in front of them is a space for the "mother bird." The same distance to the left is reserved for the "hawk." The mother bird calls, "Come out, canaries" (or any other group). At these words the canaries all run to the mother bird, the hawk trying to intercept and capture them. If tagged they are imprisoned by the hawk. If they reach the mother bird's home without being tagged they are safe. Game continues till all birds have been called out.

BLIND PIGS.

"Blind Pigs" is the name of the horrible bog which the saloon element is always holding up to scare the neutral voter and make him fall off the fence and land on the wet side, says a statement from the Michigan Dry Campaign Committee.

The truth is, that "blind pigs" thrive best off the liquor traffic under the license system. When the licensed saloon is abolished, the blind pig immediately shows up in vivid colors by contrast with the old wet situation. This is often true even when the dry period cuts the number of blind pigs down to almost nothing.

If you want to know the truth about blind pigs, GO TO DETROIT where there are now 1,400 blind pigs, which is more than the total number of licensed saloons in that wet city. In fact, there are probably about 2,000 blind pigs in Detroit, if the truth were known, as against 1,377 saloons in the year 1915.

"Record 10" is the official document of the United States government which proves this situation. Record 10 contains the names and addresses of those who pay the federal liquor taxes each year. This book is a public document, open to public inspection at any time in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, either in Detroit or Grand Rapids.

According to "Record 10" last year, the total number of federal liquor taxes paid in Detroit District, minus the number of drug stores and the 1,377 saloons, left a total of 1,400 places where liquor was sold without hindrance from the United States government but without taking out any license in the city of Detroit.

Commenting on this situation, the Dry Booster, published now and then by the Wayne County Dry Campaign committee, has this to say:

"Oscar Riopelle, candidate for alderman in the Twentieth ward, says there are too many blind pigs on West End avenue and they should be closed up. This isn't in a dry town, but wet Detroit.

"Residents of Grosse Pointe complain to the sheriff that there are too many blind pigs in the cottages on the river and lake front and the sheriff is forced to close some of them. This isn't in a dry town, but in wet Wayne county.

"The Detroit News and Detroit Saturday Night recently printed names and addresses of disorderly houses which they claimed were also blind pigs. They weren't in dry towns, but in wet Detroit.

"Several Sundays this summer the Detroit Journal and the Detroit Saturday Night have sent out investigators who have found saloons running wide open. These were not in dry towns, but in wet Detroit.

"And even with our lax police administration there were 96 offenders prosecuted last year in Detroit for blind pigging.

"These are a few of hundreds of instances which go to show that the blind pig is the 'side kick' of the saloon, and not of prohibition."

How To Fight Tuberculosis

Some Signs to Watch.
The curability of consumption in its earlier stages is as high as 85 and 90 per cent. As the stages of the disease advance, the percentages drop to 25 per cent, then to 12 per cent, and finally the stage is reached where no cures have been recorded and where none seem to be possible. Yet it is true that in some of the stages where hope is almost nil, a few cures have been made, but these are so out of the usual course as not to indicate curability at advanced stages. All they do is to illustrate that nature will leap upon the disease to destroy it whenever nature is given a chance.

It is because consumption is curable in its earlier or tuberculosis stage that we urge people to find out early for themselves how it stands with them. When the disease becomes so apparent that it is noticeable, when the symptoms appear by which the older doctors used to diagnose it, it is in many cases much too late. Early diagnosis is absolutely essential to a 90 per cent chance of being cured. But apparently some people would rather take a chance on the disease than on an examination of their chest—such is the folly of human procrastination!

There are certain signs which should be regarded as very serious when they appear in you. You must not neglect them. You must heed their warnings. You must accept them as nature's red flag trying to warn you back from the path of thoughtless indifference. What are these signs? They are:

1. A slight cough or a cold lasting more than a month. Last November a boy of 15 was noticed coughed at his mother's funeral. He said he had a very bad cold. In the general upset of the household it was allowed to run as colds usually are let to run. Today the boy is an incurable consumptive—one lung almost wholly gone, the other deeply excavated by the destructive germ. Indeed, any persistent derangement or impairment of the respiratory system deserves and demands your attention.

2. Loss of weight. With some a fluctuation in weight seems natural, but there is a limit beyond which we know that something is wrong if we are losing weight. Loss of weight may be a matter of life and death.

3. Slight fever in the afternoon. This may occur occasionally through indiscretions at the noonday lunch or dinner, but if the late afternoon commonly finds you with higher temperature, even a very slightly higher one, you may well heed it and find out what it means. This is one of the accompaniments which never fails with consumption.

4. Loss of strength or a tired feeling. This, too, occurs sometimes by reason of a flunk in the system, and may not indicate consumption. But it does indicate a condition of body where consumption, or other diseases may be easily contracted. And, besides it always accompanies the beginning of consumption. Be on the safe side with regard to it.

5. Loss of decrease of appetite. There are occasions when one's appetite temporarily flags, and it may not mean anything very serious. But continued impairment of appetite always accompanies the beginnings of consumption, and if such impairment continues in you, you are earnestly warned to regard it seriously and seek medical counsel.

6. Bleeding from the lungs. This, of course, is an occurrence which will startle the most indifferent to action.

An English physician of renown used to give this advice to the doctors who came to him for the benefit of his wide experience: 'Always say three things to patients whom you suspect to be tubercular — 'Get yourself weighed every few days—by the same machine each time—to see if you are losing weight. Use a thermometer two or three times each evening to see if there is any fever. Save your sputa to be tested.'

Every person who is coughing up matter or phlegm should save some of it to be tested. Take it in a bottle to the Board of Health. Or, go to the Board of Health building and get a bottle specially adapted to the purpose. If you live in a place where there is no Board of Health, send a sample of your sputa to the bacteriologist of the State Board of Health at Lansing. The test will gladly be made free of charge and yourself notified of the result.

FAT FOLKS MAY NOW BECOME SLIM QUICKLY

Be Moderate in Your Diet, Breathe Deeply, and Take Tassco.

Fat persons, particularly those from 10 to 30 pounds above normal weight will be interested to learn that they may easily reduce their weight without starvation diet or tiresome exercise.

This can best be done by being moderate in your diet, so that you will not over-tax your assimilative organs, by getting plenty of fresh air, by breathing deeply and by taking tassco four times a day.

Tassco may be obtained from any druggist in 5-grain tablets, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. They cost little, are absolutely harmless, are pleasant to take and are designed to reduce fatty accumulations in the system wherever located.

A few days' treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight, the flesh should become firm, the skin smooth and the general health improved, in fact your footsteps should even become lighter, your work seem easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling take possession of your whole being.

Every person who is 10 or 20 pounds over normal weight should surely give this treatment a trial. You will probably find that it is just what you need.—Adv. 9-1-4

Will You Lose Your Boy, Too?

This is a true picture of what is happening on thousands of farms each year. Breaking home ties. Young men, and young women too—leaving home for the attractions and conveniences of city life.

Young people in country homes have plenty to keep them busy and contented during the day. Evening is their time of leisure and recreation.

It is then that the depressing gloom of their poorly lighted homes strengthens their desire for the pleasures and comforts of good light which all city homes enjoy, rich and poor alike. For young folks crave companionship—good times—pleasant homes—cheerful surroundings.

Thirty years ago, it is true, only city homes enjoyed the advantages of gaslights and gas cooking but for the past fifteen years progressive home owners in the country have also enjoyed this greatest of city conveniences—good light—until today are supplying brilliant, inexpensive light to houses, barns, outbuildings and cooking fuel for the kitchen range on hundreds of thousands of up-to-date country places from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Pilot-Carbide-Outdoor Lighting and Cooking Plants

These homes—situated just like your own—are lighted as well as the finest city house you ever saw.

The young folks in these homes are contented and happy. Their homes are cheerful, full of light and comfort, real homes of which young folks, and older ones too, can well be proud. City life has no attraction for them, because they know that with modern conveniences in the home, life in the country is better, happier and more enjoyable than the best the city has to offer.

What about your children? Are you doing your part to give them the advantages they desire and which their friends and neighbors enjoy? Or are you denying them the simple comforts and conveniences which you can well afford?

They may be just approaching the time when they will decide for themselves—whether they too will leave for the city or stay at home.

They may never have said anything about these things to you—but what are they thinking? What will they decide?

Their decision is largely in your hands. An attractive home is the strongest magnet in the world. The greatest factor in making the home cheerful, bright and attractive is good light.

HER FIRST DINNER PARTY.

And Why She Didn't Know Just What to Say to the Cook.

They had been married only three months, and it was their first dinner party, consequently they were both a little flurried when the time drew near for the guests to arrive. She had arranged the table herself and stood surveying the effect.

"Do you think everything will go well, dearie?" she asked for the twentieth time.

"Of course. Why shouldn't it? I'm really sorry for the fellows who are not married. They have to give their dinners in restaurants."

"Oh, how sweet of you, dearie," she gurgled. "And I'm really sorry for the poor girls who have no nice husbands."

She wandered around awhile, then stood still and listened.

"Hush! There's a carriage."

And they hustled into the living room. But the carriage rolled on. He looked at his watch. It was 7.

"How foolish of us! Of course no one would dream of coming before the half hour," she said. "You know, love, one always says half an hour before the real dinner hour."

Half an hour passed. Not a soul put in an appearance. The clock struck 8. The bride burst into tears.

"I've never been so insulted in my life. My friends always accepted my invitations before I was married."

"So did mine, even if I did have to invite them to restaurants."

"I shall go home to mother, and you can go to your old restaurants as much as you please."

"Oh, don't let me keep you."

She rushed into her bedroom and began piling her pretty things pell-mell into a suitcase. Then she gave a cry. Her eye fell on a heap of white envelopes in the corner of a drawer.

"Husband!" she called out in a tragic voice. "Here are all the invitations. I forgot to mail them."

They looked at one another for a moment; then he opened his arms and she fell into them. The blissful moment of reconciliation was interrupted by a voice from the kitchen. "Would yez be havin' any dinner tonight?"

"Oh," the bride cried, "what am I going to say to cook?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Criticize Yourself.

A little less criticism of others and more thorough criticism of ourselves would have a tendency to make us lenient to and sympathetic with the faults and follies of others.

Enough to Do Already.

Little Mary had frequently been scolded by her mother for trying her sled on sleighs and had promised to reform. One day her mother saw her going past with her sled tied to a bob. She called her in and told her how dangerous it was and also that the law did not allow it.

"Don't talk to me about law," said Mary. "I have all I can do to keep the Ten Commandments."

Found the Word.

The late Thomas Lowry of Minneapolis was a great wit and a great story teller as well as a great financier. He needed $1,000,000 one time for one of his railroad enterprises, and he went to New York to get it. On the morning of his arrival a friend met him at the hotel and asked, "What are you doing, Tom?"

"I am going downtown to get $1,000,000."

"Can you do it?"

"My boy," said Lowry impressively, "in the bright lexicon of youth there is no such word as fail."

That night Lowry came back to his hotel after a hard day. The same friend met him. "Did you get the million?" he asked.

"No," replied Lowry, "I didn't. I opened that bright lexicon of youth, and the word was in it."

Wanted Back Action.

After many efforts the aspiring singer had managed to get permission to give a trial performance at the local music hall. The house was full, and he warbled in his sweetest tones. Everything seemed rosy until suddenly a hoarse voice came from the side of the stage:

"HERE, YOU, COME OFF!"

"Here, you, come off!" ordered the stage manager. "Can't you see you're emptying the house?"

"Er—I don't seem to be a success, then?" said the amateur timorously.

"Success! Huh!" snorted the manager angrily. "At clearing them out you're the most successful chap I ever met. Now, for goodness' sake, go and sing outside and drive 'em in again!"—London Tit-Bits.

TONOLINE IS BEAUTY AID, ANNOUNCES SPECIALIST

MILDRED LOUISE TALK OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

As health is a first aid to beauty this story, told by Mildred Louise, beauty specialist, of Boston, Mass., is of unusual interest.

"I can recommend no better health giver than tonoline," said Mildred Louise.

"It was for many months a victim of stomach trouble and nervousness. I had suffered terribly from pains that followed eating. Headaches also would add to my worries. Poor digestion finally brought on nervousness."

"Relief came, however, when I took the advice of several women who said, 'Take tonoline.'"

"Not long after I started the tonoline treatment, my patrons began to remind me of the improvement in my condition. And because health is the quickest way to beauty, the improvement was particularly noticeable in my face."

"What tonoline really did for me I cannot say. I am so grateful that I am very willing to recommend tonoline publicly."

Tonoline is a purely vegetable preparation which goes to the seat of common maladies—stomach and kidney trouble, catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes, liver ailments and impurities of the blood—and quickly restores proper action. Tonoline is being explained daily to many people by all druggists.

Notice: As tonoline is a wonderful flesh builder it should not be taken by any one not wishing to increase his weight ten pounds or more. Although many reports are received from those who have benefited by tonoline in severe cases of stomach trouble and nervous dyspepsia, chronic constipation, etc.

The Farmer and the Merchant.

THERE can be no doubt that the prosperity of the country—the entire people—is based on the quantity of produce RAISED ON THE FARMS, and no other one thing so seriously affects the business interests of the country as a general crop failure. If the crops are generally good throughout the country and happen to be a failure in one particular locality the merchants are not dependent on the home farmer, but can have his goods, produce, etc., shipped in from other sections and thus supply the demand of his customers, while, on the other hand, THE FARMER IS ALWAYS DEPENDENT ON HIS HOME MERCHANTS—the town or city which is his marketing place—and the home banks for the handling and disposition of his products.

THE MERCHANT NEVER BUYS HIS PRODUCE, HAY AND GRAIN FROM OUTSIDE POINTS WHEN HE CAN GET THEM FROM THE FARMER, BUT THAT THE FARMER IS GIVEN LARGELY TO THE PRACTICE OF ORDERING MANY OF HIS NEEDS FROM STORES IN OTHER CITIES, MORE PARTICULARLY THE LARGE MAIL ORDER HOUSES, IS A WELL KNOWN FACT.

Not a day passes that goods of almost every description, from soaps to farm implements, including gasoline engines, manure spreaders, seed planters, cream separators, cooking stoves and ranges, clothing, groceries and what not, are seen in our depots and express offices addressed to local farmers.

MR. FARMER, DO YOU THINK IT RIGHT TO COME TO TOWN WITH A LOAD OF PRODUCE AND SELL IT TO THE MERCHANTS OF YOUR MARKET PLACE AND THEN TAKE THE MONEY HE PAYS YOU AND SEND IT TO SOME MAIL ORDER HOUSE AND BUY GOODS THAT YOU COULD BUY JUST AS CHEAPLY AT HOME AS FROM A MAIL ORDER HOUSE AND HAVE THE FURTHER SATISFACTION OF SEEING WHAT YOU BUY?

You may say, "Oh, well, I sold my butter and eggs to the groceryman, but he doesn't handle clothing!" Yes; but, my farmer friend, if the clothing man does not sell his clothing he must go out of business, and the groceryman loses a good customer, his business is curtailed, and he then must buy less of your produce. You are just as much in duty bound to buy your clothing, your hardware, your farm tools and other necessities from your home market as if these merchants all dealt in your wares first hand.

THESE VARIOUS BUSINESSES ARE INTERLOCKING AND INTERDEPENDENT, AND ON THEIR SUCCESS DEPENDS YOUR SUCCESS.

A certain good farmer in this county ordered a corn planter from a mail order house and, owing to delays in freights, did not get his planter in time to do his planting while a good spell of weather was on. However, it finally came. He got it to the farm, set it up and started in with his planting. Through carelessness or oversight a small gravel got in one of the holes through which the corn drops and there lodged, with the result that the plate was broken. This put the planter out of commission. The farmer had to stop his corn planting and come to town to see if he could get another plate. He called on the hardware stores and implement dealers, but as none of them carried these mail order house planters in stock he could find no plate, and the final result was he was forced to follow the plow and drop his corn by hand. Had he purchased his planter from a home merchant he could easily have got the necessary repairs and not been delayed. It certainly was more costly to the farmer than if he had paid his home implement dealer many dollars more. Furthermore, the implement dealer had been buying corn every season from this farmer who bought his planter from a mail order house.

Every dollar you send to a mail order house is taken out of local circulation entirely, and the good of it is lost forever. IT HURTS YOU IN THE LONG RUN just as much as any one. Therefore, before you order anything else from out of your home town go to town and see if you can find what you want, or if you can't get to town telephone a merchant, and if it is a small package he will send it out by parcel post. If it isn't satisfactory send it back. Merchants guarantee the goods they sell just as well as mail order houses. There is not a local merchant who will not treat you right. Give him a chance and he will appreciate it.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Hamblin left Monday to attend the Presbytery at Flint at which representatives of Presbyterian societies in the six counties of Huron, Sanilac, Tuscola, St. Clair, Lapeer and Genesee will be present. One of the most important features of the program was the discussion of home mission affairs throughout the presbytery. Preparation had been made by extensive studies of the church situation throughout the six counties named. During July a secretary of the national board of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., had visited the Presbytery, and in company with Rev. E. H. Bradford, the chairman of the Home Mission committee, visited a large number of the fields occupied by Presbyterian churches. At this meeting an exhibit of charts and photographs was displayed and facts were presented which led to a thorough discussion of church interests. To follow up these endeavors it is proposed that a series of conferences shall be conducted early in December throughout the six counties, when officers and leaders of the Presbyterian churches will be called together to discuss two important topics, namely, "The Community Program of the Local Church" and "The Every Member Canvass as a Method of Financial and Spiritual Economy." Through these conferences it is designed to cultivate a wider community outreach among all the churches and to further a more efficient financial organization in each of them.

SCHOOL GIRL AVIATRIX PREFERS OVERLAND CAR. Art Smith, famous aviator who recently purchased an Overland Model 84-B, is not the only flyer who favors that line of automobiles. In proof of this R. D. Keating, local Overland and Willys-Knight dealer, tells of a photo recently received from the Overland factory at Toledo, of Miss Stinson, school girl aviatrix, which was taken during a recent exhibition at Edmonton, Alta., in Canada, where she became acquainted with the Overland cars, spending much of her time when not in the air, in one of these automobiles. Like Art Smith, Miss Stinson is also an expert on motors, as a bird man, or a bird lady in this instance, must be familiar with gasoline-driven motors. It is quite a compliment, therefore, to have Miss Stinson declare that she now understands why so many men were buying Overlands for their wives and daughters. "The car is so easy to operate," she said after one of her spins. "The electric control box and other conveniences make it an ideal woman's motor car." HOSPITAL NOTES. GARRICK DISOWNED. To Tell the Truth, Though, His Appearance Was Against Him. Garrick's brother Peter lived at Lichfield. On the occasion of some townsmen going to London Peter Garrick addressed a letter to his brother David in Southampton street, where he lived then, requesting him to show the lions of London to their townsmen, with whatever civilities he could confer. The man of Lichfield arrived in the great city, proceeded to Southampton street and, on knocking at the door, was told that Mr. Garrick was not at home, being engaged to attend the rehearsal at Drury Lane theater that morning, as he must play Abdel Druger in "The Alchemist" that evening, when he would be sure to see him if he did not find him before. John of Lichfield, acting agreeably to this information, went to the theater and then went back to Lichfield, where he attended his own business and took no notice of Peter Garrick. The latter, surprised at this neglect, questioned him why he did not bring an answer to his letter. "Because your brother did not give any," was the conclusive reply. "Indeed," said Peter, "that is very extraordinary. What did he say to you?" John of Lichfield exclaimed: "Well, Master Garrick, as you will have an answer, you shall have it. Take it as you please. I went to Southampton street. David was not at home. They said I might go to him at the playhouse. Well, they made me pay 3 shillings to go in, which I thought a strange proceeding. However, that was nothing. When he did show himself on the stage he was the nastiest, dirtiest, shuffling little blackguard that I ever set my eyes upon. I would not speak to him nor see him or own him as a townsman, though he is your brother. So I came away and left him to play his dirty tricks by himself."—Pearson's. Chance and Purpose. "Chance" drifts ever downward with the current. "Purpose" with "hard work" at its elbow goes upstream by fierce fighting. Greeting the King. King Alfonso of Spain is given to the habit of mingling with his people unexpectedly and unannounced. Some little time ago he visited a small town near Madrid and walked about the streets. But the rumor of his presence somehow got abroad, and he suddenly found himself among an excited throng, all of whom were "looking for Alfonso." One excited old lady began to exclaim shrilly when he was near her: "Get out of the way!" she cried. "How can I see what the king is like if you will crowd me so!" Turning, with a smile, to the excited old lady, King Alfonso whispered: "Have a look at me—I am the king." "King!" she exclaimed scornfully. "You the king! Don't tell me that, you blackguard. Why, you're more like some one who has come to blow the poor boy up!" Anecdote of R. Harding Davis. The late Richard Harding Davis once dined with a Philadelphia woman whose hobby was autograph first editions. The man had first editions of Kipling, Stevenson, Howells and all the literary bigwigs, and in each book was a complimentary dedication to him signed by the author. But some of these autograph dedications were looked on with suspicion, and Mr. Davis expressed this suspicion jocularly at the dinner in question when the host passed round the table a fine old folio Shakespeare. Mr. Davis, manipulating a pencil unperceived, sent the Shakespeare back to his host with these words inscribed on the flyleaf: "To John Blank, from his affectionate old friend and well wisher, Bill Shakespeare."—Philadelphia Bulletin. Just His Luck. At breakfast the other morning a Chicago woman regarded her better half sternly and demanded: "Tom, what did you do with that letter to Aunt Clara I gave you to mail last Tuesday?" "Tom clapped his hand on the breast pocket of his coat. "Was it to Aunt Clara?" he asked, hastily extracting from his pocket a bundle of letters and miscellaneous documents and looking them over. "Of course it was. I wrote to ask her to come and spend a month with us." "Marie," gasped Tom, "I—I mailed it!"—Chicago News.

THINK OF THE ENGINEER. How to Approach a Railroad Track When the Train Is Coming. There is one item that should be considered by the auto driver in approaching a railroad train that is important in addition to the item of safety to himself and load, one that is seldom if ever thought about by the average driver, the strain on the mind of the engineer. An old engineer says that one of the worries of his life was to know whether the approaching auto was going to stop before reaching the track or was going to make an effort to get across ahead of the train. He sees the machine headed for the track. Visions of a foolhardy driver float before his eyes and he knows that if that machine goes a little too far he will have the horror of an accident to think about. The inclination is to stop his train. This is of course impossible and a feeling of relief comes to him when he sees the auto pull up say ten or perhaps twenty feet from the track. This scare for the engineer might have been avoided if the machine was stopped a hundred feet back, in time to assure that engine driver that the crossing was safe for his train, and it would also be just as well or better for the people in the auto if they knew that they were also safe. If drivers would practice stopping further back from the train they would receive the thanks of the engineers and perhaps save lives that are now lost by foolish taking of chances.—Ex. W. J. Moore, owner of the Moore telephone lines in Tuscola and western Sanilac, is building an artificial lake on his lawn at Caro. If his lines are like the most of them he can squeeze moisture enough out of the stock to supply the lake with water.—Croswell Jeff. CENTRAL GREENLEAF. Frost did some work Friday night.
