327 THUMB BOYS LEAVE FOR TRAINING

134 FROM HURON COUNTY
AND 107 FROM SANILAC
GO TODAY.

Eighty-six Young Men from Tuscola
County Report Tuesday to Leave
Caro Next Wednesday.

Three hundred twenty-seven young men will leave their homes in the Thumb within the next six days for Camp Custer where they will enter training in the National army. One hundred seven from Sanilac county and 134 from Huron county are scheduled to leave this (Friday) morning for Battle Creek. Eighty-six were to go from Tuscola county on the same day, but the district board at Bay City did not give the list of those named to enter the service to the local board until Wednesday. The local board would not consent to sending the boys from Tuscola on a 24-hour notice so their departure is scheduled for next Wednesday. Notices have been mailed to the 86 young men to report at Caro Tuesday and leave the county seat over the M. C. R. R. Wednesday. The schedule arranged for the trip today was as follows: Leave Caro 7:50 a. m.; arrive at Vassar, 8:25; leave Vassar, 9:25; arrive Saginaw, 10:21; leave Saginaw, 12:30; luncheon at Saginaw; arrive at Battle Creek, 5:30 p. m. ## DIDN'T GET ANY WAGES.

Howard McCollum and J. E. Wilmans, two of the patients at the Wahjamega Farm for Epileptics, skipped out Sunday and the officers had some little difficulty in locating them. Monday afternoon they were found by Deputy Sheriff Humes at Otter Lake, who took them from a box car in which they were riding. They told the officer that they left the Wahjamega farm because they didn't get any wages there.

They were returned to the epileptic farm and will have to struggle along without wages, even though it seems a hard proposition to them.—Vassar Pioneer.

HAND TAKEN OFF.

Edwin Winkler, son of Lawrence Winkler of Tuscola township, was the victim of a shocking accident last week. The young man was threshing at the farm of his uncle and in putting on the separator belt his left hand became fastened in some manner and that member was taken off at the wrist.

Mr. Winkler was among the first quota of young men to be called from Tuscola county to serve in the army and he was waiting for the call to go to the Battle Creek cantonment.

GETS LIFE SENTENCE.

Judge Williams sentenced Slack on Thursday morning to life in Jackson prison.

"IT'S A GREAT LIFE" SAYS KOEPFGEN

THEY LINE UP FOR EATS, VACCINATIONS AND DRINKS.

Except for Wind Storms and Other
Disadvantages, Lyle Likes
Texas.

Lyle Koepfgen, enlisted and training with the 74th Aero Squadron, at Kelly Field, South San Antonio, Texas, writes the Chronicle the following letter which will prove interesting to his many friends in the Cass City community:

Dear Friend: Received the Chronicle you sent me, also your card asking me to tell you something about army life here. Well, in the first place, I must say I enjoyed getting the paper. It seems mighty good to read the news from your home town, when you are so far away and it seems as if I were a long way away down here.

It is just a month or a little better since I have been here. My first impression of Texas was not very encouraging. I have sweated and steamed, and gone with an empty stomach, but I am hardened now; can stand anything the army puts over on me. This part of Texas would be a fine farming country if it would rain once in a while. We have had two rain storms since I have been here. They lasted about ten minutes and then seemed to get discouraged and stopped.

We have some very strong wind storms here once in a while. Then you ought to see the soldiers run for their tents, and grab a corner or any part of it they can get hold of and hang on to it, to keep it from going over. Some of the tents get away from them at that. We sit down on the ground to eat our meals and it gets quite dusty some times. We did not have a commanding officer at first, so naturally things did not work very well. Have one now and we are being organized, so things will work better. We have received our entire equipment. We get up here in the morning at 5:30; 10 minutes to dress and get out; then we have reveille, one drill and then breakfast; then we drill again. We have the infantry formation to enable us to march in a military manner. The last one is more of a school of signaling and aeronautics.

I find the aeronautics the most interesting as we all will get a chance to fly after we are completely organized. Some of these airplanes have a nasty habit of dropping to the ground without giving the pilot any notice whatever. Two of them fell the other morning; one man killed, the other one is dying in the hospital. If I drive one I hope they will either let me keep one foot on the ground, or pick out a soft place to land on.

There are no floors in our tents, so to keep our feet at the extreme end of our legs, we dress in bed. You see this camp is full of ants and snakes. It is nothing unusual to find a snake coiled up in your shoe in the morning. As for the ants, they are all over. When mess call is blown, the ants are first to eat, even going so far as to press us out of line. We have stew generally for breakfast, for dinner, and then they change around and give us stew for supper. Had hash once, but it doesn't happen often.

We are six miles from San Antonio, but do not get much chance to go there. I have seen towns that looked lots cleaner. There are lots of Mexicans in it. Any thing that has a roof on it is a store of some kind.

I would not be surprised if we were shipped out of here soon. Guess we will go as soon as we get our last inoculation. It's a great life. We line up for eats, line up for vaccinations, line up for a drink of water, in fact, we line up for everything. It doesn't make any difference how much of a hurry you are in, you must wait your turn. But take it all in all, as long as this war lasts, I am going to enjoy it and see it through.

Sincerely,
LYLE A. KOEPFGEN.
P. S.—Excuse writing, but have nothing to write on only a piece of a shingle across my lap. Would be pleased to hear from you any time.

THREE DETROIT BANDITS SHOOT UP LEXINGTON

Chase Through Streets of Port Huron Ends in Woman's Capture.

After shooting up Lexington, Sanilac county, Friday afternoon, three Detroit automobile bandits and Miss Ruth Wintermuth, according to daily papers of the state, drove into Port Huron, defied the police and led a spectacular chase through the streets.

Miss Wintermuth, 19 years old, abandoned in a stolen car, was jailed at Pt. Huron, but her companions scattered and fled.

The three bandits, accompanied by the girl, left Detroit Thursday night, according to the girl's story, in a stolen auto, for Lexington, where the girl's parents reside. After a short visit there Friday her father insisted on Miss Wintermuth remaining at home. When he attempted to hold her, one of the bandits drew a revolver and threatened to shoot her father's head off.

Miss Wintermuth and the men jumped into the auto and with drawn revolvers held off the village marshal. Within 30 minutes the party returned to Lexington and drove wildly through the streets, firing revolvers and chasing the villagers to cover.

Word was telephoned to Port Huron and Sheriff Windsor and deputies were waiting for them. An exciting chase resulted through the streets of Port Huron. After abandoning the girl, the auto, their coats, caps and one revolver, the bandits scattered and escaped.

COUNTY S. S. CONVENTION

Will Be Held at Akron on October 2 and 3.

H. D. Schiedel, secretary of the Tuscola County Sunday School Association, makes the following announcement regarding the next convention of the association:

The ninth annual county Sunday school convention of Tuscola county will be held Oct. 2 and 3, at Akron. State workers will be with us to help solve the problems of our various schools. Instructive addresses will be given on the different departments of Sunday school work.

Round table discussions will give all a chance to get something new that will apply to the Sunday school program.

Every school is requested to send one or more delegates to the convention. Let's get a new inspiration and also plan for a greater work throughout the next year.

Pastors, superintendents, teachers—in a word—every Sunday school worker cannot afford to miss the convention.

Come and let us counsel together. All Sunday school pledges made for the county and state work should be sent before the convention, to Mrs. John Munro, Gagetown, our treasurer. The apportionment is five (5) cents per member enrolled in school.

Delegates desiring entertainment while at the Akron convention should send their names to Mrs. Victoria Smith, Akron. Tell others, boost for it, come in person.

DESPONDENT, J. H. WOOD SHOT HIMSELF

BODY FOUND ON BED BY SON LATE WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Many Expressions of Sorrow Are Heard over Death of Well-known Respected Citizen.

This community never suffered a greater shock nor was more grieved over the deliberate destruction of life than when it heard of the death of Joseph H. Wood late Wednesday afternoon.

When Ernest Wood left Burke's Drug Store where he is employed and arrived at his home on West Main street for his supper shortly after five o'clock Wednesday, he found all the doors locked except the one at the rear. On opening the bedroom door on the first floor, he found the shades drawn and his father dead on the bed, the body still being warm. A bullet hole was found above the ear, the revolver lying between the man's legs. On the dresser stood a cup with paris green dregs.

The township board acted as a coroner's jury, and after viewing the remains, and surroundings, rendered the decision that Mr. Wood came to his death at his own hands.

Outwardly optimistic and jolly with his acquaintances and friends, local citizens could hardly believe the report of Mr. Wood's death when it was first announced. He had been out riding in his car in the morning and those who met him during the day found him in his usual good humor. It seems "Joe" Wood hid his troubles and made the sun shine brighter for his neighbors and friends while he lived.

No one can account for his action Wednesday afternoon unless it be despondency and loneliness because of the death of his wife last November and his affliction of deafness.

Even in his thoughts of death, Mr. Wood made every preparation possible for the conduct of his funeral and closing up business affairs. Near his death bed, he left several letters addressed to relatives and friends. One contained his check to cover the balance on his Red Cross pledge, while others contained sums for other purposes. One document is left to Attorney J. C. Corkins to be read when all the family are assembled.

In Mr. Wood's note to A. J. Knapp, undertaker, he named several requests regarding funeral arrangements and burial which in many instances were to be similar to those at the funeral of his wife. He requested the use of the auto hearse and wished A. E. Goodall to drive the automobile transporting the following pall bearers: John Krapp, Elias McKim, Henry Williams, Allen T. Hiser, J. L. Cathcart and Edwin Eno. The funeral he wished held in the M. E. church, with Rev. Young, the pastor, officiating, and "Travelling Home" as the last hymn sung at the service.

Joseph H. Wood was born in 1860 in Ontario and on June 24, 1889, he was married. They settled in Marlette township where they resided for nine years. From thence they came to Elkland township where they purchased a farm and resided there for 18 years until the death of Mrs. Wood on November 23, 1916. Following the death of his companion, Mr. Wood moved to Cass City where he purchased a home.

Deceased is survived by four children, Ernest and Miss Edna of Cass City and Herbert and Claud Wood of Detroit, and two sisters.

Joseph Wood never realized how well he stood in the opinion of his friends and acquaintances. On every hand, one hears words of praise regarding his good character and upright life and universally are heard expressions of sorrow because of the sad ending.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Saturday afternoon at the M. E. church of which the deceased was a member.

Four of these deaths were of infants under one year, and thirteen were of persons 65 years old and over. Tuberculosis had no victims in the county, but cancer carried away two, and the same number of deaths was due to violence. There was one death from diphtheria and one from meningitis.

Learn to Swim.

Swimming should be made a part of our school training. It is in some schools already, but, instead of being occasional, it should be compulsory. Every summer brings a pathetic string of drowning accidents, and nine out of ten of these would not happen if the people engaged knew how to swim.

Parents who protest against their little boys "going swimming" for fear they will be drowned should rather urge them to go so as to learn how to avoid being drowned. Not one is drowned trying to learn to swim to a hundred drowned because they never tried to learn. It is a facility as easily acquired as walking.—Hartford Courant.

A Family of Bees.

The drone bees do no work. They are the royal consorts. They fertilize the eggs, after which they soon die or are killed. The queen bee lives in the hive and never departs from it except at swarming time. If she is removed the whole swarm will follow her. If more than one queen bee is found in the nest they fight among themselves until only one survives. The survivor becomes the queen of the colony. The only exception to this is when a colony becomes too large for the one queen to rule another queen is grown and a new home is prepared. On the new queen's appearance the old queen leaves the hive, followed by a part of her workers.

Peculiarities of Sleep.

A person absolutely without sleep for nine days will die. Sufferers from insomnia sometimes maintain that they have gone for weeks without sleeping, but it has been proved that they actually sleep without being aware of it. At a certain point sleep is inevitable, no matter what the bodily condition, the alternative being death.

A method of taming wild elephants is said to be that of depriving the animals of sleep when first caught. In a few days they become practically spiritless and harmless.

Something Different.

Addressing a London audience, Lord Tweedmouth, in reviewing the Marquis of Salisbury's foreign policy, quoted Bismarck's famous description of the marquis, "A lark painted to look like iron." Perhaps it was Lord Tweedmouth's enunciation that caused the mistake. Anyhow, the reporter wrote that Lord Tweedmouth went on to criticize the foreign policy of the government and described the Marquis of Salisbury as a lark painted to look like a lion!

In two of the cars was a quantity of dynamite which failed to explode. The train was en route to Saginaw from Grand Rapids.

Eleven officers in the medical corps of the United States army are at the state psychopathic hospital at Ann Arbor taking instruction in the determination and treatment of nervous diseases. From here they will go to army hospitals designed for the care of nervous diseases. It is probable that before the organization of the new national army is completed each cantonment will have one or more of these physicians to test nervous conditions that would be likely to cause breakdown under the strain of trench warfare.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

"Oddfellowship!
Working in manhood's prime and ardent youth
In that sublimest, most ennobling strife,
To show for man, best Friendship, Love and Truth"
In memory of Peter P. Webber, who died September 8th, 1917.
"So let him sleep that dreamless sleep, our sorrows clustering 'round his head:
Be comforted, ye loved who weep, he lives with God—he is not dead."
Once again Death hath summoned a Brother Odd Fellow, and the golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in the ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light into darkened souls and in bringing joy into the places of misery, and as his reward has received the plaudit, "well done," from the Supreme Master.
And Whereas, The all-wise and merciful Father has called our beloved and respected Brother home,
And Whereas, He having been a true and faithful brother of our Mystic Order therefore be it
Resolved, That Cass City Lodge No. 203, I. O. O. F., Cass City, Mich., in testimony of her loss, tenders to the family of the deceased brother our sincere condolence in this deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.
GEO. W. WEST,
B. F. BENKELMAN,
E. W. KEATING,
Committee.

Green be his memory, in the Order's heart.
He loved so well, through all his true life's span,
Bless'd be his rest, who acted well his part,
Who honor'd God in doing good to man.

RED CROSS NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Donnelly showed their patriotism to their country by throwing open their charming country home for the benefit of the Red Cross Sewing Society. Mrs. W. O. Root and her excellent committee deserve great credit. The net proceeds amounted to $28.06.

Wanted—Every woman and girl in Tuscola County and vicinity to knit or sew for the boys called to the front — Your son or brother—Some one's son or brother. Come to the Red Cross Sewing Rooms to work—or work will be given you to do at home.

A call for help has come from the battle front in France on behalf of American soldiers, the soldiers of their allies, and of the destitute civilians of devastated Belgium and Northern France. Six million warm, knitted woolen articles are needed to help them get through the winter. The appeal has come to the American Red Cross at Washington, and it specifies 1,500,000 each of sweaters, mufflers, wristlets and socks.

The call was official. Major Grayson M. P. Murphy of General Pershing's staff, the Red Cross Commissioner for Europe, who knows better perhaps than any other man just how badly these things are needed, has cabled for them. Here is part of his message: "Last winter broke the record for cold and misery among the people here. We inexpressibly dread the coming winter finding us without supplies to meet the situation. We urge you, on behalf of our soldiers and those of our allies, who will suffer in their frozen trenches, and also thousands of French and Belgian refugees, to begin shipping at once 1,500,000 each of the warm, knitted, woolen articles named. They must come before cold weather."

The entire people of the land are called upon to render this service to the men in khaki, and those struggling with them. The hearts of the people will be in the task because their own are among those who need the service. Every county, every village, every voting precinct, is sending of its best to fight for the country, and the woman who knits one of these garments feels, with every stitch, that it may be her own son, her own brother, or one of her dearest friends, who may be kept more comfortable by her work.

From Director John J. O'Connor of the Central Division of the Red Cross, with headquarters at Chicago, the call went forth to 1,081 chapters in the Central States, urging the members to answer the cry. The chapters called on the Red Cross Supply Service for yarn, knitting needles, and full instructions for the knitting. In the meantime, knitting committees were formed in the chapters, and volunteers called for.

Ladies interested in this work should watch for knitting instructions which will be published in a later issue.

STOP HABIT OF CALLING FOR MAIL

Here's a suggestion. Nobody in connection with the Cass City postoffice has suggested its publication; it is merely brought about from the personal observation of the writer:

School has commenced. Hundreds of children pass the postoffice four times each day. Is it necessary that all of them stop each of the four times and inquire for the family mail?

Why not call the family together right now and tell Mary that she is to call for the mail once (or twice) daily for this week—then next week Johnnie calls for the mail and Mary lays off on that job. The kids like to do it, so there will be no objection if you pass the thing around. Then you will know just who is responsible for the delivery of your mail each week. And the postoffice clerks will be spared a lot of premature gray hairs.

The English Language.

The English language has nearly three times the number of words of either the Spanish or French language. English has the largest vocabulary of all the languages in its makeup. It is also the richest of all the languages in synonyms, which is one of the reasons why foreigners find learning it so difficult.—Indianapolis News.
