GLEANER FEDERATION CONVENTION HERE

WILL HOLD THREE-SESSION MEETING ON THURSDAY, NOV. 22.

Grant H. Slocum, Supreme Secretary of Gleaners, Will Give Principal Address.

A meeting of more than ordinary interest to farmers of the Cass City district will be held at the opera house, Cass City, Thursday, Nov. 22nd, when the Gleaners of this part of the state will hold their annual convention and rally. This convention will be of three sessions and it is announce that agricultural and fraternal problems of vital interest to farmers will be discussed by prominent Michigan men.

Owing to the increased interest taken in agricultural problems this year as well as an awakened understanding of the imperative needs for better farming conditions all along the line, ths convention of Gleaners and farmers is expected to be one of the largest of its kind ever held in this district. The fraternal side of farming will occupy a major part of the program but it is announced that the speaking talent will give the problems of the farm and farmer due consideration during the course of their talks.

Grant H. Slocum of Detroit, Supreme Secretary of the Gleaners and one of its organizers, will be the principal speaker at the convention. As founder of the order 23 years ago, Mr. Slocum has since devoted his entire time to organizing the farmers He is considered one of the best authorities on agricultural problems in Michigan and is a convincing and forceful speaker. He will speak on "Progress and Problems" at the afternoon public meeting.

The early plans for the convention announce the morning session to open at 10 o'clock with a federation meeting, under the direct supervision of Fred R. Marvin of Detroit, supervisor of the Supreme Federation Department. He will explain the federation work to the Gleaners and suggest ways in which both the county and local organization may make their work more effective in solving the problems of the farm and more attractive to the farmers in general. This session is important to members.

The afternoon session will be open to the public and it will be at this meeting that Mr. Slocum will deliver his principal address of interest to both farmers and townspeople. Besides his address several of the Gleaner Arbors in the county will stage fancy and military drills and exercises. The Gleaners of the county have been spending weeks preparing for these entertainment features which will appear on the program. The drills and exercises will be accompanied by appropriate music. Another entertainment feature will be the readings by Miss Lucia Bellamy of Ionia, special elocutionist for the Gleaners, who has appeared before many large audiences throughout the United States.

The evening session will be open to Gleaners only as initiatory work of the order will be exemplified by local which has been in training under the directions of the Supreme Arbor drill and degree instructress. This season will be a school of instruction for Gleaners.

Several of the Gleaner Arbors in this district have been holding contests to stimulate interest among the members to secure new members and to improve the entertainment and fraternal features of their regular and special meetings from month to month. Following is a list of the Arbors and their contesting captains:

Thumb—Chas. Nash, Mrs. E. Collins.

SAVE FROSTED BEANS, MARKET MAN ADVISES

Jas. N. McBride, state director of markets, is recommending to growers of beans that they save all of their crop which may have been frosted. It is probable, he said, that an outlet for them will be found abroad. It is hoped to establish a special grade of frosted stock that will eliminate the expense of picking and realize their food value.

NATION-WIDE CAMPAIGN FOR Y. M. C. A. FUNDS

Next Sunday Opens Weeks for Movement to Raise $35,000,000 for This Cause.

Whether it be the evening and Sunday leisure hours in camp, or the rest periods of practice marches, the Y. M. C. A. follows the soldier boys of Uncle Sam wherever they go. Or, more strictly speaking, it precedes them, for the "Y" buildings are always ready when the first men in khaki reach the camps and the "Y" tents are always waiting when the fighting men reach a lunch stop in the strenuous hikes.

The service which the "Y" renders is as varied as the needs of the men themselves. And as to its effectiveness all the needed testimony is that of the men themselves.

Captain Stanley Borleska of Portland, Oregon, an officer at Camp Greene, Charlotte, North Carolina, was a member of the Michigan university football and track teams in 1914 and was picked as a member of the All-Star Western Intercollegiate mythical team that year. "When I came into this camp," he told Arthur E. Bagley, the "Y" camp physical director, "I wondered how I was going to keep in physical condition. I saw no opportunity or place to do any training. You Y. M. C. A. fellows have sort of made opportunities for me to recreate and exercise, for since I have been here I have averaged three evenings each week out with my company football teams."

In the same camp was another young soldier who listened to an address given one evening in the "Y" auditorium by Dr. George R. Stair on "The Potter's Clay." After the sermon and after the invitation had been given and the men were signing the "War Roll" and were being presented with the customary pocket testament given to soldiers, one young man, approached by Bagley upon the question of making a decision, responded affirmatively at once. When the testament was handed to him he said: "I'm doing something for you that I refused to do for my mother. When I left my home in Idaho a month ago, she asked me to take a pocket testament with me, but I thought it was no part of a soldier's kit. This old Y. M. C. A. has made me change my mind. I am going to sit down and write her not to worry any more. I have my testament and I am going to read it. Thanks, mister, the Y. M. C. A. is sure good to us fellows." On the same evenings in this camp 161 War Roll cards were signed and over 250 men made public requests for prayer.

It is to keep up this sort of work in the camps of the soldiers and sailors in America, and to follow them across the seas when they go to France, as well as to extend the same service to the armies of our allies, that the Y. M. C. A. War Work Council is conducting a great nation-wide campaign for funds from November 11 to 19. The sum needed to carry on this service to July 1, 1918 is $35,000,000. The aid of every citizen in every state who has friends or kin in the military or naval service is not only desired but necessary.

FARM SALES NEXT WEEK

Six Are Scheduled in Chronicle Today; More to Follow.

Six farm sales are advertised in today's Chronicle for dates next week.

H. W. Goodrich will have an auction at his farm ¾ mile west of Deford on Tuesday, Nov. 13. Earl Chisholm, 5 miles west and 2 miles south of Ubly, will have a sale on the same day.

Andrew Hempton, who was obliged to postpone his farm sale because of the death of his son, will have the auction on Wednesday, Nov. 14, at his farm ½ mile south of New Greenleaf. The list of property is printed again in this week's paper.

Wednesday, Nov. 14, is also the date of Frank D. Meredith's farm sale 3 miles west and ½ mile south of Argyle.

John Doerr will have an auction at his farm 4½ miles east, 1 mile north and ¼ mile east of Gagetown on Thursday, Nov. 15.

Friday, Nov. 16, E. P. Smith will sell personal property at auction at his farm 3½ miles south of Cass City.

Complete details regarding the property offered at these sales, the terms, the auctioneers, etc., may be found in the auction advertisements printed on pages 6 and 7.

Alex McLachlan will have an auction at his residence in Cass City on Monday, Nov. 19. Particulars regarding same will appear in the Chronicle next week.

CASS CITY DEFEATED VASSAR FRIDAY, 33-3

Visitors Were Outclassed and There Wasn't Anw Doubt as to Who Would Win Contest.

Cass City added another scalp to their victory belt Friday afternoon when they defeated Vassar on the local grounds 33-3.

The visitors were outclassed, and outside of a drop kick from the field, thev never came close enough to the goal to make the local team at all nervous about them adding any points to their score. Half of their gains were due to penalties imposed on Cass City by the Vassar official.

A dry field made conditions ideal for open work and forward passes were ably handled. Cass City tried out several new stunts during the game.

Gowan, a comparatively new player, Brooker, "Hump" Champion, Dodge and Harris, played an exceptionally good game for the locals.

Cass City plays Sandusky at Sandusky this (Friday) afternoon.

RED CROSS NOTES.

Nineteen comfort kits were finished this week and will be sent as Xmas gifts to the boys in the camps.

The Priscillas have just finished a Red Cross quilt which will be for sale, the proceeds to go to the Red Cross fund.

A box of children's clothing consisting of 56 gingham dresses, 50 outing dresses and 28 boys' blouses was sent on Monday to Ann Arbor and will be forwarded from there to children in France or Belgium.

A box of knitted articles was sent to Caro last week which consisted of sweaters, socks, mufflers and wristlets, fifty of each. These articles will be examined at Caro before being sent to the soldiers.

The Red Cross Society is much interested in the sale of lecture course tickets this fall as the net proceeds of the course will be added to the local Red Cross funds. The ladies urge everyone who enjoys wholesome and high class entertainments and lectures to purchase season tickets now. The first number will be given Thursday evening, Nov. 15.

The Red Cross Society received the following letter Nov. 7: "Dear Ladies: Enclosed you will please find the small sum of $2.25 which we have collected by small contributions at the Cass City Condensary for the benefit of the Red Cross. We hope that you will accept it with the same spirit that it is given. We remain yours patriotically, The Misses Grace Meiser and Zella Hall and Dad."

W. S. C. PROGRAM.

The following is the program for the Woman's Study club meeting next Monday afternoon: Customs, Old and New, Ersel Wallace; The Amenities of Life, Mrs. S. G. Benkelman; The Modern Barbarian, Mrs. G. A. Tindale; Current Events, Marie Brooker.

HENRY BEWENITZ

Passed Away at Home of His Daughter, Mrs. O. Y. Schneider.

Henry Bewenitz died Monday morning, Nov. 5, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. O. Y. Schneider, on Ale St. south. Funeral services were held at the residence Wednesday morning, Rev. J. B. Young, pastor of the M. E. church, officiating. Interment was made in Elkland cemetery.

Henry Bewenitz was born in Germany, Feb. 20, 1843. In 1867 he was united in marraige to Caroline Luebke. To them were born three children, two sons and one daughter.

Believing there were better possibilities for himself and family in America, he decided to leave the fatherland, and in the spring of 1882 bade his wife and children goodbye and came to the United States, locating in Fremont Center, Mich. Here his family joined him in October of the same year. In 1883 he moved with his family to Grand Rapids where his wife died in 1908.

Last November, he was struck by an auto and run over, dragging his body on the brick pavement and severely injuring his back and head. After recovering sufficiently to be moved, his daughter, Mrs. O. Y. Schneider, who had gone to his bedside in a Grand Rapids hospital, brought him to her home in Cass City, where the remainder of his days were spent. For a time it seemed his strong constitution had overcome the effects of his injuries, but it at last became evident that his strength was gradually failing him. However, he was able to be about the house up to within one week before his death, which occurred Monday morning at the age of 74 years, 8 months, 15 days.

He leaves to mourn two sons, C. J. Bewenitz of Bushnell, Ill., and Otto Bewenitz of Springfield, Ill., both of whom were unable to be present at the funeral, and one daughter, Mrs. O. Y. Schneider, of Cass City, whose loving hands ministered to his wants to the last.

CECIL MARIE DOERR

Community Greatly Shocked to Hear of Her Death on Monday.

The community was greatly shocked when word was received Monday morning of the death of Miss Cecil Doerr at Detroit. Cecil was taken sick three weeks ago with typhoid fever. Although she received the best medical attention, the fight was in vain. She passed away Monday morning at the Samaritan hospital where she has been in training for the past two months.

Cecil Marie Doerr was born at Kilmanagh, Michigan, March 19, 1901. At the age of three, she came with the family to Cass City where she has lived until going to Detroit. She attended school here until last June when she decided to take up training for a nurse. She had all the qualifications, being of a kind and loving disposition. People knew her to love her and she leaves a host of sorrowing friends.

Besides her mother and father, she leaves one sister, Elizabeth, at home, two brothers, James of the Marine Corps at Paris Island, South Carolina, and Herman of Detroit, a loving aunt, Mrs. McDonald, and a cousin, Leta, who made their home at Doerr's, and many other aunts, uncles and cousins.

CAN YOU BEAT IT.

The Chronicle's window exhibit of vegetables was given a substantial increase the past week. Saturday, Harry Cooper brought in a large rutabaga from the Joseph McBurney farm that weighed 12½ pounds. Mrs. Wm. Crandell contributed a fine specimen of turnip Wednesday which tipped the scales at 11½ pounds. Can you beat it?

SALE OF EXPLOSIVES BARRED

After Nov. 1 All Sales Must Be Made by U. S. Permission.

A law enacted by congress provides that after Nov. 15 it will be unlawful to manufacture, buy or sell explosives except by permission of the government.

A record of every sale must be kept and forwarded to the explosive inspector. The issuance of licenses to citizens of enemy nations is forbidden. The inspector for Michigan will be announced within a few days.

NO CONFISCATORY PRICE ON MICHIGAN BEANS

Purpose Is to Prevent Speculation, but Fair Price Will Be Allowed.

That the government has no intention of destroying the Michigan bean industry by forcing a reduction in prices below the cost of production was shown by a telegram received last week by W. J. Orr, president of the Michigan Bean Jobbers' association and chairman of the bean supply committee for the army and navy. As soon as the prices for the October and November allotment were announced, Mr. Orr launched a drive to prove to the food administration that such quotations would be ruinous under present conditions. That he was successful is indicated by the following telegram addressed to Mr. Orr at Detroit from the Food Administration at Washington, D. C.

"Tell elevators to trade as usual until receipt of licenses, which will not materially affect conditions. Only object to prevent speculation and not to fix prices. We will do nothing to discourage growing of beans next year and will assist growers to get just prices for product. We are not considering buying beans as we have confidence that jobbers can handle them more advantageously to all concerned. No reason for elevators to close. Law gives us no authority to set prices. Each buyer must be his own judge as to price he pays growers."

FARMERS' INSTITUTES GRADUALLY DISAPPEARING

Will Be Replaced as Far as Possible By Two-Day Schools.

East Lansing, Mich. — Gradual abolishment of farmers' institutes and replacement of them with two-day schools is proposed by the state board of agriculture, which recently inaugurated its reform program by discontinuing the office of superintendent of farmers' institutes at the Mich. Agricultural college. Though such a step has long been in the minds of those directing the extension efforts of the M. A. C., the action was hastened by recommendations from the United States department of agriculture in Washington urging the more efficient organization of work among the farmers

"In the future," an official statement announcing the change declares, "all extension work in the various counties of the state will be under the control of the county agent, and where institutes are conducted in those counties having agents, they will be arranged for under the direction of the agent.

"Where possible, two-days schools will be provided to take the place of the institutes. However, neither sufficient funds nor men are available for scheduling these schools in all communities where they are needed. Accordingly where the schools can not be put in, the institutes will be continued for two or three years."

The substitution of schools for the institutes is announced as an effort towards complete modernization of all agencies for carrying information and instruction to the agricultural communities of the state. With the institutes, while originally they served the purpose for which they had been established, it was found that in many parts of Michigan they were falling behind the times, and in some instances were suffering from the misguidance of incompetent men. The renovation of the system will eliminate individuals of this type, though such institute leaders and speakers as have proved their worth will be retained and advanced.

XMAS MEETING NEXT.

The Mothers' Club enjoyed a pleasant afternoon with Mrs. E. W. Jones Tuesday when twelve of its fourteen members were present. A pot luck supper was served at six o'clock. Mrs. F. A. Bliss will entertain the club at the Christmas meeting on Dec. 4 when a Christmas tree with gifts for the children will be a feature of enjoyment.

LETTERS FROM THE SOLDIER BOYS

NEIL DONNELLY AND "JAKE" ANTHES WRITE FROM FRANCE.

Word from Lyle Koepfgen, Clarence Kolb and Stanley Graham in Camps in U. S. A.

Starts for France—

In a letter to the Chronicle, dated Oct. 29, Lyle Koepfgen writes from Kelley Field, San Antonio, Texas:

"We are having some very cool weather down here. Sometimes it is very warm and inside of an hour you will be shivering, and then again it is just the opposite. For instance, last evening it was very warm; the mosquitoes bothered me so much I could not get to sleep. About twelve o'clock, a big gush of wind came up all at once. It sounded just like a thunder storm and yet the sky was very clear. It wasn't very long before we were pulling all the clothes we could get over us. As a general rule the nights are very cool, that is for the last two or three weeks. It keeps us quite busy trying to keep warm as we only have two blankets.

"We expect to leave here about Wednesday for France. Six squadrons left here Sunday and three more today I understand there are 50,000 soldiers coming down here from the north for the winter. For my part I would rather train in the north only you don't have the snow to contend with here."

No. Tens Too Big—

"I have been getting along finely," writes Clarence Kolb of Co. E., 338th Infantry, Camp Custer, to the Chronicle. "So far the training has been easy for me except climbing some of the sand hills when we go on a hike with No. 10 shoes. I never wore anything larger than a 7½ so you can possibly imagine how they feel. The soles are filled with big headed nails and are very heavy and waterproof. I am in the same barracks with Clarence Kaercher of Elkton. He seems like a very nice fellow. They sent 25 from our barracks to Texas today. Some of them didn't want to go. That leaves 104 here where there should be 250, so there is room for some more rookies."

From the Mud of France—

Jacob C. Anthes, Co. B., 16th Reg. of Ry. Eng. Forces in France, via New York, in a letter to his brother, Walter Anthes, of Novesta township, writes in part as follows under the date line of "Somewhere in the Mud of France, Oct. 15, 1917:"

"We had the best weather you ever saw until about a week ago and it has rained ever since. Some mud! I am feeling fine and have not even caught a cold yet. I have a dandy bunch of boys to live with.

"The weather is not cold, only a little frost as yet. I have been going swimming up until last Saturday and did not freeze, but it was cold enough at that. Whenever the sun comes out it is hot and we work in shirt sleeves and can sweat so you see it is nice most of the time."

"I get everything I need here but wool socks and chewing gum and they don't have either one here that I can find. I can get along without gum, but would like the socks. The government will get us some sometime but I can't tell when, and as we are going to get boots soon, it will take a lot of socks. So for anything any of you want to send me, make it wool socks. I have lots of everything else and will get along finely. There is some talk of peace.

"Write soon and tell the news. Tell the rest to write and I will answer all."

Short Life for Cake—

Stanley Graham in a letter from Camp Custer to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Graham, says: "I received the box and everything was fine. Only one cigar was broken. The cake was fine—all gone in 15 minutes. I gave some of the boys some because they are a fine bunch of fellows and any time they get anything like that they always share with me. I am feeling fine and my ankle is all O. K. Lots of rain down here but we still get lots of drilling. I don't mind it much now as I am getting so I rather like it. There are about 25,000 men down here now. We had a field day last Thursday and we were all out on the field. It looked like some crowd."

Letters from Neil Donnelly—

Charles Cornelius Donnelly, better known here as "Neil" Donnelly is the author of the two letters which are printed below:

France, Sept. 23, 1917.

Mrs. Chas. Donnelly,
Cass City, Michigan.

GOOD FEEDING ALWAYS PAYS

Poor and Skinny Young Cow Can Be Made to Produce Milk and Butterfat of Quality.

Often the young cow that is poor and skinny can be made to produce a lot of milk and butterfat. Professor Erf of Ohio State university told of such an instance. A young Jersey cow had been bred in the southern part of Superior Milk Specimen.

Ohio and fed only the poorest kind of feed. Under these conditions she produced about 2,200 pounds of milk a year. Now, under different management, she is producing 12,000 pounds of 5 per cent milk! Good feed and proper management made the difference.

SUCCESS IN DAIRY BUSINESS

One of Best Breeds Should Be Selected and Followed, That Herd May Become Uniform.

For best success in the dairy business one of the dairy breeds should be selected and followed, that the herd may become uniform, care being taken to get good cows with which to start. There is more difference in the cows of any breed than there is in the different breeds, says one writer.

A profit can only be expected from good cows, so better start with five good cows than 20 poor ones. With five you will find satisfaction, less work and more profit. If you expect to raise the heifer calves for future use be sure they are not only sired by a registered bull, but that his pedigree for great production of milk and butter runs back for five or more generations on both sides.

We cannot all see our way clear to begin with registered cows of high merit. Good grades can usually be bought costing but little more than scrubs and by careful breeding a herd will soon be raised which will be both a pleasure and a profit.

KEEP MILK IN HOT WEATHER

Whether Intended for Table or Creamery It Must Be Sweet to Secure Highest Prices.

It is no trick at all to keep milk sweet in cold weather, but in hot weather it must be handled very carefully. Whether the milk or cream is intended for the table, the creamery, or the milk market, it must be sweet if it is to bring the best price. To keep the milk sweet just two simple things must be very carefully looked after:

1. It must be cooled as completely and as quickly after milking as possible; and,

2. Absolute cleanness of pails, cans, and cows must be secured. Souring takes place because little invisible plants called bacteria get into it in dirt or by lurking in the corners and seams of poorly cleaned pails and cans. The remedy is plain. Keep the bacteria out by using seamless pails and cans and seeing that absolutely no dirt or dust gets into the milk in the stable or anywhere else.

WHOLESOME WATER FOR COW

Whether in Barn or Pasture, Animals Should Have Free Access to Fresh Supply Twice Daily.

The average cow under normal conditions will drink about nine or ten gallons of water daily. Whether in the pasture or in the barn, cows should have access to an abundance of fresh water twice daily. Unless there are good flowing springs, the best water comes from wells and may be pumped by windmills or gas engines. It is unwholesome for them to drink from stagnant ponds or streams, but clean, running streams are not objectionable.

REMOVE ALL DISEASED COWS

Animals Not in Healthy Condition Should Be Taken From Herd and Milk Kept Separate.

Cows not in healthy condition should be removed from the herd and their milk kept separate until the animals are restored to normal health. Milk from diseased cows should not be used for human food. Serious udder trouble, causing garget or bloody milk, must be cured before the milk is usable.

School Notes

Frenchtown School.

Our motto—"Striving towards Efficiency."

We thank you for our new curtains. They will aid us with our work.

A number of pupils now have a copy of "One Hundred One Best Songs." The books are proving a source of pleasure to both teacher and pupils.

Various pupils purchased Palmer Method Penmanship Books. This is the best system of penmanship known and we hope to get much benefit from its use in our school.

Scarlet fever is still at Neil McKinnon's. We hope the grim fellow will soon depart.

Many pupils are absent on account of teachers' institute at Caro.

Our annual fall crop harvesting vacation is over and school has begun again.

Although the shortage of laborers makes it impossible to hire farm help, we will be glad when all pupils are in regular attendance once more.

Those who earned honor points for the week are—three, Judson Morse, Elsie Morse; two, Leah McKinnon, Mable Dillon, Muriel Pine, Flora Girou; one, Elsie Montreuil, Lucille Montreuil, Louise Pine and Marie Dillon.

A hearty and cordial invitation is extended to all parents and friends to make us a vist.

Millard LeRoy Fillmore, Teacher

Wickware School.

Lee Murray and Frank Merchant started to school Tuesday.

Delpha Gracey was absent Wednesday.

The first and second grades are memorizing "America."

Kathryn Cridland was a visitor Thursday.

Miss Purcell is reading "Black Beauty" for morning exercises.

The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy last month, Earland Keyser, Clarke Jackson, Edna Jackson, Jessie Kirton.

Esther Cridland and Arline Bartle were visitors Friday.

Cedar Run School.

Our number decreased during the month of October, there now being twelve boys and eight girls.

The following were the visitors for this month: Katherine and Florence Crane, Ethel Hartley, Glen Wright and Kenneth Spaulding.

"I will try" has been chosen for the watchword of each individual in the school.

Cleo Spaulding, Lee Walters, Otto Rushlo and Joseph Frenk have been absent on account of the harvesting season.

We have been putting special drill on spelling in the upper grades.

A Hallowe'en entertainment for the young people was given Wednesday evening.

On October 18 and 19 there was no school because of the institute held at Caro.

Twelve received certificates of reward this month which were three more than were given last month. The following received them: Watson Spaven, Erma Hartwick, Arlan Hartwick, Ines and Leon Spaulding, Bessie and Lila Hendrick, Roy Wright, Edith Burse, Alfred Beutler, George Stone and Leo Ware.

Walter Peddie, Leo Ware, Arlan Hartwick, Ines Spaulding, Roy Wright, Lila Hendrick and Lenora Peddie rank highest in their grade

Death of J. Ashby—

This neighborhood was shocked at the news of the death of J. Ashby which came over the wire Oct. 23 from Utah. He was a well known, popular young man here, having spent most of his life in this place. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ashby, the father remaining to mourn his untimely death. A wife, who was unable to accompany his remains from the west, together with two sisters, Mrs. Helen Barnard of Royal Oak and Mrs. Hattie Collins of this place besides several more distant relatives and a large circle of friends are left to sorrow for his departure. Harry J. Ashby was born in Rochester, Mich., Nov. 7, 1882, coming with his parents to Novesta when very young. He was united in marraige to Miss Minnie Stowells of Deford March 24, 1903. In the spring of 1904 he accompanied Orin Stowells on a trip to Washington and Oregon. Failing to find work he returned on foot to Idaho, a distance of seven hundred miles, where he received money from home which brought him to Imlay City. He walked the rest of the distance here. Undaunted by this adventure he took his wife and started for California Mar. 29, 1909. He found steady employment and remained there until the fall of 1910, when he returned to his home. He contented himself as a farmer until 1914 when they again started westward. For a year their home was in California and then they took up a homestead in Lung, Utah, where he met his death from a bullet wound Oct. 23. The particulars concerning his death have not been received as yet by his anxious friends here. The funeral was held at the Baptist church Friday, Nov. 2, Rev. J. Willerton officiating.. The Gleaner order assisted in the ceremonies. Interment was made in the Novesta cemetery. Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved ones.

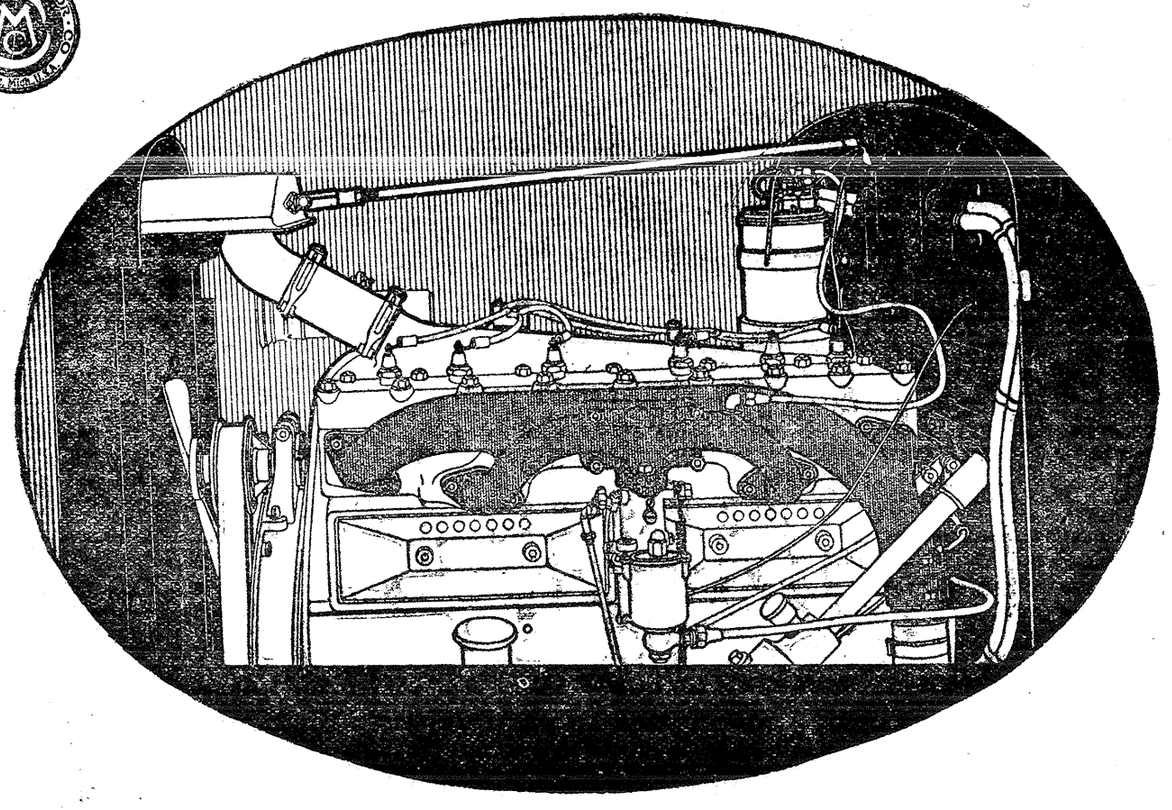
HOFFMAN'S GARAGE



The Coming of a GREAT ENGINE

It Makes High Power Out of Low Grade Gas

Men who drive cars are face to face with a condition that becomes more and more serious each day.

That condition is the constantly declining grade of gasoline.

Nearly every engineer has said goodby forever to high-grade gas.

For the moment, and possibly for all time, multi-cylinders, counter balanced crankshafts, and little tricks with valves give way in engineers' discussions to the "gas problem".

Every alert engineer is bending his utmost to make "one drop of gas now do the work of two".

Just as great situations produce great men, so out of this condition has come a great engine.

It is a Chalmers.

It makes high power out of low grade gas.

Compared with other engines of the same size or thereabouts, it shows:

More power — More rapid acceleration
Greater economy — Greater length of life
Greater smoothness

And an amazing ability to start quickly on a cold day, and to "warm up" without delay.

The Chalmers engine is a simple one. That is one reason why it is so good.

In many engines of the moment the gas passes on its way from the carburetor to the cylinder through a tunnel, which runs all the way through the engine block.

Before the gas gets to the cylinder it is forced to turn many sharp angles and does not become completely mixed with the air.

This results in raw gas running into not only one but all the cylinders, particularly when the car is cold, and especially when running for the first five or ten miles.

In the case of the Chalmers engine this type of intake manifold has been completely eliminated.

A new manifold, termed "The Ramshorn," has been constructed of simple piping. It is on the exterior of the engine. It is a manifold of easy curves so that there are no sharp corners for the raw gas to lodge against and be pushed into the cylinders.

The next development was to give the gas the proper amount of heat after it came from the carburetor.

What is termed a "hot plate" is built in at the top of the throat of the carburetor so that the gas coming straight up from the carburetor hits the "hot plate", the dimensions of which have been worked out very scientifically, and then passes around the easy curves of the smooth manifold in a perfect state of mixture and at the proper temperature to each of the cylinders.

The case of this Chalmers engine has been proved.

1. On August 1 and 2, Joe Dawson drove a Chalmers equipped with this same engine 1,898 miles in 24 hours—faster and farther than anyone ever before had traveled on land, sea or air.

If there's a flaw in pattern, or part, a solid day of bitter, brutal speed will find it.

2. There are over 1,000 Chalmers containing this engine now in use. They check up past all expectations.

Therefore, the Maxwell Motor Company, which has leased The Chalmers Motor Company, has put its O. K. on this engine, and accordingly on the Chalmers car.

90 per cent of any automobile is the engine; and no car can be a bit better than its engine.

So you are safe in writing your check for a Chalmers.

The household of Travis Schenck was reminded quite forcibly Saturday evening of the scarcity of sugar and the depravity of some human. Clayton, the son, purchased 25 pounds of the sweet stuff and placed it in the buggy. When he and his good wife reached home that night and carried in their purchases of groceries and dry goods, they found the sugar a minus quantity.

J. D. Tuckey placed a liner advertising seasoned wood for sale in the Chronicle last week and Friday, the day the paper is sent out, he admonished a member of the newspaper force "to take out that liner at once." The scarcity of coal has made an unprecedented demand for wood and Mr. Tuckey has ten chances to sell nearly every load he hauls to town. The first of this week he limited each customer to two cords and he had orders booked for several days' hauling. "There was a time that I nearly begged men to buy wood I brought to town in order to find sale for it several years ago," said Mr. Tuckey Tuesday morning. "That time has passed however. The other fellow is the most anxious man now."

C. Foster, International Boys' Work Committee; Christian F. Reisner, Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, New York City; Dr. Schermerhorn, Wesleyan University, South Dakota; P. E. Zartman, Winona Lake, Ind., and others. Rev. J. W. Hamblin, D. D. Schiedel, Frank Dodge and J. M. Bittner were among those from Cass City who attended the convention.

Meredith Auten and Wm. Adams, members of Uncle Sam's army at Camp Custer, made their friends a brief visit here Sunday. This was Mr. Adams' second visit since he has been stationed at Custer, but was Mr. Auten's first trip home. Meredith has gained 13 pounds since he has been in training and has been advanced to the position of corporal. The boys left Cass City Sunday afternoon in the Auten Buick Six. They made a short stop in Caro where Mr. Auten gave an address on Y. M. C. A. work in the army. Carroll Kirkpatrick of Colwood and two soldier boys of Saginaw made the return trip to Camp Custer with the Cass City boys, driving all night in order to reach the camp early Monday morning. Four stops were necessary in the journey, three because of tire trouble and one stuck in a mudhole. In spite of these handicaps, the quintette reached Custer at 4:15 a. m. The boys brought home with them the news that Hugh Gardner had been made corporal and Clarence Kolb is slated for a similar position.

Middleton, Cameron Wallace, Clarence Burt, Bennie Benkelman, James Brooker, Lawrence Dodge and Earl Gowan and the Misses Frances McGillvray, Helen Wilsey, Marie Martin, Addie and Ersel Wallace and Morgaret Hurley ate Sunday dinner at the farm of Postmaster Dodge in Elmwood township.

G. H. Burke has sold his interest in the G. H. Burke & Co. drug store and B. L. Middleton, who has been financially interested in the firm for over a year, together with his father, L. B. Middleton, of Croswell are the new proprietors. They will do business under the name of the Cass City Drug Co. Mr. Burke, who has managed this store so successfully for several years, first as an employe, and later as the principal stockholder, will continue in the capacity of manager of the business. This makes no change in the conduct of this business house except the change in name and ownership.

For bean harvest the weather the past week has been remarkably fine and everyone is happy over the fact that farmers are able to place the remainder of the crop under shelter even at this late date which in the experience of pioneer bean growers in this section is the latest ever. Though a great many farmers have been kept at home caring for the bean crop this week, several merchants have reported to the Chronicle a very good business because of their Bargain Week offerings. There are still two days left of Bargain Week—Friday and Saturday—and many who were kept at home by the bean harvest the first of the week may take advantage of the Bargain Week offerings on these two days.

When a physician advised Chas. Fenn to go to Arizona for his health, Mr. Fenn decided to try Michigan outdoor exercise first. Accordingly he closed the desk of his office in Detroit, left the business in charge of his associates and took the train for Cass City where he is spending part of the time with his wife at the home of his sister, Mrs. F. A. Bigelow, and seeking better health the remainder of the day via the pedestrian route. He commenced walking six and seven miles daily. Monday he walked to Wickware and Tuesday from Cass City to Unionville. He expects to make a few trips by rail to Detroit to look into his office occasionally, but up in the Thumb he intends to wear out a good pair of walking shoes. Mr. Fenn has in mind a trip around the Thumb, and if he can keep away from business long enough, his friends expect he will accomplish it and return from the trip a healthier and happier man.

B. J. Dailey and family spent Sunday at the home of W. W. Ohls in Fairgrove.

The Misses Mary and Mable Willerton of Argyle spent Sunday at the home of I. Walker.

A birthday party was given at the home of Angus McGillvray on Thursday evening in honor of Dougald McEachin.

Geo. Agar and family are moving this week to Pontiac. Mr. Agar has sold his farm home in Evergreen township.

Mrs. Sarah Woodcock received word last Wednesday from her son, Ralph Woodcock, 208 Canadian Irish, Whitley Camp, Surry Shire, England. Mr. Woodcock is taking a special course in divisional signaling, says he gets plenty to eat and is feeling fine.

A remarkable and successful operation was performed on Mrs. Stilson Rumble Oct. 30th by Dr. J. M. Jones of Bay City, assisted by Dr. Geo. Sutton of Rochester, Minn., and Dr. A. N. Treadgold. Due to severe kidney disease a Caesarian operation was decided upon by the attending physician as the only means of saving mother and child. In addition to this operation, the surgeon removed the mother's appendix and a small fabroid tumor, all of which took place in the brief time of just one-half hour. This is the first operation of the kind performed in this community and much credit is due to Dr. Jones and attending physicans. Under the care of Miss Grace Prichard of Saginaw mother and child are doing as well as can be expected. Stilson Willis is the name of the young chap and he weighs three and one-half pounds.

Miss Alta Turner, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Turner, and Manley Fay, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fay, were quietly married at Reese Oct. 24. Both young people have spent most of their life here and their many friends wish them many years of happiness. Miss Lucy Withey and Jordon Turner accompanied the young couple and witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Fay will make their home for the present with Mr. and Mrs. J. Fay.

Frank Reader received a telegram Wednesday morning announcing the sudden death of his cousin, Mrs. Geo. Eberhart, of Flint.

A Boy and a Watch

They make about the happiest combination that could possibly be brought together.

And the GOOD that a watch does to a boy is often far beyond its cost—

For many a boy has been stimulated to study or work just by becoming the owner of a very moderately priced watch.

He consults it first thing when he gets up in the morning, and about a hundred times during the day.

In fact he knows the time all the time—which is a good thing for him.

We can fit out anybody's boy to perfection with a watch. The cost is not much either.

Let us talk it over together.

The Food of Eels.

Fresh water eels are very clean feeders. They are sometimes seen cropping the leaves of watercresses and other aquatic plants as they float about in the water, but they are immense devourers of spawn of all kinds of fish.

In early antiquity libraries consisted of archives, which were preserved in the most sacred temples.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Black Silk Stove Polish is different. It does not dry out; can be used to the last drop; liquid and paste one quality; absolutely no waste; no dust or dirt. You get your money's worth.

Black Silk Stove Polish is not only most economical, but it gives a brilliant, silky lustre that cannot be obtained with any other polish. Black Silk Stove Polish does not rub off—it lasts four times as long as ordinary polish—so it saves you time, work and money.

Don't forget—when you want stove polish be sure to ask for Black Silk. If it isn't the best stove polish you ever used—your dealer will refund your money.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works, Sterling, Illinois.

Use Black Silk Air Drying Iron Enamel on grates, registers, stove-pipes, and automobile tire rims. Prevents rusting. Try it.

Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silverware, nickel, tinware, or brass. It works quickly, easily, and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

time we can sit and write by daylight. Other times we have to hurry through with what we write unless it is by candle light, so this morning I dedicated the day to a few letters to the folks back home, and "mother's first."

I am working some, eating a whole lot and feeling as good as I ever did in my life which is "some good." There is so little we can write from over here that it is hard to write an interesting letter, but at least we can say we are well once in a while. The boys over here have the Kaiser worrying, so much in fact that I think his health will break down before long.

Don't worry about those stories you hear over there. If anything should go wrong you would hear about it immediately, and personally from over here.

"I have received a number of letters since we arrived here. Also a box of good old American cigarettes and smoking tobacco, which were almost a God-send, as the stuff they have here is awful. The folks in the little hub restaurant in Saginaw "with whom I boarded" sent the box.

I hope by this time you have received some of the letters I have written from here. You must have, at least received the one I wrote from England. I have also written to the boys but it takes quite some time for letters to cross during these troublesome times. I wish you would send my sweater and some knit woolen socks as the weather is quite liable to be cold here in a month or so and I have a big pair of shoes to fill up, and I know mother's brand of woolen socks will feel pretty good. Beside that, all I have to ask is for you and Dad not to worry, for Uncle Sam is looking after our welfare every minute and, believe me, he is some overseer. He even has established an army Y. M. C. A. in camp in which there are papers, magazines and books to read when we have time, tables on which to write, stationery to use, a victrola for music, a moving picture outfit, and a regular fellow to manage the whole.

The weather here is fine and has been since we landed in this country, but they say October and November are wet months in this country.

I am wondering if the big frost that struck the U. S. Sept. 12th, destroyed any crops in Michigan. Tell us all the news when you write, as news is a very scarce article around here. Always looking for a letter I am as ever your loving son,

NEIL.

Love to all.

Somewhere in France,

Dear Folks at Home:

Monday evening and raining, as it has been for a week or more. I guess they have a rainy season here all right. The soil is fine for such weather, for by the time a fellow walks ten feet, his feet weigh ten pounds a piece.

Last night we had a lovely rain and a slight blow along with it. One house very nearly fell down on us. At twelve o'clock and between then and twelve forty-five, I was busy propping said house up and getting soaking wet at the same time.

I haven't had a letter for three weeks, but am patiently waiting and wondering how long it will be before we get a bunch of mail from home. We had a delivery of second class matter day before yesterday I received several packages of papers from Manistee, but no letters. However, it was news from home. I saw in one of the papers that the fruit store in Bad Axe had burned and the whole family with it.

I have been going some the last two weeks and I hope we keep at it for some time to come, although it does not leave much time for writing or anything else. Anyway there is so little we can write at present that it is some task to try to make a life-sized letter out of the news.

Surely by this time some of my letters have reached you. Tell the boys to write. I have written to both of them but have not as yet received an answer to any of my letters. If the folks only knew how the boys over here long and look for a letter from home, "as well as some Prince Albert tobac", they would write real often. In case some of my letters have not reached America, I have asked you to send my sweater, some heavy sox, a couple of pairs of my warm gloves. But for the love of mike, do not send any other clothes.

Well, it is bed time so I must say good night, with love to all and best regards to the neighbors, I am always your loving son and brother,

Varieties of Mosquitoes.

The total number of species of mosquitoes described by L. O. Howard, H. G. Dyar and F. Knab in their work on mosquitoes is 398. Professor T. D. A. Cockerell of the University of Colorado, reviewing the book for Science, says that probably the total number is not less than 500, as these authors have no statistics from certain large areas of the United States and Canada.

SUMMING UP THE EVIDENCE

Many Cass City People Have Been Called as Witnesses.

Week after week has been published the testimony of Cass City people—kidney sufferers—backache victims—people who have endured many forms of kidney, bladder or urinary disorders. These witnesses have used Doan's Kidney Pills. All have given their enthusiastic approval. It's the men and women are publicly recommending Doan's—always in the home papers. Isn't it a wonderful, convincing mass of proof? If you are a sufferer your verdict must be "Try Doan's first."

Here's one more Cass City case.

Clarence Davenport, painter, Pine St., Cass City, says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has always been most satisfactory and I can say that they are all that is claimed for them. Whenever my back hurts me and my kidneys act irregularly, I get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Wood & Co.'s Drug Store. After taking them a few days, the misery in my back lets up and in every way, I am benefited."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Davenport uses. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv. 7

SICK WIFE'S STORY SURPRISES CASS CITY

The following has surprised Cass City: A business man's wife suffered from dyspepsia and constipation for years. Although she dieted she was so bloated her clothes would not fit. ONE SPOONFUL buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka relieved her INSTANTLY. Because Adler-i-ka empties BOTH large and small intestine it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. SCHOOL NOTES.

The Misses Josephine Giroux and Ione Calkins arrived Monday on the 3:15 p. m. from Grand Rapids where they have been attending the teachers' institute.

The Pied Piper of Hamlin together with his rats, is visiting the first grade room this week. He is represented by a large poster extending nearly the whole width of the room.

Heard in kindergarten—"Miss S., isn't this suit pretty. It has a hip pocket."

Oh, let's sing 'Spink Spangled Banner.'"

The fifth grade are drawing a winter scene which makes one remember the past and think of the near future, and shudder unconsciously.

Irene Marshall has entered the sixth grade.

Vernon Ferguson has entered the ninth grade.

The Vassar football team suffered defeat here last Friday and Sandusky is promised to be on the list of victims of our coachless football team Friday. Our football team is safely on the way towards the goal, the Thumb championship.

Many of our boys are out doing their bit to help the farmers get in their beans. With so many out, the work in school goes on a bit slower. But Supt. Riggs says that the boys will not be excused any more than this week. So it is up to the farmers to hurry along their work if they want the boys to help them.

Remember the big senior comedy, "The Masonic Ring," at the opera house Nov. 9. It is given by Caro senior class under the auspices of the Cass City senior class.

The freshmen adorned the front wall of the assembly room Tuesday afternoon with their great and magnificent banner. In the night a band of uppergraders tore it down and in the conflict both sophomore and junior banners came down. The soph and junior banners will be withheld from public gaze until further investigation and explanation is made concerning the displacement of the freshmen banner and restitution for damaged furniture is made by the guilty ones. Mr. R., speaking of night event—"Such acts are relics of barbarous ages."

Woe to those of algebra 9 class who persist in making the same mistakes over again. Mr. R. has publicly threatened to take their scalps. We would suggest that the rest of the school get him a good belt on which to carry them.

Miss Irene Quinn, junior, has left school because of her mother's illness.

FINE CHANCE TO CONSERVE WHEAT SAYS KELSEY

One of the Chronicle's Kingston township subscribers thinks F. E. Kelsey, a local elevator man, hit the nail squarely on the head in a communication in the Detroit Times of last Friday. At the request of said subscriber, the article is re-printed in the paragraph following:

"To the Editor of The Times: In the American Issue of Oct. 27, they make the statement that last year the breweries of the United States consumed 68,400,000 bushels of grain, about 20 cargoes per week—considerably more grain than the U-boats have sunk. I have also read the statement that the amount of grain consumed by breweries alone would make 11,000,000 loaves of bread a day. It seems an insult to the intelligence of the housewives of this country to be asked to form associations all over the land to conserve wheat by having wheatless days in order that all this enormous waste may still be carried on to further the interests of the brewers. We are spending thousands of dollars to keep our boys at the front from the temptation of booze and yet the president, by one twist of his pen, could put a stop to all this waste. It's about time the women rise up in arms and get after the president. He is coming over to their ideas on suffrage and if approached in the right spirit he ought to be more easily won to the necessity of cutting out the manufacturing of beer. If Mr. Hoover can still keep up his nerve by asking the women of the country to conserve food, when this curse is still going on, he is a dandy."

F. E. KELSEY.

Cass City, Oct. 28, 1917.

NOVESTA.

Fifty friends of Earl Deneen gathered at his home Tuesday evening. The event was a farewell party given in honor of Mr. Deneen, who leaves soon for Camp Custer to enter Uncle Sam's service. Games and music made the hours enjoyable and light refreshments were served. All of Mr. Deneen's friends unite in wishing him every good fortune possible in his new avenue of activities.

CHURCH CALENDAR.

Christian Science — Christian Science services are held every Sunday morning at 11:00 and Wednesday evenings at 7:30. Subject for Sunday, Nov. 11, is "Adam and Falling Man."
