PREDICTS KAISER WILL MEET HIS WATERLOO

Mrs. Lena E. Hurlburt Regrets that Her Age Keeps Her Out of Red Cross Service Overseas.

"I was busy knitting and preparing food for the soldiers in the Civil War while I was residing at Lowell, Michigan, in the sixties, and if I were a little younger I would be over in France today in the Red Cross service. But I'm too old and must content myself these days with doing my bit in knitting what I can."

This was the remark made to the Chronicle Tuesday by Mrs. Lena E. Hurlburt, 76 years of age.

Mrs. Hurlburt comes from fighting tock. Her great grandfather was Gen. Israel Putnam, who left his team in the field to go and enlist in the service of his country against King George in the Revolutionary war. Her father was a surgeon in the British army in the Peninsular campaign and later served England in the War of 1812. Her brother was killed with Gen. Geo. A. Custer in the massacre on the Little Big Horn in Montana in 1876, she had nephews in the Civil War, one dying in Andersonville prison, and now has nephews from Canada and the United States in the great war raging overseas. When her grandson, James Gordon Hayward, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hayward, of Deford, came to her a few months ago and asked her advice about enlisting, she encouraged him to do so. The young man is now stationed at Delrea, Texas.

"I am the youngest of a family of 12 children and my mother remembered Gen. Putnam well," said Mrs. Hurlburt as she related incidents of her early life. "She made her home with the General at Johnstown, N. Y., until she was 12 years of age. My father was in the British army when Napoleon met his Waterloo. The Kaiser aims at world dominion the same as Napoleon and he too will meet his Waterloo."

SANILAC TRACK MEET NEW LIBERTY LOAN TO BE SIX BILLION

$750,000,000 EVERY TWO WKS. STARTING JUNE 25.

The Exact Amount of Loan Depends on Government Expenditures for Next Few Months.

Washington. - The government's financial program for the next four months was disclosed Sunday by Secretary McAdoo's announcement that in preparation for the fourth Liberty loan, to be floated probably in October, about $6,000,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness will be issued.

They will be offered in blocks of $750,000,000 each, every two weeks, beginning June 25.

Every national bank and trust company is asked to assist the government by subscribing five per cent of its gross resources monthly. The certificates will bear 4 1-2 per cent interest, like those preceding the third Liberty loan, and will have varying maturity periods, none exceeding four months. In addition, an undetermined quantity-perhaps $2,000,000,000-of tax certificates will be issued during the summer for use in paying taxes a year from now.

Announcement of this program indicates that the fourth Liberty loan will be for at least $6,000,000,000, the exact amount depending on government expenditures the next few months. The treasury already has estimated these roughly at $12,000,-000,000 between July 1 and next January 1.

The sole of certificates under the plan in effect during the past year amounts virtually to borrowing in advance from banks on projected popular war loans, or tax collections, and periodically refunding these short term obligations in long term Liberty bonds.

Depository banks make 2 1-2 per cent net, difference between the 4 1-2 per cent paid by the government and the 2 per cent collected for deposits. The future financial program was banks to prepare for government de-and 20,000 state institutions, Secretary McAdoo said:

"Expenditures of the government, as nearly as can be estimated, will require sale of certificates of indebtedness up to the first of November, 1918, aggregating approximiately

"This would involve the issue every two weeks of about $750,000,000 of certificates, substantially similar in character to those issued prior to the third Liberty loan, except that they will have various maturities not ex ceeding four months."

For the months of July and August that program will be followed as nearly as possible.

The first issue of certificates will be dated June 25 and mature October 25, with interest at 4 1-2 per cent, and similar issues, it is expected, will be made Tuesday of every other week following June 25.

It is expected, however, that at a convenient and favorable period during the summer an offering will be made to the general public directly and through the banks of an amount yet to be determined, perhaps $2,. 000,000,000 of certificates of suitable maturities for use by taxpayers in paying next year's taxes, viz., taxes paybale June 1919, levied under existing and pending legislation.

To the extent that certificates of that character are sold, substantially an equivalent reduction in the amount of the regular fortnightly sale of certificates, issued in anticipation of the next Liberty loan, will be affected.

ALPS.

PERIL OF BLOW VANISHES AS ITALIAN ARMY WINS

Two Thousand Additional Prisoners Are Claimed by Vienna on the Plave Front; Other War Doings.

Rome.-Beaten to a standstill in the mountains, the Austrians on the third day of their great drive in Italy flung themselves with redoubled fury against the Piave front. They were able, at a tremendous cost in blood, only to creep forward. The menace of their advance on Treviso and Venice is well held. The enemy is still on the west side of the Piave: he has captured Capo Sile and shoved his lines forward west of Sandono Di Piave.

Such are the meager results of three days' incessant assaults, costing mountains of corpses, in the greatest military gamble of the war that was to carry the Austrians by storm into the rich and fertile plains of northern Italy, where they were to find the food that is becoming scarcer and scarcer at home, where their women and children are crying for bread and Convincing Proof of Failure.

Two thousand additional prisoners are claimed by Vienna on the Piave front-the most convincing indication of failure, since measured by the bold plans of the foe, such a total for 24 hours is a ridiculous handful. The number of miles they have advanced, too, can be counted on the fingers of one hand.

As the situation stands both on the face of Italian and Austrian accounts, only a miracle can prevent this gigantic Austrian drive from choking in Austrian blood. Only a sudden collapse of Italian army morale equal to that of the Isonzo disaster could spell a real success to the drive-and that would indeed be a miracle, for Italy's men are fighting in this battle with a fire and valor that make this catastrophe of last fall a mocking mem-

Lieut. Dan Duncanson, who estabished quite a reputation as a base eall player in his high school days at Cass City, still maintains an ample supply of base ball pep as is evidenced by the following paragraph taken from a San Antonio, Texas, newspaper's story of a contest between Camp Stanley instructors and Company A of unassigned officers: "The second was such as a person reads about in magazine base ball stories where the pitcher wins his own game at the very last minute. The score stood 8 to 1 when Lieut, Duncanson came up to bat with the bases full in the sixth inning and he hit the first ball pitched to deep center for a home run. This seemed to give the officers of Company A courage and they began hammering the ball all over the diamond."

TO THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION OF CASS CITY HIGH SCHOOL

My dear boys and girls: I am taking this opportunity to thank you for the beautiful Gillette outfit you presented me last Thursday. I am proud that you remembered me and I feel that I have been honored, (as I have told you on one or two occasions) by the Miss Mary Burt entertained the Art cleanest crowd of high school students have ever known. Because the Athletic association is largely composed of seniors, this letter will be spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. addressed mostly to this year's graduates. You are beginning your career in the most critical period of our nation's history and no doubt 'ere long most of you will be in the active service of your country but you must all remember that those who must remain at home have also an ample opportunity of serving our country, our community and your Alma Mater.

Try and remember that your obligation and service to your high school has not ended because you are graduated but instead is really just begin-

The Universities keep in constant touch with their Alumni and they depend on them to a great degree for their financial and legislative support. So it is your patriotic duty to keep in touch and help regulate the affairs of our local schools. Insist on your parents and friends attending our school meetings, and if you have reason to believe there are men on our Board who are not efficient or competent, see to it that they are removed and their places taken by men who will keep your school and teaching force in first class shape. See to it that the school them put Music and Manual Training in the school, and just think how nice wood, Mr. and Mrs. David Tyo and it would be to have real shower baths Mrs. L. V. (With due apology and a note of appreciation to Farrell's Clothing store). We need better heating arrangements and better sanitation and we can have all this by just a little patriotic agitation and we'll never notice the difference in our taxes. I am going to close by again thanking you for your remembrance and Kenzie are visitors in Owendale, the wishing you each the brightest kind of

HINTS OF GRAFT

HUNDREDS OF MANUFACTURERS' BUSINESS OFFICES RAIDED IN UNITED STATES.

PAPERS SOUGHT IN GRAFT PLOT

Secretary Baker is Making a Thorough Investigation in Co-operation With the Department of Justice.

acy between manufacturers and contractors' agents in Washington to solicit government war orders under agreement to pay commissions illegally to the agents, was disclosed Monday by the department of justice. Simultaneously with the announcement raids were made on hundreds of

offices business manufacturers' throughout the United States in search of papers showing scope of the illegal practice, and four Boston business men were indicted in Washington on charges of acting as contingent fee

Even before results of the raid were fully reported here Monday night officials indicated they had evidence that scores, perhaps hundreds of contracts have been made with manufacturers, who were under pledge to turn over to contract commission agents in Washington, New York and elsewhere, a percentage of their profits.

Officials said the manufacturers were led to enter into the agreements by assurances of the agents that they had special "influence" with army officers or others in charge of letting contracts, and under threat to use that influence against the manufacturers. Evidence was said to have been secured that some of the agents already have made their thousands in commission

This development led to investigation of relations between certain army officers and these agents, and although there is no definite indication that these officers are knowingly involved in the conspiracies. Secretary Baker is making a thorough investigation in co-operation with the department of justice, and Monday night authorized the statement that he would go to the bottom of any suspicious cases.

Secretary Daniels also is keeping in close touch with the investigation, and the whole situation has been called to the attention of President Wilson and his cabinet.

The commission agents guilty of these illegal practices will be prosecuted under the conspiracy statutes, and all contracts made by them or with their aid are subject to annulment by the government.

LARGEST SUNDRY BILL PASSES

carrying the enormous total of $2,915,-019,447, the largest amount ever voted by congress for the purpose, was passed by the house without a dissenting vote. It makes appropriations for the civil departments of the government, including a number which have been created since the war be.

Included in the measure, at the special request of the president, is an appropriation, $50,000,000 for the president's emergency fund and $1,-250,000 for the committee on public information . The president sent a letter to Chairman Sherley of the appropriations committee urging the house to allow these two items.

In his letter the president gave for the first time an accounting of the disbursement of the $100,000,000 fund given to him at the beginning of the war and said uses for the continuance of the fund are "incalculable."

PRISON FOR SLACKERS—BAKER

Washington - Sentences ranging from 18 months to 20 years' imprisonment imposed by courts martial upon so-called conscientious objectors who refused military service at Camp Upton, N. Y., and Camp Gordon, Ga., were approved by Secretary Baker.

Most of the men objected to fighting against Germany or Austria because they have relatives there. In approving the findings of the courts, the first of the kind to reach the department Mr. Baker went on record as favoring the return of such men "to the countries of their preference" after the

LEISURE WOMEN HARD AT WORK

Y. W. C. A. Spends $5,000,000 on Girls the First Year of War.

"Stand behind the country's girlhood!" This is the slogan of the most remarkable group of women ever brought together for work in a common cause.

When the War Work Council of the National Y. W. C. A. was organized last June it mobilized many of the best known women in this country. among them Mrs. Thomas Marshall. wife of the Vice President, and wives of several members of the President's cabinet-Mrs. Robert Lansing, Mrs. Newton D. Baker and Mrs. Josephus Daniels. Mrs. Henry P. Davison, wife of the head of the American Red Cross, is treasurer.

Other members of the council are: Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.; Mrs. Dave Henry Morris, granddaughter of Commodore Vanderbilt; Mrs. John R. Mott, wife of the international secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; Mrs. Robert Speer, Mrs. Henry Emerson Fosdick. Mrs. William Fellowes Morgan, Dr. Katherine Bement Davis, Mrs. Robert Coleman Du Pont, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, and many others equally prominent.

In this first year of its work, the War Work Council has expended $5,000,000 on work for women and girls, both here and in Europe-wherever war conditions have menaced their physical or moral safety.

DRESS YOUR PART, SAY BUSINESS WOMEN

Furs in broiling weather and gauze stockings and slippers in midwinter will get a setback at the Business Women's exhibit of business clothes in New York city, scheduled for the early summer.

What to wear and how to wear it is one of the first questions which the new National Business Women's Committee is taking up. A standard in dress for business is the object.

When a hundred delegates from twenty-five states met at the National Board building of the Young Women's Christian Association, in New York City, in May it was to represent the 9,000,000 business women of this country and mobilize them for patriotic Better working conditions, equal pay for equal work, efficiency in the various activities into which women are going and the promotion of business opportunities were the object. This committee of twenty-five women, known as the National Business Women's Committee, is the connecting link between the business women's organizations of this country and the National Young Women's Christian Association, which has thrown all its machinery open to the movement. Miss Lena Madesin Phillips, a lawyer from Kentucky, heads the movement.

MAIMED, BUT STILL GAY

"The gay little air which crippled men returned from the front all wear is the most pathetic thing that I have seen in France," writes a Young Woman's Christian Association war worker in Lyons.

"In spite of crutches and drawn faces they all look at you as you pass them on the street as though they would say, 'It's nothing to me that I have only one leg left to my name.' "Lyons has multitudes of wounded, exchanged prisoners, refugees and the most motley crew of munition workers that any town can produce.

"In the great munition factories there are Chinese, Algerians. Moroccans and hosts of other races whose faces and clothes are so yellowed by the acids among which they work that their nationality is only a guess."

Great numbers of the workers are French refugee women. It is among these that the Young Women's Christian Association has opened social rooms which are these women's only chance of home life. Work of this kind has been established by the Young Women's Christian Association during the past year in a number of French cities,

The Sardine.

The fresh sardine is a beautiful little fish. The scales on its back are an iridescent blue-green, the exact tint which the sea so often takes, while beneath the scales there shows up the most wonderful peacock-blue. There are bars on its back and sides when it first comes out of the water, like those of the mackerel, but they seem to fade and disappear the moment it is exposed to the air. The rest of its body is silver.

Why Not Drive Poison Out?

O you realize that the kidneys never have a moment's rest? work all the time, day and night, year in and year out, filtering poisonous waste products from the blood. Is it any wonder the kidneys get out of order, weak, or too tired to keep the blood stream clear of impurities?

When the kidneys falter, trouble begins. The waste matter accumulates in different parts of the system, and backache, swollen joints, aching muscles, pains inside, biliousness, blurred vision, puffy pouches under eyes, or rheumatic pains result.

Help weak, tired, disordered kidneys to do their work. They strengthen and heal the kidneys, soothe and regulate the bladder and have a splendid tonic action on the liver. Mr. Louis Flint, 182 S. Jefferson Ave. Battle Creek, Mich., writes:

tense pain. The doctors told me it was my kidneys and gave me medicine which did me little good. A friend induced me to give Foley Kidney Pills a trial. In a few weeks! was feeling much better; inside of a year I found out I had a permanent cure I am now 76 years old, a veteran of the Civil War, on my feet ten hours a day, six days a week."

You can help your kidneys keep your system c.ear of poisons by taking Foley Kidney Pills. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.

CHAPTER VII.

To complete our misery, we received orders during the night to attack the French at 4:15 in the morning. We made our preparations under a pouring rain. Promptly at 4:15 we went over the top, jumping over corpses and wounded men. We were forced to retire before a hail of machine gun fire, and sustaining a large number of unnecessary casualties.

Hardly had we regained our trenches when the French attacked us. They came within three meters of our trench, and here their attack broke down under our fire. They too had to retire with fearful losses.

Three times in two hours the French attacked, always with heavy losses and no results. We were at our wit's end. Unless help came soon it would be impossible for us to hold the position. We were tortured by hunger and thirst as well as being wet to the skin and were so exhausted that we could hardly stand.

At ten o'clock the French attacked a fourth time. They came on in enormous numbers. Our leaders recognized the danger of our position and ordered us back, abandoning the wounded and much booty. By a superhuman effort we did manage to save the machine guns and ammunition. We retreated

We Went Over the Top

1,000 meters and took a stand in our former trenches. The officers told us we would have to make a stand under any circumstances and that the re-enforcements would come soon.

In a moment the machine guns were set up and soon we were sending a hail of bullets into the ranks of our pursuing enemy. His advance stopped instantly. Encouraged by this success we fired harder, so that the French were compelled to seek cover.

The promised re-enforcements failed to appear. About 600 meters to our rear were six German batteries in position, but they maintained only a very weak fire. An artillery officer appeared before us and asked the commander of our detachment if it would not be well to recommend that the batteries be taken back. He said he had learned by telephone that the German line was wavering on its entire length.

Before the commander could reply, another attack en masse followed, which outnumbered us by from five to seven times. Our commander now gave up this position also. Completely demoralized, we retired in flight, leaving the six batteries (36 guns) to be taken by the enemy.

The French stopped their barrage fire because they feared to hurt their own troops. The Germans utilized this moment to bring up re-enforcements made up of all branches of the service. Scattered infantrymen, unmounted cavalry, detached pioneers, had all been assembled. Every makeshift was employed to fill the ranks. Complete reserve units apparently no longer existed on this the third day of the battle of the Marne.

Once more the command was given to turn and take a position and the unequal fight began anew. We saw the enemy advance, and seize the bat-Then we saw him storming teries. ahead with fixed bayonets. We fought like wild animals. For minutes there raged a bayonet fight beyond description. We stabbed through the breast, through the abdomen, and wherever else we could. This was no occasion to employ the bayonet tactics taught at drill, something which must be left for which they struck was broken. Helmets and knapsacks had been lost long since. In spite of the superiority of numbers, the French could not defeat this little group of desperate men. We forgot everything around us and fought like bloodthirsty beasts, thinking of nothing else. Part of our men penetrated the hostile ranks and fought to retake the lost cannon. The enemy recognizing the danger, retreated, and tried to hold the conquered guns with all his energy. We continued to stab, to club, man for man, but the enemy held on to the batteries. Every cannon was surrounded by corpses, and every minute new victims were created. The artillerymen who were fighting with us tried to remove the breech blocks of the guns.

Three Germans fought four Frenchmen at the third gun which was just to my right. They were all that was left around that piece. At another gun 70 men lay dead or wounded. A pioneer went to the mouth of this gun and with astounding calmness pushed shell after shell into the barrel, touched them off and ran. Friend and foe alike were torn by the terrible explosion. The gun was completely demolished. Seventy to eighty men were killed for

After an hour's fight, all the guns were once more in our possession. We were now able to approximate the terrible casualties, in the battle for this battery. Dead and wounded by hundreds, infantry, cavalry, artillery and pioneers, covered the narrow strip of ground.

Once more we received re-enforcements. This time four regular companies of infantry had been taken away from another detachment. Even what is going on and has absolutely no way of determining how the battle is Mrs. Frank Parsell in Almer. going.

These re-enforcements had been taken from all different arms and late arrivals had been taken from a division which had been threatened exactly like ours was. This led us to conclude that we could only resist further attacks provided fresh troops reached us. If only we could get something to eat. But there seemed no way to relieve the hunger and thirst which tortured us.

Now, horses galloped up to remove the guns we had left, and at the same instant the French artillery opened a tremendous fire from guns of all calibers. The shells fell among the 30 teams comprising the column. Confusion reigned. Groups of six horses comprising each team sprang into the air, then ran in all directions, pulling their carriages with the wheels up be hind them. Some of the terrified animals ran directly into the heaviest fire only to be torn to shreds with their drivers.

The enemy now transferred his fire to the battery position which we occupied. For us it was only a question of advance or retreat. Retreat? No! The order came to retake the positions which we had lost at the opening of the battle and which the Frenchmen presumably had made ready to withstand a new attack. By this time we had been re-enforced with more cannon fodder and the insane fight could begin anew.

We advanced over a wild field, covered by thousands upon thousands of torn human bodies. No shot fell; the only firing was the hostile artillery continuing to shell our battery positions. Neither the enemy's artillery nor infantry was turned upon us. This made us suspicious and our apprehension regarding what was to come increased as we were permitted to advance unmolested.

Suddenly there was turned loose upon us the fire from a multitude of machine guns. We threw ourselves on the ground and hunted cover. An instant later we again sprang up and continued our march. Once more we encountered destruction. By this time we had lost almost a third of our men and, exhausted, we halted.

Scarcely had we taken a position before we were attacked from the front and flank. We no longer had an adequate force to successfully resist this double blow, as the enemy, in greatly superior numbers, had practically crushed our force. The left wing was completely cut off and we saw our men throw up their hands and surrender. We who were in the center were unable to come to their assistance; our ranks were being decimated from minute to minute.

"Revenge for Sommepy," sounded in my ears.

The right wing broke and carried us with it in a wild flight. Direct retreat had been cut off for us, so we ran backward across an open field, each man for himself, with a heart bursting with horror and fear as the result of the enemy's murderous fire.

After running a long time we reached a hamlet northwest of Vitry-le-Francois. Without guns, helmets, or knapsacks, the few who had been able to save themselves gathered here.

As a result of this battle the French acquired a large amount of booty. All the guns which had been the center of so much bitter fighting were lost. Of the hundreds upon hundreds of soldiers who participated in the battle, scarcely 100 were left. The others were all dead, wounded or missing. This is what was done to the invincible war machine by the French people, who, before the struggle, we had branded as cowardly and degenerate!

LEADING PARIS PAPER PRAISES WILSON'S WORDS

Paris-"Such words are not mere words," says the Temps commenting editorially on the telegram from President Wilson to President Poincare in answer to the latter's message of elicitation on the first anniversary of the landing of American troops in France. The newspaper continues:

"They are symbols of powerful realities, of intelligence inaction and of heroic sacrifice. France hears them with joy; the enemy will hear them with anxiety. He is only beginning to know the soldiers of the United States.

"He will learn the weight of the will of one hundred million citizens, united behind a chief they have elected and resolute, like him, to obtain peace by victory."

Ruling Starts August 1, Factories Making Passenger Cars Hit.

Washington.—Curtailment of coal supplies to manufacturers of passenger automobiles for the year beginning August 1 to 25 per cent of the quantity consumed in 1917-18 was announced Monday by the fuel administration.

This is one of the steps in a drastic program for reduction of fuel allowed non-war industries to meet the expected coal shortage next winter.

Just how other industries will be affected has not been disclosed, and it is said to be probable that there will be no publication of a list of socalled non-essentials. Instead an announcement may be made, as each order is given, applying to a particu-

55.000 MICHIGAN MEN IN WAR

Nearly 20,000 Others Have Enlisted in the Regular Army and Navy.

Lansing-How Michigan has responded to the call to arms and given of her youth to defeat the threat of Prussian world domination is shown in figures just made available detailing the work of the draft boards in the 12 months that have passed since the first registration under the selective service law.

Just a year ago 377,179 Michigan men of draft age registered under the law. Since that date approximately 55,000 of them have been inducted into service. Besides these approximately 20,000 men of all ages have enlisted in the regular army and a large number have entered the navy and marine corps.

Three months to a day after the registration-Sept. 5. 1917-Michigan's first contribution to the National army reached Camp Custer. It was a small beginning, officers outnumbering privates for a time. But the building up of the draft army went forward rapidly, and in another three months Michigan had called 24,000 of her youths into service.

Audit of School Books Ordered.

Pontiac.-A statement issued by the Royal Oak township board Friday explains that the order for an audit of the school district books in the possession of former Supervisor A. W. Willson, which is being opposed by Willson was made because tax payers complain of high school taxes. The resolution passed by the board says: "Believing that an assessment of $7 per thousand of assesssed valuation is excessive, be it resolved that an audit of the books of the district is ordered."

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

HON. WILLIAM G. McADOO, SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, PROCLAIMS

> FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1918 AS NATIONAL WAR SAVINGS DAY

GOVERNORS AND MAYORS MAKE SIMILAR PROCLAMATIONS

MEETINGS WILL BE HELD IN EVERY COMMUNITY TO SECURE SUBSCRIP-TIONS FOR WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Pursuant to the call of the Treasury Department of the United States and the proclamation of the Governor of this State, I, War Savings Director for Michigan, acting under the authority of the United States Treasury Department, have called all tax-payers and wage-earners to meet on Friday, June 28th, to give their subscriptions for War Savings Stamps. In rural communities and the smaller towns and cities, meetings will be held in the school houses at 2 p. m.

The school officers will conduct the meeting in each school house, keeping a record of the proceedings and reporting the names of all persons present and the amount of War Savings Stamps subscribed for by them The names of absent persons, and of those who refuse or neglect to subscribe, with their reasons for so doing, will also be reported.

War Savings Stamps (which are United States Government Bonds the same as Liberty Bonds) can be paid for during any month in the year 1918, but it is intended that subscriptions will be signed for them on June 28. The price of each War Savings Stamp depends upon the month during which it is bought. During June each Stamp will cost $4.17. In July each Stamp will cost $4.18, and so on, one cent more each month during 1918. On January 1, 1923, the Government of the United States will redeem all War Savings Stamps at $5.00 each, no matter during which month in 1918 they were bought. They cost less during the early months in 1918 than during the later months because the person who buys earlier has loaned his money to the Government for a longer time than if he should buy later.

By way of illustration, note the following table:

COST OF WAR SAVINGS STAMPS DURING JUNE, JULY, AND AUGUST, 1918

·		Cost in	Cost in	Cost in	And are Worth
		June	July	August	on Jan. 1, 1923
. 1	Stamp	$4.17	$4.1	$4.19	$5.00
20	Stamps	83.40	85.	83.80	100.00
50	Stamps	208.50	209.4	209.50	250.00
100	Stamps	417.00	.418.06	419.00	500.0 0
200	Stamps	834.00	826.00	888.00	1.000.00

The law provides that no person can hold in his own name War Savings Stamps exceeding $1,000 maturity value. War Savings Stamps, however, may be purchased for other members of the family, including minor children.

The money invested in War Savings Stamps is not a gift, or a donation, but is a loan to the Government. It will all be paid back with 4% compound interest. If, because of some serious financial reverses, or calamity, it should be necessary to get your money before January 1, 1923, you may do so by giving ten days' notice to any Money Order postmaster; in which case you can get what you paid for the Stamps, with interest to date of payment. The Stamps are free from all State and local taxes; when registered at the postoffice they are insured against loss; they are backed by all the property in the United States; they cannot fall in value below the price you pay; they are as convenient and as well paying an investment as has ever been offered

A definite quota of War Savings Stamps has been assigned each school district and community, which will be announced at each meeting on June 28th. The Government of the United States expects all the citizens of every school district and county to subscribe for its quota and to pledge themselves to save and economize to

It is to be hoped that the subscriptions taken at the meetings in your county will show you and your neighbors to be loyal Americans to whom our Government, in this hour of need, does not call in van.

Michigan War Savings Director appointed and acting under the authority of the Secretary of the United States Treasury.
