GEO. A. VADER VICTIM OF MINN. FOREST FIRES

Was Son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Vader and Attended Public School Here.

Geo. A. Vader, aged 29 years and a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Vader of Cass City, was fatally burned in the ing patronage at too low a rate. Adfires which swept northeastern Minnesota and was among the nearly 1,000 any less than 20 to 25 cents an inch, persons who lost their lives in forest fires there Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Vader held a responsible position with the Tri-State Telephone Co. and he and his wife resided at Moose Lake, Minn. Fire started at Hettel Lake. Shortly after the dinner hour Saturday, Mr. Vader came home hurriedly, grabbed some repair tools, said something about the lines being down and left on the run for his automobile Tribune purchased the Independent, to hasten to reinstate telephone connections. This was the last time his wife saw him alive.

Survivors told Mrs. Vader that they had passed him and two women as they were driving to Moose Lake. Apparently Mr. Vader's auto went wrong on the return trip or they were unable to proceed farther along the road, for their burned bodies were found Sunday afternoon about a half mile distant from the machine.

Moose Lake was totally destroyed and the town's death list is expected to reach 500. Mrs. Vader, with others, saved her life by going into the lake and covering herself with wet blankets. She stood in the lake from 7:30 Saturday evening until 3:00 Sun-and interred in Elkland cemetery. Deceased leaves besides his wife and parents, one brother and three sisters, Ivan Vader, Mrs. Milton Hoff-man and Myrtle Vader, all of Cass City, and Mrs. Ursel Andrews of Santa Monico, California. Mrs. Andrews did not arrive in time to attend the burial. She is expected to arrive here

Geo. Vader was born in Elmwood township and in early childhood moved with his parents to Evergreen township. He attended the public schools at Cass City and later pursued a course in a business college. He left Cass City about ten years ago and has been engaged in telephone work a greater portion of that time.

Influenza Cases Here, But Authorities Believe in "Safety First" Measures.

The village council sitting as the board of health held a special meeting day morning.

The remains of Mr. Vader were brought to Cass City Thursday noon churches, schools, lodges and other Saturday evening at which time it public meeting places commencing Sunday noon, because of the influenza epidemic. Gatherings of a public nature and travel except when absolutely necessary are discouraged by the council and health officer. While there are no "flu" cases in Cass City the local authorities believed this "safety first" measure would aid greatly in keeping the village free from the disease.

In an interview with the health of-ficer, Dr. F. L. Morris, on Thursday, he said at that time no cases of Spanish influenza had been reported to him in this locality, the nearest case being two miles south of Gagetown. He attributes our good fortune in thus far escaping, to the closed schools, churches, etc.

SEVEN TOWNSHIPS OVER TOP IN TUSCOLA CO.

Elkland Township Oversubscribed its Influenza Epidemic Conditions Cause Fourth Liberty Loan Quota by $10,000.

It is going to take a strong effort its quota on the Fourth Liberty Loan. approximately that amount, it needs the efforts of every person in every township to put it across. There's no room for shirkers.

Early Thursday afternoon seven cownships were reported over the top, Dayton, Elkland, Fremont, Vassar, The total subscriptions in the county at that time had reacned $800,000.00.

The chairman of the county organization has received the following telegram from the Liberty Loan organization at Hornell, N. Y., the old home of Dorus Healy, who has extensive holdings in Caro and other points in Tuscola county:

county has been divided pro rata

The county organization is in session every day and is according fair treatment to all persons who feel themselves aggrieved in the quota assigned them. Several individual quotas have been lowered where circumstances showed they were too high, some quotas have been increased and some have been cancelled entirely.

Citizens of Elkland township responded nobly to subscribing to the Fourth Liberty Loan. The township's quota was $63,500.00 and present figures show that Elkland will oversubscribe her quota by $10,000.00. The offer made by the Hires Condensed Milk Co. to subscribe a similar amount to Elkland's quota as that raised by employes at their local plant helped considerably in making up the mount that was oversubscribed.

Elkland has a loyal lot of citizens who do their duty early and well. John Marshall, chairman of the Elk-Township War Board, has received the quota flag and Tuesday noon it was raised to its place on the municipal flagstaff.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the Inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the Fystein.

Protective measures necessary to safeguard health should be maintained and enlarged for women and men. They should have been extended long ago to men as well as to women, as the protection of equal citizenship and the rights of voluntary association should have been assured to women as well as to men, from the moment when they took their place in industry. The great task now is not to set apart women from industry, but to apply the medical and engineering knowledge of the country to making all work safe and healthful for the men and women who are producing for the Nation's needs.

The challenge of the Nation to industry and labor at this time is to make industry safe and healthful, democratic and just, not in the interest of any one group, men or women, capital or labor, but because a Nation's crusade for freedom imperatively requires it. The present stage of the crusade is war and production for the war. The next stage will be reconstruction and new growth. Germany's Tricky Peace Move Is Balked by President Wilson's Diplomacy.

ARMIES OPPOSE ARMISTICE

Cambrai Captured and Huns' Defensive Line Smashed, Compelling General Retreat-Yanks Successful in Champagne-Beirut Occupied by the French.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

Prince Max of Baden, the new imperial chancellor of Germany, requesting President Wilson to arrange for an armistice and a subsequent diseussion of peace terms, and stating that Germany accepted the president's 14 points as a basis for the negotiations, evoked three separate and distinct replies. President Wilson answered that he could not suggest an armistice while the German armies were outside the boundaries of Germany, and then asked whether the German government accepted the terms laid down by him and whether its object in entering discussions was only to agree upon the practical details of their application: furthermore. he wanted to know whether the chancellor was speaking merely for the constituted authorities of the empire who have so far conducted the war.

The people of all the allied nations, soldiers and civilians alike, answered Prince Max with a tremendous shout of "Unconditional surrender."

Marshal Foch responded with one of the most powerful attacks of the allied armies, capturing the important city of Cambrai, smashing a 20-milewide breach through the Hindenburg line, and forcing back the German armies all along the line from Verdun to the sea.

Nearly all authorities agree that the chancellor's proposal was insincere; that the request for an armistice was made merely to give the military command a chance to reorganize the shattered armies, and that Prince Max knew the suggestion for a peace conference, as he made it, would be rejected, giving him the opportunity to say to the people of Germany: "I have offered to end the war on the enemy's own terms and he refuses. The German nation now must unitedly fight

At first there was some disappointment because President Wilson did not reject the German proposal swiftly and bluntly, but a little consideration has convinced almost everyone that he evaded a trap and by his direct questions put the German diplomats in a position of the utmost difficolty. At the same time he left the open for ultimate negotiations. after Germany has accepted his 14 points and given full guarantees. As for the armistice, he did not agree to that even were the German armies to be withdrawn from all occupied territories, recognizing the fact that the declaring of an armistice is up to the military commanders. The president's note was fully approved, probably in advance, by the allied governments, and was given the highest praise by the press in England and France as well as America.

Any agreed cessation of fighting at this time, short of the abject surrender of the central powers, would bitterly disappoint the soldiers of the allied armies and the people who are backing them up. Foch's forces have the Germans on the run, and if they are permitted to follow up the Huns on their retreat to the Meuse they will destroy a large part of their effective ness and capture probably half of their material. On the other hand an armistice would permit the Huns to retire within their borders with their armies intact and prepared to maneuver effectively behind their shortened and powerfully fortified lines. Animated by a spirit, not of vindictiveness, but of retributive justice, the men of the allied armies feel that no peace should be granted Germany until her cities, her towns and her people have suffered some of the horrors of war that her brutal soldiers have inflicted on Belgium, northern France and Serbia. The absolute unrepentance of the Huns for their outrages is shown by their action in looting and wantonly destroying the towns in France from which they are being driven and in their practice of carrying away with them thousands of the helpless inhabitants who are forced to work for them like slaves. The formal warning of France that there would be retribution for these shameful deeds has been disregarded, and if adequate punishment is not inflicted there will be a general feeling that justice has mis-

President Wilson and his confidential advisers, it is said, still believe the German people will rise in revolution and oust the Hohenzollern crew, and his inquiry as to whom Prince Max represents is significant in that connection. The chancellor, in his speech to the reichstag, undertook rather feebly to demonstrate that recent political changes actually had put the people in power and that he was their representative. But all that was surrender on allied terms, or it must confess that the chancellor was not acting in good faith. That is the hole in which President Wilson has placed Prince Max and his associates.

The greatest blow delivered by the allied armies last week was between Cambrai and St. Quentin. There Field Marshal Haig's tireless forces, re-enforced by American divisions, tore a 20-mile gap through the strongest of Hindenburg's boasted defenses, capturing dozens of villages and many thousands of prisoners and on Wednesday occupied the long and desperately defended city of Cambrai. The Huns, in full flight, blew up most of Cambral and burned Bohain, Marctz and many another beautiful town, but the allies did not even stop to extinguish the flames. The enemy apparently was attempting to reconstitute his lines back of the Selle river from Le Cateau to Solesmes, so Haig's troops, led by the cavalry. pushed rapidly forward and the big guns followed so fast that they kept the Huns always under fire. Only the German machine gunners put up a creditable defense, the riflemen who could be overtaken generally surrendering willingly. Prisoners said the German plan was to retreat to the Valenciennes line and then to the Meuse, and it was evident the retirement of the German armies from France was well under They will fight all the way back to their borders, of course, but the country is open and the tanks and cavalry of the allies will have daily increasing opportunity to do their part. The Germans still have the strength te maintain a fairly orderly retreat, and if the war is ended by a military decision, it is admitted the Huns may be able to postpone that inevitable event for many months. When they do reach the Meuse they will be bekind powerful defenses, but the nature of those defenses is known to the allied commanders, and so far as the fortifications there are concerned, the immense sum just asked of congress for American artillery may be taken to indicate the tremendous concentration of gunfire that will be used to

- 20 -While their comrades were helping the British in the great drive in the Cambrai region, the American First army was exceedingly busy west of the Meuse. For many days the doughboys battled their way through the Argonne forest, and at the northern end to permit their artillery to pour a an rain of shells on the German positions for 19 hours, the Yanks advanced to the attack Wednesday, and by a brilliant and swift advance broke through the enemy line. To the right of them other troops forced their way through sible the storming of the Mamel trench mother and one sister. of the Kriembilde position. The engineers were advancing right along with the infantry, clearing the way through the entanglements. Important heights south of the Marcq were captured, and the Yankees joined hands with the French at Laucon. East of the Meuse also the Americans were going forward, and, at the time of writing, these movements, as well as those all along the line, were still progressing.

These operations in France were steadily crushing the great German salient whose apex was near Laon. and the French were maintaining a continuous pressure on both sides of that city. They also were compelling the further retirement of the Huns and the French were maintaining a who still remained south of the Aisne between Neufchatel and Vouzieres.

The American air service on the front of the First army clearly demonstrated its superiority during the veek. Huge aggregations of bombing planes continually flew over the enemy front lines, communications, back failed to register as required by law. areas and troop concentrations, doing incalculable damage, while the pursuit planes kept the air clear of Hun

The Serbian army kept up the unremitting pursuit of the Austrians in Serbia as the Bulgarians withdrew from that country, or surrendered, according to their agreement. Before the end of the week the Serbs were quite close to Nish and moving ahead steadily. To their west, in Albania, the allied troops made considerable progress. The Italians took Elbassan after crushing determined resistance by the Austrians, and then continued their advance northward.

---The occupation of Beirut by French marines only accentuated the troubles of Turkey. The cabinet resigned, after a peace note was said to have been started on its way to President Wilson, and Tewfik Pasha, it was reportea, would be the new grand vizier. His sympathies are rather with the allies, and there is little doubt the sultan hunself would be mighty glad to get out of the war on the best terms obtainable. London was convinced Turkey had notified Germany it intended to make peace and that the kaiser tried to stave this off by the proposal of the chancellor

Austria-Hungary was in a condition almost of panic and was nervously awaiting the outcome of Prince Max's effort. Reports from Vienna said the ministerial council had decided to introduce national autonomy "In order to make President Wilson's stipulation are accomplished fact." Among the or dead. That's why we "take no prisan accomplished fact." Among the reople of the empire the movement to oners! proclaim the separation of Hungary and Austria was making great headway. Meanwhile the Bohemian leadtria-Hungary, and, knowing the dangers of such action, made their wills and settled their personal affairs.

---Boris, who has succeeded to the throne of Bulgaria on the abdication of his father, Ferdinand, adheres to the terms of the surrender made by his armies, and has ordered Germany and Austria to quit his country within a month. Already the rail connection between Vienna and Constantineple seems to be effectually broken.

----Three more "victories" by the murderous German U-boats are to be recorded. The Irish mail boat Leinster, the Japanese liner Hirano and the American cargo steamship Ticonderoga were torpedoed. The total loss of life was estimated at more than 900. In the case of the Ticonderoga about 230 were killed, most of them by shrapnel fire after the boat had ceased to resist.

---One painful result of the German peace offensive was the decided slowing up of the campaign for the fourth Liberty loan. Presumably because many short-sighted people thought was at hand and the money would not be needed, subscriptions to the $6,000,000.000 loan were distressingly slow in coming in. All the agencies engaged in the campaign redoubled their efforts and the American public was loudly warned that the Hun peace talk must be disregarded and the money must be raised. Uncle Sam needs those six billions and he will get them, and he will need and will get much more, in all probability, before peace is declared and the armies are disbanded. If the people refuse to lend the government all the money it needs, at a good rate of interest, it has other ways of getting funds, and it will adopt them.

Orange Oils in Commerce

Unadulterated orange oil has strong aroma, and is used in the making of perfumes, essences, soaps and beverage flavors, as well as of cakes and confectionery. The principal use for Jamaica orange oil is in the manufacture of fancy biscurs, particularly of a wafer biscuit which is used extensively with ices and iced drinks.

Germany had the finest army in the world and the most splendidly equipped and she still has a large army for these reasons. Although she suffered heavy casualties, 80 per cent of these casualties are back in the firing line. The civilians are compelled to work in plants. Every Roumanian must work or be shot. They are worse than Turks in warfare.
