

Around Our Town

Lieut. M. B. Auten will spend Sunday with friends in Oxford, Ohio.

A. V. Spitzer, Gagetown's photographer, was a business caller here Tuesday.

George Moon leaves Monday morning for Ypsilanti where he will attend the Cleary Business college.

Miss Johanna McCrear is enjoying a few days' vacation from her duties in the Exchange bank at her father's home in Greenleaf.

The Chronicle's advertising columns contain messages of interest to wise buyers who desire to practice economy in their purchases. Be sure and look them over.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bond and son, Kenneth, and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Keating and son, Edward, of Detroit are expected Saturday at the home of E. W. Keating.

Mr. Wiltz of Alma, a young man who has but recently left Camp Custer and who graduated last year from Alma college, visited Sunday at the home of Harry Crandell.

Dougald Krug arrived in town Monday night with his papers releasing him from Uncle Sam's service. He will remain in Cass City and has employment with Hires Condensed Milk Co.

Alvin Benkelman is spending a short furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Benkelman. He is stationed at Camp Raritan at Metuchen, N. J. He is scheduled to report for duty again Feb. 1.

The many friends of J. B. Cootes will be pleased to learn that he is gradually improving in health and after many weeks of confinement in his home was able for the first time Monday to take a walk out of doors.

Mrs. Robt. McInnes entertained her Sunday school class of young ladies of the Methodist church at her home Wednesday afternoon. The girls took refreshments and all enjoyed a fine pot luck supper and report a splendid time.

Kenneth Higgins entertained a few of his friends Friday evening, it being his 14th birthday. An elaborate supper was served and some time spent in playing games after which the boys all attended the basketball game at the town hall.

The latest report from Lieut. I. D. McCoy, Overseas, is a little discouraging to his friends here as he has been transferred into the Army of Occupation which means unless he is again transferred or allowed to resign, he must remain there until affairs are definitely settled. For this reason he may not reach home before autumn or winter.

Morley Palmateer, former highway commissioner of Novesta township and well known road builder and booster, was in town Wednesday on business. He has been employed the past ten months building roads in Lapeer and Oakland counties for Closser Bros. Construction Co. of Detroit and is now general manager of all road building for the company with office and headquarters to be established at Imlay City this spring.

The D. & H. R. R. will commence running on a time card similar to that which was dropped several months ago. The morning train leaves Bad Axe at 5:45 a. m., Greenleaf at 6:20 a. m., arriving at Cass City at 6:50. On the return trip, the train leaves Cass City at 12:30 p. m. arriving at Bad Axe at 1:30. This service makes Cass City a convenient trading point, allowing our northeastern neighbors over five hours here in the morning between trains. The new schedule goes into effect tomorrow.

A very nice set of pictures belonging to "Jack Tar" Moon are to be seen in Wood's Drug store. Also a German helmet sent home by Neil Donnelly. This weighs 2 1/2 pounds and is camouflaged with paint so that a short distance away it seems to blend with the landscape. It shows evidence of rough usage, and we have no doubt the wearer paid the extreme penalty for being a "Hun." Some very interesting looking coins collected by "Jack Tar" Krug in different points where he has been, and still some others sent home by Corporal Paul Fritz are displayed at the same store.

Cass City teams won two games of basketball Friday evening on the local floor. The high school team defeated Brown City in a contest quite evenly matched the first half, but in which the locals showed better pep and team work in the latter part, winning by a 36-12 score. The second contest was between Owendale high school and Cass City's second team. The visitors led the locals early in the game but the latter developed considerable strength later in the contest and by aggressive team work won by 30-20. Brooker, Benkelman, Craft, Gowen and Dodge played on Cass City's high school team and A. and F. Champion, Cathart, Wood and Harris on the second team.

W. A. Fairweather of Imlay City was in town on business Monday.

Mrs. A. A. Ricker and Miss Laura Striffler visited at the home of their sister, Mrs. Otto Nique, at Decker Wednesday.

Joseph Frutchey is in Washington, D. C., for a few days attending a convention. He is expected home the end of the week.

Roy Colwell has been called to Brown City to assist his cousin, Morley Palmateer, who is overseer of the state reward road construction.

Miss Hazel Bixby, who has been obliged to give up her duties as teacher of the school for a week or two past owing to an attack of "flu", resumed her work Monday.

The Ford Garage of Auten & Tindale, has sold two cars and a truck, the former having been purchased by Dr. F. L. Morris and A. A. Jones and the latter by Clayton Crawford of Novesta township.

Edward Buehrley returned Tuesday evening from Camp Custer having received his discharge. He traveled to his home north and east of town, surprising his parents, who had no expectation of his return that day.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Y. Kenyon came very near having a bad fire last week at their pleasant home on Houghton St. Mrs. Kenyon was carrying a garment intending to hang it in a closet near by. In passing the stove where a brisk fire was burning a spark flew and must have lodged on the article, for soon after she had closed the door, they detected the smell of smoke and after a few moments the odor became so distinct they were alarmed. Finally opening the closet door, they found the interior in flames with several garments burned to ashes. They succeeded in putting out the fire, the house suffering only small damage.

The Woman's Study Club will hold their regular meeting Monday, Feb. 3, in the new club rooms over the Exchange Bank. Great credit is due the committee in charge, Mesdames Ricker, Brooker, Robinson, Lenzner and Moore, who have made the new club home so pleasant. The rooms have been papered a light tan with cream ceiling, the floors painted a darker tan and the wood work cream. Some new furniture and pictures have been added and the club is justly proud of their new quarters. The program for the afternoon will be: "Americanization by Education"; Mrs. Wheeler; Alaska Talkalogue—Industries, Mrs. Townsend; Resources, Mrs. Ricker; Education, Mrs. Dailey; Lecture, Miss Koepfen; Roll Call, "Things Worth While." The subject for next year's study will be chosen at this meeting.

T & M WILL ADD READY-TO-WEAR DEPT.

Will Bring to Cass City a Line of Merchandise Which is Much Desired.

An important change is about to take place with the T & M Clothing Co., not only in the alterations of its headquarters by removing the partition in the center of the building class opening into one the two stores which now occupy it, but also by the addition of a Women's and Children's Ready-to-ward Dept. which will fill a long-felt want in Cass City. Ever since the sale and removal of the A. A. Hitchcock stock this line of goods has not been handled extensively in town, causing great inconvenience for those accustomed to buy goods in this manner and necessitating considerable out-of-town buying.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Townsend left Tuesday for a business trip in the interest of the new department and will visit Detroit and Toledo before returning. Mrs. Townsend will remain a few days at the Siegel Co.'s store in Detroit to secure instruction in the buying and handling of this line of merchandise. Alterations will commence immediately and the remodeled store will open in about three weeks, Mrs. Townsend having charge of the new department.

PAY HIGH TRIBUTE TO JOHN FINKLE

SAVED MANY LIVES IN THICK OF BATTLE; WOUNDED BY SHRAPNEL.

Michigan Soldiers Pay High Tribute to Heroic Red Cross Worker.

Friends of John H. Finkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Finkle of Cass City, will read with interest and pride the high tribute of praise the Wolverine soldiers of the 126th Infantry pay him and will count it an honor to be counted among his acquaintances. Under the New York date of Jan. 23, the Detroit Sunday Free Press printed the following article:

"Speedy, resourceful, calm, courageous and unafraid that's the tribute the Wolverine soldiers of the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Infantry pay to John H. 'First-Aid' Finkle, Cass City, Mich., who has just returned to New York with his right arm in a sling as a result of a wound received while he was rushing from one to another of his fallen comrades on the Argonne field of honor the afternoon of October 6.

"When every other first-aid man in the Thirty-second division obeyed orders and remained behind in the dressing stations on that afternoon, Finkle, though wounded slightly in the hand, went over the top with the doughboys, and it is fortunate he did, for in the two hours before he fell, he saved the lives of not less than 50 soldiers, according to his officers.

"It was 'Finkle! Finkle! First-aid Finkle! Oh, please, Finkle, where are you? Come—No, help Jim first. He's hurt worse than I. Finkle, Finkle, a drink of water. Oh, first-aid man, won't you tie up this leg? Oh, Finkle, Finkle, come quick. Where are you?"

"And so it went. On and on and around about he moved, this miracle man Finkle. He seemed to have no end of energy, and he was immune to machine gun bullets. That was certain. Then, when he was least expecting it, he got a piece of shrapnel in the right arm and had to be taken back.

"Finkle was under shell fire five consecutive months on five active battlefields and he was working every minute. Hundreds and hundreds of maimed Michiganders poured through his station at Chateau Thierry, at Soissons, at Juvigny, and in the Meuse-Argonne drive.

"In addition he rendered even more important aid to the fallen on the fighting field. Officers say it is impossible to estimate the number of lives he saved, and yet he told reporters here that he didn't do anything worth mentioning—noting more than the others.

"In many respects the work of the first-aid man of Finkle's caliber was far more dangerous than the work of the average doughboy, for usually the infantrymen had opportunity to dodge into shell holes and foxhills, whereas the first-aid man had to stay out in the open field where the fighter had fallen."

LOCAL MERCHANT WILL OPEN STORE IN AKRON

New Firm Known as Akron Grocery Engage Howard Barker as Manager of New Enterprise.

The life of trade is competition and while Cass City is well represented in the grocery line, our neighboring town of Akron has been needing another grocery store. This came to the keen ear of E. W. Jones recently, and after looking into the matter, he with D. M. Graham, a prominent grocer of Caro considered the proposition that resulted in the organization of the firm known as the Akron Grocery to open a fine new stock of groceries and fruits to Akron buyers on Feb. 15. A first class location has been secured and is being prepared for their occupancy by painting and wiring for electric lights.

Mr. Jones, knowing the fine business qualities of Howard Barker, proposed his engagement as manager of the new enterprise with the result that he has resigned his recently accepted position as traveling salesman with the National Biscuit Co. and will remove his family to Akron immediately. Altogether the combination is one which ought to produce a solid yet progressive venture.

UNION MEMORIAL SERVICE NEXT SUNDAY

Rev. Donald Morrison Will Deliver Address at the Methodist Episcopal Church.

In accordance with Governor Sleeper's proclamation setting aside Feb. 2 as Memorial Sunday for Michigan's martyred sons in the Great War, a union service of Cass City churches will be held next Sunday morning at 10:30 at the M. E. church.

It is expected that a large audience will assemble to manifest appreciation for the noble devotion and sacrifice of those who died that freedom might still live. A special invitation is extended to all soldiers and sailors to attend the service.

The following program has been arranged: Song, "America;" invocation, Rev. J. W. Fenn; male quartette; scripture reading, Rev. S. Cormany; solo, Ray Yakes; memorial address, Rev. Donald Morrison; male quartette; song, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds;" benediction, Rev. J. D. Young.

GREENLEAF PIONEER DEAD

Daniel McIntosh Passed Away at Battle Creek January 28.

Daniel McIntosh, one of the early pioneer settlers and lumbermen of Greenleaf township, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Obee, at Battle Creek on Tuesday, January 28, following an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. McIntosh was born in Enver-shire, Scotland, 87 years ago. He emigrated to Canada in 1849, settling at Park Hill, Ont., and in the late fifties came to Greenleaf township where a few years later he was united in marriage with Miss Ann Ross. Eight children were born to this union.

Before his marriage, Mr. McIntosh was a sailor on the Great Lakes and was extensively engaged in lumbering at Big Bay, Mich. After moving to Greenleaf, he continued lumbering confining his activities in that line to territory bordering the Cass river. He also engaged in farming in that township. About 18 years ago, he came to Cass City to reside and lived here until after the death of his wife in August, 1909. Later he went to Battle Creek to make his home with his daughter.

The remains were brought to Cass City Wednesday night and Thursday morning funeral services were held at St. Columbkil church at Sheridan, Rev. Fr. Dolan officiating. Mr. McIntosh leaves five children, Matthew McIntosh of Duluth, Neil McIntosh of Ashland, Wis., Duncan McIntosh of Battle Creek, Mrs. John Uebelhoefer of Sea Breeze, Florida, and Mrs. John Obee of Battle Creek.

SHERIFF MORRIS ARRESTS MOONSHINERS NEAR CARO

John Sfecta and his buddy, Theodore Bizovi, Austro-Hungarians, who have been working a farm near Caro during the past season, are in jail. Simultaneously a whisky still and a large quantity of corn and raisin mash and some whisky were seized and also brought to the jail.

Sheriff Morris says a search of the house revealed a still in the basement and one of the men beside it industriously shelling corn from which to make more mash.

The outfit as seized by the sheriff consisted of a complete still, two coffee boilers of 10 and 20-gallon capacity, 50 gallons of raisin mash, a similar quantity of corn mash, a half gallon of whisky and a crate of raisins. The men had secured their raisin supplies from Caro merchants, distributing their patronage among the various stores with individual purchases as high as 20 cases. It had been learned that some grocers suspecting the use to which such quantities were likely to be put refused to supply the demand while those furnishing them claim they were told by the men they were about to open a store.

In the report of the annual meeting of the Cass City Fair in last week's Chronicle, the name of A. J. Spittler was inadvertently omitted from the list of new directors elected. Mr. Spittler was selected to fill a three-year term.

LETTER FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

HOUSE WILL SEND COMMITTEES ON PERSONAL VISITS TO INSTITUTION.

Speaker Read and Lieut.-Gov. Dickinson Named Committee to Investigate Jackson Prison.

By William Lee Calnon.

—Lansing, Mich.

The legislature, after fussing around for a week over an error in its resolution of January 2 ratifying national prohibition, has had to ratify it over again in order to have Michigan listed down in Washington as in favor of it. An effort by Rep. Lewis to have a resolution instructing the clerk of the house and the secretary of the senate to correct the language of the original resolution, fell down in the house. The members felt misled over the first error and wanted to be sure that it was not being steered wrongly a second time.

An opinion therefore was sought from the attorney general's office and Deputy Attorney General Doherty informed the members that in his opinion the original ratification was a nullity, the exact amendment submitted by congress not having been passed. The only logical thing to do, he held, was to forget the first vote and do it all over. His advice was accepted. The vote was unchanged from that of January 2, except that about twenty house members were away on visits to state institutions. Among them was Rep. Daprato, one of the three "no" voters of the legislature. The other two "noes", Rep. Fred J. White, of Detroit, and Rep. John Holland, of Gogebic, stuck to their old vote.

The net result of the bobble over the original resolution is that Michigan loses its rank as the sixteenth state to ratify and lands somewhere along about fortieth in the list of states.

Two big state commissions have made their reports to the legislature and submitted bills based on their findings. One is from the budget commission and the other from the compensation law commission.

The latter recommends increasing weekly compensation from the $10 and $4 maximum and minimum to $14 and $7; increasing the percentage of compensation from 50 to 60 per cent of the weekly wage; extending medical attention to three months; reducing the waiting period, for compensation to start, to the eighth day; increasing total disability maximum from $4,000 to $6,000, to be paid in 500 weeks, as now; and allowing the state accident board, in its discretion, to extend payments in partial disability cases beyond 300 weeks. The budget commission recommends standardizing salaries and wages paid by the state. It shows that some of the most important of the state's responsibilities are in the hands of men who are only paid $2,500 to $2,800 a year, and that justices of the supreme court are paid still on a basis fixed in 1893, getting less than many circuit judges in the state are paid.

The state's expenses for food, clothing and coal at state institutions are due to fall at less ten per cent in 1919.

SOLDIER AMPUTATES INJURED LIMB WITH JACK KNIFE

James Dobson of Grant township is in receipt of a copy of the Orangeville (Ont.) Banner which contains the following account of a reception which was given at Paisley in honor of his nephew, Pte. John Dobson:

"A rousing reception was tendered Pte. John Dobson in the town hall at Paisley on his return home. He was the first Paisley soldier to return since hostilities ceased. Ex-Reeve Ballachev presided and called for brief addresses from Revs. S. W. Diehl, G. C. Little, M. Neilson and Messrs. A. Pearce, D. McKenzie, I. Shoemaker and H. McKerracher. A musical program was rendered. Pte. Dobson was modest in his remarks, but to be in khaki, minus a leg, speaks volumes.

"Pte. Dobson is one of the four sons of Mrs. Thomas Dobson of Paisley who enlisted in the 160th Battalion and went to France in 1915. He took part in a number of engagements, and at the battle of Arras in August was struck by a shell, almost severing his right leg. As no one came to his assistance for some time he was brave enough to act as his own surgeon, cutting off the limb with his jack knife. His three brothers, Ptes. Frank, Robert and Edmund, are now on their way to Germany, fortunate in not being wounded."

MUST FIGHT WET AND DRY BATTLE OVER AGAIN

Ratification of Amendment to Federal Constitution Said Not to Alter Local Situation.

The battle between the wet and dry forces, which electors believed was all over when the necessary number of states ratified the federal prohibition amendment a few days ago, must be fought all over again in Michigan at the election in April, leaders of the dry forces within the state declare. If the so-called "wine and beer" amendment is adopted, it is averred by the Drys, all restrictive legislation that up to this time has been enacted in Michigan, will be automatically repealed, leaving the door open for John Barleycorn to set himself up again in every county in the state.

"If the so-called 'wine and beer' amendment is permitted to slip by, it will overthrow all that has been done up to this time to control the dispensing of liquor within Michigan," in the opinion of Grant M. Hudson, who is again leading the Drys. "The acceptance of the federal amendment by a majority of the states does not settle matters. If the proposed amendment being submitted by the wets was to be adopted, it would become effective in May, 1919. Inasmuch as the war prohibition measure does not become operative until July 1, 1919, we would certainly have the saloon back with us for two months, while if for any reason the war prohibition bill is not enforced, it will mean that liquor can come back until Jan. 16, 1920. Finally, if nationwide prohibition is delayed by litigation, or for other reasons, it will mean that the saloon will be back with us indefinitely. That is why we are making a fight, and attempting to muster at the polls in April every vote we marshalled in 1916, and a few more."

MRS. ARTHUR HELWIG.

Died at her home on Pine street on Friday night, Jan. 24, Mrs. Arthur Helwig, aged 90 years.

Mable Murphy was born in Grant township Aug. 19, 1888 and has spent her entire life in Grant and Elkland townships. On Dec. 17, 1905, she was united in marriage with Arthur Helwig and to this union four children were born. Mr. Helwig passed away June 9, 1918, and one child preceded the parents in death. Besides her three children, Grant, Clinton and Marion, Mrs. Helwig leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Murphy, and two brothers, Arthur and Harold Murphy, all of Cass City.

Mrs. Helwig has not been strong for several years and when influenza entered the household Mrs. Helwig fell a victim and the disease early developed into pneumonia. Her death followed a week after that of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Murphy, who resided in the same home. The family has been sorely stricken and they have the heartfelt sympathy of the community.

The funeral of Mrs. Helwig was held Monday afternoon, Rev. J. D. Young conducting the service at the chapel in Elkland cemetery.

The family of F. A. Bigelow experienced quite a shock Saturday afternoon when their daughter, Eleanor, in trying to extinguish the flame on a stick of sealing wax with which she had been sealing a letter, blew the flame in such a manner that the lace curtain at the window near by ignited and was instantly burned, setting fire also to the shade, curtain pole and waste paper basket, making altogether an angry looking conflagration. A call for the fire department was sent in, the company appearing promptly upon the scene. However, before their arrival, the fire was extinguished by rapid work and a liberal supply of water.

George Granger of Gaines, Mich., has been trying for the last week to locate a team to suit his fancy in this section and has driven a great many miles in his faithful "Henry." In returning from Unionville Saturday evening, he ran without warning upon a new high culvert with such force as to damage the front axle of his machine quite badly. Mr. Hilliker, one of Mr. Granger's neighbors, who has been with him on the trip and was beside him in the front seat, was seriously cut on the upper lip and nose. They proceeded to Gageton where the necessary stitches were taken by Dr. Sugnet and the wound dressed so that the party continued to the home of Fred Hoagland where the gentlemen have been stopping.

A very large social event took place one day recently at the home of Mrs. Isabel Miller when her grandson, George Everett Moore, entertained, it being the occasion of his first birthday. Everything was arranged in harmony with the day, the birthday cake bearing one dazzlingly beautiful candle and those present at the party numbering one. This distinguished person was none other than Ira Dean McCoy, jr., age one and a half, son of Lieut. and Mrs. I. D. McCoy. All went well for a very few moments until without ceremony the guest of honor grabbed the spoon from the dish of mashed potato and proceeded vigorously to lambaste the head of his host, scattering generously butter and mashed potato with every well directed blow. The host demurred and a scene followed which would make Jess Willard green with envy. After several bouts of like character which the busy mothers endeavored each time to quell, the grand finale was enacted when the guest of honor pinched his finger in the belt of the sewing machine and was uproariously and ingloriously removed to other scenes, the host was retired for the night and blissful quiet reigned in the Miller household.

and twenty per cent in 1920 on food and clothing, and from twenty to thirty-five per cent on coal, owing to the end of the war, it is stated, and these reductions were taken into account in estimating expense for the coming two years.

Highway development is especially urged by the commission, which made liberal allowance for this in its estimates owing to the wide demand for good roads. A uniform accounting system is absolutely necessary to a successful budget system, the report declares.

The legislature has passed and sent to the governor the Connelly amendment to the constitution empowering the state to issue bonds up a $50,000,000 limit for good road purposes. This amendment now is sure of a place on the ballot at the election in April.

The house has passed and sent to the senate the bill to make November 11 a permanent legal holiday to be known as Liberty Day. It is expected that all the other states will make this day a holiday, too, and then an effort will follow to have the date of Thanksgiving Day changed by the president in his annual proclamation from the last Thursday of November to November 11 thus combining two holidays into one.

Senator McNaughton, of Kent, has introduced an interesting resolution to amend the constitution so that the state may expend as much as $5,000,000 in constructing and operating warehouses to hold farm products. The idea is to eliminate the middleman and bring the farmer and the ultimate consumer into touch, as has been the effort of the Non-Partisan League in western states.

Chairman Weissert, of the house military affairs committee, has introduced the bill designed to make the state constabulary a permanent Department of State Police.

The bill provides for a commanding officer of the troops who will be an appointee of the governor. All other appointments are to be made on the recommendation of the commanding officer. They include one assistant to the commanding officer, who will be the adjutant and quartermaster; six captains; eight lieutenants; twenty sergeants; thirty corporals; and one hundred and fifty troopers. The troopers may be dismissed from the service by the commanding officer when necessary, but the officers, after appointment on recommendation of the commanding officer, would be removable only by the governor and only for inefficiency or misconduct.

The sum of $375,000 a year is asked for maintenance of the state police. Salaries provided by the bill are $5,000 for the commanding officer; $2,500 for the adjutant-quartermaster; $2,400 each for the captains; $2,000 each for the lieutenants; $1,200 each for the sergeants; $90 per month each for the corporals; and $75 per month each for the troopers, except in their first six months of service, when it would be $65 a month.

An increase of $100 a year each for officers and $50 a year each for troopers is provided, for a maximum period of five years, increases to stop after that time of service. All applicants must be citizens of good moral character and able to pass satisfactory physical and mental examinations. They would have 24 days furlough each year.

The force would be equipped with uniforms, quarters and horses. The railroads and steamboats would carry them on requisition orders, to be paid later by the state. The commanding officer would establish local headquarters in various places about the state to which the troopers and their officers would be best located for efficient work.

The troopers could make arrests without warrants whenever they saw any law being violated and would assist local police about the state whenever possible. They are barred from accepting any fees of any nature for performance of their duties.

An interesting project is found in a bill introduced by Rep. Frank A. Smith, of Wexford county. It aims to create a "county board of educational assistance", to consist of the county school commissioner, secretary of the poor board and prosecuting attorney. To this board crippled persons desirous of learning some trade or get other training which would enable them to earn livelihoods, but who are without funds sufficient to see them through, could make application for assistance. The board could help them to the extent of $400 a year each, as well as in finding the proper place to learn. The bill provides that the state pay one-half the expense the county assumes in this line. It also is provided that those aided may repay the state and county afterwards, giving their notes if so desired.

A state purchasing agent, with a two year term of office, is created by a bill introduced by Rep. Young. Such agent would look after the purchase of all supplies, merchandise and articles of every description needed for the operation and maintenance of all state penal, reformatory or charitable institutions. Each institution would have a storekeeper to receive the supplies from the purchasing agent and look after their use.

The house is in an investigating mood these days. Not content with having under way a complete investigation of Jackson prison it has ordered another thorough inquiry into conditions at the Adrian school. This institution appears from reports of the house committee to be very run down at the heel. It has no modern lighting or sanitation and its whole system needs an overhauling, it is contended. The effort is being made to interest women's welfare organizations in the institution, so as better conditions there.

Rep. Aldrich has introduced a joint resolution to amend the constitution so that counties may, by referendum vote, abolish boards of supervisors and substitute the commission form of government. Senator Scully would have the constitution amended so that the state may establish an income tax. Rep. Weissert has put in the bill to make the state constabulary a permanent institution. Rep. Toepel wants a constitutional amendment to make voting compulsory.

Senator Tufts wants the senate to adopt a bill for a preprimary convention to be held in June of each primary year, so that each political party may recommend candidates for state offices to the primary voters. Several other bills have been put in to repeal laws allowing women to vote on bond issues, for school officials, and for presidential electors, these being deadwood now that women have gained full suffrage.

Bills galore are being introduced in both houses, the total for the first four weeks being around 150. Many of them are appropriation bills which the house ways and means committee and the senate finance committee are holding to compare with estimates submitted by the budget commissioners.

LELA ESTELLA PHETTEPLACE.

Lela Estella Phetteplace was born May 26, 1898, in the township of Evergreen, Michigan, and died January 20, 1919 at her parental home in Shabbona of pneumonia following an attack of the prevailing epidemic influenza. She at the time of death was 20 years, 7 months and 25 days of age.

October 9, 1913, she was baptized into the "Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints" by Elder Wm. Grice to which she was a faithful member; fought the good fight of faith until she finished her earthly career.

She leaves to mourn her loss, a father, mother, five brothers and two sisters, William and Frederick of Curran, Michigan, Benjamin, Montravill, and Richard of Shabbona, Mrs. Maud McLaren of Raymond, Washington, Mrs. Fern Nichol of Shabbona, Michigan, besides an unnumbered host of friends whom she won by her winning ways.

A short service was held at the home in Shabbona, Wednesday at 11:00 a. m., January 22, in charge of Elder Thos. L. Clark of Carsonville. Interment was made in the Novesta cemetery.

Announcement has been made that a memorial service will be held at the L. D. S. church in Shabbona as soon as the ban from public services is lifted of which due notice will be given, that her many friends may be able to attend.

Be Kind and Patient.

There is more special grace requisite and manifest in watchful perseverance in little kindnesses and habitual patience at home, in abstinence from conversational disparagement of others, and in resistance to habits of sloth and undue self-indulgence in private life than in the performance of great public duties under the observation of multitudes.

From Ray C. Meiser.

Simmern, Luxemburg, November 30, 1918.

My Dearest Mother:

Well, it was a few days ago that I wrote George from this same place and now that we can tell where we are and quite a few other things which we could not write before, I thought perhaps I had better take this opportunity while near a stove and write you. We have been in this town almost a week now. The city of Luxemburg is about 20 miles from here. Some of the fellows received some passes for that city for a few hours. Some fellow did not get back in the limited time and I guess the result—no more passes. I expect we will leave this town any day now. Don't know how far we are going near the German border.

We are in the Army of Occupation now, and it is hard to say how long we will hold that position. We sometimes think the 42nd Division will be one of the first fighting divisions back. However, I think I will be there in time to eat some of those early potatoes. I sometimes think quite often of those 25 quarts of cherries that you have canned. Leave five quarts anyway for me. Am also dying for some roast pork, pancakes, etc. Will make Cass City some time in the near future. Hope the snow doesn't tie up the Polly Ann.

Well, what did you have for Thanksgiving dinner? We had a very good dinner of roast beef, gravy, lettuce, bread, coffee, jam and rice. Anything we get that tastes sweet fills the taste of an American A. E. F. soldier. We can buy some candy in this town but we have to pay for it. What you pay ten cents for in the states, you would pay $1.00 in Luxemburg. France or Belgium are not so high in their prices. Of course, the people here have a hard time to get anything to eat anyhow. Flour is very rare. We go out and fix up with some German woman before hand for a supper at night and we paid $4.50 for some ham, bread, jam, honey, coffee (with sugar and milk) and cabbage salad. So you see how things cost and how rare they are. Will be tickled when they take us away from Germany.

Just received two more of your letters, one dated 27th of October and the other one Nov. 4th. One had a letter from Grace in it and I also received gum in the same letters O. K.

Thank you very much! Also received a letter from Mrs. Adams in Pontiac where I got my meals for so long. The only thing we can buy reasonably in this town is writing paper, of which you now will have a sample. Am chewing some of your gum now. That one stick must be a new product. I never saw that kind before. I suppose that you will receive my last letter O. K. soon, written on two different occasions (dates).

I hope that nothing has happened to that gun of mine. I might sell it myself some time before the next war. I think that in about two weeks peace will be signed and then we might be on our way home. When you read of the 42nd Division (Rainbow) arriving in the states, then you can figure on me being home soon. We have worked hard and I think we have the right to go home first. It is hard to say whether they will keep Albert over here very long or not. I hardly think so if he has just recently left the states. I see they are sending some back all ready. I have seen enough to suit me. They can stop trotting me around any time.

I went over the top with the 42nd the first time on Sept. 12 early in the morning, in the Toul Sector near St. Mihiel. We reached our objective the second day. The Verdun front was our next and then a few days before the armistice was signed, we chased the retreating Germans to the Meuse river. One fellow was killed in our company just a few hours before the armistice was signed.

It is the eye of God that has brought me and other boys out safe from that terrible war. I have had a most wonderful experience and it will be of great value to me and I have learned a big lesson. I don't see how anybody can like a foreign country. The U. S. for me all of the time. We were 13 days in coming across the ocean and landed in Liverpool. Rode across England in train to Southampton and crossed the English channel to Cherbourg, France. Will be glad when I can climb in one of those real American coaches. They ought to be getting rid of that "flu" in the states by this time. Sorry to hear of so many of our young men dying.

Well, hope George gets a good job in Detroit if he decides to stay there. So you are hiking around country too. Wish you were over here to talk German for me, although you would not like the hiking. I have had some real German soup. Albert's brother has been to hospital and came back to Co. A while back. His mail was sent to the hospital and now he has to wait until they send it back. He has some letters from home and is anxious to get them. I saw him this morning.

You can save me some of that cabbage also that you have in cellar. You can have the sauer kraut. Ha! Ha! So Jake Anthes is all O. K. yet. He has been over here quite a while. Every time we passed a bunch of engineers. I always looked for him but never yet have seen him. We hear now we leave this town in the morning and maybe I will have to carry this letter around a few days until they get settled again. The next town we may not have such a nice place to write letters. Hope so, anyhow. Well dear mother, will close and hope this will find you all well at home. I am as ever your loving boy.

From Norman J. McGillyvray,
Hevilliers, France,
January 2, 1919.

My Dear Aunt:

Just a few lines tonight, while I have an opportunity, to let you know I am well and happy way over here in France, enjoying my stay very much but expecting and hoping to be home to see you all very soon.

We are very comfortably billeted in this little town of Hevilliers, located in a very pretty but not particularly interesting part of France, about eight miles from Gondrecourt, a city comparing in size to Bay City. We have seen quite a good deal of France mostly from box car doors and on foot. Fortunately I had an opportunity to "get into" the trenches before peace came and still more fortunately I came out safe and sound.

We saw our first service on the Alsace front not far from the border of Switzerland, and besides being on ambulance duty, we were also on duty in a large French hospital. The work in the hospital was very interesting even though I was on duty 12 hours at a time from 7:30 p. m. to 7:30 a. m.

The nurses are surely deserving of every bit of credit that can possibly be given them, for their work is hard and the hours are long. They are always cheerful and smiling as they go through the wards and their work is surely wonderful. The hospital was located in a small city called Hericourt, just a few miles from Belfort, a city particularly interesting because of its history. It is walled and fortified against attack and during the Franco-Prussian war played a very important part in stopping the German invaders.

Some of our fellows were lucky enough to pass through Doremy, the birthplace of Joan of Arc, and they took time enough off to visit her home. She is a great heroine in French history and every church and public building has her picture or a statue of her prominently displayed.

We were at one time in a very pretty town south of Paris named Senner. An old cathedral built in 1100 and an old castle were particularly interesting to us and we spent all our spare time in exploring them. We were in England for nearly a week; camped on the outskirts of Liverpool in a camp by the name of Knotty Ash. We went from Liverpool to Southampton and from there across the channel to Le Havre, France. Our camp at Le Havre was located on a high bluff overlooking the harbor.

So far in all our travels I haven't seen any of the fellows from Cass City but at one time we were only a few miles from where Eugene Schwaderer was located.

Well, Auntie, I haven't much more news of interest to tell you just now, but will save a heap to tell you when I get home. Just when our turn will come we don't know but we are patiently waiting and I am sure it won't be long. Howard Hoadley is still with us, but just now is spending a few days in the hospital with a badly ulcerated tooth. Until later, I will close with love and best wishes.

Your nephew,

NORMAN.

THUMB NOTES.

Marriages in Tuscola county seemed much fewer than common during the year 1918, yet the market finished strong the last two months of the year. During 1917 exactly 250 couples were yoked and up to November 1, 1918, the records showed only 150 in Tuscola county. Then business became brisk in the office of County Clerk Bowles, and 45 licenses were issued in two months, making the total for the year 1918, only 55 short of the year before. There was a larger proportionate decrease in the number seeking freedom from marriage vows, for 38 bills were filed in circuit court in the year 1917, while in 1918 the number reached only 26.—Caro Advertiser.

At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Sebawaing Farmers Co-operative association last Thursday afternoon it was decided by vote to build the association's proposed new elevator at Bach instead of at Sebawaing as had been planned. The sale of stock in the proposed venture is now going on and as soon as a sufficient amount has been disposed of to warrant it, active operations will begin.

The body of Chris Sauder, a farmer of Marlette township, was found dead in a field with a bullet wound through his chin. It seems that Mr. Sauder left his home Monday morning with his gun for the John Keys farm which he and his boys were working in connection with their own place, and as he did not come home, a searching party was formed and his body was found about 40 rods north of the John Keys barn, sitting by a stump with a bad bullet wound in the left side of the neck, just below the ear. If the shooting was accidental or intentional will never be known, but the family believe that it was not by his own hand, as he had shown no cause for such actions. He was a great sufferer from asthma and the belief is that he was taken with one of his bad spells and in some way the gun was accidentally discharged.

When the defalcation was discovered last fall, Wilson fled to Philadelphia and kept in hiding. He came back this week of his own volition and gave himself up.

HAVE YOU ORDERED YOUR FORD?

This coming season the SUPPLY of FORDS will be LESS than ever before. Whereas two years ago the FORD MOTOR COMPANY was turning out 3500 cars a day, now they produce but 1800. Whereas in past years our allotment reached 73 cars, this year we shall be fortunate to secure eighteen.

This coming season the DEMAND for FORDS will be GREATER than ever before. This territory has had but three new Fords since last July. The entire United States has had a similar proportion. Business has grown up dependent upon FORDS; doctors, traveling men, agents, livery men, mail men and hundreds of others must have them. With the reigning prosperity and the exit of the driving horse, others are able and anxious to buy.

Our allotment of cars, including trucks, is three cars per month for February, March, April and May, two cars per month for June and July. Against this allotment of sixteen cars, orders have been placed with us during the past week by Dr. F. L. Morris, George Cridland, Clayton Crawford and A. A. Jones.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Frank Hutchinson is on the gain after having pneumonia. Mr. and Mrs. McCaslin and family spent Sunday at Norman McLeod's and while there picked fresh pansies growing out doors. One doesn't need to go to California for fine weather. Ralph Byres visited his mother, Mrs. B. Byres, a few days. Little Donald Seeger and a number of little friends Tuesday afternoon celebrated his fifth birthday. After a few hours of play, they enjoyed candy and pop corn and lunch. A birthday cake with five candles was especially enjoyed by all. Donald received some present.
