Several auto loads of base ball fans from Cass City went to Elkton Wednesday afternoon to witness a game between Bay Port and Bad Axe. Both teams started a game at Bay Port recently which was not finished, owing to a dispute. Bad Axe challenged their opponents to a game on neutral grounds and Bay Port accepted. Elkton was chosen and such a game! Fans declare it one of the best they ever witnessed. No scores were made until the 7th when Bay Port secured one. Bad Axe claimed one the next inning, and the succeeding periods remained scoreless until the 11th when Bay Port tallied three more. A. J. Knapp of Cass City was one of the umpires at Wednesday's game.

At a session of the quarterly conference of the Evangelical church Friday evening, members of the conference took great pleasure in recommending to the state conference Roy Striffler, who will prepare himself for the ministry of that denomination. Mr. Striffler has been an active member of the local church, has served as Scoutmaster at Cass City and has been affiliated with several movements for the betterment of the community and his many friends wish him every success in his chosen profession. SEVEN MORE AUCTIONS SCHEDULED FOR SEPT.

Guy Allen Was Pleasantly Surprised by Financial Results of Auction Held Recently

Guy Allen is well pleased with the results of his auction sale which was advertised in the Chronicle for Sept. 3. Though farmers were busy at the time, his sale drew a good-sized crowd and his property brought better prices than he anticipated. For 12 cows, he received $400.00 more than he and his neighbors estimated they would bring, while his team of horses sold at a higher price than he expected. The sale's financial results were a pleasant surprise to the owner.

An error was made in the copy given in the Chronicle for the C. S. Lockwood auction sale on Wednesday, Sept. 17, which resulted in auction bills being printed which gave milk tests too low for the cows. The revised tests printed in the advertisement on page 7 show the higher and correct percentages.

Joseph Ardell has decided to quit farming and will have an auction sale of personal property 1 1/2 miles west and 1 1/2 miles south of Gageton on Thursday, Sept. 18. The list is printed on page 7. L. S. McEldowney is the auctioneer and C. D. Andrews clerk.

Five more auctions are scheduled for September dates and full particulars regarding them will be printed in the Chronicle in the next two weeks.

Mrs. Jesse Withey will have a farm sale in Elkland township on Tuesday, Sept. 23.

Samuel Robinson will have an auction on his farm in Greenleaf township on Wednesday, Sept. 24.

W. H. Lapeer will sell personal property on his Elkland township farm on Thursday, Sept. 25.

Jas. G. Quinn will sell his household goods at auction in Cass City on Saturday, Sept. 27.

R. N. McCullough will have a farm sale in Sheridan township Monday, Sept. 29.

FINE CORN CROP IS SURE FOR MICHIGAN

Chance for Field Seed Selection Pointed Out by the Michigan Agricultural College.

That Michigan farmers will harvest an unusually fine corn crop this year is the opinion of Prof. J. F. Cox, head of the Farm Crops Department at M. A. C., who points out that favorable weather has brought bright prospects to all corn growing sections of the state. Adverse conditions have resulted in poor crops for several years, but corn seems to have proved a success this season.

"The fine crop gives an unusual opportunity for selection of good seed corn this year," says Professor Cox, "and many farmers of the state will take advantage of the opportunity to improve their varieties. The best time to make this selection is in the fall before heavy freezes come, usually late September or early October. By going into the field and selecting good ears from the best stalks, growers can improve the strain of their corn greatly.

"Corn is Michigan's most valuable crop, and efforts to improve the varieties will add greatly to the wealth of the state. The old rule of 'like begets like' works out thoroughly with corn, and the farmers who take pains to improve their seed stock will gain both increased interest in their work and added profits.

"In the field in the fall is the only time to select seed, and many Michigan growers are planning to take advantage of the season's splendid crop in making careful selections for next spring's planting.

PT. AUSTIN WINS CO. CHAMPIONSHIP

HURON CO. LEAGUE WOUND UP FIFTH PLAYING SEASON LAST WEEK.

Last Contest Was "Any Man's" Game until Last Man Was Retired.

	W.	L.	P.C.
Port Austin	9	2	.818
Bad Axe	8	3	.727
Elkton	6	5	.545
Kinde	4	7	.364
Uby	4	7	.364
Harbor Beach	2	9	.182

The Huron County League wound up its 5th playing season last week at the county fair, the result of the race being in doubt till the last man was put out in the last game, Port Austin meeting Elkton in the game which was to decide the championship.

Elkton took an early lead, due to the wildness of Discher, but Port Austin overcame this in the 2nd by a massed attack of two walks, two sacrifice flies, and six hits, totalling six runs, enough, as eventually proved, to win by. That the Port Austin score was not larger was due to the able generalship of Ackerman, who "kept 'em high" on the Port Austin sluggers, 16 of the "Champs" going out by the aerial route. Cornell, on first for Elkton, had only 3 put-outs, a decidedly rare occurrence and the entire Elkton team had only 3 assists, another decidedly rare occurrence in any league.

A huge crowd witnessed the game, which was "any man's" game until the last man was retired.

Score by innings: R H E
Pt Austin 0 6 0 0 0 0 1-7 10 2
Elkton 3 0 1 0 0 0 1 0-5 4 2

Batteries: Discher and Sayres; Elliott and Ackerman.

Umpires: Brown and Palmiter.

FRANK HORNYAK CAPTURED NEAR SAGINAW FRIDAY

Murderer of Owendale Farmer Found Prowling in Field Near Saginaw.

Word has reached authorities at Bad Axe that Frank Hornyak, the Hungarian beet weeder, who shot and killed John Hook, a farmer residing near Owendale, in a quarrel over the possession of a hat, August 2, was captured by Sheriff Baskins, of Saginaw county at Frankenmuth, Friday.

According to the report, Hornyak was captured in a corn field, where he had been seen prowling for several days. It was suspected for a time after the crime had been committed that Hornyak was hiding in a swamp near Mud Lake but the place was searched systematically by local officers and private searching parties and no trace of the man was found. There is $500 reward for his capture.

LARGER FARMS USE INVESTMENT BETTER

Small Operators Show to Disadvantage in State Farm Management Records.

The larger farms of Michigan are more efficient users of the capital invested and return a higher percentage income than their smaller neighbors, according to facts gathered from the records of a large number of farms, scattered all over the state, by Chas. H. Graves, farm management specialist at the Michigan Agricultural College. Farms having a labor income of over $1,500, invariably showed a capitalization of more than $12,000. These farms showed labor incomes of 13 per cent on the capital invested. On the other hand, farms which showed incomes of less than $1,000, returned an average of only 5 1/2 per cent on the investment, showing clearly that the management of the smaller places did not equal that of the larger.

"Several reasons for this difference in efficiency are very apparent," says Mr. Graves. "For one thing, there was no work on the farms of low income to utilize the time of the farmer during the winter season. This puts a double load on the crop season, as the profits of this period must support the farm over the entire year. Again, there was not enough livestock to make use of the unmarketable crops, such as low quality hay, straw, and corn stover. The large income farms all showed enough livestock to utilize these crops in conjunction with a proper amount of good feed.

"Irregular rotations and small fields are other faults found in studying the Michigan records. The low income farms had a large number of crops with a small acreage for each. This is an expensive practice, since so much time is lost in changing from one crop to another, no one crop being large enough to give a full day's work on an operation. This increases the cost of production beyond the profit point."

BURGLARS MAKE VALUABLE HAULS IN TWO TOWNS

Take Silks from Brown City Store and Clothing from Vassar Merchant.

Silk and cotton merchandise valued at $1,500 was stolen from the Co-Operative store in Brown City Tuesday night. The burglars entered the establishment through a basement window, and carted the goods away in an automobile. They backed the machine up to the window and to all appearances worked at leisure for there are no indications of haste. The theft was not discovered until the store was opened Thursday morning.

Henry Price's clothing store at Vassar was burglarized Thursday morning. The loot consisted of 30 overcoats, all the trousers in the store, shoes, shirts and neckties, valued at nearly $2,000. Three Sicilians were arrested in Saginaw as suspects. These men had a Ford motor truck which officers say had been positively identified as the truck used in carrying away the stolen clothing.

Since the property on the shore south of Trescott street came into the possession of Harbor Beach, to be used as a municipal bathing beach, there has been considerable filling in and grading done and other improvements have been made on this frontage. Hundreds of loads of cinders and gravel have been dumped into the low places at the foot of this street; a large tile drain has been built to take the place of the unsightly and dirty creek and the road to the beach has been nicely graded. All this is but the first step in making the beach a presentable and sanitary place for bathers. If the persons owning boats, timber and wood on this beach, would remove their property, which is now disfiguring the beach, such would be appreciated by the people of the town.—Times.

Vassar has experienced some waterless days and lightless nights at spells during the past six or seven days, owing to the light and power plant being out of commission for one reason or another. The plant will not be down altogether, however, because it usually has a knack of getting back into the harness again after the operators have been gassed sufficiently. Orders have been placed this week for the new boilers and engines of the steam plant to be installed and in a few months' time the village will enjoy the good graces of the new steam power plant.—Vassar Pioneer.

Four of the Port Austin teachers who signed contracts to teach in that town this year and but recently repudiated their contracts, may be sued for damages if the advice of the state superintendent of public instruction is followed. In all such cases he advises a suit for the damages resulting to the district.

Unionville Creamery company, a Michigan corporation, has sold its effects to Messrs. Haak, Neilson and Mossner. The corporation will be dissolved. The plant, which has been idle for several years, will be reopened by the new owners.

Herbert Leon Cope has completed his work with the Coit-Alber Chautauqua, and returned to Caro. He expects to enjoy several weeks with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Cope, before resuming his lectures.

MAKE SURVEY OF RELIGIOUS WORLD

SANILAC COUNTY COUNCIL ORGANIZED WITH REV. SIMPSON AS CHAIRMAN.

Church Groupings and Areas without Christian Influence to Be Reported.

Rev. H. A. Simpson has been appointed chairman of the county council which will undertake a general survey of the religious conditions and needs of Sanilac county, as part of the world-wide surveys being made by the inter-church world movement of North America. This survey will be made as soon as the organization of a county council and other preliminary steps now under way have been completed.

Every Evangelical denomination has been invited to co-operate in the work. The survey is to be made by competent investigators who are satisfactory to all the churches. The object is to obtain an impartial and complete summary of all the facts relating to the condition of every church in the county as to its finances, its membership, whether growing, stationary or declining, whether it has a resident pastor, what families are included in its ministry, how often its people are visited by pastors, what families in the county are without pastoral oversight, etc.

The surveyors are also expected to report upon church groupings, upon conflicts in parish boundaries, upon areas without Christian influences, upon community, centers or social buildings, such as lodges and granges, and upon any other matters that will throw light on the problems of the churches in this county.

The county council will be expected to assemble this information. It will then be sent on for tabulation to the state council but, in the meantime, the facts will be laid before all the leaders in all the denominations of the county who will be invited to attend conferences where local programs to fit the ascertained facts will be worked out by common agreement.

What is being done in this county is being repeated in every one of the 3,000 rural counties of the United States. Similar studies of religious conditions abroad are being made through the missionaries in the field, through governmental forces, through private agencies and through the headquarters of the great American missionary societies. In the course of time the interchurch world movement expects to have on file a map of every county in the United States which will show every railroad, trolley line, road, village, hamlet, church, lodge, school and where every isolated farmhouse stands in relation to some church or other religious center.

The interchurch world movement is a cooperative effort of the missionary boards, church extension societies, and similar benevolent agencies of all the unified Christian program. It is not a movement for organic church union. On the contrary; it expects each denominational society to preserve its own identity and work with its own money through its own machinery. The idea is to make a systematic and complete study of everything that is to be done and to have all the constituent bodies get together and agree upon which part of the work each is to undertake.

The movement originated last fall with certain members of the foreign missionary board of the Presbyterian church, south. Acting upon suggestion from these men, 135 representatives of various missionary societies of many denominations met in New York City in December. This conference decided that something of the kind could be done and appointed a committee of 20 leaders in various churches to work out a plan.

The committee of 20 worked out a system of co-operation it thought would be satisfactory. To consider it, a general conference was called at Cleveland, O., in May. This conference was attended by 500 delegates representing 200 different religious agencies. It amplified and approved the plan and, from that movement, the interchurch world movement was an accomplished fact. The general committee includes such well known leaders as Stephen Baker, Fred B. Smith, James M. Spears, Warren S. Stone, F. P. Haggard, Raymond Robins and John Willis Bair. S. Earl Taylor, executive secretary of the Methodist centenary organization, is general secretary. John R. Mott, international head of the Y. M. C. A., is chairman of the executive committee.

Realizing that no adequate program of cooperation could be worked out until all the facts were known, the movement already has begun its surveys. The foreign survey was put under the general care of Ralph A. Ward, authority on China. The home survey was put in charge of R. E. Diffendorfer, who did similar work for the Methodist centenary.

The home surveys will be divided roughly into two parts, rural surveys, city surveys. The rural surveys are under the direction of Dr. Edmund de S. Brunner, of the Moravian church, a leader in rural matters, and Hermann N. Morse of the Presbyterian board of home missions. City surveys are under the direction of W. P. Shriver, Henry P. Schaffer, William H. Patterson, and Walter Laidlaw. In addition there are surveys of special problems, such as the immigrant question, the foreign-language colony, work among negroes, work among isolated people, such as those of the mountain countries, etc.

For convenience, the United States has been divided into ten geographical groups, each with a regional director. For each state a council, consisting of one clergyman and one layman from each denomination, and representatives of all the other interests involved is formed. This council sits in an advisory capacity for the county councils. The county body is really the basic unit of the whole organization.

After the county councils have completed their work and forwarded the results to the state council, that body will make up a complete report and analysis for the entire state. This in turn will be forwarded to the national organization for final analysis, after which, it will be possible to get at the salient points of information for any locality in the United States that may be desired and, at the same time, to study the general phenomena of particular groups and environments.

The interchurch movement is the first organization to undertake such a task on such a large scale.

FARMERS HIT HARD BY THE HIGH COSTS

Good Management Only Salvation for Growers—All Expenses Are Up.

Only by better management can Michigan farmers meet the problems forced upon them by present high costs, declare experts who have studied conditions in the state. Increased prices on everything the farmer uses are forcing growers to make the best possible use of their investments, and many are now keeping account books in an effort to find the profitable and unprofitable branches of their business.

Charles H. Graves, farm management specialist at the Michigan Agricultural College, who has studied reports from all over the state has the following to say of conditions:

"The 'High Cost of Living' hits the farmer on both cheeks. He must live and he must produce. High wages to all that he hires and high prices for all that he buys mean less and less profits unless farm prices advance accordingly. The farmer must depend more and more upon his ability as a manager in meeting the situation.

"One of the first steps toward better management is a farm record or account book. Farmers who have kept records in the past are using them now in solving problems that confront them. The most elemental records are a help in making future plans and cutting to a minimum the enterprises that do not pay a profit.

"The time necessary to keep an account book is so small that no farmer can afford to be without one in the future. Practical books are available now in any part of the state through the county agents. The beginning of the year will soon be at hand, and farm work will be slowed up enough from what it has been during the summer so that time can be taken to make the inventory and get the record under way."

NEW MEMORIAL DAY ASKED BY FORDNEY

Congressman Would Have September 30 for Tribute to World War Dead.

J. W. Fordney of Michigan wants Congress to establish by law a new holiday in commemoration of those who lost their lives fighting for democracy during the Great War. He has introduced a joint resolution to set aside September 30 each year as such a memorial holiday. He believes this should be observed in every state in the union and all our possessions as well as in all the warring countries out of respect to the boys in the army and navy and marine corps, who gave up their lives. He declares that this will in no way interfere with Memorial Day which is the day set aside for Civil War heroes. He has chosen September 30 because it comes at a time of year when weather is usually good and when there is no other holiday.

My Baby's First Summer

WHEN the days and the nights began to be hot and sultry, my baby began to droop. He lost a little weight and he was fretful at night—he who had always slept so well.

I thought a baby properly cared for should be as well and as happy in summer as in winter, so I asked my doctor.

"Why, of course," he said. "We'll give him Nestlé's Milk Food."

So now I know I don't have to be afraid of hot weather. With plenty of cool baths and light enough clothing, and with Nestlé's digesting easily in that little stomach, my baby goes happily on to health and strength.

Nestlé's is just pure milk in Nestlé's is pure milk in powder form that is already modified and does not require the further addition of milk. Always pure and safe, always uniform, and free from the dangers of home modification. Nestlé's has stood the test of three generations and has today the largest sale of any baby food in the world.

While taking his cattle out to pasture last Thursday morning at about 7 o'clock Joseph Sepelt, living 4 miles east and 1 1/2 miles north of Vassar, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. He had taken shelter with his dog under an oak tree when a bolt of lightning struck the tree with the disastrous result. His wife alarmed at his long absence and, following the lead of the dog which had returned to the house in a dejected attitude, she found the dead body of her husband. Joseph was a young man of 30 years of age and leaves a family of three small children besides some brothers and sisters at Detroit.—Vassar Pioneer.

A convention of the Michigan branch of the Baker Heirs Association was held in the auditorium of the high school building at Brown City on August 30. This association was organized and incorporated under the Michigan state law June 6, 1916, for the purpose of investigating and prosecuting the claims of the heirs of one Jacob Baker to a large fortune, consisting of bonds, cash and real estate left by this ancestor of the present living Baker heirs and situated in the cities of Philadelphia, New York, Maryland and in several of the New England states. This property while not so valuable 175 years ago when it came into possession of Jacob Baker and others of his relatives by the same name as compensation from the government for services rendered as surveyors and other attaches of the English and Dutch governments at that time, it has grown in value to the amount of millions of dollars.—Banner.

Only Things That Prevail.
What a fallacy to define riches as anything sensual! For all that is of the flesh fleshy and of the earth earthy must one day perish like weeds that are slain by the reaper in the hot sun. Only love and truth and beauty and their divine fellowships are immortal, and only these are worth the husbandry of the undying soul.—Exchange.

Health Board Notice. We have had several cases of influenza in this community this fall and feel it advisable to notify the people at this time THAT IT IS UP TO THE INDIVIDUAL. The person who gets influenza is the one who is below normal in general health. Now it is up to you to live in such a manner that you will resist this disease—fresh air, good wholesome nourishing food, proper amount of rest and sleep in a well ventilated bedroom are most important. The history of the disease in past year goes to show very clearly it is not a crowd disease to such an extent as was proclaimed last year.

In all government there must of necessity be both the law and the sword; laws without arms would give us not liberty but licentiousness, and arms without laws would produce not subjection but slavery.—Colton.

External Substitute.
Here is a famous Chinese humorous story. A traveler stopped at a house and asked for a cup of tea. Having none on hand, the host sent his son out to procure some. Meanwhile the hostess put a pot of water on the fire to boil. The son did not return, and it became necessary to add some more water to the pot. This was done several times. The son still remained absent, and finally the wife said to her husband: "Inasmuch as the tea does not seem to be forthcoming, perhaps you had better offer your guest a bath."

French Goddess of Liberty.
The Goddess of Liberty was created by the French convention in 1793, and was enthroned by a public ceremonial. It is not known who personated the goddess on the occasion, but probably she was dressed in the French tricolor, red, white and blue, with cap and flowing skirt of classic design. The French liberty cap was red, the American is blue, with a border of gilt stars on white. The figure of Liberty on the early American coins had loose hair, tied behind, a sort of free and easy gown, with low neck and short sleeves and sandals without heels.

ROAD COURTESY IS THING OF THE PAST

Automobile Drivers Are Becoming More and More Selfish Every Year.

That the standard of motor-car driving has sadly deteriorated during the last few years is a fact which cannot be denied. It is only necessary to drive or walk along one of our great motoring roads for a distance of a few miles in order to observe the danger that exists to all road users from the type of motor driving prevalent today.

The etiquette and courtesy of the road appear to be things of the past, and the days when motorists were one large clan—always willing and pleased to help each other when in need—and when they remembered that others shared equal rights with them on the broad highway, seem to be fading away, never to return.

From observation it would appear that many war-taught drivers are ignorant of the primary rules of the road, and have never learned to use their imagination, or to acquire that "road sense" so essential to good and safe driving.

One of the least observed rules, the disregard of which is without doubt the cause of the greatest number of bad accidents, is that whereby side roads are subservient to main roads.

Here is a definite law—dependent in no way upon etiquette—yet it is neglected time after time by the new motorist, to the danger of himself and other wayfarers. The high road possesses the right of way in every case, and if a driver wishes to enter it from a by-road it is for him to ascertain whether his passage is free or not, since he has no right to check any vehicle proceeding along the correct side of the more important road.

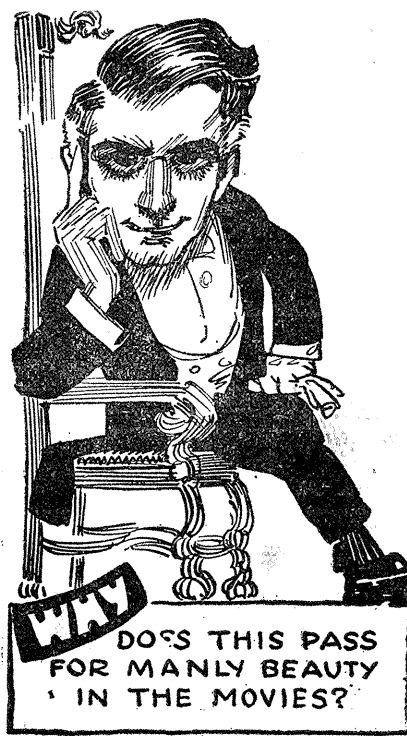

A motorist traveling along the main road should, of course, give proper warning of his approach, and if he is a good driver his imagination will automatically keep him on the alert against anyone attempting to cross his path.

The rule in regard to main and side roads is apparently not so widely known or realized as it should be, and since any accident from its nonobservance generally means a right-angled collision, the results are correspondingly grave.—Detroit Free Press.

CHURCH NOTES.

Greenleaf Presbyterian—Paul J. Allured, Minister. Service on Sunday at 3:00 p. m.

Juniors and sophs of the local high school invited 10 freshies to a party Monday evening, calling at the boys' homes for the "guests" with a motor car. The freshies were conveyed to the lumber yard where a Tecktonius silo was erected to demonstrate its good points to farmers. The lads were locked in the silo for a two-hour period by the upper classmen. They promise to have revenge on their tormentors.

Powerful New Explosive.
A new and very powerful explosive, which may be used in mining and for other purposes, is lead azide, a salt of hydromitric acid. The acid forms a great number of salts, as mercury azide, silver azide and sodium azide. Large crystals of lead azide and mercuric azide have been found to be very sensitive to mechanical shocks, the sensitiveness increasing with the size of the crystals. Even the breaking of a single large crystal is said to bring about explosion.

Utilization of Waste.
A distinguished chemist once observed that "My lady writes tender sentiments to her lord with ink made from an old copper coffee pot on paper made from old collars." The utilization of waste products, which adds enormously to the wealth of the world, furnishes many such fantastic adaptations.

Collecting That Living.
The world owes a living to every man who feels that he owes the world for his living. It is a sort of exchange in which the world deals as fairly as it is dealt by.

J. W. Murphy, retired stock man, West St., Cass City, says: "When my kidneys were weak it always affected my back and made it weak. Doan's Kidney Pills always gave me quick relief at such times. My back pained me so much that I couldn't stoop over and at those times, it was agony to move at all, because of the sharp pains that shot across my kidneys. Mornings when I got up, I felt played out, just miserable and without much ambition. The kidney secretions burned terribly and passed frequently. Blinding dizzy spells would come over me and things would whirl around before my eyes. However, Doan's Kidney Pills always came to my relief. They relieved the painful backache and put my kidneys in good shape. They took away the dizzy spells and other troubles, too."

FIRE BLIGHT FOUND IN STATE ORCHARDS

Pear and Apple Trees Killed in Fruit Belt--Control Methods Given by M. A. C.

Reports from plant pathologists who have been making investigations in various fruit counties of the state indicate that fire blight, which has been less frequent in the last two years than formerly, is now developing rapidly in pears and to less extent in apples.

"It is possible to check the disease and prevent loss of trees if the blight is cut out at once," says "the plant disease men of the college. "The cuts should be rather severe, since the blight germs may have worked their way some distance down the limbs and yet give no sign on the outside. After the cuts are made and the trees are completely freed from blight infestation, the wounds should be disinfected with some disinfectant such as 5 per cent carbolic acid or corrosive sublimate, 1 to 1000. Then the trees should be given a second inspection in a week or two to catch any new outcroppings of the disease."

"The disease is sprinkled through nearly all the pear orchards in the southwestern part of the state," said G. H. Coons of M. A. C. "A few minutes work will eliminate the disease from any tree and save it. It will do more if the clean-up is thorough in an orchard and in a neighborhood. In this way the danger from fire blight can be practically eliminated."

Detailed information on control methods for fire blight may be had by
