PASSING OF REV. JAMES W. FENN

ENLISTED FOR THREE YEARS IN DARKEST DAYS OF REBELLION.

Served as Pastor Many Years in M. E. Church in Massachusetts and Michigan.

James W. Fenn was born in Billington, Bedfordshire, England, Apr. 2, 1841, and passed out on Nov. 22, 1919. As a youth he came to America with his parents and found a home in Long Island, N. Y.

At the first call for three-year troops during the darkest days of the Rebellion, he enlisted and was attached to the 1st Connecticut Heavy Artillery with which command he served his full three-year period.

Notwithstanding his having never attended a public school, he resolved to gain an education and after being mustered out from army service, he with little but that determination and a worth-while brain, entered Wilbraham Academy at Wilbraham, Mass., later taking a higher course at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.

The call to serve Christ had found him at an early age in a little Methodist church and obedient thereto, he became a fervent follower of the Saviour, and to the great church which so early had turned his feet to God, he offered himself as a minister at the completion of his college training, serving as his first regular charge the church at Williamsburg, Mass. Among the cities of Massachusetts where he was stationed by the New England conference were Shelburne Falls, Worcester, Medford, Whitmansville, Spencer and Newburyport.

In 1888 he was transferred to Detroit conference with East Tawas as his first Michigan church. Other churches served by Mr. Fenn in this state were those at West Branch, Lapeer and Williamston. From 1894 to 1899 he served as minister of the local M. E. church and during his pastorate the present edifice was erected. This was just previous to his work at Williamston from which place he again removed to Cass City after having been granted retirement from the active relation by his conference.

The year 1917 marked the fiftieth anniversary of his marriage to Elizabeth Persis Hawley, daughter of Alanson Hawley, one of the editors of the Springfield Daily Republican and a son and daughter were born to them. The son, Charles Fenn of New York City, was twice at his father's bedside during the long weeks of suffering, coming once from Seattle when it appeared the end was near. His wife, Jean Whitcomb Fenn, has been a constant and unflinching comfort in the bereaved home since the deceased was first stricken in July.

The daughter, Caroline Fenn Bigelow, has had the privilege of almost constant companionship with both her father and mother since childhood as her insistence caused them to locate in Cass City upon their retirement from active pastorates and they have shared a home since her marriage to Fred A. Bigelow of this place. The wife, son, daughter and granddaughter, Eleanor Fenn Bigelow, survive him, together with the daughter-in-law and son-in-law above mentioned, also his sister, Mrs. David Lawson, of Merrick, L. I., N. Y.

He counted among his first friends the old boys of '61 to '65 and was a Past Commander of Milo Warner Post, G. A. R.

Marked by beautiful simplicity were the funeral services held at his late home on East Main St. on Tuesday, the 26th. Rev. O. R. Grattan, his pastor, assisted by Rev. Donald Morrison of the Presbyterian church conducted the last rites and interment was made in Elkland cemetery.

HERE'S AN "UNOFFICIAL" THANKSGIVING MESSAGE

A Detroit boy in writing his parents at Cass City of his coming home for the Thanksgiving feast, prepares them for the on-slaught by the following:

A Proclamation.

Ladies and gentlemen! It is with the greatest ambition and desire of my life I quote the following:

One of the foremost events of the near future is the twenty-seventh of November, 1919, and which comes but once a year.

I have decided to declare this a day of feast. It is the earnest desire of all animals both living and dumb to strive for a living. A living is composed of food and nourishment. Without this it is like living in Detroit and eating at restaurants.

There are many ways of obtaining food. It may be had with or without money. But mine is a case of no money. Therefore I have declared

November 27, 1919, at 1:00, noon, as a just time for such action. Mother and Dad, I will appoint you in charge of the day.

The following are a few suggestions of palatable victuals. This may be served in courses—

Soup, crackers, bread, butter, fried carrots, squash, mashed potatoes, gravy, beet pickles, cheese, apple pudding, chocolate cake, cider, jello, good coffee, candy, music and toasts.

Remember the date, November 27, 1919, at one o'clock sharp.

Will close hoping my plate will be as large according as my stomach.

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN IS NOW ON

Representative of Local Society Will Be at Chronicle Office Saturday to Receive 1920 Dues.

The Red Cross campaign for 1920 membership is now in progress in this community. Solicitors are securing memberships in the village, but will not travel the country districts. For the convenience of those who reside in the country or those who have been missed in town, a representative of the local Red Cross will be at the Chronicle office tomorrow (Saturday) to issue receipts for memberships.

The Red Cross officials give the following reasons why people should continue to support the organization and retain their memberships:

It furnishes emergency supplies and conducts recreations for about 150,000 sick and wounded soldiers, sailors and marines, in fifty-seven hospitals in the United States.

It helps discharged soldiers resume their former places in life, and assists them in matters involving insurance, bonus, allotments, compensation and the government plan of education.

The Red Cross is spreading first aid and accident prevention in schools, industries, stores and other plants.

It is spreading the principles of good citizenship in the schools thru the Junior Red Cross.

It has mobilized its forces for relief in time of flood, fire, famine or other disaster.

Its aim is to co-ordinate all other existing agencies formed to promote health and happiness and to co-operate with them in carrying out welfare programs.

Because the war work is not yet completed abroad, and the Red Cross cannot yet lay down its burden of overseas work.

CLIFFORD MAY HAVE NEW DEPOT IN NEAR FUTURE

Congressman Cramton Has Been Working All Summer for Junction Station.

Congressman Cramton is hopeful that there will be early action in the matter of the construction of a railroad depot at the junction of the Grand Trunk and Pere Marquette railroads at Clifford. He has been working to that end through the United States Railroad administration all summer.

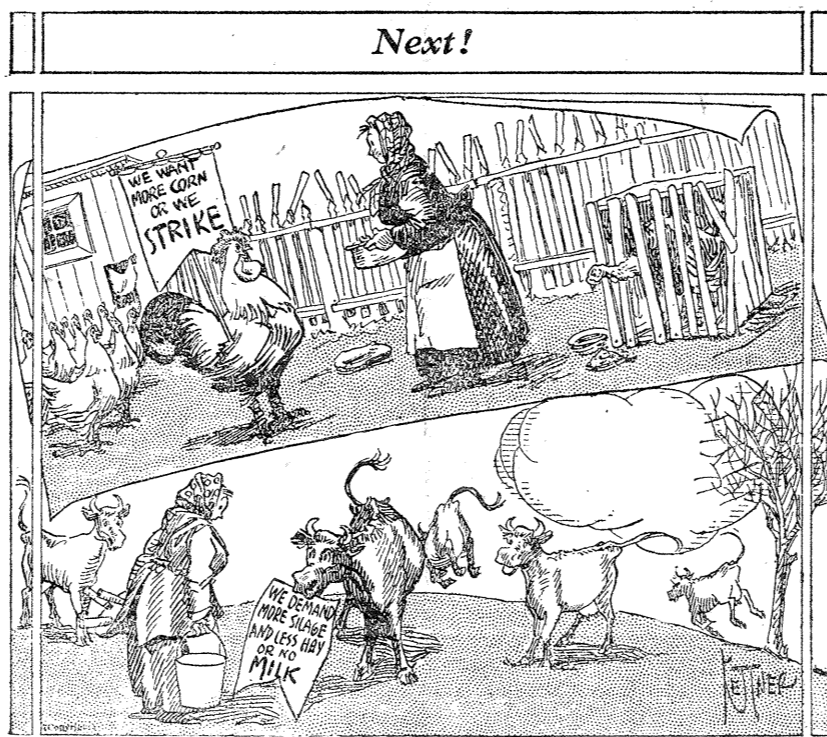

At first, the plan for the new depot was blocked by the Pere Marquette people maintaining that they were unable to furnish money to finance construction.

But the matter was not dropped by the congressman and he kept nagging the railroad administration, and they in turn the Pere Marquette railroad, until now he has been assured that the Pere Marquette has given its assent to the construction of the new depot and Regional Director Hardin has been instructed to hurry the work as much as possible.

AUTOMOBILE OWNERS SHOULD TAKE NOTICE

The automobile license law was amended by the last legislature, the rate on weight for both trucks and regular automobiles being raised to 35 cents per hundred. The rate on horse power for both trucks and pleasure cars was fixed at 25 cents per horsepower. This makes a very substantial increase in the cost of licenses for every make of car, and should be taken into consideration when filling out applications. Many owners are filling out applications at the old rate and sending them in. They all have to be returned and in the aggregate it costs the state several thousands of dollars in postage and clerical help. As the people are "the state," and auto owners are a part, getting to be a big part, of the people, every mistake made adds to your tax bill.

Around Our Town

Twenty members of the Tuscola Co. Y. M. C. A. went to Flint Thursday to attend a state convention. Frank Dodge, Chas. Wood, Colin McRae and Ray Colwell are among the number.

Among the 30,000 rooters for the Minn.-Mich. football game at Ann Arbor Saturday were B. J. Dailey, A. J. Krapp, H. T. Crandell, Dr. P. A. Schenk and Dr. I. D. McCoy, who motored down Saturday and returned Sunday.

Lawrence Keegan has leased a part of the west wing of the foundry building on West St. and will move his blacksmith tools to the new location next week. This site will afford more room for Mr. Keegan's work and he can accommodate his many patrons to much better advantage.

Robt. Ballagh, one mile north of New Greenleaf, will have an auction on Tuesday, Dec. 2 and D. Burton, 1 1/4 miles northeast of Gageton, on Thursday, Dec. 4. Both sales are advertised in detail on page 6. Thos. Flint of Greenleaf township will have a farm sale on Wednesday, Dec. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Tuesday evening by entertaining 11 of their friends at an oyster supper. The evening was spent in music and social chat, the guests doing ample justice to the bountiful spread prepared by Mrs. Hall and departed at a late hour, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hall a happy anniversary and many more of them.

A miscellaneous program will be given at the meeting of the Woman's Study Club next Monday afternoon, Dec. 1. Mrs. F. E. Kelsey and Mrs. L. L. Wheeler will tell "What the Allies Gained by the War"; Mrs. G. A. Striffler will give a paper on Portugal and Mrs. P. A. Schenk on Bohemia. Response, "A Woman of the Old Testament and for What She Is Noted."

Wm. Patrick, living near New Greenleaf, was taken to Sandusky last week, on a charge of stealing seven bags of oats and a stock canvass. One of Elkland township's road plows used on the road work 4 1/2 miles northeast of Cass City had been missing for a week and Commissioner Balkwell and Deputy Sheriff Bradshaw traced it to Patrick's premises and found the dissembled parts of the plow buried in his cellar. Patrick was found guilty for the theft of some cattle from Krapp Bros. in 1916, but was adjudged insane and confined to a sanitarium, and although having left the sanitarium, he still seems to be suffering from kleptomania.

The beautiful Straube home on Seeger St. was the scene of a jolly gathering Monday afternoon when the Woman's Study Club enjoyed its first social affair of the year with Mrs. G. H. Burke mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. E. W. Jones was in charge of the afternoon's program, and under the direction of Mrs. Chas. Day, the guests were divided into three divisions by drawing numbers. The first group constituted an orchestra which produced some exceptional music. The second group displayed great talent in millinery art. Mrs. A. D. Gillics winning the prize for the most artistic creation and the third division wrote Thanksgiving poems. Mrs. J. M. Dodge being awarded the prize for the best one. Mrs. B. J. Dailey then superintended a story-telling game which produced much merriment. Following this, Mrs. John Holcomb entertained the ladies with a reading and Mrs. L. O. Hoxie with a vocal solo, both of which were greatly enjoyed. Both ladies responded to encores. About five o'clock the refreshment committee with Mrs. I. A. Fritz, chairman, served a luncheon of chicken salad, wafers, coffee, cakes and ice cream.

The silver medal contest held in the M. E. church at Deford Friday evening was largely attended. There were four contestants and their work was highly enjoyed. It required close judging to determine the winner of the medal, which was awarded to Truman Tibbals, jr. A musical program of duets by Mrs. A. H. Higgins and Miss Hazel Mead and solos by Anna Bell Tibbals and Miss Mead was well rendered and heartily encored. There will be another contest, with the program repeated, held at the Evangelical church Tuesday evening, Dec. 9. The Cass City W. C. T. U. greatly appreciate the support of the Deford Union in helping to raise the Jubilee Fund.

SCISSORED ITEMS.

Sandusky and Marlette are said to be the only two towns in Sanilac running on central standard time. Many Sandusky citizens have expressed their desire to change to eastern standard.

On his 46th wedding anniversary, Monday, November 17, William Nash sold the farm near Pt. Austin on which he had located on his 3rd wedding anniversary, 43 years ago. The 80 acres which he purchased for $1,000 at that time were sold for $9,000 Monday to Jacob Navok.

That each church in Bad Axe should appoint a member to be a part of a civilian committee to see that all the patients in the hospital were supplied with flowers was the suggestion of a prominent business man, says the Tribune, after he had witnessed the pleasure with which they were received by the patients Sunday afternoon when the Knights of Columbus sent flowers to all the wards that were not supplied.

Many times the connection between school and home is maintained in but two ways—the monthly report card and a special report in case of "trouble." The latter, many times, gives the pupil, parent and teacher an opportunity to get together in a really successful "Mutual Understanding club." The report card too often degenerates into a mere formality. Realizing this, plans are being made to have a series of home-school gatherings each month. The school will furnish a program and some parents or school patron will speak. J. E. Wallace will start the work by an informal talk next Monday at 9 a. m.—Pt. Austin News.

A L. Wright recently purchased a farm in Chandler township for which the tenant pays $500 rental, and the other evening he came in to hand Mr. Wright his check for the rent, he said that he had threshed from five acres of the 80. 184 bushels of beans that brought him $662, and had sold 260 tons of beets at $11 a ton, besides the revenue from the other sources. Fred Woodworth, state dairy and food commissioner also has 240 acres near this same farm in Chandler township from which his tenants harvested this year 1,009 bushels of beans, 300 tons of beets, 600 bushels of wheat, 2,800 bushels of oats, 1,200 bushels of barley and 100 tons of hay, on which a very conservative estimate of the worth has been placed at $13,680.—Tribune.

Norman Rich of Custer like many if not all Sanilac county farmers, and elsewhere has experienced at various times with agricultural projects. Mr. Rich used to be a white bean grower but had become discouraged several years ago with the uncertainty of the crop, specially as seed has been extremely costly of late years. Last spring acting on the suggestion of an agricultural writer, he obtained thru the Sandusky Grain Co., 232 lbs. of red kidney bean seed, sowing about four and a half acres. His crop proved a most successful investment for he recently threshed 126 bushels and the beans are worth about $11.00 per bushel, being quoted at $11.50 on the city market. Mr. Rich would be perfectly happy now, if his whole farm had been planted to red beans.

CANDIDATES GALORE.

The announcement that Thos. J. Moore will be a candidate for the office of sheriff in Sanilac county at next year's primary, has revived gossip as to other candidates and the names of J. S. McDonald, Harvey House, Don Graham, of this city, James Greenan, of Bridgehampton and Walter Smafield, of Brown City, are being mentioned as possible competition. There are probably others who have an eye out for the office, hence the field will be well filled with aspirants before the campaign fairly begins. Just what the public wants has not yet been determined but the public must be satisfied.

Harold Phelps, the present drain commissioner, will be a candidate to succeed himself. There are several as well as the county clerk himself, who have a hankering to record the proceedings of the circuit court, the board of supervisors and other duties appertaining to that office.—Tribune.

GOVERNOR NOT LIKELY TO CALL EXTRA SESSION

High Cost of Living Problem Not to Be Solved in That Manner.

Unless Governor Sleeper receives a more convincing argument than has been advanced thus far, it is not likely that he will attempt to solve the high cost of living problem by a special session of the legislature.

The committee of prosecuting attorneys named to draft legislation to curb profiteers has not reported yet, but the governor is of the opinion that inasmuch as many of the alleged profiteers are doing an interstate business that the federal government could accomplish more than legislation by the state.

The governor held a conference with Representative Thomas Read, speaker of the house, concerning the proposed special session. After the conference the governor did not indicate that a special session would be called.

BRINGS BACK INSPIRING REPORT OF Y CONVENTION

Y. M. C. A. Doing Great Work in Several Countries and Among Indians.

Frank Dodge, one of the 5,000 delegates at the International Y. M. C. A. convention at Detroit, brings back inspiring reports regarding the big gathering. He says:

"Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Major General Summerall and John R. Mott were among the 'big men' at the convention. After listening to the first two named who were well acquainted with the Y service overseas, we became convinced that the severe criticism of the Y overseas was unwarranted and the reports of its shortcomings greatly exaggerated.

"The Y is doing great work among the Indians in the west. Two Indian delegates gave strong appeals for furthering Christian work among the tribes. The association has started work in Mexico and has made satisfactory progress in a short period. Splendid reports also come from Australia and China. In the latter country, the work in progressing rapidly through education lectures on science and sanitation, but more help is greatly needed. The convention enjoyed music by two male quartets who sang in the huts in France during the war.

"Saturday evening, I attended an older boys' conference in the Fort Shelby hotel. There were 40 of the boys from several states and Canada present. Steps were taken to form an International Older Boys' Conference. "The convention closed Sunday evening with evangelistic services in several of the Detroit churches when noted Y workers conveyed the message and overseas men led the singing."

MILLINGTON MAN IS REGAINING SIGHT

Millington Gazette: Chas. Minns, who went to Chicago some time ago to have a cataract removed from his eye, is getting along fine. The operation was very successful and Mr. Minns can now see quite well. A letter received states that a watch was held at a distance of two or three feet from his eye and he could tell the time at that distance. His many friends will be glad to learn he has regained his sight.

The J. C. Penny store at Lapeer used four pages of the Lapeer County Clarion recently in advertising its wares to the people of that vicinity. The Penny Co. is one of the largest users of printers' ink in the country, a very good argument of the efficiency of newspaper advertising.

HURON SHORE PIKE NEAR COMPLETION

STRETCH THROUGH FORESTER THE LAST TO GET UNDER WAY.

Huron Shore Pike Should Be a Reality by the First of July, 1920.

Automobilists in Huron county will be interested to read the following article from the Deckerville Recorder, pertaining to The Huron Shore Pike.

W. H. Jenks of the Huron Construction Co., Pt. Huron, was a guest at the Hotel Peplow Wednesday night where he was interviewed by a representative of the Recorder. The Huron Construction Co. has a contract on the Huron Shore Pike just north of Forestville and Mr. Jenks stated that the work would soon be completed. Other contracts along the shore are nearing completion and the larger part of the pike will be completed this fall from Harbor Beach to Port Huron. Poole, Hunt & Moses, who had the contract on three miles south of Forestville, have just recently completed their job which has been accepted by the state inspectors and pronounced one of the best jobs of road engineering in this section of the state. The contract called for many heavy cuts and deep fills and was one of the most difficult pieces of construction along the shore. Those who have had occasion to travel over this road are enthusiastic in their praise of the firm for the efficiency of their work.

The work all along the line is being pushed with greater vigor and the Huron Shore Pike should be a reality by July 1, 1920. The work in Forester township is about the last to be started and the bids for graveling three miles at the south end of the township were opened Tuesday.

The construction of the nine miles of the road in Forester township has been made possible through the efforts of the Huron Shore Pike Association of which B. F. Huestis of Harbor Beach is secretary. The expense of constructing the road through this township was so great that it could not be assessed against the road district and it was necessary to solicit outside subscriptions. So successful was Mr. Huestis in his campaign that the funds were raised by donations from private citizens along the shore from Mt. Clemens and Detroit.

ROY T. STAFFORD

Highly Respected Citizen of Brookfield Laid to Rest Wednesday.

Roy T. Stafford, a highly respected resident of Brookfield township, died at the home of his father-in-law, T. H. Wallace, in Cass City, on Sunday evening, Nov. 23. Funeral services were held at the Wallace home Wednesday afternoon and interment was made in Hillside cemetery near Gageton.

Mr. Stafford was born in Perry, Mich., on May 22, 1836, and came to Gageton in 1900 and from that village moved to his farm near Owendaale where he has since resided. He was united in marriage with Miss Zuleika Wallace on June 26, 1912, and to this union three children were born, Blanch E., Nile W. and Norris T. Mr. Stafford had always enjoyed perfect health until about two weeks ago when he was suddenly taken ill with what seemed to be hemorrhage of the brain. He was brought to the hospital at Cass City two days after he was stricken, and later at his request, was removed to the Wallace home where his death occurred.

Mr. Stafford was a devoted husband and a kind father; to his many friends, the soul of friendship. He believed in scattering flowers in the pathway of his fellowmen and let into the dark places of life the sunshine of human sympathy and human happiness. No words of praise are too great for his splendid character and one realizes in the death of this young man that it is not the number of years one lives but how he lives them that count for the most in life.

Besides his wife and three children, he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Stafford and two brothers, Clarence and Lloyd, all of Brookfield. One sister, Mae, preceded him in death 19 years ago.

COUNTY AGENTS GET RAISE.

As a result of the law passed during the last special session all county agents must be reappointed by the governor. These appointments are made solely on the recommendation of the state board of corrections and charities. Under the new law county agents receive $5 per day. The old rate was $3 per day.

DEFORD.

Oscar Valentine works in Detroit. Lorenzo Gage of Detroit is spending a few days here. There are many suffering with colds; some so ill they are confined to their homes. Russell Bettis was a Gagetown visitor on Sunday. Charles Henderson, sr., is in rather poor health again. Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Daugherty have returned from their Royal Oak visit. Beets still continue to come in to the town, but the end is near. The state road east of here shows the wear of heavy loads this season.

We hear that Wm. Parks, jr., has gone to Detroit to labor for the winter.

Our potato market continues at $1.10 but we have so few buyers there is no trouble.

Word from Plains, Mont., tells of snow falling there more than a month ago and very severe winter.

Benjamin Sharp is making an effort to get his sugar beets to market. The crop has been neglected in care-taking and harvesting is late.

We thought beach and maple wood were a thing of the past in this locality, but we see Brother Crosby of the Bargain Store has a nice pile of it.

As we gather sentiment from the farmers—the sugar beets have been a paying crop, but the chickery raising they will sweep into the "dust pan of oblivion."

Readers of Chronicle, hear this and "weep aloud for joy." From Dearborn Independent: "The bears this year are lightly furred and the squirrels have stored comparatively few nuts, indications of a mild winter.

When R. E. Johnson returned from Pontiac, he was accompanied by a valuable canine. Not a type of the hare trailing "grue" but fierce looking in visage and no doubt would make a No. 1 guardsman for a nervous family.

Do you remember that some years ago Morley Palmateer erected a building east of the Hack hotel for farm tools? It has been lately occupied by R. E. Johnson. E. A. Cones has bought and is refitting it—R. D. Lewis doing the work. 'Tis 20x30, and will be a fine structure when completed. The front will be used for a barber shop and the balance—well, perhaps for a ten cent counter.

We took a beet fresh from the soil, cleaned it well, cut off the top, weighed it in the hardware scales, 52 ounces; put it on the ground in the shade, left it there ten days, weighed it on the same scales, 39 ounces. A loss of one-fourth in avoirdupois, but no loss of sugar, the wise man tells us. Let the raisers notice, it had the same chance to hold itself good of beets in pile covered with tops.

If we wish to be good citizens let us hold class meeting and set our time pieces together. Three different times make confusion. When a man says "I will be ready at 12 o'clock," 'tis a heavy note to hear advanced citizens say, "well, you mean sun time, standard time or fast time." Perhaps they tried something of the kind before I was here for I remember the saying when a kid "Too many cooks spoil the broth."

Four seeds I drop in every hill; One for the worm to harm, One for the frost to kill, And two for the barn.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

A delicious way of serving beets, the tender young ones, is to cook them until tender; then chop and return to the fire, pour over a well-seasoned French dressing and serve as a vegetable.

Creamed Eggs With Sardines.—Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter, add one-fourth of a cupful of bread crumbs and a cupful of thin cream, bring to the boiling point, then add two hard-cooked eggs finely chopped, a half a box of sardines freed from the skin and bones, and salt, pepper and paprika to taste. Bring again to the boiling point and serve at once.

Drop Cookies.—Cream one-fourth of a cupful of shortening, add one-third of a cupful of ginger sirup and half a cupful of strained honey with one egg slightly beaten. Mix and sift two and three-fourths cupfuls of flour with two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar, one teaspoonful of soda and half a teaspoonful of salt. Add to the first mixture, beat well, drop from the tip of a teaspoon onto a buttered sheet and bake in a moderate oven.

Spanish Ragout.—In a deep casserole put some fat or oil, slice a few onions and add a clove or two of garlic, a little mace, salt and pepper, brown well then lay on top of these vegetables a pig's liver with very little water, just enough to keep from burning. Cover and cook two hours. The liver will shrink and absorb most of the contents of the pan. When cold it slices nicely.

Newport Pound Cake.—Cream seven-eighths of a cupful of butter, add one and a half cupfuls of flour gradually, and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat the yolks of five eggs until thick and lemon-colored and add one and a half cupfuls of powdered sugar gradually. Combine the mixtures, add the whites of the eggs beaten stiff and sift over one teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat thoroughly, turn into a deep buttered cake pan and bake one hour in a moderate oven.

Mustard Pickles.—To a gallon of vinegar add one-half cupful of mustard, one cupful of salt and two cupfuls of brown sugar. Drop in the pickles as they are gathered; cover with horseradish leaves.

SIR BENJAMIN BACON.

Nick and Nancy had gone to visit their cousins Jack and Marian. These children lived in a town. It was neither a very big city nor was it a very small village. It was just an in-between town, but they lived at one end of the town where people kept chickens and pigs and had real barnyards and could get their eggs for breakfast themselves.

While Nick and Nancy were there they often had talks with the barnyard creatures. They were visiting their cousins for several days, and they always liked to make friends with the animals as well as with people. The animals told the children of their ways and their habits and of what they liked to do and what they didn't like to do, of how they planned to teach their young and so forth.

Of course they didn't put their talk into words such as you and I know, but Nick and Nancy understood and so can any girl or any boy who watches and studies animals and who likes all the different creatures under the sun. They can be so friendly if only we will understand them! And Nick and Nancy did understand them.

They knew that the pigs talked by grunting and by pushing each other around and by sounds and actions instead of words, for after all actions do count for more, don't they? It was someone who must have been very wise who said that years and years ago. Well, the talks the different animals had with Nick and Nancy were not talks of words, but they were real talks, things they showed by their ways which told the children their stories.

And Nick and Nancy always like to ask you to share their stories or adventures with them and, too, like to hear about yours.

Well, the day was very rainy and it was very muddy in the barnyard. School, which had only just been started for the fall, was out for the day, and Nick and Nancy had been going to school with their cousins during their visit. They were all giving the pig pen a great party. A party to Nick and Nancy and their cousins meant, of course, as it means to anyone, a party where there are games and where there are goodies to eat afterwards. And the pigs feel just the same way about a party—except that they like to leave out the games.

"This is good of you," said Sir Benjamin Bacon, one of the pigs in their cousins' barnyard, "but I can understand it."

"Oh, you think you're so wise," said Sir Percival Pork. "What can you understand? I do not think it is so good of the children to give us things to eat. We deserve good food. We become fat and if we're eaten we'll be so good to taste. Even though I don't care about being eaten I can imagine how good I might taste."

"You're not thinking what I'm thinking at all," said Sir Benjamin, "and I'll also have you know that I, too, think this is no more than what we deserve from boys and girls—this afternoon tea, or afternoon food, or whatever you wish to call it."

"But where I show what a clever pig I am is in seeing the reason for all this. You see, pigs, friends of the Pig Pen Palace, or Mud Yard, or whatever you wish to call it, the children are doing all this so they'll be considered very nice. Grunt, grunt, squeal, squeal, it's a goodly joke."

"Oh, well," said Sir Percival Pork, "far be it from me to object to any reason they may have. Food is food and a pig knows that much whatever else he may know, and I take food as it is given and do not care for the reason."

"I not only care for my tummy," said Sir Benjamin with a proud twist of his crooked tail, "but I am a thinker."

"I believe you are thinking more about us than even of the fact that we're giving you food," said Nick as he looked at Sir Benjamin.

"Ah," said Nancy, as she threw the last vegetable she had into the Pig Pen Palace, "that pink eye isn't looking at us sideways for nothing."

"I most certainly believe he is thinking about something," said Nick.

"I think so, too," agreed Jack. "So do I," chimed in Marian. And they were right.

Baby Wanted the Hole.

It was washing day, and John had been kept from school to look after the baby. Mother sent them into the garden to play, but it was not long before cries disturbed her. "John, what is the matter with baby, now?" she inquired from her wash tub. "I don't know what to do with him, mother," replied John. "He's dug a hole and wants to bring it into the house!"—London Farm and Home.

The Daylight Test.

Some fabrics which look very well by artificial light show cheap and tawdry in the morning sunshine. Do not decide on your friends after supper. The girl whom you find singing in the kitchen as she washes the breakfast dishes is worth cultivating, but you cannot feel so sure of the one who sings in the evening, by the light of the big shaded lamp, playing her own accompaniment. Test her by daylight before you bank on her.—Girls' Companion.

The New Edison

The living voice has been Re-Created true to life by Mr. Edison. It is impossible to distinguish the Re-Creation from the original living tone even when heard side by side.

Over two million people, including the most prominent critics in America, have witnessed public tests wherein the living artist has sung in direct comparison with his or her voice as Re-Created by Mr. Edison. Without exception, the verdict in every case is the same—with eyes closed or the room darkened it is impossible to tell when the artist is singing or when it is the marvelous New Edison you are listening to.

If you delight in beautiful furniture, then by all means see the charming exhibit of New Edison Period Cabinets. It includes Sheraton—Jacobean—Chippendale—William and Mary and Eighteen Century English Cabinets illustrative of the very finest examples of the craftsmanship of these golden ages of furniture designing.

Miss Elsie DeWolfe, America's foremost interior decorator, after examining the new line of Edison Period Cabinets volunteered this unqualified endorsement of them:

"The Period Cabinets which Mr. Edison has adopted are in pleasant contrast to the rather grotesque cases one so frequently sees—the superior furniture value of the Edison cabinets can scarcely fail to impress the lover of good furniture."

And they will impress you. So come in tomorrow and see these beautiful cabinets—hear the marvelous music Re-Creations. Both will delight and surprise you.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarem Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarem Oil is enclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease. Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

Tattoo Removal.
Various methods for removing tattooing are employed, the best of which consists in going over the tattoo marks with a strong solution of tannin, using the tattooing needle, then rubbing with silver nitrate crayon. Nitric acid, salicylic acid and glycerine, chloroform and a mixture of pepsin, glycerine, hydrochloric acid and water are other substances used for this purpose.

To Polish Glass.
A good polishing powder is made of rock alum, burned and finely powdered, five parts; levigated chalk, one part; mix and apply with a dry brush. There is nothing better to polish glass than chamois leather, or velveteen. They should be kept entirely free from dust, or grit.

Tired of Life Early.
Tired of life at ten was the excuse made by a boy at the Kingston (London) children's court when charged with attempting to commit suicide. Another boy saw him with his head on the railway track and they had a tussle before he could be got away.

Vision.
A man's vision is ever greater than his achievement; and literature reflects not so much a man's deed, as the spirit that animates him; not the poor thing that he does, but rather the splendid thing that he ever hopes to do.—Andrew Lang.

Language of the Cliff Dwellers.
The cliff dwellers, like so many other primitive peoples, because they had no written language, expressed themselves by means of signs and crude pictures, painted upon their earthenware vessels or upon the walls near their homes.

Wednesday, December 3---Gladys Brockwell in "The Pitfalls of a Big City"

According to a recent statement by the police authorities of New York, between 1,000 and 1,500 girls disappear in that city every year. And what is true of New York is proportionately true of every big city in the country. Thousands of young girls vanishing annually—thousands of homes bereft—thousands of parents broken-hearted. A tragic record, this, and one which leading sociologists regard as the foulest blot upon National progress—the crime against womanhood.

Be sure to see this picture.

RECRUITS FOR BROTHELS

Most of this great army of vanishing girls never are heard of again. Many are murdered and their bodies successfully concealed; but a very large majority, police research makes plain, go to fill the brothels of the land when the men responsible for their disappearance have tired of them.

It is a well-worn path they follow—from brothel to charity hospital, and thence to the dissecting tables or to Potter's field. In scores of cases every year, however, suicide renders the hospital unnecessary.

PLANS FOR BIGGEST ANTI-TBC CAMPAIGN IN MICHIGAN

Only six hundred sanatorium beds in the whole state of Michigan and 25,000 cases of the disease!

Those are the figures given out today by the Michigan Anti-tuberculosis Association. In its work of preparing for the big Red Cross Seal Sale that begins December 1, the state association has been delving into statistics, and the above are the amazing figures that it has discovered. That means that for every sanatorium bed in existence in the state there are a little more than forty-one patients. One of this number can be accommodated, and the other forty must get along the best they know how with cruder methods. A considerable proportion of that forty clamoring for each available bed will die, the state association declares, for the sole reason that they are not the lucky one in the forty.

Not all of the 24,000 persons in Michigan who have tuberculosis are fit subjects for sanatorium care, the state association admits. But even suppose that number were divided by ten, that would leave 2,400 who urgently need sanatorium care and there are only six hundred beds to accommodate them. As a matter of fact, many more than that need sanatorium care, as the death rate in Michigan is about 3,000 each year.

The need of more sanatoria is but one of the problems that confronts the Michigan Anti-tuberculosis Association. It is important and one of the main branches of activity, but there are several other important features of the work. The association wants to put on an anti-tuberculosis campaign in Michigan during 1920 such as the state has never before attempted. To be able to do that it will hold its Red Cross Christmas Seal Sale from December 1 to December 10, when it hopes to sell 15,000,000 penny seals. That is the only method the association has of financing the big campaign of next year.

Sapphires and Diamonds.

The sapphire is probably not as valuable as the diamond, roughly speaking, although comparison is difficult, owing to taste in color, and to the differing values as size increases. For instance, the price of a diamond rises in proportion to the square of its weight, a two-carat stone bringing four times as much as one of one carat. (Let me add that 15 1/2 carats equal one ounce Troy weight.)

"Henry's" and "Harry's."

While I know one Harry who was christened with disregard for the more dignified Henry and there may be other instances of the kind, there seems to be little doubt that the latter is the parent of the former name. England has always called its King Henrys "Harry." During the reign of Henry VI, who succeeded to the throne in 1422, there was a piece of money coined called the Harry noble, and in the time of Henry VIII there was a tiny coin named the Harry groat. "In Jerusalem shall Harry die," said Henry IV.—Chicago Daily News.

Prettily Described.

Junior, describing a beautiful, chubby little girl with two dimples in her cheeks, and also in her fat little arms, said: "Oh, daddy, you should have seen her. The smile it showed right on her face, and even her arms have got little smiles on 'em!"

Christmas Means Love

We cannot picture it without seeing the spangled Christmas tree girl with the faces of gleeful youngsters, glad parents, and happy bodies returned home from town or far metropolis. It sounds like bells and crackling logs and shouts of children. And even our old, round-shouldered, sorrow-ridden planet, with his eye knocked out on his cheek, pauses to smile from sea to sea, and love is everywhere rejuvenated.

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of that pain and lameness! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Many Cass City people have used them and know how effective they are. Here's a Cass City case.

Mrs. George Rohrbach, W. Houghton St., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of a very bad backache and put my kidneys in good shape some five years ago. My back was sore and lame and ached continually. Sometimes I thought it would break. It felt as though there were a ton of lead pressing down on it. Sleep was impossible and added to that I was bothered with my kidneys acting too frequently. They wouldn't act freely enough however and my ankles swelled so that I couldn't wear high shoes at all. I felt tired and drowsy. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills gave me good results so I continued taking them and after I had finished the first box I was cured of that backache and other troubles. I felt better in every way."

THE TWO IN ONE CO.

There formed a Thresher company, Known as the Elkland Grant; For four long years they've "rambled" with "Whit" as engineer, He's a jolly fellow and full of cheer, But the threshing season shortened and the bills kept comin' in, 'Till one said, "Buy a clover huller," So they called a meetin' at the president's house

The ballots that were cast showed the majority said "rouse."

Some said "We thresh for money" Some said "We're in for fun." That's the reason trouble began So the huller wasn't bought, Until—one sunny day a new company formed and said "We'll make it pay."

They started out as usual with "Whit" still at the wheel, The scheme worked so well, it made the kickers squeal, They saw the money rollin' in and jobs ahead galore

Of course it made 'em sore, To think they didn't have a "finger in the pie."

Those that saw their big mistake, another meeting called, And once again the plans were overhauled, After hours of confab, the guys that were in for fun, Said they'd go in for mon.

Now the Elkland, Grant and Huller Companies one

HOW EGG PRODUCERS CAN REDUCE LOSSES

Organizations Urged to Prevent Carelessness Which Permits Mongrel Stock, Dirty Nests and Other Undesirable Conditions.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

If egg producers would work together to reduce egg losses much of the $45,000,000 toll which results annually from careless handling could be eliminated. Egg circles, the name given to associations of egg producers, have been urged by the United States department of agriculture for a number of years. The work which these organizations can do now to save food is of the utmost importance.

Egg circles watch the egg crop, not only in its handling, but in its production. They strive to prevent the carelessness which permits mongrel stock, dirty nests, stolen nests of broody hens, unconfined males, late-maturing pullets, and other undesirable conditions to exist on egg farms. Every effort is made to reduce the high percentage of small, cracked, dirty, stale, heated and rotten eggs. Many marketing problems are also overcome.

One very successful organization of egg producers has a large incubator house of 12,000 egg capacity where early chicks are produced for the members at a low cost. This is done in order to obtain early maturing pullets, thus securing eggs during the fall when eggs usually are scarce. The company also has a receiving room for eggs where they are candled, sorted to weight—about 24 ounces to the dozen—packed in cartons and shipped on contract orders. Their eggs are all guaranteed to be according to grade, they advertise the fancy grades on their cartons and cases, and market prices are paid to the members. Twice a year dividends are paid each member in proportion to the amount of eggs marketed through the company and the time of year eggs are brought in, a larger dividend being paid per dozen for eggs brought in during the fall and winter than for those received during the spring and summer, estimated by months. A regular trade is established with discriminating consumers, with city clubs, with the best class hotels and restaurants, and with fancy grocers for a supply each day or week.

The reputation that is established enables the association to fix its prices at several cents a dozen above the regular market quotations, as fancy trade is willing to pay a premium for a guaranteed article. Most egg circles buy chicken feed and other poultry supplies in quantities for their members. While at first the number of eggs to be marketed may not warrant a central station with a manager to inspect, grade and market the whole product, the aim should be to develop to that state.

Specialists of the department of agriculture will aid producers in organizing community egg circles and also in problems of production and marketing. In Farmers' Bulletin 656 suggestions and forms are offered as aids in organizing and managing such co-operative associations.

POULTRY NOTES

Keep the chicks' quarters clean.

The flavor of the egg is influenced by feed.

Hens cannot carry parasols and chicks suffer from too strong sun.

Young chicks should not be fed until they are about forty-eight hours old.

The rooster does not help egg production—he merely fertilizes the germ of the egg.

The shell of the egg being porous, it will quickly absorb odors and these will affect the flavor.

The sex of eggs cannot be foretold, not one of the old-time theories in this particular having been proved.

Excessive heat will take the life and vigor out of a little chick, and will stunt the growing young stock to such an extent that they will never mature to full size and weight.

To Get Rid of Paint Stains.
Paint spilled on a doorstep is most unsightly, and is often rather difficult to remove. In that case make a strong solution of potash and wash the step, leaving the solution to soak in. In a short time the paint will become soft and can be washed off with soap and water. Then use cold water. Paint which has been left on for some time will yield to this treatment.

Movement of Sun and Moon.
Both sun and moon move about the earth from east to west. In reality the sun is fixed. The moon revolves from east to west around the earth as its satellite, and both earth and moon move in common around the sun which is fixed, though the motion of the earth about it makes the sun appear to move about the earth from east to west.

OAKLEY—THE FOREST RANGER—IN "EYES OF THE WORLD".

"The Eyes of the World," the photoplay from Harold Bell Wright's truly great novel, shown at The Pastime Theater tomorrow, (Saturday), is a big and intensely interesting production.

The Photoplay follows the author's story with exactitude, and the characters on the screen are the characters from the pages of the novel to the life.

It is unnecessary to say anything about the plot—let it suffice that it concerns a group of the most interesting characters ever presented.

A prologue gives ample explanation of the story proper, accounting for the actions and the punishment of the various characters.

Jack Livingston as the struggling artist; Kathleen Kirkham, as the designing Mrs. Taine; Jane Novak, as the pure-hearted Sybil; Edward Pell, as the sensuous Rutledge; Lurine Lyons, as the pitiful Myra Willard; Arthur Tavares, as her persecuted brother; Jack McDonald, as the disgustingly crippled Taine, and Fred Burns, as the likeable forest ranger, all do colorful, vividly splendid work in big roles.

The exteriors are things of beauty. The rugged, towering mountains of San Bernardino county and the orange groves and rose gardens around Redlands, the locale of the story, have been exquisitely photographed into scenes of rare charm.

It took eight months to film "The Eyes of the World" and the photoplay shows it in the careful working out of the smallest detail.

Story of the Cable Car.

In 1873, on August 1, the first cable car in the world was put into operation at San Francisco. The inventor of the cable system was Andrew Hallidie. The cable cars were introduced into Chicago eight years after their appearance on the Pacific coast and in 1883 were adopted in New York, Washington and Philadelphia and afterward in London.

To Save Charred Documents.

Documents that have been charred by fire are rendered readable if colloclon is poured over the charred paper. In a few minutes this dries and a tough, transparent coating is produced through which the printing can be seen. Bank notes and other papers thus charred have been treated in this way with success.

Fish of Lake Erie.

Lake Erie produces more fish to the square mile than any other body of water in the world.

Painful Insinuation.

Little six-year-old, to young aunt showing him a family portrait: "What a funny way that gran'pa is dressed, auntie!" Auntie: "That is the way gentlemen dressed more than a hundred years ago." Six-year-old: "And when gentlemen dressed that way what did you wear?"

Poor Advice.

"Don't marry the first girl you fall in love with; wait until you've seen the rest," advises the Montgomery Advertiser. Yes, and by the time you've seen the rest someone will have carried off the one you were in love with.

Put Character Above All.

One of the sayings of the late J. P. Morgan that will be remembered after his art collection's glories have been forgotten, was: "I will loan any amount of money to a man of character, but nothing to a man of bad repute, no matter what his security."

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham Bonner

SAVING A TAIL.

Nancy had been a little bit worried over Sir Benjamin Bacon's right eye, which had looked at her in such a funny way the day before.

"I'm sure that pig thought I was up to something," she said to herself. And that evening she spoke to her aunt, the mother of Jack and Marian.

"I don't believe that pig thought we wanted to give him a party at all, though the other pigs may have thought so. But he acted as though we were just doing it to appear fine and as though he didn't think we were at all."

"Oh," laughed Marian's mother, and Jack's mother, too, for that matter, "I imagine the pigs were glad to have a party and didn't stop to think why you gave it to them!"

Now, Nick was in Jack's class in school during the few days of the children's visit, and Nancy was in Marian's.

It was after school the following day that Marian said she had something quite special to do at home, and she wished Nancy wouldn't bother to hurry back but would stay and play with the other girls.

She helped so queerly about it that Nancy couldn't imagine what was the trouble. "Can't I come along, too?" she asked, but Marian said: "I'd feel much better if you played with the others."

Nancy rushed up to Nick as soon as he came out of school.

"Oh, Nick," she said, "something is the matter with Marian. She behaves so queerly. She said she wanted to have me play with the other girls, for she had something special to do at home. She really wouldn't let me go home with her. I would have been mad only she was just too queer for anything. I don't understand."

"Jack was the same way, Nancy; let's go back, anyway and see what is up."

They hurried down a street, running most of the way and then turned down another and ran almost all of five more blocks to reach their cousins' home.

Nick went half-way down the hall when he bumped straight into Jack coming up from the cellar stairs. He was holding in his arms the little fox terrier Marian had just bought a week before with her birthday money.

The dog was only a tiny puppy still, a lovely little soft white puppy with one brown ear and one black one and two black spots on his soft white back.

"Oh, did Buster get hurt?" Nick shouted. Buster, of course, was the small, gay, naughty, happy puppy.

"No, he didn't," said Jack. "And it's none of your business, anyway. You're visitors even if you are our cousins. And we'd planned about this long before you came."

"That's so," said Marian, who came up behind Jack, "if we want to have Buster's tail cut, it's no one's business but our own. It was just like you two to find out somehow."

"Going to have his tail cut?" gasped Nancy, and burst into tears.

"Yes, fox terriers look absurd with long tails," said Jack; "everyone says so. And, besides, he'll be all well in a week, quite well."

"And for the sake of a little style," said Nick, his teeth clenched tightly together, "you'd let that dog suffer for a whole week. I just wish I could cut off a part of your arm, that's what I do."

"The bones are soft," murmured Marian. "He'd look foolish with a tail, so everyone says."

"What do you care what everyone says?" screamed Nick; "you are two horrid, cruel children, and if you don't let that poor puppy, who has never done you any harm, and who is at your mercy, alone, we'll never be your visitors 'any more, and you'll never be friends of ours. We mean it, too."

And they did, mean it, for they didn't care what anyone thought of them as long as they saved the puppy from being hurt.

But after Nick and Nancy had told Jack and Marian of the suffering it would mean for Buster, of course they didn't do such a cruel thing. They weren't really cruel, only they didn't know that such a thing hurt dreadfully. They had never been told the real truth, and they were glad they had heard it in time!

Fear of Mistakes.

Do not let the fear of making mistakes be your hands. Of course we will make mistakes. No matter how excellent our purposes, it is inevitable that we should blunder. But every misstep should help to show us where the right path lies. Every mistake should teach its lesson. And as long as our mistakes are growing less frequent and are not repeated, we should feel encouraged.—Girls' Companion.

Great Faith in Prayer.

Little Edward, like other small boys, wanted a bicycle, and, having great faith in the efficacy of prayer, he had prayed the Lord to send him one. His parents, thinking him too young for a bicycle, bought him a tricycle, and then waited with expectancy to see what he would say when he discovered that his prayer had been answered. As his eyes lighted on it he threw up his hands in disgust and cried: "Oh, Lord, don't you know the difference between a bicycle and a tricycle?"

Postmaster Fremont in speaking of the apparent disregard of the American people for saving small amounts, said he remembers well when the first Polish emigrants came to Huron county and started working in the mills at Port Austin. After the wheat crops had been harvested they secured permission from the farmers to "glean" the fields. Every single head of wheat was carefully picked up and it was surprising how many sheaves were thus gained. Today these farms are owned by these same Polish emigrants or their descendants. The townships of Lincoln, Dwight and Paris are entirely owned by them, and about half of Hume, Sigel, Sand Beach, and Port Austin townships, while a goodly representation are scattered in the other townships of the county. The villages of Kinde and Uby are rapidly becoming entirely Polish in population.—Bad Axe Tribune.

IF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH EVER WAKES UP, LOOK OUT SATAN!—"BILLY" SUNDAY

"If the Episcopal Church ever wakes up—look out!!!"

Crouching grotesquely, his face close to the platform, shaking his fist in the direction of the nether regions, "Billy" Sunday, the Baseball evangelist, once hurled this warning to the Evil One, while thousands, crowded into a great tabernacle, watched.

"That moment is near—is here!"

This is the answer to "Billy" Sunday's implied challenge. It comes from the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas' Church, Fifth Avenue, New York; and one of New York's most noted preachers. He is a member of the Joint Commission directing the Episcopal Nation-Wide Campaign, and director of the Every Name Campaign, in New York.

A campaign to raise $62,000,000 in the Episcopal Church in one day—December 7; to recruit 1,500 new workers; to rouse every member to help the Church play its great part, greatly, in this age of reconstruction by expanding every phase of its activity in the next three years—upon this, which is the purpose of the Nation-Wide Campaign, Dr. Stires bases his answer to the evangelist.

In effect, Dr. Stires says to the world: "The Episcopal Church is awake." "The Nation-Wide Campaign is urgent," says Dr. Stires, "because of the greatness of the need of this hour. I speak not of the missionary needs of the Church, but of the needs of all the world. The Church holds a position of power and influence. It must use its power to meet these needs. For the suffering, injustice and wrong of the past is still here today, crying out to us. Children are still being slain by cruel Herods.

solved by the teachings and the spirit of Christ; that the need for America is not for more machinery in the organization of capital and industry, but for the spirit of true religion in the hearts of the people.
