OBITUARY—J. F. Kilbourn.

John F. Kilbourn, for several years a resident of Novesta twp., passed away at his home, one mile south and one mile west of Cass City on Thursday night, Feb. 26. He had not been in the best of health for some time, yet he had never been confined to his bed and was able to do a few chores or whatever he might choose to do until his last illness. He was taken much worse about seven weeks before the end and four different physicians were called to his bedside where none gave much encouragement, if any, to the anxious ones at home. All that loving hands could do was done and all that tender care could give was given; that is not possible with us and it was His will not ours.

Mr. Kilbourn was born near Kingsmills in Canada and would have been sixty-three years old had he lived until April 9th next. In his younger days the whistle of a threshing engine seemed a lure to him and beckoned him where he spent several seasons a most contented mind. He was of a jovial disposition and up until his last illness, friends whom he recognized were always greeted with a hearty "Hello." He was also very generous hearted and all who came to the home were most earnestly requested to remain longer.

A short prayer service was held at the home Sunday noon. From there the remains were taken to the Church of Christ where the funeral services were conducted by Rev. Grattan of the Methodist church of Cass City. Interment was made in Novesta cemetery. Those left to mourn his loss are the widow and four sons, Owen of Detroit, Wm., Ray and Roy at home. He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Ida Geno of Detroit, Mrs. Jane Campbell and Mrs. Emma Hyatt of Canada and three brothers, Walter of Capac, Morton of Yale and Edward of Flint.

OBITUARY—Harriet E. Roberts.

Harriet Elizabeth Roberts, aged 58, passed away at the home of her daughter at 41 Kelley Ave., Battle Creek, Mich., on Feb. 17, of scarlet fever. She leaves her husband, J. A. Roberts, two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Fisher and Miss Belle Roberts, and one son, Willis Roberts, who resides in Flint. Mrs. Roberts had been a cripple from paralysis for 27 years, and will be remembered by many in Cass City.

CHURCH NOTES.

Baptist—10:30, preaching service, subject "Witnessing"; 11:40, Sunday school; 7:30 p. m., subject "The Greatest Theme in the World."

The Woman's Missionary society of the Baptist church will meet at the Baptist parsonage Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Tea will be served. The evening meeting will be held in the church, and Miss Helen Hudson will address both gatherings.

Methodist—Two important announcements: At the Epworth League hour next Sunday the young people will begin their Win-My-Chum campaign. Full announcement elsewhere in this paper. One week from Sunday, the entire church will take up the revival spirit and conduct special meetings until Easter. The Minute Men will have complete charge of this service March 21 in the evening, and will with others continue to assist the pastor during these special series. The entire meeting will be carried on by the church and it is believed that much lasting good will be accomplished. The Unit Leaders and their assistants will be conducting cottage-prayer meetings in three different sections of the city which will materially help in the way of preparation. Try to get into these meetings. The Old Story will be told and many will be uplifted by its message.

Next Sunday ought to be a great day. The people who feel that they had done their full duty by attending the morning service ought to be present at the night service as a matter of choice for what they may give and receive in helpfulness. "Oners" will never bring about a revival of religion. Be a "Twiceer." Let these days approaching Easter, because of your attitude and activity bring a new joy into your life and try to pass it on to another.

The pastor will preach in the morning on the subject, "How Nehemiah Built the Wall," at night, "More than Conquerors." You are always welcome at this church.

NOVESTA.

Novesta residents in the vicinity of Section 27 are invited to attend a wood bee for Edgar Pelton on Monday, March 15. Last winter the first one was held and it was a hummer, a large number of good fellows turning out and a large quantity of wood being prepared for the ensuing year. Neighbors want to duplicate the big success of last season, so turn out fellows. Those desiring further information may secure it from Frank Hegler. Yes, he has a phone.

Grandpa Bertrand, who makes his home with L. A. Holtz, left Monday for Hersey, Mich., where he will meet a brother whom he has not seen for 40 years. The two brothers are 81 and 83 years old.

Mrs. C. E. Davidson is assisting Mrs. Holtz in caring for her daughter, Mary, who is recovering from pleural pneumonia.

HAD DELIGHTFUL TRIP TO SUNNY CALIFORNIA

ans are weaving their rugs and merchants are selling them at fabulous prices. However, I saw one man buy six on the spot, not one costing less than $125.00.

A day and a night from the Canyon brought us to our destination, Pasadena. Our train was composed of three sections, each having two engines. When we left Chicago ours was the third section, but when we reached Pasadena, we were first and the others arrived several hours later.

Almost the first person I saw from the platform was Mrs. Jackson. She and Mr. J. had not received my letter, but were there at a venture, knowing this was a train from the East, and were almost surprised that they had really hit upon the right one.

In their luxurious Hudson they took us at once to their cozy little bungalow, and from there to our room in a bungalow the very next door. This was bliss indeed. The people who thus take us in have never rented a room before, and make us members of the family from the first. They are Dr. and Mrs. McCauley and Gordon, a son of twelve years who plays the piano very well. There is also a French poodle, who has been left with them by friends and which they care nothing about, that I have a great mind to take back home with me. He is the dearest little scamp. When he wants anything he stands right up in front of you on his hind tip toes and waves his front paws. Nobody has taken out a license for him and every time he goes out he risks being snatched up by a dog-catcher.

Yesterday was "brite and fair" and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson took us for an all day picnic. Ate our lunch in a shady place and about one o'clock found ourselves in Santa Ana where live the McDermott and Eauderbach families. The men left Mrs. J. and me in the car and hunted up the McD and L. business place. Mr. J thought they wouldn't recognize him and was going to ask about plows, but he had hardly entered the door before Mr. McD exclaimed, "Well, Mr. Jackson!" Dad then appeared and they had a good chat. After a while they all came out to the car and showed us the way to both homes, in each of which we made quite a little visit. They were most cordial and everybody shook hands and grinned and said how glad he was to see everybody. It was indeed a great pleasure and we all talked at once, and nobody listened. It was all so exciting! We reached Pasadena in time for dinner, having ridden ninety-five miles.

Last evening Dad hunted up Mery Adams and I shall go there some time today.

It is raining this morning which greatly pleases the Californians, as they need the rain badly. I'm at Mrs. Jackson's writing this. Mrs. J. is preparing luncheon and the men are "visiting" in front of the open fire. I haven't said a word about the roses and fuschias which reach to the roof of Mrs. J's house; oranges and lemons growing right in the back yard, etc., etc. Haven't time now. Dad calls out "What in the world are you writing about so long."

Love to everybody.
