FARM BUREAU ELECTS OFFICERS

COMMUNITY TYPE OF ORGANIZATION WAS ADOPTED BY BUREAU.

Delegates Went on Record as Being in Sympathy with Sugar Beet Growers' Asso.

Delegates representing the several townships in the county assembled at Caro Monday to complete the organization of the Tuscola Co. Farm Bureau and to elect its officers.

C. J. Striffler, Claude Cole and J. C. Keinath were appointed a committee on rules and regulations after Dorr Perry had been elected temporary chairman and R. P. Reavey temporary secretary. M. B. Lynch of Dayton, James Campbell of Fairgrove, A. E. Turner of Columbia, G. E. Reagh of Novesta and Wm. Sellers of Wisner were appointed a committee to consider a report on the proposed constitution.

James Murday of Gilford was chosen president of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau and Claude Cole of Juniata vice president. M. D. Lynch of Dayton, Joe Campbell of Fairgrove and C. J. Striffler of Elkland were elected members of the executive committee for one-year terms. Members of this committee chosen for two-year terms were Dorr Perry of Ellington, H. J. Marsh of Vassar and F. W. Alexander of Denmark.

R. A. Haines of Arbela, G. E. Reagh of Novesta, Geo. Hency of Millington and Geo. Rumble of Akron were elected delegates to represent Tuscola county at the state convention.

The community type of organization was adopted by the Tuscola Co. Farm Bureau and the bureau went on record Monday as being in sympathy with the Sugar Beet Growers' Association in their efforts to secure a better adjustment regarding their contracts with the manufacturers. It was also voted that the shipping association organized under the Farm Bureau be used as a basis of organizing community Farm Bureaus in the locality in which a shipping association is located, at the first annual meeting of such shipping association, and that the membership in the Farm Bureau entitles such member to the facilities of such a community organization. The county agent was instructed to take action to organize a Wool Growers' Association or a similar department connected with the bureau.

W. C. Sanson, secretary of the membership committee, gave a report to the bureau members and Co. Agent McVittie was asked to make arrangements to have follow-up solicitors to go over the county to write memberships to be taken in as charter members.

Wm. Sellers of Wisner, Claude Cole of Juniata, A. E. Turner of Columbia, Ed. Purdy of Indianfields and H. J. Marsh of Vassar were appointed a committee on by-laws to report at the next meeting of the delegates at Caro on Monday, Mar. 22.

The retiring committee of the Farm Bureau were extended a vote of thanks for services they had rendered the past two and one-half years and the executive committee was directed to assume the responsibility of reimbursing B. H. McComb for his services as secretary during that period.

Section 1 of Article 2 of the constitution was amended by members to prohibit public office holders (excepting school officers) to act as officers or representatives of the Farm Bureau. By this ruling, R. P. Reavey, being a justice of the peace in Almer township was ineligible to act as a representative for Almer township and automatically relinquished his seat as temporary secretary. G. E. Walls of Dayton was elected to serve in Mr. Reavey's place for the remainder of the day.

EARLY PIONEER SETTLER OF ELKLAND IS DEAD

Mrs. J. D. Withey Came to This Township from Ontario in January, 1861.

After being sorely afflicted for 18 months, Mrs. J. D. Withey passed away at her home on Houghton St. Tuesday afternoon, March 16, at the age of 82 years.

Matilda Jane Ritter was born in Ontario Aug. 25, 1837, and was married in that province to Joel D. Withey on June 9, 1858. In January, 1861, they moved to Elkland township where they purchased a farm two miles northeast of Cass City, erected a log house and entered with enthusiasm in clearing the land and improving the country with the early pioneer settlers of this community. They spent many years on this farm and 19 years ago left the scene of their early hardships and moved to Cass City to spend the evening of life's journey.

Mrs. Withey early entered into the religious life of the pioneer community, attending service held by those of the Methodist faith in a log schoolhouse in the neighborhood. When the M. E. church was erected at Cass City, she was one of its charter members and ever remained a faithful member of the society.

Besides her husband, she leaves three sons, Wallace W. Withey and Orlando A. Withey of Cass City and Perry M. Withey of Flint, and one brother, John Ritter, of Greenleaf township. One son and one daughter preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held at the M. E. church this (Friday) afternoon at 2:30.

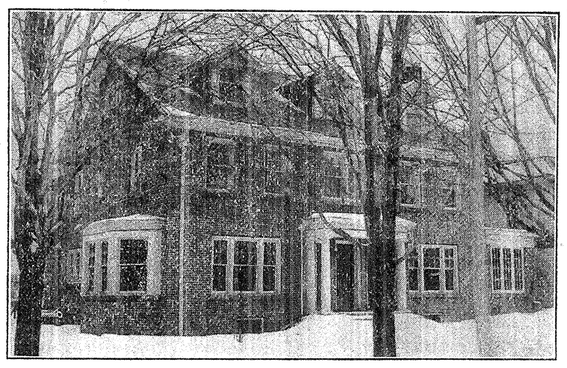
No Wonder.

Minneapolis Journal: Preliminary census figures show that Washington has 437,000 people, mostly government clerks. No wonder, with a salary list like that, the treasury bumps on bottom occasionally.



MODERN, WELL ARRANGED COLONIAL RESIDENCE.

On the first floor is a vestibule, hall, living room with fireplace, library, sun room, dining room, kitchen, and pantries, with a garage at the rear. This floor is finished throughout in oak. The reception hall and open stairway are beautifully paneled in this wood and oak beamed ceilings enhance the attractiveness of the living room, library and dining room. A pair of French doors lead from the hall into the dining room and another pair of these doors separate the hall from the living room.

On the second floor are a hall, bath room, linen closet, sleeping porch and five sleeping rooms each with a closet. These rooms are finished in white enamel on gum wood and soft maple. The doors are of birch, stained in a beautiful mahogany shade. The floors are of oak. The third floor contains two rooms, a billiard room and attic.

The house is heated with hot water and lighted by the indirect electric system. Every convenience for comfort and labor-saving has been installed.

FREIGHT CARS AND TENDER DERAILED ON D. & H.

Ice Weakens Bridge on P. O. & N. and Train Has Narrow Escape from Bad Wreck.

Four freight cars and the engine tender were derailed Sunday morning by a wash-out 24 feet in length on the D & H branch of the Grand Trunk. The wrecking crew is bringing order out of chaos and expect to have the tracks ready to resume service between Cass City and Bad Axe today.

Spiles under the center of a bridge spanning a dredge cut south of Owendale were displaced by ice and when the morning train on the P., O. & N branch passed over the bridge Friday morning the center of the structure sank three feet until it rested on the ice. The train passed over the bridge remarkably well under the circumstances. only two wheels leaving the rails. Traffic to northern points on the line was not resumed until Monday.

WARN THAT "SUGAR WEATHER" IS NEAR

U. S. Experts Advise Farmers Not to Overlook Chance.

The sugar shortage and the approach of "sugar weather" lead the U. S. department of agriculture experts to make the statement that many thousands of American farmers throughout a region comprising more than a score of states, in the eastern and northeastern part of the United States, are overlooking opportunities to secure maple sugar and syrup for home use, as well as for sale at very little cost.

While Americans commonly think of the maple sugar industry as confined largely to circumstances areas New England and New York, there are, as a matter of fact, many potential "sugar bushes" in the region extending as far south as North Carolina and Tennessee and westward to northern Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota as well as in Washington and Oregon.

In a good season a tree 15 inches in diameter will yield sufficient sap to make from one to six quarts of syrup, which in turn can be concentrated into two to 10 pounds of sugar.

MASS MEETING FOR SANILAC CO. FARMERS MAR. 20

Advantages and Possibilities of County Farm Bureau Will Be Explained at Marlette.

A mass meeting of the farmers has been called by a number of interested farmers in the vicinity of Marlette for March 20, to hear an explanation of the advantages and possibilities for organizing a County Farm Bureau in Sanilac County.

C. A. Bingham, Secretary of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, will be present and will explain further the advantages to be derived from organizing a business like County Farm Bureau in Sanilac County.

Sanilac County is the only one in the eastern part of the state not now thoroughly organized on the new farm bureau plan, with the exception of Huron county which is lined up and already for the campaign by the state solicitors as soon as it can be reached. Knowing Sanilac County personally, as I do. I sincerely hope that representatives from all parts of the county will get to Marlette on March 20, and thus, get in touch with the proposition and plans of the Farm Bureau, for inside of six months nearly all of the southern half of Michigan and a good portion of the upper half will be organized on this plan.

We all know that something must be done to our agriculture on a more sound economic basis and with the farmers of Michigan solidly behind the whole educational and economic program it will be possible to accomplish many of the desirable ends which individual farmers or groups of farmers cannot attain. Delegates from 28 states were admitted to the American Farm Bureau Federation meeting at Chicago last week, so this is not merely a county or state organization, but it is national in its scope.

If a representation group of farmers can be present from all sections of the county at the meeting called for March 20 they can then decide whether they wish to back an organization of this kind and if so the state Farm Bureau will be glad to co-operate with the local people.

As manager of the Seed Department of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, I am especially anxious to see my home county organized so it can receive the undoubted advantages of this organization which are not possible in a county with no farmers organizations whatever. I will be present at the meeting March 20, and I am sure any publicity you can give this meeting will be an advantage to all of the people of Sanilac County.

Very truly yours.
J. W. NICHOLSON.
Manager of the Seed Dept.

EXPECT CASS CITY ATHLETES TO MAKE BIG SHOWING

Kalamazoo College Sends Out 309 Invitations for Its Interscholastic Meet.

Kalamazoo College has sent out over 300 invitations for its fifth annual Interscholastic track and field meet to the State and Northern Indiana high schools. The annual date for this event is the first Saturday in May, which falls on May first this year. Over 25 state schools entered teams in the meet last year, which was won by Kalamazoo Central high school, and a large number are expected to be represented this year from early indications.

Kalamazoo Central high school and Battle Creek will enter well balanced teams, but will be hard pressed for honors by the Grand Rapids schools and Cass City. Cass City finished second in the meet last year with only a four man team, and it is expected they will send down a larger delegation this year.

Fourteen events are listed as follows: 50 yd. dash, 100 yd. dash, 220 yd. dash, 440 yd. dash, 880 and one mile runs, 120 yd. high hurdles, 220 yd. low hurdles, shot put, running high jump, running broad jump, discus throw, pole vault, and a half mile relay race. Four places will count for points, and the winners will be awarded gold, silver and two bronze medals in each event. A silver cup will go to the high individual point winner, while the winner of the meet and relay will each be awarded a silver shield.

Earl Gowen of Cass City was in the class of the 440 men last year, and easily won the race. It is expected that he will break the interscholastic record in this event this season.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

All subscriptions to The Chronicle are stopped at expiration of the time for which they have been paid. Each subscriber will receive a notice of the expiration of his subscription about three weeks in advance of the date, and it will be a great help to us if all subscribers will make their renewals promptly upon receipt of this notice, which would be two or three weeks in advance of the actual expiration. This gives us a chance to get your renewal extended without you missing a single copy, and prevents a great many renewals bunching together at the end of the month, which makes it pretty hard on the book-keeping end. Compliance with the above request will be greatly appreciated.

We thank you.

CASS CITY GETS THREE GAMES

BASE BALL SCHEDULE OF TUSCOLA COUNTY ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

Field Day Contests Will Be Held at Caro on Friday, June 11.

On Saturday, March 13, the board of control of the Tuscola County Athletic Association, which is composed of Principal Ferriby of the Caro schools, Superintendent Aelick of the Millington schools and Superintendent L. O. Hoxie of the Cass City schools, met and arranged the baseball schedule for this spring.

You will notice according to the schedule that all games must be played off by Friday, June 4, one week before Field Day, which comes on the day of the county eighth grade graduation exercises. This brings Field Day on June 11.

In the judgment of the board of control, it was thought best to raise the price of admission to 15c and 35c, that is, 15c for the forenoon program and 35c for the afternoon program.

The board decided to engage the coach of Alma college again to act as referee, since his work last year was satisfactory to all schools concerned.

There seems to have been some dissatisfaction last year in regard to the discourtesy shown visiting teams in some places. The rooters became so excited that they crowded up to the lines so closely as to interfere with the game. At one place last year the excitement and unfriendly rivalry reached such a pitch that the umpire was knocked down.

Of course, the people who are sportsmanlike and catch the true spirit of athletics will not sanction such conduct, but in some towns there are irresponsible citizens who do not hesitate to give vent to their feelings in the above fashion.

Let us remember that Cass City stands for clean athletics, and if any one of our town people does or says anything discourteous to the visiting team, let us feel it is our duty to squelch it on the spot, as it only casts a reflection on the town.

The board of control has the authority to settle all disputes between contesting teams and in cases in which discourtesy is shown to the visiting teams, or vice versa, the board shall deal with the teams concerned according to their best judgment.

I am sure we can depend upon the citizens of Cass City to do all within their power to prevent anything which will defeat the purpose of athletics.

L. O. HOXIE.

Letter from Mrs. Auten in California to Mrs. McKenzie and M. B. Auten

1260 No. Michigan Ave.,
Pasadena, Feb. 26, 1920.

Dear Folks:

Are you slipping around on icy sidewalks this morning, I wonder? It seems hardly possible as I am sititing out on the back piazza of our delightful boarding place, writing in the warm sunshine. All of the houses have a porch and pergola at the rear, and the back yards are so pretty. This porch is a little bower with roses climbing over it. Shrubbery of various kinds are growing around the sides and a lemon and two orange trees covered with ripe fruit are invitingly near. Dr. McCauley, who having nothing to do this morning, is helping his good wife hang out the washing—has just told me to help myself to anything. Dad says that's his idea of California, to go out and pick oranges off the trees and eat them. So one of his dreams has been realized. Of course we always have heard that California was wonderful, but how wonderful is beyond description. As one Eastern lady says "It just gets me!" I am wild over it. It seems another land, almost another world.

Two days this week we've been on picnics with Mr. and Mrs. Jackson. We take our luncheon and start off about ten in the morning for an all day trip. Monday we went to Sunland, yesterday to the ocean. We left our auto in a shady place and ate our luncheon on the beach with the breakers rolling in. Later Mrs. J. and I took a stroll and the men took a nap, lying on the sand in the sun. The roads are like a floor no matter where one goes, and everywhere are flowers of all kinds, vines, shrubs, trees and especially palms, and almost surrounding the town are the mountains. As I look at them now they seem almost to rise from just beyond the yard.

We are so very comfortable here

'Tis not in battles of youth we train
The governor who must be wise and good,
And temper with the sternness of the brain
Thoughts motherly, and meek as womanhood.
Wisdom doth live with children round her knees.

VARIOUS AND SUNDRY THINGS.

The secret of successful sponge cakes is in the beating of the eggs and the care not to lose the air incorporated when stirring in the flour. Then the "baking oven judgment never comes to some women in the course of their lives," says Kate Douglas Wiggin.

It is as unreasonable to suppose all women gifted in being good cooks as it would be to expect them to be musicians or artists. Because the majority of women are by necessity housekeepers, it does not follow that they are by that necessity doing the work for which they are especially qualified.

In these days of thin cream which refuses to whip, a solution called viscogen will be useful, which may be made at home and kept indefinitely if well stoppered. Take five ounces of sugar and dissolve in ten ounces of water. Add six ounces of cold water to two ounces of quicklime and let it gradually slake; then strain through a fine sieve, to remove unslaked particles. Combine the two liquids and shake occasionally for two hours. In three hours set the mixture aside to settle, then siphon or pour off the clear liquid. Store in small bottles tightly corked, as the liquid absorbs carbonic acid from the air, thus darkening the color and reducing the strength. Keep either in a dark bottle or wrap the bottle in dark paper. Use one-fourth of a teaspoonful of the viscogen to three-fourths of a cupful of cream, well chilled. Stir well, then beat with an egg-beater as usual.

Kitchen Bouquet.—The browning used for gravies and various sauces may be made at home. Put a cupful of sugar in an iron frying pan over the fire. Stir and shake until it turns a dark brown. Add a half-cupful of boiling water, a clove of garlic, one chopped onion, six whole cloves, a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of tabasco sauce and a saltspoonful of black pepper. Simmer twenty minutes, strain and bottle for use. Use a teaspoonful to flavor and color any meat sauce.

REBEL RULERS IN GERMANY SUBSIDE

NEW ELECTIONS ARE ORDERED

Old Prussian Clique Had Seized Reigns of Government and Set Up New Administration.

Berlin.—With the capitulation of the new revolutionary government headed by Chancellor von Kapp, Germany's latest governmental crisis is believed to have ended.

An extra edition of the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung Monday announced that von Kapp and Gustav Noske, minister of defense in the Ebert government, which has moved to Dresden, had reached an agreement.

The reported agreement is declared to have been reached on the following basis:

Second—A new cabinet is to be formed, composed of experts.

Third—New elections to the reichstag are to be held within two months.

Fourth—A new president of the German republic will be elected, not by the reichstag, but by the people.

Fifth—Pending the elections Friedrich Ebert is to remain in power.

Sixth—The economic council of the empire and the exploitation councils are to be transformed into a second chamber, to be called the chamber of labor.

Monarchists Had Seized Reigns.

London.—Germany is in the throes of a counter-revolutionary movement which was successful last Saturday in turning the Ebert government out of Berlin and setting up a new administration in the capital. President Ebert and his cabinet, offering no armed resistance to the revolutionary troops which invaded Berlin from the suburbs.

The new government, which has been provisionally proclaimed here with Dr. Wolffgang Kapp as chancellor, has declared the National Assembly dissolved and announced that new elections would be held.

SENATE ADOPTS RESERVATION

New Article Ten Passes Upper House By 2 to 1 Vote.

Washington.—Reaffirming its disagreement with President Wilson on the dominating issue of the peace treaty controversy, the senate adopted Monday by a vote of more than two to one the new Article 10 reservation framed by Republican leaders.

Its action brought to an end, at least for the present, the protracted effort for a compromise that would insure ratification and the senate's decision was accepted generally as hastening the treaty toward another deadlock from which it could be released only by a verdict at the polls next November.

Fourteen Democrats voted with the united Republican membership, for the reservation, but this defection from the administration ranks fell far short of the number that would be required to ratify.

The vote for adoption, 56 to 26, showed on its face a two-thirds majority for the reservation, but it by no means indicated that two-thirds would vote for ratification on that basis.

The reservation, adopted after many efforts to modify it had been voted down by the solidly united Republican majority, follows in general form the one adopted last November.

FLOODS DO DAMAGE IN STATE

Hundreds Made Homeless By High Water—One Woman Drowned.

Lansing.—One death, more than a hundred families driven from their homes and extensive property loss in central and southern Michigan Monday were the most important developments in the flood situation.

Miss Anna Crouse, of Bay City, an employe of the Western Knitting mills at Rochester, was drowned in Clinton river at the latter point when she attempted to cross a log bridge and was swept into the swift running stream.

One hundred families were driven from their homes in the lowlands adjoining the Grand river at Portland when an ice jam formed at the Pere Marquette bridge damming the water back until it overflowed the river's banks. The bridge was swept away later releasing the pent up torrent which started down stream.

U. S. Army Surplus Sold to Poland.

Warsaw.—The Polish army will be re-equipped by the purchase of supplies from the United States, it was learned here. A formal contract has been signed between the Warsaw and the Washington government, it is stated, under which the American Liquidation board will sell to Poland such surplus American army stores as Poland may require. The Polish government will be given six years credit for its purchases, with interest at five per cent

Low Pay Demoralizing Army.

Washington.—Unable "to make both ends meet" on their present pay, officers are resigning and enlisted men deserting from the army and navy "in droves" the senate was told by Chairman Wadsworth of the military committee, and Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington. Senator Wadsworth said that since the armistice 2,358 army officers had resigned because they were unable to live on the pay. Two hundred petty officers deserted in 1 month.

Letter from Mrs. Auten in California to Mrs. McKenzie and M. B. Auten

that we've decided to keep our quarters and make our excursions from here. Dr. and Mrs. McCauley have never had boarders before and are really too good to us. We have the use of the big living room with finely furnished bed room adjoining, while they use the den at the back for their sitting room, when they are not chatting with us. They take us in their car sometimes, when Mr. Jackson's haven't us with them in theirs. We've traveled nearly a hundred miles a day four days out of the seven that we've spent here, and consider ourselves most fortunate people. Evenings, when it is cold we sit with Mr. and Mrs. J. by their open fire and "talk it over."

Sunday was rainy, but Dr. McC. took us to the Presbyterian church in the morning. The minister gave a very fine address on the value of family prayers. In the evening we, the McCauley's and ourselves, met Mary Adams and her friend at their hotel, and attended a fine concert at a big hotel, the Maryland. There a little girl about ten years old, came out on the stage and made a very eloquent appeal for the Armenian children. Yesterday, when we returned from our trip about five, found Mary A. here. She had hunted us up with some difficulty. Mrs. McC. with her usual wonderful kindness, insisted on her staying for dinner. Mrs. McC. is "some cook" I assure you. Everything she makes is delicious, and such a variety. Well, we're just in clover, that's all there is about it, so although San Francisco, Salt Lake and Denver may be interesting, we may spend our time right here, making trips to San Diego, San Catilina Islands, etc.. Dad is having such a good rest

Today we're going to Los Angeles and shall try to find Mrs. Tibbals' sister while there. This evening go to Christian Science service. The church here is beautiful. So many have asked me to write, but there isn't time, so if this is not too intimate, let Mr. Lenzner have it, and any friend who cares to read it may take my kindest regards too.

Lovingly,

MOTHER.

Score One for Employer.

A Kansas City man received four very nice presents on his birthday early this week, a silk shirt, a pair of gloves, and a pair of silk hose. The shirt, given him by his wife, was size 15½—he wears 14½; the gloves, selected by his mother were size 6—he wears 7¾; the socks from his brother, were size 12—he wears 10. His employer, however who has known him more intimately for several years, sent out a box of soft collars which fit him exactly.—Kansas City Star.

On the Contrary.

Marion had been out several evenings in succession and looked tired so mother suggested she retire early instead of going out again that evening. When little Dick came down stairs from her room mother said "Well, is sister making up her mind to stay in?" He replied: "I should say not, she's making up her face to go out."

Protect Yourself by Checking.

A short time after completing the Ford garage in 1918, Tindale purchased, from one of our reliable home merchants, some articles amounting to $32.07. Time went by and we sold this merchant a car. "Well", he said when it came time to settle, "I'll bring my bill in and we'll sette up."

Tindale said he didn't know that we owed him anything. I said I didn't either. So we waited and he presented a bill for $32.07 for our account running nearly two years. Ashton said he supposed we paid that but the merchant said he thought not. We always pay by check so reverted to our cancelled checks and in a few minutes produced a check dated "May 21, 1918" for $32.07 with the merchant's name endorsing it on the back and "Account in full to date" written on the face.

"Well sir," he said, "I don't know how it happened to get by."

We knew it was nothing more or less than an error in neglecting to credit us, one that may occur any time. Does it pay us to carry a bank account?

This same experience may come to you. It has broken up many a business friendship.

You are invited to open an account with the CASS CITY BANK and gain this protection against paying twice for the same article.

There Are Other Cass City People Similarly Situated.

Can there be any stronger proof offered than the evidence of Cass City residents After you have read the following, quietly answer the question.

O. A. Withey, farmer, Main St., Cass City, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for the past two years and I find they give wonderful relief from backache. I often have a lame back brought on by continuous stooping and hard work. Then I suffer from a dull ache over my kidneys and my kidneys act irregularly. Last summer my kidneys were so weak and I was run down that twenty minutes' work in the field would use me up and I would have to sit down and rest. Mornings when I got up I would have such a backache that I could hardly get around to do my work. I felt tired and languid all day. After taking a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, I have always gotten rid of those awful backaches and my strength has returned so that I could do any amount of work."

REV. KNOX SURPRISES MERCHANT GOODCLOTHES

Flashed a Roll of Green and Yellow Bills That Would Have Choked a Prize Cow.

The Rev. John Timothy Knox skidded his shiny new car on two wheels, ground the brakes down hard, and drew up with a flourish before the hustling cross-road store of Goodclothes & Suitsley, merchants-in-general for a prosperous Michigan farm community.

He aided his wife from the car, and entered the store with the air of a man who knows the goods he wants and is able to buy them. He beckoned to Mr. Goodclothes himself, the senior partner.

"Mr. Goodclothes," he said, "will you see to it yourself that my wife gets a new spring outfit—the best you have—shoes, suit, new bonnet, ribbons, laces, everything that spring makes a woman think of."

You could blame the good Mr. Goodclothes for being just a trifle puzzled and taken aback.

"O certainly, certainly," he smiled pleasantly, and then with his most tactful air of credit-is-a-bit-close-this-spring added: "You know prices have gone up quite sharply—ah, really bills quite surprise some of my best customers—and collections"—

The smiling Rev. Knox could hardly escape the suggestion. In fact, he didn't try to escape it. He seized hold of it. He looked Brother Goodclothes straight in the eye.

"Now, enough of that," he said. "Who asked you about collections or credit? This little wife of mine wants just the best there is, plenty of it, and when she's tired herself out buying, why here is the cash."

And out before the eyes of the popeyed—there is no other word—senior partner, he flashed—once again, no other word—he flashed a roll of green and yellow bills that would quite have choked the prize Guernsey cow of Bainbridge County.

"Collections, my dear fellow," he went on, "you and I both ought to know them. We've both depended on collections for our livings for years. Only collections to you and collections to me were quite different. You always got yours, except a percentage which you charged off to the business. But mine—ah, mine—

"However," resuming smartly, "those days are over. You fix up the wife. Better do it yourself, and don't ask me to help save your soul if everything isn't all right. In the meantime, I'll just ask Mr. Suitsley to make me presentable for the handsome little wife that I'm going to have again."

Imagination? Right now, possibly, yes.

But the Interchurch World Movement, now conducting its first great campaign in Michigan, aims to bring just that condition about. It is a co-operative organization of the 30 largest Protestant Evangelical churches. It seeks to minimize denominationalism; to root out church competition where it is wasteful and unnecessary; to put churches on a business basis; to encourage yearly budget systems, for instance; to pay the minister fairly; and in general to co-ordinate the work of churches so that every dollar spent will bring the greatest return to the Kingdom.

County conferences to aid the cause soon will be held all over the state. Ministers everywhere are cooperating.

Editor C. C. Chronicle,

Friend Herbert:—I enclose check to renew subscription to your splendid paper. We have been without it now for nearly a year as our time expired about the time we were moving to our new home the first of May last, and have missed the paper so much to keep in touch with the happenings in the town and vicinity, that was our home for so many years. It is now nearly six years since we came to Detroit and through the columns of your paper have learned of many joys and successes of many of our friends; also have been advised of so many deaths which enables us to drop a sympathizing tear. We especially enjoy letters in the paper from those who have moved away, to learn of their place of abode and success in life.

Mrs. Karr and myself are enjoying the best of health. Our son, Dr. Herbert, of Detroit is well; our eldest daughter, Ethel, is still at Newberry, Mich., and daughter, Nina, is in the very midst of the oil fields of Texas. We are scattered but all are well so we are thankful. We close with very best wishes to all old neighbors and friends.

Swiss Funeral Customs.

Swiss funeral customs are peculiar. At the death of a person the family inserts an announcement in the papers asking for sympathy. In front of the house is placed a black table on which stands a black jar. Into this the friends of the family drop little black-margined visiting cards. Only men go to the churchyard.

Where All Could See.

My most embarrassing moment was experienced at an evening church wedding a short time ago. As we were late, most of the seats had been taken, so it was necessary to go almost to the front pew. I sat down and calmly removed my hat, when to my mortification my escort asked if I thought I was at the movies. The hat was hurriedly adjusted, but I felt self conscious during the entire ceremony —Chicago Tribune.

Waiting in Agony.

At a recent wedding the bride was delayed a little in making her appearance. When at last she did appear she breathlessly ran up to the embarrassed bridegroom, who had been waiting for her in agony and putting her arms around his neck exclaimed: "Oh, John, dear, I am so sorry I am late."

"Red Tape."

The expression "red tape" originated in the fact that tape dyed crimson is commonly and largely used in public and private business in tying up papers, hence it has come to refer to excessive formality and routine in business transactions.

Origin of Wall Paper.

The Chinese were the first to use paper for decorating or covering the walls of rooms. The Dutch are supposed to have introduced the use of wall paper into Europe in the sixteenth century. The earliest sale known in the United States was in 1745 in Philadelphia, where Charles Hargreave advertised the business. A person named Fleson manufactured wall paper in Philadelphia about 1747.

His trip took him to St. Louis, Mo., Lincoln and Hastings, Neb., and Chicago. The outlook for securing beet labor is not any too reassuring at this time. AWAITING THEIR PREY

DEFORD.

Thomas O'Rourke of Armada visits here.

Mrs. Geo. Roberts of Detroit visits here.

Keith Retherford visits his sister near Jackson.

As far as we can learn all flu victims are recovering.

"Lue" O'Rourke of Pontiac was a caller in this locality the past week.

It is fair to say we have lost the benefit of our school. The flu caused it all.

Word comes here of the death of old Mrs. Sweet, 3 miles east and ½ mile south.

Next week we will tell of real estate changes in the burg 'till your head aches.

John Moshier went to Ann Arbor the past week in the interest of his ankle. He is yet lame.

A car load of soft coal came into town last week and was gathered in in one day from the car.

John Retherford was called to near Snover to attend funeral of a cousin, Mrs. Russell, on the 11th.

Mrs. Frank McCracken of Highland Park who visited with her father, C. Courliss, went home on the 3rd.

Mrs. Nelson Hicks will move to Flint with the household goods soon as roads are fit for moving trucks.

"Boney" Daugherty has sold his little house in north part of town to Dr. Merriman, who will move it nigh unto his dwelling.

A brother-in-law of Dr. Merriman (Steward by name) hailing from Durand, has bought the Reed house and is moving there.

Our township clerk was at Deford Saturday, and registered all new comers and young stuff that the parents call twenty-one.

We learn that John McCaughney of Pontiac, formerly of Novesta Corners, has sold his farm near Novesta Corners to Detroit parties.

Novesta township held caucus on Saturday. There were 97 voters present, 92 males and 5 females. It was a tame caucus with results as follows: George McArthur for supervisor, Miss Alta McArthur clerk, Wells Spencer treasurer, H. B. Lamkin, ½ mile east of town highway commissioner. At the close of caucus, a local beet growers' society was organized.

The candidates elected to fill the various township offices of Novesta this year will be honored above any that have come into office before in this commonwealth. We expect that Mrs. Catherine Daugherty, who has passed the one hundredth mile of life, will cast her first vote. We will see if her health holds good, the Chronicle will give its readers an item worthy of note.

Satan fooled Adam and Eve because he showed age. If some beardless youth had come with the same yarn, Adam would have rushed him from the Garden, but antiquated appearance carried force with it. So it is today. If some long white whiskers shakes his head and declares the country is going to pieces 90 per cent of the people will put on a long face and see force in every thread of his argument.

NOVESTA.

The many friends of Mary Holtz are very glad to learn she is getting better.

Mrs. Herbert Layman, who was operated on for appendicitis, is improving as fast as can be expected.

Mrs. Foetter, who has spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Ed. Gingrich, returned home Friday.

The Novesta Farmers' club met Tuesday, March 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark. All present enjoyed a very good dinner and program.

Robert Warner unloaded two cars of fertilizer at Deford the first of the week, that making seven cars Robert has unloaded since January. He also has more cars coming.

WICKWARE.

Mrs. Wm. Brown is gaining after several weeks' sickness from flu.

James Nicol and Chas. Watson are both planning to build barns this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Spears of Cass City have moved onto Mr. Spear's farm east of here.

Mrs. J. D. Watson was called to Clifford Saturday by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Bert Lanway.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Gracey of Detroit have rented a farm east of here and expect to move this week.

Wm. Merchant and family are moving north of Cass City onto the Cole farm which Mr. Merchant purchased recently, and Mr. Dewey of Novesta is moving onto the Merchant farm.

Let The Preacher Practice

The war taught Americans many lessons, but we seem to be as adept at forgetting as we are at learning. With several millions more ablebodied men engaged in industry than was the case when we reached the peak of output under the pressure of war, there has been a slump in production all along the line, coincident with a shortening of hours and an increase in wages that has caused the price of commodities to mount to terrifying altitudes.

Many and varied are the suggestions advanced as a cure for this condition, but it must be patent to anyone who has given the subject any thought that one of the short cuts to the desired end is to give an honest day's work for an honest day's pay, instead of raising wages and with them the cost of every commodity.

The desirability of this course is beyond question. The hitch comes in determining who will take the initiative. It is much easier to preach industry and thrift than to practice these virtues, but all the arguments that can be advanced will never amount to anything unless they are backed up by deeds.

The need of the nation right now is that we spend less time telling what ought to be done and devote more of our energies to doing, ragardless of what others may or may not be accomplishing. When this is done the existing causes for complaint will be done away with, and the unrest that now endangers our country will die a natural and unlamented death.

RED REGIME RAPPED BY SAMUEL GOMPERS

Washington.—Writing in "The Federationist," official organ of the American Federation of Labor, Samuel Gompers condemns Bolshevism "completely, finally and for all time."

"It is not necessary," says Mr. Gompers, "for Americans to know at all times just what were the exact conditions in Germany before passing judgment on the form of government existing in Germany. It was necessary only to know what was the form of government and under what rules it operated.

"We do not have to wait for information about the form of government existing in what is called Soviet Russia. All the information necessary to the passing of judgment on Bolshevism and the system of government and as a state of society is at hand from sources that are authentic. The plea of those misguided persons in America who say 'Wait for facts before passing judgment' is nothing more than an excuse which it is hoped will gain time for the Russian experiment and enable it to spread to other countries."

Quoting from the new Bolshevist constitution, Mr. Gompers points out that while the fifth Pan-Russian congress declares for a dictatorship of the proletariat and the poorest peasantry, a great portion of the peasantry is disfranchised and the largest Bolshevist estimate of the proletariat calculates them as only one-fifth of the number of peasants. Even a fairly prosperous working man, by this calculation, Mr. Gompers says, is not a proletarian. Bolshevist statistics, he says, show that the Bolshevist minority does not even represent the masses of factory workers in Moscow, the Bolshevist stronghold.

He quoted as the most direct information a dispatch from Russian trade unionists to W. A. Appleton, president of the International Federation of Trade Unions, which declares that bolsheviki have split up the reserve funds of trade unions, throttled the labor press, killed labor organizations, split up trades unions as a class and put down strikes by "force of arms and plentiful executions."

"We know about Russia. We know about Bolshevism. We know the piteous story of cruelty and intolerance and we know the autocratic concept that underlies the minority dictatorship which is hailed to the world by its dupes and advocates as the most perfect state of society yet devised. We know about it, and we condemn it completely, finally and for all time."

RED OUTRAGES ARE RELATED BY WOMAN

London.—A terrible account of Bolshevik atrocities was submitted to "The Times" by Miss Josephine Inigo Jones, an Englishwoman who had been delivered from Bolshevik hands by General Denikine's army on the capture of Kharkoff. Miss Jones writes:

"Do people who defend the Bolshevists realize what Bolshevism has meant for Russia? I wish they could see just the edge of the misery it has caused, the sufferings and anguish among rich and poor alike, especially among the poor.

"The prisons are full of men, women, girls, and even little children. All are tortured. To this I can testify. I was in Kharkoff when Denikine's men arrived and cannot yet fully realize by what miracle I escaped the awful fate that so many girls in Russia have and are still undergoing.

"In Kharkoff the Commissaries committed unnamable crimes. Prisoners' arms were forced into pots of boiled water to the elbows. When the skin was soft enough it was cut round the arm and peeled off like a glove. Many devout Christians were crucified.

"Women were collected in parties and literally thrown to the foreign mercenaries and criminal guards, who dragged them off. Old and young women and even mere children were mistreated by many men and generally until they died.

"Bolshevism means wretched poverty, hunger, misery and despair for all who come under its malign influence."

SCHOOL TEACHES CONTEMPT OF FLAG

Detroit.—The lengths to which the bolshevists and communists will go in an attempt to gain their ends was illustrated when Judge Henry S. Hulbert, of the juvenile and probate courts, was appealed to by a thirteen-year-old Russian girl who wanted protection for herself and her younger brothers from their father. She said that she was being forced to attend an "institute, where the red doctrine of destruction of all organized government was being taught, the constitution of the United States was derided as were the public schools, and the tenets of bolshevism in its ugliest form were preached. Investigation disclosed the fact that while the father was indulgent in every other respect, he compelled his daughter and her two brothers, one aged 10, the other 8, to go two afternoons a week to a secret school of anarchy, conducted by foreign agitators, along with other children of alien parentage.

While similar "institutes" have been unearthed in eastern cities, it was the first time such operations had come to light in Detroit. Prompt action was taken by the police department to suppress any such "schools."

COUNTY LEAGUE WINNER GETS $100

John E. Wallace of Port Austin Offers Prize to Pennant Winner This Year.

In a letter to Milton L. Ackerman of Elkton, secretary of the Huron County Baseball league, John E. Wallace of Port Austin offers a purse of $100 to go to the team winning the pennant this year. This he is doing, Mr. Wallace says, to stimulate interest in the game and no doubt it will act as a spur in creating more rivalry than ever in the league games.

Mr. Wallace further says in his letter to Mr. Ackerman:

"It (baseball) is the finest kind of sport, and your little league has been the source of a great deal of pleasure to many people in Huron county.

"In order to further stimulate interest in the game I am going to offer a purse of one hundred dollars to be given to the team winning the pennant this year, and you may announce this at your next meeting.

"In my opinion a ball team is a valuable asset to any city or village and inasmuch as the players receive absolutely no compensation for their services may I suggest that other in the county in towns having a ball team offer prizes for individual playing—to those having the best batting average, the best pitching record, the one making the greatest number of home runs, the most stolen bases, etc.

"The boys will then have something to work for, and greater interest will be taken in the games."

Who Gets the Balance?

No. 6. Do you know that the methods of teaching reading and other subjects have changed or should have changed (as the case may be) since you went to school?

No. 7. Do you now take one magazine or paper telling you how to handle livestock to best advantage, for their beneficial growth and development?

No. 8. Do you now take one magazine or paper telling you how to handle children to best advantage for their beneficial growth and development?

No. 9. Do you think that as soon as you have engaged a teacher and procured the fuel for the ensuing year that your tasks about the school affairs are completed?

Do you——oh, I guess that will be enough questions for you to consider for a while. Let us look back over some of these queries.

The letters and articles referred to may be found in the March 4, 1920 issue of Moderator Topics, a school paper published at Lansing. It is one paper which Michigan school teachers cannot get along without and which every school officer and every school patron should not get along without. As you will see by the questions asked, the Mich. Dept. of Public Instruction and the Health Dept. have their pages, and the editorials and other writings, current events, etc., make it probably the best educational paper published in Michigan.

Let us consider the seventh and eighth questions together. Practically every farmer today takes some farm stock and crop journal. Can we say the same concerning a children's journal or educational magazine? You pride yourselves on your knowledge of up-to-date farm mechanics, industry and animal husbandry but can you do the same of child culture and development? Can you talk with your neighbor on the proper method (as teachers are taught today) of teaching beginning reading to little folks? Could you help your teacher by training your child the same way at home as he is taught or should be taught at school? Do you know that the new teacher comes into your school and has a plan in her mind of teaching reading by some modern method and finds to her dismay that the little folks have all brought Baldwin readers or some other relic of the ages to school with them?

You have changed your methods of farming. You don't use the same kind of tools nor the same kind of power that you used 30 years ago. Why should the teachers stick to the same kind of tools or the same lack of tools that they had 30 years ago?

Are you interested in your child's health? Ask the Mich. Board of Health to send you their monthly publication "Public Health," and study it. Study how your home buildings and public schoolhouses could be made more sanitary.

Are you interested in giving your children the best possible education without sending them away to school in the city, where the privileges of a modern city school will be included in the rural school? Study bulletin No. 28, entitled "Consolidated Schools." Do not talk against something before you know really what you are talking about. Do not say that because you got your education in the little country schoolhouse that it is good enough for your children. Nothing is good enough for your children unless it is the best.

This is written to inform the officers and patrons of a good many schools of Tuscola and surrounding counties that the world is moving on. It has been said that civilization has progressed more in the last ten years than in any preceding one hundred years. But do not think that it means that every part of civilization (every system of business, etc) has kept together in that rapid progress. Sadly no! Look around! Think! Can you see anything in your vision that has not kept up to the pace? Can you see anything that is the same as it was years ago? If so, where is the trouble? What is the cause? Is it you?

If you wish names and addresses of educational magazines ask your county commissioner of schools or your teacher. Bulletin No. 28 may be secured by writing to County Commissioner of Schools.

Rural school officers and patrons, read this article over again and think about it. Then if you wish, make a reply through the columns of the Cass City Chronicle. Criticisms and commendations cheerfully accepted.

CASS CITY'S FAST QUINTET THUMB CHAMPIONS

Croswell's forfeiting their game to Cass City and losing a game to Bad Axe, and Bad Axe's defeat of two weeks ago by a score of 34 to 18 at the hands and feet of Cass City's basketeers gives the local high school a clear title to the Thumb championship for 1920.

This week is the tournament at Mt. Pleasant to decide the Northern and Northwestern championship for 1920. It will be remembered that Cass City won this championship in 1919.

The Team.

Captain Brooker, center and a senior, could be relied on to play a clean fast game at all times, most always getting the jump on his man, and bringing his team out of many tight plays by his quick head work.

Earl Gowen, when he took his place at forward, was always cool headed and a sure basket thrower, and when it came to team work, he was always where the ball was.

Paul Jones played a snappy game at all times and much credit is given him as a basket thrower.

S. Craft and A. Champion, both husky guards, always gave their opponents plenty of trouble when the ball came to their end and they could cover plenty of floor space.

Cathcart and Pinney, both classic forwards, gave the guards plenty of work and always showed lots of pep.

Coach "Sammie" Champion left Wednesday morning with the team for Mt. Pleasant with the players in the pink of condition and all in the best of spirits.

Let us all be with them and wish them the best of luck and success.

W. H. WALLACE DENIES CLAIMS OF BEET MEN

W. H. Wallace, general manager of the Michigan Sugar Co., issued a statement Monday denying claims which have been made in a farm periodical purporting to show injustices in which the beet growers of the state have been treated in fixing of the sugar beet prices. He declares that some statements are incorrect and in refuting them said in part:

"Statements given out on the platform and by the Michigan Business Farming are very much overdrawn and misleading and a long way from a true statement of actual conditions. There has been an advance in contract labor for beets. The price is dependent upon the width of rows. The only width of rows that have advanced $6 is the 24 and 28-inch. Eighty per cent of the beets grown in Michigan are planted from 18 to 22 inches apart and that price has advanced $4. It requires just as much labor to take care of 18-inch rows as it does 24 inch. The Michigan Business Farming makes the general statement that the advance has been $6.

"In an attempt to secure labor for next year, it soon became apparent that even $28.00 per acre was not enough. It was decided to advance this price $2 per acre and the sugar companies assuming it themselves on account of having agreed with the farmer to endeavor to secure the labor for them at $28.

"The statement that the labor contract is not understood by the growers is not true. It is always presented with the beet contract. Except for the price of labor, manufacturers do not admit that the cost of growing beets this year will be in excess of last year.

"The statement is also made that the field men and scale men and about everybody else that might be out of work around the factory are out writing acreage, and the farmers are paying for this. There are no scalemen in the field unless they happen to be fieldmen and while the field men's work at this time may not be very strenuous, it helps to balance the long hours during the planting and harvesting season.

"You will understand that the present contract guarantees the grower $10 per ton. This is paid to the grower upon delivery of his beets. The balance that may be coming to him, if any, would depend upon the price of sugar. With this last remittance it has been the practice of returning the contracts. As these contracts are written they are not binding upon the company until executed by an officer of the company, but they are binding upon the grower as soon as he signs, and when executed by the company cannot be legally cancelled without the consent of both parties to the contract."

OBITUARY—Angus McCallum.

Born Oct. 25, 1824, at Kilmartin, Argyleshire, Scotland. He came with his parents to Canada in his seventeenth year, settling in Metcalf twp., Ontario. He married Miss Mary Munro in Jan. 1860. In 1881 he moved to Sheridan where his son, Neil, still resides. His wife passed away in 1904. He himself lived to the grand old age of 95 years and five month, leaving this life after a brief illness on Monday, March 1, 1920. He is survived by all but one of his family of six children: Mrs. Martin Johnson of Detroit, Neil McCallum of Sheridan, Archie McCallum of Detroit and Mrs. Malcolm Ferguson and Mrs. Sarah McLachlan, both of Cass City.

The funeral services were held in the Fraser Presbyterian church of Greenleaf in 1898, and served faithfully in the discharge of his duties as such for twenty-two years. Those who knew him best will miss him most. A kind and generous neighbor ever ready to lend a helping hand, he was a man who enjoyed life and liked to talk of the wonderful progress made during those many years. His last illness, which was of two weeks' duration, was borne with Christian patience, fully realiing that the call had come to depart and be with Christ which was far better.

When the village of Deckerville took an inventory of herself, she found she owed $30,000, but that is $3,000 less than a year ago. Also that her water works system ran behind about $2,000 and her electric light plant about played even.

The Carsonville school board has engaged its entire school faculty for another year, with the exception of Miss Mary Moore, of Deckerville, who resigned. The new contracts show an increase in salaries to be paid.

A terrible accident happened at Minden City by which Lois Meredith, seven year old daughter of George Meredith, editor of the Herald lost her life. The little girl had been "hopping bobs" and had jumped on a sleigh going out into the country. It is believed that the little girl in jumping off the sleigh, was dragged back by her neck piece getting caught in some part of the sleigh and the improvised noose tightened, preventing any outcry on the part of the child. This accounts for the driver's failure to help in rescuing her in time as his attention was not called to it till meeting a friend on the road they first discovered her little body under the sleigh.
