SIX BRANCHES OF FAMILY AT METCALF REUNION

Unique Double Wedding at the A. C. Metcalf Home in Ellington Township.

On June 23 there occurred at the home of A. C. Metcalf in Ellington township the first reunion of the Metcalf family. Seventy-five members were present representing six of the seven living branches.

Wm. and Everilla Metcalf came to Ellington 66 years ago this spring from Ann Arbor. With them were their four sons then small children.

These four boys were reunited again at the reunion. There was no Caro nor even a Centreville at that time. There was no road cut beyond where Caro now stands. There were 15 children born of whom seven remain. One daughter died 33 years ago and seven in infancy.

Wednesday there were present Melvin Metcalf and his wife, Jane, five children and seven grandchildren; John Metcalf and his wife, Ella, six children, 13 grandchildren and two great grandchildren; Henry Metcalf and wife, Mary, with one grandchild; Joe Metcalf and wife with three children; Mrs. Rufus Wilcox and husband, five children and four grandchildren. Walter Metcalf from Minneapolis was not able to bring his family but was himself present. Frank Deckrow of Grayling, husband of Ella Metcalf was present also.

The day opened with a general reunion as cars came from the trains and parties arrived by auto. At high noon occurred a unique double wedding. Mr. and Mrs. John Metcalf celebrated their golden wedding by being part of another wedding party. Hazel Wilcox, daughter of one of the original family was united in marriage to John Bennett of West Branch. The parlor was profusely decorated with green and cut flowers. A large arch was placed in one corner of the room where the happy couple, accompanied by Paris Wilcox, brother of the bride and Wilma Metcalf, a cousin, were married by Rev. A. B. Sutcliffe of Fairgrove. After the ceremony dinner was served to the large group in the spacious dining room of the Metcalf home. The afternoon was spent in getting from the older members reminiscences of the days when wilderness was king in Tuscola county. The afternoon assembly closed with short speeches from A. A. Metcalf, Supt. of Schools at Boyne City, Walter Metcalf of Minneapolis and Pere Metcalf of Detroit, a veteran of the war and a red arrow man. At eight o'clock the guests again assembled and several neighborhood families responded to an invitation to renew old acquaintances by being present.

A permanent organization was effected with Wesley Metcalf of Deford as president, A. A. Metcalf of Boyne City as secretary and Dwight Turner of Cass City as treasurer. Another meeting will be held next year at the home of D. Turner of Cass City.

One branch of the family was not represented, that of George Metcalf, who lives now in Traverse City. The brothers and sisters now living and all in good health are as follows: Melvin, 73 years old; John, 70; Walter, 68; Henry, 66; George, 64; Emma, 51; Joe, 49. This is an aggregate age of 441 years. There are now living about 125 descendants.

The guests from a distance were: Walter Metcalf, Minneapolis, Minn.; Joe Metcalf and wife, John Peters and wife, and Henry Metcalf and wife, all of Webberville; Frank Deckrow, Grayling; Rufus Wilcox, wife and two children and Mrs. Gertrude Munson and children, all of West Branch; Paris Wilcox and Alice Erickson, both of Bay City; Mrs. A. C. Flower and son, Merle, Lansing; A. A. Metcalf, Boyne City; Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett, West Branch.

Words That Made Men Free IN CONGRESS. JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Our great national holiday, the Fourth of July, this year falls on Sunday. This is the first of a series of union out-door Sunday evening meetings which will be held in Cass City this summer.

LARGE BARN ERECTED ON TUCKEY DAIRY FARM

Full Basement Under Both, Main Structure 40x70 and Wing 40x42.

The advent of the condensary at Cass City has influenced the erection of many new silos and the building of several new barns in the past two years. Prominent among the latter, is a new barn on the J. D. Tuckey farm two miles southwest of Cass City, the frame of which was raised yesterday afternoon.

The main structure is 40 by 70 feet with a wing 40 by 42 feet. The barn has a hip roof and full basement. The 40 by 70 basement will be used for housing Mr. Tuckey's herd of dairy cattle and the smaller basement for a runway for cattle and for storing fertilizer during the winter.

Mr. Tuckey has 45 head of cattle on his farm, 30 of which are milch cows.

The new structure will provide better housing facilities for his stock, more room for farm crops, and the addition of more conveniences to expedite the labors of a dairyman. Mr. Tuckey is fortunate in having three sons who prove right-hand men in helping him care for his farming operations.

CLIFFORD ASSURED OF NEW UNION DEPOT

P. M. R. R. and P. O. & N. R. R. Ordered to Provide Same by October First.

"All things come to those who wait," may not always be borne out in fact, but occasionally, at least, the saying is verified, and the people of Clifford are just now congratulating themselves that they are among those of the fortunate class, inasmuch as their long and anxious waiting for a new union depot to replace the one burned at that point long ago is so soon to be rewarded.

Clifford is keeping up her reputation of sending out a splendid delegation of young people who will be students at the State Normal college during the summer. On Saturday morning the following young ladies left for Ypsilanti: Misses Alice and Laura Bigelow, Alice and Velma Ferguson, Jennie Beutler, Florence Striffler, Katherine McLarty and Margaret Hurley. Nearly all have accepted positions in schools in this vicinity for the coming school year.

SUNDAY MORNING FIRE.

The fire whistle disturbed the slumber of late sleepers Sunday morning. The Ben Smith residence on Fourth St., occupied by A. Smithson and family, was set afire by a spark from the chimney and the roof was damaged to a small extent. Neighbors were prompt in responding and organized a bucket brigade which had the flames under control by the time the fire department arrived.

Around Our Town

Norris J. Winslow writes from Alma: "June 1 we sold our Owendale store and are now located here. Please change address to 220 E. Superior St. as we can't get along without the Chronicle."

The schedule of the afternoon train No. 52, formerly due at Cass City at 2:55 p. m., central standard time, beginning June 28 was changed to 2:45 p. m. The Grand Trunk is putting on several new trains in the southern part of the state. In many instances, the road is giving new Sunday service.

The state public utilities commission on June 30 issued an order requiring a physical connection between the Valley Home Telephone company and the Moore Telephone company and the Kingston Home and Moore lines. These phone lines serve the Thumb district of the state including the towns of Owendale, Gageton, Vassar, Marlette and Mayville.

H. L. Pinney left Saturday afternoon for Ottawa Beach where he attended a meeting of the Michigan State Bankers Association the first of the week. He returned home by way of Highland Park, stopping in that village Wednesday to attend the wedding of Miss Elizabeth MacDonal, eldest daughter of Rev. James D. MacDonal, and Harvey Hanson of Detroit.

Something that looked like a cloud of dust came to a standstill in Cass City Saturday afternoon. After the dust settled a bit something that resembled motorcycles and white men could be distinguished. After the use of plenty of soap and water, they were discovered to be Kenneth Wickware and Robert Foster of Detroit. The boys are spending a few days at Caseville and will motor back to Detroit next Thursday.

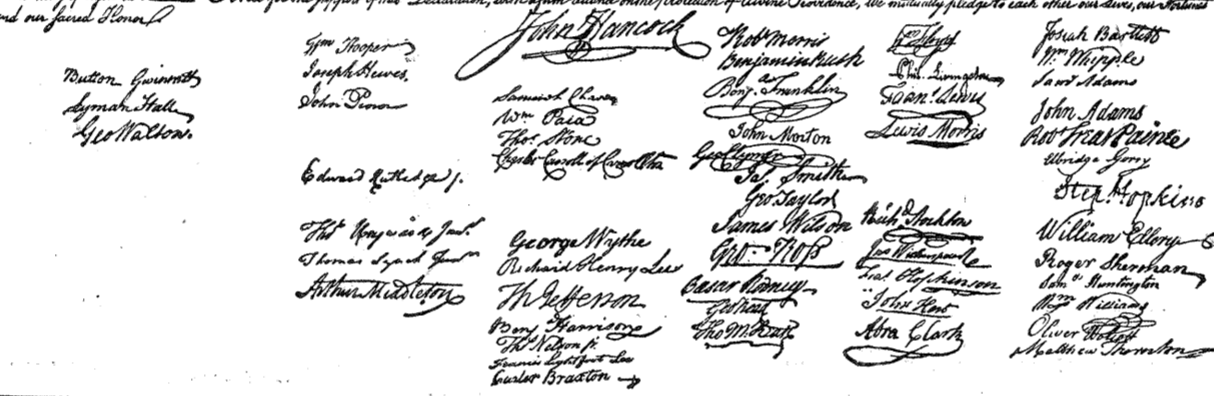

Mrs. A. H. Butzbach and Miss Luella Bartle returned Monday from Hersey where they attended the annual state convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Evangelical church. Mrs. Butzbach gave an address on the subject, "The Ministers' Wives Auxiliary." Rev. Butzbach and Lawrence Buehrley motored to Saginaw to meet the two delegates on their homeward trip.

Plavius LaForge had one foot badly smashed, a gash cut in his scalp and his hand and knee injured while loading some large water pipes at the power house Monday. The load got the stay of the loaders and rolled from the dray, striking Mr. La Forge and rendered him unconscious. He was hurried to his home and given prompt medical attention.

Sylvester Elsey is the name of a farm hand who came Monday to "help out" on the Wm. Martus farm this summer. Sylvester hails from Detroit and this is his 7th season on the Martus farm where he finds Uncle Bill and Aunt Leanoire ready to give a boy of eight years a fine time. He brought his little sister, Helen Catherine, with him and has already shown her many wonders of country life.

Cass City is keeping up her reputation of sending out a splendid delegation of young people who will be students at the State Normal college during the summer. On Saturday morning the following young ladies left for Ypsilanti: Misses Alice and Laura Bigelow, Alice and Velma Ferguson, Jennie Beutler, Florence Striffler, Katherine McLarty and Margaret Hurley. Nearly all have accepted positions in schools in this vicinity for the coming school year.

Tuesday morning, bright and early, the members of the Baptist Ladies' Aid were bestirring themselves in prospect of a day's outing. Not quilting this time, thank you, but a whole day of unalloyed pleasure, the weather man, doing his best by furnishing one of those "rare June days" for the occasion. Just a slight shower laid the dust as the six touring cars driven by Mrs. B. J. Dailey and the Messrs. Landon, Burt, Young, McGregory and Dunk, with their loads of Lady Aiders and baskets of things to eat sped northward as the bird flies and not one pause was made until they reached "Suits Me," the summer cottage of B. J. Dailey at Oak Bluff where all received a royal welcome from Mrs. Nellie Kitson. The first thing in order was a splash in the lake for the youngsters and strolls on the beach for the older ones. Some strolling beyond the sound of the dinner call, failed to get back in time to secure a place at the table but still all did justice to the viands, and 44 in all took dinner with Mrs. Kitson. The afternoon was spent in bathing, boat riding, swinging, pitching quoits and visiting and a ride to Caseville for the children and at 5:30 lunch and then—homeward bound. Well no, not until the party fixed up a blowout which gave the pastor, Mr. Dunk, considerable anxiety before reaching Cass City. Otherwise, they all declared they had had an "immense time."

THUMB NOTES.

PORT AUSTIN—A very sad accident occurred Saturday when a little 12-year-old girl was killed by falling off a tractor on the Frank Copeland farm. The little son of Mr. Copeland was driving the tractor and in going through the gate they struck something that caused the tractor to lurch and the little girl fell off, striking her head against the machine. The child was the daughter of a Mr. Kibaluz, who came with his family from Pennsylvania about a month ago to work in the sugar beet fields. A particularly sad feature of the case is that this is the fifth child of this family to die within a short time.

BAD AXE—Announcement comes from the road commissioners' office that financial arrangements have been made to take care of the contract for the five miles of good road in Sheridan and the work on it will be resumed at once. Local banks will furnish the money.

Independence Day

The Fourth of July is our greatest and most popular national holiday. While it may not be the day when "good resolutions" are usually made, this certainly is a good time to increase your bank account, if you have one, or to start a NEW one if you have none as yet.

Independence is a priceless thing for a people and scarcely less important for an individual. None of us are independent until we are free from debt and have a balance in the bank against future needs.

The old saying "It never rains but it pours" is still often true. Let this bank be the custodian of your funds. You will find it a "Port of Safety" to turn to with confidence if the time of storm ever comes.

For Every Farm Home

there is a HOOSIER SYSTEM of just the right size to care for all water supply requirements

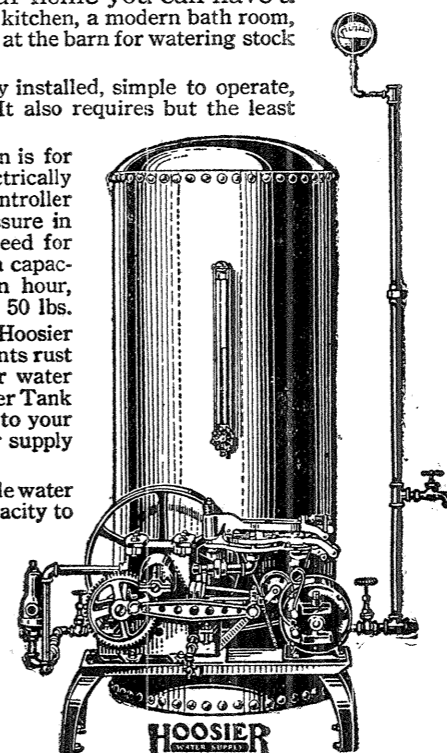

EVERY farm home-owner may enjoy the benefits which are derived from a supply of running water—under pressure. Water is needed so often throughout the day for so many household needs, and to be obliged to depend upon a hand pump is inconvenient. With a HOOSIER SYSTEM installed in your home you can have a supply of running water in the kitchen, a modern bathroom, on the lawn for sprinkling, and at the barn for watering stock and washing vehicles.

A HOOSIER SYSTEM is easily installed, simple to operate, and the upkeep is negligible. It also requires but the least amount of personal attention.

The HOOSIER SYSTEM shown is for shallow well pumping, and electrically operated. The automatic controller maintains ample working pressure in tank at all times without the need for personal attention. Pump has a capacity of 250 gallons of water an hour, pumping against a pressure of 50 lbs. The tank is coated inside with Hoosier Anti-Rust Enamel, which prevents rust and corrosion. No chance for water contamination where the Hoosier Tank is used, and for this reason it is to your interest to see that your water supply system is a Hoosier.

This is a compact and serviceable water supply system of sufficient capacity to care for almost any home.

FIRES CONDEMNED IN GRASSHOPPER CONTROL

Burning Both Useless and Dangerous According to College Authorities.

That fire as a means of controlling grasshoppers in sections of the state where the pest is breaking out badly at present is both useless and dangerous is the statement of experts at the Michigan Agricultural College and the University of Michigan. Burning over areas in an effort to destroy the hoppers is said to be of little avail, while forestry men point out the great danger of forest fires where blazes become unmanageable. Reports coming to Professor P. S. Lovejoy, Forestry Department at the U. of M., from deputy fire wardens in the northern part of the state, indicate that there have already been losses from this "hopper control" fire activity, and the danger of large burnings following a continuation of the practice is said to be great.

"Fires are not necessary in grasshopper eradication work," says Prof. R. H. Pettit, Entomology Department at the Michigan Agricultural College, "and what is more they are of little avail." The use of poison bait is said by Professor Pettit to be the proper measure of control, and the one which is advocated by the agricultural college.

The grasshopper menace is said to be more menacing than it has been in any season for more than twenty years, and every effort at proper control is urged by the college authorities. The following method of preparing and distributing the poison bait is given by Professor Pettit: Into a bushel of screened sawdust thoroughly mix, by sifting, a pound of poison, either paris green, white arsenic, or crude arsenious oxide. In a gallon of water dissolve three-fourths of a pound of salt and add one-half of a cup of molasses. Slowly pour this into the poisoned sawdust while the mixture is being stirred. Add enough more water to make a good stiff "mash."

This poisoned bait can safely be taken in the hands and spread broadcast. It should not be left in piles around the field, but should be well scattered. A bushel of this poison ought to cover about three acres of ground. The best results from the use of this poison are to be expected when it is used late in the afternoon. Thus it will not dry out over night and will be fresh when the hungry hoppers go for it in the morning.

If put out in piles the chances are that there will be some danger to cattle from the use of this poison, but if applied as recommended no trouble is likely to result. However, it is best to salt the cattle before applying the poison to their feeding grounds, as they will then be less attracted to the mixture.

CROSWELL—The canning factory is ready for this season's crop of peas. Prospects for this crop are unusually good, this, and the larger acreage will make a much heavier run than last year. A new viner has been built at Peck to take care of the crops raised by the farmers in that vicinity and several improvements that will save much labor have been installed. Strawberries in quite large quantities have already been canned.

Land of Beulah. In the Pilgrim's Progress, the greatest allusion in English literature, written by John Bunyan from 1630 to 1670, Beulah is the name given to a land of rest and quiet, represented as lying on the hither side of the river of Death in which the pilgrims tarry till their summons comes to cross the stream and enter the Celestial city.

Dangers to Be Avoided. Wrong eating brings disease and premature aging. This is obvious to all unprejudiced minds. And there are two principal styles of eating which must be avoided to secure dependable health—namely, eating badly prepared food and eating too much of food properly prepared.—J. M. Tilden, M. D.

Spontaneous Combustion. Because the hollow fibers of cotton are loaded with oxygen they burn with a quick flash. When you add to cotton, which is already loaded with oxygen, oil, which is also loaded with oxygen, the excess of oxygen is likely sooner or later to make the cotton burst into flame. That is how spontaneous combustion occurs among oily rags.—Youth's Companion.

Sickening Discovery. The teacher had read a chapter from "The History of the American Revolution" and Raymond had then heard the word "breadstrows" for the first time. Telling his mother the story when he got home, he said: "When the British got up in the morning and saw the Americans on the opposite side of the hill, they threw up their breakfasts."—Boston Transcript.

Look in the Sewing Bag. Inasmuch as nobody has ever answered the old question, "What becomes of all the pins?" we submit one that may be easier: What becomes of all the safety razor blades?—Albany Journal.

Upon Reflection. It is better to have loved and lost than to pick out a go-cart with your wife.—Arkansas Thomas Cat.

THUMB NOTES.

CROSWELL—The county federation of Woman's clubs held here elected the following officers: President Mrs. H. Learmont, Croswell; vice-president, Mrs. Norman, Lexington; Secretary, Mrs. Clement, Decker-ville; treasurer, Mrs. Wilson, Marlette.

DECKER—The Decker Grain & Lumber Co. has commenced the rebuilding of their elevator. Practically all the material is on the ground and it is expected that they will be able to complete the work in the next 60 days.

DECKERVILLE — An enjoyable event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hooper Friday evening, June 18, when about one hundred and thirty friends and relatives came to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

BAD AXE—The Central Power company has been organized at Bad Axe. The company is incorporated for $75,000 and contracts have been let for the equipment. The Detroit Edison company has taken a big block of stock in the new concern and is represented in the personnel of officers, A. C. Marshall, vice president of the Detroit company, having been chosen its president. The other officers are: Vice president and manager, N. J. Frost; secretary, Fred Rapson; treasurer, J. N. Rankin. The above officers together with John G. Clark, of the Clark & McCaren company, constitute the board of directors of the new concern. The plant will be built in units, the first unit to be large enough to take care of Bad Axe and one or two other towns. Other units will be added as business demands them. The new company expects to make definite propositions for furnishing light and power to towns outside the county seat.

VASSAR—Jackson McCromie lost his life by drowning at Stony Point in the Cass River Sunday afternoon while swimming with Dorr Warner and Nelson Threehouse. He had been cutting "capers" previously and when he called for help and sank his companions supposed he was trying to fool them. This he repeated the third time and disappeared. His companions gave the alarm and Paul Stephen and Carson Atkins responded but could not find the young man's body. A large crowd soon gathered and men in boats made search of the body by use of poles and hooks. Roy Cole discovered it and after a few attempts T. W. Atkins got hold of his hair, sprang from the sinking boat in which he was riding into a canoe Wm. Van Petten was guiding without releasing his hold and thus the young man's body was brought to shore where a jury was impaneled and death was pronounced, the body having been in the water between two and three hours.—Pioneer.
