

CO-OPERATIVE PROPOSITION FAVORED

STOCKHOLDERS OF FARM PRODUCE CO. INDICATE WILLINGNESS TO CHANGE.

Sales of Company of Past Year Were $409,786.10; Net Profits Were $15,128.71.

The subject of a co-operative elevator was discussed at the annual meeting of the Farm Produce Co. Tuesday afternoon, members of the Farm Bureau having expressed the desire to have the company placed on a co-operative dividend sharing plan in which stockholders are paid a six or seven per cent on their stock investment and the remainder of the profits being divided among the stockholders in proportion to the amount of business transacted with the company, both buying and selling. A large portion of stock was represented at the meeting and the sentiment expressed was that stockholders were willing to make the proposed change if Farm Bureau members and farmers of this community who were not already interested financially in the company were willing to take over what might be termed "surplus stock."

Directors were elected as follows: N. A. Perry, Hugh Cooper, R. J. Knight, John A. Benkelman, Smith Hutchinson, I. K. Reid and J. J. Spence.

The annual report of the manager showed the following figures: Sales of year, both plants $409,786.10; Average monthly sales . . . 34,148.84; Inventory 104,801.20; Average expense of operation based on sales, elevator 4 1/2 per cent, lumber yard 12.9 per cent.

The net profits of the year were $15,128.71 which were divided as follows: Seven per cent dividend, $6,606.60; contingent fund, $4,022.11; surplus, $4,500.00.

Purchases during the year were: Wheat, 11,046 bu; oats, 30,924 bu; corn, 1,681 bu; rye, 11,863 bu; beans, 47,000 bu; barley, 4,410 bu; hay, 1,714 tons.

Stockholders voted a $100 gift to F. E. Kelsey, retiring manager, and $50 to Geo. Burg, retiring bookkeeper, as an expression of appreciation of the services of Messrs. Kelsey and Burg with the Farm Produce Co.

MRS. BURDEEN HOOVER BECOMES A CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY TREASURER

I take this means of announcing myself as a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of County Treasurer at the August Primary. Since ten years of age, I have been a citizen of Tuscola county. I have had a high school training and if given an opportunity I feel confident I could administer this important office with satisfaction to the people and with credit to myself.

Many of the people of the county are conversant with the handicaps which have confronted our family for the last twenty years. Sometimes our misfortunes and sorrows have almost overwhelmed us. I hesitate to enter into detail concerning these sad experiences. One of the things which made it hard for me to become a candidate was the fact that I did not desire to exploit my misfortunes as a political expedient.

All I want to ask of the voters of the county is that they look up my qualifications for this office, and if after so doing, they deem me qualified, then I shall be very grateful for their assistance and support at the coming primary.

I shall endeavor to see as many of the voters during the month of August as I can, and I shall appreciate fully any services my good friends may render.

Thanking one and all in advance for any assistance they may give, I remain, Respectfully,
—Adv. MRS. BURDEEN HOOVER

LOTTER-McINNES NUPTIALS

The M. E. parsonage was the scene of a very pretty wedding Tuesday at ten o'clock when Miss Clarell Sybell Lotter became the bride of William Robert McInnes. They were attended by Miss Chloe O'Dell and Howard Rice of Elkton.

The bride was charming in a beautiful gown of cream charmeuse with pearl trimmings and groom wore a suit of blue serge. The bridesmaid was becomingly attired in a gown of tricolette and white Bernett satin. Both bride and bridesmaid carried beautiful shower bouquets of sweet peas, bridal wreath and maiden-hair fern.

A wedding dinner was served at William's Inn, Harbor Beach.

They left Wednesday morning for an auto trip thru some of the middle west and western states and will be at home in Ann Arbor about Oct. 1st.

The Chronicle joins their many friends in extending congratulations.

FACTS AND CONDITIONS TO CONSIDER

To the Ladies and Gentlemen Voters of Tuscola County:

Friends and Neighbors: Tuscola county is none too large to be considered as a neighborhood and as neighbors we should co-operate for the best interests and welfare of our County.

You as Stockholders and Directors in a big corporation doing a business amounting to more than a half million dollars annually, will at the Primaries on August 31st next, hire, by ballot, a man to manage the main office of this big corporation; for every cent of the County's business must, under the new Uniform Accounting System, be accounted for and checked up in the County Clerk's office; and this is only a small part of the work in this office. The new duties recently added, including the work as clerk of the County Road Commissioners, will nearly double the work as compared with the past and an experienced accountant is positively necessary in this office.

There is scarcely one person in 500 who knows or has given any thought to the volume and the importance of the work in the county clerk's office, yet there is no office in the county that requires more constant attention, hard study and application and office experience. Ask any circuit judge or prominent attorney. They know, and through their influence our adjoining counties keep the experienced clerks on the job. They have wiped out the two term custom, which may not be good politics, but is mighty good business.

If any of us personally owned a half million dollar business, would

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

FOR TUSCOLA COUNTY, $780 HAVE BEEN PROVIDED.

T. W. Atwood of Caro Will Receive Applications for Scholarships.

A fund providing Educational Scholarships for ex-service men, whether soldiers, sailors or marines, has been set aside by the National War Work Council of the Young Men's Christian Association. This is to be distributed in proportion to population and to be allotted by local committees.

The money was provided through the United War Work Campaign for educational facilities for the soldiers in Europe. The close of the war made it impossible to use the money for that purpose and it is now being devoted to the education of the demobilized men. For Tuscola county $780 have been provided on the basis of our population. This amount is available for scholarships in Y. M. C. A.'s, business colleges, correspondence schools, short term agricultural or mechanical courses and in any other courses or accredited institutions less than college grade.

A committee of which Theron W. Atwood of Caro is chairman has been appointed for the administration of this fund for Tuscola county.

Applications for these scholarships will be received at any time, and requests for application blanks may be sent to Mr. Atwood at Caro.

In addition to these general scholarships a number of scholarships in larger amounts will be provided for soldiers and sailors in different parts of the state, which will enable the recipient to attend any approved college, technical school or university. Applications for the collegiate scholarships may be made through Mr. Atwood as above.

CONDENSARY PICNIC WAS BIG SUCCESS

LARGE CROWD FILLS GRANDSTAND TO LISTEN TO FINE ADDRESSES.

Enjoyable Program of Athletic and Other Contests Given in the Afternoon.

The first picnic given by the Nestle's Food Co. to the patrons of their Cass City plant was held here Wednesday and was a big success. The day was ideal, there was an immense crowd and the program was heartily enjoyed in every particular. Automobiles which were lined around the race track at the fair grounds from the cattle sheds on the east to the horse sheds on the north and in some places two and three deep had brought the celebrators from far and near. It was a jolly crowd who were out for a good time and had it.

A few athletic events were held in the morning, and early in the afternoon, M. P. Rittenhouse, superintendent of the company's local plant, introduced M. B. Auten as chairman of the speaking hour.

J. D. Brooker, the first speaker on the program, gave the patrons a cordial welcome. H. L. Pinney and E. W. Jones pointed out the fact that Cass City and other villages in the Thumb which had added industries in the past few years had shown an increase in population, while many villages who had not, had shown a decline according to the recent census report. Both advocated an addition to the business fabric of the community in the way of new industries and all local speakers called attention to the benefits the community enjoyed in a business way since the Nestle's Food Co.'s plant had commenced its operations here.

Your support is earnestly solicited at the Primary Aug. 31st.

THIRD ARREST IN DEFORD BOND THEFT

FRANK HALL TAKEN IN DETROIT THURSDAY TRYING TO SELL BONDS.

Three Are Held on Charge of Robbery and Alteration of United States Bonds.

Clarence A. Pepkie, 20 years old, and Baranard Parish, same age, both giving their residence as Wyandotte, Mich., were taken to the county jail at Bay City from the county jail at Caro last Wednesday by Deputy United States Marshal W. J. Schinette on a charge of altering United States government obligations.

The young men, it is said, on the night of June 10 burglarized the home of Mrs. W. M. Balch at Deford and got away with $700 worth of Liberty and Victory bonds and war savings stamps belonging to Mrs. Balch's brother, Amos Webster. Parish was later arrested at Wyandotte and Pepkie in Detroit and brought back to Tuscola county. They were remanded there under bonds of $2,000 each, which they could not furnish, and while in custody they made a statement to the sheriff to the effect that they stole the bonds and obliterated the name of the purchaser and erased the last serial number on a bond.

The altering of the bond virtually constitutes the same offense as counterfeiting, and when the confession of the young men was communicated to government authorities by the Tuscola sheriff, a warrant for their arrest on a federal charge was at once ordered.

On reaching Bay City they were taken before United States Commissioner F. S. Pratt for arraignment. Continued on page seven.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT AUG. 26.

Come to Cass City to Hear North-Western College Glee Club.

Despite the fact that Cass City is to have no Chautauqua this summer, yet it will not be wholly deprived of musical entertainment of Chautauqua excellence for on Aug. 26, the Men's Glee Club of North-Western College, Naperville, Ill., will give a concert in the Evangelical church. The Club consists of twelve young college men who have been selected by competitive trials to represent the college and since June 10 has been touring the middle-eastern and eastern states and have given concerts in Cleveland, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, New York City, Buffalo, and Detroit. Their program consists of both classical and the lighter numbers given by the Club, quartette and soloists. The soloists are Mr. H. Victor Vogel, basso, Mr. Milton Niergarth, cornetist, and Mr. Clarence Dissinger, violinist. The concert is given with the snap and zest characteristic of young American college men and is full of clean and wholesome humor.

Mr. Geo. B. Nevin, of Easton, Pa., one of the foremost American composers of the day, said to the club after the concert, "Your club is the best one I have ever heard." In the newspaper which he gave to the Easton papers the following statement is made: "The twelve young men of the club rendered a most interesting program of excellent musical quality, and from a vocal standpoint in a most creditable manner. In addition to the vocal program, two members played very pleasing solos on the violin and cornet. In their encores which were very frequent the chorus simply brought down the house—nothing but good, clean, wholesome humor of a very bright quality. There was a fine audience, and a well pleased one."

Mr. E. A. Stoll, of Pittsburg: "I have had an opportunity to hear a number of glee clubs sent out by various colleges and universities, but your club surpasses all I have ever heard."

The Amsterdam News, Amsterdam, N. Y.: "The program of the North-Western College Glee Club was excellently rendered, and met with the utmost approval, each selection receiving enthusiastic applause. The club is composed of twelve young men whose voices, pleasing in quality, blend harmoniously. The program was given with a snap and zest which made the numbers doubly enjoyable."

The concert will begin promptly at 8:30, Thursday evening, Aug. 26. The price of admission is twenty-five cents for adults and fifteen cents for children. The price has been made purposely low as a large attendance is desired. No seats will be reserved. Tickets may be obtained from any of the young people of the Evangelical church and will be on sale at the door. Don't fail to hear this concert. Remember the date and place: Thursday evening, Aug. 26, at the Evangelical church.—Advertisement.

HAVE YOU A ROOM TO RENT NEXT WEEK?

Citizens who have one or more rooms for rent during the week are requested to inform Secretary H. T. Crandell of the Fair Association, who will attempt with his many other duties, to give this his best attention.

Those who can possibly accommodate one or more visitors in this manner are urged to get in touch with Mr. Crandell at once.

34 MEN ENJOY A DAY'S OUTING

Motor to Sanilac County's Largest City and Visit Fruit Farm Near-by.

A delegation of Cass City business men with a few representative farmers, the company numbering 34, motored to Crosswell Friday to inspect the canning factory in that city and view the fruit farms of W. R. Roach & Co. near Lexington. The Cass Cityites found a "Welcome" banner across the business street of Crosswell on the arrival, but that was not the limit of the city's hospitality. Business people were there with the glad hand and those who had the privilege of enjoying the trip to Sanilac county's biggest town will long remember their kindly interest and hospitality.

The trip was made at the suggestion of B. L. Middleton, a former Crosswellite, who had been anxious for some time for his Cass City friends to see his old home town and its industries. The trip to the neighboring town proved so enjoyable that those who participated in the trip hope like trips will be planned to other live towns in the Thumb in the near future.

The company marched down the streets to the canning factory and at the office of the W. R. Roach Co. were

Friends of Burdeen Burse Hoover Tell Her Life Story

We, the undersigned friends of Burdeen Hoover, desire to give to the people of Tuscola county her life story.

Mrs. Hoover is a candidate for county treasurer and we give this narrative of her experiences in order that she may be saved the necessity of narrating them herself.

Few families have suffered the trials that her family has, and yet come through with faith undaunted and a courage which will not waver.

Mrs. Solon Burse, the mother of Mrs. Hoover, has for over twenty years been a helpless invalid. Her two daughters, Burdeen Hoover and Myrtle Burse, during their girlhood days and since have been the constant attendants of their good mother.

It was agreed by the sisters that since only one could be away from the mother at a time, Burdeen, the older, should go to high school, which she did and graduated, while Myrtle, the younger, cared for the mother. This devotion of the sisters to each other, and to the mother in her helplessness, constitutes one of the most beautiful pictures of family devotion to be found anywhere.

The father, Solon Burse, by hard industry, provided for the family and the daughters had the direct care of the mother.

Though the girls could not indulge in the pleasures and recreations that mean so much to young life, no one has ever heard so much as murmur from their lips, and they are always cheerful and brave.

Many a person who has come under the inspiring influence of the mother, who in spite of her utter helplessness always radiates cheerfulness, will testify that the devotion of the daughters was largely responsible for the good cheer of the mother. This devotion on the part of Burdeen and Myrtle presents quite a contrast to what we so often witness where children are unmindful of the welfare of their parents.

The family has always been in very moderate circumstances, and it would seem that their afflictions had been enough for any one family. However, last summer their home burned and only through the timely assistance of neighbors was the invalid mother rescued from the burning home. People of less determination might have given up in despair, but the father and daughters pluckily started anew and never once wavered.

Added to this loss later in the fall the father, Solon Burse, who had so faithfully labored and stayed by the family while at his regular duties as fireman at the sugar factory, dropped

SENSATIONAL AEROPLANE FEATS

ARE AN ADDED ATTRACTION FOR CASS CITY FAIR NEXT WEEK.

Bad Axe and Cass City Ball Game Next Wednesday Afternoon.

Every day the prospects for the Cass City Fair are looking better and Secretary Crandell never finds it too late to take on another feature which will add to the success of the big exposition.

Yesterday noon, he completed arrangements for a sensational feature in the way of an aeroplane attraction. Lt. Wonsey, who had already been scheduled to carry passengers at the fair next week, will bring with him Lt. Lockhart, another aviator. These two airmen are to arrive next Monday and during the fair their aeroplane will do tail spins and other dangerous tricks. One of the men will stand on his head on the plane, walk out on the wings and tail of the machine and do other feats that will make the shivers run down the backs of the spectators as they watch the plane sail around in the sky.

Another recently added amusement is a ball game between Bad Axe and Cass City. This will be played Wednesday afternoon.

The Ishikawa Four Jap troupe, the Six Hussar Girls and the Bluchs promise to be fine special free attractions, the races will attract the usual crowd of speed fans, while the fireworks will bring out big crowds at night. Exhibits in all departments promise to be up to the high standard of last season.

NEWS AND ADV. COPY WANTED EARLY NEXT WEEK

dead. This loss seemed irreparable. Now with the provider gone, things did look dark indeed. The girls had been heard to remark that had it not been for the kindly and generous assistance of the brother Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and the employees of the Michigan Sugar Co., they would not have known which way to turn. Now with the loving and faithful father gone things were indeed dark. Again, however, they summoned courage and resolved to recover from their sorrow and great loss.

In January last when they were again hopeful, there came into their lives another sorrow. Mr. Hoover was taken with the flu, which later developed into pneumonia. The whole responsibility of the home during this sickness rested on the shoulders of the younger sister, Myrtle. Burdeen was caring for her husband, she was also taken and they for a time were both at death's door. Mr. Hoover died and Mrs. Hoover's condition was so serious that for some six or seven weeks she could not be told of her husband's death.

Added to this, Mrs. Hoover's life for several months hung in the balance. After a long siege, however, there were signs of improvement, and now Mrs. Hoover is on the road to complete recovery.

Such is the story of a young woman who wants a chance to serve in order that she may gather up the broken fragments of a stricken home and again face life on the level.

Burdeen Hoover asks no charity. She is competent and willing to work. We are confident that the generous American spirit will be the guide of the voters at the August primary and that Burdeen Hoover will be overwhelmingly nominated for the office of Treasurer.

Then the light of this broken home shall burn brightly again, then the two sisters working together with renewed courage shall insofar as it is humanly possible once again face the future with that same undaunted courage which has characterized them through all their troubles.

Miss Neva Webster returned to Detroit last Wednesday after a couple of weeks' visit at her parental home here.

Alfred N. Freeman and gentleman friend of Detroit were calling on old friends a couple of days last week.

Cyrus Doty of South Boardman and sons, Homer Doty of Traverse City, Byron Doty of Bay City and Curtis Lambkin of Saginaw were visiting old friends and neighbors around here last week. Mr. Doty's sons and brother-in-law moved away from here between 27 and 28 years ago. This was their first visit around here since that time. They saw a good many changes around here.

The party who crawled through the window in the Canboro Baptist church and removed the lock off of the door would feel better in his mind if he returned that lock as everybody is well acquainted with him. That party could put his time to better use than removing locks from church doors and letting a certain denomination in the church that had been turned out some 18 or 19 years ago.

Cost of Producing a Diamond.
To produce a diamond in the rough costs approximately $7 a karat, according to estimates of various students of the diamond industry. I this diamond properly cut were sold a $30, it would net a good profit. In the South African mines it is said that diamonds are distributed so evenly that 100 tons of the bluish clay yield about 100 karats of diamonds. The production cost of a five-karat diamond is $35. If it is flawless and a good water it will easily net $3,500. The supply of diamonds is unlimited. Almost all of the world's supply come from South Africa and complete control of it is in the hands of one British concern.

Ahead of Engagements.

Mary, who is the baby sister of girls in college, looks forward with delight to their week-end visits home and devotes herself entirely to them at such times. Recently, her sister noticed that as Mary knelt to say her little prayer she hurried through it, then began again and so on until she had repeated it almost breathlessly four times. Finally, she arose and exclaimed: "Now, I am prayed up for four nights and we can visit."

FACTS AND CONDITIONS TO CONSIDER

one of us discharge a tried and satisfactory clerk at the head of a most important department and replace him with a new man, unless he was exceptionally well qualified and we thought it would be to our best interests to do so? Why should we do differently with public affairs? We think it good business to keep our township and many state officers for years, usually as long as they will accept the job.
The above is for your consideration as a sound business proposition; and now from a political point of view, allowing for the sake of argument, that the two term custom is all right, have not the conditions existing during the past three years been such that this custom can be put aside for once? Could it do any harm? Is it fair to consider such a custom under the circumstances, when never, during the history of this county, has any other clerk been up against anything to compare with the work in this office during the War, covering two years; nor, considering the high cost of living, has any other clerk received so little for the work done?
The average pay I have received as County Clerk including increased salary and all fees is only 25 per cent more than that paid before the War, yet as you know the cost of living has increased to more than double what it was. Would it be fair that I should be made the victim of these conditions just to keep up a custom that has been abolished in our adjoining counties?
On account of the persistent harping by some that I received big pay for the draft work, I wish once more to say to you my friends that any one telling this is either ignorant of the facts or is wilfully trying to belittle my efforts. They do not tell you that the draft work made it necessary for me to hire and pay out of my own pocket for a clerk for thirteen months. This expense and the falling off of fees during the war practically wiped out the little pay received from the Government. You all know well enough how the cost of living has nearly trebled since I assumed the duties of this office and it is only through the kindness of the Board of Supervisors who increased the salary of this office, that I have been able to play even.
Is it unreasonable to ask your support for another term under such conditions as have existed?
Although greatly handicapped by the war work, I have endeavored to give you the very best possible service. I have never hesitated to give, nor considered extra hours or work necessary to accommodate any one, or to increase the efficiency of this office; and have even denied myself the pleasure and benefits of any vacation while in your employ as Clerk. I trust that my efforts to serve you have been sufficiently successful to merit your continued friendship and support.
The duties of my office will not permit me to see each one of you, but the most of you have met me or at least know of me and so I am asking and trusting that you will use your influence in my behalf; and with such help, I can feel confident of success. I hope you will not neglect to get out and vote as votes are the only thing that count. Let's keep on our tiptoes till we "Go over the Top."
Greatly appreciating and thanking you for what you are doing and will do, I am
Very sincerely yours,

FREDERICK C. MARTINDALE.

For Governor on the Republican Ticket.

A vote for him is for a man that will give everybody a square deal—farmers as well as the city man. Years of experience in Lansing as secretary of state, senator and representative. He is the right man in the right place—a real Republican.

Some salient points which Mr. Martindale believes would be of benefit to the people:

1. Am in favor of constitutional amendment providing one term of four years for Governor.
2. Will perfect and put into immediate effect, the State Budget System.
3. Pledge a thoroughly economical and business-like administration of Michigan's affairs—consolidation of State boards and commissions.
4. Believe in promoting the development of Michigan's agricultural and manufacturing interest by improving transportation facilities.
5. Would encourage the lake to ocean water route as outlet to Michigan's products and gateway for Michigan necessities.
6. Stand for development of good roads, extension of trunk line highways and construction of adequate cross roads.
7. Champions the providing of certain facilities by the State for the better handling and marketing of farm products, so that the farmer will get more nearly what the consumer pays and the consumer will buy at nearer what the farmer sells for.
8. Would establish increased fire protection on "cut over" lands of State to encourage the new settlers and to aid reforestation.
9. Am opposed to abolition of parochial schools as Un-American and impracticable.
10. Am in favor of generous treatment of service-men and their families.
11. Believe in an absolutely "square deal" for working men and women and the enactment and enforcement of laws in their interest, as shown by my past record.
12. Have at heart the highest good of the State, the correlation of all its varied activities and the fullest development of its business, social and religious life.—Adv. 8-6-4

HARDING SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE A NEW KEYNOTE

Republican Nominee at Notification Ceremonies Discusses Problems Confronting Nation.

"HOLD HERITAGE AMERICAN NATIONALITY UNIMPAIRED"

Advocates Party Responsibility as Distinguished From Dictatorial and Autocratic Personal Rule—In Referring to League of Nations, Says We Do Not Mean to Shun a Single Responsibility of This Republic to World Civilization—Favors Protective Tariff, Merchant Marine, a Small Army, Woman Suffrage and National Budget.

Marion, O. (Special)—Warren G. Harding was officially notified of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the presidency. His speech of acceptance is, in part, as follows:

Chairman Lodge, Members of Notification Committee, Members of National Committee, Ladies and Gentlemen: The message which you have formally conveyed brings to me a realization of responsibility which is not underestimated. It is a supreme test to interpret the covenant of a great political party, the activities of which are so woven into the history of this republic, and a very sacred and solemn undertaking to utter the faith and aspirations of the many millions who adhere to that party. The party platform has charted the way, yet, somehow, we have come to expect that interpretation which voices the faith of nominees who must assume specific tasks.

Let me be understood clearly from the very beginning. I believe in party sponsorship in government. I believe in party government as distinguished from personal government, individual, dictatorial, autocratic or what not.

No man is big enough to run this great republic. There never has been one. Such domination was never intended. Tranquility, stability, dependability—all are assured in party sponsorship, and we mean to renew the assurances which were rendered in the cataclysmal war.

Our first commitment is the restoration of representative popular government, under the Constitution, through the agency of the Republican party. Our vision includes more than a chief executive. We believe in a cabinet of highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice president, second official of the republic, shall be asked to participate. The same vision includes a cordial understanding and co-ordinated activities with a house of congress, fresh from the people, voicing the convictions which members bring from direct contact with the electorate, and cordial co-operation along with the restored functions of the senate, fit to be the greatest deliberative body of the world.

It is not difficult, Chairman Lodge, to make ourselves clear on the question of international relationship. We Republicans of the senate, conscious of our solemn oaths and mindful of our constitutional obligations, when we saw the structure of a world super-government taking visionary form, joined in a becoming warning of our devotion to this republic. If the torch of constitutionalism had not been dimmed, the delayed peace of the world and the tragedy of disappointment and Europe's misunderstanding of America easily might have been avoided. The Republicans of the senate halted the barter of independent American independence and influence, which it was proposed to exchange for an obscure and unequal place in the merged government of the world. Our party means to hold the heritage of American nationality unimpaired and unshattered.

The world will not misconstrue. We do not mean to hold aloof. We do not mean to shun a single responsibility of this republic to world civilization. There is no hate in the American heart. We have no envy, no suspicion, no aversion for any people in the world. We hold to our rights, and mean to defend, and we mean to sustain the rights of this nation and our citizens alike, everywhere under the shining sun. Yet there is the concord of amity and sympathy and fraternity in every resolution. There is a genuine aspiration in every American breast for a tranquil friendship with all the world.

One may readily sense the conscience of our America. I am sure I understand the purpose of the dominant group of the senate. We were not seeking to defeat a world aspiration; we were resolved to safeguard America. We were resolved then, even as we are today, and will be tomorrow, to preserve this free and independent republic.

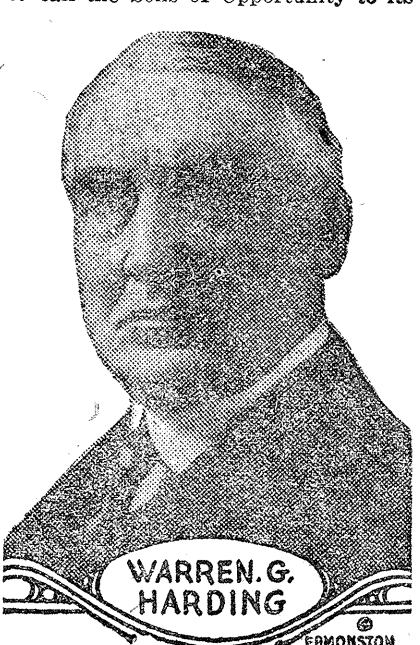

In the call of the conscience of America is peace, peace that closes the gaping wound of world war, and silences the impassioned voices of international envy and distrust. Heeding this call and knowing as I do the disposition of the congress, I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign.

It is better to be the free and disinterested agent of international justice and advancing civilization, with the covenant of conscience, than be shackled by a written compact which surrenders our freedom of action and gives to a military alliance the right to proclaim America's duty to the world. No surrender of rights to a world council or its military alliance, no assumed mandatory, however appealing, ever shall summon the sons of this republic to war. Their supreme sacrifice shall only be asked for America and its call of honor. There is a sanctity in that right we will not delegate.

Disposed as we are, the way is very simple. Let the failure attending assumption, obstinacy, impracticability and delay be recognized, and let us find the big, practical, unselfish way to do our part, neither covetous because of ambition nor hesitant through fear, but ready to serve ourselves, humanity and God. With a senate advising as the Constitution contemplates I would hopefully approach the nations of Europe and of the earth, proposing that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new relationship, to commit the moral forces of the world, America included, to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and self-reliant, but offering friendship to all the world.

It is folly to close our eyes to outstanding facts. Humanity is restive, much of the world is in revolution, the agents of discord and destruction have wrought their tragedy in pathetic Russia, have lighted their torches among other peoples, and hope to see America as a part of the great red conflagration. Ours is the temple of liberty under the law, and it is ours to call the Sons of Opportunity to its defense. America must not only save herself, but ours must be the appealing voice to sober the world.

It must be understood that toll alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toil, and its incentive. There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition.

The chief trouble today is that the World War wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our storehouses empty, and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums, not minimums, is the call of America. It isn't a new story, because war never fails to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. War also establishes its higher standards for wages, and they abide. I wish the higher wage to abide, on one explicit condition—that the wage earner will give full return for the wage received.

I want, somehow, to appeal to the sons and daughters of the republic, to every producer, to join hand and brain in production, more production, honest production, patriotic production, because patriotic production is no less a defense of our best civilization than that of armed force. Profiteering is a crime of commission, under-production is a crime of omission. We must work our most and best, else the destructive reaction will come.

The menacing tendency of the present day is not chargeable wholly to the unsettled and fevered conditions caused by the war. The manifest weakness in popular government lies in the temptation to appeal to group citizenship for political advantage.

It would be the blindness of folly to ignore the activities in our own country which are aimed to destroy our economic system and to commit us to the colossal tragedy which has destroyed all freedom and made Russia impotent. This movement is not to be halted in throttled liberties. We must not abridge the freedom of speech, the freedom of press, or the freedom of assembly, because there is no promise in repression. These liberties are as sacred as the freedom of religious belief, as inviolable as the rights of life and the pursuit of happiness. We do hold the right to crush sedition, to stifle a menacing contempt for law, to stamp out a peril to the safety of the republic or its people when emergency calls, because security and the majesty of the law are the first essentials of liberty. He who threatens destruction of the government by force or flaunts his contempt for lawful authority, ceases to be a loyal citizen and forfeits his rights to the freedom of the republic.

No party is indifferent to the welfare of the wage earner. To us his good fortune is of deepest concern, and we seek to make that good fortune permanent. We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining because that is an outstanding right, but we are unalterably insistent that its exercise must not destroy the equally sacred right of the individual, in his necessary pursuit of livelihood. Any American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment. The group must not endanger the individual, and we must discourage groups preying upon one another and none shall be allowed to forget that the government's obligations are alike to all the people.

We are so confident that much of the present-day insufficiency and inefficiency of transportation are due to the withering hand of government operation that we emphasize anew our opposition to government ownership, we want to expedite the reparation and make sure the mistake is not repeated.

A state of inadequate transportation facilities, mainly chargeable to the failure of governmental experiment, is losing millions to agriculture, it is hindering industry, it is menacing the American people with a fuel shortage little less than a peril. It emphasizes the present-day problem and suggests that spirit of encouragement and assistance which commits all America to relieve such an emergency.

Gross expansion of currency and credit have depreciated the dollar just as expansion and inflation have discredited the coins of the world. We inflated in haste, we must deflate in deliberation. We debased the dollar in reckless finance, we must restore in honesty.

In all sincerity we promise the prevention of unreasonable profits, we challenge profiteering with all the moral force and the legal powers of government and people; but it is fair, aye, it is timely, to give reminder that law is not the sole corrective of our economic ills.

Let us call to all the people for thrift and economy, for denial and sacrifice if need be, for a nation-wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommittal to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic.

New conditions which attend amazing growth and extraordinary industrial development, call for a new and forward looking program. The American farmer had a hundred and twenty millions to feed in the home market, and heard the cry of the world for food and answered it, though he faced an appalling task amid handicaps never encountered before.

Contemplating the defenselessness of the individual farmer to meet the organized buyers of his products and the distributors of the things the farmer buys, I hold that farmers should not only be permitted but encouraged to join in co-operative association to reap the measure of reward merited by their arduous toil.

Our platform is an earnest pledge of renewed concern for this most essential and elemental industry, and in both appreciation and interest we pledge effective expression in law and practice. We will hail that co-operation which again will make profitable and desirable the ownership and operation of comparatively small farms intensively cultivated and which will facilitate the caring for the products of farm and orchard without the lamentable waste under present conditions.

America would look with anxiety on the discouragement of farming activity either through the government's neglect or its paralysis by socialistic practices. A Republican administration will be committed to renewed regard for agriculture and seek the participation of farmers in curing the ills justly complained of and aim to place the American farm where it ought to be—highly ranked in American activities and fully sharing the highest good fortunes of American life.

Becomingly associated with this subject are the policies of irrigation and reclamation, so essential to agricultural expansion and the continued development of the great and wonderful West. It is our purpose to continue and enlarge federal aid, not in sectional partiality but for the good of all America.

I believe the budget system will effect a necessary helpful reformation and reveal business methods to government business.

I believe federal departments should be made more businesslike and send back to productive effort thousands of general employees, who are either duplicating work or not essential at all.

I believe in the protective tariff policy and know we will be calling for its saving Americanism again.

I believe in a great merchant marine—I would have this republic the leading maritime nation of the world.

I believe in a navy ample to protect it and able to assure us dependable defense.

I believe in a small army, but the best in the world, with a mindfulness for preparedness which will avoid the unutterable cost of our previous neglect.

I believe in our eminence in trade abroad which the government should aid in expanding, both in revealing markets and speeding cargoes.

I believe in establishing standards for immigration which are concerned with the future citizenship of the republic, not with mere man power in industry.

I believe that every man who does

SALIENT POINTS IN SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE.

- * "I pledge fidelity to our country and to God and accept the nomination of the Republican party for the presidency of the United States."
- * "The human element comes first, and I want the employers' industry to understand the aspirations, the convictions, the yearnings of millions of American wage earners."
- * "The Constitution contemplates no class and recognizes no group. It broadly includes all the people, with specific recognition for none."
- * "We approve collective bargaining."
- * "Gross expansion of currency and credits has depreciated the dollar. We will attempt intelligent and courageous deflation."
- * "When competition—natural, fair, impelling competition—is suppressed, whether by law, compact or conspiracy, we halt the march of progress, silence the voice of aspiration and paralyze the will for achievement."
- * "I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign."
- * "I can hear the call of conscience an insistent voice for largely reduced armaments throughout the world."
- * "Our vision includes more than a chief executive. We believe in a cabinet of highest capacity equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice president, second official of the republic, shall be asked to participate."

the garb of American citizenship and walks in the light of American opportunity, must become American in heart and soul.

I believe in holding fast to every forward step in unshackling child labor and elevating conditions of woman's employment.

I believe the federal government should stamp out lynching and remove that stain from the fair name of America.

I believe the federal government should give its effective aid in solving the problem of ample and becoming housing of its citizenship.

I believe this government should make its Liberty and Victory bonds worth all that its patriotic citizens paid in purchasing them.

I believe the tax burdens imposed for the war emergency must be revised to the needs of peace, and in the interest of equity in distribution of the burden.

I believe the negro citizens of America should be guaranteed the enjoyment of all their rights, that they have earned the full measure of citizenship bestowed, that their sacrifices in blood on the battlefields of the republic have entitled them to all of freedom and opportunity, all of sympathy and aid that the American spirit of fairness and justice demands.

I believe there is an easy and open path to righteous relationship with Mexico. It has seemed to me that our undeveloped, uncertain and infirm policy has made us a culpable party to the governmental misfortunes in that land. Our relations ought to be both friendly and sympathetic; we would like to acclaim a stable government there, and offer a neighborly hand in pointing the way to greater progress.

I believe in law enforcement. If elected, I mean to be a constitutional president, and it is impossible to ignore the Constitution, unthinkable to evade the law, when our every commitment is to orderly government.

The 4,000,000 defenders on land and sea were worthy of the best traditions of a people never warlike in peace, and never pacific in war. They commanded our pride, they have our gratitude, which must have genuine expression. It is not only a duty, it is a privilege to see that the sacrifices made shall be required, and that those still suffering from casualties and disabilities shall be abundantly aided and restored to the highest capabilities of citizenship and its enjoyment.

The womanhood of America, always its glory, its inspiration and the potent, uplifting force in its social and spiritual development, is about to be enfranchised. In so far as congress can go, the fact is already accomplished. By party edict, by my recorded vote, by personal conviction I am committed to this measure of justice.

It is my earnest hope, my sincere desire that the one needed state vote be quickly recorded in the affirmation of the right of equal suffrage and that the vote of every citizen shall be cast and counted in the approaching election.

And to the great number of noble women who have opposed in conviction this tremendous change in the ancient relation of the sexes as applied to government, I venture to plead that they will accept the full responsibility of enlarged citizenship and give to the best in the republic their suffrage and support.

Ours is not only a fortunate people, but a very commonsensical people, with vision high but their feet on the earth, with belief in themselves and faith in God. Whether enemies threaten from without or menaces arise from within, there is some indefinable voice saying: "Have confidence in the republic! America will go on!"

THE MUTUAL WAY TO RAISE A CALF

We wish to call your attention to Mutual Compound, a preparation especially prepared for calves and pigs. They require proper food, the same as babies. This preparation is to take the place of mother's milk for young calves and pigs, as baby foods for babies.

It replaces the whole milk after the calf is three days old. A calf requires from 8 to 12 quarts of milk a day. Figuring it at 6c a quart leaves 60c a day, this would mean $25.20, but with one small pail and separator milk, you can get satisfactory results, or, if not satisfied, money will be refunded.

This does not have to be cooked or bothered with. Just mix according to directions, (measure in the pail) with whey or skim milk. Stir up well, and where any water is added it is well to have it warm, bringing the temperature as close to blood temperature as possible, which is the temperature of mother's milk.

There is no danger of indigestion or scours, and the calves like it. We guarantee that you can raise a good, fat, healthy calf on this preparation, when mixed according to directions.

Why not sell the cream and the calf, and make two profits instead of a loss if it is figured the other way. You run no risk. The guarantee places the risk on us.

AUTO THIEVES MULCT BUYERS

THOUSANDS OF STOLEN CARS
SOLD TO UNSUSPECTING
BARGAIN HUNTERS.

IF FOUND, PURCHASER IS LOSER

Before Buying From Strangers Make Sure They Are Rightful Owners of Car They Are Trying to Sell.

At the present time a great many automobile thieves are operating in the State of Michigan. In 1919 the City of Detroit alone lost 3,482 automobiles, the value of which was $3,165,327.00. The Detroit Police Department recovered 2,709 stolen automobiles the value of which was $2,697,689.00. From these figures it will be seen that 773 cars of a value of $467,683.00 were never recovered. For the first six months of 1920 Detroit has lost 1,583 automobiles of which 1,278 have been recovered, leaving 315 cars still unrecovered. This is only for the City of Detroit. Complete statistics of stolen cars for the whole State of Michigan, cannot be accurately compiled. The conclusion follows, however, that a vast amount of valuable property is being stolen each day thru automobile thefts.

"Bargains" Are Apt to Be Boomerangs

The people themselves are largely to blame for this state of affairs. A great many unsuspecting persons purchase an automobile cheaply from whatever person offers it for sale. No investigation whatever is made as to whether the vendor is legally the owner. The purchaser in a great many cases never requests to see the registration card, which is issued by the Secretary of State. The only question involved when a great many people purchase a car is the price. If it is a bargain the deal is closed.

It is a simple matter for thieves, to change the various Manufacturer's numbers on a car in such a way as to deceive any one not making a very thorough inspection. If actual cases are cited showing how automobiles thieves operate, it may be of some help in showing the reader how easily he may be deceived in purchasing a stolen car.

One Farmer Sells Stolen Cars.

About the 15th of May 1920 a Deputy Sheriff in a certain County noticed that a farmer, apparently of good reputation, was in possession of a new car every few days. The farmer was posing as a Used Car Dealer and stated that he had purchased the cars in Detroit "on the market". Investigation disclosed that the cars were stolen and following this lead forty stolen cars were recovered.

Automobile thieves in this particular instance operated as follows:

One of the organization stole the car from the streets of Detroit, ran it to a secret garage and changed the motor and serial numbers in such a way that the change could not be easily detected. The car was then transferred to this certain County and easily disposed of because it was offered for sale at a very attractive price, and no one in this County had any reason, of course, to believe that the possessor of it was not the legal owner.

The authorities upon discovering that the car was stolen, simply took possession of it, and after it had been identified by its original owner, was returned to him. One farmer who had purchased a stolen car when the authorities took it away from him stated, "that he did not miss it half as much as the old horse he sold to purchase it." This particular farmer had sold a good horse to purchase a stolen car. As a result of his foolish investment he lost both.

Make Sure Seller Owns The Car.

If you desire to purchase a car go to some authorized dealer and pay the market price rather than take a chance of purchasing from a "fly by night dealer". Buy from some one who you know will be in business tomorrow and the day after. Do not think you are getting "a good thing" because some one is offering you a practically new car "dirt cheap". Since thousands of cars are being stolen it stands to reason that some one must purchase these cars. Thieves steal to sell; they do not steal automobiles to use themselves, the chance of detection is too great.

At any rate if you cannot resist the temptation to purchase a new car from an unknown person, cheaply, at least take all the reasonable precautions in protecting yourself from purchasing a stolen car. Inspect the serial and engine numbers yourself. Always secure the registration card as issued by the Secretary of State. Demand a Bill of Sale properly made out; establish the identity of the vendor, so that you could locate him in case you desire. If you are in doubt, call some police officer or sheriff and have him look at it.

The Detroit Automobile Club has issued a warning as set out in various posters distributed over the State. This is for your protection and is not to serve any selfish purpose whatever. The people at large should know what is going on within the borders of Michigan, and the figures set out at the beginning of this article show what a great traffic is going on in stolen automobiles. Think twice before you purchase a car whose owner you know nothing about.

HOW SPAIN'S OLIVE OIL IS PRODUCED AND PLACED ON THE MARKET.

In Spain there are 3,851,288 acres planted with olive trees. Of their products about 97 per cent is for oil. The yield of olive oil varies widely from year to year; in 1911 it was 421,782 metric tons; in 1912 only 63,001 tons; in 1917, 427,830 tons; in 1918, 255,202 tons. In odd years the yield is normally greater than in even years.

Though there are oil mills, the greater part of the oil is pressed by the producers. After pressing, the pulp, called orujo, is sold to the sulphur-oil factories, the product of which is used in making soap. The residue is a brown, flaky charcoal-like substance used as fuel. This generates high heat.

The quality of oil depends upon the acid content. Oil with less than half of one per cent of acid brings the highest price, but anything up to three per cent is considered edible.

It is contrary to law to mix olive oil with any other oil in Spain, but, of course, this does not prevent its adulteration in other countries. In the first five months of 1919 edible olive oil to the value of $3,153,214 was exported to the United States from Malaga.

Why Varnish Tree is Dreaded.
Varnish is produced in China from a tree commonly spoken of as the varnish tree, but known botanically as Rhus vernicifera, which is found in abundance in the mountains of Hupeh, Kweichow and Szechwan.

The varnish is taken from the tree after it is about six inches in diameter by tapping at intervals of from five to seven years, until the tree is fifty or sixty years of age. A good-sized tree will yield from five to seven pounds of varnish.

The natural color of the crude varnish as applied is black. It is considered the most indestructible varnish known. One peculiarity is that it hardens only in a moist atmosphere.

In China it is erroneously known among the foreign communities as "Ningpo varnish," probably because it first came into contact with foreign trade here.

Many persons are poisoned when they come into even atmospheric contact with this varnish, which fact, unfortunately, reduces its trade possibilities enormously. As yet no method has been discovered whereby this poisonous quality can be counteracted, an exchange states.

Devices on Old Playing Cards.
In the seventeenth century English cards were embellished with heraldic designs. The king of clubs bore the coat of arms of the pope of Rome. Spades, diamonds and hearts were adorned respectively with the armorial devices of the kings of France, Spain and England.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Men's Rights.

Men's rights are a great deal of trouble to them. They assert them, and get them, and then they don't know what to do with them. A man's rights, half of them, are meant to give away. . . . The beatitude of your rights is, they are your benevolences. You can yield them, give them away. And the law of social unity is this law of assertion of a man's individuality, and the use of that individuality as a benevolence for those that are round about him.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Everywhere Expresses Contempt.

The tongue has a single gesture, and everybody knows what it means. It is thrust out to express contempt. The little girl who "sticks out her tongue" does not realize that her action, so unladylike, harks back to the prehistoric. It is undoubtedly a most ancient mode of conveying the idea of intensified disrespect. Everywhere in the world, among savage and civilized peoples, the lingual gesture has the same recognized significance.

You may talk about seaside resorts, casinos and all that Where millionaires do congregate With purses big and fat, Of broad-walk and of golf-links, Of wonderful sea air, Of beaches on whose sands do sport Young maidens coy and fair. Chorus—Sung by the "Bluffers." Air—"The Jolly Student."

But we all love Caseville At Oak Bluff We do, Indeed we do! For 'tis there we meet a jolly band. It is the place for us in all America Rah! rah! rah! The best in all our glorious land. For oh! the gentle breezes as they Sweep across the Bay How they lure and how they beckon us When we are far away! All thru the drear, cold winter We seem to hear them sing "Oak Bluff is waiting for you And the happy days of spring."

We can hear the tall oaks sighing As they rustle in the breeze We can see the frisky squirrel As he scampers up the trees, And the sound of merry prattle Of the children on the shore Fills our heart with earnest longings To see Oak Bluff once more.

And every pleasant afternoon At exactly half past four One sees females of all degrees Disport upon the shore In a borrowed boat with bottom flat They make for waters deep, Where with many a splash and howl of joy Into the waves they leap.

And now and then a male appears, A bold brave sight is he! How jauntily he trips along! And all unconsciously! Aware of naught but his own fine grace, He steps out on the dock For well he knows the ladies think He is the beauty of the flock!

And oh; the gorgeous sunsets! While in the twilight clear We gather round the beach wood-fire And sing our songs of cheer. Then, later o'er our humble cot The gentle moon beam streams, While the music of the sobbing waves Lulls us all to pleasant dreams.

We remember with emotion How many a summer's day Would break all clear and cloudless As in the month of May. When suddenly, from out the north A vicious sound we'd hear, Our hearts would sink within us, for A three days' blow is near!

We scurry to our cottages And oh! how bangs the door! We shut the windows, light the fire, And vote Oak Bluff a bore! We "whang" down all the shutters,

A Tecktonius Silo Will Add Hundreds of Dollars To Your Earnings Every Year...

As an up-to-date, practical and progressive farmer, always on the lookout for ways to make more money from the farm, you surely cannot afford to let the silo get by you. Without a silo you're simply letting a lot of money rot on your farm every year—money you ought to have in your pocket to enjoy.

Ten Corn Silage Facts That Prove It

- KEEPS MORE STOCK—With corn silage as the ration basis, more stock can be kept on an acre of land. The silage from 10 acres will winter from 25 to 30 cows. NO WASTE IN FEEDING—Silage is all consumed, but quite a percentage of corn fodder or hay is wasted. SILAGE MORE NOURISHING—Corn silage is more nourishing than corn fodder. In silage corn cut at the right time, the stalk contains 40 per cent of the food value. GREEN FOOD ALL WINTER—To be in best health, animals need a succulent food in winter. They relish silage better than green grass. It keeps their digestive organs in fine condition. It is the cheapest and best green food for winter. FOOD VALUE RETAINED IN CURING—Less food value is lost in making silage than in any other crop curing. SAVES SPACE—One ton of silage occupies only about one-eighth as much space as a ton of hay. EASILY HANDLED—Silage can be fed in one-half the time it takes to feed corn fodder. BEST ADDITION TO PASTURE FEEDING—As a supplement to pasture feeding it costs less than soiling crops—requires less labor, is more palatable and nourishing. UTILIZES WASTE—Making silage utilizes waste—turns loss into gain. It makes use of every bit of the corn from ground to tassel and at a time when its food value is greatest. INCREASES MILK FLOW—Silage increases and maintains the milk flow of dairy cows, producing more milk and butter at less cost.

You See a Silo Makes Money "Coming and Going"

Silage not only gives you greater food value than an equal amount of fodder and reduces the labor of feeding, but it reduces the cost of food production tremendously by utilizing all waste.

Build a silo before another year goes by. Why not build it right now? There is plenty of time before harvest. We have a complete stock of every silo material you will need—lumber and fittings—the most desirable—ready to use and ready to deliver to you at any time. We'll come to your farm, tell you all about silo building and give you plans. And when you have the silo you bought right here at your home lumber yard, you'll say a really good silo can't be bought for less money or in a more satisfactory way.

To the sapphire has been ascribed wicked thoughts; that it is such an enemy to poison that if put in a glass with a spider or venomous reptile it will kill it. CONDENSARY PICNIC WAS BIG SUCCESS

Continued from first page. loney, supt. of field men, Frank Page, district supt., and H. M. Rowe were representatives of the Nestle's Food Co.'s head offices who came to Cass City to attend the picnic.

Mr. Rowe's Address. "The milk which you farmers produce is sent to feed the babies in India, China, Europe, Africa, Australia, and New Zealand," said H. M. Rowe, general agent of the executive department of the Nestle's Food Company, in speaking before the patrons and employees and their families at the picnic of the Cass City plant Aug. 11.

"You as producers, are participating in international trade. Every one of you is a material and vital part of that tremendous number of individuals engaged in the dairy industry. Your interests are our interests," continued Mr. Rowe.

"You are dairymen, and you do well to be dairymen. Dairying builds up the farm. The cow diverts cheap roughage into profit. Dairy communities are prosperous communities.

"The rapids increase in the population of our cities, together with the constant increase in the per capita consumption of dairy products are reasons why the dairy cow will be an important factor in the development of our country and of the yet undeveloped places in the world.

"In 1914 the milk export of the United States was upwards of 22,000,000 pounds, and in 1916 over 219,000,000 pounds, or about 22 per cent of the total production, and in 1919, the export exceeded 850,000,000 pounds, or over 42 per cent of the total production.

"This company is organized to manufacture and sell milk products, and to a far greater extent than any other company which is an exporter. Its products are now sold in the remotest corners of the world. The export of our products relieves the domestic market and has a direct and very beneficial effect upon that eternal surplus which you producers so well realize, and that a material effect upon your industry.

"In the meantime, you may be assured that so long as this company remains in business in this community, it will continue to receive your milk and pay the prevailing price for it, even though we are obliged, as even now, to manufacture and sell that milk without profit. Your interests are our interests. We feel that we are a citizen of your community, and whatever affects your personal prosperity, or your prosperity as a community, affects us. We appreciate your problems. We realize that you have a labor problem. We assure you that we have the same problem. You have the problem of high prices for foods, for fertilizers, seeds and equipment. We have the same problem. Our supplies, our equipment, our sugar, and our railroad service are indeed very real and serious problems.

"Your market for your milk depends upon our ability or some other manufacturer whose problems would be the same as ours, to convert your raw milk into manufactured goods and market them. Of course it is plain, particularly at this time when the export demand has dropped away so materially, that anything which affects our prosperity is immediately reflected in your own prosperity.

"You are producers, and every one of you is a material and vital part of that tremendous number of individuals engaged in the dairy industry, which of course includes, in its broader meaning, not only the man who owns and milks the cow, but every man who has anything to do with that milk as it passes through the factory and to the market on the table of the consumer, possibly in the remotest corner of the world.

"Our company has been in business for over 50 years, and has built up an export business all over the world. During the war, we had a choice between taking care of our export business and feeding the troops. We took the latter course, and since the conclusion of the war, and with our plants in Europe back in full force, we are now at work creating new markets for our American milk.

"Eight-tenths of all our product is exported from this country in competition with Europe. Our company gives you a chance to compete with foreign trade. To this end your interest as producers are ours as distributors," concluded Mr. Rowe.

Kinnaird's Force Busy. The Cass City Band was on the grounds during the day, and furnished plenty of good music, and ice cream and soft drinks were furnished free to picnickers by the Nestle's Co. from 12:30 to 4:00 p. m. A. H. Kinnaird and his force of employees were exceedingly busy during that time when they served 100 gallons of ice cream and 1500 bottles of soft drinks.

A very enjoyable program of athletic and other contests took up a greater part of the afternoon and in the evening the pleasures of the Pastime Theater and the Doerr ball room were open to the company's guests. Both places entertained large crowds.

THIRD ARREST IN DEFORD BOND THEFT

Continued from first page. and demanded an examination, which was set for August 25. Being unable to furnish bonds of $2,000 each for their appearance they were remanded to jail.

Secret service agents took finger prints of both prisoners and these will be sent to the government clearing house at Leavenworth for verification, both men having served in the army and their finger prints taken at that time already being on record.

The third arrest in connection with the Liberty bond theft in Deford was made Thursday evening in Detroit when Frank Hall, aged 19 and residing in Wyandotte was taken to the Central station of that city and locked up. Hall, it is reported, was attempting to sell his share Thursday to a merchant on Michigan avenue in Detroit when arrested.

Pepkie, it is said, is trying to shoulder all the blame, saying he is the man who robbed the house and erased the name and numbers. He declares that he was to give Hall one-half of the bonds and he was to keep half and that Parish was innocent so far as the altering of the bonds was concerned. However, Parish received four $50 bonds, it is claimed, and sold them before he was apprehended.

COX CALLS LEAGUE ISSUE PARAMOUNT

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE THROWS FIGHT ON PACT INTO CAMPAIGN.

NOT OPPOSED TO AMENDMENTS

Condemns Lodge Reservations—Says Congress Has Power to Change Dry Act—Will of People Rules.

Dayton, O. —Before a crowd of nearly 50,000 people gathered in the Montgomery county fair grounds from every part of the country Governor James M. Cox of Ohio last Saturday formally accepted the Democratic presidential nomination and set forth the issues on which he will go to the voters for election.

He declared the League of Nations not merely the paramount question of the campaign, but "the supreme purpose of the campaign," and pledged himself to its prompt ratification. He admitted the necessity of clarifying reservations, but condemned any notification that would impair the vital principles of the treaty.

He condemned the Lodge reservations and assailed the Republican peace plan as "unadulterated dishonesty." Arrant madness or attempted international bossism, he called it. He did not, as some of his auditors expected, declare for liberalization of the Volstead act, but indicated that the power to change the prohibition enforcement law rested with congress, the control of which, he informed the crowd, was in the hands of the people. An official who would promise to wink at the law, he declared, would be false to his oath of office and more unworthy than the law violator himself.

He promised to abolish the excess profits tax and to cut down taxes generally. At the same time he pledged his party to the reduction of government expenditures below the $4,000,000 mark annually.

The chief remedies for the high cost of living were the betterment of marketing facilities co-operative buying and selling, and the improvement of transportation.

He roundly denounced profiteers and bluntly charged that they were contributing vast sums to the Republican campaign fund for no other purpose than to gain freedom to continue their illegal profit-taking.

WAR CLOUDS THREATEN AGAIN

German Aid to Soviet Brings Another Crisis in Europe's Affairs.

Washington.—Latest reports from France and England state that the Allies plan an invasion of Germany if the Teutons do not withdraw their aid from the Russian Soviet government.

An interchange of views is in progress, between the United States and the French and British governments in an attempt, officials said, to map out a course of action.

With the threatened political and economic collapse of Poland and reaction of similar gravity anticipated in states adjacent to the new republic, officials described the situation as approaching a point where self interest would prompt the United States to take action.

Included among steps which the United States might find itself compelled to take, officials suggested extension of credits to Poland to permit the purchase of surplus war material, a declaration of moral support for Poland and a warning to the soviet government not to trespass further beyond its boundaries. Military aid, it was added could be considered only if all else failed.

The view was expressed that the threat of a nullification of the victory over Germany was contained in the understanding said to exist between soviet Russia and Germany and that this offered sufficient provocation for action by the United States.

CAR RUNS WILD, 25 PEOPLE HURT

Pontiac Car Turns Over At Bottom of Hill When Brakes Fail.

Pontiac, Mich.—Twenty-five persons were taken to the Pontiac city hospital with more or less serious injuries, as a result of an accident to an interurban car here at 10 o'clock Saturday night. The brakes failed to work, it is said, and the car, loaded with passengers from Detroit, coasted down Saginaw street as it entered Pontiac, leaving the rails at the bottom and turning over on its side.

On its wild plunges down the grade, the car crashed into two automobiles, wrecking them and as it reached the Michigan Air line crossing, it is supposed the derailer force the car from the rails. It turned over immediately.

Poultry Best Hopper Remedy.

Bay City.—Michigan can be rid of grasshoppers if raising of poultry, preferably turkeys and ducks, is increased, in the opinion of T. F. Marston, secretary of the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau. "By actual count a hungry duck will eat 20 hoppers a minute and keep this up for 30 minutes without resting," he said. "If a duck feeds but four hours a day it means nearly 5,000 hoppers destroyed every 24 hours by a single bird."

However he landed directly at the feet of two Hoboken policemen, who promptly rearrested him.

Claims Hen's Egg of Record Size. Oshkosh, Wis.—A single-comb Rhode Island Red chicken belonging to George Kilboy laid an egg that weighed a quarter of a pound and is 8 1-4 inches around, from end to end, and 7 inches in circumference. All of the flock lay eggs of larger size than ordinary and several times a dozen eggs have averaged two pounds.

Crooks Passing Confederate Money. Berlin.—American Confederate currency in large quantities has been discovered in circulation in Berlin and other parts of Germany. Outlawed paper money has found ready takers among the unsuspecting, who have rapidly exchanged it for marks at current rates. One merchant is known to have given 28,000 marks for a bundle of Confederate bills.

Eighteen Pound Fish Caught.

Pontiac.—After a three-quarter of an hour struggle William H. Speaker, landed the biggest fish ever caught on Elizabeth Lake, near Pontiac. The fish was a gar pike, which weighed 18 pounds and was 5 1-2 feet long. William Montgomery, game warden, to whom the fish was taken, told Mr. Speaker the fish was 25 years old and consumed 20 to 25 pounds of live fish a day.

Can't Stop Cider's "Kick" Say Makers

New York.—Westchester county apple cider manufacturers, appealing from the refusal of Prohibition Commissioner Kramer to permit them to manufacture cider of more than 1.2 of 1 per cent alcohol content, declared they were powerless to control the "kick" in the product after it was stored in barrels. They asked the court to take judicial cognizance of that fact.

Buys Own Coffin and Tombstone.

Raleigh, N. C.—Declaring he believed in preparedness Rufus Powell, a Wakee County farmer has virtually completed all arrangements for his own funeral except digging the grave in which his body will be buried. He has already purchased his coffin and the tombstone to go over his mound. Mr. Powell, who is 72 years old, is in robust health and works 14 hours daily, he says.

Record Grape Crops Expected.

Beiton Harbor, Mich.—Although last year's grape crop in Southwest Michigan set a new mark in the matter of quality and quantity, this season's crop should surpass it, fruit men throughout the territory say. Difficulty in obtaining containers has caused considerable worry. It is possible, the growers say, that grapes will be packed in barrels because of the basket shortage.

Finds Four Foot Snake in Bed.

Mayville, N. Y.—Soon after retiring, Mrs. Monroe Harrington, Portage Road, felt something crawl over her body. Calling her husband, an inspection of the bed was made, revealing a black snake measuring four feet four inches. Mrs. Harrington had aired the bed tick in the yard, and the reptile apparently crawled through an opening in the tick and was carried into the house.

Canary Given Royal Funeral.

Newark, N. J.—The scriptural assurance that sparrows shall not fall unnoticed was given tangible application to a pet canary bird recently. Fimmie, the little songster, choked to death on a watermelon seed, and so grief stricken was his owner, Emidio Russomanno, a 65-year-old cobbler, that friends contributed $200 for a funeral, including a hearse, five mourners' coaches and a 15 piece band.

Lives Day After Heart Stops.

St. Louis.—After having been kept alive with a pulmotor for 24 hours, Robert Stansbury, 16, died at the city hospital. The boy had undergone an operation for an ear affection. While on the operating table he stopped breathing. His heart continued to function and a pulmotor was brought. Physicians at the hospital assert their belief that this is the longest time in which a pulmotor has been used continuously.

Long, Hard Winter Is Forecast.

Lancaster, Pa.—Snowstorms are coming! Real blizzards! Br-r-r! That is, of course, next winter. This, according to an old lumberman, who pointed to the antics of the very industrious bee, indicating preparation for one of the hardest winters in years. The bees, which generally build their homes in the ground or a rotten log, are forsaking their natural haunts and taking to the topmost branches of tall trees—a sure sign, says the lumberman, of heavy blizzards.

PRETTY ARMS

UP TO the age of eighteen or nineteen, a girl need not worry if her arms are too thin or too fat—unless they are an extreme of either condition—for up to that time the body is maturing, and may easily be too fat or too thin in itself. And the arm gains or loses in proportion to its weight. Most of the men who sit by scales and weigh you free if they cannot guess your weight within a few pounds, take hold of the arm and feel its size before stating the weight.

The best way to have beautiful arms is to exercise them. Massage and creams may help some, but exercise is certain to develop the lovely lines so much desired. Plain household tasks will make the arms beautiful, making beds, sweeping, kneading bread or beating cake, are all exercises that tend to make the arms well developed. Such tasks should be done with quick movements; sluggish movements are not exercises at all.

Swimming is good for the arms, of course, rowing, canoeing, and all outdoor sports will make the arms pretty. Anything which makes the arms move quickly in varying directions, which flexes and relaxes the muscles, is a good arm exercise. Holding the arms doubled up, the hand in fist, and tightening the upper arm muscles, is still another good exercise.

It is such a pleasure to own pretty arms and to be able to wear sleeveless dresses, that every woman will feel repaid for any trouble she goes to, to improve her arms.

NO STRANGERS.

There ought to be no strangers in this little vale of tears; I haven't seen a stranger's face for years and years and years. I see, of course, some people that I never saw before, but they're just like the others that I've known in days of yore.

They've felt and known the selfsame things the rest have known and felt. They'll freeze up for unfriendly folks, for kindly ones they'll melt. They've each one had a sorrow that they thought they couldn't bear, but here it, just as people do with sorrows everywhere.

There ought to be no strangers, in this so-called world of woe! I see new people that I love, just everywhere I go. And everyone has felt some joy that I had felt some time. And each has had his little dream of higher slopes to climb; and each has known the sweets of home at some time or another; and nearly every man you meet will rave about his mother. They thrill at things that thrill me, too, these friends I never met—There ought to be no strangers in this misnamed world of fret!

Seventy-six cycles of time had passed over the head of Mrs. Carrie McArthur on Aug. 9th, hence some of the old ladies thought to remind her well that she was one of their many friends. So they gathered with presents and good will to the McArthur home. To Mrs. Mac the surprise was complete, which added spice and joy to the occasion.

Signs will soon be erected here—"Autoists slow down to 10 miles an hour." We are compelled to do so, for a 50 mile clip is dangerous among a herd of five year olds. Some may have more kids than are needed but none have any to spare.

What's done as much as anything else to fill up the movie houses

LOOK at the crowds that step out of their cars in front of the movies every summer evening.

The movie managers would be renting half of their theatres for store space, if it weren't for the automobile.

It is typical of Americans that they took to the automobile as a matter of course—just as they have to the movies and to every other great invention of the last half century.

And the same thing has happened everytime. Taking things as they come is a fine way to foster waste and extravagance.

As regards tires, the comeback is about due. People are pretty near through paying for something that isn't there when they look for it.

What a man pays for in a tire is quality—not a limited number of miles or the privilege of getting a rebate in case the miles don't come up to the limit.

U. S. Tires are guaranteed as to quality—with no limitation of mileage.

And that holds just as good for the small car tire as for the biggest U. S. Tire we've got. There's only one standard of quality with U. S.—and the size of the car has nothing whatever to do with it.

We represent U. S. Tires in this town. You'll find it worth while to talk to us before you buy any more tires.

34 MEN ENJOY A DAY'S OUTING

Continued from first page. met by Lloyd Dumont, manager of the company's plant at Crosswell. He is an exceedingly busy young man, but he devoted five hours to showing the visiting delegation the factory and the company's farms and imparting interesting facts concerning the cannery, a fact that made Mr. Dumont very popular with the visitors.

The Crosswell canning factory had been favorably mentioned at Cass City, but a visit to the institution was an "eye opener" for "the half had not been told." The plant cans peas, corn, beans, beets and other vegetables, raspberries and cherries. It makes a specialty of peas, grading their purchases of these into 27 classes. The better grades are sold under the Roach "Hart" brand while the others are sold to jobbers with the jobbers' labels attached. Forty to 500 employees are on the pay roll, depending on the time of the season. Last month's pay roll amounted to $45,000. In the warehouse, the visitors were shown boxes upon boxes of canned peas whose aggregate value was three-quarters of a million dollars.

Following the visit to the factory, the delegation, with Mr. Dumont, Mayor Graham, Mr. Jackson, manager of the flax mill, and "Dave" Hubbell, the talented editor of the Crosswell Jeffersonian, as guests, enjoyed an excellent chicken dinner at the Middleton Hotel. C. R. Townsend, secretary of the Cass City Business Men's Association, presided as chairman at an informal program of speech-making following the meal.

Mayor Graham, who is a general merchant in Crosswell and partner with his brother in the ownership of 700 acres of farm land in the vicinity of that city, stated that his firm had 105 acres in peas from which they received $7,200. They also had 100 acres in sweet corn. Mr. Graham said the canning factory was a great benefit to the farmer and what helped the farmer helped the business people. His mercantile business showed a third more than before the advent of the factory in Crosswell.

"Dave" Hubbell said everyone in the Crosswell community was satisfied that the factory was a good proposition for all concerned. He emphasized the fact that good management was most necessary for the success of such an enterprise and advised anyone interested in such a proposition to steer clear from "home-made" or stock company propositions, and suggested connections with an established canning concern who had experienced men competent for the manufacturing end and marketing the product.

Mr. Jackson gave some interesting facts regarding the flax industry, stating that his company was doing business at 12 different points in the Thumb and had control of the flax industry in the United States. Since the establishment of the canning factory at Crosswell, he said, there are no empty houses in the city, rents have jumped and farming land has doubled in value. Good farms in the factory radius are selling for $150 an acre.

J. L. Cathcart expressed the appreciation of the visitors for the courtesies shown them in their trip thru the factory and extended an invitation to Crosswell business people to visit Cass City.

E. W. Jones stated that Cass City had an example of what an industry will do for a town in the Nestle's Food Co.'s condensary and believed Cass City could be made a bigger and better town thru united effort. He paid tribute to Mr. Roach's ability as an enthusiastic and competent business man.

H. L. Pinney advocated the uniting of the resources, brain and brawn of the people of the Cass City community and the securing of an industry which would convert farm products into manufactured goods. An establishment of this character would aid in solving the problem of keeping the young people on the farm.

Mr. Dumont said that Mr. Roach was the biggest farmer in Michigan in addition to his interests as a canner. The canning season in Crosswell runs from June to December and all employees live in the Crosswell community. There is no imported help and Mr. Dumont expressed his appreciation of the competent employees engaged at the factory and the co-operation of Crosswell citizens. The company has 2,500 acres under contract for growing peas this season.

Mr. Dumont accompanied the delegation to the Roach fruit farm north of Lexington where the 46-acre tract is planted to berries, cherries and pears and for which the company recently refused an offer for $95,000. Here is an example of what intelligent care will do in fruit growing on a tract of land of ordinary, or rather less than ordinary value. Many times a farm of better soil has sold for one-tenth the price offered the Roach Co. for their 46 acres. Had this farm been the only thing of interest pointed out to the visitors that day, the trip would have been worth while.

On the way to Lexington, the Cass City bunch stopped to shake hands with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sheridan, whom they found comfortably situated on the outskirts of the lake shore town.

Six G. O. P. candidates for sheriff of Sanilac county are due to be disappointed when the votes are counted. BOY DROWNED AT CASEVILLE

Leo Baumlín, aged 10 years, was drowned in the river at Caseville Aug. 4 while fishing. He went out in the forenoon with an old gentleman acquaintance. The latter returned before dinner, leaving the boy alone on the bridge. When the boy didn't return for his dinner suspicion was aroused and search made. After dragging the river for some hours the body was found at 9:30 that night.

The little fellow has not been in good health and it is suspected that he may have fallen in the water while overcome by a fainting spell. His home was in Detroit and he was on a visit to his aunt, Mrs. Body, at a Caseville hotel.—Bad Axe Tribune.

FORMER SALOON REMADE INTO CHURCH

Last week the Plutschuck property at Forestville was purchased by the trustees of the Trinity Union Evangelical church.

This property consists of the building which has been used as a saloon for the past thirty years or more until Sanilac county went dry and then used for soft drinks until a year ago. Several different proprietors have dispensed drinks there to all who entered or left the village, being situated at the entrance to the business section.

The building will now be remodelled and converted into a church and used instead of the present building which is situated above the village hall which will be sold.—Minden Herald.

And He Had Only One Way to Go! There is at the entrance of the church of San Salvador in the Spanish city of Oviedo a remarkable tomb erected by a prince named Silo, with a curious Latin inscription which may be read 270 ways by beginning with the capital "S" in the center.

Insects That Have Short Life. There are many eggs of small insects that are hatching all the time. The ray of sunshine, falling weakly upon the side of a tree or upon an old log will hatch out many of these eggs, and the little creatures wobble through the frozen air for a few minutes before perishing. Possibly it is a tragedy with them when they are brought into the world too soon. At any rate they do not flourish; they do not mate and propagate their kind when hatched out in winter.

Foibles of Dickens. Charles Dickens invariably wrote in blue ink on blue paper, as he held the impression that the color of ink and paper greatly facilitated the flow of his ideas. Another idiosyncrasy of his was the writing of day and month in full, as, January twenty-sixth.
