ACCIDENTS

Are multiplying all around us. Many of them result fatally or nearly so. Should you be the victim of a serious accident you will not only be deprived of your earning power but be under a heavy expense besides.

Good Accident and Health Insurance is now so cheap and easy to buy that busy men and women cannot afford to carry their own risks in this Gas Car Age. The premium on my Accident policy is but $25.00 per year for $10,000.00 and this sum doubles in case of death on a common carrier, with numerous other benefits for partial injuries, all of which are enumerated in the policy.

We write these policies in the AETNA, one of the leading insurance companies of the world. Why not take out an Aetna policy now, you cannot do better.

A Few Reasons Why the Cletrac "Stands the Gaff."

Steel is largely used in the construction of the Cletrac instead of cast iron. This gives great strength and sturdiness with the minimum of weight. The very best material available is used for drive shafts and other parts under the greatest strain.

All material and workmanship is carefully inspected.

All bearings and gears are dust-proof.

The best type of roller and ball bearings are liberally used to reduce friction.

The motor is unusually sturdy and powerful and provided with an oiling and cooling system that stands up under the hardest kind of use.

The exclusive patented steering device insures the application of positive power to each track no matter how short the turn.

All Cletracs are equipped with a water air clarifier which removes every bit of dust and dirt from the air taken into the carburetor.

Any man who is familiar with high-grade motor construction and is posted on good machine shop practice, when examining the Cletrac will readily see why it "stands the gaff." Its designers and builders recognized that the jobs the Cletrac is set to do, keep it under continuous and terrific strain and they have produced in the Cletrac a tractor equal to the most trying tasks.

Greedy Pig.
Ruth was the possessor of a savings bank made the shape of a little pig. The bank was full of nickels and dimes, and one day Ruth's aunt, needing some change, hurriedly shook out all the dimes, thinking she would have them replaced before Ruth had discovered her loss. Ruth was not long, however, in finding out that her bank was rather light in weight, and, holding it up to the light while she peered through the slit in the back, she exclaimed: "Oh, Aunt Mattie! the little pig catted up all my dimes."

Ostrich Shows Affection.
The first case on record of any demonstration of affection on the part of an ostrich is recorded on the Cawson farm near South Pasadena, Cal. An ostrich hen was raised from the incubation period by Mrs. R. S. Smith of Riverside and became very much attached to the lady. Subsequently it was necessary to remove the bird to the Cawson place where it moved to the point that it almost died. Mrs. Smith happened to visit the place and the bird immediately recognized her and refused to leave.

Superstition Taken Seriously.
Ghosts and "black magic" are not laughed at in the interior of Africa. Under the mystic, awesome influence of the dank jungle anything seems possible. White men have learned to respect the superstitions and "juju" of the natives, and among the Englishmen who represent the colonial office in this far-off empire there has developed a rich lore of occult tales which are recounted to the traveler with never a flicker of skepticism.

Picturesque Nantucket.
Until several years ago Nantucket had its town crier. Old customs were followed as closely as possible. Some of the old streets are paved with cobblestones, and houses are built of wood with old wood shingle for a roof. Many fishing dories are docked along the one-time busy wharves, and while its glory is gone, the town of Nantucket becomes more picturesque every day.

Vote "NO" on the School Amendment Because

Governor Sleeper says:

I am opposed to the proposed constitutional amendment abolishing Parochial Schools.

Our commonwealth is broad enough to accommodate all shades of religious belief. It is big enough to give abundant room for the operations of all the religious denominations we have.

I urge all good citizens to oppose this radical change.

Lieutenant Governor Dickinson says:

I am impressed that the present proposition is not one that will conduce to better moral, friendly and charitable relations between citizens of the state that is so much to be desired.

As an official in the War, I was proud of the patriotism and efficiency shown by those with whom I associated of both the Lutheran and Catholic faith.

As chairman of the Near East Relief of the State, I have also associated with these people and admire their spirit of loyalty and sympathy.

Attorney General Groesbeck, Republican Candidate for Governor says:

The proposed amendment is in conflict with the Federal Constitution and should not be placed upon the ballot. The proposed amendment tends most strongly to foment ill feeling and acrimonious discussion among the people.

I hold that the right of the parent to exercise a reasonable control over the education of his off-spring during the formative period of his character, is one of the most sacred rights preserved for the individual under the Federal Constitution.

Ex-Governor Ferris, Democratic Candidate for Governor says:

The amendment should be overwhelmingly defeated. The recent war taught us that Catholics, Lutherans, Methodists, Congregationalists, Presbyterians, Christian Scientists and other denominations can all work together. Our Democracy should guarantee this privilege.

I feel that this is a cowardly attack upon thousands of our best citizens.

Regent Frank B. Leland, of the University of Michigan says:

I do not favor this amendment for many reasons. I think it is un-American and in my opinion, its incorporation into the basic law of the commonwealth would be most unwise at any time.

As a lawyer it is my view that the proposed amendment would not be constitutional even if it were passed, therefore it has no place on the ballot.

Regent James O. Murfin, of the University of Michigan says:

I am against this proposed amendment for a number of reasons. First and foremost it appears to me it is dishonest; it is contrary to sound principles and sound ideas, and is the most decided step backward. I have yet to learn a good sound argument for it.

President Frank S. Kedzie, of the Michigan Agricultural College says:

I am not favorable to the anti-parochial amendment for three main reasons:

- First: Interferes with religious liberty. Second: Introduces one more element tending to unrest. Third: Would lessen education facilities for the younger generation.

President McKenny, of the Michigan State Normal School says:

This amendment if carried would shut out thousands of children because of no public school buildings to accommodate them. Another reason is that there is no more loyal group of men in America than those who come from parochial or private schools. One-fourth of the men in the late world war who fought for America came from parochial and private schools.

The amendment is un-American and we cannot afford to have it carried.

DEFORD.

A 12 lb. sugar beet raised by Clyde Quick is on exhibition. Amos Webster and T. Crosby at Pigeon on Monday on business. Old Mr. and Mrs. Adams have returned from a swing around the circle. Ernest Roberts of Pontiac motored over here last Saturday to remain over Sunday. John Moshier of Sec. 35, Novesta, lost barn, sheep shed and tool house by fire on the 4th. Fired by a threshing machine from dust explosion. The barn was full of grain and hay. His farming machinery were all burned. Saved only a wagon. Can't say as to amount of insurance. Amos Webster took a batch of foreigners to Pontiac on the 3rd. They had missed the trains on Saturday. Now boys, you stole those melons and thereby made yourselves thieves. The Varga's are poor people and the melons are a part of their living. When you take melons from the well-to-do, it is cooning the stuff, but when you take it from the poor who suffer for the loss of its value you are guilty of a mean little trick. Don't laugh over it. George Webster of Seattle, Washington, visits kindred in this locality. He speaks highly of the great future of the new state. The greatest load of sugar beets brought in as yet is 3 1/2 tons of clean roots. Frank Hegler turned the trick. Bro. Phillips has moved to Dexter, his new appointment. Lyle Patch and his girl and Harry Perry and his girl motored up to see the folks from Detroit on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Lewis and children went to see Mrs. L's father, north of Caro on Sunday. There is a good prospect of a state road from county line east of here through our town to Caro. Last week we mentioned of four funerals in four weeks in our little burg, all citizens of our hamlet. Now we must record five in five consecutive weeks—the last the passing away of Mrs. Minerva Jane Lewis on the 4th inst. Often the question is asked, "What's in a name?" This question came to us with force a few days ago. We met an old countryman from where we once lived, settled by Irish of Scotch and Celtic makeup. The older ones now sleep in the "Silent City." The younger generation have sold and moved to the great centers of wickedness. He bewailed the condition of said locality in substance as follows:—By "Mac" and "O" you surely know that Irishmen abound; but "Frits" and "Sk" they both imply, no Irish there is found.

Old Lady Daugherty is very feeble, following a stroke. Wm. McCracken of Royal Oak was at Deford on Sunday and Monday arranging for an addition to his house in Deford. There will be a pie social at the Deford high school, evening of Oct. 15 (Friday). Everybody come. Girls bring pies. The word, girls, means any of the gentler sex under sixty; false teeth not barred. Mrs. Minerva Jane Lewis, widow of Josiah R. Lewis, who died Oct. 4, was born in Lapeer county, Mich., Jan. 31, 1845, where she lived till Sept. 22, 1866, when she married Josiah R. Lewis, losing her maiden name, Pease. They moved to Sanilac county where she resided five years and lived one year in Cass City; then resided for some time in Novesta township on a new farm. They came to Deford 32 years ago where she has lived till her passing away. Four children were born to her, two of whom died in young childhood. Hattie and Ralph are the remaining two. Mrs. Lewis was a woman of hopeful and gentle disposition. She never murmured with her lot whatever it might be. She was a member of the M. E. church of this place, but it mattered not to what denomination she adhered. Kindness was her creed; to do good was her religion. She built her monument in the hearts of those that knew her. Her health has been poor for some years and she looked forward with patience to the final change which to her was gain. The remains were laid in Novesta cemetery on the 7th. Funeral largely attended; all felt a friend has gone. "Oh, for the touch of a vanished hand; the sound of a voice that is still."

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Simmons of Gageton visited at the E. A. Livingston home Sunday. Rev. Charles of Caro will fill the pulpit at the Elmwood Baptist church until a pastor has been secured. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Livingston and family spent Sunday evening with C. M. Livingston's in Owendale. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Purdy, L. C. Purdy and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Simmons went to Rose Island fishing Tuesday. Byron Bingham, who has been a patient sufferer from stomach trouble for many months, passed away at his home Oct. 12, at the age of 71. He leaves a host of friends who sympathize with his family in their bereavement.

CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT

Minol the World's Greatest Remedy Ends All Foot Troubles. Boston, Mass.—Says that recent tests have proven without doubt that corns can be removed without the use of acids and poisonous green liquids by a new treatment recently discovered by a Boston Chemist. Just ask your druggist for one ounce of Minol; it is inexpensive and can be applied in a giffy, people who have used it are amazed at its wonderful effect. Rid yourself of those painful corns or tired, burning, swollen, aching feet in a few minutes; it is wonderful how it draws out the inflammation. It takes the soreness out and the corn or callous shrivels up and lifts right off without a bit of pain and so easy, no cutting, no irritation of the surrounding skin. It imparts a delightful, cooling, soothing feeling to the feet and if applied at night your feet will feel ten years younger in the morning. It prevents sweaty feet, foot odors, and keeps them sweet and comfortable. Home Relief Laboratories, Boston, Mass. For Sale by Burke's Drug Store.—Adv. 14

About Heaven.
There is a well-known story about a child being told that animals don't go to heaven, whereupon she inquired how heaven could flow with milk and honey if there were no cows there to supply the milk. A new variant of this has appeared. A new modern youngster on being told the same thing remarked "Then what's the use of goin' if we have to go the bad place every morning for our milk."—Boston Transcript.

Home vs. House.
Home cannot be given us. We may be given a house, a place to eat and sleep. This is not a home, says the Western Methodist. A home is a place of love and rest and peace. Love and rest and peace must be deserved, must be earned. Nobody can hand them to you as so many packages. They are matters of reciprocity. If you have none to give there will be but little for you to receive.

A GREAT HELP

"I SUPPOSE you do your own washing, ma'am?" inquired the seedy stranger.

"Yes, I do, although I don't see that it's any of your business," replied Mrs. Curfew, with some warmth.

"I suppose you'll be telling me that you're collecting statistics for a government bureau, or maybe for the state board of health. It seems that the authorities are greatly interested in family matters that don't concern them nowadays, and every day or two somebody comes along asking impertinent questions as to how many children I have, and my maiden name before I was married, and whether there's insanity in the family.

"I'm sick and tired of answering such questions. If my old friends want to dig into my family history, I'll give them all the information they want, although I may consider their conundrums in bad taste, but when a perfect stranger comes along and asks me if I do my own washing, I feel that the line must be drawn somewhere. Every jack in office asks questions. It used to be that the assessor would come to the door politely, and inquire how many dogs we kept, and take our estimate of the value of our property without looking as though he knew we ought to be prosecuted for perjury. But now he must know the color of your grandfather's side whiskers, and if you tell him that you keep no dogs he goes out and looks under the house, and in the barn, and when he comes back he warns you that the penalties for giving false information are severe.

"Mr. Curfew says that the next time the assessor comes, he is going to throw him over the back fence and kick him down the alley for a distance of seven blocks, and I hope he'll keep his word."
"I didn't mean to offend you," said the stranger. "I'm introducing a washing powder that saves half the labor, and dispenses with soap altogether. With this marvelous powder a woman can do the week's washing; and have her clothes hung on the line, inside of two hours."

"Well, mister, you take a package of your marvelous powder; down to the creek, and give yourself a good scrubbing, for you look as though you had been fishing out of somebody's dustbin. Your whiskers are full of sawdust, and your face is covered with grime. If you were introducing bituminous coal, there might be some excuse for your appearance, but a man who is selling washing powder ought to be like the driven snow, or nobody will have confidence in him."
"And I wouldn't have anything to do with your washing powder if you offered to bring me a wagonload for twenty cents. I make my own soap of lye and grease, and although it isn't indorsed by the crowned heads of Europe, or by prelates or vice presidents, it's the best soap ever made, and I know the ingredients are wholesome, even if they don't comprise barks and buds and healing herbs."

"When I use my own soap, I know the things I wash won't be any the worse for it, but the washin' powders sold by agents are made of dynamite and lunar caustic, and a garment once washed with them will never be fit to use again."

"Last spring I was feeling too poorly to make the usual batch of soap, so I bought a package of washing powder from an agent who had his pockets full of testimonials showing that he was a man of high moral character. It happened that week that all of Mr. Curfew's white shirts were in the wash. Mr. Curfew is very particular about his shirts. They must be as white as arctic snow, or the way he raves around the house is a disgrace. Well, I wish you could have seen those shirts after they were washed. They had an old gold color, and have been getting yellower ever since, and Mr. Curfew never sits down but he speaks about it and makes things uncomfortable."

"So you had better toddle along and sell your washing powder to some woman who doesn't know how to make good soap."

World's Supply of Nitrates.
The world's visible supply of nitrates is estimated at 2,102,000 tons.

The Type.
"I heard Mabel said when she married that she had selected the very flower of her admirers. To what particular bloom did she liken him?"
"At first she thought he was the pink of perfection, but when the baby came to claim her attention, he was just a mere poppy."

Neptune's Laundry.
"I would like to see the wash of the sea."
"The best time to do that ought to be when you are crossing the line."

No Blind Mole.
The mole is not blind, as many persons suppose. Its eyes are hardly larger than a pinhead, and are carefully protected from dust and dirt by means of inclosing hairs.

Tuesday Night's Audience Mystified by Phonograph

DRAWN FROM ACTUAL PHOTOGRAPH.

Hears famous soprano
compare voice with RE-CREATION by Edison's new phonograph--- could not tell the two apart.

MISS HELEN NEWITT, the popular soprano, gave an extraordinary recital Tuesday evening at the Opera House.

Miss Newitt walked on to the stage and stood beside a stately cabinet. She began to sing "Maiden's Wish." The audience immediately yielded to the spell of her beautiful voice. Then suddenly there was a stir—a subdued murmur of surprise—and a perplexed rubbing of eyes. Miss Newitt's voice continued to fill the auditorium with undiminished sweetness—your ears were proof of that—but her lips had become absolutely silent—your eyes told you that.

What wizardry was this? It was the test of direct comparison with the living artist, which Thomas A. Edison has developed to demonstrate that the Official Laboratory Model of his new phonograph will sing any song exactly as it was sung by the artist, and that his Re-Creation of a singer's voice, as it comes from his wonderful new phonograph, positively cannot be distinguished from the singer's actual voice, when both are heard in direct comparison.

Miss Newitt made repeated comparisons—always with the same result. It was truly wonderful. This master achievement of the great wizard, Edison, marks a new epoch in music.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With A Soul"

You can have a duplicate of the wonderful instrument used at the Opera House and, if you act quickly, we can furnish you with an engraved certificate (signed by Miss Newitt) certifying that it is an exact duplicate in tonal quality of the instrument she used in her amazing comparison; also that it will sustain precisely the same test.

We have a number of the famous Official Laboratory Models and Miss Newitt has certified every one of them. Come to our store at once and ask to see and hear the Official Laboratory Models on which Miss Newitt has issued her Certificates of Authenticity.
