Mr. Leonard has been a farmer all of his life except for the time he was a soldier during the Civil War. At the beginning of the conflict he was considered too old to bear arms, but finally was accepted because of the urgent need of men.

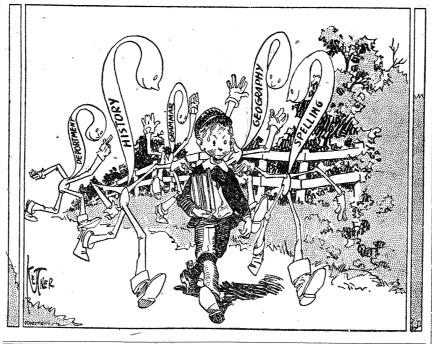

He ascribes his long life and vigor to the fact that he has led a simple life. His vitality has never been impaired by excess of any kind.

Mr. Leonard has lived under every President except the first four. He was a boy when matches were invented and was a grown man before steam railroads and the telegraph were known. He has been a taxpayer of Guilford county for more than 75 years and never used tobacco or liquor in any form. He attributes long life to the fact that he has lived as nature intended man to live.

WON BY BAD AXE

Bad Axe high won the county track meet, Friday by a good safe margin for awhile, for my husband as well as over the other two contesting schools, Elkton and Sebewaing. Kinde and Pigeon were expected to enter contestants for the various events but did not do so. Bad Axe made 76 points with six firsts; Elkton, 49 Second Grade Renewals Expiring points with 4 firsts and Sebewaing 35 points with five firsts.

BAY PORT FARMER MEETS INSTANT DEATH

Emil Bauer, aged 27, a farmer residing near Bay Port, was instantly killed Saturday afternoon when he was thrown into the fly wheel of the tractor with which he was working in the field on his farm.

The rear end of the tractor, from appearances, was stuck and Bauer evidently made use of a beam to lift his machine clear. The beam became caught in the fly wheel, throwing Bauer into the whirling wheel. Death was instantaneous.

FLAG DAY PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

Governor Alex J. Groesbeck has issued the following proclamation: The observance of Flag Day is of comparatively recent origin and seems to have been begun in the State of New York. The custom. however, has spread until practically every state in the Union has adopted

Honoring the flag means to honor the principles for which the flag stands, liberty, justice and equality. These are the foundation stones of the Republic. So long as these great principles are really respected and honored in the hearts of the people our government is safe. Our free institutions will weather any storm that may beat upon them. Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I hereby proclaims Tuesday, June 14, 1921, Flag Day.

Let flags be displayed on both public and private buildings; and I request that community exercises appropriate to the day be held wherever practicable.

Have You Noticed How Beautifully Clean the Clothes Are When Washed by a Thor

Electric Washer?

Everything from heavy blankets and greasy work clothes to the finest georgettes, look as fresh and clean as they did when new.

This is the secret of the Thor's popularity. It is the principal reason why more women use Thors, than any other type.

The revolving reversing cylinder of the Thor is the safest, most reliable and effective way to wash. It removes every particle of dirt without the slightest wear on the

Your clothes will last longer and look better if you use a Thor Electric Washer. More than 500,000 women

There are many other reasons why YOU should use the Thor. For example:

The Thor All-Metal Ball-Bearing Swinging Wringer is the safest, most convenient and reliable wringer built.

The Thor Cylinder of specially selected white maple cannot catch or wear the clothes, and is self-cleanable. It need never be lifted out.

The Thor is Direct Drive—All moving parts enclosed. There are no troublesome belts, chains or pulleys.

The Thor is Mechanically Superior. Every part is designed and constructed by experts and will perform its work perfectly and permanently.

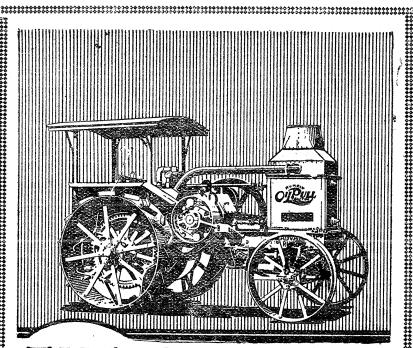

And Back of each Thor is the Hurley Machine Co., the oldest and largest manufacturers of electric washing machines. This company guarantees every Thor to give complete satisfaction.

You can tell a THOR washing by its beautiful appearance and the absence of the ragged edges and holes caused from rubbing.

Is made in 4 sizes, 12-20, 16-30, 20-40 and 30-60. A size for every need. No matter what size grain separator you have, one size will suit you. The following recommend was given me for the 16-30 h. p. Oil Pull Tractor which is self explanatory.

Marlette, Michigan, February 1, 1921. SOUTH MARLETTE THRESHING COMPANY.

To Whom It May Concern:
This is to certify that we, The South Marlette Threshing Company of Marlette, Michigan, bought of J. S. Dunsford, on June 20th, 1920, a 16-30 Horse Power "Oil Pull" Tractor, which we used to drive our 28 in. grain separator, for the fall of 1920, and was entirely satisfactory to us in every respect. And too much cannot be said in favor of the Oil Pull engine.

No time was lost on any job, in repairing, or getting the engine started, as is sometimes the case, with oil or gas engines.

As to the advantage of the Oil Pull engine over the steam engine, we have this to say:—First  The threshing company saved from $10 to $12 per day by reason of eliminating one man, one team, one water tank outfit, and a high salaried engineer.

Second  The farmer's savings were even as great as the company's savings, in that the farmer did not have to spend a half day or more in securing his fuel, wood or coal, the cost of which is about three times the cost of kerosene. Aside from this the farmer has no extra man and team to board, and we estimate the savings to the farmer at about $10 per day. While we have no axe to grind, in this connection, we cannot recommend the Oil Pull engine too highly, from the savings point of view to the farmer and company, as well as the promptness with which the engine always starts, and carries the load throughout the day. SOUTH MARLETTE THRESHING COMPANY,

President, T. E. Keys. Write Mr. T. E. Keys of Marlette, Mich., Mr. Guy Ross of North Branch or Mr. Bert Brown of Yale—Better still, go and talk with any of these men and note what they say of the Oil Pull Tractor for threshing, filling silos and farming.

See this so you may judge these men who battle for the world's championship on July 2.

that some men with brilliant minds, holding big jobs, making big money, appearing extremely prosperous, reach old age with little or nothing to show for their life's work and perhaps are even dependent on their friends or children for their living; while other men with less keen minds, making less money and less show, arrive at old age with enough property to afford them cheer and comfort?

We believe the latter men had the idea of saving part of what they made. We shall be glad to have you start a Savings Account with us and be prepared for rainy days and old age.

SENSATIONS IN LOST LIMBS

Why Persons Who Have Suffered Amputation Should Experience These Is Hard to Reason.

the average reader, that the illusion of ous expression from Dr. Weir Mitchell -far from being rare or exceptional, is almost universal among persons who have undergone an amputation. Among ninety cases, including a great variety of amputations, Mitchell found only four in which there had never been an illusion of this kind.

topic is that given by Weir Mitchell in Hens 15 his book, "Injuries of Nerves," published in 1872. The literature, however, goes back to the sixteenth century, when the phenomenon was well described by Ambroise Pare. In recent times Doctor Charcot has given some prominence to the subject.

The fact that a great deal has been written on this subject does not, by any means, imply that it is widely familiar. We confess, says the Scientific American, to being consumed with curiosity to know why the great war has not brought forth a flood of stories concerning pains and other sensations in missing limbs.

Mistake Made by Many.

Too many people take themselves too seriously, and can't understand why their estimates of themselves are not accepted by others. Consequently they "take it out" on others when they might do much better by taking some things out of themselves. There's too much personal "inflation."

Safeguarding the Miner.

To protect the miner against his ancient enemy, inflammable gas a mining engineer has improved the standard type of miner's lamp. He has added a device which causes the lamp to emit a loud singing note as soon as the atmosphere becomes charged with inflammable gas.

Farm Machinery Imperative.

While it is impossible to determine the extent that modern farm implaments have increased the production per acre, it is certain that it is only through their use that the large increase in population has been supported and sufficient labor liberated to permit of the present manufacturing and commercial activities in our towns and cities, and yet provide sufficient food with which to sustain the race. With the implements in use 60 or 70 years ago, no such condition of development as maintained today is think-

Any persons deeming themselves aggrieved sons deeming themselves aggrieved by said assessment can be heard at said meeting. H. L. Hunt, Twp. Clerk, 6-3-2 HOW SCIENTISTS KNOW WHAT ELEMENTS MAKE UP SUN AND STARS. -When you read in a scientific book that the sun is made of certain substances, that the stars Aldebaran, Sirius, Capella, etc., are made of other substances, you wonder how this can be known with such certainty; for nobody has ever been there to see. Nevertheless our knowledge of the composition of the sun and stars is almost as certain as that of the elements that go to make up our own earth. And it is all due to the spectroscope.

Isabel M. Lewis of the United

in Electrical Experimenter just how it is done. When a ray of sunlight passes through a a spectroscope (which consists essentially of a glass prism or chain of prisms), it is broken up into its component parts, which arrange themselves like a rainbow, violet, indigo, blue, green, yellow, orange, red, and these colors are crossed by many fine dark lines called Frauenhofer or absorption lines. The shortest wave lengths are in the violet and the longest in the red; below the red are the infra-red rays, invisible to the naked eye but capable of being photographed on specially sensitized plates.

An incandescent body under high pressure gives up a band of pure color unbroken by cross lines. If, however, cooler gases are between us and the source of the continuous spectrum they absorb from the light beyond just those rays of which they themselves consist, and as a result the band of color is crossed by dark lines. Every chemical element has its own lines in the spectrum, always in the same place. So it is easy to identify the element merely by observing the position of the Frauenhofer or absorption line in the spectrum.

If the intervening gases be hotter than the source of light, the lines they make on the spectrum will be bright instead of dark, but their position will be unchanged.

VALLEY FORGE

LITTLE VILLAGE BEARS A NAME THAT IS IM-MORTAL.

While Washington's troops starved or died of fever or gangrene at Valley Forge the enemies of his own household were not ashamed to play politics for the downfall of their commander even at the risk of losing their common cause. Lafayette, hot with indignation, writing to his well-loved chief December 30, 1777, said, with the restraint that good taste put upon a well-bred alien pen:

"I see plainly that America can defend herself if proper measures are taken; but I begin to fear that she may be lost by herself and her own sons."

And Washington, with his neverfailing courage and with a cheerfulness he could not have felt, replied: "We must not, in so great a contest, expect nothing but sunshine. I have no doubt that everything happens for the best, that we shall triumph over our misfortunes, and in the end be happy; and then, my dear marquis, if you will give me your company in Virginia, we will laugh at our past difficulties and the folly of others."

So wrote the man who, in dead of winter, commanded an army without a quartermaster general, for that creature of congress had ceased to function the previous summer. Congress, calmly aware of Washington's inevitable plight, appointed no successor till March of the following year, when, no thanks to the politicians, the exertions of Nathaniel Greene, Robert Morris and "Mad Anthony" Waynethe fearless leader who said he would rather go into battle than witness the sufferings of the men in his campsupplied cattle and clothing and brought the starving command back

Sir George Otto Trevelyan, nephew and biographer of Lord Macaulay, in his brilliant and sympathetic history of our war for independence, says that this village in the Pennsylvania hills "gave a name to what, as time goes on, bids fair to be the most celebrated encampment in the world's history."

On a bare hillside, surrounded by open fields, and miles from any considerable settlement, stands, almost completed, an exquisite little gray Gothic chapel. It is not a village church but a national Valhalla. It is an edifice of unusual beauty. Pennies of school children, patriotic societies and descendants of colonial familiesall had a part in building it. It is dedicated to the memory of Washington and of those who suffered with him on the hills and in the fields round about.-Saturday Evening Post.

OUR COUNTRY

DATE OF INDEPENDENCE DEMANDS FITTING CELEBRATION.

We are told by historians that Bjorne Hergulfson, an adventurous Icelander, was the first to see this continent. This was in the year 986 and the land he saw was believed to be Nantucket. Nova Scotia and Newfoundland.

Lief Erickson, in the year 1000, in Bjorne's ship, set sail for Greenland, landed in Newfoundland and later in Nova Scotia and still later on the shores of Massachusetts bay. The claim is made that he was the first paleface to set foot on the American continent.

Descendants of Columbus strenuously deprecated the importance of the discoveries of "Eric the Red." but the Americanist society declares that Columbus himself knew of the voyages and settlements of the Norsemen, having informed himself thereof when he visited Iceland in 1477.

Be that as it may, Columbus has the advantage of tradition, of familiarity, of the facility with which an at least apparent connection is established between the man and what came after him.

On June 24, 1497, John Cabot, an Englishman, saw the dismal cliffs of Labrador. That was 14 months before Columbus, on his third voyage, came in sight of the mainland of South America.

Amalric was the name which compacted the old ideal of heroism and leadership. It meant "the man who ruled because he labored for all." This name the Norman French shortened to Amaury. In Italy the name suffered euphonic changes and it became Amelrico, but the juxtaposition of the two consonants "1" and "r" presented a difficulty in pronunciation and the "ir" was changed to "rr" and finally to one "r." Down the centuries the name remained, and from Amerrico Vespuci came the name of the new world.

The Mayflower cast anchor in the waters off Cape Cod on November 21, 1621. The Pilgrims finally decided on Plymouth as the spot for settlement. The first settlement had been established, however, at Jamestown since 1607. Its early record was one of continuous misfortune-from an oppressive government to famine and Indian massacre. The first legislative assembly convened July 30, 1719.

On July 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was agreed to and Matthew Thornton affixed his signature to the engrossed copy. On January 18, 1777, an authentic copy with the names of the members of congress was ordered and a copy was sent to each of the United States to be placed on record."

This great state paper, "unequaled in eloquence and dignity," was the product, largely, of Thomas Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin, and it is said Thomas Paine, Franklin's friend, wrote the first draft presented to congress.

From that time to this the people of the United States of America have celebrated the anniversary of their independence. Emerging, with colors triumphant, from participation in the World war, the Stars and Stripes have taken on added luster and today they float over the happiest and most prosperous people on the earth.

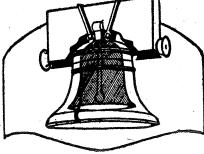

LET OLD BELL PEAL AGAIN

Suggestion for the Rejuvenation of the Historic Tocsin That Rang Out Liberty's Triumph.

Shall the Liberty bell ring out once more? Ever since 1843 it has remained mute-and for good reason. When it was being rung on Februrary 22, 1843, the crack in it, which had appeared some eight years before, so increased as nearly to destroy its sound. Ever since that time it has silently held its post at the head of the stairway in Independence hall in Philadelphia, where it has received the reverential inspection of thousands of Americans.

The original bell was cast in England in 1752, and was cracked soon after it was brought to America. It was recast in Philadelphia, more copper being put into the composition. But it cracked again while being tolled in memory of Chief Justice John Marshall in 1835; and the crack extended, as has been said, in 1843.

Here is a suggestion. Why not place within the Liberty bell a second smaller bell which can be rung? The proportions of the original bell permit of this, and it will be, in fact, a cover or jacket for the sound-giving bell. Surely this generation ought to see the historic bell swinging once more as joyous peals "Proclaim Liberty Throughout All the Land Unto All the Inhabitants Thereof," as the inscription on the bell reads.-Popular Science Monthly.

Pure-Breds Do Pay

That pure-bred livestock is a safe, profit-bringing investment for any farmer has long been the conviction and the message of the great national weekly of farm progress,

In a widely discussed recent series it pointed out, with merciless publicity, dangerous evil practices among certain breeders and distributors of pure-breds. Next week in a constructive article, it tells the general farmer how, in spite of these practices, he can profitably stock up with pure-breds NOW.

William Johnson writes the In the same way other investistory. Why some men seem to have all the tire luck -

JOU probably know a man whose car is a I hobby with him. He knows just why it's the best little old car there is of its class.

And he'll stand up for that car against the world in any kind of an argument.

Year by year an increasing number of men feel the same way about U.S. Tires.

For a while they may try "job lot" stuff, "bargains," "big discounts" and "rebates."

But usually it doesn't take long for a man to sense the economy of the standard quality tire. For years U.S. Tire makers have been build-

The tire buyers of the land have responded with a mighty U.S. Tire following.
