

WILL PURCHASE NEW PUMP OUTFIT

VILLAGE WILL PAY FOR IT THROUGH SAVING IN FUEL.

Present Equipment Installed Twenty-three Years Ago Has Been Outgrown.

The village council has entered into a contract for the purchase of a high duty crank and fly wheel pumping engine for the municipal waterworks plant, the same to be paid for on the basis of fuel-saving within the next four years.

The waterworks consumes one-third of the fuel used at the power plant and it is estimated that at least $1,500 will be saved each year by the installation of the new pumping outfit. The price to be paid the manufacturer for the pump is in no case to exceed $5,000, and in the event that fuel saving in the four years is less than that amount, he is to receive a lesser sum.

The two steam pumps which are now doing service have been on the job since the water and light plant was established 23 years ago. These have been outgrown the past few years and the consumption of water, especially during the mid-summer season, has been really greater than the present equipment could handle satisfactorily. The average consumption by water patrons is 200 gallons a minute, or 288,000 gallons per day.

The capacity of the new pumping engine to be installed is 1,000,000 gallons daily. This pump will be installed on a base 10 feet lower than the present equipment to bring it nearer the water level. One of the old pumps will be retained as a reserve unit.

A great amount of water is wasted by patrons of the municipal service and water meters have been advocated by a few citizens which would eliminate a great deal of this wastage and effect a considerable saving in fuel during the year. Supt. Straube estimates that water meters for all the patrons would involve an investment of $3,000. Detroit, by the installation of meters, cut down the city's consumption of water 40 per cent.

CHAUTAUQUA AT CASS CITY AUG. 3, 4 AND 5

American Legion Is Putting Entertainments and Will Put It Across.

The Radcliffe chautauqua, presenting a series of high class entertainments and lectures, will come to Cass City Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 3, 4 and 5. Two numbers, one by a musical organization and an address by a prominent lecturer, will be given at each afternoon and evening session. In addition to the six lectures and six entertainments, two numbers will be of special value to the little folks when Miss Marion Harvey will tell them stories of absorbing interest and introduce new games.

The chautauqua is being presented under the auspices of the Adams-Seeger Post of the American Legion. Members of the post will canvass the community for the sale of season tickets and should have the encouragement and support of all citizens. Back up the boys and assist in putting across this series of worth-while entertainments.

26 LADIES RENEW OLD FRIENDSHIPS FRIDAY

Gather at Home of Mrs. C. W. Clark at Caro and Enjoy a Reunion.

When 26 ladies, who neighbored in girlhood days and went to school together in the same town, gather at a chosen spot, there is an interesting time in reviewing happenings of the by-gone days and a renewing of old-time friendships. This occurred at the home of Mrs. C. W. Clark at Caro Friday when 26 "old girls" claiming Cass City as their old home town had a most enjoyable day.

Mrs. Grover Blades of Big Creek, California, is in Cass City visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zimnicker. While in Vassar last week calling on old friends with her sister, Mrs. Clark, someone suggested a gathering together of old friends and Mrs. Clark with characteristic enthusiasm suggested at once that her home was open for the occasion and invitations by mail, telephone and messenger were hurriedly dispatched.

The beautiful and spacious lawn at the Clark home furnished an ideal place for sociability and games and the weather man was generous in supplying a beautiful day. Mrs. Clark served luncheon in the early afternoon to members of the party who were seated in groups of four at small tables in the Clark home.

Those present included Miss Bertha McKenzie and Miss Lillian Jondro of Detroit, Mrs. Geo. Purvis of Davison, Mrs. O. W. Nique of Decker, Mrs. A. Muellerweiss of Sebewaing, Mrs. F. C. Ballard of North Branch, Mrs. A. A. Hitchcock of Detroit, Mrs. Samuel Cochrane of Caseville, Mrs. Grover Blades of Big Creek, Calif., and the following ladies from Cass City: Mrs. F. A. Bliss, Mrs. Lester Bailey, Mrs. N. McLarty, Mrs. G. W. Landon, Mrs. A. A. Ricker, Mrs. H. F. Lenzner, Mrs. Geo. Cridland, Mrs. Alex Henry, Mrs. Andrew Schmidt, Mrs. G. A. Tindale, Mrs. F. J. Nash, jr., Mrs. W. J. Schwieger, and Mrs. J. C. Corkins and the Misses Beryl Koepfgen, Nellie Bigelow and Etta Schenck.

MARRIED AT EVANSTON

Miss Maude McFadden Is Bride of Glen F. Benkelman.

On June 18 the marriage of Miss Maude McFadden and Glen F. Benkelman was solemnized at Evanston, Illinois in the presence of a few friends.

The bride's home has always been in Evanston, where she attended Northwestern University. She also attended the University of Toronto, Canada.

Mr. Benkelman, who has many friends and acquaintances in Cass City, attended the Cass City schools, later obtaining his training in electrical engineering at Purdue University and the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co., Pittsburgh, Pa. He is located in Chicago with Becker Bros., electrical engineers.

Mr. and Mrs. Benkelman will have their home at 529 Kedzie St., Evanston, Illinois. After taking a lake trip of a few days, they arrived at the home of J. A. Benkelman on July 5, and having spent a pleasant two weeks' vacation, left for Chicago Monday, July 18.

MRS. WALTER QUICK

Passed Away at Ann Arbor Hospital Wednesday Morning.

Mrs. Walter Quick, who has been ill since last winter, passed away at the University hospital at Ann Arbor, Wednesday morning where she had gone two weeks previous for treatment. Funeral services and burial will take place at Sterling today.

She was born at Port Huron 55 years ago and was united in marriage with Walter Quick in 1910. Besides her husband, she leaves three children by a former marriage, Mrs. Clyde Quick of Novesta and Mrs. Jas. Mann and George Swaffield, both of Sterling; also three brothers, Wm. and Albert Christie of Sterling and John Christie of Seattle, Wash., and three sisters, one residing in California and Mrs. Anna Brown and Mrs. Ellen Miller, both of Port Huron. Mrs. Quick was a member of the Church of Christ at Akron.

SUMMER HOME CLUB ELECTS DIRECTORS

At the annual meeting of the Cass City Summer Home Club at Caseville last Thursday, A. G. Newton, A. H. Higgins, L. I. Wood, F. J. Le Blanc and C. D. Striffler were elected members of the board of directors by stockholders in the association. A. G. Newton was later chosen president of the club, A. H. Higgins secretary and L. I. Wood treasurer.

BUICK SEDAN UPSET IN DITCH THURSDAY

Mrs. P. S. McGregory and Mrs. C. E. McCue Receive Several Injuries in Accident

P. S. McGregory's Buick sedan skidded in loose gravel four miles out Genesee Ave., Saginaw, late last Thursday afternoon and upset in a ditch four feet deep.

Mrs. C. E. McCue received cuts in the face and on the back of one hand, had one eye blackened, a rib cracked and badly bruised about the shoulder and hip. Mrs. McGregory also suffered a cracked rib and received extensive bruises about the shoulder and hips. Mr. McGregory, who was driving, and Paul Fritz and Miss Helen McGregory, who were also members of the party, escaped with minor injuries. The two ladies were taken to St. Mary's hospital at Saginaw and were able to be brought to their homes here the following day. The automobile body and fenders were badly damaged.

MICHIGAN CONGRESSMEN BEHIND STATE DAIRYMEN

Michigan congressmen and senators will support Michigan dairymen and will oppose continued importation of cocoanut and other vegetable oils for use in making filled milk. Senator Newberry has advised leading dairymen, according to the state farm bureau. Vast importation of cocoanut oil from the South Sea islands are undermining the dairy industry, it is charged. During 1920 85,000,000 pounds of filled milk were manufactured, the cocoanut oil used displacing about 7,000,000 pounds of American butterfat.

FARM BUREAU WOMAN URGES HOME EXHIBITS

A farm homes exhibit for every county fair in Michigan is being urged by Mrs. Edith M. Wagar, member of the State Farm Bureau executive committee. Mrs. Wagar believes that such an exhibit could very well be a most interesting part of any fair. She is suggesting to women in the various farm communities that they plan for educational exhibits which will show labor saving devices for the farm home, beautiful furnishings and new ideas in home arrangement, and a display of the latest home conveniences. Children's food, health clothing and care offer great responsibilities for educational presentation at a fair, according to Mrs. Wagar.

Hot, dry weather this summer has made conditions unusually favorable for the setting of alfalfa seed in Michigan and in reply to a number of inquiries Prof. J. F. Cox of the farm crops department at M. A. C. has suggested that a sufficient acreage of the second crop be allowed to go to seed to furnish a supply for ample plantings on individual farms next spring.

DRY WEATHER FAVORS LOCAL ALFALFA SEED

Michigan Farmers Can "Raise Their Own" This Summer, Says Mich. Aggie Man.

"From two to four bushels may be expected where a heavy bloom is noticed," says Prof. Cox. "It has not yet been demonstrated that alfalfa seed production may be placed on a commercial basis in Michigan, since one or two crops of hay which must be sacrificed are ordinarily worth more than the seed produced in average season. Seed should be harvested from fields of Grimm, Baltic, Cossack or common alfalfa when the pods are brown and when the seed is in the tough dough state. Ordinary clover hullers may be used successfully in threshing alfalfa seed."

POSTAL BOOST MAY FOLLOW TAX SLASH

Two cents for postal cards and three cents for letters may be the rule once more, says state farm bureau. Reports from Washington indicate that the senate finance committee is considering the two cent post card and three cent letter to replace the excess profits and other existing taxes if they are repealed as proposed. During the war the foregoing postal rate increase yielded approximately $150,000,000 additional revenue annually.

HORSE DRAWN VEHICLES MUST NOW CARRY LIGHTS

New Law Compels Them to Have White Ones in Front and Red at Rear.

At the regular session of the legislature this year, a law was passed requiring lights on all horse drawn vehicles after dark. All such vehicles travelling on village or city streets or trunk line highways after dark or sunset, shall display a white light in front and a red one behind. It has been said that this does not mean that a vehicle shall have two lights, as the ordinary buggy or bicycle lamp will serve the purpose nicely.

Drivers of autos will be pleased with the new measure as it is a common occurrence to come suddenly upon a buggy or wagon while driving. Lights will enable a motorist to see vehicles at some distance ahead, and it is expected that many accidents will be avoided.

LOCALS ADD ANOTHER VICTORY

DEFEATED FOSTORIA IN TIGHT GAME ON LOCAL DIAMOND TUESDAY.

Knapp, Veteran Player, Strong with Stick, Gets Two Two-base Hits.

Fostoria and Cass City played a tight game Tuesday afternoon on the local grounds in which Cass City got the better end of the 5-4 score.

Woodhull appeared in the pitcher's box for the first time for Cass City and Knapp played Woodhull's position on the first sack. Woodhull had lots of steam, and though his pitching showed wildness in several instances, he had the faculty of pulling out successfully from tight places. In the fourth inning, the visitors had two men on bases and no men out and they looked forward hopefully to a few runs in that period. Woodhull blasted their expectations by fanning two men while the third failed to reach first base in time. Woodhull is credited with eight strike-outs in five innings.

Knapp, president of the Tuscola League, proved he had retained his good batting eye of the old days, by slamming out two two-base hits, one in the second and one in the fourth inning. He scored in both frames. Benkelman added another score in the fourth and Noble and Brooker both scored in the first inning.

Fostoria failed to score until the third period when L. O'Neal crossed the plate. They added three more runs in the fifth period. Graham took the mound for the local team in the sixth frame and Woodhull resumed his old position on first sack.

Local players secured nine hits off Kern, while Fostoria had to be satisfied with six. Kern failed to receive the support that Cass City players accorded her twirlers.

Next Game Here, Aug. 4.

The next game to be played on the local diamond will be on Aug. 4, the date of the Nestle's picnic.

Champion proves wonderfully quick in nabbing foul flies. If they're gettable, "Sammy" gets them. He nabbed two in Tuesday's game.

Next to seeing a good ball game, the most interesting is to perch in the neighborhood of G. W. Landon, carrier on Route No. 5, as he sits on the bleachers and passes comments on the game. Guy's gentle voice carries well and his rooting is original and witty and holds the attention of many visitors.

The finest bleachers in the Thumb were erected here Monday. They will seat from 400 to 500 fans. Chas. McCaslin conceived the idea, Frank and Andrew Champion passed the subscription paper, local base ball fans were prompt in passing over the money, and Edward Glover and the Reid Bros., local carpenters, denoted their services and superintended the erection of the job. Two dugouts for the use of players were also erected. The bleachers will provide excellent seating for the fireworks during fair week.

Miss Zelma McKenzie of Kalamazoo came Monday to spend a two weeks' vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McKenzie.

BEST RECIPES FOR PREPARING DRIED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Dried Corn Keeps in Good Condition for a Long Time, if Good at the Beginning.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Even though they do not spoil, many dried vegetables which were delicious and attractive in every way during the first few weeks or months of storage, do not keep their color, flavor and cooking qualities indefinitely, but deteriorate gradually after a long period of storage. Even vegetables which are blanched before drying will deteriorate in much the same way, though more slowly, and blanching in salted water (1½ per cent solution) before drying constitutes a slight improvement over the common custom of drying without such treatment.

Household stocks of dried vegetables should not be held over from one year to the next for the reason they lose in quality. Indeed, it is the part of wisdom to use them early in the winter season, reserving canned goods for the late winter or early spring. The experimental kitchen in the United States Department of Agriculture has carried on a number of experiments with dried vegetables, and the work is being continued. A progress report is in order and some of the results arrived at to date follow:

Dried corn is one of the vegetables which keep in good condition for a long time, if good at the beginning. The peculiar flavor developed in dried green string beans is popular in many parts of the country. Dried soup mixtures deserve wide use, for the combination of such strong-flavored vegetables as onions, carrots, cabbage and turnips will retain considerable flavor for a long time, even though the individual vegetables which compose it may have deteriorated somewhat in flavor when compared with the freshly dried vegetable.

Preparing Dried Vegetable.

Dried vegetables may be soaked from one to three hours in warm or cold water, and then cooked from 10 to 30 minutes (or longer, if necessary). Or they may be put at once, without any soaking, into boiling water, and then cooked slowly over the simmering flame for 20 to 40 minutes, or longer, if necessary. The length of time for which they must be cooked depends largely upon the condition of the fresh vegetable before it was dried. Large carrots, or white cabbage, even though cut into small pieces before drying, must be cooked longer than small carrots or green cabbage.

The water added for soaking or cooking should be little more than what the vegetables will take up. To soak them in a large amount of water which is thrown away, then cook them in a fresh supply of water which also is thrown away, is to take the most thorough method which could be devised for extracting and discarding most of their nutritive constituents as well as most of their flavor.

Three cupfuls of water to one cupful of vegetable is as good a general rule as can be given, but spinach and greens take half of that, being light for their volume. Long cooking demands a larger amount of water, because it boils away; but vegetables should not be cooked longer than is absolutely necessary, except in the making of puree.

Particularly when the dried vegetables are put into boiling water without soaking, it is best to salt them toward the end of the cooking process rather than at the beginning.

One cupful (measured dry) of most kinds of dried vegetables will serve two persons heartily, or three persons with moderate portions.

Dried vegetables may be used in the same way as fresh ones, while they are still in prime condition. When they begin to fall off in flavor they should be judiciously combined with other materials and have flavoring materials added to them. Dried sweet potatoes or carrots which have become rather flat when served with butter and salt only are more appetizing when glazed. To do this, bake them (after cooking tender by boiling) with a sauce of sugar or molasses or syrup, and fat. Dried spinach which has become a little flat will be liked if it is served with an egg and vinegar dressing, or in a cream sauce flavored with onion or celery.

Dried vegetables (after being boiled) may be served in the gravy with the pot roast or meat or vegetable casserole or in the sauce for the baked or boiled fish. They may be combined with each other or with other fresh vegetables, in "boiled dinner" or in chowders or casserole dishes of any kind. They may be used with rice, macaroni or bread crumbs, in stuffing baked peppers or tomatoes or meat or fish; they may be combined in a mock mincemeat.

Cooking the Dried Fruits.

Dried fruits are usually given a long, slow cooking in water below the boiling point. They may be soaked for a few hours, or they may be simply mashed and put directly into the warm water for cooking. The important point to be observed is not to soak or cook in too much water. The dried product can not be expected to have as much flavor as does the fresh; so all pains must be taken to dilute that flavor as little as possible. Most recipes for cooking dried prunes and apricots direct that two cupfuls of water be used to one cupful of fruit; but a better-flavored product will result, if equal measures of water and fruit be used, when the cooking is done slowly in a tightly covered vessel, so that little of the steam escapes. Dried fruits may be sweetened lightly (since they usually contain a good deal of sugar themselves) with sugar, or with any sort of syrup, according to taste. They are to be used as sauces, in puddings, fruit cakes and cookies, compotes, whips, souffles and even salads, much as fresh fruits are used.

FINE ART OF COOKING RICE

Cereal Can Be Cooked So That It Is Flaky and Each Grain Is Separate, Say Specialists.

Rice can be cooked so that it is flaky and so each grain remains separate, say food specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture. To obtain that result wash the rice thoroughly, boil it in a large proportion of water, and do not overcook.

To one cup of dry rice, use four or five quarts of water and one teaspoonful of salt. Wash the rice through several waters until all the loose starch is removed, and drain it. Have the boiling water ready in a deep saucepan, add the salt, slowly drop in the rice, and allow it to boil rapidly for about 15 or 20 minutes, or until a grain when pressed between the thumb and finger is entirely soft.

In order to prevent the rice from sticking to the pan, lift it if necessary from time to time with a fork, but do not stir it, for stirring is likely to break the grains. When sufficiently cooked, turn the rice into a colander or a sieve, and after the water has drained off cover with a cloth and set over a pan of hot water on the back of the stove or in the oven; or turn the rice into a shallow pan, cover with a lid, and place it in a warm oven for a short time. Treated in this way the grains swell and are apt to keep separate.

Jelly or jam tarts are nice garnished with a spoonful of whipped cream or meringue.

Always leave paint brushes soaking in kerosene oil and they will be soft and clean when needed.

NO OCCASION TO GIVE UP

Was Still a Chance for Golfer to Get the Ball on His Way From Starting Point.

The fat man decided to try golf as a weight reducer.—Armed with four clubs, a ball, and a caddie, he marched off to the links. The caddie placed the ball upon the tee. Then, with a terrific swing, the fat man whirled his club through the air.

But the little white ball still-stayed smiling on its tee, while the club, meeting mother earth, broke into splinters.

"Give me another club, boy!" said the fat man.

Alas! Club No. 2 shared the fate of club No. 1, club No. 3 emulated the evolutions of club No. 2, and club No. 4 flew into a hedge.

"What would you do now?" asked the golfer, wiping his forehead. He turned in desperation to the caddie.

Holding out the empty bag, the youngster replied: "Don't give in, boss! Give it a swipe with this!"

GIVES NEW TURN TO CHARITY

Wealthy Australian Left Bequests Meant to Encourage the Healthy and the Young.

A wealthy Australian squatter, Peter Mitchell of the Upper Murray district, has left £500,000 pounds for various public purposes, says the Living Age. One third of his estate is to be devoted to married women not exceeding thirty years of age, British subjects and bona fide residents of the commonwealth of a white race, and not the offspring of first cousins.

They are to be selected on a basis of physical excellence, cheerfulness of disposition, knowledge of the protestant Bible and skill in housekeeping and domestic economy.

The rest of the estate is devoted mainly to prizes for military and naval competitions. The donor agrees that gifts for the weak, sick and ailing are commendable, but believes that more lasting good is accomplished by encouraging the healthy and the strong.

Lived With Heart Exposed.

With his heart exposed to the eyes of the hospital surgeons a man in New Orleans lived for 28 hours. While he was working in a coffee-grinding plant his left sleeve was caught in a machine. His arm was mangled, and a piece of flesh the size of a man's head was torn from his breast, leaving his heart exposed, the ribs directly over that organ also being torn away. The fact that the injured man lived for so long after the accident is stated by physicians observing the case to be one of the most remarkable ever recorded.

IN THESE DAYS
"She used to make her husband miserable trying to spend as much as her neighbors."
"Now she makes him miserable trying to save as much as her neighbors."

Surely Absent Minded.

An absent-minded man is reported from Cape Breton. One day while hauling stone the noon whistle blew as he was about to dump his load. However, he turned round and drove two miles to dinner with the load of stone. On another occasion he was mail carrier on an 18-mile route. When he was about 14 miles from his starting point he remembered he had forgotten a certain mail bag, so he tied his horses and walked back for the forgotten mail.

Kitten Swallowed Hatpin and Lives.

A British Columbia kitten swallowed a hatpin 8½ inches long. The kitten became ill and the owner, noticing a piece of wire sticking from its mouth, pulled out the hatpin. The animal revived and always had a rattle in its throat when it purred.

"I restore to fools what I made from fools," was the cynical explanation of a Viennese lawyer, of sound mind, who at his death bequeathed all his fortune to the inmates of various asylums for the insane.

Oversupplied With Fingers and Toes.

An infant was born at Hoxton, England, with six toes on each foot and six fingers on each hand. The baby lived only an hour, because of the non-expansion of its lungs.

Had Porcupine Quill in Body.

A young woman, aged twenty-four, recently had a porcupine quill taken out of her leg, says a Nova Scotia reader. The quill had entered her arm ten years ago.

World War Veterans

They commenced payment on the Michigan Bonus last Tuesday and claims will be paid in the same order as they have been received in Lansing.

It has been the contention of enemies of the State as well as the National Bonus measure that ex-service men will "blow in" their bonus as soon as it is received for some useless extravagance.

We refuse to believe it. It is our opinion that every man who receives this bonus will realize that the money he receives is "back wages" and not to be thrown away lightly.

If he owes money anywhere, he will pay his debts, rather than contract new ones by using his bonus as the "cash payment" on something he does not require.

If he does not owe debts he will look for a good responsible bank in which to leave his funds or get advice on a good investment. And that is where this bank offers a service which cannot be excelled. Make this bank YOUR BANK.

LEGION OFFICER KNOWS NAVY

Edward Spafford, Chairman of Committee on Naval Affairs, Has Climbed the Ladder.

Edward Elwell Spafford, newly appointed chairman of the American Legion's committee on naval affairs, knows the United States navy on land and on sea as few other men do.

Born in Springfield, Vt., Mr. Spafford was educated in the public schools. He received an appointment to the United States Naval academy in 1901. Assigned to the ship Washington, he became gunnery officer; at that time he was the youngest officer in the navy to hold this position.

While the Washington was lying off Cape Hatteras a sailor was washed overboard in a heavy sea. Risking his life in the waves, Mr. Spafford plunged overboard and succeeded in rescuing the seaman. His bravery was recognized in a letter of commendation from the secretary of the navy. He rose to the rank of lieutenant commander.

In 1914 Mr. Spafford resigned from the navy to study law at Columbia university.

With the start of the war Mr. Spafford offered his services to his country and he was made a lieutenant commander in the navy reserve corps. He served for a time as a member of the board of inspection and survey, which was in charge of the selection of ships to be purchased by the government. He directed the fitting out of the first 25 110-foot submarine chasers built for distance service and established a submarine chaser base at New London, Conn.

When the American navy became active in the Straits of Otranto, Mr. Spafford was sent to establish a submarine chaser base at Corfu, Greece, and later became chief of staff of that station. He was in charge of all operations and was on the first American submarine chaser which destroyed an enemy ship after locating it by the process of sound contact.

When the Austrians surrendered two battleships and two destroyers to the United States, Lieutenant Commander Spafford took them over. Later, he investigated the situation along the Dalmatian coast and made a special report on Fiume to the American peace delegation at Paris. He received the Distinguished Service Medal. Mr. Spafford is a member of Manhattan naval post of the American Legion in New York city.

SAYS NO MAN HER SUPERIOR

Bright-Eyed Sergeant and Vice Commander of Post Bluffed Mr. Silver-Eagles.

Who else but a bright-eyed, smiling American girl could have gotten away with it?

Sergeant Minnie Arthur of the United States marine corps was on duty in a recruiting office in Indianapolis, Ind., during the war. The major in charge was nervous; a colonel from Washington was coming to inspect; everyone brushed up on rules of military conduct. In walked the austere colonel, Sergeant Arthur remained working at her desk. Silver-eagles walked over to her desk and frowned.

"Um—ever get up when an officer comes in the room, sergeant?" he growled.

"Yes, sir, sometimes," Miss Three Stripes replied.

"Um—and I suppose you salute your superiors, too, eh?"

Sergeant Arthur smiled sweetly—and then her eyes snapped.

"Sir, I've never seen a man yet who was my superior!"

And the colonel passed it off without a reprimand.

Miss Arthur, now vice-commander of Robert E. Kennington post of the American Legion in Indianapolis, enlisted for four years and served 18 months. She is still in the reserve, drawing $1 a month with which she buys hair nets. She is authority on Liberman golf and plays a good hand at "blackjack."

On the Square.

"We had quite a game up to the boarding house last night."

"Poker?"

"No. The landlady was going to lick one of the boys for not paying his board. I tried to check her, she jumped me, crowned him and told us both to move."

"Did you do it?"

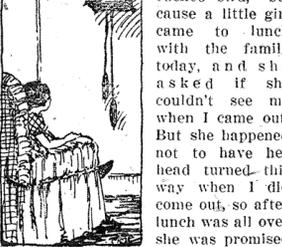

"Chess."—American Legion Weekly.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

THE CUCKOO CLOCK.

Back in the clock the cuckoo was talking to the Tick-Tock twins, whose names are Tick and Tock.

Waited.

"So she sat and waited for some little time until I should come out. And everyone waited with her. I was much pleased and much flattered.

"You see, the little girl wanted so much to see me that she was willing to wait that long for me, and yet there were many other things she was to see, for the family with whom I live have many interesting things to show.

"So I consider it was a great compliment when they all sat and waited to see me come out of my little house and cuckoo-cuckoo for them. I came out just a little bit after the half hour, as I always do.

"That is, I come out a little after the half-hour strikes and a little after the hour strikes. Not very much after, but just a little.

"I really wished I could have stayed out longer, so the little girl could have seen me better, but I couldn't have done that.

"They say that some of the real cuckoos aren't very popular with other birds. But, then, there are plenty of creatures not so well liked as others.

"There are snakes, for example, which aren't liked. I've heard folks who came here talk about snakes. You see, as I'm in the dining-room I hear a great deal of conversation, for the people talk during their meals.

"Then I've heard that skunks weren't popular, because they had a very queer odor about them, but that they can't send forth that odor unless they throw their tails over their backs.

"That sounds funny, but I suppose it is true. It is part of the information I pick up. You see, I don't get much, as I'm out but a few seconds at a time. But, then, I'm out twice during the hour, and so I hear people talk twice during the morning, twice at noon and twice at night.

"That makes six times all together. And though I have something to say every time I come out, I listen to what the others say, too.

"I've heard that bees aren't so dangerous if people aren't afraid of them, and attack them boldly, but then I've been told that they do sting pretty badly, and it is well to leave them alone.

"I believe they can sting, though, from what I've heard.

"And I've heard the people say that, though they often think a day is horrid and muggy and warm and rainy that the plants like it as they sit outside the window and have a beautiful time feeling the cool water falling on them.

"I've heard that two dogs of the young lady who was married from here not long ago were closed up in the room when the wedding party was going on, but that before she left got out of the room.

"And what do you suppose they did?"

"When all the guests were waiting downstairs for the lady and her husband to come along so they could throw rice over them, there were the two little dogs, sitting and watching her go.

"They had wanted to wish her good luck and happiness, for she had always meant good luck and happiness to them.

"Yes," said the cuckoo from the cuckoo clock. "I get a lot of news. And I enjoy it all.

"I'm glad I'm the cuckoo of the cuckoo clock."

"Tick," said the twin named Tick.

And "tock," said the twin named Tock.

"We are glad we belong to the clock, Tick-Tock.

"We're glad we belong to it, too."

Their Ambition.

The Hennessy twins were the trial of the kindergarten. One day, when the teacher was asking the other children what they wanted to be when they grew up, her eye caught the twins up to mischief, as usual, and paying no attention to the subject under discussion. She turned quickly and said: "Micky Hennessy, what are you boys going to be when you grow up?"

"Irishmen," was the prompt reply.—American Boy.

J. D. Watson had a carbon light system installed in his home last week.

Had No Rights at All.

Paul and Anthony own a wagon in partnership. Sometimes Paul exerts a little more authority than is pleasing to Anthony. On one of these occasions Anthony sought his mother and, after telling his troubles, added: "Mother, Paul treats me like the ugly sisters treated Cinderella."

Smoke as a Lightning Rod.

It would seem that a building 9,000 feet above the sea level should be protected by lightning rods, but the astronomical observatory at Mount Etna has not, and does not, need such protection. The observatory is near the summit of the volcano, and the stream of vapor constantly rising from the crater acts as a natural conductor, draining the electricity out of the clouds, so that lightning is seldom seen there.

Smells Like Onion.

The kullum of the Philippines and Malay Peninsula gives forth a strong aroma of onions, says the American Forestry Magazine, while the pau d'alto of Brazil is properly known as garlic wood.

Concerning Ideas.

An idea, like a ghost (according to the common notions of ghosts), must be spoken to a little before it will explain itself.—Dickens.

Reduction in all styles and sizes

A New Low Price on a Known and Honest Product

New Prices on Titan and International Tractors

Now Lowest Ever Quoted

EFFECTIVE immediately, we make another big reduction in the prices of Titan and International tractors. These reductions wipe out all former advances and place Titan and International tractors at the lowest prices at which they have ever been sold.

International 8-16	Titan 10-20
$900	$900

This price is about one-fourth less than the price at which the 8-16 sold prior to March of this year. The new figure is the lowest at which it was ever sold. The new price includes all the necessary equipment—platform, fenders, governor, belt pulley—features which must be paid for extra on some tractors.

This is the lowest price ever quoted on the Titan, considering the equipment now included (formerly sold extra). Up to March of this year the price was $1,200—today it is $900. At this figure the Titan 3-plow tractor is the best value in the farm power field.

The International 15-30 has been reduced to $1,750—lower than it has ever been before. The man who needs a 4-plow tractor cannot find a better investment than the 15-30 at this price. (All prices f. o. b. Chicago.)

Considering quality, power, equipment, and the service which follows every machine, Titan and International tractors at these new low prices are unquestionably the best buy in the tractor market.

As these prices have been made regardless of manufacturing costs, we do not guarantee to maintain them.

These prices certainly justify the immediate purchase of a tractor. Put it at the horse-killing work of hot weather plowing, and your fall and winter belt work.

See our tractor dealer for full information on deliveries and terms.

Powder Puffs Replace Sugar.
Since the French sugar ration was increased and restaurants have resumed serving it, Paris women are converting their sugar boxes into powder-puff cases. The carrying of sugar in little gold boxes was a fashionable war fad. The new use for the boxes is said to have originated with a Rue de la Paix jeweler who saw in the rising sugar ration a decline in the demand for his wares.

Tuberculosis and Stomach.
Tuberculosis rarely attacks the stomach, and the reason for this is explained by Dr. Wilhelm Baetzner of Berlin in describing one case in Berliner Klinische Wochenschrift. He says the gastric juice, aided by the active movements of the stomach, kill the germs of tuberculosis before they get a chance to take hold.

NOVESTA.

A fine rain on Monday evening. Crops have suffered for rain and oats are ripening too fast. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Barnard and family and Wm. Barnard spent Sunday at the Deadwaters of the Cass. Several from here attended the campmeeting at Cass City on Sunday, the 17th, and all enjoyed the services very much. Mr. and Mrs. Harve McGregory of Shabbona and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Chapman and daughter visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chapman in Cass City. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Henderson and sons, Stuart and Arthur, drove to Saginaw on Tuesday evening, expecting to return the last of the week. Their daughter, Thelma, who has been visiting there for two weeks, will return with them.

Do You Know Kapor? The Borneo camphorwood or kaper has a pronounced camphor odor when fresh. Says the American Forestry Magazine. It belongs to the dipterocarp family, nearly all of the trees of which are resinous.

Fordson TRACTOR

Do More in a Day Do It Better

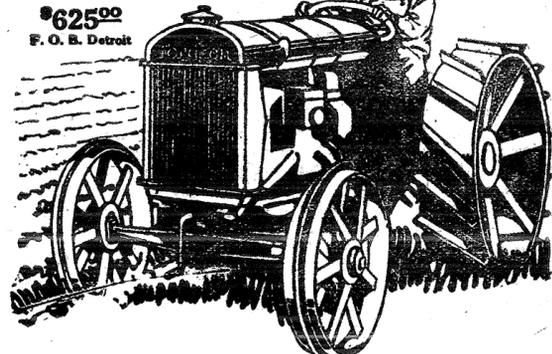

One man with a FORDSON TRACTOR can do more work easier and with less expense than two men can do with horses. This means that you with a FORDSON TRACTOR can actually raise more crops, with less work and less expense. And this means that your profits will be greater with fewer hours of work.

Besides the FORDSON will take care of every power job on the farm. It is light, alert, flexible in control and operation, yet it has power and endurance to spare.

You should see the FORDSON at work to appreciate its wonderful capabilities. We will gladly give you the proofs if you will ask for them, either by a personal call, phone or post card.

Notice to the Public

In behalf of the stockholders of the Cass City Oil and Gas Company I now give notice that our

Oil and Service Station will be closed on Sundays

We believe that we will gain the respect and confidence of the people by so doing. And as our trade is increasing day by day and as we have been taught to observe the Lord's day, we cannot help but believe that our business will continue to grow and prosper on account of the stand which we are taking in regard to upholding the principles of right. We hope and trust that the few who are in favor of Sunday operation will take the stand with us and will work in unison with us in building up a splendid thriving honorable business for the future. We are ready and willing to accommodate and do all within our power to satisfy the public, but we are not willing to sacrifice our principles and honor by working on the Lord's day.

Yours for service,

ROBERT WARNER, Manager

MADDEENINGS IN OUR NEIGHBORING VILLAGES

Turn Off the Switch—

Because P. A. Hall did not want to stop the engine of his truck while he filled the tank with gasoline Monday morning, the whole village was thrown into excitement by the fire whistle. The gas caught fire, some one telephoned in a call for help and the fire company rushed to the scene to find the fire all out? No damage further than some burned curtains, but Mr. Hall had a lesson that he will remember for some time.—Croswell Jeffersonian.

Muck Fires Burn Road—

Muck fires to the south of Bad Axe burned under the gravel road and undermined a good portion of it. Road Engineer Lavers has had a crew of men at work making repairs. He banks the fires with clay and thus puts them out. The shade trees were also destroyed.—Tribune.

81 New Citizens—

At Bad Axe, eighty-one people were admitted to citizenship in circuit court last week. The list includes the name of one woman, Hattie Gravelle, of Lincoln township, who is the first woman to be admitted to citizenship in Huron county.

No Dividends This Year—

Caro Farmers Co-operative Elevator company held its annual meeting last Saturday with only a small attendance. James H. Millikin was the only director whose term expired and he was elected to succeed himself. The report of Manager Kelsey showed that the company had at the beginning of the fiscal year, an unusually large stock of merchandise, on hand, which depreciated in value so rapidly that a considerable amount was lost in spite of the large trade enjoyed. Wheat, oats, beans and everything carried in elevators fell in price before they could be prepared and sold, so the business showed a loss for the year which was taken care of by the surplus accumulated in previous years. No dividend was paid on the capital stock.—Advertiser.

Rob Mills Merchant—

W. A. Irving's store at Mills was held up and robbed about 6:00 o'clock last Monday evening by a band of gypsies who shoved three guns in Mr. Irving's face and backed him to the rear of the store where they rifled the till of $46 and then backed their way out. As they were going out the front door Mr. Irving called to his wife to call Deputy Sheriff Ogden and when they heard him mention the sheriff they appeared at the door and handed him back $35. The band drove south in three automobiles and Mr. Irving and others followed them to Carsonville where an effort was made to secure their arrest, but Deputy Sheriff L. H. Sweet refused to make any arrest without a warrant and the gang got away, driving south.—Deckerville Recorder.

Hotel McDonald Sold—

The Hotel McDonald in Sandusky has been sold to O. D. Avery, of Port Huron, who took possession Monday. J. S. McDonald, former owner retired from the business last year when he leased the property to C. F. Collins, of Cass City. Mr. Avery is an experienced hotel man and is well-known in the Thumb district.

Vacation Bible School—

More than 65 boys and girls are now enrolled in the Daily Vacation Bible School at the Vassar Presbyterian church. The children all seem to enjoy the school and they are surely getting good from it.

Canning Factory for Caro—

A plant of the Michigan Canned Food Company is assured for Caro. Fred N. Crowe of Owosso, who has been soliciting subscribers for stock for several weeks stated Thursday morning that 187 farmers have taken stock and not over 225 will be accepted. This is for the purpose of protecting the farmer stockholders, so all who wish to raise peas and corn may secure contracts for acreage of reasonable size.

Booster Club—

Port Austin has a booster club that meets twice a month to discuss matters of importance to that little city. Some excellent ideas are exchanged among the business men and citizens generally and the town is deriving much good from the club.

Free Methodist—

"The Wandering Jew" is the subject for Sunday at 2:30 p. m. as announced by Rev. N. C. Beskin, the converted Jew, who has been preaching here to extraordinary large congregations for the past three weeks.

Over one thousand people listened to him in the two services last Sunday, packing the tent, and standing around it, while many drove up their cars and remained in them listening attentively.

In the afternoon in the lecture on the "End of the World" he brought many new points concerning the predictions in the Bible of current events. In the evening all the churches of Cass City as well as the Mennonite and the Nazarene churches from nearby took up their services and came to the tent. The sermon on "The Final Judgment" stirred hearts and three knelt at the altar for help.

Rev. Beskin was to go to Crosswell last Monday, but that meeting is closed and so he will stay with us all this week and will close the tent meeting on Sunday night. Services every evening at 8:00 p. m. Sunday at 2:30, "The Wandering Jew" or "Why the Jews Do Not Believe in Christ and What Do They Believe in," a lecture that has drawn many in other cities as it gives the inside of Jewish life. At 8:00 p. m., is the final sermon of Mr. Beskin in Cass City. Mr. Beskin will then positively close his meetings here and go to Lansing for a short rest and then he comes to Bad Axe, commencing services there on August 7.

NOTICE, TO SUBSCRIBERS.

All subscriptions to The Chronicle are stopped at expiration of time for which they have been paid. We do not force the paper upon anyone who does not want it, and our subscribers invariably tell us they like this way of doing business. We do not want to stop anyone's paper, but we always do so if it is not renewed. This is no reflection on any subscriber's inability or inclination not to pay, but is the only satisfactory way of doing business and prevents the accumulation of a large account, which is usually hard to pay. It is much easier to pay $2.00 for a year's subscription in advance than it is to pay $4 or $5, as the case may be, on an old account.

The figures opposite your name on the colored label at the top of the paper show the month and year to which your subscription is paid. Prompt renewals are greatly appreciated. Send check or money order by mail. It is perfectly safe to enclose the currency, especially for short distances, if not convenient for you to send by either of the first mentioned methods. We have never had any money lost in that way. Thank you!

CRAMTON OPPOSES DUTY ON LUMBER

Before leaving Washington Congressman Cramton gave out the following statement in the controversy over the lumber schedule in the Forney tariff bill:

"I hope the tariff bill now in the making does not contain any provision making it possible to take lumber out of the free list. Certainly I shall vote against any such provision if it is brought before the House.

"The making of a tariff bill is a most complicated and difficult matter, affecting so many and such diverse interests as it does, and I hold that Republicans may honestly differ about particular items and still remain Republicans.

"Hon. George M. Young, of North Dakota, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, who has aroused some criticism by his fight against a duty on lumber, has rendered the party excellent service by his leadership. Rather than read him out of the party, as some seem inclined to attempt, he is to be commended for his aid in saving the party from disastrous errors. No one has been able to show any particle of protection, involved in a lumber tariff. It is simply a question of putting a further burden on new construction work, and that we cannot well afford. I hope to see the bill pass with lumber still on the free list."

Washington dispatches now indicate that an agreement has been reached in the Ways and Means Committee that is agreeable to Young and those acting with him.

SANILAC CO. FARM BUREAU

John D. Martin, county agent, and C. M. Kidman, county agent of St. Clair, Wm. Murphy, county agent of Macomb, and George Butler of Sandusky made a trip into Canada and saw some very fine herds of cattle.

The party left on Tuesday and was met in Sarnia by Mr. McLoughery, assistant agricultural representative for Lambton county.

They went first to Petrolia where they met W. P. McDonald, agricultural representative, and then went to Forest, where some fine herds of live stock are owned, also some Clydesdale horses.

The first night was spent in London, and in the evening the visitors drove to Wildwood farm which is owned by the Farmers' Advocate, and is famous for its Shorthorn cattle. They were entertained at the home of Associate Editor Fry, and the next morning drove to Guelph.

After visiting the Ontario Agricultural college, the visitors from Michigan met 49 of the representatives at Guelph for a conference and spent the day attending sessions for this body.

On Friday they went to the Elliott farm where the highest priced Shorthorn sire in the dominion is owned. He is worth $34,000 and is but 10 months old.

Another visit to a nearby farm was made where the world's champion butterfat cow is owned. This animal was purchased by the owner for $175, and he has since refused $25,000 for her.

FORD PLANT BUILDS 108,962 IN JUNE

Demand Exceeds Output as Ford Breaks All Previous Records.

During the month of June, the Ford Motor Company, thru its Detroit factories and 22 assembly plants throughout the country reached the production of 108,962 Ford cars and trucks, setting up a new high record for one month.

Production of Ford cars and trucks has been steadily increasing since early spring, and shows substantial gains over the same period last year. The second quarter of 1921, viz., April, May and June, shows an output of 301,796 Ford cars and trucks against 220,878 for the same three months of last year, or a net increase of 80,918.

Despite the fact, however, that the Ford plants have been running at maximum capacity, the demand for Ford cars and trucks is not being met, and at the present time, many thousand unfilled orders have been piled up ahead so that Ford sales are still limited by manufacturing facilities rather than marketing possibilities. Particularly is this true with respect to enclosed cars, for which the demand has been unusually heavy.
