

MERCHANTS CO-OPERATE FOR BENEFIT OF BUYERS

SEVEN DAY BARGAIN FESTIVAL OFFERED BY LOCAL MERCHANTS.

Information Regarding Increased Buying Power of Dollar Found in Chronicle's Adv. Columns.

Saturday, Oct. 29 to Saturday, Nov. 5, will be Bargain Week in Cass City. A great number of the Cass City merchants have decided to join in this big bargain festival and the values that will be offered in all lines promise to astonish those who visit the stores during Bargain Week. Each merchant participating in the event has set forth some startling bargains and the aim is to break every previous record in the values given. Substantial reductions are being made and the wise buyer can practice economy in his purchasing and make his dollars reach a long way in the buying game. It seems that, with the increased buying power of the dollar, shoppers should include as many of their wants as possible in their buying campaign during the coming seven bargain days which present opportunities for the people of the Thumb counties to effect savings in the purchases in many different ways. In nearly every line of merchandising are opportunities offered in which economical purchasing may be made. Every family in this territory has need of articles in four or five of these lines and some will make purchases in all lines before another half year rolls around. Then why not economize and make Bargain Week a big purchasing week and a big saving week as well?

Bargain Week presents unusual opportunities for the out-of-town buyer to effect many savings in a single trip to town. With the many stores offering bargain prices, economical purchases may be made in practically all lines of merchandising. Every business house will make special arrangements to take care of its share of business. It will be a full week (seven days) of bargains. Keep in mind the dates—Saturday, Oct. 29, to Saturday, Nov. 5, inclusive, and get your information regarding goods, prices, etc., in the Chronicle's advertising columns today.

ADAMS SENTENCED MONDAY TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Clarence Adams, held for the murder of Howard K. Long in a swamp near Cat Lake, Tuscola county, on Aug. 28, finally changed his plea of "not guilty" which was entered at the time he was first arraigned to "guilty." Adam's guilty plea was received about 1:30 p. m. on Monday in circuit court at Caro.

GRANDELL'S SWINE WON MANY PRIZES ON TRIP

Exhibition Herd Was Shown at Big Fairs in Four States.

H. T. Crandell returned last week from a successful trip in showing his exhibition herd of O. I. C. swine in Michigan, Virginia, Ohio and Maryland. At Grand Rapids and Bay City fairs in Michigan and at the Eaton, Ohio fair, the Crandell herd captured all the big prizes.

POPULAR CASS CITY COUPLE MARRIED THURSDAY

Rev. W. W. Edwards Officiates at Quiet Wedding at the Nettleton Home.

Two popular young folks were united in holy wedlock at noon Thursday, Oct. 27, when Miss Thelma Nettleton, daughter of Mrs. Alice Nettleton, became the wife of Mr. Ernest Schwaderer. The wedding took place at the Nettleton home on West St., Rev. W. W. Edwards, pastor of the Presbyterian church, being the officiating clergyman. James Schwaderer of Caro, a brother of the groom, and Miss Irene Frutchey, a cousin of the bride, were the attendants.

THIEVES GOT 33 CENTS

Thieves broke into the railroad depot at Vassar Sunday night and succeeded in abstracting 33 cents from the till. There are strong probabilities that this class of gentry will be heard from quite frequently in the small towns during the coming winter. A word to the wise is sufficient—put not your trust in the old stocking but hasten to the local bank and deposit it therein.

AN URGENT CALL FOR MR. BEUCHMAN

Alex MacVittie, county agent, who is a member of the Tuscola county Near East Relief committee has received a telegram from Jas. J. Spillane, head of the Near East Relief work in Michigan, in which Mr. Spillane warns the public against an impostor.

Mr. Spillane, in his telegram, says: "Impostor going under name of Roy Beuchman was located Monday in Lapeer county, but got away. Instruct workers to make every effort to apprehend him. They are all accredited and can swear out warrant. Description follows: Height about 6 ft. complexion sandy, eyes blue, teeth prominent, well dressed, driving Ford."

ELKTON FARMER FATALLY INJURED BY BIG BULL

Animal Broke Every Rib in Man's Body; Died 12 Hours after Attack.

John Simmons, aged about 60 years was attacked by a bull at the Simmons farm, three miles south and one-half mile west of Elkton, Tuesday evening and was injured so badly that he died Wednesday morning at seven o'clock.

1921 IS CRISIS YEAR IN TUBERCULOSIS

Assertion Is Made by Michigan Tuberculosis Association to Health Workers.

That 1921 is a crisis year in tuberculosis in Michigan is the assertion made by the Michigan Tuberculosis association to the health workers in the various organized counties in the state. "In all periods of industrial depression on the white plague has lifted its head high," a statement to these workers reads, "and victims grow in numbers because of the hardships which sap the vitality of children mothers and men."

The death rate in Michigan during the first six months of 1921 has been remarkably low and it is not expected that the death rate for the last half of the year will be higher than usual. But industrial depression usually shows its results the year following the period of stress. If past experience is any indication, then 1922 will be a busy year for the health workers of the state.

CARO WON TRI-COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP

TUSCOLA CHAMPS DEFEATED KINDE IN DECIDING GAME OF SERIES.

Kinde Took Early Lead but Lost Contest in the Eighth Inning.

Caro won the tri-county championship in base ball Sunday at Bad Axe when the Tuscola county team defeated Kinde, Huron county's champions, in the fourth and deciding game of the series, by a 6 to 5 score. Each team had won a game and tied one.

The game attracted a large attendance and was an exciting contest. Kinde took an early lead, but Caro gradually gained and at the beginning of the eighth inning the score stood 5 to 3 in favor of Kinde. In this inning, however, Carl Emery hit a triple with two on bases, tying the score. Emery scored the winning run when Atwood sent a two-base hit to center field directly after.

The score: Caro..... 0 1 1 0 1 0 0 3 *—6 Kinde..... 3 1 0 0 1 0 0 0—5 Batteries—Cummings and Atwood; Scott and Uptegrove.

OIL DRILLING EQUIPMENT PURCHASED

Securing of Sufficient Leases Now All That Is Required before Active Work Starts.

(Peck Times).

John Gaines, of the Thumb Oil and Gas Development Trust, has just returned to Peck from a business trip to Detroit and other points. While away he purchased two complete drilling outfits and same are expected to arrive soon. One will be used in St. Clair county and the other one in Sanilac county. It is expected that the machine to be used in this vicinity will be in operation by December 1, and a start will be if the owners of land do not hold up the securing of the leases. This work is quite well along now and no trouble is anticipated as the people are beginning to realize that the tests cannot be made unless an adequate amount of leased acreage is secured.

FARMERS WOULD HALT STRIKE; ASK RATE CUT

Farmers took a hand in the impending railroad strike October 18 when President H. W. Howard of the American Farm Bureau Federation presented a petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission asking that as a fundamental step toward solving the crisis the railroads make an immediate reduction of ten to 20 per cent on the basic necessities of life. At the same time the good offices of the Federation were offered in mediating the difficulties of the men and their employers.

BURN RUBBISH NOW TO DESTROY CROP PESTS

Fallen Leaves Said to Harbor Enormous Quantities of Harmful Insects.

Great saving for crops growers of the state, especially for orchardists, will follow burning of rubbish heaps at this season of the year, according to Prof. R. H. Pettit, head of the entomology department at the Michigan Agricultural College. Enormous quantities of harmful insects are said to find protection under fallen leaves and other rubbish during the winter, and destruction during the fall will save heavy losses in the following season.

OPEN SPECIAL FARM COURSES AT M. A. C.

Sixteen-Weeks Work in General Agriculture Starts Oct. 31—Other Courses Later.

A special winter short course in general agriculture will open at the Michigan Agricultural College on Oct. 31 and run for sixteen weeks, according to announcement made this week by E. B. Hill, director of Short Course at M. A. C. Practical training for the man who contemplates taking up farming and also for those who are already managing or working on a farm is given in the course, which makes use of all the agricultural equipment at the college.

TWO POTATO CROPS IN ONE SEASON

To Arthur Leitka of Delaware township belongs the distinction of growing two crops of potatoes in one season. Last spring he planted Early Ohio seed and while digging them for family use during the summer discovered that some of them had sprouted. He transplanted them and produced the second crop, samples of which may be seen at the Recorder office. Two crops of potatoes from the same seed, we believe, is unknown in this latitude and Arthur's experiment brings to him a distinction probably unequalled by any other potato grower in the state.—Deckerville Recorder.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS OF THUMB FRATERNIZE

HELD MEETING AND ATTENDED BANQUET AT CASS CITY THURSDAY.

Session Declared Most Interesting and Enjoyable of the Five Thus Far Held.

The fifth meeting of the Thumb Embalmers' and Funeral Directors' association was held at Cass City last Thursday evening when members of the organization and a few invited friends enjoyed a banquet and listened to instructive and entertaining addresses by members of the society.

The banquet was served at the Gordon Tavern and Landlord Middleton spread a feast that satisfied the most critical. Thirty-five sat down at the banquet table at seven o'clock and the proverbial story about the clergyman having the strongest appetite for chicken was put out of the running. The Chronicle has it on the authority of a local preacher-man that the funeral directors' chicken masticating proclivities are beyond the estimate of the ordinary layman.

Following the session at the banquet table, the company adjourned to the McKay & McPhail Bldg., where comfortably seated, they listened to several talks on practical topics of interest to members of the association. Roy W. Jennings of Flint, president of the State Embalmers' Assn., gave a half hour's address on the subject of "Funeral Directing." M. C. Haley, president of a Detroit school of embalming, spoke of his school and on embalming. Rev. W. W. Edwards, pastor of the Presbyterian church, spoke interestingly on "General Topics." F. C. Kich of Marlette discussed "The Modern Funeral" and F. A. Cook of Grand Rapids, secretary of the state association, also addressed the members.

The gathering at Cass City was the best attended meeting in the history of the Thumb association and was pronounced the most interesting and enjoyable session so far held, two factors which were most gratifying to H. J. McKay, chairman of the local committee on arrangements.

The following gentlemen were included in the list of guests: Roy W. Jennings, Pres. State Embalmers' Assn.; Flint; M. C. Haley, Pres. School of Embalming, Detroit; E. P. Carman, Pres. Thumb Embalmers' Assn., Deckerville; F. Glass, Sec. Thumb Embalmers' Assn., Bad Axe; G. Brandy, Detroit; N. Karr, Kingston; T. J. Schmuck, Elkton; E. H. Kuhn, Owendale; Jos. Morris, W. T. Bartley and H. Bartley, all of Bad Axe; W. M. Hoffman and H. Schultz, both of Fairgrove; Chas. Crandall, Owosso; C. P. Hunter, Gagetown; F. A. Cook, Grand Rapids; W. E. Briggs, Akron; H. J. Bauer, Sebawaing; I. C. Levere, Sandusky; J. McPhail, Argyle; W. G. Whitmer, Dayton, Ohio; J. P. Mohler, Toledo, O.; F. C. Koch, Marlette; L. L. Traver, Sandusky; A. J. Knapp, A. McPhail; H. J. McKay, and Rev. W. W. Edwards, all of Cass City.

All officers of the Thumb association were re-elected at Thursday evening's meeting.

WE DESIRE publicly to express our deep appreciation to Dr. I. D. McCoy, for his skillful surgery and kindly treatment in both operations of our son, Charles, and the assisting physicians and nurses, whose constant care and untiring services were always gratefully rendered. Also to our host of friends who sent flowers and cheers which we shall long remember, we wish to thank heartily. Mr. and Mrs. James Whole and Family.

CARD OF THANKS—Words cannot express our appreciation to neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us in our late bereavement. We are deeply grateful for the beautiful floral offerings from the Odd Fellows, the Class of 1922 and friends. Mrs. A. T. Crafts and Family.

CARD OF THANKS—We are deeply grateful to friends for flowers sent our mother, Mrs. M. Race, during her illness and for the many acts of kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement. The Family.

A New Romance of the Storm Country

By GRACE MILLER WHITE

The next morning when Reggie Brown came home, he went directly to his mother. Of course, as usual, she wept at the sight of him and began to upbraid him for his thoughtlessness. Why hadn't he let her know where he was? Why had he been gone so long?

Reggie laughed insolently. "Do I ever let you know where I go, mater?" he demanded, dropping into an easy chair. "No, I don't, and I won't! I've come for five hundred dollars I have to have. Now cough it up."

"I haven't that much money in the world," sobbed Mrs. Curtis. "Then wheedle it out of Cousin John," he commanded. "I've simply got to have it!"

Paying no heed to his gruff command, Mrs. Curtis rocked to and fro in excess of agony.

"If Paul had died," she wept, "we'd have had a lot of money—"

"How do you know?" was Reggie's quick query.

"Because I know how his will's made," explained his mother, "and unless his Caroline is found, your Cousin John and I get all his money."

Reginald's eyes blazed into a flame of interest. Money was the only thing that attracted him.

"Why doesn't he die, then?" he asked, dropping back sullenly. "He's old enough and sick enough, isn't he?"

"Because he's getting well," replied his mother. "That girl—"

"What girl?" Reggie's voice asked the question in monotone.

"Some huzzy John picked up not long ago," was the reply. "She's brought Paul to life, and John is wild about her, and now—"

"Where is she?" interjected Reginald. "With your Cousin Paul. And, Reggie, I'd give five hundred to get her out of the house."

The boy rose and stood gazing down at the tips of his highly polished boots.

"I'd give more than that," he replied solemnly. "To know Cousin Paul was in his grave."

"Then rid us of the girl, and he'll soon keel over," said the mother. But Reginald wasn't interested in Cousin Paul's new companion. He wanted money and that was all, now that Tony Devon was dead.

"How about the five hundred for me?" he questioned, looking at her keenly.

"I've said I hadn't it, my son," said she. "Now run away and don't bother me any more."

Reggie did leave the room, but not the house. His mind was filled with many plans to get hold of the cash he needed. There were two things had to be done. Whoever the girl with Cousin Paul was, she had to go. It was enough that his mother didn't want her in the house. Reggie could abuse his own women folks; he could make them cry all he wanted to, but that any one, and a stranger too, could force his mother into a spell of hysterics, he wouldn't tolerate.

Then the other thing to which he had made up his mind almost brought his hair on end when he contemplated it. The world had to be relieved of Cousin Paul.

A little drop of something—Reggie rose to his feet and walked nervously up and down the room. "I would be easy enough to get hold of, for Dr. John always had plenty of drugs on hand."

That afternoon he met Captain MacCauley on State street. The sight of Reggie's slim swaggering figure brought Philip to a quick decision. He stopped directly in front of Brown, and, as it was the first time they'd met since the memorable moment when Reggie had been flung in the lake, they looked embarrassedly into each other's eyes.

"So you decided to come home?" asked Philip, his voice sharply toned.

Reggie gathered together his courage and curled his lips. Why should he be afraid of a Salvation army captain even if he were rich?

"It looks like it, doesn't it?" he sneered. "And it's none of your business, anyway."

"It's my business about how you treat Tony Devon," Philip began, but Reggie's fresh outburst cut off his words.

"Nobody'll ever treat her any way after this," he almost groaned. "She's dead, drowned in the lake."

A horrified expression passed over Philip's face. Then he realized that Reginald didn't know of Tony Devon's presence in the Pendlehaven home.

"She's better off than she was the last time you saw her," he said and whirled away.

Twenty minutes later Philip was talking to John Pendlehaven.

"You promised last night I could see her today," he pleaded. "I'll promise only to stay a few minutes. May I go up?"

"No; I'll call Tony down," was the reply. "I don't want Paul disturbed today."

When the boy and girl stood facing each other, embarrassment kept them silent for some moments. Philip had decided to find out whether Tony knew of Reginald Brown's connection with the Pendlehavens, although he was positive in his own mind she did not.

"It's a nice day," he blurted out, and Tonnibel's low "yes" was her only answer. How pretty she looked, thought Philip, and how much he desired to kiss her as he had the other time in the breaking dawn on the shore of Lake Cayuga.

"Tony," he said huskily, "don't you—don't you—like me at all?"

Tonnibel opened her eyes to their fullest extent. Why hadn't she kissed him, oh, ever so many times? No girl would do that— She blushed and studied the tip of her pretty shoe.

"Don't you, Tony, or if you don't, couldn't you?" pleaded the boy.

"I like you heaps," she breathed with suppressed emotion. She wanted to throw her arms about him right then, to tell him how she had longed to be with him, all about her promise that she would not leave the house again without some one with her. She was considering this when—

"I wanted to ask you—if you've seen that man again?" said Philip. "The one I—"

"You slung in the lake?" interrupted Tonnibel, a dimple peeping out at the corner of her mouth. "No, never. I guess old Reggie thinks I'm dead, don't you?"

"I saw him in town today," he told her finally and then almost cursed himself for his brutality. She had gone so white and was looking about her helplessly.

"He'll find me, mebbe," she hesitated, a haunted expression coming into her eyes. "Mebbe he will."

"No, he won't; not if you let me help you," exclaimed Philip. "Now, listen to me! Don't go out of Cousin Paul's rooms for anything, no matter what. Call a servant if you want anything downstairs. And don't leave the house unless you go with me. I want your promise that you will not come downstairs. Will you give it to me?"

Tony didn't understand why she should promise this, and a whimsical thought came into her mind that she was always making promises to some one, but she couldn't refuse him, and Philip went away a little happier and feeling much more secure.

CHAPTER XI.

"I Love You More'n the Whole World!" One late afternoon Philip MacCauley started for the Pendlehavens, desirous of seeing Tony Devon. Katherine saw him guiding his car up the roadway and ran to the door to meet him. Her smile was especially radiant, for she had begun to lose her fear about Tonnibel's influence over him.

"Sit down, Phil," she entreated. "Mother's sick today. Reggie almost sets her into fits."

Philip still remained standing. "And you've kept away so much, dear boy," complained the girl. "It seems you don't care for us any more."

"I do, though, but I've been busy," replied Philip, not able to think of any other excuse.

"But you've always been busy, more or less," the girl shot back, "and yet you came. Mother and I have come to the conclusion that you couldn't have been very much interested in—Cousin Paul's protegee. You haven't even asked about her."

Philip coughed embarrassedly, then laughed.

"The fact is, I came to see her today," he exclaimed.

"Katherine went wax white."

"What do you want to see her for?" she asked sharply.

"Oh, just to talk to her," replied MacCauley, awkwardly.

Katherine shook her head.

"I don't believe you can," she protested dubiously. "Cousin John won't let any of us go up to Paul's room, and she never comes down any more."

"Where's Reggie?" demanded the boy.

"Oh, he's gone to Trumansburg today," answered Katherine, listlessly. "And I am glad of it. I wish he'd never come back. He keeps mother in tears most of the time he's here."

"And Cousin John! I want to ask him if I can take Miss Devon—"

Katherine's head went up in disdain.

"I know what you want to ask him," she interrupted tartly. "But you needn't waste your sympathy on that Devon girl. But mamma says—"

Before she could tell him her mother's opinion, the door opened and Dr. Pendlehaven walked in.

"Cousin John," said Philip, abruptly, going to him, "may I take Miss—Miss Devon out for a little ride? I'll promise to bring her back in an hour."

The doctor looked at the boy's dark pleading eyes, looked and then smiled.

"Perhaps you won't have any better luck than I have had, son," he answered with a little laugh. "I've almost been down on my knees to the child, and she absolutely refuses."

"Mother's dreadfully against her riding in our car, Cousin John," Katherine cried in thin, throaty tones. "The thought of it makes her sick."

"Your mother's not really sick, my dear Katherine," the doctor asserted. "Ah, here she is. Katherine was just speaking of you, my dear Sarah."

A merry twinkle came into his eyes as he turned on his cousin.

"Now, was she?" smirked Mrs. Curtis. "What were you saying, Kathie?"

Katherine lifted her eyes, slumbering with passionate anger.

"That you would dislike Cousin Paul's—I mean that girl up there—taken out for a drive," replied Katherine.

Mrs. Curtis caught her daughter's expression and looked at Dr. John, then at Philip.

"Well, I should say I wouldn't like it," she ejaculated. "There's a limit to all things. What in the world would the neighbors say to such an outrage?"

Dr. Pendlehaven's face gathered a dark look.

"If she'll go with Philip, Sarah," he said, "I wouldn't give a hang what the neighbors said. Come along up, Phil, and ask her."

"Cousin John!" cried Mrs. Curtis. "And, oh, Cousin John," gasped Katherine. But the doctor was too angry to pay any heed to them.

"You really want to take the child, my lad?" he asked, smiling at MacCauley.

"Yes, do let me," blurted the boy. "Let's go up now."

They had no more than closed the door when Katherine burst into tears, and Mrs. Curtis plumped down into a chair in a spell of hysterics.

"The little trollop," she cried. "Oh, I'd like—"

"I'd like to kill her," burst forth Katherine. "Mother, if you don't do something for me, I'll die. Oh, to think of it; he takes her out when he could take me! Oh, God! Oh, dear God, help me!"

Her daughter's terrible outburst brought Mrs. Curtis directly out of herself.

"Don't, Kathie," she said in a whisper. "I really had no idea you cared for him so much. I will help you, poor dear. John shall listen to me this night; he certainly shall."

Meanwhile Tonnibel looked up with inquiring eyes as Dr. Pendlehaven walked in. He had closed Philip on the outside of the door.

The girl gave him a slight smile. The doctor came forward and took hold of her hand.

"Paul," he asked, looking at his brother, "could you spare our little girl for an hour? I want her to go out."

Tonnibel, remembering her promise to Philip, rose to her feet. "I don't want to," she trembled. "I'd rather stay here. I'd really rather stay here."

Pendlehaven went to the door and opened it, and Philip walked in.

"Here's a young man, Miss Tony Devon," he said, laughing at the sight of the girl's puzzled face, "who tells me he wants you to drive with him. Now, what do you say?"

"Say yes, darling Tony," Philip ejaculated with sparkling eyes.

"Oh, that's how the land lies, is it?" said Dr. John under his breath. Then aloud, "I didn't know this thing had gotten to the 'darling' point, Philip."

Tonnibel's face grew poppy red, and she stood with her eyes cast down and her fingers interlocked nervously. Oh! how she wanted to go; now her boy had come for her.

"You will go, Tony?" begged Philip, his face very red from John's speech.

"If—if—" the girl stammered. John Pendlehaven laughed.

"She can go, can't she, Paul?" he asked. "Phil will take good care of her."

Paul Pendlehaven smiled and sighed.

"Of course, she can go! She ought to!" he said. "She stays in too close. I've told her that every day. Go along, little maid, but come back to your old uncle in a little while."

Philip seized her hand to lead her away, but Tony turned to the bed. Then she stooped and kissed Paul Pendlehaven impulsively.

"I love you," she whispered, "and mebbe it'll only be half an hour before I'm back to you."

"For many minutes after the car started Philip paid strict attention to his driving, and Tonnibel allowed herself the luxury of taking a sidelong look at him now and then. Once within sight of Beebe Lake, Captain MacCauley slowed down and stopped.

"God, how I've prayed for this minute," he exclaimed, turning on her suddenly.

"I have, too," said Tonnibel in a shy, sweet voice. "I thought you'd forgotten about me."

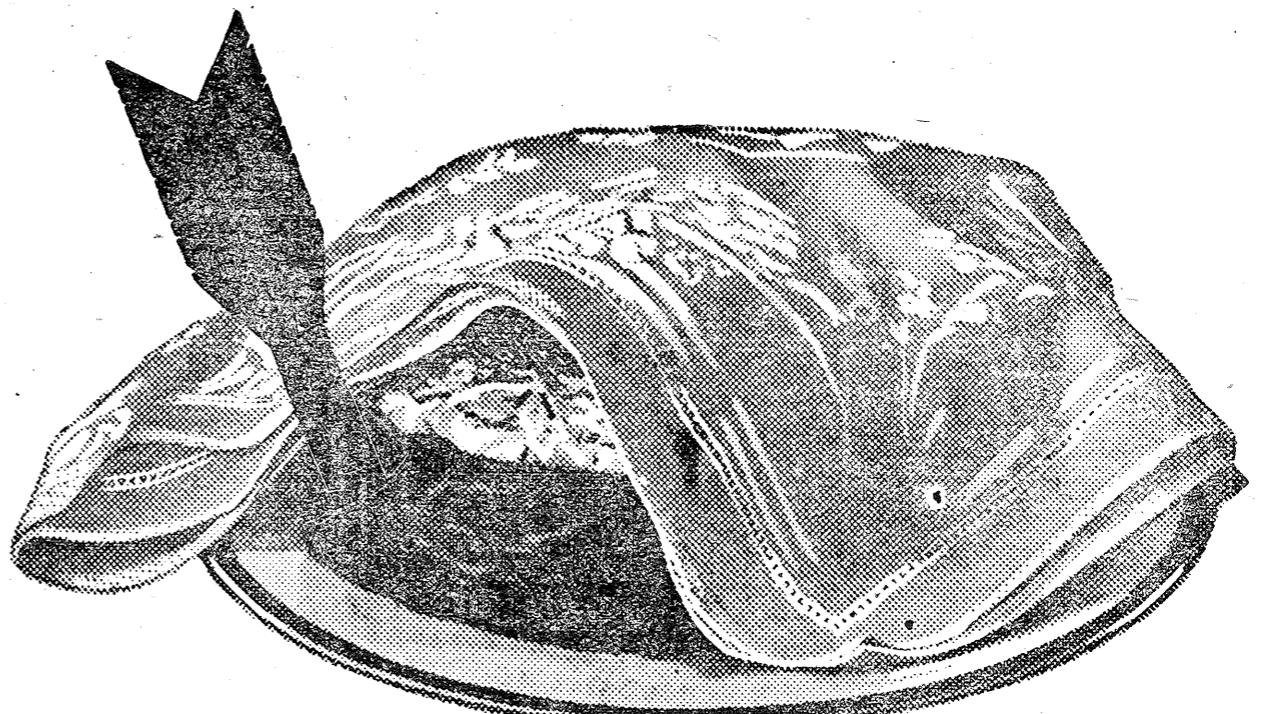

"Why, I couldn't do my work half way well, I've thought about you so much," cried the boy, "and I've been planning a lot for you and me. You see, Dr. John is a sort of a guardian to me, and next year I'll be twenty-three. Then I have all my own money. I can get married then, if I want to."

"Oh," said Tonnibel in a queer little voice.

"Yes, I believe in early marriages," Philip went on emphatically. "Wasn't it a queer thing that all the while I was haunting the shore you were in the house, my house almost? You see, I live just next door to you."

"Oh!" Tony said again. Something had hurt her dreadfully. Something he had said. He might be married next year and, of course, it would be to Katherine.

"And time and again I heard how much some little girl was helping Dr.

A Mystery Cake

Can you name it?

Here is another new Royal Cake, so delicious and appetizing that we have been unable to give it a name that does justice to its unusual qualities. It can be made just right only with Royal Baking Powder. Will you make it and name it?

$500 for the Best Names

For the name selected as best, we will pay $250. For the second, third, fourth, and fifth choice, we will pay $100, $75, $50, and $25 respectively.

Anyone may enter the contest, but only one name from each person will be considered.

All names must be received by December 15th, 1921. In case of ties, the full amount of the prize will be given to each tying contestant. Do not send your cake. Simply send the name you suggest, with your own name and address, to the

ROYAL BAKING POWDER COMPANY
149 William Street, New York

How to make it

Use level measurements for all materials

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- Grated rind of 1/2 orange
- 1 egg and 1 yolk
- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
- 1 cup milk
- 1 1/2 squares (1 1/2 oz.) of unsweetened chocolate (melted)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening. Add sugar and grated orange rind. Add beaten egg yolks. Sift together flour, salt and Royal Baking Powder and add alternately with the milk, lastly fold in one beaten egg white. Divide batter into two parts. To one part add the chocolate. Put by tablespoonfuls, alternating dark and light batter, into three greased layer cake pans. Bake in moderate oven 20 minutes.

FILLING AND ICING

3 tablespoons melted butter	2 tablespoons orange juice
3 cups confectioner's sugar	1 egg white
(Powdered sugar may be used but does not make so smooth icing)	3 squares (3 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
Grated rind of 1/2 orange and pulp of 1 orange

Put butter, sugar, orange juice and rind into bowl. Cut pulp from orange, removing skin and seeds, and add. Beat all together until smooth. Fold in beaten egg white. Spread this icing on layer used for top of cake. While icing is soft, sprinkle with unsweetened chocolate shaved in fine pieces with sharp knife (use 1/2 square). To remaining icing add 2 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate which has been melted. Spread this thickly between layers and on sides of cake.

Paul," he went on. "But somehow I never heard your name and hadn't the last idea—" He stopped. Then he slipped his arm about her. "I didn't know she was my little girl," he finished.

Tony closed her eyes. All the unhappiness of the past weeks left her that moment like a vanished burden. He had said she was his little girl. How very lovely the world was!

"Lean against me, dear," murmured Philip. "And this time—Oh, Tony, don't leave me today without telling me you love me a lot."

Tony glimpsed him with one little upward glance. Her eyes were star-bright.

"I love you more'n the whole world," she trembled. "More'n I know how to tell."

It isn't any one's affair just how many times Philip made Tony tell him she'd marry him, nor is it any one's affair how many times he kissed her, but it is our business to listen to Philip's conclusion.

"I'm going to tell Cousin John and Cousin Paul tonight that we're going to be married," he said, and Tonnibel had no inclination to forbid him.

With dark thoughts, Katherine was watching for them to come back again. She saw the happy shining face of the girl, saw Philip lift the little figure from the car and draw her up the steps. Her teeth came together in sharp misery as she turned from the window and went upstairs.

The Truth Won the Pass.

When Dean Richmond was at the head of the New York Central, a boy asked him for a pass to his home town. Richmond could assume a very terrible aspect, and looking as awful as he could, he roared at the youngster, "Why do you want a pass?" The boy was so terrified that he forgot the speech he had learned for the occasion, and blurted out, "Because I don't want to pay." Dean Richmond remarked that this was the first time anyone had ever told the truth in asking for a pass, and he gave the boy his first free ride.

She Meant Well.

To say the fitting thing in acknowledgment of a favor is something of a tax on the conversational powers of most people; when the recipient is unfamiliar with the conventional phrases used or gets confused in using them, comical situations occur, as in this instance reported in Harper's Magazine. Two sisters of a deceased cook called to acknowledge the flowers sent by the family. "We came to thank you for those beautiful flowers that you sent for sister," said the elder woman; and then, with a little stutter, she added, "and we hope soon to be able to return the favor."—From the Outlook.

Stiff? Sore? A lame back, a sore muscle or a stiff joint often is considered too lightly by the sufferer. It should be remembered that backache, rheumatic pains, stiffness, soreness, sallow skin and puffiness under the eyes are symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble—and these certainly should not be neglected.

Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys eliminate from the system the poisonous waste and acids that cause these aches and pains. They act promptly and effectively to restore weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder to healthy, normal condition. J. E. When Henry Beecher, register of deeds, with Mrs. Beecher, returned from the office on Tuesday evening, they found their pleasant home on North State street lighted and full of guests. The surprise was complete. 'Tis said men forget their wedding anniversaries. Mr. Beecher will have occasion to remember his. After a pot luck supper, the mirth provoking stunts that were indulged in by the company brought peals of laughter until the rafters rang with merriment. This being the cotton wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Beecher were presented, in a few well chosen words by F. W. FARMERS CAN'T DISPENSE DEALERS, SAYS CO. AGENT

That local farm bureau organizations go too far in the matter of cooperative buying of farm commodities and do injury to farmers' interests by uneconomic competition with existing business is the opinion of at least one county agent in Iowa, Clarence Pickard, of Humboldt county.

Mr. Pickard, who formerly believed that the county agent should lend his assistance to groups of farmers who desired to buy supplies cooperatively to be distributed from the car for cash, has altered his policy due to several experiences with cooperative buying.

"We purchased three cars of twine last year and two cars of clover seed this year," says Mr. Pickard, "with such good support from the farmers as to leave certain dealers stranded high and dry with these commodities on hand.

"As a result, this spring it was with some difficulty that the dealers were persuaded to handle twine at all. It was necessary that dealers should carry twine, for some farmers could not pay cash at the car, many were in the habit of waiting until thinking of twine, and without the dealer there would be no way to supply odd balls, for the farm bureau has no storehouses or distributing system.

"It looks like a clever trick at first to show the dealers up this way, but when they call our bluff and withdraw from handling these commodities in which we have shown them up, then we are stuck, for we have started something we can't finish. We are not prepared to give this service to all kinds of farmers every day in the year."

As a result of these experiences Mr. Pickard has altered his policy toward this problem. "Whenever the farmers throughout the county or in any portion of it," he says, "demand the cooperative purchasing of a commodity, we cite them their privilege of organizing their own cooperative society to free them from the real or imaginary bondage of the private dealer.

"My attitude is that the dealer performs an indispensable service which, whether rendered by him or by someone else, must be paid for by someone in some way. I believe the farm bureau should refrain from country-wide buying for farmers unless they are prepared to go all the way and completely replace the dealer with reference to the specific commodity they are attempting to handle. The farmer's prerogative of organizing his own cooperative association is a check on the dealer."—Messenger & Chronicle, Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Mother Spoiled It All.

While I was still in school, I attended an evening party at the home of one of my girl friends, writes a correspondent of the Chicago Journal. When it was time to go, there were two fellows who wanted to take me home. I was very much flattered and accepted them both. One of the boys appealed to me strongly and I imagined myself deeply in love with him. But, as it was getting late, and my folks were worrying about me, my mother set out to meet me. When she saw me with a fellow on each arm, she was scandalized and started to scold, while the boys, very much frightened, ran away.

CARO.

Louis Kuzel of Denmark twp. was arraigned before Justice Brown at Caro on Saturday charged with making moonshine whisky and bound over to the December term of circuit court. Bail was fixed at $500.00. Up to this time no bail has been produced consequently Louie is boarding with Sheriff Morris.

Complaint was made before Justice Brown on Saturday by Edward Hill of Fairgrove against a young man who had been living in the vicinity for some time, who he charges entered his home while his folks were absent and carried away a suit of clothes and overcoat, cap, shoes and suitcase, the complete outfit of the value of $80.00 and then departed for parts unknown. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Married by Justice Robert Brown on Oct. 20, Clinton Vader and Lena Hensel, both of Unionville.

Cutting Children's Ears.

It is a senseless practice to cut children's ears, and arises from a foolish superstition. Many years ago it was thought that backward children could be cured by making an incision in a certain part of their ears. The belief exists in some parts of the country today, the operation being performed usually by a woman at the change of the moon. Needless to say, it results only in pain and misery for the child.—London Tri-Bits.

375,000 REFUSE TO JOIN STRIKE

RAILWAY CLERKS AND FREIGHT HANDLERS, AND OTHERS VOTE AGAINST WALKOUT.

REDUCTION OF RATES REQUESTED

Hoover Also Announces Department of Commerce Will Take Hand in Case of Tieup.

Chicago.—Leaders of 375,000 railway maintenance of way employes and of 25,000 stationary firemen Sunday withdrew their authorization of a walkout Oct. 30. The action brought the number of rail workers who will not strike to more than three-fourths of the nation's total.

I. C. C. Orders Freight Cuts.

Washington.—In a sweeping decision involving the entire railroad situation, wage scales, depression in industry and finances, the interstate commerce commission last Saturday ordered the freight rates on grain, grain products and hay throughout the western half of the United States reduced by an average of approximately 1 1/2 per cent.

Hoover Ready For Tie-Up.

Washington.—Following unsuccessful efforts late last week by the railroad labor board to avert the threatened railroad strike through conferences at Chicago with heads of five unions which have ordered a walkout for Oct. 30, Secretary of Commerce Hoover announced that plans for movement of essential commodities in case of a tieup have been completed by his department.

Hoover said his department was prepared to co-ordinate efforts of States and municipalities in continuing transportation of food, fuel and other primary commodities in event of a tie-up of railroads. He indicated use of trucks and water transportation would be resorted to as well as rail carriers.

All governors and some municipalities, Hoover said, were prepared to handle transportation within their states, should such a situation develop, but it was in connection with interstate transportation that aid of the Federal Government was needed. The commerce department, he added, was ready to co-ordinate steps taken by governors in order to facilitate the interstate traffic.

Large industries, he declared, are mobilizing surplus stocks of supplies, such as gasoline, in order to guard against shortage and the department would be in a position to assist in distribution of supplies to points where they might be most needed.

Says U. S. Would Run Trains

Columbus, Ohio.—"Should the unions carry out their threat to strike, the government will promptly exercise its authority and operate mail, passenger and freight trains."

So spoke Attorney General Daugherty Saturday night on his arrival here from a secret investigation of conditions in the west in connection with the proposed walkout. A few hours later he left for Washington.

CARLETON MEMORIAL UNVEILED

Lenawee County Commemorates Famous Poet's 76th Anniversary.

Hudson, Mich.—Friday, Oct. 21 was the seventy-sixth anniversary of the birth of William McKendree Carleton, Michigan's poet and thousands were here to attend the memorial ceremonies and to take part in the unveiling of a Carleton tablet, erected in his honor by Lenawee county.

Educators of note from a half dozen states assisted in the ceremonies at the old Carleton home seat, two miles east of here.

The tablet, placed on a huge boulder in the yard in front of the home, bears this inscription: "Birthplace of Will Carleton, 1845—Poet—1912."

PERMITS FRAUDULENTLY ISSUED

Two Prohibition Officials Implicated in $15,000,000 Rum Plot.

Philadelphia.—An alleged conspiracy by which liquor valued at nearly $15,000,000 was withdrawn from distilleries in many states through the issuance of fraudulent permits has been revealed by high prohibition officials.

They announced that warrants had been issued for the arrest of two former officials in the office of W. C. McConnell, director of federal prohibition enforcement in Pennsylvania. Both are charged with conspiring with others to defraud the United States by means of fraudulent permits.

Navy Flyer Is "In Bad."

Yorktown, Va.—Some navy aviator is in for a lot of trouble. In the course of President Harding's speech here, a naval seaplane flew low many times over the assembled throng, and the roar of the motor almost drowned the president's words. Secretary of War J. W. Weeks said he was going to report the matter to the secretary of the navy for disciplinary action. "If he were an army pilot he would get court martialled," said Mr. Weeks.

SUPERVISORS FINISH WORK.

Tuscola county supervisors adjourned their fall meeting on Friday, Oct. 21, having finished up the business of the session. Among the important actions taken at the last of the session was the report of the committee on county officers' salaries which is as follows:

"Your committee has had under consideration the matter of boarding prisoners at the county jail and recommend that the sheriff be allowed at the rate of thirty cents per meal for prisoners' board beginning Oct. 15, 1921, and we further recommend that G. F. Schultz of the county road commissioners be appointed by the board of county road commissioners as superintendent of patrol on the county road system at a salary of $1,500.00 per annum, and also have car, oil, gas and upkeep of same which sums are to be paid out of the county road commissioners' budget. It is further recommended that inasmuch as the present county road engineer would be relieved of superintendence of patrol that his salary should be reduced from $3,000.00 to $2,000.00 per annum."

Members of this committee are C. P. Hover, Albert Ruggles and Wm. Tinglan.

U. S. PATROL BOAT PICKS UP FIVE MAROONED FOR THREE WEEKS.

LANDED THERE TO GET BERRIES

Man Who Brings Family Forgets To Call for Them After Losing His Ship.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Marooned for three weeks on a tiny island in Whitefish Bay, suffering from lack of food and exposure to the recent storm, was the experience of Harry Murphy, his wife and three children, ranging from 4 to 16, it was learned the week of Oct. 22 by United States coast guard patrols.

The family was taken off the island with difficulty by a patrol boat here and given food and shelter.

Had One Week's Supplies.

On September 27, Murray, a cranberry picker, and his family were landed at Iroquois Island by a man named Mills, who was buying cranberries. They had a small tent and enough food for a week, during which they expected to pick berries in the marshes. Mills was to call for them.

Shortly after Mills left them, his boat was seized by creditors and when the time came to go after the Murphys, he had no boat nor money to secure one. He said nothing to officials here about the plight in which he had left the family, it is reported.

According to the story told by Murray when he was brought here, the family had little to live on except fish, wild duck and cranberries for nearly two weeks. His ammunition was giving out and it was necessary to keep the camp fire going at all times because of the lack of matches. Had the fire gone out the suffering from cold would have been serious, as the temperature has been below freezing. There are no buildings on the island except the rude shack they constructed.

Discovered By Fisherman.

A fisherman rowed out to the island last week after noticing the fire there and learned their plight. Because of the size of his craft he was unable to take them off, and notified coast guards here. The United States 752 was sent to take them off.

A RECIPE FOR HOME BREW

A resident of Durand who has tried it, furnishes the following cure for a well known disease: Chase a wild bullfrog three miles and gather up the hops. To the hops add the following:

- 10 gallons of tan bark.
- 1/2 pint of shellac.
- 1 bar of home made soap.

Boil the mixture 36 hours and then strain through an I. W. W. sock to keep it from working. Bottle and add one grass hopper to each pint to give it a kick.

MICHIGAN U. S. MARINE REWARDED

For his courage and devotion to duty, Congress has awarded a Medal of Honor to Albert Joseph Smith of Thompson, Michigan, who is now serving with the Marine aviation forces in the West Indies. At the risk of his own life he rescued a comrade from a burning airplane after it had plunged to the earth.

Smith was on sentry duty at Pensacola, Fla., last February when the airplane fell, stunning the pilot and pinning him in the wreckage which was set afire from a gasoline explosion. Smith plunged into the burning mass and was severely burned while cutting the unconscious pilot loose. Just as the rescue was effected a second gasoline tank exploded scattering flaming liquid on both.

Private Smith, who is a son of Mrs. Martha Smith of Thompson, was a printer before entering the Marine Corps in October, 1919. He desired to take up aviation and served at Pensacola, later joining the First Marine Aviation Squadron in Santo Domingo. The Medal of Honor has been forwarded by Major General John-A. Lejeune, Commandant of the Marine Corps, and will be presented to Smith officially by Brigadier General Harry Lee, who commands the Marines in Santo Domingo.

WHERE MONEY WASN'T EVERYTHING

Some men can be bought with money, but many other men are above price. When constitutional prohibition was to be tested the enemy sought leaders of high social standing to champion their cause. Before Charles E. Hughes they placed a check of $150,000.00, but this eminent jurist answered: "I would not champion this cause before the courts for any sum of money you could name." Failing to buy Mr. Hughes, they next went to William Howard Taft, and placed before him a signed check, telling him to fill it in for any amount he wanted. The reply of this statesman will be memorable: "You could not pile enough gold on this continent to induce me to take your case, before the courts and before the public, for I will have you know my conscience is not for sale."—Ex.

DEATHS OF THE WEEK

A. T. Crafts.
Almeron T. Crafts was born in Dresden, Ontario, Sept. 21, 1861, and was married in 1882 to Miss Eunice Matthews of Florence, Ont. They came to Michigan in 1884 and settled in Unionville, where Mr. Crafts was in the blacksmithing business for 14 years, after which he spent seven years on a farm in Grant township, Huron county. Sixteen years ago, the family moved to Cass City where Mr. Crafts engaged in the blacksmithing business in which he has since been engaged.
He has been afflicted for four years and for the past year has endured untold suffering. He departed this life October 20, 1921, at the age of 60 years. Mr. Crafts has been a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows for 35 years and was affiliated with the local Orangeman lodge.
He leaves to mourn his departure, his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Stephen

Moore, three sons, Edward, Alfred and Stanley, one sister, Mrs. Orissa Hart and two brothers, Adolphus of Novesta and Myron of Detroit.
Funeral services were held at the M. E. church Saturday afternoon, Rev. W. W. Edwards officiating, assisted by Rev. Wm. Richards.

Mrs. Michael Race.
Margaret Paul was born Mar. 13, 1858, at Northeast Hope, Ont. On Feb. 12, 1880, she was united in marriage to Michael Race of Fisherville, Ont., and shortly afterward they came to Novesta township, Tuscola County, Mich., being of the early pioneers of this community. Here they have since lived and reared their family of three children, Mary, at home, John of Pontiac and Mrs. Walter Anthes of Novesta township. Mr. Race preceded his wife in death just three years and one day.
Mrs. Race was converted in her youth and joined the Evangelical association in Canada, bringing her letter to the same church in Cass City to which she was faithful until her death.

Through all her sufferings and trials in life she manifested a most patient and Christian disposition. During her recent illness she waited patiently for her Lord and was satisfied with His way. For a good many years Mrs. Race has been in failing health, but about the middle of March last, she fell, breaking and dislocating one of her lower limbs, the effects of which she never fully recovered. Peacefully she fell asleep in Jesus Thursday afternoon, Oct. 20, 1921, at the age of 63 years, seven months, seven days. Besides her three devoted children, she leaves three brothers, Henry, John and Wm. Paul, all of Novesta township and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Armstrong, Saginaw; and Mrs. Chas. Hall of Cass City, eight grandchildren and many other relatives and friends who mourn her departure.
Funeral services were held at the family residence on Monday afternoon, Rev. F. L. Pohly officiating. Interment was made in Elkland cemetery.

Friends from out of town at the funeral were Mrs. Mary Armstrong and son, Adam Race and Louis Mayzeh, all of Saginaw.

Evangelical—On Friday afternoon and evening of this week, Rev. J. W. Heininger of Cleveland, Ohio, executive secretary of the Forward Movement of the church, will be here to give addresses and hold conferences in the interests of the local congregation. It will be to your benefit to take advantage of this rare opportunity.

Regular services on Sunday. Sabbath school at 10:00 a. m. Preaching at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning subject, "Regeneration." Young people's services at 6:45 p. m.

Special meetings will open Oct. 30 with a week of prayer. Nov. 7-18 Rev. Wm. Koteskey of Bay City will assist us. Your co-operation is needed to make these meetings successful.

F. L. POHLY.
Baptist—10:30, morning worship, subject, "Is There Danger of the Saloon Returning?" 12 m., Bible school. 5 p. m. B. Y. P. U., jr., 6:30 B. Y. P. U., sr. 7:30 evening service. Subject, "Lessons from the Falling Leaf." Thursday evening, prayer meeting.

Presbyterian—Services on Sabbath at the regular hours.

Morning at 10:30. Church and Sunday school will unite at this hour. Special program on "World's Temperance Sunday."

Parents kindly note the hour and send your children along to this service which will take the place of Sabbath school session.

Young People's meeting at 6:30 p. m. This is really a young people's service. We have a splendid bunch of young folks. You'll be glad to meet them. Come Sunday evening.

Evening preaching at 7:30. Sermon: "The American Citizen."

Roosevelt said, "The church is easy to slam and hard to replace. Kick if you like, but you will be wiser and happier to back it."

Come Sunday and share a worshipful hour with us.

"Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy."

CHURCH CALENDAR

Church of Christ will be re-opened next Sunday, Oct. 30. Bible school will be held at 10:30 a. m., followed by preaching at 11:30. The Christian Endeavor society will meet at 7:30 p. m. All are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

F. M. Church—Remember the services next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the council rooms. Rev. Anderson will be present. This is a better place to spend your Sunday afternoon than joy riding, visiting or lounging around home. "What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

Methodist Episcopal—Next Sunday the pastor will preach both morning and evening. Morning sermon at 10:30. Subject, "Ye Are My Witnesses." The Sunday school will be at 11:45 with a welcome to everybody to stay. The Epworth League will be led by E. W. Jones and a cordial invite is given to the young people for this service. The evening worship with sermon at 7:30. Sermon "The Friendly and Unfriendly People toward the Christ." Young People's classes Thursday afternoon at 3:45. Led by the pastor and Miss Emma Bearss. Church prayer meeting in the evening at 7:30. Welcome to all.

Wm. RICHARDS, Pastor.

HILL BREEZES.

By Edna Brackenbury and Mary Holtz.

Mr. Holmes, Mr. Huller, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Garrison Moore attended the Kalamazoo-M. A. C. foot ball game at Lansing last Saturday.

Rev. Newberry gave us an interesting talk on Sir George Williams and his connection with the Y. M. C. A. at chapel Tuesday morning.

Belva Tibbals, Helen Craig and Evangeline Purcell visited here Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Huller is arranging the basket ball schedule for this season.

The Ladies' Aid Society of C. C. H. S. will entertain the faculty at a Halloween party next Tuesday. It is to be given at the home of Mildred Sutton. All are looking forward to a very good time.

Aileen and Irene Gordon visited here Wednesday forenoon.

The seniors have received suggestions for their annual.

A missionary society is being formed in friendly rivalry to the Ladies' Aid society.

Charles Whale is improving very nicely and expects to be back again next week.

Miss Elliott: (English X) "Will those people place their outlines on the board, please? The rest at your seats be sure to watch them grow. (I mean the outlines not the pupils)."

The foot ball game between Bad Axe and Cass City was well attended, and resulted in a victory for Bad Axe, the score being 56-0. It was a clean and well-played game and received this compliment from Wayne Palms, the athletic director at Bad Axe: "We appreciate the splendid reception we received and think that it was a good clean game today."

The teachers will attend the Teachers' Institute at Detroit Thursday and Friday. The students are rejoicing because of the extra vacation.

Florence Striffler was a visitor Friday afternoon.

At the game Thursday, there was some competition between the Missionary society and the Ladies' Aid society to see who could yell the loudest. They yelled alternately and helped put "pep" into the atmosphere.

Bernice Hitchcock spent the week-end in Detroit.

Carroll Livermore was a visitor this week.

Grant Pinney: (reciting in American Literature class) "James Fenimore Cooper sued the people for destroying his property and character, and they were never friendly to him until after he died."

Irmæ Perry visited school Wednesday.

The "Honorable Freshman Class of 1925" challenged the Junior class to an indoor base ball game which was played Tuesday afternoon after school. The poor "Freshies" have learned that it never pays to "pick" on anyone larger than themselves.

We hope they will profit by this lesson and never do anything so rash again.

Kindergarten.

We are dramatizing the song "Whirling Leaves."

We are starting to learn R. L. Stevenson's "Bed in Summer." In connection with this we are talking about the seasons, day and night and their causes.

First Grade.

Grant Agar is absent because of sickness.

We have some Halloween posters for our walls.

Third Grade.

We are having poems and stories of fairies for language.

In arithmetic, we are learning subtraction.

Fourth Grade.

Florence Striffler visited us Friday.

Kathryn Kelley is absent on account of sickness.

Fifth Grade.

We are glad to report a full attendance for last week.

Mrs. Battel was a pleasant caller on Friday.

We are planning to have a Halloween party Monday afternoon.

Sixth Grade.

We are keeping diaries this week.

Helen Kelley has returned after three weeks' absence.

Mrs. Battel visited our room Friday.

NOVESTA.

Mrs. W. Curry of Caro visited with Mrs. C. M. Ferguson over the week-end.

Mrs. A. C. Aiken and children of Detroit visited with Mrs. L. A. Holtz last week.

D. J. Bertrand spent this week with his father, B. Bertrand.

Mrs. H. H. Fenner and children of Gilford visited at the home of C. M. Ferguson last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holtz spent the week-end at the home of L. A. Holtz.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE

Whereas, on the morning of October 20, 1921, the messenger of death passed our sentinel and invaded our lodge, summoning from time to eternity our brother, A. T. Crafts, be it

Resolved, that it is with sorrow that we thus part with our brother and that the sincere and heartfelt sympathy of the members of Cass City Lodge No. 214, L. O. L., be and are hereby extended to the bereaved widow and family of our deceased brother whose loss we, with them, deeply mourn.

Resolved that as a token of love and esteem of our deceased brother, the charter of the lodge be draped in mourning for a period of 30 days.

C. H. TRAVIS,

P. E. FLEMING,

A. D. GILLIES,

James Pryke, a former resident of this community, died Friday night, Oct. 14, at his home in White Heath, Ill. Mr. Pryke was born in Albany, N. Y., August 30, 1858. He is survived by his widow, Mary Pryke. Mr. Pryke's death came after an extended illness which developed into complications. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the Methodist church at White Heath. The Rev. C. T. Pilch officiated, the Rev. A. L. Simmons assisting. Burial was at Monticello.

Some of the old-timers in northern Michigan are warning the residents to look out for an early winter, basing their prophecy on the fact that the purple grackle or blackbird, is preparing for his flight south a month earlier than usual. The birds are bunching up and all over Traverse City and in the country great flocks of them may be seen. The fact that they are starting to feed on lawns or in fields and forming large parties shows that they are getting ready to travel south soon, the weather prophets declare.

DEFORD.

Evangelists John Zoller and Wm. Young have now taken charge of the meetings for an indefinite time.

Mrs. William Pratt of Detroit, who has been in this locality for some time, went to her home last week.

Mrs. Samuel Sherk has been in poor health for a week past.

Boney Daugherty is in poor health. Martin Soles of Wilmot was here Monday to see the doctor.

R. D. Lewis has fixed up a commodious room and is now buying cream.

The Jacoby family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. McLarty of Novesta.

Miss Mary Sherman was a Clifford caller on Sunday.

Our new spiritual advisers are from the city of Philadelphia.

If we are going to economize on good behavior, it is time to stake off a section and become a village.

Through the goodness of our people invalid William McCartney has attended church several times the past two weeks. They carry him on a bed improvised from his home to the services.

Will is grateful for their kindness.

Business manager of the highways has been among us saying no more than two tons of beets to the load should move on our state roads or enter into the gates of our city. All depends on width of tire. Call at beet station for particulars.

Our meetings will continue for some time if the present interest keeps up. The attendance Sunday evening was overflowing.

Before this item is in print, first coating of gravel will be on from the R. R. to corners west of here. The gravel is of first quality.

Two of our elastic townsmen, Sam Sherk, 43, and Oscar Valentine, 26, with six-tined forks elevated one acre of spuds for B. Sharp in four hours. Well, to "tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth," the hills were rather scattering and the boys had snuffed much pepper at breakfast.

Mrs. Guy Woolman of Marysville came to visit her mother, Mrs. McArthur, and other kindred.

Mrs. John McCool visited Mrs. E. R. Bruce from Tuesday to Friday last week.

Boys be more than careful when you make the nimrod rounds, for our "Dep" is harkin' with both ears to gather hunter's sounds, and if no license is in sight when "Daisy" comes around, excuses will be as the wind and mercy can't be found.

Protracted meetings have been held for three weeks.

A Mr. Wright of near Flint, kinsman of Robert Jacoby, visits the latter. Mr. W. will reach the 75th milestone of life Jan. 2nd. next.

George Spencer exhibits two "Irish lemons" at the store of "Big Jacoby." Combined weight 4 1/2 lbs. Novesta potato soil honored once more.

The delivering of the sugar rootlets engaged the populas. John McCracken avers he stood on the high point in the center of our town and viewed them passing by—Romanian, Hungarian, Polock and Swede, in short lands across the seas were represented except Ireland. Then he went home and wept.

A yoke of oxen landed a load of potatoes in our burg.

The sugar beets comes in as rapidly as in past years. It was reported the crop was poor, but the way they come in here augurs well.

Road builder closed the road from the R. R. to corners one mile west. The people tore down the barriers, cut wires and behaved unkindly without pity for constructor. Only way to make such detour is to have a liquor joint on highways north and south of road being graveled.

Warner Kelley of Detroit was in town past week calling on everybody. William McCracken is building a garage for Clyde Quick.

We recall the saying: "New kings make new laws." The antiquated part of the hardware store on the corner once a grocery handled by Eldon Clark was fitted for dwelling overhead. One R. E. Johnson got possession and tore down outside approaches and landing on north end, made stairway from inside into upper rooms and used them to store stock. Now comes a new firm composed of two families. They have renovated upper rooms, erected new stairs and placed the sight seeing landing in same place as of old where you can see the friendly smoke of Ellington ruralites curling heavenward. Placed back a new floor where Johnson's wood butchers made havoc, giving all "an old time appearance." Many have rented and lived in said rooms and pronounced them the pleasant place of the burg. One of the proprietors will occupy the rooms.

SHABBONA.

(Too late for last week.)

James Graham of Sandusky was a caller in town Monday.

J. P. Neville transacted business in Port Huron Monday.

Mrs. Geo. B. Gotham left Sunday for New Haven where she will visit relatives for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Earl Phetteplace, who has been a patient in Bad Axe hospital the past four weeks, returned to her home here Sunday much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Parrott of Detroit visited the former's uncle, Geo. B. Gotham, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Gulick of Orion were the guests of Mrs. Adolf Auslander from Friday until Monday.

Geo. H. Jones is entertaining his sister from Illinois for a few weeks. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schlack Tuesday, Oct. 11, twins, a son and daughter. They have been named Max and Maxine.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

Not a Thing But a Service

-The Home Town Paper

SOME folks make the mistake of thinking of the home town newspaper as a thing, a contrivance of ink and paper, sometimes not a great quantity of either, when compared with big city papers. But the home town newspaper is not a thing, it is a service, just the same as is the telephone. And just as the $12 or $15 a year which we pay for the telephone service seems not too much, so is the $2 or $3, which at most is charged for the home town paper, trifling, compared with the real service which the paper, itself an institution, renders to all the other institutions of the community.

MAIDENINGS IN OUR NEIGHBORING VILLAGES

SEBEWAING—The new 25-horse power engine at the light plant was placed in commission this week. This is a new type engine and is much more economical than the other engines in the plant, which are of a more obsolete make. For instance, the first 18 1/2 horse engine operated it used 20 gallons of oil, while the old 20-horse engine would consume about 38 gallons in the same length of time. A very substantial saving in favor of the new machine.—Blade.

DECKERVILLE—And now comes Manley McConnell, one of Washington township's best farmers, who says that he harvested 430 bushels of white beans from 10 acres this season. The 25-bushel-per-acre fellow will now go away back and sit down.

MARLETTE—Walter Tarrant, had a plant curiosity in the shape of a matted stock of clover, on which he counted 99 three leaved, 66 four leaved and 51 five leaved petals on one stem.

NORTH BRANCH—Francis Fricke aged 16 years, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Fricke of Deerfield township, who underwent a surgical operation on Wednesday afternoon of last week as a result of an injury received at foot ball practice the evening previous, died early Sunday morning at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fricke, in Deerfield township.—Gazette.

DECKERVILLE—Scores of our citizens have fallen victims to oily-tongued stock salesmen during the past year or more and thousands upon thousands of dollars have been squeezed from their pockets for stocks and bonds of very questionable value. As an illustration we might mention an issue of stock which was sold here at a par value of $1.00 per share and which can now be bought at 25 or 30 cents according to quotations of Detroit stock brokers. Still we have local people who will assist salesmen in disposing of this stock of questionable value for the measly sum of a few dollars commission. There are people who will resort to almost anything for a few dollars and we have some of them left in Decker-ville, although there are others who, when they learned the real nature of the game, withdrew from it and are no longer to be found chasing around seeking to relieve some poor devil of his hard earned cash.—Recorder.

CROSWELL—Rev. H. G. Gaige has been installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Crosswell.

IMLAY CITY—The police court record during the Imlay City fair was not very extensive. Only five arrests were made and they took place on the big day of the fair, Thursday. Three of these were for intoxication and two for violation of the prohibition law.

PORT SANILAC—A new state bank is being organized at Port Sanilac and will be ready for business within a few weeks. The new institution will be backed by Port Sanilac and Carsonville capital and J. E. Burgess, formerly associated with J. P. Mullan in the Exchange Bank of M. N. Mullan, will be the cashier.

BROWN CITY—Over seventy people from Brown City, Maple Valley and Speaker townships attended the Good Roads meeting at Sandusky Thursday afternoon where they met the three road commissioners and practically settled the matter of a state road leading nine miles east of Brown City, connecting with the Yale road, to be built in 1922. It will reach six miles in Maple Valley and three miles in Speaker Township.—Banner.

BAY CITY—Annie Campbell of Fairgrove pleaded guilty to the charge of sending obscene matter through the mails, and was fined $1,000 for violating the postal laws.—Tribune.

ELKTON—Bert Trumble, for many years publisher of the Elkton Review and of late years engaged in furthering the Gleaner fraternity in the state, has been appointed postmaster at Elkton to succeed Geo. Arthur resigned. The salary is $1,450.

PORT HOPE—A very painful accident occurred Tuesday at the home of Neil McFadden when John Bruce, son of William Bruce injured his right hand so badly that it had to be amputated. He was threshing beans at the McFadden farm and was about finished but when cleaning up, his right hand was accidentally drawn in the machinery and badly mangled. He was hurried to the Hubbard hospital where he is getting along nicely.—Bad Axe Tribune.

PORT AUSTIN—When Capt. Henry Gill found that some one had stolen all the apples from his orchard at Eagle Bay, he began to look around for his horse which he had left in the pasture and came to a realization that the equine had also been stolen. He says a person who would steal 150 bushels of apples could hardly be expected to carry them away on his shoulder.—News.

GRINDSTONE CITY—With snouts long enuf to root out potatoes planted on each side of the highway without leaving the wheel-track, 19 pigs arrived at Grindstone City Friday. They are Tamworths and the best show drove east of the Mississippi. Mrs. Frank Kinch, whose husband owns the only herd of Romney sheep east of the Mississippi, was the purchaser. The figs came from the farm of Harry Fouts at East Milton, Ohio.

BAD AXE—The county road commissioners of Huron county submitted their report to the board of supervisors and the report was accepted with very little discussion. The report covers a period from Sept. 30, 1920, to June 30, 1921. Under a new state law, the fiscal year for counties ends June 30 instead of Sept. 30. As shown by the report, the commissioners have spent during the nine months on state trunk line roads, 110 miles, $22,892.63, 50 per cent of which amount is paid by the state. On county trunk line roads, 82 miles, the sum of $19,736.97 has been spent, a maintenance reward of approximately $30.00 per mile being paid by the state for county trunk lines. There was spent $6,266.09 for general maintenance, of which the state pays 50 per cent. For state trunk line construction, $29,331.83 was expended. For construction under the Covert Act, $205,000.00 was spent.

POLICE FEAR MAFIA OUTBREAK

Wounded Man Refuses To Give Name Of Assailant.

Detroit—One shot fired, a man dying in Receiving hospital Sunday night proved true the whispered warnings recently current in Detroit's east side that the Camorra intended again to defy the police.

With tightened lips that refused to murmur even a description of the man who shot him down at close range at Raymond street and Peter Hunt avenue Sunday night, Matteo Supto, 24 years old, 6669 Raymond street, lay in Receiving hospital and denied aid to the police.

"Watch out. The Camorra yet lives. It will soon strike," were the key words.

CHARLES SEEKS HIS THRONE

Royalists Gathered For March Against Hungarian Capital.

Budapest—Charles I. former emperor of Austria, is engaged in his second coup d'etat with the object of reseating himself on the throne of Hungary. He has reached Raab, where Royalists are gathering about the dethroned king, ready to march with him and his army of 12,000 Oostenburg troops into the old capital of Budapest, 60 miles away.

An unconfirmed report on Sunday stated the former emperor had entered Budapest.

Bears Stop Auto in Road.

Bloomsburg, Pa.—That bears are as plentiful in Columbia County as rabbits is declared. Returning from a trip to the mountains, Frank Hosier, Ralph Knouse, Harry Welliver, A. J. Hartman and Omah Ash say that they were compelled to stop their automobile because of a "bear party" in the road ahead of them. There were 10 bears romping in the highway, two old ones and eight cubs. This is the largest number ever seen together in that section.
