MUS. FOR OIL CO.

MANAGER WARNER TOLD THE STOCKHOLDERS THEIR PROFITS WERE 14 PER CENT OF PAID IN CAPITAL.

Stockholders of the Cass City Oil and Gas Co. held a special meeting at the Pastime theater building Tuesday afternoon when the policy of the company was explained and the business of the first six months of the company's history was reviewed.

According to the report of Manager Robt. Warner, 28 cars of gasoline, 15 cars of kerosene and 100 barrels of lubricating oil have been sold within the past six months while the tire and tube business has amounted to approximately $8,000.00.

Mr. Warner said the company's profits for six months amounted to 14 per cent of the company's paid in capital of $35,000.00. As dividends are paid on the authorized capitalization of $50,000.00, a dividend of 10 per cent is possible at this time. It has been decided, however, not to declare any dividends until next July, the end of the first year's business.

SIX-WEEKS-OLD BABE

Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Mains, who reside four miles south and two miles west of Vassar, heard a strange noise to the front of their home last Friday night at about 9 o'clock. Upon investigation they found a basket with a baby in it on the porch. The baby is a boy about six weeks old and a bright little fellow. At the bottom of the basket were some old blankets and the little chap was covered with a bathrobe and baby blanket, which were brand new.

Mr. and Mrs. Mains' son-in-law and daughter live with them and, being without children, it is probable that the little stranger will be taken care of by them and in that case will have a good home.

M. H. Stephen, county agent of The State Welfare Board, was called to investigate the case and in company with Deputy Sheriff Humes the matter was gone over, but no clue to the identity of the little orphan is found.—Vassar Pioneer.

AUTO FEES.

The department of state received from automobile fees from Tuscola county in 1921 $69,000; from Huron county, $57,086; from Sanilac county, $58,939. Counties in each case will receive approximately one-half of what they paid to the state in the shape of fees. The remaining one-half goes to the state highway department.

Of the $6,751,924 the department of state collected in 1921 from automobile license fees, certificates of title and operators, manufacturers and chauffeurs' licenses, the counties will get back $3,126,456. In 1920, a total of $5,751,924 was collected, and $2,737,138 was given back to the counties.

DEATH CLOSE TO GOLDEN

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Wm. McComb Passed Away Monday, 15 Days after Celebrating 50 Years of Married Life.

Wm. McComb passed away at his home in Novesta township on Monday morning, Jan. 16, just 15 days after celebrating his golden wedding anniversary. He was 71 years of age and had been ill for one week. The cause of death was acute dilatation of the heart.

Wm. McComb was born in Canada on Aug. 22, 1850 and came to Michigan in 1863 with his parents. They settled near Carsonville and Mr. McComb and Miss Louisa Hewitt were married at that place on New Years day 50 years ago. They moved to Cass City in 1900 where Mr. McComb engaged in farming. They have resided in this community ever since that time.

Mr. McComb was a member of the M. E. church at Cass City and his pastor, Rev. Wm. Richards, and Rev. Willerton conducted the funeral service which was held at the Church of Christ Thursday afternoon. The remains were interred in Novesta cemetery.

Besides his wife, he leaves four brothers, David and John McComb of Carsonville, Dan McComb of Rhodes, Mich., and Geo. McComb of Duluth, Minn., and ten children, David McComb, Mrs. John Haley, Mrs. Clarence Boulton, Philip McComb and Justin McComb, all of Cass City, Wm. McComb of Colorado, Geo. McComb of Pontiac, Mrs. Wm. Bullock of Shabbona, Floyd McComb of Bad Axe, and Miss Thressa McComb of Houston, Texas.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

Two Cass City Ladies Are Brides of Azalia Gentlemen.

A double wedding ceremony was performed in the St. Marks church in Detroit by Rev. O. R. Grattan, former pastor of the Cass City M. E. church on Wednesday, January 11, when Miss Lillian Daphne Rogers was united in marriage with Mr. Carl Franklin Brouckner, and Mrs. Kathryn Belle Ottoway was united in marriage with Mr. Myles Alfred Frink.

The brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rogers of Cass City while both grooms are citizens of Azalia, Mr. Brouckner being a progressive farmer in that vicinity and Mr. Frink a rural mail carrier.

Both brides are highly respected young ladies having spent their girlhood days in Cass City where they attended the public schools, Mrs. Brouckner graduating with the class of 1921. Best wishes from a host of friends go with them to their new homes in Azalia.

WILL PROSECUTE LOCAL OFFICIALS

Preliminary proceedings for prosecution against 26 local registrars of vital statistics in 18 different counties are being instituted by the state department of health following alleged failure of the registrars to comply with the law which requires reports of births and deaths to be filed with state authorities before the fifth of each succeeding month.

County prosecuting attorneys have been mailed the names of the offenders and histories of the individual cases which will enable them to take immediate action.

GRAVEL RATES ARE STILL TOO HIGH

Cheaper Freight Would Aid Road Building State Gravel Producers Claim.

Michigan gravel and sand producers were before the Michigan Public Utilities commission again Thursday, seeking further reductions on these commodities over the 13 per cent reduction granted by the commission several months ago.

It was brought out at the hearing that while the reduction of the last few months has saved shippers upwards of $350,000, the rate is still so high that road builders find the cost of gravel almost prohibitive if it is necessary to ship it any distance by rail.

The hearing will continue for several days. The petitioners are placing before the commission the gravel and sand situations found by many of the county road commissions of the state.

It is the claim of the gravel men that some of the largest gravel pits in the state, are not being worked because the freight rate makes its sale impossible.

They contend that another reduction of about 20 per cent will put the rates back where contractors will be able to use the common carriers next summer, and carry on road building at greatly reduced prices to the state.

ARGYLE SCHOOLHOUSE

BURNED SUNDAY NIGHT

Fire Discovered about Eight O'Clock; Very Few Books or Furnishings Were Saved.

The schoolhouse at Argyle burned to the ground early Sunday night. The fire was discovered about eight o'clock and early arrivals found the ceiling all ablaze and were able to save very few of the books or furnishings.

A few cases of scarlet fever in that community made it advisable to fumigate the school building which was done Sunday. It is thought that possibly the fire originated during the time of fumigation.

It is probable that the district officers will provide temporary quarters in the Paul Freiburger store building at Argyle for holding school the remainder of the term.

SANDUSKY MAN

GETS APPOINTMENT

Robert McKenzie, Sandusky attorney, will be appointed special deputy of the state insurance department to take active charge of the United States Mutual Automobile Insurance company, of Bay City, according to an announcement by L. T. Hands, state insurance commissioner.

Mr. Hands was appointed receiver for the company Monday by order of the Ingham county circuit court.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

WILL DIVIDE ALL

PHONE TERRITORY

Utilities Board Aims To Put an End To Duplication of Service.

In an order issued Monday afternoon by the Michigan Public Utilities commission, permitting the absorption of the Valley Home Telephone company of the Saginaw Valley, by the Michigan State Telephone company, is seen the eventual division of all telephone territory in the state.

Officials of the Citizens' Telephone company, of Grand Rapids, and those of the Michigan State company are scheduled to meet with the commission this week, to discuss further the proposed merger of the two systems in Western and Central Michigan, whereby one system will be eliminated from the field. While officials of neither company have made public their plans, the success of the Saginaw venture, together with other information, would indicate that the West Michigan consolidation is not a great distance off.

The consolidation of the Saginaw Valley lines is granted subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce commission, which will in all probability grant its approval. The officials of the two interested companies must accept the terms of the state order within 20 days.

FIVE VOTES MARGIN

SEATED SENATOR NEWBERRY

Ballot Taken after Long Debate; Senate Disapproved Excessive Campaign Expenditures.

Truman H. Newberry was declared by the senate, late Thursday, to be entitled to the seat which he now holds and which was made the basis of a contest by Henry Ford, his democratic opponent in the 1918 Michigan senatorial election.

The vote was 46 to 41. The senate acted on a resolution, sponsored by republican leaders, asserting that Mr. Newberry was entitled to his seat, but amended in last minute conferences so as to condemn excess expenditures of funds in senatorial campaigns.

All of Senator Newberry's supporters were republicans. The almost solid democrat membership were joined by nine republicans in opposition. These were: Borah, Capper, Jones, of Washington, Kenyon, Ladd, LaFollette, Norbeck, Norris and Sutherland.

The resolution as adopted carried an amendment by Senator Willis, republican of Ohio, by which the senate "severely condemned and disapproved" excessive campaign expenditures as "harmful to the honor and dignity of the senate and dangerous to the perpetuity of a free government."

LIVESTOCK MEN ASK

FOR WOOL PROTECTION

Resolutions at Annual Meeting Offer Support for Fordney Tariff Efforts—Elect Officers.

Favoring tariff protection for wool and sugar, in order that production of these important Michigan products may be increased in the state, members of the Michigan Livestock Breeders and Feeders Association passed resolutions to this effect at their thirty-second annual meeting, held at the Michigan Agricultural College, Jan. 11 and 12. More than 500 men gathered for the conferences, as members of the different special breed associations which held sectional meetings during the gathering.

Officers of the general association, elected for 1922, include: President, H. H. Halladay, Lansing; vice pres., Jacob De Geus, Alicia; secretary, G. A. Brown, East Lansing; asst. sec., W. E. J. Edwards, East Lansing; treasurer, I. K. Maystead, Osseo. Executive committee: John Lessiter, Orion; Earl C. McCarty, Bad Axe; Alexander Minty, Ionia; W. E. Livingston, Parma; and H. W. Norton, Jr., Lansing.

CASS CITY DIVIDES

LAURELS WITH CARO

BASKET BALL TEAMS OF BOTH VILLAGES SUCCEED IN EACH WINNING TWO GAMES THIS WEEK.

Cass City divided honors with Caro this week when four local teams contested in basket ball at the county seat.

Ward's Independents defeated the Caro town team Monday evening by a score of 29-13.

Tuesday evening three high school teams journeyed to the county seat to match abilities with the high school representatives of that village. The boys' first team, who have failed to win a game thus far this season, made a good showing against the fast Caro quintet, who have been very successful this winter. Though the locals lost the contest, the score was close, 17-15, and the outlook for better results in future games in the local schedule looks more promising.

Seed started in the local team. In the girls' game, Cass City was successful in running up a big score and ended the contest with the long end of the 23-10 result.

The boys' second team lost to Caro's second team, 16-10. A splendid spirit was shown by representatives and fans of both schools.

Ward's Independents continued their successful campaign Wednesday night by defeating Sebawaing 24-16. Doc Fleming starred as basket shooter, standing at one basket and made successful throws to the basket at the opposite end of the hall.

BALLOON SAILS FROM

APPLETON, WISCONSIN

Novel Advertising Balloon Takes Long Trip Across Wisconsin and Michigan.

Sailing through the skies, across part of Wisconsin, across Lake Michigan and the state of Michigan, was the trip taken by an advertising balloon which was liberated at Appleton, Wisconsin, early last week. The balloon came to earth last Thursday near the William Learman farm in Sigel township, Huron county, and was found, still inflated, by Lowery Learman who has returned the card attached to the balloon to the owners, Pettibone, Peabody Co., Appleton, Wisconsin, who offer a reward of $5.00 to the person finding one of the balloons at the greatest distance from Appleton. The card is accepted by that firm as equal to one dollar. The great distance the balloon travelled was undoubtedly due to the strong westerly winds prevailing the fore part of last week. Lowery is anxious to learn whether he has won the prize.—Harbor Beach Times.

CASS CITY H. S.

WON DEBATE

JUDGES WERE UNANIMOUS IN DECISION FOR LOCAL SCHOOL, THREE MORE CONTESTS IN SERIES.

In one of the strongest debates ever held at the local schools, Cass City defeated the Crosswell high school debaters last Thursday evening. The judges, Supt. Schall of the Caro schools, Supt. Rode of the Elkton schools and Miss Harris of the Bad Axe schools, gave a unanimous decision favoring the local team. One hundred fifty were present at the debate.

Cass City's team upheld the affirmative on the question, "Resolved, that the principle of the closed shop in American industry should receive the support of public opinion." The three members of the team, Reva Crandell, Harry Smith and Randall Lamb, demonstrated splendid work in organization, composition and delivery.

This is the second in a series of five debates won by the local school, Caro having forfeited to Cass City a few weeks ago. Cass City will debate at Crosswell on Feb. 10 and has a debate scheduled with both Carsonville and Caro in the near future.

The local team has a splendid record thus far and prospects are promising for the local school making a good record in the district contest.

HAPPENINGS IN NEAR-BY

TOWNS AND VILLAGES

Thumb Items Clipped or Stolen from Our Exchanges of the Three Counties.

The beautiful bungalow of Editor A. D. Gallery at Caro was set afire by the explosion of a gasoline stove shortly before noon Tuesday. The roof and attic were partially burned and the house and some of its furniture badly damaged by water.

Dan Atkins, jr., cashier of the Michigan Savings bank of Vassar, had his $8,000 bungalow damaged by fire Saturday. Mrs. Atkins and her mother barely escaped with their lives through the smoke. Fire started in the basement causing approximately $6,500 damages.

A circle of the Child Conservation League of America has been organized in Bad Axe, with the following officers: President, Mrs. A. H. Sauer; vice president, Mrs. Angus McCallum; secretary, Mrs. Fred Wright; treasurer, Mrs. Wade Foster; press agent, Mrs. Chas. McFadden.

Sheriff McGuiness reports that the criminal business of his office for the past year, including the fees of himself and deputies, the justice and travelling expenses, amounts to $2,907.58, while the fines and costs imposed amount to $3,117.85, leaving a balance of $210.27 to the good in the work of going after criminals.—Crosswell Jeff.

John Little, operating a garage in Deckerville, met with a terrible accident Wednesday. He was repairing a leaky radiator and while soldering it the can of muriatic acid he was using exploded, scattering the full force of the liquid into both eyes. Three physicians were summoned. During the night, the unfortunate man suffered untold agony.

Payments of $3,700 were made inside of the first year on the building bought for $10,000 by the Masonic Building association at Caro. Masters and wardens of Tuscola county lodges are to be invited to attend a meeting of Mt. Moriah lodge on Jan. 25. The third degree will be exemplified by the Caro lodge that evening and the matter of arranging for a big Masonic picnic next summer will be discussed.

Stepping into his garage a few evenings ago, Paul Meisel of near Harbor Beach found a 100-gallon tank of gasoline leaking. Stepping back he lighted a match to aid him in discovering the leak, when the head of the match flew off and landed in the pool of gas which had collected under the tank. Little remains to be told other than the fact that Meisel is glad he's alive.

Beginning last Monday the home economics department of the Harbor Beach schools began serving of a hot drink or a hot soup to those who are obliged to bring their lunches from home. This is an experiment and the working of it will be watched for a few weeks. If it proves to be satisfactory, it will undoubtedly be continued throughout the year. For two days there were no charges for those who wished to try it out. Since Tuesday there has been a slight charge, possibly 2 cents a cup to help cover the cost of materials. Only those who live a long distance from the school will be permitted to partake.

The basket ball games played with Brown City last Friday night resulted in a double victory for the visitors. The girls were defeated by a score of 54-19, and the boys by a score of 20-31. In the boys' game, Donald Seed was easily the star for Cass City. In the early part of the game he looped a basket from the center of the floor and played a speedy game throughout. Even though defeated, our team showed skill in floor passing but were outweighed man for man. This evening (Tuesday) the three basket ball teams go to Caro, and we expect them to return with flying colors.

E. E. Galop, who has charge of the state vocational work, gave us a very inspiring talk Tuesday morning on "The American Spirit." He brought out the spirit of co-operation in high school and as citizens in a community. The undercurrent of his speech was our deservance of a new school building. Of its absorbing power, there is no question.

THE HESSIAN-FLY.

By Clayton R. Doerr, Student of Agriculture in Cass City Schools.

Probably the worst enemy of wheat in Michigan is the "fly" or Hessian-fly, so named because it is believed that the pest was introduced into this country in straw by the Hessians during the Revolutionary War. The insect produces several generations each year, of which two are well defined. A knowledge of these two generations is of prime importance to growers of wheat. We will start with the fall generation where the egg is laid on the upper surface of the young plants of fall wheat. It is nicely placed, lengthwise between two of the ridges on the leaf surface, and is slender and pointed, nearly colorless at first but turning reddish color later. After a short time the young maggot from the hatched egg works its way downward to the main stalk and following the course already started, disappears downward inside the leaf sheath or in other words, between the sheath and what is to become the main stalk of the plant. Here it feeds on juices which it causes to exude and gradually attains a size of about 3-20 of an inch in length. At this time the maggot forms a new skin inside the outer one, just as if it were going to molt, but instead of shedding the outer covering, the maggot merely shrinks away from it, remaining inside, and the outer covering turns dark brown or almost black. This black object is spoken of as the flax-seed, because of its fancied resemblance to such seeds in size and color. These "flax-seeds" remain packed tightly away inside the leaf sheath somewhat below the level of the soil, often as many as a dozen being found together in a single plant. Occasionally many more are crowded into one wheat plant. The injury is severe and in proportion to the number of flax-seeds, other things being equal. It shows in the fall, as described by Dr. Marlatt in the darkening of the entire plant, and, strangely enough, in a more robust and shortened habit of growth. Later the plant is likely to show its injury in a different way. This appearance in affected plants is easy to see after one becomes familiar with it.

Inside the flaxseed envelope the larva or maggot passes the winter. In the spring it changes to a pupa and later to a tiny winged fly, which crawls up inside the leaf-sheath and occupies its time in getting another generation properly started on the young wheat plants. This is done in much the same way as was the fall generation started, except that instead of working underground, the maggots for the most part crawl inside the leaf sheath just above the first joint. Here they grow and pass into the flaxseed stage just before harvest, about the time that the grain is in the milk, when many of the infested plants are apt to lodge. The packing away of objects as large as the flaxseeds next to the straw is almost sure to result in denting, causing it to buckle inward and thus reduce its strength materially, so that it lodges. Whether the straw buckle or not, the wheat berries are apt to be poorly filled out and shrunken, so that losses more or less severe result.

Wheat may appear to be in first class condition until two or three weeks before harvest, when it commences to show effects of the strain put on the plants. Of course, an examination would reveal the larvae or the flaxseeds under the leaf sheaths, even if the field as a whole appeared healthy.

Natural Enemies.

Normally the Hessian-fly is kept in a more or less complete state of subjection by internal parasites, belonging to the genus Polygnotus, tiny little creatures, much smaller than the "fly." For a period of years the parasites will search out the immature flies, laying eggs in their bodies, and allowing only an insignificant few to reach maturity, but at last, either because the parasites become starved out owing to lack of foods or because of unfavorable weather conditions, the flies multiply to such an extent that they get out of control, and it takes several years for the the parasites to gain the ascendancy once more. At such times we have an attack of the "fly," and it becomes profitable to aid nature in restoring the equilibrium by practices unfavorable to the fly. Once the fly gets a start, it takes several years for its parasites to gain control, and once reduced to small numbers, it takes two or three years to multiply to destructive numbers. The result is a succession of waves of prevalence.

Remedies.

A good many years ago it was discovered that late sown fall wheat in a broad way and in the long run stood a better chance of success than that which was sown earlier. Exceptions to this rule occur, and very much depends upon the weather conditions. If the sowing of the wheat can be delayed so that it will not become attractive to the flies until after the main crop of flies has come, laid their eggs, and gone, it is apt to escape with a minimum of injury. The difficulty in getting the full advantage of this knowledge comes in foretelling the weather. If there were such a thing as an average season in Michigan, we could set a date which would be fairly successful in the long run. The best one can do is to delay sowing wheat during Hessian-fly years just as late as one dare risk, to get a good growth which will not winter-kill. Many of our Michigan growers have for years set the 20th of September as a good average date, and sometimes this date is too late, sometimes too early. It is perhaps as good a date as another but it does not fit all localities of Michigan. We should remember, however, that one takes chances of growing wheat in Hessian-fly years, and a field if sown too early, under such conditions is apt to be lost by reason of the fly even if it does not winter-kill.

Plowing immediately after harvest buries the flaxseeds present, and where the fields are not seeded with clover, is useful, if parasites are not present in goodly numbers. The parasites emerge through round holes cut through the leaf sheath, while the "fly" crawls out inside the sheath. Burning the stubble is directed toward the same end, but is not feasible when seeded to clover.

Trap Strips—It used to be customary to leave strips of early sown wheat around a field, which strips were to be plowed late in the fall if attacked. This practice has fallen largely into disuse in Michigan.

Destruction of volunteer wheat is good practice, as many flies manage to live over in such wheat.

The Hessian-fly is very often confused with wheat joint worm, and as the same methods of control do not apply to both of these pests, it is well to be sure which, if either, is present.

DEFORD.

Mrs. Henry Cure and daughter, Effie, attended funeral of Frank Roberts' child on Sunday at Kingston.

R. D. Lewis suffers with the gripple.

Charles Kilgore is on the sick list.

Byron Schmuhl of Cass City turned himself into a Defordite for four days of last week.

Robert Jacoby on Monday, commenced on the ice. He hoped for one foot thickness, but nine inches is the best he can get. Bob said he must accept the situation and fill the house.

Neil Kennedy is at Chicago attending the U. S. roads convention.

The youthful doctor, son of Dr. Merriman, was out here past week. His home is in Detroit.

Amos Webster is buying out the stockholders in the public hall so rapidly that he will soon own the roof over his head.

Engineer at elevator was sick on the 10th.

Dr. Merriman and T. L. Stewart were at Caro on the 10th purchasing red plates to dress out their cars.

Mrs. Robert Jacoby has a valuable thumb and a useless one, and think of it, she takes most care of the one that is of no value merely because it was unfortunately mashed.

Nelson Hartwick of near Almont was here a part of past week among old acquaintances.

Thomas O'Rourke, well known here, whom everybody gives a social greeting regardless of his short comings, ate salt in our home and slept overnight. He was on his way to Armada to visit a week, thence to Aged Drums about six miles west of Detroit. Mr. Drumm is a Frenchman, well galvanized with the Yankee, who married Johnny O'Rourke's widow, therefore Tom has kindred to care for him in old age. Drumm owns 2½ acres of good soil but never tilled a garden. Tom runs the little farm on a paying basis to which the owner responds with both smiles and silver. Tom informs us that aged Drumm never had fresh green corn from the garden till last season and showed his appreciation by cleaning up on sixteen ears at one downsitting. We glean that Tom and Drumm each other friendship chafe, because this to them, is not a world of strife and cares.

One-half our people went to the county hub last week, resolved to legal knowledge seek; and when asked what law they learned, they snarled the snoot and whined, "Well, I'll be darned."

It looks now as if Michigan would have death penalty for the high crimes. But if seventy-five per cent of those imprisoned now are under 25 years of age, that would cut off the young. It may be good financing. We will wait and see.

There is talk of a bean pickers dance when the season of rolling the bean is o'er. Wouldn't that be sweet?

George Spencer finished buzzing for R. D. Lewis on the 14th. Do you remember the day? The wind chilled to the bone but George is a sticker and he stuck till the last pole was butchered. And his helpers—well, they were men that would bring the north pole to the saw if requested.

Fridav, the 14th, we had a north breeze if wind did come from south. Clinton Bruce was among us last of past week.

Mrs. Peter Daugherty and granddaughter, Fern Roberts, were at Kingston Sunday attending funeral of a four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roberts.

The Wm. Parks' sale was well attended and stuff went fairly well. For benefit of the estate, a bid was put on the 80-acre farm of $4,500.00.

One day past week butter fat and eggs went below zero. The price went up next day and now all realize we know not what a day in these times may bring forth.

When Rome was at height of power, her people thought none but Romans had a right to sympathy and justice. We should know at this age, 'tis the weak in mind that needs the sympathy of the strong and we belittle ourselves if we withhold it.

Strong minds grow amid frost and snow. If you differ with us point to the brilliant intellectuals that unfold in perpetual warmth and we will show you a hundred where zero weather stirred their brain.

It will be remembered that in last issue we hinted of a commotion in the eastern part of our city. Now that the trouble has become public property we feel free to elucidate. 'Tis a drama in real life in which Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCartney and Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Stinger are the chief actors. A few years ago Mrs. McCartney's mother left her a fortune of $200.00 which Mrs. McC. says she has added to till it reached the sum of $495.00 in legal tender. The McCartney's were in humble circumstances. Mr. McC being an invalid, they were principally cared for by county funds, hence they did not want the public to know of their "filthy lucre" and kept it in a tight box in place of the bank. This present fall Mrs. McC's head went wild and she was sent away for a time. Her only child, a Mrs. Stinger, with husband, came to care for the father in absence of the wife and mother. Mr. and Mrs. Stinger, daughter and son-in-law, in some way learned of the wealth and counted the pile which the McCartney's aver they (the Stingers) appropriated to their own use. The Stingers claim that Mr. McCartney loaned them the money in the absence of Mrs. McCartney and they will pay all back in due time. When Mrs. McC returned and went to look upon her treasure, behold it was not. All matters were forced to be explained and there was a noise in the house. Mrs. McC called for aid, but none knew just the best thing to do under the circumstances, not even the county prosecutor. Strange as it seems, two parties arise in the racket. Many don't like the idea that Mrs. McC euchered them and the county in cohorts for years. Hence we only dare to quote the language of Paul, "The love of money is the root of all evil."

We exchange flour for wheat and can save you money on your flour needs. Elkland Milling Co.—Adv. 8-19-tf

Origin of Wedding Cake.

The wedding cake dates back to the laws of Romulus and the early days of Rome. Instead of elaborate marriage festivals Romulus instituted the confarreatio. The union of the man and woman was solemnized simply and quickly by the eating of a loaf of barley bread together. This marriage ceremony was in force for some generations among the Romans. Then, as civilization developed, the barley bread became a cake.

Answering a question as to the religious significance of the so-called Eleventh Commandment, a reader states that the answer is found in the book of John 13:34, in which Jesus said: "A new commandment I give unto you, that you love one another."

Prison Color Schemes.

Color schemes, suggested by an expert as suitable for prisons, are pink for boy thieves, yellow or orange for convicts guilty of long-promeditated crimes and violet and black for burglars. All cells should have blue ceilings, and gray should be avoided.

OUR Mid-Winter Clearance Sale

Has created a great buying interest. For so many of our customers came in expecting to find prices of merchandise greatly reduced, but were surprised to find them far below their expectations, which was a pleasing feature to them as well as to us. There never was a time when savings meant as much as they do today, and you surely will save if you take advantage of Zemke's Mid-Winter Sale. The person who thinks that by waiting, his dollars will purchase more goods than during Zemke's Clearance Sale, stands in his or her own light—for prices are firmly set for the future, in fact, should there be any change it will be for higher prices instead of lower.

In an effort to save his team of horses from being struck by an inbound Michigan Central "mixed" passenger and freight train, Jacob Dennis, 29, was himself struck by the train near the freight house at the Montague avenue crossing Wednesday afternoon at 2:00. The pilot of the engine hit the rear end of the wagon to which he had just mounted, demolished the wheels and the back end of the wagon, and threw Mr. Dennis nearly 70 feet. Both legs were broken, his hip was crushed and he was badly bruised, tho it is thought he escaped internal injuries. The horses, barely scratched, ran away.—Caro Advertiser.

If silence is golden and money talks, how can we say that our money is on a gold basis?—Boston Transcript.

New Self-Winding Clock.

Wireless impulses sent from the Washington observatory station are now correcting the time of a self-winding electric clock at a point in New Jersey. As described in the Popular Mechanics Magazine, this clock is equipped with a sensitive radio selecting, receiving, and relaying apparatus, by means of which it takes the impulse from the air and is adjusted thereby. At one minute of 12, noon, the clock automatically closes a switch by which the radio apparatus is thrown into operation. It is tuned to receive only that time signal which is sent out at noon by the observatory. After the clock has been set by a message, the same switch is automatically opened. In the event that no message is received, the switch opens anyway at thirty seconds after 12 and will not close again until the following day at one minute before noon. Thus the clock by its own action regulates the wireless device through which it receives correction.

Adds to Efficiency.

Industrial chemistry gains a new element of efficiency through the development of an electrical system of automatic testing and control, by which any change in the proper action of the process, as it proceeds, is not only reported, but is corrected as well. Thus the strength of a solution, its acidity, gaseous content, or other characteristic, may be recorded continuously on a distant chart, while electrically operated valves work automatically to offset immediately any shortage or surplus of a constituent part of the mixture. The system provides means for compensating against changes of temperature, pressure or time of reaction, and even the problem introduced by different mixtures having the same electrical resistance, has been solved.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Odd Fellows, Certainly.

A few nights ago a large delegation from New Albany Hope Lodge of Odd Fellows went to Jeffersonville to confer the work for Tabor Lodge of Jeffersonville. They alighted at the interurban station, and marching two abreast, turned in Spring street. "There goes another gang of those convicts going to be shipped away," was the remark they caught, the event being shortly after 300 inmates of the reformatory had been sent north. The New Albany delegation told the story on themselves when they got to lodge and then proceeded to make the Jeffersonville neophytes "ride the goat."—Indianapolis News.

Had Him Guessing.

Marcus looked at his chum Tony. Tony's face was as long as a fiddle. And Tony had just become engaged to beautiful Marcella Lennox. "For a chap just engaged to such a lovely girl as Marcella, you seem a bit gloomy," Marcus ventured at last. Tony woke from his reverie with a start. "Mark, old boy," he said, "I'm worried. You know, Marcella is an enthusiast always. Once it was for horses, once for dogs, once prize poultry, once Angora cats. Now, am I a regular sweetheart, or is she just taking up another animal fad?"

When Art Failed.

This is a true story of an adventure of two lady artists in Sunny Spain. They were walking and arrived at a little country inn, hot, dusty and thirsty. They couldn't talk Spanish, but wanted some milk badly, so one of them drew a most beautiful high-art cow, while the other jingled some coins. The Spaniards looked and a boy was sent off post haste. In half an hour the boy returned, hot and triumphant—with two tickets for a bullfight.—From the London Town Topics.

Witches in Wales.

Superstitions of the country folk of Wales are discussed in the quarterly report of Dr. Arthur Hughes, medical health officer of the county of Carmarthenshire. Despite the fact that fortune telling and witchcraft are prohibited under the English law large numbers of the Welsh peasants bring their ailing children to the witch doctors rather than to medical practitioners.

The remains of Private Fred Schultz, who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war arrived Wednesday at Sandusky and the funeral was held Sunday from the family home near Snover. The American Legion had charge of the service. Private Schultz is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Schultz of Snover.

Are Sweets for Children Harmful?
The old, old question of whether or not candies and other sweets are harmful for children is never more important than at this season, when reserve supplies from the holidays are present in the majority of American homes. A flat answer, "No," seems particularly cruel at this time; and, as a matter of fact, the answer can be made with reservations. Sweets the child should have, but not candy; unless it be a small amount of plain, home-made, pure sugar candy, preferably at the end of the meal. Sugar is a desirable part of the diet and the only objection which can be raised to its use in reasonable amounts in a mixed diet is that it is sometimes allowed to take the place of foods, and so spoils the child's appetite for other important things.

Until the child is five years old he needs no candy, as such. The correct proportion may be judged for the child over five by averaging the whole amount of sugar he obtains in all his foods as:
5 to 7 years....1 tablespoonful daily
7 to 12 years...2 tablespoonfuls daily
The child's craving for candy very often results from improper food habits, irregular feeding, and lack of water or milk. Merely because candy is ready at hand, and often that means "store candy" which is likely to be germ-laden, and unwholesome in content—the child is given it in order to calm the storm which his natural hunger for wholesome bread, butter, and milk has created. Cut down the candy ration and watch his complexion, his appetite, and his disposition improve.

The AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

LEGION IN LOAN BUSINESS

Fargo, N. D. Post Adjutant Works Out Plan for the Benefit of His Buddies.

The first instance in which the American Legion has gone into the trust, savings and loan business is reported from Fargo, N. D. To encourage thrift and to help the needy, the post, on January 1, 1921, instituted an American Legion Bonus Loan association from plans worked out by Arthur F. Colar, post adjutant. Four hundred of the post's 700 members already have deposited sums from $5 to $25 on which five per cent interest is paid. A Legion man wishing to borrow assigns his state compensation claim to the Legion—it will require eight years for North Dakota to pay all service men the bonus awarded them. The borrower may obtain up to 50 per cent of the amount to be awarded him by the state. He pays interest at 8 per cent.

Business is transacted through a Fargo bank. To date more than fifty loans have been made and more than $20,000 has been paid into the savings fund. A dividend is paid semi-annually to depositors. Immediately upon being granted a loan, the person to whom it is made must open a savings account to insure proper expenditure of the money. Legion posts in many states have written the Fargo post for information upon which to base a similar system.

THINK HE WILL BE GOVERNOR

People of Washington State See Bright Future for Their Soldier Lieutenant-Governor.

"He's just naturally lucky," the people of Washington say of William Jennings Coyle, their lieutenant-governor, who they claim, is the youngest man in the world holding that office.

Coyle has been a "natural athlete" since kindergarten days. For four years he was Gil Doble's quarterback on the famous University of Washington team. He pitched and fielded for the varsity baseball team and he was a star hurdler. Following graduation he was a reading clerk in three sessions of the Washington legislature.

During the war, he claims, his luck held. He was promoted from second lieutenant to captain for bravery, was wounded in the Argonne while serving with the 363d Infantry, and was awarded a Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry. He is 33 years old, the father of two girls and sells farm tractors when not occupied with his official duties as lieutenant-governor. The people of Washington declare he will be lucky enough to be the youngest governor in the United States after next election.

PROBLEMS OF THE NAVY MEN

Conference of Legion Committee to Devise Ways for Benefit of Members of Branch.

Problems of the navy men who are members of the American Legion and policies affecting naval ex-service men generally will be discussed at a conference of the naval affairs committee of the Legion in Chicago this fall. The meeting has been called by Edward E. Spafford, New York, chairman of the committee, who will announce the date of the conference later.

"The fact that there were eight times as many men in the army as there were in the navy during the World war has tended to minimize the needs of the navy ex-service men," Mr. Spafford declared in announcing the conference. "Few persons know of the high percentage of tubercular cases developed by men in the submarine and submarine service, for instance."

The members of the committee, besides Mr. Spafford, are: Benjamin Briscoe, Michigan; Philander Briscoe, Maryland; Claudius G. Pendill, Wisconsin; Fred A. Tillman, California, and C. W. Neville, Jr., Louisiana. The members ranged in rank from lieutenant commander to petty officer.

Legionnaires Respond.

When a post of the American Legion in Jackson, Miss., asked for volunteers to save the life of Weldon A. Crawford, overseas veteran, by blood transfusion, 12 legionnaires responded. Crawford, seriously injured in a street car accident, is recovering.

Moonshine Blast Kills Sisters.

Cairo, Ill.—Marie Hogan, 17 years old, and Gladys Hogan, nine, sisters, were burned to death in a fire which police attributed to the explosion of a still. The home of Dennis E. St. Louis, Mo.—Six of the 12 treasury certificates for $1,000 each, obtained December 10 in the robbery of a messenger of the Hamilton County bank of Cincinnati, have been recovered, federal secret service operatives have announced. John Miller, a local pawnbroker, is being held here and John Hickey, of this city, was arrested in Chicago in connection with the finding of the securities, it was stated.

Congress Asked to Keep Off.

Washington.—The Administration will regard with disfavor any effort on the part of Congress "to force its hand" on any international matters growing out of the Arms Conference, it can be stated. For this reason the resolution introduced in the House by Rep. Reavis of Nebraska, aimed to compel France to pay her debt to this Government, will be opposed by the Administration and the Administration's spokesmen in Congress.

Says Brainless Go To Cities.

Ypsilanti, Mich.—Professor M. S. Pitman, of the agricultural department of the Normal college, speaking before all of the women's clubs which were guests of the Ypsilanti Woman's club, said the farmers are the nation's foremost men today. "If a farmer's son has not brains enough to be a farmer, he moves to the city, gets a job in a factory where he can do one little thing over and over again, a job that needs little brains," he declared.

PEP CHATS.

THE LESSON OF THE APPLE BARREL.

Young men and women just starting out in their lives in this workaday world of ours, can get an extremely valuable lesson from the apple barrel.

A few years ago I was visiting in New York state. One day while staying at the orchard home of a friend, I was invited to ride to town with him, as he had to take in a few barrels of apples.

The road to town was very rough, and the wagon jolted from rut to rut in a manner which forced me to cling tightly to my seat. When we reached town, I stood around while the barrels were being emptied—and what I noticed set me to thinking.

When the barrels were packed the big apples and the small apples had all been thrown into the barrel without regard as to their size. There were big ones on top, in the middle, and at the bottom, while the small apples were scattered all through the barrel.

But when the barrels were emptied, after that jolting ride, the big apples were all at the top and the small ones at the bottom.

The young man starting out in life is like an apple in a barrel. If he has studied hard and is willing to study harder, eventually he will become a big apple, and the jolts he receives will only shake him to the top. On the other hand, if he does not apply himself closely to his work, he is certain to be a small apple and will be shaken down in the barrel of Life, down to the bottom with his small brothers.

It will be a great help to every young person entering the industries of the world, to remember the story of the barrel and the apples.

Study hard, drink in all the information you can, and improve your knowledge of your work. Soon you will notice that you are getting to be a bigger apple, and are being shook to the top. Be a big apple!

The Live Wire class met at the home of Geo. Putman and a real live time was had. The evening was spent in playing games. Among the stunts was one in which the members tried to pick a needle charged with electricity from a dish of water.

A number from here attended a skating party held near Argyle one night last week.

STARTS HEREFORD HERD.

Newton Auslander, a Shabbona farmer, is starting a herd of registered Hereford cattle on his farm in Evergreen township and added to the herd this week, Dale Farmer's Son, an 18 months old bull, purchased from Cyrus Wells of Kingston township.

The Humble Clothespin.

Every Monday morning thousands of pulley lines squeak and thousands of clothespins are jabbed into place. In spite of many new inventions, people the world over still use the primitive wooden clothespin designed years ago by a New Hampshire man. Twenty million feet of lumber are said to be needed each year to supply the clothespin manufacturers in the United States.
