ROBT. DIXON, JR.

CO. HONOR STUDENT

WAHJAMEGA LAD WILL REPRESENT TUSCOLA AT STATE FAIR; SECOND HONORS GO TO ROBT. DOSSER OF AKRON.

First honors in the eighth grade and state fair examinations in Tuscola county this year go to Robt. Dixon, jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Dixon of Wahjamega. His regular examination standings averaged 92.6 per cent and this together with the state fair tests gave him a general average of 91.8.

Robt. Dixon, jr., will represent Tuscola county boys at the state fair this fall. In the event that he is unable to attend, the county will be represented by Robt. Dossier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dossier of Akron township, who won second honors. He is a pupil of Mrs. Irene Kline, teacher in the Cook school and his general average standing was 90 per cent. Robt. Dixon is a pupil of Mrs. Agnes Romaine.

Clarence Haske, a pupil of Miss Lillian Hartz in the Merritt school and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Haske of Gilford, had an average 8th grade standing of 90.5, but falling lower in the state fair tests, he won third honors in the county.

Perfect standings were secured by three pupils in three different subjects at the recent 8th grade examination. Marie Gilbert, a pupil of Miss Sadie Murphy in the Akron school, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert, received 100 per cent in grammar. Glen McDonald, a pupil of John G. Ziegler, teacher of the Gilford school and a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McDonald, received 100 in arithmetic and Bernice J. Davis, a pupil of Mrs. Hazel Cramer in the Honsinger school and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Davis of Fairgrove township, had a mark of 100 in spelling and orthography.

Rev. Joseph Green of Mt. Pleasant will deliver the address to eighth grade graduates at the M. E. church at Caro this (Friday) morning at eleven o'clock. The class will be escorted by the Caro band from the courthouse to the church where the following program will be given: Pipe organ solo, Mrs. Louis Wean; invocation, Rev. C. F. Doyle; music, orchestra; song, "America," led by Wesley Bradburn; cornet solo, Victor Campbell; class address; presentation of diplomas by B. H. McCombs; announcement of state and county honor students; song, "Star Spangled Banner."

Following the program, the boys of the class will march to the fair grounds to participate in the junior field meet.

LOCALS DEFEAT CARO HI IN EXCITING GAME

Cass City Emerges from Trying Situation by Unusually Successful Tactics in Ninth Inning.

The most exciting game of the season for the Cass City high school team was the contest with Caro at the county seat Friday afternoon when the locals won the long end of the 16-9 score in a 10-inning game.

Both teams played a good game up to the ninth inning. Cass City having the big end of an 8-4 score. Caro rallied in the ninth inning and with two or three hits and the assistance of an error by a local player, the county seat boys made four runs, tying the score. Harris took Striffler's position in the pitcher's box at about this stage of the game. The outlook was pretty discouraging for Cass City at this time, Caro having a man on first and another runner on the third sack, with no men out. When the man on first attempted to steal second, Harris turned quickly and threw to Shortstop Phetteplace, who caught him man before he reached his intended destination. In the meantime, Caro's other runner tried to reach home but Phetteplace's perfect peg to Catcher Hamilton spiced the Caro player's intentions and two men were called out and the bases were again clear. Another batter striking out ended the agony.

In the tenth frame, Cass City came back strong with nine hits and seven scores. This could not be overcome by Caro who turned in but one more run.

Winning this game, entitles Cass City to compete for the county championship at the county meet today. They will play with Akron.

Friday's score:

FLAG DAY PROCLAMATION

Gov. Greenback has issued the following proclamation:

"Flag day, why? In order that by the setting apart of such a day we may be reminded of the significance of the flag of our country. In all civilized lands the flag is held a sacred emblem. To show respect for the flag is to show respect for the things for which the flag stands. We honor the flag then not for what it is physically, in design or texture or coloring, but for its spiritual significance, for what it represents. In pledging allegiance to the flag we pledge allegiance to those great principles of liberty, justice and equality which are at once the foundation and the bulwark of the republic. "Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I hereby proclaim Wednesday, June 14, 1922, Flag Day. Let flags be displayed on both public and private buildings and let community exercises appropriate to the day be held wherever practicable."

LUMBER DEALERS MET HERE TUESDAY

LUMBERMEN SAY MARKET IS STRONG; FIND BUSINESS IN THUMB NORMAL; BIG SHORTAGE IN SOME ITEMS.

Twenty-five lumber dealers of the Thumb district met at Cass City Tuesday to attend a meeting of the Thumb Lumber Dealers Association.

After enjoying a banquet at the Gordon Tavern, the company spent the evening hours at the office of the lumber department of The Farm Produce Co., where they discussed topics of particular interest to the dealers. Retail lumbermen find the lumber market strong and also find it almost impossible to get certain items of lumber now and do not expect the shortage to improve before 90 days. Many dealers are finding business normal, while a few voiced the opinion that it was below that standard.

Representatives were present from Mariette, Snover, Caro, Fairgrove, Bad Axe, Greenleaf, Decker, Deford, Gageton, Pigeon, Bach, Bad Axe, Kinde, Harbor Beach, Kingston and other Thumb points.

CASS CITY HAD EASY TIME WITH FAIRGROVE

Local Team Hit Hard and Often, Romping Around Bases for Nine Scores.

Cass City leaguers hit the ball hard and often at Fairgrove Monday afternoon and romped around the bases for 9 scores, allowing their contestants but four. The locals started the game with three scores in the first inning and added three more in the second. At no time did the contest look dangerous for Cass City. Flannery struck out 10 men and allowed but one man to walk to first. Powers let two men walk and failed to strike out any Cass City men.

The last half of the fifth frame and the first of the sixth were unusually short periods. Both teams were retired on three pitched balls in each instance.

In Class C events, Donald Seeger won first place and John Goodall fourth place in the mile run and Kenneth Higgins fourth place in the half-mile for Cass City. For Vassar, Pagel won second in the discus, Proctor third in the 440-yard run and Wellemeyer fourth in the 120-yd. high hurdles.

Wright of Millington won first place in the 100-yd. dash. Time, 10 2-5 seconds.

As is the custom an admission fee of twenty-five cents is charged for commencement evening.

SPREAD STORY OF MICHIGAN FARMS

That's What State Commissioner John A. Doelle Asks State Pioneers To Do.

John A. Doelle, state commissioner of agriculture, speaking before the delegates to the forty-eighth annual meeting of the Michigan Pioneer and Historical Society at Lansing, urged further development of Michigan's agricultural resources by co-operation.

He asked the visitors at the meeting to spread the story of the farming advantages of this state. He also prophesied a turning point that will halt the flood of farmers' sons and daughters to the cities and send them, and others, with them, back to the soil.

"There will be a general going back to the farms of boys and girls who were born in the country," he said. "With this movement there will go ideas that will improve the social and economical life in the rural districts. Michigan has many resources, and development of them will make life more worth living."

Commissioner Doelle declared that although Michigan is only a partially developed state, agriculturally, it stands well up as a fruit, poultry and dairy state. He briefly sketched the history of agricultural development in Michigan and traced the shifts in the balance of population that make him believe the time is coming when more than 50 per cent of the state's population will live on farms.

TO THE VOTERS OF TUSCOLA CO.

I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the nomination for sheriff of Tuscola county at the primaries to be held in September.

Your vote will be appreciated. C. F. Honeywell. Akron Twp.—Adv. 1.

CASS CITY SCHOOL IS CONTINUED ON UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN LIST FOR ANOTHER TWO YEARS.

Superintendent H. W. Holmes received very pleasing news Wednesday that the Cass City schools had been placed for another two year period on the Michigan University list which will admit graduates of the local high school, without examination, to the University of Michigan.

J. B. Edmondson, state inspector of high schools for the University of Michigan, was recently here to inspect the local schools and found conditions, outside of the school building, satisfactory. "I take great pleasure in informing you," writes Mr. Edmondson to Supt. Holmes, "that upon recommendation of the committee of diploma schools, the diploma relation between your school and this university is continued for a term of two years, ending June 30, 1924." A few minor recommendations regarding equipment were suggested in Mr. Edmondson's letter.

THICK-SNYDER NUPTIALS.

Quiet Wedding at Noon Saturday, June 3, at R. McConnell Home.

(From the Kingston-Novesta Town Line Correspondent.)

Miss Jennie Thick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. McConnell of Novesta township, and Karl Snyder of near Imlay City were quietly married at noon on Saturday, June 3, at the home of the bride. Rev. Anderson of the Free Methodist church was the officiating minister. Miss Mabel Thick, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Kay Snyder, brother of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony, a fine wedding dinner was served.

The happy couple left on Sunday afternoon for their home on a farm near Imlay City, which was in readiness for them. They have the best wishes of their friends.

CARO BAND GIVES CONCERT HERE JUNE 23

The Caro band will give an open air concert at Cass City Friday evening, June 23, at eight o'clock. This band consists of 25 lads and lassies who produce some exceptionally good band music and people of this community will be glad to welcome them on the first of a series of band concerts they expect to give in several Thumb towns this summer. The band expects to play on later dates at North Branch, Sandusky and possibly Davison.

WATER FROM ONE RESORT WELL UNFIT FOR USE

Dr. L. D. McCoy sent several specimens of water from wells at Oak Bluff resort to the health department for analysis. He received a prompt reply from the department which stated that water from well No. 4 situated at the site of Mr. LeBlanc's new cottage was contaminated and unfit for use and that other wells showed symptoms of developing the same conditions in test.

A second letter from the department stated that the first letter was premature and that all specimens sent from wells (except that on the LeBlanc site) showed no contamination and all were fit for use except the water from the LeBlanc well.

INFANT MORTALITY HIGH IN COUNTY

TUSCOLA'S RATE IS 125 PER 1,000 BABIES BORN; THAT OF STATE IS 78.9 PER THOUSAND.

Miss Elsie Horr, county nurse in Tuscola, has found that the infant mortality rate in this county was very high in 1921 when compared with the average rate in the state. County records show that births in Tuscola county in 1921 numbered 798 and that deaths of children under one year in that period reached 99. The infant mortality rate for Tuscola is 125 per 1,000 babies born, while the average rate of the state is 78.9 per 1,000.

In her monthly report covering May Miss Horr says:

I had intended to visit as many schools as possible in May, but my plans were upset frequently and it proved to be a month of odds and ends instead. There were 29 nursing visits, 8 tuberculosis visits, 4 school visits to homes, 6 infant welfare visits, 22 social service visits and 29 other visits. I gave four talks and drove 855 miles.

The four schools visited were—White Star, Brazee, Columbia Corners and Vassar. Fractional No. 9. 90 pupils were inspected. We found 53 with defective teeth, 33 with enlarged tonsils, 19 with defective vision, 3 with defective hearing, 40 with nasal obstruction, 30 were 10 per cent underweight. The total number with defects were 78.

On May 10, a delegation from Tuscola county attended the regional meeting of the Red Cross at Flint. An inspiring and interesting program was enjoyed by all.

In June I expect to be largely occupied with school home visits, besides I hope to hold some Baby Conferences.

A mother-daughter picnic for the county is being planned for the latter part of June for the 8th grade and high school girls and their mothers. Details will be published later.

Mrs. Babcock expressed a wish for a Crippled Children's Clinic for our county. The County Medical Society thru its secretary has promised its cooperation. Dr. Blodgett of Detroit, was appealed to but can not spare the time. We may be able to secure some other orthopedic surgeon for this clinic. Meanwhile, Dr. Blodgett gave me permission to bring a few patients to the Saginaw clinic, though that is intended for children from Saginaw county only. I should like your help in making a survey of crippled children in the county who are not under a physician's care.

MICHIGAN WOOL PRICES HIGHEST IN TWO YEARS

Michigan wool prices reached a new high point for the past two years June 1 when Michigan Delaines were quoted at 51 cents f. o. b. Lansing, with lower grades shaded a cent or two down the list to rejections at 33 cents, said the State Farm Bureau. Wool consumers are still scrambling for wool, said the bureau. South American stocks have been cleaned up and comparatively little is coming into this country from overseas. According to the May business conditions report of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank the price paid many producers is about 100 per cent better than in April 21. The tariff situation, scarcity of good grades of wool, advancing foreign markets and recent improvements in the woollens industry are factors that are adding strength to the market the Reserve Bank report said.

Michigan's sheep population has shrunk 94,000 since January 1, 1920, when the U. S. Bureau of Crop estimates reported 1,209,000 sheep in the state. January 1, 1922, the number was 1,115,000. No report has been made to the bureau on the number of spring lambs. Michigan wool is carrying an unusually small amount of grease this year, says the Farm Bureau wool pool.

The Farm Bureau will begin pooling at 37 farms in the Thumb district June 19, advancing forty per cent to the growers. The bureau practically completed second payment of its ten thousand 1921 accounts this week.

FINE OPPORTUNITY FOR RURAL STUDENTS

FOUR YEAR COURSE IN AGRICULTURE PROVIDED AT CASS CITY SCHOOL UNDER PROVISIONS OF SMITH-HUGHES LAW.

In the next school year, Cass City schools will have a four-year course in agriculture taught by an instructor who will give his entire time during the year to that subject. Five hundred dollars is secured from the state each year under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes law toward the maintenance of this course.

This offers an excellent opportunity for rural students who wish to take up farming as a vocation and it will prove a practical aid to farmers who may desire assistance through the advice of the agricultural instructor who remains on duty during the summer vacation as well as during the school year.

The course of study for students includes the following:

First year—Plant life and its applications. Botany and zoology.

Second year—Farm crops and horticulture.

Third year—Animal husbandry.

Fourth year—Soils and fertilizers. Farm management and farm mechanics.

Under the Michigan plan, students in agriculture are given practical farm work on a productive basis by actual employment on the farm with the father or for any farmer for the period when school is not in session; or by the performance of farm projects in which students who are not employed as stated above, will select early in the spring of the year some farm project such as the raising of a certain crop, the care of a number of cows and the raising or care of certain animals; or they may elect to perform more than one project, either operating two at the same time or one in succession after the completion of the first.

Students who choose employment will be aided and directed by school authorities and supervised by the agricultural instructor, and at the close of the employment will submit a report showing the period of employment, compensation, etc.

Each student undertaking project work must show that he has given at least 144 hours of time to the performance of the project. The project must be conducted upon a commercially productive basis. The parents or guardian of each student taking up employment or project work must sign an agreement with the board of education that the student will have for himself the proper time for the performance of his project or employment. The instructor in agriculture will be required to supervise and inspect each student's work and must visit each project at least once each month.

The following are suggested typical projects and many others can be developed by the instructor:

1. Raising an acre or more of corn, potatoes, beans, sugar beets, or any other crop.

2. Grow one acre or more of alfalfa or any other legume.

3. Improve grain by ear to row method.

4. Take entire charge of home vegetable garden, or conduct a market garden of at least one-half acre.

5. Grow at least one-eighth of an acre of any small fruit. Note.—May be continued through three years.

6. Take entire charge of the apple

MRS. HUFFMAN CELEBRATED 90TH BIRTHDAY

Former Cass City Lady Made Happy by Many Cheering Messages from Friends.

Mrs. L. H. Huffman, who is making her home at the Odd Fellow Home in Toronto, writes the Chronicle under date of June 3:

"My 90th birth anniversary on May 30 was a very happy one for me. I sat all day reading cards and letters that were sent to me by my many friends and relatives living at distances of hundreds of miles from Toronto. It is wonderful what thought and memory can do in this enlightened world of ours.

"My letters and cards were beautiful. I wish you could read the letter my nephew sent me from Washington, D. C. I think it would be hard to beat. He also sent me a ten-dollar bill and phoned to the best hot house in Toronto for a box of flowers. They came after dinner on my birthday and they were just immense to look at."

Mrs. Huffman was especially pleased by the remembrance of several Cass City people who sent messages of cheer and best wishes on this occasion.

THUMB BRIEFS

Items clipped from the exchanges published in the Thumb of Mich.

Bad Axe—Three hundred and twenty of the 400 applicants for 8th grade diplomas who took the state examination May 11-12 were successful. This is a higher percentage than usual. Of the 323 seventh graders who wrote for credits in geography and physiology 205 were successful. Of the remaining 118, 75 made credits in one subject.

Palms—Last Friday a meeting was held whereby it was proposed to spend $15,000 to build a new elevator at Palms, to take the place of the one destroyed by fire last fall. It is presumed it will be a branch of the Minden Farm Bureau elevator.

Harbor Beach—The Times believes this town should go slow in encouraging motor busses and motor freight lines to Port Huron, "especially when we are endeavoring to obtain better service from the Pere Marquette R. R. Harbor Beach to grow must have good freight and passenger service on the steam railroads in order to get car shipments, and mail in and out. Citizens should consider it from this angle."

Sandusky—It is reported that Dr. G. S. Tweedie has bought the Sandusky hotel building and will remodel it for a hospital. This will seem a good enterprise for Sandusky.

Caro—W. E. Daniels of Seymour, Wis., who made a contract to buy the Caro electric plant, has informed Caro people that he will be unable to carry out the contract on account of the withdrawal of financial aid on the part of one of his backers. Caro is bitterly disappointed over the fact that prospects for continuous current are again "up in the air." Other capital is interested in the Caro plant however, and residents are still hopeful that a change will be made in the near future.

Peck—The political campaign in Sanilac county, generally well under way by this time of the year, is dragging somewhat. In county politics there will probably be only three offices contested for—register of deeds, county treasurer and representative in the state legislature—as the other officials are serving their first terms and no opposition to them is expected at this time. There are two candidates for treasurer, James Curry of Lamotte, and Geo. C. Gardner of Lexington; two so far for register of deeds, Miss Ida McLeod of Sandusky and Wm. Robinson of Austin, while Andrew Tyrell of Moore and Captain Walter B. Smafield of Brown City are the candidates for state representative.—Times.

Vassar—Records come thick and fast on the Ridgeman farm. This week three cows owned by G. W. Ridgeman of Vassar are listed with creditable records in the latest official bulletin from the office of Malcolm Gardner, Delavan, Wis. His best cow Lucy, Wayne, is reported as having made at the age of 8 years, 8 months, a record of 557 lbs. of milk and 23.351 lbs. of butter fat in seven days making 118.5 lbs. of butter. Eden Hope at the age of 2 years and 1 month is credited at 503.8 lbs. of milk and 19.647 lbs. of butter fat in seven days or 24.5 lbs. of butter. Her thirty day record is 2106.8 lbs. of milk making 100.2 lbs. of butter.

Inlay City—F. A. Johnson of Lapeer and W. L. Moore of Almont, representing the Lapeer County Law Enforcement League, filed with Probate Judge McClusky last Thursday 2,471 petitions from the citizens of Lapeer county asking the judge to call a special election for the purpose of voting on the recall of George Utley as one of the county road commissioners. The committee feels elated with the reception given their effort and consider that when more than the required number of petitioners can be gained in these very busy days it speaks of a successful conclusion of the affair. The judge has called a special election to be held June 14. If at that election Mr. Utley is recalled the judge will call a second special election to fill the vacancy.—Times.

Pt. Sanilac—James P. Mugan, former head of the Exchange Bank of

M. N. Mugan, Port Sanilac, is under arrest in Detroit on a charge of passing a worthless check for $3,838.01, the outcome of a transaction in August, 1921. Mugan is reported to be wealthy, but unfavorable rumors regarding his financial transactions have been afloat for some time. Several suits have been started in the Sanilac county circuit court during the past few days against Mugan growing out of his business transactions in the past few years. Mugan is now in no way connected with the Port Sanilac bank, but some of his business transactions while in the bank will probably be aired in the courts.

Port Huron—Eighty-three years old, hale and hearty, with $3,420 sewed into his clothes, Michael Wayner of Harbor Beach was picked up as a vagrant and lodged in the Port Huron jail Tuesday night. The aged man appeared so destitute that a patrolman picked him up. Little did his fellow lodgers dream that Wayner had as a sleeping companion a nice fat roll of nearly $3,500 in bills. No one else at the jail thought so until he was released Wednesday morning. He was noisily indignant when the police captain removed the roll from his suspenders, where he had attached it, but the captain assured him that everything would be all right as soon as they could get in touch with authorities in Harbor Beach. Wayner is a German and speaks very little English, but he succeeded in letting the police know that he had a wife and several children in Harbor Beach. When word came from that town that "Wayner is all right, just likes to wander about," he was given God-speed as he started off for Detroit.

Brass and Bronze.

Brass is an alloy of zinc and copper, bronze of tin and copper. Brass consists of about 30 per cent of zinc and the remainder of copper. Bronze consists of copper and tin in various proportions, according to the use to be made of it. For coins or tokens the proportions are 95 per cent copper and 5 per cent tin. A slight addition of other substances, such as phosphorus, zinc, or aluminum, produces other alloys known as phosphor-bronze, bearing metal and aluminum bronze.

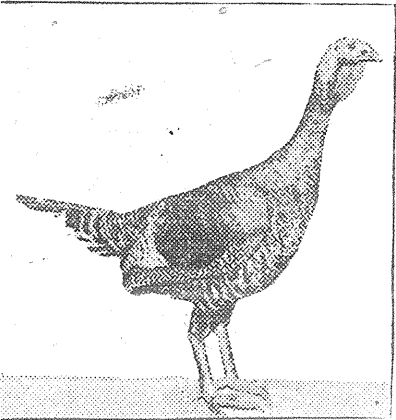

TURKEYS LAY THREE LITTERS

Poult Hatched Later Than June Do Not Develop for Thanksgiving Markets.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Soon after mating turkey hens begin to look for nesting places and usually commence laying in from a week to 10 days after the first mating. One mating is sufficient to fertilize all the eggs of one litter, but the hens ordinarily mate three or four times before beginning to lay. All turkey hens, of course, do not begin laying at the same time, and in a flock of about 15 it may be six weeks or more from the time the first hen begins to lay until the last begins. Pullets usually commence laying a little earlier than yearlings or older hens. say poultry specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture.

The average number of eggs in the first litter is about 13, although in individual hens it may vary from 12 to 30. Hens that do not have to be set can be broken up on becoming broody and made to lay a second or a third litter. The number of eggs laid in the second litter averages about 12, and in the third about 10, although there is considerable variation in the egg production of different hens.

Some turkey hens can be made to lay four or five litters, but this is not usually advisable, as poult hatched later than June do not have a chance to develop for the Thanksgiving and Christmas markets and are not sufficiently mature by the following spring to be used as breeders. A hen that begins laying in the middle of March will usually finish laying her first litter early in April, her second litter about the third week in May, depending upon the number of eggs she lays and the promptness with which she is broken up on becoming broody.

Hens that are allowed to hatch and raise a brood of poult after laying their first litter often begin laying again in the fall, but poult hatched at that time are of little value except for broilers, as they require too much care and attention to carry them through the winter. Fall-hatched pullets begin laying late the following spring, but they are immature at that time and poult hatched from their eggs do not develop into large, strong birds as do poult from mature stock.

BEST FLOORS IN HEN HOUSE

Disagreeable Condition for Fowls Is Caused by Moisture Coming to Surface.

The floor in any poultry house offers many problems. A large percentage of the moisture in a poultry house comes about through the floor. The moisture rises to the surface of the ground and evaporates, in many instances causing a disagreeable condition for the birds. The best floor in a poultry house is built with first a layer of gravel or cinders, in fact any open material that has large air spaces, then a layer of hollow block tile, next a very thin layer of cement. A good practical floor can be constructed as follows: Six to eight inches crushed rock, then a layer of tar paper and follow that with about three inches of cement.

Disinfectants are cheaper than disease.

Keep pure, fresh water always within reach.

Never feed your fowls musty grain of any kind.

Fowls, in confinement, to do well, need a variety of food.

Crowding induces disease and lowers the vitality of fowls.

The early hatched pullet is the one that begins to lay early in the fall, when eggs are high in price.

With proper care and food come plenty of eggs. Remember that "anything worth doing at all is worth doing well."

If cats or rats bothered you last year, plan to outwit them this season. Use plenty of inch-mesh wire netting. It does not take many lost chicks to pay for quite a piece of netting.

EMERY STILL ACTIVE
FOR WORLD WAR VETS

JOHN G. EMERY

John G. Emery, of Grand Rapids, former national commander of the American Legion, still retains his interest in Legion affairs, and is a member of the board of the Legion tuberculosis hospital at Battle Creek, one of the finest in the country. It is being enlarged to accommodate 400 patients.

LEGION TO CARE FOR VET'S ORPHANS

Cottage Group Planned Where Children May Find a Home.

Detroit—Tentative plans for a children's colony in Michigan where the American Legion will care for orphans of men killed in the war or who died of injuries as well as children from homes of war veterans who have become destitute, have been formulated by state officers of the Legion.

Under the present plan the colony, said to set a precedent in American Legion activities will be in operation within a year.

The plan has been adopted as an ideal program by the national Legion organization.

Six Michigan communities already have offered free sites to the colony, and have pointed out the advantages of their respective locations.

An effort will be made to obtain land near a lake in order that the children cared for will have diversified recreational advantages.

The children will live in semi-modern cottages of several rooms each, between six and nine youngsters being assigned to each home. A cottage mother, probably the widow of some war veteran, is to be placed in charge of each cottage. She will receive shelter, food and clothing as recompense for becoming the "mother" of the children.

As conceived by Paul Martin, Battle Creek newspaper man and state commander of the Legion, the plan provides for making each cottage a memorial to some dead war veteran, the homes being provided by relatives of the victims as memorials to them.

John G. Emery, former national commander of the Legion, is to serve on the committee to choose a site for the colony.

LEGION OPPOSES INTOLERANCE

The American Legion is based on the Constitution of the United States, which was drawn up to secure the liberty of an American citizen. The American Legion is sworn to uphold the Constitution of the United States. This means that the Legion has set its face against all intolerance. Against economic intolerance, political intolerance and religious intolerance, the Legion has declared itself beyond the vestige of doubt.

KELLEY FAVORS BONUS

PATRICK H. KELLEY

Nearly all of Michigan's Congressmen voted for the soldiers' national bonus, which was supported by the American Legion. All are candidates for re-election except Rep. Brennan of Detroit and Patrick H. Kelley, of Lansing, and the latter is seeking a seat in the Senate.

Scrap Book for Child.

Mothers can make beautiful scrap-books for "the little ones" with pictures of all the things that children are interested in—trains and animals and bright colored flowers. Don't classify these pictures in pasting them in the book. Young children's minds don't work in an orderly way, and they will enjoy pointing to the many different kinds of things on one page.

Truck drivers operating trucks on the public highways without a mirror are liable to arrest and fine and the law should be enforced. How many times have you been held up by one of these big trucks whose driver "hogs" the road and which makes so much noise that your horn fails to attract his attention and you have to trail along in the dust and dirt for a mile or more before you find a place in the road to get by him.

The second part was given by more advanced pupils of Mrs. Fenn and included both vocal and piano numbers. The following contributed their talents: Junior Choral Club, Mary McIntyre, G. W. Landon, Mrs. P. E. Fleming, Neva Cones, Bernice Hitchcock, Mrs. Roy Bricker, Kenneth Higgins and Belva Tibbals. All participants displayed skill and careful training and reflected much credit for their instructor.

A Small Anarchist.

The youngster we recently told of who asked his father why God hadn't given the zebra stars as well as stripes has a match in the little girl who wrote this description of the ark: "Overhead was a gorgeous rainbow and beneath it the little ark rode proudly over the waters, with smoke pouring from her smokestack and the United States flag flying at the bow."—Boston Transcript.

DEMAND FOR MICHIGAN GROWN SEED INCREASES

Crop Improvement Association Revises Distributing System to Meet Needs.

Michigan grown pedigreed seeds have been in greater demand during the past season than ever before in the history of organized seed production by state farmers, according to H. C. Rother, extension specialist in farm crops at the Michigan Agricultural College. In many cases the supply of certified seed has been insufficient to meet the calls, which come from many points outside the state, as well as from Michigan growers themselves.

"More Robust Beans, the improved variety originated at the college station, were certified on Michigan farms this year than ever before," says Rother, "but the supply was entirely exhausted eight weeks before planting time. Pedigreed Wolverine Oats, Michigan Black Barless Barley, and soybeans also sold out early."

The Michigan Crop Improvement Association, a cooperative organization of Michigan farmers, which works with the agricultural college in raising and certifying pedigreed seeds in the state, met at M. A. C. late in May and revised its system for distributing pure strains of seeds in an effort to provide facilities to meet the growing demand for Michigan seed grain. The seed department of the State Farm Bureau handles a large part of the marketing of this seed, which is grown by members of the Improvement Association under supervision of college inspectors—a three-way system which is making Michigan famous as a producer of high quality seed stock.

His Examination Concluded.

A Scotch farmer was giving his testimony in favor of a certain bill. "Is it true," said the opposing attorney, "that you told Mr. Blank you were willing to give your evidence on the other side if they would pay you better?" "Aye," replied the farmer—then, after a pause, "and let me put the same question to you—if ye had been offered a bigger fee wad ye no hae been on the ither side yerself?"—Boston Transcript.

CASS CITY'S SHOE & CLOTHING MEN

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

MAKE HOURS COUNT

SAVING time is wasted effort unless you utilize the time you save.

Most people are in a hurry. They rush to their offices in the morning. They rush to their homes at night.

When they get to the office, they sit around waiting for dinner.

About three quarters of the average man's time is spent "sitting around." And time spent sitting around is always wasted time.

You are given about eight hours to loaf if you want to and eight hours to work.

Unless you have an unusually easy job, you can save little out of the eight hours' working time.

You can save from one to five hours out of the eight, at least once or twice a week, if you are careful.

But unless you use that time, and use it wisely, there will be no sense in saving it.

Most successful men are very careful to save a little time out of the so-called idle eight hours.

They use this either to add to the efforts they put forth on their regular business, or to take up something related to their business which is inconvenient to do during working hours.

In other words they use their time as intelligently as they do their money. They make it earn dividends. And time set to work in that fashion is always a good investment.

Steamships, railroads, rapid transit lines have together affected an immense saving of time for the human race.

No longer does a man need to spend a month, practically idle all the time, going from London to New York. He can go in less than a week, with three weeks saved.

Those three weeks are worth money. They may mean success. Use them and a considerable share of all the time you save, and your output soon begins to show a gratifying increase.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE USUAL LIFE

I DO NOT wish you riches, friend,
For riches may not stay—
So much we lose, so much we lend,
So much we throw away.
I wish you only smiles through tears
And glad days in the saddest years.

I do not wish you cloudless skies;
They can't be always fair.
But may the sun that sinks arise,
The heart arise from care.
You must have clouds, but may they show
A silver lining somewhere, though.

I do not wish you only ease,
No toil for hand or brain;
They are but parasites, are these
Who live by others' pain.
No, something must your life employ—
But may your labor be a joy.

I do not wish you, friend, too much,
Each day a day of sun;
I wish you only treasurers such
As other men have won.
And better friend am I than they
Who wish for you a cloudless day.

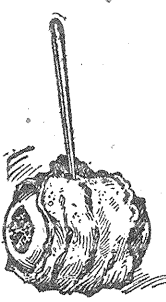

I wish for you a modest part,
And simple joys for you;
And then I hope with all my heart
That simple dream comes true.
I wish you toil, and merriment—
The usual life, with life content.

Marmalade.

The name "marmalade" comes from the name of the fruit—Portuguese quince—called marmelo, from which it was originally prepared. It is frequently mentioned in old cookery books as "marmals." The name "jam" comes merely from the method of preparation—to jam, or crush, the fruit and sugar together.

Deviled Spanish Green Olives

Here's a little hors d'oeuvre that may be prepared in a few minutes. It's novel and tasty. The family will enjoy it, and so will the guests. It's one of those "surprise" appetizers that labels your dinner "unique and charming."

Pit large green olives and fill with the yolk of hard-boiled eggs mixed to a paste with a little butter. Lay an olive on a strip of bacon, sprinkle with paprika and a tiny pinch of mustard, roll up, fasten with toothpick and broil just long enough to crisp the bacon. Serve on toast fingers.

Cracks in the Wall.

To remedy unsightly cracks in a wall place in a saucepan one pound of flour and rub in a little cold water until free from lumps. Add three quarts of boiling water, place on the stove, bring to a boil and stir in a tablespoonful of alum. Cut a quantity of newspaper into fine bits and stir it into this paste until it is about as thick as putty. Boll and stir until smooth. Fill the cracks with this with help of a putty knife or a broken pointed case knife. Crowd it into the track as far as possible, and finish it off level and smooth.

Frost's Purifying Qualities.

By its formation on trees and plants frost has an important beneficial effect, as its purifying quality is exercised on the air. Science tells us that the filtering of all the air that passes through foliage gathers the nitrogenous gases given off, which nitrogen, being returned again to the soil, acts as nutriment to vegetation. —S. K. Pearson Jr., Co-operative Observer, United States Weather Bureau, in New York Post

Terrier is Thief's Aid.

A burglar arrested at Hampstead had in his possession a cage of rats. The police said that his method was to open a window, turn in a rat, and then set his terrier after it. If there were wires or other burglar alarms, the animals were fairly certain to get them ringing, in which case the burglar decamped with all speed, leaving his terrier to follow him. If, on the other hand, there was no sound of jangling bells or alarms, he could proceed peacefully with his nefarious business.

BACKACHE IS A WARNING

Cass City People Should Not Neglect Their Kidneys.

Backache is often nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To cure the pains and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from weakened kidneys, you must reach the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of your back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 50 years. Read Cass City testimony.

Mrs. D. Tyo, Fourth St., Cass City, says: "Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved me of a distressing backache and put my kidneys in good shape. I was troubled with a dull ache in the small of my back and with my kidneys being weak and acting irregularly, but after I had used Doan's Kidney Pills, those symptoms were gone and they haven't returned."

TICK ERADICATION IN SOUTH

Work Has Progressed Satisfactorily in Georgia Where There Has Been Co-Operation.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Tick eradication has progressed so satisfactorily in Georgia that probably fifteen or more counties will soon be released from federal quarantine, according to a report just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. During June, 814,565 dippings of cattle were officially supervised in the state, and in the counties expected to be released from quarantine only 300 tick-infested herds were found.

With the exception of one county, Taylor, there has been hearty co-operation in carrying on the tick-eradication work. The commissioners' court of Taylor county declined to co-operate.

ate with the state for the enforcement of dipping and quarantine regulations, and has refused to complete the work of tick eradication in herds, on premises and in localities held under local quarantine at the time the federal quarantine was revoked in December, 1920. For this reason it has been necessary to re-quarantine Taylor county.

There is in effect in Georgia a state regulation which provides that all cattle going through the dipping vat shall be marked with paint at each dipping. This regulation has been of great assistance in facilitating tick-eradication work. Range riders, whose duty it is to pick up any cattle not marked with paint, are employed in each county. Undipped cattle are taken to the dipping vat and dipped at the expense of the owner, or if the owner cannot be found, they are treated as strays and sold for the expenses incurred in their gathering and dipping. To this system, the Department of Agriculture attributes the satisfactory results in ridding the state of ticks. In fact, it is said there are fewer undipped cattle in Georgia, in counties in which tick eradication is being carried on, than in any other state.

The importance of freeing the South of ticks is emphasized by the increase in the number of markets which are being closed to ticky cattle. Following a resolution recently passed by the Maryland state board of agriculture, prohibiting the shipment of ticky cattle into the state for any purpose, the Department of Agriculture has issued a notice to bureau of animal industry inspectors to the effect that shipments of cattle from quarantined areas cannot be received at the Union stock yards, Baltimore, Md.; the J. A. Whitefield Co., Frederick, Md.; the Benning Union stock yards, District of Columbia, and the Carolina Packing Co., Wilmington, N. C.

To Maintain Normal Health and Strength He Should Be Kept Outside During Winter.

The horse cannot maintain his normal health and strength unless he secures about the same amount of exercise as he would obtain in traveling from five to six miles a day. To obtain this he should be kept outside as much as possible during the winter months and be housed in a cool, well ventilated barn, properly bedded.

MARKETING SURPLUS GRAINS

Many Farmers Tempted to Use Supply of Feed for the Purpose of Producing Beef.

Cheap feed and relatively low prices for feeders are tempting many to turn surplus roughage and feed into beef. This course offers one of the most attractive ways of marketing certain grains and coarse feeds. It is important that one buys his feeders at a reasonably low figure.

MAY HAVE TOLTEC TREASURE

French Archeologist Said to Have Taken Enormous Fortune From Tomb of Ancient King.

Students of archeology and kindred subjects in Mexico are deeply interested in a remarkable story which comes from Colima, the capital of the state of that name, which borders Jalisco.

According to the story, the French archeologist, Count Brisac de Saint Denis, while doing research work in Mexico in 1910, came upon the tomb of an ancient Toltec king near the town of Comala, situated a short distance from Colima.

It is circumstantially asserted in narrating this tale that in this tomb, along with the mummified body of the king, were a dazzling collection of pearls, opals and gold dust of an estimated value of $10,000,000. It is stated that the count was able to get all this enormous fortune out of the country and that it made him independently wealthy.

An investigation of the strange report is to be made by Mexican archeologists. Beyond the fact that it is well-known that the count really did spend some time in investigating the ancient ruins of a prehistoric race near Comala, there is no authentic public knowledge here that he made any such discovery.—New York World.

FRANCE WILL GET PAINTING

Valuable Work of Art, Long Lost, Is Soon to Be Returned to That Country.

A rare French painting discovered in England, where it has been hidden in dusty cellars for at least two centuries, will be taken back to the Louvre soon, thanks to the generosity of the Society of French Art Lovers. It is the famous painting by Nicolas Poussin, called "The Funeral of Phocion," the celebrated Athenian statesman and general who commanded the left wing of the Athenian fleet in the sea fight with the Spartans off Naxos in B. C. 376, and who was put to death in B. C. 317 on a false charge of treason. Poussin painted the picture in the middle of the Seventeenth century for a Paris nobleman. Since 1700 its whereabouts have been unknown. It was reported recently that several Poussins were for sale by a descendant of a former proprietor in Guernsey, and when the collection was cleaned and appraised one of the time-worn canvases proved to be the missing "Phocion." It is considered the finest example of French art of the Seventeenth century.

Down to Earth.

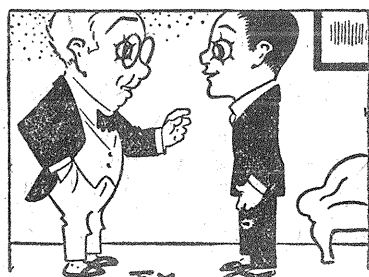

"The late Kipley Hitchcock," said a noted novelist, "was an excellent critic. His revisions made 'David Harum' a success, and once he revised a tale for me that also succeeded."

"I ended this tale with the hifalutin words:

"Her pale lips fell, a faint flush tinged her cheek, and she gave him both her hands; and there in the old orchard, amid the falling blossoms, he drew her to him and, raising her long ringlets to his lips kissed them reverently."

"Mr. Hitchcock, when he finished this high-flown passage, drawled:

"What do you think now, honestly, of a young fellow who would go nibbling at a girl's back hair when she had her face with her?"

TRUE

"You should always take care of your money, my boy."

"Why, dad?"

"Because when you get old your money will then take care of you."

Got Quadrupled Cheap.

A chattel mortgage on a horse purchased for fifty cents at a recent bankrupt sale at Greenwood, S. C., has been drawn up in legal form and given by the purchaser, J. C. Penn, to R. C. Cheatham, from whom he borrowed the 50 cents when the horse was knocked down to him at auction. The description of the horse in the mortgage reads: "One Arab horse named Dexter, aged thirty-three years."

Getting On.

"Has Mrs. Gadder made much progress in learning to drive her car?"

"She has mastered the first lesson."

"And what is that?"

"While she may not regard a traffic policeman as her social equal she has learned that a few kind words have more effect on him than her customary hauteur."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

OUR COSTLY NEGLIGENCE
"Co-ordination" is a tired, haggard, nervous wreck of a word that was nearly worked to death at Washington during the early days of the war. It was the first of the dollar-a-year words to come forward to do war work; and it was worn to a frazzle. I hate to drag the poor wan thing out from the quiet retreat in my dictionary where it has been resting and recuperating, but I must say that this lack of coordination, lack of organization, duplication, inefficiency, waste, and haphazard hodge-podge structure of the national governmental machine is no secret to those at Washington, who run and manage it for us, and who are even more directly responsible than we are for the condition into which it has fallen.
I submit pleas of avoidance and confession from both Democrats and Republicans. It is not a matter of politics. It is a matter of proved and confessed negligence on the part of the men we have hired to run the machine, and have kept year after year in places of trust and power and responsibility. They haven't kept up the plant. The form of organization is grotesquely inadequate. The morale of the working force is badly impaired, as I have set forth at length in previous articles. We have paid the price for this, grossly and hugely, in money and in poor service. This has been costly negligence on our part.
I said I had confessions. Here they are, Reed Smoot, Republican and a senator from Utah, speaking:
The administrative branches of the government have undergone no fundamental change since the organization was devised by Alexander Hamilton.
No other government in the world could have gone on as ours has done, and paid the bills involved in our wasteful methods of administration. We have been able to do it because this country has had resources and wealth unparalleled.
But the war has brought us at last to realize that these will not last always.
We need a complete survey of the whole situation de novo by a committee of men willing to recognize that it is a task of day and night for a year, and very likely,
two years.
There is endless duplication of work among different departments, and even in the same department. It is the same through all the government functions, and now, when the burden of carrying our enormous debt is weighing on the people, we can no longer neglect to give it consideration.
When he said these things, Mr.
Smoot was urging a concrete proposal to bring about the reformation so badly needed.
And now Franklin D. Roosevelt, for seven years assistant secretary of the navy and recently the Democratic candidate for vice president:
The entire system of relationship which exists between congress and the executive departments is fundamentally wrong.
Let me illustrate: I made an offer one spring to the appropriations committees of both house and senate, telling them that I would tomorrow discharge 15 per cent of the employees of the Navy department if they, the committees, would give me complete authority to take one-half of the salaries of the employees so discharged and add it to the salaries of the other 85 per cent of the employees still left in the department. . . . Of course, however, under the present system congress would not think of giving executive discretion of this kind.
Congress, for various reasons, has so tied the hands of the executive officers of the government that they have no discretion in the fundamental questions of employment. . . . My own wonder is that, considering the existing circumstances, the employees of the government are as efficient as they actually are.
Congress legislates for every minute item of employment. . . . There is a lot of work being done in other departments which ought properly to be under the Navy department, and in the same way
there is a lot of work done by the Navy department which could perfectly properly be transferred to other departments.
After seven years down here in an executive position . . . I cannot help the conclusion that our governmental methods are cumbersome and wasteful. The first improvement must come in what is,
after all, the source of governmental activities—that is, the legislative branch.
This must come from congress. We need also a reclassification and redistribution of the work of the executive departments. This can only come if congress, working in accord with itself and with the executives, will discuss the whole question simultaneously and not merely piecemeal.
Well, there you are! A Republican who has been in the legislative branch of the government for seventeen years, and a Democrat who has been in the executive branch for seven years, both telling the same story of how badly
the national business is managed.
The odd thing about it is that our agents and representatives at Washington who let this waste and inefficiency run on, year after year, pay no penalty. We pay the piper to the tune of millions and billions—literally that much. And the condition will endure until we make a real roar about it. Congress increasingly shakes its head over the situation and brings in various proposals of reform, and says how wrong it all is; but lacking a lively, inflamed public pressure, nothing gets done.
The lives of several kinds of plants have been doubled by a Vienna botanist who has discovered ways to delay their blossoming and germination.

INTEREST IN LAMONA BREED

White-Egg-Laying General Purpose Fowl Developed by Department of Agriculture.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The Lamona, the new white-egg-laying general-purpose fowl originated and being developed by the United States Department of Agriculture, made its first public appearance at the Madison Square Garden poultry show, held in New York from January 25 to 30, where 15 of the birds were shown in the open classes. In addition to the Lamonas, and other government-bred fowls of standard breeds, the department put on an extensive exhibit consisting of models of poultry houses, a display of feathers of the standard breeds, appliances such as feed hoppers, brood coops, and a fattening battery. A series of panels, made up of photographs, charts, and placards, showed the more important standard breeds, the feeding of hens for egg production, the preparation of birds for exhibition, the advantages of early hatching, the improvement resulting from the use of a high quality sire, capons and caponizing, culling the farm flock, and the pedigree breeding of poultry.

A number of department representatives took part in the program of the show and gave information to the visitors concerning the educational exhibit. They reported an extraordinary interest on the part of the public and various poultry breeders in the Lamona breed, many persons desiring to obtain breeding birds. The department believes it necessary to perfect them still more as regards certain characteristics, and it is not likely that any will be for sale during the coming year.

GRADING EGGS IS ESSENTIAL

Ungraded, Unstandardized Product Is More or Less of an Uncertain Quantity.

When pullets begin laying, their eggs are not up to standard weight. Therefore, grading eggs is essential, not only from the producers' standpoint but from the buyers', for an ungraded, unstandardized egg is more or less of an uncertain quantity. The marketing of such a product is never advised since it puts an unnecessary handicap on the buyer who never knows what quality he will receive. The buyer in order to protect himself against loss must pay a correspondingly low price. Fresh eggs should be graded by size to meet the requirements of the market. The first grade of eggs ordinarily consists of clean, fresh, reasonably full, strong, sweet eggs with an average weight of 46 pounds net per standard 30 dozen case or over 24 ounces to the dozen. The second grade must weigh 44 pounds or more net, per 30 dozen case. The third grade must weigh 41 pounds or more net per 30 dozen case. They also make a grade of pullets' eggs which weigh 34 pounds or more net for 30 dozen or 16 ounces per dozen.

Apoplexy and egg-bound are almost always the result of excessive fatness among the hens.

The young chick drinks a great deal of water and plenty of it is necessary for its health and development.

The first food the chick should receive after being removed from the nest or incubator is clean, fresh water with the chill removed.

Don't feed any more mash at one time than the fowls will eat up perfectly clean. To allow more is not only wasteful but promotes unsanitary conditions.

Variety in rations is one of the most important things connected with good feeding. Sometimes even a faulty ration will give fair results because of the variety that enters into it.

Don't expect the fowls to find grit for themselves. No matter how much range they may have it is best to keep grit, charcoal, oyster shells, etc., constantly before them.

Accumulated moisture in the poultry house and an overcrowded condition are directly responsible for the colds and roup which weaken the vitality of the birds, causing them to easily succumb to other diseases.

CHANGE ABOVE ALL.

Frankly, I do not greatly care Always to be my best; I like sometimes to take the air, Sometimes to take a rest.

Sometimes, austere philosopher, I seek what thought reveals: At other times I much prefer Silk stockings and high heels.

And sometimes Beauty moves me much, And sometimes Pleasure more; Great art seems sometimes double Dutch, And Amabel a bore.

Is God's clock always just at noon? Is heaven always fair?

May angels not adore the moon Is there no tea-time there?

Why, then, how blest are we on earth, Who know an ampler range, With blondes and browns and grief and mirth.

And, above all things, Change. —Olive Bell in the New Statesman.

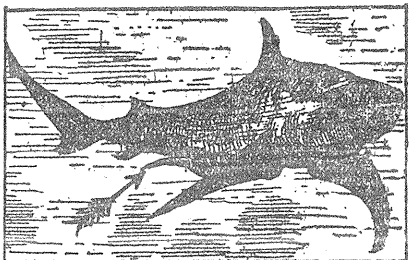

PILOT FISH GETS FREE RIDE

Habit Which Sometimes Causes Trouble to Its Brother Denizens of the Ocean.

Sailors have a saying that where the shark is the pilot fish will be found. The accompanying illustration shows a pilot fish, or shark-sucker, as it is often called, attached to the side of a snub-nosed shark. The sucker fish is so small that it appears to be an additional fin on the side of the deep-sea monster. It attaches itself to the surface of other fish by means of a sucking disk. The pilot fish, however, does no "piloting," though it certainly does suggest to the nautical mind a brisk little pilot boat bringing a big ship to port. Apparently it merely desires to have a comfortable resting place or at most to get a free ride, like the small boy "hanging behind."

The pilot fish, explains a writer in the Illustrated World, seems especially fond of attaching itself to sharks and turtles, but when these are not at hand it hangs to any convenient object.

This characteristic has led to the curious custom among some primitive tribes of employing a sucker fish as a live fish-hook—not bait—for catching other fish or turtle. A metal ring is placed around the tail of the sucker fish so that a line can be fastened to it. The fish is then thrown over and at once darts away to the nearest refuge, which is apt to be a large turtle that has been sighted by the fisherman. When the turtle is reached the sucker fish attaches its disk against the side of the animal, which is then drawn in by means of the line. As soon as the turtle or shark is drawn above the waterline, the sucker fish drops back into the water and seeks another host.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Austria Scraps Its Tracks.

The wireless trolley car has not yet arrived, but the trackless trolley car is here, and in successful operation. It is the invention of a Viennese, Ludwig Stoll, and no less than six different lines are operating in the cities of what was formerly Austria-Hungary, says the Christian Science Monitor.

A flexible cable instead of a rigid pole conducts the current to the car and the vehicle can thus move as far as sixty-four feet to one side of the wire itself, and accommodate itself to any condition of traffic. The current is returned through a negative wire which runs beside the positive wire, and is similarly connected with the car. Well built, smooth roads are required; given these, the running of the cars is said to be very successful.

Insured His Wedding Day.

An insurance policy for $500 against unfavorable weather on his wedding day was issued to a Boston man by a Hartford (Conn.) insurance company recently.

The bridegroom had declared he wished to avoid extra expense should rain alter the carrying out of arrangements.

The company found the risk a good one, as the sun shone on the bridal couple and the stars twinkled as they left on their honeymoon.

Source of Pumice.

The highest grade pumice comes from the volcanic island of Lipari off the north coast of Sicily. Lipari, with a population of 10,000 inhabitants, is said to be one of the most prosperous communities in Italy, as 90 per cent of the pumice mines belong to the municipality and the city collects an export duty in normal times of not less than 300,000 lire annually.

ONTONAGON PLAYS 'PECK'S BAD BOY'

Refuses to Take State's Advice; Contracts Typhoid; Gets in Trouble.

That it's worse for town officials to procrastinate on health matters than for average individuals is being proved in the typhoid fever epidemic now raging in Ontonagon, according to advice from the state department of health.

As long ago as September, 1919, a state sanitary engineer, after surveying conditions at Ontonagon, reported that all sewage from the city is emptied into the river and "without question contaminates the water supply." At that time the matter was discussed with the village president and commissioner. They were advised to arrange immediately "to install a chlorinating apparatus to care for the dangerous conditions existing, and to employ a competent engineer to investigate the water supply problem with a view toward a different location of the intake."

Nothing was done about the matter. Again in August, 1920, the department endeavored to convince Ontonagon that the city should change or improve the supply of water being furnished the citizens. Still no action was taken.

During February of the present year typhoid fever began to attack residents of Ontonagon, rich and poor, men and women, young and old. By June 2 a total of 66 cases of typhoid had been reported. Following the law of averages six deaths may be expected to occur among this number of cases. Preventable sickness, doctors' bills, nursing expenses, loss of time from work, and loss of life represent an economic loss to the village of $56,000—figuring sickness and loss of life according to recognized standards.

Owing to the failure of local government to function in Ontonagon it has been necessary for the state to delegate the deputy-commissioner of health, a medical representative, a sanitary engineer and a detachment of the state police to take over the activities of the village health department.

RURAL COURSES WILL FEATURE M. A. C. TERM

Special work for school principals and superintendents who are preparing for positions at the head of Michigan consolidated schools will feature the summer school curriculum at the Michigan Agricultural College this year. Other courses for rural teachers and for instructors of agricultural and home economics subjects will also be given.

"Demand for men to fill positions at the head of Michigan's new consolidated schools is so heavy that the state department of public instruction has requested special 'normal' work to give fundamental instruction in agriculture," says Professor Ryder. "This course will run for ten weeks in each of two summers and will be open to principals and superintendents of schools."

Have Wrong Viewpoint.

Men of the world hold that it is impossible to do a benevolent action, except from an interested motive; for the sake of admiration, if for no grosser and more tangible gain. Doubtless they are also convinced, that, when the sun is showering light from the sky, he is only standing there to be stared at.—Anon.

Burns and Scalds.

In the treatment of superficial burns or scalds a serviceable remedy for relieving the pain will be found in powdered bicarbonate of sodium. Moisten it slightly with water and spread thickly over the burn.
