With the State Legislature

time will be more careful of the so-called "molety clause" on which the 1913 legislators tripped up. But thus far no bill has been prepared to show how the matter may be handled and report about the Capitol is that it may be March 1 before one does appear, with every prospect of weeks of argument over it afterwards.

Also slow in making their appearance are the bills which everyone is looking for and which will be known as "administration measures" because they will aim to carry out the recommendations of the governor. Just how many such bills will come in also is uncertain, though it is probable that all the main points covered by Gov. Groesbeck in his message to the legislature on its opening will be covered by suggested measures.

Considerable discussion has been started over proposed alterations in the law creating the state administrative board. The governor is understood to favor the board being given latitude to handle appropriations after they are made by the legislature and some argue that such a move would be delegating legislative authority to the executive branch. Rep. George M. Long, of Pompeii, one of the five Democratic members of the house, has introduced a bill to amend the state administrative board act by removing the clause giving the governor veto power over acts of the board. This is a follow-up to the Democratic campaign charge that the act gives a governor autocratic power in the handling of state affairs.

Supporters of the administrative board assert that this feature is one of the best things about the act, as it centers responsibility on the governor of the state. The Long bill may go no further than the state affairs committee, but it is provoking some discussion.

Capital punishment for murder in Michigan, over which much oratory ensued two years ago, again is to be brought to the attention of the legislature this year, both in the house and the senate, but it has developed in connection with discussion of the prospects of such bills that they will be opposed by Gov. Groesbeck, Lieut. Gov. Read and Speaker Welsh. It is hard to see much progress for them with the presiding officer in each house against them and a probable veto awaiting any such bill if it did chance to get by senate and house.

With so much still to come it probably is a good thing for the lawmakers themselves that they are showing speed in getting the regular appropriation bills into committee where they can be ground through while daily sessions find time to debate the new proposals. It still is too early to attempt any forecast as to what this year's legislators will do with any especial variety of legislation.

A warning to legislators not to become too enthusiastic over putting a tax on gasoline, but to ponder on possible results of such a move, has been sounded to the tax committees of both houses in a letter from Congressman Vincent M. Brennan, of Detroit, a former state senator. Congressman Brennan told the state lawmakers that the Michigan delegation has had its troubles in Washington keeping congress from levying new taxes on the automobile industry and that if Michigan itself opens up the avenue of gasoline taxation it may mean further taxes from federal sources.

The University of Michigan committees and the Jackson prison committees have before them projects for huge building enterprises at both institutions. Numerous other building plans, smaller in each case, but involving millions in the aggregate, are before other committees. Trying to accord these with their avowed intention of lowering the state tax rate is a tough job for the legislators, who are harking back to Gov. Groesbeck's remark in his biennial message that the state needs a "breathing spell" in the matter of big building development.

Redistricting of the judicial circuits of the state is the object of a bill introduced by Senator Henry, of Battle Creek. He would change the present forty judicial circuits to ten circuits, with one to four judges in each circuit except Wayne, where there would be twelve judges. Senator Henry believes that this would divide up court work better, instead of having some judges unable to keep up with their dockets while others have but few cases to handle in a year.

The labor measure known as the "full crew" bill, which has caused hard battles in several legislatures, has been introduced by Senator Young, of Lansing, to the present session. Its prospects of passage are said to be much brighter than ever before. It would require railroads to have crews of six men on all trains of more than 50 cars and of five men on all trains of less than 50 cars.

One of the bills expected to have the backing of the governor and the administrative board, will aim to place a single state tax commissioner in charge of the present work of the three tax commissioners on the state board. The state securities commission also may be aimed at in a bill to place it under a single commissioner, or else in a bill to transfer its work to the utilities commission.

Nearly all the discussion to date of proposed laws has had to do with suggested new forms of specific taxation, a dozen or so plans being talked of with enthusiasm by their advocates. But bills to carry out these ideas still are to be introduced, in most cases. Also pending are numerous proposed "women's bills", "labor bills", "farm bills" and others that are popular with some one class or more.

Some very ambitious measures designed to make absolutely equal before the law both male and female citizens, and to give married women independent property rights not now possessed by them, are reported to be ready for introduction soon. Two or three already introduced have been referred to committees, but have had no consideration as yet.

Senator Bahorski, of Detroit, has introduced an anti-gambling bill drawn up by Prosecuting Attorney Voorhees, of Wayne county. It makes gambling in any form a felony, subject to $500 fines and six months imprisonment. The original aim of the bill is to suppress handbooks in Detroit that take racing bets all the year around.

Senator Condon, of Detroit, has put in a bill to amend the law governing automobile drivers' licenses so that these licenses, now revocable only by the secretary of state, may be revoked by judges and magistrates and permitting the courts also to impound cars of reckless drivers for from ten days to a year, according to the gravity of the offense.

An insurance department bill introduced by Senator Brower, of Jackson, aims to create a state rate-making bureau to govern fire insurance rates which now are made by a bureau established by the companies. Discrimination and high rates are charged to the present bureau by backers of the new bill.

The honor of presiding over the first committee of the whole session of the senate went to Senator James Henry, of Battle Creek, the nestor of the legislature. In the house the similar honor went to Rep. Thomas D. Meggison, of Antrim, speaker pro tem.

A suggested merger is that of placing the board of examiners for barbers under the state board of health. Some barbers are reported to favor such a move and to have licensed barbers posted on skin diseases, so that they may aid in fighting them.

One of the latest economy proposals advanced here is to merge the Employment Institution for the Blind, at Saginaw, with the School for the Blind, at Lansing. The latter has about 150 inmates and the former about 75.

Mrs. R. H. Davis, of Portland, Ore., is now in Louisiana where a class of 1,000 women are to be initiated into the Klu Klux Klan Auxiliary. The women claim to have branches in 33 states.

Not Up to Them.

Simplicity Most Difficult.
It is far more difficult to be simple than to be complicated; far more difficult to sacrifice skill and cease exertion in the proper place than to expend both indiscriminately.—Ruskin.

"Let no vain hope deceive the mind No happier let us hope to find Tomorrow than today? Our golden dreams of yore were bright Like them the present shall delight Like them decay."

The funeral of the aged Mrs. Terry will be at the M. E. church today (29th) at one o'clock p. m. Remains buried in Novesta cemetery.

Miss May Bruce, teacher, is on the sick list. She had to give up teaching for time being.

A let up in the bean picking department at the elevator.

The jingle of ice tongs makes music in the burg. Two car loads from Caseville are being properly placed.

Emory Cones attended funeral of a kinsman, Frank Burke, at Sunshine church on Monday.

Little Boney was too much for large Roderick in the hunting excursions. Roderick is in poor health—a bad cough.

Frank Hegler has sold his mule team to Mr. Anthes of Cass City. Consideration, $235.00.

Mrs. Balch entertained guests from Caro Sunday.

It required labor on the "first day of the week" to keep the road open between Deford and Novesta cemetery.

Wm. Courliss receives word from Oklahoma that his brother-in-law is dangerously ill. At last hearing, he was some better.

As we close our correspondence, old Mrs. McArthur is very feeble.

A gang of men are rushing on the finishing work at milk station so it will be ready to receive the fluid on February's first day.

Mr. Shaw, who has been ill for some time, improves.

"Boney" Daugherty contemplates building an addition to his dwelling.

We learn Fred Hartwick was home from Detroit past week.

Little daughter of John McArthur suffers from a fall.

Amos Webster's car is in Detroit receiving extra finishing which Ame concluded was necessary.

There is a building in sight for our burg next spring.

Nearly everyone in town complains of distemper, but not seriously.

Mrs. Terry, mother of Fred Terry, who lives just north of town, died on the night of the 27th at home of her son. She has been an invalid for some time.

A dance Wednesday night. Fair turnout.

Mrs. Benjamin Gage is at Oxford.

Bro. Colling of Caro made us a friendly call Friday evening.

Don't get our moving mixed—Wm. Gage is located in the little house on the corner, Wm. Bartell is settled in the McCain house on Main St., and the Ben Gage house is used as storage for Ben Gage's household goods.

In last issue of Chronicle news from here would lead readers to think that remains of Mrs. Julia Valentine shipped here came from Michigan City, Ind. It's an error. Mrs. Valentine's home was Oxford, Mich., where she lived many years and where she died. We make the correction by the request of our sister correspondent, who is absent. In some way the mistake was made by sending news over the phone.

We are aware that youth and even middle aged will flay the aged when we call for a time limit, but from what we read and see the conclusion forces it upon us that autos should be constructed not to exceed 20 miles per hour in speed. Seventy-five per cent of accidents are due to fast driving. To cut down wild bird speed, the work must begin on build of car.

Deeds that should have been left undone and word that should have been left unsaid will come back to grieve us when we think them dead.

Old lady McCain of Oxford has been spending a few days here the past week.

William Bartell, head of the milk station, informs us that business will open up Thursday, Feb. 1. Bring on your milk.

Rent seems reasonable in our burg. Mrs. McCain receives $6.00 per month from Wm. Bartell for her residence on Main St.

Our sleighing is extra good at present. It has been favorable for wood hauling.

A number of our good people gathered on the afternoon of the 25th and sawed wood for Will and Sarah McCartney. The wood pole length had been brought forward by Thomas Davis, Mrs. McCartney's brother. We learn buzz saw was donated by Geo. Spencer.

Mr. Shaw, who lives across from the church, has been ailing for some time past. He is some better at this writing.

When the remains of Mrs. David Valentine arrived on the 23rd from Oxford a large number of our people were present to meet the funeral attendants from home of deceased.

William Bartell has labored incessantly for the opening up of the milk plant here, which seems now to be a success.

Mrs. Woolman, better known as Maud McArthur of Marysville, visits her mother who has poor health at present.

There will be a moving of the Gage's this week—Will Gage of Wilmot will move to Deford and have charge of the smithshop here, while Ben Gage will move to Oxford where he has secured a lucrative job.

NOKO.

The Decker choir held their weekly practice Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McKenney. Mrs. McKenney served the company with an oyster supper.

Mrs. Clayton Chard, who had her tonsils removed a week ago, is improving since the operation.

Mrs. D. McPherson and little grandson left Friday for Detroit. Mrs. Mable Simmonds, who has secured a good position there, has lately purchased a home which they intend to occupy.

Jos. Hobson has returned from Ontario where he purchased a farm lying near Brantford and left for his home in Saskatchewan Monday, Jan. 29, purposing to remove to the new home in Ontario when spring opens.

Misses Vera and Laverne Shaw, who are attending school in Marlette, spent Saturday and Sunday at home here.

The special services held in Shabbona were attended Sunday evening by a number of the neighbors from around here. The Decker choir and Shabbona choir sang together, and the Decker choir rendered the "Wayside Cross" which was appreciated by all present.

A re-election of teachers for the Sabbath school took place Sunday for the remainder of the year here in Noko church.

SHABBONA.

The late snows have made sleighing better.

The attendance at the revival services is good and souls are coming to Christ. Thank God for men who will preach the truth. If you have not been to the services yet, come.

DEBAUCHERY PREVENTABLE

SOMEONE has said that the mother of debauchery is not joy, but joylessness.

If that is true, then you have a reason for the debauchery that has soaked the world in blood and death.

There is no joy in sordid materialism.

There is no joy in extreme selfishness.

There is no joy in loose passion, greed, and gluttony.

There is no joy in materialism, murder, war, disaster.

The real joy that feeds the soul is the joy that comes from the spiritual things and from the spiritual conception of things, and, from participation in the spiritual things of life.

Therefore, if materialism has produced debauchery, if the joyless life has resulted in the drunken debauch to drown the monotony and to awaken the sleeping cords of happiness, then let the people understand that they can come away from that deadly monotony.

He who eats of the material food will hunger. He who eats of that Bread which cannot be provided by the world never hungers, and he is never cursed with a joyless moment or with a dull, monotonous hour.

He has happiness that cannot be purchased, and he has pleasure continuously.

The debauchery of life can be prevented by the spiritual power and food that come with the salvation furnished by Christ.

Plan Spring Seeding Early

Idaho Grown Alfalfa, Common and Grimm Minnesota Grown Timothy
Home and Wisconsin Grown Sweet Clover
Wisconsin Grown Alsylke and June Clover
Home Grown June Clover

We have given a good deal of thought and study to the subject of seeds and believe we have succeeded in getting for our customers High Quality Varieties. It has not been our aim to buy Seed on Price, but Quality at the lowest possible price. This has been possible by getting a carload, which we expect will arrive about Feb. 15th.

If you desire to take advantage of Quality Seeds we would advise you to place your orders early.

IDAHO GROWN COMMON ALFALFA
99 Per Cent and Better Purity.
92 Per Cent and Better Germination.
Idaho grown Alfalfa is well adapted to our locality because it is subject to severe climatic conditions in this district, in which frosts prevail nearly every month of the year. TRUE Idaho Grown Alfalfa Seed is hard to get and no doubt will go at a premium before the season is over.

12 to 15 pounds are required per acre.

BLACK FOOT IDAHO GRIMM ALFALFA
It's Certified.

This seed is put out by the Idaho Grimm Growers' Association, at Blackfoot, Idaho, in Sealed and Labeled Bags.

Adulteration or Mixtures Impossible

Threshers and cleaners of Grimm handle no other kind of Alfalfa seed. All Grimm seed is re-cleaned, scarified and shipped in Sealed and Labeled Bags from the Association Warehouses at Blackfoot which handles no other seed. It also is Hardy. You are not taking a chance when planting Idaho Certified Grimm. Beware of the seed that is "just as good."

"It costs more but you sow less"—6 to 10 pounds per acre.

Minnesota Timothy—99.75 Purity

We purchased what we deemed as the best Timothy Seed on the market today.

Our stock of Alsylke, Sweet Clover and June Clover is complete.

No better time than now to be looking after your needs in Seed Oats—Six Row Barley—Silage and Fodder Seed Corn.

"We believe that like begets like—whether in seeds, deeds or weeds. We will harvest what we sow."

Unicorn Dairy Ration

What It Is

1. A grain ration suitable for any kind or breed of dairy cow.
2. A high-protein feed. Always uniform. Can be used with home-grown grains.

Ingredients.
Cottonseed meal, linseed meal, corn gluten meal, corn gluten feed, corn oil meal, brewers grains, wheat bran, hominy meal and salt. That's all.

Crude Analysis
Protein 24 per cent
Fat average 4.5 to 6 per cent
Fiber 9 to 10 per cent
Carbohydrates 50 per cent

Made to Fit the Cow

Because we buy all of our ingredients we are free to select those that are best fitted for milk production and for your greatest profit.

Why It is Economical

Our customers say: "Unicorn will produce a can of milk or a pound of butter fat at less cost than any other feed."

Tested by Time

For more than 12 years, Unicorn has been fed steadily by the leading dairymen and breeders in this country.

Keeps Cows Healthy

A sick cow makes no profit. Unicorn is absolutely safe. No udder trouble. Guarantees health and normal calving for your cows.

"Best Always the Cheapest"

Cheap feeds do not make cheap feeding. Unicorn Dairy Ration, added to your own home grains and roughage, make the most profit.

A Profitable Investment

Money spent in buying Unicorn is an investment—one that will pay you splendid dividends. A ton of Unicorn is an asset, while a ton of cheap feed is a liability. Start today and invest your money in a feed that will enable your cows to do their best. Buy Unicorn.

Uniformly Profitable

Unicorn is fed to hundreds of purebred Holstein, Jersey, Ayreshire and Guernsey herds and in thousands of grade herds. The results secured in every herd prove conclusively that Unicorn-fed cows do actually produce more milk for the dollar than will any other ready ration.

Purity

We believe it is the highest-grade feed made in the United States today. Used and approved by a large number of Experiment Stations and Agricultural Colleges since 1908.

Records

Unicorn Dairy Ration is being fed in hundreds of herds where yearly and short-term records are being made. Write for list of purebred herds in your section of the state that are fed Unicorn. No feed on the market can rightfully claim so many large official records as Unicorn.

Can't Compete with Machinery

Labor is costly and often unreliable. Mixing feed by hand is expensive and never mistake-proof. Unicorn is always uniform and absolutely dependable in quality.

Lowers Production Cost

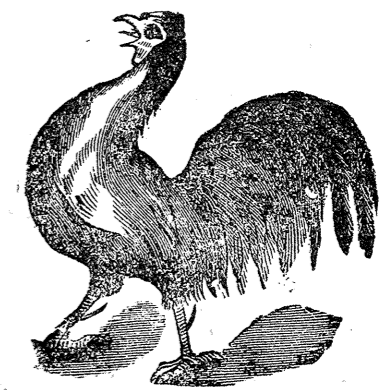

Unicorn prolongs the cow's lactation period, thus increasing the yearly milk yield and shortening the expensive period of non-production. Unicorn goes farther than any other feed.

Leads French Army In Germany

Gen. Degoutte is in immediate command of the French troops now in control of the Ruhr district of Germany. At certain points he has thrown his troops beyond the basin boundaries and invaded neutral territory.

Seek to Understand Principles. Knowledge of law is not necessary as understanding of fundamental principles on which law is based. One may know the law without appreciating why it is the law, hence perfunctorily obey it and thus not support it. "A little knowledge is a dangerous thing."

Sterility and Fruitfulness. While the mule and many other hybrids are sterile, there are some known exceptions. Hybrids of hares and rabbits have continued fruitful for generations. In the human species marriages between remote varieties of races tend to sterility, while crossings between allied races are fertile.

Poem by UNCLE JOHN. The richest trait of any soul, in dividends at trifling cost, is when the man that wins control is tender toward the man that lost. . . . I hate the beast that rends again the valiant, though the vanquished form.—The man who joys in giving pain,—who keeps the fires of malice warm.

HONEY PHILOSOPHY for 1923. Business is bad. Isn't that good. Father is busted. Great news. Willie has the measles. Smile, mother, smile. Try to get him well, of course, but smile. When clouds are dark, when the bank roll's gone, when wolfish landlords press for rent and there's not a cent to meet it, when all the world seems sad and weary smile as you never smiled before, for there's joy right in your lap. CARING FOR MEAT AT KILLING TIME.

Cutting and Preparing Meat at Killing Time.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Taking care of the meat on the farm at killing time is one of the odd jobs a farmer's wife has to get in somehow among the ordinary tasks of the day. The following letter received by the United States Department of Agriculture from the "wife of a dirt farmer," as she calls herself, gives some idea of what this work involves. This woman lives on a Kansas ranch of 7,000 acres, many miles from a railroad, but her home is as modern in every respect and more convenient than many homes which are only a few feet from a railroad. This home was built for a particular family and the plan fits the life of the family. The routine of housekeeping is as simple as it could be on a big ranch, and the furnishings are simple but most effective. The wife is actively interested in farm bureau and especially in the home activities.

"Have finished my meat canning. I corned 51 pounds and canned 75 quarts of meat and stock. We like the meat better when it is browned well in the oven before canning. After it is browned, I slice it and pack into jars, adding salt and stock as usual and process. When I have sliced off all the pieces that cut to advantage, I cut the rest off and put it through the food chopper and season it, pack into jars with some stock and process. It is very good that way and for a change I add pork, onions, etc., and make a meat loaf when I open the chopped meat.

"After all the meat is used, I wash out the pressure canner, put the bones and about three gallons of water in, fasten and process at 15 pounds for about 40 minutes, take the bones which are almost blanched out, and can the stock for soup. It is very rich and goes a long way in making soup.

"I can headcheese, sausage, liver sausage, etc., in the canner and it is such a relief not to have so much fresh meat that must be used up quickly.

"I had about 30 pounds of soap made from tallow, uncooked process, and while it is a little hard, it makes a splendid suds and cleans well and has no scent."

done they should be taken out and drained, and the core cavity is filled with jelly. The apples are served with "hard" sauce made of butter and sugar.

When a batch of jelly has for some reason failed to set as firmly as one would like, there are still many uses for it. A glassful of soft fruit jelly in a punch supplies both sweetening and fruit flavor. A few spoonfuls of soft tart jelly beaten into whipped cream gives a delicious flavor. Tarts filled with the jelly and baked are good for dessert. The jelly can be used as a sauce for blanc-mange, hot cakes or ice cream. It may be served with cream cheese or cottage cheese for lunch. With hot bread or in sandwiches the jelly is as useful as if it were firm, and for jelly roll or layer cake it is easier to spread than a stiff jelly. Mixed with coconut the jelly may be used to line a dessert mold, adding both to the flavor and appearance of the dish. The ingenious cook will think of many other ways of using her jellies to introduce variety into the menu.

POTATO SOUP QUICKLY MADE

Recipe Given for Dish That is Easily Cooked and Served Hot at School for Lunch.

A good soup that can be quickly made and served hot at school for lunch is recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture and made as follows:

- 1 quart milk 2 teaspoonfuls butter or other fat
1 cupful grated potato A few drops of salt
1 1/2 teaspoonfuls of onion juice

Add the potatoes to the milk. Bring to the boiling point, then add the fat, salt and onion juice. Serve with or without straining. This serves about six children with medium-sized portions, about a cupful each. Allow one and one-half cupfuls for large portions.

Save flour bags to put white clothes away in for the winter.

To make good tea never use water that has boiled a long time.

Spirits of nitre applied to a fever blister will check its development.

To remove chocolate or cocoa stains wash the part affected in cold water, then pour boiling water over.

Save the water, potatoes, rice or macaroni has been cooked in. It is as good as milk for making gravy.

Allow 15 minutes for the roasting of each pound of beef if liked rare or 20 minutes for a well-cooked roast.

A man's striped silk shirt worn out just below the collar band and just above the cuffs, can be cut into an attractive blouse.

Plant the lemon seeds in a flower pot. They will grow quickly, and while this forms a pleasing decoration for the kitchen window the leaves will be found useful for flavoring sauces, etc.

Buffalo Bill To Live Again; His Exploits Now on Screen. History Re-Enacted.

Do you know what those wonderful qualities were of Abraham Lincoln's that endeared him to millions of people?

Do you know the circumstances under which President Lincoln was assassinated?

Do you know whether or not John Wilkes Booth met the fate deserved by an assassin?

Would you like to have seen the presidential inauguration of Andrew Johnson?

These historical events are only a few of those recorded by the camera for the big Universal chapter play in "In the Days of Buffalo Bill" which comes to the Pastime theater on Feb. 6-7.

The superintendent of schools of San Diego, California, Henry C. Johnson, highly endorsed this serial as the best educational picture ever produced. Educators all over the country have expressed their opinion to the effect that if motion picture concerns would concentrate on pictures like "In the Days of Buffalo Bill," the screen would be the greatest educational medium in the world.

New York City and other school boards have requested its use, in parts, to supplement the teaching of American history.

The Universal Film Co., maker of the Buffalo Bill picture, is said to have included many stirring scenes from American history in the film—important events which took place during the period covered by the screen story. These include the signing of the Union Pacific Railroad Act by President Lincoln, the closing days of the Civil War, with the surrender of Lee at Appomattox, the assassination and death of Lincoln, the flight and death of Booth, the assassin, and the hectic events of President Johnson's administration, including his cabinet battles. All the scenes are said to be exactly according to life, with each character chosen and made-up with remarkable verisimilitude.

The portrayal of Lincoln is heralded as one of the most perfect of stage or screen. As the forceful head of his cabinet, as the sympathetic man comforting a war saddened mother, and as the dying martyr, the screen player caught Lincoln's celebrated moods with astounding realism.

Other historical characters are equally as well portrayed. The roles of Generals Grant and Lee are soul-stirring in their likeness, it is said. The scene at Appomattox is said to be exact, even to resemblance of the junior officers present at the epochal meeting.

A list of the historical characters shown in the Buffalo Bill picture reads like an American Hall of Fame. Here are some of them: Abraham Lincoln, U. S. Grant, Robert E. Lee, Andrew Johnson, General Grenville M. Dodge, General Hancock, Sitting Bull, Allan Pinkerton, Edward M. Stanton, William H. Seward, Gideon M. Wells, Frank Blair, John Wilkes Booth, Thomas C. Durant, Leland Stanford, Brigham Young, Chief Justice Chase, and Generals Sherman, Sheridan, Custer, and Admiral Farragut.

These men are shown, for the most part, enacting the events which made them famous. The historical events have been woven into the life of Buffalo Bill adroitly and without deviation from the truth, and the whole woven into a story of adventure and heart interest that entertains while it instructs.

Railroad Pioneering.

Running through the entire picture, like ribbons of steel binding it together, are the romantic and picturesque exploits of the builders of the first transcontinental railroad. In each chapter are shown the construction gangs pushing the Union Pacific Railroad across the plains, fighting disease, obstructions, bad weather and Indians. The meeting of the two railroads at Promontory Point, Utah, the Union Pacific from Omaha, and the Central Pacific from San Francisco, is shown with its elaborate ceremony, including the driving of the famous "golden spike" which linked the continent from coast to coast.

It is in the exact duplication of frontier life during and shortly after the Civil War, that this picture will appeal to the average boy. The pony express riders dash through reel after reel, the Overland Stage rumbles in and out among the chapters of the story now careening around dangerous mountain curves, and now pursued by shooting, shouting red-skins.

Starting at once and continuing for 8 weeks, several Cass City merchants will give hundreds of Theater tickets with cash purchases.

One ticket and 5 cents will admit 1 person (child or adult) to Pastime theater any Tuesday or Wednesday night beginning Tuesday, Feb. 6 and ending Wednesday, Mar. 28.—Adv.
