Loren Hewitt Visits Hawaii in a Trip Around the World

The demand for the Chautauqua industrial art desk manufactured at Valparaiso, Ind., is growing in all parts of the world and the importance of the manufacturers maintaining direct contact with the methods of sale, it is contemplated by the manufacturers to provide a plan whereby experienced persons, qualified to adapt themselves to the peculiar requirements of such work, will be afforded the opportunity of making a trip around the world. These trips around the world, by reason of the time that would be required in the different places to be visited, would require from three to five years. Where both husband and wife have had successful experience in the sale of the desk, and are appealed to by such an adventure, the opportunity which the business will thus afford is a most unusual one.

Loren Hewitt, a Greenleaf township young man, and his wife are the first of the company's representatives to have the opportunity of this unusual experience. Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt sailed from Seattle about two months ago for Hawaii, making the first lap of an inviting trip around the world.

Mr. Hewitt, in a letter to James Hewitt, his father, and family of Greenleaf township, written from Honolulu, under date of Feb. 7, as follows:

We are finally settled in Honolulu in a lovely little cottage at the foot of the mountains. Most people want to get on the seashore but we got considerable of the sea in our system on the way over and I would rather feel that I am well planted on good old mother earth for a while, than to be where it is so easy to feed the fishes. To tell the truth I am quite sure they are all fed up anyway. We had the roughest trip in the experience of the wireless operator. Sometimes we had to run out of our course in order to keep head on with the wind or there was danger of the waves getting the best of us.

It is so nice and summery here that it seems to me it must be the same all over. I have been for a long walk this morning in my shirt sleeves and a straw hat. I am sitting beside the door; it is wide open and the windows are all up. At the same time it is not too hot at any time of the day. One seldom needs to get a sweat up unless they do some tall hustling, by the way a thing that seems to be out of style with those who have lived here very long. Every one seems to be contented to take each little thing as it comes without fuss or fury. If anyone is seen hurrying along the street here he is pointed out as coming from Seattle, Wash. As the latter is noted for its speed.

All the seven colors of the rainbow are represented in the leaves and flowers that are seen everywhere and quite often the leaves excel the flowers in beauty. But beauty is so common here that one is always finding something more wonderful than the last. Then too, there seems to be an element of good common sense worked into the scheme of things. For instance the shade trees that adorn our lawn include cocoanuts, with bushels of nice big nuts on them. Orange trees loaded with oranges. Lemon trees

NEW HIDING PLACE FOR MASH FOUND

EMIL DE PORTER SECRETES TWO BARRELS IN MANURE PILE;
OFFICERS ARREST FOUR ON LIQUOR LAW VIOLATION
CHARGE.

Emil De Porter, a Belgian residing 3 miles north and 3 miles west of Akron, killed a pig and gave a little party to his friends Saturday evening. When Deputy Sheriffs Austin and Putnam arrived on the scene at six o'clock, six Belgian friends were enjoying Emil's hospitality. The officers searched the premises and located seven quarts of "white mule," but were rather surprised at first in not finding any mash.

On the way to visit the barn, one officer thought Emil seemed quite anxious to keep horses away from the manure pile and De Porter's anxiety led to an investigation of the stable refuse. One spot in the pile appeared somewhat different from the frozen portion of the heap and a pitchfork soon uncovered two barrels containing about 35 gallons of mash. Whether these unsanitary quarters were used to aid in fermentation or to avoid discovery of the mash officers were not told, but it may be that the quarters were chosen to serve the double purpose. At any rate, the barrels bore no evidence that any particular care had been taken in the burial to avoid contamination.

Officers found a complete still loaded to run off a batch of liquor Sunday at the home of Louis Temelkoff, 3 miles east and 1 1/2 miles south of Caro. Five quarts of whiskey and a barrel of mash were secured as evidence. On Monday, Sheriff Colling and Deputy Putnam arrested Joe Belecke, 5 miles east and 4 miles south of Caro, on a charge of prohibition law violation. A complete still but no liquor were found here. John Belecke, a brother of Joe Belecke and residing in the same neighborhood, was also arrested on the same charge. Three quarts of liquor were found at his place.

De Porter, Temelkoff and the Belecke brothers waived examination and were bound over to the circuit court for trial. Until bail is secured, they will be "guests" of Sheriff Colling.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The girls of the eighth grade enjoyed a pot luck supper at the T. L. Tibbals home Friday evening in honor of their classmate, Ella Taylor, who is leaving town soon. The girls enjoyed greatly their last good time with Ella and showed their kind regards for her by presenting her with a fountain pen.

Master Laurence Tibbals had the pleasure of celebrating his sixth birthday Saturday. To add to his good time, the two primary classes of the Presbyterian Sunday school were invited to a party in his honor. Mrs. H. D. Schiedel and Mrs. W. N. Straube were also present, being teachers of the classes.

A peculiar coincidence took place this week. It was discovered by the English literature students at the high school that the next author in the text book was the author of "The Little Minister" which was presented at the Pastime Theater Tuesday and Wednesday evenings this week. In consequence each member of the class was found at the theater either on Tuesday or on Wednesday evening.

While driving east on West Main St. Saturday morning in his Hudson car, Earl Heller had the unusual experience of losing a hind wheel of his automobile and seeing it run on ahead of him. The wheel ran down into the ditch at the side of the road until it came near the Ford Garage when it left the depression and ran into the west front window of the garage, breaking a large plate glass window.

The matter of appropriating funds for the purpose of testing cattle for tuberculosis in Tuscola county was postponed from the last session of the board of supervisors until the coming June meeting. This was done, it is said, to enable supervisors to better acquaint themselves with the wishes of their constituency regarding this matter. The proposition will be presented at the annual township meeting of Elkland township at the spring election and local voters may instruct their supervisor as to their desire in this matter at that time.

Miss Joanna McRae of Cass City and Colin McRae of Ann Arbor were in Detroit Thursday to attend the wedding of their brother, John A. McRae, who was married Thursday evening at eight o'clock to Miss Frances K. Goewey of Detroit. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Irwin Bradford, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Brourger, in the presence of a small company of relatives and friends. Mr. McRae held the position of first mate on the freighter, Frances E. House, last season and will probably sail the Great Lakes this season in the same position. He has recently been awarded captain's papers. Mr. and Mrs. McRae expect to make their home in Detroit.

TUSCOLA FARMERS HEAR DR. MUMFORD

M. A. C. EXTENSION LECTURER
SAYS FARMERS ARE STRONG-
ER TODAY THAN EVER THRU
CO-OPERATION.

Dr. Eben Mumford, extension lecturer of the Michigan Agricultural College, spoke at the union meeting of seven organized farmers' clubs of Tuscola county and Gleaner and Grange organizations at the county seat last Thursday.

Dr. Mumford told of the place the farmer holds in the community, and the world. He brought out the fact that 85 per cent of farmers are home owners while only 13 per cent own their homes in the city.

He praised the boys' and girls' clubs declaring that they will teach the youths from 14 to 20 ownership, salesmanship, and organization and enable them to better manage the big job of the future, to feed more people on the land which has been worked 75 years. Boys, he said, are producing pure bred live stock and mingling with experienced men on the subject of better stock.

He said that agriculture employs itself and that the farmer is far better off. That the farmer is stronger today than ever by co-operation is true but only through the love of the pioneer and the fine things of life can he hope to keep our young blood on the farms.

Dr. Mumford stated that the farmers clubs, one of the oldest of club organizations which meets in homes of the farmer, should have more quettes and less solos. The quettes represented to him more than the solos, the grouping together being better co-operation.

A business meeting was held in the forenoon and dinner served at noon to 207. Albert Ruggles of Kingston, president of the union of clubs presided. Scott Campbell of Caro, gave a humorous reading. Mrs. Wm. Murday gave a musical reading. Mrs. R. L. Robinson gave an excellent paper on "Children in the Home" putting stress on home training in its various phases and conditions. A drill by 8 girls, in colonial costume was presented.

Mrs. A. J. Knapp, of Cass City, representing the Novesta Farmers club and a member of the Federation of Women's clubs, being chairman of the east central district, talked along lines of cooperation in home, church and community, urging the citizens to study legislation and consider our responsibilities of the ballot.

DISCARDED COW IS FOUND TO BE WINNER

"Old Bow" Proves Worth When Checked by Cow Test Association Figures.

From a position of disfavor when she was offered for sale at a fifty dollar price, to rank as one of the high producers of a prosperous herd, is the striking change effected by "Bow," a pure bred Jersey cow owned by Don B. Keeler of Jackson county.

Bow had been a failure in past years as a producer. Her owner couldn't sell her for fifty dollars, and regarded her as an all around losing proposition. Then came the Parma, Jackson County, cow testing association, and with it Bow suddenly developed into a two hundred dollar animal with a high production record. Better feeding and a careful check of records found Bow returning net profit of $128.71 in nine months.

"Bow is ten years old," says A. C. Baltzer, M. A. C. extension specialist who is working with cow test associations in the state. In the past nine months she has produced 10,453 lbs. of milk and 471 lbs. of butterfat at an average price of $.4287 per pound, or $209.16. She has eaten in the nine months 2995 lbs. of grain, costing $53.76, plus $19.49 for roughage, making $73.25, leaving a net profit from butterfat sales of $128.71.

"Bow's" ninth month production record is 1008 lbs. milk and 43.3 lbs. butterfat. Probably her yearly record will be about 12,800 lbs. of milk and 580 lbs. of butterfat."

THUMB PRODUCES THIRD OF STATE BEANS

HURON LEADS COUNTIES IN MICHIGAN WITH 484,950 BUS;
GRATIOT SECOND AND TUSCO-LA THIRD.

The Thumb district of Michigan maintained its reputation of being the leading bean producing area of the state in 1922, according to the state crop summary prepared by Verne H. Church, state statistician. Huron county led with a production of 484,950 bushels. Gratiot county, in central Michigan, was the runner-up with a total production of 421,629 bushels, while Tuscola county, another Thumb province, came in third with 365,475 bushels.

The highest yield per acre was obtained in Bay and Gratiot counties, where the average for each county was 13 bushels. The lowest yields were in Arenac and St. Joseph counties, each having a record of six bushels per acre. Most of the counties obtained around 10 bushels per acre.

The other 22 high counties in their order were: Fourth, Saginaw, 338,140; Sanilac, 307,950; Shiawassee, 221,520; Clinton, 217,569; Genesee, 198,429; Isabella, 195,195; Midland, 191,050; Bay, 169,767; Eaton, 163,273; Lapeer, 128,380; Ingham, 119,757; Montcalm, 117,320; Ionia, 112,145; Oceana, 98,784; Kent, 91,460; Livingston, 76,672; Newaygo, 73,728; St. Clair, 67,520; Jackson, 63,280; Gladwin, 45,999; Arenac, 41,034; and Mecosta, 34,952.

The so-called "Thumb" district produced 1,707,316 bushels, or nearly one-third of the state's entire crop. Central Michigan produced one-fourth of the crop.

OIL COMPANY FORMED IN TUSCOLA COUNTY

Several Thousand Acres Have Already Been Leased in County; Test
Wells Will Be Sunk.

Considerable interest and speculation is rife over the possibility of oil and gas production in this section of the Thumb; so much so that the Caro Oil Company has been formed and has already acquired leases covering several thousands of acres in Tuscola county, and anticipates soon to sink one or more test wells in the county.

Subscriptions are also being made to the Tuscola Community Oil Company, a corporation proposed to be formed under the laws of the state of Michigan, also for the purpose of testing for oil and gas. Trustees of the latter company are L. R. Stewart, manager of the Caro plant of the Michigan Sugar company; David Taylor, prosperous farmer near Caro; and J. W. Quinn, Caro attorney. Voluntary subscriptions running well into the thousands have already been made and when $25,000 have been subscribed test boring will be vigorously pushed.

All this interest is the result of a geological survey made throughout this county by expert mining engineers, who are most favorably impressed with indicative earth formations and numerous indications generally favorable to oil production in merchantable quantities.

Indians still living in this section and older residents have for years insisted that oil may be found in certain sections and geologists have in various instances checked up on the "hunch" of the old timers with affirmative indications.

Readers of sacred history are aware that the Hebrews of old were a chosen and peculiar people. Well, the peculiar part we can spread on our folks and I will tell you for why—Our girls had a bake with goodies of all sorts for sale on the 3rd and found a people very peculiar in taste. Some wanted the pastry as sweet as honey drip from the honey comb—others loved a pie without sugar. Who dare say that is not peculiar? But our gentler sex have wisdom as well as knowledge and have gathered from words let fall till they knew the flavor that relished the roof of every mouth in our eccentric populus to a digit. NATIONAL SILK WEEK

This week has been set aside by all retail stores as well as wholesale silk houses as Silk Week. It may be of interest to those who do not already know the origin of silk. Leave it to a woman!

That's just what His Royal Highness Hsiang Fi, did when, turning to his faithful little spouse, Lei-Tsu Hsi-Ling-Shi, he said, "Si," (We know he called her Si for short) "You do it." And Si did it.

Fi was too busy, of course, inventing numbers, music, and looms, to bother about worms. So the little slant-eyed Queen, to please her royal master, diligently set to work to find out all about those pesky, little, crawling caterpillars, which were eating up all the leaves on the lovely white mulberry trees in the far off land of China, some four thousand years ago. And behold!—with true feminine inquisitiveness, she unlocked a great secret which Nature had been guarding since time began—and she gave to the world—silk.

Not contented with her discovery about the metamorphosis of the moth, she set forth to utilize the beautiful silken threads which floated in the air as she pulled off their tiny strands from queer little balls. After many days of experiment she found a crude method of gathering—reeling the silk. And so runs the legend. At least, we know that Hsiang Fi showed much wisdom in consulting with his spouse and that Si did her job well. Down through the ages for thousands of years, her spirit guarded the secret of silk until the sixth century of our era, when the white race wrested from her children the knowledge of how to grow and weave the silken strands.

As the making of silks has passed through its many stages of artistic evolution—today we have the accumulated beauty of the colors of all ages, which will be proven to you if you will come to this store this week and see the beautiful materials in the various shades and weaves. Our salesladies will be pleased to show you the new materials, whether you are ready to make your purchase or not, for the materials are so entirely different from what they have been that we cannot help but urge you to see these wonderful materials while they are still in the store.

Another very important feature in our yard goods department is the great variety of trimmings we have to choose from. These trimmings are all imported goods, so you can rest assured that it is all positively the newest on the market.

The Newest in Ladies' and Little Misses' Sweaters

Any mother who is contemplating making one or buying it for her young lady, should see this wonderful line before doing so. Not only are they made up attractively, but the price is so reasonable that you cannot resist buying.

Michigan Happenings

Tear gas bombs were pressed into service by sheriff's officers last week to subdue two maniacs, who ran amuck at the Mt. Morris hospital, six miles north of Flint. The maniacs wrecked the interior of the ward, and tore a large iron bar from a window, terrorizing hospital attaches and a score of patients. When it became apparent hospital authorities could not cope with the situation, a call for help was sent to the sheriff's office. When the officers arrived they found Kenneth Dennis, World War veteran, standing off hospital attendants.

A 100-acre tract located in Royal Oak township, Oakland County, which the people decided to accept for the establishment of a zoological park at election of last fall, was formally deeded to the City of Detroit, last week, by the Detroit Zoological Society. The society of which Edwin Denby, Secretary of the Navy, is president, approved the step, upon condition that the City will expend annually for the period of five years a sum not less than $190,000 for the maintenance and improvement of the premises as a zoological park.

Jerome Daniels and his wife were killed instantly and Frank Bates injured, when the automobile in which they were riding to Battle Creek, was hit and wrecked at Death crossing, in the village of Galesburg last week. Witnesses said the driver of the machine speeded up as he neared the crossing, evidently trying to beat the passenger train over the crossing. The tragedy brought the total death list at the crossing up to 12 in about 17 months. More than half the country's fatal automobile mishaps have occurred there.

The Crosby Transportation Co. will start the operation of a new boat line between Detroit and Milwaukee in the next few weeks, it is announced by Edward C. Farmer, vice-president of the company. Detroit automobile manufacturers have urged the establishing of the new line because of the present freight congestion.

The constitutional amendment, authorizing the establishment of ports and port districts in the state was passed by the senate last week. This measure, introduced by Representative Vincent Dacey, in the house, now is ready for the governor's approval. The county road commission at Monroe last week awarded the contract for the construction of the Cone road, four and one-half miles long, for $90,526.60. The road is to be constructed of two-course macadam with bituminous treatment, 14 feet wide. It will be finished by November 1. The proposed good road starts at Cease's Corners, runs westerly through the hamlet of Cone and ends at the county line.

The Cadillac Motor Car Co. through its president, H. H. Rice, presented the City of Detroit, last week, a memorial tablet, commemorating the memory of Laumet de la Mothe Cadillac, on the 265th anniversary of Cadillac's birth. The tablet was placed on the building on the site of old Fort Pontchartrain. Acting Mayor John C. Lodge accepted the tablet for the City.

The Wayne county bonding bill to enable the issuance of $1,900,000 in bonds, ratified last fall by the voters, has been adopted by the house 69 to 19. The bill will remove technical obstacles in the present bonding laws and clear the way for the issuance of $900,000 bonds for the Eloise hospital, and $1,000,000 for the home for the feeble-minded.

Walter T. Hubbard, of Saginaw, entered state prison at Jackson last week to remain the balance of his natural life, without the least trace of emotion. He was sentenced to prison for life for the murder of his 11-year-old daughter.

Six Grand Rapids men recently have received commissions in the United States army reserve corps.

Sabbath School at 12 m. Our school has shown a steady increase in every department of its work during the past month, yet there is room for great improvement. Let us rally to the side of our superintendent, let each teacher see that he is "faithfully doing his bit," and then a bit more. Everyone is enthusiastic over the "band." It was a very pleasing feature and we hope it will continue. C. E. hour at 6:30. Leader, Miss Vera Flint. All young people are invited to attend.

Evening service at 7:30. Singing by young people's chorus. Preaching, "The Greatest Question in the World."

The pastors have planned for Pre-Easter union services beginning Sunday evening, Mar. 25, to Good Friday evening. It is to be hoped that the entire Christian forces of our city will rally to this occasion and that out of these meetings there may come a deeper spiritual life.

Paul felt necessity laid upon him to preach, but even with that sense of compulsion, he failed to convince some that he could do it. They found his presence weak, and with all his greatness Paul chafed somewhat under their criticism. Yet how wonderfully effective his preaching proved. Are you meeting your pastor and preacher in the spirit of Paul's critics or in that of Paul's supporters.

Come on, Christians of Cass City, let's make these Pre-Easter union services count for God and the community.

Yours for service,
Wm. W. Edwards, Pastor.

With the State Legislature

(By Special Correspondent)

LANSING, MICH.

The prospective battle over road legislation and taxation to cover road building and maintenance, the latter including gasoline tax proposals and increased motor vehicle license proposals, grows in importance the longer it is delayed. Advocates of a straight 2-cent tax on gasoline appear determined to fight for their cause without regard to any combination of a gas tax with a license tax, or any compromise bill whatever. In the house the Evans bill for a 2-cent gas tax has been reported out by itself and in the senate the highway appropriation bill has been reported out without any combination with special tax measures. The Evans bill supporters will stick for their bill without amendments which would bring it in line with the proposed compromise on a one-cent gasoline tax and an increased weight tax on motor cars. Likewise the advocates of the compromise plan will endeavor either to shelve the Evans measure or make it over to their liking. Either way the whole matter now is ready for debate on the open floor. In view of the appropriation being sought for all road work for the next two years, what is needed by the state over and above present motor license receipts to pay for the whole road program, is about five and a half million dollars each of the next two years. The 2-cent gas tax sponsors say their tax will net the state six millions a year and the compromise bill backers figure out the same sum their way.

Whether or not there will be a "test of strength" in the legislative halls over some measure, the result of which test will settle the extent of Gov. Groesbeck's influence with the lawmakers of the 1923 session, there is about due some real decision as to how far the governor's plans are to be followed in the making of new laws. Thus far the governor has avoided any steps that might bring on a clash over unsettled matters that are up for decision, but his advice and counsel have been sought by many senators and representatives in proposed compromises on gasoline taxes, road building plans and other big matters. Announcement that the compromise plan on automobile taxes by which there would be a one cent tax on gasoline, along with increased motor vehicle license fees, had finally been agreed to by the governor caused some mutterings of discontent among those unalterably opposed to a gasoline tax. Some of them may attempt later in the house and senate to obtain a test vote by which the governor's strength in the two houses will be shown. General opinion now is that the governor has nothing to fear from such a test. The compromise on the gasoline tax by which it is dropped to one cent a gallon and combined with a weight tax for motor vehicles was caused by the yielding of those working for a two cent straight gas tax to the apparent weight of opposition to their plan. The governor has stated his belief that the compromise plan, if adopted, will equalize the burden of constructing and maintaining the highways on all classes of users, according to the wear and tear of their cars on the roads.

The house has sent to third reading the Dykstra bill to permit the issuance of teachers' certificates for 2-year periods to graduates of junior colleges, so that they may teach in schools which now are suffering from a lack of teachers. Attempt to amend this bill so as to confine such teachers to the cities in which they are graduated was defeated in the house committee of the whole, it being held that such amendment would prevent relief from reaching rural districts which need it the most.

With the coming of March the legislature is down to its real grind and the daily calendars of both house and senate are beginning to take on the size and appearance of the rush period in consideration of proposed laws. Committees are reporting out rapidly the bills they have had in their possession for weeks, sometimes as many as twenty a day in the house and a dozen or more in the senate going on the general orders for floor debate.

The competency of men in charge of reforestation work in the state, under the department of conservation was attacked at a meeting of the legislative conservation committees and the state conservation commission. Senator Pearson declared that the forest work was not being handled on practical lines and insisted that it must be. The department's appropriation bill, introduced shortly after asks a total of $1,322,700 for the next two years.

The legislature has been asked by the Michigan Real Estate association following a session in this city, to enact a law prescribing definite tax limits. No lines have been devised whereby the tax limit could be applied to state and local taxation, but the idea was to get the legislature to give thought along the line of obtaining some means of setting a dead line beyond which taxes cannot go.

Systematizing of the state's highway program and a definite fixing of responsibility for it, is to be attempted in this legislature. It now looks as though the general trend of legislation on highway building will include the state assuming responsibility for constructing and maintaining the trunk line roads; the state will be relieved of the payment of road awards; special highway construction orders will be eliminated; future large road projects will be subject to the approval of the state highway commissioner, with his action subject to review by the governor. It is argued that the suspension of state rewards will offset increased maintenance costs. Trunk lines will be defined explicitly. Objections to present Covert act road projects will be overcome under this plan, it is believed by its advocates. All of those phases of the general highway situation are to be worked out in the senate and house committees before the final plans are placed before the two houses.

One measure over which a stormy debate was anticipated if it came up in either house appears to be doomed to committee death. It is the moving picture censorship bill. The state affairs committee of the two houses held a joint public hearing on this proposal and after the hearing was over it appeared that only a remote chance was left for the bill being reported out. The theory is that the whole public is the best censor of pictures that get past the national censorship and the police censorship of cities.

Financing of state institutions from funds raised through the general property tax, which it is estimated will not exceed $16,000,000 a year for the next two years, is being worked out by Gov. Groesbeck and the appropriation committee of both houses. This plan would leave about $3,000,000 each year for all the building programs of the state agricultural college, the University and other state institutions. The total building requests for the two year period is about a half million over $16,000,000.

The house ways and means committee has acted favorably on the Dacey bill to allow the state to continue the payment of soldier bonus money from the general funds of the state, the special $30,000,000 fund having been exhausted. It is estimated that additional bonus payments may reach a total of $2,000,000. Nearly 1,000 applications that have been approved by the bonus division are awaiting funds for payment to Michigan soldiers.

A legislative investigation of the highway department, covering the awarding of road building contracts to see if any state officials or their families have benefited thereby, and whether or not proper construction has been had, has been proposed in a house resolution put in by Rep. Wardell, of Detroit, and referred to the rules committee.

Rep. Ladd, of Old Mission, has introduced a bill in the house to give the state administrative board power to sell at its discretion lands used by any state institution. It would permit the sale of land outside Lansing purchased for the boys' industrial school. The administrative board now wants to keep the school inside the city.

Rep. Espie, of Clinton, has introduced a bill to give the public utilities commission power to regulate gas companies serving two or more municipalities under separate franchises. Another bill, put in by Rep. Look, of Lowell, would give the utilities commission power to grant rehearings and to amend or modify findings.

An abattoir bill requiring licensing of all slaughter houses and providing for sanitary conditions; and a vinegar bill licensing cider mills and vinegar factories and setting standards of cider vinegar made for commercial purposes, have been introduced by Senator Leland for the state agricultural department.

The usual legislative move since the establishment of the state constabulary to wipe out that body by repeal of the law creating it, has been made this session in a bill introduced by Rep. Braman, of Kent county. The constabulary, in an appropriation bill, is asking for $350,000 for each of the next two years.

Senator Leland has introduced a bill to amend the state seed law by providing for the seizure by the state of seeds suspected to be below standard or sold contrary to the provisions of the law. Under present conditions, it is said, it takes months to penalize violators of the seed laws.

Rep. Bryan, of Charlotte, has introduced a bill to amend the prohibition law so that empty containers of intoxicating liquor may be competent evidence of violation of the prohibition law, where it is not possible to get the actual evidence once contained in the container.

Insurance company protests against a state rating bureau fixing fire insurance rates, made at a public hearing, have not changed the attitude of Gov. Groesbeck, who is standing with the state insurance department in insisting that the state have the final say on rates.

Michigan Happenings

Andrew B. Dougherty, attorney-general, conferred with A. L. Sawyer, an attorney from Menominee, relative to suing the State of Wisconsin for several townships which it is alleged belongs to Michigan. The territorial division stated that Michigan should have all the land lying north of the main branch of the Montreal River. The surveyors selected the east branch. Michigan contends that the west branch is the larger of the two and the main branch and that the east branch often is dry in summer.

The body of Claude Kent, 30-year-old cripple, of Weidman, who was lost in a blizzard last week, was found Saturday in a huge snowdrift, about half a mile from the home of his aunt, Mrs. Shook, whom he intended to visit. The man's hand clutched a sumac bough, evidently broken from a nearby tree, with which he had attempted to clear his way. The snow, all around was very deep, reaching in all places to from six to eight feet. A party of more than 100 men had searched for the body.

Saginaw valley and its watershed, embracing in all, one-third of the state of Michigan, is facing one of the worst spring floods in its history, according to the government weather bureau in Saginaw. There is more snow on the uplands than in many years. For miles, the snow is three feet deep on the level and is drifted, in some places, six and eight feet. The ice in the Saginaw river and its many tributaries, is, in some places, 30 inches thick.

Impetus to the Methodist educational advance, which seeks $2,200,000 for Albion college and Methodist work at the tax supported institutions, was given last Sunday with the announcement by Dr. J. W. Hancher, chancellor of the Methodist board of education, that the general education board of New York city, popularly known as the "Rockefeller foundation," had made a conditional gift of $300,000.

Gov. Groesbeck is being called upon to approve or reject a city charter presented for approval or rejection which does not contain unanimous agreements in certain clauses on the part of the nine charter commissioners delegated by the voters of Marshall to draw it up. State statutes provide that the governor's signature to the completed instrument is necessary before its presentation to the voters for ratification.

Strict state examination of all persons in the grocery and meat business as to fitness to handle and sell foods is advocated by the Retail Grocers and General Merchants' association. A resolution urging enactment of a law to this effect was passed by the association at the closing session of its annual convention. at Lansing last week.

An order closing most of the E. Jossman state bank at Clarkston, which failed several years ago, after defalcations of the cashier were discovered was issued by Judge G. C. Gillespie, at Pontiac, to Elmer Webster, receiver. Webster was authorized to sell for $100 about $7,000 worth of claims, many of them outlawed.

Kiwanians from Battle Creek, Jackson, Owosso, Eaton Rapids, St. Johns, Mason and Ionia met at Lansing last week, for a district meeting at the Hotel Kerns. John H. Moss, district governor of Wisconsin and upper Michigan, and Donald D. A. Johnson, district governor for lower Michigan, addressed the club.

An appropriation bill for the State Highway Department asking for $5,394,565 for the fiscal year of 1923-24, and for $5,406,565 for 1924-25 both exclusive of highway bond interest and sinking fund charges, was introduced in the legislature last week by Senator William M. Connolly, of Spring Lake.

Three girls from the architectural college of the University of Michigan, have been honored by election to the "T Square" honorary engineering society for women, at Michigan. To be honored by an election to this organization, a girl must have maintained a scholarship above the average.

Unsettled weather and increased lake freight traffic have so congested the Muskegon terminals of the Goodrich Transit company and the Crosby Transportation company that freight shipments have been refused. The dock warehouses are filled with freight and boats cannot keep up with the business.

Professor Walter E. Barrows, head of the department of zoology, at the Michigan Agricultural college, died suddenly from apoplexy last week. Professor Barrows was widely known as an ornithologist. He was the author of "Michigan Bird Life."

Mrs. Emma Carman, who had spent her entire life on the Carman farm, a landmark south of Flint, dropped dead of heart disease while feeding her pet stock, in the barnyard. She was discovered six hours later by a farm attaché, two of her dogs standing guard over her body.

In accordance with the fine spring weather, we are making spring scenes and Dutch windmills in art.

Dr. F. L. Morris presented the school with a loose-leaf encyclopedia of ten volumes. This is a splendid addition to our library and will be greatly appreciated by the entire school.

On Monday night the inter-class basket ball game took place. The girls' game proved a close one. The junior girls stood the rest of the high school girls. The scores were 21 and 22 in favor of the freshmen, sophs and seniors. In the boys' game the sophomore boys playing against the senior

CHICAGO LYCEUM PLAYERS TO BE HERE IN 3-ACT COMEDY, "SARAH SIDESTEPS"

Very Popular Number on Local Lyceum Course—Musical Program Included—Packed House Expected.

CHICAGO LYCEUM PLAYERS.

The Chicago Lyceum Players are an all-star group of professional dramatic entertainers and musicians. They will be seen here soon on the Lyceum course in the popular farce-comedy, "Sarah Sidesteps."

"Sarah Sidesteps" is one of the cleanest and best comedies of recent years. It is especially adapted to lyceum conditions. The plot is so full of amusing situations and surprises that it is one gale of merriment from first to last. Sarah is the young, irrepressible daughter of an absent-minded professor, and is being reared by her aunt, a prim society lady. Sarah keeps the household in an uproar with her scatterbrained ways and her amazing genius for doing the wrong thing. Musical numbers are introduced by way of variety.

LOREN HEWITT VISITS HAWAII IN TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

and both the tree and the ground is covered with lemons. Back of the house there are at least twenty-five or thirty banana trees and the bananas such as are found here were never beaten for flavor and quality. They are smaller than the variety that is exported and will not keep long enough to be shipped away but while they last—long enough for home consumption—they are winners. Then there is another tree that is a rather unique thing. I can best describe it as being a watermelon tree. It is a common sight to see a tree with a dozen or more of these melons or Papoi as they are called by the natives.

A peculiar feature of the trees here is that they don't know anything about winter and consequently they just keep right on working. For instance there are blossoms, little green balls and ripe oranges all on the same tree at the same time. Now if one could just hatch a few chickens that didn't know about the winter and would lay eggs all the year around! Well, eggs wouldn't be eighty cents a dozen very long, would they? However, most things are very reasonable in price. In fact, living seems to be as low in price as any place we have been when everything is taken into consideration. When one figures that there is no coal to buy, no overcoats, no heavy underwear and that a palm beach suit is practical the year around it is possible that this is about the cheapest place to live that one could find.

One of the things that people rave about when they go to Europe is the mountains of Switzerland. Not having seen them I can't make comparison but from geographical description these mountains have considerable advantage as they rise directly out of the ocean and thus one is impressed with the full value of their magnificence. Consequently they are a continuous source of inspiration and scenic grandeur. Often one loses out on the impression they get of a mountain because of the gradual approach to it. For instance when we were in Butte, Montana, although we were among some very high mountains they didn't show up so very much as the city itself is nearly six thousand feet above the sea level. These mountains also have the advantage of vivid coloring. The rocks are red and the ground is red, some of the trees have red leaves so the trees that are green make a strong contrast.

I am inclosing one of the wireless papers that were issued on the boat as we were coming over. I expected to be isolated from civilization for a week or two while we were at sea but to my surprise the first morning just as we were at breakfast the newsboy came in with the morning paper. News gathered from all over the world by wireless and the paper printed aboard the boat. It seems there is nothing out of the range of possibility these days. First someone is foolish enough to think of a thing and the next thing we know someone else has been crazy enough to do the thing the other fellow thought about.

So far as we have been able to see the place Honolulu and vicinity are quite modern. Beautiful buildings of the most modern construction are found all through the town. There are a goodly number of Japanese and Chinese in some parts of the place and of course the natives make quite a brown spot but each year more and more whites find out what a wonderful place it is over here and true to their color they take what they want for themselves and leave the rest for the "natives."

I must call this enough for this time; will write often and tell you more of the place as I get better acquainted.

ONE OF THE FIRST ROBINS THIS SPRING

Gagetown, Mich., March 4, 1923.
Cass City Chronicle,
Cass City, Mich.

Dear Sir:
I saw a robin this morning and heard it sing out in the orchard, and thought maybe you would like an item about it, so I am writing to tell you about it.

Sincerely yours,
EVELYN SCHMIDT,
R. F. D. No. 2.

OBITUARY.

Arlena Marie Otis, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Otis, passed away Feb. 28, after a serious illness of the flu followed by pneumonia. She was only six years and one month of age when her mission on earth was finished, but what a bright hope of immortality her last days brought to the parents and the friends who came so often to help and cheer in the dark hours of suffering.

So many times during her short stay on earth she spoke of Heaven. One day she said to her little sister "When you get to Heaven you will find me there." One day during her sickness she pointed up and said "The doors are open up there; they are so pretty" and another time she pointed upward and said "I want to go up there."

The funeral services were held at the house Friday afternoon. Rev. Anderson of Hay Creek was in charge, assisted by Rev. Davis of Caro. Rev. Ling, pastor of Greenleaf Nazarene church, was also present. The McConnell school closed for the afternoon and attended the funeral in a body. Words of sympathy and comfort come from far and near and while the family's hearts are aching, they look for a glorious reunion.

The following fitting verse was contributed by a neighbor:
Another little lamb has gone
To dwell with Him who gave
Another little darling child
Is sheltered in the grave.
God needed one more angel child.
Amidst His shining band
And so He bent with loving smile
And clasped Arlena's hand.

Mr. Phetteplace was in Port Huron at the home of his sister, Mrs. Patrick Gaffney, whose husband is very low, at the time of the fire.

NOKO.

Our old neighbor, James Trainer, who left here several years ago for Shian Falls, Wyoming, has returned, being in a declining state of health and is now at the old home and birthplace of the entire family near Burnside, now in possession of Henry Trainer. Some of the farmers are busy distributing fertilizer on the fields preparatory for the spring crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Chard and Mr. and Mrs. H. ## GLEANED FROM CHRONICLE'S EXCHANGES FOR WEEK

John Cline, of Worth, a student of the Crosswell high school has been nominated by Congressman Cramton for the naval academy at Annapolis.

R. F. D. service at Melvin has been ordered discontinued and George Mack, carrier, will be transferred to Peck to carry mail on a new route to be established there.

There has been no anthracite coal in Peck for some time and as a result the individual supply is running low. This week many of our citizens have been compelled to take down their hard coal heaters and erect soft coal heaters in place, and there is no danger of anybody freezing so long as there is lots of soft coal.—Times.

Lyman C. Gregory, formerly of Pigeon has been appointed manager of the used car sales department of the Paige Sales and Service Co., of Detroit.

There is a preacher in Melvin who deserves to have his salary raised for close application to his ministerial duties. Recently he made the following announcement from the pulpit: "Brethren, the janitor and I will hold our regular prayer meeting next Wednesday evening, as usual."

A golf course and complete country club for Bad Axe is now a practical certainty. Indications are that in order to be successful a charter membership roll with 100 names is necessary and A. J. Clark with only a few days' effort has secured the signatures of 65 interested persons.

Edward Switzel had his right hand so badly mangled when his glove caught in a buzz saw Friday afternoon, that it was necessary to amputate his forefinger. Mr. Switzer, who lives southwest of Crosswell owns sawing outfit and was cutting wood on the Russell MacComb farm when the accident happened.

Stockholders of the Miller Top & Body Manufacturing Co., at Caro, decreased their capital stock from $100,000 to $35,000 at the annual meeting to care for serious losses which the company has incurred during the past few years. The board of directors was increased to include Max Zemke, manager, and Peter Miller, superintendent, as ex-officio officers. The following day directors met at the People's State Bank and re-elected all officers: President, J. H. Beckton; vice president, G. N. VanTine; secretary, Otto Zemke; assistant secretary, J. W. Quinn, treasurer, Carl Palmer; directors, A. O. Purdy and M. G. Atwood.

William Hutchinson, of Michigan City, Ind., a large road contractor, has purchased the road building job on the road west of Peck. This job was let to Edward Burns who commenced the work and then quit. The job was taken over by the bonding company who sold it to Hutchinson. Hutchinson uses locomotive engines and railroad equipment to build his roads instead of trucks. As soon as the weather will permit he will commence operations. He will lay a narrow gauge track and will use five locomotives and 100 gravel cars for this job.

Judgments totalling $58,000 were secured by creditors of the defunct Michigan Canned Food company in a circuit court decree handed down by Judge Watson Beach, sitting in circuit court at Port Huron Friday. The Michigan Canned Food company, which in the spring of 1921 acquired the property of the Yale Canning company, was made a defendant, together with the Granum-Crosby Construction company, the Yale Canning company and John Hutton by the Yale Coal and Lumber company, in a suit to recover judgment for materials furnished in the construction of the canning plant in Yale.

Feb. 21st marked the 93rd milestone in Mrs. Harriet Ferrier's journey of life. The occasion was very happily enjoyed by a gathering of her children and grandchildren to the number of 30 at the Ferrier farm home near North Branch and the venerable lady was presented with many appropriate gifts as tokens of love and regard on the part of those who took delight in paying her honor. Among the gifts was a sum of money, which the grateful recipient declared she would make the nucleus of her first bank account.

Wisdom of Methuselah

Like unto an overdose of Hootch is the Jesabel who telleth thee that thou shalt not embrace her while she is looking—and then doth she sit all evening with eyes closed.

Life doth hold no sadder tragedy than a one-armed man calling on twin sisters.

In the spring doth young man's fancy lightly turn to—what women hath been thinking about all winter.

Never is woman satisfied. If she doth not ensnare a new man, than doth she make over the one she hath. Shelah—Shelah—Shelah

There was once a man from Nantucket

Ran away with a man,

And as for the bucket, Nantucket,

But he followed the pair to Pawtucket

The man and the girl with the bucket;

IN MEMORY of our dear mother, Mrs. Jane Heron, who departed this life March 12, 1922.

On a quiet Sabbath evening And the sun low in the West. That we gathered around the bedside Of that one, we had loved the best.

It was our loving mother Whom we knew so soon would be Where no farewell words are spoken In that City beyond death's sea.

Our words would fail to tell you How we miss that loving one But it was God's will to take her And His will, not ours, be done.
