

TWO NEW COURSES TO BE ADDED

HOME ECONOMICS AND A COMMERCIAL COURSE WILL BE INCLUDED IN CURRICULUM AT HIGH SCHOOL.

Two new courses will be added to the curriculum at the Cass City high school for the coming school year 1923-24. Since the agricultural course, mainly for boys, has been such a success this year, it has been decided that the girls will be given an opportunity to study home economics.

E. E. Gallop, who recently inspected the agriculture department at the high school, is going to be able to procure about $570.00 state aid, for the department, which is $140.00 more than the school expected to receive. Next year the school expects to receive state aid to the approximate amount of one thousand dollars.

The two courses which will be added to the schedule are home economics and a commercial course. The home economics course will be given first in the seventh grade and sewing and cooking will be taught. This is a very practical home-making course and ought to bring many rural pupils to Cass City schools. Probably a requirement of seniors studying this subject would be that they make their own graduation dresses.

Under the new commercial course, bookkeeping and typewriting and possibly short-hand will be taught. A graduate of M. A. C. will take charge of these two courses.

JAS. WRIGHT FOUND DEAD MONDAY MORNING

Victim of Heart Trouble Passed Away Suddenly at Age of 70 Years.

James Wright, aged 70 years, was found dead on his bed at the Schwaderer Restaurant on Monday morning. Mr. Wright has been in ill health for several months, but was apparently as well as usual Sunday. He ate a hearty supper and retired about ten o'clock. When he failed to appear at the usual hour Monday morning, an investigation was made. He was found partly dressed and lying on his bed, death apparently having come as he was getting ready to go downstairs to breakfast. Mr. Wright was a victim of heart trouble and for several months has been unable to work at his trade of painting and paper hanging.

Mr. Wright came to Cass City about 30 years ago. With the exception of five years in Montana, he had spent practically all of that time in this community. Mrs. Wright died here 22 years ago.

Mr. Wright leaves three children, Mrs. Clarence Prestage of Montana, Geo. Wright of Akron, O., and Clayton Wright, and one sister, Mrs. Alice Olmstead of Pontiac. His brother, Chas. L. Wright, passed away in Elmwood township on Apr. 5.

WOMAN'S STUDY CLUB AT MAY DAY PARTY

On Tuesday afternoon, at the pleasant home of Mrs. A. J. Knapp, members of the Woman's Study Club and their guests met for a "May Day" party. Spring, which has been so long in coming, seemed suddenly to realize that it was May-time and gave her sweetest smiles to brighten the day, and in return she received the smiles of fifty or more ladies gathered to welcome her arrival.

The ladies were received by Mrs.

Tennant, Mrs. Warner and Mrs. Wheeler. The guests of honor were Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Mitchell of Saginaw, Mrs. C. W. Clark and Mrs. F. E. Kelsey of Caro, Mrs. Wurm of Pigeon and Mrs. Chas. Kleinschmidt of Omaha, Neb. A piano duet given by Mrs. McCoy and Miss Lura DeWitt, a humorous reading by Miss Alice Ferguson and piano solos played by Mrs. McNamee were enjoyed by all. Mrs. Roberts, president of Saginaw City Federation, and Mrs. Mitchell, corresponding secretary of East Central District, gave short talks which were interesting and inspirational. Refreshments were served by the following ladies, Miss Lura DeWitt, Mrs. A. Kinnaid, Mrs. C. L. Robinson and Mrs. J. M. Dodge.

This is the last of the pleasant social affairs planned by the program committee of the club for this year. Mrs. A. D. Gillies, who will be president of the Study Club next year, was chairman of the day.

DAILEY FIRST AT DISTRICT CONTEST

LOCAL STUDENT WINS IN DECLAMATIONS; BERNICE WAGER IN THIRD PLACE IN DISTRICT ORATORIAL CONTEST.

Maurice Dailey, a representative of the Cass City high school, won first place in declamations in the annual district contest of the first district of the Michigan High School Oratorical association which was held in the First Baptist church at Flint Friday. Miss Bernice Wager, also of the Cass City schools, won third place in oration. Her subject was "America What Will You Do?" The subject of Mr. Dailey's declamation was "The Voice of Armenia."

Both Mr. Dailey and Miss Wager were successful in the sub-district contest held here a few weeks ago. At the district contest at Flint, Miss Wager was in competition with representatives of high schools at Saginaw, Mt. Clemens and Flint. Mr. Dailey's contestants hailed from Royal Oak, Saginaw Eastern and Flint Central High schools.

Judges on thought and composition were Supt. E. J. Willman of Owosso, Prof. E. S. King of M. A. C., and Supt. G. E. Ganiard of Mt. Pleasant. Judges on delivery were Principal S. P. Savage of Owosso, Prof. F. E. West of Alma College and Supt. J. A. Dallymple of Fenton.

HURON CO. PIONEER ANSWERS FINAL SUMMONS

Funeral of Wm. J. Williamson Held at the Home of His Daughter in Cass City Sunday.

Wm. J. Williamson, Huron county pioneer and a veteran of the Civil War, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Ricker, at Cass City on Friday, April 27. Funeral services were held at the home Sunday afternoon conducted by Rev. F. L. Pohly, pastor of the Evangelical church.

Wm. J. Williamson was born Aug. 5, 1840, in Hancock county, Ohio. He spent his youth in Ohio and Indiana. The first event of his life of conspicuous importance was his enlistment in the union service on Aug. 13, 1862. He enrolled in the 100th Ind. Inf., and was in the military service of the U. S. until Jan. 6, 1863, when he was discharged at Memphis, Tenn., on account of disability. He returned to Allen county, Indiana, with health impaired, and in the spring of 1863 he came to Huron county and took up a homestead where he remained during the summer, returning to Indiana in the fall where he re-enlisted in the 142nd Ind. Vol. Inf. and remained in the service until the termination of the war. On receiving his discharge, he returned to Huron county and entered upon the work of improving his farm, which was in a wholly wild state.

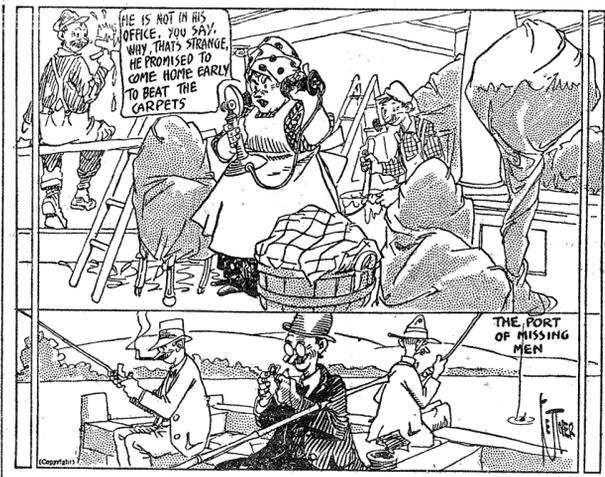

He took an active interest in the welfare of the township and held several township offices.

He was married to Elizabeth Ann Harrison on Dec. 31, 1871, and to this union four children were born: Charles E., of Gageton, Gertrude Ricker of Cass City, Mabel McVicar of Detroit, and Geo. O., the latter dying in infancy. Mrs. Williamson preceded her husband in death 28 years ago.

Geo. W. Bartle Settled at Melvin in 1870; Death Came Sunday Morning.

George W. Bartle, an early settler of Sanilac county, died at his home in Cass City on Sunday, Apr. 29, at the age of 79 years. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home on West Main St.

George William Bartle was born in Woodstock, Ont., on July 5, 1843.

At the age of 14 years, he joined the Wesleyan Methodist church. When he was 22 years old, he left Canada and came to the United States and settled in Chatfield, Minnesota. Here he met and married Helen Nancy Sanderson on Nov. 3, 1864.

In 1870 they moved to Melvin, Mich. and here he joined the Free Methodist church under the pastorate of Israel Mudge. In 1893 he moved to Greenleaf township where they made their home until eight years ago when they moved to Cass City. Three children preceded their father in death.

His aged companion and three children, Mrs. David Harris of Evergreen, John Bartle of Greenleaf and Geo. A. Bartle of Elkland mourn the loss of a loving husband and father. Beside the immediate family, there is one brother, James Bartle of Brown City, thirteen grandchildren, one great grandchild and a host of friends.

KINGSTON FARMER COMMITTED SUICIDE LAST THURSDAY

Wife Coming Home from Neighbor's Farm Found Chas. Thayer Dead under Apple Tree.

Charles Thayer, a farmer 64 years of age and residing two miles southeast of Kingston, was found dead under an apple tree last Thursday morning by his wife, with the top of his head blown off by a discharge from a shot gun.

Thayer had been acting strangely for several days and was apparently despondent because they were about to move from the home they had occupied for many years. Mrs. Thayer had been at the home of a neighbor but a short time Thursday morning and found the body on her return home.

A jury impaneled by Coroner Race returned a verdict of suicide.

MRS. F. HUTCHINSON DIED AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Funeral Services Were Held on Wednesday at the M. E. Church.

Death came to Mrs. Fowler Hutchinson Sunday afternoon, April 29, following a brief illness. Not feeling well about two weeks ago, she came to her mother's home in Cass City to stay for an indefinite time. On Saturday her condition became worse and she was taken to the local hospital where she passed away the following afternoon.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the M. E. church with Rev. Ira W. Cargo, the pastor, in charge. Interment was made in Elkland cemetery.

Maude Olive Fleenor was born in Cass City on Jan. 25, 1904. She attended the public school here and entered high school as a member of the Class of '22. During the summer vacation, following her sophomore year, she became employed at the Nestle Food Co.'s plant and did not re-enter school in the fall. Sept. 22, 1922, she was united in marriage with Fowler S. Hutchinson, a young farmer living 1 1/2 miles west of Cass City. Since her marriage, she and her husband have been living with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Hutchinson, west of town, while their own house 1 1/2 miles west and 1/4 mile north of here was being remodeled.

Mrs. Hutchinson was a member of the M. E. church. At the time of her death, she was president of her Sunday school class and president of the Epworth League, besides serving as an assistant teacher in the Sunday school.

She is survived by her husband, Fowler Hutchinson, her mother, Mrs. A. Fleenor, and two brothers, Wayne and Ray Fleenor, all of this place.

Rural mail boxes must receive a coat or two of paint this spring, according to a request coming from the postmaster-general. In a recent bulletin, the Postoffice Department requested that all mail boxes not painted in the last two years be brightened, holding that the present condition of many of the boxes is a disgrace. Not only are the boxes to be painted, but the Government wants them uniform in color in the future. It also desires that the name be painted on both ends of the box. The painting of the name on the box is a great convenience, the department believes, in the rural communities. The boxes and the posts are to be painted white, while the lettering is to be in black.

SCOTT-KARR.

On Wednesday, Apr. 25, Claud Karr of Cass City motored to Strathroy, Ontario, and was united in marriage with Miss Martha A. Scott, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Scott, of that city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Shaver at the Presbyterian manse.

Mr. and Mrs. Karr made a trip to London, Hamilton and Niagara Falls, returning to Strathroy Friday evening where a reception awaited them. They received many beautiful gifts.

On Saturday, they came to their farm home northwest of Cass City. Many friends join in wishing them much joy and a long happy life.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE THUMB

D. B. C. & W. Cancels Two Trains; New Bank Proposed at Pigeon; Other Items.

The automobile is blamed for cutting another railroad's business with the result that the Detroit, Bay City & Western R. R. running between Bay City and Pt. Huron has cut its passenger service one-half. Two trains were taken off May 1. This action means that there will be but one train out of Bay City and one into the city each day. The same is true of Pt. Huron. The change makes it impossible for persons living in the Thumb district to go by train either to Bay City or Pt. Huron and return on the same day.

The Huron county farm bureau has taken a five-year lease from Miss Anna Corning, New York, of 25 acres in Verona township, north of the John Hunt farm, that will be used by the bureau members for demonstration work. A load of sulphate of ammonia is being trucked in from the Ford plant, Detroit, for use in the work and farmers who are interested can see a practical demonstration. This is a bit of construction work sponsored by the farm bureau that should be of great help to all farmers and fruit growers.

Chas. Wendroff, Moore township, was fined $25 and $25 costs for cutting down 41 trees on the Welsler farm, in Justice Hyslop's court on Wednesday morning. The complaint was made by the state highway department. The legislature of 1921 passed a law making it an offense for cutting down or injuring any trees or shrubs along the highways in the state, within a four rod radius. Henry Welsler, owner of the farm, told Wendroff to cut the trees down, but the court held that Wendroff should have known that it was an offense.

A petition has been filed by the Grand Trunk railroad system with the Public Utilities Commission to close the station at King's Mill. The hearing will be held at Lansing on May 10 at 10 a. m. In the event that the petition is granted, Kings Mills will be only a "prepaid" station. No freight will be shipped there unless it is prepaid.

Fred Brueck, Jr., of Saginaw has procured an option on the Hotel Heasty property at Pigeon and is in town feeling out the business people and farmers with a view of opening up a bank. Mr. Brueck says he expects to sell a large block of the stock to Pigeon people.

F. H. Schuckert & Son, owners of Temple Theatre at Caro, and the Rex theatre at Vassar, have purchased the Bad Axe opera house of Charles and George Woodhall. The deal also gives them an interest in the picture house at Kinde.

Odd Fellows of the Thumb will hold their association meeting at Fostoria, Friday, May 4, with morning and afternoon sessions.

TO UNCOVER INTANGIBLE WEALTH

HOUSE PASSES BILL WHICH WOULD PLACE ON TAX ROLL PROPERTY NOW EVADING TAXATION.

With May 6 adopted by both the Senate and House as the date for final adjournment of the present legislative session, the law-makers have shown increased activity in an effort to save a few of the nine hundred bills introduced to date from dying through lack of attention. Appropriation bills have had the right of way. Already requests totalling over $35,000,000 have been approved by either the House or the Senate and there is every indication that the total appropriations for the next two years will not fall far behind the $58,000,000 appropriated for the last biennial period.

There has been very little disposition to argue the amounts of the appropriation bills reported by the committees, although the Senate and House have had difficulty in agreeing on the totals. Most of the appropriation bills have been passing with only a few negative votes. However, the appropriations for the State Department of Public Safety and for a stadium at the M. A. C. proved exceptions to this rule and received serious opposition.

Hostility to the Michigan State Police nearly resulted in the defeat of the appropriation bill for the State Department of Public Safety and it had but the narrow margin of three votes to spare when it passed the House on third reading. If this appropriation had been killed the state police would have been automatically put out of business.

The appropriation for the stadium at the M. A. C. survived strenuous opposition and passed by a vote of 64 to 22. In reality this is not an appropriation but a loan which the State makes to the College for the purpose of providing the funds for the construction of a stadium in which athletic events will be held. The M. A. C. must repay this loan in 10 equal annual installments. It is planned that this will be done through the revenue secured from athletic events staged in the new stadium.

With the population of all of the state corrective and penal institutions constantly increasing and with the demand for higher education also mounting by leaps and bounds and with the insistent demand that the state engage in a continually widening sphere of activities there seems to be slight possibility that the total expense of state government can be decreased. Reforms in the matter of distributing the tax burden seem to offer the most logical hope of relief to the average citizen.

Some rather belated progress is being made.

HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL DEDICATED TO ALUMNI

The high school annual "Maroon and Gray" which will be off the press the early part of June, is being dedicated to the alumni of the Cass City high school, who doubtless regard the "little red schoolhouse" as a sweet memory and set it up sacredly in the shrine of their thoughts of the days gone by and will be delighted to resume correspondence with their old classmates, for the annual will give a complete tabulated list of the 470 alumni of this school with their present addresses. Pictures of old familiar haunts in and around Cass City will awaken memories of "the days gone by." The book will represent all activities of the school, each department being preceded by color inserts. The Smith-Hughes agricultural department will offer an article concerning this new phase of work in the high school. "Snaps" of the pupils of this department in action will also be presented.

The staff has put untold labor on the production of this annual and it is sincerely hoped that the general public, students, patrons of the school, and more especially the alumni will co-operate with the senior class by purchasing these annuals. The annual is under publication now by the Cass City Chronicle while the engraving, done by the Canton Engraving Co. of Canton, Ohio, is practically complete.

Mr. Halliday of the R. W. Roberts Co., engineers of Saginaw, and Attorney J. W. Quinn of Caro were present Monday evening at an adjourned meeting of the village council where matters pertaining to the paving proposition were considered. When asked what the chances were for the state taking up their part of the improvement, Mr. Halliday said in all probability the smaller projects such as this would be put through, the larger part of the state highway program being still in doubt, pending the action of the Legislature, which will adjourn some time this week.

ing made on the taxation program which was announced months ago at the opening of the session. Two bills calling for the removal of the present tax exemption on bonds were reported favorably by the House Committee on General Taxation. The first of these bills introduced by Rep. Peter Lennon of Genesee fixes an annual tax of five mills on foreign bonds while its companion bill by Rep. C. J. Town of Jackson provides a three mill levy on domestic securities.

A real attempt is being made by the House to prevent a continuation of the rapid increase of taxation on real property. The Evans bill sponsored by the Michigan real estate association was adopted by a vote of 62 to 25. This bill would limit the increase in the amount of taxes raised by any local governing unit or two per cent additional each year, based on the 1922 levy. The bill contains provisions to take care of an emergency which might arise, if the increase is approved by a referendum vote.

A companion bill to this Evans tax limitation measure is being sponsored by Rep. Geo. Watson of Capac, to keep down the state taxes. This measure has passed the House by a vote of 76 to 10 and if approved by the Senate would require the submission at the November election in 1924 of a constitutional amendment which would limit the increase of state taxes imposed on general property to two per cent per year. The Legislature by two thirds majority could declare that an emergency existed and could increase the amount of taxes for any given year.

More complete listing of personal property on the tax rolls is the object of a bill, sponsored by Rep. Baxter of Grand Rapids, which was passed by the House by a vote of 62 to 20. This bill makes the matter of listing personal property a purely personal matter and, it is thought, would result in placing on the tax rolls a large amount of personal property which is now evading taxation. Rep. Baxter declared that personal property bears but 22 per cent of the tax burden in Michigan, while in the neighboring state of Ohio where a law similar to the one he proposed is in effect, personal property bears 40 per cent of the burden. He thinks the operation of the law as proposed would put one and half billion dollars more of intangible wealth on the assessment rolls.

Another tax bill of particular interest to the northern part of the state was passed by the narrow margin of three votes in the House. This was Rep. Holland's bill providing for the taxation of mineral rights. It seems that it is a custom in the mining districts to sell the surface land for agricultural purposes while the rights to any minerals beneath such land are reserved. Such reservations are regarded as being extremely valuable and it was thought that they should pay some tax.

However, the most important taxation measure, the Byrum Income Tax bill, has not as yet been reported from the Senate taxation committee, and there seems little hopes of its passage of this season.

HOW TO REDUCE TAXES

The universal cry is against high taxes. The cry should not be against high taxes, but against the corrupt use of taxes. The question of high or low taxes is to some extent governed by the valuation put upon property from the public treasury. Crush the socialistic, paternal spirit growing up in this country, whether in the form of the pork barrel or government ownership of public utilities. All such unconstitutional doctrines and practices are increasing the taxes to the breaking point.

The continued excessive tax burdens can be traced to certain abuses:

First: Extravagant, complicated governments. The office seekers, office holders, and tax eaters have multiplied government machinery to perpetuate themselves in office. If you would reduce the machinery and throw out of office the inefficient, rat-hole hunting office parasites you would reduce the cost of municipal, county, state and national governments 30 per cent. Today, you have about sixty cents of every dollar of tax money invested in government, and the other forty cents is represented by waste, fraud, inefficiency and graft.

The bureaucracy of this country is a curse to good government and a criminal expense upon the tax-ridden public. Simplify governmental machinery and put competent, trained, patriotic men in office, and taxes will be reduced 30 per cent within a short time.

Second: Destroy the spoils system. Elect or appoint men to office solely on the ground of merit. Then you will get an honest day's work for true love of country and a just consideration of the trust imposed.

Third: Teach the people they must support the government and not expect support.

Michigan Happenings

The Navy Department has decided to abandon virtually all of its radio service on the Great Lakes, with the exception of the radio-compass stations, and will shortly advertise eight wireless stations for sale. Lack of men and money to operate them led to the decision to abandon the plants. The Michigan stations to be abandoned are located at Alpena, Detroit, Mackinac Island and Manistique. The compass stations at Detour, Grand Marais and Whitefish Point will be retained. The three radio-compass stations safeguarded vessels passing through the fog enshrouded lower end of Lake Superior, Whitefish Bay and St. Mary's River.

Mayor David R. Cuthbertson, City Attorney John H. Earley and Alderman Long, of Flint, while in Detroit last week conferred with Pere Marquette and D. U. R. officials regarding a proposed grade crossing on South Saginaw street. To extend its line to the new south side industrial sections, the D. U. R. must cross the Pere Marquette. Agitation for a grade separation has been made and should the city officials be unsuccessful in their attempt to reach an agreement, the case will be carried to the state public utilities commission.

Special honors likely will be given Boy Scout Raymond Morse, of Battle Creek, in connection with efforts made at first aid in the case of Mrs. Dora E. Penfield, fatally hurt when knocked down and run over by a street car. Hardly had the car stopped before Scout Morse, less than 13-years-old, crawled under it in an attempt to remove Mrs. Penfield, but it developed that a jack was necessary to lift the car and city fireman were called.

Rev. W. H. Belfry, for four years pastor of the Presbyterian church in Ishpeming, has tendered his resignation. During his pastorate in Ishpeming he has been especially active in boys' work. For a short time he will engage in special work for the Lake Superior Presbytery. He came to Ishpeming from New Lexington, O., where he was pastor for five years.

Deputy State Game Warden Leisner of Escanaba, just returned, last week with Deputy Warden Coon from an inspection trip through the district in Delta county, is of the opinion that large packs of timber wolves have preyed on deer herds in the Upper Peninsula during the winter to the extent that the big game animals are in danger of extinction.

Three high school students of Traverse City were expelled last week, following a battle in the grounds and in the school building between seniors and juniors in the annual class rush. Police were called to quell a young riot when the classmen clashed. A tug of war across the Broadman river probably will settle the matter.

Arthur M. Ripshinger, of Saginaw, has been named as candidate to West Point Military Academy from the Eighth District. He will submit an educational certificate in lieu of entrance examination July 2. Leslie Stoddard and Lawrence Killen are designated as first and second alternates.

Injuries suffered when a horse he was driving ran away proved fatal to Tony Neurda, 54-year-old farm laborer of Flint. Neurda was driving his horse from Flushing to Flint when the animal became uncontrollable. In the attempt to stop it Neurda fell under its hoofs and was trampled upon.

Injured in a fall two weeks ago, Mrs. Kasiah Crandall, 84 years old, of Kalamazoo, died last week at the home of a daughter in Moore Park. She tripped on a rug, fracturing her hip and suffering internal injuries.

Mrs. Mary J. Simons, of Coldwater, 74 years of age, who died after six weeks' illness was buried. She had lived here for the last 35 years and was the widow of Henry C. Simons.

Mrs. Gilman Dame, 54 years old, wife of Gilman Dame, former State dairy and food commissioner, died at her home at Northport last week after two months' illness.

The new tuberculosis hospital at Ionia is fast filling the space allotted to inmates of penal institutions. This is only one of a few such institutions in the United States.

The high school building at Jonesville, built in 1868, was destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Mary Cloud, oldest native of Bay City, died last week at the age of 90 years. She was the widow of Rev. James Cloud, Indian preacher, who was pastor of the church in the Indian settlement near here for many years. Mrs. Cloud died in the home in which she had lived for more than 50 years.

Sine Connor, 64 years old, life long resident of Easton township, Ionia, died last week. Connor was born and died on the same farm.

Puts Seed and Fertilizer at Bottom of Furrows

Absolutely uniform depth of planting, which results in all the grain coming up evenly and ready for harvest at one time—and even distribution of fertilizer—that is what you get when you use the

JOHN DEERE VAN BRUNT FERTILIZER GRAIN DRILL

You are assured of uniform depth of planting by the Van Brunt closed-delivery type of single-disc furrow opener. Metal seed tubes and closed-delivery disc boots conduct seed to the bottom of furrows of uniform depth and there cover it.

You have accurate control of both grain and fertilizer—the patented Van Brunt adjustable gate force-feed handles any size seed, from alfalfa to beans, without crushing or damaging the seed, and without choking up in the grain box. An even, continuous stream of seed is forced out of the grain box at all times, and when you regulate one feed opening, you adjust them all equally. Finger-type plates insure positive handling of fertilizer.

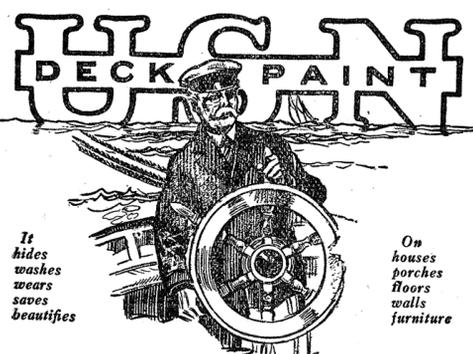

VAN BRUNT FEATURES

- Patented, adjustable gate force-feed for seed.
- Finger-type plates prevent choking up of fertilizer.
- Steel frame, well braced.
- Large grain and fertilizer boxes.
- Wood or steel wheels. Tilting lever for regulating depth of planting with relation to depth of disk.

Big Bill, the Life-Saver

By CLARA DELAFIELD

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

Big Bill Burgess, lying on the operating table in the theater, looked at the man beside him and uttered a groan of disgust.

"What's th' matter, Bill?" asked the house surgeon, as he took the dripping lancet from the nurse.

"Wow!" said Bill. "Say, you let a drop of that boiling water drip on my neck. Say, Doc, that chap looks as if he's got too much blood already."

"So he has, Bill," answered the doctor. "That's why he can't afford to lose any. He isn't used to it like you. Lucky his nose did start bleeding, though, or he'd have had a stroke. Ready, Bill?"

"Aw, say," muttered Bill, "you oughtn't to have given the steep-stuff to him doc. I'd have liked to see him sweat."

"Come on, now, can the conversation!"

With a sigh of submission Big Bill Burgess submitted. Big Bill was the hospital's blood supply. Whenever transfusion was necessary, Big Bill was called upon to furnish a pint or so of blood. He had held his job two or three years. He got a hundred a month, and was operated on about once in three weeks. Not a bad way of earning one's living when one got used to it. Besides, the tips were considerable. Once he got five hundred dollars from a grateful patient.

But while the doctor punctured his artery and the blood trickled into the connecting tube Big Bill watched the man beside him in increasing disgust. The big stiff! He had enough blood already to supply a full-grown bullock! What did he want to take his blood for?

The sense of injury grew on him as he saw the victim of the nose-bleeding wheeled away to a room. Big Bill was hardened. After a stiff glass of something strong he went home in a taxi. Mrs. Big Bill put him to bed. Next day he was up and about the house. It was all in the day's job, and a man's got to live somehow.

Three days later he was back at the hospital. The house-surgeon grinned when he saw him.

"Mr. McSnide's crying to see you, Bill," he said. "Calls you his benefactor. Go and see him. There may be something in it for you."

"Aw, say!" Bill grunted. Nevertheless, he went up to the room where Mr. McSnide lay and from the expensive traveling-bag and other things Bill saw that Mr. McSnide was wealthy.

The bloated, beefy figure lolled on the pillows.

"My benefactor!" he cried, extending both his arms.

"Aw, can the sob-stuff!" Bill growled under his breath.

"You've given your blood to save my life," whimpered McSnide. "Greater love hath no man than this. You are my benefactor."

"What'dya want?" growled Big Bill. "To thank you from the bottom of my heart," said Mr. McSnide. "I shall never forget."

"I don't believe I shall either," said Big Bill.

Mr. McSnide was up a week later. He sent for Big Bill. He thanked him in a broken voice. He gave him a two-spot. He called him his benefactor. The pretty Irish nurse with the ginger hair told Bill Mr. McSnide was his baby boy. Bill went away with a fury raving in his heart.

"I'd like to seek that guy!" he muttered. "Gave my good blood fer him, I did, I did. Can you beat that? Say, Doc, if that big stiff sends fer me again I'm going to soak him one."

"Have a heart. You'd bust him, Bill," said the house-surgeon.

Big Bill had not been called on for three weeks. He was in fighting fettle. He kicked his heels all day about the hospital.

"Bill, McSnide's going out tomorrow," said the house-surgeon. "He wants to say good by and thank you."

Bill went upstairs with battle in his eyes. Mr. McSnide, stout, beefy, toddled toward him.

"My benefactor, I must thank you again," he gurgled. "You gave your life for me, and I shall never forget. Greater love hath—"

Big Bill, measuring the distance to a lineal millimeter, landed on McSnide's nose. McSnide screamed and fell.

The ginger-haired nurse came rushing in with the house-surgeon. There was a fearful hemorrhage.

"You great big brute," said the nurse. "He struck the poor man on the nose. Send for the police, Dr. Openham."

"He's too valuable a man," answered the house-surgeon. "Besides, he'd lose blood in prison. There's only one thing to be done."

Big Bill uttered a yell. "Have a heart, Doc! Not that big stiff—not again, Doc!"

"Get them down to the operating theater," said the house-surgeon. "It's a case for transfusion."

A Social Deprivation.

NO FANCY CARE, BUT COWS BREAK RECORDS

Tuscola Dairy Farmer Proves Elaborate Equipment Unnecessary for Success.

The popular idea that a dairy cow must be "rolled in cotton batting" and kept amid elaborate surroundings in order to turn in big production records is being strikingly disproved on many Michigan farms, where cows kept under ordinary farm conditions and surrounded with no special trimmings are making records of which the whole state is proud.

Tuscola county offers a good illustration of record-breaking performance under normal farm conditions. George Ridgeman, near Vassar, has a half dozen Holsteins in his barn with rather sensational records to their credit, and yet these champion cows have nothing in the way of gorgeous equipment. There is no white garbed herdsman attending every whim of the cattle. The cow department is just an ordinary lean-to. No expensive ventilating system, no luxurious box stalls, no swing stanchions, no cement mangers or floors are provided. Mr. Ridgeman takes care of his cows along with his other farm work, and yet his animals become champions.

Eden Hope last year made more butter in a week, and in a month, than any other two year old in the state, with a record of 24,559 pounds of butter from 503.8 pounds of milk in seven days, and 100.2 pounds of butter from 2,106.8 pounds of milk in a month. A stable mate, Eden Ruby, was not far behind, ranking second high junior two year old in the state last year for thirty day test.

Then there is Eden White Rose, high cow for the state last year as a senior two year old, and highest heifer for age in the whole United States last year for a ten months run. This last record is also the third highest record ever made in the U. S. by a senior two year old for a 305 day test.

"Specialized care and model equipment certainly help a lot to enable cows to make big records," said Prof. O. E. Reed, head of the M. A. C. dairy department, in discussing the records of the Ridgeman herd, "but cows like these prove that a man with good cow sense plus cows of size, vigor, and bred-in production, make a winning combination under just ordinary barn housing conditions."

We have six base ball games at home and two field meets.

The plane geometry classes are reviewing the last book preparatory to the examination. This means that they will have the rest of the team for general review.

Miss Leola Beach of Gagetown was a high school visitor this week.

The results of the point system which has been carried out during the eight months of school are as follows: 12th grade, Velma Warner leads with 26 1/2 points; 11th grade, Helen Turner, 25 1/2 points; 10th grade, Robert Dillman, 27 2-5 points, 9th grade, Calvin Patterson, 24 1/2 points.

Music and Art. "We have been so happy in the Flower Kingdom, but just now we are terribly worried. Our Flower Queen has disappeared. We have searched everywhere and she is not to be found. We have called in the Fairy Queen and she is so sorry for us and wants to help, so she has sent her messengers to search for the missing Queen. We certainly should give up in despair, if it were not for Johnny Jump-Up. He is so carefree and happy and tries to cheer us up, and assures us that she will soon return." We will report next week what the Fairy Messengers say when they return. And if you wish to know more about us, come and see our operetta, which is to be given on the school lawn June 1.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From the Cass City Enterprise of May 5, 1898.

Five of our young men started for Detroit Tuesday morning to enlist in the regular army. They were John Schwaderer, Dougald Monroe, Ira Parker, Dick Landon and Thos. Ross. The two first mentioned returned last evening and stated that Dick Landon was the only one of the company able to pass the examination.

E. H. Pinney now has his up river resort of twenty acres all set out to shade and ornamental trees—227 black walnut, 47 butternut, 150 soft maple, and a large quantity of white ash, elm, basswood, etc.

The school board have decided to raise the salary of the assistant-principal of our schools and that of the teachers of the four lower departments. No contracts have yet been signed but this practically settles the question that Misses Marsh, Harvard, Dunham, Koons and Allen will remain another year.

Rev. F. Klump was called to Minden City to officiate at the wedding of a Mr. Kittendorf of Uby to Miss Rose Miller of Forestville.

Neil C. Monroe, M. D., has decided to practice his profession here and has secured offices over A. W. Seed's pharmacy.

PRESERVE ALL SURPLUS EGGS IN WATER GLASS OR LIME SOLUTION

Essential Equipment in Preserving Eggs.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

From the end of March to July an overabundance of eggs is often produced in the home poultry yard, and it is worth while to preserve this surplus for use in the months when the yield is less. Many housekeepers who buy all their eggs, arrange in the spring for a few extra dozens of guaranteed freshness to put down in water glass or lime solution. This practice twelve quarts of water to the boiling point and cool it. When cool, measure nine quarts of water into the crock and add one quart of sodium silicate (commonly called water glass), which can be purchased at most drug stores. Stir well to mix the solution thoroughly.

The solution is now ready for the eggs, which may be put in all at once or from time to time as they are obtained. Before any eggs are put in the crock it should be set in a cool place where it can remain undisturbed, as some of the eggs crack and spoil, affecting the entire crock, if any attempt is made to move the jar after it has eggs in it. A five-gallon crock should hold about 15 dozen eggs, with the solution covering them at least two inches at all times. If any of the solution evaporates more should be added. If the jar is covered with a tight lid of waxed paper, very little evaporation will occur.

Preserve in Lime Solution.

If water glass is not obtainable, lime solution may be used. It is not considered so good as water glass, as in some instances eggs preserved by this method have tasted slightly of lime, although at other times lime-water has proved entirely satisfactory.

To preserve with lime, dissolve 2 pounds of unslaked lime in a small quantity of water and dilute with five gallons of water that has previously been boiled and cooled. Allow the mixture to stand until the lime settles, assures them of eggs at the season's lowest prices when the retail rate is rapidly advancing.

Properly preserved eggs will keep in good condition from six to ten months and can be used satisfactorily for all purposes in cooking and for the table. Even where the family demands fresh-laid eggs for the table, a supply in water glass will be found an economy for use in cakes, puddings and other cookery. They will prove a convenience when the hens are not laying enough for ordinary daily needs, or when it is impossible to send to the store for the usual order, or when unexpected company comes.

Best for Preserving.

Eggs fresh from the nest, gathered as soon as possible after being laid, are best for preserving. When only one day old they will be almost equally satisfactory, but should not be "put down" after they have been kept three or more days. The best and most economical results have been obtained by the United States Department of Agriculture using one part water glass to nine parts of water. In some sections lime water is less expensive, and gives just as good results. Under usual conditions it does not appear advisable to use the water glass or lime water solution again the second year, although it has been successfully done.

Preserve in Water Glass.

Select a five-gallon earthen or stone crock and clean it thoroughly. Scald it and allow it to dry. Heat ten to then pour off and use clear liquid. Place clean, fresh eggs in a clean earthenware crock or jar and pour the clear limewater into the vessel until the eggs are covered. At least two inches of the solution should cover the top layer of eggs.

APPLE ICE CREAM IS LATEST

Synthetic Oil Has Been Prepared by Department of Agriculture for Flavoring.

A synthetic apple oil that possesses the aroma of ripe apples has been prepared by the bureau of chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture, and a public service patent has been granted for the process.

This preparation has the merit of having no substance in it that does not occur naturally in the apple. In this it differs from other artificially prepared flavors labeled to indicate their resemblance in odor to certain fruits but whose components do not occur in the fruits they are supposed to represent. The water and beverage laboratory of the bureau has prepared a most palatable carbonated beverage with the apple oil as its base. The oil, being volatile, may not be used in the preparation of food products in which heat is a necessary factor, but is especially suitable for flavoring cold drinks and ice cream.

GOOD FISH CHOWDER RECIPE

Affords Pleasant Change From Meat Dinners in Winter and Is Palatable and Filling.

Besides being economical, a good hot fish chowder is filling and palatable in winter time and affords a pleasant change from meat dinners. The United States Department of Agriculture recommends the following recipe: The backbones cut out of large fish

Hominy, like rice, should never be stirred.

Coffee should be ground only moderately fine for the percolator.

Before wearing new shoes place them in a warm place for a few minutes. This will make the leather more pliable.

An old fowl should be soaked in vinegar for a few hours before it is cooked. Steaming is the most satisfactory method of cooking it, and the rule is to allow an hour for each year of the fowl's age.

Mildew on linen may be removed by scrubbing well with soap and scraping a little chalk over it. Spread in the sun to bleach and as it dries dampen it a little. It should be left in the air all day and then washed.

MOTHERS' DAY PROCLAMATION

Governor Alex Groesbeck has issued the following proclamation:

"In compliance with our beautiful custom, which in a few years has come to be universally observed throughout the land, the time has come to set apart a day in honor of American motherhood.

"The American home is at once the cradle and the bulwark of all that is finest and best in our present day civilization, and the American mother is the heart of that home. If the home spirit is what it should be the major portion of the credit belongs to her.

"It is impossible for us to compute the debt we owe our mothers, and it is only fitting that in this way we should pay our tribute of respect and devotion to the mothers of the nation, living and dead.

"Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I do hereby designate and proclaim Sunday, May thirteenth, 1923, as Mothers' Day, and I call upon our people, both old and young, to gather in their several places of worship and take part in services appropriate to the day.

"And let absent sons and daughters take this occasion to visit the mother in the old home, or, where such a visit is impossible, let them send a message of cheer and greeting.

"In accordance with a resolution of the Congress of the United States, I further request the people of Michigan on the day aforesaid to display the United States flag in their homes and in other suitable places, as a fitting expression of their desire to pay homage to American motherhood."

LEGION HOSPITAL AIDS 200 VETERANS

BATTLE CREEK HOME CALLED ONE OF FINEST INSTITUTIONS IN THE UNITED STATES

WOMEN OF MICHIGAN TO ASSIST

Regarded as one of the finest hospitals for tubercular patients in the United States, the American Legion hospital at Battle Creek is now at the very peak of its usefulness. Nearly 200 Michigan heroes who incurred the white plague while in service are being treated—amid surroundings which suggest a club or a home as much as they do a hospital.

Under Legion management, this hospital has been freed from all the red tape and irksome discipline which has caused complaint against the usual government or contract institution.

Hospital Is Home-like.

The men in the hospital feel that they are at home. The treatment is the accepted one of fresh air, rest and nourishment. The hospital is located on a lofty ridge of hills—one of the highest spots in southern Michigan. The scenery and views are among the most beautiful in the state. This of course has a highly favorable effect on the patients' morale.

Dr. Robert B. Harkness, state commander of the Legion, keeps in close touch with the institution. From his professional viewpoint, he regards the hospital as a wonderfully efficient enterprise, and his interest—as well as that of other Legion officials—is to keep it at tip-top usefulness.

During war days, the present hospital was the splendid Community House which cared for the social interests of the men at Camp Custer. It has been enlarged and rebuilt, and the site increased by the purchase of 30 acres.

The whole enterprise has challenged the friendly help of the citizens of the state, from the very first. The practical interest of the women of Michigan is testified by the gift of 28,000 quarts of home canned fruit, a quantity sufficient to meet an important need for the entire year.

Extensions Being Planned.

Extensions to accommodate 450 patients are now in preparation. This has been accomplished by joining together in long rows the Camp Custer cottages, hundreds of which were left vacant at the close of the war. For the purpose, these little individual cottages are said to be ideal. They consist of one room adequately lighted and heated and accommodating two or three cots. The unity of the institution is maintained by the broad, airy covered portico which runs the entire length of each row of cottages.

Nourishment is directed by an expert. The food is abundant and of the kind and quality best calculated to meet the needs of the patients. Each has his diet prescribed for him in accordance with his daily condition.

"We have cut out the red tape," said Manager E. J. Welsh, "and are trying to do everything to make the boys feel at home."

THE GRAVES OF YANKS WHO DIED IN FRANCE

The spots on this map show the location of graves of "Yanks" who died in France during the world war. It will be noted that the greatest concentration of graves is in the region of the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

where United States soldiers smashed through the German lines and turned the tide of the war.

The American Legion is seeking to keep alive the memory of the heroes who gave their lives in the world war, by raising an endowment for the permanent care of their graves. Contributions may be made to local posts or forwarded to Dr. Frank B. Broderick, state welfare officer, 214 Lincoln Building, Detroit, Mich.

FUNDS OF INCOMPETENT VETS TO BE GUARDED

The American Legion national rehabilitation committee has started a campaign to see that money allotted to mentally incompetent ex-service men, administered through their guardians, must be spent in the proper manner, and if it is not action will be taken against the guardians by the committee. Joe Sparks, chairman of the committee, has stated that in a number of cases, guardians of the unfortunate veterans have diverted the funds assigned by the government to their own use, affording the man for whom the money was intended only the bare necessities of life.

As we talk to people who have come from different parts of the world to work in Detroit and how they heard it said there was work and bread for all at Ford's. We recall the words of ancient history, "Egypt is wholly the gift of the Nile." We may say that Ford made Michigan known in the remotest parts of the civilized globe where men toiled for food.

Our own boy, Amos Webster, was always quite a joker. He pulled one off on the writer a week ago, hence this item is a trifle late. "Ame" waited till we mailed correspondence on the 23rd, then cranked his car and lit out for Lapeer where he took unto him "a wife from among the daughters of men." He will return and make his abode with us where a warm welcome awaits.

Mrs. Benjamin Sharp of Deford, who spent her married life in the townships of Kingston and Novesta, passed away on morning of April 27. Her health has not been good for many years. mirable that six old neighbors bore the remains to their last resting place in Novesta cemetery. Her suffering is no more.

Mrs. George Rohrbach, W. Houghton St., Cass City, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of a severe backache and put my kidneys in good shape. My back was sore and lame and ached continually. It felt as though there were a ton of lead pressing down on it. Sleep was impossible and added to that I was bothered with my kidneys acting too frequently. My ankles swelled so I couldn't wear high shoes at all and I felt tired and drowsy. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills gave me good results so I continued taking them. After a short time I was cured of the backache and I felt better in every way."

DO YOU REMEMBER

When you were a little tot, how eagerly you snatched the pennies that mother gave you. And with flying feet you scampered out for a bag of all-day suckers.

Do you remember how with shining eyes she watched your childish joys; how she skimmed and saved so you could have your candy?

What could be a more fitting remembrance now of her loving care than a big box of good chocolates? She will appreciate it.

HART-PARR

Tractors are Lubricated by Alemite and Force Feed

The Last Word in Tractor Lubrication. A Reason for Hart-Parr Durability

In the mud and dirt of spring work, the heat and dust of harvest, and the dry grinding grit of plowing, you have no worry with Hart-Parr tractors. Hard oil is forced to every bearing by the Alemite Grease Gun under hundreds of pounds of pressure, just the same as on the most expensive cars.

Lubricating oil is forced to main bearings, cylinders, etc., drop by drop as needed, by a mechanical force-feed oiler. There is no guess work—Hart-Pars are lubricated correctly.

22 Years of Hard Field Experience have taught Hart-Parr that splash oiling won't work on a kerosene tractor. Waste kerosene dilutes the oil and bearings burn out. Hart-Parr force-feed lubricator assures you of long years of service for your tractor. We handle the Alemite and Force-Feed Lubricated Hart-Parr line.

Buy only the best—we have it and are organized to give you 100 per cent service. Call and see us.

AUTO INVENTED FOR LEGLESS MEN

Arthur W. Van Rensselaer, himself a cripple and a member of one of the oldest families in New York has invented an automobile for legless men and he demonstrated the machine at the Institute for Crippled and Disabled Men, New York city.

NEW AUTO COVER PLACED CHEAPLY

Motorist Found Work Not as Difficult as He Had Imagined When Job Was Finished.

OLD TOP SERVED AS COVERING

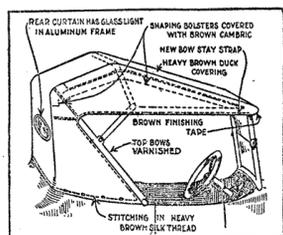

No Special Tools Are Required, but Great Care Must Be Exercised to Cut Materials Exact Pattern of Parts Removed.

A motorist, who had painted his roadster dark blue and had given it a high luster with coach varnish, found that the old mohair top looked shabbier than ever by contrast.

He measured the amount of material required and bought sufficient heavy, closely woven brown duck for the new top, as well as binding tape of the same color, some brown cambric for the shabby bolsters, an oval rear light glass with an aluminum frame, round head upholstery tacks, and a little oak coach varnish.

As he removed the top with a tack puller and pliers, he noted how each piece was fastened. He then refinished the top bows with varnish, cut new stay straps from brown duck, and made them fast to the bows.

Using the old top as a pattern, he next cut the brown duck to the exact shape and sewed the pieces together on the sewing machine with heavy brown silk. The rear light was set in the back section and then the new cover was spread over and tacked to the frame while the frame was held in position with bindings of heavy twine.

The Old Top Serves as a Pattern for Cutting a New Cover.

and the top then matched in newness the appearance of the newly painted and varnished car itself.

No Special Tools Required. No special tools are required and nothing about the work is difficult, although care must be taken to cut the materials the exact pattern of the parts removed and in aligning the top bows properly before putting on the new covering.

It is necessary to use a tape line frequently to make sure that pieces on opposite sides are uniform, and that the rear curtain is located so that the light is in a central position. A new top usually increases a car's selling value far more than the cost of labor and materials involved.

TO KEEP WINDSHIELD CLEAR

Simple and Inexpensive Method by Which Every Motorist Can Maintain Vision.

To keep the windshield clear of sleet and ice during stormy weather: Four a quarter of a pound of salt in a cheesecloth, making it into a bag by tying up the four corners, and rub over windshield.

By this simple and inexpensive method every motorist can keep his windshield vision clear for two hours at a stretch even in the worst weather.

BRAKE DRIVING WILL CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE

Factory Official Dilates on Fault of Many Drivers.

Motorist Should Take Things Easy Whether in Crowd or Out—Fast Driving for Short Distances is Expensive.

The greatest fault with American drivers of today is that they drive with their brakes, was the statement of an automobile factory official.

"The motorist should take things easy in driving, whether in a crowd or out of a crowd," he adds. "Fast driving between short city blocks, followed by a sudden jamming on of the brakes, gains little time and is expensive, both in the wear and tear on the tires, the burning out of the brake lining and injury to the brakes and other mechanical parts of the car.

Never put more pressure on the brakes than is absolutely necessary to stop at the point you wish.

"Every time you hear a traffic officer's whistle in a large city, you almost immediately hear a crunching of brakes and scraping of dry tires on the pavement.

"Even in long cross-country drives, where hilly country is encountered, some drivers constantly jam on their brakes when slowing down instead of allowing their cars to slow down before the brakes are applied.

"In going down hill, take your foot off the accelerator, and the motor, set at a safe pace, will hold the car back. If the grade is very steep, shift to second or first speed as the grade may require before starting.

"Under no circumstances is it advisable to throw the clutch out when actually driving down hill. To do so may mean absolute loss of control. It is not good driving, either, to shut off the spark completely. It is a safe practice to have the motor running in order to have power on tap in case of emergency.

"There is no question at all that brakes are extremely important for the purpose for which they are built, but simply because they are efficient, reliable, and the easy way to drive, is no reason for abuse which results in damage to other parts of the car as well."

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

Correct wheel alignment saves tire wear and should not be neglected.

Experts do not recommend the choking in stopping system that many car drivers persist in using.

The automobiles owned in the United States have a power equal to that of more than 300,000,000 horses.

Proper inflation is as important as proper loads. Under-inflation results in flexing of the layers of fabric which cause early deterioration of the tire.

The piston stroke on some of the smaller cars is usually no longer than the diameter of the cylinder bore. A long-stroke motor has a piston stroke considerably longer than the diameter of the bore.

Never ignore signs. These include colored lights, semaphore, "Stop and Go," parking signs, schools, fire house and hospital signs. "Blow Your Horn," "Dangerous Curve," "Go Slow" and other signs of various sorts.

HOW

BLOOD CORPUSCLES ARE AFFECTED BY ALTITUDE. Continued examinations of the blood of mountain climbers show that when a man by slow and gradual ascent attains an altitude of 8,000 feet, the red blood corpuscles have rapidly multiplied from about 5,000,000 to 6,000,000, and that when a height of 13,000 feet has been reached the number of these corpuscles has risen further to 7,000,000.

The facts observed by Capt. R. W. G. Hingston confirm the observation, well known in lesser degree in the European Alps, that an ascent from a low to a high altitude is associated with a definite and continuous change in the constitution of the blood, the result of the stimulus which rarefied air exerts on the blood-forming mechanism of the human body. By this means the individual can adapt himself to the higher levels if the ascent be made slowly and gradually, thus allowing the production of a sufficient number of oxygen-carrying corpuscles.

This manufacture of red corpuscles is by no means slow; for instance, in one observation a short stay of two days at an altitude of 13,000 feet showed an increase of about 725,000 in the number of these corpuscles per cubic millimeter of the blood. It is possible that there may be a limit to this power of the body to compensate for great altitudes, but it will be noted that the process was in active operation in Captain Hingston's case at a height of 13,200 feet above sea-level.

The blood of the natives of the Pamir Plateau, habitually living at an average height of 13,500 feet, was carefully examined, and it was found that the number of red corpuscles in the blood of the average adult native was 7,500,000 per cubic millimeter, as compared with 7,402,000 in Captain Hingston's own blood at that level.

It is further of interest to learn that during descent from high to low altitudes, when the stimulus of the rarefied air was withdrawn, there was a gradual reduction in the number of the red corpuscles, though the rate of decrease was not so rapid as the rate of increase had been during the ascent.

DETECTS ERROR IN SCREWS

How Specially Designed Machine Makes Certain That the Finished Product is Perfect.

Everyone who owns a bicycle, sewing machine, motor car, or phonograph has come across that worst of all nuisances, the screw that won't go in or won't come out.

Although machines are able to cut screws with remarkable accuracy, occasionally they turn out odd ones, or even whole batches, perhaps a couple of thousandths of an inch too big, or with threads that are not quite regular.

It was thought impossible to test each screw until an inventor came along with a device which enables one man to examine 500 in an hour, and to detect errors as small as one ten-thousandth of an inch.

The screws are passed automatically through a specially designed magic lantern. Each stops for a moment before the lens, and while it does so its shadow, magnified a hundred times, is thrown on to a screen. On this screen is drawn an enlarged representation of a perfect thread, which the screw should fit exactly. The screw's shadow falls upon this drawing, and the tiniest imperfections can be detected instantly.

How Icebergs Are Avoided.

Of all the perils dreaded by those who sail across the Atlantic, icebergs are by far the most formidable.

A new device has been brought out by a French inventor, which detects icebergs when they are six miles away. Melting ice sends out rays which are invisible to the eye, but which will affect a delicate instrument called the thermo-couple.

This apparatus can be made so finely that it will register the presence of a lighted candle at a distance of half a mile.

The thermo-couple is connected to a telephone receiver on the bridge of the ship. When conditions are normal it omits a continuous note of unchanging pitch. As soon as an iceberg is approached, however, the note changes, and the lookout man knows at once that there is danger.

How the Moon Causes Quakes.

There is reason to believe that the moon, which is almost certainly a chip off the earth's stalk, is an important factor in causing earthquakes in the unstable earthquake zone. Nearly all the serious seismic disturbances happen when the moon is so placed as to exert its maximum tidal pull on the earth, and acts as "the last straw" in that part of the earth where its increased gravitational attraction is most potent.

PAMPHLET GIVES HINTS FOR CONQUEST OF T. B.

The general essentials of modern tuberculosis treatment are summarized for the guidance of consumptives and their families in "Getting the Best of T. B.," a pamphlet just issued by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. For the individual advice essential to each case, the booklet refers the patient to his physician.

Rest and more rest is the secret of recovery from tuberculosis, the reader is assured. As first aids to rest come plenty of fresh air and enough nourishing food.

The problem of living comfortably out of doors in cold weather is given considerable attention, and the illustrations show a home made sleeping porch, a cure chair, and other devices which insure the patient's comfort. A brief discussion of the consumptive's diet is included.

The publication will be especially useful as a reference for patients who must take treatment in their own homes, without the benefit of constant medical supervision. Single copies will be sent free upon application to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, 209 W. Shiawassee Street, Lansing, Michigan.
