

LARGEST CLASS IN H. S. HISTORY

SEVENTEEN BOYS AND 26 GIRLS WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS; DR. RICE OF DETROIT IS COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER.

The largest class ever to be graduated from the Cass City high school, 17 boys and 26 girls, will be presented with diplomas at the opera house next Thursday evening.

Commencement week activities begin Sunday evening at a union service at the Presbyterian church when Rev. W. W. Edwards will deliver the baccalaureate address. The subject is "Of More Value Than the Birds."

On Tuesday evening, the Junior-Senior banquet will be served by ladies of the Presbyterian church, at the church dining room.

Class Day exercises will be held at the opera house Wednesday evening, commencing at eight o'clock. Class honors this year resulted in a tie between Bernice Wager and Nila Burt. Miss Wager drew the salutatory and Miss Burt the valedictory. In addition to these two numbers, the Class Day program includes the president's address by Chas. Hamilton; class history, Irvine Striffler; class will, Kenneth McKenzie; class prophecy, Wilma Striffler; class oration, Elynore Bigelow; giftatory, Francis Fritz; class song and other musical numbers.

On Thursday evening, at the opera house, Dr. M. S. Rice, pastor of the First M. E. church of Detroit, will deliver the commencement address. Rev. Rice is one of the most prominent speakers of Michigan and receives many calls to deliver commencement addresses at colleges and universities. This is a rare opportunity to hear a gifted orator. E. W. Jones, secretary of the board of education, will present the diplomas to the 43 graduates. Musical numbers will add to the evening's enjoyment.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS WILL MEET JUNE 25

AMERICAN LEGION CHILDREN'S BILLET

PLANS RELATIVE TO OPENING OF BILLET AT OTTER LAKE DISCUSSED EXTENSIVELY AT SEVENTH DIST. MEETING.

Roy Bricker, cashier of the Pinney State Bank, was among the candidates who endured the strenuous initiation into the mysteries of the "40 and 8" at the meeting of the American Legion posts and auxiliaries of the seventh congressional district at Caro Tuesday. A business session was held at one o'clock, the initiation of candidates took place at 3:30, and in the evening a banquet was held at the M. E. church. Dr. F. A. Perry of Adrian, in charge of the boys' work of the State Legion, Mark McKee of Detroit, district committeeman of the state department, Dr. Lindsay of Sandusky and Herbert Leon Cope of Caro were among the speakers who addressed the delegates during the day.

The plan relative to the opening of the American Legion Children's billet at Otter Lake this fall was among the principal topics considered. Keen interest in this great enterprise is manifested by all ex-service men throughout the state and by the Legion Auxiliary as well.

The American Legion Children's Billet, in its plans, comprehends the care, education and training of all children of deceased or disabled service men of all wars, and, although an American Legion enterprise, the benefits are not confined to Legionaires.

An unique feature of this philanthropic work is the elimination, in so far as possible, of all institutional features. These children, instead of being housed together in large buildings, where, of necessity, all sorts of disciplinary regulations would have a tendency to limit the natural development and initiative of child life, these little ones are grouped in families in cottage homes, under the care of competent house mothers, each home having its own garden plot and where home life is maintained.

A statewide appeal for funds for maintenance will be made on June 20th, at which time it is hoped that a sufficient amount will be realized to assure the care of at least one hundred children this year.

PIG CLUB MEMBERS MAKE DRAWING

The first meeting of the pig club promoted by the Pinney State Bank will be held Friday when a president and secretary-treasurer will be selected. The drawing of the pigs was made early Saturday afternoon and created considerable interest.

The animals were selected by Verne Freeman of the Extension department of the M. A. C., who makes a specialty of this work. He was assisted by J. S. Sims, county agricultural agent, and Willis Campbell, teacher of agriculture in the local schools. Six of the 15 pigs were chosen from a herd near North Branch, and the remainder from local herds. No attempt was made to secure animals of like weight, but the aim of the selectors was to have all the pigs of the same type.

Cash prizes will be awarded by the bank and merchandise prizes by local business men. Prizes will be based on the following: 40 per cent standing of pigs in showing, 40 per cent efficiency of feeding and handling and 20 per cent story of achievement. Pigs in this contest will be exhibited at the Cass City Fair in August.

This is a portion of the highway which connects Silverwood and Kingston. It will be constructed of gravel with a nine-foot base and a 14-foot top.

Nine contractors submitted bids, the highest reaching $17,720.33, while the lowest was that of Dodge Bros.

CELEBRATE THE 4TH AT CASS CITY

LOCAL CITIZENS ARE PLANNING FOR BIG PROGRAM HERE ON INDEPENDENCE DAY; LARGE CROWDS ARE EXPECTED.

Cass City is preparing for a big Fourth of July celebration.

A few local merchants suggested the celebration the other day and decided to "sound out" their fellow business men Tuesday. An hour's time spent on the street convinced them that the sentiment was here and that ample funds would be forthcoming to provide a big amusement program for the national holiday.

A complete program of races and other athletic events, two league ball games, an abundance of music, and various other features are suggested at this early date. Plans will be more complete soon. In the meantime, turn to your calendar and mark "Cass City" on the red letter date of July 4th and bring your friends with you.

TIES FOR THIRD PLACE IN STATE CONTEST

Maurice Dailey Participated in Declamatory Meet at Escanaba Friday Evening.

Maurice Dailey, a sophomore in the Cass City high school and winner of the district contest, participated in the state declamatory contest at Escanaba Friday evening, and by the point system of judging, tied for third place in the contest. He was accompanied to Northern Michigan by Earl Brooks, an instructor in the high school, who stated that several who attended the contest expected that Mr. Dailey would be awarded at least second place. One of the judges picked Maurice for first place and two placed him in fourth position in their decisions. His friends are congratulating him on his success and consider it an honor to both the young man and his school to have him entered in the contest. The meet was attended by nearly 700 people.

Mr. Dailey and Mr. Brooks, with other contestants and visiting teachers, were given an enjoyable time and shown every courtesy while guests in the Northern Michigan city.

FIND POULTRY TO BE MOST POPULAR CROP

Flocks Kept on 92 Per Cent of Michigan Farms—Products Valued at Many Millions.

That the farm poultry flock is still the most popular and widely distributed "crop" in Michigan is shown by statistics just released at the Michigan Agricultural College which indicate that 180,000 of the state's 196,000 farms, or 92 per cent, maintain a poultry flock.

The fact that the average number of birds per flock is given as 62 is further indication that poultry subjects are of almost universal interest among the farmers of the state.

Estimates place the value of Michigan poultry at the surprising total of $11,600,000, while the value of poultry buildings and equipment is placed at almost the same total, according to H. M. Elliot, farm management specialist at M. A. C. who has been making a detailed study of the state's poultry industry. This brings the total investment to more than $20,000,000.

Products from this investment in 1919 totaled $34,900,000 divided into $23,500,000 worth of eggs and $11,400,000 worth of poultry proper, according to the 1920 census.

A feature which adds to the universal interest in poultry raising in Michigan is the fact that thousands of people in the small towns and cities, who do not class as full fledged farmers, keep at least a small flock of poultry in the back yard.

PIONEER SCHOOL TEACHER IS DEAD

Miss Anna Black Spent 49 Years as an Active Teacher in Tuscola County.

Miss Anna Black, pioneer school teacher of Tuscola county, who has exerted a wonderful influence for good over three generations of the county's citizens, died Friday at Caro at the age of 82 years.

Miss Black was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Black and came to Tuscola county with her parents from Ohio at the age of seven years. They located at Vassar at the time when the county was a wilderness and in that community but three families resided.

She began teaching school at Fairgrove in 1862 when she was 19 years of age. Later she went to Caro. She spent 49 years as an active teacher, retiring at the age of 68 years.

Former pupils of Miss Black honored her 80th birthday last January with a dinner at Hotel Montague at Caro.

LAD, HIT BY AUTO, HAS LEG BROKEN

Willard Muntz Was Victim of Accident While on His Way to School Tuesday.

Willard Muntz, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Muntz, residing two miles north of Cass City, was the victim of a serious accident Tuesday morning while on his way to school and is now a patient at the Pleasant Home hospital suffering severely with a broken leg.

Willard, with a few other boys, had been given a ride on a wagon on their way to school. When the teamster, driving from the north, reached the school grounds, he stopped to allow the boys to climb out of the vehicle. As Willard reached the ground, a Ford touring car driven by John D. Gill of Caledonia passed the wagon, going south, and hit the lad, breaking both bones of his left leg a short distance above the ankle. The boy got up at once, but when he attempted to walk, he fell to the ground. He was taken at once to the hospital. The driver of the automobile claimed he was driving slowly and that the accident was unavoidable.

HONOR STUDENTS IN 8TH GRADE EXAMS

WALTER DRESS WILL REPRESENT TUSCOLA COUNTY AT STATE FAIR; FAIRGROVE PUPILS HAVE THREE PERFECT PAPERS.

County School Commissioner B. H. McComb announces that Walter Dress, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dress and a pupil of Miss Leona Wilson and Carol Clark of the Richville school, will represent the eighth graders of Tuscola county at the state fair at Detroit this fall, having won the highest average standing in the eighth grade and state fair examinations held recently. His average standing was 88.6 per cent.

Delos Parish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parish and a pupil of Miss Beulah Nickless of the Hinson school in Fairgrove township, will be the alternate representative, having won the second highest standing of 88.4 per cent, just two-tenths less than Walter Dress.

Lloyd Schell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schell and a pupil of Mrs. Catherine Ames of the Berry school of Wells township, was a close "runner-up," his average standing being 88.

Papers this year required a much closer scrutiny than usual by the examiners to determine the winners as the standings given above show the keen competition manifested. Five hundred eighteen wrote on the eighth grade examinations this spring, considerably more than have written in previous years. Three hundred have been successful. Over 400 wrote on the seventh grade which is also a gain in numbers. Those unavoidably prevented from taking these examinations at the regular time may take a special examination which will be held at the office of the county school commissioner on June 12 and 13.

Three perfect papers were written by two students of the Fairgrove school, both pupils of Miss Verna Sparring. Francis Grinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grimm, received 100 per cent in civil government and Miss Marion Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hoffman, received like standings in both grammar and reading.

MUST INCREASE TONNAGE OR CEASE OPERATIONS

D., B. C. & W. R. R. in Hard Straits and Needs Much Better Support.

Unless the towns along the line of the Detroit, Bay City & Western railroad can furnish more traffic for that road, it will cease operations within a very short time. This was indicated by Federal Judge Tuttle Friday at an informal hearing at Bay City on the application of the Detroit Trust company, receiver for the road, for instructions as to further operations.

"The road is not making operating expenses. This court has tried to borrow money to keep the road going and cannot, and I am not going to run up bills for supplies and labor that cannot be paid," said Judge Tuttle. "Four men, the Handy brothers, have sunk their personal fortunes in the enterprise and there does not seem to be anybody else who wants to take hold of it."

Representatives of several towns along the road promised to do more shipping by rail and less by truck.

Port Huron promised that its manufacturers would route freight by the D. B. C. & W., which is now routed over other roads. The Bay City Board of Commerce promised similar assistance.

CASS CITY THIRD AT INTERSCHOLASTIC

THREE H. S. ATHLETES EACH WIN FIRST PLACE IN CLASS C SCHOOL EVENTS AT LANSING MEET SATURDAY.

H. W. Holmes, superintendent of schools, came home from Lansing highly pleased with the performance of three of Cass City's high school athletes at the State Interscholastic meet at the M. A. C. Saturday, June 2. This team of three, consisting of Donald Seed, Kenneth Higgins and John Goodall, each took first place in an event and won third place for Cass City in Class C schools.

All high schools of 175 or less are placed in Class C. High schools of 175 to 500 pupils are in Class B, while Class A is constituted of schools having an attendance over 500. Class B and C schools held their meets at Lansing Saturday, about 300 athletes contesting.

John Goodall won the mile run in 4:57 8-10, finishing 30 yards ahead of his nearest competitor.

Kenneth Higgins finished the half mile with about 25 yards in the lead, the time being 2:13 8-10.

Donald Seed exceeded his previous record by six inches in the pole vault, taking first place in strong competition. His record Saturday was 11 feet. Seed also took third place in the running broad jump. He was 1 1/2 inches short of the record in this event which was 19 ft., 10 1/2 in.

Interscholastic rules prevent long distance runners from entering more than one of the long runs. Had Higgins and Goodall both been allowed to participate in both the mile and half mile events, it is probable that Cass City, with three athletes, would have been able to annex more than the 17 points awarded the local team Saturday.

Plainwell won first place among Class C schools and Morenci second place.

B. B. PERCENTAGE REMAINS THE SAME

NO CHANGE RESULTED IN EXTRA GAMES PLAYED IN NORTHERN SECTION; ALL-STAR TEAMS TO COMPETE.

Last week found three high school teams in the northern section of Tuscola county with the same percentage standing and three games were arranged to decide which two of the three were to play the first and second teams of the southern section at the county field meet today. Caro, Cass City and Unionville accordingly played in the schedule arranged, and as each team won a game, the percentage remained as at the start.

There appears to have been some protested games in the south half of the county, and as there was not any time remaining before the field meet to attempt to break any more ties, representatives of the county association decided at a meeting held on Wednesday night, to pick an all-star team and a second team from both the northern and southern sections of the county and have each class play a game this afternoon. Track and field events will be run off this morning starting at nine o'clock.

Law was heavy with the stick for the Cass City team in the game with Unionville at Caro Monday, securing

FLAG DAY PROCLAMATION

There is a disposition in some quarters to sneer at the homage we pay the flag of our country, but we reverence and honor the flag not for what it is in itself but for what it symbolizes. It is a visible token of those great principles upon which the Republic was founded, and, unless we are ready to uphold those principles at any cost, this nation with its free institutions cannot long endure.

Flag Day, then, is to remind us of the real significance of our national emblem.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I hereby proclaim Thursday, June 14, 1923, Flag Day.

Let flags be displayed on both public and private buildings and let community exercises appropriate to the day be held wherever practicable.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this thirtieth day of May in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-seventh.

ALEX J GROESBECK,

Governor.

Charles J. DeLand,

Michigan Happenings

If the Detroit Trust Co., receiver of the Detroit, Bay City and Western Railroad, is permitted to discontinue the operation of this road, and that seems probable now, for the bond holders refuse to furnish any funds for further operation and the receiver has no means of providing the money to keep the road going at a loss, business men, chiefly elevator owners along the road, stand to lose hundreds of thousands of dollars, for without railroad service their elevators and hay sheds will be of little value.

"There are only a few of us left, not over 35 or 40 here, I believe." Following this remark to a newspaper man, George H. Keating of Bay City, swung into his saddle to take his place as marshal in the annual Memorial day parade. A few minutes later he fell dead from his mount to the pavement. Heart failure was the cause. Keating, 78 years old, was the most prominent and active member of the G. A. R. and had just returned from New York.

Judge Landis has definitely consented to speak at the Michigan state convention of the American Legion at Ironwood next August, according to word received. Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, will be here and General Pershing will come providing he is in the middle west when the convention convenes. Governors of three states have been invited to take part in the big program.

John R. Sneathen, 35 years old, manager of the Shaw-Walker company, Detroit, plunged to his death from the twenty-second story of the Dime Bank building last week, striking the roof of the Peninsular bank building, and though thousands of persons swarmed the streets in the heart of the financial district where the tragedy occurred only one man was a witness.

Bishop Henry St. George Tucker has declined to become bishop of the Protestant-Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, to which position he was elected May 15 to succeed the late Rt. Rev. Charles D. Williams. Preliminary plans were made at Kalamazoo last week for the launching next year of a campaign to raise $500,000 in Michigan for the support of the 90 or more superannuated ministers and their widows in the Michigan Methodist Conference. The Rev. W. T. Puffer, was made chairman of the committee which will have charge of the campaign.

Harvey Scribner, 15 years old, of Pontiac, was instantly killed in Ar-radia last week when he climbed one of the new poles of the Edison company, not knowing the current had been turned on, and came in contact with a high tension wire. The boy was an orphan and made his home with his sister, Mrs. Ashley Smith.

Forest fires were raging last week in Vilas county, Wisconsin, and Gogebic county, Michigan, large areas of cut-over land were burned and the spreading flames threatened valuable timber tracts between Lac Vieux desert and Watersmeet. Hot ashes fell in those towns, which are several miles from the scene of the fires.

Mr. Striffler anticipates viewing a fine bean crop when he drives past this farm next fall.

A large number of members of Cass City Lodge, I. O. O. F., and Venus Rebekah Lodge attended the memorial service of those fraternities at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Rev. W. W. Edwards spoke from the subject, "Christianity—the Religion of the Big Heart." He said fraternalism was the hand maiden of the church and pointed out how Oddfellowship can be more than a mere society.

The school lawn was the scene of a pretty operetta Friday evening given by the children of the grades who presented "The Flower Queen," under the direction of Mrs. Fern Campfield, music and art teacher. Costumes of varied colors blended nicely with the woodland background and the scene was a very beautiful one. The children in both songs and speaking part, did very nicely and displayed much dramatic and musical ability. The operetta portrayed the dethroning of the Flower Queen, who was hidden in the weed kingdom by the Weed King and his retinue. The Flowers, failing to find their queen, decided to call the Fairy Queen to their assistance and after diligent search, she was found and restored to the throne, and the Weed King was brought bound as a prisoner. The Queen restored to her kingdom, left the fate of the King of Weeds to her rescuers, the Boy Scouts. They decided to send him to the Wizard of the West who transformed him into a wonderful and useful plant. Under the lightness and brightness of the story, an effort was made to retain a forceful idea. The Weed King's sentence by the Boy Scouts suggested regeneration vs. revenge. The operetta was given to show parents the splendid achievement of the pupils in their musical training and was successfully accomplished. Mrs. Campfield is grateful for the co-operation of parents in the making of the costumes and to teachers who so kindly gave of their time and effort in the preparation of the drama.

Friends of Rev. A. H. Butzbach, a former pastor of the Evangelical church at Cass City, have received word that he recently underwent an operation for removal of the left kidney at the Union Medical hospital at Pekin, China. Mrs. Butzbach, who is engaged with her husband in missionary work among the Chinese, sent a cablegram following the operation stating that Mr. Butzbach's condition was very hopeful but that he was suffering acutely. The cablegram reached Michigan relatives of the missionary on May 29.

OLD DADDY LONGLEGS

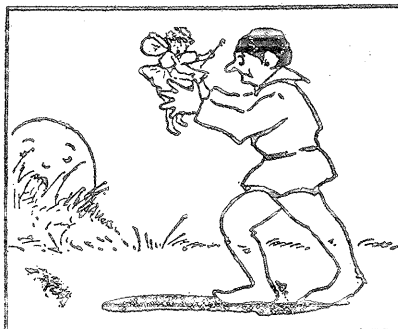

ONCE upon a time an Elf Prince fell in love with a fairy, and the Queen of the fairies gave her consent to their marriage.

All the magic folk were invited, and to make the wedding more beautiful all the butterflies were invited also.

Now, it happened that one large blue and black butterfly had once been a Goblin, but an old witch, to reward him for some favor he had done, gave him the power to change his form whenever he liked.

The Elves and the Goblins were always in a dispute, and never had been friends, so when the Blue Butterfly Goblin heard of the wedding he at once determined to go and make all the trouble he could.

The Elf Prince had one friend among the Elves, and that was very fond of him, and while the wedding was taking place, Tanto—that was the name of the friend—noticed a bit of red showing under the wing of the big blue butterfly. He crept close and found it was a bit of the Goblin's red cap that he saw, for of course, no Goblin, whatever his form, ever is without his cap.

Tanto knew that some mischief was going on, so he watched every move Blue Butterfly made, and just as the wedding was over he saw him slip his cap from under his wing and become a Goblin, and before anyone could stop him he had the fairy bride in his arms and was running away.

The Elf Prince ran with Tanto and other Elves, but the Goblin had called to his friends, and the Prince was made a prisoner by the little red-capped men.

Hundreds and hundreds of other Goblins kept the other magic folk back, and the Fairy Queen, who had left her magic wand at home, was powerless to help them.

But there was one who had escaped from the Goblins and was after the runaway, and that was Tanto. With leaps and bounds he was soon up with the Goblin and the stolen bride, and when he came to a tree that had overhanging branches he caught at one and swung himself so he could snatch the red cap from the Goblin's head as he passed.

Quickly dropping the stolen bride, the Goblin put both hands to his head; but it was too late. His cap had gone, and with it the power the witch had given him.

Tanto placed the cap on his own head and making the Goblin prisoner he took him back to the edge of the woods and tied him to a twig.

He told the fairy bride to follow, but to hide until he called to her to show herself to her husband. Then Tanto crept up behind the captive Prince and slipped the cap into his hand.

The Prince knew at once what to do and while his captors were busy chattering he put the cap on his head and called to the witch to appear.

Up from the ground slowly came the old witch. "Bring forth the one who stole my bride," said the Elf Prince to Tanto, and when the Goblin was brought the Prince commanded the witch to change him into a long-legged creature that would always be on the run whenever anyone came near.

The witch did not dare disobey, for the Elf Prince had the red cap upon which she had cast the magic spell, and she feared that he might work harm to her.

With a wave of her magic stick the Goblin disappeared, and over the ground ran a long-legged creature that is now called granddaddy longlegs. Then the Prince called for his bride and the wedding feast went on, while the Goblins, who now were terribly frightened, ran away in all directions.

The Prince hung after the long-legged creature the red cap, which changed into a toad when it touched the ground and quickly hopped out of sight.

"What's in a Name?"
By MILDRED MARSHALL
Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel

ETHEL

ETHEL is in itself a name, but it has so many suffixes as to seem almost a syllable itself. It is another of the Teutonic names which signify noble, and is derived from Aethel, the same prefix, which in High German, is Adal, from which comes Adelaide. The early feminine form of this simple little name was Aethelthryth. Another, less complex, was Ediltrud.

Teutonic and Norse tradition seem to merge somewhere along the course of Ethel's history, for the splendor of the Valkyrlingers in the name. It was popular among the women of those early times because it signified the ideal woman of the period when "a resolute will and a strong hand were woman's best title to respect," as one writer puts it. Nowadays, Ethel, shorn of her complexities, suggests a fluffily feminine name rather than an Amazonian ideal.

Saint Aethelthryth was a queen of the Amazon type who must have been a very uncomfortable sort of wife and who finally retired to a monastery. She was canonized as Saint Ethelreda. Her saintly name has come down to us with a small degree of popularity, but Ethelberta and Ethelfreda are much the favorites. Ethel is the most prevalent of all and stands alone as an independent name.

Alberta and Albertine are regarded as other offsprings of Ethel. Ethel should wear an agate if she wishes happiness and success. According to its promise, it will bring her the desire of her heart, give her courage and a dauntless will. Thursday is her lucky day and 4 her lucky number. The wild rose is her flower.

A LINE O' CHEER

By John Kendrick Bangs.

THE PLAYFUL SKIES

THE fleecy clouds that speed by night
Give me a long-forgot delight.
For, as they sail along the blue,
The merry stars play "peek-a-boo."
Right merrily

E'en as a little child I laugh,
And childish laughter now and then
Is mighty good for worried men.

YOUR HAND
How to Read Your Characteristics and Tendencies—their Capabilities or Weaknesses That Make for Success or Failure as Shown in Your Palm

"SHALL I TRAVEL?"

WHEN a line of travel, on Luna, ends in a small cross, we may foretell or read a voyage that has ended or will end in disappointment. A line of travel that ends in a square shows danger arising to the subject from his travels, but he will be protected, since the square is called the "mark of preservation."

Note whether the line of travel ends in an island, no matter how small. If it does, loss through the journey is indicated.

When the line of travel reaches Jupiter, the journey will be very long. When it runs to the mount of Saturn, or fate, some fatality will govern the entire journey. It will be subject to good or evil fortune, as the other signs in the hand indicate. But when the travel line runs to the mount of the sun, or Apollo, under the ring finger, there may be expected, or there are indicated, very favorable results from the journey, such as riches and fame. When the line of travel reaches the mount of Mercury, at the base of the little finger, sudden and unexpected wealth from the journey is seen.

Homes in America.

The total number of homes in the United States, not including homes on farms, was 17,600,000 in the year 1920, according to figures recently issued by the census bureau at Washington. Of this number 7,195,000, or 40.9 per cent, were owned by their occupants, and of these 2,855,000, or 39.7 per cent, were mortgaged. The total amount of these mortgages is estimated by the bureau to be $6,000,000,000, while the total value of the homes is placed at $14,099,000,000. The ratio of the indebtedness to the value is 42.6 per cent.

THUMB NOTES.

When Thomas Hill of Paris township returned to his home last Friday evening a surprise awaited him. Grouped about the busily dripping still were Sheriff Burns and two deputies, awaiting his return. He accepted their invitation to return to the county jail where he spent all of last winter on a similar charge. About a month ago he was released from the county jail on probation, on the petition of his neighbors that he be permitted to return to farm work to support his family. When former customers of Hill again appeared to have a supply of whisky, it set the sheriff and deputies investigating.

Fred Theumeuil, 21, son of Charles Theumeuil, a farmer living near Port Austin, is fighting for his life following an accident on the farm of his father Saturday. While riding on a manure spreader Theumeuil fell off and one of the levers punctured his bladder and bowels. He was rushed to the hospital at Bad Axe and an effort will be made to save his life by blood transfusion. Doctors hold out hope for his recovery.

There has been no further development since the oil well near Brown City was "shot". An effort to raise money for equipment to pump the water out of the well has been started by those interested, but whether sufficient funds for this purpose will be forthcoming is not known. Only by so doing, however, will it be known for a certainty whether or not an oil well has been discovered.—Peck Times.

The old frame school house at Forestville, which is said to have been built about 70 years ago, has been razed and a new and modern one-room structure will be built on the site. The old building was condemned a couple of years ago, having become so shaky that large poles were placed against it to keep it from tumbling down.

STUDEBAKER
TOURING CAR
$975

More Cars Shake Themselves to Pieces Than Ever Wear Out

Charge that up to vibration.

Vibration causes cars to grow old prematurely by racking their chassis, destroying the "metal life" of vital parts, loosening up their bodies and causing squeaks and rattles. Frequent, costly repairs are the result.

The Studebaker Light-Six is freer from vibration than any car of its approximate size or weight yet produced.

This has been accomplished largely by a complete machining of the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces—a practice used by Studebaker exclusively on cars at this price and found only on a very few other cars whose selling prices are from three to ten times as high as the Light-Six.

There are 61 precision operations in the manufacture of the crankshaft alone, 40 of which range in accuracy from one-quarter thousandth to one thousandth of an inch.

The Light-Six motor embodies the most advanced design known to automobile construction. And no chassis at any price is built to more exacting standards of materials and workmanship.

Aside from its mechanical excellence and its consequent long life, the Light-Six is handsome in design, extremely comfortable, sturdy, and we believe the most economical car to buy and operate ever offered at $975 or anywhere near this figure.

Its substantial all-steel body, one-piece, rain-proof windshield, ten-inch cushions upholstered in genuine leather, cowl lamps—these are among many features heretofore to be had only in higher-priced cars.

For 71 years the name Studebaker has stood for integrity, quality and value.

MICHIGAN TAKES LEAD IN COW TESTING WORK

Four Hundred Per Cent Increase in State Associations Promises Better Dairy Industry.

With an increase of nearly 400 per cent in organized cow testing work during the past year, Michigan dairy men have assumed a position among America's leading states in systematic dairy improvement operations. From a comparatively humble start with 14 cow testing associations in May 1922, the state had reached a point this week where 46 associations were in actual operation, while nine additional groups were organized and merely waiting the assignment of official testers before getting under way.

Cow test associations, each including some 25 herds in a district, serve as a powerful influence for better dairy methods and conditions, and result in a more efficient industry where they operate. The spread of more than half a hundred of these groups over the state is considered by specialists in agricultural matters as the most significant happening in Michigan dairy circles of recent years. Few states are now better organized than Michigan for extension of better dairy principles and standards.

That efficient production of milk and butterfat is the only paying proposition on the dairy farm at all times, is being proved daily by the records of the associations testers, and more and more communities are taking steps to join the "better dairy" movement.

Among the chief advantages of association work, as outlined by A. C. Baltzer, of the M. A. C. dairy extension division, are: showing the real value of each individual in a herd; giving a basis for building up a better herd; increasing market value of animals with official production records; proving value of a herd sire thru the records of his daughters; and pointing out most economical and efficient feeding and handling practices.

LONG OVERDUE.

Sioux City Journal: The condition to which Mr. Wallace of the department of agriculture, has called attention, an improvement in the farmer's economic status, is one long overdue. Wherefore the great middle west will hope that the secretary's belief in the ultimate realization of better times has been well founded. And because Mr. Wallace is admitted to be in a better position for prophecy than any other individual, whose interest would be just as lively, it may be said that the hope is given much encouragement.

Conditions, Mr. Wallace asserts, are better than for two years. That needs no detailed proof, for there has been an improvement. It can be said, however, that the recovery is not yet complete. There is still much room for further development in that direction. The great difference between the buying power of the farmer's dollar and that of other producers of wealth has been a great injustice. Cheap farm products and high priced manufactured goods never have been able to create the impression of equality and never will. If the farmer is forced to pay high prices for the things he buys, he ought to be able to command proportionately high prices for the things he sells. That question has just one side.

The existence of the agricultural bloc, which is composed of national legislators whose constituents are mostly farmers, is due to nothing else but the insistent demand for the removal of the inequalities that the agricultural regions have suffered. It is true that President Harding does not believe in the bloc, yet the necessity in this case was overpowering. It was the only way in which a deserving element of the country's economic life could protect itself. There were no laws adequate to provide the relief. The farmer was at the end of his resources. He had to do something, and he could do nothing short of going to his representative in the national congress and demanding his help.

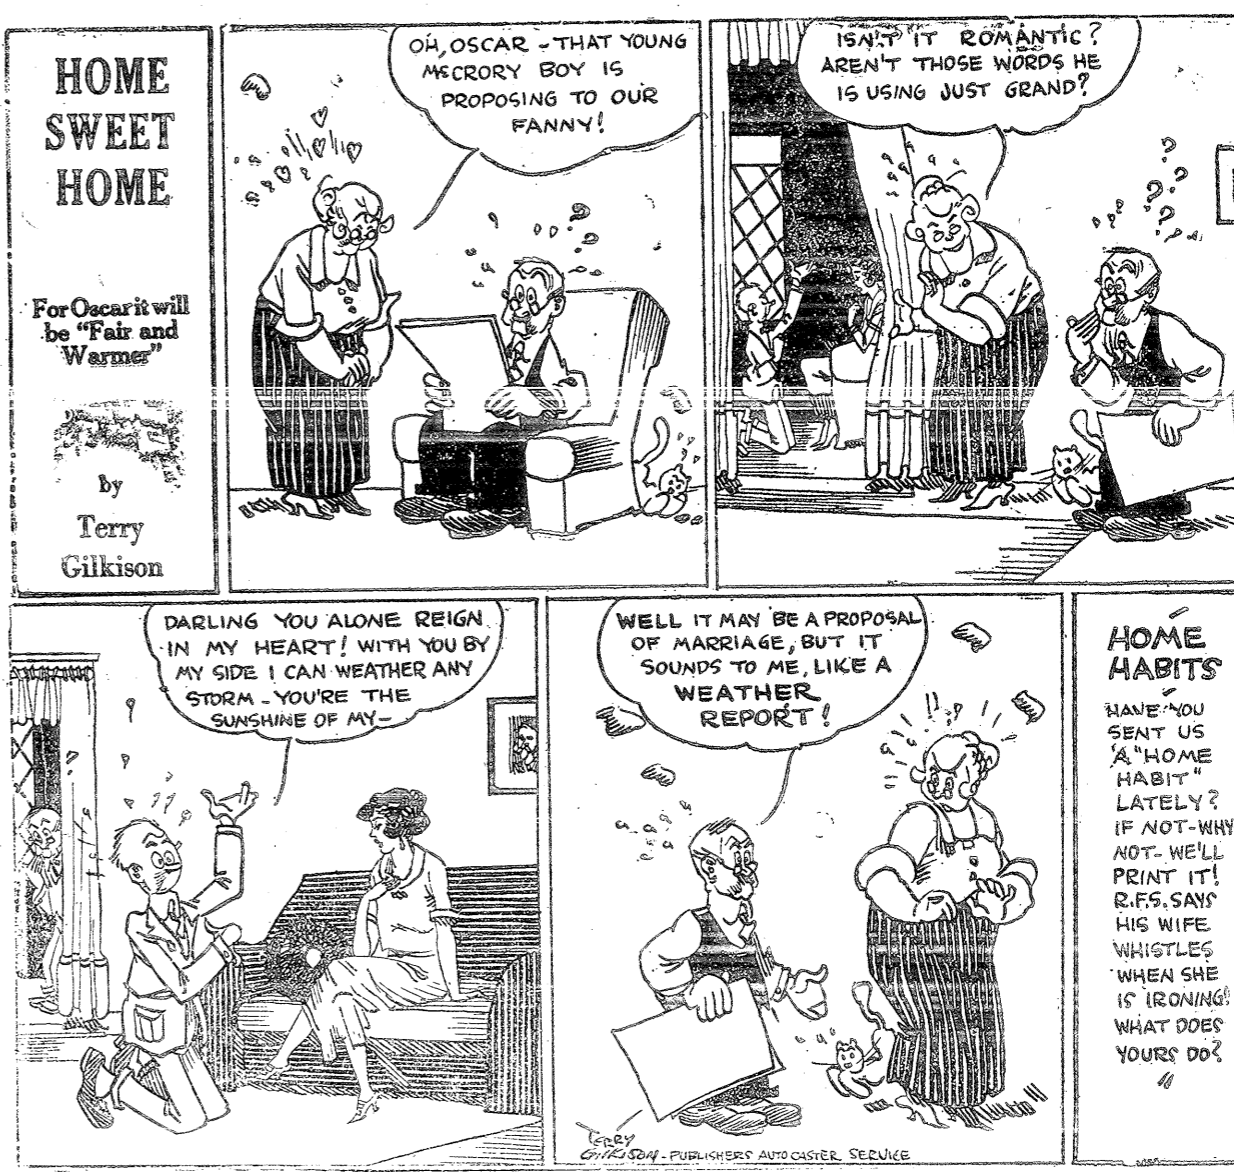

Senator Adams, of Colorado, recently appointed to succeed the late Senator Nicholson, believes in the bloc but he emphasizes its economic importance rather than its political power. In effect, that is what the agricultural bloc really means. The farmers of the middle west are not so eager to run the government of the United States as they are to prosper as other people in different lines are prospering. Surely they have as much right to receive a fair return for their efforts as have manufacturers. And they have not been receiving that fair return. The farmers were forced to protect themselves and they cannot be justly blamed for making the effort to adjust the inequalities in their economic life. A stronger farm dollar, such as Mr. Wallace suggests, is necessary for the good of the whole country, however slow some sections and some interests have been in reaching that conclusion.

A MAN'S BIGGEST JOB

(Hastings Banner.)

The biggest job confronting any man is that of living a clean, good life, keeping love for God and man always alive in his heart, serving his day and generation by being a friendly man, full of good will toward his fellows. The influence flowing from such a life will always be helpful and constructive. He will be an asset to his neighborhood, his community and his country. The steps of such a man are ordered by a Higher Power. The currents will flow toward his way in life that bring the blessings of sincere friendships, rich experiences, growing character and ability, and at least enough of this world's goods so he need never fear want. The immutable laws and the infinite resources of God are by His word pledged to accomplish that much for such a man.

Isn't it worth striving for? Can a man do less and be true to his God, his neighbor, his country than make a determined, sincere endeavor to grow such a life? If Hastings were filled with that kind of folks, it would be a "little bit of heaven." The supreme need of the race, in order to bring to earth the rule of justice, peace and service, is that men everywhere shall be first of all, men of brotherly good-will. No one of us can cure the world's ills alone. But we will each have the consciousness of helping and not hindering if we acquire that invincible good will ourselves that boosts real kindness of heart by living it, and if we show our faith in goodness by our earnest striving for it.
