Dish Only for the Rich.
The ortolan is a very rare bird, caught only in Italian vineyards. It has to be fattened in a specially constructed dark room before being killed for market, and if during this process a severe thunderstorm takes place, the little bird may die of fright. Small wonder that at a London hotel a dish of ortolans for four diners cost the giver of the feast $50.

Grapes and Temperature.
In a report of the American Chemical society it is shown that weather conditions are an important factor in determining the sugar content of grapes. Warm, dry and cool nights tend to produce the maximum amount of sugar.—Scientific American.

Bullock Carts Rubber Tired.
Native bullock carts in Colombo, Ceylon, are being fitted with rubber tires to allow of easier movement and to check the damage done to road surfaces.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Right.
Indeed, no one can have a true idea of right, until he does it; any genuine reverence for it, till he has done it often and with cost; any peace ineffable in it, till he does it always and with alacrity.—James Martineau.

Cheap, but Priceless.
Kindly words, sympathizing attentions, watchfulness against wounding men's sensitiveness—these cost very little, but they are priceless in their value.—Robertson.

 Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Case of Detroit visited Mrs. Alice Curtis Friday and Saturday.

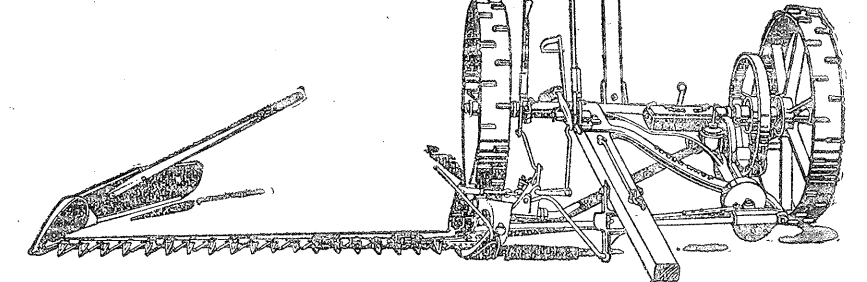

Close of past week was just right for goslings, but dangerous for young turkeys.
 On Thursday of last week Herb Case of Detroit, son-in-law and Clarence Chadwick, grandson of Mrs. Alice Curtis, came with brush in hand and painted the domicile for the old lady. It required two days to spread the beautifier but 'tis well done.
 The idea of the early bird making good on the worm gets a back set in this settlement. Many who planted early tubers have occasion to weep. The potatoes have rotted in the soil and more early seed is like hen's teeth.
 We have heard her say—"I won't spoil my hands washing dishes, I won't pare potatoes, I won't churn. Let mother do the churning down cellar. I will go into the parlor and practice that up to date piece. Who cares for mother now." Won't she be a fortune for some poor man?
 Amiel and Joseph Frutchey visited old chums here on Sunday.
 Do you notice that as the old culls get thick in hearing they have a louder horn attached to their car—thinking that others grow deaf also.
 Every canine has the law protection on his neck here now.
 The meat peddler came along and told four year old Johnny—"Go tell your pa, come get some nice tender meat four months old." Johnny rushed to the old gent, shouting, "The peddler says he has nice meat, but it ain't good for it's been killed four months."
 The shingling is done here this season by an expert from Yale. He has shingled the synagogue, dwelling of Peter Bell, cottage of Miss May Bruce and commenced on the new cottage of A. Webster. In laying on the cedar paste boards, he is known as the "Nonpariel." He does the work well, and will do as much as three ordinary shinglers. We are not putting it strong when we say so.
 The aged reader must be impressed with the youth of our criminals of the present. Fifty and sixty years ago we never heard of a kid of school boy age holding up a bearded man with a gun, ordering him to paw over the "filthy lucre" or bite the dust. And 'tis not the rough class altogether. Many have been well schooled from childhood up. When Robert Rakes organized the Sunday school, it was to train the children of England's cities that they might grow up law abiding men. Bob said do away with the rabble and we would not need the police. We wish Bob could come back and see how things are going today. Think of an educated boy at 17 concluding he can make a living by robbery and get away with it. The devil has more rope than in days of yore.

Cuts Better Lasts Longer

You will appreciate the John Deere Mower the moment you see it in action. You will notice particularly its simplicity, its great cutting power and the ease with which it is handled. These advantages, combined with the extra years of service it gives, makes the John Deere a mighty profitable mower investment.

JOHN DEERE MOWER
The Mower with the Balanced Gears

The driving gears on the John Deere are balanced—one set offsets the thrust of the other set. This eliminates side wear and strain. This mower transmits maximum power to the high grade carefully fitted knife—that's why the John Deere does a better job of cutting and pulls lighter.

Another feature—if after years of use, lag develops in the cutter bar, this can be taken out—the bar is aligned by a simple eccentric adjustment. The John Deere handles easily. The bar can be raised high with the foot lever to pass over ordinary obstructions. With the hand lever an extremely high lift can be secured quickly and easily. It's no job to keep the John Deere in good running order. All parts are easily replaced; adjustments easily made—its simplicity is a real feature.

Be sure to see this mower before you buy. It's the best mower we have ever seen.

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Has the Punch

It follows through — there is no halfhearted piston stroke; neither is there a slapping piston stroke to rack your engine. Instead, Red Crown imparts a steady, steam-engine-like pressure to the piston that sustains and follows through the length of the stroke. That explains both the smooth flow of rhythmic power and the abundance of sustained pulling power. Red Crown offers to the motorist

The Utmost of Service

It has all the intrinsic merit that science has been able to put into any gasoline. It is manufactured so that it will vaporize at just the correct temperatures, to cause instant starting—a quick, snappy get-away—a smooth, gliding acceleration—tremendous power—racing speed if you want it—and most miles per gallon.
