OUR FLAG--WHAT IT STANDS FOR--HOW TO TREAT IT

Readers—Study this, then clip it out and save it.

Symbol

"The flag of the United States symbolizes that freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which our forefathers sacrificed their lives and personal fortunes. Today this flag represents a nation of over 100,000,000 free people, its Constitution and institutions, its achievements and aspirations.

"The national flag represents the living country and is itself considered as a living thing.

Pledge

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States and the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Salute

"During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in parade or review all persons present should stand at attention facing the flag. Men's head-dress should be removed with the right hand and held at the left shoulder. Those present in uniform should salute with the right hand. Women should stand at attention facing the flag or as the flag is passing in parade should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. If the national anthem is played and no flag is present all stand at attention and salute at the first note of the anthem, retaining the position until the last note of the air is played.

Anthem

"The Star-Spangled Banner" is recommended for universal recognition as the national anthem.

Flag Law

"There is but one Federal statute which protects the flag throughout the country from desecration. This law provides that a trademark cannot be registered which consists of or comprises, among other things, the flag, coat of arms or other insignia of the United States or any simulation thereof. (33 Stat. L. p. 725, Feb. 20, 1905.)

Display

"The flag should be displayed from sunrise to sunset only or between such source as designated by proper authority on national and state holidays, and on historic and special occasions. The flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously.

"When carried in a procession with another flag or flags the place of the flag of the United States is on the right.

"When a number of flags are grouped and displayed from staffs the flags of the United States should be in the center or at the highest point of the group.

Platform

"When used on a speaker's platform the flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used to cover the speaker's desk nor drape over the front of the platform.

"When used in unveiling a statue or monument the flag should not be allowed to fall to the ground, but should be carried aloft to wave out, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony.

Church

"When the flag is displayed in church it should be from a staff placed on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman, with the service flag, state flag or other flag on the left wall. If in the chancel the flag of the United States should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation."

Risking his own life by contact with the high voltage third rail of an interurban line, Robert Scott, 13 years old, saved his eleven-year-old brother from certain death at Plainview. The younger boy, Herman, accidentally stepping on the third rail, was knocked unconscious and fell with his leg still in contact with it. Robert dashed to his brother's side, throwing him free of the rail. An application for a national boy scout honor medal has been made by the scout council at Plainview.

The district of Bangor, without a drop of rain since May 13, is reporting almost a total failure of its strawberry crop, the largest acreage ever planted by local growers. It is estimated the strawberry crop will be only 25 per cent normal, while raspberries also are showing the effects of the dry weather. Apples, peaches and pears give promise of a good yield, but there will be only about half a crop of cherries.

Through Attorney Rollin R. Winslow, formerly of Grand Rapids and now of the American consulate at Batavia, Island of Java, the Kent scientific museum will receive a rare aboriginal arsenal, a collection consisting of 70 pieces from New Guinea; 20 from Sumatra and Borneo and a number from Java. This collection was accumulated by Dr. Fay C. Cole, a collector for the Field museum in Chicago.

Petoskey's proposed new charter providing for the revision to the aldermanic type of government was returned by Governor Groesbeck without his approval. In a letter accompanying the returned charter, the governor stated that proceedings leading up to the submission of the question were not taken properly and therefore were invalid. He also noted eight defects in the charter itself.

A. Lawrence Clements, 39 years old, lumber salesman, of Bay City, died at the steering wheel of his car at Frankenmuth junction last week while on this way home from a picnic near Flint. With him were his wife and five children. When the car began to swerve he pulled up to the side of the road, stopped the engine and collapsed.

Three Rivers high school graduated a class of 35 seniors. Miss Helen Fulscher, valedictorian, has the distinction of being the only student ever graduated from the school with an "all A" record for the entire high school course.

Mrs. Florence Superine, 28 years old, wife of George Superine, Shiawassee township farmer, died of burns suffered while starting a fire in her kitchen range. She poured oil on live coals and her clothing was ignited in the explosion that followed.

Sixty juniors of Michigan Agricultural College taking advanced military work in the R. O. T. C. units, have gone for summer training camps to receive intensive military training in preparation for their final year as members of the training corps.

Quality

The great steel structures of modern engineering skill would go to ruin in a few years were the protective coat of paint not renewed as it disintegrated.

Concrete structures need no such protection, but are, by their very nature, everlasting, whether acted upon by the summer sun and the winter winds and storms, or by the corroding acids found in the ground.

Another peculiar thing about concrete is its relative cheapness. It can be used with a saving of from a third to a half on the cost of a good quality steel article.

This superlative permanent quality of concrete has made the

the most popular vault of modern times and its low price has made it available to many who would otherwise be forced to use a wood roughbox.

Get the Big Price for Your Hay

The quality of your hay determines the feeding value and the price. There is often a difference of from $4.00 to $10.00 per ton between choice hay and hay that grades No. 3. Increase your hay-land profits by air-curing your hay. Use a.

John Deere Dain System Rake

Air-cured hay is better hay. It holds its color. The leaves do not become brittle. There is little loss in handling. The hay keeps better in the mow, stack or bale, and is more palatable, more digestible and has greater feeding value. Whether you sell your hay or feed it, your profits are increased when you adopt the Dain system of making hay.

It does not cost you anything extra to air-cure hay. You merely use a Dain System Rake.

The Dain System Rake is the best for this purpose. It is the easiest to operate, and you can handle the heaviest hay because, with the inclined frame, the capacity is the greatest where the quantity of hay handled is largest. And, remember, the curved teeth of the rake lift the hay instead of kicking it.

Drop in and look over the Dain System Rakes we have in stock.

DEFORD NEWS

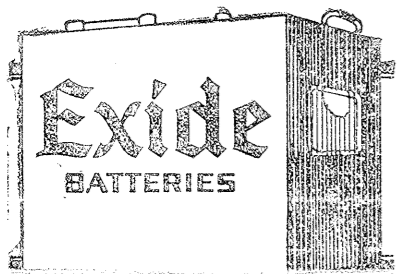

Mr. Bohms of the hardware firm had company from Flint on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson visited Mr. Patterson's brother at Alma Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ostrander went to Mt. Pleasant the last part of the past week. Peter Bell's brother from Tully City visited here Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Amos Webster visited relatives at Oxford Sunday. Miss Mae Bruce visited at the Lew Wheeler home in Cass City Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. S. Sherk were Cass City callers on Saturday. Monday, we saw the Kingston supervisor with his dog list, pointed for Caro. The boy looked sober. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bruce, while in Wisconsin, visited many points of importance, among which was the state college. Miss Alta Malcolm went to Oxford Saturday to visit Miss Bernice Gage for a week. A family whose name we pronounce Bushaw lives one mile east of here. The lady is seriously ill. Kindred from Detroit (I think a daughter) attends her wants at present. Mr. and Mrs. Bohms went to Lake Pleasant Sunday. Wm. Cooper's health don't seem so poor, but his limbs don't gain strength as they should. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderkoo visited at Wilnot Sunday. Strawberries, almost, not quite, without money and without price. What a desolate place the world would be without a flower? It would be a face without a smile—a feast without a welcome. Are not flowers the stars of the earth? And are not our stars the flowers of heaven? A reunion of the Spencers at a point near Clifford Sunday at which 127 mingled. All Spencers and kindred that marriage had worked in went from this locality. The Jacoby family spent Sunday with "Lew" LaValley of Caro. All mankind are feeble-minded, but if selfish enough to gather a large supply of this world's treasure, our fellow creature will doff the hat to our wisdom. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Case of Detroit visited Mrs. Alice Curtis Sunday. We have masticated strawberries from five different plats of soil. Some are sweet enough to please with sugar; others would make a pig squeal, so sour. 'Tis not the different breed of fruit. Either care or soil is the cause. Rolla Bruce lost one of his work horses on Saturday. Roderick Kennedy hived a swarm of bees for Peter Daugherty. Pete will lay aside canineology and study bee culture in the future. Mrs. Frank McCracken of Highland Park was at Clark Courliss' farm Saturday till Tuesday. Samuel Sherk continues to make cement culvert in front of his lot. That's right. The Nile that runs through our city should be covered. It seldom overflows. Elder Hubbard tied a knot the past week that the "grim monster" only should untie. We think it was his first. Let our young people remember he can legally bind and lay their plans accordingly. Last week three young bloods drove a car, came up behind another car on highway a little north of Wilnot, bunted the head vehicle into the ditch and sped on swiftly. No one was gathered nor yet are the sons of Satan found. The car that went into ditch was burned up. Strange case. There was smell of gas but no sniff of liquor. A youth by the name of Earl Miller brought some folks up from Detroit Sunday that he might see the far-famed and sequestered city of Deford. He was pleased with the beauty of the place and marveled at the wisdom of the people. A few of the Mexican beet weeders shook the dust of Novesta from their feet in a huff. They have been replaced by some of the same complexion. We look in vain for a red head, male or female. Visiting with Frank Terry of Alpena, at the Old Folks meeting Friday, we were surprised to learn that he moved away five years ago. Then we hummed "Time flies."

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Barbeck of Detroit visited at Neil Kennedy's Sunday. Mrs. B will be remembered as the daughter of Ransom Spencer, once a boy among us. Mr. and Mrs. L. Patch, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Patch and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Patch, all of Detroit, were Deford visitors Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bruce returned Thursday from a two weeks' visit in Wisconsin. Caro reports 150 more dogs settled for. Give time to count the money over. Our garage man is crowded with work. Miss Mae Bruce's house will be ready for occupancy by the time this item is before the public. Herman Siewert of Detroit, an old chum of Mr. Bohms, is here visiting the latter. Three years ago a member of our old folks society put in rhyme some lines entitled, "The Pioneer." The composer could not sing, but searched in vain the three years for a fellow creature that could string the lines up in tune. Finally he tackled our pastor, a man that is gifted with an ear for music. He clothed the piece with a tune, and if all are alive and well, come to next gathering and you may hear Rev. Hubbard in song, rendering "The Brave Old Pioneer." The Upstreamers club gathered in $28.00 at social held Friday night on Dr. Merriman's lawn. Ray Nutt labors at milk station for the present. Five years ago, the old people in the vicinity of Novesta Corners arranged for an old settlers' meeting once a year. First it was held in August; now the date of meeting is June 20th. Next one will be at the home of M. H. Quick on section 16, Novesta. They met this year at the Wentworth home in Northeast Kingston nearly 100 strong and had a "gala day." You see, we met that old acquaintance may not be forgot. Not closely tied down by rules of etiquette, we visit promiscuously antiquated girls and boys and the beauty of it all is we are so old that none are jealous. We did not get the minutes of the meeting but think the secretary of the society will send them to the Chronicle. I think that Geo. Lombard of Kingston was the oldest member present. He will be 80 next September. Sad to say they are "falling one by one." James Davison of Royal Oak visited his sister, Mrs. Mary Parks, here on Sunday.

CASS CITY HAPPENINGS TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Items from the Cass City Enterprise of June 30, 1898. A. J. Knapp left last Saturday for Saginaw where he has joined the Saginaw ball team in the state league. He is at present playing first base and we notice doing it in good style. He is also hitting the ball in his usual way. Attorney Brooker attended the creamery meeting at Gagetown Tuesday afternoon and enlightened the stockholders on several points of law pertaining to their organization. W. M. Morris, V. S., was called to Caro last week to operate upon a horse. Miss Martha McArthur has returned from Ypsilanti. She received a diploma and life certificate from the state normal college June 22. She has been engaged to teach in the Pontiac schools for the coming year. Seldom, if ever, in the history of Cass City has greater interest been manifested in the commencement exercises than that shown by the immense crowd present Friday evening at the M. E. church. After filling the spacious audience and Epworth League rooms to repletion, aisles were crowded even to the strain of legal limits and vestibule packed with a standing surplus. The salutory by Miss Ora Wickware was thoroughly prepared, filled with appropriate sentiments and well delivered. Edward Pinney on "Elements of Progress" gave evidence of a comprehensive outlook and exhaustive research. Miss Myrtle Brooker presented the class poem in a distinct voice and easy manner. Miss Florence Clark's "Class Prophecy" was a rotary conception and as Miss Florence rolled her majestic wheel into space, it proved an appropriate, well developed conception and one furnishing an available medium by which to portray the future of each member. Miss Harriet Deming's essay, "The Wealth of a Well-stored Mind" was thoroughly prepared and well delivered. Fred Bigelow—the program prints the name Frederick, but most of us have become so accustomed to saying Fred that it has been found difficult, in so short a time, to get the pronouncing machine geared to Frederick and again it appears hardly proper to hang so long a name on so short a boy. All that needs to be said is Frederick makes a splendid class historian. Pearl Schenck's oration, "The American Navy" is a subject always interesting to boys and Pearl though a grave and dignified senior was all smiles and presented a very youthful appearance. Miss Gertrude Schooley was valedictorian. Her address was prepared and delivered in a way that met the expectations of friends from one bearing the highest honors of the class. Highly appreciative words were spoken in behalf of the absent hero of the class, Dick S. Landon. Rev. B. J. Baxter pronounced the benediction.

Does morning find you with a lame, stiff and aching back? Are you tired all the time—find work a burden? Have you suspected your kidneys? Cass City people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on their statements. O. A. Withey, farmer, Main street, Cass City, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on and they always give me wonderful relief from backache. I had a lame back brought on by continuous stooping and hard work. I suffered from a dull ache over my kidneys and they acted irregularly. My kidneys were so weak and I had to sit down and rest. Mornings when I got up I had such a backache I could hardly get around to do my work and I felt tired and languid all day. After taking a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, I was rid of those awful backaches and my strength returned so I could do any amount of work." Price 60c, at all dealers. FORECLOSURE SALE.

Default having been made in the payment of money due on a certain mortgage, bearing date the third day of March, A. D. 1911, made and executed by W. H. Anderson and Annie M. Anderson, his wife, to E. Plan to Mark Historic Sites at Yorktown

After the lapse of nearly a century and a half it seems highly probable that something will be done to preserve and mark the historic sites in Yorktown, Va., the scene of Lord Cornwallis' surrender and of stirring incidents in each succeeding war of the nation. Yorktown was partly destroyed by the British in 1812, again by the Union troops in 1861, and during the World War Yorktown was an important naval base and mine depot.

and various redoubts erected for the defense of the town against Washington and his troops.

There are but two monuments at Yorktown. The most imposing one, standing within the town limits and overlooking the York river, was authorized by a resolution of congress on October 29, 1871, but was not erected until 1881-82. It cost $95,000, and is a memorial of victory.

Marks Surrender Spot.

A plain little marker stands on the probable site of the surrender. It was built by a superintendent of the national cemetery which adjoins it, who was hopeful that the government would erect a larger one in time.

Original fortifications, built by the Americans and British, still are in a fair state of preservation. One of these is Fort Mifflin, a British redoubt, so named because it was stormed and taken by Col. Alexander Hamilton in the latter days of the siege. It is to preserve and properly mark these historic sites that the Colonial Dames are bending their energies to have a sufficient appropriation made by congress.

July Fourth

Backward again our country looks to see The far beginnings of this fateful day; This day which once meant death or liberty. The opening of a new and untrod way.

What pages since have in our nation's life Been written both in blood and lines of fire; What growth and gains, with vital import life, Have raised us high, and still our hopes inspire!

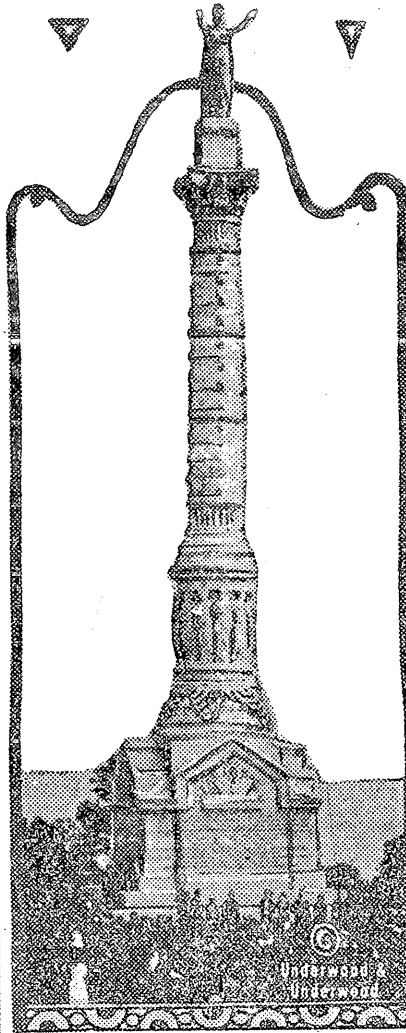

Grant, gracious God, that we, like those of old, Our lives, our fortunes, and our all may yield That this fair land shall freedom's birthright hold. Be Thou, as then, Thyself, our sun and shield, Our sun to light the path our feet should tread, Our shield to guard from unsuspected foes— The foe without, the foe within more dread— From wreckful war and subtle treason's woes.

So may this day with every fresh return Behold us richer in earth's best estate— High aims that shall like quenchless beacons burn, To guide the world to ends supremely great. —Phillip B. Strong, in Kansas City Star.

siderable population. On the main street of Yorktown was the first custom house established in America, the port of entry for New York, Philadelphia, and other northern cities. Oldest House Still Occupied. The oldest house now standing in Yorktown was erected in 1699. Its brick walls are still in an excellent state of preservation, and the house is occupied as its residence. The Yorktown inn, another landmark, was erected in 1725, and here were entertained many distinguished visitors, including Washington, Cornwallis, Lafayette and Virginia notables of the Colonial period.

The present courthouse stands on the site of the original house of justice, which was built in 1697, but like a majority of the original structures, was destroyed by Union troops during the Civil war. Other historic places are the Nelson house, headquarters for Cornwallis during the siege of Yorktown; the Moore house, where the articles of surrender were drawn up; Cornwallis' cave, which he used as a storehouse for ammunition.

At the earnest and cordial invitation of the Mt. Hope Presbyterian church at Lansing, Mich., I have, after much deliberation and prayer, decided to accept their unanimous call to become their pastor.

I shall, therefore, close my ministry here in Cass City on the last Sunday of July which will also complete three years of service as your minister.

I look back today on purposes only very partially accomplished. I look back upon endeavors that have not altogether been in vain; here and there, there are cheering achievements of which I shall speak more fully at our congregational meeting Sabbath morning, July 8, at which time you will be asked to vote on this resignation, by orders of your session.

In conclusion, I wish warmly to thank every member of the church and congregation, for the very many kindnesses shown us during our stay in our midst.

You have spared no effort to make it pleasant. For these tokens of your Christian goodness, I am deeply grateful.

Very sincerely yours, WILLIAM W. EDWARDS.
