F. A. BLISS HONOR GUEST AT FAREWELL BANQUET

Former Harness Merchant Will Move with Family to Ann Arbor.

Forty-five business men, friends of F. A. Bliss, gave a farewell banquet in his honor at the Hotel Gordon on Friday evening, July 11. Following a splendid fish dinner, a short program of addresses and musical numbers was given. M. B. Auten presided as toastmaster. E. L. Heller gave some "Frank Remarks," Rev. Wm. Schnug told of "Blissful Days" and J. D. Brooker spoke on the subject, "Collecting Our Thoughts."

The speakers expressed their regret in the removal of Mr. Bliss and his family from Cass City and their appreciation of his worth as a citizen here. Mr. Bliss responded with a brief talk.

The company was favored by vocal solos from G. W. Landon and Maurice Dailey. Miss Lura DeWitt accompanied them as pianist and both gentlemen responded to encores.

Mr. Bliss conducted a harness store and repair shop in Cass City for several years until last December when he disposed of the business to Wm. Bentley. Mr. and Mrs. Bliss and family will move to Ann Arbor within a few days to make their home in that city.

KING SOLOMON WAS A LUCKY CHAP AFTER ALL

While our wives, mothers, grandmothers and daughters have their heads bobbed and shingled, the barbers appear to be the last to discourage the new styles of hair dressing. And they have good reasons for advocating the benefits of the new methods. Listen!

David Tyo, who has been in the barber business since 1879 and a greater part of that period in Cass City, had an unusual experience Saturday when a family of seven came into his shop to have their hair trimmed according to the prevailing styles. Father, mother, four daughters and one son were in the crowd, the children ranging from two to 13 years in age. Mr. Tyo says it was the first time ever that a family of that number all had the job done on the same day.

Things may have been pretty slow back in King Solomon's time and he may have missed lots of pleasure by not living in the days of the automobile and aeroplane, but he may thank his lucky stars that shingle bobs and marcelled days were delayed several thousand years after his time. Just imagine King Sol receiving a bill from the court barber and Solomon having some 700 wives who wanted to have their crowning glory trimmed and curled in the late fads of 1924.

WINS TRIP TO ALASKA.

Allan E. Woodhull, former cashier of the Shabbona Bank and who has made his headquarters in Caro for the past year as district agent for the Peoria Life Insurance Co., has the distinction of writing a quarter-million life insurance during the 12 months. As a reward he and Mrs. Woodhull have been given a trip to Alaska with expenses paid by the company. They expect to leave the last of the month. Their return trip will take them to Seattle and Los Angeles. They plan to be absent from Michigan about three months.

LARGE ACREAGE OF BEANS REPORTED

EXCELLENT STANDS HAVE RESULTED FROM PLANTINGS IN STATE.

Largest Acreage of Sugar Beets on Record Has Been Planted in Michigan.

Field crops, with the exception of hay, have improved during June according to the monthly report issued by L. Whitney Watkins, Commissioner of Agriculture and V. H. Church, Agricultural Statistician. The season is from two to three weeks later than usual and frequent rains in the southern counties have interfered with cultivation. Many fields of corn, beans, potatoes and sugar beets are unusually grassy as a result. The rains have also delayed haying operations and damaged much hay in process of being harvested. The northern half of the state was practically without rain until the closing days of June, and conditions there have been too dry for a normal growth of crops but favorable for cultivation and the advancement of other farm work.

Winter wheat prospects are the best since 1919, the average condition being 91 per cent representing a production of 16,453,000 bushels. This is practically the same quantity as produced in 1923 from a considerably larger acreage. The condition of spring wheat is 82 per cent, equivalent to a crop of 103,000 bushels. The stock of old wheat remaining on farms July 1 is estimated at 1,077,000 bushels or 6 1/2 per cent of the 1923 crop.

Corn, with a condition figure of 71 per cent of normal, offers the poorest showing of any major crop. Planting was completed later than usual, much replanting was necessary in many sections, and the weather has averaged too cool for best growth. A considerable increase in acreage was contemplated but the adverse conditions caused some of the intended acreage to be diverted to beans and other cultures. Turn to page 2.

EAST DAYTON ROAD JOB LET TUESDAY FOR $8,715

Building Mile of Road Will Close Gap on No. 46 between Kingston and Caro.

Tuscola county road commissioners let the job of constructing one mile of gravel road just east of East Dayton on Tuesday to J. E. Van Horn of Wilmot for $8,715.00. Building this mile of road closes the gap on state trunk line No. 46, making an improved road all the way from Kingston to Caro.

Six other contractors submitted bids on this job as follows: Dodds Bros., North Branch, $12,396.11; Martin McKenize & Co., Cass City, $11,434.53; Moore-Elmer Construction Co., Sandusky, $10,792.04; John E. Marsh, Gladwin, $11,672.37; Arthur Bedtelon, Montrose, $11,948.53; Lynch & Matthews, Silverwood, $9,381.65; C. Underwood, Caro, $9,960.40.

In an attempt to get the paving construction of the Quanicasee road started this summer, a party of Bay City business men met Tuesday with the state administration board at Lansing. The men urged immediate progress with the work. The pavement under discussion will be eight miles long, starting at the end of Center avenue pavement at Bay City and running east over the Bay-Tuscola county line and to a point 3 1/2 miles east thereof. It is not expected that the entire project could be completed this year, but with immediate action, Bay City business men think that the stretch from the end of Center Ave. to the county line could be finished before the beet hauling season opens. The state administrative board on Tuesday authorized Highway Commissioner Frank Rogers to proceed with the preliminary work of improving the Quanicasee road. An effort will be made to pave at least one mile this year and to do the other preliminary work without interference with the sugar beet traffic.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN REACHES 80TH MILESTONE

Henry McMorrin, director of the First National Bank of Port Huron, manager and owner of the Port Huron & Sarnia Ferry Company, and actively identified with other business interests, observed his 80th birthday recently. At 80 Mr. McMorrin is just as active and just as busy looking after his varied interests as a man of 50. A good day's work faithfully performed is to him a tonic. For several years he served the seventh district as Republican representative in congress.—Michigan Investor.

RESIDENT OF GREENLEAF TOWNSHIP FOR 50 YEARS

Mrs. Archie Campbell Passed Away at Her Greenleaf Home on July 12.

One of the few remaining pioneers of Greenleaf township, Mrs. Nancy Campbell, passed away on Saturday morning, July 12, at the age of 80 years and 8 days.

She is survived by seven children, Mrs. A. R. Brooks of Detroit, Mrs. A. W. Rice of Minden City, James Campbell of Port Huron, Duncan Campbell of Seattle, Wash., Mrs. H. J. McKay of Cass City, and Colon and Angus Campbell of Greenleaf. All with the exception of Duncan Campbell were with her at her death. She is also survived by four brothers, John McGillivray of Donora, Pa., Neil McGillivray of Menness, Pa., Daniel McGillivray of Florida, and Duncan McGillivray of Cass City; three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Simpson of Donora, Pa., Miss Sarah McGillivray of Jackson, Mich., and Mrs. Mary Lutze of Niagara Falls, Ont., and 13 grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends who mourn her passing.

Nancy McGillivray was born in Dunwich township, Ontario, on July 4, 1844, the oldest of a family of 12. Her parents came to Michigan and settled in Greenleaf township in 1868. She followed from Canada shortly after. In 1870 she was united in marriage with Archibald Campbell, the son of Duncan Campbell, the first pioneer to settle in Sheridan township, Huron county. After their marriage, they settled in Greenleaf township near the site of the old homestead.

The funeral services, held in the Frazier church, were conducted by Rev. Newberry, pastor of the Baptist church of Cass City, assisted by Rev. F. T. Kyle of Erskine church and Rev. Hench of Uby. Interment was made in the family lot in Elkland cemetery, beside her husband who preceded her in death seven years ago. One son, John, passed away 22 years ago.

Four grandsons and two nephews bore the remains to their final resting place. Five cousins, Dan, Malcolm and John M. Blue, John McNeil of Ontario and Wm. Minister of Detroit acted as honorary bearers.

Relatives and friends from a distance in attendance at the services were: Wm. and Clarence Minster, and Gertrude Canham of Detroit, Mrs. John McGillivray of Donora, Pa., Sarah McGillivray of Jackson, Mich., and Mrs. Harriet Ross of Saginaw.

MAIN STREET PAVING JOB STARTED TUESDAY

The Taylor Construction Co. of Birmingham commenced the job of paving Main Street Tuesday morning. Workmen started breaking up the road at the east end of the street and several crosswalks were torn up the first of the week.

Village officials have made arrangements for traffic entering from the east to go through fields on the farms of C. J. Striffler and Morton Orr until the street situated on the south side of the fairgrounds is reached.

FAIR PREMIUM LISTS ARE BEING DISTRIBUTED

Prizes Offered for Club Exhibits Are of Special Interest to Young Folks.

Premium lists, giving detailed information regarding premiums offered on live stock, farm produce, poultry, fruits, paintings, fancy work and other exhibits at the Cass City Fair, Aug. 12-15, are being distributed this week. If the reader fails to receive one, he may secure a copy by making his request known through a telephone call or postal card to D. W. Benkelman, the secretary, or a call on this officer at the Pinney State Bank.

Information regarding tickets and special free attractions, and the regulations of the Bureau of Animal Industry as they concern exhibits of live stock at fairs, together with the dates of other Michigan fairs and other information are also found in this booklet.

The premium list has been quite thoroughly revised this year, the greatest number of changes appearing in Division H, devoted to Floral Hall exhibits.

Of especial interest to the younger folks are the prizes which are offered for club exhibits. It is expected that there will be 41 exhibits in boys' and girls' club work. Of this number 22 will come from the pig club, 12 from the calf club and 7 from the sow and litter club.

Members of the pig club are giving better attention to feeding than was manifested last season. Members of the sow and litter club will each enter a sow and the best male and female pig of their group. Nevels Pearson of Lansing, assistant state club leader, expects to visit Cass City in about a month. He will visit members of the calf club and instruct members how to fit their exhibits for the fair.

The boys' and girls' clubs have been responsible for introducing 57 pure bred animals in this community. The local clubs are doing practically all the club work being promoted in Tuscola county.

DECREASE IN WHITE PEA BEAN ACREAGE

The preliminary estimates on beans offer some very interesting comparisons and Michigan farmers and dealers will do well to keep these figures in mind during the coming year. While the total acreage planted is 60,000 greater than in 1923, there is an actual decrease of 116,000 acres in the states growing the white pea bean and an increase of 176,000 acres in Colorado and New Mexico whose crops are principally of the Pinto variety. While it is too early to predict what the volume of the crop will be the present condition represents an increase in the two Pinto states of 1,190,000 bushels and a decrease of 3,301,000 bushels in the pea bean states as compared with last year. As two and three-fourths millions of this decrease is in California, the Michigan crop will constitute a larger percentage of the white beans and undoubtedly be of greater influence on the bean market than ever before.

Rev. and Mrs. Merle Townsend and infant son visited friends in Shabbona a few days last week. Rev. Townsend was formerly the pastor of Shabbona and Decker charges and leaves this country in about a month for Panama where he will be pastor of the English speaking church.

I. WAIDLEY LOSES FARM RESIDENCE BY FIRE

The large farm residence of Isaiah Waidley in Elmwood township was burned to the ground late Monday afternoon. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it probably started from a spark dropping on the roof and igniting the shingles. The greater part of the household goods were saved. The residence consisted of three parts, two of them two-story 18x28 and 18x27 in size, and a one-story part 18x26. Insurance to the amount of $2,000 was carried on the residence, but it would take several times that amount to rebuild the structure. A tenant house situated about 40 feet from the Waidley residence was protected by trees to a great extent Monday afternoon, and though it caught fire from sparks several times, the blaze was promptly extinguished by the fire fighters. Mr. and Mrs. Waidley are making their home in the tenant house for the present.

OIL CO. CLOSED PROSPEROUS YEAR

LOCAL STOCK ORGANIZATION DECLARED 20 PER CENT DIVIDEND.

Frank Auslander Elected President, A. E. Goodall, Vice Pres., and Robt. Warner, Sec.-Mgr.

Stockholders of the Cass City Oil and Gas Co. and friends to the number of about 200 attended the annual meeting of the company Thursday evening, July 10, listened to reports of the officers and received the welcome news of the declaration of a 20 per cent dividend on the capital stock of $27,200.00.

Directors were elected as follows: For three years, Frank Auslander and A. E. Goodall; for two years, S. J. Mitchell and Mark Bond; for one year, Lewis Travis and Chas. E. Hartwell.

The board of directors elected the following officers: President, Frank Auslander; vice president, A. E. Goodall; secretary-treasurer and manager, Robt. Warner.

Mr. Warner, as manager, reported that last year's business was not as heavy as the previous year in dollars and cents owing to the snow blockade of last winter and the lower price of gasoline. The volume of sales considered from the quantity or gallon standpoint showed an increase, however. He reported the installation of a 10 gallon visible pump at the substation at Argyle and the intention of a like improvement at the substation at Gagetown.

Stockholders have received dividends amounting to 40 per cent in the last three years, 10 per cent in each of the first two and 20 per cent for the year just closed.

"The original issue of stock was $36,400.00," says Manager Warner "and the value of real estate, equipment and merchandise has since been increased through the profits of the business to $42,200.00. I consider that the value of the stock to the members of the company now in the organization to be 55 per cent above the par value of $100 a share."

A lunch was served after the annual meeting on Thursday night. Forty dozen donuts, 200 sandwiches, 15 gallons of ice cream and a "small lake" of coffee were served to those in attendance.

Kelly's Herd Highest in Butterfat in Tuscola Testing Ass'n No. 1 for Month

Walter Kelley of Cass City has high herd in butterfat in Tuscola county nearly 10 per cent above 1250 Cow Testing Association No. 1 for month. Forty-four cows produced the month. Mr. Kelley's herd of 8 from 40 to 50 pounds of fat and only grade Holsteins averaged 1047.9 10 above 50 pounds.

Sixteen members fed grain on pasture during the month and these herds are being watched to see if "grain on grass" pays. Possibly the cows won't give enough more milk at the present time to pay for the grain, there is a certainty that these grass grazed cows are going to stay in better flesh so when the drought and short pasture come they will have a reserve to fall back upon. Four unprofitable cows were sold during the month and one tuberculosis reactor. Two hundred head were tested for tuberculosis in the vicinity of Cass City recently and only one reactor found.

Some members are talking of showing at the local fairs this fall. Herd owners should show to Tuscola county fair visitors that Tuscola is a dairy county and has some good dairy stock. Two carloads of good fat. This is the highest production for any month thus far in this association. 64 cows produced from 1000 to 1250 pounds of milk, while 37 produced above 1250 pounds. Better than 27 per cent produced above 1000 pounds and herd in butterfat in Tuscola county nearly 10 per cent above 1250 Cow Testing Association No. 1 for month. Forty-four cows produced the month. Mr. Kelley's herd of 8 from 40 to 50 pounds of fat and only grade Holsteins averaged 1047.9 10 above 50 pounds.

tivated crops. As a result the increase is but one per cent over last year, or a total of 1,703,000 acres. The present outlook is for a crop of 48,356,000 bushels as compared with 58,167,000 in 1923.

The Michigan crop of oats is practically the same as that produced in 1923, according to the present estimate which is 48,930,000 bushels. The condition of 84 per cent is the same as the ten-year average, a gain of five per cent over last month, and seven per cent better than one year ago.

The acreage devoted to potatoes is four per cent less than last year according to the preliminary estimate, or 301,000 acres, the smallest area planted since 1919. More commercial fertilizer is being used and more farmers are specializing in the growing of certified seed. These progressive movements will tend to increase the yield per acre and a corresponding increase in profits. The reported condition is 88 per cent although it is too early to establish the exact situation. This figure, if maintained to the end of the season, represents a production of 27,548,000 bushels. This is more than 8,000,000 bushels less than that of last year.

The hay crop is relatively light in the northern and western districts, but is generally good in most of the other counties. The condition of all tame hay averages 81 per cent and of alfalfa 94 per cent for the state. The present estimate is for a crop of 3,919,000 tons which is practically the same production as last year.

The barley crop has improved four per cent during June, now being rated at 84 per cent, representing a production of 3,459,000 bushels as against 3,600,000 bushels in 1923. Conditions are generally favorable except that the harvest will be later than usual.

Rye continues promising with a condition of 91 per cent, five per cent better than on the same date last year. The present outlook is for a crop of 5,465,000 bushels. The reduced acreage has lessened the prospective production by slightly over one million bushels as compared with last year.

Michigan growers have again planted a large acreage of beans. Because of the lateness of the season and necessity of replanting many fields of spring crops, beans were substituted in many cases in the second plantings. As a result, the preliminary inquiry made through regular correspondents and through the co-operation of the county agricultural agents indicates an acreage only two per cent less than last year's, or 557,000. Excellent stands resulted from most of the plantings, but considerable damage has since been done in many localities by the bean maggot, reducing the condition to 87 per cent or four per cent below that of one year ago. This figure represents a production of 6,057,000 bushels or about one-half million bushels less than the 1923 crop.

The largest acreage of sugar beets on record has been planted in Michigan this year, the various companies reporting a total of 179,000 acres as compared with 109,000 harvested last year. The present condition is placed at 88 per cent which is equivalent to a production of 1,233,000 tons of beets. The United States' area planted totals 917,000 acres as compared with 657,000 harvested in 1923. The largest acreage ever harvested was 872,000 in 1920. The present crop forecasts a production of 7,344,000 tons of beets and 939,000 tons of sugar.

Fruit prospects have declined very materially during June. The extremely cool weather during and following the blooming period caused a reduction in the set of some fruits and a heavy crop drop in nearly all kinds.

Michigan Happenings

Mrs. Etta Hoadley, 40 years old, Dowagiac, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed their farm home, five miles west of Dowagiac. Mrs. Hoadley poured kerosene into a kitchen stove, causing an explosion. She rushed to a bedroom where rescue was cut off by spreading flames. Rescue workers who pulled the bed to the door found the body of a newly born child lying dead beside the mother. December 9, 1906, a brother and sister of Mrs. Hoadley were burned to death when trapped in an upstairs room of their home.

The new county jail at Fremont has been completed at a cost of $14,978.18, which is $21.82 less than the amount of the bond issue voted by the county for that purpose. The lowest bid from outside parties was for $21,000. Sheriff Noble McKinley, who is a contractor and builder, agreed to build it within the bond issue and was allowed by the board of supervisors to go ahead with the job. The building was recently inspected by a member of the board of corrections and charities and the work was very satisfactory.

The waterways committee of the Bay City Chamber of Commerce has announced the opening of another boat line out of Bay City. The second line will run to Alpena and Rogers City. Elnwald Hanson, of Alpena, has purchased the C. and M., a government boat that has been a relief ship in the lighthouse service. She has capacity of 300 tons dead weight. The owner of the boat is now conditioning her in the Clute slip at the Third street bridge. She has already been rated by the American shipping bureau.

Petitions placed in circulation by the Merchants' bureau of Lansing, ask that a special election be called to vote on a bond issue to provide for the paving of Michigan and Washington avenues. The paving is asked at this time to provide employment for several hundred men out of work through the closing of factories. The proposal for the paving was lost at the spring election, but city officials claim this was because it was on the ballot with a number of outlying streets.

John Quarter, speed officer, is reported, was discharged recently from the Grand Rapids police department for speeding. On the night of July 4, while off duty, he is said to have driven a borrowed automobile at a rate of nearly 80 miles an hour and escaped a pursuing motorcycle officer by driving through a sandy stretch of road several miles from this city. His identity was established through the license number of the car.

Forty delegates, appointed by their respective communities in counties interested in the formation of metropolitan areas, met at the Board of Commerce, Detroit, recently and organized themselves as the Michigan Metropolitan Conference. Permanent officers were named to set about the immediate preparation of a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the State Legislature.

Fred Southcombe, former treasurer of the Capital City Lodge, No. 45, I. O. O. F., who left Lansing last January with his funds $1,300 short, waived examination in Justice Court and was bound over to Circuit Court for trial. Southcombe went west after leaving notes indicating that he had ended his life. He was recognized by a friend and his arrest followed.

William Bodkin, 15, is dead near Unionville, victim of a rifle bullet fired accidentally during a "wild west" show which he and his brothers were staging in a barn on their father's farm. The boys were imitating a western picture which they had seen recently at a Unionville motion picture house. William was shot through the abdomen and bled to death.

W. A. Blake, 92 years old, one of the oldest Masons in Michigan, is dead at his home in Galesburg, nine miles east of Kalamazoo. He was a pioneer hardware dealer and served one term in the state House of Representatives, 1890-92. He was initiated into the Masonic order at Climax, Oct. 15, 1853.

Separated from their mother 20 years, Melvin M. Brush, of Kalamazoo and his brother, William A. Sweet, of Detroit, have appealed to the sheriff here for assistance in finding their missing parent.

Clifford Falcove, 3 years old, fell from a third floor window of his home in Detroit, while his mother was in another part of the house. He was taken to Receiving Hospital where it was found his skull, three ribs and his right arm were fractured. It was believed he would recover.

Two persons were injured when a south bound D. U. R. interurban collided with a heavy gravel truck on Woodward avenue, south of Bloomfield Highlands, near Pontiac.

Michigan paid income taxes into the federal treasury for the calendar year 1922 of $34,965,003, according to announcement by the commissioner of internal revenue. The total net income was $796,411,946. Out of a total population in the state of 3,889,418 there were 267,953 personal returns, or 3.95 per cent of the state's population. The report shows that Detroit furnished nearly one-half of the personal returns, or a total of 127,780. Grand Rapids stands next with 19,050 and Highland Park third with 6,705.

Two barns on the farm of Ferdinand Palma, one-half mile south of Ypsilanti, were burned to the ground, with a loss of more than $50,000. The origin of the fire is not known. It started in the cattle barn, which had just been remodeled at a cost of $5,000. The barn was plastered and white-enameled, with running water and electric lights. The ice-house also was burned and 20 tons of cattle feed destroyed. The city fire department saved four other smaller barns. All the cattle and horses were unharmed.

The loan of Henry Ford to the city of Detroit of $5,000,000 has been renewed at a rate of 3 per cent interest, as compared to the old rate of 4 per cent. This announcement was made by Richard W. Reading, city controller, who has been negotiating for some time with the Ford company. Reading also has succeeded in renewing loans made by banks at a lower rate of interest. The city has been receiving short term loans from the banks at 4 1/2 per cent, but the new rate is set at 3 1/2 per cent.

Leonard T. Hands, state insurance commissioner and receiver for the defunct United States Automobile Insurance company, of Bay City, filed suits in circuit court against four more Shiawassee county automobile owners who had policies with the company. STEPHENS' ROOM

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

THERE was a note from Stephens in the morning mail asking me to come to his room for a few minutes; he was ill, and he wanted to see me. I was not intimately acquainted with Stephens. He had worked in my office for a year or so, I had known that he lived in a rather remote place, that he went out little, that he got no help from home, but I had given him little serious consideration. He was always immaculately clean, his clothes were carefully kept, though he never had anything new. He had never seemed to me particularly remarkable or especially interesting.

I got a new idea of him when I entered his room. He was seated by a table a little pale from his illness, and he rose as I came in.

"I'm ashamed to have taken so much of your time," he said, "but I've always wanted you to see my room."

It was a cheap little room in the commonest house; it was heated by a soft coal stove, and lighted by a kerosene lamp; it was in every way old-fashioned and unmodern, but it had distinction and it told me more in a moment of Stephens' tastes and character than I had previously learned during all the months that I had known him.

Everywhere there was order and everywhere from the books on the table and the cheap prints on the walls to the woven coverlet on the bed—it was one his mother had made as a girl Stephens told me—and the braided rugs on the floor, there was refinement and simple good taste. I had not thought before that a room could reveal so much of a man.

He paid but four dollars a month for this room and he had no money to waste on decorations, but he had put himself into it, he had glorified it, he had surrounded himself with the most beautiful things he had or could afford and these things gave him pleasure, they added to his self-respect, and they gave pleasure and satisfaction to all who came to visit him.

As I sat looking around at the simple, cheap, but satisfying appointments of Stephens' room, my mind reverted instinctively to Mrs. Clayton. She is an impressive showy woman who dresses elegantly and almost tastefully and who lives in a pretentious house. When one talks to her she reveals the external signs of education and cultivation. She has traveled, she talks easily, she goes with the best people in town. It is only when one enters her house that one sees how vulgar and commonplace her tastes are. Everywhere the fact is shrieked in one's ear from the ornate ugly furniture to the silly tawdry pictures on the wall; from the expensive glaring rugs on the floor to the clutter of bizarre bric-a-brac heaped together on every available table and mantel-piece. Everything in the little room in which Stephens lived cost less than one-half as much as the smallest of Mrs. Clayton's ugly rugs; he had no money, but he had taste.

Perhaps we should hesitate, many of us, to have our characters read or our tastes determined by a look into our closets or our bureau drawers, or a visit to the houses or the rooms in which we live, but all of these things like Stephens' room tell a vivid gripping tale of our ideals, our tastes, and our real characters.

"PONTIFF"

"Pontiff" originally was applied to the chief priest of the Roman religion. It comes from "pons" and "facere," to make a bridge. The first pontiff was Ancus Marcius, credited with having built the Sublician bridge over the Tiber river at Rome. The name now is chiefly applied to the pope as the supreme pontiff of the Catholic church.

NORTH AND SOUTH

DISPLAY B. B. ABILITY

There was less base ball science displayed and more fun enjoyed by players and fans here last Thursday afternoon than has prevailed at any game on the local diamond this season.

Early reports gave the South side the victory in an eight-inning contest. The score book, however, shows the North side had the greater number of runs.

Table with columns for South players (A. Bigelow, F. Pinney, Biddle, C. Graham, C. Patterson, A. Walker, F. Reid, Hartwick, H. Doerr, Nowland) and their scores.

Table with columns for North players (G. Patterson, Wayne, Ward, H. Dickinson, Callen, Hutchinson, Wallace, J. Holcomb, Brackenbury, Ashley, Sherman) and their scores.

Cass City Defeats Vassar.

Cass City leaguers defeated Vassar on the local diamond here Friday afternoon by a 19-3 score. The locals hit the ball hard and frequently which accounts for their heavy scoring.

Respect for Books

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK, Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I RAN across grandmother's geography this morning. "The Village Elementary Geography," standing primly beside Bob's "First Year Latin Lessons." Bob is my nephew. Grandmother's book is yellowed with age, but, save for a few thumb prints, the pages are clean and without dog-ears. It is still covered with the bright calico which her grandmother sewed on for her to keep the book from being soiled or injured when the little girl carried it to school.

Grandmother's name and the date are on the fly leaf written in a cramped childish hand, for grandmother was only eight when she got the book, and the date is near the beginning of the last century. They had respects for books in those days.

Roberts' book presents a somewhat different appearance. It was bought only a few months ago, but the cover is torn and battered and hangs by a thread. Inside pages are mutilated or missing and pen sketches and hieroglyphics are scrawled across the text, making it almost unreadable. As I turn through I find dignified Cicero wearing sombrero and smoking a pipe, and Caesar with a beard done in India ink. The book has suffered every insult and indignity possible to be thought of by a child of fourteen.

Robert knows more than grandmother did at his age, but neither he nor the children with whom he associates have much love or respect for books. As for me, I should as soon see a dear friend adorned as a book I have worked with and come to know and to understand. I do not mind the ordinary wear of use and age any more than I am annoyed by wrinkles in the face of my friends who are growing old, but intentional indignities hurt me.

Is it because books are so plentiful or so cheap that we care so little for them? Is it because they cost us now no sacrifice, no struggle, no tender thought or anxious anticipation that we think of them so lightly and toss them about so carelessly? I have heard grandmother tell how happy she was and how proud when her father first put the little geography into her hands. Neither children nor college students often feel so today.

We give courses in the appreciation of poetry and music and art; we have made rapid advancement in teaching children since grandmother's time. Why do we not still teach them to love and respect their books?

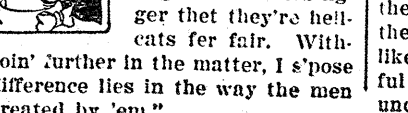

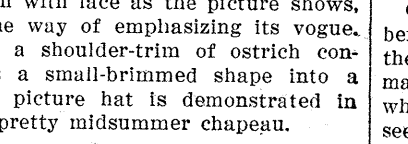

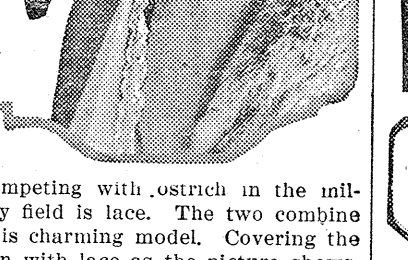

Lace and Ostrich Compete in the Millinery Field

Competing with ostrich in the millinery field is lace. The two combine in this charming model. Covering the crown with lace as the picture shows, is one way of emphasizing its vogue. That a shoulder-trim of ostrich converts a small-brimmed shape into a truly picture hat is demonstrated in this pretty midsummer chapeau.

Advance Millinery Shows an Era of High Crowns

Coming crowns cast their tallness before. It is the crown which foretells the millinery trend. If it is high, mannish and "different" from that which we have been accustomed to see in the little cloche, then be assured it is a French model, just arrived. Its brim is quite sure to be narrow according to authentic forecasts, just as you see in this smart model fashioned of quality-kind black seagorgette crepe. Simple ribbon band with buckle a la directrice is part of the millinery trim scheme outlined for the picture. A collar of sheer malines like that pictured, with a bit of graceful coque plume, counteracts any undue severity of line.

LOST MOTION

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK, Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I needed a little information at Providence, and as there was a young woman ahead of me, I had both time and opportunity to watch the young man in charge of the booth. All his actions were slow and deliberate. He had no nerves, apparently, and no appreciation of the fact that anyone might be pressed for time. He did nothing with directness. He would dip his pen into an ink bottle out of sight somewhere under the desk and then shake it once or twice in the direction of the floor to remove the surplus ink and wave it in the air before beginning to write. Constantly he was stopping to turn something over or to push something aside in search of a lost notation of some sort. He would open a drawer and then shut it, he would wander off to some remote and hidden part of the office for a blotter or a writing pad, or some esoteric fact of which he seemed to be in need; he would hesitate in his work and look up as some one passed, and all this as time was passing. His task was simply to copy a name and a number and a date in the paper he was making out—a task that he could have accomplished in one-tenth of the time it took him had he gone directly at it.

Most of his activity was merely lost motion; it was a little flourish before he began really to do anything; it had little or no connection with the main task in hand. As a worker he was worth about fifteen cents an hour, and he caused me nearly to miss an engagement.

His method is not an uncommon one. Any one who watched McCarter at his books would see that he studied in this same way. Most of the time that he was supposed to be studying he was filling his fountain pen, or he was looking for his pipe or asking irrelevant questions of his roommate. He talked or sang snatches of the latest song or dozed over his book. There was no concentration, no getting directly at the point. Most of his mental activity, if it could be so called, was lost motion; most of his time was wasted.

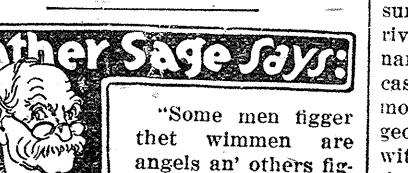

Men tackle moral problems in much the same way. They edge round them, they evade a definite issue, they play with moral principles as the man in Providence played with the materials on his desk. They get nowhere, because they have no definite objective in view. Their moral activities are mostly lost motion.

Story-and-a-Half House Is Attractive and Comfortable

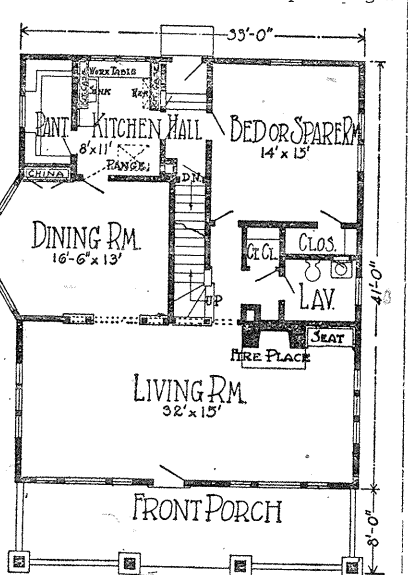

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

Spring will be here soon and with spring comes the building season. Those who have been planning to build homes in the spring have probably given a whole lot of thought to the size of the house, the materials of which it will be built, and the room arrangement. This is a real job, but it is an interesting one, and one that is well worth the time and thought.

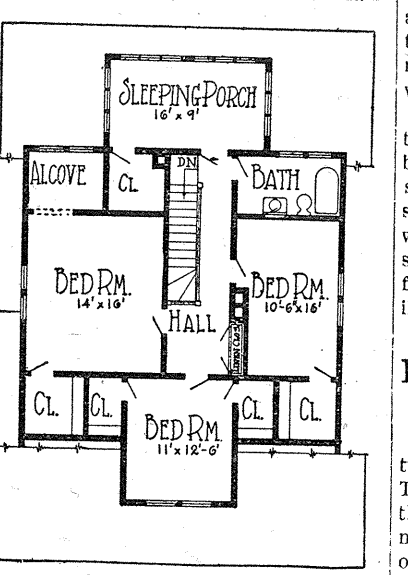

It is a costly matter to change the design of a home after it is started, and if the home is not quite what is wanted when it is finished there is disappointment. "Be sure you're right, then go ahead," is an axiom that applies well to the home building project. All the information it is possible to secure should be at hand in planning a home. Architects, building material dealers and contractors are experienced home builders. From their experience they have learned many things that will be helpful to the prospective home builder. Those planning to build should consult these building specialists, as their suggestions will be helpful and their warnings valuable.

The home shown in the accompanying illustration offers a suggestion to home builders. It is not an expensive home to construct, and the materials are available everywhere. The frame of the house is of timber, while the outside walls are covered with stucco. It contains seven good rooms, all large; all the modern conveniences, including a sleeping porch, and has an attractive exterior appearance.

A steep pitched two-gable roof gives room on the second floor for three good-sized bedrooms and the bathroom, besides an unusually large amount of closet space. The dormer windows at the front break the long roof line and add to the appearance of the home. The exposed rafters of the room over the porch lend a good touch, while the porch itself, extending the width of the house, is inviting and homelike.

The entrance door is in the center of the house and leads directly into the living room. This is a room that will appeal to all prospective home builders. It is large and it is light, being 32 feet long and 15 feet wide. At the front there are six windows, three on each side of the entrance door, while there are three more windows at each end. The fireplace is set into the inside wall and has a seat at one side. On the other side is a narrow door leading to a short hall at the end of which is a room, 14 by 15 feet, which may be used as a library, den or bedroom. Off the hall is a lavatory.

A double cased opening, with colonnade, leads to the dining room, which is 16 feet 6 inches by 13 feet. A slight bay contains three large windows. Set into the back wall is a china cabinet. At the back is the kitchen, 8 by 11 feet, with a large pantry adjoining it.

Stairs to the second floor run out of the living room. They lead to a central hall, off which are three bedrooms, the bathroom, and at the end in the back is the sleeping porch. Each of the bedrooms is of good size, the one in front having the dormer windows, while the other two have the windows in the gables of the house. The pitch of the roof somewhat reduces the size of the rooms, but provides closet space that every house-keeper likes.

The dimensions of the house are 33 by 41 feet, and with the exception of the bay in the dining room the walls are straight. This is the most economical construction. A basement extends under the whole house, providing plenty of space for the heating plant, the fuel storage room and rooms for fruits and vegetables and storing of the things that usually are kept in the basement.

For the family that wants and needs a home that is economical in cost, good looking and comfortable and contains three or four sleeping rooms this design recommends itself. There may be changes that are desired, but that is a small matter, which the contractor or architect can take care of without much trouble.

Indirect Lighting Came as Result of Experiment

Many of the world's great inventions have been the result of chance. The escaping steam from a teakettle gave Watt the idea for his steam engine. The way hot air filled and lifted a shirt he was drying over the fire gave Montgolfier the inspiration for the balloon.

So it was with the discovery of indirect lighting. Chance—and a remarkably powerful, mirrored reflector—brought about an altogether new lighting method, better than had ever before been known. The incident occurred in a sickroom in the home of a member of the X-ray company, where a light bulb hung, shaded by an X-ray reflector. This reflector was remarkable in two ways; its silver-plated, mirror-like surface reflected a greater quantity of light than any other type of reflecting surface, and its shape and the arrangement of the corrugations controlled the light rays and directed them in an absolutely accurate way.

The powerful light from this reflector hurt the patient's eyes. Her husband inverted it; and the result was so startling—so wonderful—that instantly a new illuminating principle was established—indirect lighting. Its source was an X-ray reflector—its effect a remarkable, soft, glareless, even illumination throughout the room.

Hollow Tiles Tested by U. S. Bureau of Standards

Tests showing how much load hollow tile walls can carry are described in Technologic Paper No. 238 issued by the bureau of standards. The document contains the results of 82 tests on walls of hollow tile. These walls were 4 feet long by 12 feet high and were 6, 8 and 12 inches thick, representing the outer wall of a house. Among other results these tests showed that a wall with the hollow spaces or cells of tile set vertically is nearly twice as strong as one in which the cells are placed horizontally. "Wasteful use of building materials, with consequent increase of construction costs and rents, is often due to lack of knowledge of how much load these materials can safely bear," says a statement by the bureau. "This situation prompts architects, contractors and the framers of building codes to call for an amount of material they know will be safe, without knowing whether or not it is excessive.

"Avoidance of such waste can be brought about by furnishing the building industry with reliable data as to the strength of the different materials used, and of the different types of construction, so that each piece of material entering into the construction of the building can carry all the load it is safe for it to carry, and no more."

In England the game of checkers is known as draughts; in France, jeu des dames; Holland, damrod; Poland, dama; in the Arabic of Egypt, damah. Good Oil or Shoddy?

Just like buying a suit of clothes, you can't tell from looks whether it is going to wear. A skillful maker of shoddy cloth can fool the average man. So most of us buy our clothes branded by the names of well known manufacturers of honest goods or from a tailor whose word we can trust.

The same with motor oil—Some of the awful bootleg oil now being sold an unsuspecting public is a crime in itself. It surely is slow death to any car. And the horrible joke of it is this bootleg is sold for the same price, or perhaps for a few cents less, than honest oil.

Mr. Car-Owner—you wouldn't give your children poisonous food, you wouldn't knowingly buy a shoddy suit,—treat your best friend, your car, by the golden rule method.—

THE RIGHT PRICES IS OUR MOTTO.

Emory Patterson's niece from Imlay City, stays with Mrs. Patterson for a time.

Be your own man. Do your own thinking. Don't drink all that public opinion would have us swallow. Our earth is strewn with the wrecks of public opinion of the past.

We have read somewhere that the Sabbath was set apart for a day of rest. It would seem that everybody has forgotten it when the roads are good and the weather fine.

Callers at John McArthur's on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ankers of Gagetown, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Loomis and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Loomis of Cass City, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gillis and Mrs. Alice Curtis of Deford, Mrs. Flora Gillis and son, Russell, and Mrs. A. D. Gillis of South Park.

Farm help seems to be scarce. We notice our good preacher is pressed into the hay harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gee of Caro were callers at the R. D. Lewis home on Sunday.

Robert Jacoby's family spent Sunday at Cass City.

E. A. Cones' family was in Munger on Sunday.

Emory Patterson visited old neighbors in Dayton Sunday.

Callers from Akron at Merchant Patterson's Sunday.

Ray Nutt has gone out of town for haying harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacoby visited at Jno. Holcomb's in Cass City Sunday.

Mrs. Edward Bonner of Hudson expects to call on Defordites this week. Mrs. Bonner will be remembered as Alta McArthur of Novesta.

Mrs. Alice Curtis was picking cherries up in the tree. She did not fall out of the tree, but fell in the tree and rolled around among the limbs with apparently as many bruises as if she had fallen out on a heap of Scotch thistles.

If Tuesday is fine the foundation grounds of the elevator will be cleaned for business.

While our fire raged the hose was laid along Main St. and some thought they had a right to run over it with their car. The firemen deemed such conduct bad manners. Took them out to Caro where etiquette is taught with a vengeance.

Looks now as if the elevator will be rebuilt and Deford kept on the map which pleases us hugely.

No, don't ask the berry raisers to buy back the splint baskets. They have not all been through high school and get bothered in fractions.

Amos Webster was the Good Samaritan who mowed invalid Peter Bell's lawn.

Coolidge and the writer are related in some way. Can't say how. But Coolidge informs us he has never played a musical instrument. Neither have I, not even a Jew's harp.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Bettis of Lowell spend their vacation at Joseph Hack's.

Tuesday, 15th, is set to clear away the debris where the elevator once stood. 'Tis a kind of a bee where all are welcome.

Lloyd Osborn's family are sick from vaccination. Mrs. Osborn was sick in bed for a time. On mend at present.

"The beauty of the country surpasses the grandeur of the city. In the city there are gardens cultivated with floral skill, but they are not half as lovely even as the fields whose swelling grain waves nods and trembles to the whisking wind."

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Webster attended funeral of Mrs. Webster's kindred at Dryden on the 11th.

Mr. and Anson Henderson have returned after spending a week in Pontiac.

July 10 Mrs. Mary Spencer reached her 80th birthday in fairly good health and quick on foot. Fifty aged ladies called to bid her good cheer. Mrs. Jacoby made the birthday cake, surmounted with eighty candles and a blessing from all present. It was managed so carefully that it was a complete surprise to the old lady.

Joseph McCracken spreads the paint on Samuel Sherk's house.

When the fire threatened our town the doctors came and the undertakers also. But set them at manual labor, and they took it as a joke.

We have written much of our aged men of feeble health. Now let us tell you of our man of athletic mould. Charles J. Malcolm is in his 82nd year but his legs seem to be hung on spiral springs and his body composed of Indian rubber. He can skip the rope with more grace than any youth in the town. And believes he can yet skip it a hundred times without drawing a long breath.

After our elevator burned, the bean picking girls were invited to Decker to continue their labor. They went, but the old tread power machinery was hard on limb to such an extent that every third day was required for a rest day instead of every seventh.

Howard Randall of Maryland visits here for a time. He will be remembered as son of Wm. Randall.

James Valentine of the Hub was with us one day last week.

Sister of Dr. Merriman, whose home is Lowell, Mich., visits here for an indefinite time

"Of all the paths that men may walk My heart is hungry for The little path that runs to knock Upon homeland door"

On good authority we can state that the elevator will rise again from its ashes and Deford will continue to prosper as in days of yore

'Tis only the minority that are capable of true friendship. All carry the make believe brand.

Some are anxious to know why we failed to leap at the pioneer meeting, so we will tell you. Just before the gathering we read a scientific lecture on size and leap, in which the writer put forth the claim that if a man could jump in proportion to his size with the flea, he would make a 1,000 miles at a single skip. Hence we thot it over and concluded the vaulting of the boys of 70 would appear small, that would mar the joy of our gathering so the spring board appeared not.

There is so much to be learned in this world that no one man has got it all. It takes us all to know what is known. We may be able to tell neighbor A one thing he has not learned and he may be able to inform us of a number of things we have not learned. It is but a few years since we learned that a bin of wheat would not burn up in case of fire. It blackens over a few inches on top of pile and ceases to burn. As far as we know 'tis the only cereal that will not burn. After the Frutchey elevator burned here lately we looked with care and found the beans doing a good job of self consuming. We are writing of material that consumes itself after fire is started. We do not claim that wheat cannot be burnt up if exposed to excessive heat.

We have been reading a little and conclude that St. John was the first teetotaler. The angel heralded his coming in these words: "For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink." This is a lesson for us cider tippers of today. In St. John's time all could sip of the fresh juice of the grape but they could not tell exactly when the invisible spirit that Shakespeare calls the Devil entered in. Hence St. John would keep aloof from wine at all times and "shun the appearance of evil." Shakespeare said, "O, invisible spirit of wine—since man has not given thee a name, we will call thee Devil." In St. John's time the juice of the grape partook of Satan at an unknown age. Today we have the juice of the apple that becomes Satanic at an unknown age. If the wise man of nineteen hundred years ago shunned the juice of the grape at all times, why should we not fear the juice of the apple at any stage? Read first chapter of Luke and ponder well.

An Indian legend tells us that when there was no man, the Great Spirit said, we will make a man of clay. So he made a great oven of earth, moulded a man and put him to bake. Anxious to see the process, he opened the oven too soon and the man was white. Made another. This one will be fully baked said the Great One and left him too long, 'till he was burned black. Through experience, the third one baked was just right. He was red and accepted. The lesson we can learn is why so many of our color are not fully baked.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS OF THE THUMB TOWNS

Items Taken from the Newspapers Published in the Thumb District.

Among the more important extensions at the Sebawaing plant of the Michigan Sugar Company this summer will be the building of another pulp warehouse. The new warehouse will be 42 by 200 feet in size and one story high.

A resolution was passed at the meeting of the board of supervisors, authorizing the payment of a bounty on wolves. The township of Evergreen, Austin and Argyle have been visited by wolves and cattle killed during the past year. The county is now offering a bounty of $25.00 for each pelt and $10.00 for each whelp. This bounty will not be paid for wolves in captivity.—Sanilac County Republican.

The people of Bad Axe are not taking credit for the celebration held at the fair grounds on July 4th. The grounds had been rented by a party from Flint who pulled off the attractions and pocketed the profits. Speaking of profits, they must have been large, as the ball game was the only feature. The attraction was certainly a real fake and a disappointment to everyone who attended.—Pigeon Progress.

Rev. J. R. MacFarlane has tendered his resignation as rector of Trinity Episcopal church at Caro to take effect the first of August, and has answered a call to assume charge of the Episcopal church at Ashland, Maine.

Eight are in the race for sheriff in Sanilac county. The following have announced themselves as candidates for the nomination: John Johnson, Herb Stone, Harvey Howse, Dick Holdburg and L. C. Hagle of Sandusky, Wm. Gray and John King of Crosswell and Frank Shommer of Pt. Sanilac.

Five men are held in the county jail charged with tarring and robbing Henry La Croix on his farm near Lapeer on the night of July fifth. Two of the men, Ernie Judd and William Boughner, are La Croix's sons-in-law. The other three men, Oliver and William O'Dell and Charles Spencer, were their accomplices. All the men involved except Henry La Croix and Boughner live in Oxford. The two mentioned have recently moved to Lapeer from that place. Boughner and his father-in-law, La Croix, were occupying the MacNabb farm now owned by H. C. Kudner. There was said to be a good deal of hard feeling between the two on account of various incidents. La Croix was in his barn Saturday night when one of the five men approached him and said that they had lost something from their car and that they wished him to bring his lantern and help them find it. When they had gone some distance from the house, he was attacked by the five men, stripped, daubed with tar and according to his statement, robbed of one hundred and sixty-seven dollars. His five assailants then threw La Croix into some brush where they left him. As soon as they had gone, he traveled to the home of Vernon Jarvis, a neighbor, and gave the alarm. He had recognized his two sons-in-law among his assailants and so was able to direct Sheriff Conley and his posse to Oxford. Here the two sons-in-law were apprehended. They revealed the names of the three others and disclosed their probable whereabouts.—Lapeer Clarion.

While children of Alack Botkin, a farmer living six miles southwest of Unionville, were staging a wild west show in the barn, one of the boys, aimed a rifle at his brother, William, aged 15, pulled the trigger and an explosion followed. William fell, shot through the body, and bled to death in a few minutes. The show which the children were staging was intended as an imitation of one they had seen recently at a moving picture house and none of the children knew that the rifle was loaded.

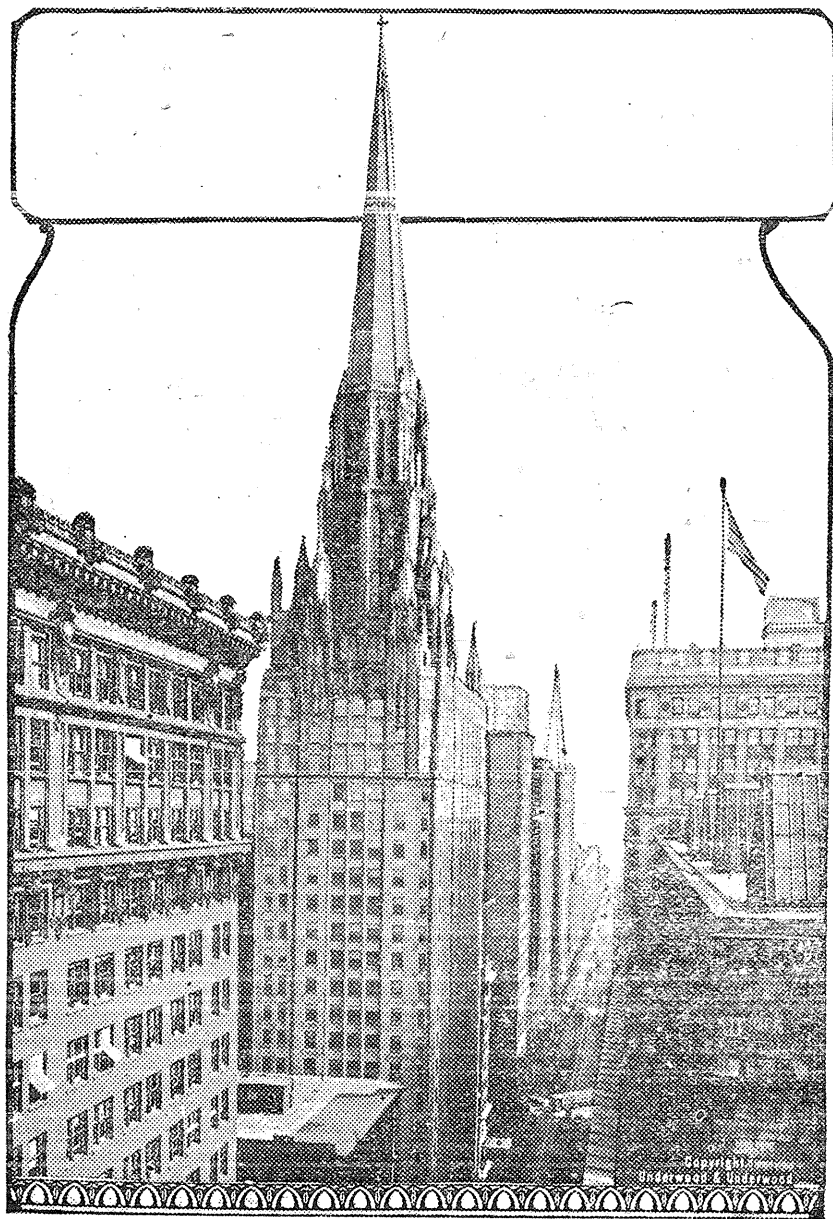

The 14th annual Evangelical assembly will be held at Bay Shore Park at Sebawaing on Aug. 11-17. Convention talent this season includes Rev. W. C. Hallwachs, editor of the Evangelical Endeavorer, Cleveland, O.; Prof. H. R. Heininger of Naperville, Illinois; Rev. J. F. Hatton, executive secretary of the Michigan Christian Endeavor; Mrs. H. C. Northcott, a national S. S. worker of Chicago, Rev. E. S. Faust of Detroit, Rev. Wm. Kotesky of Bay City, Rev. E. W. Praetorius, general secretary of the Evangelical League of Christian Endeavor; and G. B. Kimmel, D. D., president of Evangelical Theological seminary. Miss Ruth Riebel of Detroit will have charge of the children's hour and Rev. Murray Willard and Mr. Hoskins of the recreation hour. Rev. C. A. Glass will have charge of the music and Rev. Forrest Putnam will serve as pianist.

Tallest Church Building

The Methodist Episcopal temple, in the heart of Chicago's loop, is the tallest church building in the world. The auditorium of the church is on the main floor and seats about 1,500 persons. The remainder of the building is occupied by business offices.

at Port Huron. The car was smashed and left in a garage at Cass City for repairs. Nicols was taken to Port Huron by officers.

Henry White arrested on a vagrancy charge at Caro Saturday night by Marshal Westfall was committed to the county jail for 10 days by Justice Imerson.

Henry Koatz, 23 years of age, was arrested Sunday night at Unionville on a drunk and disorderly charge by Deputy Sheriff Cartwright. Justice Imerson imposed a fine of $15.00 and costs.

MORE PUNISHMENT FOR THE LAW BREAKER

Sentiment of Many Is That They Are Getting Off Too Lightly.

Tuscola County Federation of Farm Organizations, including the Grange, Gleaners, Farm Bureau and Farmers Clubs have addressed a letter to Hon. Williams B. Williams, urging the imposition of fines in sufficient amounts to at least cover the costs of prosecution in cases of violations of the liquor laws.

Petitions signed by about 1,000 citizens accompanied the letter, the latter reading as follows:

Caro, Michigan, June 30, 1924. Hon. William B. Williams. Circuit Judge, Lapeer, Michigan.

Dear Sir:—Attached you will find petitions which are self-explanatory signed by approximately 1,000 residents of Tuscola County.

The purpose of this petition is not to criticize but to impart to you in a tangible form the sentiment of the taxpayers of Tuscola County.

We, the undersigned committee, were requested to circulate

these petitions because the taxpayers felt that costs coming to the county from the liquor law violations should be sufficient so that it would not be necessary to further burden the tax-payers for costs of prosecution, also that sentences imposed be sufficiently stringent to reduce the number of violations.

Because of insufficient time these petitions were not widely circulated. However, in territory where circulated, the opinion seemed to be unanimously favorable, and we have every reason to believe that should all voters of the county be given an opportunity to sign this petition, at least 90 per cent of the voters would sign.

The letter was signed: By order of Tuscola County Federation of Farm Organizations. W. F. Dowling, Representing Grange. J. J. England, Representing Gleaners. Dorr Perry, Representing Farm Bureau. E. B. Reavey, Representing Farmers' Club.

In commenting on the above action by the farm organizations, the Crosswell Jeffersonian editor also speaks his mind regarding the too frequent pardoning of criminals in the following words:

"Another condition that needs attention is the matter of giving pardons by the pardoning boards. In many cases the prosecuting attorney, sheriff and other officers make a great effort to secure the conviction of some flagrant offender, and the judge gives him a sentence only to find that he is soon set at liberty by the pardoning board without any conference with those who know the condition. This was forcibly brought before the people of this county a short time ago when one Bolio was convicted of entering the place of business of the McGreozors at Carsonville and stealing a truck load of automobile tires. He was accompanied by two companions who were acquitted in the St.

Clair court where their friends were stronger. Bolio was convicted after a hard fight and sentenced to a term in Jackson. In a few months he was pardoned and set at liberty, the board giving as an excuse for this action that as the other two had escaped Bolio should not be kept in prison. When the bunch went into that store they went prepared for any emergency and had either of the proprietors happened to catch them in the act there would probably have been some shooting and perhaps a murder. Bolio was that type of a man and why he should be pardoned has always been an enigma to the officers of Sanilac."

SHERIFF'S REPORT HAS MUCH OF INTEREST

Entire Cost to County for Year Ending June 30, Not Quite $12,000.

Sheriff Jay A. Colling has filed with the state department of public safety his annual report for the year ending June 30, 1924. According to the report his department has cost the county $11,961.12, which includes every expense that his department has incurred during the year—salaries of the sheriff and deputies; board, clothing and medical attendance of prisoners; repairs on jail, etc.

During the year the jail doors closed on 332 prisoners, and as he started the year with empty cells, this represents the entire number confined. Of this number 317 were men and 15 women, who served a total of 2,596.16 days. Thirty of the men confined were under 18 years of age.

None of the women, but 71 men were charged with high crimes. The remainder except two held as witnesses and 13 insane, were charged with minor offenses. None of the 30 males under 18 years of age were charged with high crimes. Five convicted of crimes were sent to State Prison at Jackson, and one to the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia. Mr. Colling started the new year beginning July 1, 1924, with 17 prisoners.

A striking feature of the report was on the literacy of the prisoners confined. Thirty-three could not read and 46 could not write.

Native born Americans furnished the greatest quota of male inmates, 241 being of this class. England led other foreign countries as the birthplace of the rest of the prisoners with 21, followed by Austria with 19, Poland with 14, Russia 12, Germany 5, Mexico 5, Ireland 1. Thirteen female prisoners were born in the United States, one in Canada and one in Poland.—Caro Advertiser.

COOPER-WRIGHT.

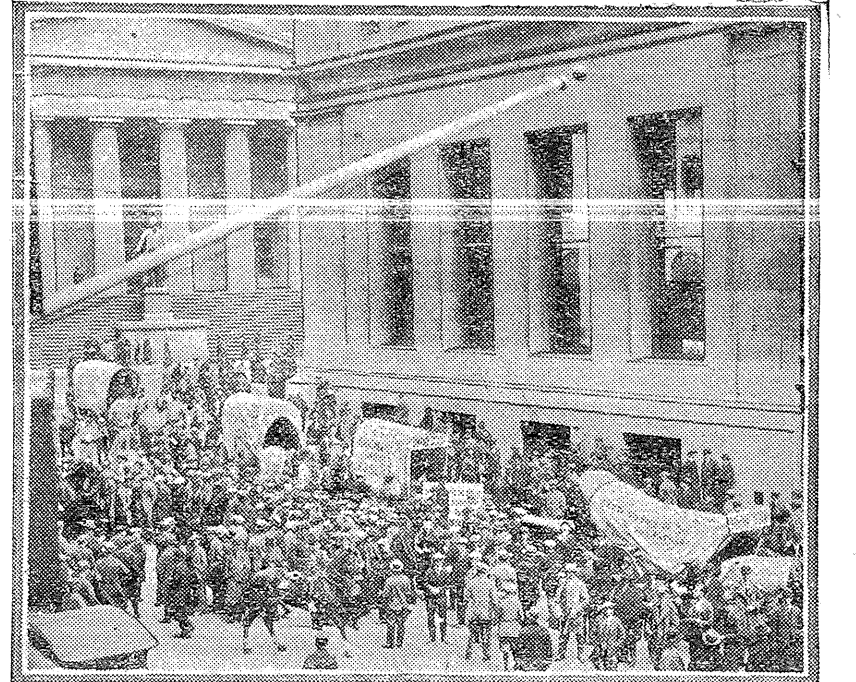

Miss Beatrice Cooper was united in marriage with Vern Wright on Wednesday at the home of the groom's sister in Pontiac where they expect to spend a few days following the wedding. From there, they go to Detroit where they will spend a few days with the bride's sister. After visiting the bride's mother near Almont, they will return to their home here about the middle of next week.

Mrs. Wright was a member of the class of 1920 of the local high school after which she attended normal college and has during the past year taught the Darbee school near Caro. Mr. Wright is an employee of the A. Fort fruit and confectionary store.

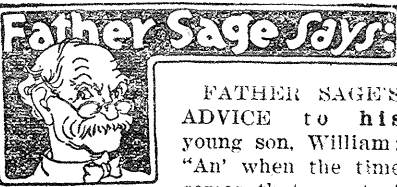

Wheat Feed

Approximately 4,750,000 tons of wheat feeds are annually produced by flour mills in the United States. It would require 237,500 twenty-ton cars or a train about 1,500 miles long to transport this material.

FARMERS TALK TO WALL STREET

"Give us more economy and efficiency in government. Reduce taxes. Stop passing useless legislation," urged the farmers of Middle Western, Eastern and Southern states in a parade held in New York City. Old-fashioned farm wagons which typify the simple methods of the founders of the republic, covered with canvas bearing the slogan "Let's Go Back to the Ways of Our Fathers; Simplicity, Honesty, Economy in Government," moved through famous thoroughfares of the metropolis and stopped in Wall Street near the Stock Exchange where talks were made. The Lower Taxes—Less Legislation League, organized by the Ohio State Grange, with the endorsement of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and farm organizations of other states, is aiding the farmers in the effort to lower taxes. The above photograph was made while the parade was halted in Wall Street, where thousands of men joined the Lower Taxes—Less Legislation League, signing their names to applications distributed after talks by visiting farmers from six states which entered wagons in the parade.

FATHER SAGE'S ADVICE TO HIS young son, William: "An' when the time comes that ye start lookin' about ye fer a gal ter git hitched up with, remember that ye can't aim too high—fer the humblest little mouse of a woman will cause ye jest as much trouble an' will ask fer jest as much in the long run as the swellest-lookin' queen ye kin pick out."

"HARD SHELL"

With all due respect to members of the Baptist church, it can be proved that they are somewhat "crabby" about their religion. Most of them are proud to be known as "hard-shell Baptists." The reference is to the "hard-shell crab," which has not molted recently and thus is known by its tough shell in distinction to the "soft-shelled crab," which is minus the advantages of a thick jacket. The term thus has come to stand for that which is unyielding.

Capt. Pickard's Seals, a Special Free Attraction at the Cass City Fair, Aug 12-15

Well trained animals are always interesting and popular as an entertainment feature. But Captain Pickard has gone a long way ahead of anything else in this direction when he presents his wonderful troupe of clever and versatile actors from the frozen lands of the Far North. For they represent about the most advanced degree of animal training effort and give a performance that closely approaches the incredible. In versatility, pep, knowingsness and amusing detail, as they do their stunts of rope walking, juggling, playing musical instruments and cutting all sorts of capers, under the guidance of Captain Pickard himself. It is an act every child, as well as the elders, finds tremendously interesting and amusing, and it has a highly educational value that is easily recognized. Pickard's Seals will be one of the platform attractions at the Cass City Day and Night Fair on Aug. 12 to 15.
