Detroit is one hundred years old this month. It was in August, 1824, that the legislative council of the day passed an act forming a city government for Detroit under the administration of an elected mayor and common council. The charter granted at that time created the title of mayor and provided for the establishment of such functionaries as councilmen, recorder, city treasurer; etc., and a mayor's court over which the chief city executive presided and which tried violators of city ordinances.

A special session of the county board to consider a $1,000,000 mistake in the total assessed valuation of Kalamazoo Township, as reported by Supervisor Percy L. Davis, will probably be called. The error, caused by Mr. Davis having struck the wrong key on an adding machine, was found by Davis himself, who reported it to cated as charged, was the contention the chairman of the taxation commitof Herbert W. Burke, 24 years old, of tee and to Presecutor Stephen Wat-Muskegon, in Justice Harry L. Crestiles. Collar and Cuff Sets the Call of the Mode

Sing a song of lingerie collars and cuffs, they are the fashion of the hour. Let every school girl join in the chorus, for pretty, lacy, frilly things at neck and wrist have such a happy way of giving one a refreshing start to classroom each morning.

If one heed the promptings of the mode, one will see to it that the schooltime outfit includes one of the popular youthful-looking fine flannel frocks either plaided, striped or in solid coloring. To wear with it, in the till of one's trunk or in one's top dresser drawer should be a plenteous supply of lingerie collar and cuff sets, a lace vestee or two, a net and insertion bib effect and do not forget to include one of the detachable lace panels which drop from their matching collars to the very hemline of the dress. Garnitured with these dainty accessories,

FEED FOR DRY COWS IS MOST IMPORTANT

There is a tendency on the part of any dairymen to neglect the dairy cow when she is dry. Oftentimes she is put into some back pasture and forgotten, or if it is winter the grain is taken from her and she is given little

The dry cow is going to be the producing cow, and her ability to produce during each succeeding lactation is partly dependent upon her condition at the time of freshening, writes C. L. Blackman in Wallace's Farmer. No dairy cow can do herself credit unless she freshens in a good, thrifty condition, for great demands are made on the cow at freshening time. The cow that is thin before freshening presents an emaciated appearance after freshening.

It is during the period shortly after freshening that the average cow milks heaviest, and a cow in low condition then can never do her best. Even if the cow is fed well after freshening, she must use large amounts of the feed to restore her depleted body.

Men who make large records have learned to take advantage of the tendency of good dairy cows to produce more milk than their feed warrants shortly after freshening. That is, at this time the cow in good condition milks the flesh off her back, as we say. The cow that is in low condition has no reserve to call on, and consequently her milk flow decreases. Once the milk production is lowered for any length of time, it is practically impossible to restore it to its proper place. Thus, by not feeding the dry cow, the amount of production is decreased and her efficiency as a producer is low-

One of the well-known dairy feeders in Iowa has said that the feed given during the dry period was the cheapest feed used, meaning that it gave the largest returns. Do not lower the ability of your cow to produce by neglect during the dry period. Feed her liberally, so that she may have reserve town spending a two weeks' vacation strength and "flesh" to supply the demands made upon her.

Cows Freshened in Fall Are Highest Producers

That a definite relation exists between production per cow and income over feed cost is shown in Department Bulletin 1069, Relation of Production to Income From Dairy Cows, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. The group that produced the most per cow ate the most on an average and always had the highest average income over cost of feed. At 100 pounds of butterfat per cow a year, the average income over cost of feed was $10. At 400 pounds of butterfat a year, the average income over cost of feed was $106. As production increased 4 times, the average income over cost of feed increased 10.6 times. A former edition of this bulletin was exhausted by the heavy demand for it, and a reprint has just sued. A reprint also has recently been published of Department Bulletin 1071, entitled Influence of Season of Freshening on Production and Income From Dairy Cows. The figures in this bulletin show that, on an average, the cows that freshened in the fall and early winter produced more milk and butterfat and had a higher average income over cost of feed than those that freshened at other times of the year. Copies of these two bulletins may be obtained as long as the supply lasts by application to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washing-

Soy Beans Are Valuable

Source of Cattle Feed Soy beans are a comparatively new source of protein to the dairyman. Results have shown that this plant proves a very valuable source of protein as a roughage as well as a concentrate. The beans may be ground and fed in the grain mixture. Because of the oil nature of the bean it is difficult to grind the seeds very finely.

The oil contained in the seeds has considerable commercial importance and several plants have been started in Iowa to extract the oil. The cake remaining is quite similar to cottonseed or oil meal, and compares very favorably with them in feeding value. Soy beans have proved to be about one-third more valuable when ground than linseed oil meal. The cake contains less oil than the cracked beans, but has about 7 per cent more protein. Soy beans are very palatable and may be fed in considerable quantities. The Iowa experiment station found that when oil meal was worth $45 a ton for milk production, cracked soy beans were worth $60 per ton.

Plan to Supply Minerals

Cows fed a legume hay and a balanced grain ration, such as the 4-2-1 mixture, usually need no mineral other than plenty of salt where they can get it at all times. However, cows fed crops that grow on acid soils may need minerals because these crops are usually deficient in mineral If mineral is lacking its lack may be supplied by adding three or four pounds of wood ashes, lime or steamed bone meal to each 100 pounds of grain mixture. Never use raw bone meal.

It Can't Be Done

One of the puzzles of modern times is why the world has made such great progress in the physical and technical realm and so little in industrial relations. The reason is that we have been trying to solve a human problem by physical and technical means. It can't be done.

John Keats (who, instead of being the dainty and sensitive dreamer of popular imagination, was a two-fisted scrapper who knew the tang of ale) once covered his tongue and throat with cayenne pepper, in order to enjoy "the delicious coolness of claret in all its glory."

Yes, It's a Terrible Country!

By WILBUR E. SUTTON in National Republican.

The United States is in a terribly bad way, isn't it? The pinks and reds have the blues and they think something ought to be done about it right away. The whole country has just naturally gone to the dogs, they say, and they are gathering about them quite a bunch of canines like themselves to help with the howling. But still, before we overturn the government and place it in the hands of the foreign-horn calemity howlers and home grown kickers with imported ideas born calamity howlers and home-grown kickers with imported ideas, maybe it would be all right to ponder a few things, not, of course, because they mean anything to those who think that everything in the United States is all wrong, but because it might help to clarify the minds of some of those not yet wholly converted to the new order.

The United States is the richest nation in the world, not only in bulk of riches, but in per capita of wealth.

The wealth in this country in 1922 was estimated at $320,803,-

The United States now practically controls the world's credit, although we have less than seven per cent of the world's population. The wide distribution of the wealth is indicated by the fact that (with less than seven per cent of the globe's population) we own 78 per cent of all the automobiles. We have one motor vehicle for every two families and this number is rapidly increasing. We spend every year $8,710,000,000 for luxuries alone.

Every man, woman and child is equal under the law to every other man, woman and child. Thus the governor of a great American commonwealth recently was sentenced to serve ten years in federal prison while he was still holding office, this because he was dishonest. A governor who had possessed millions and yet without "pull" to keep himself out of jail!

Nobody in the United States is permitted to go hungry, or to be without clothing or a roof over him if his wants become known to the Unemployment is rare and always transient.

Something ought to be done about it.

Our working people mingle socially with all classes as equals and have the same privileges of education as all others. There is no class in politics. The President of the United States has but one vote and the humblest laborer has one vote. Once every four years everybody has the right to help effect a complete change of political parties in government, if he wishes.

Sixty per cent of all the people outside the very large cities own their homes in which they live.

Yes, the United States is a pretty bad place in which to live.

WINNING THE BARBERRY WAR.

Observers who have traveled extensively over the spring wheat country of the Northwest states report little evidence of the black stem rust of mon barberry as source and cause.

It is easy to draw large conclusions from small premises, but it seems fair rust is a fruit of the militant fight carried on in the North Central states to uproot and destroy barberry bushes. Federal and state governments have aided in the extermination of this rust-breeding pest, but the main credit goes to the farmers who, convinced that the scientists were right, set themselves to the business of clearing their places of barberry. Tremendous ravages have been made on the wheat fields of the Northwest St. James, Mo., for over 40 years, from year to year by rust. The loss in the last few years has been estimated at scores of millions of dollars. Rust reduces both yield and quality, thereby cutting two ways in-cost in time, muscular energy and money. Anything that contributes to the increasing of acre yields in farm crops is abundantly worth while; and more particularly so when quality of product is improved.

The war on barberry is not yet

Charlie Smith As a Fraternalist

(Being the third message from the friends of Chas. W. Smith to the people of Lapeer and Tuscola Counties)

CHAS. W. SMITH.

THE SPLENDID SERVICE that Chas. W. Smith has rendered in fraternal circles reveals in a way the character of this man whom we are asking the voters of Lapeer and Tuscola counties to send to the State Senate.

HE RECOGNIZES THAT ALL MEN ARE BROTHERS, and he has been an active leader in many of the fraternal organizations which are seeking to destroy the barriers that keep men apart and to bring them together in friendship, understanding and co-operation.

WE IN LAPEER are not the only ones who recognize the true worth of this man, for all who have met him upon the intimate grounds of fraternalism have never failed to honor him.

MR. SMITH has long been an active member of the Oddfellows, the Knights of Pythias, the Masonic orders, the Lapeer Commercial Club and Rotary Club, as a member of which he has made notable contributions to the fraternal and commercial life of this community. In 1920 he was elected to the highest office in the gift of the Grand Lodge of Michigan, K. of P. During his term of office the order flourished throughout Michigan and passed the 30,000 membership mark.

CHARLIE SMITH'S FRATERNAL EXPERIENCES have given him a broad and sympathetic viewpoint which has been a valuable asset in his legislative career. Believing in the brotherhood of man, he could not take a position that would mean an advantage to one class of people at the expense of another. Though a business man himself he is deeply interested in the problems of the farmer and the industrial worker.

IF ELECTED TO THE STATE SENATE, Chas. W. Smith can be depended upon to represent all sections of his district and every type of business or occupation in his district with that same spirit of fraternalism and sympathy that has marked his entire life,

A FOURTH MESSAGE to the people of Lapeer and Tuscola counties will be published in next week's issue of this newspaper. This series of articles is intended to help you "size up" Lapeer's candidate for the State Senate. Be sure to read them.

FORD LUBRICATION

The Ford lubricating system is a combination of simplicity and ingenuity unsurpassed in any car. It saves the Ford owner many an hour "going over the greasecups" a painful necessity with most other cars. But it does require some attention.

Because the oil you put in your Ford crank-case performs so many duties,—for this reason greatest care should be taken in selecting the right oil. Yet we venture to say more bootleg oil is poured into defenseless Fords than any other car.

Your Ford is a loyal friend, give it a square deal. No oil is too good for "Lizzie" and, because we know it's true, we tell you

Difficult Churning Is

Remedied by "Starter" There are several things that might cause difficult churning. The cream may not be properly ripened, it may be too rich or the temperature may not be correct. To ripen cream properly a "starter" is often used. To make the starter take from a pint to a quart of fresh, clean milk and put in a sterilized bottle. Keep it at a temperature of from 65 to 75 degrees F. till it curdles. If the curd is smooth and solid and the odor clean and pleasant it is satisfactory.

The Fact Is That When You Get to Know a Man and His Surroundings—

By IRVIN COBB, in Motor.

AM constrained to believe from my own knowledge gained at the front and behind the lines of the soldiers of warring Europe, that had it been possible prior to 1914 for all the peoples of the Continent to possess the same abundance of cheap-priced cars which the run of human beings in this country can have, and had there been no artificial barriers at the national boundaries to keep neighbor from seeing neighbor, not even Prussian militarism could have driven all the eastern part of the world into a dreadful struggle.

The fact is that when you get to know a man and his surroundings -and you do know them better when you are riding in a car along a highroad than you ever can from a railroad train-you find out that the general run of human beings in one land is very much like the general run of human beings in almost any other.

Along with the prayer for everlasting peace which is going up from nearly every fireside where real Americans sit, is the prayer for a return to normal conditions in this country, for a curing of the evils which the last war loosed upon us industrially, socially, economically and financially. That is a good prayer and we should pray also for a thing that is spiritual, perhaps, but which has its material side as well, because out of it will grow material good. We should pray-every one of us-for a greater charity toward our fellow man, for a kindlier impulse for his shortcomings, and for a broader, wider understanding of him and his likes and

"TILLE", 107 YEARS OLD

Animal training is a serious business and the people in it rarely smile let alone laugh, but "Tillie", one of the Robinson Military Elephants at the state fair, Detroit, August 29 to September 7, has the reputation of Sunday. having made her own trainers sick with laughter.

"Tillie" is 107 years old and can only say one word and that one word is "papa". She stands back on her hind feet, rears four tons of flesh and when she calls for her "papa", who is three or four hundred years old and running around the wilds of Africa, even the trainers laugh.

There are four giant animals in the Robinson act and their combined weight is twenty tons. They were training in London when the war broke out, and there were started in a military act. In their act shells are exploded in their midst, they make Red Cross nurses.

Before the insurance companies would issue policies on the elephants they had a celebrated veterinary spend an entire day examining the oig beasts. "Tillie" said "papa" to the veterinary and he passed her.

City visitors at the State Fair, Deroit, August 29 to September 7, are going to see several Michigan grown products traced from the farm directly to their tables in the cities and to learn the factors that enter into turnishing them with quality grain products' and vegetables.

THE CASS CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS Open Tuesday, Sept. 2

Excellent opportunities offered to the student body, especially to non-residents, many of the courses having been reorganized during the summer.

Each instructor in the elementary grades has made a special study of her line of work.

Excellent courses are offered in Agriculture and Home Economics besides the regular Academic subjects.

Last year about 80 non-resident students were enrolled, which was an increase over the previous year. The high school enrollment was 160, and the total enrollment about 500.

Graduates from the Cass City High School are admitted to the University of Michigan and all colleges without examination.

A trained corps of efficient and conscientious teachers will work in harmony with each other, with the community and its authorized school officers to promote the best interests of the school.

A. A. RICKER, Secretary Board of Education.

RATES OF TUITION.

Tuition for non-resident pupils in the high school will be $70.00, $60.00 of which is paid by the district from which the student comes.

Tuition for non-resident pupils in the grades is $25.00, to be paid by the parents.

G. A. TINDALE, Treasurer.
