BANQUET IN HONOR OF OLYMPIC ATHLETE

EDGAR GUEST AND PROF. WM. L. PHELPS WERE ON PROGRAM.

One Hundred Fourteen Travel 86 Miles to Pay Esteem to Jas. K. Brooker at Banquet Friday.

One hundred fourteen people motored from Cass City to Williams Inn, three miles south of Harbor Beach, on Friday afternoon to attend a banquet given in honor of James K. Brooker, Cass City's representative at the Olympic meet at Paris, France, last month.

Following a splendid fish and chicken dinner, M. B. Auten, who presided as toastmaster, told of the pride of Cass City people in having a representative and winner at the world athletic meet and ably voiced the great appreciation of the company in having as contributors of the evening's program Prof. William Lyons Phelps of Yale University and Edgar Guest, Michigan's poet. Mr. Guest has been spending the season at his summer home at Pointe Aux Barques and Prof. Phelps at his summer home at Huron City. Both gentlemen motored to the Inn to attend the banquet. Mr. Guest's vacation ended that evening and Mr. Phelps will sail in October to spend a year in Europe.

Prof. Phelps put his audience in good humor from the start relating a number of timely anecdotes, some of them touching on his participation in athletics in his early days in Huron county. Mr. Phelps gave a historical setting to his address when he reviewed briefly the beginning of the Olympic games in 500 B. C. and told how they had united the Greeks in early history. It is an absolute certainty that the ancient Grecians could not win a point at a world meet today because of the high marks which have been set by modern athletes.

Something apart from mere strength and agility make possible the wonderful feats of the present day athlete. The power of will is a factor to be considered. What will be the record of the fastest sprinter and the highest pole vaulter 20 years hence? No one can tell, but one may be sure it will be considerably better than present day records.

Prof. Phelps said that when he was a student at Yale, the college athlete who could throw the hammer 100 feet was a record maker. Today, a man who couldn't make 100 feet wouldn't be allowed to enter. Other examples in athletic events were likewise compared. What is the limit? What the mind can do with the human body is wonderful.

Mr. Phelps said it was a wonderful thing to have a Cass City boy a participant and winner in a world athletic meet and all honor Mr. Brooker for the quality of his mind and heart as well as the strength of body.

Mr. Guest, in his opening remarks, said Michigan exulted because she had a son who won a place in the Olympic meet and that the trip of 86 miles by the company that day well expressed the appreciation of Mr. Brooker's neighbors and friends.

While Mr. Guest's poems had been read and enjoyed by the audience because of their rare combination of wit, humor and pathos, this was the first privilege of many in the audience to see and hear Michigan's poet. The prefacing of each poem given Friday evening with a brief prose background of the instance that inspired its writing added greatly to the appreciation and delight of the hearers and made the lesson involved doubly impressive.

Among the poems given that evening were "It Couldn't Be Done," "Becoming a Dad," "Pretending Not to See," "Wait Till Your Pa Comes Home," "When Father Shook the Stove," and "The Boy and the Flag."

HALF MAIN ST. PAVED BY END OF WEEK

Three More Weeks Will Complete Job of Mile of Pavement in Cass City.

Paving of Main Street is progressing rapidly and if there are no unforeseen delays, Taylor Bros., the contractors, expect to have the pavement laid from the eastern corporation line of the village to the corner of Main and Seeger Streets by Saturday night. This would mean that practically half of the pavement will be laid by the end of the week. The remainder of the job will consume about three more weeks.

Contractors have two requests to make of local citizens. One is to keep dogs under cover and the other is to kindly keep their automobiles and other vehicles off Main St. for at least two blocks from the scene of paving and grading operations. Dog tracks showing in some spots on the fresh pavement attest to the reasonableness of the first request. The second is made so that there will be as little interference as possible with the gravel trucks, grading gang and other workmen.

JAMES K. BROOKER

Winner of third place in the pole vault event at the Olympic meet, was the guest of honor at a banquet at Williams Inn Friday evening. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brooker of Cass City, a graduate of the Cass City high school, and now a student at the University of Michigan and captain of the university track team for the coming year.

TUSCOLA COUNTY NEEDS TO FIGHT TUBERCULOSIS

Michigan Tuberculosis Association Holds Free Chest Clinics with Christmas Seal Sale.

Of the 90 persons examined two weeks ago at the Tuscola County tuberculosis clinics, held in Caro on Tuesday and Vassar on Wednesday, 17 were found afflicted with the disease. These free chest clinics were two of a series which the Michigan Tuberculosis Association is holding over the state.

"Many people availed themselves of the opportunity for free examination," said Miss Laura Bauch, director of the clinic for the association. "But there were not nearly enough of those present who have come into contact with this scourge through nursing the sick."

"The need is great now for a county nurse to carry on the interest aroused by the clinics. Those who were examined and found affected should be examined again. All those coming into contact with tuberculosis cases should take advantage of the next clinic. Tuberculosis is not hereditary. Taken in the early stages, it can be cured."

The humane work which the Michigan Tuberculosis Association carries on in counties over the state is financed entirely from the sale of Christmas seals. A generous response from the sale of these will aid in decreasing the deaths from the "great white plague" of which there have been 226 in Tuscola county alone in the past ten years.

FIVE CHICKEN THIEVES SENTENCED TO REFORMATORY

Four Get 2 1/2 Years and One Gets One Year in Sentence Passed Out in Circuit Court.

Judge Wm. B. Williams, at a session of the Tuscola county circuit court on Aug. 18, sentenced the five chicken thieves captured several weeks ago by Sheriff Jay Colling and his deputies to terms at the state reformatory at Ionia. James Lynch, Raymond Grenier, Louis Schram and Bert Park each were sentenced from 2 1/2 to 5 years, with the recommendation of the minimum. Wilford Denie was sentenced to one year.

Pleading guilty to an assault and battery in which he carved another Mexican beet worker about the face with a beet knife last May, Marimeno Baulgro was sentenced to spend 90 days in the county jail.

Clare Harder of Pigeon and Steve Urlick both pleaded guilty to charges of violation of the prohibition law and received suspended sentences, Harder's until the February term in 1925, and Urlick's until the October term, 1924.

Edgar Wood also pleaded guilty to and was given the alternative of paying a fine of $50 and costs of $15 or go to jail for 90 days. He chose to pay the fine.

STROBRIDGE-JUDD.

The marriage of Mrs. Sydney Strobridge of Lapeer and minister of the Novesta Church of Christ, and Mr. Bert Judd of Columbiaville was solemnized Saturday, Aug. 16, at the home of the bride, in the presence of only the immediate relatives. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Young of the M. E. church of Lapeer.

Mrs. Stanley Baker of Pontiac, sister of the groom, attended the bride as maid of honor, and Mr. Baker acted as best man. After the ceremony the couple left for a motor trip to St. Johns and other cities. They will be at home to their friends after Aug. 25, on the farm of the groom near Columbiaville. Mrs. Judd will still preach at the Novesta church.

POOR CROP STORAGE CAUSES BARN FIRES

Spontaneous Combustion May Result from Overheating of Moist Hay or Grain in Mows.

Farmers who fail to take great pains in curing their hay and grain crops in the field before storing them in barns are faced with the possibility of the destruction of parts or all of their season's crop by fires arising through spontaneous combustion, according to a warning issued this week by R. C. Rather, farm crops specialist with the Michigan Agricultural College extension staff.

Particular importance attaches to careful crop storage this season as satisfactory drying and curing of the crop in the field has been prevented by weather conditions. Rather points out. When hay or grain has become wet with rain in the field and contains more than its natural moisture, overheating in the mow may occur unless proper care is taken, occasionally in such degree that flames break out.

Two instances of spontaneous combustion have already come to the attention of the M. A. C. farm crops department one at Brown City and the other at Elkton, the latter witnessed by Mr. Rather himself. Slightly over a week after the wheat had been stored in a wet condition, a dull hollow thud was heard and clouds of gray smoke were seen pouring from every crack and opening in the barn. A minute later the barn was a mass of flames and the building with the entire wheat and hay crop for the season was completely destroyed. Cinders from this blaze were found more than a mile and a half away.

"Such losses can be prevented if growers will take great pains to cure their crop in the field," Mr. Rather says. "In seasons like the present the round capped shocks are much the more desirable in protecting the grain from weather injury. After curing, these can be opened up and allowed to air on the day they are to be hauled. When the straw down by the band in the center of the bundle is well dried out, it will be safe for storage as the rest will have ample opportunity to air out."

"The second cutting of alfalfa about to be harvested should be handled with equal caution. To avoid loss of leaves, it should be cured in the windrow or the cock. In a loose airy windrow with leaves to the center and juicy butts to the outside, it will actually dry out more rapidly than in the swath. In case of rain, the windrow should be turned half over to loosen in and give the bottom a chance to air out. Rain or dew must be thoroughly dried off before it is put in the barn."

"Salting the hay is a good safety measure. A 12-quart pail of salt to each load of hay will take up much excess moisture and prevent most of the bacterial action, which is the forerunner to the costly dangerous spontaneous combustion."

GUNS INSTEAD OF POLITICAL SPEECHES

THAT'S THE WAY SOME SOUTH AMERICAN CAMPAIGNS ARE HANDLED.

Clayton Palmer Writes of Revolution in Coffee District in Brazil.

The Chronicle received a letter last week from Clayton Palmer, a former Gagetown resident, who is now engaged in missionary work in Brazil. The letter was dated July 7 at Santo Amaro, Sao Paulo, and reads as follows:

I have read from time to time my letters which you have published in the Chronicle and am glad that you found them worth the space although I confess that I never wrote them with the expectation that they would be published, so was not as careful as I otherwise would have been. I understand that some have been interested in them, however, and if you care to use this as another "filler", you may do so.

Truly this is a wonderful country with vast possibilities but thus far development has been rather slow as far as natural resources are concerned. Other nations have wanted to come in and develop and have offered to do so on a small percentage return but the government is holding the lid down pretty tight, being afraid of foreign interests getting too secure a grip here. The state we are in, Sao Paulo, is about the most progressive of all the states. The capital city, Sao Paulo, is far more cosmopolitan than even Rio de Janeiro. Perhaps in one of my letters I mentioned that Sao Paulo city has a world record for rap-

SANILAC CO. POULTRY TOUR WELL ATTENDED

Much Interest Shown in Poultry Diseases by 120 Farmers Who Joined in Trip.

The Sanilac County poultry tour which was held Saturday was well attended and a very successful one. Some 120 farmers came from all parts of the county and followed the program for the entire day.

The first meeting was held at the Link farm north and west of Brown City. Here was a M. A. C. poultry house which was looked over very carefully and Prof. Hannah discussed the advantages of this type of house. The next stop was made at Tom Cummings to look at his M. A. C. brooder house. While here an examination was made by Dr. Stafseth of a diseased hen brought in by one of the neighbors.

After dinner, the party stopped at the John Davis farm, northeast of Sandusky where Prof. Hannah discussed care and management. The next stop was at Robert Nicol's, north and west of McGregor and Dr. Stafseth discussed diseases and another hen was examined showing some of the diseases he talked about. As soon as this talk was completed, the party started to see the large commercial egg plant of the Polk Bros. of Paris. These boys have had a wonderful record this year. They bought 3800 baby chicks and only lost some 50 chicks and have nearly 2000 pullets for their laying pens next year.

This trip was very educational and should be a great help to all those who attended, says John D. Martin, county agricultural agent, and he hopes that when another is put on more people will take advantage of it.

Erskine U. P.—The pastor has returned and will be in his pulpit next Sabbath morning at 10:30 as usual.

Course of Study Has Been Revised, Making It More Practical.

The Cass City Schools open next Tuesday, Sept. 2, for the fall term and the outlook is promising for a larger enrollment. BAD FIRE BREAKS OUT THURSDAY NOON

Fire broke out in Mrs. Euphemia Hunter's millinery store at noon Thursday completely destroying Mrs. Hunter's millinery stock and fixtures and badly damaging the building which is owned by John Doerr. Near-by buildings were threatened, but were saved from fire damage by prompt and hard work of the fire department and volunteers. Mr. Doerr's building was without insurance. Mrs. Hunter carried insurance on her stock.

The second floor of the Doerr building was occupied by Mrs. Joseph Doer as living rooms. Her household goods and those of George Finkle stored on this floor are practically a total loss.

The G. L. Hitchcock Hardware, next to the millinery store, had its stock damaged by water. The second floor of this building was occupied by the Lockwood family and their household goods were also damaged by water. The Holcomb Grocery and Hitchcock's Hardware had close calls from fire losses.

The Chronicle goes to press too early to give more details.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF TUSCOLA CO.

Much has been said in the present gubernatorial campaign about State taxes. The opponents of Governor Groesbeck have advanced the claim that State taxes have not been lowered. The people of Tuscola County should know the truth.

The following table shows what the State tax for Tuscola County has been during the past four years, the last three of which were under the Groesbeck Administration:

1921	$152,130.32
1922	122,680.28
1923	111,442.08
1924	90,781.60

You will note that under the Groesbeck Administration State taxes, insofar as Tuscola County is concerned, have been reduced 40 per cent.

In other words, Tuscola County for the year 1924 will pay State taxes $61,338.72 LESS than in 1921, the year Governor Groesbeck assumed office. Your County Treasurer, Mrs. Burden Hoover, can verify these figures. The State tax for the State of Michigan this year will be $14,500,000.00, the lowest since 1918.

Every request, through your efficient County Road Commission, for good roads in Tuscola County, has been granted under the Groesbeck Administration.

It will be to your individual benefit to vote for Governor Groesbeck at the primary election.

Origin of Pep

According to H. L. Mencken, author of "The American Language," the word "pep," meaning vim, punch, snap, ginger, vigor, is a shortened form of "pepper." But it does not appear that "pepper" was ever used extensively in the modern popular sense of "pep." The fact probably is that "pep" was a new coinage merely suggested by "pepper" but not necessarily agreeing with it in meaning.

How Rewards Are Won

Big rewards in this world are assured to those who discover new and better ways of benefiting mankind. Every government, for example, protects the inventor's profit on a valuable patent. The surest road to advancement is finding the better way to do each job assigned you.

MANY HAVE APPENDICITIS DON'T KNOW IT

Much so-called stomach trouble is really chronic appendicitis. This can often be relieved by simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, and removes all gasses and poisons. Brings out matter you never thought was in your system. POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the voters of Tuscola county:

Fully realizing the importance of the duties and responsibilities to be performed by the person selected to represent Tuscola County in the state legislature, I wish to announce that I am a candidate for this office on the Republican ticket at the primaries, Sept. 9, 1924.

There are a number of very important questions that must be considered at the next session of the state legislature among them being a general tax reduction, and this can be accomplished by means of fair, just and equitable apportionment of all moneys to be raised by taxation. Myself with many other taxpayers are of the opinion there should be some changes or modifications in the laws governing the supervision and expenditure of our funds in the state highway department and in fact any other department of our

United States should be discontinued until Congress can work out a means of admitting only those who are qualified and willing to undertake the responsibilities of American citizenship."

We are also demanding absolute enforcement of all laws already enacted that has for the betterment of our social, moral and economic condition, thereby making Michigan a bigger, better and a more law-abiding state in which to live and educate our boys and girls, who are to be the future citizenship of our grand old state of Michigan.

Should you nominate and elect me to represent you in our state legislature I pledge you a faithful adherence to the duties of this very important office. Your support at the primaries Sept. 9 will be greatly appreciated. ROBERT P. REAVEY.—Advertisement.

state government, in which economy can be practiced without affecting honest, faithful and efficient service, thereby securing to our taxpayers a better standard of value received for money expended.

In the past ten months I worked among farmers and business men in twenty-two counties of central and southern Michigan and all of them, without any exception, are demanding a gasoline tax, so constructed and enacted that they who use our good roads most, whether residents or nonresidents, whether for business or pleasure, should be required to pay a gasoline tax which shall be used for the repair and maintenance of our state reward roads, also to build other new roads and thereby relieve our tax rolls from any tax for road purposes.

I heartily agree with National Commander Quinn of the American Legion, "That all immigration to the

The Schools and The Railroads

Teachers in Michigan's primary schools are being supported, to a large degree, by taxes paid by the state's steam Railroads. In many counties, the whole cost of these schools is carried in this way.

Michigan is justly proud of these schools, and of the capable teachers who preside over them.

And Michigan's 24 Railroads are proud of the result which their tax payments have made possible.

These primary school taxes have become a part of the delicate balance which laws have established between Railroad receipts and expenditures.

This balance can be preserved with a steady and continued improvement in Railroad service, as the past two years have amply proved.

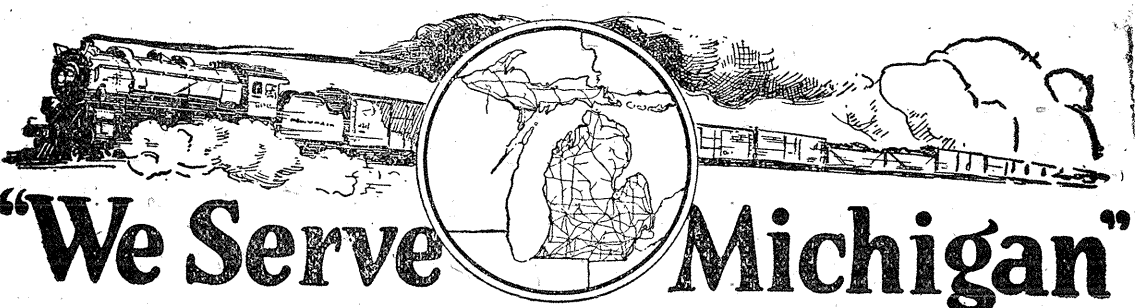

To destroy this balance by increasing Railroad taxes, or by imposing any additional burden on your carriers, would be a calamity for the Railroads and a severe blow at Michigan prosperity.

All we ask is a fair chance to keep on making good for you.

Write us freely about any phase of this matter that interests you.

Two representatives of the Chronicle office force enjoyed a pleasurable trip last week to Toledo, Ohio, on the White Star line steamers, the Tashmoo and Greyhound, whose advertisements the Chronicle has published for several weeks. Taking the boat at Port Huron, they enjoyed the ride to Detroit, and the following day a trip to Toledo and return pleasantly filled the day. BANQUET IN HONOR OF OLYMPIC ATHLETE

Concluded from first page. case as a gift from his admiring friends, said this was the happiest occasion of many happy gatherings of Cass City folks and that this was the first time home folks have had the opportunity of honoring a guest winning world honors. But it is not the fact that he won but that he had a goal and worked toward it that made his success worth-while. In responding, Mr. Brooker generously gave Cass City people credit for a share in his success as a world athlete. A good start is half the race, he said, and it was the liberal support and encouragement local athletes received from home people in his high school days that encouraged him to continue his training. He entered a plea for the continued support of local athletics that the beginners of today may secure even a better start than was his privilege. G. W. Landon of Cass City and Dr. George Sutton of Caro each favored the audience with a vocal solo during the evening, accompanied by Mrs. I. D. McCoy at the piano. Both gentlemen are favorites as soloists with local audiences and responded to encores.

BRIEF COMMENTS.

Sanilac county voters will have the opportunity on Sept. 9 of nominating a man to represent them in the legislature who has been a successful business man, who has boosted for Sanilac county's interests for 30 years and who has the endorsement of a large number of the county's prominent and influential citizens. This reference is to Dave Hubbell, the editor and publisher of the Crosswell Jeffersonian. Mr. Hubbell is a man of judgment and ability and his experience has given him a close insight into the needs of the people and particularly fits him for the office. C. W. Smith, candidate for state senator in the Tuscola-Lapeer district, was a caller in Cass City Monday accompanied by Fred Striffler of Caro, in the interest of the former's candidacy at the primary. Mr. Smith served with credit his constituency in the lower house of the legislature in the sessions of 1911, 1913 and 1915 and his friends are boosting him strongly for the senate seat. A number of his Lapeer neighbors are advertising his qualifications in newspapers of the district in a series of advertisements, the fourth number of which appears on page 7 in the Chronicle this week.

The headquarters of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league on Thursday endorsed Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle of Detroit as the dry candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator. The committee found Daniel W. Tussing of Lansing and Hal H. Smith of Detroit, the other Republican candidates, "satisfactory from a dry standpoint," but eliminated them because it feared a division of the dry vote. Senator Couzens was scored for his stand on the prohibition question. "His recent efforts to make peace with the temperance voters only emphasized the fact that he would be undependable where the fate of the prohibition law was at stake," a statement issued by representatives of the committee said.

R. L. HOLLOWAY HEADS GLEANER ORGANIZATION

Ross L. Holloway, former editor of the Tuscola County Courier, was elected president of the Ancient Order of Gleaners at a meeting of the supreme council in the Gleaner Temple at Detroit Friday. He succeeds Grant H. Slocum, founder and for a number of years president, who died Aug. 14. Mr. Holloway has been identified with the organization since 1908. E. J. McLean, Detroit, was elected assistant to the president.

Prizes won at fairs and contributed by local business people to the amount of $270.00 were distributed to members of the boys' and girls' pig club, calf club and sow and litter club by Prof. Willis Campbell at the Pastime Theater Wednesday evening. Ernest Goodall, who won the championship in the calf club, received a bronze medal and $20 in cash. Ralph Rawson, 8 years of age, won the championship over 23 contestants in the pig club.

Chas. Tallmadge writes the Chronicle from Algonac: "My wife and I drove our new Ford coach over here last Sunday and expect to stay the remainder of the summer. Have a good job with good pay. This is a pleasant place and interesting with all the large boats on the lakes passing at this point. But we need the news from home so I am enclosing check for a year's subscription to the Chronicle. Please start with this week's issue and send to Algonac until further notice." Methodist Episcopal—Ira W. Cargo, pastor. Services Sunday, Aug. 31. Class meeting 10:00, morning worship and sermon 10:30, Sunday School 11:45. Sunday evening union service in the Presbyterian church at 7:30. A cordial invitation to everyone to attend these Sabbath day services.

SAVE SOME OF YOUR OLD CORN.

The spring of 1924 was unusually backward in many sections. Following this, the growing conditions were not good, with the result that the bulk of the corn is extremely late throughout the Corn Belt and northward. It is so late that most of the crop will be unfit for seed unless frost holds off longer than usual. The United States Department of Agriculture is calling attention to this fact at the present time in order to prevent, if possible, a serious seed-corn situation in the spring of 1925. The higher prices for corn in the last few weeks are drawing much of the old crop from the farms. Farmers not having enough seed corn for 1925 left over from last year's supply should save the best of their bulk crib corn from which to obtain seed, if necessary. If this year's crop is killed by frost before it is mature, this old corn will provide a source from which seed can be selected for planting in 1925.

"DAVE" A CANDIDATE.

Dave Hubbell of Crosswell "Jeff" has allowed his name to be used as a candidate for the Legislature from Sanilac county. The writer doesn't live in Sanilac county any more, but we are for Dave just the same. We have known him for 40 years and have disagreed with him much of the time, which doesn't argue at all that he wasn't right most of the time. He has sound judgment, an honest attitude, a forward view point and a mind of his own. He would be about as susceptible to Capitol "influences" as a concrete wall to the waves of the sea and the interests of the district would be safe in his hands at all times. As before stated we are for Dave.—Bad Axe Tribune.—Advertisement.

I am a friend of the farmer and will do all I can in the interest of the entire district, state and nation, if nominated and elected. Yours for service, CHARLES W. SMITH.—Advertisement.

Charlie Smith As a Legislator

(Being the fourth message from the friends of Chas. W. Smith to the people of Lapeer and Tuscola Counties)

WHEN YOU ENGAGE a hired man, you like to know something about his ability and his previous experience. You prefer a man who knows his job and has the ability to do it right.

THAT'S THE KIND of man Charlie Smith is. No voter need take our word for it. All he has to do is to refer to Mr. Smith's record when he was a member of the Michigan legislature in 1911, 1913 and 1915.

DID MR. SMITH know his job? It must be that he did, because in the first three sessions he was given some of the most important committee assignments, and in 1915 he was chosen from 100 members to become Speaker of the House. This is a position which demands strong qualities of leadership, a knowledge of parliamentary procedure, an acquaintance with the needs of the state.

IT IS SAID that the session of 1915, under the speakership of Chas. W. Smith, was one of the most fruitful and constructive in the state's history. Compare it with the last legislature which many have called the "Do Nothing Legislature."

CHARLIE SMITH was chosen to this important position because he knew his job. His colleagues knew that his position on public matters was sound; that he was honest and straightforward on all questions; that he had the ability to direct the course of legislation smoothly and fairly to all concerned.

CHAS. W. SMITH made good as Speaker of the House. He was a good hired man then; he would make a better hired man now. He is willing to serve the people of the 21st district again as their Senator, if they so will. A vote for Charlie Smith at the coming primary is a vote for a man who has proven his ability as a legislator.

A FIFTH ARTICLE will appear in next week's issue of this newspaper. It will discuss Mr. Smith's legislative record in detail, particularly his stand upon legislation of interest to farmers.

ENDORSE DAVE HUBBELL.

Dave Hubbell, veteran editor of the Crosswell Jeffersonian and dean of the Thumb newspaper fraternity, threw his hat into the political ring last Thursday and became a candidate for the nomination for representative in the state legislature.

Hubbell is a progressive business man and a "go getter" and is never afraid to take a stand and stick to it until he is convinced to the contrary. He has always been active in the civic and social affairs of his city and the present industrial development of the city of Crosswell is due largely to his efforts.—Deckerville Recorder.

id city growth. It has a population of approximately 700,000, a beautiful city with wonderful parks, boulevards, public buildings, excellent railway facilities to Rio and the interior, good street car system, gas, electricity, sewage disposal, etc. Some contrast to the smaller places which are just as they were 300 years ago! The city has quite a foreign element consisting of many Italians, Syrians, some French, a good sprinkling of Americans and British, and of late quite an influx of German and Japanese settlers. The railways for the most part are of British construction, although the Brazilians have a wonderful system running to the interior called the Paulista Railway using the huge electric locomotives for mountain power the same as the Chicago, Minneapolis, & St. Paul on their western division. I understand this road is very up to date with large, roomy Pullmans and other equipment in proportion. As yet I have not had time or opportunity for a trip to the Interior but am looking forward with much anticipation to one. One rides 1st or 2nd class down here and there surely is a difference between the two both in price and accommodations. The electric light and street car company is a Canadian concern for both Rio and Sao Paulo. The auto industry seems to be a good one with American cars far in the majority. We also see many splendid foreign cars, mostly German and French. Fords scoot around every where and for the rural districts seem to be the most practical owing to the extremely bad roads in the rainy season, December—March. Brazil has not as yet passed the early stages of good roads development but there are a few excellent trunk lines out of Sao Paulo, but they do not extend far and one soon comes to the "jumping off place" where only oxcarts can plough through. How often I've wished for one of our fine Michigan roads, especially in the rainy season when these red clay roads are something terrible! You see we are out six miles from the village of Santo Amaro and the roads become pretty bad during the months mentioned. Right now they are at their best. I suppose the time will come when good roads will link various towns of Brazil as the country progresses in other lines of commercial advancement.

As mentioned in my other letters, the great product here is coffee, about 3/4 of the world supply being shipped from Brazil. It is quite a sight for the first time to see the ships lined up at the docks at Santos loading. I enjoy very much going to Santos just to watch that never ending stream of bags plunging into the holds of ships from every quarter of the globe. We were recently in Santos to see a friend off for New York and had about five hours with her on board as the ship lay at anchor. I spent a good portion of the time watching this conveyor shoot the bags into the hold. All the night previous and all that day until 4 o'clock the sacks poured in, 90,000 in all! It surely impresses one, also, with the amount of space in those ships below the water line, and this was a passenger ship which had to be given over to lots of other space besides cargo. The coffee crop this year has been somewhat of a failure so perhaps you'll notice a difference in price. Not being coffee users we find ourselves in the same situation as the poor fellow cast adrift on the ocean, "water, water everywhere but not a drop to drink". So we are importing our morning drink of Postum from Gageton, some 6,000 miles while our neighbors have theirs right at hand. Then, of course, bananas, oranges, lemons, mannaos, grapes, etc., are raised abundantly in different parts. Apples are imported from the U. S. and some from Argentina. They are very expensive, generally about 10c each. You can imagine that an apple pie is quite a luxury for us. However, they have a little fruit here called ameixa which has a surprising likeness to apple when made into a pie. We like it very much. Potatoes, that most important article of diet for most Americans, do not grow large here and are quite expensive. Meat, beans and rice are the three staple articles of the Brazilian. Every day in the year he has to have his beans and rice and some think to improve it by a liberal addition of garlic. How we are enjoying the oranges! The best ones grow up in Bahia and are shipped in but even at that they are not very expensive, about 70c per 100 for large ones and 15c per 100 for small ones. We like the flavor of the tangerines as well if not better than oranges and buy them by the hundred at 10 for 1s. Bananas grow abundantly around Santos and in the interior. Here we have to pay 4c per dozen all year round but in the interior with no rail facilities they feed them to the hogs as the cheapest means of disposal. Butter is a luxury, the price remaining about the same throughout the year. Right now it is 10 milreis a kilo which would make it about 60c per pound according to the present exchange. In the interior butter is unknown, and bread, also, for that matter. This is not a dairy country and milk and milk products are scarce and therefore expensive. Argentine is the great cattle and dairy country, American exchange, but during Lent they were up to 60c and none to buy at that price. Most clothing is expensive, the better goods in men's suits being imported English stuff. Shoes are reasonable, there being two good factories at Sao Paulo.

European styles are copied almost entirely and as a result one sees the extreme pointed toes in all men's shoes. I do not care much for them and shall hope to be able to get mine sent from the states as I shall find need for more. There are some curious customs here just as our customs must appear queer to the foreigner landing in the states. Great stress is put on social standing, conventions, and one's appearance. The men you will notice in the city holding positions of any account at all are extremely careful of their dress, suits well pressed and I never saw a city of like size with so many shoe shine stands. You don't see the men walking down street or in fact appearing anywhere in public without a coat, and in Rio you cannot board a street car coatless. One can go barefooted but a coat is essential. A great amount of time is spent over the social glass at the many cafes and drinking places but you see little indication of intoxication. About three o'clock in the afternoon you will see groups of men standing around in front of banks, clear out into the streets sometimes, talking, talking, talking, and in the cafes as mentioned they will sit for an hour over a glass or two seemingly with nothing to do but pass the time. However, a friend told me that a great deal of business is done in this way. You can't hurry business down here. That's one thing they have against us is our rush and hurry and lack of what seems to them common courtesy. They are extremely polite and really they do set a good example for us. So, they gather in the way I have mentioned and by and by they come around to business and put some deal through but all in their own good time. To Americans it seems slow and perhaps they are too deliberate, but I think that we made a mistake on the opposite extreme. They're a carefree people with no particular worry for tomorrow, great pleasure seekers, and if business interferes with pleasure, then business must suffer. That is, there's always "Tomorrow" in which to get things done.

I think you have read my letter in which I told of the climate. Rio and Santos are extremely hot but we are up some 2,000 feet and have good weather all year, the nights being always cool. You understand that the seasons are reversed, this being our winter time. Thus far it has been very mild, although heavy frosts are expected this month. The hottest weather comes around Xmas and in January. Since I began this letter, word has come that our state is in revolution, the city of Sao Paulo being in the hands of the rebels or revolutionists, the President taken prisoner, and soldiers have thrown up barricades in the down town districts and all business paralyzed. Our communication with Sao Paulo is by interurban from Santo Amaro (10 miles) but no cars are running and telephone communication has been stopped also. Last night we could hear intermittent firing in the city, all trains are cancelled in and out of Sao Paulo. Some difficulty over the army discipline and discontent with the party now in power. Some way to handle it, isn't it, Can you imagine the Democrats going into the present campaign with guns instead of speeches? We don't know how long it will last or just how serious it is. Revolutions are not at all uncommon in S. America but this is the closest home thus far. You should receive this letter about July 22 but I am afraid that it never will get on the boat sailing day after tomorrow on account of this tie-up of transportation. Trust you will receive it in due time. My regards to the friends in Cass City and vicinity.
