CEMENT PAVING COMPLETED THIS WEEK

MILE OF PAVING LAID BY CONTRACTORS IN FIVE WEEKS' TIME.

Pavement, 74 Feet in Width in Business Section, Is One of the Widest Village Streets in State.

The laying of the cement paving on Cass City's Main street will be completed this week and nearly half of the length of the street has been opened to traffic. The Taylor Bros. Construction Co. has completed the work in very good time. Cement laying was started August 14 and the laying one mile of cement pavement varying in width from 20 to nearly 70 feet was completed in about five weeks. A. R. Tietz, inspector of the State Highway Department, says he has found the construction company very willing to conform with all changes suggested by state and county engineers and that the job has been completed in a satisfactory and workmanlike manner.

In the main business section, for a distance of five blocks, the pavement is 74 feet in width, measuring from back to back of curb. It is doubtful if any village or small city in the state has a wider street and few large cities are thus favored.

The unusual width of this paved thoroughfare had produced local advocates for center of street parking of automobiles. This would leave the curbs in front of business places free from obstruction for customers driving autos to load and unload passengers and articles of merchandise and create a one-way traffic on the streets.

Thos. Graham, a member of the State Department of Public Safety, was here Monday and expressed himself as favoring center of street parking in Cass City's business section as a means to promote both safety and convenience for the public. Mr. Tietz, state inspector, is also of the opinion that center parking would prove to be an advantage here.

WET ISSUE RULED OFF FALL BALLOT

Robert D. Wardell, secretary of the Michigan branch of the National Association Against the Prohibition Amendments, has lost his fight to get an expression of the Michigan voters at the November election on the prohibition question, the Michigan Supreme Court having denied his petition for a mandamus to compel the secretary of state to put his amendment on the ballot.

The court decision, announced yesterday, did not give an explanation of the action, simply returning the petition with the word "denied" written across it.

RECOUNT MADE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

SECOND COUNT GIVES BRAINERD MAJORITY OF 12 OVER HOOVER.

County Canvasser Says There Is Need of Better Education Regarding the Ballot.

When returns of the primary on Sept. 9 received from township election boards showed that eight votes majority in the vote of Erastus Brainerd over C. P. Hoover, Republican candidates for representative from Tuscola county, Mr. Hoover filed a petition for a recount. Ballots were brought to the county clerk's office and Frank St. Mary of Caro, E. W. Ellis of Vassar and Arnold McComb of Wells, members of the board of county canvassers, recounted the votes for candidates for the representative office, completing their work Wednesday. The report of township election boards gave Brainerd 2866 votes, Hoover 2858 and Reavey 1424. The recount showed a gain of one for Brainerd, a loss of 13 for Hoover and a gain of 11 for Reavey. The final figures as determined by the county canvassers are: Brainerd 2867, Hoover 2845 and Reavey 1435. In only two townships, Arbela and Juniata, did the canvassers arrive at the same figures as the township election boards.

Seven hundred voters in Tuscola county failed to register a choice for the office of representative. Four hundred fifty were either so careless or uninformed regarding the proper way to vote that their ballots were thrown out and not counted.

"A new ruling handed down by the supreme court makes it necessary to vote in strict accordance with the instructions given on the ballot and not take the apparent intent of the voter," said Mr. St. Mary Wednesday. "A check mark or a dot in the square does not count; the instructions say distinctly that a cross is necessary in the square before the candidate's name for whom you wish to vote. There is an apparent need of better education regarding the ballot among many voters in Tuscola county."

Official returns received from township election boards show the total county vote of Republicans in Tuscola to be as follows:

- Governor—Groesbeck 2831, Hamilton 2447, Baker 1406, Sligh 518, Perry 234, Potter 171, Read 63.
- John W. Quinn and W. J. Spears Congressman—Cramton 4323, Johnson 2787.
- State senator—Butler 3,712, Smith 2,972.
- Judge of probate—Guy Hill 3970, Corkins 1,978, O. D. Hill 1733.
- Sheriff—Colling 5685, Penfold 2063.
- Co. clerk—Hurley 2855, Ormes 2333, Brown 1290, Benkelman 968.
- Co. treasurer—Hoover 5393, Whitlock 2060.
- Reg. of deeds—Osburn 2958, McDurmon 2628, Cutler 2043.
- Prosecutor attorney—Atwood 6453.
- Drain commissioner—Hicks 4305, Harp 2555.
- Surveyor—Felton 4508.
- John W. Quinn and W. J. Spears were nominated circuit court commissioners. Mr. Quinn's name was the only name printed on the Republican ballot.
- Dr. Race and Dr. H. B. Zimmer were nominated coroners by having their names written on the ballot by voters, their being no regular candidates for this position.

SAY MICHIGAN'S BEAN CROP WILL BE SMALL ONE

Adverse Season and Diseases Cause Cut in Estimates on State Crop; Advise Care in Harvesting.

Early and mid-season estimates on the size of Michigan's bean crop this year are being revised and greatly reduced by those familiar with bean conditions, according to J. F. Cox, professor of farm crops at M. A. C. Adverse seasonal conditions and the presence of blight and anthracnose in state bean fields are reasons given for the lowered estimates.

The 1924 Michigan crop has been placed at 5,492,000 bushels in the estimate of V. H. Church, crops statistician of the state department of agriculture. This is more than a million bushels less than the 1923 crop, but it is said probable that a still further reduction in the figures will be necessary. The crop condition is given as 68 per cent, as against an average for the past ten years of 83 per cent at this time.

"The lateness of the crop," says Professor Cox, "disease injury, and weather damage will undoubtedly bring about still further reductions. It is considered a fair estimate to state that the bean crop which will be harvested in the state will not exceed four and one-half million bushels. The condition of the crop in California is reported as being 60 per cent, and in Colorado 43 per cent. The holdover in the U. S. from last year is also comparatively small.

"With beans bringing a good price, it will pay growers unusually well to take great care in the harvesting in order to prevent weather damage. It is a known fact that beans will withstand adverse weather to a remarkable degree as long as the plants are upright in the field. The farmer who 'pulls' a large area at one time runs great risk from damage from wet weather while the beans are on the ground. By harvesting in units of several acres at a time, when weather conditions are favorable, this risk can be greatly reduced. If beans are rained upon after pulling, they should be turned daily with a side-delivery rake or forked over frequently so as to cure sufficiently for stacking, putting in mow, or threshing.

"A high pick is expected over the entire bean area this year, due to the work of anthracnose and blight, and the presence of a large percentage of immature beans."

HURON SHORE TO GET FEDERAL HIGHWAY AID

Thumb District Scenic Road Part of Plan to Circle Entire State with Shore Road.

John J. Campbell, chairman of the county road commission, has received word that the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has approved the recommendations of W. F. Brooks, federal engineer, for the building of the scenic highway from Port Austin along the shore to Bay Port. Mr. Brooks recently made an inspection of the proposed highway.

This means that this road will eventually be extended from Bay Port through Sebawaing and will connect with the shore road north of Bay City, which will provide a continuous shore road around the whole state.

Commenting on the tentative plans for the construction of this road, H. W. Hagaman, district road engineer, says he believes it is a step forward in the development of Michigan as a summer resort. He said:

"Michigan's greatest asset is its wonderful resort possibilities. People come every year from all over the United States to view its beauties. Tourist camps which have been springing up all over the country in the past couple of years have done much to further the summer commercial interests of the state."

The expansion of the automobile industry is believed by Mr. Hagaman, with its consequent possibilities for summer enjoyment by so many people, to be perhaps the biggest help in the development as a summer resort state. "People forsake their homes on warm days, whereas they were formerly forced to seek either a cool cellar or a shady tree," he said.

The new road, Mr. Hagaman believes, is one which will be used principally to develop property all along the route on the Thumb shore. A traffic census taken by the road engineer's office shows that foreign tourist traffic in this area has increased practically 50 per cent during the past year.

ELECT 14 DELEGATES TO STATE CONVENTION

REPUBLICANS HELD COUNTY MEET AT CARO ON WEDNESDAY.

Wm. Grant of Vassar Presided as Chairman and Mrs. Race Was Secretary.

Delegates chosen by Tuscola county Republicans at the primary Sept. 9 met in county convention at Caro on Wednesday, Sept. 17, to elect 14 delegates to attend the Republican state convention at Detroit on Sept. 24.

Clarence Meyers, chairman of the Republican county committee, called the convention to order on Wednesday morning, a majority of the delegates being present, and appointed Wm. Grant of Vassar as temporary chairman. Mrs. C. N. Race was elected secretary and tellers appointed were Ralph Henderson of Millington and James Carr of Vassar.

Committees appointed were: Credentials—Dr. Dixon, Carl Kernath, Harry Cartwright.

Permanent Organization and Order of Business—T. W. Atwood, M. L. Steele, James Kirk, Arthur Tompkins, D. J. Evans.

Resolutions—H. P. Orr, W. H. Gildart, Mina Colling, E. C. Brainard, B. A. Glasser.

The convention adjourned until 1:00 p. m. to allow the committees to prepare their reports.

At the afternoon session, Dr. Dixon, chairman of the credentials committee, reported that townships were represented by a majority of the delegates elected.

T. W. Atwood presented the report of the committee on permanent organization and order of business.

The chairman appointed five delegates to act as a nominating committee as follows: Geo. Jefferson, Lee R. Stewart, T. E. Taggart, I. D. McCoy and Conrad Mueller.

This committee presented the following nominations as delegates to the state convention at Detroit on Sept. 24:

- Columbia—Jay Colling.
- Denmark—Peter Pardee.
- Elkland—I. D. McCoy.
- Ellington—Samuel Farmer.
- Gilford—Guy G. Hill.
- Indianfields—Theron Atwood, W. H. Gildart.
- Juniata—James Kirk.
- Koylton—George Jeffery.
- Millington—D. J. Evans.
- Novesta—Arthur Little.
- Vassar—Thos. Taggart.
- Wells—Floyd Wiley.
- Wisner—P. L. Black.

Votes by townships to adopt the report of the nominating committee resulted in 58 delegates registering their votes in favor of the report and 16 opposed.

In the resolutions adopted by the convention, the delegates affirmed allegiance to Republican principles and expressed confidence in the administration of the country's affairs and predicted that Tuscola county will stand in the forefront among the sections of the country which have fulfilled their party duty from president down to coroner. They strongly condemned those persons who by acts or words would place in the hands of any body of individuals the power to interpret the relation of their own acts to the basic law of our country, and expressed deep regret that they were compelled to record the death of a fellow Republican, Hon. Chas. E. Townsend, and extended heartfelt sympathies to the bereaved family. The resolutions commended to the attention of the next legislature the adoption of some amendment to the present primary law which will tend more clearly to express the will of the majority of a particular party.

Henry Phillips is announcing the first farm sale of the fall season which will be held at his farm one mile south of Shabbona on Tuesday, Sept. 30. Full particulars will be printed in the Chronicle next week. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will move to Marlette.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. H. S. WICKWARE RECEIVE CONGRATULATIONS OF FRIENDS.

Pioneer Residents Were Long Active in Business and Community Life of Cass City.

Comparatively speaking it is not given to many to enjoy half a century of association as husband and wife. It is a long span of life and those who are permitted to accomplish the journey with the prospective apparently unimpeded for perhaps many milestones of contented travel are extremely favored and quite naturally are the subjects of sincere congratulations on the part of their friends and kindfolk.

A conspicuous example of such a rare experience has come to the notice of Cass City people in which Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Wickware are the principal figures. Their 50th wedding anniversary was happily celebrated at the Wickware cottage at Oak Bluff on Tuesday, Sept. 16, and the guests included the following persons: Mr. and Mrs. Libius Wickware of Cincinnati, Ohio, Mark Wickware and J. Dickinson, both of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Elliott of Almer township, Mr. and Mrs. D. Perry and daughter, Mildred, of Caro, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brooker, Mrs. E. Bader and Mrs. Z. Cleaver, all of Cass City.

With the exception of about eight years' residence in Caro and Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Wickware have spent their 50 years of wedded life in Cass City. Both have been active in business and community affairs here and enjoy a large acquaintanceship and have many friends in this section of the Thumb. Their marriage took place at East Saginaw Sept. 15, 1874. Mrs. Wickware lived near Reese at the time. For 20 years, she was engaged in the millinery business at Cass City and many a bride bought her wedding bonnet at Mrs. Wickware's store and many a gathering of the early days featured the millinery accomplishments of this lady. Millinery makers then started from the ground up so to speak. They created the shapes as well as adding the ribbons and furbelows.

Mr. Wickware came to Tuscola county in 1868 and settled at Cass City in 1869—days when lumbering was a big industry here and Cass City's 4th of July celebration was held in the grove on land now occupied by Crosby's store and the Pinney State Bank.

Mr. Wickware was employed as a carpenter up to 1873 when he built and operated a planing mill. In 1875 he sold the mill and started manufacturing wagons and buggies. As early as 1878, he commenced being active in political matters. Then he was elected township clerk of Elkland township.

He has served as village trustee, village president, member of the board of education, member of the Republican county committee, postmaster at Cass City for 12 years and treasurer of Tuscola county for four years. Mr. Wickware was also active in promoting the Cass City fair and Oak Bluff summer resort. He was one of the first members of the Odd Fellow lodge at Cass City and has taken a very active part in the organization. He enjoys the distinction of being the oldest resident of Cass City when considered from the viewpoint of the number of years spent in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Wickware have one son, Marc, who resides in Detroit. One other child, Mrs. L. King, passed away several years ago.

FAITH

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

AND though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains," Paul said to the Corinthians. I used to think about this removing of mountains a good deal when I was a child and I was finally convinced that it couldn't be done, but I was wrong. I took it all literally then, but there are other mountains which faith can remove which are quite as high and impassable as those reared by earthquakes or formed by erosion and which stop our progress as completely. There are mountains of discouragement, mountains of difficulty, mountains of temptation and sorrow which faith in ourselves, faith in other men, or faith in higher and unseen things can make as easy of traversing as a paved highway.

Garver has brains, an excellent preliminary training and a healthy body, but he is doing badly. He distrusts himself and his ability, he is easily discouraged, and will admit without argument that he is going to fail. He has no self-confidence, no faith in himself. If someone could get him to stand solidly upon his feet, to believe sincerely in his own power of accomplishment, to develop personal faith, his business and intellectual salvation would be assured.

Strikeman is one of the most brilliant young fellows with whom I am acquainted. He is handsome physically; in college he was among the best in his class, but as a professional man he is neither happy nor successful. He has faith in himself, but little or none in anybody or anything else. He is cynical and supercritical of people, and he trusts very few. He laughs at religion and considers those who find help and comfort in its teachings weakly and superstitious. His own character is guided largely by expedient rather than principle. He has nothing higher than his own selfish interests to guide him or hold him in the path of rectitude. He is, of course, discreet, for he has no desire to come under the ban either of the law or of public opinion, but whatever can be done sub rosa is in his mind legitimate. He has his ups and downs, he has his periods of elation followed by the deepest depression, he is pretty largely with the people are with whom he associates. People do not believe in him because he does not believe in people. They do not trust him; they do not bring him their business. His character is a weak character because it is not founded upon any definite moral or religious principles. He has no faith in man; he has no belief in God. The "evidence of things not seen" makes no appeal to him. He has virtually failed.

But to him who has faith in himself, in his fellow men and in the Creator of all things, the mountains are quite likely to disappear.

Michigan Happenings

Fred Cochrane, of Grand Rapids, who was unable to obtain from the public utilities commission a permit to operate a freight truck line between Grand Rapids and Holland, has been ordered by Circuit Judge M. L. Dunham to discontinue the business. Cochrane contended he did not need a permit as he was operating under contract for Grand Rapids and Holland business houses. The court ruled that because of the railroad service between the two cities and also because another bus line is operating there is no room for the bus line in this case.

Michigan's corn is 20 per cent below the condition of one year ago, according to reports made public by Verne Church, government statistician. The estimate of the grain crop of the state exclusive of silage and fodder, is 30,000,000 bushels. The condition is 17 per cent below the 10 year average in the state. Estimates of the spring grain crops of Michigan: spring wheat, 138,000 bushels; oats, 58,825,000 bushels; barley, 4,018,000 bushels; buckwheat, 887,000 bushels. New Style Points in Coat Details

In describing coat styles for fall, "straight and slim" almost goes without saying. This silhouette may be taken for granted in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred. In the hundredth case "slim and flaring" will tell the story. It is in details of cut, shape of sleeves, color, methods of decoration and choice of fabric that we find features that distinguish this fall's models. Pile fabrics continue in great favor, but they have been joined by heavy ribbed silks and certain novelty weaves in wool materials. In colors all the warm browns, dark greens, some deep reds and castor shades are among the rivals of black. A handsome brown coat is pictured, with dyed squirrel collar and banding on the modish sleeve. It is further enriched by a braid embroidery in self color.

Then the paper announced that one of the candidates had been "elected" instead of "nominated," and in an item regarding a local congregation, it was stated that they "worshipped" under improved surroundings Sunday when the word "worshiped" should have been printed.

"The Worst, but Only One of Many Discriminations Against Middle West"

By H. C. KESSINGER, Illinois State Senator.

Abolish Pittsburgh plus. Stop federal aid funds. Build St. Lawrence waterway. Elect midwestern man speaker of house, midwestern representation on federal reserve board (credits), and on interstate commerce commission (rates). Save the interurban lines. Regulate the railroads without destroying them.

"Pittsburgh plus" means Chicago minus. You can buy steel made in South Chicago, haul it in your own truck to your factory or farm, and on this steel made in Illinois you have to pay the freight from Pittsburgh.

It is the worst but only one of the many discriminations against the Middle West. We need a Middle West consciousness and solidarity, an aroused and organized public opinion to advance a Mid-West program for justice to our people in the matter of the making of tariffs, the levying of taxes, the spending of public funds, and the regulating of freight rates.

All federal aid funds are expensive for the Middle West. We get back only a small part of the money we contribute. Pittsburgh plus cost our part of the country more than $30,000,000 last year for fictitious freight rates on steel manufactured in the Chicago district.

"Papal Bull"

The edicts of the popes are known as papal "bulls." "Bull" is a term which comes from the word "bulla," which means a seal, having on one side the images of St. Peter and St. Paul and on the other the name of the pope who uses it. Since the year 1878 papal bulls have been written in ordinary Roman characters on parchment, stamped with the bulla.

Motor Oil That Lasts!

Ever surprised when you find you need more oil? Ever say "Why. I just put in a couple of quarts last week?"

It would be a simple matter to make a motor oil which would all go your first 25 miles.

But Staroline Motor Oil is made to last. Full-bodied, strong, beautifully smooth, a treat for any car. Try it out. Save the oil you drain from your crank case next time. Fill up on Staroline Oil. FRANK HOAGLAND

(From Davison Index).

Frank Hoagland was born in Tyron township, Livingston County, Mich., on August 11, 1857, his parents being Mr. and Mrs. George Hoagland. He lived on the farm there for about thirty-five years, after which he moved to Nebraska, where he spent about seven years. About ten years of his life were spent in Virginia, about the same length of time near Cass City, Mich., and the remainder in Elba township, from where he moved to this village.

He was married Nov. 1, 1895, to Alice S. Goodwin at Smithville, Virginia.

Mr. Hoagland had been in poor health for about four months, growing suddenly worse on Sept. 4, and passing away on Sept. 5, about 4:00 p. m., at his home here. A short prayer service conducted by Rev. Lincoln Ostrander, was held at the house Monday at 10:00 a. m., and the remains were taken to Cass City where services were held in the M. E. church, Rev. Ira Cargo officiating. Burial was made in Elkland cemetery, where the father and mother of deceased were laid away.

Mr. Hoagland is survived by his widow, son, George Hoagland of Davison; a daughter, Mrs. Lee Meyers of Elba; two brothers, John of Rockford, Ill., and Fred of Detroit, and a sister, Mrs. Joseph Martus of Rockford, Ill.

Of a quiet unassuming nature, genial and honest, Frank Hoagland leaves many friends who regret his passing away. His straight forward, open life might well be copied by many.

SCHOOL NOTES.

High School—The Junior class are third in the list of those holding their annual roasts this year. This event was Friday evening and was held north and east of town, at Lover's Lane. Fair weather and a good attendance helped to make the affair a success.

The teachers wish to express their appreciation for the reception tendered them Monday evening at the M. E. church.

Mr. Duke, principal, is preparing a comparison of the absence and tardiness records for the past year and this year. It will be placed on the blackboards so that the students may have the opportunity to read it.

The teachers' state institute for Dist. No. 2 will be held Thursday and Friday, Oct. 23 and 24, at Bad Axe.

The high school foot ball team played the Bad Axe team Tuesday in a practice game in preparation for the game with Arthur Hill high school on Saturday, Sept. 20.

Agriculture—The enrollment in the agricultural department is somewhat larger this year than that of last year. The courses offered the first semester are botany, field crops and animal husbandry. We have made arrangements to receive samples of Canadian grains for laboratory use.

Music and Art—We have organized a seventh and eighth grade chorus which will hold its first business meeting to-night. Sixty-two students comprise the chorus, and they are planning to present an operetta later on in the year.

Languages—The second year French class has organized a French Circle for the purpose of familiarizing themselves with the French language and customs to a much greater extent than could possibly be done in the regular class room sessions.

Domestic Science and Commercial—The first year cooking class is cooking cereals this week. The advance class is learning the principles of canning, and is applying them in a practical way during their laboratory periods.

The bookkeeping class is studying the various statements, as profit and loss, etc.

First Grade—Our enrollment has reached 33. The primary department has a punctuality banner of their own this year for which the first four grades only compete. We are trying very hard to win it this month, and urge the parents to co-operate with us in helping the children to reach school promptly.

Second Grade—We are beginning our year with an enrollment of 29.

Third Grade—We are competing with the first grade with an enrollment of 33. We wonder which grade will increase the more rapidly. Before beginning our regular work, we are reviewing last year's work.

Fifth Grade—Harvey Sawdon entered the fifth grade this week, bringing our enrollment to 34. We are taking speed tests in fundamentals in arithmetic. We are glad that Mrs. Ferguson is able to be back.

Junior High—Several non-resident pupils are taking eighth grade work in the junior high. Our enrollment has reached 62.

THUMB NOTES.

One evening last week, four men appeared at the farm home of Peter Danielski and told him to get ready as they were going to take him to jail for making moonshine. They showed their badges so Danielski prepared to get ready. Finally, one of the men suggested that if Danielski would give them $150, they would leave him alone. Danielski got the money for them. He says he was unable to identify the extortioners but thinks he knows one of the men. The same evening, these same men appeared at the home of another Paris farmer with the same demand. The farmer told them to get off the premises or he would put them off. They left.—Minden Herald.

Kafir Courtesy

In Africa when one hears a native host say to his departing guest: "Hamba gachile" (Go in peace) and the response of the guest, "Lala gachile" (Rest in peace), it is hard to imagine oneself amongst untamed savages—if one keeps one's eyes closed. A courtesy peculiar to the native African is his manner of receiving even the most trifling gift. No matter how small the object, he receives it in both hands cupped together like a bowl. Try it. It is most expressive.

Color of Cleopatra's Hair

History furnishes no evidence that Cleopatra had red hair. In fact, history gives us no clue at all as to the color of the hair of the Egyptian queen who "vamped" Mark Antony and Julius Caesar. The probability is that she had light hair. One of her ancestors, Ptolemy Philadelphos, is described by Theocritus as having light hair and a fair complexion. It should be remembered that Cleopatra belonged to the Ptolemies, a family descended from Greek stock.

DAIRY FACTS

HEALTHY COWS GIVE HIGH QUALITY MILK

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The purchase of a good herd bull is the first forward step in producing better calves at a less cost per pound. In common or grade herds calves sired by good pure bred beef bulls weigh on the average about 125 pounds a head more when one year old than calves of the same age sired by the general run of scrub bulls, says the United States Department of Agriculture, and they sell for about 2 cents a pound more as stockers and feeders. Two-year-old steers sired by good pure bred bulls weigh on an average about 200 pounds a head more than steers of the same age sired by scrub bulls, and sell for from 2 to 4 cents a pound more as stockers and feeders.

In the case of yearlings, scrubs weigh about 300 pounds, and when they sell for about 4 cents a pound as stockers and feeders they bring $12 a head, while grades at the same age weigh about 425 pounds, and will sell for about 2 cents more, or 6 cents a pound, bringing $25.50. Two-year-old scrubs weigh about 525 pounds a head, and, assuming that they sell for 8 cents a pound, will bring $42 a head, while grades of equal age weigh about 725 pounds, and at 2 cents more a pound (10 cents) as stockers and feeders, bring $72.50.

There is practically no difference in the cost of feed for the two classes of calves up to the yearling age, but from that time on grades develop more capacity and require more feed than scrubs. The difference in cost of feed, however, is a very small item when the offspring of the good bulls are worth practically twice as much as those of scrub bulls.

There Are Many Coffee Cows in United States

There are 3,000,000 coffee cows and 750,000 tea cows in the United States declare dairy statisticians of the United States Department of Agriculture. That is to say, the quantity of milk and cream used in tea and coffee in the United States is equivalent to the production from that many cows.

Coffee consumption is around 1,000,000,000 pounds annually or approximately 40,000,000,000 cups. This requires 40,000,000,000 ounces of cream, the milk equivalent of which is 12,500,000,000 pounds, or practically one-eighth the total production of milk in the United States.

Consumption of tea in the United States is practically 85,000,000 pounds or approximately 21,000,000,000 cups. The quantity of cream used in tea averages only one-half that in coffee or one-half ounce per cup, or a total in terms of milk of over 3,000,000,000 pounds.

Making liberal allowances for the use of milk in coffee and tea or of half milk and half cream, there still would be more than one-eighth the total production of milk used in these two beverages. The department's survey also brought out the fact that one-tenth the sugar consumed for all purposes in the United States is used in coffee and tea, the quantity thus consumed being 800,000,000 pounds a year.

Consumption of Cream and Milk Is Increased

Consumption of fluid milk and cream in both farm and city homes has been increasing rapidly for several years, a survey just completed by the United States Department of Agriculture indicates. Average consumption in 1923 was 53 gallons, compared with 50 gallons in 1922, and 49 gallons in 1921. The average daily consumption in 1923 figures out 1.6 pints per person.

Farm people who have producing cows consume more milk and cream than do city people, but farm people without cows or with nonproducing cows, consume less than do city people, the survey shows. Average daily per capita consumption on farms having cows was 1.78 pints in 1923; on farms without cows or having nonproducers the average consumption was .775 of a pint, and in city homes the per capita daily consumption averaged .87 of a pint.

The farm figures were tabulated from approximately 30,000 schedules of consumption on individual farms, and represent the most comprehensive survey ever made of milk and cream consumption. Data on consumption in cities were obtained principally from boards of health and covered nearly 300 cities, or about 25,000,000 people.

Dairy Cow's Requirements

A dairy cow's requirements are measured by her body weight and milk production. An average dairy cow giving a good flow of milk requires about 50 pounds of silage and 15 pounds of alfalfa or clover hay besides a grain ration of from 6 to 10 pounds. Some farmers have the idea they do not need a silo because they have alfalfa or clover. This is a great mistake and a most wasteful and incorrect conception of feeding. Legume hay is not a balanced food.

Cow Testing Association Finishes Half Year's Work with Good Records in Tuscola

The Tuscola Cow Testing Association at the completion of six months work has an average of 4153 pounds of milk and 151.5 of butterfat for all cows entered.

Nixsy Pledge DeKol, owned by Geo. Russell of Cass City, is high butter fat cow for the seventh month. Nixsy has 1435 pounds of milk and 57.4 pounds of fat for July.

Oscar Wallin's herd of 13 registered Holsteins averaged 912.7 pounds of milk and 31.3 pounds of fat. The cows in general are slacking off and several are dry, only 311 head being tested while 57 cows were dry.

The average production per cow in the association has fallen to 528 pounds of milk and 19.3 pounds of fat as compared with 681 pounds of milk and 25.3 pounds of fat for last month. This sharp decrease is due to the fact that about 75 per cent of cows freshen during the next four months.

Only two cows produced over 50 pounds of fat and 19 over 40 pounds of fat. Eleven cows produced over 1250 pounds of milk and 25 cows over 1000 pounds of milk.

Cows with records are selling for good prices. One member selling two for $100 each. Another member purchased an untested cow, just fresh, for $80. Does the guarantee of a cow's ability pay?

Several herds were tested for tuberculosis. About 500 head have been tested in the vicinity of Cass City this summer and but 5 reactors or one per cent. Seventeen of the 26 herds under test are free from tuberculosis.

Farmers are reporting a good second cutting of alfalfa. There is no feed that can equal alfalfa for economy or for production of milk.

Oats are yielding fairly good and the corn crop is looking better, so let's give the cows some of the oats and corn while she is dry. She will give you that milk pail "brimming full" just that much longer after she freshens. Two parts of oats and one of corn or barley mixed and ground and given at the rate of 3 pounds twice a day with a good handful of linseed oil meal given at the same time will put the cows in good condition provided they are allowed to go dry from 6 to 8 weeks. Milk production is a hard strain on the nervous system and a cow should have at least 6 weeks of rest.

Child Who Chats With Monkeys

Little Helen Erickson (left), shown here with her sister Marion, is a puzzle to scientists. The girls, who recently arrived in San Francisco, are the daughters of Frederick Erickson, a mining engineer of Ecuador. Born in a mountain village of Ecuador near an ape-infested forest, the five-year-old Helen has proved from the time she was able to toddle that through peculiar guttural sounds she is able to make monkeys understand her language and obey her commands. She gave an impressive demonstration on board the steamer with a brown monkey owned by the chief steward.

Mrs. Helen Nelson Gage, a pioneer resident of our town, was without question the most widely known person to all classes in this community for many miles. She was so kind, her charity will not be forgotten for many years hence. She passed away on Sept. 1st at the home of her eldest daughter at Hastings, Mich., after an illness of many months. Miss Nelson was born Aug. 30, 1854, at Napanee, Canada. She came to Michigan in the fall of 1870 with her mother and three sisters, the late Miss Jennie Nelson, Mrs. Miles of East Jordan, who passed on several years ago, and Mrs. Sarah A. Gifford of Highland Park, the only surviving member of the family. Miss Nelson was among the pioneer teachers, having taught several terms in the Walsley district and in Grant township. She was united in marriage on Aug. 5, 1877, with Mr. Joseph Gage, who was in the mercantile business and afterwards built the Washington hotel where the park is now located. Mr. Gage passed away about 30 years ago. Their family consisted of Joseph, Jr., who died at the age of two years, Mrs. Mary Albert Clouse of Hastings, Mich., Paul K. of San Grabeah, Cal., Mrs. Isabel C. Stryhn of Detroit, Mich. The Saturday preceding her death she passed her three score and ten years of age. She was a devoted member of Grace Episcopal church, and a charter member of Gifford chapter. The spacious Gage residence on N. Gage St., will as long as it remains, be a reminder of the many pleasant gatherings held there with its former hostess and her family. Her remains were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hemerick, where the funeral services were held Sept. 4, conducted by the Episcopal minister from Bad Axe. Interment in the family vault at Hillside cemetery. The flower tributes were many and beautiful.

Only two more open-air theater will be held much to the regret of the multitudes that have gathered and enjoyed the pictures for two months or more.

Feed Now For Next Winter's Milk

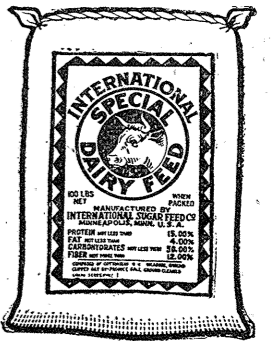

Don't keep your cows on grass alone this summer if you want good milk production next winter. A. C. Palmer one of Indiana's leading dairymen says: "In 1917 I fed my cows on pasture alone until Sept. 15th when their decreasing milk flow made me hurry feed shipments. But the damage was done and the decrease continued until time to dry them. In 1918 I fed grain all summer and giving 40% more milk than last season."

INTERNATIONAL SPECIAL DAIRY FEED

used with grass will not only secure a good milk production this spring and summer but will insure more milk next winter.

International Special Dairy Feed is a proven success in this locality. Scores of local farmers use and recommend it. Don't pay more for something "just as good." Get the genuine International for less money.

The DAIRY

FIRST STEP FORWARD IN CALF PRODUCTION

The dairyman should not overlook the fact that to produce high-grade milk his cows must be healthy. A cow in abnormal condition will produce abnormal milk and should the unfortunate condition arise of having tuberculosis in the herd, then the milk is a grave source of danger not only to the immediate family of the dairyman, but also to the public health in general. Fortunately the tuberculin test enables the dairyman to locate the cows afflicted with this disease.

Milk coming from cows which are off feed should be discarded, or at least not put in with the milk that is going on the route, or to be shipped to the distributor. If the cow is being treated with drugs or if she is about to calve, or if she has calved within five days, her milk should not be used for distribution.

The problem of keeping the cow clean is not such a difficult one if a few simple means are adopted and followed. Before milking, the cow's udder, flanks and tail should be thoroughly cleaned. The cow should be kept in a stall that has the right length. Sufficient bedding should be provided and a number of dairymen dip the hair from udder, flanks and bellies to make cleaning a little easier and possibly more effective. The hairs will drop off from time to time and they carry with them a large number of bacteria. The grooming of the cow, however, should be done a sufficient time before milking so that the dust will have settled when milking begins.—B. W. Fairbanks, Colorado Agricultural College.

Considerable Variation in Weights of Calves

Careful dairymen always weigh their new-born calves unless the herdsman is sufficiently skillful in judging the weight. This is done in order that the right amount of milk may be fed to the calf. As a rule, male calves average considerably heavier than do heifers, and the weight of the calf usually is from 8 to 8 per cent of the weight of the dam. There is considerable variation in the normal weights of calves of various breeds, and men who have raised beef cattle and then acquired a Jersey cow to supply milk to their families often think the calves weak and puny. Calves of the beef breeds generally average heavier than the light breeds of dairy cattle. The following figures show the weights of normal calves:

Breed	Avg. Birth Weight
Jersey	55 lbs.
Guernsey	71 "
Ayrshire	75 "
Holstein	99 "
Milking Shorthorn	75 "
Brown Swiss	100 "

High Value of Alfalfa Shown at Iowa Station

The value of alfalfa in the ration is often underestimated. There is no comparison between it and timothy as a dairy feed. The Iowa experiment station recently conducted a feeding experiment comparing alfalfa hay and timothy hay as a roughage for milk production. Throughout the comparison a ration of corn silage and a grain mixture of four parts cracked corn, four parts ground oats and one part of oil meal by weight was fed. Alfalfa and timothy hay were fed alternately with the above ration. The results are compared on the basis of value per ton: When alfalfa is worth $15 per ton, timothy has a value of 86 cents per ton. At the present time this would make timothy hay worth about $1.50 per ton for milk cows. This low value is due to its low protein contents, high percentage of fiber, low percentage of ash and lack of palatability. Under these conditions it would seem advisable for dairymen who have only timothy hay to feed the herd, to sell it and buy alfalfa whenever possible.

Dairy Notes

Ventilation is imperative; drafts must be avoided in the dairy barn.

Give the dairy cow clean and comfortable quarters and she will, female like, chew in satisfaction.

A cow that has to use her energy warming the ice cold water she drinks can't use that energy to make milk.

Where bulk is not provided in the grain ration by other constituents, corn-and-cob meal will have a feeding value for dairy cows equivalent to an equal weight of corn meal.

The dairy farmer with the milk these days is likely to be the farmer who has a barn full of alfalfa hay.

The useful life of the average cow is 4.2 years. When those affected with tuberculosis are removed the average life in the herd is increased to 5.7 years.

A ration for dairy cows should contain a food rich in protein, that is, either alfalfa hay, sweet clover hay, cottonseed meal, linseed oilmeal or soy bean meal.

WHY An Old Shoe Is Thrown After the Blushing Bride

Throwing a shoe after the bride is the survival of a custom based upon ancient symbolical usages in connection with sandals or shoes. Delivery of a shoe was used as a testimony in transferring a possession. A man plucked off his shoe and gave it to his neighbor, and this was a testimony in Israel.

Throwing a shoe on property was a symbol of new ownership.

From these ancient practices came the old English and Scottish customs of throwing an old shoe after a bride on her departure for a new home, symbolizing that the parents gave up all right or dominion over their daughter.

In Anglo-Saxon times the father delivered the bride's shoe to the bridegroom, who touched her on the head with it to show his authority. In Turkey the bridegroom is chased after marriage by the wedding guests and pelted with slippers.

WIRE MADE CORONA PROOF

Rubber Insulation Deteriorates When Wire Carries High Current Unless Covered With Lead.

Ordinary rubber insulation deteriorates rapidly when the wire carries high-voltage current unless it is covered with a lead sheath. This is because conductors raised to a sufficiently high potential are surrounded by an electrical discharge—luminous in the dark if the voltage is high enough—called corona, which takes place whether the conductor is insulated or not. Corona generates ozone from the oxygen in the air, and ozone very rapidly oxidizes rubber insulation, causing it to crack open, especially on the outside of bends. Although corona discharge takes place at quite low voltages, it does not attain harmful intensity under about 2,000 volts and usually remains invisible up to much higher voltages. If the rubber-insulated conductor is covered with a lead sheath, either the ozone generated by the corona is kept from contact with the rubber or does not occur at all, if the sheath is grounded, so that these cables may be used for transmission voltages. There are some classes of service, however, for which it is desirable to use rubber-insulated, non-leaded conductors for currents at which corona is formed. To this end certain manufacturers of electric cable have introduced a corona-proof wire which is covered with a special saturated braided. This wire has been subjected to the most searching tests, which have shown conclusively that it is proof against the destructive effects of corona.—Electrical World.

Why Maple Sirup Is Thin.

The Indians appreciated the usefulness of the sugar maple tree, and taught the earliest white pioneers how to extract the sugar. They probably relied upon it for their entire supply of sweetening.

The Indians mixed maple sugar with melted bear's fat and made sauce for their roast venison. They used it to sweeten boiled corn, and the parched corn which they carried with them on journeys. There is an old Algonquian legend that explains why maple sugar runs so thin instead of being thick like sirup, as it was originally. One day Nokomis, the grandmother of Manabush, was roaming through the forests, and by accident cut the bark of a tree. Seeing a rich sirup flow slowly from the wound, she tasted it, and delighted at finding it so sweet gave some to Manabush. He also was much pleased, but felt afraid that if the women of the tribe found the sirup could be obtained so easily, all ready-made, as it were, they would become idle. So, in order to keep his aunts busy, he diluted the sap, making it thin by pouring water over the tops of the trees. This is why the women must boil down the sap to make sirup.—Detroit News.

Why Insects Use Disguise.

"Protective resemblance" to assure their safety by reason of their having such a likeness to something else that the eye of an enemy seeking to do them harm overlooks them, mistaking them for the object mimicked, is common among insects.

A striking example of mimicry is that first made known by H. O. Forbes, who met with it in Java and Sumatra. He noticed a certain butterfly perched on a leaf. He closed finger and thumb over the wings of the insect, which seemed glued to the leaf. "To my surprise, however," Forbes related, "part of the body remained behind, adhering, as I thought, to the leaf. I finally touched it with the tip of my finger, to find if it were glutinous. I found that my eyes had been perfectly deceived and that the excreta was a most artfully colored spider lying on its back."

Forbes made the same mistake a second time in Sumatra. He speaks of this extraordinary spider as "a living bait so artfully contrived as to deceive a pair of human eyes even intently examining it."—Detroit News.

Why an Old Fashion Persists.

The wedding ring of plain gold, which is a survival of Saxon times, has outlived several attempts at change of fashion. For instance, at the marriage of Queen Mary of England, to Philip of Spain, the English statesmen debated the question of the ring and wished to have it jeweled, but Mary herself intervened by declaring that she would not have it set with gems, for she chose to be wedded with a plain hoop of gold like other maidens.

SEE DANGER OF STATE SEED CORN SHORTAGE

Backward Season Blamed for Conditions Similar to 1917—Selection and Care of Seed Urged.

The Michigan corn crop is in a dangerous condition, with a large percentage of the crop having but little chance of ripening according to Prof. J. P. Cox, head of the farm crops department at the Michigan Agricultural College.

The most serious side of the situation, it is said, lies in the possibility of a great shortage of adapted seed for the state's planting next year, unless farmers make a special effort to field select seed corn and dry it properly. Lateness of planting last spring and the low temperatures of the growing season are given as reasons for the backwardness of the crop, conditions being similar to those of 1917.

Ways in which the danger of a seed shortage may be overcome have been discussed by Professor Cox, briefly as follows:

"Experiments at the Michigan Agricultural College show that seed of high germination can be secured from corn in the dough, or even in the milk stage, if it is properly dried in the fall before being affected by freezing weather. While best seed results from selecting in the field at time of maturity, good seed can nevertheless be secured from immature corn if it is immediately dried under conditions where free ventilation exists. Corn carrying a high moisture content should be dried in an artificially heated room or seed corn drying house with windows or ventilators open.

"Good seed corn of adapted varieties will be exceedingly valuable to Michigan farmers next spring. Such seed can be secured only by selection in the field this fall. It looks as though the disastrous experience of the fall of 1917 which caused a widespread shortage of seed the following spring, may be repeated this year unless corn growers in general make special effort to select and cure their seed. The same condition prevails in northern states and throughout the corn-belt.

"Supplies of old corn of last year's crop of good germination, which have been properly stored, should be saved as a source of seed for next year."

TUSCOLA CO. TO GET MANY MORE MILES OF TRUNK LINES

To Have Continuous Good Road from Northeast to Southwest of County.

Tuscola county is to have a state trunk line road extending in unbroken line from the northeastern corner to the southwestern corner. This has been made possible by recent action of the state administrative board, granting the request of the state highway department to construct gaps now existing in the route between Wahjamega and Vassar, near the Cass river.

To understand the exact line of the road, it should be recalled that M-81 extends from Cass City through Caro to Wahjamega, thence west near Reese, thence north through Gilford and then west in the direction of Bay City. At Wahjamega it is now proposed to build a road following the river to Vassar, where it will join that part of M-38 which now extends through Tuscola township to Frankennuth. County highway commissioners believe that the whole road will be called M-81, and that part of M-81 from Wahjamega west and north toward Bay City will be given a new number.

Trunk line 38 extends through Silverwood, Mayville and Vassar. This will probably be changed after reaching Vassar and follow the improved road to Richville, where it will join M-46 leading to Saginaw. M-46, known as the Colgrove highway, was authorized by the legislature of 1921, and was laid out by the law to cross Tuscola county from west to east through Richville straight through to Kingston. Provisions were also made for a branch from M-46 to Wahjamega and another to Vassar. These two branches will form the gap in the continuous line of road from Cass City, through Caro, Wahjamega, Vassar, Tuscola township to Frankennuth. Vassar is greatly favored, said G. F. Schultz, county road commissioner. It will be the only village in the county having three state trunk lines.—Caro Advertiser.

HOW A DEFEATED CANDIDATE FEELS ABOUT THE ELECTION

Dave Hubbell, Dean of Sanilac Editors, Tells of Sensation Realized the Morning After.

"Dave" Hubbell, dean of Sanilac county editors, ran for the nomination of representative in Sanilac county and was defeated at the primary on Sept. 9. He described the feelings of a defeated candidate in the following paragraphs in his paper, the Crosswell Jeffersonian, two days after the contest:

"How does it feel to get licked? There are quite a number of candidates who have the sensation right now but fewer have the way of telling their readers how it feels. Speaking from experience it is pretty much the same as Sherman said war was like. You have that sinking feeling around the gizzard, the pulse gets rapid and then slows up, the heart beats get fainter and one wonders what it is all about, and then comes the comforting thought that you are not alone in your misery. You realize that there are others and you look out of the corner of your eye to see how they are taking it, and then you feel better—lots better.

"The writer has been through all the sensations during the past month. When we went into the campaign for representative it was understood that there was about one chance in a hundred to win, perhaps less. As the campaign advanced and the stories of the guys 'that were going to vote and work for you' were listened to, the ratio changed rapidly to one in fifty, one in twenty, and so on down until at last you feel like a sure winner and commence to wonder what on earth you have got to wear if you do get elected—and of course you're going to be. You even go as far as to rehearse your maiden speech and get a glimpse of the route you will travel onward and upward even to the presidential chair and maybe beyond. You feel this way till along in the afternoon of the fatal day and you see that the other fellows are swarming to the polls and when the votes are counted and the returns commence to come in you realize the cold naked truth, well, your presidential aspiration goes up in air and you know that you are licked and licked right.

"While it was a crazy idea to ever think of winning Tuesday we will admit that we did have hopes of winning at least one precinct, but no, there is not a ray of comfort except that mentioned of watching the other fellows. After reading the returns and thinking seriously over the whole matter we are free to admit that the indications are that the voters of Sanilac county would rather have Phil O'Connell represent them than Dave Hubbell. We don't want to get mixed up in the terrible affairs of the state at Lansing and so far as we know our address will be Crosswell at least for a time. We can give one good healthy yell, however. The editor of the Jeff lead the bunch of candidates for the privilege of going to the county convention at Sandusky. There is a crumb in this but not enough to make a good sized biscuit."

FARM NOTES

A new method of treating wheat to prevent stinking smut has been tried out quite extensively by M. A. C. and found to be efficient. The method consists of mixing finely powdered copper carbonate dust with the wheat at the rate of two ounces per bushel of grain. The mixing is probably best done by putting both into a barrel, covering top with canvass held on with a hoop and rotating the barrel. Mixing in a box does not seem to give as satisfactory results. The dust is rather poisonous and should not be inhaled. Put handkerchief over nose when treating. It is doubtful if treated wheat can safely be fed to livestock.

It is questionable whether corn will sufficiently mature to germinate well next spring. In case this is true, seed corn will be scarce as there is practically no old corn and the condition of the crop is very similar in all sections of the county. Farmers should be sure to save seed corn if at all possible. In case an early frost comes seed corn can best be saved by going thru the field before cutting and cutting the stalks on which are best matured ears, carrying them to edge of field and shocking separately. The corn will mature better if entire stalk is cut instead of jerking off the ears as the sap in the stalk tends to assist the maturity of the grain.
